1559. 16. 6. 18

c

CLARISSIMO

VIRO GVALTERO HADDONO REGINAE ELISABETHAE A LIBELLIS

Tho. Cooperus Oxonienſes.

S. D. P.

VT SEMPER MIHI PERSVAſi (vir ornatiſsime) fruſtra ſuſcipi noſtra conſilia, niſi deus eiſdem annuat & ſucceſſum addat: ita nunq̃ verius in meis rebus comprobaui, quam cum nuper cogitarem Eliotæ Bibliothecam, quantum vires paterentur, ita perfectam & abſolutam reddere, vt poſthac opera & labore meo non indigeret. Cum enim hoc opus viderem deſcriptionibus virorum & fæminarum illuſtrium, montium, vrbium, regionum, in tantam amplitudinem creuiſſe, vt hac ſola ratione coactus antea fuerim plurima & vtiliſsima prætermittere: ſtatui hoc tempore id omne genus propriorum vocabulorum in priuatum librum coniicere, & eius loco huic volumini adiicere omnes illas phraſes & loquendi formulas ex quibus multiplex verborum natura & vſus varius facilius poſſet a ſtudioſis intelligi. Sed cum hanc rem in me ſuſcepiſſem, & in eandem totis iam viribus incumberē, tanta priſtinæ valetudinis incidit perturbatio: vt neceſſario mihi vel in medio itinere fuerit cum ignominia deficiendum, vel cum certiſsimō incolumitatis & vitæ periculo quo cæpi progrediendum. Hac itaq; neceſſitate commotus ceſsi propoſito & conſilio meo, & tamdiu cedam neceſſum eſt, quoad ſuperis viſum fuerit, vel imbecillam et labentem valetudinem confirmare, vel eam vitæ rationem concedere, qua liber a docendi munere tempeſtiuas queam horas in huiuſmodi literaria exercitia conferre. Quicquid enim hactenus a me in his rebus factum eſt: id nocturnis lucubrationibus & intempeſtiuis ſtudiis debebatur: nunc verō cum tenuis & incommoda valetudo nocturnum tempus ad quietem poſtulet, diurnum autem totum ſit in diſcipulis inſtituſtituendis tranſigendum : æqui boniq; conſulent ſtudioſi, cùm intelligent hanc æditionem non tanta perfectam induſtria, quanta fuit a me inſtituta et inchoata. Hanc ego rationem deſerti a me conſilii tuæ prudentiæ non ignotam eſſe volui, ne ſocordiæ fortaſſis & ignauiæ tribuendum putares, quod ab illo propoſito defecerim, quod perſequi ſine maximo valetudinis incommodo non potui. Neque tamen ita velim accipias, quaſi nihil haberet hæc æditio, quod ſuperiores non ſunt complexæ. Nam & ſuſceptum inſtitutum magna ex parte ſum perſequutus et in reliquo operis curſu multa adieci plurimum ad vſum latinæ orationis facientia. Hoc quicquid eſt laboris & induſtriæ (clariſsime Haddone) tibi in præſentia nuncupandum cenſeo : vt propter ſingularem tuam in me humanitatem qualemcunq; grati et memoris animi ſignificationem haberes : quam ſi in bonam partem accipies ſatis amplum me fructum arbitrabor ex hac re conſequutum.

a ii

1552

Vale.

EXIMIO VIRO D.
HADDONO MVSAEI MAGDALE
NENSIS APVD OXONIENSES, PRAESIDI:
& cæteris eiusdem collegii sociis, ac bonarum literarum studiosis, Cooperus ibidem ludi literarii professor.
S. D.

I QVID EST IN ME sedulitatis & industriæ (viri doctissimi) quam, pro viribus, semper studui in rebus agendis adhibere: Si quid ingenii, vel eruditionis: quod nunq̃ mihi satis amplum visum est, ad amicorum merita prædicanda: id iure debeo, quantulumcunque est: in laudis et existimationis vestræ ornamentum conuertere. Cum enim prima studiorũ meorum incunabula: et quicquid est ex eo tempore in literis a me positum, cogitatione et memoria complector: facile intelligo me vestra omnium singulari vsum beneuolentia et benignitate: tantisque sæpe cumulatũ beneficiis: quanta tenuis hæc facultas mea verbis consequi nunquàm potest. Nam et tuum in me (Haddone præstantissime) animum, licet nuper admodum notitia sit inter nos, mirifice propensum intelligo: et cũ cæteris eiusdem Gymnasii commilitonibus meis: tanta non studiorum modo, sed animorum etiam coniunctione vixi: vt nihil promptius habuerim aut paratius: quam illorum operam, curam, diligentiam, studium, in omnibus rebus: quæ ad meam vtilitatem pertinere videbantur. Quamobrem vehementer essem ingratus: si non cogitationes meas et ingenii neruos contenderem: vt, cum meritorum amplitudinem pari nequeam officio exæquare) aliquam uobis darem mutuæ voluntatis significationem. Itaq;, superioribus non multis abhinc mensibus: cum Eliotæ Bibliothecam in manus, hoc consilio, resumerem: vt compluribus in locis castigatior, et non contemnenda verbo,

verborum ſupellectili ditior, in vulgus exiret: nihil videbam, nec meo in vos officio conuenientius, nec ſtudio in me veſtro dignius: q̄ vt hos labores meos, ſucciſiuis horis abſolutos, nomini veſtro conſecrarem. Studium tamen hoc, et conſilium meum nonnihil remorata eſt ſuſpicienda nominis Regii maieſtas: cui, multorum iudicio, quantum in me eſſet, viderer detrahere: ſi, poſt illam, meis lucubrationibus alios vellem patronos ambire: præſertim cum, huius reuerentia, ſatis ab omnium iniuriis munita noſtra videatur induſtria. Huius rei cogitatio, licet aliquantiſper animum in diuerſas partes trahebat: non potuit tamen ab inſtituto penitus auocare. Nam vt primas officii mei partes Regię Maieſtati debitas fuiſſe plane cõfiteor, et libenter agnoſco: ita ſecundas Gymnaſium Magdalenenſe, quaſi iure ſuo, videtur vendicare. Huius enim beneficio in artium liberaliſsimarum ſtudiis educatus: eidem acceptam referre debeo qualemcunq; ſum conſequutus vel ingenii vel eruditionis cõmendationem. Huc prętereà accedit: quod animo et cogitatione ſemper in hanc ſententiam, fui propenſior: vt exiſtimarem: hoc opus, tam ſpiſſũ et varium, non modo imperatoriis egêre viribus ad cohercendam inuidorum petulantiam: ſed etiam hominum iudicio, in doctrinarum orbe vniuerſo, conſultiſsimorum: qui errata, quę me ſubterfugerent: et propter eximiam rerum cognitionem facillime poſſent deprehendere: et propter ſingularem humanitatem libentiſsime vellent adnotare. Cuius notę, cum viderem hoc veſtrum Muſęum nonnullos alere: & te in primis Haddone doctiſsime (qui propter ſingularem virtutis, ingenii, eruditionis pręſtantiam: pręfectus eidem es cõſtitutus) decretum mihi cum animo & conſtitutum erat: hoc quicquid eſt elucubrationis, ſub veſtro titulo in manus hominum emittere. Quid autem ſim his nouis laboribus cõſequutus: quod prior editio complexa non ſit: malim vſu ſtudioſos lectores experiri: quàm mea prædicatione, quaſi præconis voce, innoteſcere. Videar enim fortaſſe quibuſdam, tanquàm negotiator auarus, inutiles merces in ipſo ſtatim ingreſſu oſtentare. Vos autem ſi hanc qualemcunq; ſignificationem animi erga vos mei benigne acceperitis: ſtimulos addetis vehementiſsimos, ad ea perficienda: quę, et reip. non minus vtilia ſint: et vobis multo magis iucunda. Valete.

LECTORI

IOHERONVS LVDIMAGISTER ROFFENSIS IN RENOVATAM Eliotæ Bibliothecam.

COmmoda si quis aues, operis nouisse recentis:
Cooperi illa tibi tradet epistolion.
Sin cupis et sentire labor sit quantus in illis:
Quæ huc congesta vides perlege, deinde scies.
Hæc qui contulerant, omnes voluisse videntur
Angligenas pueros reddere Timotheos.
Et plane fœlix puer est, cui tot documenta
Sint veluti in cunis tradita molliculis.
Anglia nunc dicat, fœlix ætas Edoardi,
Quo puero, pueris optima quæq; cadunt.

NICOLAVS CRIMOALDVS ad lectorem.

MEssibus, eccè, nouis iterum sunt horrea plena:
Vsibus vt promas, o philomuse, tuis.
Seq; adeò victos duri fateantur agrestes.
Rustica res tanti nulla laboris eget.
Quid non expugnat vigilans industria? Quid non Mens, ardore, potest? sedulitate, manus?
Scriptores recitant quę multa vocabula multi:
Omnia sunt vno dinumerata libro.
Hic, patrias voces omnes, formasque loquendi:
Romanasq; omnes, vnicus Anglus habet.
Verba, notę rerum, sic ordine cuncta notantur:
Vno vt contuitu, singula nosse queas.
Queis caruere patres, tantoque feruntur honore:
His operis fretus, tu mihi quantus eris?

THOMAS BICLEVS MAGdalenensis.

ESt aliquid verbis Anglos formare latinis:
Plus tamen est linguam his arte polire suam.
Hoc vtrunq; tibi Cooperus præstitit, vno
Has linguas libro, tradidit ipse duas.
Tradidit vt cunctis studiosis vtilis esset,
Artifici, docta, qua potuit q; manu.

Ergo discе puer, iuuenis, vir, discе senexq;,
Hic omnem fœdam pellere barbariem.
Quisquis es hic discas, vnoq; volumine, docta
Anglis & Latiis arte referre sonos.
Nec pigeat grates, quas gratas reddere possis
Authori, gratus qui dedit ista tibi.
Vt daret hæc gratus tibi curas atque labores
Cooperus vigiles nocte dieq; tulit.

Nicolaus Grimoaldus, ad Thomam Cooperum.

VT viam longam, peregrè profectus,
Ac iter longum cupit expeditè
Confici: nullas remoras nec optat
Esse viator,
Sed dari certos petit, atque claros
Indices: qui se temerè vagantem
Retrahant: dempto scrupulo, monentes,
Quà sit eundum:
Sic amor si quem tenet: experitq;:
Ter trium sedes nitidas Dearum
Possit: et sacros, aditu recluso,
Scandere montes:
Te, ducem primum, Coopere, captet:
Te sibi iungat, teneris ab annis:
Te legat, voluat, recolat, reuisat,
Laudet, ametq;.

To the moſt puiſant and mightie prince Edward the.vi.

by the grace of god kyng of Englande, France and Irelande, defender of the faith, and of the churche of Englande, and alſo of Irelande in earth the ſupreme head: your moſt humble and obedient ſubiecte Thomas Cooper hertily wyſſheth all grace and peace from god with long reygne, honour, helth and proſperitee.

When I had atchieued my labours (ſuche as they be) in caſtigatyng and augmentyng this Dictionarie, in time paſt compiled by Sir Thomas Eliote, and dedicated to the moſt renoumed prynce your deare and louynge father: I longe doubted with my ſelfe (moſt gracious ſoueraygne lorde) whether I nowe in lyke maner might be ſo bolde, as to exhibite the ſame to your Imperiall maieſtee. My lowe eſtate and baſe condicion a longe tyme did beare me backe, and greatly abaſhe me. For in deede I thought it a thyng verie vnſemely, and a great preſumpcion in me ſo ſimple a perſon, to ſet abrode the caſtigacion of ſuche a worke vnder the name, title, and protection of ſo noble and great a prince: Yet conſiderynge and weighynge in my mynde, the benynge Clemencie, that ſo bryghtly ſhyneth in your moſt gracious countinance, and the excellent towardneſſe of vertue, godly zele and feruent deſyre of good learnynge, that already appeareth in your hyghneſſe, I was wonderfully encouraged, and conceyued a great boldneſſe hardily to aduenture the ſame. And this alſo did comforte and put me forth greatly, that your highneſſe (as all noble prynces are wont) not onely in the gyftes and preſentes, but alſo in other woorkes and enterpryſes of your faithfull ſubiectes, doth vndoubtedly more weyghe and conſyder the herte, true meanyng, and honeſt endeuoir, than the power or woorthyneſſe of the perſon: the benefyte and profyte that maie growe therby to your realmes and dominions, than any other cauſe or qualitee, that can be imagined to commende and ſette forth the thyng. So that nowe (by conſyderation of theſe thynges) I am throughly perſwaded, that I can not accompliſſhe the dutee of a kynde and louynge ſubiecte, vnleſſe I dooe with this ſimple token or poore earneſt peanie geue due teſtimonie of my good hert toward your maieſtee, and glad mind for the wonderfull grace and towardneſſe that dooeth ſo abundantly ſhewe and declare it ſelfe in your highneſſe minoritee and childhode. For what ſubiecte indued with common ſenſe and reaſon, doeth not euen now in theſe your tender yeres clerely perceiue your godly inclinacion, diſpoſed ſo to rule and gouerne vs in vertue and true religion, that of all nacions we maie iudge our ſelfes to be moſt happye and fortunate? For this thyng, chefely, we are bounde daiely on our knees with lowly hertes, to geue moſte humble thankes to god, who pitying our eſtate, of a ſyngular fauour and mercie towarde this realme of Englande, ſent you to reygne ouer vs. Secondly we ought to loue and honourably fauour in our hertes your moſt noble and deare vncle Edwarde Duke of Somerſet, who, beſydes the protection of all your realmes and louyng ſubiectes, is not onely ſtyll carefull to preſerue your royall perſon from all maner perylles and ieoperdies, but alſo that you be in ſuche wiſe and ſo godly traded vp in all kindes of vertuous doctrine, as you maie be moſte woorthy and hable to haue the gouernance of your moſt noble realmes and dominions. And for this cauſe were right prudently prouided for your highneſſe, ſuche and ſo excellent inſtructours, as ſcantly the lyke in vertue and learnyng maie in any place be founden. Whoſe godly inſtructions and vertuous counſayles, how effectually they take place in your ſacred maieſtees breaſt, it dooeth ryght well appeare to all theim that attende vpon your royall person, by the sage and godly talke that proceedeth from your most gracious mouth. We here abrode, and by your most godly procedynges euidently perceiue, howe your grace willeth, that your deare vncle and other most honourable counsaylours and ministers, shulde endeuoir and applie theim selfes, first, to set vp true religion, to goddes honour and glorie, to abolyshe idolatrie and superfition: and than consequently to procede forth to the aduauncement of the common weale, that is, truely to minyster iustice, to restreigne extorcion and oppression: to set vp tyllage and good husbandry, wherby the people maie encrease and be maintcined. Your godly herte wolde not haue wilde beastes increase, and menne decaie: grounde so enclosed vp, that your people shoulde lacke foode and sustinaunce: one man by shutyng in of fieldes and pastures, to be made, and an hundred therby to be destroyed. O godly herte, O prince most worthy to reigne, not ouer two or three realmes, but ouer the whole worlde. Such talke hath seldome bene heard of pryntes of full age, perfyte discretion and longe reigne. Wherfore the inestimable comfort and hope that all your louyng subiectes do take at this your wise and discrete deuising and communing, and many other lyuely sparkes and certayne tokens of vertue and christian regyment, can not be sufficiently expressed: Yea vndoubtedly many englyshe hertes haue conceyued an vnfeigned hope, that your maiestee, shewyng your selfe so sage, so graue, so prudent, in your tender youth, shoulde as very Salomon by wisedome bryng the worlde from tumultie and ruffelyng, to restfull quietnesse: from warre, to peace: from hatred and discorde to loue and amitee: from contencious sectes and opynions, to one christian vnitee and true religion. Surely I say many are fully perswaded, that the eternall wisedome and secrete counsayle of God, hath ordeyned your highnesse this to dor, to his greate honour, your immortall prayse, and the weale and profyte of all your louynge subiectes. Some perchaunce will meruayle why I speake not of your high magnificence, of your great and large gyftes of fortune, realmes, dominions, palaices most richely adorned, treasure, precious stones and iewels: for whiche kynges are wonte to be highly magnified and praysed. These (moste benigne and gracious souerayne) shine not so bryght, ne are so beautifull in mine eies, nor yet to be so greatly esteemed of any christian hert, as are the dyuyne gyftes, with the whiche your moste royall breast is indued: The precious Margarite Sapience, whom you so louyngly embrace, whiche shall make your kyngdome stronge for euer: Science of gods worde most gracious, that you so earnestly fauour, which shall cause you euer to loue and dreade hym, and know stylll whose minister ye be: Loue so great to god and your commons, that shall alwaie kepe and surely defende you: Iustice, so vprightly weighyng as well the cause of the poore as the ryche, whiche shall alwaie fortifie and establishe your moste noble kyngdomes. These thynges do most adourne the maiestee of great monarkes, and rulers of the worlde, these thynges (moste gracious prince) doo more magnifie and sette forth your royall name a thousande folde, than all the rychesse of the worlde and gyftes of fortune. Whiche, not withstandynge, your highnesse hath in great aboundance: wherto, our contynuall prayer is, that the almightie lorde will vouchesafe to graunt, yet still more and more encrease of all grace, long lyfe, welth and condigne felicitee, and finally make perfyte in you that excellent image of a christian gouernour, that his wisedome and gracious hande hath already wonderfully framed and begunne, to our great comforte. Amen.

The profyte and commoditee of these my labours, and the maner of the whole worke, that I haue so boldly enterprised to publishe in your maiesties name, is sufficiently described and sette forth in a latine epistole here folowyng, for that onely purpose, made and entitled to the indifferent reader: which I thought not conuenient here to repete.

God saue your maiestee.

THO. COOPERVS CANDIDO LECTORI SALVTEM.

ELIOTA, VIR INPRIMIS BONARUM literarum ſtudioſus, & multis nominibus optime de republica meritus: cum Bibliothecam ſuam aggrederetur: maleuolorum calumnias, & reprehenſiones ſe plurimum vereri: et hanc operam Criticorum dentibus eſſe valde obnoxiam prædicabat. Solent enim huiuſmodi homines, in alienis laboribus, non quæ vtilia videantur obſeruare: ſed quæ imprudentia præterlapſa ſint, ſummo ſtudio notare et carpere: adeoq; ſingulos conuellere literarum apices: vt, ſi quid paulum modo retortum ſit: id ſuo more conuitiis exagitent. Cui, mens quàm vera præſagiebat: vel hinc ſatis perſpicuum eſt: quod Dictionarium huius Latino-anglicum, mirifico ſtudioſæ iuuentutis amore exceptum, poſtquàm errata quædam eſſent in eodem deprehenſa: ita cæpit maledictis figi: acſi Eliota nullam fuiſſet induſtria ſua laudem meritus: nec tantis quicquàm laboribus doctrinæ et literarum ſtudioſis profuiſſet. Quamobrem et mihi ſimile quiddam in huius operis caſtigatione euenturum opinor. Nam iſtius ingratitudinis metus, animum mihi iam aggreſſuro, diu perplexum atque ſuſpenſum tenebat, et ab inſtituto penitus auocaſſet: niſi Bertheletus, ſingulari vir in bonas literas amore præditus, haud mediocriter animum aduerſus huiuſmodi Sycophantas confirmaſſet: ſeq;, tanquàm alterum Theſeum, in his laboribus exantlandis adiunxiſſet. Huius tamen ſententiæ (vltra quàm mihi per officium licebat) reſtiti, et operam meam hac in re conſtanter negaui. Tum, quod iſtam prouinciam vti dignum erat exornare, longe ſupra vires eſſe crederem, videreturq; res ipſa in linguis multo exercitatiorem, et per omnia eruditiorem poſcere: tum, quod ætas hæc noſtra plurima haberet ingenia egregiè ad res agendas nata, à quibus hoc ſperandum atque expectandum putaui. Obiiciebam præterea, non mediocriter tantum doctorum iudicium nobis metuendum, cui fortaſſe diligentia noſtra et induſtria ſatisfieri poſſet, ſed peritiſsimorum etiam et doctiſſimorum quorundam: quibus, nihil fere, niſi quod ipſi faciunt, placere ſolet: et quibus nihil ſatis doctum, maturum, expenſum, elegans, exornatum, ſublime denique et omnibus numeris abſolutum vide-videtur. Quibus omnibus sic breuiter ab illo responsum est: Neminem vnum omnia posse: nemini concessa esse omnia: neq; expectandum cuiquàm dum absolutus reddatur artifex: donis præsentibus ad aliorum vtilitatem & commodum reipu. vtendum. Esse onus hoc magnum fortasse, & nobis propter inuidorum maleuolentiam periculosum: dignum tamen in quo omnes neruos ætatis & industriæ nostræ contenderemus. Adhæc, florere quidem hodie multa ingenia præstantissima: quæ, si vellent & hac in re & in aliis, plurimum præstare possent: sed in tanta peritissimorum hominum multitudine, et studiorum varietate, alios aliis rebus ita intentos, vt vix sperandum sit eorum quenquam (nisi insigni proposito præmio) munus hoc susceperturum: in quo, voluptatis et delectationis minimum, laboris autem, studii, et difficultatis plurimum existat. Deniq; doctos, qui malignè carpunt aliorum piè susceptos labores, non plus metuendos, quam indoctos non intellecti operis contemptores: quum, vtrosq; constet affectibus non sana duci ratione. Studiosos forsitan et recte animatos hoc opere excitari posse: vt, et ipsi ingenii sui faciant periculum: et, hoc quod Eliota fœliciter incæpit, nos studiose promouimus, illi deniq; absoluant et summam operi manum imponant. His ego persuasus delegatam mihi ab homine amantissimo prouinciam amplius recusandam non putaui. Eisdem rationibus, causam nostram studiosis omnibus et equis lectoribus satis probari magnopere confido. Quibus si nobis satisfacete contigerit, magnorum laborum, multarumq; vigiliarum, fructum nos susceperturos amplissimum putabimus. Illis enim scripsimus: illis solummodo studuimus placere. Alios vero qui hoc genus exercitationis in vniuersum imbrobant, vsq; adeo vt confici vocabularia cum latinæ linguæ idiomatum interpretatione grauiter et molestè ferant: nec ipsi magnifacimus, nec a studiosis hominibus audiēdos iudicamus. Hi tamen, si qui sunt, (sunt autem plurimi, temerè in his suggeri iuuenibus calumniantes, quæ alioqui cum magno cognitionis fructu ex bonorum authorum lectione discere oportuisset) hoc sibi responsum auferant: Varronis, F. Pompei, Perotti, Am. Calepini, et nostra item memoria, Nizolii, Riccii, Bas. Zanchi, Step. Doleti, Roberti Stephani, aliorumq; doctissimorum hominum industriam nos imitari. qui, cum magna laude immortalique nominis memoria, in hoc scripti genere ante nos laborarunt: Quorum authoritas & exemplum tantum apud nos valet, vt cum illis decipi & errare honestius multo, & laudabilius fore putemus, quàm istis magistris erudiri & instrui. Quid enim habent, cur non illos eodem condemnent crimine, ne, si modo nos hac in re voluerint reprehendere? verè enim si existimabunt, sic constituent: in simili causa versari nos, atque nobis eandem cum illis rationem esse: Nisi fortasse laudant eos, quod obscura & difficilia (vt erant doctissimi) summa diligentia enucliarunt: nos autem ideo non probant, quod ista rectius quàm illi præstare non potuimus. Quum iure potius optimo laudi nobis tribui oporterat: quod summis laboribus, atque vigiliis, eorum opera peruoluentes, sententias & interpretationes conferentes, hic cum vernacula interpretatione congessimus: quicquid ex his omnibus vtilitatis studiosa iuuentus exhaurire posset. Neque hic velim quisquam labores nostros eleuet, & Eliotæ primum, nostramq; deinde industriam derideat, nimis fastidiose iactitans: Vni duntaxat nationi scripsisse nos: nimis breuiter omnia tradidisse: tyrunculis atq; adeo puellis nosmet solum accommodasse: facilem ac nullius negotii operam præstitisse: quum ea modo in patrium sermonem transfuderimus, quæ nobis alii latinè copiosius exposuerunt. Anglis solum scripsisse nos fatemur certe libenter, atque id inprimis gloriamur, vel ex hoc satis perspicuum esse, nos, singulari quodam in patriam amore, non externa gloriolæ fama adductos, hanc suscepisse prouinciam. Breuiter omnia tradere, nec integris authorum exemplis phrases vbiq; illustrare, & operis commoditas suasit, et necessitas impulit: ne in immensum excresceret volumen: quod vnum incommodum aureum illud opus Thesauri habet. Ad tyrunculorum sane captum nosmet submisimus, sed ita, vt exercitatissimi hic reperiant, quo sua studia iuuare possent. Nullius autem difficultatis esse, quod, ex aliorum lucubrationibus, quæ ad nostrum vsum essent, transtulimus, cur magnopere dicant nihil video. Nam & ipsi, quorum subsidio nostra maxime leuata est industria: ab aliis, qui ante eos in eodem stadio desudarunt, se nonnihil adiutos vbique fatentur: nec tamen ideo nihil eos fecisse credendum est: quum ab omnibus in cælum iustissimis & verissimis laudibns efferantur. Denique, quod ad vernaculam interpretationem attinet, quid alii sentiant nescio: nos certe, qui iam experti sumus quanti laboris studiiq; sit, persancte vobis confirmare audemus, longe hoc difficilius nobis fuisse, quàm si idem latinè præstandum foret. Huius rei quæ fidem vobis faciunt, vt alia multa prętermittam: sexcenta nobis occurrebant vocabula ex Columella, Catone, Varrone, Plinio, & aliis, peregrina & rara, vel arti alicui propria: nec vlla vel ipsius authoris vel alterius interpretatione illustrata: quæ transire facile potuissemus, si aliorum exemplo licuisset, integra ex authore subscripta sententia, verbi significationem lectoris iudiciō relinquere. Verum nos operis ſuſcepti ratio cogebat, vel propriam rei cuiuſq; appellationem addere, vel paucis vernaculè ita deſcribere, vt etiam pueri vim ipſius vocabuli poſſent intelligere. Sed altius paulo & penitius huius operis difficultates introſpiciamus. Vocabulorum quæ in Dictionaria plęrunque conferuntur, quædam communia ſunt & familiaria: quædam certis artibus & ſcientiis deſtinata. Familiarium certe verborum interpretationes aliquot vernaculè reddere, haud magni fortaſſe laboris eſt, quum omnibus nota ſint, & quotidiano ſermone protrita, obuia, & vbique occurrentia. Ago, fero, facio, duco, quid ſignificent, nemo non nouit: verum iſtorum, & ſimilium, varium apud authores vſum obſeruare, & pro immenſa hac varietate, diuerſas, aptas tamen & conuenientes ſignificationes apponere, vel quum vſus vocabuli verbo vnico ſatis indicari non poteſt, breuiter ex probato authore phraſim & modum locutionis ita cum vernacula interpretatione ſubnectere, vt interim ſeruetur vtriuſq; linguæ idiotiſmus et gratia: hoc opus, hic labor eſt, hæ ſunt de quibus tantopere quærimur difficultates. Hoc autem quanti ſit, et quantum nos hac in parte ſtudii et laboris poſuerimus, aliorumq; induſtriam adiuuerimus: illi deniq; ſcient, qui, vel infinitas Romani ſermonis diuitias et elegantias (quas Cicero ne Græcorū opibus cedere exiſtimabat) cum noſtrę linguæ penuria tenuiq; ſupellectili conferre: vel, ex Cicerone, Liuio, Tacito, Cæſare, alicue ſcriptore claſsico quicq̄ Anglico ſermoni tradere voluerint. Et vt ſint fortaſſe nonnulli, qui hoc totum nullius momenti fecerint, quod illis vix vllum operæ pretium videatur eſſe, ſi quis latina apte in maternum vertere ſermonem calleat: Quando tamen M. Tullius, ſine cōtrouerſia totius eloquentiæ fons, nonnuſquàm gloriatur ſe latine interpretando philoſophiam patriæ familiarem reddidiſſe: et quædam ex græcis tam poētis quàm oratoribus in ſuum vſum tranſferendo egregiam nauaſſe operam credebat. Qui minus noſtra laudetur induſtria, qui ſummo ſtudio, ſummaq; diligentia ſic latina vbiq; Anglicè interpretati ſumus, vt vel pueri quoq; latina vernaculè, vel è contrario vernacula latinè, nullo fere negotio et cum aliqua ratione et gratia, nec ineptis et abſurdis, ſed appoſitis et accommodatis verbis reddere addiſcant. Sed iam ad eorum verborum contemplationem veniamus, quæ artibus quibuſdam et ſcientiis propria diximus: Quorum tanta varietas eſt, tamq; difficilis cognitio: vt nemini vnquàm vni quantumuis πολυμαθει, et multifaria rerum experientia doctiſsimo, eorum omnium vernaculam cognouiſſe nomenclaturā arbitrer contigiſſe. Huius generis ſunt omnia inſtrumenta mechanica, vt fabrili-

cio

lia, tonsoria, rustica, nautica, textoria, bellica. &c. quæ propria sua habent vocabula, vix illis nota, quorum manibus quotidie teruntur. Idem etiam sentiendum de singulis operum partibus, quæ eisdem subiiciuntur artificiis. Quot res in ædificio sunt? quibus si à fabris sua nomina reddi poscerem: magis mutos reperires quam pisces? Prętereo hic præcipuos illos loquendi modos, quos singuli opifices in propriis artibus sibi peculiares habent. In vna re nautica, quanta rerum varietas? quot locutionum formulæ? quot instrumenta nautarū vsui accommodata? quot nauis ipsius partes? quot nauigiorum genera? vt, quæ ad hoc vnum spectent negotium exactè didicisse, non minimi laboris esse videatur. Eos ergo qui lexicō ex omni parte perfectum, & in quo nihil desyderetur, sibi conficiendum proponunt: omnes simul artifices in consiliū adhibere oportet: vt ab illis rerū nomina discant, quibus singuli artificia sua tuentur. Quemadmodum & nos frequenter ad materiarios fabros, ad olitores, ad textores, ad agricolas, ad rusticam turbam de nomenclaturis retulimus: & ab illis sumpsimus etiam, quæ rei congruerent propositæ. Iam vero herbis sua vocabula, quibus vulgo nuncupentur subscribere, quàm sit arduū, medicorum inconstantia, (qui in hac sola re multorum annorum studium posuere) satis probat. Apud illos enim hodie, in plerisq; doctissimi viri argumentū habetur, non herbam digito monstrare, nomine indicare, vel quæ sit breuiter definire: sed authorum qui de ea scripserunt pugnantes sententias numerare. Siquidem & Theophrastus, & cunctis in re herbaria a Galeno prælatus Dioscorides, neque non apud latinos Plinius, tam diuersi plerunq; abeunt, vt in gratiam nulla possint orationis persuasione reuocari: & nonnunquàm in herbulę cuiusdam facie repręsentanda, noras tam varie deliniant: vt quidnis potius quàm stirpem ipsam demonstrare videantur, vel certe eandem multiplici prorsus & varia effigie. Huc adde, quod vnaquęque regio suas habeat stirpes, sibi peculiares, qui nec vsquàm alibi reperiantur, nec (cum in nullo vnq̄ vsu apud nostrates fuerint) Anglica nomenclatione reddi possint. Quid hic tēpus tererē in recensendis innumeris piscium, volatilium, serpentum, insectorum, gemmarum generibus? quorū omnium naturę perscrutandę, & nomina ediscenda sunt eis, qui nihil in Dictionario vernaculo deesse cupiunt. Quum ergo tantæ difficultatis, tantiq; studii res existat, quo quidq; certo et proprio vocabulo appelletur pernoscere: ne mox terrę cælū misceāt nimium seueri alienorum operum censores, si quod forte verbum, parum apte materno sermone redditum, inuenerint. Sciant in opere tam spisso et varię, facilem esse lapsum: Imo non labi difficillimum:

et per

et per omnia, omniũ opinioni ſatiſfacere, nemini vnquàm cõceſſum. Simul etiam memores ſint, ſatis eſſe homines imprudentia lapſos non erigere: vrgere vero iacentes et non potius in pedes rurſũ ſtatuere, nimis eſſe inhumanum. Sed merces iam vobis coram ſine fraude expònam: vt intelligatis quid, a nobis, in hoc opere præſtitum, expectari debeat. Digeſsimus ordine alphabetico, quàm fieri potuit commodiſsime ac diligentiſsime, latinas dictiones omnes, et peregrinas duntaxat eas, quæ a latinis vſurpatæ ſunt authoribus. Multas vero, quæ nullo latinorum vſu probari poſſent, ideoq; meram ſapere barbariem viderentur, reiecimus. Vocabula nonnulla, et plumas locutionum formnlas, quæ ſæpiſsime ſine vllo ordine, cum maximo lectorum incommodo, temere ſpargebantur: vt in ſuas ſedes fideliter reſtituerentur, ſtudioſè laborauimus. Annotauimus præterea in nominibus genus & inflectionem. Verborum etiam præterita, quę priori editione corruptiſsime legebantur, hic caſtigatiora reperies. Accentuum item ratio, non vbiq; a nobis prætermiſſa. Adhæc, Vocabulorum aliquot millia adiecimus, & verborum ſignificationes innumeras: quæ non modo in ſcriptoribus latinæ linguę probatiſsimis, ſed in quotidiano etiam ſermone vſum habent ampliſsimũ. Vnicuiq; dictioni vernacula vocabula accommodata & conuenientia, quaſi vno aceruo congeſta, tanta varietate ſubtexuimus: vt hic noſter labor non tam ad expeditam Romani ſermonis notitiam, quàm ad noſtræ linguæ ornatum, & elegantiã plurimum conferat. Phraſes etiam & formulas locutionum, vſum verborum aptiſsime demonſtrantes, ex Cicerone & aliis latini eloquii principibus, vbiq; ſubſcripſimus: quibus interpretandis, non verbum pro verbo anxie reddere, vt ſyllabas numerare videremur: ſed vim vocibus ſubiectam pro viribus exprimentes, vtriuſq; linguæ gratiam et elegantiam ſeruare, præcipuè ſtudebamus. Prętera, propria nomina deorum, virorum, regionum, fluminum, oppidorum, quę prius magna ex parte neglecta erant, item adiectiua & patronymica, ad poëtarum lectionem maxime neceſſaria, tum ex Stephano, tum ex aliis, qui de eis ſcripſerunt, in hanc editionem tranſtulimus. Deniq;, vix credas quàm varia & corrupta vbiq; eſſet, tum propriorum nominum, tum etiam vocabulorum latinorum orthográphia, aliis aliter ſcribentibus: ita vt eædem dictiones diuerſis ſępe locis repeterentur. huic etiam vitio noſtra diligentia ſuccurrimus: & vbi probari poſsit varia verbi alicuius ſcriptio, lectorem ex vno loco in alium mittimus, ne fruſtra eadẽ repetęre cogeremur. Poſtremo, errata, non in propriis ſolum, ſed et iam in latinis innumera, caſtigauimus: quę Eliota vel impreſſorum errore deceptus, aliis falſo falso asscripsit: vel imprudentia et nimia festinatione lapsus, ipse designauit. In re herbaria (vbi plurima, nec immerito, nostri temporis medici desyderant) multa restituimus, aliqua adiecimus: Quum principio tamen animus esset, nihil quod ad herbas & frutices attineret, attingere: ne committeremus, vt audacter verius quàm prudenter ea res a nobis traderetur: in qua, nunquàm singulare aliquod & præcipuum studium posuissemus: præsertim quum medici quidam, quos initio consuluimus, tam fastidiose vota nostra reiecerint. Optauimus ergo magis, vt tam inconstans & varia fruticum et stirpium nomenclatura, a perito aliquo & exercitato viro describeretur: qui bonam ętatis suę partem posuisset, in disquirendis et inuestigandis herbarum naturis. Pollicitus hoc est Turnerus, vir sane doctus & pius, cuius industriam omnes artis medicę studiosi, auidissime expectant. Habes iam (lector humanissime) bona fide tibi expositа, quę nos postrema hac æditione prętitimus. Quę non ideo velim hic a me adscripta putes, vt vel Eliotę viro ornatissimo (quemq; propter singulare in bonis literis promouendis studium, semper amaui plurimum) tanquàm negligenti atque oscitanti insultare, vel meritas eius laudes imminuere videar: sed potius vt tibi, amice lector, hoc pactò labores nostros vtcunq; ob oculos proponam, atque apud te aliquod nõstrę industriæ specimem ederem. Nunc ergo si studia tua quicquàm a nobis iuuari putabis, sudoribus nostris & vigiliis fruere non ingratus: & Vdallo viro doctissimo, cuius eruditissimus annotationibus multis locis leuati sumus, dignas laudes gratiasque tribue.

Vale.

, IN THE ende of a woꝛde is alwaies long, except Ita, quia, puta, and the nominatiue, accusatiue, and vocatiue cases of nownes declined, sauing the vocatiue case of the nominatiue in, as.

A, and Ab, signifieth, of, and from. A, is sette before such woꝛdes onely, as doe begynne with a consenante. Ab and Abs are vsed as well before woꝛdes that beginne with vowels, as with consonantes, onelesse the rought and vnpleasante sounde of the woꝛde be a lette therto.

A, and Ab, ioygned with passiues doe note the doear oꝛ cause efficient: as, victus est à Scipione: Scipio ouercame hym.

A meis ciuibus res mihi honori fuit: my cytizens dyd greatly honour me foꝛ that thinge.

A nobilitate magis infestus ager fuit. &c. the noble men dyd moꝛe vexe & hurt that countrey. &c.

A and Ab, signifie mouing from a place: as, A villa redeo, I returne from my ferme.

A and Ab, be sometyme interpreted by, Cum, and serue to note the time: as, A paruo te noui: id est, cum adhuc esses paruus: I knewe the when thou was but a lytle one. Ab adolescentulo: when thou was but a ponge man. Ab infante. when thou was but a childe.

A and Ab, note the terme of tyme, and then foꝛ monly foloweth, Ad, oꝛ vsqꝫ ad: as, A principio ad finem: from the beginning to the ende.

A sole orto vsqꝫ ad multum diei: from the sonne risinge vntil a great parte of the daye was paste. A capite ad calcem: from the toppe to the toe.

Ab imis vnguibus vsqꝫ ad sūmum verticem: from the toes to the crowne of the heade.

A mane vsqꝫ ad vesperum: from early in the moꝛning vntyll the euenynge.

A media nocte togatus ero: id est statim post.

Ab oro vsqꝫ ad mala: from the beginninge of the feaste vntyll the ende.

Ab omni æternitate vixit animus: id est, ab æterno: the soule of man had no beginning but was euer.

Ceremoniæ ab omni vetustate acceptæ: ceremonies receyued of our auncetours longe sence, tyme out of mynde.

A pridie idus Septembris: from the day beꝛe the Ides of September.

Ab Sylla & Pompeio consulibus: sence the tyme that Sylla and Pompey were consulls.

A and Ab, note seperation: as, Longissime ab occasu: a great way from the weaste.

A and Ab, foꝛ contra: as defendit a frigore myrtos: it kepeth the mirtells against the coulde.

Vestes à tineis defendit: it kepeth garmentes from the mothes.

A and Ab, foꝛ Præter oꝛ contra: as, Id annotasse non ab re fuerit: it wyll not be vnpꝛofitable, oꝛ it shalbe nothinge againste our purpose to note that. Quidnis, dum ab re nequid ores, faciam: I wyll doe what so euer you wyll so you desyꝛe me nothing against honestie.

A re tua, foꝛ A tuis negotiis: from your owne busines.

Non ab re fuerit subtexere. &c. It shalbe nothing from our purpose to adde. &c.

Non ab re, sometyme foꝛ, non sine causa.

A and Ab, foꝛ, post, Statim, Continuo post: A ientalo: after breakefaste. A somno: by and by after sleape.

A and Ab, foꝛ Pro, with these verbes Sum, Sto, Facio, Dico, Ago, and other lyke: as Stare ab Senatu: to take parte with the Senate. Non modo dicendi ab reo sed ne surgendi quidem potestas fuit: wee hadde no licence not only to speake any thing foꝛ the partie accused, but not so muche as to rise vp in his behalfe. Vide ne totum hoc sit a me: Looke well whether all these doe not make with me. Nihil magis a nobis quam ab aduersariis facit: it maketh no moꝛe with vs then with our aduersaries: In the same signification we vse. Cum aliquo facere, Cum aliquo stare: Pro aliquo esse. A testibus, contra testes: foꝛ wytnes against witnesses: A rumoribus, contra rumores: foꝛ rumour, and to pꝛoue theim to be beleued: against rumours and to pꝛoue theim not to be beleued. Nostri illi à Platone & Aristotele moderati homines: those moderate men that be of our soꝛt followers of Plato and Tristotle.

A and Ab, foꝛ quod pertinet ad: as, Sumus imparati tum a militibus tum a pecunia: wee are vnpꝛouided as well of souldiours as of money. A morbo valui, ab animo ager fui: as touching my disease I was whole, as touchinge my mynde I was syche, I was hoole from my disease, and syche in my minde. Tam a me pudica est quasi soror mea sit: she is as chaste and vndefiled foꝛ me, as yf she were my owne syster. Bis perit amator, ab re et ab animo: He that is in loue is dubble caste away and vndone, both as touching his goodes as also his minde. Tam inops eram ab amicis: I was so vtterly destitute of frendes. Securos vos ab hac parte reddam: as touchinge this matters I wyll make you secure.

A and Ab, foꝛ per, vt ibi Iunius mensis consumatur velim tranquille a Parthis, id est, vel vt per parthos liceat mihi tranquille consumere Iunium.

A foꝛ De, as aforis, foꝛ deforis. A via salutes foꝛ de via: salute him in the waye oꝛ streate as thou goest.

A and Ab, foꝛ versus, as, Quod a sole melius quam quod a terra: better that was towarde

, IN THE ende of a worde is alwaies long, except Ita, quia, puta, and the nominatiue, accusatiue, and vocatiue cases of nownes declined, saiing the vocatiue case of the nominatiue in, as.

A, and Ab, signifieth, of, and from. A, is sette before such wordes onely, as doe begynne with a consonante. Ab and Abs are vsed as well before woordes that beginne with vowels, as with consonantes, onelesse the roughe and vnpleasante sounde of the worde be a lette therto.

A, and Ab, ioyned with passiues doe note the doear or cause efficient: as, victus est à Scipione: Scipio ouercame hym.

A meis ciuibus res mihi honori fuit: my cytizens dyd greatly honour me for that thinge.

A nobilitate magis infestus: ager fuit. &c. the noble men dyd more vexe & hurt that contrey. &c.

A and Ab, signifie mouing from a place: as, A villa redeo, I returne from my ferme.

A and Ab, be sometyme interpreted by, Cum, and serue to note the time: as, A paruo te noui: id est, cum adhuc esses paruus: I knewe the when thou was but a lytle one. Ab adolescentulo: when thou was but a ponge man. Ab infante. when thou was but a childe.

A and Ab, note the terme of tyme, and then formonly followeth, Ad, or vsq; ad: as, A principio ad finem: from the beginning to the ende.

A sole orto vsq; ad multum diei: from the sonne risinge vntil a great parte of the dape was paste. A capite ad calcem: from the toppe to the toe.

Ab imis vnguibus vsq; ad sūmum verticem: from the toes to the crowne of the heade.

A mane vsq; ad vesperum: from early in the morning vntyll the euenynge.

A media nocte togatus ero: id est statim post.

Ab oro vsq; ad mala: from the beginninge of the feaste vntyll the ende.

Ab omni æternitate vixit animus: id est, ab æterno: the soule of man had no beginning but was euer.

Ceremoniæ ab omni vetustate acceptæ: ceremonies receyued of our auncetours longe sence, tyme out of mynde.

A pridie idus Septembris: from the day before the Ides of September.

Ab Sylla & Pompeio consulibus: sence the tyme that Sylla and Pompey were consulls.

A and Ab, note seperation: as, Longissime ab occasu: a great way from the weaste.

A and Ab, for contra: as defendit a frigore myrtos: it keepeth the mirtells against the coulde. Vestes à tineis defendit: it keepeth garmentes from the mothes.

A and Ab, for Præter or contra: as, Id annotasse non ab re fuerit: it wyll not be vnprofitable, or it shalbe nothinge against our purpose to note that. Quidnis, dum ab re nequid ores, faciam: I wyll doe what so euer you wyll so you desyre me nothing against honestie.

A re tua, for A tuis negotiis: from your owne busines.

Non ab re fuerit subtexere. &c. It shalbe nothing from our purpose to adde. &c.

Non ab re, sometyme for, non sine causa.

A and Ab, for, post, Statim, Continuo post: A ientalo: after breakefaste. A somno: by and by after sleape.

A and Ab, for Pro, with these verbes Sum, Sto, Facio, Dico, Ago, and other lyke: as Stare ab Senatu: to take parte with the Senate. Non modo dicendi ab reo sed ne surgendi quidem potestas fuit: wee hadde no licence not only to speake any thing for the partie accused, but not so muche as to rise vp in his behalfe. Videne totum hoc sit a me: Looke well whether all these doe not make with me. Nihil magis a nobis quam ab aduersariis facit: it maketh no more with vs then with our aduersaries: In the same signification we vse. Cum aliquo facere, Cum aliquo stare: Pro aliquo esse. A testibus, contra testes: for wytnes against witnesses: A rumoribus, contra rumores: for rumour, and to proue theim to be beleued: against rumours and to proue theim not to be beleued. Nostri illi à Platone & Aristotele moderati homines: these moderate men that be of our sort folowers of Plato and Aristotle.

A and Ab, for quod pertinet ad: as, Sumus imparati tum a militibus tum a pecunia: wee are vnprouided as well of souldiours as of money. A morbo valui, ab animo ager fui: as touching my disease I was whole, as touchinge my mynde I was sycke, I was hoole from my distrate, and sycke in my minde. Tam a me pudica est quasi soror mea sit: she is as chaste and vndefiled for me, as yf she were my owne syster. Bis perit amator, ab re et ab animo: he that is in loue is dubble caste away and vndone, both as touching his goodes as also his minde. Tam in ops eram ab amicis: I was so vtterly destitute of frendes. Securos vos ab hac parte reddam: as touchinge this matters I wyll make you secure.

A and Ab, for per, vt ibi Iunius mensis consumatur velim tranquille a Parthis, id est, velut per parthos liceat mihi tranquille consumere Iunium.

A for De, as aforis, for deforis. A via salutes for de via: salute him in the waye or streate as thou gost.

A and Ab, for versus, as, Quod a sole melius quam quod a terra: better that was towarde the ſon, then towarde the earthe.

A parte Aquilonis: on the noꝛthe ſyde.

A contraria aure inſtilla: put it in at the contrary eare.

A and Ab, ioyned with the ablatiue of the perſon, noteth the houſe oꝛ dwellynge place: as, A iudice venit: he commeth from the iudges houſe. A vobis: from your houſe. Ab ſe egreditur: he commeth out of his owne houſe. item A patre milite, ſene. &c.

A and Ab ſometyme ſignifie at, oꝛ with: as, A frigore incipit febris: the feuer beginneth with a colde. A potu prandium incipiunt: they begynne their diner with dꝛynke at the cuppe.

A fronte & a tergo: both behinde and befoꝛe.

A verecundia: id eſt, præ vel propter: A verecundia memoriaq; meritorum haud ſecus q̃ ducem ſuum attollunt: foꝛ ſhame and remembꝛance of his merites, & Friget ab illo: i. illius comparatione,

A foꝛ propter, as, Auidior erat certaminis a ſpe quam ſucceſſus rerum augebat: becauſe of the hope whiche his pꝛoſperous ſucceſſe did encreaſe.

A recenti memoria perfidiæ aliquanto minore cum miſericordia auditi, becauſe of the freſh remembꝛance of. &c.

Caput meum a ſole dolet, my head aketh with the heate of the ſunne.

A and Ab foꝛ ex parte, A Sabinis Metius. ab Romanis Hoſtilius.

Ab aliqno legare: as, Ei teſtamento legat grandem pecuniam a filio, a ſecundo hæredе nihil legat, by teſtament he bequeathed to him a gret ſomme of money to be deliuered oꝛ payed to him of his ſonne whom he lefte his chiefe heyꝛe: but if his ſonne died he appointed the ſeconde heyꝛe to geue him nothing.

A and Ab proximitatem loci notat: as Venerat a Roma pridia veſperi: he came from Rome the day befoꝛe in the euenyng. from Rome, that is, not out of the very citie, but from the countrey about oꝛ nigh to the citee. otherwyſe it ſhoulde haue bene in the ablatiue without a pꝛepoſition. Supplementum ab Roma abduxerat. i. de locis vrbi propinquis.

A and Ab, haue this difference from E and Ex. A theatro, from the theatre oꝛ from the place hard by the theatre: Ex theatro: out of the very theatre it ſelfe.

A and Ab ioyned with certayne nownes ſignifye officers oꝛ miniſters: as, Ab accidentibus qui preeſt nuntijs afferendis. Ab aure, a ſecretary oꝛ one to whom a pꝛynce reuealeth his pꝛiuie counſayle. A commentarijs: he that regiſtreth oꝛ cronacleth notable actes doone of a pꝛince. A latere: a great friend of a pꝛince, alway about him. A libellis: maiſter of requeſtes. A manu: a clerke oꝛ ſecretarie. A memoria: he that is the pꝛinces remembꝛaunce. A pedibus: a foote man oꝛ lachey. A ſecretis: one that the pꝛince appointeth to patens oꝛ warrant. A ſtudijs: a pꝛinces inſtructour oꝛ ouerſeer of his ſtudies. A rationibus: maiſter of accomptes, maiſter coffoꝛar. Ab epiſtolis, a ſecretarie oꝛ clerke of the ſignet. A batis: ouerſeear of the meaſures: clerke of the markette.

Theſe names of offices be vſed vndeclined in all numbers and caſes: as, Quid agunt a pedib', oꝛ quid agit a pedibus. Miſi a pedibus: I haue ſent my footeman. Dedi a pedibus meis, I deliuered it to my footeman.

A is ſometime put in Cæſars commentaries foꝛ in teruallo: A millibus paſſuum circiter duobus aduentum expectant, aboute two miles of &c. Poſitis caſtris a millibus paſſuum. 15. fiftin miles of &c.

We ſay elegantly: A me tibi ſoluã: i. de meo velde mea pecunia, I wyll pay the of myne owne purſe. Viaticum dabo ab trapezita tibi, I wil take money of the banker, and geue it you foꝛ your ſpendynge. Frater laborat vt tibi q̃ debet, ab Egnatio ſoluat: my bꝛother endeuoꝛeth to gette money of Egnatius that he may pay his debtes to you.

A ſuis fratribus dicit ſe dediſſe, he ſaieth he boꝛoweth money of his bꝛother and gaue it him. Suppeditat ſumptum a ſocijs, he boꝛoweth money of his felowes to maintaine his charges. Repreſentabo tibi a fratre, I will take money of my bꝛother, and pay you out of hande.

A cauda de ouo exeunt, they come out of the egge with their tayles foꝛwarde: oꝛ their tayles come out of the egge firſt.

A matre pulli non exiguis hodie pretijs vꝛeniunt, ponge chickens euen from the damme. &c.

Qui a philoſophia, a iure ciuili ab hiſtoria fuerit inſtructior, he that ſhall be well fourniſhed with the knowlage of philoſophie, of the law. &c.

Inuictus a labore, that can bee ouercome with no labour.

Tam prope ab exule fuit q̃ poſtea a principe, he was almoſt as nye to be a baniſhed man, as he was after to be a pꝛince.

Ab ſingulari amore & beneuolentia hæc ad te ſcripſi: I haue wꝛitten vnto you foꝛ a ſingular loue and good will.

Significant ſe ate illum librum deſcripſiſſe: that he had the copie of you to wꝛite out that boke.

A me ſalutem dic Ciceroni, haue me commẽded to Cicero.

Saluebis a meo Cicerone, my loonne Cicero ſendeth cõmendations vnto you, oꝛ greteth you.

A puppi Religatus, foꝛ ad puppim.

Hec primum ab illo iniuria animaduertenda ab illo iniuria .i. eius iniuria, oꝛ iniuria quam ille feeit, theſe his iniuries firſt to be puniſhed.

A me, foꝛ meus, as Quis a me pepulit fores.

A and Ab, ſeme ſometyme to lacke: as, Donec deſertus ſuis caderet .i. a ſuis.

Accita vitelio auxilia: i. a vitelio, they ſent foꝛ pade from vitellius.

A and Ab are prtely vsed with vsq, and prope, as Vsq a Romulo, euen fens Romulus tyme. Tam prope a muris, so little a waie from our waules, or so nye to our waules.

Abaces, dumme, that can not speake, also certaine cases, wherin plate is kepte.

Abacti, officers deposed, or suche as be constreigned to resigne their auctoritee.

Abactor, oris, m. g. a stealer of cattell.

Abactus, us, theft of cattell.

Abactus, a, um, driuen awai:

Abacta nox, the night past.

Abactus magistratus, deprined of office.

Abaculus, abaculi, a litle coūtour that auditours doe vse, called also Calculus.

Abacus, abaci, m. g. was in olde tyme a playne place made in a buildynge of stone to sette on a state or bence of marble. it is also a square table of stone in building set vpon the chapiters of pillers. Also a countyng table, suche as Arithmetricians or auditours doe vse, or suche as Astronomers deserue their figures in. Also a chest bende or playyng tables, and a cupbourde to set plate on.

Totos dies abaco & latrunculis conterunt, they spende whole daies in playyng at tables or chestes.

Abacus, is sometyme taken for a shelfe in a hous, and by a metaphor, for a bar or shelfe in the sea.

Abacus solis, amonge Astronomers is taken for the compasse or breadth of the body in the sonne. as it appereth to our sight.

Abagio, ônis, fœ.ge. signifieth the same that adagio, and adagium doe, a prouerbe.

Abalienātio, tionis, fœ. g. an alienacion.

Abalienator, ôris, m. ge. he that doeth aliene or put away a thyng, or that altereth the possession thereof, and is of lawiers called an alienour.

Abalienatus, nāta, um, is he, whom a man putteth away from him.

Abalienatus iure ciuium, outlawed out of the liberteres of a citee.

Abalienata morbis membra, membres mortified by sickenesse.

Abaliēno, ēnas, aui, are, to alienate, to geue ouer to an other, to put or tourne away, to make strāge, or to withdraw a mans mind from one.

Abalienauit a me patrem, he hath tourned my fathers mynde from me.

Totum se a me abalienauit, he hath withdrawē him selfe wholly from me.

Crucior a viro me tuli abalienari, it greueth me ꝓ I am separated from such a man as he is.

Abambulo, bulas, aui, are, to walke away.

Abambulantes, they that walke awaie.

Abamita, abamitæ, fœ.ge. my great graundfathers sister,

Abanec, a girdle, whiche prestes did weare, so wrought with colours of scarlette and purple, that there semed to be set in it, flowers and precious stones in order.

Abanniti, those that be banished out of their countrey for a pere space.

Abania, is interpreted the father, vnto god acceptable, or gratifiyng vnto god.

Abaphus, a, um, vndied, vncoloured.

Abaptistus, a, um, that which can not be drowned as corne.

Abaptistum, i, an instrument which surgeons vse.

Abarceo, or abarceo, ui, ere, to prohibite, or put of from a thynge.

Abauia, uiæ, f.g. my great grandames mother.

Abauus, i, m. g. my great graundfathers father.

Abauūculus, i, my great graundfathers brother.

Abax, abacis, m.g. a cupboorde or dresser.

Abazea, orum, certaine ordinaunces or lawes made by Dionisius.

Abba, a worde of the language of Syria, and signifieth father.

Abbas, abbatis, an abbot.

Abbatissa, an abbesse.

Abbreuio, aui, are, to abbreuiate or make shorte.

Abbreuiatura, æ, f.g. an instrument of a notary, or a lawier briefly drawen.

Abdico, abdicas, aui, are, to reiect, to refuse, to forsake, to expell or put out of fauour, or to resygne an office.

Abdicauit filium, he forsoke or refused him for his sonne.

Abdicauit se magistratu, he hath resigned his office or dignitee.

Abdicauit se libertate, he bereefte him selfe of his libertee.

Vtinam possit è vita in totum abdicari aurū, I wolde golde might cleane be taken out of the vse of mans lyfe.

Laurus manifesto abdicat ignes crepitu .i. auersatur, the baie tree with the crackynge of the leaues. sheweth that of nature it is against fyre.

Abdicare cibi aliquem, to prohibite the vse of any meate.

Abdicare legem, to forbode a lawe.

Abdicatio, ônis, a resignacion, or the acte of a father, whā he excludeth his sonne and heire from the inheritaunce of his possessions.

Abditamentum, contrary to additamentum, a diminucion.

Abdicatus, a, um, forsaken or reiected.

Abdico, dixi, ĕre, to deny or forsake, to forspeke, to cast of or renounce.

Abdicere amores suos, for Abdicare.

Abdite, secretely.

Abditamentū, deduction of money in comptinge.

Abditus, abdita, um, hydd secretely.

Abditum, a secrete place.

Abdo, abdis, abdidi, ere, to hyde or kepe close.

Abdere se ex conspectu heri, to kepe him away, that his maister see him not.

Abdere se in aliquem locum: as, Abdidi me in bibliothecam, I shutte my selfe vp into my libzary because I woulde not be troubled.

Se in proximas syluas abdiderunt, they hydde theim in the nexte woodde.

Abdiderat sese, for Absconditerat.
Neq; se in occultum abdiderat, he did not hide him selfe in any priuie place.
Abdidit intra vestem, or, sub veste ferrum, she hidde the knife vnder hir garmente.
Se in suis quisq; tectis abdiderunt, they hidde them selfe euery man in his owne house.
Speluncis abdidit atris .i. in speluncis.
In insulam abdita est, id est, relegatu, she was banished.
Abduntur, the passiue.
Abdere se literis, or in literas, to liue vnknowē in continuall studie.
Me totum in literas abdam.
Abdidit se rus, he hidde him selfe in the countrey.
Abdidit se domum, he hidde himselfe at home
Abdōmen, abdominis, n.g. that which is vnder the mouth of the stomacke, where it apereth outward vnder the gristle of the brest bone, the vtter and former part of the bealy, that is betwene the nauill and the priuie members. This is also cald Hypocondria, it is sometyme taken for the fatte about the kydneis. Also for the pappes of a sow with hir mylke, cut of from hir bealy the date after she hath farowed.
Abdomen in saturabile, an vnsaciate gutte, spoken of one that is neuer satisfied in eatynge and drynkyng.
Abdomini indulgere, abdomini inseruire, abdomini operam dare, to geue hym selfe to beastly chere.
Abdūco, abducis, ūxi, ere, to leade awaie or leade out, to leade aside, to pulle away, or take with.
Abduce, for Abduc, leade or haue away.
Abducere a fide, to cause a man to breake his promyse.
Abducimus aliquando per vim, aliquando sine vim.
Abductum in secretū Masinissam sic alloquitur, he leadyng Masinissam aside into a secrete place. &c.
Abductum in ganeum credo, I thinke he is led into some brothell house.
Donec in diuersum abducat a nidis, vntill she hath led them cleane a nother way from hir nest.
Abducere in seruitutem, to leade awaye into bondage.
Ne discipulum abducam times .i. ne auertam a sententia tua, lest I shoulde turne him from your opinion.
Abducere iuuenes ad nequitiam: to leade ponge men to lewdnes.
Abducere se a republica, to withdrawe him selfe from the busines of the common weale.
A studijs ad lasciuiā abducere, to withdrawe from study and learnyng to wantonnes.
Abducere caput ab ictu, to bend his head from the stroke.
Abduxi clauem, I toke out the key.

Animum à cogitacionibus abducere, to withdrawe the mynde from meditacion.
Abducere gradum, to steppe backe.
Abducere animum à solicitudine, to withdrawe the mynde from pensiue carefulnesse.
Abecedarium, the order of the letters, or the crosse rowe.
Abecedarius, he that setteth any thyng in order by letter, or he that teacheth children their crosserow, or he that learneth his crosse row.
Abedo, dis, or abedo, abes, abedi, to consume or eate vp.
Abellina, æ, or auellana, æ, a filberde of the towne of Abella.
Abemo, abemis, to take away.
Abemito vestem, take away his coate.
Abeo, iui, veli, ire, to departe or goe away.
Abire, a, ab, or de loco aliquo.
Abijt, hinc, illinc, istinc. &c.
Abire ex oculis è cōspectu, to go out of sight.
Nimium istuc abijsti, thou wenste to farre this way. Longe abijt, he is gone a great way hence.
Peregre abijt, he went into straunge countreis.
Abijt obuiam, he went forth to mete him.
Impune abijt, he skaped vnpunished.
Cum prio resupino, Abijt exulatum, he went into banishement.
Non totum ferrum in corpus abijt, al the dagger entred not into his body.
Abijt memoria, it is out of my remembraunce.
Vt reditus agrorum, sic etiam pretium retro abijt, i. imminutum est, is diminished.
Sed ab hoc parum per abeamus: let vs leaue this matter a little while.
Abitum est a priore emptione, they went from their first bargayne.
Abire è medio, or è vita, to die.
Nunc abeo ad vulgi opinionē, now I condescend to the common peoples opinion.
Quod presens fuit in diem abijt, is deferred.
Ne in ora hominum pro ludibrio abiret, that men might not talke and geste at it.
In quos sumptus abierunt fructus prediorū: where vpon is the reuenewes of my landes and manours spent or consumed.
Abire in ventos, to vanishe away.
Abijt hora, the tyme is passed.
Abijt sol, the sonne is downe.
Abijt oppidum in villas, the towne is tourned into fermes.
Abijt in vulnus, he fell downe on the syde, wheron he was wounded.
Abijt è medio, he vanished away, he was neuer more seene.
Abijt incepto, he left of his enterprise.
Abijt in salem, it was turned into salt.
Abibitur, he or I will depart or goe away.
Abi in malam rem, go hense with a mischiefe.
Abi tu sane superior, spite thou hyther, goe vpper.
Abire pessum, to ren hedlynge, to come to a mischiefe, mischiefe, to decaie or goe to naught.

Abire à iure, to doe wronge.
Abire, to ceasse, to vanish, or to be appeased, to slippe awaie.
Mirabar hoc si sic abiret, I mervaile yt this matter should so passe.
Quid ad istas ineptias abis? What medlest thou with these fantasies? Why dost thou beginne to speake of these trifles.
Abequito, aui, are, to ride awaie.
Abérceo, aberces, act. to forbid.
Eã abercet domo, he forbiddeth her his howse.
Abérro, aberras, aui, are, neu, to erre, or to wander abrode, to goe out of the right waie, to departe farre of, or a sonder.
Aberrare a proposito, to leaue or goe from the matter in communication.
Ne longius aberret oratio, that my oration wander not to farre from the purpose.
Aberrauit a communi vtilitate: he went from the profite of the comon weale.
Non multum ab Herilli leuitate aberrabimus we shall be almoste of as little costancie and gravitee as Herillus.
Nullo alio modo a miseria quasi aberrare possum: id est, a miseria cogitationem auertere, withdrawe my mynde from cogitacion of my miserie.
At ego hic scribendo dies totos nihil Leuor, sed tamen aberro: subaudi, a dolore, & molestia: but yet my minde is withdrawen from sorow and miserie therby.
Aberrare, for errare, Quamque vereor ne nihil coniectura aberrem, id est, ne coniectura non fallat.
Aberrátio, aberrationis. f. g. a wandringe, or a recreacion that withdraweth the minde from heuinesse.
Aberratio a molestiis.
Aberuncasso, scere, to tourne vp.
Aberúnco, runcas, aui, are, loke in auerrunco.
Aberuncare iram deorum, to withdrawe the vengeance of god.
Abfŏre, to be awaie.
Abgrego, ábgregas, áui, are, to sever or take out of the flocke, to drawe shepe.
Abhinc, before this tyme. Abhinc triennium, with an accusatiue. three yeres hense.
Abhinc annis quindecim: with an ablatiue. fiftene yere hense.
Abhórreo, abhorrui, ere, neut. to abhorre, to hate, to despise, to flee fro, to be unlyke, or to disorder.
Abhorreo ab vrbe relinquenda, I haue no minde to forsake the citee.
Abhorret á fide, it is incredible.
Abhorret ab illo mea sententia, mine opinion is contrary to his, or repugnant against his.
Abhorret á suspicione, it is contrary to my supposell.
Abhorrens ab auribus vulgi: that doeth not agre to the eares of the comon people.
Ab his talibus vitiis abhorrent: pro a talibus. as Abhorrere cum accusatiuo, pro, detestari,
Pumilos tanquã ludibria naturæ abhorruit:
Nec abutilitate audientium, nec ab officio nostro abhorrebit oratio mea, my oracion shal be neither against the profite of the hearers, nor contrarie to our dutie.
Abhorrere á nuptiis, to hate mariage.
Abhorret a charitate vulgi, he tendreth not or passeth nothyng on the poore people.
Nõ abhorret á vero, it is not vnlike to be trew.
Abhorréco, abhorrescis, neu, to feare to beholde.
Abiecte: basely, vilely.
Abiectio, abiectiónis, for. g. vilitee, low estate, baseness of courage.
Abiecto, áui, áre, to cast away often.
Abiectus, a vile person.
Abiectus, a, um, base of courage, almoste in despaire, naught set by, vexed with aduersitee, cast of, laied aside, prostrate.
Pari fortuna abiectus: cast downe in lyke aduersitee.
Abiectior animi, of baser courage.
Abiegnus, a, um, made of firre.
Abies, abietis, f. g. a tree called a firre. it is sometyme vsed for ship boordes.
Abietarius, rii, m. g. a carpenter.
Abietarius, a, um, & abiegnus, a, um, of firre.
Abiga, an herbe called puie, looke Camæpitis.
Abigeâtus, abigatus, m. g. felonie, or the act in stealyng of cattell.
Abigenabos, was amonge the diuinours. called Augures, the ore, whiche was to be sacrified, aboute whom the other beastes were set in order.
Abigeus, abigei, m. g. a steler of cattell.
Abigas, the thirde shinne that the ponge one wrapped in the wombe.
Abigo, ábigis, égi, ere, act. to drive awaie any thinge that is ivell or noisome, as flies from our face, or birdes from fruite. also to drive away cattell by theft, or discrete. as, Abigere pecus pro agere.
Abigere ex ædibus to drive out of the house.
Abigunt nubes venti, the wyndes drive away the cloudes.
Abigere lassitudinem, to drive awaie werynesse.
Abigere partum, whan a woman forceth her selfe to travaile before her tyme.
Abiicio, ábiicis, iéci, ere, act. to caste awaie, to renounce, to make base or vile, to despise, to poure out. sometime to geve awaie.
Abiicere se, to sette little by him selfe to debase hym selfe.
Abiicere spem, to dispaire.
Abiicere arma: to leave of warre.
Abiecit se in herbam: he laide him selfe downe on the grasse.
Abiiciunt se humi, thei laye downe on the grounde.

Se ad patris pedes abiecit: he did prostrate him selfe at his fathers feete.
Ego me pluribus pro te supplicem abieci: I became suter for thee to very many.
Omnem se amorem dixit abiecisse illinc: he sayde he tourned all his loue cleane from hir.
Senat⁹ autoritatē abiecit.i.abiectū reddidit.
Consilium faciendi belli abiecit .i. repudiauit voluntatem discendi abjcere: to cast of the will to learne.
Abiectio animi, a desperation.
Abiecto animo homo, a man of a desperate, fayntt, or base corage.
Abiectē, desperately, faintly.
Abin, or abis, a worde of the language of Syria, signifying frowarde, ouerthwarte.
Abintegro, a freshe, a new, from the beginnynge agayne.
Abintestato, without testament.
Abitio, abitiônis, f. g. a departure or goynge awaie, olde writers tooke it for death, as we maie call it the decease of one.
Abitus, us, m. g. a departing or away to passe by.
Omnē abitum custode coronant, thei sette about euerie place where any passage was.
Circumiecta vehicula sepserant abitus, the wagons closed it all the wayes that thei shoulde passe bye.
Abiudico, abiudicas, aui, are, act. to take awaie by iudgement from one, and geue to an nother by the same sentence.
Id ab eo contra ius æquitatémq; abiudicauit, He tooke that away from hym by iudgement against all law and reason. Abiudico, is also to taste awaie by iudgement.
Abiudicare à vita, to put to deathe.
Abiudicabit nunquam à suo triobulum, He will neuer iudge from his seruaunt the worth of three halfe pens.
Abiudicatum, geuen by iudgement from one to an other.
Abiugo, abiugas, aui, are, act. to vnyoke, discharge, or putte a sunder.
Abiungo, abiungis, xi, ere, act. to seuer or put a sunder.
Abiuratio, a forswearyng, an abiuration.
Abiuratus, a, um, withholden wrongefully, or by vntruthe.
Abiûro, abiuras, âui, are, act. to denye by an oth, or to kepe a thyng wrongfully. also to abiure.
Abiurare creditum, to forswearc money that is lente one.
Abiurasso, idem.
Ablâcto, ablactas, aui, are, act. to weane.
Ablaqueo, làqueas, âui, are, neu. g. to rydde the earthe from trees and vynes, and cutte awaye the vpper rootes.
Ablaqueatio, ônis, f. g. the dwyng therof.
Ablaqueatus, a, um, rydde or purged after that maner.
Ablâtus, a, um, taken away.

Ablectæ ædes, houses well garnysshed to styre men to bye them.
Ablegatio, ônis, f. g. a sendyng awaie.
Ablegmina, orum, n. g. parties of the intraples, which in olde time were offered to the goddis.
Ablêgo, ablegas, âui, are, act. to send awaie one that we be werie of, or whom we wolde not haue in our company.
Ablegare pecora, to remoue cattall from one pasture to an other further of.
Puerum venatum ablegauit, he sent the boye out of the way a huntinge.
Hic à fratris aduentu me ablegauit, he sente me foorth, that I shoulde not be present at my brothers commyng.
Ablepsia, æ, fœ. ge. blyndenesse of mynde, vnadvysednes.
Abligurio, abligûris, iui, ire, to consume goodes in banketyng and faryng delicately.
Abloco, ablocas, aui, are, act. to sette or let to an other. to take from one and lette to an other.
Abludo, si, ere, act. signifieth contrary to alludo.
Hæc à te non multum abludit imago, This example is not much vnlike thy condicions.
Abluo, abluis, ui, ere, act. to washe of, to washe awaye.
Abluere se, to purge or purifie them selfe, as the pagans dyd.
Terra pluuiũ non abluitur: id est, rigatur.
Ablutio, ônis, f. g. a washyng.
Ablûtus, a, um, washed awaie.
Abluuium, for Diluuium, ân vniuersall fludde, wherwith a contrey is drowned.
Abmatérnera, æ, f. g. my great graundames mothers syster.
Abmitto, si, ere, act. to sende awaie.
Abnato, abnatas, aui, are, to swymme awaie.
Abneco, abnecas, ui, are, act. to slea or kyll.
Abnego, abnegas, âui, are, act. to deny or refuse.
Abnepos, ôtis, m. g. a sonne in the fourth degree in lineall descent.
Abneptis, tis, f. g. a doughter in the same degree.
Abnocto, aui, are, to be from home all the nyght.
Abnodo, abnódas, aui, are, act. to pryne or cut awaie knottes from trees.
Abnormis, out of rule.
Abnuo, abnui, ere, act. to deny or refuse, proprely with countenance or becke, to becke awaie, to forbydde.
Abnuere imperium, to refuse to bee vnder a mans dominion.
Abnuere iussa ducis, to disobeie the capitaines commaundement.
Non abnuimus sementem sic fieri: id est, non negamus.
Nihil vnq̃ abnuit studiis meis voluntas tua: id est, negauit.
Abnueram bello Italiam cõcurrere Teucris, I forbadde that Italie shoulde make warre against the Troianes.

Abnuendus, a, um, to be refused.
Abnûto, aui, are, signifieth to beche awaie often tymes.
Aboleo, aboles, éui, êre, act. to put out, to rase out, to anull, to vndoe for euer.
Abolere conscientiam generis humani, To make men forget, or to put out of the remembrance of men.
Abolere vndis, to washe or pourge with water.
Abolere corpus igni: id est, cremare.
Magistratum aboleuit: id est, abrogauit.
Abolere sterilitatem fœminarum, to put away, &c.
Aboleſco, ui, ere, to be brought to nought, or to be abolished.
Abolitio, abolitionis, f. ge. a destroying or putting out of memory.
Abolitus, abólita, um, rased out, put out of remembraunce, destroied or abolished.
Abolla, læ, f. g. a Senatours habite, or a souldiours cloke, or such a garment as philosophiers vsed in olde tyme.
Aboloes, olde writers vsed for, ab illis.
Abolus, a horse that hath not lost those teeth, wherby his age maie be discerned.
Abominor, ãtus sum, ãri, depo. to hate a thyng as a token of ill luche, to detest, or to haue in detestation, or to desyre the contrary.
Abominandus, a, um, woorthy to be detested, hated or abhorred.
Abominatio, onis, a detestation.
Abominãtus, a, um, detested, execrated, or excommunicated.
Aborior, abóreris, vel aboriris, abórtus sum, aboriri, dep. to be borne before y natural tyme.
Aborsus, sus, m. g. an vntymely byrthe, nighe vnto the conception, which maie be called abortion.
Abortio, ônis, f. g. & abortiuum, the byrth that is destroied by some hurt, or other miladuenture or medecin.
Aborto, áui, are, or Abortio, tiui, ire, neu. to bringe foorth a childe ere it be perfect.
Abortiuus, tiua, um, that thinge that is brought foorth before the tyme, or that whiche procureth the said vntymly byrth to be brought forth.
Abortus, or Abortium, an vntymely byrth, nygh to the iust time of deliueraunce, wherby the child dieth.
Abortum facere, to trauaple before tyme.
Tronitus solitarijs ouibus abortus inferunt: thunder doth make sheepe bringe alone to pene before their tyme.
Abpatruus, my fathers great vncle.
Abra, æ, a lyttle gyrle or handmayde, that neuer goeth from hir maistres.
Abrado, rãdis, rãsi, ere, act. to pare or scrape, to to cutte or shaue awaie.
Abradere aliquid, by a metophore, is to take awaie a thyng by force or violence, to wrest away by craft and gyle.
Abrãsus, a, um, pared, cutte, or shaued awaie.

Abratana, a part of Mysia.
Abrenuncio, aui, are, to renounce or forsake.
Abreptus, a, um, taken from one by violence.
Abrincatui, people of the countrey of Lyons, in Fraunce.
Abripio, ábripis, ripui, ere, act. to take fro, or to take by force.
Abripuit repente sese, he went away sodeinly.
Abripere ad quæstionem, vel in cruciatum, to draw foorth to punishment, or examination by tourmentes.
Abripi à parentis similitudine, to be made vnlyke his father in maners.
Abrodiæton, a delicate or deintee lyke.
Abrodiætus, a delicate person, a minion.
Abrodo, abrôdis, rósi, ere, act. to gnawe or byte of.
Abrogo, ábrogas, áui, áre, act. by a publyke consent to disanull, to foordoe, to take awaie, or to make of none effect.
Marcum Lepidum priuatus Italia abrogauit, he beynge a pryuate person, expelled Marcus Lepidus out of Italy.
Abrogare fidem, to bryng out of credence.
Abrogare legem, to dissolue or repelle a lawe.
Fidem homini abrogare, to beleue a man no more, to haue one out of credence.
Vires beneficiis abrogare, to esteeme the benefite of no value.
Abrogati, they, whiche beynge at libertee, submitte theim selues to an other manners rule by their owne consent.
Abrogatio, ônis, f. g. the resolupnge or repellyng of a lawe.
Abronis vita, a sumptuous and delicate life.
Abrotonites, tæ, mas. ge. a wyne made with southernwodde.
Abrotonum, abrótoni, n. g. an herbe called southernwood, it is hote & drie in the thirde degre.
Abrumpo, abrúmpis, rúpi, ere, act. to breake of, to cutte of, or plucke vp.
Abrumpere rem inceptam, to breake vp or leaue of an enterprise.
Abrumpere patientiam, to breake patience, to ware angry.
Abrumpere lucem vel vitam, to dye.
Abrumpere somnum, to awake from slepe.
Fidem abrumpere, to breake promisse.
Abrumpe moras, put away delay.
Abrumpere studia, to breake of studie.
Aether obrumpitur ignibus, it lighteneth.
Abrúptio, ônis, f. g. a burstyng or breakyng.
Abrupta loca, rockes and hilles here & there broken or dygged, so that one maye vnneth go or creepe vp on theim.
Abrupte, out of frame, not agreynge with the begynnyng.
Abruptum, that which hath suche a falle or steepenesse downe, that no man maye passe by it, but onely fall downe.
Ex abrupto, sodainly, without any occasion.

Abruptus, abrupta. um, broken here and there, as rockes and great hilles, stipe downe.
Abruptus sermo, a tale that hangeth not together.
Abrupta contumacia, a frowarde stubburnes.
Abruptum ingenium, a rashe brayne that dooeth all thinges on head.
Abs, of or from, lyke Ab.
Abscedo, cēdis, cēssi, ere, neut. to go away from, also to gather to an impostume.
Abscessit incepto, he hathe lefte of his enterpryse.
Abscedo hac: goe this waye.
Abscedere in altitudinem, to ascende or goe upwarde.
Supprimit omne quod abscedit: it stoppeth what so ever is gatheringe to an impostume.
Abscessus, cessus, ma. ge. & abscessio, ōnis, f. g. a departing fro.
Abscessus, is of phisitions taken for an impostume or botche, or for a course of euyll humours to som part of the bodye, whereby matter putrified is ingendred.
Abscido, or abscindo, abscidi, scindere, to cut of.
Abscisse, or abscise, is the same that Fixe, firmely determinatly.
Abscissus, abscissa, um, broken, sharpe, or cut of.
Abscisior iusticia, sharpe iustice.
Abscissus locus, a place troublous, roughe, and harde to come to.
Quamquam abscissa res erat, althoughe there was no hope to bringe the matter to effect.
Abscissa castigatio, an harde, rigorouse, and sharpe correction.
Abscio, iui, ire, to go out of remembrance.
Absconditē, couertly, priuily, darkely.
Absconditus, cōndita, um, hydden.
Abscondo, cōndi, ere, act, to hyde.
Abscondere fugam furto, to flee or steale away priuely.
Abscōnsio, ōnis, f. g. an hiding.
Absens, entis, omnis ge. absent or awaye.
Absentaneus, a, um, that which is done in absence.
Absentia, entiæ, f. g absence.
Absentio, si, ire, to thinke contrary.
Absento, sentas, aui, are, act. to sende awaye, or cause to be absent.
Absilio, absilis, to leape away.
Absimilis, absimile, muche unlyke.
Absis, absidis, for. gen. the strake of a cart whele, wherin the spokes bee sette.
Absisto, absistis, abstiti, ere, neu. to depart from a place, or to be farre of, contrarye to Assistere. sometyme it signifyeth to absteyne or leaue of.
Absistere incepto, to breake or leaue of his purpose.
Absistere bello, to cease from warre.
Si furore absistere vellēt, yf they would leaue their madnesse.
Absoleo, absoles, absolui, ēre, to be out of use.
Absoletus locus, a place vnoccupied or neglected, after Calepine, without auctorytie.
Absoluo, soluis, solui, ere, act. to lose that whiche was bounden: also to perfourme or make perfect, to accomplyshe, to spare, to forgeue, to pardone, to dispatche, to absolue, to quite, or deliuer one out of all daunger of iudgement.
Absoluere, to dispatche of businesse.
Absoluere creditorem, to pape that he oweth
Absoluere, to fynyshe, to ende.
Absoluere pensum, to worke out his tasshe.
Absoluere suspitione, to discharge or putte out of all suspicion.
Absoluere vno verbo, to make an ende shortely, to tell at one woorde.
Absoluere reum, to discharge, quitte, or set at libertee, one that is accused.
Omnium sententiis absoluitur: he was quitte by all mens sentences.
Is annus Romanos longo bello absoluit: that yere dispatched the Romaines of a longe warre.
Hunc hominem veneri absoluit sibi condemnat: as touching his offence to Venus he quitteth him, but for that was doone to him selfe, he condemneth him.
A Fannio iuditio se absoluit: he dispatcheth him selfe from Fanius accusation in iudgement.
Promissum absoluere: to fulfyll his promisse.
Quid totū absoluitis orbē: id est, consumilis.
Paucis absoluam: I will make an ende in fewe woordes.
Absolutorium, rii, n. g. that whiche deliuereth or dischargeth a man.
Absolutorius, ria, um, that which dooth appertayne vnto the discharginge or dyspatchynge of any man.
Absolutē, perfectly, absolutely.
Absolutio, ōnis, f. g. a discharge, or dyspatching, also a perfection.
Absolutus, luta, um, dyscharged, dyspatched. Also perfect, absolute, or without faute.
Absono, absonas, aui, are, neut. to dyscorde or sounde euyll.
Absonus, absona, um, that whyche soundeth not well, or discordeth, or that maye scantely bee hearde, or by a metaphore, dysagreynge.
Absonum fidei, not credible.
Absonus voce, he that hathe an vntunable voyce.
Absorbeo, sorbes, sorbui, vel psi, ere, act. to swalowe or suppe vp.
Absque, without. Nam absq; eo esset, For yf he had not been.
Abstemius, stemia, um, that drinketh no wyne.
Abstemiū prandium, a dinner without wine.
Abstentus, accursed out of the churche.
Abstergeo, and Abstergo, si, gēre, and gere, act. to wype awaye.
Absterge calceos, wype thy shoes.
Absterge equos, rubbe the horses.
Abstergere dolorem, to put awaye sorowe.

Item

Item luctum, metum, moleſtias.

Abſterreo, ſterrui, ére, act. to prohibite, to lette or put fro, to feare awaye, or dryue awaye wyth feare.

Abſterrere, a, ab, vel de re aliqua.

Abſterrere auctum, to lette the increace of a thynge.

Abſterres te adiri, thou maheſt men afrayde to come to the.

Abſterritus, a, um, feared awaye.

Abſtinentia, néntiæ, f. g. abſtinence, a bertue in forbearing to take an other mannes goodes.

Abſtinenter, with abſtinence.

Abſtineo, abſtines, ui, ere, n. to abſteine, to forbeare or temper, not to meddle with, ſometyme to forbyd or let, and alſo to excommunicate.

Non abſtines manum maſtigia? Wylte thou not holde of thy handes, villayne knaue?

Aſtinuere ignem ab æde, they dyd not ſet fyre on the temple.

Abſtinere vino, to forbeare wyne, lykewyſe, cibo carne, armis, iurgiis. &c.

Abſtinere manum in iudicio, to refraine from geuing byrdes to iudges.

Abſtinere alieno, vel ab alieno ſub audi ſe, not to meddle with other mennes goodes, to forbeare extorcion.

Abſtineas à me manum, take hede that thou ſtrike me not.

Abſtinuit diu publico, it was longe or he came abrode.

Abſtineus alieni, he that medleth not with other mennes goodes.

Abſtinendus, a, um, to be letted or kept from.

Primo die abſtinendus à cibo, the fyrſt daye he muſte be kept from meate.

Abſto, ſtiti, are, to ſtande farre of.

Abſtorqueo, ſi, ere, to gette or wreſte awaye by force or tormentes.

Abſtraho, abſtrahis, áxi, ere, act. to take by force or by craftе to take awaye, to pull awaye, to ſeparate, or to withdrawe.

Abſtrahere ſe à ſolicitudine, to withdrawe his mynde from care.

Abſtraxi me illinc, I gat me thence.

Abſtractus, a, um, drawen awaye by force.

Abſtringo, ſtringis, ſtrinxi, ere, to louſe that, whiche was bounden.

Abſtrudo, ſtrûdis, ſi, ere, act. to hyde.

Abſtrudere triſtitiam, to put awaye ſadneſſe or heuineſſe of mynde.

Abſtruſus, ſtrúſa, um, hydde or ſhutte vp.

Abſtruſus homo, a cloſe felowe that wyll not open his mynde.

Abſtruſior diſputatio, a ſubtyll or darke diſputacion.

Abſum, fui, eſſe, to be awaye, or farre of, to fayle a man in tyme of neede, to be diſtant or abſent, to lacke or wante.

Abeſſe vrbe vel ab vrbe.

Abeſſe abſolute poſitum: as, abſit: let him be awaye from me.

Curandum ne milites abſint a ſignis: heede muſte be taken that the ſouldiours wander not from their ſtanderde.

Abeſſe a periculo: to be furre from dangier.

Abfuiſſe me in altercationibus fero non moleſte: that I was not preſent at that altercation.

Bidui abfuit: he was two dayes iourney of, from that place.

Viginti millium ſpatio aberat: he was .xx. myles of.

Quot millia fundus tuus abeſt ab vrbe: howe many myles of is your lande.

Abfuit aliquot dierum viam: he was certaine dayes iourney of.

Abeſſe, longe, procul, multum, paulum. &c.

Tu propius abes: thou arte not ſo farre from hym: or thou arte leſſe waye of from him.

Multum ab iis aberat. L. Furius: he was farre inferiour to them.

Nummus abeſſe hinc non poteſt: there can not lacke on penye.

Quid huic abeſſe poteſt de maximarum rerũ ſcientia: id eſt, de eſſe.

Abſint iſta a noſtris literis: god forbydde that ſuche thinges ſhould be in our letters.

Cum procul abeſſet a ſpe conſulatus.

Non longe abfuit, vt huic perſuationi crederem: he was almoſt brought that he did beleue. &c.

Nec multum abfuit, quin iurarent. &c. there lacked not muche, but that they woulde haue ſworne.

Miror quod amico in difficili eius tempore abfueris: I merueyle that you dyd not helpe your frinde in his neceſſitee.

Abeſſe, for alienum eſſe: as, Abeſt à cõtentione, he delyteth not in debate ſtrife or contencion.

Abeſt à culpa, he is not fauty.

Abeſt à reprehentione, he is not blamed.

Abeſt mihi animus, I haue no courage.

Abſente nobis, while I was awaye.

Abſit, god forbyd.

Abſit verbo inuidia, a forme of ſpeaking, whan one wold not be ſuſpected of arrogancie in ſome thynge that he will ſpeake.

Abſumo, ſũmis, ſumpſi, ere, act. to ſpende, to conſume or waſte awaie.

Abſumere animam lætho, to ſlea or kill.

Abſumere, vinum, diem, tempus, argẽtũ. &c.

Abſumi fame, to be ſterued, or famiſhed.

Abſumi ferro, to be ſlayne.

Abſumi cura: to be pyned with care.

Sin abſumpta ſalus: yf all hope of ſaluegarde be paſte.

Abſumẽdo, inis, diſpenſe, waſte of money or other ſuche thing.

Abſumptio, ônis, f. g. a waſting, or waſte.

Abſumpti ſumus, we are vndone.

Abſurdè, without purpoſe of reaſon, to no purpoſe.

Abſurdus, ſúrda, dum, inconuenient, foolyſhe diſorys distroubyng, dishoneste, abhorrynge, odiouse, against all reason and reason.

Absus, lyke abis.

Absynthites, æ, wyne wherein wormewood hath ben infused or sodden.

Absynthium, synthij, ne. ge. is commonly called wormewood: how be it there be therof three kyndes: Seriphiū, which seemeth to bee our wormewood: Santonicum, wherof cometh wormseede, and may be called frenche wormwood: Pōticum, or Romanum, which hath a lesse leafe than our wormwood, and hath a sweeter odour, it may be called wormwod gentle, our cōmon wormwod is called in latin Absynthium rusticum.

Abuerto, ti, ere, to tourne awaye or from a place.

Abdiacum, a towne in Germany.

Abundans, a riche man.

Abundanter, abundantly.

Abundantia, dātiæ, f. ge. abondance or plentye of any thyng.

Abundantia fœminarum, the naturall flixe of women, their termes.

Abundātio, ōnis, f. g. an ouerflowyng.

Abundē, abundantly, plentuously enough.

Abundē est, it is enough.

Fraudis illi abunde est, he hath fraude or deceit enough.

Abunde potentiæ adeptus est:

Abunde est alterum efficere: pro, satis est.

Abunde, p̄mittere, to make a boūtifull p̄mysse.

Abunde tibi adsunt omnia: Abunde parentum, pro satis.

Abundo, būdas, dui, are, neu. to abounde, to haue aboundance and plentie of any thyng, what so euer it be. also to be ryche.

Abundare ingenio, to haue a great wytte.

Abundare opibus fandi, to flowe in eloquēce.

Hic solœcismis abundat, this felow rolleth in his incongruities or false latine.

Si quando abundare cœpero, if I shal beginne to be riche.

Quarum rerum abundemus, sometime with a genitiue.

Abundare audatia, to be verie bolde.

Abundans corporis, bygge of body.

Abuolo, abuolas, dui, are, act. to flee awaie.

Abutonon, idem quod Abrotonum.

Abusiuē, unpropirly, against nature or custom.

Abusq; mane ad vesperā, from morning to night.

Abusum, worne out.

Abusus, us, & abusio, abuse, euyll vse.

Abutor, ūsus sum, abūti, dep. to abuse, to vse a thinge dishonestly, vncomly, straye ẏ it serueth for, out of order, or in vayn. also to weare out.

Otio & litteris abuti, to employe his time and learnyng euill.

Abuti legibus ad quæstum, to abuse the lawes to his owne profite and gayne.

Operam abutitur, he abuseth his labour.

Abydena, orum, n. g. trifles, thinges of small estimation, wanton toies, vnsemely for men to vse.

Abydenus, a, um, of Abydus.

Abydochomæ, they that boste their vntruthe or falsehode.

Abyrtace, was a kynde of meate made of leekes, cresses, garlike, the kernels of pomegranades, mustard seede, and such other like.

Abyssus, bysi, fœm. gen. is a depenesse without bottome.

A. ANTE C.

AC, is a coniunction copulatiue, and signifieth sometyme, and: as Doctus ac iustus es, Thou art counnyng and iuste. Sometime it is taken for than: as, Haud secus ac iussi faciunt, They doo none otherwise than they be commanded. Somtime it signifieth as: then commonly is sette after this wordes, æque, aliter, cōtra, iuxta, perinde, pro eo, secus, &c. as, Superbis perinde ac si rex esses, Thou art as proude as if thou were a kynge. somtime, and that, & truely: as, Aliquid boni tibi pro ista re faciam, ac lubens, I will dooe the some good tourne for this thing, & that with all myn herte.

Ac non, pro, Nec,

Ac non quia ades dico. i. nec.

Ac potius, yea rather.

Acacalis, the seede of an herbe growynge in Egypte, whiche toke that name of the nymphe Acacalis, who beyng defloured of Apollo, was deliuered of two children, named Philacides and Philandrus.

Acacia, æ, a kynde of thorne, the sede wherof is like vnto chittes. it is also the iuice of the same fruite.

Acacia, the iuyce of a fruite in Aegypte, but in stede therof, men take nowe the iuyce of sloes, which like to the other, dooe refrigerate bynde and strike heate backewarde.

Acacia, æ, innocencie, simplicitee, sincerite,

Acacus, ci, a simple and playne person, without gyle or fraude.

Acadæmia, æ, an vniuersitee, whiche tooke that name of a place nigh vnto Athens, where Plato (the great philosophier) taught philosophie. it may also be vsed for any great or noumbla schoole.

Acadæmici, were a sect of philosophiers, whiche foloweth and taught the doctrine of Plato.

Acæda, æ, a gode, also a rodde of. x. foote longe, wherwith men dyd vse to measure landes.

Acalanthis, some suppose to be a dogge, some thinke it a byrde. like Acanthis.

Acanthia cicada, a prouerbe spoken of vnlerned and rude persons, or suche as be ignorant in musike.

Acanthia, æ, like Acanthus.

Acantinus, a, um, of Acanthus, or like to it.

Acanthis, or Acalanthis, and Acanthulus, idis, a byrde that fedeth on thystles, and maketh her nestes with claie, like ligurinus.

Acan-

Acanthion, or acanthium, is a bushe, lyke vnto a white thorne, with lesse leaues, mosye, and prickynge. It may be called in Englisshe otethistle, because ỹ sedes are like to otes, or gum thistle, or cotten thistle, because it is gummie, & the leaues haue in them a thing like cotten.

Acanthion, onis, a hedgehogge as Galene declareth De compos. medi. i.

Acánthus, acánthi, m. g. or Acanthes, as Dioscorides saith, is an herbe, that groweth in stony and moyst grounde, and hath leaues longer and broder than lettise, in fourme like to rocket, somwhat blache, in bruisynge sofke and sattie, hauynge a stalke of .ii. cubites high, of the thinknesse of a mans fynger, garnysshed vnder the toppe with little longe leaues, and prickyng, wheron groweth a white flower. It is supposed to be Branca vrsina, in englysshe Brankvrsine, and not bearefote, as some take it, because of the likenes of the name.

Acapna, orum, n. g. dry wood that smoketh not.

Acapna thysia, sacrifices without smoke, spoken of a simple feast, wherin is neither bake, roste, nor sodde.

Acar, & acarus, ri, m. g. a littell worme that breedeth in ware, & is the least of al vermines, a mite.

Acarne, nes, a fysshe of the sea.

Acaron, a wylde myrtle tree.

Acarpia, cárpiæ, f. g. lacke of fruite.

Acarpus, a, um, vnfruitfull, vnprofitable.

Acarus, loke Acar.

Acatalécticus versus, a verse that hath nothynge to much or to lytle. Contrariwyse Catalécticus, wanteth a sillable.

Acatalepton, that can not be comprehended.

Acaralis, a little iuniper.

Acatia, loke Acacia.

Acátium, acáti, n. g. the greattest sayle in a ship, also a bote.

Acaustus, a, um, not bourned.

Accanto, aui, are, to synge by.

Accedo, céssi, ere, neu. to come or go to, to approche, to assent or agree, to be increased, augmented, or added to a thynge. Sometyme it signifieth a lykenesse to be in a thyng: as Eorum potestas proximé ad deorum immortalium accedit, Their power is moste lyke vnto the immortall goddes.

Accede adiutare, come helpe me.

Accedere ad amicitiam alicuius, to aly hym selfe with one.

Accedere alicui, to graunt or agre to an other, or to be of an other mans opinion.

Accedere ad causam, to take on him to pleade a mattier.

Ipse in opidum accedere noluit: he woulde not come in to the towne.

Obstitit ne in ædes accederet, that he shoulde not come into the house.

Accedere ad rem publicam, to geue him selfe to beare office in the common weale, or to be occupied in common affaires.

Accedere alicui ad aurem, to come and whisper one in the eare.

Accedere obuiam, to mete with.

Accedere periculũ, vel ad periculum, to put him selfe in daunger, to come to daunger.

Accedit huc, moreouer then that.

Accedit plurimum precio, the price encreaseth much.

Huc accedit summus timor, moreouer than that, the feare is wonderfull great.

Accessit illi animus, his courage is increased.

Accessit operi manus extrema, the worke is perfectly fynysshed.

Accessit tertius annus, was added.

Accessit, he came to.

Accessit illis animº, their courage is encreased.

Accit illi ætas, he is become olde, his age is encreased.

Robur illi accessit, his strength is encreased.

Accessit ea res in cumulum, that thinge more ouer was therunto added.

Accelero, célleras, áui, are, neu. to haste or spede, actiuely and neutrally.

Accelerare gradum, to go apace.

Accelerate viam, dispache your iourneyquicly.

Acceleratio, ônis, f. g. haste or spedinesse.

Accendo, accéndi, ere, act. to kendle, inflame, prouoke, or geue boldnesse, also to encourage.

Accendere offensiones, to encrease malyce, or hatrede.

Accendere sitim, to increase thyrst.

Accendere mentes in prælia, to encourage mens hertes to battayle.

Accensi, were souldiours appointed to be about great officers for defence of their persons. Festus saieth, that it were they, that after the death of souldiours were put in their places, or that accompany or go before souldiours, that be ryche redy to be in their place and do their duitie. Varro affirmeth that they were ministers alwaies ready at the commandment of principal officers.

Accensi, wer also called Decuriones, and Centuriones, according to the nũbre of souldiours, whiche they gouerned: they were also officers like anto our criers, which by the commandemẽt of the Consull, called the people to assemblees.

Accensus, male now bee right well vsed for him that the lawiers call barbarously adiunctum.

Accensus, cénsa. um, set on fyre, kendled or inflamed. Accensus in irã, inflamed with anger.

Accentus, céntus, m. g. an accent or tune, wherby a sillable is pronounced.

Accepso, in stede of acceperim, I haue taken.

Acceptabulum, loke Acetabulum.

Acceptilacio, ônis, f. g. a quittance of an obligacion made by mouthe, whan the dettour demandeth of the creditour, whether he be content of that whiche he hath promised him: and the creditour answereth, yea as though he sayd, I do accept it as if it were payed.

Acceptio,

Acceptio, ônis, f. g. a receiuing.
Accepto, áui, áre, to receiue.
Acceptare iugum, to submitte him selfe as a subiecte or bondman.
Accęptor, óris, m. g. he that taketh, or receiueth.
Acceptum, thankefull, pleasant, allowable. also any thinge that a man hath receiued, or by gifte, or lone, or otherwise.
Accepto ferre, to accompte that thynge paied and deliuered to vs that was promised vppon couenante, although it were neuer payed nor we neuer receiued it, and therby acquite him of that whiche by promise he shoulde haue geuen vs. as it shall appere in these wordes folowynge: one asked me. xx. s. and I promised hym. xx. s. afterwarde I desyryng to be delyuered of my promes layd thus, Quod tibi promisi accepto fers mihi? he answereth: accepto fero. I compted as deliuered, wherby I am quitte of my promise.
And we saie: Accepto ferre, acceptum ferre. and Accepte facere or acceptum facere. item, habere acceptum: all of one signification. Thei vse also the same speakynges passiuely.
Accepto mihi fertur, quod promisi: that whiche I promised is compted as perfourmed, and I quitte of my promise.
Accepto rogat promissor: he that promised desireth to bequitte of his promise.
Pecuniam acceptã facere, ferre, vel habere: to make a quittance for money as though he had receiued it.
Acceptum habere, to allow or accompte thanke worthy.
Acceptum in vulgus, acceptable to the comon people.
Acceptum referre, to kepe a recheneng of that whiche is receiued. contrary Expensum ferre, is to register what a man hath laide out.
Accepti & expensi ratio, an accompte of receipte and expenses.
Eam pecuniam mihi retulit acceptam, he hath put in his booke that he receiued so muche money of me.
Eam pecuniam mihi expensam tulit, he put in his booke that he deliuered that money vnto me.
Vitam meam tibi acceptam refero: I acknowlage that I owe my lyfe vnto you: or that I am bounde vnto you for my lyfe.
Acceptrica, æ, f. g. she that vseth to receiue any thinge.
Acceptus, receiued, entertained.
Acceptus, a, um, accepted, acceptable.
Accersio, iui, ire, idem quod accerso.
Accersitus, a, um, called for, or sent for.
Accersitus situs, m. g. a calling or sendynge for.
Accerso, cęrcis, sui, ere, act. tertiæ coniuga, to call forth, or sende for, to goe to call or fetche, to accuse, and as it were to adde or bringe to any thynge that whiche it hath not.
Accerci iube filiam, commaunde thy doughter to be sent for, or called for.

Accercere orationi splendorem, to make the oration more eloquente, pleasaunte, or beautyfull.
Accersire vel accercere capitis, to accuse one of a deadly offence.
Accercitus domo huc sũ, I was sent for from home to come hither.
Accerci ad aliquod negotium, to be called to doe some businesse.
Quando vis, accerse me, when ye wyl, sende for me.
Accercere mercede, to hyre for money.
Accercere auxilia ex aliquo, to sende for aide out of some place.
Accercitum dictum, an oration to muche affectate, or as we saie, to farre fet.
Accersita descriptio, a straunge or vnmete description, not agreynge with the nature of the thynge.
Accercita sacra, straunge kyndes of religion, that began in an other countrey.
Accercitor, óris, m. g. he that goth to call or seeke an other.
Accessio, ónis, fœ. ge. an augmentacion. also a going or comyng.
Accessionem adiungere ædibus, to make an house larger.
Accessio febris, the course of the feuer.
Accessio morbi, the beginnynge of a sickenes.
Accessus, céssus, ma. gen. the approchyng or comynge to.
Accessus maris, the flowyng of the sea.
Accidens, déntis, neu. ge. is an accidente, which maie be or not bee, without the corruption of that wherin it maie be.
Accidens, déntis, om. ge. that chanseth.
Accidentia, thinges that chaunce or happen to a man, and properly myscortunes.
Accidentia, æ, f. g. chaunce.
Accidit nuper, there hapned, it is chaunced.
Accidere, in the thyrde persone, is to happen or chaunce to, and properly of euyll thynges.
Vbi ad aures accidit regis, whan it came to the kinges eares.
Si quid illi accidat, If he chaunce to die, or yf it happen to hym otherwyse than well.
Fama accidit, a bruite or rumour was spred.
Hoc mihi voluntatis accidit, I am of thys mynde.
Accidit ad animum tuum, it hath chaunced as ye woulde haue it.
Istud verbum vere in te accidit, thys woorde agreeth right well vnto the: or it maye bee ryght well spoken of the.
Timeo quorsum accidat, I feare to what ende it will come.
Accidit diuinitus, it was the hande of god.
Accido, accidis, cidi, idere, act. to extenuate or make feble, to afflict or to destroye.
Accisi crines, heares cleane cut of.
Accisæ dapes, meates cleane consumed or eate vp.

Accisæ

Accisæ res, whan the strengthe or power of any part is afflicted, broken, and greatly appayred by misfortune and aduersitee.

Accido, accidis, accidi, ere, neu. to fall down in doyng reuerence.

Accidere ad genua, accidere ad pedes, lowly and reuerently to fal downe at a mans feete.

Quos accidam? to whom should I make humble intercession?

Acciendus, a, um, to be called or sent for.

Accieo, accies, ciui, ère, accitum sup. idē quod Actio, iui, ire.

Accino, accinis, cinui, nere, to synge to an instrument, or to synge a parte, as a treble to a tenour, or a destant to a playne songe.

Accingo, cinxi, ere, act. to gyrde, to prepare, to make ready to do some thing.

Accingere se alicui rei, to make him selfe redy to an enterprise.

In hoc discrimen accingere, prepare the to this perillous enterprise.

Accingi armis, to bee armed.

Accingi ad spem maiorem, to loke for higher auauncement.

Accingi ira, to be wood angry.

Accio, accis, iui, ire, act. accitum sup. to call to, to send for one to come.

Ni voluptatem acciret, except it dyd bryng a pleasure with it.

Accipenser, looke acipenser.

Accipio, accipis, cepi, ere, act. to take, to heare, to suppose, to knowe, to vnderstand, to admitte, to receyue, to intreate, or entertayne, to pledge one in drynkyng.

Accipere auribus, to heare.

Accipere ad verbum, to take a thynge as it is spoken.

Accipere auditionem, to heare by reporte.

Accipere aliorsum, to take it other wise than it was spoken.

Accipere causā, or excusationē, to hold excused

Accipere cladem, to lose the bataile, or to haue the ouerthrowe, or to be discomfited.

Accipere conditionem, to take the offer.

Accipere corde, to perceiue well.

Pol haud satis meo corde accepi tuas querelas, In good faith I do not wel perceiue the cause of thy greefe. a poeticall phrase.

Accipere æquis auribus, to heare indifferently or patiently.

Accipere durius, to take it displeasantly.

Accipere dictis, aut verbis, to chide.

Accipere dolorē, to take thought, to be heauy.

Accipere fiduciam, to be incoraged.

Accipere grauiter, to take it heauily.

Accipere in ciuitatem, to make one a citisen. Also to open the towne gates against one that besegeth it, to yelde it vp.

Accipere moderatē, to take it patiently.

Accipere mandata, to take charge by cōmissiō.

Accipere rationes, to take accoumpte.

Accipere oculis & animo, to see and remēbre.

Accipere potestatem, to haue leaue.

Accipere verberibus, to beate one.

Accipere vulnus, to be wounded.

Accipe ad omnia, take this answere for all.

Ego à maioribus memoria sic accepi, I remember that I herde myne elders so reporte.

Accepit fidem fabula, the tale was beleued.

Accipere frenum, to yelde hym selfe subiect.

Accipere imperium, to obeie.

Accipere metum, to feare.

Accipere præcepta, to be taught.

Rem publicam accipere, to take the gouernāce of a publike weale.

Accipere societatem, to make aliaunce.

In eam partem accipio, I doe so take it, or I doe so interpret it.

In aliam partem accipis ac dictum est, thou dorst take it other wayes, then it is spoken.

In solutum accipere, to compte a thing a paied.

Silentium ipsius in superbiam accipiebatur, was interpreted to come of a pryde.

Accipere sententiam, to ratifie a sentence.

Si tempus debitum accipiat, if it male be done in due tyme.

Vitam deorum accipere, to be made a god.

Accipere aliquid in munerib⁹, to take bribes.

Accipere, male be oftentymes resolued by this worde Afficior, as Accepit lætitiam, he was gladde, or affected with gladnesse.

Accipere iniuriam, to take wronge.

Accipere plagam, seu vulnus, by a metaphore, is to haue a great hurt or domage, which we call a corsey to the herte.

Accipies à Pollione, ye shal know it of Pollio.

Si te æquo animo ferre accipiet, if he shal perceiue, that ye take it well in worthe.

Parum accipere, not to vnderstande.

Accipere in maius, to suppose a thyng to bee more than it is.

Regiè acceptus, entertained lyke a kynge.

Accipere ampliter, to intreate, or entertaine noblye.

Accipere, pro, tractare in malā partē: as, nisi sic Accipiūtur verberibus, they be so beaten.

Quo te modo accepissem, nisi iratus essem? Howe wolde I haue handled the, if I had not been angry?

Accipiter, accipitris, m. g. an hauke.

Accipiter humipeta, a sparhauke.

Accipiter hierax, an hauke, called a saker.

Accipiter pecuniarum, a poller of the people or an extorcioner.

Accipitrārius, rij, m. g. a faulconer.

Accipitro, accipitras, aui, are, to catche. I word out of vse.

Accito, aui, are, to call, or sende for oftentymes to come.

Accitus, accita, um, called for, called to come.

Accitus, us, m. g. a callyng or sendyng for.

Acclamo, acclāmas, aui, are, act. to crie with reioysyng, ſoyſinge, and ſometime contrary, to crie againſt a thyng.

Acclamátio, onis, f. g. a ſhowte, or crie.

Acclámito, clámitas, áui, are, to crie to ofte tymes.

Acclino, clinas, áui, are, act. to encline or bende to, and by a metaphor, to fauour, to conſent or agree to.

Acclinatus, acclinâta, um, leanyng or bendynge to a thyng.

Accliue, ſtiepe wiſe, bendyng wiſe.

Accliuis, cliue, ſine accliuus, a, um, ryſinge vpwarde to a ſmall toppe, leanynge towarde a thynge.

Accliuis arbori, leanyng to a tree.

Accliuis falſis animus, a mynde prone to lewdeneſſe.

Acclíuitas, tâtis, f. g. a ryſing vp of an hyll.

Accludo, ſi, ere, to ſhut to.

Accola, áccolæ, com. ge. the next inhabitant called a borderar. Alſo he that cometh out of one countrey, and dwelleth in an other countrey or towne.

Accola campi, he that dwelleth next the field.

Accolo, áccolis, cólui, ere, neu. to dwell by or nighe, ſpecially hilles, waters, or woodes.

Accolit propinquus noſtris ædibus, he dwelleth nighe to our houſe.

Accommodo, commodas, aui, are, to accommodate, to appropre, to apply, make apt, fit, like, or agreynge to an other thynge, to ſet in order: to gene or encline, to lende, to conforme.

Accommodare enſem lateri, to girde a ſworde about one.

Accommodauit orationem ad gratiam, he qualified his talke to pleaſe.

Accommodatius, to better purpoſe.

Accommodare curam auribus, to heare diligently.

Accommodare ſe ad rem publicam, to gene him ſelfe to the publike affaires.

Accommodare animum literis, to applye his mynde to learnyng.

Illud ſi ſciſſem, ad id meas literas accommodaſſem, If I had knowen that, I would haue written my letters therafter.

Teſtes ad crimen accommodare, to bringe forth witneſſe accordyng to the accuſation.

Accommodare ſe ad nutum alicuius, to make him ſelfe to ones becke.

Accommodatio, onis, f. g. an applyng.

Accommodus, a, um, apte, mete, conuenient.

Accommodatè, aptely, conuenientlp, to the purpoſe, hanſomely.

Accommodate, aduerbium, aptly, very well.

Accommodatus, a, um, applied to a thynge, beſeeming, conuenable, inclined, or diſpoſed.

Accommodatus ad flagitia, diſpoſed to miſchiefe.

Accredo, or adcredo, didi, ere, to geue credence, to aſſent a worde ſeldome vſed.

Accréduo, is, ui, ûere, idem quod accredo.

Accreſco, ſui, ere, to growe, to encreaſe, to be augmented.

Vt accreſcat fides, that it maie be the more beleeued.

Flumen ſubito accreuit, the riuer roſe ſodenly.

Accretio, ônis, fœ. ge. & accrementum, ti, n. g. an increaſyng, the encreaſe.

Accubatio, ônis, f. ge. a ſittyng at the table. alſo the lyng in of a woman with childe, ſometyme the ſittyng abrode of brydes and foules.

Accubitóres, they that ſitte at the table.

Accubitum, cúbiti, n. g. a bed or cowche to lye on by daye tyme, as it was the maner of the olde Romaines to eate lyng on their beddes.

Accubitus, cúbitus, maſ. g. the lyng in the ſaid maner.

Accubo, áccubas, cúbui, are, neu. to lye by, to ſit or lye downe to eate: and by a metaphore, to butte vpon.

Accubat mecum, he lieth with me.

Accubare alicui in conuiuio, to ſit by one at a feaſt.

Theatrum Tarpeio monti accubat, the Theatre butteth vpon the hill Tarpei.

Accûdo, di, ere, to beate a thing on an anuille, to forge, to hammer, or to coyne more to that which is alredy coyned.

Accudere tres minas, by a metaphore, is to make fiftie to adde. iii. pounders more to a ſumme.

Accumbo, cúbui, ere, neu. to lie downe, to lie by. to lie or ſit downe at feaſtes or banquettes.

Accumbere menſam, to ſit at one table.

Accumbere alicui, to ſit by one at the table.

Accumbere ſuperior, to ſitte in the higher place.

Accumulo, cúmulas, aui, are, act. to accumulate, to gather on heapes, to encreaſe.

Accumulare aliquem donis, to geue gyftes plentifully vnto one.

Accumulare arborem, contrarye to Ablaqueare, to heape yerthe aboute the rootes of trees, to kepe them from the parchynge heate of the ſonne.

Accumulatè, plentifully, liberally, bountifully.

Accumulatio, ônis, f. g. an heappng vp.

Accuro, cúras, aui, are, act. to take good hede, or to care for. Alſo to do a thyng diligently.

Accurare prandium, to puide and make ready the diner.

Accurare hoſpites, to entertrine gueſtes.

Accuratè, diligently, curiouſly, exactely, ſtudiouſly, earneſtly.

Accuratio, ônis, f. g. earneſt diligence.

Accurâtus, a, um, wherin is muche diligence, curiouſe, exacte, well handled, done ſtudiouſly.

Accurata malicia, malice prepenſed.

Accuratum habere, to prepenſe, or forecaſt a thyng curiouſly.

Accurata

Accurata commendatio, an ernest commendation.

Abcurro, cúrri, ere, to renne to, to speede thither.

Accurro, vt sciam quid velit, I ren to knowe what he woulde haue.

Accurritur ab vniuersis, euery man renneth thither.

Accursus, us, ma. ge. an assemblyng or hasty gathering of people to a place.

Accusabilis, sábile, worthy to be blamed.

Accusatio, ônis, f. g. an accusacion or blampng.

Accusator, ôris, m. g. an accusour, or rebuker.

Accusatorius, a, um, pertrinpng to an accusacion.

Accusatorius liber, a bpll of complainte.

Accusatrix, icis, a woman accuser or rebuker.

Accuso, cúsas, áui, âre, act. to accuse, blame or reprehende.

Accusare crimine, to accuse, or charge one with an offence.

Accusare vitium, culpam, aut crimen, to rebuke a mans faulte or vice.

Accusare, and Excusare, are contrary.

Accusas id me, pe blame me for this thinge.

Ace, aces, a citee of Phœnicia.

Acedaria, corruptly vsed for acetaria, salettes or meates lightly prepared.

Acedia, acédiæ, f. g. falsly called accidia, slouthe, pensiuenesse, heauinesse of herte, idle werinesse, careleste, negligence.

Acedior, atus sum, to be wery, or ware slouthfull.

Acentra, & acentreta, thinges wherof the center or prche in the middes is not knowen.

Aceo, áces, ácui, êre, to be eger tart, or sharpe.

Acephalus, acéphala, um, without a head.

Acéphali versus, verses beginnpnge with a shorte syllabe.

Acéphala fabula, a tale without head or taple.

Acer, áceris, n. g. or aceris, ris, a tree, the wood wherof is moste gentle to worke in, it seemeth by the description therof, to be that, whiche is cald maple. Also bowes be made therof.

Acer, áceris, n. g. chaffe or mislcede.

Acer, cra, crum, & acer, acris, acre, eger, sharpe, fell, sowre as vineger swifte, cruell, valiant, vehement, diligent, circumspecte. sometime it betokeneth strong, sore, fierse or ernest.

Acre acetum, stronge or sharpe vineger.

Acer amator, a feruent louer.

Amor acer, ardent loue.

Acer animus, a great or lusty courage.

Acer equus, a contagiouse or swifte horse.

Flagitator acer, an importune nate suitour.

Acre iurgium, bitter chidyng.

Acer morbus, a greuouse sickenesse.

Acer armis, fierse in armes.

In rebus gerendis acer, ernest and diligente in his affaires.

Aduersarius acer, a cruel & deadly aduersary.

Ambitus acer, a verie ernest sute for office.

Arcus acer, a quiche castinge bow.

Aestus acer, a feruent heate.

Acer canis, a hownde of quiche sent.

Frigus acre, a sharpe colde.

Animaduersor acer, a seuere or rigorous punissher.

Homo acer, a diligent person.

Acres cibi, tarte, sharpe, or bitpng meates.

Dolor acer, greuouse sorowe.

Cedes acris, cruell slaughter.

Hyemps acris. a sharpe winter.

Acri sole siccantur, thei be in the sonne when it is feruent hote.

Ingenium acre, a sharpe quiche witte.

Odor acer, a stronge sauoure.

Visus acer, a quiche syght.

Aceratum, ti, neu. g. morter, or clape mixte with hey or strawe, wherwith walles be daubed.

Acerbe, bitterly, vnripely, cruelly, vehemently.

Acerbitas, âtis, f. ge. bitternesse of taste, sharpenesse of tyme, cruelte of man, heauines, griefe, peine, aduersitee, vexacion, affliction.

Acerbitatibus lacerari, to bee tourmẽted with afflictions.

Acerbo, áui, âre, to trouble, to make bitter, abhominable, more cruell, or rigorous.

Acerbare crimen, to augment a faulte, & make it more greuouse.

Acerbus, a, um, vnripe, sowre, displeasaunt, difficulte, harde, solepne, austere, and peinfull: as, Robustorum iuuenũ acerba mors: the deathe of ponge men is peinfull: as who saith, they die with great difficultee.

Acerba vita, a peinfull lyfe.

Homo acerbus, a sowre felowe.

Acerba sors, a sorowfull or heauy condition.

Acerbæ facetiæ, bytyng tauntes.

Acerbus dies, a heauy date.

Acerba, for acerbe.

Acerbum spectaculum, a cruel syght, horrible to beholde.

Acerbum, bi, neu. ge. sorowfulnes, greuousnes, painefulnesse.

Acernus, a, um, of the tree called Acer.

Acero, áceras, áui, áre, to mixe with chaffe.

Acerosus, a, um, mixt with chaffe.

Acerôsum frumentũ, vnclean wheate, wheate not well winnowed or fanned.

Acerôsus panis, browne breade not ranged.

Acerra, æ, f. g. a shyppe, wherin frankensense is put, some do name it an aultont, whiche was set before a dead corps, wheron insense was burned. some call it a cup, wherin thei did sacrifice wine.

Acerrimè, exceedynge sharply, or stifly, egerly, or rigorously.

Acérrima vxor, a verate shrewd wife.

Acérrimi inimici, mortall ennemies.

Acérrimi testes, witnesses, whiche do stifly abyde by the matter.

Acersecomes, he that neuer cutteth his heare.

Aceruatim, aduerb. on heapes, without order, in a mengle.

Acer-

Aceruátim dicere, to shewe, or speake confusely without order.

Acervalis, uále, a kynde of argument, called Sorites, whiche proceedeth by diuers probations, & in the ende, as it were after a heape of argumentes, is concluded of the fyrst and the laste.

Aceruatio, ônis, fœ. ge. a heappng or gatherynge together.

Aceruo, aceruas, áui, áre, act. to gether into heapes.

Aceruus, ui, m. g. a heape or gatherynge together, and specially of graine, or other smal thinges.

Acescо, sci, ere, to waxe sowre, eger, or tarte, specially in licoure.

* Acesei & Heliconis opera, a prouerbe spoken of such thinges as be cunningly wrought.

* Acesias, a sophiste and an vnlearned phisicion, of whom ryseth this prouerbe.

* Acesias medicatus est, spoken of a thyng that wareth worse and worse, and the more it is tended, the worse it is.

Acesis, an herbe whiche is yelowe in colour.

* Acesiæi luna, a prouerbe spoken of suche as driue forthe matters from date to date.

Acestides, greate fornaces of yron, wherein brasse is made.

Acetabulum, tabuli, n. g. a measure conteinyng in it of wine. ii. ounces and an halfe. it is also a little vessell, as a sawcer, or other like. It is a boxe or goblet, wherin iuggelars make their conueyance. It is a partition in the legge of a fysshe called Polipus, which is lyke vnto a little cuppe or goblet. It is also the holownesse, wherin the huckle bone turneth: and euery other thing lyke therto, and apte to receiue any thing.

Acetare, to moue or styrre. an olde worde.

Acetaria, orum, neu. g. meate minced and eaten lyke salettes with vineger.

Acetarium, rij, n. ge. a salette of herbes. it is also a gardeine, where salet herbes do growe.

Acetositas, átis, f. g. eigernesse, tartnes, sowrenes.

Acetosus, tósa, um, eiger, sowre, tarte.

Acetum, acéti, n. g. vineger.

Acétum in pectore,

Nunc experiar, siene acétum tibi cor acre in pectore, Nowe will I proue, if thou haste any thynge, that dothe pricke the in the stomache.

Aceto quempiam perfundere, to taunte one bytynglp.

Acharis, cháridis, com. g. with out grace.

Achâne, nes, fœ. ge. a corne measure among the Persians.

Achanna, æ, f. g. a fysshe, which some men do suppose to be thornbacke.

Achateon, the maine saile of a shyppe.

Acharistus, idem quod ingratus.

Achates, a precious stone, wherin are represented diuerse figures. for some haue had in them the images of the. ix. muses, some of Venus, some haue the colour of Corall, some are bryght as Cristall. It was one of the. xii. stones that god commaunded to bee put on the vestimentes of Aaron. It is supposed, that magicians, by burnynge that stone, & the smoke therof commynge: did put awaie tempestes and stormes. Also it is a ryuer in Sicill. It was the name of Eneas companion.

Achetæ, grasshoppers, whiche chirpe lowde and pleasauntly.

Achillea, léæ, f. g. an herbe called yarrow or rather milfoile.

Achilleias, iados, or Achilleis, leidos, a kynde of barley, peraduenture that whiche is called bere corne.

Achilleon, or achilleos, some doe suppose to bee milfoyle.

Achilleum, léi, n. g. a sponge, which is very soft, and hath small holes.

Achilus, la, lum, without lippes, without margét or brym. It is also a stone that hath no tast.

Achimenis, idis, f. g. an herbe, whiche is of suche force, (as inchaunters teache) that if in tyme of battayle it be cast into an armient will cause the souldiours to be in a great feare, & redy to flee.

Achne, nes, f. g. chaffe. also the fome of the sea: of Sophocles it is taken for dew. it maie bee vsed for the smallest and refuse of euery thyng.

Achne ignis, smoke.

Acholus, without gaile.

Achores, renning sores in the head, whiche be ingendred in the shyn, & breake out in smal holes, a common disease among children.

Achras, a wilde peare.

Achrestia, æ, vnthryftinesse, vnprofitablenes.

Achrestus, vnapt, vnhoneſt, vnprofitable.

Achriogelos, a fole that laugheth without cause.

Achyron, ri, n. g. chaffe.

Aciæris, éris, fœm. ge. a hatchet of brasse, which amonge the paynyms was vsed in sacrifice.

Aciale, or Aciare, harde yron.

Acicula, ciculæ, f. g. a pinne.

Acidula, peares that be sowre. also an herbe, called sorrell de bops.

Acidula aqua, water that maketh men dronke lyke wyne.

Acidulus, cidula, um, somewhat eger, or tart.

Acidus, ácida, um, eger, sowre, or sharpe.

Acidylus, a knotte in the gyrdle of Venus.

Acies, éi, f. g. betokeneth the edge of a knife, or other weapon or tole. Also the front of an host at the ioynyng of battaile. Moreouer that part of the eie, which is called the sight.

Acies animi, vel ingenij, the sharpenes or capacitee of the witte, which some call the spirite.

Aciē trahere, to set an edge, or to make sharpe.

Dirigere áciem oculorum in aliquem, to lohe vpon one.

Effugere áciem, to go out of syght.

Excitare áciem oculorum, to quicken the eie syghte.

Stricta ferri ácies, a naked swerde, a swerde drawen.

Haſtæ ácies, the ſpeare poynt.
Vinũ acinacium, ſmall houſholde wyne, made at the ſeconde preſſyng.
Acinaceus, a, um, of kernelles or graines.
Acinacis, cis, maſ. gen. a croked ſworde that the Perſians vſed.
Acinus, ácini, ma. g. & Acinum, ni, n. g. a litle kernelle, whiche is in grapes, reſins, pomegranates, and other bearies.
Acinoſus, nôſa, um, full of kernelles.
Acinos, or Acinus, f. g. ſmall baſill.
Acipenſer, or Aquipenſer, pénſeris, ma. ge. a kinde of fiſhe, whiche hath the ſcales turned towarde the head, & ſwymmeth againſt the water.
Aclanes, he that neuer crieth.
Aclaſsis, clásſis, fœ. g. a garment vnſowed from the ſhoulders.
Acleti, vnbyd, or vncalled.
Aclis, áclidis, fœ. g. a kynde of weapon, vſed in olde tyme, as it were an hurlebatte.
Acme, mes, it is taken for floriſſhyng youth, or luſty age.
Acmon, mônis, m. g. an anuille.
Acmotheton, thẽti, neu. gen. the ſtocke that the anuille ſtandeth on.
Acœtus, one that hath no bedde to lye in.
Acolaſtus, a prodigall, vnruly, and riottouſe perſonne.
Acolaſtus homo, a verraie vnthryfte.
Acoluthus, thi, m. g. a waityng ſeruaunt.
Acolytus, he that can with no terrour bee drawen from his purpoſe.
Acon, onis, a fyſhe, which after the deſcription of Paulus Iouius, I ſuppoſe to bee that, whiche at London is called a ſhadde.
Aconæ, rough rockes.
✣ Aconiti, a prouerbe, vſed whan a thing is eaſily obteyned without ſweatte or labour.
Aconitum, niti, neu. g. an herbe creepyng venomouſe, it hath leaues like a cucumbre, but ſomwhat leſſe, & rough: the ſtalke one hande bredth hyghe, the rote like the taple of a Scorpion, and is white as Alabaſter. ther is alſo an other kinde therof, whiche hath leaues like a plane tree, but the diuiſions are thycker, the leafe lenger, and more blacke. and hath a ſtalke like a ferne, one cubite in heyght, the ſeede beyng in a long codde, the rotes are blacke, & like to the heares, or hornes of a chymme. Turner ſaieth, that one kynde of Aconitum, maie bee called Libardbaine, an other woulfbayne, of the which is two kyndes, blew, and pealow woulfbayne.
Acontia, æ, fœ. ge. a certaine impreſſion lyke to a ſirpe darte, which ſeemeth to flee in the ayre.
Acontia, is alſo a ſerpent of the bygneſſe of. ii. cubites, great in the fore parte, and decreaſyng ſmall backwarde towarde the taple, of colour grene,
Acopa, orum, n. ge. medicines to remedy weryneſſe or labour.
Acopis, fœm. gen. a precious ſtone lyke a glaſſe, with ſmall golden droppes, wherewith yᵉ ayle bee heated, and the body therewith anoynted, it diſſolueth all weryneſſe.
Acopos, or Acopus, ácopi, fœ. g. an herbe, called alſo Anagyris, full of braunches, and hath floures lyke to colewortes, and hath an euill ſauoure, the ſeede of it is in long coddes, harde, and in facion lyke vnto kidneys.
Acor, ôris, m. g. a tartneſſe, lyke vnto ripe wine, or pomgranades, eigerneſſe.
Acorna, æ, f. g. a kynde of thiſtels.
Acorum, or Acorus, an herbe with longe leaues lyke the blade of a ſworde. Leonicenus and Antonius Muſa do ſuppoſe it to be great galyngale, and not that whiche is called Gladiolus, in Engliſhe, gladen. This rote is hot and drye in the thyrd degree.
Acoſmia, æ, f. g. a diſordered heape of thynges, diſworſhyp, diſhonour, and alſo an inordinate confuſion of matters in a common weale.
Acoſmus, one that is vndecked or vntrimmed, a ſlouen.
Acquieſco, ẽui, ere, neu. g. to be at reſt or quiete, alſo to recreate, delyte, or to take pleaſure in a thynge, or perſone. alſo to leane the head or armes vpon any thyng. It ſignifieth alſo to aſſent to other mens ſaiynges.
Lectis tuis literis aliquantulum acquieui, Whan I had readde your letters, my ſorowe was somewhat aſſwaged.
Habemus aliud nihil, in quo acquieſcamus, we haue none other thinge to delite our mynde with, or wherin we maie take pleaſure.
Acquiro, quiris, ſiui, ere, act. to gette, or obteine a thing that is ſought for.
Acquirere amicos, to winne frendes.
Acquirere beneuolentiam, to get the good will or fauour of men.
Acquirere dignitatem, to obteyne honour, or digniter.
Acratiſmus, i, m. g. & Acratiſma, tiſmatis, n. g. a breakefaſt.
Acraton, pure wyne without a laie, or vnmixt.
Acratophoron, tóphori, neu. ge. a littell water pitcher.
Acredo, inis, acritudo, dinis, acritas, tâtis, fœ. g. ſharpeneſſe or ſowreneſſe, that is in fruites, which be not rype.
Acrédula, æ, f. g. the wood larke.
Acrementum, ti, idem quod Acredo.
Acribodicæon, æi, the rigour of the lawe.
Acrifolium, loke Lotos.
Acrimonia, mónix, fœm. g. tartneſſe, which byteth the tunge, and pearceth the head, as in the taſt of garlike, oynyons, and other like thynges. It ſignifieth ſometyme ſharpeneſſe in ſpeakyng or mynde, ſometyme lyuelineſſe, and quickeneſſe of witte.
Acriſia, æ, f. g. lacke of iudgement.
Acritas, tâtis, fœm. ge. ſowreneſſe, crueltee, diligence, vehemencie.

A ANTE C.

Acriter, sharpely, sowerly, stiffely, swyftly, cruelly, vehemently, diligently.

Acriter animum intendere, to sette all his intent or study.

Acriter iudicare, to iudge with a great delibe-ration, and as nygh the truth as he can.

Acritudo, ínis, f. g. egernesse.

Acroama, ámatis, neu. gene. a subtyll sentence or lesson, requyryng muche study and serche. It is also taken for all thynges rehersed or doen, to delyte the audience, and also the person that recyteth theim.

Acroámata, were certayne lectures of Aristotle, whiche he redde to his scholers, wherin was the most counnyng and subtill part of philosophy.

Acroamaticus, mática, um, pertaynyng to those lectures.

Acrochórdon, chordónis, f. g. a kynde of warte, so smal at the rotes, that they seeme to hange by a sinew.

Acrocomus, crocomi, one haurng longe heares.

Acrodria, be al fruites, which haue an harde rynde or shale, as pomegranades, nuttes, chestins, pistaces, and other lyke.

Acrostólia, órum, n. g. a certayne garnysshynge of shyppes, both before and behynde, whiche may easily be taken away.

Acroteria, orum, neu. ge. the extreme partes of a mans body, as the fingers endes. also pinnacles, battilmentes, and images sette on buttresses to garnysshe buildynges. It is also the stemme decke-hynge or garnyshyng of shyppes.

Acrothorax, one halfe dzunke.

Acti, as if, as though. loke Ac.

Acta, æ, f. g. a water banke or stronde, wheron the water floweth.

Acta, orum, n. ge. plur. It is that we call actes, concernyng mens lyues, or priuate busyneste put in writyng. Also suche dedes as haue happened out of iudgement. And actitata be those thynges, whiche haue happened in iudgement, properly they that be in doyng.

In acta referre, to regester or cronicle.

Acta diurna, actes daily done.

Acta circumducere, to cancell a sentence ones determined.

Acte, tes, fœ. g. an elder tree.

Actæa, æ, fœ. g. called also Chamæacten, and Ebulum, an herbe called walwort.

Acteon, loke Actium.

Acteus, a, um, one of Athens.

Actia, orum, plaies made ones in v. yeres.

Actias, tiadis, one of Athens.

Actio, ónis, f. g. betoke neth sometyme pronunciation, sometyme an oracion writen, sometime an action in the law, sometime an history, sometyme a defence, other whyle a recompēce in wordes for a benefit receiued: as Gratiarum actio, for thankes. generally it is taken for the actuall dede in euery thyng.

Action, the beary of an elder.

Actiosus, a, um, busy.

Actitatio, ónis, fœ. g. a debatyng of a case in the law, a pleadyng.

Actitatus, determined by iudgement.

Actito, áui, áre, to practise, specially in ciuile matters, to doe often, to pleade a mattier.

Actius, loke Accius.

Actiuus, actiue.

Actor, óris, mas. gen. the doer of the deede. also in the law the plaintife, complainant, or demandant. also a player of enterludes, and a manner factour or baylyffe, that hath the charge of his busyneste.

Actor, the name of a certayn noble man.

Actualia nomina, names whiche doe procede of act: as Rex à regendo, of gouernyng: Dux à ducendo, of leadyng.

Actualis scientia, a scyence that declareth thinges by their operacion, of the whiche are three partes, morall, dispensatiue, and ciuile.

Actuarius, árij, m. ge. a substantiue, signifieth a Notary or scribe, or any other that wryteth spedily.

Actuarius, a, um, actiue.

Actuária nauis, or actuarium, rij, a row barge or other light shyppe, which is rowed.

Actuária minuta, or actuariola, small shyppes or botes.

Actuariolum, rioli, n. ge. a littell bote or barge.

Actuosé, braggyngly.

Actuosus, ósa, ósum, full of busyneste, alwaye occupied, both actiuely, and passiuely.

Actuósus ignis, fyre that burneth alwaie.

Actuósa vita, an actiue or worldly life.

Actus, a, um, perfourmed, also arriued, thrust in, brought to, feared, dispatched, driuen, vexed, tossed, constrayned.

Acti tempestate, driuen by force of wether.

Acti iucundi labores, a prouerbe, signifyng, that the memory of labours and trauailes passed, is pleasaunt.

Actus multis casibus, vexed and tossed with many mysfortunes.

Retro actus, driuen backe.

Mihi ætas acta est, I am olde.

Actum agere, to doe that whiche is all ready doen, to labour in vaine, or to do ouerthwartly.

Actum de me est, I am vndoen.

Actum est, the matter is past cure.

Actum est mecum præclare, I am right well delt withall.

Actum habere, to allow that whiche a man hath doen.

Actus, us, mas. ge. a deede, noble prowesse, the part of a comedie or plaie, the countenance and gesture of the same players, a daies worke in tillage, whiche was accounpted at. 120. foote square. Also the measure of grounde, conteynyng. 120. foote quare.

Actus hominis, the partes of mannes life, alludyng to the actes of comedies.

Actus

Actus rerum, the expedition or exployting of matters.

Acta diurna, luche thynge as be doen and registred daiely.

Actûtum, anone, without tariyng, by and by.

Acuale os, a parte of the bone aboute the temples of a mans heade.

Aculeatus, a, um, any thyng that pricheth. Also that greueth or troubleth the mynde.

Aculeus, cúlei, ma. ge. a pricke or stynge. also a bityng taunt, checke, or rebuke: and al thynges that doe pricke and greue the mynde, maye be called Aculei.

Aculei orationis, the affections and liuely vehemencie of an oration.

Aculeus sagittæ, an arrow head.

Aculeolus, léoli, m. g. a little pricke or stynge.

Acumen, cúminis, n. g. the sharpeneſſe, edge, or point of any thyng. Also subtilitee, wittineſſe, eyne iudgement, & sometyme sleightyneſſe, craftye wylineſſe.

Vbi est acûmen tuum? Where is thy witte?

Acûmen saporis, sharpeneſſe of taſt.

Acûmen ingenij, kineſſe of witte.

Acuminatus, a, um, that hath a sharpe point or edge.

Acumino, acúminas, áui, áre, act. to sharpen.

Acuncula, æ, a little nedell.

Acuo, ácuis, ácui, ere, act. to whette or make sharpe. By trãslatiõ it signifieth to pricke forth or stirre one to do a thing, to puoke, to quicken.

Acúere ingenium, to quicken the witte.

Quam Iuno his accuit verbis, egged, stired, sette a fyer.

Acuere linguam, to make the tungue to pronounce perfectly.

Acuere stilum, to write sharpely or curiously.

Acuere animos, to make fierce or courageouſe.

Acuere iuuentam ad bonas artes, to stirre youth to the study of good letters.

Acuere industriam, to make more diligent.

Acupedius, pédia, um, he that hath an apte or quicke foote to renne with all.

Acupictores, imbroderers.

Acupingere, to imbroder.

Acus, áceris, neu. g. chaffe.

Acus, us, fœ. g. a needell. Also chaffe of corne, an order in battayle, and a pinne, wherwith women doe trymme vp their heares.

Rem acu tetigisti, thou haſt hitte the nayle on the head.

Acus, áci, maſ. ge. a fyſshe of the sea, longe, small and smoth: on the backe he hath a colour betweene greene and blew, his beake is longe and sharpe. in some countreyes here it is called an hornebeake. In the time of spaunyng, the healy of this fyſshe openeth, and so the spaume issueth, and afterwarde the wounde is closed. This fyſshe is harde of digeſtion, but it is moyſt, and of good iuice in an wholl body.

Acuſtici, orum, m. ge. they whiche doe heare all, and speake nothyng them ſelfe.

Acutè, quickely, subtilly, wittyly.

Acutulus, he that hath a pretty witte.

Acutulus, a, um, somewhat subtile.

Acutus, a, um, sharpe edged or poynted, subtill, witty: but in voyce it betokeneth hygh or small, as a treble, shrill.

Acúte aures, eares quicke of hearyng.

Acúti oculi, clere eyes, quicke of syght.

Acúti cibi, sharpe meates.

Acûtum ingenium, a quicke or subtill witte.

Acûtus morbus, a vehement or sharpe diſeaſe.

Acûtum & triſte resonare, to make a shrylle and hydous noyſe.

Acylon, an holly beary.

Acyrologia, an vnproper kynd of speakyng either in woordes or ſence.

AD, by hym ſelfe, or ioygned to an nother woorde, signifieth, to, about, nere to, or at: as, Vado ad oppidum, I goe to the towne. Erat ad ripam fluminis arbor, There was at the riuers syde a tree. Ad, is sometyme vſed for In: as, Ad forum audiuit, for In foro. Sometyme it signifieth against: as, Ad illum mihi pugna est, Against hym is my warre. sometyme it betokeneth in comparyſon: sometyme cauſe: as Ad quid hoc feciſti? For what cauſe, or whereto dyddeſt thou this? sometyme about: as, Ad duo millia hominum occiſa sunt, There be slaine about. 2000. men. also after: as,

Ad hæc, after this.

Ad, is also sometime taken for, Quantum ad. Vidi simul cum populo Romano forum, comitiúmq; adornatum, ad speciem magnifico ornatu: ad ſenſum cogitationémq; acerbo & lugubri, I with the people of Rome beheld the places of iugement and common aſſemblies, as to the pleſure of the eie, sumptuouſly garnyſhed: but as to reſpect of witte and imagination, lamentably and heuily decked.

Ad annum, during an wholle yere, or for a peres space.

Ad aſſem, to the vttermoſt peny, euery farthynge.

Ad breuiſsimum tẽpus, for a very short time.

Ad cyathos stare, to awaite on the cuppe.

Ad decem annos, id est poſt, ten peres after.

Neſcio quid interſit, vtrum illuc nunc veniam, an ad decem annos, I wotte not what diuerſitee, whether I come nowe, or ten peres hereafter.

Ad, with an accuſatiue caſe, is sometyme vſed for a datiue: as, Ad carnificem te dabo, for carnifici.

Ad decimum ſextum calendas, about the. xvi. calendes.

Ad dextram, ad ſiniſtram, on the right hande,

on the left hande.

Ad diem, at the day appointed.

Ad desiderium, id est, propter.

Inde cum actæ boues quædam ad desiderium (vt fit) relictarum mugissent, Than whan some of the neate, whiche were driuen awaye, for the desyre they had of the other that remayned (as they vse to doe) dyd loow or bellowe.

Ad ducentos, about. 200.

Ad, for Circa: as, Ad quod tempus te expectabo, about what tyme. &c.

Ad extremũ, ad postremum, at the last, finally, in conclusion. Sometime at the last ende, contrary to Ab initio. Also in the hynder part.

Ad exemplũ, to the exãple or likenesse, wherat, Ad, is for Secundum, and noteth similitude or lyknes.

Ad hoc exemplum nunquam amaui, I neuer loued of that facion, or in that maner.

Ad hæc mala, hoc mihi accidit, besides these displeasures, this chaunced vnto me.

Ad horam nonam in anchoris expectaui, I late at anhor vntyl. ix. of the cloche.

Ad hunc modum, this waie, or in this maner, or after this sort.

Ad id tempus, at that time.

Ad illam faciem, ita vt illa est, vt emerem sibi mandauit mihi, He commaunded me to by for him one, that had suche a face as she hath.

Ad amussim, by rule or lyne. And by ãmes taphore, exquisitely, curiously, with great diligence.

Ad iudicẽ dicere. i. apũd iudicẽ, before a iudge.

Eius testis ad iudicem fidem informabit, his wytnesse before a iudge, shall proue the truth.

Ad, for ante, or coram.

Cunctantem ad limina expectant, they loke for him at the gate.

Ad limina, a porter.

Ad lucem, for vsq; ad lucem, vntyll daie lyght.

Ad marum seruus, he that is cerne to one, or wayteth for him.

Ad manus venire, to come to hand stroke, to cope together.

Ad me, pro apud me, with me.

Commodum ad te dederam literas, cum ad me bene mane Dionysius fuit, I had scarsely sent my letters vnto the, whan Dionyse was with me verly in the morning.

Ad meridiem, vntyll none.

Ad meridiem spectat, aut vergit, it lyeth towarde the south.

Ad me domum, at home with me.

Ad me abducta est domum, id est, ad domũ meam, home to my house. Lyke wise wee saye:

Ad me Londinum veni.

Ad multam noctem, late in the nyght.

Ad nummum conuenit, it is the trew summe.

✠ Ad pedẽ, a prouerbe, which signifieth agreable, as it were, my shoe is meete for my foote. Accordyng to this prouerbe, is the sentence of Paulus Æmilius, who hearyng his wife Papyria, cõmended for hir beautee, & diuerse other good qualitees, held vp his foote to the that pressed hir, and asked how thei liked his shoe. Thei saied it was a good shoe. Than saied Æmilius, ye bee see, that it is a new shoe, and well made, but none of you doeth know, where it wryngeth me, and yet I doe feele it.

Ad pedes, a lahap.

Ad pedes desilio, I lyght on my feete.

Ad pileum vocare, to styre men to sedycion vpon trust of libertee or other commodities.

Ad quindecim talenta, about. xv. talentes.

Ad rauim poscere, to aske tyll one be hoarse.

Ad rem facit, it maketh for the matter, or is conuenient, or it serueth for the purpose.

Ad rem pertinet, it belongeth to the purpose.

Ad rem suam sapere, to be wyse for his owne profite.

✠ Ad restẽ res rediit, the thing is in dispaire. Whiche prouerbe came of them that did hange them selues, because thei had not so good fortune as thei looked for, or that thynges happened not accordyng vnto their expectation.

Ad summum, at the most, or at the vttermost.

Ad, for præ, signifieth comparison: as.

Ad sapientiam huius nimius nugator fuit, in regarde of this mans wysdome, he was but a verie trifler.

Ad tempus, in season. Sometyme accordyng to the time, also for a tyme.

Ad verbum, worde for worde.

✠ Ad viuũ resecare, to touche it to ꝑ quicke. A prouerbe taken of paryng of nayles, vntill the bloud doeth appere. Which signifieth to touche a thyng neerer than nede requyreth.

Ad vnguem, exactly, absolutely, perfectly.

Ad vnum, not one left, at ones, vnto the last, euerychone.

Ad vnum idem sentiunt, thei be all of one opinion.

Ad calendas græcas. signifieth neuer. for in olde tyme the Grekes had no calendes.

Ad horam, at tyme appointed.

Ad exitam ætatem, for Ad vltimam ætatem.

Ad hæc, moreouer.

Ad hoc, furthermore.

Ad liquidum, eftsoone, euidently, plainly.

Ad manus, at hande, ready.

Ad modum, as it were.

Ad primus, chiefe of all.

Ad vrbem esse, to be in the citee.

Ad eum respice, looke towarde him.

Ad memoriam aliquid notare, to note a thing that it may be remembred.

Ad perpendiculum exigere, to trie a thynge by the plumbe rule.

Ad meum sensum, to my iudgement.

Ad cinerem ambustus, burned to asshes.

Ad omnia inutile, profitable for nothyng.

Ad bonitatẽ proficere, to waxe better & better.

Addi-

Ad digitos venire, to be cõpted on the fingers.
Ad febrem valet medicamen, the medicine is good against the feuer.
Valet ad caput, it is good for the head.
Ad ñdem affirmare, to affirme certainely.
Ad Apollinis, ad Monetæ, ad Saturni, ad Iunonis, at Apollos temple. ꝛc.
Ad lapidis iactum peruenire, to come within a stones cast.
Ad id, to that tyme.
Ad irritum cadit ſpes, our hope commeth to naught, or we be disapointed of ꝑ we loked for.
Ad portionẽ, id eſt, pro portione, accordyng to the proportion of the remnant.
Ad tertias decoquere, to seeth a thyng to the thyrde part.
Ad votum, euen as we wouldе wiſhe.
Studet ad lucernam, he studieth by candel light.
Ad tua verba reuixi, your woordes relieued me, or, with your woordes I was relieued.

Adactio, ónis, f. g. compulsion, or constreynt.
Adactus, a, um, compelled, put forth, forced, driuen in.
Adæque, semblably, so muche, as muche.
Adæque miſer, so muche or euen as muche a wretche.
Adæquo, áui, are, to make playne or lyke, to aduaunce it selfe, that it may be lyke or equall to an other.
Adæquare vrbem ſolo, to rase a citee to the earthe.
Adæquauit cum virtute fortunam, he was euen as fortunate as vertuous.
Adæquare aliquem ſibi, to make one equall to him selfe.

Adæro, æras, áui, are, act. to praise or value.
Adæſtuo, áui, âre, to ouerflow or boyle ouer.
Adággero, aui, are, to gather, heape, or lade together.
Adagia, adagiæ, f. ge. an olde wyfe, whiche had a childe but late.
Adagio, ónis, idem quod adagium.
Adagium, adágij, neu. ge. a prouerbe, or as I mought saie, an olde saied saw.
Adalligo, áui, âre, act. to bynde to.
Adamantæus, for Adamantinus, a, um, of or perteinyng to a diamonde: and by a metaphore, inuincible.
Adamantis, idis, fœm. ge. an herbe that the inchaunters doe vse.
Adamas, ántis, m. g. a diamonde, whereof bee diuerse kyndes: one is founde in India, and is lute, bryght, heauy, and so harde, that nothyng can breake it, excepte the bloud of a gote. Another is founde in Arabia, whiche is lesse than the other, and of colour more pale. some be foũd in Macedonia, and they haue more the colour of yron made bryght. other be founde in Ethiopia, and thei be most darke in colour. And some be founde in Cypres, and their colour drawyth toward the colour of apre, but thei are soft.

The vertues of this stone are these, to resiſt poyſon and witchecraft, it putteth away feare, it causeth him that weareth it, to vanquiſshe in contẽtion, it helpeth theim that be lunatike or phrenetike. I haue proued, that a diamonde layd by a nedel, ꝑ lode stone might not draw it vp to him.

Adamo, ádamas, áui, âre, act. to loue very wel, to desire feruently, and somtime to loue wantonly.
Adaperio, áperis, perui, ire, act. to sette open a thyng.
Adapertilis, le, for apertum, open, or easy to be opened.
Adapto, áui, âre, to ioyne to, to make fitte or euen with.
Adaquatio, ónis, f. g. watryng of cattall.
Adaquo, ádaquas, áui, are, to water horſe or cattall. also to water herbes or trees.
Adarca, called also Adarchia, adarces, adarcion, adarcos, and Calomochnus, a saire some, which commeth of the rindes of canes or reedes growyng in fennes.
Adareo, adáres, ui, ére, to be drie. I woorde seldome vsed.
Adaſia, an olde prew, whiche hath lately peaned or had a lambe.
Adaſſo, olde writers vsed for Adigo, to compell.
Adaſus, a facion of coates not shewed on the shoulders.
Adaúcto, áui, âre, to increase or augment.
Adaúctus, a, um, augmented or increased.
Adaúctus, us, m. g. the increase or augmẽtation.
Adaugeo, áuges, áuxi, ére, act. idẽ qd adaúcto.
Adaugeſco, auxi, ere, to increase, to grow bigger or greatter.
Adaxint, for adegerint, lette theim compelle or constreigne.
Adbibo, ádbibis, ádbibi, ere, neu. ge. to drinke. somtyme to drynke much: And by a metaphore, for imbibere, to receyue into the mind precepts or counsayles, Adcenſi, for Accenſi.
Adcorporo, áui, are, to ryngle or ioyne to, so to cleaue and ioygne to, that it is one body.
Adcredo, crédis, crédidi, ere, idem quod credo.
Adcreſco, éui, ere, to be added to.
Addax, acis, m. ge. a beast in Affrike, which hath crooked hornes.
Addecet, for Decet, it becometh.
Addecimo, décimas, áui, âre, to take tenthes.
Addenſeo, uſi, ere, to make thicke, or close to gether, as whan many bee assembled in a small roume.
Addenſo, áui, âre, idem quod addenſeo. also to make thicke, as ipcour is made thicke.
Addico, addicis, ixi, ere, act. to delyuer, to sell, or to appoint gooddes to be solde openly, to alienate a thyng from ones selfe, or from any other man: and permitte, graunte, and appoynt the same to some other persone, to saie, to auow, geue, or addict hym selfe to any thynge or persone, to appoynt, iudge, or depute. Also Addicere quempiam pro debito, is to delyuer the debtour to his creditours, to doe with him what they lyst.

Antonius regna addixit pecunia, appointed out and solde kingdomes for money.

Nummo addicere, to sell for a small trifell and almost for nothinge.

Fundus addicitur Ebutio, the lande is permitted and graunted by iudgement to Ebutius.

Addicere ad iusiurandum, to forse one to sweare.

Addicere aues, was amonge the Augurians, to approue or allow a thynge to be doen.

Nisi aues addixissent, id, est, approbassent, excepte the byrdes by their tokens had allowed the thynge.

Addicere sanguinem alicuius, or Addicere morti, to appoynt one to dye, or bee put to death.

Addicere bona in publicum, to confiscate goodes, or lease them as forfaite.

Addictam precio habere ndē, to haue his credyte and truthe ready to be solde for money.

Addicere corpus turpissimæ cupiditati, to geue or abandone his body to most filthy lust.

Addicere in seruitutē, to iudge one to be bōde.

Addicere se alicui, vel homini vel rei. i. se illi deuouere. Senatus cui me semper addixi, to the maintenance or folowing wherof I haue addicted and as it were bequethed my selfe.

Addicere opus aliquod: pro, locare faciendum, to sette out a worke to be done a great, or for a certain price.

Addictus feris & alitibus, layd to bee deuoured of wylde beastes and foules.

Addicere animū, to geue or apply his mynde.

Addictio, ônis, fœ. g. deliuerance of goodes to thē possession of an other.

Addictus, he that is iudged, appoynted, deputed or bounden.

Addictus, a um, openly solde.

Addisco, didici, ere, to learne, to learne well to adde to in learnyng.

Addiscere tubas, to learne to blow the trūpette.

Additamentum, menti, n. ge. a thing added to, an augmentacion.

Additio, ônis, f. g. an addition.

Additus, a, um, added or put to.

Additus, is also vsed for an enemy.

Nec Teucris addita Iuno vsque aberit, Neyther Juno, enemy to the Troianes, shall lacke or be away.

Addiuino, uinas, aui, are, idem quod diuino.

Addo, ĕdi, are, to geue to one.

Addo, addidi, ere, to adde, to ioyne or put to.

Addit equos: Ad hāc rem additit: In illā oratiōnē quædā addidi. Quāobrē in sententiā nō addidisti: pro, sententiæ: In potu vnguētum addunt. Aliquid de suo addit. In collyria additur. Adde huc. Adde quod. Exemplis melioribus se addere, to folow the better exāples.

Addere, for Dare: as Natura quam Iupiter apibus addidit.

Addebat hoc, he layed moreouer.

Addere animum, to geue courage.

Addere gradum, to make hym goe faster.

Huc adde, or adde quod, moreouer then this, furthermore.

Addere calcar alicui, to stirre or pricke one forwarde.

Addere aliquem astris, to make one a god.

Addere in nares, to put into the nose.

Addere facta policitis, to doe or accomplishe that whiche is promised.

Addere fidem, to confirme.

Addere finem, to make an ende.

Addere operam, doe thy diligence.

Addidit multum reipublicæ, he profited much the publike weale.

Addito tempore, in processe of tyme.

Addere alacritatem scribendi, to geue one a pleasure or comfort to write.

Addoceo, addoces, cui, ēre, to teache muche.

Addormio, ui, ire, to sleepe.

Addormisco, miscis, mui, ere, idem.

Addubitatus, a, um, doubted of.

Addubito, addubitas, aui, āre, to doubt, or to be somewhat in doubt.

Adduco, dūcis, uxi, ere, to bring to, or bring forth, sometyme to drawe or plucke together, to bende or drawe vp, as a bowe, a synge, or any other ingyn. also to woue or perswade.

Adducit tuam Bacchidem, Adhuc huc, Adduxit intro in ædes, Adduxit ad prandium, Puero nutricē adduxit, for the childe. Adducere a foro, ex Italia. Quod ex Italia adduxerat. Adducere aliquē ad vel in rem aliquam.

Adducere alicui ante oculos, to bring before ones eies.

Adducit cutem macies, leaues maketh the skinne wrincled.

Adducere frontem, to froune.

Adduci mercede, metu, odio, precibus, &c. to be moued or perswaded.

Adduxit in suam opinionem, he hath perswaded me to agree to his mynde.

Adducere in cognitionem, to geue knowlage, or make to know.

Adducere ad cōcordiā, to bring to agreemēt.

Adducere ad consuetudinem, to bring to a custome.

Adducere in dubitationem, to bring one in doubte.

In honorem adducere, to make a thyng to be esteemed or honored.

Adducere in expectationem, to bring one in hope, or cause him to looke for a thyng.

Adducere arcum, to drawe or bende a bow.

Adducere habenas, to pull streite the reigne of the bridell.

Adducere ad mucrones, to bring a matter in sasse to be tried by dent of swoorde.

Addu-

Adducere in metum, to bryng one in feare.
Adduxisti me in eam necessitatem, thou hast brought me into such a strayte.
Adducere in negligentiam, to make one negligent.
Adducere in inuidiam, to make one enuied or hated.
Adducere sitim, to make a man thirstie.
Adducere ad prandium, to byd to dyner.
Adduci non possum vt credam, I can not be perswadded to beleue it.
Adducere tædium alicuius rei, to make a mã weery of any thyng.
Adducere vultum ad tristitiam, to looke sadly.
Adduci, to be meoued, or perswaded.
Adductus, a, um, brought, drawen together, crounke, bended as a bow is.
Adducta frons, a frownyng forhead.
Adducto constitit arcu, he stode with his bow bent.
Addues, pro addideris, a worde out of vse.
Adduplico, áu, âre, to double any thyng.
Adedo, ádes, or ádedis, édi, adesse, or adédere, to deuoure or consume.
Adechastus, ti, f. g. a vnclene persone, that neither for meede nor dreede will doe against iustice.
Adelphi, brethrne. it is also the name of a comedie in Terence.
Adelus, a, um, vncertayne, vnknowen.
Ademptio ciuitatis, banyshement.
Ademptus, a, um, taken awaie.
Lubrico itinerum abémpta equorum pernicitas est, the horsemen coulde make no speede for the slipperneese of the waie.
Virilitatis adémptæ homo, a gelded man.
Adenes, is, a disease in the throte and mouth like little kirnelles.
Adeo, so much, moreouer, surely, without doubt. Sometime it signifieth euen: as, Tute adeo iam eius verba audies, Euen you your selfe shall heare him speke by and by. Sometime it is vsed for Etiam, and addeth a vehemency: as, Intra mœnia, atq; adeó in senatu videtis, You see him in the cittee, and that more is, in the senate. Sometime for Certé: as, Nihil hercle, aut si adeo bidui est aut tridui hæc solicitudo, Nothyng in good faith, or trewly if he be, the sorow is but for two or three daies. Sometyme for Valdé, or multum: as, Is adeo dissimili studio est, he is of farre vnlike disposition. Sometyme for Etiam, without vehemency: as, Atque adeo longum est nos illum expectare, And moreouer, it woulde be very longe for vs to tary and looke for him. Sometime Adeó non, for tantũ abest: as, Vt ne filum quidem desuper pendentis aranex rumpere, adeó fugere non queat, That he coulde not so muche as breake the threede of the spyder, hangyng ouer him, much lesse flee awaie: sometime for Eo, as, Adeó res reddit, The matter came to this poynte: Sometime it hath no proper signification, but doth either fulfil or adorne a sentence.
Adeo, iui, ire, act. to go or come to, to demande, to attempte, to make assaute, to set vpon or encounter.
Adi huc, come hither.
Adire aliquem, si quid velit, to go to a man, and enquire whether he will haue any thing.
Adire contra, to go to mete.
Adi actutum ad fores, go quickly to the doore.
Adire aliquem scripto, to goe to a prince and offer him the declaration of his mynd in writing as the maner was to the emperours of Rome.
Adi ad me vicissim, pro veni ad me.
Tum primum ad causas orandas adire cœpimus, then I first began to take vpon me pleading of causes.
Adire in ius de re aliqua, to go before a iudge for any matter.
Nunc prior adito tu, Nowe do thou set vpon him firste.
Adire omnem fortunam, to proue and aduenture all chaunce, good or euill.
Adire rem publicam, to take in hande the gouernance of the publike weale.
Adire aliquem blandis verbis, to talke gentilly with a man.
Adire aliquem de re aliqua.
Adi te heri de filia, I cam perfordaie to talke with thee, concernyng thy daughter.
Adire discrimen, to put him selfe in perill.
Adire hæreditatem, to enter into his inheritaunce.
Adire inimicitias, to enter into displeasure, or enmitie.
Adire ad pactionem, to come to a poynte concernyng the bargeine.
Adire periculum, to take a daungerouse thing in hande.
Adeor, the passiue of Adeo.
Adeousque, vntyll that.
Adeps, ádipis, ma. & fœ. g. the fatte of all thing.
Adipes tenuare, to make leane.
Adeptio, ônis, f. g. obteinyng or gettyng.
Adeptus, a, um, obteined, gotten or founde.
Rerum adeptus est, he hath obteined the dominion.
Adequito, áui, âre, n. g. to ryde by or nere to.
Adesdum, come hither.
Adespotus, a, um, one that is subiect to no man, or a boke that beareth no mans name or title.
Adespota fama, a rumoure spreade without any certaine authoure.
Adespota, goodes taken to the kynges vse, because no man claymeth them.
Adesurio, ésuris, iui, ire, to be verye hungrye.
Adesus, a, um, deuoured, or by a metaphore, consumed and wasted.
Adesa pecunia, money spente in vyotlouse báketyngе.
Adfabrum, well wrought.
Adfremo, ádfremis, fremui, ere, n. g. to grone, or murmure at a thynge, as men do, whan they heare that displeaseth them.

Adfrango, égi, ere act. to breake, as one doeth pot or other thing agaynst a stone or wall.

Adgemo, ádgemis, gémui, ere, neu. to waple or lament.

Adgrego, ádgregas, áui, áre, loke Aggrego.

Adgretus, for Aggressus.

Adgretus fari, aboute to speake.

Adhabito, ádhabitas, aui, áre, neu. to dwell by.

Adhæreo, hæres, hæsi, rère, neu. to cleaue faste, to stycke to, to sytte sure, to ioyne to, to holde or to take to any thynge.

Adhærere lateri, to be next to a man either in goyng or sytting.

Adhesit mihi ad infimum ventrem fames, I was meruaylously an hungred.

Adhæresco, hési, cere, idem quod Adhæreo.

Adhæresceret iusticiæ & honestati, He wyll cleaue or sticke vnto iustice and honestie.

Adhæsé. Neque adhæsé locutus est, he mumbled not, but spake out.

Adhæsio, ônis, f. g. adhærentia, æ, f. g. adhæsus, us, m. g. a stickyng, cleauyng. or fastnyng to a thyng.

Adhæsus a, um, cleaued to.

Adhalo, hálas, áui, áre, to blowe or breathe vpon a thyng.

Adnámo, hámas, áui, áre, to bynde to. to tie or grapple, or rather (by the wordes of Cicero) Adhamare honores, should signify, to alyre to honours, by a metaphore taken of angilynge.

Adhibeo, ádhibes, hibui, ére, act. to moue or put to, to applie, to admitte or call to, to take to, to ioyne or ad to, to call vpon, to shewe: and oftentimes it is expounded by this worde Vtor, to vse or exercise.

Adhibere animum, to take hede what is spoke.

Adhibere aures, to herken diligently, to geue an eare.

Adhibere in consilium aliquem, to consult or take counsayle without one.

Adhibere parsimoniam, to spare.

Adhibere testes, to take witnesse in a matter.

Adhibere vim, to doe a thynge by violence, to inforce.

Celeritatem adhibere, to make haste, or to vse diligence.

Cœnæ aliquem adhibere, to byd one to supper whiche is inferiour to him.

Delectum adhibere, to put a difference, to discerne betwene thinges, whiche is the better.

Religionem adhibere, to make conscience of a thynge.

Adhiberi cæpta est ad ornamentum etiã corporis, it began to be applied. also to the fresh aparaylyng of the body.

Adhibere ad deliberationes principes ciuitatis, to call or admytte to his consultations the chiefe men of the cite.

Ad partus adhibetur Iuno Lucina, in tyme of womens trauaile Juno Lucina is called vpon.

Arbitrum adhibere, to calle or take one for an arbitrour.

Adhibere artem, to vse arte or counnyng.

Adhibere authoritatem ad aliquid agendum, to haue or bryng with him authorite or maiestie to the dooyng of a thyng.

Calcaria equo adhibere, to thurste the spurres to the horse: and by a metaphor, to stryre or pryck forwarde. Wherunto Adhibere frenos, to hold backe or restreigne, is contrary.

Adhibere cautionem, to be ware and take good hede, to be prouident and circumspect.

Adhibere deum, to call to god for helpe.

Adhibere doctrinam, to adde learnynge or knowlage to a thyng or persone.

Tantum adhibe in te diligentiæ, so muche diligence imploy vpon your selfe.

Ne quis dolus adhibeatur, that no discrete dee vsed.

Adhibere fidem alicui, to beleue or geue credence to one.

Adhibere fidem in amicorum periculis, to shewe him selfe faithfull and trusty, whan his frende is in daunger.

Adhibere lumen rebus, to make matters plain and easy to vnderstande.

Vt omnes adhibeam machinas, that I maye vse all the meanes that maie be.

Adhibere misericordiam, to shewe mercy.

Adhibe te in consilium, vse thine own counsel.

Adhibere necessitatem, to constreigne.

Adhibere preces deo, to pray to god.

Adhibere remedium vulneri, to lay a plaister to a wound.

Adhibenda est quædam reuerentia aduersus homines, There muste be a certayne reuerence vsed towardes men.

Sic se adhibere, to behaue hym selfe after suche sorte.

Adhibere manus, to put his hand to a thynge.

Adhibere solatium, to comforte.

Adhibere studium ad aliquid, to implope his study vpon a thyng.

Adhibere supplicium, to punysshe.

Adhibere deum testem, to take god to witnes.

Huc adhibe vultus, tourne thy face to me, loke vpon me.

Adhinnio, hínnis, iui, ire, n. to neie as an horse doeth after a mare. Cicero, by a metaphore, maketh it to signify, to reioyce, or wantonly to desyre.

Adhorresco, hórui, ére, to feare greatly.

Adhortator, óris, m. g. he that exhorteth or counsayleth.

Adhortatio, ônis, f. g. an exhortation.

Adhortor, átus sum, ári, to exhort or counsaile, to stryre, to prouoke, or perswade to the doynge of a thynge.

Adhuc, yet hitherto.

Adhuc locorum, for adhuc.

Ego pro te, ſicut adhuc feci, ſupplicabo, I will make ſupplication for thee, as I haue done hitherto.

Eſt adhuc alia in reſpondendo figura, there is furthermore an other figure in anſwerynge.

Adhuc tranquilla res eſt, yet the matter is in good quiete.

Adiaceo, ádiaces, iácui, ére, n. to lye by or nere to, to bounde or border vpon, to be adiacent.

Adianoeta, ôrum, n. g. miſteries, thinges ſecrete, and hid in wordes.

Adiantum, ti, neu. ge. an herbe growynge about ſpringes of water, hauinge ſmall leaues lyke a Coriander, called of apothecaries Capillus veneris, and groweth not in England, although ſome take it for maiden heare, it maye be called Venus heare or Colonder maiden heare, and is in a meane temper betwene hote and colde, other name it to be well kerne.

Adiaphoria, æ, indifferencie, wherin is no preferment of one thyng before an other.

Adiaphoron, indifferent.

Adides, ſhorte battes of a cubite and a halfe long, haupng pickes of iron in theim, and were tyed to a lyne, that whan thei were thrownе, he that did caſt them, might pluche them againe to him: hurlebattes.

Adiectio, ônis, f. ge. and Adiectus, us, ma. ge. an addyng or caſtyng to.

Adiectus, a, um, added or caſt to.

Adigo, ádigis, egi, ére, act. to procure or ſtyre, to bynde by othe or promiſe, to bryng or dryue to, to faſten or ioyne to, ſometyme to cõpell or dryue one to do a thynge, to dryue in, as a wedge or pinne, or naple, or other like thyng.

Si in arborem clauus ferreus adigatur, If the iron pinne be dryuen into the tree.

Adigere enſem in pectus, to thruſte a ſworde to ones herte.

Adiges me ad inſaniam, thou wylte make me madde.

Adigere naues, id eſt agere.

Adigere ad arbitrum, to conſtreigne a man to come and pleade before the arbitrour.

Prouintiam oẽm in Pompei verba adigebat, he compelled the whole puince to ſweare as Põpei would haue theim.

Adigere ſacramento, iureiurando, or ad iuſiurandũ, to forze one to ſwere after a preſcripte and appointed facion.

Vulnus per galeam adegit, he wounded hym thrugh his helmet.

Adigere pecus, to dryue cattell.

Adiciales, or Adipales cœnæ, the feaſtes of the pagane prieſtes in olde time.

Adiicio, ádiicis, iéci, ere, act. to caſt to, to adde or put to, to increaſe.

Idem humor clyſtere intus adiicietur, ſhall be caſt in.

Si calculum noſtro errori adieceris, If thou ſhalte alow our errour.

Aeſtas febres adiicit, addeth feuers.

Adiicere album calculum, to approue a thing.

Adiicere animum, to ſet his mynde or loue on one, to caſte fauour to one.

Adiicere oculum hæreditati. Planè videbant adiectum eſſe oculum hæreditati, They ſaw plainely, that he was deſyrous to obteyne the inheritaunce.

Adiecit animum nouo conſilio, He began to caſt or imagine in hys mynde a new deuiſe or counſayle.

Adiicitur celeritati ſic, by this meanes it wyl be dooen the ſooner.

Adiicere authoritatem, to adde auctorite to a thyng, or to make it more eſtemed.

Ter centum adiiciunt, ſubaudi animum, three hundred agreed.

Adiicere expectationem, to make one looke more for a thyng.

Si modus adiiceretur, if moderation or meaſure were kepte.

Adiicere oculos in aliquem, to loke vpon one.

Adiicere oculorum imprudentiam, to lowe on a thyng vnware, or by chaunce.

Adiicere vires, to make ſtronger.

Adiicere aliquid potioni, to ſuffre one to drynke a littel more.

Adiicere intus, to caſt or poure in.

Adimo, ádimis, émi, ere, act. to take awaie or diminiſhe.

Adimere animam alicui, to ſlea one.

Adimere ius, to prohibite.

Adimere ſuum alteri, to take an other mans goodes from hym.

Adimere veſtem, to pull of his garment.

Adimere ciuitatem, to banyſhe or expoulſe one out of the citee.

Adimere curam alicui, to put one out of care.

Adimere aliquem læto, to delyuer one from death, or to ſaue ones lyfe.

Adimere nomen virgineum, to defloure a virgin or mayden.

Adimere vocem alicui, to make one that he can not ſpeake, or to take ones ſpeeche frõ him.

Adimere metum, to put out of feare.

Adimere lumen, to put out ones eie.

Adimpleo, imples, éui, ére, act. to ſupply.

Adimplere oculorum vicem, to bee in ſtede of eyes.

Adindo, indis, indidi, ere, act. to put in.

Adineo, iui, ire, as Calepine ſaieth, is to put in or nere to. but the place that he citeth of Columella hath nothyng ſo.

Adinſtar, like to.

Adinuenio, inuenis, éni, íre, act. to inuent a thyng ſubtilly.

Adinuentum, ti, n. g. an inuention.

Adipales, lyke Adiciales.

Adipalis, pále, om. g. fatte: and by a metaphore, groſſe, barbarouſe, or rude.

Adipatum, ti, n. ge. fatte meate.

Adiparatus, a, um, larded, basted.
Adipiscor, pisceris, eptus sum, sci, dep. to gette or obtayne, ioyned with a persone, it signifieth to ouertake.
Adipisci senectutem, to come to age.
Adipisci gloriam, diuitias, laudem, sapientiam, to atchiefe or gette glory, richesse, prayse, wysedome.
Adipisci palmã, to obteine or get the victory.
Medio itinere cum adeptus sum, I ouertoke hym in the middes of his iourney.
Adipiscor is vsed of Plautus somtyme passiuely.
Non ætate adipiscitur prudentia.
Adiposus, rche.
Adipsateon, a kynd of thorne, called also Erysisceptrum, Dipsacon, and Diacheton.
Adipson, a drynke that quencheth the thyrst.
Adipsos, called commonly Rigolicia, a sweete roote called licorisse. also a certain date tree growyng in Aegypt, the fruite wherof hath no stone Plinius calleth it Myrobalanum.
Aditiculus, li, m. g. a little entree.
Aditio, ônis, f. g. an accesse or repayre.
Quid tibi hanc aditio est? why comest thou to this woman.
Adito, áditas, áui, are, neu. to go to.
Aditus, ádita, um, gone to.
Aditus, áditus, m. g. accesse, commyng to, or entrie, a way to passe or go in.
Aditum littoris illi ademerunt, they prohybited or letted him to lande.
Aditus ei preclusus est, the waie or passage is stopte or closed agaynst him.
Dare alicui áditum ad cœlum, to bryng one to heauen.
Aditus omnes firmare, to fortify all places where enimies may entre.
Aditum habere, to haue accesse or entraunce.
Aditu illũ prohibet, he wil not let him come in.
Aditum sibi reperire, to fynde a way to enter.
Rumpere áditum, to breake in.
Tentare áditum, to assay to entre.
Aditus ad honorem, by a metaphore, a waye or meane to attaine to honour.
Aditus obstructus est, the way is stopped.
Aditum facere ad aliquid, to begynne to make way or meane to a thyng.
Adiudico, iudicas, áui, áre, act. to iudge, and by a metophore, to attribute any thinge to a man
Adiudicáre in seruitutem, to iudge one to bõdage, or to be a seruaunt.
Italis adiudicat armis, he doth attribute to the warre of the Italians.
Adiudicauit mihi salutem orbis terrarum, he attributed to me the sauegarde of the worlde.
Adiugo, ádiugas, aui, âre, act. to poke or iopgne to.
Adiugare vitem, to fasten the vyne to the raile.
Adiumentum, ti, n. g. helpe.
Adiumento esse alicui, to helpe.
Adiumento esse ad victoriam.
Adiumento esse in causis.
Adiumento esse vel importare.
Nihil erat adiumenti ad pulchritudinem: she dyd nothyng to encreace or set forth hir beautie.
Adiungo, iunxi, ere, act. to ioyne to, adde or geue to, to set to a thynge, to take to, to applie, to wynne or obteyne, to knitte, couple or associate in friendshyp, or otherwyse. Errat longé, mea quidem sententia, qui imperium credat grauius esse aut stabilius, vi quod fit, quam id quod amicitia adiungitur, He is as foule deceiued, in myne opinion, that thinketh, that rule to be more syrme and stable, which is gotten by violence, than that whiche is obteyned by friendshyp.
Hic dies me valdè Crasso adiunxit, This day hath reconciled me to Crassus, and made me his verey frende.
Adiungere se ad aliquem, to enter familiarys tee with a man.
Adiungere animum ad aliquid, to applie his mynde to any thyng.
Animum ad aliquod studium adiungere, to set the mynde on some thyng, that one hath a fantasie to.
Accessionem ædibus adiunxit, he hath enlarged his house. and taken more roome to it.
Hac in re mihi vestra diligentia adiungenda est, I must haue your diligence in this matter.
Adiungere sibi auxilium, to gette him ayde or succour.
Adiungere sibi aliquem beneficio, to make one his friende by some good tourne.
Adiungere sibi beneuolentiam hominum, to wynne or obteyne the fauour of men.
Adiungere tauros aratro, to poke oxen to the plough.
Adiungere se ad causam alicuius, to take part with a man, or fauour his cause.
Adiungere fidem alicui rei, to beleue a thyng.
Adiungere ciuitatem aliquam in societatem, to make aliannce with a citee.
Me ad eius rationes adiungo, I associate my selfe to him in all his affaires, or in all that he hath to doo.
Adiungere sibi socium, to take to him a companion, or to associate him with one.
Adiunctio, ônis, f. g. a ioynyng to, or addition, a knitting or coupling together in frendshippe.
Adiunctor, oris, mas. g. one that addeth or ioyneth to.
Adiunctus, a, um, ioyned or added.
Adiurati, confederate or allied together by othe.
Adiuratio, ônis, f. g. a coniuryng.
Adiurgium, debate, variaunce.
Adiurgo, áui, are, to rebuke.
Adiuro, iúras, áui, âre, act. to sweare earnestly, to denie, with an othe, to coniure, to requyre or inforce an other man to sweare.
Adiuto, iútas, áui, âre, act, to helpe.
Adiutor, deponent. idem quod adiuto.

Adiutor, the passiue.
Adiutor, ôris, m.g. adiutrix, tricis, f.g. an helper, a furtherar.
Adiutôrem alicui venire, to come to helpe one.
Eius honori semper adiûtor fuit, he did alwai further his honour.
Adiutôrem se profitetur ad eam rem, he promysed his helpe in that matter,
Adiutorium, tórij, n.g. healpe.
Adiutus, iúta, um, holpen.
Adiuuamen, uámiuis, n.g. helpe.
Adiuuo, adiuuas, iúui, âre, act. to helpe, to aide, to succeour, to fauour, to further, to do good to.
Ad bellum adiuuare: vt me adiuues in hac re.
Si quid tu adiuuas. Aliquò auxilio vt adiuuet
Adiuuat incubare.
Adiuuâre facultates alicuius, to augment a mans substance, or make him richer.
Fortes fortuna adiuuat, fortune fauoureth bolde aduenturers.
Adiuuâre ignem, to amende the fyre, and make it bourne.
Ignem adiuua, mend the fyre.
Adiuuare auiditatem ad cibos, to make one to haue stomache to his meate,
Adiuuare formam cura, to set foorth fauour with acurious trymmyng.
Adlaboro, bóras, áui, âre, neu. to labour diligently.
Adlino, adlínis, lini, liui, léui, ere, act. to anoynt or rubbe with any thing liquide.
Adlubesco, lubui, scere, ueu. to please or content one.
Adluceo, xi, ére. lohe Alluceo.
Admando, aui, are, to sende to, to deliuer any thyng to one to bryng to an other.
Admetior, tíris, énsus sum, íri, dep. to measure.
Adminiculatus, a, um, shored, stayed, vnderset, or propped vp.
Adminiculo, niculas, áui, âre, & Adminiculor, âris, to ayde or succour.
Adminiculum, niculi, n.g. properly is a shore, a prop, or other ighe, wherwith ruynous houses, trees, or other thinges be shored, vnderset, and helde vp, and by a metaphore, ayde, or supportation.
Adminicula vitæ, all thynges necessary to the lyfe of man.
Administer, istri, masc. gen. a seruaunt, a minister, a truche man or enterpretour, a stewarde of houshoulde.
Administratio, ônis, fœ. ge. the exploytyng or doyng of a thyng, scruice.
Administratiuus, a, um, of or pertaynyng to the administracion or exploytyng of matters.
Administrator, óris, m. g. he that ministreth or exploiteth.
Administrator belli, a sourraigne capitaine of warres.
Administro, áui, âre, act. to do seruice, to exploite, to sourny she, to geue, to minister to, to rule, to gouerne.
Administrare bellum, to be capitaine in war.
Administrare iudicia, to decyde controuersies in iudgement.
Administrare remfamiliarem, to haue the ouersyght and gouernaunce of matters pertaynyng to houshoulde. to husband matters.
Administrare rem publicam, to gouerne the common weale.
Administrâre prouinciam, to rule a prouince.
Administrare negotium, to exploite a matter.
Administrare pocula, to attend vpon a mans suppe.
Admirabilitas, âtis, f.g. idem quod Admiratio.
Admirabilis, le. Admirandus, a, um, meruaylous, to be wondred at.
Admirabiliter, wounderfully, meruaylously, excellently, passyngly well, honourably.
Nos Asia accepit admirabiliter, The countrey of Asia receiued vs honourably.
Admirabundus, a, um, he that doth wounder, or meruayle at a thynge.
Admirandus, a, um, meruaylous, to bee wondered at.
Admiratio, ônis, fœ. gen. a wounderynge, or meruaylyng.
Admiratiône affici, to be meruayled at, or honored.
Admiratiónes efficere in aliquibus, to make men wonder at.
Adm rationem habere, to haue any thynge in it, that may be wondred at.
Admirator oris, ma. ge. a meruayler, or one that doth greatly esteeme a thynge, or persone.
Admiror, âtus sum, âri, to wonder, to meruayle at, to honour or reuerence, to esteeme greatly, to be in loue with, to haue in high regarde.
Admirari aliquem. Admirari de aliquo.
In ea re Platonem admirabar. In vobis hoc admiror.
Admirâtus sum de illo, I had great meruaile of him.
Admirari aliquem ex ore alterius, to esteeme one greatlye, for the commendation and reporte of an other man.
Admisceo, misces, miscui, ére, act. to mingle, or mixte one thyng with an other.
Hoc cum alys rebus admisceri nolo.
Admiscére se alicui negotio, to entermeddle in a mattier.
Admissárius, sárij, m.g. a nowne of the participle admissus, as, admissarius equus, a station horse. it is also a man outragiously geuen to the fylthy luste of the body.
Admissio, ônis, fœm. gene, nighnesse aboute a prynce, as admitted to bee of his priuie counsaile, or priuie chambre. It also signifieth the acte of puttyng the male to the female, or contrariwyse.
Admissionales, vshers of the chambre.
Admissum, si, n.g. signifieth a thyng committed, or or done.

Admissura suræ, f.g. the act or tyme whan beastes do their kynd in generacion, seasoning of a cow, and coueryng of a mare.

Admiste, an aduerbe signifiyng one mixt with an other.

Admistio, ônis, f.g. a mingling or mixture.

Admistura, ræ, idem.

Admistus, a, um, put vnto a thyng, or mingled with it.

Admitto, mittis, misi, ere act. to admitte, to put to, to bryng in, to suffre, to susteine, to let into a place. Also to offend.

Quid tandem admisi in te? what haue I offended thee?

Culpam in se admisit castigabilem, he hath committed an offence worthy punishment.

Noxiam admittere, to committe a faute. also Noxiam alicui admittere, dooeth signifie to pardonne or forgeue.

Admittere diem, to open the wyndow that the light may come in. Ipsewyse, solem admittere.

Admittere equum, to put the spurres to the horse, and let him renne.

Cum se deououeret, & equo admisso in mediam aciem Latinorum irruebat, whan he had made his vowe, he tooke his horse with the spurres, and russhed foorthe into the middes of the hoste of the latines.

Considius equo admisso ad eũ accurrit, Considius, thrustyng the spurres to his horse, ranne against him.

Admittere marem fœminæ, to put the male to the female.

Admittere noxam, to do an offence.

Admittere sumptum, to dooe great coste, to suffre great expenses.

Salutatũ veniebant, admissus est nemo, They came to salute him, but none was let in.

Fac vt ad illam admittar, helpe that I may be let in to hir.

In cubiculum admisit, he lette him come into the chamber.

Admitti per tegulas, to be lette in by the roofe of the house.

Per quæ admittimur in animum iudicis, wher by we be in fauour with the iudge, or haue him fauourable towarde vs.

Admittere aliquem arcanis, to make one pryuie to our secreates.

Admittere consilium auribus, to heare aduyse or counsayle.

Neutrum in cibos, vel ad cibos admittendũ, neither is to be alowed for meate.

Facile curationem admittunt, they be easily healed.

Medicinam non admittit, he will not abyde any cure.

Sed tu quod cauere possis, stultum est admittere, but it were very folysshnes to suffre that to be done, whiche thou maist let.

Admittere aues, amonge the augurians, was to approue a thyng,

Admittere idem, to beleue.

Admittere iocos, to take bourdyng.

Admittere solem, to lette the sonne shine vpon a thyng.

Admitto, is sometyme vsed to graffe.

Admodulor, admódulor, ãtus sum, ari, idem quod modulor.

Admodum, verey muche, somewhat, reasonably. sometyme it is vsed for Etiam, yea, as, Aedes ab eo accepisti? Resp. Admodum. Admodum with a genitiue case. Admodum exigui puluꝛis vimradici subiecimus, i. pauxillum puluꝛis.

Nuper admodum, very lately.

Admodum incerto scio, I am very vncertaine

Admodum nihil, nothyng at all.

Admœnio, ĩui, ire, to besiege.

Admolior, iris, itus sum, iri, to put or moue to.

Admoneo, admones, mónui, ére, act. to warne, to exhort, to monisshe or put one in remembrance to doo, to witte, to aduertise, to rebuke, to shew one of his faute, to aduise.

Ad scribendum admonebatur, he was admonished to write.

Me tuis verbis admonuit, he warned me in your name.

De hac re te admonui. Eam rem nos locus admonet. Huius te rei admonebam. Admoneo te vt &c. Decedere campis admonuit.

Admonêre aliquem ad aurem, to admonisshe one in his care.

Admonere flagello, to whyp or dryue foorthe, as they dooe horses.

Locus ipse me admonet, the place it selfe putteth me in remembrance therof.

Illud te admonitum volo, This thyng I would well you should knowe.

Admonitor, oris, m.g. one that counsayleth or putteth in mynde.

Admonitio, ónis, fœm. gene. an admonicion, a warnyng.

Nullum admonitionibus locum reliquit, he was so ready that he neded no admonition.

Sentire admonitionem morbi, to feele the grudgyng of the disease that one had.

Admónitum, ti, n.g. aduertisement, a counsaile, an aduisement, an instruction.

Admonitus, mónita, um, warned. admonished, put in mynde, put in remembrance.

Admónitus, us, m.g. admonitio, onis, fœ. gen. a warnyng or admonicion.

Admonitio morbi, the grudgeing of a disease or sickenes that is paste, whiche is commonly called Reliquiæ morbi.

Admordeo, admórdi, dére, act. to byte fore, to knawe, and by a metaphore, to endamage or hurte a man, to wreste somwhat from him.

Admorsus, a, um, bitten, knawen.

Admoueo, ádmoues, ui, ére, act. to moue or put to,

to, to ſet or bryngе to.
Admoue ſcalam, ſet a ladder to the walle.
Ad id ſe admouet, he ſetteth forth or applieth him ſelfe to that.
Manus vectigalibus admouent, they take by violence the reuenue of the common weale.
Ad vrbem admouere exercitum, to leade or bryng an army to the entre.
Admouere aures, to herken.
Admouere blanditias, to flatter, or ſpeake fayre.
Admouere calcar æquo, to ſpur the horſe, and by a metaphore to prouoke or ſtyre forwarde.
Admouere ſtimulos, idem.
Admouere occaſionem, to geue an occaſion.
Admouere fabricas, to attap by crafty meanes.
Admouere faces doloris, to kendle greatte occaſion of ſorowe.
Admouere terrorem, to put in feare.
Admouere manum nocentibus, to punyſſhe wicked perſonnes.
Admotus, a, um, moued, or put to.
Admotus, us, ma. g. and Admotio, ônis, fœ. g. a mouyng or puttyng to.
Admugio, iui, ire. neu. to loowe or belloowe to.
Admurmuratio, ônis, f. g. a ſofte noyſe of a cõpany of men, ſhewyng a conſente to a thynge ſpoken or doone.
Admurmuro, âui, âre, neut. is properly, where men at that thynge, whiche is doone or ſpoken, do murmure, blamyng, or reproouyng the thyng. ſometyme it ſignifieth in the good parte, to allowe ſecretly.
Admutilo, mutilas, âui, âre, act. to torment or beate verey ſore.
Adnaſcor, naſceris, âtus ſum, aſci, dep. to grow ſuperfluouſly, as gumme dothe on trees.
Adnato, ãdnatas, âui, âre, neu. to ſwimme to a place.
Admauigo, nauigas, âui, âre, a. loke Annauigo.
Adnecto, adnéxi, or néxui, ere, act. to knytte a thynge.
Adnectio, ônis, f. g. a knyttyng, or faſtnyng to of a thynge.
Adnicto, nixi, nictere, neu. to wynke on one.
Adnitor, niteris, nixus ſum, niti, dep. to leane to a thynge, to endeuoure, to geue diligence, and ſometyme to helpe.
Adniti omni opera, to endeuoure with all diligence.
Adnixus, vel Adniſus, a, um, leanynge, cleauyng, or hopyng faſte to a thynge.
Adno, âui, âre, neu. to ſwymme to.
Adnotatio, ônis, f. g. a tytlynge, or worde noteynge of that we reade, or heare.
Adnoto, ãdnotas, âui, âre, act. loke Annoto.
Adnubilo, nubilas, âui, âre, act. to make clowdy.
Adnumero, numeras, âui, âre, act. to adde to, to numbre to.
Adnutrio, ndnis, iui, ire, act. to nourylſhe by or nygh to an other thynge.

Adobruo, óbrui, ere, act. to couer with earthe or other thynge.
Adolabilis, le, without greefe or ſorow.
Adoleo, ãdoles, ólui, & oléui, ére, adultum, to begynne to growe, to doo ſacrifice with inſence or other fumes, to bourne, to bourne ſweete thynges.
Adoléri, the paſſue, is ſometime vſed.
Adoleſcens, éntis, om. g. a yong man, whiche is yet growynge vnto. xxi. yeres.
Adoleſcens moribus, lighte and vnconſtante of behauiour.
Adoleſcentia, æ, f. ge. is the age betweene childhoode and mans age, whiche is betwene. 14. and. 21.
Adoleſcentior, áris, átus ſum ári, dep. to be wanton or full of youth, to play the ponker.
Adoleſcentula, æ, fœ. ge. a yong woman, a yong damoyſell.
Adoleſcentulus, li, ma. g. a ladde.
Adoleſcenturio, iui, ire, to play the boy.
Adoleſchos, a bablar, a chatter, a ioly talker.
Adoleſcho, léui, ére, neu. to grow, to encreaſe in age, properly ſpoken of men. but applyed alſo to beaſtes, trees, herbes, and all other thinges.
Quum matura adoleuerit ætas, whan he ſhall come to rype age.
Poſtq̃ adoleuit ad eam ætatem, after he came to that age.
Donec ver adoleſceret, vntill ſpryngе tyme was well gone on.
Adoleſcere in tria cubita triennio, to growe to the height of. iii. cubites in three yeres.
Adoleſcit ratio, reaſon waxeth rype.
Adoleſcunt opes, ryches increaſe.
Adoleſcebat lex, the lawe began to bee of more force.
Adoleſcere in ſacrificijs, to burne.
Adonai, the name of god amonge the Iewes, whiche ſignifieth, our lorde.
Adonia, feaſtiuall daies, whiche were kepte in the honour of Adonis. the dalyng of Venus.
Adoniſmus, mi, m. g. the lamentyng of Adonis.
Adoperio, adóperis, perui, ire, act. to couer or hyde.
Adoptnor, ãtus ſum, idem quod opinor.
Adoptatiſsimus, verey gladly deſired,
Adoptatitius, the ſonne of one that is adopted, or the perſon ſelfe that is adopted, or taken in ſtede of a ſonne.
Adoptatiuus, a, um, he whom a man ordeineth to be his heire, and taketh vnto him in ſtede of his ſonne.
Adoptatus, a, um, choſen, adopted.
Adoptio, and Adoptatio, onis, f. ge. an election of an heyre out of the courſe of inheritaunce, as by wyll, or gyfte. Adoptio is ſometyme taken for graffyng.
Adoptiuus filius, a ſonne by adoption.
Adopto, âui, âre, act. to chooſe, or take to, to call for, to electe or appoynt an heyre.

Minorem

Minorem Scipionem à Paulo adoptauit, he chose by adoption out of Paulus Aemilius famille, him that was called the ponger Scipio.
Herbam adoptare, to name an herbe after his owne name: as Artemisia: Mansolus wyfe did.
Ego quem potius adoptem aut inuocem, quàm illum, quo defendente vincere didici? Whom shulde I rather chose for mine aduocate or call vpon, than hym, who defending my cause I learned to vanquysshe? Adoptare in diuitias, to chose one to possesse his ryches.
Adoptare sibi nomen, to chose, or take vpon him an other mans name.
In adoptionem dare filium, to geue his sonne to be adopted.
Adoptare se alicui ordini. i. immiscere semet ipsum & sibi ordinem aliquem vendicare.

Ador, n. g. indeclin. & Adoreum, rei, n. ge. a kynde of pure wheate. called also Far, whiche in olde tyme was vsed in sacrifices.

Adoratio, ônis, f. g. is an expresse motion, or acte of reuerence, done with the bodie inclined, worshyppyng, sometyme prayers.

✠ Adoraturi sedeant, a prouerbe signifiyng, that men in tyme of prayer shoulde haue their mindes attent and fixed onely vpon that, and perfeuer continually therin.

Adorea, & Adoreola, æ, f. g. weate in olde tyme taken for laude, prayse, and renoume. Also a cake of fyne wheate, which they vsed in sacrifice.

Adoreus, orea, um, of pure wheate.

Adorior, oriris, vel ôreris, ortus sum, iri, depo. to assaute, to inuade, or set vpon by treason or other wyse, to endeuour or go aboute a thynge.
Si conuellere adoriâmur ea, quæ non possunt commoueri, If we should go about to pluche and stere those thinges, whiche can with no strength be meued.
Adoriri aliquem gladio.
Adoriri iurgio, to chyde.
Occasio idonea ad rem adoriendam, I meete occasion to go about the matter.
A tergo hostes adoriri iubet, He bad theim to set on their ennemies at their backes.

Adorno, áui, áre, act. to apparaile, to prepare, to prayse, to aduaunce, to honour, to adorne, to fournyshe, to go aboute.
Adornare benefacta verbis, to augment and set forth benefites with wordes.
Tragulam in te inijcire adornat, He gothe aboute to deceiue thee.
Adornare bellum, to prepare for warre.

Adoro, ôras, aui, are, act. to honour with inclination of the body, to beseche, to worshippe and reuerence.

Adortus, ta, tum, inuaded, set vpon.

Adoxia, æ, f. g. ignominy, shlaunder.

Adoxius, a, um, infamous, without renoume and glorie, absurde.

Adpeto, ádpetis, pétij, ere, lowe Appeto.

Adposco, sci, ere, idem quod posco.

Adprecor, idem quod precor.

Adprobo, and Adprobus, lowe Approbo.

Adpromissor, lowe Appromissor.

Adpropero, lowe appropero.

Adpropinquo, lowe appropinquo.

Adpugno, aui, are, to assaute, to fyght agaynste.

Adpulsio, ônis. f. g. and Adpulsus, us, ma. ge. the dypte of sherpe to the water.

Adquiro, lowe Acquiro.

Adquo, for quousq;, vntil, and for Quantum.

Adrado, idem quod Rado.

Adrepo, répis, répsi, ere, neu. to crepe to.
Adrepere in amicitiam alicuius, to crepe into ones frendshyp by lyttle and little.

Adria, æ, masc. gen. venice sea. Adria is also the name of two cities in Italy, of whom that sea was so named.

Adrôdo, lowe Arrodo.

Adrudus, rude, not polished, not garnyshed.

Adrumo, áui, áre, to grudge, or make rumour. an olde worde out of vse.

Adruo, adruis, ere, to turne the ground in tillage. after Calepine.

Adsciſco, sciui, ere, to ioyne or take to, as when one ioyneth an other with him in auctoryte, or taketh one to ayde him in his office.

Adscire, to ioyne, or put to.

Adscriptitij, were menne of warre, whiche were taken into an armie, to supply the places of them that were slayne, or otherwyse lacked.

Adscriptiui, idem.

Adscriptor, lowe Asscriptor.

Adscriptio, lowe Asscriptio.

Adsector, ôris, m. g. lowe assector.

Adsentio, si, ire, and Adsentior, lowe Assentio, and Assentior.

Adsequor, utus sum, lowe Assequor.

Adsero, ui. ere, lowe Assero.

Adseruo, áui, áre, lowe Asseruo.

Adsestrix, icis, for. g. a woman messenger, that is sent to call one.

Adseuero, aui, are, lowe Asseuero.

Adsicco, aui, are, lowe Asicco.

Adsideo, ádsides, ére, lowe Asideo.

Adsignifico, áui, áre, lowe Asignifico.

Adsigno, aui, are, lowe Asigno.

Adsilio, ádsilis, ui, ire, neu. lowe Assilio.

Adsimilis, lowe Assimilis.

Adsimulo, aui, are, lowe Assimulo.

Adsipere, a worde out of vse, whiche commeth of Sapere.

Adsisto, stiti, ere, lowe Assisto.

Adsitus, ta, tum, set or grafted by.

Adsolet, lowe Assolet.

Adspuo, ádspui, adspuere, to spet on, to spet to.

Adstrepo, ui, ere, lowe Astrepo.

Adstruo, xi, ere, lowe Astruo.

Adsum, ádes, ádfui, esse, futurus, I am here, or present, or at hand.
Adsitus domi facito, Se that ye be bothe at home.

Adſum, ſignifyeth, ſometime to be preſent, ſome tyme to ayde, ſometyme to fauour.
Vbi imperator non adeſt ad exercitum, when the capitayne is not preſent at the armie.
Eum decreto ſcribendo video adfuiſſe, I ſee he was preſent at the writyng of that decree.
Adfuit fortuna incœpto, fortune fauored my enterpryce.
Adeſſe alicui contra alium, to helpe a man agaynſt an other.
In omnibus rebus mihi adfuit, he dyd ayde me or helpe me.
Adeſſe animo, to haue his mynde at libertee, to take a good hert to him, to be of good courage. alſo for intentum eſſe & fauere, as, Adeſſe æquo animo.
Adeſſe præſens, to be preſent.
Ad tempus conſtitutum aderit, he will be preſent at the tyme appointed.
Adeſſe coram, idem.
Adeſſe coram præſentem. Coram aderit præſens tibi, He ſhall come before the.
Adeſſe adiudicium, to appere in iudgemente.
Adeſſe for ineſſe: Omnia adſunt bona quem penes eſt virtus, all good thinges be in him in whom vertue is.
Adſit modus amori, let there bee a meaſure in loue.
Adeſſe iudici, to be aſſociate in commiſſion.
Adeſt, he is at hand.
Adeſt ei animus, he hath a good courage.
Adſum, vſed with aduerbes, as, Hic adſum.
Adeſto iſtic, tary here .i. mane.
Adſum, is vſed ſometyme for Accedo, as, Huc ades, come hyther. ſometyme for Aduenio, as, Hi ex Affrica adfuturi videntur, It ſemeth, they will come hither out of Affrike.
Aderat promiſſa dies, the day appointed was come. ſometyme for Paratum eſſe, as, Ad defendendam cauſam ad eſt, He is ready to defende the matter. Mihi quoq; adſunt teſtes, id eſt, in promptum ſunt.
Adeſſe alicui, to fauour or helpe one. Alſo to defend, as the aduocate defendeth his client.
Adſunt pugnantibus fœminæ, The women helpe the ſouldiours.
Adtexo, texui, ere, act. to ſowne or adde to, and as it were to weaue to a thynge.
Adtubernales, is a dweller in a litle cottage made of bourdes, or ſuche lyke thyng, where many of them be ſituate together, as it were bouthes in a fayre.
Adtondeo, tóndes, tóndi, êre, act. lyke Tondeo,
Aduectio, ônis, f.g. and Aduectus, us, m.g. a carryage ouer to a place.
Aduecto, áui, are, act. to cary often to a place.
Aduecho, aduehis, uéxi, ere, act. to bryng or cary to in a ſhyppe, wayne, or other lyke thynge.
Aduehit auſter imbres, the ſouth wynde bringeth ſhowres.
Aduehi aliquem, to be caried to one.
Aduehere equo, to cary on horſbacke.
Aduelitatio onis, f.g. A mutuall reyochynge, contention in wordes, brawlyng or chydyng.
Aduelo, aui, are, idem quod velo.
Aduena, áduenæ, com.ge. A ſtraunger.
Aduenerari, to worſhip with great reuerence.
Aduenio, áduenis, uéni, ire, neu. to come, to come to, to approche, to chaunce to.
A portu aduenit: Ex Hyperboreis aduenit: Quum ex templo ad forum aduenero, Tyriam aduenit vrbem. Si in prouinciam aduenerit, Properantibus illis aduenit. Me accuſatum áduenit. In theſe it ſignifieth nothynge but to come.
Propterea pace aduenio: for pacifice venio.
In tempore, per tempus aduenire.
Aduenit ſenectus, olde age draweth nere.
Per me quanta aduenient calamitas hodie ad hunc lenonem? Howe greatte myſerie ſhall chaunce this daie to that baude through my meanes?
Per tempus aduenit, he came in ſeaſon.
Aduentitius, a, um, that comethe by chaunce, that one hath not of him ſelfe, but of other.
Aduentitium auxilium querere, to ſeke ayde of forayners,
Aduentitia dos, A dowrie geuen by an other frende, and not by the parentes.
Aduentitia bona, goodes that doo come vnlooked for.
Aduentitius morbus, ſyckenes that commeth without our defaute, and of ſome men is called an vncome.
Aduentitium donum, a gyfte geuen to a prynce at his fyrſte entrie into a citee.
Aduentito, áui, áre, neu. to come often.
Aduento, áui, áre, neu. to come nighe.
Aduentores. common reſorters, or haunters to a place.
Aduentorius, a, um, that is proffered or geuen to a man at his commyng.
Aduentus, us, m.g. A commyng to.
Aduerbero, áui, áre, act. to beate ſore.
Aduerbialiter. like an aduerbe.
Aduerſaria, órum, neu.g. A reckenyng' boke of expenſes, writte afore the boke of accompt be made Aduerſarius, rij, m.g. An aduerſary.
Aduerſator, óris, m.g. idem.
Aduerſatus, a, um, againſt or contrary.
Aduerſio, ônis. f. g. of this woorde ryſeth diuers phraſes: as, In aduerſione emere, In aduerſione venire, Per aduerſionem vendere, is whan the perill or hepyng of the thyng bought is turned from the ſeller to the byer.
Aduerſitas, átis, f. g. contrarietee, repugnancie, aduerſitee, ſometyme enmitee.
Aduerſitor, óris, m.g. A ſeruant that ſeketh for his maiſter, or that doth fetche him home after dinner and ſupper.
Aduerſo, áui, áre, is of olde writers vſed for, Aduerſor, átus ſum, to repugne, to be contrary, or to refuse.

Infense aduersari alicui, to bee extreamely against a man.
Aduersari rem aliquam, to be against a matter
Aduersante natura quicquam facere, to do a thyng against naturall inclination.
Aduersum, si, n. g. Aduersitee.
Aduersum, and Aduersus, prepositions signifyyng agaynste, towarde, face to face, somtyme it is vsed for Erga, somtyme for the Aduerbes Contra & obuiam. Quis est hic, qui aduersum mihi fit? who is he that cometh agaynste me. or marcheth towarde me.
Aduersus, a, um, that wherof the forepart onely is seene: as Auersus, that wherof onely the hinder part is seene. sometyme Aduersus, is euill, vnfortunate. also forth right agaynste. also one that hath his face toward vs. also Aduersus nemini, striuyng or wrangling with no body.
Aduersa ærumna, Aduersitee, domage.
Aduersa valetudo, sickenesse.
Aduerso flumine, agaynste the streame.
Aduersis vulneribus, with wunders in the fore parte, ouerthwarte the breaste or face.
Aduersis frontibus concurrunt arietes, wea thers, dooe butte or runne with their foreheades, one agaynst an other.
Aduersarium se intendere, to be againste one in his proceedynges.
Aduersus gratiæ homo, A rude or frowarde felowe nothyng fauored.
Aduersum clivum, streight vp against the hill.
Aduerso animo, agaynst thy will, my will, his will, against his herte.
Aduersa, absolutely for aduersitee: Premi aduersis. s. rebus.
Aduersi dentes, the fore teeth.
Aduersum solem intueri nequitis, ye can not loke against the sunne.
Aqua aduersa vehi, to bee caried againste the streame.
Aduersa via, a contrary way.
Aduersis austris ætatem ducere, to leade our life in great aduersitee and wretchednesse.
Aduersus homo, an enemie.
Scandere in aduersum, to clyme agaynste the hyll.
Aduerso rumore esse, to be euel spoken of.
Aduerto, uérti, ere, act. to perceiue, to turne to, to attende, obserue, and take hede, to consider, to punyshe.
Aduertebatur, it was noted.
Aduertere animum, to take heede, or harken.
Aduertere oculos, to perceiue, to see, to beeholde, to consider.
Aduertere vibi agmen, to turne or bende the hoste against the citee.
Vt multos aduerto credisse, as I perceiue that many haue beleued.
Aduertere aurem, to harken diligently.
Aduertere aliquid grauiter, to marke or note a thynge displeasantly or with greefe of mynde.
Aduertere in aliquem, to punishe one.
Aduertere durius parsimoniæ, to plaie the nigarde.
Res insigniores hominem aduertunt, thinges that be notable make one attentiue.
Aduesperascit nuper, it waxeth late, or it is night, the euenyng, or euentyde is come.
Adnigilo, uigilas, áui, áre, neu. to watche, or take good heede.
Aduiuo, uiuis, uixi, ere, neu. to liue, a worde bee ray seldome vsed.
Adulas, antis, an hill called saincte Gotharde, entring into Lumbardy.
Adulatio, ónis, f. g. properly is the faunynge of a dogge, and by a metaphore flatterie. sometyme a flatterynge tale.
Adulator, óris, m. g. a flatterar.
Adulatórius, a, um, of, or perteinyng to flattery, or lyke to it.
Adulatrix, icis, f. g. a woman that flattereth.
Adulo, aui, are, of olde writers was vsed for Adulor, to flatter.
Adúlor, laris, átus sum, ari, is whan a man either with voice or gesture of bodie, endeuoureth him selfe, serusable to winne a mans fauoure, to flatter.
Adulari alicui, and Adulari aliquem, to flatter one.
Adulter, últeri, m. g. adúltera, æ, f. ge. a man or woman aduoutrer. it is also applied to beastes.
Adulter sororis, one that hath committed aduoutrie with his sister.
Adulterinus, a, um, and Adulteratus, a, um, counterfaited, forged, corrupted, and sometime that is begotten in aduoutrie.
Adulterinum signum, a counterfaite seale.
Adulterinus nummus, a counterfaite coyne.
Adulterine claues, counterfaite keys.
Adulterata mulier, a woman abused in aduoutery.
Adulterium, térij, n. g. aduoutery.
Adultéria arborum, graffyng of trees.
Adulteria naturæ, suche thinges as nature dothe alter or mingle.
Adultéria mercis, the alteryng and counterfaityng of wares.
Adultero, áui, áre, act, to counterfaite or forge. also to corrupt, & to commit aduoutry withone.
Adulterare iudicium to corrupt iudgement.
Adulteror, deponent, and Adulteror, a passiue.
Adultus, a, um, full growen, sometyme burned.
Adúlta vrbs, a citee whiche in processe of tyme is waxen stronge and puissant.
Adúlta pestis, a great mischiefe that hath by longe continuaunce taken roote.
Adúltum ver, the middle part of springe time, likewise adulta æstas, adulta hyemps, adultus autumnus.
Adulta authoritas, authoritee by continuance, growen to estimation.

Adumbra-

Adumbratim, somewhat obscurely, not plainly.
Adumbratio, ônis, f. ge. a shadowynge, also an imitacoin or expressyng of an other thyng, somewhat to the likenesse and nature of the same.
Adumbrâtus, a, um, shadowed, done couertly.
Adumbrata lætitia, counterfaite, or feigned gladnesse.
Adumbrata opinio, a false opinion.
Adumbro, âui, âre, act. to make or geue shadowe, to represent or expresse, as peynters doe, that shadow images in playne tables to make them shewe imbored or rounde. Some suppose, that it signifieth to triche a thynge, or drawe it grosse, as peynters do at the begynnyng. It signifieth also to feigne, or dissemble a thynge. Also to imitate or folow.
Id ipsum sumus in eorũ sermone adumbrare conati, that same we haue endeuored to imitate and expresse in their talkyng.
Adumbrare morem alicuius, to counterfayte ones factions.
Aduncitas, âtis, f. g. crokednesse, hookednesse.
Aduncо, âui, âre, act. to make crooked or hooked.
Aduncus, a, um, crooked or hooked.
✣ Aduncо naso suspendere, a prouerbe sygnifiyng with pryuy mockes to scorne and deride a man.
Aduno, ûnas, âui, âre, act, to gether or heape to gether a worde verap fitdome in vse.
Aduocatio, ônis, f. g. a pleadyng. also assistance. And sometyme consultacion of men assembled to gether.
Aduocatus, câti, m. s. g. an aduocate, he that defendeth an other mannes cause: or one that for frendship assisteth a man in a matter.
Aduocito, âui, âre, act. to call for one often.
Aduocо, âduocas, âui, âre, act. to call to, to calle to helpe, to chose for an aduocate or patron, to entice or allure.
Aduocâre sacramentum in alicuius nomen, to take an othe him selfe, and cause other also to swere to be obedient to a man.
Aduolatus, tus, m. g. a flyeng to.
Aduolо, âduolas, âui, âre, n. to flye to, or nyghe a place: to go or come quickly.
Aduola obsecro, come quickly I pray the.
Aduolâre in auxilium, to make speede to helpe one.
Aduoluo, uôlui, ere, act. to wrappe rounde together, to tumble or rolle.
Aduolutus genibus, fallen downe at his knees.
Aduorsum, for Aduersum, and Aduortor, for Aduertor.
Adurgeo, for Vrgeo.
Aduro, ssi, ere, act, to roste, or bourne.
Adustio, ônis, f. g. burnyng, or rostyng.
Adustus, a, um, rosted or burned.
Adusque, vntill, euen to.
Adynamum vinum, small wyne.
Adyticulum, a diminutiue of Adytum.
Adytum, âdyti, n. ge. the chauncell, or other secrete place of the temple, where none came but priestes, or persons sanctified.

AEa, the name of a mayden, whiche (as the poetes feigne) flyeng from the ryuer Fasis, was turned into an Ilande of the same name. It is also a citee of Colchis, an other of Thessalia.
Aedepol, an othe amonge the gentiles, signifiyng, by Pollux house.
Aedes, or, ædis, dis, f. g. an house, and if therunto be ioyned the name of god or of a saynct, it signifieth a churche or a temple, as: Aedes saluatoris, sayncte sauyours churche. It is also a chãbre, sometyme a sepulchre, sometyme a bee hyue.
Aedicula, diculæ, for. ge. an oratory, chappell or place, where images were kept. also a litle chambre in an house, also a sale, coueryng, or tabernacle, wherin images do stand.
Aediculæ, ârum, a litle house.
Aedificatio, ônis, f. g. a buyldyng.
Aedificatiuncula, læ, f. g. a litle buyldyng.
Aedificator, ôris, m. g. a buylder.
Aedificium, fiĉi, n, g. all the whole buildynge of an house.
Aedificо, dificas, âui, âre, act. to buylde, properly houses: but it is applyed to all other thinges, as. Aedificare carcerem, casas, muros, porticum. &c.
Aedificare classem, to make a naup of shyps.
Aedificare rem publicam, to ground and stablyshe a common weale with honest maners, lawes, and ordinaunces.
Aedificare hortos, to make gardeins, garnyshed with sayre and beutifull buildinges.
Aedificauit deus mundum, God made the worlde.
Aedilatus, us, idem quod ædilitas, secundum Calepinum.
Aedilis, lis, m. g. an officer, whose charge was to see the keppng vp and maiteignynge of the temples and pryuate houses, and to make prouision for solemne plates. Of them some were called Aediles curules, of a chayre with crooked feete wherin they did sytte. Other called Aediles plebis, because they were chosen out of the people or commons. loke more of these officers, in Alexandro Neopolitano, li. genialium dierum. 4. cap. 4.
Aedilitas, atis, f. g. and Aedilatus, m. g. the office of the Aediles.
✣ Aedilitatem gerit sine populi suffragio, A prouerbe, whiche maie bee saide vnto him that meddleth in other mens matters, or commaundeth in an othre mans hous or office.
Aedilitius, litĉi, ma. ge. he that had bene ones in that office or auctorite.
Aedilitius, litia, um, perteinyng to Edyles.
Aeditimus, idem quod Aedituus.

Aedititius iudex, a iudge or arbitratour chosen of the one part.

Aedituor, and æditimur, aris, atus sum, ari, to rule ouer the temple or house.

Aeditus, æditа, um, high and stronge.

Aedituus, tui, ma. ge. the prelate of the temple or churche, and maie be now called the personne, the parysshe preste, or sextene, some vse it for a clarke.

Aedituentes, for Aeditui.

Aedo, ĕdidi, ere, act. to sette foorth or publysshe, also it signifieth to bryng foorth by generacion, lyke Edo, with single E.

Aedere scriptum, to shew foorth writyng.

Aedere spiritum, to yelde vp the goost.

Aedere facinus, to doe an euill dede.

Aedere stragem, to make a slaughter of men,

Aedere nomina, to tel the names to be written

Aedere prælium, to make a battayle.

Aedœica vlcera, sores about the priuie membres.

Aëdon, ónis, f. g. a nightingale.

Aeger, aegra, aegrum, sicke, sorowfull, pensyfe or heaup.

Aeger amore, loue sicke.

Aeger consilij, penyue, and halfe desperate, so that he can scant tell what to doe.

Aeger delicti, sorowfull for his faute or offence.

Aeger pedes, and pedib⁹, diseased in the feete, sicke of the goute.

Comperit, cuius morbi æger esset, he perceiued, wherof he was sicke, or what disease he had.

Aeger fluore, one that hath the flixe.

Aegram ponere animam, to dye.

Aeger morbo graui, sicke of a sore disease.

Aeger valetudine, diseased.

Grauiter ægrum reliqui, I left him sore sicke.

Aegra res publica, a feble common weale, a common weale in a very euill estate.

Aegialus, a sea banke.

Aegilips, ipis, a very high place that so muche as goates can not come vnto.

Aegilops, pis, a kynd of trees that beareth maste. also wylde otes, and a roote, whiche is rounde lyke garlyke and oynons.

Aegilops, m. g. and ægilopa, æ, f. g. is the disease in the eie called a fistula.

Aeginea, órum, neu. gen. great packes, wherein be diuers kyndes of wares.

Aeginópolæ, they that sell diuers wares in great packes.

Aegipanes, beastes like vnto men, haupnge feete like vnto gotes.

Aegirinon, ni, n. g. an oyntment made of the bearies of Poplars.

Aegiros, the blacke poplar tree.

Aegis, idis, f. g. of some is cald a garmente made of beastes skinnes, vsed in Aphryke. Also the rageyng waues of the sea, or an hurlynge tempest of wynde. Other take it to bee a certayne thinge made of garland: some take it for a preest that caried the goddesse Aegis at Athenes and went into their house that were new maryed at whiche ceremonie muche wantonnes was vsed. It is also the targate of Iupiter and Pallas. It is moreouer an habergeon. wherwith the goddes onely were peincted. It is also the female of the tree called Larix.

Aegithus, a little bryde, whiche feareth the asse so muche, that whan she heareth him braye, she casteth her egges out of the nest, and the ponge fall to the ground for feare.

Aegloga, lyke Ecloga.

Aegocephalus, a bryde, whiche is without a splene.

Aegoceras, an herbe called fengreeke.

Aegoceros, rôtis, mas. ge. idem quod Capricornus.

Aegon, a stable for gotes, it is also vsed for the sea Aegeum.

Aegonomus, mas. ge. a gotehearde or keper of gotes.

Aegonycon, ci, n. g. an herbe called also Lithospermon, and some cal it Semen leoninum, but most commonly Milium solis, lyke Lithospermum.

Aegopthalmos, a precious stone, so named after a gotes eie.

Aegre, with great peyne or difficultee, greuously, heauyly, also hardly, against his will.

Aegre fero, I am sory.

Aegrè est, for Molestum est, as, Quid tibi ægrè est? what thyng greueth thee?

Aegre nimis risum continui, I had very much adoe to forbeare laughynge.

Aegrè alicui facere, to do a thyng that shall be displeasant and greuous vnto a man.

Aegrè id mihi confessit, he graunted it to me very hardly, and almost against his will.

Aegresco, scere, neu. to be sicke, to bee heauie, or take a matter greuously, to waxe more sicke, and is referred properly to the mynde.

Aegrimonia, móniæ, f. g. sykenesse, great heupnesse.

Aegritudo, inis, f. g. greefe of mynde or sorowe, sometyme sickenesse of the body.

Crucians ægritudo, veracion of mynde.

Flebilis ægritudo, mournyng and sorow.

Leuatio vel sedatio ægritudinis.

Criminis ægritudo, the weakenes or feeblenesse of an accusation.

Aegritudinem leuare, to ease or helpe the sicknesse or heauinesse.

Aegrius, more sorowfully, more displeasantly.

Aegrotatio, ónis, f. g. sykenesse of body, and sometyme of mynde.

Aegroto, áui, áre, neu. to be sicke, to faple, or be feeble of courage.

Aegrôtat fama, his good name decaieth.

Aegroto, is sometyme applied to fruite.

Aegro-

Aegrotus, a, um, sicke, feeble of courage.
Aegrum, idem quod ægretudo, sorow, displeasure, sickenesse of the mynde, feebleneſſe.
Aegula, a kynde of braunstone, wherewith in some places they doe perfume woll, to make it white.
Aegylops, loone Aegilops.
Aelurus, ri, m.g. a catte.
Aemidum, swollen.
Aemoniæ artes, sorcerie.
Aemulatio, ônis, f.g. enuy, emulation, imitation with desyre to excell.
Aemulator, oris, m.g. he that doeth enuy, or imitate any person.
Aemulatus, us, m.g. idem quod æmulatio.
Aemulor, áris, átus sum, ari, dep. with a certaine enuy and ambition, to endeuour, to passe or excell an other man, to folowe or studie to be like an other.
Aemulari aliquem, alicui, cum aliquo.
Aemulari, absolutely, to contende.
Aemulus, la, lum, that foloweth, or enuieth an other onely for desyre of glory, a louer or folower of the same thyng, or person, and sometyme an enemy.
Fama æmula Herculei laboris, no lesse fame then was spredde of Hercules trauailes.
Aemulus alicatus de re aliqua, One that contendeth with an other for any thynge. as, Carthago æmula vrbis de terrarum orbe.
Labia æmula rosis, lyppes in maner as ruddy as roses.
Ficus quædam pyris magnitudine æmulæ, Figges in greatneſſe like vnto peares.
Aeneatôres, blowers in trumpets.
Aeneides, dæ, patronimicam.
Aeneidomastix, a booke written againſte Uergyle.
Aéneus, a, um, brasen.
Aenigma, ngmatis, n.g. a darke question, harde to be vnderstande or assoyled, a riddle.
Aenigmatistes, tistæ, vel tistis, m.g. he that proposeth harde questions.
Aenum, ni, n.g. a caudron. It is also a ryuer in Germany.
Aeneus, aëna, num, idem quod æreus.
Aepolium, polij, n.g. a gote market.
Aepolus, æpoli, m.g. a gotehorde, or seller of gotes.
Aequabilis, quábile, equal, also iuſt, indifferent, moderate, constant, and alwaie like to it selfe, exceedyng in no degree.
Nihil æquabile inter omnes esse potest, nothinge can be indifferent to all.
Aequabilem se præbere, to shew him selfe moderate, constant, and not wauerynge.
Aequabilitas, tátis, f.g. an honeſt moderation of mynde, wherein is no varietee or trouble. also idem quod æqualitas.
Aequabiliter, equally, moderately, vnuariably, in euen partes.
Aequæuus, a, um, of one age.

Aequalis, le, equall, playne, of lyke age or continuaunce of tyme.
Aequalis, of like age and peres. Coætaneus, of one tyme, although of diuers ages.
Aequalis meus, tuus, illius &c.
Sæpe interfui quærelis meorum æqualium, of them that were of one tyme or age with me.
Eius in te beneuolentia est ipsius ætati æqualis: ab ipsis cunábulis amicus tibi fuit.
☞ Aequalis æqualem, like wil to lyke: one thyng loueth to matche with an other: or contrary.
☞ Aequales calculi, euen iudgementes, Whose verdicte applied vnto them, whiche lacked but litell that they were not condemned. For as muche as in olde tyme the Iudges gaue not sentence openly, but bestynge in diuers opinions, they did put into a pote litle stones of diuers colours, and the moste in noumbre preuayled: and if they were equall in noumbre, he that was accused was acquited. Which thynge stode with good reason, as Aristotle sheweth in his politiques.
Aequale vbi sacrificium, a sacrifice that hath continued as long as the ciue.
Aequalis æqualem delectat, lyke wyll to like.
Aequalitas, átis, f.g. equalitee, likeneſſe.
Ad æqualitatem redigere, to make equall.
Aequaliter, likewise, equally.
Aequamentum, ti, indifferency. also the tounge of a balance.
Aequamentum capillorum, the toppe of the heade, where the heares doe diuyde, the shedde of the heare.
Aequanimis, me. and æquanimus, a um, of a quiete, indifferent, and gentyll mynde: he that is neyther extolled in prosperitee, nor discomfited in aduersitee.
Aequanimitas, tátis, f.g. a quiete moderation of mynde, takynge all thynges in good parte. also fauour and good will.
Aequanimitas populi, the fauour and good will of the people.
Aequanimiter, moderately, patiently, coldely.
Aequatio, ônis, fœm. ge. the equall diuision of a thinge, or where one thyng is made equall to an other.
Aequator, ôris, m.g. a lyne that diuideth the heauen in the middle, called also the Equinoctiall lyne, into whiche whan the sunne cometh, the daies and nightes ben of one length.
Aequatus, a, um. myde equall, or euen.
Aequata nox diei, the night beynge made euen with the day.
Aquato oim periculo, all beyng in lyke daunger.
Aequé, aduer. iuſtly, as well, euen as well, somestyme willyngly, so, equally, a lyke.
Aequé ambo pares, all of one greatneſſe.
Aequé pauci, euen as few.
Aequé vtriusque necessarius, as much freende to the one as the other.

Nihil eſt æque quod faciam lubens, There is nothyng that I wolde doe ſo gladly.

Aeque ac, æque atque, æque vt æque quàm, euen as, as muche as, lyke as, or euen as well.

Aeque ach, euen as though.

Aeque ſtudium eſt, they haue lyke endeuour.

Aeque miſer atque ego, euen as myſerable ſtate as I.

Iuxta tecum æqueſcio, I know it in a maner as well as thou.

Aeque noctibus quàm die cernit, He ſeeth as well in the night as in the day.

Non æque omnes egent, al haue not like nede.

Aequidiale, âlis, ne. ge. the tyme whan the daies and the nyghtes bee of one length, the leuell of the pere.

Aequidies, ei, the equall length of the daie and nyght.

Aequidiam, idem quod æquinoctium.

Aequilanium, lânij, ne. ge. the halfe deale of the whole.

Aequilatio, ônis, f. g. euen largeneſſe.

Aequilibris, libre, om. g. of the ſame weight.

Aequilibritas, tâtis, f. g. equalitee, or likneſſe of weight.

Aequilibrium, librij, n. g. euen weyght or poyſe, ſometyme it is vſed for the tonge of a balance.

Aequimanus, quimani, m. g. he that vſeth the one hande as well as the other.

Aequimentum, ti, n. g. or æquimenium, the hire of an hoyſe or other beaſt.

Aequinoctialis, ctiâle, om. ge. the adiectiue of Aequinoctium.

Aequinoctium, nóctij, n. g. the time of the pere, whan the daie is as longe as the nyght, whiche is twyſe in the pere. In ſpryng tyme aboute the eyght Calendes of Apryl. And in Autūne, about the eight Calendes of October.

Aequiparabilis, râbile, om. gen. worthy to bee compared, and equalled.

Aequiparatio, ônis, f. g. lykeneſſe, and equalitee.

Aequiparo, quiparas, âui, âre, to compare or make equall, ſometyme to bee lyke.

Aequipollentia, lentiæ, f. g. equalitee in eſtimacion or valewe.

Aequipolleo, pólles, pollui, êre, to haue lyke power, or to be of like eſtimacion.

Aequipondium, pondij, n. g. equalitee, or lykeneſſe of weyght.

Aequitas, âtis, f. g. equitee, iuſtice, or euenneſſe, likeneſſe of facion.

Aequitas animi, an honeſte, quiete, and indifferent affection of the minde, without indignacion or grudge, in which ſignification æquitas is often vſed alone.

Quam æquitatem habet? What right is it?

Aequiter, iuſtly.

Aequivallentia, æ, f. g. equall value.

Aequivaleo, æquivales, uâlui, êre, to be equivalente, or of lyke valour.

Aequivocatio, ônis, f. g. diuers ſygnifications to one woorde.

Aequivocè, diuerſly ſignifyng in one woorde or terme.

Aequivocum, quivoci, n. g. one worde haupng diuers ſignifications.

Aequo, æquas, âui, âre, act. to make euē or plaine, equall, or lyke.

Illum vadentem æquat, he goeth euen as faſte as he.

Laborem operum æquare iuſtis partibus. i. æqualiter inter omnes partiri.

Aequare ſe cum inferioribus, to make him ſelfe equall to his inferiours.

Aequare ſolo, to beate downe to the grounde.

Aequare ſolo dictaturam, by a metaphoze, to diſanull and abrogate the dict atour ſhyp.

Aequat nomen virtutibus, He is euen as vertuous, as highly renoumed.

Aequare quempiam in re aliqua, to ſhew ones ſelfe equall to an other in any thyng.

Aequare aliquem alicui, to compare one man to an other.

Aequor, æquoris, n. g. the ſea. ſometyme other waters and ryuers. ſometyme lande, fielde, and the vppermoſte plannelle of any thyng.

Aequore aperto, in plaine fielde.

Aequor maris, the vppermoſte, or euen part of the ſea.

Aequora Actoa, the Scythian ſea.

Aequor Athlanticum, the ocean ſea.

Aequor patulum, the plaine feelde.

Aequoreus, a, um, of the ſea.

Aequum Tuticum, a towne of Puell.

Aequum. i. idem quod æquitas.

Aequi bonique facimus, we take it well in woorth, or we bee not diſpleaſed with it.

Nunqā quicquam æqui boniue impetrauit, He dyd neuer obteine any parte of his right.

Aequi bonique facio, I take it in good parte, I recke not, I care not.

Aequus, æqui, maſ. gen. a iuſte and indifferente perſone, that inclineth no more to one than to an other.

Aequus, a, um, euen or playne, equall. ſometyme good and fauourable.

Aequus animus, a moderate, quiet, and patient mynde, not whynyng nor grudgeyng at any thyng. alſo gentill, not rigorous.

Aequo animo ferre, to take it in woorth, or patiently.

Ex æquo loco dicere, is whan the ſpeaker is of equall ſtate with the heerers.

Aequum eſt, it is but reaſon.

Aequum eſſe alicui, to be content with one.

Aequum & bonum, is a diſcretion or moderacion of right without rigour or extremitee of the law, conſionable, or reaſonable dealynge.

Aequum certamen, where one hath no more aduauntage than an other.

Aequum te mihi præbere debes, Thou oughteſt to ſhewe thy ſelfe fauorable vnto me.

Aequus animus est, I passe not, I care not.
Aequa lance, a prouerbe signifiyng indifferently, without fauour or respecte of persone.
Aer, aëris, aëri, aerẽ, or aera, aere, sine plu. m. g. the ayre, sometyme winde, blast, breath or sound.
Aëra summum arboris, virgill vseth, for Altitudinem arboris. Aere fulua, saith Ennius in the femmine gender for fuluo. Aeres in the plurall numbre is vsed of Vitruuius and Lucretius.
Vitium aeris, the corruptnes of the ayre.
Apertus aer, the open ayre.
Aer crassus & densus, a grosse thicke ayre.
Aer pestifer, an infectious ayre.
Liquidus & tenuis aer.
Aera, ræ, f. g. moneie numbred. sometyme pmages of mettall. also darnell, whiche groweth amonge corne, or after other cockle.
Aeramentum, menti, ne. ge. any thynge made of copper or brasse.
Aeranthemis, or after some Anthemis, an herbe called Camomill.
Aeraria, æ, f. g, a myne of brasse.
Aerarium, rij, n. g. a treasory, where a common treasure of a citee or countrey is kept. And some tyme the treasure it selfe.
Ad ærarium rationes referunt, they bringe in the accompte to the eschecker.
Aerárij præfectus, hygh treasorer.
Aerarij tribuni, were treasourers whiche paied wages to the souldiours. And may be vsed now for generall receiuours.
Aerárij quæstores, may bee taken nowe for the collectours of fynes and amerciamentes.
Aerarius, rij, ma. g. he that was by punishment of the Censors put from his freedome of a citesen, and payed tribute as a straunger.
Aerarium facere, siue in ærarios referre, to make a man one of that number, or so to punish a citesen.
Exærario eripere, vel ex ærarijs eximere, to deliuer one from that rebuke and punishment.
Aerárius, a, um, belongyng to brasse, or money.
Aerarius, rij, m. g. he that worketh in brasse.
Aerárij milites, souldiours waged.
Aerarius scriba, a clerke that writeth, and is accomptant for suche thinges as are receiued and layde out.
Aerarius lapis, the ore, wherof brasse is made.
Aerarius faber, a smith, a copper smith.
Aeraria fabrica, smithes crafte or worhinge in brasse.
Aeraria officina, a smithes shoppe or wooxhe house.
Aeratus, a, um, myred or couered with brasse.
Aeratus homo, a man indebted. it is vsed of Plautus cleane contrary, for a ryche manne wel moneyed.
Aereolum, vel Chalcus, the. rrrvi. parte of Drasgma, by estimacion the weight of two barley cornes.
Aereus, a, um, of brasse or copper, and by a metaphore, stronge.
Aerica, cæ, a ryuer fysshe, that deuoureth fleshe, and spauneth thryse a yere.
Aerides, a kynde of precious stones.
Aerifer, that beareth brasse.
Aerificium, ficij, n. g. the crafte to worhe any thynge in brasse or copper.
Aerineus, a, um, of darnell.
Aeripes, æripedis, com. ge. with brasen feete.
Aëripes, æripedis, com. gen. that is as swifte as the wynde.
Aerisonus, na, num, that soundeth with the noise of brasse, basons, or any other like thinge.
Aërius, aëria, um, of the ayre, or lyke the ayre.
Aerizusa, a iasper stone lyke to the ayre.
Aero, æras, áui, áre, act. to dresse, mingle, or counterfaite with copper or brasse,
Aëromantia, aëromantiæ, fœ. ge. diuination or coniecture of thinges to come by the ayre.
Aerosus, ærosa, um, that wherin is brasse or copper. or wherof it is made.
Aerugo, ærúginis, fœ. ge. rust or canker in mettall, specially in copper or siluer. It is taken in Horace and Iuuenale for money. also for sclander, mistrust, spitefull enuie.
Aeruginosus, nósa, um. rusty or cankred.
Aeruginosæ segetes, corne corrupted with mildew, as it were blasted.
Aerumna, næ, fœ. ge. peynefull labour, care of mynde with heauinesse, infelicitee.
Aerúmnæ omnes te præmunt, all miseries dooe ouerwhelme thee.
Aerumnabilis, le, full of miserie and peyne.
Aerumnalis, le, wherein is greatte peyne and labour.
Aerumnatus, a, um, brought to miserie.
Aerumnósus, a, um, miserable, full of peyne or trauayle.
Aerumnulæ, árum, lyttle croked staues, wherewith men doe cary fardelles and trusses on their backes.
Aeruscator, óris, m. ge. one that scratcheth togeather money by all vnlaufull meanes.
Aeruscо, áui, áre, to gette money by falsehode, or vayne promisses.
Aes, eris, n. g, is properly copper or brasse. It is oftentymes taken for monete. Sometyme for trumpettes. sometyme also for pyon. sometyme for an helmette. Also for the stemme of a shyppe. and for any thynge that is made of brasse, namely among poetes.
Aes graue, golde or siluer before it is coyned. bolion.
Aes signatum; money redy coygned.
Aere diruti milites, souldyours, whiche for some defaute were putte out of wages, and may ber applyed to ryottous persones, that haue spent all awaie.
Aere meo. Multi. n. anni sunt, cum ille in ære meo est, It is longe tyme passed, that I accompted him in the numbre of my frendes, or for one of mine.

In ære meo est, he is in my debt or daunger.
Aes caldarium, copper.
Aes coronarium, latyne mettall.
Aes circumforaneum, money borowed of them, whiche are named bankers, and do lende money by exchaunge.
Aes conflare, to cast mettall.
Aes ducere, to melt mettall.
Aes alienum, money that is borowed. also det.
Aes ductile, mettall that will be soone molten.
Aes alienum afferre, to be indetted.
Aes alienum habere, idem.
Aes alienum cogere, conflare, contrahere, to be endebted.
Aes alienum dissoluere, exire, to paie debtes and be quitte.
Aes alienum exonerare, to discharge the dette.
Aes alienum facere, to borow money.
Aes suum, money that other men do owe vnto him that we speake of.
Aes meum alienum, debt that I owe.
Aes alienum tuum, debte that thou dooest owe.
Deuouere se pro ære alieno, to make ones selfe bounde by reason of debt.
Crescit tibi æs alienum, thy debte dooeth encrease.
Aes alieno exire. to come out of debte.
Aere alieno obrui, to bee ouercharged with dettes.
Aere alieno obstringere aliquem, to cause an other man to be bounde or indebted for him.
Aere alieno premi, to be greuously endebted.
Aes alienum alicuius suscipere, to take on one to discharge an other mans debte.
Aere meo me lacessis, thou greuest me scolde for scolde, or as we saie, thou paiest me home.
Aes militare, money appointed to paie souls dpours.
Aera lupinis quid distent, non ignorat, he knoweth good from badde.
Ex ære aliquem ducere, to cast the image of a man in brasse.
Aesalon, ônis, m. g. a little bryde, whiche breaketh the crowes egges. also a kynde of haukes moste like to be a merline.
Aesculetum, ti, n. g. the place where the tree called Esculus, groweth.
Aesculeus, a, um, of that tree.
Aesculus, li, f. g. a tree that beareth mast greatter than any other nere the chesten, and the leafe broder than the chesten.
Aestas, âtis, f. g. sommer.
Non semper erit æstas, it will not alway bee sommer. take time whan time cometh, for occasion wil not alway serue: when the pron is whot we must strike, lest it be colde agayne.
Aestas adulta, the middle part of sommer.
Aestas noua, beginnyng of sommer.
Aestas præceps, sommer towarde the ende.

Aestimabilis, mâbile, omnis, ge. that may bee valued.
Aestimatio, ônis, f. g. a peyne sette, a valuation, consideration, or weiyng of a matter.
Aestimator, ôris, m. g. he that valueth or setteth the price on a thing, a prysour, or one that ponderyth a matter.
Aestimatus, mâta, tum, valued, prysed.
Aestimata pœna, a penalter appointed or set.
Aestimare litem, to taxe the damages, costes, and charges that a man sustayneth by suite in the lawe.
Aestimo, æstimas, âui, âre, act. to esteeme, to value, to prayse. Also to regarde or sette by, to ponder, wey, and consyder.
Aestimare pecuniâ, to prayse, to set the prys.
Aestimare harum rerum omnium precia, consyder you, of what value or importaunce all these thynges bee.
Valde care æstimas, thou dooest sette the price very deere.
Aestimare bene de aliquo, to haue a good opinion of one.
Magni or magno æstimare, to set much by.
Flocci æstimare, to set light by.
Aestimare tanti, quanti, tandidem, pluris, minoris.
Aestimare aliquem ex re aliqua.
Aestimare hæc, atque expédite, Consider you these thinges, and wey them well.
Aestimauit tribus denarijs, he valewed it at iii. penee.
Pœnam suam honoribus summis æstimabat, he esteemed that punishment to be to him in stede of great honour.
Aestimare litem alicui, to geue sentence that one beyng caste shall pay a certayne summe of money for the damage and costes.
Decem sesterijs lis ei æstimata est, he was condemned to pay towarde damages and cost a hundred pounde.
Aestifer, stifera, rum, that bryngeth or suffereth heate.
Aestiua, ôrum, n. g. plu. places to bein for shadowe in the sommer tyme, whyre vnto as well menne as beastes dooe withdrawe them selues for heate.
Aestiuatio, ônis, f. g. a dwellyng or beynge in a place in sommer tyme.
Aestiuo, stiuas, âui, âre, neu. to dwell or bee in a place duryng the sommer tyme.
Aestiuus, a, um, pertaynyng to sommer.
Aestuaria, ôrum, ne. ge. pl. places. whereunto the sea floweth and ebbeth, or meeres filled with salt water. Also chynkes or gapinges of the earthe, or pytes made with mens handes, whereby vapours issue out.
Aestuatio, ônis, f. g. a vehement motion, an vnquietnes of mynde.
Aestuo, æstuas, âui, âre, neu. to ware hotte, to bourne, to flow like the sea, to be in anguishe or or trouble of minde, to be in a great fume. also to cast out hot vapours, as a pot doeth whan it seetheth, to boyle.

Aestuare desiderio, to be verye desirous of a thyng.

Aestuabat dubitatione, he was in doubt, and wyst not what to dooe.

Aestuare inuidia, to be very angry, or greatly displeased.

Aestuat dies, the daie is exceedynge whot.

Mare æstuat, the sea is troublous.

Aestuosus, a, um, hotte or feruent, stormy.

Aestuosissimi dies, feruent hotte daies.

Aestuosa & puluerulenta via iter faciebam, I iourneied in a whotte and a dusty way.

Aestus, us, ui, mas. gen. heate of the weather, or burnyng of the sunne. Also the troublous moction, rage, or violence of the sea. Sometyme doutfulnesse or flittyng of the mynde, a scruple, a vehement motion of the mynde. Also loue.

Aestus belli, the troubles of warre.

Aestus vlceris, the smartynge peyne of a sore or byle.

Erat hic quoq; æstus ante oculos, I had also this scruple or doubte in my minde.

Aetas, âtis, fœm. gen. age, otherwhyle tyme. also the space of a hundred peres, a mans life time. somewhyles one pere. It is applied also to wyne and fruite, wherof cometh Aetatem ferre, spoken of fruites or wyne that will continue longe.

Aetas acta est mihi, my time is passed.

Tertiam ætatem vixit, he liued three hundred pere.

Aetas bona, the flowre of youth.

Aetas grandis, auncientee, or olde age.

Aetas decrepita, age, wherin a man loseth the vse of his membres.

Aetas ingraueſcens, age increasyng.

Idem ætatis, for Eiusdem ætatis.

Aetas matura, rype age.

Aetas prima, youth.

Aetate adulta, of full age.

Aetate affecta, of olde age, auncient.

Aetate confecta, very aged, in extreame age.

Aetate exacta, idem.

Antecellere ætate vel ætate anteire, to bee elder.

Aetate integra, in the flowre of youth.

Aetate prouecta, aged, or of good age, verye auncient.

Aetate anteire, to be elder.

Flexus ætatis, the decaie or inclination of age, when one is paste the middes of his age.

Extremum ætatis tempus, the vttermost point of a mans lyfe.

Nostrum tempus ætatis, our life tyme.

Constans ætas, myddle age.

Accedit illi plus ætatis, he waxed elder.

Aetatem desidiosè agere, to liue idelly.

Aetatis fabulam peragere, to passe the whole course of the life.

Aetatem in aliquo conterere & consumere, to spend al ones time in a thynge.

Aetatem cum aliquo degere, id est, vitam, to liue with one.

Excesſit mihi ætas ex magisterio tuo, I am no more vnder thy gouernaunce, I am past thy correction.

Aetas firmata, mans state, perfecte age.

Aetate professit vsq; ad adolescentiam meam, he liued tyll I was a ponge man.

Aetatem meam me viduam esse mauelim, quàm istæc flagitia tua pati, quæ tu facis, I had leuer be a widow all my lyfe, than to endure this trouble that I haue with the.

Aetatem velim seruire, Litanum modo vt conueniam, I woulde dooe seruice al the daies of my lyfe on the condition I mought mete with Litanus.

Nostra ætate, in our tyme.

Aetatis progressus, the course of age.

Aetatis satis habere, to be olde enough.

Aetatem vix decimam ingressus. 1. annum.

Aetatem, an aduerbe, signifyng long tyme.

Iam dudum ætatem lites sunt inter eos, there hath bene variance betwene them long tyme.

Aetatula, læ, f. g. childhode.

Aeternitas, âtis. f. g. euerlastyngnes, tyme without ende.

Ex omni æternitate, hauynge neuer any beginnyng.

In omni æternitate, for euer, continually.

Ad memoriam æternitatis, that it might alway be remembred.

Aeterno, and æternum, euerlastingly, for euer, alwaies.

Aeterno, áui, âre, act. to make perpetuall.

Aeternus, a, um. euerlastyng, without end, for euer, continuall.

Nullum æternius lignum, no woodde endureth longer.

Aether, ætheris, fine plur. m. g. the firmament. of some it is taken for the elemente of fyre, and for the ayre. also for Iupiter, sometyme for light and brightnesse, sometime for the goddes.

Aether often vsed for cœlum.

Vbi eos pater æther in gremium matris. &c. id est, Iupiter.

Raptim secat æthera pennis. i. aerem.

Aethera, or æthra, æ, f. g. the ayre.

Aethereus,, thérea, um, of the firmament.

Aethereum semen. i. diuinum, the seede of a god.

Aetherea aura vesci, to liue.

Aethiopis, pidis, fœm. ge. an herbe that inchanters vse, by force wherof tpuers be dyed vp, and locks opened.

Aetiologia, lógiæ, fœ. g. a shewinge of the cause or reason.

Aetites, a precious stone, founde in an Egles nest, whiche hath within it an other stone, as it were with ponge, whiche maketh a sounde, if the stone be shaken. If the braly of a woman with childe doe fall downe low, this stone, beeyng hanged aboute the lefte arme, restreineth the childe. But if the womans tyme be come to trauaple: than beyng taken awaie, and bounde to hir thygh: she shall bee foorthwith deliuered without any peyne. Also, if a peece of this stone be put into bread, or into a puddyng, and geeuen vnto one: if he be a theefe, it shall neuer goe through him: likewyse the broth, wherin it is sodden, if a theefe, or they that bee of counsayle with him, do take it: he nor they may not swallowe it. Prepared with warre and oyle of Cypres, it helpeth againste the fallynge sickenesse, In Corolario Hermolaus Barbarus, saieth, that except this stone be taken out of the Egles neste: it hath no vertue in medicine.

Aetnæus, a, um, of Aetna.
Aetnæus deus, Vulcane.
Aetnæi fratres, the Cyclops.
Aetnæus pastor, Polyphemus.
Aetnæa tellus, Cicilie.

Aeuitas, tâtis, f. g. eternitee, age.

Aeuum, æui, n. g. longe, or euerlastynge tyme, also tyme, age, sometyme life.
Aeuo nostro accidit, it chanced in our tyme.
Viue memor q̃ sis æui breuis, liue haupnge in mynde howe shorte thy lyfe is here.
In æuum, for euer.
A condito æuo, from the begynnynge of the worlde.
Aeuum securum agere, to liue without care.

Aeuiternum, that is made eternall.

A. ANTE F.

Affabilis, le, a man easy to be spoken vnto, gracious in wordes, courteise and sweete in language.

Affabilitas, âtis, fœ. gen. gentilnes in hearynge, courtesy in talkyng.

Affabiliter, courtesly, gentilly.

Affabre, cunnyngly, craftely, workmanly.

Affabrum, cunningly or craftily wrought.

Affamiæ, arum, fœ. gen. trifles, thinges of small estymacion.

Affatim, abundantly, euen to the full.
Tibi diuitiarum affatim est, Thou hast abundance of ryches.

Affâtus, spoken vnto.

Affâtus, us, m. g. a talkyng or speakyng to.
Affatus alicuius petere, to desyre to speake with one.

Affectate, curiously, with to much diligence.

Affectatio, ônis, f. g. curiositee, affectation.

Affectator, ôris, m. g. one that doth effectate or counterfeyte a thynge to curiously.

Affectatus, a, um, affectate or to curiouse.
Affectâta oratio, a curious fourme of speaking.

Affectio, ônis, fœ. g. affection sometyme trouble of mynde.
Firma corporis affectio, a good and stronge disposicion of the body.
Astrorum affectio, the disposicion of the sterres.
Affectio cœli, the inclinacion or disposicion of the cœlestialls bodies.
Præcipuam habet erga fœtum affectionem, a singular affection.

Affecto, âui, âre, act. to seke effectually, to desyre or couete a thyng earnestly.
Affectare regnum, to aspyre to a kyngdome by ambicion.
Affectare cruorem alicuius, to seeke ones death.
Affectare diligentiam in nugis, to desyre to be diligent in trifles.
Quod iter affectet videtis, ye see what way he desyreth to take.
Affectare, is in Vlpian vsed for, consulte aliquid facere, to dooe a thinge of purpose.
Affectare aliquem damnis, for afficere.

Affector, âtus sum, âri, idem quod affecto.

Affectus, us, m. g. affection or naturall motion, as gladnesse, desyre, and suche lyke, sometyme sickenesse.

Affectus, a, um, troubled or vexed, afflicted, disposed, affectioned, mixed, affected, also feeble and sorowfull.
Affectus pena, punished.
Affectus præmio, rewarded.
Affecta, thinges almoste finissched or nighe at a poynt.
Affecta fides, credence almoste lost.
Affecta æstas, sommer well nigh passed.
Affectum bellum, warres nygh at a poynt.
Affectus morbo, vexed with sickenesse.
Affectus virgis, beaten with roddes.
Cum ita sis animo affectus, seyng that ye bee so minded, or so affectioned in your mynde.
Cum tantis à vobis beneficijs affectus sim, Seyng that I haue had so greatte benefites at your handes.
Affecta & prostrata respub. a common weale sore broken and almost cleane ouerthrowen.
Affecta ætas, olde age.
Animos affectos recreare, to refresshe mens mynd sore abasshed and discouraged.
Quomodo cœlum sit affectum, how the heauenly bodies are disposed.
Affectus desperatione, discouraged.
Affectum corpus, a body hurt or wexed, sometyme out of temper.
Affectæ opes, riches almost spent or wasted.
Grauiter affectus, grieuously meued.

Affero, affers, attuli, ferre, to bryng to, to profite or conduce, to shewe or bryngе euydences, to alege or bryngе forthe a reason, authoritee, or suche lyke.
Afferre constantiam, to make constant.
Pompeianis ea res ad receptum difficultatem afferebat, that thynge made that it was verie harde tie harde for Pompeis souldiours to retoile.

Magnas difficultates exercitui Cæsaris attulit. it brought Cesars armie in great distresse.
Afferre expectationē, to make me to loke for a thing at ones handes.
Solent etiam fastidia cibo afferre, they were wonte also to make men lothe their meate.
Afferre finem tributorum, to cause no more tribute to be payed.
Lachrymas afferre, to make one to wepe.
Bononius miros terrores ad me attulit, he tolde me of meruelous terrible matters.
Somnum afferre, to bring one a sleepe.
Affero ad te salutem, I come to salute the.
Afferre adiumentum alicui ad aliquam rem.
Afferre auxilium, to helpe, to aide.
Afferre dentes, to byte.
Afferre manus, to set violent handes on one.
Afferre molestiam, to do displeasure to one.
Afferre morbum, to make sicke.
Aes alienum mihi hæc res attulit, this thinge hath brought me in debte.
Afferre pedem, to come.
Abite vnde malum pedē attulistis, goe hense, from whens with a mischiefe ye came.
Afferre vim alicui, to make assaute on one.
Attuli hunc, for Adduxi, I haue brought this man.
Affero pro confero.
Eius iussu huc me affero, at his commaundement I come hither.
Afferam vnum antiquitatis exēplum, I will bringe forth one example of antiquitee.
Ad ea quæ dixi affer, si quid habes, if you haue any thynge to say to these thynges that I haue spoken, bring it forth.
Afferre in medium, to cōmunicate with other.
Afferre accessionem, to augment a thing.
Quam causam afferam? what cause or excuse shall I alleage?
Quidam compertum attulit, one brought certaine tydynges.
Afferre delectationem, to delite.
Afferre tædium alicui, to make one weerie.
Afferre fidem alicui rei, to make a thyng to be beleued.
Animi magnitudinem ad eius causam attulit, he defended the mans cause with a stoute courage.
Animum afferre alicui, to bring a courage to one.
Florem afferunt arbores, the trees bring forth blossoms.
Afferre inertiam, to make negligent or sluggishe.
Afferre manus sibi, to slea ones selfe.
Afferre memoriam, to put in remembrance.
Afferre odium alicui, to bringe one in hate or displeasure.
Opinionem populo afferunt, they bringe the people in this opinion.

Afferre causam mortis voluntariæ, id est, præbere causam mortis voluntari.
Afferre quæstionem, to moue a question.
Tibi nullam religionem attulit, it neuer pricked thy conscience.
Repulsam attulit hæc res, this thynge was cause of his denial.
Afferre sumptum alicui, to put one to coste.
Afferre vim virgini, to rauishe a maiden.
Affertur, tydynges is brought.
Afficio, afficis, ēci, ere, act. to moue affection or disposition, either to good or euill, so muche that reason is therwith troubled and disquieted.
Afficere bonis nuntiis, to bring good tydinges.
Vti bonis vos, vestrosq; omnes, nuntiis me afficere vultis, as ye wil, that I bring to you and yours good tydynges.
Aegritudine affici, to be moued with griefe of mynd, Aegritudine premi, conflictari, debilitari, to be sore vexed with sorow. Totum se dedit ægritudini, he gaue him selfe wholly to sorow and griefe of mynde. Aegritudinem leuare, extenuare, lenire, sedare, to diminish, swage, or mitigate, to ease or helpe. &c. Aegritudinem depellere, detrahere, eripere, tollere, to take away cleane the sorow or grife of mynd frō one.
Afficere cura, to bringe in care.
Afficere lucro, to make one wynne or gaine.
Afficere stipendio, to paie wages.
Affecit eum lætali vulnere, he gaue hym his deathes wounde.
Afficit me dolore, he maketh me sorie.
Afficit me gaudio, he maketh me gladde.
Affici, to be moued with affection.
Afficere corpus, to bring the body lowe, or to make it feble or weake.
Afficiunt corpus fames & sitis.
Afficere desiderio, to make desirous.
Affici exilio, to be banished.
Regis nomine afficere, to call one by the name of a kynge.
Afficere sepultura, to burye.
Affici admiratione, to be meruailed at, to be in admiration.
Affici honore, to be had in great honour.
Afficere ignominia, to slaunder.
Affici iniuria, to be wronged.
Afficere incommodo, to endomage, or hurt.
Affici difficultatibus, to be in great perplexitee or daunger.
Morte affici, to be slayne.
Afficere errore mentis, to bringe one into an errour.
Affici vulneribus, to be wounded.
Affigo, figis, fixi, ere, act. to naple to, to fasten.
Affigere literas pueris, to make childerne kunne by herte, or kepe in memorye.
Hanc literā ad caput affigent, they will set that letter one your heade.
Cuspide ad terram affixit, he fastened him to the grounde with his speare.

Affigere

Affigere cruci, to crucifie.
Affigere terræ radicem, to take roote.
Affigi noſtris animis, to bee rooted in our myndes.
Affixus, a, um, faſtned.
Affixus alicui tanquã magiſtro, cleauynge to one as to a maiſter.
Affixus lecto, ſore ſicke in his bedde.
Quibus in rebus me ſibi affixum habebit, in whiche mattiers I will not faile to ſticke to him, or be his companion.
Affictus, a, um, made, feigned, counterfaited.
Affictitius, a, um, idem.
Affingo, finxi, gere, act. to make, to fourme, to feigne, or in feignynge to adde or applye to a thyng, to deuiſe, to feigne for one. ſometyme to inuent a lye. ſometyme to counterfaite.
Sermones affingere perſonis fabuloſis, to deuiſe wordes, that perſons named in poetes fables ſhulde ſpeake.
Addunt & affingunt rumoribus, they adde and deuiſe ſomewhat to rumours, more then was ſpoken.
Affingere mores hominum, to counterfaite mens maners.
Affingere aliquid alicui, to lye, or make a lye on one, or ſpeake of him that is not true.
Affinis, ne, in fieldes betokeneth adioynynge, in men it betokeneth aliaunce by mariage. And by a metaphore, he that is parte taker of any thing, priuie to an offence, or acceſſary.
Affinis negotiis publicis, he that meddeleth with the affaires of a comminaltee.
Affinis rei capitalis, gyltie of a great offence, which deſerueth deathe.
Affinem eſſe culpæ, to begiltee.
Affinis ſceleris vel ſceleri, gylty of the treſpas.
Affines eſſe earum rerum, quas fert adoleſcentia, To be parte taker of thoſe thinges that youth deſyreth or deliteth in.
Affinitas, ãtis, f. g. affinitee. alyaunce.
Affinitate attingere, to be of alyaunce to one.
Affinitates iungere, to make alyaunce by mariage.
Affinitates dirimere, to breake alyaunces.
Affirmate, with affirmaunce.
Affirmatio, ônis, f. g. affirmaunce.
Affirmatum, ti, n. g. affirmed. ſomtime cõfirmed.
Affirmo, ãui, ãre, act. to affirme. ſomtime to confirme, or ſtabliſſhe.
Affirmare ſe animo, to take a good courage.
Certum affirmare, to affirme for a ſuretee.
Affirmare aſſeueratione, to affirme certainly.
Affirmare iureiurãdo, to affirme with an oth.
Afflatus, tus, m. g. a blaſte.
Afflatus ſpiritus, diuine inſpiration.
Affleo, ẽui, ẽre, n. to wepe and lament feignedly.
Afflictatio, ônis, fœ. ge. punyſhment of the bodie with ſickeneſſe.
Afflictio, ônis, fœ. ge. and Afflictus, tus, m. g. affliction, trouble, aduerſitee.

Affligto, ãui, ãre, act. to tourment ones ſelfe continually, to trouble, to vexe or greeue, to toſſe and tumble, to driue to gether: as, Naues tempeſtas afflictabat, the tempeſte toſſed and droue the ſhippes together.
De quibus acerbiſsimè affligor, for whiche thynges I am verye ſore troubled & diſquieted.
Afflictari morbo, to be greuouſly ſicke.
De noſtris rebus grauiſſimè affligor, I am ſore tourmented with cogitation of our affaires.
Affligor, ôris, m. ge. one that afflicteth or troubleth.
Afflictus, a, um, troubled, vexed, greeued, afflicted, oppreſſed, and as it were caſt to the ground with aduerſitee.
Afflicta fides, credence decayd and almoſt loſt.
Afflicta fortuna, aduerſitee, trouble.
Afflicta & proſtrata virtus, vertu neglected and caſt vnder foote.
Afflictis rebus, in aduerſitee.
Nauis afflicta ſcopulis, daſhed agaynſt the rockes.
Affligo, xi, ere, act. to throwe or beate downe to the grounde, to punyſhe, to afflicte, to vexe, to trouble, to tourment, to greeue.
Affligam te ad terram ſcelus, ſi me vno digitulo attigeris, I will beate the downe to the grounde wretche, if thou touche me with one fynger.
Affligere & debilitare animos metu, to trouble and diſcourage mens myndes with feare.
Affligit corpus ſenectus, olde age greeueth and weakeneth the body.
Affligere hominum mores, to impaire or corrupte the maners of men.
Affligere opes alterius, to ſpende and waſte an other mans goodes.
Affligere rem aliquam vituperando, by diſpraiſynge to make a thyng worſe than it is.
Affligere ſe, to vexe or tourment ones ſelfe.
Affligi frigoribus, to be greeued with colde.
Affio, affias, ãui, ãre, act. to blowe to, to blowe wynde, to blowe vpon. ſometyme to fyll with wynde.
Affiari, to be blowen vpon, to bee blaſted.
Affiari ſydere, to bee blaſted, as floures of trees and corne ſometyme bene.
Affiauerat neſcio quid rumoris, ſupple me, a certaine bruite or rumour came to mine eare.
Affiare alicui, to fauour.
Sperat ſibi aurem poſſe aliquam affiari in hoc crimine, he truſteth that by the fauour of ſome perſonne, he maye bee holpen in this crime, that he is charged with all.
Affiari fulmine, to be ſtriken with lightynng.
Affiari diuino ſpiritu, to be inſpired of god.
Affluens, tis, om. g. abundant.
Affluẽtibus vndiq; barbaris, whan the barbarous people came in great nũbres on euery ſide.
Bonitate affluens homo, a man of muche honeſtie and good behauiour.

Affluens

Affluens ſtudiis locus, a place where is much exercise of learnyng.
Affluenter, abundantly.
Affluentia, æ, f. g. abundaunce.
Affluo, áffluis, fluxi, ere, neu. ge. to flowe to, to ouerflowe, to abounde.
Affluit amor, loue crepeth, or ſlideth into a mã.
Nihil litterarum ex iſtis locis affluxit, there came no letters from thoſe parties.
Affluere diuitiis, to abounde in richeſſe.
Affodio, áffodis, fódi, fódere, act. to digge, or late more ground to that we haue.
Affor, áfus ſum, ári, dep. to ſpeake to, to talke to, to deſire or intreate, to geue thankes: ſeldome or neuer vſed in the firſte perſone.
Affore, to be here or preſent.
Hanc affore biduo, that ſhe be here within theſe .ii. daies.
Afforis, from without, ſom late it is no latin.
Afformido, formidas, áui, áre, act. to be ſore afraied.
Affrango, égi, ere, to breake by or nere to.
Africanæ gallinæ, ſhulde ſeme to be the ſame, which we call Turkey cockes.
Affrico, áfricas, fricui, áre, act. to rubbe againſt a thyng.
Affrictus, tus, m. g. a rubbyng againſt a thyng.
Affrictus, ta, tum, rubbed againſt a thyng.
Affricus, ci, called alſo Lybs, the wynde ſouth-weſt and by weſt.
Affrio, áffrias, ui, áre, to grate, or breake ſmáll one thyng with an other.
Affulgeo, fúlges, fulſi, ére, to ſhyne agaynſte a thyng. Alſo to happen with gladneſſe.
Sardiniæ recipiendæ repentina ſpes affulſit, a ſodein hope ſodenly hapned, that Sardinia ſhoulde be recouered.
Affundo, fúdi, ere, act. to ſhedde, or ſprincle lyc cour on a thynge, to flowe or renne by a place, as a ryuer nere to a towne. ſometime for Infundere, to powre in.
Frigida in aqua affunditur venenum.
Affuſus, a, um, proſtrate, lyng flatte on the earth, powred in, flowyng by, ſhedde or ſprincled vpó.
Affuſus tumulo, lyng proſtrate vppon the grounde by the graue.
Meander plurimis affuſus oppidis, Meander that renneth by many townes.
☞ A fronte & a tergo, before and behynde, ſometyme it is taken for a prouerbe applied to them, whiche do beholde thynges paſſed, with thoſe thynges which maie happen. Alſo the tyme paſſed with the time to come.

A ANTE C.

AGabus, an hebrue name, whiche ſignifieth in latine, Locuſta, a kynd that deſtroieth corne. Alſo Feſtiuitas patris, the pleaſant mirthe of the father. Of this name was a prophete in the tyme of the apoſtles, which prophecied of an vniuerſall famine to come, and that ſainct Paule ſhulde be bounden and put in gyues.
Agalma, gálmatis, n. g. an image.
Agalochum, mencioned by Dioſcorides, ſeemeth by the deſcripcion thereof to be the ſote wodde, called nowe Lignum aloes.
Agamus, ágami, ma. g. one that was neuer maried, a ſingle man, a bachelar.
Agape, ágapes, f. g. charite, mutuall loue.
Agapenor, the gouernour of Agamemnõs naule.
Agapis, is a ſtone of the coloure of Saffron, the vertu wherof is to cure the ſtyngyng of ſcorpiõs and ſerpentes, if it be layd to the wounde.
Agaricum, gárici, neu. g. a promontory, nere to Troie. it is alſo a kynde of muſhromes growing on trees about Boſphorus. it is hotte and clatereth humours.
Agaſſilis, the whole herbe and rote wherof Hammoniacum is made.
Agaſo, ônis, m. g. an horſkeper or muletour.
Agathites, maioram.
Agathallus, a byrde, that hath naturall enmites with an other byrde, called Acanthylis: ſo that if the bloud of them bee forcibly mixt together, they will after ſeuer eche from other.
Age, aduerb. go to, take hede.
Age age, well well. ſometyme of conſentinge.
Age age, vt lubet, well go to, as ye liſte. ſometyme an aduerbe of correctinge: as, Age, ſcis quid loquar? go to ſole. ii. ſomtyme of encouragynge: as, Nunc age, naturas apibus quas &c. Somtime it is ioyned with the plurall nũbre: as, Age igitur vos intro abite.
Age dicat, lette hym ſpeake on, let hym ſpeake hardily.
Age, & agite, go forth, forthe on, or tell on.
Age ſis, go to hardily.
Agé dum, go to yet.
Age porro, well go to: well, ſuppoſe it be ſo.
Age iam, age nunc, go to nowe.
Age ſane inquam, well, I am content.
Agite dum, idem quod agite.
Agea, éæ, f. g. a waie in a ſhyppe.
Agelaſtus, ti, m. g. he that doth neuer laughe. alſo ſad, ſoleine, wairarde.
Agellus, gelli, m. g. a litle fielde.
Agelæi panes, byroune breade.
Agêma, gématos, n. g. a cõpanie of ſouldiours.
Ager, ágri, m. g. a fielde. ſometyme it ſignifieth a territory, belongyng to a towne, wherin are included, fieldes, medowes, woodes, and waters. ſometyme a manour with the demeanes. ſometyme the arable fielde onely.
Ager Romanus, the territory or countrey about Rome.
Agricultio & cultura agrorum, the manuringe and tillage of the earth.
Fatigatio agrorum, wereinge of the grounde.
Agrorum ſationibus faciendis expediemus, wee will make our ſelfe in a readines to ſow our landes, landes.

Ager benignus, a frutefull and fertile groũde.
Fertilis, ferax, idem.
Cretosus ager, a chalkye grounde.
Vliginosus ager.
Ieiunus atq; exilis ager, a leane and barrayne grounde.
Incultus ager, a wilde grounde vntilled.
Ager lapidosus, limosus, macer, a stonie slymie, leane grounde.
Agros occare.
Onerati agri messibus, loded with corne.
Stercorare agros, to dunge.
Vertere agrum, to turne the grounde.
Agricultio, and cultura, the tillyng of the earthe.
✠ Agros alienos irrigas, tuis sitiẽtibus, a prouerbe spoken of them that be diligent in other mens mattiers, and let theyr owne slepe. it is applied also to aduoutrers.
Ageraton, an herbe like to organie. ii. handefull highe: the sauoure whereof, whan it is broised, prouoketh vrine.
Aggemo, ui, ere, lohe Adgemo.
Agger, aggeris, m. g. a heape of stones or tourfe, also a bulwarke, or a contremure to a fortresse or campe in battaile. sometime it signifieth a causey, or the highe parte of the way lyke a causey. Also bankes to kepe in the water of ryuers. sometyme a diche.
Ager arenæ, a heape of sande.
Aggerem iacere, to caste a bulwarke.
Alpini aggeres: id est, Alpes.
Cingere locũ aggere, to trench a place about.
Aggero, aggeras, aui, are, act. to heape vp, and by a metaphore, to augment and aggrauate a mattier.
Aggero, aggeris, gessi, ere, act. to laye on an heape, also to bringe to one. sometyme to beare or carie.
Nãq; æastor, amor & melle & felle est fœcundissimus, gustu dat dulce, amarum visq; ad facietatem aggerit, For in good faith, loue hath aboundãce both of honie and galle, in taste it is pleasant, but it bringeth with it bitternesse, so much, that it becometh lothsome.
Aggestus, gestus, m. g. an heape.
Agglomero, glomeras, aui, are, act. to make vp on an heape, by adding to. sometyme to preasse and gather thicke to gether, as soudiours dwe in their araie in battaile.
Agglutino, aui, are, act. to ioyne together, to glue, also to soulder.
Aggrauatio, onis, f. g. a greke or burden.
Aggraueſco, scere, to waxe more greuouse or heaupe.
Aggrauo, aggrauas, aui, are, act. to be burdenous or chargeable. also to aggrauate, or make a thyng more greuouse.
Aggredior, gressus sum, edi, com. to go to, to come to, to inuade, to assaple, to begyn or enter into a matter, to attempte or set in hande with any thyng, to geue assaute.
Aggredi aliquem de re aliqua, to go to talke with one for any mattier.
Aggredi aliquem, to sette on one with purpose to begyle hym: as, Itane agitis mecum? satis astute aggredimini, dwe ye handle me after this sorte? ye assaile me craftily enough in deede.
Cum aggredior ancipitem causam, when I beginne or sette in hand with. &c.
Priusq; aggredimur ad singulas leges, before we enter to speake of euery law particularly.
Aggrediar ad crimen, I will begynne to speake of. &c.
Aggredi bellum: id est, suscipere.
Aggrego, aggregas, aui, are, act. to gather to gather.
Aggregare se ad amicitiam alterius, to associate him selfe to the frendship of some other.
Cum meam voluntatẽ ad summi viri dignitatem aggregassem, when I had bent my wyll to the maintenance of. &c.
Aggressio, onis, f. g. an assaute.
Aggressus, idem quod aggressus.
Aggigarton, a kind of grapes without kirnels.
Agidus, a tike.
Agilei, housholde loues.
Agilis, agile, om. g. nimble, light, lieger, quicker.
Agilitas, atis, f. g. nimblenesse, dexteritee.
Agiliter, nimbly, lyghtly, quickly, quickerly, liegerly.
Agilla, or Agylla, an olde towne in Tuscane.
Agina, ginæ, fœ. ge. that wherin the beame of a peyze of balance is hanged.
Aginator, oris, mas. gen. he that is meued with a little gayne.
Aginor, atus sum, ari, dep. to marchaundise vile thynges or of small value.
Agiographa, bokes of holy scripture.
Agipedes, is the same that Pedary we. lohe there.
Agitabilis, le, om. g. that may be eesaly meued, styred, or shaken.
Agitatio, onis, fœ. ge. meuyng, or styryng, also exercise.
Agitatio mentis, stirryng of the mynd.
Agitator, oris, masc. gen. a driuer of a cart, or of beastes.
Agitatus, a, um, meued, sterred, tossed, exercised, troubled, disquieted, vexed.
Agito, agitas, aui, are, act. to moue, to shake, to rolle, to gouerne or guide, to dwelle or liue in a place, to reuolue, imagine, or caste in ones mind, to intreate well, to go, to do often, to pricke, to compell, to trouble, to persecute, to vexe, to consider, to solicite.
Iam calcari quadrupedem agitabo aduersum cliuum, Nowe will I with the spurre make my horse renne vp the hill.
Agitare causam, to beate a matter, to debate the cause.
Agitare dies festos, to spende holye dayes in pastime and myrth.

Agitare,

Agitare conuiuia, to make feastes.
Agitare conuiuium, to banket or make good chere.
Age igitur, hoc agitemus conuiuium, vino & sermone suaui, therfore go to, lette vs banket, drinke, talke, and make good chere.
Agitare custodiam, to take good heede in kepyng of one.
Agitare cum animo, to reuolue in the mind.
Agitare diem, to passe forth the date.
Agitare feras, to course wylde beastes.
Agitare imperium, to gouerne.
In pace vero beneficiis magis quàm metu, imperium agitabant, In the time of peace they gouerned more by gentlenesse, than by feare.
Agitare iustitiam, to exercise iustice.
Agitare lætitiam, to make ioye.
Agitare mente, to conceiue in the mynde, to thynke.
Agitare præsidium, to be in garisone.
Agitare vigilias, to kepe watche.
Agitare vitam, to liue.
Agitare ævum, to liue.
Agitare cœtus noctu, to make vnlaufull assembles in the night.
Agitare consilia, to consulte.
Agitari diuersum, to be so troubled, that he is nowe in one mynde, and nowe in an other.
Agitare fugam, to flee.
Diuersus agitabatur, he was tossed hether and thether in diuers opinions.
Agitare ingenium, to exercise the witte.
Agitare moras, to dryue forthe the tyme.
Agitare rem aliquam sermonibus, to debate or talke of a mattier.
Aglaophotis, an herb, which for the beautifull colour therof was so called.
Aglaspis, glaspidis, f. ge. the name of a legion of souldiours amonge the Romaines.
Aglidia, idem quod Aglithes.
Aglithes, cloues of garlicke.
Aglyphos, phi, m. g. not grauen.
Agmen, inis, neu. ge. an hoste of men. sometime a violence, a course of water, sometime mouyng, also a multitude.
Agminalis, le, pertenyng to an hoste.
Agna, næ, fœ. g. a shee lamme. also a measure of grounde called also Actus. 120. foote euery way.
Agnascentia, & agnata membra, membres, which are superfluouse: as where one hath three legges, or. vi. fingers on one hand, and other lyke.
Agnascor, ātus sum, sci, dep. to bee borne after his fathers testament is made.
Agnati, orum, m. g. kynsmen of the fathers syde.
Ad agnatos & gentiles deduci, to bee cōmitted to his kinsfolke, as madde men were by the law ciuile: wherof was made a prouerbe, applied to them, that do all thynges madly and without circumspection.
✠ Ad agnatos, & gentiles deducantur.
Agnatio, ōnis, f. g. kynrede by the fathers syde.

Agnatus, a, um, that which is in byrthe more than the cōmon course of nature vseth to bring forth.
Agnellus, a ponge lambe.
Agninus, nina, um, of a lambe.
Agnitio, ōnis, f. g. knowlage.
Agnitus, agnita, um, knowen.
Agnomen, nóminis, n. ge. the surname that one obteyneth for any acte, or by other meanes.
Agnosco, nóui, scere, act. to knowe of olde, that is, to agnise & reknowlage a thing afore knowen to know by some token.
Agnóscere debitum, to acknowlage and take vpon hym the charge of an other mans dutie.
Agnoscere nomina, idem.
Agnósco ex me, I gather by my selfe.
Agnos, is a tree, which is a kynde of wyllow, and is commonly called Agnus castus, in englyshe parche leaues: it hath leaues like to willow, but that they be alwayes greene, & hath not so sweete a smell: and floures first purple, and after white, and a seede like pepper. There is an other kynde therof, which hath more braunches, and leaues whyter, and some what mosy, & the floure purple. Bothe of them do growe about riuers. It is called Agnos, which is in englishe chast, for it is saied, if a man or woman haue it about them, or vnder their beddes, it shal kepe them chaste.
Agnus, agni, m. g. a lambe.
Chordi agni, lames eaned after their tyme.
Expertes herbæ agni, that neuer dyd eate grasse.
Hornus agnus, this yeres lamme.
Sub rumi agni, suckynge lammes.
Admittere agnos, ad matres, to let them in to their dammes.
Depellere agnos a lacte, to weane lammes.
Agni depulsi a matribus, weaned.
Agnus æditus, a lamme eaned.
Emittendi é septo agni, let out of their folde.
Lasciuit agnus, the lamme playeth.
Subrumare agnos, to put the lammes to the teate.
Summittere agnum nutrici, to put the lamme to the ewe.
Summouere agnos, to take lammes from the flocke and sell them away.
Ago, égi, ere, act. to do, to accuse, to heare or geue eare, to dryue, to expel or put out, to gouerne, to moue or wagge, to speake, to vexe & disquiete, to force or pursue, to thrust or caste downe by violence, to prouoke or stere, to represent, to spreade a brode, to preuaile, to go or remeue, to treate of a thyng, to endeuoure or labour, to be attendant or diligent, or wholly bente or fixed to a thynge: as, Hoc age, take heede and lette thy mynde on this thing, or be wholly bent or fixed to it.
Alias res agit, his minde is on other mattiers.
Vnde agis te nunc Dorpale? From whense comest thou nowe Dorphalus,
Agere arbores ab alto ad terram, to pul down trees from on high to the grounde.

Id agere,

Id agere, to fynde meanes.
Ego semper id egi ne interessem, id est, curaui & annixus sum.
Annum agens vndeuigesimum, goynge in the.xix. yere.
Agere silentia, to bee all huisht and in peace.
Agere respectum, to haue a respect.
Agere ætatem, to liue.
Agere ad præscriptum, to do as he was appoynted.
Agere ambages, to go about the bushe, or to tell a longer tale than nedeth.
Agere aliquem, to pursue one.
Agere amicum, to do like a frende, or playe the parte of a frende. lyke wyse, Agere patrem, matrem, ciuem, iudicem, regem, consulem. &c.
Agere apologum, to telle a fable.
Agere animam, to be at the poynt of death.
Agere causam, to pleade.
Agere conuentus, to holde a parliament.
Agere cuniculos, to vndermine.
Cuniculos ad ærarium agebat, he vndermined the treasure house, or gotte in to the treasure house by mynynge.
Agere cum aliquo, to treat or speake with one.
Cum meeũ sæpe ageres, vt de amicitia scriberem, where oftentymes thou didst intreate, that I shoulde write of frendeshippe.
Illo præsente mecum agito, si quid voles, If thou wilte any thynge with me: speake it in the presence of this man.
Agere diris malis, to curse.
Agere de pace, to treate of peace.
Agere delectum, to chose men, as in musters for the warre,
Agere equum, to spurre the horse.
Agere insidiis, to do a thynge by treason or marciall policie.
Agere ex sponso vel ex sponsu, to bryng an action of couenant.
Agere ex syngrapha, to bryng an action of dette vpon an obligacion.
Agere fabulam, to playe in a comedie, tragedye, or enterlude.
Agere frondem, to put out leaues: spoken of a tree.
Agere furti, to appeale one of felonie.
Agere gemmas, to bourgen.
Agere inter homines, to liue.
Agere iniuriarum, to sue one for trespas or wronges done.
Agere pecuniariam litem aduersus aliquem, to sue one for a money matter.
Agere lege, to sue, to procede by the order of the lawe.
Agere mensuras fideliter, to measure thinges iustely.
Agere morem, to vse for a custome.
Agere nugas, to mocke, to trifle.
Agere orationem, to pronounce an oracion.
Extat oratio quam egit.
Agere pœnam ab aliquo, to punishe one.
Fœderum ruptorum pœnas ab se grauiores quam Pop. Rom. egerunt, id est, exegerunt.
Agere primas partes, to be the chiefe personage.
Agere radicem, to take rote.
Agere reum, to sue one in the lawe.
Agere summo iure, to procede with rigour.
Agere suo iure, to execute his auctorite.
Agere vineas, i. applicare, to approche to the walles of a towne, defended with the ordinance of warre by a similitude, called vines.
Agit vigesimum annum, he is. 20. yere holde.
Pectus meum nunc agit cubito, she hitteth me on the breast with her elbowe.
Membris agit atra venena, id est, fugat.
Agere caudam, to wagge the taple.
Tros Tyriusq; mihi nullo discrimine agetur, shall be gouerned.
Agit ipse furentem in somnis, id est, vexat, inquietat.
Quo hinc te agis? whyther wylte thou?
Agunt adolescentiam, they be in their youth.
Agis rem actam, thou leesest thy labour, the thyng is done to thy hande.
Agit rem suam, he goth about his owne businesse or profit.
Agit hic perpetuum diem sol, the sonne shyneth here all the daie longe.
Agitur de capite, aut de fama, he is in daunger of his lyfe or of his credence.
Bene mecũ agitur, I am well at ease, or I am in good condition, or I am well dette with all.
Agitur res capitis, the question or the matter in debate concerneth lyfe and deathe.
Hoccine agis an non? id est, audis, doest thou herken, or geue eare to me, or no?
Est ne ipsus de quo agebam? id est, loquebar, is this he that I spake of?
Ad omne scelus mentes illorum agit, he dothe incense and stere theyr myndes to all mischiefe and naughtinesse.
Egi omnes illos adolescentes, I represented all those youge men.
Agere pecora, to driue cattell.
Agere bellum, to make warre.
Bene agere cum aliquo, to handle or entreat a man honestly.
Apud illos qui tum agebant, id est, viuebãt.
Principis amicitia agunt feruntq; omnia, by the fauour of the prince they do what so euer they lust them selfes.
Agere circum, to turne rounde.
Agere contagia late, to spreade the infection farre abrode.
Nihil ago tecum, I haue nothynge to doo with the.
Agere hortatione, to exhort.
Agere precibus, to praie or intreate.
Agere seuere, grauiter, remisse, leniter, vrbane, bane, securè. &c.

Agere curam, to care for.
Agi desiderio alicuius rei, to be stered with the desire of any thynge.
Agere diem festum, to kepe holy daie.
Agere forum, to decise matters.
Agere gradus tacitos, to go softly.
Dies agit in terra, in the daie time he is on the lande.
Agere in crucem, to crucifie or hange vp.
Agere in exilium, to banyshe.
Agit mecum fortuna, fortune fauoureth me.
Agitur mensis septimus, this is the seuenth monthe.
Non multũ egerit, he shal not much preuaile.
Agere secretum, to be alone.
Agere spumas ore, to frothe at the mouthe.
Agere silentium, to kepe silence.
Agitur gloria populi Romani. Agitur salus sociorum. Agũtur certissima vectigalia, hoc est, Agitur de gloria, de salute, de vectigalibus, The question, controuersie, or contencion is of or concernyng these thynges, or these thinges be in daungier.

Agogæ, pittes or dyches, where into water vpposeth.

Agolum, ágoli, n. g. a staffe to dryue cattel with.

Agon, agônis, or Agônos, góni, ma. ge. a contencion in fourme of battaile, or a wrastlyng. Also the place where it was exercised. Also the name of a man.

Agonalia, or Agonales dies, certaine festifal daies kepte amonge the Romaines.

Agônes, weraslometyme called hilles.

Agones, among the Romains were they that kylled the beastes to bee sacrificed, and maie be applied prouerbially to them which longe consulte, and yet enterprise nothynge.

Agonia, agóniæ, f. g. feare and heauinesse, or vexacion of mynde. Also sacrifise done on hilles.

Agonisma, atis, n. g. the rewarde of victorie.

Agonista, nistæ, m. g. a champion.

Agonizo, áui, áre, neu. ge. to contende, to fyght valyauntly.

Agonotheta, æ, or Agonothete, tes, mas. ge. he that maketh a common game, and paieth the rewarde to them that do winne it.

Agoræus, ræi, mas. ge. a market man, an haunter of markets or faires. it is in Gellie taken for an vnlearned man.
Agoræus panis, breadde solde in markettes, as carte bread in London. loke Agoræus, in proper names.

Agoranomus, rânomi, ma. g. he that setteth the price of vitayle, a taster, or a clerke of the market. the Romains call hym Aedilem.

Agraphus, pha, um, not writen, not peincted.

Agrarius, rij, ma. ge. a landed man. Also he that fauoureth suche lawes as be made for the orderyng of possessions.

Agrarius, a, um, pertaynynge to landes or possessions.

Agraria lex, a lawes made for the common distribution of landes, as our statutes bee of inclosures and decaping of husbandry. but amonge the Romaines they were suche lawes as dyd appoynt howe much land a senatour shoulde haue and not exceede, and how much shoulde be deuided amonge the people.

Agrestis, te, om. ge. wylde, growen without culture. Also he that is vngentle, rude, beastly, without gentyll maners, rusticall.
Agrestes mores, rude and cartely maners.

Agria, æ, fœm. gen. a hynde of stabbes, which of course breaketh out euery yere, and is verye harde to be healed. also a sore, which can not be cured by any surgery.

Agricantha, æ, or Agriacantha, a wylde thorne.

Agricola, gricolæ, com. ge. an husbande man.

Agricolator, ôris, m. g. the same.

Agricolatio, ônis, f. g. tyllage, or husbandry.

Agricultor, ôris, m. g. an husbande man.

Agricultura, husbandry.

Agrimonia, æ, an herbe called commonly in englyshe Egrimony, and is the right Eupatorij, as it appeareth as well by the description of Dioscorides, as by the affirmaunce of Maynardus, Antonius Musa, and other most excellent phisitions of this tyme. The decoction of this herbe, or the poulder thereof dryed, is an excellent remedy against the oppilations of the lyuer by reason of fleume. It is hotte in the fyrst degree, and drye in the seconde.

Agriocardamum, an herbe, called also Hiberis.

Agrium, idem quod nardum Creticum, some call it Phu. it hath a leafe lyke Alisander.

Agriophillum, idem quod Pencedanum.

Agrios, rude, wilde, of the filde.

Agrioselinon, idem quod Hipposelynon.

Agrionia, orum, the feastes of Dionysius, celebrate among the Bœtians.

Agripalma, æ, an herbe called also Galeopsis, in englyshe Archangell.

Agripera, tæ, com. ge. he that doeth aske his portion in diuision of landes.

Agrippæ, they whiche bee borne with theyr feete forwarde.

Agrippus, called of the Lacedemonians, a wilde olyue tree.

Agrisis, a verye pleasaunt and holsome herbe vsed much amonge the Egyptians.

Agrostis, latinis gramen, semeth by Fuschius to be stichwurt.

A ANTE H.

AH, a voyce of lamentyng or sorowing, but it is sometime applied to other affections, as to indignation, anger, despyte, rebukynge, chidynge, denying, correcting. &c.

Ahenum, ahéni, neu. gen. a pot to heate drink in. also a great vatte, wherein purple is dyed.

also also a caudron.

Ahenus,ni,m. g. a vessell of whyte brasse or copper,which is bryghte bothe within and without.

Aeheneus, or Ahenus,a, um, is of poetes taken for Aereus, brasen,or of brasse: And by a metaphor,stronge,harde.

Ahertæ, arum, fœ. gen. two veynes, whiche goe from the nauill and matrice, doune beneth the kidneys.

Ahichryson, an herbe called also Semper viuum.

Ahorta,tæ, f. g. one of the principall veynes.

Ahú, an interiection of one that is troubled.

A ANTE I.

AIgleuces, wyne that is alwaie mustie.

Ain' for aine? is it as thou saiest

Ain' vero? idem.

Aio, âis, ait, I saie, thou saiest, he saieth, aiunt, they saie.

Aiuga,or rather Abiga,idem quod chamepytis.

Aiutamini, for adiuuate.

Aius, was supposed amonge the Romaynes to be god.

Aizoon,zói, neu. g. an herbe called also Semper viuum, Barba Iouis, & Sedum, in englishe Singreene or houseleeke. There be therof three kindes, the greatter, facioned lyke to a rounde tounge, growyng thycke togeither (the leaues thycke and full of iuyce) on houses or walles. The lesse (called in latyne Vermicularis, or Muris cauda) hath little rounde leaues and thycke: And is called in englysshe prycke madame. The thyrde is called Portulaca syluestris, wyld purslane. Fuschius, affirmeth that Portulaca syluestris, and this thyrde kynde of Aizoon be diuers herbes: Surreyche of theim be tolde in the thyrde degree.

A ANTE L.

ALa,læ, f. g. a wyng of a byrd, and a wyng of a battaile, whiche is proprely of horsemen. Sometyme a saple of a ship. also that part of the eare that is open. Moreouer Alæ be the nosethirlles.

Ala, is the pinion of the shoulder of a beast. It is also the arme pytte.

Alas hominis vellere, to pull the heares from a mans arme pittes. And in herbes the holownesse betwene the bottome of the leafe and the stalke.

Alæ sagittæ, the fethers of an errowe.

Alæ lursutæ, hearye arme pittes.

Alæ nasi, the gristles on eche syde of the nose.

Alas fati tardare, to make death cõme slowly.

Fulminis alæ, the swiftenes of lightening.

Concutere alas, to clappe the winges.

☞ Alas alicui addere, A prouerbe signifyng to encourage a man with woordes, or to putte hym in hope of a thyng.

Alabandica, a rose with whitish leaues lyke a damaske rose.

Alabandina, næ, a redde stone myxt with blue, it prouoketh bledyng.

Alabandus, the god that the people of Alabanda worshipped.

Alabarches, bárchis,m. ge. he that hath the rule ouer salt, and amonge the Egyptians it was a noble man.

Alabaster,and alabastrus,stri,m g.a vessell made of alabaster,to keepe sweete ointmentes in.

Alabastrus, is also vsed for the greene leaues that couer the rose bud.

Alabastrum, a citee in Egypt.

Alabastrum, bastri,n. ge. or Alabastrites, alabaster. It is founde specially about Thebes in Egypt and Damascus in Syria.

Alabastrites,is also a pretiouse stone of diuers colours,mynged with whyte.

Alabetæ, fishes, that bredde in the riuer Nilus.

Alabia, æ, innocency.

Alabon, idem quod Alaba.

Alacer, alacris, cre, vel luc & hæc alacris, hoc cre, cherefull, quicke of spirite or of witte, lusty of courage merry,and he that hopeth in hope,prosperely he that is in a meane betwene glad & sorye. Sometyme it betokeneth a man, ready or wilyng. Thereof cometh Alacritas, redinesse or promptnes of wil. also feruentnes of mynd.

Alacer vt alteri noceat, readye to hurte an other.

Alacer animus ad bellum suscipiendum, a mynde readye and courageous to enterprise a warre.

Alacer animo sum, I am desyrouse.

Alacrè, promptly,courageously,gladly.

Alácritas,ãtis,f. g. cherefulnesse,courage.

Canum alacritas ad venandum, the cherefulnes or redines of dogges to hunte.

Alácriter,idem quod alacrè.

Alapa,álape,f. g. a blowe or stroke with the hãde.

Alápathus, thi, an herbe called also Lapathum, and Rumex, sorrell.

Alaris, alâre, and Alarius, a, um, of or pertaynyng to the wyng.

Alary equites, horsemen, whiche are in the wynges of a battaple.

Alaternus,ni, f.rm. ge. a tree that neuer beareth fruite or seede.

Alatus, a, um, wynged.

Alauda,dæ,f.ge. a larke. it was also the name of one of the legions of the Romaines.

Alaudium,dij,n. g. a nampyng or appealyng.

Alazonia,æ,f.g. arrogancy,pryde.

Albadaran, amonge the Chaldeis the name of a little bone in one of the great toes, which is not corruptible after their opinió: it is in facion like the pulse called Cicer. of this bone ꝑ priuey characters of natures secretes speke many thynges.

Albardeola, a cepell herne or a dwarfe heron.

Albarium,rij,n. g. the parget of a wall.

Albarium

Albarium opus, pargettynge, white liming.
Alba spina, Strapio supposeth to be that, whiche the Arabians call Bedeguar. some thinke the contrary, and that it is a bremble, growynge in hedges and dyches, haupng flowers whyte, and of good sauoure which we call the whyte thorne. some suppose it to bee a kynde of thistle, square and full of pryckes, our ladie thystle.
Albarecca, cæ, f. g. a barbarous worde for a melon.
Albatus, ta, tum, whyted, or apparelled in white.
Albedo, dinis, f. g. albetudo, albor, whytenesse.
Albegmina, orum, n. ge. parte of the inwarde of beastes, whiche was offred to Dis, called god of hell.
Albeo, albui, ére, to be whyte.
Albesco, uí, scere, to be whyte, or ware white.
Albergariæ, arum, certain tarces for eating meate.
Albesti, a certayne kynde of targetes or buckiers.
Albeus, and Albeolus, a theese bourde, after Lapine: but he semeth to be deceiued. for the places that he citeth, haue Alueum, and Alueolu.
Albicera, biceræ, f. g. a kynde of olyue tree.
Albiocrate ficus, brode figges with a small stalke.
Albico, albicas, áui, áre, n. g. to be white.
Albidus, a, um, somewhat whyte.
Albigatium, lohe Albinga.
Albitudo, inis, f. g. whytenesse.
Albo, áui, áre, act. to make white.
Albogalerus, léri, mas. ge. an hatte, whiche the great priestes of Iupiter, called Flamines diales, dyd weare.
Albonenses, a people of Illiria.
Albor, óris, m. g. looke Albedo.
Albocia scuta, targettes or shieldes of the largeste sorte. They were called also Decumana.
Albucas, or Albucum, ci, some do suppose to be the herbe whiche is called Asphodelus: Some write, that it is onely the stalke of Asphodelus, and that the whole herbe is called Hasta regia. It may be cald in English white affodill or duch daffadill: it groweth not in England. lohe after in Asphodelus.
Albuelis, a kynde of grapes.
Albugo, búginis, f. g. a whyte spotte in the eie.
Album, álbi, n. g. a table openly sette vp, wherin eyther the names of officers, actes perely done, or some publyke decree is written. Album prætoris, or Album iudicum, a table set vp among the Romaines, whiche he that had defiled, spotted, or corrupted, was forthwith put to death without iudgement.
Album Senatorio eradere aliquem, to take one out of the number of the Senatours.
Album, bi, white.
Albumen, búminis, n. g. the white of an egge.
Albunus, lohe Albucus.
Alburnum, ni, neu. gen. the latte that is in some tree.
Alburnus, the name of a fysshe.
Albus spinus, the hauthorne tre, the branches wherof beyng blowed they call may bowes.
Albus, a, um, white, sometyme pale, and by a metaphore, fearefull, auricus. sometime happie, fortunate.
Albus fluuius, a riuer called Humber, in the north parte of Englande.
Album plumbum, tynne.
Albi calculi, white stones, wherwith the people of Creta dyd note or marke the dayes, wherin they had goodde fortune, lyke as they marked cupll dayes with blacke stones, called Nigri calculi.
Album calculum addere, to allowe.
Albus an ater sis nescio, I know not whether thou be white or blacke. A prouerbe spoken of them, whose maners be to vs vnknowen.
Alba auis, a white bryde, a prouerbe spoken of a thynge fortunate or luckye, or elles that chaunceth seldome.
Album calculum addere, to allowe or approue a thynge. A prouerbe taken of the auncients forme of iudgementes.
Albæ galinæ filius, A prouerbe spoken of one, whom fortune fauoureth in all his doinges.
Albunus, the name of diuers men.
Alcæa, æ, f. g. the taple of a Lyon, or of any other beaste, that vseth the taple for a helpe to defende the body. it is taken also for a lyon.
Alcanna, an herbe called of the Latines Ligustrum, in the easte parte Cyprus. of the frenchmen Troena, in English, prynette.
Alcaquengi, or Alcacangi, looke Alkakengi.
Alcarmes, the woorme, whereof crymosin colour is made.
Alce, ces, or Alces, cis, fœ. g. a wilde beaste in the woodes of Germanie, in facion and shyape lyke to a kalowe dere, but greatter, and hath no ioynters in his legges: and therefore he doeth neuer lye, but leane to a tree whan he doeth reste hym. The hunters knowynge this, do saw the trees, that they vse to leane to, halfe in sunder, wherby they fall downe and be taken. lohe Alces. This beaste of some is called Aloa.
Alcea, fœm. gen. is one kynde of malowes, but he hath leaues diuyded lyke Veruen, and a floure lyke a Rose, longe rootes fyne or syre whyte and brode. Also Io. Agricola sayeth, that it is called of the Apothecaries Herba Simeonis. It maye be called veruen mallowe, or rut mallow or marsh malow.
Alcedo, cédinis, or Halcyo, onis, fœm. gene. a bryde of the sea, which doeth hatch ponge chickens on the lande, and laye her egges on the sandes in the middes of wynter. And whan the sea is most troblous, if she doe laye, it becometh sodenly calme, and the stormes & wyndes do ceasse vntyll the bryde haue all hatched, and brought vp hir chyckens, and made theym able to flee, whiche is in the space of xiiii. dayes. This bryde is little more than a sparrawe, hir fethers be purple of colour mixte with white, and hath a long neche and a small, his bylle somtwhat greene long & slender, and is sene very seldome, howbeit this bryde is taken for that, which we call the kynges fysscher, whiche is one kynde of the same.

Alcedonia, tymes of quietnes, without sturre or trouble on the sea.

Alcyonides dies, idem.

Alcenor, a man of Argiue.

Alces, alcis, fœ. gen. idem quod Alce, a beast in Fraunce lyke a mule, but he hath his vpper lyp to longe, that whan he feedeth, he goeth backewarde, or els he can not byte of the grasse and herbes whiche he shulde eate: The horsekynde of them haue hornes on their vpper browes. such a beaste was late broughte into Englande, and sene in the kynges parke at westminster.

Alcabitius, is the name of a booke, which is an introduction to the iudicial parte of Astronomie.

Alchech, in the Arabia tongue, is the beaste, which is called Linx, and is begotten betwene a lyon, and a lybarde.

Alcibiadion, ádi, n.g. is an herbe, whiche Dioscorides calleth Echion. Ericius Lonicerus (a fast mouse physicion of this tyme) supposeth it to bee a kynde of our borage, the flowers beyng somewhat lyke, but that they be deper in, and do not spreade so brode, and be of a more purple colour. The seede therof is lyke the heade of an adder: in so muche that there doe seme to bee eien therein. some doo suppose it to bee wylde borage. other name it also Anchusa, it is called Alcibiadion, of Alcibiades, whiche vsed it to peinte his face.

Alcibiacum, Dioscorides calleth Echion, id. est quod Alcibiadion.

Alcibias, of Dioscorides calleth Stechas, or Sticas.

Alcibion, an herbe.

Alcoranum, a booke of Mahumete, wherein are more moste shamefull lies and abhominacions, with some parte of scripture, & necessary lawes, though these be fewest. For he geueth liberte to men to haue great noumbres of wyues, and concubynes without numbre. He imagineth aungels to be in loue, and to commit aduoutrie with mortall women. He auaunteth, that he him selfe went vp to God to receiue lawes, and that he was borne thither by an asse, that Jesus sent him: that he found God beatyng of an aungell, betwene whose browes was the space of a iourney of many hundred yeres. And suche lyes in great number be there feigned, not withstãding, in the same booke he doth prohibite aduoutrye, and commaundeth streightly keepyng of pyomes, and other thynges, not to be dispensed.

Alcyo, lohe Halcyo, and Alcedo.

Alcyonides, lohe Alcedonia.

Alcionium, the spume or some of the sea indurate.

Alea, æ, f.g. a dye, playyng at dyce. somtyme it signifyeth chaunce or fortune.

Aleam emere, to bye a thynge that we knowe not, or be vncertayne of.

Aleam omnẽ iacere, to set all at hye and lowe.

Alea fortunæ, the chaunce of fortune, somtime perill.

Extra omnem ingenij aleã positus, without doute of comparison excellyng all other in witte.

Aleator, ôris, m. g. a dycer.

Aleatorium, rij, neu. gene. dyce playynge, or a dicyng house. Suetonius calleth it Aleatorium forum.

Aleatorius, a, um, belongyng to dyce.

Alebra, thynges whiche do nourishe well. but after some, thinges that do sauour well.

Alec, or Halec, lecis, fœ. & neu. ge. a fysshe called an hearrynge.

Alecto, one of the furies of hell.

Alector, oris, the sonne of Anaxagoras.

Alectoria, tóriæ fœm. gen. a stone founde in the cockes gyzar or mawe, of the greatnes of a beane and colour of chrystall.

Alectorolophies, an herbe called of the latynes Christa, because the leues be lyke a cockes cõbe, The stalke small, the seede blacke in coddes. Frenche men call this herbe Faruen.

Alecula, lẽcułæ, f.g. a spyce, or a little herbe, a pyckhard.

Alemon, an oyntment that wrestlers vse, called also Aelima.

Aleo ônis, m.g. a dycer, or dyce player.

Alephangiuæ species, is a barbarous worde vsed of the Moores, wherby they doe signifie poulder of soote spyces, as ginger, pepper, cloues, maces, nutmegges, cynamome, and other lyke.

Alepterion, a place in bathes, where men were anoynted.

Ales, alitis, f.g. a birde. Sometyme it signifieth swifte in flyenge or rennynge, as Alite planta, swifte of foote. Ales is sometyme vsed for Ales pailadis, the owle.

Ales pandionis, the swalow or the nightingall.

Phacidis ales, a phesante.

Ales cyllenius, Mercurie.

Cytherea ales, a culuer.

Phœbeius ales, a crowe.

Titanius ales, Phœnix.

Canorus ales, the swanne.

Iouis ales, the Aegle.

Mala ales, euill luche.

Potiore alite quid facere, id est, meliori auspicio.

Secundo alite quid facere: idem.

Alatus, that hath wynges.

Alitib' secundis, prosperously, with good fortune.

Ales, itis, adiect. om. g. swifte.

Alesco, ălui, scere, neu. to growe or waxe fat.

Aletudo, inis, f. g. fatnesse of the bodie.

Aleuron, i, m.g. meale of wheate.

Alex, alecis, f.g. a kinde of salte ipcour made of fyshes, verye holsom for many thinges. It is also a spyce that diuideth the countrepe Piperinum from Lepcrus.

Alexandrina Chamedaphne, of Dioscorides is called Vinca peruinca, perwincle.

Alexicacon, icaci, n. gen. a remedy to put awaye mischiefe, or any euill thyng.

Alexicacus, lexicaci, ma. g. one that sauyth men from al mischiefe, misfortune, and peril.

Alexipharmacon, ci, neu. ge. is properly a medicine against poyson. it is also taken for suche thynges as men vse to hang about their neckes, their armes, or in houses for a defence agaynste poyson, ill spirites, or greuous diseases. And so Theophrastus vseth it in his nynthe booke, where he treateth of Tripolium.

Alexiteria, idem quod Alexipharmaca.

Alga, ălgæ, f. g. erites or weedes in the sea.

Algenses, kyndes called also Purpuræ.

Algensis, se, belongynge to erites or weedes of the sea.

Algeo, ălsi, vel alxi, gēre, n. gen. to be in peyne, properly for cold, to chill for colde.

Algidense, a kynde of radysshe, long and clere through.

Algidus, ălgida, um, chill for colde.

Algificus, gifica, um, that maketh one chill for colde.

Algor, ōris, mas. gen. grieke. sometyme it signifieth colde.

Algosus, a, um, full of suche weedes, as be in the sea, and called Algæ.

Alguasen, an herbe lyke vnto a lyly.

Algus, i, and Algus, us, m. g. idē quod Algor.

Alhandal, coloquintida.

Aliâs, an aduerbe, signifieth or els, els where, in an other place, after an other faction, an other tyme, sometyme.

De hoc aliâs, I wil speake of this another time.

Aliâs ita loquar vt cōcessum, aliâs, vt necesse est, id est, interdum, sometyme.

Aliâs aliud de eisdem rebus iudicabunt, at an other tyme they will geue a cōtrary sentēce vpon the same mattier. or sometyme they will geue one iudgement of a thyng, sometyme an other.

Alibi, els where. sometyme in an other thyng.

Alibilis, le, that nourisheth.

Alica, ălicæ, fœ. g, is a thyng made of wheate in this wise. They take wheate and steepe it in water, and afterwarde beate it: than they dyse it in the sunne, & breake it grosse, so that euery corne be broken in foure or fyue pieces. some do put into it chalke, some creame of milke sodden, to make it seeme verye white.

Alica saccharata, frumentie.

Alicariæ meretrices, common harlottes.

Alicarij, they that do make or sell Alicam.

Alicastrum, căstri, neu. g. the fourthe sort of the wheate called Far.

Alicubi, somewhere.

Alicula, læ, f. g. the diminutiue of Alica.

Alicunde, or as somme accent it, Alicunde, from some place, or of some other persone or thing.

Alienatio, ōnis, f. g. an alienation or alteryng, or the withdrawynge of the mynde from the frendshyp or fauour of any man. also the deliuerance of the possession of any thyng to an other.

Alienatio mentis, such a commotion, or trouble ynge of reason, that a man is almost beside hym selfe.

Alienator, ōris, m. g. he that alytereth a thyng.

Alienatus, ta, tum, put awaye, altered, estranged, alienate.

Alienātus ad libidinem animus, a mynde falsen from vertue to filthy pleasure.

Alienat' est mihi vsus æditi: hoc est ablatus.

Alienātus à sensu anim', a minde cleane without all reason or consideration.

Alienigena, nigenæ, com. g. a stranger, an alyen.

Alienigenus, a, um, that which cometh out of an other countreie.

Alieno, aliēnas, āui, āre, act. to alienate, to put awaye, or put of, to alieue or alter possession.

Alienari mente, to be out of his right wittes.

Dicenda sententia illum alienauit, in declaryng his opinion he made him his enemye.

Alienare, reconciliare, contrarye.

Alienari, is sometyme vsed, to be altered or corrupted.

Alienāre quempiam à se, to put one out of his frendshyp or fauour.

Aliēnus, a, um, of an other sort, straunge, diuers, vnlyke, not agreable, out of acquaintance or fauour, an other mans, none of ours, he that is not of our kynrede, familie, or countrey. sometyme absurd, vnmete, not conuenient. also vnholsome, hurtefull, noysome. sometyme vsed for Alius.

Equitare podagricis alienum, it is vnholsome or not agreing for thē that haue the goute to ryde.

Cibi stomacho non alieni, meates agreing wel with the stomake.

Aliena mensa, an other mans table.

Alienæ domi esse, to be at an other mās house.

Alienus hic nemo est, there is no straunger.

Propinqui nobis propiotiores q̄ alieni, kinsfolke be narre ioined to vs in frēdshyp, then such as be not of our kinne.

Vtere tuis rebus, non alienis, vse thyne owne geare, and not an other mans. sometyme it hath a datiue case: as.

Alienus ambitioni, nothing set on ambition.

Alienus, is sometyme vsed for farre vnlyke, vntowarde, vnmete.

De alieno liberalis, he is liberall of that which is none of his owne: he cutteth a large thonge of an other mans leather. sometyme it hath a genitiue case.

Aliena consilij domus, an house vnmete for the purpose, or nothing knowing of the purpose.

Item: Alienum dignitatis alicuius.

Alieno more viuendum est mihi, I must liue after an other mans faction, or as other men will haue me.

Alieno animo esse, to be displeased with one.

Alienos agim', we beseem strangers vnto hym.

Alieniſsimum reipublicæ tempus, the warſt tyme that maie bee for the weale publike. Some tyme it hath an ablatiue caſe: as.

Alienum ſuis rationibus, vnprofitable for his purpoſe.

Item alienum noſtra amicitia, not agreyng to our frendſhip.

Non alienus ſanguine regibus, of the kynges bloudde.

Alienus animus. Iam primum illum alieno à nobis animo eſſe, res ipſa indicat, the thyng it ſelfe declareth, that euen nowe he hath no fauour towarde vs.

Aliena iacis, thou caſteſt nothynge to the purpoſe. A prouerbe taken of dycers, whan thynges chance vnluckyly, & not as we would haue them.

Animus alienus alicui: for, ab aliquo.

Alienum a dignitate alicuius.

Alieniſsimus vitæ ruſticæ: pro, à vita ruſtica.

Aliena loqui, to raue as men doe in extreme ſyckeneſſe.

Alienus locus, an vnmeete place.

Alienum tempus, an vnconuenient tyme.

Alienum fortunæ ſuæ vultum gerere, to loke otherwyſe than the preſent ſtate of ones life requyreth.

Alienus à literis, rude, ignorant, barbarouſe.

Alienior hæres, an heyre that is no kynne to hym, whom he ſucceedeth.

Alife, lyke Aliphe.

Alifer, & aliger, ligera, rum, any thynge that hath wynges.

Alimentarius, a, um, pertaynyng to lyuyng or ſuſtenance. ſometime he to whom a man geueth his fyndyng in meate and drynke by his laſt will.

Alimentaria lex, a law which wylled chyldren to fynd & nourſhe their parẽtes beyng impotẽt.

Alimentum, menti, neu. ge. ſuſtinaunce, foode, or lyuyng.

Alimodi, idem quod aliuſmodi, of an other faſcion or maner.

Almon, an herbe that will not ſuffre theim that taſt it to be hungry. it is alſo called Alera, Albucium, and Alimos.

Alimonia, móniæ, fœm. ge. and Alimonium, i, idem quod Alimentum.

Alió, to an other place. ſomtyme to an other thing, to an other purpoſe.

Cupiditatis nomẽ ſeruet alió, id eſt, ad aliud, let him kepe the name of couetouſnes to an other purpoſe.

Alió reſponſionem ſuam diriuauit, he aunſwered not to that he was demaunded.

Alió ſermonẽ transferre, to talke of an other matter, to turne his talke to an other matter.

Quo alio, to any other place.

Alióqui, or Aliôquin, otherwyſe, moreouer, or elſe, excepte that, if not.

Aliorſum, towarde, to ſome other place, otherwiſe.

Aliôrſum atq; ego feci, accepit, he toke it otherwyſe then I did it for.

Aliouerſum, for Aliorſum.

Aliparæ, medicens made without fatte.

Alipaſtos, fleſſhe that hath no fatte.

Alipænæ, plaiſters that haue no fatty ingredience, it is of ſome written Aliparæ.

Alipes, ſwift of foote.

Alipedes equi, ſwift rennyng horſes.

Alipterium, a place in bathes, wherin men were anoynted.

Alipilus, he that pulleth the heares of ones arme holes in the bath.

Aliptes, liptis, m. g. he that anoynteth wreſtlers in common games, and was called the maiſter of the wreſtlers.

Aliqua, by ſome place. by ſome meanes.

Aliquam multi, for Aliquot, ſome.

Aliquandiu, any whyle.

Aliquando, with the accent in antepenult. ſometime, now & than, ones at length, ones in tyme paſte and is vſed both with the preterrence and the future.

Aliquando tandem, ones at length.

Aliquantillum, a diminutiue of Aliquantulum.

Aliquantiſper, a little whyle.

Aliquantò, ſomewhat, by a little.

Aliquánto ante, a little before.

Aliquánto poſt, a little after.

Aliquantulum, ſomewhat.

Aliquantulus, a, um, ſomwhat be it neuer ſo litle.

Aliquantum, idem.

Aliquantus, a, um, ſomewhat, neyther much neyther little.

Aliquántum ad rem eſt auidior, he is ſomewhat couetous.

Aliquantum, vſed with a verbe: as, Aliquantũ proceſſit, he went ſomwhat forwarde on the way.

Aliquantum, with a genitiue caſe: as, Aliquantum nummorum.

Aliquátenus, aliquatenus, in ſome part, by ſome reaſon, or meane.

Aliquid, ſome thyng.

Aliquid, for Aliquantum, the aduerbe.

Aliquis, aliqua, aliquod, ſome, one.

Aliquis eſt, he is a man of no ſmal reputacion.

Is aliquis ligarius non fuit, vnus aliquis, ſome one man. Aliquis de vel ex nobis.

Aliquiſpiam, quáſpiam, quódpiam, idem quod aliquis, a rare worde.

Aliquo, to ſome place.

In angulum aliquò abeam, I wyll goe into ſome corner.

Aliquorſum, towarde ſome place.

Aliquot, ſome, nor many, nor few.

Aliquotfariam, for aliquot modis.

Aliquoties, at ſometyme.

Alirei, Plautus vſeth for Aliæ rei.

Aliſma, called of ſome Damoſonion, of other Lyſtron, of late writers Fiſtula paſtoralis, in Engliſhe water plantayne.

Aliſti, an herbe called of the latines Flos paradiſi, the flour of paradiſe, of the Frenchemen, Oculus lus dei.

Aliter, or els, contrarie wise, otherwise.

Aliter ac, aliter atq; aliter quã, otherwise than.

Aliter de ea re audio, atque vt ad te scripseram, I haue herde otherwise of that matter, than I wrate to you.

Aliter atque aliter, diuers waies.

Alites, great byrdes, which are redde.

Alitũra, ræ, f. g. nourishyng.

Aliubi, els where Aliubi, for alicubi, somwhere.

Aliubi, atq; alicubi melius, better in some place than in other.

Aliúnde, from an other place.

Alius, ália, ud, in the genetiue case Alius. Sometyme is founde Alij, and Aliæ, other, or an other, diuers, contrary, or of an other sort.

Alius alium præponit, one preferreth the tone, an other the tother.

Alius, with a verbe plurall.

Alius alium percontamur, one of vs demandeth of an other.

Alia fallacia aliam trudit, one decepte bringeth in an other.

Alius alium ingenio præstat, some haue better wittes than other.

Aliud alio discipauit, he cast one thyng into one place, an other into an other.

Aliud stans aliud sedens, one thyng standyng an other sittyng, spoken of verie vncõstant and wauerynge persons.

Alia dicenda, alia cælenda, somethings are to be spoken, some to be kepte cloase.

Aliam ætatem alia decent, somethinges become one age, some an other, all thynges dooe not become euerie age.

Aliud est anima, aliud corpus, the sowle and the bodie be diuers thinges.

Aliorum sit iudicium, leat other men iudge.

Aliud alio tempore. Alius alio modo. Aliæ atq; aliæ religiones, many and sundry kyndes of religion.

Alius es multo quàm soles, thou art farre an other felow than thou were wont to be.

Longe alia mihi mens est, id est, diuersa, my mynd is greatly altered: or, I am now of an other opinion.

Alia alios delectant, diuers men bee delited with diuers thynges, or some thynges delite one man, some an other.

Alius sum ab illo quem putas, I am not the man that ye take me for, or, I am an other maner of man than ye thinke for.

Aliud ac, for aliud quam.

Aliud mihi respondes, ac rogo, thou answerest me not to that I aske the.

Aliæ sunt legati partes atque imperatoris, the office of a legate, and of an emperour be diuers, or be not all one.

Quæ per biennium alia super alia es ausus, Whiche with in the space of this two yere one vpon an others neche thou haste ben so bolde to enterprise.

Aliud ex alio malũ, one mischiefe in an others neche.

Quorum alia sunt candida, alia pallida, of eggs some bee white, some pale.

Eadem aliis, aliter euadunt, the selfe same thinges chaunce diuersely to diuers persons.

Alis, for Alius, and Alid for Aliud, was vsed of olde writers.

Aliusmodi, in an other maner, of an other faction.

Aliuta, olde writers vsed for Aliter.

Alkakengi, is an herbe, called also Halicacabus, and Vesicaria, and in greke Physalides, out of which groweth a stalke, haupnge on the toppe thereof a rounde thynge lyke to a bladder, of colour betweene redde and yelow, wher in is a redde bearie lesse then a cherie, whiche in diuers waies is wonderfull medicinable agaynste the straungurie, or stoppinge of vrine, besydes other good vertues.

Allãbor, sus sum, bi, dep, to flow by, to slide by, or to rowe by.

Allabóro, bóras, áui, âre, act. to laboure, to labour earnestlye.

Allaborare alicui rei, by labour to adde to a thynge.

Allæuo, áui, âre, act. to lyghten, to mak lyghte.

Allambo, bi, ere, idem quod Lambo.

Allantoides, the seconde skinne that the yong infant is wrapped in, in the mothers woombe.

Allapsus, us, masc. gene. a flowynge by or to, a slydyng to.

Allapsus, a, um, the participle.

Allápsus genibus, fallyng doun at his knees.

Allatro, allatras, áui, âre, neu. gen. to barke at, and by a metaphor, enuiously to rayle or speke against one.

Allatrare alicuius dignitatẽ, to rayle or speake against a mans honour.

Allatrant maria, the seas rore.

Allatus, a, um, brought to.

Allaudo, áui, âre, vsed of poetes for Laudo.

Allectatio, ônis, f. g. an allurynge or intysynge.

Allecto, áui, âre, act. to allure or drawe to by fayre meanes.

Allector, ôris, m. g. one that allureth.

Allectus, a, um, allured.

Allecti, chosen, ascribed, appoynted.

Allegatio, ônis, fœ. ge. a solicitation or intreaty made by frendes or messangers.

Allego, allégas, áui, âre, act. to alledge or bringe forthe, to name, to depute or geue auctoritee, to sende one as a messanger, solicitour or intreater in some weightie matter.

Illum ad me hodie allegauit, he sent that man to me to daie.

Alium ego isti rei allegabo, I will depute or assigne an other to that matter.

Multa allegauit, he alleged or brought in many thynges.

Allego, allegis, égi, ere, act. to ascribe, to choose to a company, to assigne.

Allegere in ordinem, to ascribe to some order, or admitte into a company.

Allegere in prætores, to ascribe amonge the prætors.

Allegoria, góriæ, f. g. a figure called inuersion, where it is one in woordes, and an other in sentence and meanyng.

Alleluya, is an herbe, called of the apothecaries Trifolium acetosum, and Panis cuculi, of Plinie and other learned men, it is named Oxys. wodde sorrell.

Alleluya, prayse ye the lorde.

Alleuamentum, ti, neu. ge. a swageing or diminishyng of sorow, an easyng of peyne.

Alleuatio, ônis, fœm. ge. idem.

Alleuo, alleuas, áui, áre, act. to lyfte vp, to heaue aloft, and by a metaphore, to helpe or succour, to ease one of sorowe or griefe.

Artabanus alleuatur animum, id est, animo.

Alleuare onus, to lyghten ones burdeyn.

Alleuare afflictum, to helpe and comfort one that is in miserie.

Alleuare dictis ærumnã aliorũ, to comforte.

Alleuatum corpus, a body eased or amended of his sickenesse.

Allex, allicis, an adiectiue, that alloureth or inticeth.

Allex. or Allux, cis, m. g. loke Allus.

Allia, idem quod Aha.

Alliarum, ri, n. g. an herbe that hath the tast of garlike, and in English is called, sauce alone, or Jacke of the hedge.

Alliatus, á, um, that sauoreth of garlike.

Allicefacio, liceſacis, feci, ere, act. to allure or drawe to.

Allicio, állicis, léxi, ere, act. to allure.

Allicere alicuius beneuolentiam, to allure the fauour or good will of a man.

Allicere & attrahere ferrum, to allure and draw vnto it selfe yron.

Allicere somnos, to prouoke slepe.

Allido, lidis, si, dere, act. to squatte or throwe any thing against the grounde or walles, and by a metaphore, to hurte.

Allidi in re aliqua, to be hurt, or take harme in any thing to be damaged.

In quibus me perlibente Seruius allisus est, id est, lædituꝛ, hath some hurte or damage.

Alligatio, ônis, f. g. a byndyng to of a thyng.

Alligator, ôris, m. g. he that byndeth.

Alligatura, ræ, f. g. a bonde.

Alligatus, a, um, bounden to.

Alligata ciuitas fœdere, a citee bonde by some conuencion or agrement.

Alligo, alligas, áui, áre, act. to bynde to, to stop or lette, to accuse or appeache.

Alligare vulnus, to wrappe or bynde vp a wounde.

Alligari & impediri in re aliqua, to be lette or intangled in a mattier.

Alligari beneficio, to bee bounden to one for any benefite.

Alligare noua lege, to charge with the obseruance of a newe lawe.

Alligare aliquẽ furto, to appeach one of felony.

Alligare se furti, to charge hym selfe with felony, or to shewe hym selfe giltie of felony.

Allino, allinis, lini, liui, léui, ere, act. to annoint.

Allinere vitia sua alteri, to infecte an other with his vice.

Allium, álli, neu. gen. garlike. wherof be iii. kindes: one is the common garlike: an other is called Allium anguinum, crow garlike or wild garlike: the thyrd Allium vrsinum, ramsons or Buttrammes.

Nec alli quidem caput, he gaue not so much as a garlyke heade. A prouerbe spoken of a nygarde, and one that will departe with nothyng.

Allobrogicus, a, um, the adiectiue.

Allocutio, ônis, f. g. a speakyng to one.

Allocutum ire, to speake with one.

Allodium, a thyng that is proper to one and his owne.

Allophylus, lóphyli, m. g. a straunger, an alyen.

Alloquium, quii, n. g. communication, speche.

Alloquor, ris sum, alloqui, to speake to.

Allubesco, lúbui, scere, neu. ge. an olde worde, signifiyng to please.

Allucinatio, ônis, f. g. a blyndnesse of mynde, an errour or deception of opinion.

Allucinor, ãtus sum, ãri, dep. to be deceiued in opinion, to erre.

Alludo, lûdis, ere, neu. gen. to speake that which hath some respect or resemblaunce to an other thyng, to speake merily, to scoffe at a thyng pleasantly and merily, to smile vpon, to make gesture or countenance of myrthe to a thyng or persone, to fauour.

Alludere ad historiam, to speake or do some thyng agreable, or lyke to some hystorye before written.

Alludit tibi huius vitæ prosperitas, Fortune smileth on thee, or the worlde goeth with thee.

Alluo, álluis, ui, ere, act. to flow nighe to, to wash as the water doeth the grounde.

Allus, the great toe, whan he lyeth ouer the next toe.

Alluuies, éi, fœ. g. is whan abundance of water, mixt with claie, coureth the grounde, a floud.

Alluuio, ônis, fœ. g. idem.

Alma, mæ, f. g. a mayden, hyd, or secrete.

Almities, ei, fœm. gen. beautifulnes, or excellent norishyng.

Almytis, of some is taken to be the same that Halimum is. loke there.

Almus, a, um, all thynges that norysshe vs, properly the earthe is so called Alma tellus, because we haue therof our sustinaunce. sometyme it signifieth fayre, beautifull: as, Almus dies, a fayre clere daie.

Alnus, alni, f. ge. an alder tree, or an aller tree, of whiche shippes were wonte to be made. some-tyme it signifieth a shippe or bote.

Alo, ális, álui, ere, act. to feede, to nourysshe, to finde one all thinges necessary, as meate, drynke, and cloth. it is applied to thynges not corporall, and signifieth to increace, to augment, to maintayne.

Alere proprie maiores, nutrire pueros.

Alere bellum, to maintayne warre.

Glandes, quæ primo victum mortalium aluerunt: id est, sustentarunt.

Sitim alere, to continue or kepe thirstines.

Alit honos artes, honour and aduauncement maketh learnyng to flourisshe.

Alere audaciam, to make bolde.

Aloe, áloes, fœm. gen. is a iuyce of an herbe congeled like a gumme, wherof be two sortes: one is named Succotrina, whiche is lyke a lyuer, red, bryght, and brokle: the other is called Caballina, and is sandy and grosse. The fyrste clenseth and confirmeth the stomache of a man, and therefore is myxt with purgatiue medicines, because they shall not anoie or hurt the stomake: the last is occupied about horses and other beastes. This iuyce is called Succus succotrinæ. After Plinie Aloe is an herbe, that hath a meruailous bitter tast, whereof ryseth this prouerbe.

☞ Plus aloes quàm mellis habet, It is more sowre than swete, more bitter than pleasaunt. Erasmus saieth, Aloe is a shrubbe, in sauour stynkyng, in tast most bitter.

Aloe lignum, or Lignum aloes, is a sweete or precious wodde, which beyng receyued in medicyne comforteth the stomake, and all the inferiour partes of man, and maketh sweete breath.

Aloetis, Mandragora.

Aloidarium, a purgation made of Aloe.

Alogia, lógiæ, f. g. vnreasonable and beastly feedyng, and ingurgytation of meate and drynke.

Aloia, lohe Alce.

Alonge, farre of.

Alopecia, péciæ, f. ge. is a disease in the heade or bearde, whiche causeth the heares to fal of by the rootes.

Alopecidæ, dogges gotten betwene a wolfe and a bytche.

Alopecis, a grape facioned lyke a foxes taile.

Alopecurus, an herbe like a foxes taile, and is full of mosines.

Alopecus, ci, m. g. he that hath a pyld pate, that is to saie, the heares fallyng with scurfe.

Alopex marina, called also Vulpes marina, is a fysshe of the sea, whiche percepynge the hooke to bee fastned in his bealy, byteth of the lyne aboue the takelyng, and so escapeth.

Alôsa, a fysshe called of the Spaniardes, Saualus: of the Venetians Culpea, of Aristotle, and other greekes Thrilla, whiche Gaza translated Alôsa. This fysshe, for a feruent desyre that he hath to a wyne in the Tunies sawes, killeth hym.

Aloschorodon, idem quod Capparis.

Alpha, the fyrst letter of the greekes, and is vsed for the fyrst or principall.

Alphabetarij, they that doo learne fyrst the order of letters.

Alphabêtum, ti, neut. gene. the order of letters, as, A B C,

Alphiton, meale, of phisicions it is also taken for barly meale fryed.

Alphos, álphi, ma. ge. a morphew or staynyng of the skynne.

Alpina, næ, a strange tree, the bodie whereof is verie white, and bees will not touche the blossomes of it.

Alpinus, a, um, of the mountayns Alpes.

Alpum, for Album, vsed of olde writers.

Alpus, a, um, pale, carefull or studious.

Alsa, a riuer rennyng by Aquileia in Italy.

Alsine, an herbe called of some Myosota, in Italy it is named Muris auricula, because the leafe therof is lyke a mouse eare, after some it is called chike wede. It groweth muche in places shadowed with trees. And chefely on gardeine walles, of this herbe be.iiii. kyndes.

Alsiosus, a, um, cold of nature. also that thynge which is sone hurte or anoied with colde.

Altanus, a certayne wynde that ryseth out of the earthe.

Altare, táris, n. g. an aultare.

Altea, of some is taken for Althæa, lohe there.

Alte, on highe, depe, with poetes sometyme long, continually. also farre of.

Alte terram fodere, to dygge deepe in the grounde.

Ferrum haud alte in corpus descendit, The swerde perced not farre into his body.

Altius perspicere, to see farther, or perceyue more in a matter.

Alte petitum, farre fette.

Altius repetere, to reuite a thing with all circumstance, almoste from the begynnyng.

Alter, ra, rum, altérius, teri, an other, the other, properly one of the two, the secound, but it is often vsed for alius. And of olde writers Alteræ, is vsed in the datiue case.

Alter, is vsed in the plurall number, thus: Duplices similitudines, vnæ, rerum, alteræ verborum.

Altera decem, Alteris literis.

Altero quoq; die, euery seconde daie.

Alter ab vndecimo, id est, secundus, the thirtienth.

Alter & vicesimus, one and twentie.

Alter quisquam, any other.

Qui de altero obloquitur, seipsum contueri oportet, He that speketh ill of an other, ought to consyder his owne faultes.

Vnus & alter dies interceserat, twoo or three daies were paste.

Ita fiat, vt neuter alteri officiat, id est, neuter neutri, So it shall come to passe, that neither shall hurt other.

Cum vtérq; alteri obiciat, palam est vtrumq; fecisse, When eche of them laieth it to others charge, it is manifeste, that bothe of them did it.

Vnus & item alter, one or two, signifying an vncertayne numbre.

Alterum tantum, as much more.

Cum alter alterum videremus, when eche of vs sawe other. Likewise Alter alterũ docetis, Altero die quã soluit à Brundusio, the second daie after he departed from Brundise.

Alter ab illo, next after him.

Alter ego, alter idem, alter Cicero. i. similis.

Alter, êris, or Halter, êris, m. g. poises of leade, made to lyfte vp in bothe hãdes, to exercyse mẽ, which maie not otherwyse labour. wherof there be many now in Englande, specially in studentes chaumbers.

Alteratio, ônis, f. ge. alteracion, changeyng from one qualitee to an other.

Alteras, olde writers vsed for Alias.

Altercatio, ônis, fœ. ge. a contencion in wordes, where one mã purposeth, and an other replyeth. also a chydyng.

Altercator, ôris, ma. gen. one that contendeth by replication, a wrangler, a chider.

Alterco, idem quod altercor, to be at wordes.

Altercor, âtus sum, âri, depo. to contende with wordes one with an other on sundry partes, to chide, to wrangle.

Altercum, siue altercagenũ, an herbe called also Faba porcina, after some in Englishe Henbane.

Alternãtim, by tourne, one at one tyme, an other at an other tyme.

Alterne, idem.

Alterno, aui, are, act. to doo thynges by tourne, now one, and than an other: And beyng referred to the mynde, it signifieth to waiuer, to bee vnconstant, to bee in diuers tales.

Alternãs testis, a witnes wauering in his tale, or beyng in diuers tales.

Alternatio, ônis, f. g. succession by tourne.

Alternus, a, um, that is doen by course.

Alternis diebus, sundry daies, where one day is betwene.

Alternis annis, euery seconde yere.

Alternis penè verbis, almost at euery seconde worde.

Alternis annis sunt mares, alternis fœminæ. They bee sometyme males, and sometyme females or euery second yere they be males.

Alterplex, icis, olde writers vsed for Duplex.

Altero, ãlteras, aui, are, to alter or chaunge.

Alterta, idem quod Alterutra.

Alteruter, ẽtrutra, trum, the one or the other.

Alterutrinque, an aduerbe, on either parte.

Althæa, æ, f. ge. the great malowes or holy hocke in somme mens opinion: but I thinke it rather to be called water malowe, or marsh malowe.

Altilis, altile, n. ge. the thing that is franked to be made fatte, be it beast, fysshe, or foule.

Altilis galina, an henne franked or fedde.

Altimetor, ôris, m. ge. or Altimeter, tri, an instrument, wherwith high thynges are mette.

Altisonus, a, um, that maketh noyse from aboue.

Altitonans, nantis, om. gen. he that thundreth, whiche name the paynyms gaue to theyr god Jupiter.

Altitũdo, tũdinis, f. g. height or deepenesse.

Altitudo animi, noble courage, hautenesse of mynde.

Altiuolans, lantis, om. gen. all thynge that flieth hygh.

Altiuolus, a, um, that flieth hygh.

Altor, ôris, m. g. he that nourysheth or bryngeth vp one.

Altrinsecus, on the one part.

Altrix, icis, f. g. she that nourysheth.

Altrouersum, on the other part, or on ỹ other side.

Altus, a, um, hygh, depe, propurely in the sea, it signifieth also excellent, glorious, auncient, noble, great, haute, lustie, secrete, hydde. Sometyme from heauen, or out of heauen.

Ex alto, from on hygh.

Altum otium, longe rest, great leysure.

Aeditus in altum, sette aloft.

Altior spiritus, an haute and lusty courage.

Alta mente præditus homo, a man of great and excellent wysedome.

Altus somnus, deade sleape.

Alta quies, great rest.

Altus dolor, sorow kept close, that lieth swelyng in the stomache.

Altiores literæ, profounde learnyng.

Altum, alone, signifieth sometyme the deepest part of the sea, and fardest from lande, the mayne sea. sometyme heauen.

Ex alto in portum, out of the mayne sea into the hauen.

Demisit ab alto, he sent downe from heauen.

Alta exaggerata oratio, an hygh and plentifull style.

Altus, a, um, nourished.

Aluear, aluearium, and Aluiare, neu. ge. a place where hyues of bees be set. also a stocke of the same hyues. sometyme the hyue it selfe.

Alueatus, a, um, made holow lyke to the place where a ryuer renneth.

Alueolatus, a, um, holow.

Alueolus, li, m. ge. a basshette or maunde, a cheese bourde or tables to plaie on. it is also an holow vessell made of woodde. also a culuer hole, or a place of woodde made for culuers.

Alueus, ãluei, or Aluus, ui, mas. gen. an hyue for bees, a vessell to washe in, the bealy of any thynge that lacketh life. sometyme it signifieth a shippe or the docke that a shippe standeth in. also the place betwene both bankes, where the ryuer renneth, the chanell of a ryuer. Alueus is sometyme taken for bees. also a cheese bourd or or playng tables.

Alucum, uci, n.g. idem quod alueus.

Alum, li, n.g. or Alus, li, m.g. an herbe called also Symphytum petræum, Consolida, Buglum, in frenche Bugle, in Englyshe Comfrie, or camfrey. It groweth abrode in stony places, and beyng sodde maketh bryddes that eate of it so amased, that they maye bee easily taken.

Aluinus, a, um, that whiche is diseased with sweatyng of the healy with continuall ehte.

Alumen, alume, wherof be three sortes, one is called Scisilæ, or plumæ, whiche naturally groweth lyke a stone, and not withstandyng maie bee diuided. there be longe strakes seene in it. An other sorte is boyled in a caudron, and therfore is called Alumen Catinæ, and is made more pure by an herbe (lyke to herbe pur) bourned into ashes, and lie made therewith. An other sort is called Alumen Zucharinum, which is made with alume relented, rose water, and whites of egges, into the facion of a sugar lofe, wherwith harlottes dooe vse to peynte their visages to deceiue men.

Aluminatus, and Aluminosus, a, um, infected or mingled with alume.

Alumna, æ, fœmi. gene. shee that is nourished or brought vp.

Alumnari, to nourse or bryng vp.

Alumnatus, a, um, nourysshed.

Alumnus, ni, mas. gen. a sonne or scholar, that is brought vp of a man, as of his owne father, eyther with sustinance, manere, or learnyng: sometyme (vnproperly) that whiche nourisheth or bryngeth vp.

Alus, li, m.g. lohe Alum.

Aluta, tæ, f.g. lether, properly tawed, sometyme it is put for a bagge or a purse.

Alutamen, minis, n.g. or alutamentum, ti, n.ge. any thyng made of lether.

Alutarius, ri, m.g. a whyte tawyer.

Alutarius piscis, a certayne fysshe mencioned of Plinie, whose skyn is lyke a fell tanned.

Alutatio, ônis, fœm.gen. the sekyng out of gold mynes.

Alutia, golde ore.

Aluus, ui, fœ.ge. a healy. also an hyue, a panche, the wombe of a woman. sometime it is taken for the excrementes.

Aluum bonam facere, to make soluble.

Aluum ciere, mollire, vel elicere, to make the healy louse or soluble.

Aluum deijcere, ducere, euacuare, exinanire, to purge the healy.

Aluum sistere, firmare, compescere, to stoppe or bynde the healy.

Aluum gestare, to be great with childe.

Alui resolutio, the lousyng of the healy.

Alui profluuium, the laske.

Alutraenses, a people of Istria.

Alypia, idem quod Alypon.

Alypon, in Dioscorides, is of some supposed to be that, which is commonly called Sena, wherwith melancoly is purged. After plinie it is a stalkie herbe, haupnge a soft toppe, not vnlyke to beetes, tarte and eiger in taste, sharpelye bytynge, and inflatiue.

Alysson, an herbe that differeth from Rubia, onelye in that it hath small leaues und braunches, it maie be called purple goose grasse.

Alyssos, or Alyssus, a well of Arcadie, the water wherof healeth them that be bitten with mad dogges.

A ANTE M.

AM, a preposicion vsed onely in composicion, and signifieth about.

Amabilis, le, amyable, woorthy to be loued, louely

Amabilitas, âtis, f.g. denomin. amiablenes, louelynesse.

Amabiliter, aduer. amiably, louyngly.

Amâbo, an interiect. of felowship, of good felowship, I praye you, of al loues, as euer thou wilt dooe me good turne, a familiar woord vsed among frendes.

Amabo te, and ama me, of the same vse and signification.

Amabundus, a, um, he that is a greatte louer or amorous.

Amadryades, loode, Hamadryades.

Amafanius, an yll interpretour of woordes.

Amalthea cornu, A prouerbe signifiyng great plentie, and abundance of thynges.

Ama me, truly, beleue me.

Amana, a citee of Media.

Amandâtio, ônis, f.g. verbale, a sendyng away: a banishment.

Amandâtus, a, um, sent away.

Amándo, âui, atum, are, act. to countermande a way, to send away.

Natura procul amandauit a sensibus, id est, amouit.

Amans, mantis, om.g. patt. he or she that loueth as well honestly, as vnhonestlye, louinge, and substantiuely a louer.

Tui amantissimus, one that loueth you extreamelye wel.

Amantes doloris, peinfull men.

Amánter, aduerbium qualitatis, louyngly.

Amanuensis, ensis, ma.g. a clerke or secretary als wate attendynge, a scribe.

Amaracinum, ne. ge. an oyle made of maioram, good to make warme and souple the synewes.

Amaracinus, a, um, that is made of maioram.

Amaracus, an herbe called soote maioram, or maioram gentle. It is also called Sanctucus. But Galene saith, that Amaracus is that herbe, whiche the apothecaries call Matricaria.

Amaranthus, thi, m.g. an herbe, of the whiche be two sortes: the flower of the one is yelow, and hath hath a foote fauour, called also Helichryson: of Theodorus, Aurelia: of Apothicaries Sticas citrina, in Englishe maudlene wooꝛt oꝛ Baltasar. Thother groweth a foote in height, and hath leaues lyke basyle, and a flowꝛe facioned lyke an eare rather than a flowꝛe, of coulour cꝛymosyn, and neuer dieth, wherof it hath his name Amaranthos: it hath no fauour, the moꝛe it is gathered the moꝛe it groweth agayne, and when all flowers are past in the wynter, then it beeynge watered, both sꝛyngе a newe. Plī. li. 21. c. 8. It is called commonly flos amoris, in douche Floramor, in frenche Passeue lute: in Englishe (as some suppose) Baldare, of other flowꝛe gentle, moꝛe cruely.

Amarè, bytterly.

Amarescо, uī, scere, to waxe bytter, oꝛ to bee bytter.

Amarice, a lytle thꝛubbe oꝛ busshe, called also Erice, Tamarice, Myrice, Briaria.

Amarico, aui, are, to make bytter, to make angry.

Amarillis, idos, a womans name.

Amariscus, an herbe called Mathis, oꝛ dogge fenell.

Amarities, ei, bytterneſſe.

Amaritudo, inis, and Amaricies, ei, bytterneſſe.
Implere amaritudinem inimici, to shewe ones selfe as sharp and cruell as if he were an ennemy.

Amaror, idem quod amaritudo.

Amarulentus, a, um, vexed with malice, very bitter, sꝛytefull, enuious.

Amarus, a, um, bytter, and by a metaphoꝛe very angry, cruell, peynfull, hurtefull, sꝛytefull, froward, vnpleasant.
Casus amari, aduerſitee. fert patienter casus amaros.
Dicta amara, sꝛytefull wooꝛdes.
Amara mulier, a curste queane.
Sales amari, bytyng scoffes.
Amariorem me facit senectus, age maketh me moꝛe austre, froward, vnpleasant.
Scripta amara, tauntyng wꝛytynges.
Amara mors, deathe peynefull, heaupe, vnpleasaunt.
Amarus hostis, a cruell enemy.
Amarus rumor, a sꝛytefull rumour.

Amasius, & Amasia, he oꝛ she that loueth, oꝛ is in loue.

Amasso, idem quod amauero.

Amatio, ōnis, f. g. a louyng, a wanton louyng.

Amâtor, ōris, masc. gene. a louer, oꝛ hee that is amarous.

Amatórculus, li, m. g. a small oꝛ simple louer.

Amatóriæ, aduer. lyke a louer, taken both in the good parte and the yll.

Amatórie, subst. the name of one of the Muses, called in Greke Erato.

Amatórius, a, um, that pertεyneth to loue.
Amatórium poculum, a dꝛynke charmed to make a man a louer.
Amatoria poesis, verses of loue.

Amátrix, tricis, f. g. a woman louer.

Amaurosis, is, vel sios, fœm. ge. the dymneſſe of the eien.

Amaxa, es, in latine Plaustrum, a wayne, lyke Hamaxa.

Ambactus, a seruaunt.

Ambages, bâgis, fœ. ge. a circuite of wooꝛdes, oꝛ a tale dꝛawen in lengthe.
De hoc nomine tantum legi has tres voculas, Ambages, ambage, ambagibus.
Ambage longa nos moratur. vix digne pueris ambages. Missis ambagibus.

Ambagiôsus, a, um, adiect. that aboundeth in suche soꝛte of speakyngе.

Ambar, oꝛ Ambarum, lyke Ambra.

Ambarualis hostia, was a sacrifyce made foꝛ the fieldes, with a sowe great with farowe.

Ambedo, ambedis, vel ambes, édi, ere, to eate oꝛ knawe about a thyngе.

Ambegni, were an oxe and a ramme, whan on euery syde of them lambes were bꝛought to bee sacrificed.

Ambest, idem quod circum est, vel edit.

Ambêsus, a, um, eaten by, oꝛ gnawen rounde aboute.

Ambidentes, sheepe of two teethe, of some called hogges, and of some theaues.

Ambidexter, stri, m, g. he that vseth both handes lyke well. And by a metaphoꝛe, he that taketh money on both the parties.

Ambigo, ambigis, égi, ere, to compasse oꝛ dyꝛne about, to doute, to be at controuersy oꝛ variance.
Vicini nostri hic ambigunt de finibus, our neighbours hereby are at controuersye foꝛ the boundes of their landes.
Deuijs itineribus ambigens patriam & declinans. i. ambiens patriam & non ingrediens:
Tacit. Nihil est quod inter homines ambigatur, in quo non &c. there is nothinge in controuersie betwene. &c.
Ambigitur, men doubte, oꝛ the controuersie is.
Nec ambigitur quin Brutus. &c,
Vrtica est ambigens & plantæ & animali, id est, medium quiddam inter animal & plantā, The fisshe called Vrtica, is of nature doubtful betwene a plant and a liuely creature.
Homo cum omnibus generibus ambigit, id est, ancipitē naturam habet ad omnia genera.
Ambigitur ius aliquod inter peritos, That lawe is in controuersie betwene lerned men.
Ambiguntur causæ proptor scriptum, causes be doubted of. &c.

Ambigue, aduer. doubtfully.

Ambiguitas, ātis, fœm. gen. doubtfulneſſe, vncertaynte.

Ambiguum, gui, a doubte.

Ambiguus, ambigua, um, doubtful, vncertayne, variable, vnconstant.
Ambiguus futuri, vncertaine what shal chance hereafter.

Ambiguus

Ambiguus lupus, is vsed of Ouide for a woulfe that was sometyme a woulfe, and eftsones chaunged into a man.

Ambiguus with a genitiue case: as, Consilij ambiguus, that knoweth not what he shal doe.

Pudoris & metus ambiguus, vncertayne betwene hope and feare what he should doe.

Scriptum ambiguum, a doubtefull writynge that may be taken diuers wayes.

Verba ambigua, woordes of double signification.

Vates ambiguus, that/profecieth thinges obscurely and darkly.

Ambiguus imperandi, vncertayne whether he myght gouerne yphe an emperour or no.

Fidei ambiguæ vir, a man of slypper credence, a man of small fidelitee, or he that kepeth not his promise.

Ambiguum non habeo, I doubte not.

Ambio, ambis, iui, ire, itum, ex am & eo, to trõpasse, to go about, to seeke for promocion, to desyre, to pray, to intreate, to make suite or labour, to sue or stande for an office, to seke vpon.

Multi illi ambiunt sponsam, manye sue to hir for mariage, or make suite, or seke vpon hir.

Ambitio, ónis, f. g. inordinate desyre of honour or authoritee, ambition. Also the seekynge for the fauour of men, earnest suite or labour in a matter. sometyme obsequy, and willynge readynesse to doe any thyng.

Non puto existimare te ambitione me labi, I doe not thinke that you iudge me to erre that I may get fauour.

Nullo officij aut ambitionis in quemq; omisso genere, emptynge no kynde of gentle seruice or obsequy towarde any man.

Ambitione summa à populo contenditur magistratus, with great importunitee or very importune suite.

Ambitiósè, adue. quali. prowdely, curiously with great labour.

Ambitiosè aliquid facere, to doe a thyng with much affectacion.

Ambitiósè in istis, one that dooeth effectate or vermuche grauitee or sadnesse.

Ambitiosè corrigere orationem, to correcte an oracion, alterynge but a very litle, as they do that be loth to displease the maker.

Ambitiósus, a, um, that hath a great compasse or circuite, that coueteth ouermuche to haue the fauour of men, or to get glory and honour, ambicious. Meruailous earnestly and studiously done. superfluous, nothynge to the purpose.

Ambitiósus amnis, a ryuer that hepeth a large compasse or circuite.

Ambitiosæ amicitiæ, feigned amitee, wherein bee many gay woordes, and small frendshyppe, pretected frendshyp.

Ambitiosa decreta, ordinaunces published by the suite, fauour, and frendshyp of men.

Ambitiosa diligentia, to curiouse diligence, whan a man endeuoyeth to get fame and praise, or to currie fauour.

Ambitiosus iudex, a iudge desirous of the fauour of men, lothe to displease.

Ambitiosa ornamenta, superfluous ornamentes, which be onely for ostentation.

Ambitiosæ sententiæ, sentences pronounced for fauour or frendshyp, and not of a right consience.

Si ambitiosis vtilia præferet, if he will preferre profitable things before such as be superfluous.

Ambitiosæ preces, affectuall desyres.

Ambitiósus, si, masc. gen. he that immoderately desyreth honour.

Ambitus, ambitus, m. g. a circuite, or inclosure. also the offence of ambition made by the lawes, the inordinate suite to obteyne the fauours of men by bribyng or other meanes. also a periode.

Ambitus ædium, the compasse of the house round about.

Ambitus verborum, a full or iuste periode.

Ambitus, ambita, tum, part. enuironned or compassed, intreated or sued vnto with many desyres and prayers.

Ambiti honores à principe, honours, promotions, or offices desyred and purchased of the prynce by great suite.

Ambo, ambæ, bo, nom. collect. bothe.

Amblotiridion, a medicine, whiche in women prouoketh trauelyng before the tyme.

Ambra, a verate sweete thyng, which is founde on the sea by a countrey called Zingi, in the laste parte of the worlde, and is (for his gray colour) commonly called (of the apothecaries) Ambragrisia, Ambergrise. Herof are made veray precious and cordiall medicines. It is hot in the seconde degree, and dry in the fyrst.

Ambrices, tyles whiche be layed ouerthwart betwene other tyles.

Ambrones, people of Fraunce.

Ambrosia, brósiæ, f. g. signifyeth immortalitee, it is cald of the paynyms the meate of the gods. It is also after Plinie a name applied to diuers herbes, some called it Artemisia a kynd of Mugwurt, or Tansey: other call it Botris, whiche is one of Hierusalem, other apium rusticum, some Iliũ. Ruellius, saith the herbe which is properly called Ambrosia, hath small leaues lyke rue, and that in his countrey it groweth muche amonge corne, so that mowers are wonte to make their garlandes of it. It is called also Vinosa herba, because it hath a sauour lyke wyne. This name Ambrosia, wandered in diuers thynges. For were it meate, or drynke, or herbes, whiche for the delicatenesse therof, was offred to the godds in sacrifyce, they called it by that name.

Ambrósia, is also the feast of Bacchus, vsed to be kept in the moneth of January.

Ambrósia alendus, a prouerbe signifiyng that one is worthy to be a god.

Ambrosica, cæ, a kynde of grapes.

Ambro-

Ambrosius, and Ambrosiacus, a, um, adiec. of or perteynyng to Ambrosia. also sweete, pleasant, delectable.

Ambrum, a blacke gemme or stone.

Ambubaiæ, arum, plur. dzunken dzabbes that wander aboute the stretes.

Ambubeia, or ambugia, the common cyhorie, with the longe leafe, and blewe flowre, whiche wyll close at the goyng doune of the sonne, and open at the sprynge.

Ambulacrum, lácri, n.g. a pzyuate place to walke in, a galery, an aley in a gerdeyne, a walke.

Ambulatio, ônis, fœ.ge. verbale, walkyng, or a walkyng place, a walke, a galery.

Ambulatilis, that walketh or goeth.

Ambulatiuncula, læ, f.g. a little walke.

Ambulâtor, tôris, fœ.gen. verbale, a walker or styrar.

Ambulatórius, a, um, and ambulatilis, le, that goeth on wheles, or may be remoued from place to place, as Turris ambulatoria, a towre in warre, that may be brought to and fro.

Ambulatrix, icis, f.g. a woman that walketh.

Ambulo, ámbulas, áui, áre, to walke or styre about, to go.

Ambulare in ius, to come before a iudge.

Ambulant aues, when birdes goe by steppes, as the crane and other doth. and doue not hoppe as the sparowes dor.

Ambulant aues, fluun, uaues apud Plin.

Ambulat hoc caput per omnes leges, This clause is often repeted in the lawes.

Cum Xerxes maria ambulauisset, when Xerxes made a bzidge and went ouer the sea.

Si duo scandia ambulentur, passiue apud Pli.

Amburbale, or amburbium, a sacrifice, whan the beast that is sacrificed goth about the citee.

Amburo, bûris, úsi, rere, to bourne all aboute.

Ambústio, ônis, f.g. a bournyng, or parchyng.

Ambustus, a, um, bourned by, or scalded.

Ambustus ad cinerem, bourned to ashes.

Ambusta aquis, thinges scalded.

Ambustum fulminibus, blasted with lightenynge.

Amecus, & ameca, olde wryters vsed for amicus & amica.

Ameia, æ, f.g. the sede of an elmetree.

Amella, æ, f.g. an herbe, whiche groweth muche about the ryuer Mella in fraunce.

Amellus, the flower of that herbe.

Amemelides, a kynde of medlars, wherein bee fiue stones.

Amen, a woorde of hebzue, whiche after the interpzetation of Aquila, signifieth fideliter, after the. 70. interpzetours, it signifieth Fiat, bee it.

Amens, ménus, adiect. madde, rageyng, without all counsell or aduisement, out of his witte.

Amens animi, madde.

Amentatus, a, um, the participle of amento, that is tyed with a thonge.

Amentia, méntiæ, f.g. denom. folye, madnesse,

Amento, áui, áre, to fasten a littell thong, or a like thynge on a dart or iauelyn.

Amentatæ hastæ, iauelynes with thonges to holde by, or dartes.

Amentum, ti, neu.ge. a thonge, or that whiche is bounden to the middes of a darte or iauelyn, wherwith it is throwen, a strope or a loupe. it is also the oke appull, or a rounde thynge that groweth on an ohen leafe.

Ameos, idem quod ammi.

Amerimnos, signifieth with care or thought.

Amerimnon, is also an herbe called Aizoon marius, loke there.

Ames, ámitis, m.g. a perche for a bryde to syt on, a little forke, wheron nettes be sette in hawkynge or huntyng.

Amethodus, a, um, without methode or way in teachynge.

Amethystinatus, one apparayled in colour lyke to the amethist.

Amethystinus, a, um, of an amethiste, coloured lyke an amethyst, violette.

Amethystus, ti, masc. ge. called also Anterites, is a precious stone, called an amethiste, whiche is of a purple colour, but the more it is myxte with rose colour, the better it is. Amethystus, is also a kynde of grapes, the wyne wherof doth neuer make men dzunke. also an herbe in colour lyke wyne.

Ametor, ôris, m.g. he that is without mother.

Ami, an herbe called in englysshe Amy.

Amia, æ, f. g. a fysshe lyke a tunny, but he hath no scales, but a playne skynne, which skyneth lyke to syluer mixt with blewe. And his tayle is in facion lyk the newe moone, wher encreaseth so much euery daie, that it maie sencibly be perceyued.

Amianthon, is of Ericius Cordus supposed to bee a stone, whereof bee made matches lyke to thzeedes, whiche beyng ones on fyre, are neuer extincte or put out.

Amiartus, idem quod amianthon.

Amica, æ, fœm.ge. a woman that is loued. also a concubine.

Amicábilis, le, frendely.

Amicé, aduer. quali. lyke a frende.

Amicibor, for amiciar, I will be clothed, draped, or aparayled.

Amicinum, ni, neu.ge. a canne or potte, but after Hozman it is the hyngyll of a bottle, or the nose of a bottell.

Amicio, ámicis, ciui, mictum, ire, to clothe, to put on a garment.

Amicitur chartis, it is put, wrapped, or couered in paper.

Amicior, ictus sum, iri, to be cladde.

Amiciter, frendly.

Amicitia, ciæ.f.g. amitee, or frendshyp.

Amicitiai, in the genitiue case, for amicitiæ.

Amicities, ei, for amicitia.

Amicitia est inter res inanimas. Pli. Amicitia est

est rutæ cum fico, the nature of rue and of a figge hath great affinitee and doe wel agree.
Fons amicitiæ, the fountayne or begynnyng.
Ius amicitiæ, the ryght of frendshyp.
Par amicitiæ, two notable frendes.
Ascribere aliquem ad amicitiam, Accipere in amicitiam, to admitte one to be his frend.
Amicitia claudicare videtur, he seemeth not to be a sure and trustye frende: he seemeth to bee a feynt frende.
Amicitiam conglutinare, coniungere, coniugare, connectere, constituere, to ioyne or knytte in frendshyp.
Amicitiam pepegerat cum ea gente, he was alied, or ioyned in frendshyp with that people.
Amicitiam dirumpere, dissoluere, discindere, dissuere, dissociare, euertere, extinguere, tollere, violare, to breake frendshyp.
Amicitia mihi est cum eo, he and I bee frends.
Amicitiam conseruare, confirmare, colere, continere, tueri, to mayntaine frendshyp.
Pyladea amicitia, perfyte frendshyppe, suche as was betwene Pylades and Orestes.
Amicitiam alicuius, dimitterere, deserere, exuere, renuntiare, repudiare, to forsake a mans frendshyp.
Amicitiam gignere, conciliare, comparare, acquirere, parere, contrahere, to get or wynne frendshyp.
Amictorium, tórij, n.g. a lynnen rayle that women do vse to weare.
Amictus, a, um, cladde.
Amictus, us, m.g. verbale, a garmente or apparayle, or els the arayyng and clothing.
Amicula, æ, f.g. a diminitiue of amica.
Amiculâtus, a, um, couered, cladde.
Amiculum, li, n.g, a short cloke.
Amiculus, li, m.g. a diminitiue of amicus.
Amicus, & amica, a freend, a louer, he or she.
Amicus ac perneccssarius alicuius.
Amicus bonus, certus, charus, dulcis, fidus, iucundus, inops, nouus, intentatus, purus, tenuis, verus.
Amicus animi, Amator corporis est, amator ad tempus, amicus in perpetuum. Donat.
Amicus, a, um, propise, conuenient, frendly, pleasaunt, acceptable, fauorable: and ioygned to a thyng that lacketh lyfe, it signifieth profytable or holsome.
Amicus pratis humor, amica frugibus æstas, holsome, profitable, that doeth it much good.
Amicæ aures, fauorable.
Quies amica, pleasant.
Nec dijs amicũ est, i. non placet dijs.
Vento amico ferri, to haue a prosperous winde.
Vultu amico promittere spem, with a pleasant, amiable, or louing countenaunce.
Amilla, læ, f.g. the flower of camomill.
Aminææ vites, vynes growynge by Falerne in the roialme of Naples.

Amissus, lowe amassus.
Amissio, ônis, f.g. verb. the losse of a thing.
Amissus, a, um, losse.
Amita, ámitæ, f.g. my fathers syster, myne aunt.
Amitini, orum, mas. gen. cousins germains by brother and sister.
Amitto, misi, missum, tere, to suffer one to departe, to lose, to sende, to lette passe, to take fro, to cast away, to forgoe.
Vera rerum vocabula amisimus, we haue losse the true name of things.
Amittere animum, to leese his lyfe.
Aspectum omnino amiserunt, they cleane lost their syght.
Illum é conspectu amisi, I haue losse the sight of him.
Sensum humanitatis ex animo amisit, he hath cleane lost and caste out of his mynde.
Occasionem amittere, to leese an occasion.
Ne receptum amittam, that I lese not the place whether I may recoyle.
Amittere vitam per dedecus, with shame to leese his lyfe.
Amittere iusiurandum, to breake an othe, to lose credence.
Quod si non dederit, atque hic dies præterierit: ego argentum, ille iusiurandum amiserit. If he doo not paie it, and this daie do passe, I shall lose my money, But he shall lose his credence.
Amittere libidinem. Iam non possum, amisi omnem libidinem, I may doe no more, I am past all pleasure.
Amittere rem de manibus, to ryd ones hands of a matter.
Amittere hominem de manibus, to let a man go that was taken,
Amittere ciuitatem, to lose the liberte or franchese of a citee.
Amisit colorem, he hath losse his colour.

Ammi, or ammium, a litle whyte seede, it hath the taste of Origanum and is hotte and dry in the thyrd degree. it groweth moste commonly in Aethiope. The apothecaries (sayth Io. Agricola) haue not the very true Ammi, but in stede therof, they sel the sede of cheruple. it is named of apothecaries Ameos.

Ammochrysus, a precious stone, in colour lyke golde mixte with grauell.

Ammonius, nij, or rather Ammodites, ditis, m.g. a wourme much lyke an adder, a cubyte longe, in colour lyke grauell, with blacke spottes, and hath a very hard tayle. It is of some called Cenchrias.

Ammoneo, lowe admoneo.

Ammones, after some the herbe Coronopus, looke there.

Ammoniacum, niaci, n.g. called also Gutta ammoniaca, is a soote gumme, whiche the apothecaries cal it Beniempne. it issueth out of a caane, or (after plinie) out of a tree, called Metopios, whiche which groweth specially in Libia, where the temple of Iupiter Hammon stoode.

Ammonitrum, tri, n. g. the matter wherof white glasse was wont to be made of, lokes Plini. 36. li. cap. 26.

Ammorgis, ginis. the lyes of wyne, also a certaine herbe, wherof is made a purple colour, and garmentes therof dyed be called Vestes Amorgynæ. Amorgis, is also the thynne shynne of a caane or reede, lyke Amorgis.

Ammoueo, ammoues, mōui, ēre, for amoueo.

Ammenses, sium, f. g. citees nere to riuers sides.

Amnestia, forgetfulnesse of thynges passed.

Amnicola, læ, commu. gen. one that dwelleth by a brooke.

Amnicus, amnica, um, of the brooke.

Amnis, is, m. g. a ryuer or brooke.

Amnes sole exhausti, dryed vp with the sunne.

Euanescunt atq; exarescunt amnes, vanysshe away and be dryed.

Amni secundo deuehitur, he is caried downe with the streame.

Amnes alti, deepe ryuers.

Amnis piscosus, piacidus, purus, quietus, sedatus.

Amnis, rapidus, rigidus, sæuus, spumans, spumosus, turbidus.

Amo, amas, amāui, āre, to loue hertily, to loue wantonly, to be delighted in a thynge.

Amare certatim, to loue who can loue best.

Amare in matrimonium, to loue one to the intent to marye hir.

Diligere, amplecti, amare aliquem.

Amare quippiam plus suis oculis, to loue a thynge exceedingly well.

Amat iacere inter puluillos sericos, he loueth or he is delighted to lie. &c.

Amare, (absolutely) to be intangled in wanton loue.

Omnes qui amant, grauiter sibi vxorem dari ferunt, all that be in loue. &c.

Amare ex animo, to loue with hert and mynde.

Amare se in aliquo, to please ones selfe in any thynge.

In eo me valde amo.

Nisi nosmet valde amabimus, except we wyll stand muche in our owne conceite.

Seipsum amat sine riuali, he loueth him selfe better, or setteth more by him selfe, then all the worlde doth beside: spoken of one, whom no man loueth but him selfe.

Amare plus q̄ diligere.

Amas quod, for Gaudes quod. Amasque q̄ nusquam tibi sit potandum, id est, gaudes.

Amo te ex, or de hac re, I loue you, or I sette muche by you, or I thanke you for this thynge.

Multum te amo quod respondisti octauio. I thanke the hartely. &c.

Amat, for Solet, it is wont, or the facion is so.

Amodo, from henseforth, hereafter.

Amœbæum carmen, verses songe by course, whā one answereth to the other, with equall numbre of verses, and speaketh either a contrary, or a farre greatter thynge, lyke to Virgyls thyrde Eclogc.

Amœna, orum, n. g. a substantiue, pleasaunt and delectable places, goodly to beholde.

Amœnitas, ātis, fœm. ge. pleasure, delectablenes, myrth.

Amœniter, merely, pleasantly.

Amœne, idem.

Amœno, aui, are, to make merry or glad.

Amœnus, a, um, pleasaunt or delectable.

Amœnum ingenium, a pleasaunt witte.

Locus amœnus, a delectable place.

Amolior, liris, litus sum, liri, to remoue or putte away with great payne. sometyme to confute.

Amoliuni hinc, get you hence.

Amoliri periculum, to putte away perill or daunger.

Amomis, idis, an herbe lyke to Amomum, without sauour or fruite, and hath a flower lyke to Organent.

Amōmum, mōmi, n. g. is a little bussche wrapped roundē together like a cluster of grapes and hath a little flowre lyke a whyte violette, the leaues lyke withwynde, or whyte vyne leaues. The best commeth out of Armenia, whiche is yelowe as golde, the wood somewhat red, and very soote in sauour. They be deceiued (saieth Ruellius and Agricola) that take it for the rose of Hierusalem, called also our ladies rose.

Amor, mōris, m. g. loue, sometyme lecherous lust. sometyme it is taken for Cupido, the god.

Amor amarus, vnpleasant or hurtfull loue.

Acer amor, vehement loue.

Aequare amorem, to loue one as hertely as he is loued.

Amore inflammare animum, to sette ones hert on fyre with loue.

Ardentes amores excitare et sui, it would make men meruaillously in loue with it.

Amorem ægrum solatur testudine, he comforteth his louesicke mynde with playyng on the lute.

Amoris flammas compesce, stente the rageyng flames of loue.

Amor habendi, courtousnes.

Alendus amor verbis dulcibus.

Amplecti amore aliquem, to loue one.

Ardere amore alicuius, to be exceedingly in lone with one.

Flagrare amore idem.

Captus amore, entangled in loue.

Componere amores, to make loue balades.

Frænare amorem, to bridle his loue.

Teneri amore alicuius to loue.

Ad nostrum amorem nihil potest accedere, our loue can not be greatter.

Amores, wanton pastymes or pleasures, wherein we delite. sometyme a person whom we loue.

Quid amores ac delitiæ nostræ Roscius? our derelynge derelyng and only delight.

Amorabundus,a,um, that is amorous.
Amorgis, ginis,suche a kynde of lyne, wherof is made rapnes or Lynes, lyke Amorgis.
Amorphus,phi, without shape or figure.
Amosio,for annuo.
Amótio,ónis,fœm.gen. verb. a remouynge or puttyng away.
Amouco, ámoues, mótum, móui, ére,to remoue, to put from a place or a thynge, to putte away, to lay aside,to take away.
Amouére crapulam,to parbrake, whan one is dronke.
Amouere suspitionem ab aliquo, to put one out of suspition.
Lex virgas amouit ab omnium ciuium corporibus, the lawe forbiddeth that any citesyn shoulde be bette with roddes.
Amouére segnitiem, to caste away slouth.
Amouére aliquem ab officio, to put one out of his office. A se culpam amouet, he putteth the faute from him selfe.
Amouere metum, to put away feare.
Amoueri in insulam, to be banished or caryed away into an plande.
Per fraudem amouit, he toke it away by diseite.
Ampelitis, a kynde of toughe earthe, like the lyme called Bitumen.
Ampelodesmon, an herbe, wherwith they make bondes to tye vynes.
Ampelocarpus, lyke Omphelocarpus.
Ampelos agria, called Labrusca, a wylde vyne. also an other herbe, diuerse from Labrusca, has vynge harde leaues of the colour of asshes, and seede lyke the kernell of a pomgranade. Plini. li. 27. Cap. 7.
Ampeloleuse,es, fœ. ge. a whyte vine, called also Ophiostaphilos, Melothros, cõmonly Bryonia, it groweth in hedges and bushes, in Englyshe Wyponie.
Ampelomelæna,f.g. of some is also named Bryonia, and Chironia, of the latines Vua tamina, and Vitis nigra,it hath leaues like pure, but somewhat bigger, and clymynge by bushes taketh holde with tendrelles, as a vyne doeeth.
Ampendices, olde wryters vsed for appendices.
Amperoprason,si, neu. gen. porrum siluestre, an herbe which groweth in vynepardes, haupng an head like to garlicke. a leafe like to spurge, or to a leke blade after some, a purple flower, and seede like to cresses.
Amphi, in latine Circum, about.
Amphibia,orum,neu. ge. bydes or beastes that do lyue as wel on the water as on the lande.
Amphibion,idem quod Aloe.
Amphibolia, amphibologia, æ, f.g. or amphibolon,li,neu.gen. a forme in speakynge, where a sentence may be taken two sundry or contrary wayes.
Amphibrachus,chi,m.g. a foote of meter beynge of three syllables,the fyrst and last short, and the middell syllable longe, as Cupido.
Amphicarpa,orum,n.ge. that beare on bothe sydes double fruite.
Amphicaustis, a kynde of barley growynge on mountaines.
Amphicyrtos, is the state of the moone, whan it is not come to the diameter or iust middle.
Amphidoxon,i,n.g. that, the contrary wherof both happen often times.
Amphimacrus, phimacri, masc. gen. a foote in meter, the fyrst syllable and laste longe, the middell shorte.
Amphimalla,orum, n.ge. clothe or garmentes feyled on bothe sydes.
Amphimaschala,orum, ne.ge. clothes feyled on both sydes, that substantiall and honest persons vsed.
Amphimerinon, a feuer cotidian, whiche cometh of fleume.
Amphippi, called of Plinie Desultores, soudiours that vsed to leape from one horse to another.
Amphisbœna, næ,f.g. a serpente, haupnge two heades, wherof the one is before, the other behynde, where his tayle shoulde be.
Amphitana,æ. f.g. a precious stone, the brimme or edge wherof shineth like golde.
Amphitapa,pæ.f.g. a garment or couerlet that is rough on both sydes.
Amphitalami,orum,m.g. a kynd of chambres.
Amphiteatrum,ti,n.g. a cuppe, whiche wil stande on euery syde and hath diuers botomes. Also a great mugge or drynkyng potte.
✠ Ex amphiteatro Christi, a prouerbe spoken of one that hath dronken vnmeasurably.
Amphitheatrális, le, and Amphitheatricus, a, um,of or pertaynynge to a theatre.
Amphitheatrum,tri, n.g. a rounde place made with seates or stakoldes, where men beheld plaies.
Amphitheatrales ludi, plaies exercised in those places.
Amphytrionides,ónidis,m.ge. he that commeth of the lyne of Amphitrio.
Amphora,æ,f.g. called also Quadrantal, an olde measure of Rome. It is a foote square euerye way and containeth. 48. of the olde measures called Sextarij, of our englyshe measure. v. gallons. In weight it conteineth. 80. pounde of wyne. 72. of oyle, of honye. 120.
Amphora is also, a wyne vessell that hath two handles, a great tanketh.
✠ Amphora, a measure (after Budeus) beeynge a foote square euery way,conteinyng three of the measures called Modij, two Vrnas. 48. Sextarios,euery Sextarius conteining a wine pinte and a halfe, that is. 24. ounces, whiche is in weight. 11. pounde Romaine, or a pounde and an halfe of common habber deposse weight. So that Amphora conteyneth of wyne. 72. pintes, that is iuste. 15. gallons: In weight 96 pounde

Romaine

Romaine, after .xii. ounces to the poundt. 72. pounde weight, after .16. ounces to the pound. and by this coumpte Amphora is more then our bushell .16. pounde. for our bushell is but. 56. pounde. If Sertarius, after plinions, be but .18. ounces, or .20. ounces, Amphora conteyneth lesse then our bushell .2. pounde, or there aboute.

Amphoralis,le, adiect. that conteyneth the measure of Amphora.

Amphorarius,ri,m.g. he that beareth the potte, a tankarde bearer.

Amphoteroplon,pli, a double fraight or duetie that is payed when the shippe man undertaketh on warandise to conducte a man saffe forth, and bryng him saffe whome againe.

Ampiruo,aui,are,n.g. is properly where in daunsynge lyke meuyng or countenance that one maketh, he vnto whom it is made, shall doce the semblable. it was firste vsed of the priestes called Salij.

Amplant, olde writers vsed for amplificant, they enlarge.

Ample, amply, largely.

Elate,amplecy loqui, to vse a lofty and bygh stile in speakyng.

Amplecto, vsed of olde writers for amplector.

Amplector,xus sum,ti,frequent. & à Priscianò inter communia numeratur, To embrace, to compasse, to loue hertyly, to receiue gladly or gredyly, to holde. sometyme to comprehende or conteyne. also to conceiue in ones mynde, or vnderstand.

Amplecti artem aliquam, to apply ones mind earnestly to a faculte or science.

Amplecti ius ciuile, to studie the ciuile lawe earnestly.

Amplecti officijs, to shew frendlye pleasures to one.

Non fortuito ad tuam amplitudinem meis officijs, amplectendam incidi, I dyd not geue my selfe by chance to shew such pleasures and ser uyce as I coulde vnto your honour.

Quod ego pluribus verbis amplecterer, for complecterer, whiche thyng I would declare or set forth to you in mo woordes.

Vt totum genus iudiciorum amplectamini .i. intelligatis, That you maie perceiue and vnderstande the hole course of accusations.

Medium hominem amplectitur, he taketh the man by the middle.

Amplecti amore, to loue.

Amplecti alicuius virtutem, to be in loue with ones vertue or honestie.

Me quotidie magis amplectitur, he loueth me euery day more then other.

Plebem nimis amplecti putabatur, he was thought to much to fauour the commons.

Amplector libenter talem animum, I receiue gladly and fauour such a minde.

Amplexari, for amplecti.

Amplexo, vsed of olde writers for amplexor.

Amplexor,aris sum,ari, frequentatiuum, deq. to imbrace or loue wel, to fauour or haue in estimacion.

Amplexus,plexus,m.g. verba. imbracyng.

Dare amplexus, to embrace.

Amplexus,ûs,f.g. verb. a deferryng of iudgement as concernyng mans life for some weyghty consideration.

Amplexus,a,um,part. a man accepted, whose iudgement is deferred vpon some difficultee or consideracion.

Amplificatio,onis,f.g. an augmentation.

Amplificatus,a,um,part. auct. augmented.

Amplificator,oris,m.g. verb. he whyche increaseth a thyng.

Amplisice,aduerb. noblye, magnifikelye.

Amplifico,aui,are,act. to augment, to make better, sometyme to extoll, to magnify.

Pretium rei alicuius amplificare, to enhaunse the price of a thynge.

Amplificare, authoritatem, gloriam, dignitatem alicuius, to encrease. &c.

Amplio,amplias,aui,are, act. to make more, to drawe to, to deferre or delaie a thynge in iudgement, to reprye.

Ampliare seruitia, to increase the numbre of seruauntes.

Ampliter, aduerb. largely, abundantly, magnyfykely.

Ampliter occupatus, let with much busines.

Ampliter testis, witnes of all the hole matter.

Ampliter mentiri, to lye shamefully.

Ampliter acceptus, sumptuously receyued.

Ampliter in cœna nobis opposuit, he serued vs at supper very sumptuously. or, he made vs a very sumptuous and costly supper.

Amplitudo,inis,f.g. greatnes of power or maiestie, noblenesse. sometyme it signifieth largnes.

Amplitudo terræ, the largenesse of the countrey.

In amplitudinem adolescere, to grow to great heigth and bignesse.

Amplitudine opum, in greatnesse of substance or ryches.

Amplitudo corporis, the bygnesse of the body, in proporcion to the length, sometyme the height or length.

Modica amplitudine simulachrum, a small or little Image.

Amplitudo animi, maiestee, noblenes of mind, haute courage.

Amplitudinem suam retinere, to continue in his maiestee and auctoritee.

Ampluagus,pluaga,gum, much wandryng.

Amplius, aduer. compara. ab ample, moreouer, more largely: sometyme vsed for Plus.

Terræ non amplius apparent, (absolutely) no more, no lenger.

Amplius, is somtime ioined with a nominatiue, sometime an accusatiue. sometyme an ablatiue case.

cafe. but ſeldome with a genetyue.
Amplius ſunt ſex menſes, it is aboue halfe a yere.
Amplius horas quatuor fortiſſimè pugnauerunt, they fought valiauntly moze then fower howzes, oz fower howzes and aboue.
Amplius liberorum . i . moze childzen.
Ceperunt amplius tria milia hominum, they tooke pziſoners. 3000. men and aboue.
Haud nummo amplius, not a peny moze.
Amplius deliberare, to take better auiſement.
Amplius pronunciare reum . i . ampliare.
Amplius morando, by longer tarying.
Hoc amplius, foz Etiam, vltra, præterea, furthermoze, mozeouer.
Amplius opinione, longer then we thought.
Cum eſſem aſſenſus, decreui hoc amplius vi tu &c. i . decreui præterea.

Amplus, a, um, large, wyde, great, abundant, noble, honozable, of great auctozitee and power.
Amicitia ampla, honozable oz great frendſhip.
Ampliſſimus ordo, was vſed foz the Senatours of Rome.
Ampli homines, honozable and great men.
Ampliſſimus magiſtratus, the higheſt office.
Ampliſſimum magnitudine, of paſſyng great bygneſſe.
Funus amplum, a ſumptuous and honozable buriall.
Res pecuaria ampla, when a man is a great graſyar, and hath great richeſſe of cattle.
Occaſio ampla, a very good occaſion.
Suos omnes per ſe eſſe ampliores volebat, his will was to haue all his frendes by his meanes to be the better.
Si morbus amplior factus eſt, if the diſeaſe be increaſed.
Fortunas ampliſſimas amittere. to loſe meruailous great treaſure and ſubſtance.
Ampliſſima familia natus, deſcended of a noble houſe oz linage.
Arbor ampliſſima, a bygge tree, and of verye great compaſſe about.

Ampluſtre, neut. gene. & plur. Ampluſtra, oz ampluſtria, lyke apluſtre.

Ampron, onis, m. g. a coyde oz chayne faſtned to the pokes, wherby beaſtes dooe drawe a wayne.

Ampulla, læ, f. g. an ople pot, moſt commonlye of glaſſe . alſo a bottle oz flagon . ſometyme it ſignifyeth a thyng that is blowen oz puffed.
Suetonius vſeth that woorde foz a drynkynge glaſſe. It may be called a viole.
Ampulla potoria, a drynkyng glaſſe.
Ampullæ per tranſlat. proude & ſtately woordes.

Ampullaceus, a, um, of ampulla.
Ampullacea mulier, Plautus ſeemeth to vſe foz a woman gorgiouſely aparayled.
Ampullacea pyra, a kynd of peares, in faſhion like a viole.

Ampullarius, rij, m. g. a bottell maker, a glaſſe maker, oz ſuche lyke.

Ampullarius, ria, um, idem quod ampullaceus.

Ampullor, laris, latus ſum, lari, depo. to ſwell foz pryde. alſo to vſe proude oz haute wordes in ſpeakynge oz wrytynge.

Amputatio, ónis, f. ge. verbal. a cuttynge of oz away.

Amputo, ámputas, dui. âre, act. to cut of, to cut rounde about.
Amputare quicquid eſt peſtiferum in republica, to cutte oz cleane take away the occaſion of any great miſchiefe in the common weale.

Amſegetes, they whoſe landes lye by the byghe wayes ſyde.

Amula, ámulæ, f. g. a potte, wherein foz religion they caried water: it may be vſed foz an holye water potte.

Amulétum, ti, n. g. any thyng that is ordeyned ag aynſt poyſonynge. it is alſo taken foz euery thynge, whiche is hanged about ones necke oz arme, to preſerue from any inconueniences oz ſickeneſſe.

Amuletum, is alſo a certayne herbe called Cyclamini. lyke Plin. li. 25. ca. 9.

Amurca, æ, f. g. the mother oz fome of all oyles.
Amurcaria dolia, veſſels to put that fome in.

Amuſium, ſij, ne. ge. an inſtrument to kynde outwyndes.

Amuſsim, by rule oz lyne.

Amuſsis, ſis, fœm. ge. a maſons oz a carpenters rule oz lyne.
Ad amuſsim aliquid facere, to doe a thynge exactly.
Numerus ad amuſſim, the iuſt and euen number, neither moze noz leſſe.
Alba amuſsi, a prouerbe ſignifyng to doe a thynge without choyſe.

Amuſsitatus, a, um, made by lyne, wel proportioned, perfect, abſolute.
Amuſſitata, opera, exact and perfect diligence.

Amûſus, ſi, m. g. he that knoweth no learnyng, an ignozant idrote.

Amygdala, æ, fœm. ge. an almonde tree, ſometyme the almonde.
Amygdalæ faucium, certayne kernelles in the nethermoſt parte of the mouth.

Amygdaliceus, a, um, lyke an almonde.

Amigdalinus, dalina, um, of almondes.

Amygdalites, dalite, f. g. an herbe, the leafe wherof is lyke to an almonde, a kynde of ſpurge.

Amigdalum, li, n. g. an almonde.

Amigdaliceus, a, um, of oz lyke an almonde, oz almonde tree.

Amylum, is a thynge made of wheate three monthes olde, whiche is laied in water tyll it wexe ſoft, the water beynge chaunged . v. tymes in the daie, and as often in the night: and whan it wareth tender, and as ſoft as may be, than the water beyng ſoftly poured out, it is troden with mens feete, eftſones the water is poured out and troden agayne. Fynally the bran, whiche ſwimmeth on the water, is taken away with a lyue, and that whiche remayneth, be-yng streyned, is laied on newe tyles, and sette in the hotte sunne vntyll it be thorough dryed. This is verye medicinable agaynste distillacions into the eies, and pymples of the eies. Agaynste spittynge of bloudde, and myxt with milke, it rauleth one to be fatt.

Amymitia, tæ. f. g. a kynde of frankensens.

Amyris, a tree that hath a very pleasant sauour, but it bringeth foorth no fruite.

Amyron, idem quod Atractylis.

Amystis, a certayne drynke, whiche the Thracians vsed to drynke vp at one draught, wynkyng. Of some it is taken for the precious stone called Amithystus.

A ANTE N.

AN, an aduerbe of askynge, as, obsecro, an is est? I pray you, is it he? sometyme of doubtynge, as, Haud scio an illam amat, I can not tell whether he loue hir or no. It is vsed for Aut, as, Metu an contumacia? For feare or for stubburnesse? Anne, for An, both interrogatiuely and doubtyngly. An sometyme coloweth, Vtrum. Multum interest vtrum laus imminuatur an salus deseratur.

Annon, for nonne. An, is vsed for circum, of olde writers.

Ana, a beast in the east parte, which hath mighty and stronge teth, and longe clawes. also a barbarous word that phisitions now a days doe vse, for, singulorum partem, vel partes.

Anabasis, is, fœ. g. an herbe called also Equisetum, of the grekes Hippuris, in englishe (after some) horsetayle.

Anabastus, sti, m. g. he that rideth by poste horses.

Anabathrum, thri, neu. g. a pulpit or other lyke place, whiche standeth on highe, whereunto a man must go vp by a ladder or greces.

Anabalágium, lágii, n. g. a ueasture that couereth the shulders, some iudge, it may be vsed for a womans rayle or nyght.

Anabula, æ, f. g. a beaste in Ethiope, hauyng an head lyke a camell, a necke lyke an horse, and legges lyke an ore, and is of colour a bryght red, full of white spottes. Also an herbe called Lactoris, or Lactaria.

Anacacabea, æ, fœ. ge. a tree, or rather an herbe called also Lotus.

Anacácabos, bi, the fruite of that tree.

Anacamserótis, fœ. ge. an herbe, whiche by the touching thereof, restoreth loue betwene men, after most deadly hate.

Anacardium, ii, n. g. a tree vnknowen to the old grekes: it groweth in India, also in Sicilia, in the mountaynes, out of the whiche tyre commeth: The fruite thereof is lyke the herte of a littell bryde, & hath a redde iuyce lyke to bloud. The vulgare people of Sicilie and naples cal it pediculum elephanti, an elephantes louse. There is contained in the fruite hony, whiche dooeth cruiterate, and burneth the bloud and other humours, it rooteth vp wertes, and is holsome for the synewes, whiche be hurte with colde. by it selfe taken it is venym, but there is thereof a confection made by Rasis agaynste all colde diseases.

Anacephaleósis, sis, f. g. a shorte recapitulation or repetition of thynges before rehersed.

Anachites, a stone that is holsome agaynste poyson, and dryueth away madde fantasies, and bayne feare out of mens myndes, idem quod Adamas, the Diamonde.

Anachoresis, éos, f. g. wildernes, a solytary place.

Anachorêta, m. g. an hermite, he that lyueth apart, and out of company.

Anaclésis, sis. f. g. a reboundyng or beatynge backe agayne, a reuerberation.

Anaclinterium, rii, n. g. a mattresse to lye vpon.

Anacollia, those thynges the gumme whereof is medicinable agaynst corrupte heares,

Anacolûthos, a vice in wrytynge or speakynge, whã the words answere not the one to the other.

Anacrísis, the examination of a matter.

Anacreontius, a, um, of Anacreon.

Anactorion, idem aliquibus quod Xiphion.

Anadema, matis, n. g. a garlande.

Anadendromache, a plaister made of the leaues of holy hocke, or rather marshe mallow called Althæa, some take it for holy hocke.

Anadendrides, a certayne kynde of vynes.

Anadendron, the marshe mallow.

Anadiplósis, sis, f. g. is a doublyng of a woorde, as whan the last woorde of the fyrst verse, is the fyrst woord of the seconde, as,

Certent vt cygnis vlulæ, sic Tyrrenus Orphe⁹
Orpheus in syluis inter Delphinas Orion.

Anagallis aquatica, called also Sion & Lauer, an herbe named named in Englishe Brookelymes, whiche groweth in water, with a streight vpright stalke. whiche is fatty, and hath brode leaues lyke Ilyslaunder: but they be lesse, and haue a good sauour. Surgions dos vse it in healynge of woundes.

Anagallis, gállidis, fœ. g. an herbe, called vulgarely Morsus gallinæ, in englishe (as I suppose) Pimpernell: other take it for chickewede. This herbe hath both kyndes: the male beareth a red flower, the female a blue.

Anáglipha, & anaglipta, orum, n. g. vessell or plate of gold or siluer chased, as cuppes or bolles beaten with the hammer, and not ingraued.

Anaglyptes, tis, vel te, ma. g. he that woorketh suche vessell.

Anaglyptice, ces, fœ. g. the craft to chace or imboce plate.

Anagnostes, tæ, más. g. he that readeth to other men, as a bible clerke, or any other that readeth while an other writeth.

Anagóge, es, fœ. ge. the hygh and subtyll vnderstandyng of the scripture, or other thyng.

Anagraphe,

Anagraphe, es, a deſcripcion.
Anagyris, oꝛ, rus, an herbe oꝛ ſhrub very pleaſant to ſee to, and hath a fayre yelowe flower, but a verie horrible and ſtinkyng ſauour, looke Diоſ. li. 3. ca. 142. Some late Anagyrus, is a place in Attica, where groweth abundantly a very ſtynkyng herbe.
Analecta, ōrum, neu. gen. fragmentes of meate that fall vnder the table, and bee afterwarde ſwepte awaie.
Analectes, tæ, m. g. he that ſwepeth oꝛ gathereth vp broheletes oꝛ fragmentes.
Analectis, lectidis, f. g. lyke Analectides.
Analeptice, ces, f. g. a ſourme of dicte to nouriſhe him that is late recouered of ſickeneſſe.
Analeſia, æ, f. g. is a ſykenyſſe of the head, which taketh awap ſenſibleneſſe from the whole parties of the head, and cometh of the weakeneſſe of the ſtomake, oꝛ of to muche meate, oꝛ of to much lecherye, oꝛ dꝛynkyng muche colde water, oꝛ to muche ſtudye, oꝛ of indigeſtion.
Analogia, analogiæ, f. g. conueniencie, oꝛ pꝛoꝑoꝛcio, whoſe pꝛopertee is to conferre that which is doubtfull, with that which is lyke to it, which is moꝛe certaine, to make it moꝛe playne.
Analogiſtæ, arum, tutoꝛs that are not bound to make accompte to the pupilles oꝛ wardes, foꝛ the tyme that they had theim in tuition.
Analogos, pꝛopoꝛcionable.
Analphabeti, thei that haue not lerned their a.b.c.
Analyſis, ſis, f. g. a reſolucion.
Analyticum, ci, n. g. that whiche reſolueth.
Ananchitis, a pꝛecious ſtone, whiche magicians vſed.
Ananeſtides, (oꝛ rather Analeſtides) thynges made of cotton, oꝛ ſuche lyke, as it were littell pillowes that women vſe to ſette on their ſhoulders the better to faſhion their bodies.
Anangilos, idem aliquibus quod rebus.
Anantopodoton, a fygure in wꝛytynge, where ſome little clauſe is lefte out, eyther in the begynnyng, mydde, oꝛ ende.
Anapæſtum, ſti, n. g. oꝛ Anapæſtus, ti, m. g. a kynde of verſe
Anapæſtus, a foote in metre of thꝛee ſyllables, hauyng the two fyꝛſt feete ſhoꝛte, and the laſt long.
Anaphalis, idem quod gnaphalium. Diоſ.
Anapauomenos, ni, one that is at reſt oꝛ quiete:
Anaphora, oꝛ Apanaphora, æ, fœm. gen. a fygure called relation, oꝛ repetition, whan one woꝛde is reherſed in diuers clauſes. as, Verres adeſſe iubeat, Verres cognoſcebat, Verres iudicabat.
Anaphoræ, bee aſcenſions of the planets from the eaſt parte by the daiely courſe of the fyrmament.
Anarchia, æ, fœ. ge. when a people is without a pꝛince oꝛ gouernour, lacke of a pꝛince.
Anarchus, a, um, without a pꝛince, oꝛ without a begynnynge.
Anarrhinon, idem quod Hippogloſſum: alſo an other herbe diuers from that.
Anaſphoros, ferne.
Anas, ătis, fœ. gen. a ducke.
Anaſtomoſis, fœ. g. of phiſicions is taken foꝛ bledynge that commeth by reaſon of breakynge oꝛ rottyng of a veyne.
Anaſtrophe, es, f. g. a turnyng out of a common oꝛder: as, Italiam contra, foꝛ Contra Italiam.
Anatărius, a, um, of a ducke, oꝛ that kepeth duckes.
Anatărius, rij, maſ. gen. a keeper of duckes.
Anathema, thematis, n. g. penul. corrept. a man accurſed and abandoned to the diuel, as the Latines vſe ſacrum ſometyme to the euill parte.
Anathēma, thēmatis, ne. ge. penult. pꝛoduct. in holie ſcripture betokeneth ſeparacion, els where it ſignifieth a thyng offred oꝛ ſette vp in a temple oꝛ church, as images of waxe, ſyluer, oꝛ any other mettall.
Anathēmatizo, āui, āre, to curſe oꝛ geue to the deuell.
Anaticula, læ, f. g. a little ducke, a ducking.
Anatinus, anatina, um, like a ducke.
Anatociſmus, mi, m. g. reteinyng of vſury perely.
Anatomia, æ, oꝛ Anatome, es, f. g. anotomie, oꝛ cuttyng of men by phiſicions, to conſider the inwarde partes and membꝛes.
Anatrologitos, ti, ma. g. vnſkilfull oꝛ ignoꝛant in phiſicke.
Anauros, a ryuer in Theſſalia.
Ancæſa, orum, n. g. grauen veſſell.
Anceps, itis, adiect. om. ge. doubtfull, vncertayne. ſometyme it ſignifyeth double. alſo cuttyng on bothe ſydes, oꝛ that hath an handell at bothe endes, oꝛ two heades oꝛ faces.
Ancipiti mucrone, with a two edged ſwoꝛd.
Ancipites beſtiæ, beaſtes that lyue bothe on water and lande.
Ancipiti vrgentur bello, they are ſet on, both befoꝛe and behynd.
Anceps fortuna belli, doubtefull foꝛtune of warre.
Anceps cibus, a doubteful meate & dangerous.
Anceps ius, a lawe that is in controuerſy.
Ancipitia vocabula, woꝛdes that maie be vſed bothe to the good and euill parte.
Ancetum ti, ne. ge. of ſome taken foꝛ the wylde cucumer.
Anchilops, is ſuperfluous fleſhe in the greater cozner of the eie, wherunto humours gather.
Anchinum mel, a certayne hony made of oneig flowers gathered in the ſpꝛyng tyme.
Anchites, lyke Anachites, quod idem eſt.
Anchoĭa, æ, fœ. g. a blewe violette.
Anchora, anchoꝛæ, f. g. an ancoꝛe. alſo the gable, whereby the ancoꝛe is tied.
Anchoræ, the bondes, wherwith the ſayle parde is faſtened to the maſte.
Anchorāle, lis, ne. ge. a cable, wherwith an ancoꝛe is tied.
Anchoralis, le, idem quod Anchorarius.

Anchoratius, a, um, pertepnyng to an ancoze.
Anchuſa, æ, f. g. an herbe, called in France Orchaneta. women vſe it to ſet a ruddineſſe in their cheekes. it maie be called wilde Buglos, oz Oxchanet. Of the iuyce therof is dyed sanguine colour.
Anchyle, is an inciſion oz cuttyng of the cozdes of the necke oz iointes, wherebp the vſe of the member is let.
Ancile, ancilis, ne. ge. a ſhield without cozners, ſuche one in the tyme of Numa kyng of Rome, was ſeene fall out of the skie.
Ancilla, æ, fœ. g. a mayden ſeruaunt, it was pzoperly taken foz a bonde woman.
Ancillariolus, li, ma. g. a vile felow, that geueth hym to the loue of wenches.
Ancillaris, re, om. g. that pertepneth to a womã ſeruaunt.
Ancillor, atus ſum, âri, depo. to ſerue humbly oz diligently, oz to ſerue lyke a ſlaue.
Anciloglotſum, the diſeaſe oz lette in a man, oz childe, when we ſaie, he is tounge tied.
Ancillula, æ, f. g. a littell oz pooze wenche ſeruant.
Anclabria, orum, n. g. veſſelles, whiche pzieſtes vſed in ſacrifice.
Anclabris, bris, f. g. a table vſed in ſacrifice.
Anclo, áui, âre, lyke Anclo, aui, are.
Ancon, cônis, m. g. pzoperly an elbowe.
Ancônes, the coynes oz cozners of a wall, alſo amonge Geometricians, it is the bowynge that maketh the cozner, called angulus rectus, they be alſo certaine veſſels.
Anconici, orum, ma. g. certayne coynes, oz cozners that ſtand out in buildyng to beare vp any beame oz rafter.
Anchuriſma, matis, neu. g. the takyng awaie of a windie matter being diſſolued.
Anctuæ, the partes of the necke, where men leeſt choked. Alſo inſtrumentes, wherewith woundes are cloſed.
Anculare, olde writers vſed foz miniſtrare.
Anculi, & anculæ, goddes and goddeſſes of ſeruyng women.
Ancus, ci, ma. g. he that hath a crooked arme.
Ancyla, læ, fœm. ge. oz ancyclops, clopis, the ſtoppyng oz holdynge of a ioincte that it can not moue, when it commeth of a groſſenes oz obſtruction, oz by the ſtretchyng of a ſinew.
Anciloglosſi, thoſe which be bozne tonge tyed.
Andabatæ, arum, ma. gen. men that fought with ſwoozdes wyngyng, oz rather a hynde of plate.
Andianum vinum, wyne of Andrew.
Andrachne agria, an herbe, whiche the Italians call Illecebra, ſome thynke it Orpin.
Andrachne, nes, f. g. in greke, is in latine Portulaca, in engliſhe purſlane.
Andrago, ginis, fœm. gen. a woman hauyng a mans herte, a virago.
Andresemon, ſome wryte foz Androſæmon, lyke there.
Andródamas, androdamántis, m. g. a pzecious ſtone, hard and ponderous, bright like ſiluer, and in fourme is of diuers littell ſquares. it is founde in the ſand of the redd ſea, it putteth away the furye of pre, and the rage of lechery.
Andrógýnûs, ni, maſc. ge. a man hauynge both membzes of a man and alſo of a woman.
Andron, ônos, maſc. gen. a chambze, where into men onely do come. alſo a ſpace betweene two walles, wherevnto rayne falleth, a maner of gutters.
Andronæ arum, fœ. g. ſeates, whereunto onely men come.
Andronitis, tidis, fœm. ge. idẽ quod Andron.
Andronium, nij, n. g. a medicine foz the diſeaſe in the roote of the tunge called Vua.
Androſace, ces, f. g. Lozdus and ſome other ſuppoſe it to be that, whiche is called Cuſcuta, in engliſhe withwynde, whiche wyndeth aboute hyn and hemp. Muſa and Maynardus thinke the contrary: beleue whom ye lyſt. Dioſcorides deſcribeth it in this wiſe: Androſaces, is a bitter herbe, ſpreadyng abzode ſmall ſtalkes like ruſſhes, without leaues, hauynge littell coddes on the toppe, wherein be ſeedes: it groweth on the ſea coſt of Syria.
Androſæmon, mi, ne. ge. an herbe called ſainct Johns wooꝛt, oz rather Tutſane, and groweth in gardeins, and no where els, it beareth a yelowe flower. The apothecaries call it falſelie Agnus caſtus.
Andruare, olde writers vſed foz recurrere, to renne againe.
Anellus, lyke Annellus.
Anemone, es, f. g. an herbe lyke to rocket, the leaues are full of heles, the flower neuer openeth, but whan the wynde bloweth. Plin. li. 21. cap. 11. 23. In frenche, it is called Coquelourdes, oz cockes, of common appothecaries it is called Herba venti: ſome thynke it maie bee called in engliſhe, roſe perſiley. Eraſmus ſaith, Anemona, is a hynde of Poppie, whiche beareth a flowre like a roſe, but it hath no good ſauour: it groweth al about in the fieldes.
Anethum, thi, n. g. an herbe called dyll.
Aneuriſma, matis, n. ge. a cuttyng a ſunder of the ſinew, whiche conteineth the receptoꝛy of bloudde, oz takynge awaie the matter, wherein the ſpꝛytes be conteyned.
Anfractus, us, maſ. ge. wyndynges and tournynges, ſpecially in grounde. ſometyme a circuite oz compaſſe.
Anfractus ſolis, the tournynge oz reuolucion of the ſonne.
Anfractus iudiciorum, the perplexitee and hard doubtfulnes of iudgementes.
Anfractus littorum, the crooked windynges of water bankes.
Anfractus, a, um, that is broken round about.
Angaria, a conſtraint oz compulſion, ſeruage.
Angariæ, arum, f. g. ſome do expounde it a pzoꝛuiſion of poſtes in ſondꝛy places, foz ſpedynelle of messages. also certayne charges or offices that men take paynes in, as watching, carying of thinges from place to place in warfare. &c.

Angarij, orum, m. g. postes or currours, whyche goe in messages.

Angário, áui, áre. to constreygne one to doe a thynge.

Angelica, æ, f. g. is taken of Maynardus, for that whyche is called Ierander. John Tanstertetus, a well learned man at this time, supposeth that whiche Dioscorides calleth Morrida, to be our Angelica. Of thys herbe bee two kindes, one of the gardeyne, called herbe imperiall, as I thynke: an other wylde, named linge wurt, or longe wurt.

Angellus, a little corner.

Angelus, li, m. g. an angell. in greeke it properly signifieth a messanger.

Anger, a certayne serpente, after whose stingynge hapneth intollerable paynes.

Angina, æ, f. g. of the greekes called Synanche, is an inflammation of the muscle of the inner gargil. Of thys dysease be three kyndes. The fyrst is Synanche, wherin appereth neither swelling nor readnesse, but the bodye wareth leane, the membres are leused, and the breath is stopped. The seconde is called Vuisynanche, there appereth rednesse and swellyng, and let of speche with perynge. The thyrde is called Parasynanche, wherin onely the chekes do swell, the other tokens do not folow, the squince.

Angiologia, æ, f. g. is a poynct of surgery in the veynes of the temples hid, beinge deuided from temple to temple in depenesse.

Angiportus, tus, ma. g. or Angiportum, ti, n. g a great hole in the earth with many tourninges, or that whiche hath no vaye oute, or a lane in a towne, which leadeth the nexte way to a streete, or that which lieth on a hauen, wherby marchandise is caried from the water, or recaried.

Ango, anxi, anctum, ángere, acti. signifieth properly to thyrtle or strangle, and by a metaphore, to torment, vexe or trouble with care.

Angit animum illa cura, that care troubleth my mynde.

Angi desyderio.

Angi cruciatu timoris, to be sore tourmented with feare.

De Stathio manumisso non nihil angor, I am sumwhat troubled that Stathius is manumised.

Angor, ôris, m. g. properly stranglynge, anguish of body or mynde.

Angor nos afficit, anguishe or greke of mynde tourmenteth vs.

Angorem capere, to take sorow.

Angoribus & molestijs implicatus, wrapped in angyshe and payne.

Curam & angorem animi leuare: to mitigate.

Anguilla, læ, f. gene. an eele, whiche, as the best authours affirme, cometh wythout generation or spaune, neither there is of that kynd male or female, but be ingendred of the bowels of the earth, whiche is of claie myxt with moist earth: and that appereth by standynge pooles, where after the earth hath been throwen out cleane, after diuers showres of rayne, eeles haue bene founde. for in dyse wether they increase not, though it be in a ryuer. And they that fyndyng little thynges lyke heares or eales ioyned with theim, saie, that they are yong eeles, are deceyued. In the ryuer of Ganges in India, haue been founde eeles. xxx. feete in length.

Anguilla est, elabitur, he is an eele, he slypseth away.

Anguillarius lacus, a place where eeles be bred.

Anguiculus, li, mascu. gene. a little snake, or serpent.

Anguifer, a sterre, or signe.

Anguimánus, guimani, mascu. gener. an or lyphant.

Anguinum, ni, n. g a knotte of snakes rolled together lyke a bottome of threede.

Anguinus, and anguineus, a, um, of a serpente, or windyng and creepyng lyke a serpent.

Anguipedes, guipedum, m. g. certayne gyganters, whiche had crooked feete.

Anguis, fœ. & masc. gen. a snake.

Angueus, a, um, of a snake.

Anguitenens, idem quod Anguifer.

Angúlâris, re, or angulâtus, ta, tum, cornerde.

Angúlâtim, corner wise.

Angulôsus, a, um, full of corners.

Angúlus, anguli, m. g. a corner or narow place.

Angustatus, a, um, made streight.

Angustè, an aduerbe, signifyng straightly, narowly, peynefully.

Angustè sedere, to sitte very streicte or cloase.

Angustè vti re frumentaria, to spare vytaple.

Angustè scriptum, symply, and slenderly written, without copie of eloquence.

Angustius diffunduntur radices, the rootes dooe not spread so largely or so farre abroade.

Angustè & presse rem definire, to define a thynge brefely and in fewe wordes.

Angustius pabulari, to haue great scarsitee of forrage, or to haue very little roome to prouide for forrage.

Angustissime continere, to holde one very shorte, to kepe one in great daunger.

Angustia, æ, or rather angustiæ, arum, fœ. g. streightes and narowe places, that maie scantly bee passed by. sometyme perplexitee and trouble of mynde.

Verborum angustiæ, scarcitee of woordes.

Angustiæ æraríj, scarcitee of money in the comon treasory.

Rei familiaris angustia, small substance.

Pectoris angustiæ, faynte courage when men dare not enterprise great matters.

Angustiæ temporũ, aduersitee, or the troubles some state of any time, also, shortnes of tyme.

In sumas angustias adductus est, he is brought into a great streight, or he hath much a doe.
Angustitas, atis, a streyte, or streyte place.
Angusto, aui, are, act. to make streite or narowe.
Angustus, a, um, streite or nazowe, base, small.
Angustioribus foliis herbæ, herbes with narrowe leaues.
Nox angusta, a shorte night.
Rebus in angustis, in aduersitee.
In angustam subtilitatem terminantur venæ, veynes dwe ende very small and narowe.
Angusti animi & parui est amare diuitias, it is a poynt of a wretched herte, or base courage to loue rychesse.
Angustis interrogatiunculis aliquē pungere, to vexe or trouble one with shorte questions.
Angustæ disputationes, disputations with short argumentes.
Mensa angusta, a poore table, where is but small chere.
Angusta viarum, narowe waies, or straite passages.
In angustum venire, to be in some necessitee, to haue great lacke of helpe.
Anhelatio, ônis, f.g. verb. an harde or difficile fetchynge of breathe after vehement labour.
Anhelâtor, ôris, m.g. he that fetcheth his wynde often, or bloweth muche called a pursie man.
Anhelâtus, a, um, breathed out.
Anhelitus, helitus, masc. gene. breath or wynde of a man.
Creber anhelitus, thicke breathyng.
Recipere anhelitum, to take breath.
Mouere anhelitus, to make one to blowe or breath hardly.
Anhelitus terræ, a breath commynge out of the earthe.
Reddere & recipere anhelitum, to breath.
Anhelitus vini, belchynge after ouer muche drynkyng of wyne.
Anhelo, âui, âre, neut. to fet. he wynde, to drawe breathe, to breath out, and by translation to labour to haue or come to a thyng. to be very greedy or desirous.
Anhelare verba, to puffe out his wordes.
Amnis anhelat vapore, the ryuer casteth out a vapour.
Anhelâre scelus, with all endeuour to aspyre to naughtynesse and mischiefe.
Anhelus, hêla, um, adiec. that draweth his breath peynfully.
Annicêtum, ti, or anysum, or anisum, si, n.g. an herbe lyke to fenell, wherof cometh anyse seede.
Aniciana pira, a kynde of excellent good peares.
Anicola, æ, com.g. one the dwelleth by Amo.
Anicula, æ, f.g. a little olde woman.
Anilis, le, om.g. adiect. of an olde woman.
Aniles superstitiones, folishe and vayne superstition.
Aniles fabulæ, olde wyues tales that haue neither truth nor credence.
Anilitas, âtis, fœ.ge. olde age.
Aniliter, lyke an olde fole.
Anima, is a substaunce created, inuisible, mosse like vnto the immortall god, hauyng none ymage or figure, but onely of his creatour. it is called in Englysshe the soule. Sometyme it is taken for lyfe. Also it signifieth the breathe. otherwhiles the wynde. sometyme the water. Sometyme the ayre.
Animam adimere, vel extinguere, to kyll.
Animā debet, he oweth more than he is worth, he oweth so muche, that he hath not his lyfe but in lone.
Dic amabo, an fœtet anima vxoris tuæ? tell me of good felowshyppe, doeth thy wyues breath stynke?
Animas nostras negotiantur medici, Phisitions doe make marchandise of our liues, or doe by and sell our liues.
Animam puram conseruare, to keepe ones breath swete.
Animam comprime, holde thy breath.
Ego illi puteo, si occepso, animam omnem intertraxero, If I ones beginne I will drawe all the water out of that well.
Animam agere, to be a dynge.
Concedere animam alicui, to suffre him to leue.
Animam agere, effundere, mittere, edere, effiare, exhalare, expirare, exuere, relinquere to dye.
Claudere animam laqueo, to hang ones selfe.
Concedere animam alicui, to pardonne one his lyfe.
Obectare animam periculis, to put ones lyfe in ieoperdie.
Animas ademptas reddere, to restore to lyfe.
Intercluso animæ, the stoppyng of the breath.
Attrahere & redere animam, to breath.
Animæ meæ pars, animæ meæ dimidium, spoke of one, whom we loue exceedingely, my singular and especiall freend, my owne dere harte.
Anima follis, the wynde of the bellowes.
Animaduérsio, ônis, f.g. verb. iudgement, consideration, punyshement. sometyme study. sometyme condemnation or forfaite.
Animaduersionem remittere, to pardon.
Animaduersionem effugere, to scape punishemente.
Animaduérsor, soris, m.g. verb, he that punisheth, one that considereth, weyeth, and taketh good heed of any thyng.
Animaduérsus, a, um, parti. seene, knowen, perceyued, considered, punished.
Animaduerto, uérti, uértere, act. to consider, to take hede, to perceiue, to regarde, to sette mynde on a thynge, to beholde, to thynke, to punish.
Experrecta nutrix animaduertit dormientem circumplicatum serpentis amplexu, The nourice

nourpce awaked, and percepued the chylde, bee-pnge on sleepe, wrapped all aboute in the wyndyng of a serpente.
Animaduertur sues a facie, & progenie, & regione cæli, swyne be marked or consydered to be chosen, by their lokе, by their byerde, by the countrey where they be bredde.
Date operam, & cum silentio animaduertite, take heede, and with silence attend or marke well what I will say to you.
Ea sunt animaduertenda peccata maxime, quæ difficillime præcauentur, Those offences ought to be moste sharpely punished, which most hardly are eschewed.
Hæc re animaduersa, Cæsar iubet signa conuerti, That thynge beynge perceyued, Cæsar commaunded to aduaunce the standerde.
Animaduertere in aliquem, to punishe one.
Animaduetere rem aliquam, to haue respecte or regarde to a matter.
Animaduertere iniuriam, facinus, peccatum, to punyshe an offence or naughtie acte.
O facinus animaduertendum, Oh shamefull deede, worthy to be punished.
Animæquius, a, um, patient or sufferyng.
Anima, for animæ.
Animal, animâlis, n.g. all thynge that hath lyfe, and is sensible, commonly it is taken for a beast, a lyuyng creature.
Animalis, animâle, and animâbilis, le, adiect. liuely, that hath lyfe, or that pertaynyth to lyfe.
Animans, f.g. nõnunquam neutrius, idem quod animal, sauyng that it is more large. for it maye signify all thinges that haue spirite or lyfe.
Animâtio, ônis, fœ. ge. and animâtus, us, ma. g. the geuyng of the soule or lyfe.
Animatus, mâta, um, part. that hath soule or lyfe.
Animatus, a, um nomen, hauyng a fantasy or fauour to a thyng, or to be disposed.
Intelligebam socios infirme animatos esse, of weake courage.
Ita animatus fui, atque nunc sum, vt ea te patera donem, I had suche, a fantasy, and haue yet, that I woulde geue that cuppe to you.
Amabo, si quid animatus est facere, fac iam vt sciam, If he be disposed or mynded to doe any thyng, let me know it, I pray the.
Male animatus erga aliquem, angry, wrothe, or owyng small fauour to any person.
Bene animatus, contrary.
Animi, for cogitations or thoughtes.
Animellæ, the swete breade in a hog or other beast.
Animitûs, aduerb. from the verey soule or lyfe.
Animo, âui, âre, act. to geue courage or boldenes, to quicken, to geue herte or stomake.
Animari, to quicken or take lyfe, as the childe doeth in the mothers wombe.
Animosè, courageously, lustily, with a bolde courage or stomake.
Animositas, âtis, f.g. boldnesse, lusty courage.
Animôsus, a, um, bolde, stoute, courageous.

Animula, læ, f.g. dimi. of ad.
Animus, ánimi, m.g. the mynde, the will. sometyme it is put for the soule. sometyme for affection or delectation. sometyme for winde or blast. sometyme for wrathe. sometyme for a sowne.
Animus alienus, a mynde that fauoureth not a man.
Animos addere, to make one bolde, or to pryche hym forwarde to doe a thyng.
Animos comprimere, to abate ones courage.
Animos retardare, idem.
Animos efferre, to lyke high, or to be proude.
Animos lactare, to drawe mennes herts with fayre promises, to make fooles fayne, to bryng men in a fooles paradyse.
Animi pendere, to be in doubte what to doe.
Animi causa, for pleasure. Cur eam emit? T. animi causa, Wherfore dyd he bye her? T. for his pleasure.
Animo male est, it greeueth me at the verey hert.
Animo præsenti, with a bold spirit or courage.
Animo bono sis, be of good cheere, take a good herte.
Animo iniquo pati, to suffre vnpatiently.
Animo obsequi, to take pleasure, to folow appetite or will.
Animo morem gerere, idem.
Animum adjicere ad virginem, to set his loue on a mayden.
Animum adiungere, to apply or set ones mind on a thyng.
Animum aduertere, to take hede.
Animum appellere, to dispose or apply him to doe a thyng.
Animum ejicere ab aliquo, to pull affection or loue from one.
Animum abjicere, to despeyre.
Accendunt hæc animos, these thinges doe inflame mens stomaches.
Animum recipere, to take herte or courage. also to fetche breath.
Meruit defectionem animi mei, he feareth lest my herte will faple me.
Animum sumere, to take a good herte.
Animi amplitudo, great courage.
Acer & præsens animus, a quicke and ready wytte, a liuely mynde or courage.
Æquo animo ferre, to take patiently.
Animo altiore esse, to haue a lofty and hyghe mynde.
Animus angustus, demissus, simplex, humilis, iacens, minutus, infirmus, exiguus, paruus, pusillus, a vyle and base courage.
Animus amplus, excelsus, altus, fortis, ingens, magnus, a stoute stomache, a great or lusty courage, a noble mynde.
Animus auersissimus, a very froward minde.
Animo faciliore abuti, to abuse a gentil mind, or one gentlenes.
Hoc animo sum, I am of this minde.

Animus inflatus, a proude stomache.
Animo quidem meo, after my iudgement or opinion, as I thynke.
Animis mutuis amare, to loue eche other.
Linquí animo cœpit: he began to sounde.
Linquente animo incubuit &c. as he was aboute to sounde.
Animo abhorrere, to hate or be agaynst.
Animo abiecto homo, a desperate persone, a man forlorne, a man of bace courage.
Animus accessit nobis, our courage is increased
Animum adhibere, or aduertere, to attende or harken.
Animo agitare, to thinke, or cast in ones mind.
Animo concidit, his hert kaplerh him.
Pluribus ad fugam animus fuit, Many wer in mynde to flee.
Animus est in hortis, I thynke, or my mynde is on my gardeyne.
Animam inducere, to perswade.
Inducere in animum non potui: I coulde not perswade my selfe.
Pascere animum, to delite the minde.
A mare ex animo, to loue hartely.
Defectus animo, one that swoueth.
Noui animos eius et spiritus: I know his stomake and courage.
Exanimo tuo colligere potes, you may gather by your owne minde.
Mihi est in animo, or in animo habeo facere, I purpose, or I am in mynde to doo so.
Animus erga te idē ac fuit. i. voluntas, myne affection or good wille, is towardes you, as it was wont to be.
Animum alicuius recolligere alteri, to reconcile one man to an other, to bringe one in fauour agayne.
Noui ego amantium animos, id est, cogitationes, I know the affection & fātasies of louers.
Validus animi, stoute of courage.
Diuersus animi, vncertayne what to doe.
Largus animo, of a bountifull harte.
Animus impotens, an vnpatient courage, a proude or dogged hert an vnruly minde.
Animus tibi pendet, thou standest in doubte what thou maiest doe.
Anime mi, my dere hert.
Animule, idem.
Anio, loke Anien.
Anisum, loke Anicetum.
Annâlis, in the singular numbre, and annáles, in the plurall, are most commonly vsed for histories of actes perely doen.
Exannalium vetustate: out of auncient cronicles.
In tuo annali: for annalibus.
Est in annalibus nostris, it is in our cronicles.
Annales, le, that which is doen perely.
Tempus annale: the tyme that the compasse of the yere mesureth.
Annanus, nária, um, aged, or that whiche is doen perely.
Annaria lex, was a law in the .xii. tables of the Romains, wherby was appoynted, at what age, and duringe what time, great offices in the publike weale shoulde be taken and kept.
Annascor, nasceris, natus sum, depo. to growe, or be borne by a place or man.
Annato, aui, are, loke Adnato.
Annauigo, aui, are, to saple to.
Anecto, néxui, ctere, act. to knyt, fasten, tye, or ioyn to.
Cor annexum in lana ouis nigræ, tyed to in the wull &c.
Annecti ad linguam, for linguæ.
Annellus, a litteil ryngc.
Annexus, a, um, knitte or tied to.
Annexus, us, m. g. a tying or ioynynge to.
Annicto, aui, are, to winke at one.
Anniculus, a um, that whiche is of one peres age or groweth.
Annicula ætas, one peres age.
Annifer, nifera, rum, adiect. that beareth fruite all seasons of the yere.
Annisus, a, um, and annixus, a, um, the participle of annitor, that indeuoureth diligently.
Summa ope annixi or annisi sunt, They bente theyr mindes to it, and endeuoured with all diligence.
Annitor, anniteris, nixus vel sum, niti, depon. to resist, or to helpe, to sette to my mynde, loke admitor.
Anniuersārius, sária, um, that euery yere returneth at one time.
Anno, aui, are, loke Adno.
Annominatio, a figure, wherein is allusion of wordes, that sounde like, as Venit ā te antequam Romam venit.
Annôna, annónæ, f.g. vitaile, sustinaunce, or lyuynge, corne. sometime it signifieth findinge in meate, drinke, & apparayle. It is vsed also for a monethes, or a peres stipende or wages.
Difficultas & grauitas annonæ, scarsitee, and dearth of vitayle.
Vilitas, annónæ, plentee and good cheape of vitayles.
Inferre caritatem annónæ, and Incendere annónam, to make scarsitee or derth of vitayles.
Ingraueſcit annóna, vitayle waxeth dere.
Annona haud multum laxauerat, corne waxeth litteil better cheape, corne was styll at an hyghe prycc.
Laxior annona, better cheape of vitayle.
Prodesse annónæ, leuare annonam, to make corne or vitaile better cheape, or at a lower price.
Duplas consequebatur annonas, he had double alowaunce of vitayle, or so muche alowance in wages, as two other.
Conualescit annóna, there beginneth to bee more plentee of vitayle.
Graui annóna conflictari, to bee greeued with great scarsitee and lacke of vitayle.

Facta durior annôna, corne made derer.
Anonam incendere, or Excandefacere, to make victaile rise to a higher price.
Comprimere annonam, by bying of muche victaple and corne to kepe it at a high price.
Cressit annona, victaile ryseth to a higher price.
Flagellare annonam, to make victaile dere.
Annonârius, a, um, pertaynynge or bilongyng to victaile.
Annônariæ expensæ, expenses in bytaple.
Annonymos, a tree not muche vnlyke a pomegranate tree, it hath leaues betwene the bygnesse of that and a laurell.
Annôsus, a, um, aged, of many peres growth or continuance.
Annotatio, ônis, fœ. ge. a noting or marking of thinges for a special remembrance.
Annotâtor, ôris, ma. gen. one that marketh or obserueth.
Annotinus, a, um, of Annus, that is one pere old.
Vngues annotini, nayles of a peres growyng.
Annotinus, a, um, of Annôna, that perteineth to vitaple.
Annotinæ naues, shippes that cary corne or victaples.
Annoto, ánnotas, áui, âre, act. to note, to intitle, to marke or put a thinge in writyng for remembrance, to appoynt out, to regester.
Annotari, somewhat to be made notable.
Hæc litora conchylio annotantur, be famous or notable.
Vti is annotat, as he noteth or putteth in writynge.
Annotatum est, Pro obseruatum est. It was obserued.
Annotare cursim, to mencion a thyng briefely, to touche a thynge by the wape.
Ex noxiis lamendos annotauit. id est. decernebat. Of them that were hurtefull, he appointed whiche shulde be kylled.
Annotare reos absentes, when the iudge ordereth persones that be accused in their absence, to be sought for.
Annotare requirendos reos, idem.
Annuatim, yerely.
Annularis, re, om. ge. pertaynynge to a rynge.
Annulârius, rij, m. g. one that maketh or selleth rynges.
Annulâtus, a, um, rynged, or hauyng the fyngers ful of rynges.
Annulus, ánnuli, mas. gen. a rynge.
Annulus signatorius, a rynge with a seale, a signet.
Pala annuli, the brode place of the rynge where the stone is set, the colet.
Detrahere annulum, Induere annulum, to pull of, to put on.
Annulo sigilla imprimere, to sele with a ryng.
Annúmero, áui, âre, act. to number to, to adde to in number. sometyme onely to number. also to accompte, tell, or pate money.
Cum vates annumerarer, when I was counted amonge poetes.
Annumerat mihi argentum sua manu.
Annuntio, âre, act. to declare a message to shewe.
Annuntiare salutem, to greete or salute in an other mans name.
Annuo, ánnuis, ui, ere, neut. properly to nodde with the head. Also to affirme or promise, to assent or graunte, with noddynge to demaunde a question, or wyll one to do a thynge, to signifie or appoynt, to fauour.
Flauio assistenti annuentiq; an distringeret gladium, sittynge by hym and askynge.
Ego autem venturum annuo, I affyrme or promise, that I wyll come.
Annuit cœptis deus, god fauoureth that we go aboute.
Hoc mihi significasse & annuisse visus est, he semed to me, to signifie and make semblaunce as though he wolde saie thus.
Si deus annuerit, If god vouchsafe it. If god saie Amen.
Annuite patres conscripti nutum, id est. concedite, graunte to vs.
Annus, ni, ma. ge. is commonly called a pere, not withstandynge Annus, is diuided into thre significations. Annus lunaris, whiche is. xii. daies: Annus solstitialis, xii. monethes: Annus magnus, called also Annus vertens. 12954. peres: in whiche space of tyme the planetes and sterres returne to the same state, that they were in at the tyme, from whense we doo accompte. Josephus calleth the space of. 1000. peres Annus magnus.
Anno incipiente, in the beginnyng of the pere.
Alternis annis, euery seconde pere.
Agere annos extremos, to be in his laste daies.
Labuntur anni, the peres passe awaie.
Primis annis, in youth.
Anni extremo, anni exitu, fine anni, in the ende of the pere.
Grauis annis, aged.
Annus bellicosior, a pere, in whiche is more warre than at other tymes.
Cedere annis, spoken of wyne that wyl not abyde. Ferre annos, the contrary.
Annutrio, iui, ire, lyke adnutrio.
Annuum, a pencion or annuitie, a lowaunce for a pere in vitaile or wages.
Annuus, a, um, that dureth one pere, or that is done euery pere.
Regnum annuis vicibus habendum reliquit, he lefte his kyngdome so betwene them that eche by course shoulde gouerne his pere.
Annua dies, the space of a pere.
Annuum munus, an office for one pere.
Annuæ vices. course or succession yerely.
Annua febris, an yerely feuer.
Annua sacra, sacrifices done yerely.
Anodina, nodinôrum, thynges which by prouokyng slepe, do put away peines or greefe.

Anos

Anomalia æ,f.g. inequalitee, vnlyhenes,contrarie to Annologia.
Anomalum,anómali,neu.ge. vnequal, diuers, rough, that is not playne.
Anonis,nidis,f.g. vel Ononis, an herbe called Lammoche or rest harowe. lohe Ononis.
Anónium,anonij,n.g.an herte called dead nettle, or archaungel.
Anonymos,mi,without name: there is an herbe so called.
Anophytus,a,um, sprongen or growen vppon a thynge.
Anórmis,me,om.ge.without rule.
Anquina, anquinæ,f.g. the corde, wherwith the galle is bounde to the maste.
Anquiro,siui,irere, situm,act. to seke, to make inquisition or informacion.
De perduellione anquirere, to sit in examinacion of treason.
Anquirere capitis,or capite de aliquo, to procede against one in a great offence.
Pecunia anquirere, to pursue one to condemnacion, to haue amendes.
Anquyromachus,rómachi,mas.gen. a faction of ships or boates.
Ansa,ánsæ,fœ.ge. the eare or handle of a potte or cuppe. and sometyme it signifieth occasion.sometyme a latchet of a shoe.
Dare ansam, to geue an occasion.
Ansanctus,ti,m.g. on euery syde holy.
Ansátus,a,um, hauing an handel.
Ansatus homo, a man that goethe with his armes on kenbowe.
Ansegetes, lohe amsegetes.
Anser, ánseris,mas.ge. a goose. Thei treade to ingender in the water. They syt on their egges in colde countreies. xxx. daies, in warme countreies or wether.xxv.daies,as Columella sayeth. They were much made of by the Romans, for asmuche as whan the frenchmen beseged the capytole of Rome, thei within beynge on sleepe, the capitole had been wonne, if a certayne number of geese, perceiuynge the ennemies, had not cried: wherwith the Romayns awaked, and by the valyant prowesse of M. Manlius,slewe and draue out the frenchemen, wherefore geese were had in great reputacion: & prouision was made, that they shoulde neuer lacke meate.
Strepit anser, the goose crieth.
Velluntur anseres, gese are pulled,
Anséculus,li,m.g. a little goose or a gosling.
Anserinus,a,um, lyke or perteinyng to a goose.
Ansula,ánsulæ,f.g.a little handle or latchet.
Antacei,as Strabo writeth,be fisshes in the ryuer Boristhenes, lyke to dolphins without finnes, and be verey delicate and pleasant to eate.
Antachates,chátis,m.g. a precious stone,that sauoureth lyke myrre.
Antæ,árum,f.g.plur. iambes,also postes on eues by syde of a doore.
Anta,is redde in the singular number ones in Vitruuius.
Antæci, people that dwel in the contrary to Antisthones.
Antanaclasis,sis,f.g. a figure, whan there bee vsed. ii. contrary or vnlyke significations of one worde,as, Amare iucundum, si curetur, ne quid insitamari.
Antandros, a citie in Phrygia.
Antápocha,æ,f.g. the counterpane of a dede in writyng.
Antarcticus, the south pole.
Antarium bellum,battayle before a cite or towne.
Ante,before, a prepositon ioyned to an accusatiue case of tyme, place or persone.
Ante cibum, before he hath eate somewhat.
Ante lucem, before daie.
Ante diem tertium, id est nudius tertius, before the thirde daie after was finisshed.
Ante diem octauum idus Nouembris,before the.viii. daie of the idus of Nouembre was finisshed.
Ante oculos, before our eies,in our presence.
Ante pedes, before vs, prouerbially.
Ante oculos coram auduxisti, euen harde before my face.
Palam ante oculos omnium, openly before mens eyes.
Ante alios, with the comparatiue degree, Ante alios immanior omnes.
Ante alios, with a superlatiue, Ante alios pulcherimus omnes.
Ante me illum amo, I loue hym more then my selfe,
Ante alios hilaris, more merry than al the other .i. plus aliis, super alios.
Ante omnia, chiefely, specially,before all thynges.
In ante diem quartum distulit, he deferred it vntyl it was before the fourth daie.
Ex ante diem quintum, sens before the fyfthe daye.
Ante alios, aboue other, before other, more than other, or beside other.
Anté, an aduerbe of tyme, before.
Antéä,ante, aduerbes, before.
Anteactus,a,um, part. owne or paste before this tyme.
Anteacta vita, the lyfe that we haue led before, our former lyfe.
Anteámbulo, ónis,m.g. a lackey or other seruãt that goeth afore his maister, the vsher or treasurer that goeth before his maister.
Antecanis, a sterre.
Antecapio, antécapis,cépi, capere, to preuente, to take vp before.
Tempus legatorum antecapiebat, he preuented the embassadours.
Antecáptus,a,um, and after some anteceptus, part. taken vp before hande.
Antecedo, cédis, céssi, cédere, céssum, neutr. to go before, to excell, to passe. it is construed both both with an accusatiue and a datiue case.

Si huic rei antecedit, it is excell this thynge.
Antecedit me ætate, he is elder than I.
Antecedere precio, to be woꝛe costely, oꝛ of higher ꝓice. Antecedo illum vel illi.
Biduo me antecessit, he was befoꝛe me two dayes iourney.
Antecedens annus, the yere befoꝛe.
Antecello, lui, ere, act. to excell to haue ꝓeemi-nence.
Antecessio, ônis, f. g. a goyng befoꝛe, an excel-ling, oꝛ passing.
Antecessor, ôris, m. g. afoꝛe goer, an auncestour.
Antecessus, us, m. ge. semeth to be vsed foꝛ Anti-cipatio.
In antecessum dabo, I wyl geue oꝛ pay the mo-ney befoꝛe hand.
Antecœnium, nij, n. g. a colacion oꝛ drinkynge betwene dyner and supper, a boeuer.
Antecursor, ôris, m. g. afoꝛe ryder, a scuter.
Antedico, xi, ere, to shew oꝛ tel befoꝛe.
Anteco, ânteis, iui, îre, neut. to ꝓcede oꝛ excell, oꝛ to go befoꝛe.
Candore niues anteeunt, they bee whiter then snowe.
Anteire cæteris, vel cæteros virtute, to excell other in vertue.
Anteire ætate, aliquos vel aliquib⁹, to be elder.
Anteiri ab aliis, to be passed oꝛ exceded of other.
Anteexpectatum, an aduerbe, sodeinly, befoꝛe it was looked foꝛ.
Antefactum, a dede done befoꝛe.
Antefero, ânteferis, tuli, ferre, act. to put befoꝛe, oꝛ set moꝛe by.
Antefixa, orum, n. g. plur. thinges cast in moꝛtes, and set ouer doꝛes, vnder the caues dꝛoppynge, to beare of the dꝛoppes that fal downe.
Antegenitalis, le, an adiectiue of Ante & genitus.
Antegredior, gredêris, gressus sum, gredi, to goe befoꝛe.
Antehabeo, antehabes, habui, ere, to ꝓferre.
Antehac, befoꝛe this tyme, oꝛ befoꝛe that tyme.
Antelapides, stones set at both sides of a dꝛye foꝛ strength.
Antelatus, a, um, ꝓferred, sette befoꝛe.
Anteloquium, antelôquij, n. g. the first tourne in speakynge.
Antelucanus, câna, um, that whiche is befoꝛe day lyghte.
Antelucanæ cœnæ, suppers that continue from the euentyde to the sonne rysinge.
Antelucani venti, windes that doe blowe from the water, oꝛ from some creke.
Anteluco, an aduerbe, befoꝛe daie.
Anteluco, aui, are, to wake befoꝛe daie.
Anteluculo, befoꝛe daie light, oꝛ an howꝛe afoꝛe the sonne rysynge.
Antema, matis, the gardeine malowe, which was so named of Pythagoꝛas.
Antemalorũ, of cupls oꝛ mischoꝛtunes that be past.
Antemeridianus, a, um, that is, oꝛ that is done befoꝛe noone.
Antemon, a certaine saile of a shyp.
Antémna, næ, f. g. the crosse piece, whervnto the saple is fastned, the sayle yarde.
Anteoccupátio, ônis, f. g. a ꝓeuentinge of one in the possession of a thynge.
Anteóccupo, âui, âre, act. to ꝓeuente one in the possession of a thyng.
Antepagmenta, lohe antipagmenta.
Antepilani, a soꝛte of souldiours in the foꝛeparte of the Romains army of the which there were cõ-monly thirtie bendes called, manipuli.
Antepôno, sui, ere, act. to set befoꝛe, to ꝓferre.
Antequàm, befoꝛe, ere.
Antequàm de republica dicam, ere I speake of the weale publyke.
Anterior, and hoc antérius, comp. ab ante fine superlatiua. that is somewhat befoꝛe, foꝛmoste.
Antermini, orum, ma. ge. the inhabitantes of the marches oꝛ fronters of a countrey.
Anterotes, rôtis, mascu. gene. the warste kynde of Amastes, which hath a purple colour towardes a chrystall.
Antes, ântium, plur. mas. ge. outwarde pillers oꝛ postes, wherby the house oꝛ frame is sustey-ned, buttresses.
Antesignáni, ôrum, ma. ge. thei that be nexte the standerde, appointed to defende it.
Antésto, antéstas, stéti, âre, neut. to excel oꝛ stand befoꝛe.
Robore alios velaliis, antestat, he excelleth other in strength of the bodie.
Antéstor, âris, tâtus sum, stâri, depo. an olde woꝛde vsed among the Romains, whan one did arreste his aduersarye, to make hym appere in iudgement, whiche he coulde not doꝛe, excepte he tooke one that was ꝓsente foꝛ a witnesse, and therfoꝛe, antestari, is at suche a tyme to take one that is ꝓsent to witnes, whiche was doone by touhyng of the parties eare, and askynge hym whether he woulde be witnes oꝛ noe, if he answe-red: yea. then he might take his aduersarie befoꝛe the iudge, otherwise if he did it without witnes, he might be sued of an action of trespas by his aduersarie. But as it semeth by other, attesta-ry is to beare witnes oꝛ testimonie of such kynde of reste.
Antéfum, antéfui, anteesse, to excel an other in any thynge.
Anteuénio, anteuenis, uéni, nire, neut. to ꝓue-nente, to excell oꝛ passe.
Anteuenire insidias, to ꝓcuente.
Anteuérto, uérti, uértere, to ꝓuente, to ouer-tyde oꝛ ouer go one. sometyme to do one thynge befoꝛe an other, to dꝛo oꝛ speake befoꝛe an other.
Mœrores mihi anteuertunt gaudiis, my so-rowes come vpon me befoꝛe my ioies.
Damnationem veneno anteuertit, he poiso-ned him selfe befoꝛe he was condemned.
Miror vbi ego huic anteuerterim, I mꝛuayle where I came befoꝛe hym.

Rebus

Rebus aliis anteuertam quæ mandas mihi, id eſt præponam, I wyll do thoſe thinges that you byd me before all other.

Ille me anteuertit, he preuented me, and ſpake before me.

Anteúolo, âui, âre, act. to flee before, to preuente in fleeing.

Anteurbânus, a, um, nigh to the citee: as Anteurbanum prædium, a manour nigh to the citee.

Anthedon, ônis, f. g. a kynde of medlars, whiche hath leaues lyke an almonde tree, the fruite leſſe than the common medlar, but muche pleſanter, and wyll be lenger kepte.

Anthémis, anthémidis, f. g. an herbe called Camomill.

Anthera, ræ, f. g. a certayne ſalue, whiche hath a floury ſhynge and oyente colour: made Coyn. Celſius. All be it Ioannes Mainardus ſayeth, that phiſitions doo call Antheras, compounded medicines for diſeaſes in the mouth, wherin roſes be mingled. but he that redeth Galene de compo. medica. ſhal finde Antheras, without the floures of Roſes.

Anthericeum, cei, n. g. a kynde of Baulme.

Anthericon, idem quod Aſphodelus.

Antherices, are called of Herodotus the ſtalkes or ſtemmes of Daffadilles, or the toppes of the eares of coyne.

Anthericus, a certayne herbe, whiche can not bee reaped, but plucked vp with the hande as flax is.

Anthirion, after ſome the herbe called auricula muris, looke Alcine.

Anthillis, an herbe, wherof bee two kyndes. loke Dioſcorides li. 3. ca. 130.

Anthias, a fyſh, a great deuourer of mânes fleſh, hauyng teeth lyke a combe. yet notwithſtandyng, in the partes where this fyſhe bydeth, is no monſter of the ſea, and therefore he is called Sacer piſcis, the holy fiſhe. He is alſo called Callionymus.

Anthinus, a, um, that flouriſheth, that is full of floures, or made of floures.

Anthirrinos, an herbe lyke to lynne, haupnge no roote. it hath a purple floure, and groweth commonly amonge coyne. the ſede is lyke to a calues head with the noſethyrlles open.

Anthiſterion, the name of a moneth among the Atheniens. ſome thinke it Aprpll. for it is as muche to ſaie as Floralia.

Anthologica, orum, n. g. plur. bookes intreating of flowres.

Anthos, eos, maſ. gen. is commonly taken for the floures of roſemary. All be it, it is the generall name of euery flower.

Anthraceus, cei, m. g. a colpar.

Anthrácia, æ, f. g. a cole,

Anthrax, ânthracis, m. g. a cole. alſo a ſoyre called a Carbuncle, or rather a pretious ſtone ſo named.

Anthracites, cîtis, m. ge. a ſtone wherin ſemeth to be as it were ſparkes of fyre.

Anthrácinus, a, um, blacke as it were a cole.

Anthropógraphus, the ſurname of Dionyſius, whiche peinted nothing but men.

Anthropophagi, people whiche eate or deuoure men.

Anthropos, a man.

Anthus, thi, m. g. a byrde that counterfaiteth the neighing of hoyſes. alſo a floure.

Anthyllis, is called commonly herbe pur.

Anthypatus, ti, m. g. latine proconſul.

Antiades, a diſeaſe in the mouthe, lyke to great hernels, called in latine Tonſillæ.

Antiæ, arum, the heare of a woman that is layed ouer hir foreheade, gentilwomen dyd lately call them their rolles.

Antibacchius, a foote in meter, hauyng the two firſt ſillables long, & the laſt ſhort, as, Aûdîtĕ.

Antica, anticæ, the foreparte, wherunto poſtica is contrary.

Anticantharos, the flower called lilium ſilueſtre.

Anticanis, looke Antecanis.

Anticategoria, æ, a pleadyng, whan one accuſeth an other.

Antichreſis, ſis, f. g. a gage, or pece of lande laied to morgage.

Anticipatio, onis, f. g. an anticipation, or takyng before. alſo a figure called Prolepſis.

Anticipo, âui, âre, to preuente, to take before, to anticipate.

Quum audiſſet vnum anticipaſſe mortem, when he had harde that one of them was deade before, or had killed hym ſelfe before.

Eius rei moleſtiâ anticipat, he feleth the greefe of that thinge ſooner then he ſholde doe.

Anticyricon, a certayne herbe lyke to groundſwel, whiche groweth in the Ile Anticŷra.

Antiéthiones, people dwellynge in the vttermoſte parte of the worlde directely againſt vs.

Antideo, dis, dire, for Anteeo.

Antidor, antidoris, or rather antidôrum, ri, n. g. remuneracion, gyfte for gyfte, one for an other.

Antidoſis, is, f. g. retribution, remuneracion.

Antidotarius, a boke of medicines.

Antidotum, ti, n. g. Antidotus, ti, fœ. g. a medecine to expell poyſon.

Antigerio, olde writers vſed for valde, vel ſtatim, quaſi dicerent ante res geratur.

Antigraphareus, a controller.

Antigrapheus, idem.

Antigraphum, an example written out or peinted by an other example.

Antilepſis, latine interceſsio.

Antilegomena, n. g. plur. contradictions.

Antiléna, næ, a peitrell.

Antilógia, æ, contradiction, gainelayeng.

Antimaron. i. contra mortem, agaynſt death.

Antimelon, in Dioſ. is called mandragora.

Antimonion, in dioſc. mandragora. alſo a kinde of mettall.

Antimetabole, antimetâboles, f. ge. a figure in ſpeche, where woordes are repeted to a contrary sentence: as, Non vt edam viuo, sed vt viuam edo. I lyue not to eate, but I eate to liue.

Antinómia, æ, f. g. whan there stremeth repugnancie betwene two lawes.

Antinous, a younge stryplynge of meruayloule beautie, whom Adrianus the emperour loued.

Antiochia, a noble citee in Syria, called fyrste Epiphane, or Beblata, it was augmented by Seleuchus, son of Antiochus, one of the companions of great Alexander. 330. yeres before the comyng of Chryst. He called it by his fathers name Antiochia. Thorough this citee renneth the ryuer Orontes. Of this citee was saincte Peter the apostle bysshop. vii. yeres. And after him saincte Luke the euangelist other. vii. yeres. There was the fyrst counsaile celebrate, where the name of Chrysten men fyrst began. This citee was in the handes of chrysten men. 1000. yeres. And there hath ben in succession. 153. bysshops. It had within it. 366. churches, Antiochia is also a parte of Syria, and an yle in the sea Mederterraneum, there is an other Antioch in the sea coast of Persia, an other in Lybia, in Pisidea, in Cilicia, in Pieria, an other by Taurus, and in diuers other places, Vide Plu.

Antiochis, chidis, a woman of Antioch.

Antiochus, a kynge of Syria, the fourth of that name was called the great Antiochus, afore the comyng of Chryst. 212. yeres. He was also called Hieras (whiche signifyeth a haukon) for the raueny he vsed in takynge from euery man his possessions and goodes. To this kynge came Annibal, after Carthage was delyuered: to whom Antiochus shewed his armie gathered agaynst the Romaines, meruailous rychely armed with gold and syluer. And he (reioysynge therin) demaunded of Annibal, yf he thought it not enough for the Romaines, meanynge the puissance of the armye. Annibal little estemynge the rychesse, answered in scorne: yes, although the romaines of all other were most couetous. Finally, the Romaines vanquished bothe Antiochus and Annibal, who fledde to Prusias kyng of Bithinia. Antiochus was constreigned to desyre peace, to relinquyshe to the Romaines all his interest in Europa and Asia, to leaue his sonne Antiochus in hostage, he hym selfe to departe to the hyll Taurus, and to be content with the countrey therabout. At last, beyng ekelones stirred with a couetous mynde, to haue a great treasure, supposed to be in Perside, the chiefe citee of Persia, in the temple Nanea or Fortuna, he was deceiued by the the priestes of the temple, and cut in small pieces, and caste out to be deuoured of byrdes. This was the ende of that rauenous and couetous prynce, whan he had most gloriously reigned. 36. yeres.

Antiochus illustris, the noble Antiochus, sonne to great Antiochus (left in hostage in Rome by his father) gaue his sister in mariage to Ptolomeus kyng of Egypte, that by pretence of familiaritee, he might take his realme from him, whiche he did. For comyng vnto hym vnder the colour of alyaunce: he slewe Ptolome sittynge at supper. He also subdued the Jewes in Hierusalem, and robbed the temple and citee, and did set vp Idols, and with sundry tourmentes compelled the Jewes to breake the lawes of god, and commytte Idolatry. But he escaped not vnpunished. For when he had reigned a leuen yeres, he fell into an horrible sickenesse and tourmente, so that woormes issued abundantly out of his body, whiche so corrupted his flesshe, that no man about him myghe sustayne the sauour therof. At last he returnyng to the knowlage of god, dyed very contryte. Diuers other haue bene of that name, some kynges, some philosophers.

Antioopa, the daughter, of Nicteos, and wife of Lycus kyng of Thebes in Egypt.

Antipagmenta, garnisshynges of porches or doores, wrought in stone or tymber, or els peincted.

Antipater, the name of diuers kynges, as well of Macedonia, as of Judea. Also a noble capytayne, whom great Alexander made his lieutenant of Macedonia, whiles he was in his conquest: who did many valiant actes in the absence of Alexander, and kept the realmes and dominions of his maister in good state thorough his wisedome and prowesse. But beyng at discension with queene Olympias, she wrate many great complaintes to hir sonne against him, Finally (dreadyng the cruelte, as well of Alexander as of his mother) it is supposed, he consented to the poysonyng of his maister.

Antipater, a stoike philosopher, borne in the citee of Tyrus, from the tyme of his byrth, vntyll his death, had alway a feuer. and yet he liued tyll he was olde. There was a famous poete, diuers philosophers, and a sophister of this name.

Antipater, is also an herbe, whiche hath an harde stemme, and leaues lyke rosemary, but they are broder, and not so longe. The properte therof is, that the flowers, whiche growe laste, doo springe vp highest: therfore Pandecta calleth it Filius ante patrem, the son afore the father.

Antipathia, æ, f. g. a repugnancie, or contrarietee of naturall qualitees or affections.

Antipelargia, æ, f. g. mutuall thankfulnesse, remuneration, one good tourne for an other.

Antipelargesis, idem.

Antiperistacis, a lette, restreinete, or repulsion, on euery parte. wherby where heate commeth, cold is repelled: where cold is, heate is repelled. By this is welle water warme in winter, because the hygh partes of the ayre (beynge cold) the heate drayweth to the lowest partes. Lykewyse in the body of man, the spyryte is kepte in more feruente, by the outwarde colde, by the ioynte consent and tolleracion of all the partes of the body.

Antiphates, a kyng of the Læstrigones, Melampos pos ſonne.

Antiphates, the baſterd ſonne of Sarpedon.
Antiphellus, a pozcion of Lycia.
Antiphon, an auncient poete of Ramnuſe.
Antipharmacum, idem quod antidotum.
Antiphónæ, bee interpreted antemnes, ſongen after pſalmes. Theſe were fyrſte ozdeigned to bee ſonge in the Churche by ſaincte Ignatius, the diſciple of ſaincte John the euangeliſte, Archebyſhop of Antioche, the pere of our lozd. 109. oz rather by ſainct Ambroſe.
Antiphonus, and Antiphus, the ſonnes of Pryamus by Hecuba.
Antiphus, of this name were diuers.
Antiphraſis, fœm. gen. a wozde haupnge a contrarye meanynge, as Parcæ, the miniſters of deathe, ſo called, becauſe they ſpare no man.
Alſo a fygure in an ozacion, whan we touche that, whiche we ſaie wee will not ſpeake of: as Non tango, quód auarus homo eſt.
Antiphrates, certaine pzecious ſtones, whiche beynge ſodde in mylke, maketh it lyke mirre.
Antipilani, an ozder of ſouldyours in the Romayne armye,
Antipodes, a people, the whiche doe inhabyte the parte of the woꝛlde, in reſpecte of the roundeneſſe therof vndernethe vs, that their feete ſeme to be againſt ours.
Antipocha, a wꝛytynge oꝛ bylle of a mans owne hand, wherein he knowlageth his debte.
Antipolis, a citee of Narbon in Fraunce, called commonly Ragni.
Antipóphora, a figure, whan we recite the ſaiynges and obiections of our aduerſaries, to the intent to anſwere oꝛ confute theim.
Antiptôſis, tôſis, fœm. gen. a figure, whan one caſe is put foꝛ an other.
Antipyrgus, a citee of Marmarica, called commonly Luco.
Antiquarius. ij, maſ. gen. he that ſercheth foꝛ antiquitees, oꝛ readeth olde wooꝛkes, oꝛ vſeth to ſpeake oꝛ wꝛyte wooꝛdes of auncient tyme, which haue been longe out of cuſtome.
Antiquatio, an abolicion, oꝛ abꝛogacion.
Antique, auncientlye.
Antiquitas, atis, auncientee. It is ſometyme vſed foꝛ a loupnge affection towarde a thynge oꝛ perſone.
Antiquitas, pro ipſis antiquis.
Antiquitas generis, auncientee of bloudde.
Tantum antiquitatis curæque maioribus pro Italica gente fuit. id eſt, antiqui & præcipui amoris, ab eo quod antiquum pro charo ponitur.
Antiquitus, of auncient and olde tyme.
Antiquitus durauit hic mos vſque ad noſtrã memoriam, this maner hath continued of olde tyme euen to our memoꝛie.
Antiquo, aui, quãre, to make voyde, to reduce to the fyrſte ſtate, to repell, to abꝛogate, to aboliſhe, oꝛ to put out of ymemoꝛy.

Antiquare legem, to aboliſhe a lawe.
Antiquus, a, um, auncient oꝛ olde. ſometyme it ſignifieth great, noble, oꝛ woꝛſhipfull. alſo it ſignifieth muche ſette by, oꝛ loued.
Nihil antiquius, nothynge moꝛe ſet by oꝛ eſteamed.
Antiqua ratio, the maner of tyme paſte.
Antiqua terra, a noble countrey.
Terra antiqua, potens armis, & vberæ glebæ, a noble countrey puiſſant in armes, and of a fertyle ſoyle.
Antiqui homines, menne of the olde faction, men auncient in maners and behauioure.
Antiquum obtines, thou kepeſt thy olde woont oꝛ faction.
Tres epiſtolas accepi, antiquiſsimæ cuique primum reſpondebo, I will make anſwere to ethe epiſtle as he was fyrſte wꝛitten.
Antiquus, foꝛ, charus. Nec mihi iam patriam antiquam ſpes vlla videndi.
Antiquior cura, id eſt, prior, the fiꝛſt oꝛ theꝛfer care.
Nihil mihi eſt antiquius noſtra amicitia, I doe eſteme oꝛ ſet by nothynge moꝛe then. &c.
De Tullia mea tibi vidio antiquiſsimum eſſe &c. I ſee that you deſyre to doe nothynge moꝛe then to diſpatche the matter concernyng Tullia.
Antiquus hoſpes, myne hoſte of longe tyme.
Antiqui mores, honeſt maners.
Antiquus amicus, an olde frende.
Antirrhino, an herbe, whereof be. ij. ſoꝛtes, the one deſcribed of Plinie with leaues like flaxe, wiche groweth much in Germany, and may be called in Engliſhe calfe Snowte. the other of Dioſco. with leaues like Pimpernell, whiche maiſter Turner ſaieth he hath it in his gardeyn, and calleth it bꝛoade calues ſnowte.
Antirrhesis, contradiction.
Antiſmos, mi, merye ieſtyng oꝛ ſcoffyng without anger.
Antiſpaſis, after Hippocrates, the tournyng of the matter of a diſeaſe into the contrary.
Antiſpaſis, a pluckyng the contrary way.
Antiſſa, a towne in Leſbos, alſo an plande ſoꝛgned to Leſbos.
Antiſtes, antiſtidis, com. g. a pꝛelate oꝛ a pꝛieſt. and by a metaphoꝛe, he that excelleth, oꝛ is chiefe in any ſcience.
Plato ſapientiæ antiſtes.
Antiſthenes, was a famous philoſophier in Athes thenes, afoꝛe the compng of Chꝛiſt. 366. peres, who to here Socrates, went euery daye on his feete from Pyꝛeus to Athenes, whiche was fiue miles. He fyrſt began the ſect called Cinici. but he ſuppoſed the chiefe goodneſſe to be in vertue.
Antiſtia, idem quod antiſtita.
Antiſtita, an abbaſſe oꝛ pꝛioreſſe, a woman pꝛieſt.
Antiſtitium, pꝛelacie oꝛ pꝛeeminence.
Antiſtitor, ſtitóris, m. ge. he that hath pꝛeeminence ouer other, oꝛ that ſtandeth afoꝛe them that woꝛke, and controlleth them, a controller, oꝛ an or an ouerseer of workemen.

Antisto, stiti, are,, vsed of olde writers for antestare, to excell.

Antistæchon, or antistichon, neu. gen. a trope whan one letter is put for an other: as, Sella for Seda.

Antistrophe, es, fœm. gen. a figure, whan one woord is repeted in the ende of diuers clauses.

Anticasis, a pluckynge backe.

Anticaurus, an hill fore right agaynst the mountayne Caurus.

Antitheſion, in Dioſco. Xantion or lappa.

Antitheſis, is, fœ. ge. a figure, whan one letter is sette for an other, as Olli for illi.

Antitheton, ti, neu. gen. a figure whereby one contrary is ioygned with an other: as Frigida pugnabant callidis, humentia ſiccis.

Mollia cum duris, ſine pondere habentia põdus, Colde thynges contended with theim that were hotte, moyst thynges with dry, hard thynges with soft, lyght thynges with heauie kept not one note.

Antitypum, pi, the copy of a writyng or dede.

Antiueſtæum, a promontory in cornewal, called sainct Buriens.

Antium, a citee in the parte of Italy called Latium, by the sea syde, the chiefe citee of the Volsians.

Antlantes, ymages of antique sette ouer dores in the corners of an haunce.

Antlia, antliæ, f. g. a poumpe, or lyke thyng to drawe vp water.

Antlo, áui, áre, to draw vp.

Antœci, people that dwell in the Zone contrary to Andrichthones.

Antoninus, an emperours sonne Seuerus.

Antonius, the name of an auncient familie in Rome, of whiche was Antonius the oratour, and Antonius triumuir, which caused Cicero to be slayne. Of this name were diuers Emperours, and one specially, called Antonius Pius, whiche succeded Hadriane, the yere of our Lorde. 1041. and reigned xxii. yeres, and three monethes, with Iurelius, and Lucius. His yrenitours were Spanyardes, and Capitolismus saieth. He was a meruaylous good man, for he gouerned with suche moderacion and gentylnesse, that he was therefore called Pius, and father of the countrey. He was neuer cruell for any pryuate or common cause, He vsed often this saiyng. He had lieuer saue one subiect, than destroy a thousand enemies. For his deuout lyuynge, sweetenesse of maners, mercie, iustyce, and temperance, he was compared to Numa. Wherefore many hynges and pryntis of dyuers nacions, laynge warre aparte, by his commaundment, committed all theyr contencions vnto his iudgement, and helde theim therwith contented. yet was he not so desyrous of glory or rychesse, that he would attayne theirs vnto by other mens domage. He dyed at the age of 70 yeres.

Antonius musa, phisician to Octauion the Emperour, diliuered him of a daungerous sickenesse, and therefore the emperour caused an Image made of bras to bee sette vp by the ymage of Esculapius. There is now liuynge a phisicion of that name in Ferrare, who is right lyuely sette forth a wonderfull knowlage in phisike, if ambicion or auarice lette him not, as it doeth other men of great learnyng.

Antonomasia, a figure, when the epitheton is vsed for the proper name: as Saturnia for Juno.

Antopyrites panis, idem quod antopyrus.

Antor, one of the Centaures.

Antræ, arum, the spaces betwene trees.

Antrax, acis, qwiche sylver crath.

Antronia, a certayne citee in the countrey Peloponesus.

Antropomorphitæ, a sect of Heretikes, who affirmed, that god had a body and membres as a man had. This sect began in Egypt about the yere of our lorde. 380.

Antrum, tri, a denne or caue vnder the earth, sometyme holownesse.

Cæcum antrum, a darke denne,

Antus, lowe Anthus.

Antyllis, lowe Anthillis.

Anubias, of Dioscorides idem quod Coniza.

Anubis, anubis, vel anubidis, was a God of the Egyptians, whom they honoured for Mercurius, in figure of a dog.

Anuicallia, and Anuifera, certayne herbes, as Slope, Penpropall, Hozell, Fenell, and dyuerse other, whose stalkes are in wynter dry, and seeme deade, but towarde sommer, there springeth greene leaues and stalkes out of the rootes.

Anularius, lowe Annulárius.

Anulus, lowe Annulus.

Anulus, a ryuer of Mauritania.

Anus, us, fœ. g. an olde wyfe.

Anus, ni, masc. gen. an arse.

Anus ficus, a figge ouer rype on the tree.

Anxiè, curiously, carefully, with great peyne and heauinesse.

Anxietas, átis, thought, care, heauynesse, anguisshe, or sorowe.

Anxietudo, inis, idem.

Anxifer, he that causeth sorowe.

Anxius, a ryuer in Asia, rennyng out of the mountayne Armenius in to Mesopotomia.

Anxius, ánxia, um, carefull or heauy.

Anxia oratio, an oration made with to muche diligence.

Anxio animo esse, to haue an heauy and carefull mynde.

Nepotum securitatis anxius, carefull for the securitee of his nephews.

Anxiæ ægritudines, peynfull sykenesses.

Anxur, tam masc. q̃ neu. gen, a citee called also

Tarasina,

Anxurus, the surname of Jupiter, because he was neuer shauen.
Anypodētus, he that is bare foote.
Anydrus, an Ilande.
Anygrus, lyke Amigrus.
Anysis, a kyng of Egypt.
Anytus, one of Athens, enemie to Socrates.

A ANTE O.

AOn, the sonne of Neptune.
Aonia, a part of the countrey of Boeotia.
Aonius, a, um, of that countrey.
Aones an auncient people of Boeotia.
Aoris, the sonne of Aras, a great hunter and warriour.
Aorus, a citee of Crete.
Aous, a ryuer.
Aornos, a place whereunto no byrde maie come. also a citee of Egypte,
Aornus, a ryuer that renneth through the citee Pheneum, wherin is a fishe, called Pœcilus, that hath a voyce like a thyrstle.
Aorsi, people of Asia.
Aorta, one of the principall veines of the body.

A ANTE P.

APæi, people of Ethiope.
Apage, fy, fy. away, away.
Apage, haud nos deceat fugitiuos imitari, fy, fy, it will not beseme vs to playe the mychers. also remoue, put awaye, dryue awaie. it hath also a signification of a more vehemency: as, Apage hanc caniculam, away with this bitche: or hence awaie with this bytche.
Apage illum à me, haue awaie from me.
Apage te, gette the hense.
Apage te a dorso meo, away, away, from my backe.
Apagesis, let bee, gette the hense, away.
Apagina, is a cuttyng of the bone of, in the ouer part aperyng, descendyng downe in the partes topnynge to the rupture: or it is, whan the ende of a bone is broken, where he is ioyned with an other bone.
Apalēstris, he that can neither wrastle nor do any other maistry.
Apalon vinum, i. tenerum.
Apamea, an yle in the ryuer Tygris. also a towne in Bithinia.
Apamia, was a citee in the lesse Asia, thorough the myddell wherof ranne the ryuer Marsia. It was also the name of a citee in Parthia, an other in Phrygia.
Apanthrōpia, inhumanitee.
Aparana, idem quod Lappa. Dioscor.
Aparine, pārines, f. g. an herbe, whiche some men suppose to bee that herbe, whiche is called, Rubea tinctorum, in englyshe madder. other woulde haue it to be cliuerse or goose grasse, whiche semeth most agreynge to the description of Dioscor.

Apate, a kynde of endyue or cychory.
Apator, with out father.
Apathes, philosophers, whiche helde opinyon, that a wise man had none affections or passions.
Apauortene, a countrey of Scithia, wherein is the prouince of Hircania.
Apeda, æ, a byrd, whose fete be so litle, that he seemeth to haue none. I suppose it be a martier.
Apella, æ, mas. ge. a name, wherby the Iewes were called in derision, as it were Sine pelle, because the skyn of their yard was cut of, whan they were circumcised.
Apelles, an heretyke in Greece, the yere of our lorde. 174. whose hereesy was, that he knew not the god, which he woorshipped, and that Christ was not god in verate dede, but a fantasy appearynge to men as a man.
Apelles, an excellent peincter in the tyme of great Alexander, borne in the yle of Cos, of whom onely Alexander, would be peyncted. whan he dyed he left an Image of Venus vnperfourmed, whiche no man after him durste enterpryse to fynysshe. for the incomparable beautie therof.
Apeliotes, apeliotæ, masculi generis, the easte wynde.
Apelleus, a, um, of Apelles.
Apello, āpuli, to put away.
Apenestæ, a citee of Puell, comonly called Mauretrebonia.
Apennius, looke Apœnius.
Apepsia, id est, cruditas, crudities, or lacke of good digestion.
Aper, pri, m. g. a boze. It is also a fyshe, which hath a voyce.
Frendet aper, the boze grynded his teeth.
Apério, āperis, ui, rtum, to open or vncouer, to shewe or disclose, to expounde or declare.
Aperire repagula, to open the barres and rayles, and prouerbially, to make away, to geue an occasion to any thyng.
Aperire literas, to open letters sealed.
Aperi caput, vncouer your head, put of your cappe. where it is vsed for, detegere.
Totam rem aperiam: I will declare the whole mattier.
Necessario se aperiunt, they must nedes shewe what they be.
Aperire for prodere, as,
Fontes sceleratissimorum consiliorum aperuit, he disclosed the fountaines and beggynnynges of their most vngracious purposes.
Aperire, for soluere, or explicare, as,
Aperire dubia, to expound doubtfull thynges.
Aperire enigmata.
Fuste aperire caput, to breake ones head with a cudgell.
Aperire iter ferro, to make waie with the swerde.
Aperit ramum qui veste latebat, i. ostendit,

he shewed .vt.

Aperire viam alijs, to make a way for other.

Virtus tua reditum ad tuos aperuit, thy vertue hath restored the from banishmente to thy frendes.

Aperire locum suspitione, to make one suspected, to geue occasion of suspicion.

Aperire occasionem, to geue occasion.

Aperire fores amicitiæ, to begyn frendship.

Rem familiarem benignitati aperire.

Non ita claudendas res familiaris vt eam benignitati aperire non possit, he muste not so kepe vp his substaunce that he wyll not take it out, or bestowe somme parte of it to liberall vses.

Aperit florem arbor, the tree spreadeth his blossome.

Aperire ludum literarium, or ludum docendi, to sette vp a schoole.

Aperte, openly, playnly, euidently, without colour or dissimulation.

Aperte dolorem ferre, not to dissimule his sorowe.

Aperte falsum, playne false.

Aperte odisse, to hate without dissemblynge.

Apertissime insanit, euery man may iudge that he is starke madde, or dooeth agaynste all wytte and reason.

Apertio, onis, f. g. an openynge.

Apertura, a lyttle hole, lefte open in buildynges for some vse or purpose.

Apertus, a, um, open, playne, euident, discouered, without colour or cloke.

Apertum, and dubium, contrarye.

Aperta pericula, manifest perilles.

Apertus aer, cleere wether.

Apertum cœlum, idem.

Aperta æquora, brode fielders.

Apertus campus, an open and brode fielde.

Apertus dolor, sorowe that is not hidde.

Aperti & simplices homines, playne and simple persons, that knowe not to dissemble with the worlde.

Apertum, (absolutely) an open, or playne, place.

Castris in aperto positis, pitchinge his campe in an open place.

In apertum proferre, to bryngе abrode.

Apes, vel apis, is, fœ. ge. a bee.

Bombus apum, the hummynge of bees.

Examen apum, a swarme of bees.

Insidũt floribus apes, the bees light on flowres.

Apes fauos fingunt, make honie combes.

Mellificant apes, make honie.

Apes flores aggerunt pedibus & comparant, doe caste in a heape and carry togethеr.

Apesus, untis, a mountayne in Greece.

Apex, apicis, m. g. is properly a lyttell wollen threede in the crowne of a cappe. the creste or tuffet on the head of a perothe or other byrde, the note that is sette ouer letters for the accent, also the crowne of the heade, the toppe of euerie thynge. sometyme a mytre. sometyme the highest perfection of honour or dignitee.

Apex senectutis est authoritas, the chiefe dignitee of olde age is authoritee.

Apices literarum, the toppes of letters that standeth aboue the other parte.

Apex falcis, the poynte of an hooke, or sickle.

Apexabo, onis, a puddyng called a bluddyng.

Aphăca, cæ, or Aphaces, ces, fœ. g. a kynde of tares that groweth in eared grounde: Theophrastus doeth sometyme count it among pulse, sometyme amonge herbes, and taketh it for one kynde of Succorie, or rather dent de lion.

Aphareus, the father of Lynceus.

Aphærisis, a figure, where a letter or syllable is taken from the begynnynge of a woorde, as Pone metum, for Depone.

Aphæsas, idem quod Apesus.

Aphedontes, people of Egypte.

Apheteria, the places, from the whiche horses bee sette forth whan they runne in games. Also after Suidas, certayne engines to wynne the walles of a citee besieged.

Aphidnæ, arum, a place in the countrey of Athens.

Aphilos, he that hath no frende.

Aphractum, ti, n. g. or aphractus, ti, m. g. a kynde of shippes, whiche the Rhodians vsed: A brigantine, or a barke, nothynge mete to withstande a rough sea or tempest.

Aphren, idem quod Cicuta.

Aphrica maior, the thyrde parte of the worlde, whiche is seuered from Asia, on the east by the ryuer Nylus: on the west from Europe, by the pillars of Hercules. The hyther parte is now called Barbarie, the people Moores: The inner part is called Libya, and Ethiopia.

Aphrica minor, is in this wise bounded, on the weast with Mauritane and the ryuer Ampsaga, on the north with the sea Aphrican, on the east with Cyrenaica, on the south with the desertes of Libya. In this is the citees Carthage, Utica, Cirtha, & the prouince of Numidie. this countrey and Mauritania is now called Barbarie.

Aphricanus, a name geuen to two noble Romaines, called Scipiones, because the one vanquished Annibal, and subdued Cartage: the other afterwarde vtterly subuerted and destroied it.

Aphrodes, a kynde of poppy.

Aphrodisia, daies or sacrifices, dedicate to Venus, or veneriall pastimes.

Aphrodisium, an ymage of Venus. also a promontory of Caria, an other of Spayne, called Labo de cruz, and a citee of Affrike.

Aphrodisius, a prelate, the disciple of saincte Peter.

Aphrogala, i. cremor lactis.

Aphrodite, es, the surname of Venus.

Aphronitrum, the kynde of salte peter, called of the Arabians Baurach. looke in Fuchsius de compositione medicamẽtorum. li. i. where he speaketh of Nitrum.

Aphroscorodon, a kynde of great garlyke.

Aphtha, is an exulceration or breakyng out in the mouthes of children, whiche doe sucke.

Aphthonius, a sophister, whyche wrote exercises for children.

Aphthitis, the seede of the herbe called Buphthalmos, ox eye.

Aphus, a certayne fysshe.

Aphya, a kynde of little fyshes in brokes, whyche are supposed to haue none other begynnynge but of abundance of rayne: for they are found all tymes of the yere, and the more the water is troubled, the better they are. Plinie calleth thys fysshe Apua. Theodorus nameth him Aplua, I suppose they be dacis. Erasmus saieth, that Aphya is a white, soft, tender fysshe, whiche is no sooner sette on the fyre, but it is enough, and requireth nought but oyle to fry hym. In Esser is a fysshe called a Smie, whyche if he be longe kept, will turne to water.

Aphya, is also of Cicero vsed for the vyle and base sort of the people.

Apia, a peare tree.

Apiânus, a, um, that whereyn bees doe delyte.

Apianæ, vuæ, a kynde of grapes, whyche bees chiefely delyte, the muskadell grape.

Apyracora, a kynde of electrum.

Apiárium, the place where as bees be sette.

Apiárius, he that nourysheth bees.

Apiastra, a byrde that doeth deuour bees.

Apiastrum, tri, neu. gen. called also Melissophyllon, Meliphillon, & Melinon, an herbe, wherein bees greatly delite, the Frenche men call it Melisse. it is iudged to bee baulme or baulme gentle, our baulme is not the right meliphyllon.

Apiátus, a, um, rated or kyed with bees.

Apiacæ oues, sheepe of small growth, and that beare but little wull.

Apica, cæ, f. g. a sheepe that hath no wull on hys bealy.

Apicula, læ, a younge bee.

Apiculus, a diminutiue of apex.

Apidanus, a ryuer in Thessaly.

Apilascus, cudis, golde ready to be coyned.

Apina, næ, or Apinæ, arum, a citee of Puell, the name wherof is vsed as a prouerbe.

☞ Apinæ, trikelyng thynges.

Apinæ, nuttes with verate thyn shales.

Apinus, a tree, wherof cometh pitche.

Apiónia mala, rounde appuls, whyche I take to bee pome royall.

Apios, wilde radysshe, or as other suppose ernute or earth nutte, looke his description in Dioscor. lib. 4. cap. 157.

Apiria, infinitenesse, where there is none ende.

Apis, idis, or, is, called also Serapis & Osyris, a man, whome the Egyptiãs honoured for theyr chiefe god. Also an oxe, whome thei woorshipped. also a towne of Affrike, and a kyng of Argiues, which was sonne to Iupiter and Niobes.

Apiscor, aptus sum, apisci, an olde woord vsed for to fynde out.

Apistos, or apistus, ti, f. g. a precious stone, whiche beynge ones hotte, continueth hotte seuen dayes.

Apitius, a Romayne, whyche delited in delicate meates, so much, that he professed cookery, and infected Rome wyth gluttony, whyche before was the myrrour of temperance. And whan he had consumed in gourmandyse, Millies sestertium, whyche amounteth (after the computation of Henalis) to two millions, and. 500000. crownes: whyche is after our rate. 583054. li. whan he grewe in debt, and made hys reknyng, there was left but Centies sestertium, whyche amounteth to this rate in oure moneye. 95505. li. viii. shillynges, fearynge in that substaunce to liue in penury, he willingly dranke poyson, and dyed.

Apium, called also Selinon, properly oure common perselp, some will haue it to be smallage. of this Apium there be diuers kindes.

Apius, of the grekes is taken for a kind of peares.

Apius, the name of a familie of Rome.

Aplanes, that moueth not, that wandreth not.

Aplophillo, idem quod Alysson. Dioscor.

Apluda, wheaten branne.

Aplustre, tris, n. g. plur. Aplustria, or aplustra, by syncopacion, the tackelynge or ornamentes of a shyp.

Aplysiæ, sponges.

Apnœa, f. g. the vice of a shorte breathe.

Apocalypsis, sios, f. g. a reuelacion.

Apocha, apochæ, fœ. ge. a quittaunce for moneis that is payde.

Apocléti, orum, counsaillours of the prime counsaile, senatours, chosen and graue counsailours.

Apócope, es, fœm. gene. a figure, by whiche a letter or a syllable is taken awaye from thende of a woord: as, Peculi, for peculij.

Apócopi, men beyng gelded.

Apócroti, men that bee harde and miserable in lyuyng, frowarde, austere.

Apócryphus, a, um, hydde, not knowen.

Apocryphi libri, bookes, the authors wherof be vnknowen, or rather not to bee vsed openly in the churche.

Apócynon, i, n. g. a littell bone in the lefte syde of a frogge, wherwith (it is supposed) thynges may be doone, whych were not expedient to bee openly knowen, loke Plin. li. 32. ca. 5.

Apodes, dum, plu. loke apus.

Apodixis, is, fœm. gen. an euident probacion, a demonstration.

Apódosis, sis, f. ge. a figure, whan there is a certayne correspondence of woordes in a sentence.

Apôdos, the crowyng of a cocke out of tyme or course.

Apodytérium, the place by a bayn, where they whych

whiche be bayned, dooe put of their clothes.
Apœnícola, læ, a dweller on the hyl Apœninus.
Apœninígeus, æ, idem.
Apœninus, an hill that diuideth all Italy into two partes.
Apogæi, windes that do arrise out of the ground.
Apogæum, gei, n. g. a throwdes or lyke buildinge vnder the grounde.
Apógraphum, an example written or peincted out
Apolactízo, áui, áre, to stryke with the heeles. also to despyse or sette at naught.
Apolectus, ti, a chosen man, a pyked felowe. also a kynde of the kynde of Tunie.
Apolis, idis, m. g. a straunger, a banished man.
Apolinaris, re, of Apollo.
Apolinares ludi, playes made in the honour of Apollo.
Apollináris, an herbe called Henbayne.
Apollinaris, the name of dyuers men, one was bishop of Hierapolis, a citee in Asia, the yere of our lorde 1045. a great learned man. he wrate a booke of the fayth of Christe: an other wooke against the gentiles, dedicate vnto Antonius the Emperour. also against the heretykes called Cataphrigæ. An other of the same name was byshop of Loadicea, whiche also was a noble learned man, and wrate xxx. bookes for our faith against Porphyrius: not withstandyng he fell into heresy, sayinge, that Christe receyued not flesche of the virgin mary: but that in the acte of his incarnation, some parte of the woorde was conuerted into flesche. He saide that Christes soule was not of that part, whiche was rationall, but onely of that parte, whiche kepte the body lyuyng. And therefore in his incarnation, he tooke onely the body, and not the soule.
Apollinea, a citee in Lumbardye, nowe called Vercellæ.
Apollinéus, a, um, of Apollo.
Apollo, inis, called also Liber pater, the gentiles honoured for god, referrynge to him the inuencion of musyke, poetrie, and of physike. it is sometyme taken for the sunne.
Apollónia, a virgin, borne in Alexandria, who for confessyng the faithe of Chryste, the yere of our lord. 265. had all hir teeth pulled out of hir head. And after, whan the tyran menaced hir, except she woulde blaspheme Christ, she should be bourned in a great fyre therefore prepared: after she had adusted hir selfe, she brake from the ministers, and willyngly lepte into the fyre.
Apollonia, is also the name of a citee in Egypte, nowe called Valonia: an other in Creta: an other in Syria. also a towne in Thracia.
Apolloniatæ, people of Apolonia.
Apollonienſis, ſe, of Apollonia.
Apollonius, the name of dyuers learned men, one borne in Greece, about the yere of our lorde. 90. in his infancie so profyted in learnynge, that beynge but a childe, he was a great philosopher, and folowed the sect of Pythagoras, goyng alwaie in lynnen, and neuer eatynge any thyng that had lyfe. And not withstandynge he was excellently learned in the mysticall knowledge of philosophie and naturall magphe: yet to haue more knowledge he wente into Egypte, Perſia, Ethyope, and India, to learne of the Bragmanes, and Gymnosophistes, and returned into Greece and Rome, where he was had in great admiracion, for the meruailes that he shewed. And at laste, beynge aboue the age of 80. yeres, in a greate assemblye of people, was sodeynely conueighed awaye, no man knoweth howe nor whither, as Philostratus, who writeth his lyfe, saieth. Also saincte Hierome maketh abundantly mencion of hym in hys prologue to the olde testament. There were of thys name thre great phisicions: One called Apollonius Memphites, the disciple of Erasistratus: he kept of any phisicion wrate of the partes of mans body. The other two were of Antioche, the father and the sonne.
Apologátio, onis, the vsing of fables.
Apológia, æ, a defence or answere to a rebuke.
Apólogo, áui, áre, to taunt, scoffe, or rebuke.
Apólogus, a fable, wherin beastes or trees doe speake.
Apomel, vel apomeli, a drynke made with honye combes sodden in honye, vntyll the waxe be cleane scummed awaye, and than cooled, and put in a kayre earthen potte.
Apona, orum. n. g. suche medicines as helpe without peine.
Aponus, a place in Italie, nere to Padue, where be hot bathes, hollsome for many diseases.
Apóphasis, is, for. ge. a denying of a thyng. also an inuentorye.
Apophática. i. negantia.
Apophlegmatiſmus, m. g. a medicine, which causeth one to vomite vp fleume, or els doth purge the head.
Apopléumenos. i. ſcammonia. Dioſc.
Apophorèta, orum, neu. ge. presentes or giftes lyke to our new yeres gyftes, and maye be vsed for the same.
Apophthégma, atis, a short and quicke sentence.
Apophyades, certayne thynges that hange to instralles.
Apopléxia, vel apoplecticus morbus, is a sickenesse ingendred of abundaunce of grosse humours. whyche dooe fyll those receptories or vessels of the head, from whens the feelyng and mouyng of the body cometh. And therfore they that haue this disease, bee depriued of feelyng, speche, and mouyng.
Apopléxis, idem.
Apoplécticus, he which hath the saied sickenesse.
Apóptoſis, ſis. f. g. a disease whan the hearte of the bowes doe fall.
Aporèta, orum, n. g. cachettes, or coffers, wherin were put secrete thynges.
Apória, æ. for. gen. doubt, necessitee, perplexitee, desperacion.

Aporion, a certayne controuersie, lyke Gell. lib. 9. cap. 15.

Apórior, aris, to doubt, to be vncertayne, to bee in a perplexitee, to bee brought into a streict. sometyme to lacke.

Aporrhócæ, certayne impressions in the ayre, whiche we call starre fallynge, because it so appereth to our sightes.

Apóspasma, ătis, n. g. a vulsion. also a kynde of impostume when by inflammacion sand and like thynges be ingendred in the body.

Apostirmata, phisicions doo call desquamacions.

Aposiopêsis, êsis, fœ. ge. a figure, where somewhat is left out, specially in speakynge, and left to the coniecture of theim that be heerers.

Apostásia, rebellion, or forsakyng of a mans profession or alegiance.

Apóstata, tæ, masc. gen. a rebell or renegate. it is now vsed for him that forsaketh the religion of Chrisie.

Apóstato, áui, áre, to flee from or forsake him, whom we professed to folow.

Apostêma, stématis, n. g. an impostume, wherin corrupted humours haue recourse in any part of the bodye, properly it signifieth space, or dystaunce.

Apostácion, cij, n. ge. a libell made in diuorsement or seperacion.

Aposteparnismos, is a cuttynge away of the bone with the wounde.

Apostolus, an apostle, it properly signifieth a messanger or legate.

Apóstoli, be called literæ dimissoriæ, dimissores testimonials. &c.

Apostoli, letters missiue.

Apóstrophe, es, f. g. a conuersion in speakyng.

Apóstrophus, i, m. g. a note, lyke an halfe circle, sette in the later ende of a woorde, and signifyeth part of it to be taken away.

Apotelésma, lésmatis, n. g. a pronostication or declaracion of the significacion of sterres at a mans natiuitee, or the begynnyng of any thynge what shall happen therof.

Apothêca, æ, f. g. a wyne sellar or shoppe, wherin thynges be sette to sale, a storehouse.

Apotheósis, ôsis, fœm. gen. a dedicacion or consecracion, properly of men into goddis: & canonizacion.

Apoxyómenus, ni, m. g. he which wipeth away spithe from ones body. also the name of a picture or table in Rome.

Apozêma, zématis, n. ge. a decoction of water with herbes or barley, which the grekes vsed in stede of our syrupes.

Apparate, cleanly, hansomely, gaicly, minionly, gaiontly.

Apparátio, ónis, idem quod apparatus.

Apparatus, us, m. g. preparacion, prouision, apparaylyng, or dechyng, furniture.

Apparatus belli, preparacion for warres, artillary.

Apparatus, a, um, prepared, made ready, decked, trimmed.

Apparatus sumvt videtis, I am readye as ye see.

Appáreo, appáres, ui, êre, to appere, to be seene, to be manifest or euident, to be present or giue attendance, to commen or make one appere before an officer.

Apparet eum ita fecisse.

Res apparet, the thynge is euident.

Fac fis promissa nunc apparent, See that thou sticke to thy promises, or see that thy promises maie shew them selfe.

Quid rectum sit apparet, quid expediat obscurum est, what is honest, is apparant: but what is most profitable, is vncertayne.

Quatuor & viginti lictores apparebant consulibus. i. apparituram faciebant, fower and twentie sergeons wayted on the consulles to arrest or summon men to come before theim.

Ex quo facile apparet, wherby it maie easelye appere.

Illud quod apparet ad agricolas, pro agricolis

Ego mox apparebo domi. i. adero, I will bee at home by and by.

Ille bonus vir nusq; apparet, that honest man can be seene in no place.

Apparêre in aliquo loco, to bee seene in anye place.

Si vsq; naues apperuissent, if they had bene seene in any place.

Apparêre questioni, to serue processe, as sergeantes and baylyffes doo.

Apparitio, ônis, f. g. an apperaunce, attendance, whan a man is ready to doo his duetie.

Appáritor, tôris, m. g. an officer of iustice, attendyng on the great ministers, to summon or attache whom they will commaunde, a sergeante.

Apparitûra, æ, f. g. the office of a sergeant or baylyffe, in summonynge or attachyng men.

Apparo, ápparas, áui, áre, to apparayle or trimme, to be ready to doo a thynge, to prepare or ordeyne, to make ready.

Apparare prandium, to make ready dyner.

Hanc fabricam apparo, I go aboute this wile or deceite.

Apparare crimine in aliquem, to prouyde accusacions against one.

Apparare fugam, to prepare him selfe to flee.

Nuptiæ mihi apparantur, they go aboute a mariage for me.

Apparare præsidium for parare.

Dum apparatur, while all thinge is made redy.

Appellátio, ônis, a nampynge, callynge or appeaslynge to an higher iudge.

Appellatio litterarum, the pronunciacion of letters, when wee geue to euery one his true sounde.

Appellatio ignominiosa, a reprochefull name.

Appellâtor, one that appeleth to a higher iudge.

Appellito,

Appellito, aui, are, a frequentatiue of appello.
Appéllo, aui, are, to name or call, to call vpon for helpe, to call by name, to call vpon a man for dette, to common or talke with one, to commẽce an action against one in the lawe. also Vlpian the great lawier, will haue it signifie, to woo a mayden to haue hir virginitee. sometyme it signifyeth to arryue. sometyme to appeale to an higher iudge. sometyme to touche.
Appellare aliquẽ superbius, to speake proudly and arrogantly to one.
Non consueui homines appellare asperius, I haue not customed to call men by.
De quo iudicio se velim dicere omnia, multi appellandi lædendiq; sunt. i. nominatim prodendi, I should vtter many by name and offende them.
Appellare, cum infinitiuo: Serua sua natam seruamq; appellans esse, saiynge hir to be his seruaunte.
Virginem de stupro appellabat. i. eius pudicitiam oratione attentabat, he spake or sued to the maide to haue defloured hir. Appellare, is sometyme vsed for applicare or appellere.
Fides authorem appellet, i. fides sit penes authorem.
Appellere solũ, to husband or tyll the ground.
Appellare blande, to talke pleasantly, or vse fayre woordes to one.
Appellare ad tribunos, to appeale.
Appellare Cæsarem, to appeale to the Emperour.
Vnum te sapientem appellant, i. dicunt.
Appellare literas, to pronounce letters.
Appellare nutu & significatione, with countenaunce, and tokens to declare whom he meaneth, whan a man dare not name him.
Quos sæpe nutu & significatione appello.
Non appellantur hæc in lege, the lawe speaketh not of these thinges, or they be not mencioned in the lawe.
Appellare nomine vel nominatim, to call by name.
Vis vt appellem hunc gallicè. i. alloquar? wil you that I should cõmon with this mã in frenche
Virum appellat, she calleth vpon hir husband.
Comiter vnumquemq; appellabat, he spake to euery one gentilly.
Appellare de re aliqua, to common with one of a matter.
Appellare literas aliquẽ, to send letters to one.
Crebris nos literis appellato, send often letters to vs.
Appellare aliquem, to commence an action against one.
Multi plectuntur alij ne appellantur.
Appellare aliquem pecuniã, or de pecunia, to call vpon a man for money that he oweth.
Quos appellem? To whom shoulde I call for helpe?
Vos, vos, appello fortissimi viri.
Appellare deum, to take god to witnesse.
Eum victorem appellat. i. pronuntiat, he pronounceth him to be victour.
Appello, pũli, ĕre, pulsum, to arryue, sometyme to apply or set the minde, to direct, also to approch
Appellere animum ad aliquid, to sette the mynde to somewhat.
Appellere nauem ad locum aliquem, to arriue with his shippe at any place.
Cum ad villam nostram nauis appelleretur, when the shippe was arriued. &c.
Appellere se, as, Haud auspicato huc me appuli, I came hyther vnluckyly.
Appulit me vestris oris, for ad vestras oras.
Appellere ad scopulos, by a metophore, to put in daunger.
Appellere animalia ad aquam, to dryue cattell to water.
Turres ad operas Cæsaris appellabat. i. admonebat.
Mentem ad philosophiã appulit.
Animum ad vxorem appulit, he gaue his mynde to mariage.
Me ad mortem appulit. i. compulit, it had almost vndone me, or caste me away.
Appendicula, a diminutiue of appendix.
Appéndix, péndicis, f. g. that which hangeth as an other thyng, it is also a shed, a houell or pentehouse, an addition, or that which pertayneth to a thyng, as a parte thereof.
Cum appendicibus Olcadum centum millia fuerunt: appendices dixit milites additos ad iustum aliorum numerum.
Appéndo, péndis, di, ĕre, to hange by or nygh, to hange out, to peyse or weygh in a balance or beame.
Appẽdo pecuniã, I weigh or count out money.
Appéndere mutuo, to lende.
Sex millia murenarum mutuo appendit.
Appéndere verba, to ponder or weygh ones woordes.
Appenninus, the parte of the mountaynes of Alpes, whiche begyn at Geane, and diuide Italy, and extendeth vnto the sea betweene Naples and Sicile.
Appénsus a, um, hanged at a thynge, weighed, pondered.
Aurum appensum, golde weighed out.
Appetens, veray desyrous of a thynge.
Homo tui appetentissimus, very desirous of your company.
Nihil est appetentius similium tui, none lyuynge is more desyrous of such men as you be.
Appeténtia, appetite, desyre of meate, inordinate desyre of other thynges.
Appetentiam ciborum præstat, It maketh one to haue a stomake to his meate.
Appetítio, ónis, appetyte, desyre, endeuour to catche holde on a thynge with ones handes.
Appetítus, tus, appetyte, inordinate desyre sensualites, and in the plurall numbre, the affects ons or passions of the mynde.

Appeto, ăppetis, tĭ, ĕre, to desyre muche, to go to, sometyme to inuade, with desyre to hurt one, to desyre a mans harme, to approche, drawe nere, or to be at hande. sometyme to intreate.

Dies appetebat, id est, instabat, the day was come, or at hand.

Appetit meridies, it is almost noone.

Leuans se alis, os, oculósque hostis, rostro & vnguibus appetit, rysyng vp with his whinges, with his talons and dyll he assayled the face and eyes of hym that fought on the other parte.

Nox appetit, the night drawyth nere.

Appetit vitam hominis, he goeth aboute, or he endeuoureth to worche that mans death, or ridde him out of lyfe.

Appetere amicitiam, laudem, mortem, regnum, voluptatem. &c.

Apped-re si allquid de: Quantum sibi oratores de præclarissimis artibus appetiuerunt.

Quid in illa appetitur.

Appetit per auaritiam, he desyreth couetously.

Appetere ferro, to assayle one with a weapon, to sette on one with a swerde drawen.

Appetere lapidibus, to hurle stones at one.

Appetere dexteram oculis, to kysse ones right hande in meetynge.

Appetere aliquid manibus, to endeuour to take holde on a thynge with his handes.

Per illum manibus appetiuit.

Apphrima, id est, furrur. brayne.

Appias, appiadis, patronymicum, fœm. of Appius.

Appiades, were among the paynyms theis goddesses, Venus, Pallas, Pax, Concordia, Vesta, Of these do make mencion Ouidius de arte amandi. 2. & de remedio amoris, Et Tullius. 3. fami. epistolarum.

Appia via, the name of an highe way or causey, from Rome to Campayne.

Appiâna mala, a kynde of appulles. as greate as quinces, hauyng as great a sauour as they, and of colour redde.

Appiânum, ni, n. g. a kynd of peynetyng colour.

Appianus, a noble historian, borne in Alexandry, wrate moste excellent workes of the Romaines ciuile warres, whiche bookes I counsayle all them that bee studious in Tullius workes, to reade diligently, whereby they shall vnderstand many thynges, that els they can not well vnderstande.

Appingo, egi, or inxi, ere, pictum, or pactum, to peinct or wrete more to a thynge, to adde to.

Appion, a famous grammarian borne in Egypt, against whom Josephus wrate his warke De antiquitate Iudeorum.

Appiôsus morbus, a certayne disease in the head of beastes when corrupt bloud hurteth the shinne of the brayne, and greueth the head, so that it taketh away the sense and mynde.

Appius Claudus Sæcus, an oratour of Rome.

Applâudo, si, ere, to moue handes or feete for ioy or fauour that we beare to a thynge, or to beate any thynge to the grounde.

Applâusor, one that reioyseth on that maner.

Applausus, us, the clappyng of handes for ioy. sometyme an open gratulacion, or approuyng of a thynge.

Applicâtio, ônis, an applyynge or bendynge of the mynde, a reioyynge or repayryynge to any persone. &c.

Applicâtus, a, um, arryued, applied, laied to, bent or enclined.

Omne animal applicatum ad se diligendum, bent or inclined.

Applicatæ aures, eares plaine & close to the hed.

Applicitus, the other participle, ioyned to. &c.

Applico, ăpplicas, âui, or uĭ, âre, to ioygne, to putte or adde to, to laye or sette to, or to applie, or bende to, sometyme to arryue, to leane to, to associate.

Applicat primum ad Chrysidis partem se, he fyrst made repayre to Chrysis father.

Applicare naues terræ, or ad terram, to arriue or bryngе the shyppes to lande.

Quæ vis immanibus applicuit oris, subaûdite, brought the hither or made the to arriue here.

In eum primũ classem applicuerunt, they arriued with their naute thyther fyrst of all.

Applicare aures, to herken, to geue eare.

Applicare se ad arborem, to leane to a tree.

Applicare scalas. i. admouere, to sette vp ladders to scale the walles.

Eidem flumini castra applicuit. i. admonit.

Applicare se ad aliquem, to accompany hym selfe with one, to associate him selfe. &c.

Applicare aliquò, to reioyr to a place, as,

Quo me applicem. i. quo me vertam? to whom or whyther shoulde I goe?

Vt ad honestatem applicitur. i. accommodetur, that it maie be applied to honestee.

Applicare se ad aliquod studium, to sette his mynde on any kynde of study.

Ad amicitiam Pop. Rom. se applicuit, he did ioyne him selfe to the frendshyp of the Romaines

Ad eundem me doctorem applicui, I went to the same maister to learne.

Applicare se ad conuiuia, to haunt feastes.

Applicare animum ad frugẽ, to wate thrifty.

Applicare oscula, to kysse.

Applôdo, ôsi, ĕre, lyke Applaudo.

Applôro, aui, are, to weepe or waple to or by one to make mone to one with weepyng.

Appluda, lyke Apluda.

Appluere, to rayne, to rayne by.

Applúmbo, aui, are, to sowlder.

Appóno, appôni, sui, ere, to put or adde to, to sette to, or appoynt.

Apponere ante ianuam: Apponere ad ignẽ.

Apponere manum ad os: Quæ apposita portæ erat. i. iuxta portam.

De meo nihil his nouum apposui. i. addidi.

I ad-

I added nothyng of my owne.
Qui vitijs modum apponit, he that maketh a measure in vice.
Apponere notam alicui rei, to sette a marke on any thynge.
Illi epistolæ notam apposuit.
Notam ad malum versum apposuit.
Apponere mensam, to make ready the table.
Mensam apponite.
Apponere cibis aliquid, to myxe somewhat with meates.
Appositum est ampliter, great chere was sette on the table.
Apponere cibum alicui, to sette meate before a man.
Nihil ei preter secundarium panem apposuit, he set nothing on the table before him but browne breade.
Argentum illi purum apposuit, he serued him onely with siluer vessell.
Custodem alicui apponere, to appoynte a kepar or ruler ouer one.
Calumniatores apponere, to suborne or procure false accusers.
Apponere accusatorem alicui, to cause one to accuse a man.
Annos apponere, for addere.
Appórrigo, to stretche out by a place.
Appórto, aui, are, to bringe to, to cary to, to shewe or bringe tydynges.
Apportare ad locum, to cary to a place.
Apporte ab aliquo, to cary away from a man.
De, vel, ex Illirico apportari iubet, to bee brought out of Sclauonie.
Apportare vehiculo, to carye to a place in a waggon.
Vndiq; apportantur, they are brought on euery syde.
Quidnam apportas? what tydinges bringest thou?
Apportare nuncium, to bring a message.
Apportare damnum, to bringe harme, or bee the occasion of damage.
Anni tempora morbus apportant, The seasons of the yere bring sicknesses.
Appósco, poposci, ere, to aske more.
Appósite, aptly, conuenientlye.
Apposite ad persuasionem, fittely to perswade.
Appositio, ônis, a meuyng, addyng, or puttyng to a thynge.
Appósitus, us, idem.
Appósitus, a, um, put to, or set to, ioyned to, set or put by, suborned or sent priuily. sometyme it signifieth conuenient, or to the purpose, apt, fyt, sometyme laied vp.
Appositior ad auferenda signa, more fytte. vt.
Appositus erat ab isto vt emeret, He was sent or caused priuely of him to bye it.
Ager est ad vitem appositus, fit to beare vines
Homo appositus, a man fytte for the purpose.
Appositum & propinquum nobis, harde by, nere to vs. Tempus appositum ad agendum.
Appótus, a, um, well wette with drynke, well washed or swilled with drynke, almost drunke.
Apprehendo, di, dere, to take, to attache, to lay handes on a thynge, to gette.
Apprehendere palmam, to gette the victory.
Apprehendere morsu, to byte.
Quantum apprehenderint tres digiti: as much as three fyngers can holde.
Apprehendere manum alicuius, to take one by the hande.
Apprehendere regionē aliquam, to obteine gouernance of a countrey.
Apprimè, chiefely, principally. it is set for valde.
Apprimè vtile, very profytable or expedient.
Apprime doctus homo, a man excellently wel learned.
Id apprime rectissime dicitur, that is excellently well spoken.
Apprimo, apprimis, pressi, ĕre, to presse to, to put harde to.
Apprimus, a, um, principall, chiefe.
Approbátio, onis, the allowynge of a thynge. sometyme a probation.
Approbátor, one that alloweth.
Approbè, meruayloulsely well, veray honestly.
Approbo, approbas, aui, are, to approue, or allowe, to shewe or proue, that a thynge is worthy to bee allowed, to make good a cause, to confyrme and proue with reasons.
Approbare opus, to proue or shewe euidently, that the woorke is perfect and good.
Approbus, approba, um, veray honest.
Appromissor, one that doeth confyrme an other mans promesse, as it were a suretee.
Appromitto, si, ere, to confyrme that an other man hath promised, to bynde hym selfe for an other mans promise.
Appropéro, aui, are, to make haste or speede, to come.
Approperate gradum, hye you apace.
Approperare mortem, to haste ones death.
Approperatum opus, a speedy woorke, a woorke hasted forwarde.
Appropinquátio, an approching or drawing to.
Appropinquo, aui, are, to approche, to drawe nyghe to.
Appropinquat tẽpus, the tyme draweth nighe.
Appropinquante definita die, whan the day appointed was at hande.
Appropinquare alicui dignitati, to bee neere to some honour or preferment.
Appulia, lowe Apulia.
Appulsus, us, dryuyng of beastes to watering.
Appulsus, us, arriuall, approchynge, or comynge to or nere.
Appulsus solis, the approchynge of the sunne.
Appulsus, a, um, arriued, come to.
Appulus, lowe Apulus.
Apricátio, nis, a breathyng or walkyng in the sun.
Apricor, áris, ari, to sit or go abrode in the ayre, of in the sunne, to set a sunnynge.

Apricitas, ātis, the warmenesse of the sunne in wynter, a fayre clere wether.
Si diei admittit apricitas, If the day be fayre and clere.
Apricus, a, um, sunny, warme by reason of the sunne, open vpon the sunne.
Apricus dies, a sunny daie.
Apricus locus, a place that standeth open vpon the sunne, a sunny place.
In apricum proferre, to bryng abrode.
Apricus homo, one desyrous to be in the sun.
Aprilis, is, mas. ge. the moneth of Aprile.
Aprilis, le, of Aprile. somtyme the moneth it selfe
Aprinus, a, um, of a bore.
Apronia, an herbe called also Vitis nigra, a blacke vyne, whiche renneth vp and wyndeth about trees & stalkes of herbes, and hath a leafe lyke to yuie, but greatter, & beareth bearies in clusters, whiche at the begynnyng are greene, and blacke when they be rype, the roote is blacke within and yelowe without lyke bore. some call it Apelo melæna, some Bryonia, other Chironia.
Apróno in genua, I knele on my knees.
Aprosôpos, with out person.
Aproxis, an herbe, the roote wherof kendleth fyre farre of.
Aprugna, the dewyson of a wylde bore.
Aprugnus, a, um, of a bore.
Aprugnum callum, the brawne of a bore.
Aprutium, a parte of Italy, the people whereof were sometyme called Samnites, against whom the auncient Romaines, had warres long tymes in it be these cities, Aquileia, Adria, Sulmo, Ortona, Arpinum, Aquinum, and other.
Apseudos, a true felow without deceite.
Apsida, æ, idem quod apsis.
Apsicorus, a, um, couetous of noueltes, mutable, anon satisfyed, lothyng.
Apsis, ápsidis, f. g. the circle of a carte wheele. also the circles in sterres. also the bowynge in arched roufes.
Apsorus, an yle in the Venetian sea, and a cities in Ponte, now called Archani.
Apsychon, without lyfe or soule.
Aptatus, a, um, made feete or agreable. sometime mynngled with a thing.
Aptè, aptly, to the purpose, fytly, conuenientlye, well to the purpose. somtyme ioynctly.
Aptè dictum, a word spoken in his right place.
Aptera, orum, a cities in the countrey of Aptia, and a towne in Crete.
Aptitûdo dinis, aptnesse.
Apto, aui, are, to ioyne, to agree two thinges togethet, to make fitte or applie one thynge to an other, to settle, addresse, or make redy ones selfe to any thyng, to place a thyng fitly, to trymme.
Aptat se pugne, he maketh him ready to fyght.
Aptare conuiuium, to prepare or make ready a feaste.
Aptôtum, ti, vndeclined, without cases.

Aptus, a, um, apte agreable, meete, necessary, properly conueniente. sometyme ioyned or compacte.
Apta & connexa inter se, compacte and ioyned fytly one with an other.
Apta inter se, agreable one to an other.
Qui es totus aptus ex sese, whiche hathe all thynges necessary in him selfe.
Nam cui viro ex seipso apta sunt omnia, For that man, whiche hath all thynges requisite in hym selfe.
Aptum ex illis tribus, compacte of those thyes thynges.
Aptum aliquo vinculo, tyed or fastned feetly with some bande.
Apta & accomoda naturæ, thynges conuenient and agreable to nature.
Aptum & concentaneum tẽpori, & personæ, meete and agreyng to the tyme and person.
Curationi aptus æger, a sycke person meete to bee cured.
Cibus stomacho aptus, meate agreeyng with the stomache.
Aptus vber, more fruitefull or fertyle.
Aptum ad omne anni tempus pallium, a gaument meete for all tymes of the yere.
Apta compositio membrorum, a good proportion of the membres.
Aptus verbis, one that vseth proper and feate wordes, meete for the matter.
Aptus mihi homo, a man meete for my purpose, a man after my fantasy.
Aptus sum, sometyme, I haue gotten.
Apua, a fyshe ingendred of the fayne, looke Aphia.
Apuani, people of Apuria.
Apuchi, a temple in the countrey Cyrenaica.
Apud, at, nere to or by, sometyme among: whan it is ioyned with a person, it signifieth with.
Apud eum Sulpitius sedebat, Sulpitius dyd syt by him.
Apud se rure, at his own house in the countrey.
Tecum apud te ambulabo, I will walke at home with the in thyne owne house, lyke wyse Secum apud se.
Sum apud te primus, thou settest moste by me of all men: or, I maye doe as muche with the as any man.
Apud iuuentutem, amonge yonge men.
Apud maiores factitata, done ofte of our fore fathers.
Apud matrem recte est, All thyng is well at my mothers: or my mother is in good helth.
Apud me minimum valet, It doeth nothyng auaple with me: or, I sette little store by it.
Cum apud te aliquem laudo: whan I praise any man to you.
Apud eum est primus, he is his principall minion.
Apud me priores partes habet, he maie doe moste with me.

Facio

Facio te apud illum deum, I make him take the for a god.
Per eam te obsecramus ambæ, si ius, si fas est, uti aduersa eius per te tecta, tacitaque apud omnes sint, We bothe desyre you on hir behalfe, if it maie be by any meanes possible, that by your policy hir misfortune maie be heuered, and from all men kepte secrete.
Apud aliquem mentiri, to make a lye to one.
Apud nos imperium tuum est, we remembre your commaundment.
Apud animum meum statuo, I determyne in my mynde.
Apud forum, in or at the market.
Apud ædes, in the house.
Apud orcum, in helle.
Apud quem, in whose presence.
Apud maiores nostros, in the tyme of our forefathers.
Apud se non est, he is out of his wytte, or he is not in his right mynde.
Vix sum apud me, ita animus commotus est metu, spe, gaudio, mirando hoc tanto, tam repentino bono, I am well nygh out of my witte, my mynde is so vexed with feare, hope, and ioye, with this good chaunce, whiche is so wonderful, so greate, and so sodeynely happned.
Apud te sis, see that thy wittes be thyne owne, thinke what thou hast to do, remembre thy selfe.
Apud ignem, by the fyre.
Apud aquam, by the water.
Apud quem, by whom.
Apud eum, by him.
Apud te exemplum experiendi habes, non eges foris, ye haue the experience at home, ye nede not to seke for it abrode.
Apud Plautũ legitur, it is redde in Plautus.
Apud macellum emi, I bought it in the shambles.

Apulcius. (a philosopher borne in Afrike) flourished in Athens, and wrate in latyne dyuers workes, as de vita & moribus platonis, & de deo Socratis, in a right eloquent and temperate style. In his boke called Floridorum, & de Asino aurio, he wrate so effectately and flourishingly, that he is more to be mocked than preysed. He made also a righte commendable boke of the names and vertues of herbes. He was about the yere of our lorde. 300.

Apulia, Puel, a parte of Italy, borderynge on the sea adriaticum, a countrey populouse, and hath in it many townes and castelles, abundance of corne, wyne, oyle, and good coursers for the war. The chiefe citie therof is Brundusium. there is also the mount of saincte michaell, called Gargarum. This countrey is called by other names, as, Iapegia, Messapia, Calabria, and Salentina. The people are called Apuli.

Apulus, a, um, of that countrey.

Apus, apodis, fœm. gen. a byrde lyke a swalow, with larger whynges, and is moste commonlye abonte the sea costes, where alwaies she flieth or houereth in the ayre, and bredeth in a roche, a roche martnet, any martnet may thus be called. it is the seconde kynde of swalowes.

Apyréxia, the shakyng of the course in a feuer or ague.

Apyrina mala, swete pomegranades.

Apyron, liue alume.

Apyrôsos,, ti, fœm. ge. a stone that no fyre may damage or deface. it is called also Carbunculus, a Carbuncle.

AQua, water.
Aqua pura, cleare water.
Aquæ niuales, water that cometh of snow.
Aqua pluuia, or cœlestis, rayne water.
Aqua fluuialis, rennyng water.
Lethæis aquis dari, to be forgotten.
Aqua limosa, slymy or muddy water.
Aqua occuli, a disease in the eies when they renne downe with water or moysture.
Aquæ Augustæ, a towne in Gascoyne, called Bayona.
Aquæ calidæ, a citee in Englande called Bathe, an other in Spayne called Vich.
Aquæductus, us, m. g. a conduyte.
Aquælicium, the takyng or drawyng of rayne water to be vsed in medicine.
Aquæ Sextiæ, a towne in Prouance, now called Aquensis.
Aquágium, gii, n. g. a conduyte.
Aquai, genitiuo, for Aquæ.
Aquaintércus, water whiche renneth betwene the skyn and the flesshe: the dropsy.
Aqualiculus, dimi. a little trough. also a part of the belly, where the ordours do rest, the panche.
Aqualicus, a trough. also a panche.
Aquâlis, lis, m. g. an ewer, or other lyke thynge to bringe water to the table.
Aquaricola, places where water is cast into, as a gutter or synke. not onely in a kytchyng, but also in any other roume of the house, for auoydance of water.
Aquariolum, a washyng place, a little place to auoyde water, as in barbours shoppes and houses of office. Also a place of a ryuer, where cattell is watered.
Aquariolus, li, masc. gen. a common harlottes slaue. Also a wittall, that suffreth his wyfe to be naught.
Aquarium, rii, idem quod aquariolum.
Aquárius, one of the. xii. signes.
Aquarius, a, um, pertaynyng to water: as,
Aquarius sulcus, a forowe, by whiche water is drayned.
Aquáticus, a, um, that whiche haunteth the water, or lyueth therin, or groweth in water or marishe grounde.
Aquátilis, le, the same.

Aquátio,

Aquâtio, ônis, a waterynge, a caryinge or fetchinge of water.

Aquâtor, tôris, he that caryeth or fetcheth water in an armye.

Aquâtus, a, um, that wherinto water is putte, watersshe.

Vinum aquatum, alaied wyne.

Aqueus, aquea, um watrysshe.

Aquifôlium, or Aquifólia, æ, a wylde tree, hauynge sharpe prickynge leaues, and bearies without iuyce, a kynd of the tree Ilix.

Aquila, an egle. It is also a fysshe of the kynde of theim that haue grisshes.

Aquila, was also the name of one boyne in the countrey aß Ponte, of a Gentile becomen a Jew, whiche translated the olde testamente the seconde tyme out of hebrue into grehe.

Aquila, the standerde of the Romaines. also a cyte of the Bzutians, buylded by the Lumbardß.

Aquilæ senectus, a prouerbe, spoken of an olde man, whiche drynketh more than he eateth.

Aquilégium, a gourde of water, whiche commeth of rayne, or a conueighinge of rayne water to one place.

Aquileia, vel Aquilegia, an auncient citee in the parte of Italy called Forum Iulij, or Friaul: sometyme of suche estimacion, that therin was kepte the great marte of all Europe: And the emperour Octauian delyted pryncipally to resoyze thyther often. Afterwarde it was destroied by the Hunnes, and the inhabitantes, fled thense, and were the fyrste that began to builde the citee of Uenice. but now it is so symple, that none dwel there but fishers, and a fewe shepeherdes, and is called Algar.

Aquilegia, æ, f. ge. the herbe and flower called Columbine. some wolde haue it to be capons fether or settewall.

Aquilex, aquilegis, he that sercheth for water, or conueieth it.

Aquilifer, aquiliferi, the standerde bearer of the Romaines.

Aquilinus, a, um, of or lyke an egle.

Aquilinus nasus, an hooked nose.

Aquilo, lônis, the northeast wynde. sometyme taken for colde weather and tempest of wynde.

Aquilonâris, re, towarde the northe.

Aquilónius, a, um, where that northe wynde bloweth.

Hiemps aquilonia, a wynter, wherein the norß therne wynde bloweth muche.

Aquilus color, russet.

Aquiminárius, rij, a cuppe to dyynke in, or a water potte.

Aquinum, ni, a towne in Italy.

Aquipenser, lyke Acipenser.

Aquisgranum, a towne in Germany, called Aquisgrane, or Aix.

Aquitania, Guyan, accoumpted to be the thyrde part of Fraunce, hath on the west the occean sea, on the northe the ryuer of Loyre, or (as Cæsar wryteth) the riuer of Geronde: On the east the part of Fraunce called Lugdunensis, on the south the mountayne Pyrenei, whiche diuide Fraunce from Spayne. All be it a part therof conteineth Gascoygne, Foix, Bygor, and and a few countreis more.

Aquitanus, or Aquitanicus, a, um, of Guyan.

Aquites, the name of a pryest.

Aquo, aui, are, to fetche or beare water.

Aquor, aris, atus sum, ari, depon. to fetche or proupde water to water cattell.

Aquôsus, a, um, full of water.

Aquula, a lyttle water. Also a towne in Hetruria.

ARa, an aultar. Ara is also a planet.

Aras adolére, to bourne sacrifice.

In aram confugere, to flee to sainctuary.

Vsque ad aras esse amicum, to doo all the pleasure a man can for his friend, sauynge his conscience.

Ara, idem quod Iolium.

Arabarches, a lorde of Arabie.

Arabia, in hebrue Saba, is a countrey in Asia, dyuided into three regions, Petrea, Deserta, and Fælix. Petrea, (signifiynge stonye) marcheth on Egypte, and Judea. Plinie calleth it Nabathea, the chiefe citee therof is Petra, now called Arach: In holy scripture it is called Petra deserti. By this countrey the childzen of Israell passed out of Egypt. It is (as Strabo wryteth) playne, enuyronned with roches of a great heyght, wherein bee many fyrynges of freshe water. without that circuite, towarde Judea, the more parte of the countrey is desert without water. There is the great mountayne Sina, called of Ptholome Melanes, where the olde lawe was geuen to Moyses, and where the body of the holy virgine Catharyne is buryed. Also an other mountayne called Casius, where the great Pompeius is buried.

Arabia deserta, of Strabo called Sænetis, hath on the south, the mountaynes of Arabia fælix, on the north Mesopotamia, on the west Petrea. The people of this countrey haue no certayne habitacion, but dwell in tentes.

Arabia fælix, on the south lieth betweene the two seas Arabicum and Persicum, which is so plentifull, that it dyngeth forth corne and fruites twise in the yere. They haue plentifull of all fruite and cattell, except horses, mules, and swyne: Of all foules, except geese, cockes, and hennes. also there groweth all kynde of spyces and swete gummes. The townes are vnwalled, because the people do lyue alway in peace.

Arabicé olere, to smell of swoete sauours.

Arabicus, and Arabius, a, um, of Arabie.

Arábilis, le, tarable.

Arabis,

Arabis, or, Arbis, a ryuer.
Arábrica, a towne in Portugall.
Arabs, bis, one that dwelleth in Araby.
Arabus, bi, a stone lyke to puoyr, whiche beynge broken to pouder, is holsome to rub the teeth. lyke Dioſco. li. 5. cap. 140.
Aráchne, the name of a woman, whiche fyrſt inuented ſpinnyng of lynnen, and makynge of nettes. it is alſo taken for linnen yarne, or the wouke of cloth.
Aráchneus, a little beaſt, whiche goeth a foote pace.
Arachnides, a very thinne ſkynne in the eie, which ſinketh downe ſomewhat in the myddes: in the holownelle wherevnto is a thynge ſomewhat lyke to glaſſe, whiche cauſeth the eye to be in colour gray or blacke or otherwyſe.
Arachnion, kyne threde, alſo a certayne kaute in oliues.
Arachoſia, a countrey in Aſia.
Aráctus, a great ryuer in the vttermoſt borders of Egypte.
Araciæ ficus, kygges brode and whyte, which doe grow on a little ſtalke.
Aracynthus, a mountayne in Beeotia in Greece, or, after other, in Athens, in Arcadie, or Acarnanie: where Minerua was ſpecially honoured.
Araduca, a citee in Spayne, called commonlye Arcua.
Aradus, a citee in the yle Tripolis, towarde Syria, where as Poſſidonius wryteth, was ſeene a ſerpent lye dead in length. 125. paces, and of ſuche greatneſſe, that he mought deuour a man on horſebacke, and euery ſcale of his ſkyn was greatter than any ſhielde.
Arę, certayne rockes in the ſea betwene Afrike and Sardinia, where the Africanes and the Romayns made a league.
Arę flauię, a ryuer in Germany called Nordlingen.
Aragus, a ryuer nere to the Maſſagetes.
Aram, was brother to Abraham.
Aramæi, the Scythians.
Aránea, a copwebbe. ſometyme a ſpyder. it is ſometyme taken for the downe that cometh of the bloſſoms or flower of wilowes.
Aranéolus, or aranéola, a ponge or lyttell ſpyder or copwebbe.
Araneôſus, a, um, full of ſpyders, copwebbes, or thynges lyke to copwebbes.
Araneoſus vomitus, when in the vomitinge, thynges are ſeene lyke copwebbes.
Araneum, nij, n. g. a kaute in vines and oliues, whan the fruite is wrapped as it were in a copwebbe, and ſo deſtroyed.
Araneus, a ſpider. it is alſo a fyſhe of the greatneſſe of a gougeon, in colour diuers, haunyng on his backe nygh to his head. iii. prickles.
Araneus mus, a beaſte in Italy, whoſe brynge is venemous.
Arar, or Araris, a ryuer in Fraunce, called now Sagona, whiche is ſo quiete, that vnneth it may bee perceyued, whiche waie it renneth. Not farre from Lyõs, it falleth into the ryuer Rhone. Ouer this ryuer Julius Cæſar made a brydge in one daie.
Arange, idem quod Spondilion. Dioſcorides li. 3. cap. 86.
Ararus, a ryuer in Scithia, whiche renneth thorough the roialme of Armenie.
Arath, a countrey in Armenie wonderfull fertyle.
Aráto, ônis, tyllage of the earthe.
Arátiuncula, a diminutiue.
Arátor, oris, a plough man. ſometyme a plough ore. alſo a poetes name.
Arátro, áui, áre, to plough eftſoones lande that is ſowen to make it fatte.
Aratrum, áratri, a plough.
Arátus, a poete in Aſia, before the incarnacion 246. yeres, amonge diuers other warkes, wrate certayne verſes of aſtrologie, whiche were tranſlated by Tullie, and alſo by Germanicus, the ſonne adoptiue of Tiberius the emperour.
Araurius, a ryuer of Fraunce called alſo Rauraris.
Arauſio, a citee called commonly Aurenge.
Araxes, a ryuer in Armenia, ouer whiche great Alexander made a brydge, and likewyſe did Auguſtus the emperour.
Arba, a citee and an plande of Illiria.
Arbea, a citee in Judea, where Adam and other three patriarkes were buried.
Arbela, a countrey in Perſia. Q. Curtius ſaieth, it is a citee of Meſopotamie, where great Alexander vanquiſhed the power of Darius kynge of Perſia.
Arbies, a people of Indie.
Arbilla, the karneſſe of the bodie.
Arbiter, árbitri, an arbitratour, a man indifferently choſen, to be iudge betwene two parties, an vmpyre or ſtickler.
Arbitrum ſumere, eligere, accipere, to take or chooſe an arbitour.
Dicere & ſtatuere arbitrum, to appoynte an arbytour.
Sine arbitris aliquid facere, to doo a thynge alone ſecretly.
Ab arbitris remotus locus, or locus ab arbitris liber, a place ſecrete or little haunted, or where is no reſorte of men to trouble one.
Arbiter initiationis, a godfather.
Ab arbitris remotus locus. &c. a place free from all company or comptrollers.
Loca venuſta ſunt, abdita certe, & ſi quid ſcribere velis ab arbitris libera, the places are faire, at the leaſt wiſe ſecrete they bee: and in caſe a body bee wyllynge to wryte, free from all comptrollers: as if he ſhulde haue ſaide, from ſuche as wolde ſaye, what ſhulde he go wryte now? an other tyme were better, it is now out of ſeaſon, with other wordes of dehortynge.

Arbitra-

Arbitramẽtum, of some is vsed for the sentence or iudgement of the arbiter.

Arbitrárie, after his owne mynde, or accordynge to the warde that was made.

Arbitrárid, vncertaynly, vndeterminately.

Arbitrárium, rij, neu. gen. that is not yet determined, arbitrable.

Arbitrárius, a, um, that is not yet awarded, determined, or iudged.

Arbitrâtus, us, ma. g. arbitrement, will, pleasure or iudgement. looke Arbitrium.

Arbitratu meo, in my iudgement. sometyme it signifieth at my pleasure.

Viri boni arbitratu, after the iudgement and aduise of an honest man.

Tuo arbitratu id fiat, Let that be dooen after your fantasie, or as ye wyll deuise it.

Arbitri, they that are present. somtime witnesses.

Arbitris remotis mecum loquebatur, They, which were present, commaunded away, he talked with me.

Arbitrium, trij, arbitrement, a ward, iudgemente, aduise, opinion, wil, pleasure, fantasie, or appetite. sometyme the authoritee giuen to the arbiter.

Omnia pro arbitrio suo facit, he dooeth all thynges after his owne mynde, or as pleaseth hym selfe.

Ad arbitrium suũ scribere, to wryte of a matter after his owne fantasie and opinion.

Viuere ad aliorum arbitrium non ad suum, to lyue after the mynde & appetite of other men, and not as he wyll hym selfe.

Ad arbitrium & nutum alterius se fingere, to facion him selfe after an other mans wille, appetite, or commaundement.

Arbitrium tuum sit, be it as ye wyll.

Non vestri arbitrij erit, it wyll not be in your power.

Arbitrium liberum, free wille.

Arbitrio suo carere, not to haue his owne wil, or to be vnder an other.

Arbitrium recipere, to take vpon one to be indifferent iudge betwene two parties.

Arbitror, âtus sum, ari, to gyue sentence as an arbiter dooeth, to trowe, to thynke, to suppose, to iudge, to awarde, to obserue and marke what a man dooeth or saieth, to deuyse or appoynte after what facion a thyng should be dooen.

Secede huc, ne arbitri dicta nostra arbitrari queant, Come hither a syde, that they whiche be present, may not harken what we saye.

Arbor, & arbos, a tree. sometime it is vsed for the maste of a shippe. sometime an oze.

Arbor inanis, a holow tree.

Arbor Iouis, an oke.

Defringere ex arbore plantas, to gather graftes of a tree.

Serere arbores, to plant or graffe trees.

Arbor, the name of a fishe in Plin. li. 6. ca. 4.

Arborárius, a, um, that haunteth or maketh nestes in trees.

Arborâtor, a lopper of trees, a woodman.

Arboréfco, scis, scere, to ware to a tree.

Arboretum, ti, idem quod arbustum.

Arbóreus, a, um, of a tree, or like a tree.

Arborideus ramus, a bough that is kepte and nourished to be a great tree. Colu. li. 5. ca. 4.

Arbórius, a, um, pertaynyng to trees.

Arboses, olde writers vsed for arbos.

Arbúscula, læ, a litle tree. also the proper name of a woman.

Arbustiuus, a, um, or after some arbustiuus, ioygned or sette in order by trees: pertaynyng or like to a place sette with trees.

Arbustiuæ vites, vines sette or planted in order by trees.

Arbustiuus locus, a place beset with trees.

Arbústo, aui, are, to sette a fielde with trees, to make a groue.

Arbústum, a place where trees be sette, properly elmes, wythy, or salow, a groue. It may bee taken for an orcharde, a hop yarde, or a vineyard, where vines doo growe vp by trees, it is also a vyne that renneth vp in heyghte, or by a pole.

Arbustus, a, um, full of trees. also fertile, growing plentifully or rankely.

Arbúteus, a, um, of a wyldyng tree.

Arbutum, arbuti, an appell called a wyldynge. it is also called vnedo.

Arbutus, ti, f. ge. a wyldyng tree.

Arbutus, a tree that groweth in Italie, and hath leaues lyke Muskentree, a fruite like strawberies, wherof phisicions name it strawberie tree, or arbute tree.

Arca, a citee in Syria.

Arca, cæ, a coffer or chest. also a coffin or chest, in which corpis be caried to churche, or buryed in. It is also a streite place in a prisone, called litell ease. also a damme, stanke, or pile, made to stoppe the course of the water, vntill a bridge or other thyng bee made in a riuer or in the sea.

Arca Noe, a great vessell, whiche God commaunded Noe to make, that he, his wyfe, his three sonnes and their wyues, mought bee preserued from the vniuersall floude the yere of the worlde 1652. And before the incarnation. 2310. yeres. This vessell contayned in length. 300. cubites of geometrie: whyche after the exposition of sayncte Augustin were. 300. perches, euery cubite of geometry beynge sixe common cubites. In breadth it was. 50. perches. In deapnesse from the hatches to the bottome. 30. perches, from the hatche vpwarde, one perche. Noe at the finishynge of this arke, was of the age of 600. yeares. Berosus writeth, that after the floude, this arke remayned on a mountayne in Armenia, called Cordiei, where he in his tyme saw parte therof.

Arca testamenti, called also, Arca fœderis, a coffer or chest made by Moyses, in the desert (fiue cubites in length, and. iii. in breadth) wherein were put the table of the olde lawe, the rodde of Moyſes, and parte of Manna. It was made of ſtronge woode, and ſoote, & heuered, as well within as without, with fine golde. And on the toppe were two images of angels Cherubim.

of

Arcadia, a countrey in Grece, ſet in the myddle of Peloponeſus, or Morea, ſo called of Arcas, the ſonne of Iupiter, who reygned there. It was alſo called Pelaſgia, Parrhaſia, and Lycaonia. There was the bagpype firſt inuented. Alſo the greate fenne Lernea, where Hercules ſlew the monſter Hydra, is there, with the riuer Crimäthus, and a mountayne of the ſame name. There is alſo founde the ſtone Ibeſton, whiche beynge ones hotte, maie neuer be quenched, and is of the colour of yron.

Arcadia, a certayne peculiar lawe in the emperours eſchecker.

Arcâne, ſecretely.

Arcano, alone, in a priuie place.

Arcanum prodere, to diſcloſe ones counſayle.

Arcânus, a, um, ſecrete, hyd, cloſe, pryuye, vnknowen.

Arcanus homo, a cloſe felowe, that will kepe counſayle.

Arcanos ſenſus alicui prodere, to commit ſecrete counſayle to a man.

Arcanæ tabellæ, bookes wherin ſecrete matters be written.

Arcânum, i, neu. gene. a thynge ſecrete, hydde, or knowen of fewe.

Arcârius, rii, ma. ge. he that kepeth the common treaſure, a treaſorer, a cofferar, a chamberlayne.

Archadicus, or Archadius, a, um, of Arcadie.

Archas, adis, or chados, one of Arcadia.

Archas, the ſonne of Iupiter and Calliſthona, daughter of Lycaon, (before the incarnacion. 1470. yeres) hearyng that his mother (beynge a virgine conſecrate) was defloured by Iupiter, whan he was begotten, and therefore expelled of the other virgins, would haue ſlaine hir: who beynge aferde of him, fledde into wyldernesſe, and hid hir, tyll ſhe and her ſonne were reconciled by Iupiter. Afterwarde, they bothe beynge dead, the paynyms feygned, that they were tranſlated amonge the ſterres, ſet nigh to the pole arctike, and the mother called Vrſa minor, and the ſonne Vrſa maior.

Arcâtus, a, um, bent like a bowe.

Arcella, læ, a diminutiue of arca, or after ſome of Arcer, an horſe litter, alſo a foſſet.

Arcellatæ vites, vines ſet or ordered after the faſion of an horſe litter or charriotte. Col. lib. 3. ca. 22.

Arceo, cui, ère, itum, to ſtreigne or tie harde, to put of, to dryue awaye, to kepe in ſtreicte ordre, to kepe of, to barre, to debarre, to forfende.

Arcere aditu, to kepe of, or lette one that he may not enter.

Arcere homines improbitate, to keepe men from lewdneſſe.

Arcere frigora, to keepe or defende awaye the colde.

Arcere ſolem, to ſhadow or kepe of the heate of the ſunne.

Arcera árceræ, an horſe litter or charriotte.

Arceſilas, a philoſopher, the ſcholar of Polæmon. There was alſo of that name a cunnyng keruer of images, ſpecially the image of Diana.

Arceſilâus, one of the .v. capitaynes of Bœotia, that came to Troie. Alſo a philoſopher of the ſect of the Academikes, and ſcholar to Crantor.

Arceſoſtis, a kynde of white vine called ampeloleuſe, lyke there.

Arceſitus, a, um, the participle of arceſſo.

Arceſitum dictum, a kinde of ſpeakynge to much affectate.

Arceſſo, iui, ère, itum, to call, to call for, to go to call, to purchaſe or get a thyng, to accuſe, to call vp, as men doo ſpirites.

Arceſſere ab aratro, to call from the plough.

Arceſſere ventos, to rayſe vp the wyndes.

Arceſſere manes, to call or rayſe vp ſpirites.

Arceſſere à capite, to fetche a thynge euen from the begynnynge.

Arceſſere capitis, to accuſe one of a deadely offence.

Arceſſam ad ſocietatem laboris, I wyll call for him to bee partetaker of my labour, or to helpe me.

Arceſſere ſibi cauſam mortis, to be the cauſe of his owne deathe.

Archaiſmos, ſer. ge. a figure, ſignifiyng a thynge to be ſpoken after the auncient ſort.

Archander, Danaus wiues father.

Archârius, a chiefe ruler, the chief head or gouernour.

Archédicus, a comicall poete.

Archelaus, the name of diuers famous men. One a philoſopher, the diſciple of Anaxagoras, borne at Miletum, maiſter to Socrates, brought firſt naturall philoſophy out of Ionia to Athens. Of this name were diuers kynges: One of Macedonia (whome Plato calleth a tyran) ſlayne by Cratena his minion. whan he hyred the famous peinter Zeuſis to peynte his palaice: Socrates ſaied merily, he did it to prouoke men to reſorte vnto him: though they would not come for his ſake, yet at leaſt they ſhould gladlye come to beholde his fayre houſe. Alſo whan he had with him at ſupper diuers learned men, a poete deſyred of him a ſumme of money, which he cauſed to be brought, and foorthwith gaue it to Euripides, who dyd not aſke it, ſayinge, thou arte worthy to haue it, and he to deſyre it.

Archemorus, ſonne of Lycurgus king of Nemea, was ſlayne by an adder, as his nourſe laied him in the graſſe by a ryuer ſyde. For whoſe ſake wer made certayne playes called Nemei. he was alſo called Opheltes.

Archeota, a chiefe officer, as it were the mayſter of the rolles.

Archepſolomus, was charpotte manne to Hertor of Troye.

Archetypus,pi,m,g. the first example or paterne.
Archetypi amici, by a metaphore, trewe and faythfull frendes, or after some, auncient frendes.

Archezostes,a white vine, looke Ampeloleuce.

Archias, called also I. Licinius, a poete of Antiochie, muche fauoured and honoured of the noble men of Rome, specially of Lucullus and Tullie who defended him in a noble oration, wherin he speaketh much to the commendacion of poetrie.it was also the name of him that builded Syracusis.

Archiatrus,or archiâter, tri,masc, gen. a chiefe phisicion.

Archibelion, of some is taken for anchusa.Dios. lib.4.ca.26.

Archibius, a grammarian of Alexandria.

Archidamus, (a noble man of Sparta) beynge demaunded, howe muche money woulde serue to the warre of Peloponesus, answered, that warre sought for no certaynte.

Archidemus, a mans name. Aristoph. in ranis.

Archigenes, the name of a famous phisicion. It is he also that would be taken for the wisest of his kynne.

Archigerontes, the chiefe in authorite amonge auncient men.

Archigrammatêus, a chauncellour or chiefe secretarie.

Archigubernius,is vsed of Trebellius, for an admirall, or els a chiefe shippe maister.

Archilochus,a poete of Lacedemonia, that wrate in the kinde of verses, Iambici,wherein he was so vehement,that where Licambes, his wyues father, tooke from hym his wyfe, and maried hir to an other man, he so rated hym with verses, that he compelled him for sorowe and indignacion, to hange hym selfe. He was before the incarnation. 650.peres.

Archimagirus, ri, masc.gene. a chiefe cooke or maister cooke.

Archimandrita, tæ,mas. gene. an abbot or ruler of hermites.

Archimedes, a famous geometrician of Syracusis, in Sicile, who by his arte dyd longe tyme resiste Marcellus,Capitayne of the Romayns, that besieged the citee. Finally the citee beynge won,and he sent for by Marcellus,was founde drawyng figures of geometrie in the grounde, whereynto he was so attentiue, that whan he was boden come to Marcellus, he answered, whan he had finished the figure,he wold come. At whiche answer the messanger disdeinynge, slew him. for which deede Marcellus was crediynge sore. Some suppose,he first inuented the makyng of materiall spheres and globes. He made a dooue of wod, whiche had in it suche equall poyse,that it wouldc hange in the ayre by a longe space. he made also an horologe, wherin myght be sene the true course of the heauens and spheres. He was afore the incarnation. 192. peres.

Archimimus, mi, mas. gen. the maister or chiefe of the players, or of them which represent others mens gestures in playes to store them.

Archine,idem quod mãdragora. Dio.li,4.c.79

Archiótæ, they whiche haue the rule of the place, where commons euidences be kept, or they that kepe common libraries.

Archipirâta, æ, ma. g. an archepyrate, a maister of theeues, or a chiefe robber on the sea.

Archippócamus,mi, masc. gene. the maister of the horses.

Architas, a noble philosophier of Tarentine, the disciple of Pythagoras,and capitayne of the inuisible army of the Tarentines. He was mayster to Plato in geometrie, whome he also deliuered from Dionysius the tyran of Sicile. he was afore the incarnation of Christ about. 370. peres. There was a connynge carpenter of the same name.

Architectio,onis,fœm.ge. dyuisyng or makyng of a thynge.

Architécton,ônis,m,g.idem quod architectus

Architectónice,es,f. gene. idem quod architectura.

Architectónicus,a, um, pertaynyng to the maister carpenter or chiefe deuiser of the workes.

Architéctor,ôris,m.g,idem quod architectus.

Architéctor,âris, âri, to make craftyly,or to deuise buildyng counnyngly.
Architectari voluptates, to inuente waies or meanes of pleasure.

Architectûra,the cunnynge of dyuysyng of buyldynge,the science of masons or carpenters.sometyme the buildyng it selfe.

Architéctus,ti,m,g. a chiefe diuiser of buildyng or mayster of the workes,or he that goeth about any gyle or deceyte. Also a principall author, worker,or diuiser of any thynge.
Architectus legis, the diuyser or maker of a lawe.
Architectus obsoniorum, a cooke, a diuiser or dresser of viandyse.
Architectus & princeps sceleris, the chiefe and principall worker of this mischiefe.
Omnium machinator & architectus est, he is the worker and diuiser of all these matters.
Architectus verborum, the inuenter or maker of wordes.
Architectus beatæ vitæ, the fyrst inuenter or diuiser of happy or blessed lyfe.

Architriclinus,ni,mas.ge.mayster of the house, or chiefe ruler of the feast, it may bee vsed for a shewer,or the marshall of the haule, for hys office was,to see the meate brought in, and euerie thynge set on the table in place and order.

Archiuum, the treasory of muniwentes, and euidences belongynge to a kynge or citee, a pryncis palais,a great officers house,as the lorde chauncellours,or the rolles.

Archoph-

Archophthalmon, idem quod Chrysogonum,
Archon, óntis, was the chiefe dignitie in Athens. A greate officer lyke to the Byetor in Rome in olde time, and the lorde chiefe Justice wyth vs.
Archóntici, certayne heretikes, whiche affirmed, that the vniuersal state of thinges was not made by god, but by princis. And they also denied the resurrection of the bodie.
Archos, a prince or chiefe ruler.
Arcirma, a litteil carte, a whele barow.
Arcio, cíui, íre, itum, to put in, to set to, to graffe.
Arcitenens, éntis, the surname of Apollo, whiche is alway peincted with a bowe in his hand. also the signe called Sagittarius.
Arcium, cij, the clotte leafe, the burre.
Arcónicum, a minerall, called Arsenike.
Arcte, streictly, narowly.
Arcte accubare, to sitte or lie nere togither.
Arcte diligere, to loue earnestly.
Arcte tenere & defendere aliquid, to holde. and defende a thynge earnestly, or stifely.
Arctius complecti, to imbrace one harde.
Arcte dormire, to sleape soundly.
Arcticus, a, um, towarde the northe.
Arcticus polus, the northe pole.
Arctium, the great burre.
Arctophilax, acis, masc. gene. a sterre that folowes Charles wayne, called also Arctum and Bootes.
Arcto, aui, are, to streigne, to bynde streicte, to make narowe or streicte.
Arctomys, a beast, whiche I take to be an hedges hogge.
Arctos, fœm, ge. in englyshe a beare, it is a figure of sterres, of whiche there be twayne, Vrsa maior, called also Helice, and Vrsa minor, called Cynosura.
Arctôus, a, um, of the northe.
Arctus, a, um, streicte, narowe.
Arctum animum soluere, to sette a sorowfull or pensyue herte at lyberte to caste away care.
Arctior somnus, sounde sleape.
Arcta iura, streict lawes.
Arctæ res, aduersitee, daunger, perill, trouble.
Arctis in rebus opem ferre, to help one in aduersitee.
Arctûrus, a sterre, that is at the taple of that, which is called Vrsa maior.
Arcuâtim, bent like a bowe.
Arcuâtus, a, um, facioned lyke a bowe or arche, also sicke of the iaunders.
Arcubalísta, a crosse bow.
Arcubij, the watchemen in a fortresse or towne.
Arcula, árculæ, a lyttell coffer or cashet. also a byrde amonge the augurians, which dissalowed a thyng to be doone.
Arculâta, cirdes made with brasse, whiche were vsed in sacrifice.
Arculus, árculi, a lyttell bowe or arche. also a god, whiche hath the tuition of coffers and chests. also idem quod arculum.
Areulum, árculi, n. ge. a roll that women doos weare on theyr heades, to beare water or milke calcip, a wyase.
Arcuo, áui, áre, to make bent lyke a bowe, or to make a vaulte.
Arcus, us, masc. ge. a bow, or the vault of a roofe.
Arcum intendere, or adducere, to bende a bow.
Arcu tela dirigere, to shoote.
Porrigere arcum, idem quod dare manus, to yelde.
Arcus remissus, a bow vnbent.
Arcum retendere, to vnbende a bowe.
Arcus, us, & arcus, ci, the rayne bowe.
Ardalides, the surname of the muses, after Ardalus the sonne of Vulcan.
Ardea, árdeæ, a byrde called an hearon. It is also the name of a citee in Latio, beynge from Rome aboute xviii. myles. In it was the palace of Turnus, whome Eneas vanquished, and the people there were called Rutili.
Ardeas, atis, and Ardeatinus, a, um, of the citee Ardea.
Ardélio, ónis, one that can neuer stande styll, but is alwaie full of gesture, a busy man, medlyng in many thynges, and can skylle of nothynge. A smatterer in euery mans matter.
Ardens, éntis, hasty in doing, quicke witted, burnynge, ardent, shynyng, earnest.
Ardens febris, a bournyng feuer.
Ardentes equi, swyfte horses.
Ardentes papulæ, the sores called carbuncles.
Ardénter, feruently.
Ardeo, si, dére, to bourne, to be on fyre, to loue ardently, or exceedingly, to make haste, to be consumed, to desire, also to shyne, to be more hotte or earnest in a matter, to rage for anger.
Tyrios ardebat murice læna, his mantell did shyne of fyne purple of Tyre.
Ardere cupiditate, to couet ardently.
Ardere iracundia, to be inflamed with anger.
Ardere maximo flagitio, to haue dooen, or to be defamed of a mischeuous deede.
Ardeo te videre, I desyre earnestly to see you.
Ex æquo ardere, to loue eche other feruentlye.
Ardere in virgine, to be rauished with the loue of a mayde.
Ardet ad vlciscendum animus, I am verye desyrous to be reuenged.
Ardent omnia bello, the warre rageth euery where.
Ardere dolore, to be sore grieued.
Ardet inuidia, he is greatly enuyed.
Ardere studio veri reperiendi, to be very desyrous to finde out the trouth.
Ardeola, an hearnesew, wherof be three kyndes: One is called Pella, whiche ingendreth wyth muche difficultee, and lyke wyse sitteth: In the time of treadynge, the bloud issueth oute of the eies, a blew heron. The other is called Alba, or in grcke Leuce, a cricl heron or a dwarfe heron. the thirde is called Stellaris, or piger, a bittour.

Ardesco, arsi, scere, to bee hastye or fierse. looke Ardeo.

Ardescit facile, it is soone set on fyre.

Ardis, the sonne of Gyges kynge of Lidia.

Ardiscos, a ryuer of Scythia.

Ardor, oris, mas. ge. vehement heate, burnynge, feruency, earnest desyre, excedynge loue.

Ardor animi consedit, the feruente desyre of the minde is alaied.

Ardor edendi, great hunger.

Arduenna, a greate woodde in Gallia Belgica, which was in lengthe, 500. myles compyng from the riuer of Rhene, thyough the lande of Luke, vnto the citie of Tourney.

Arduitas, âtis, fœm. ge. the hyghnesse of an hyll harde to clime or get vp on.

Arduus, olde writers vsed for aridus.

Arduus, a, um, harde, peynfull, hyghe, difficile, stiepe downe, as the bzowes of roches, and the edges of cliffes, harde to get vp on. Sometime feruent, courageouse.

Campo arduus infert, he rusheth into the fielde with a lusty courage.

Cedrus ardua, a very high ceder tree.

Res arduæ & difficiles, harde and dyffycile matters. Sometyme aduersitee, daungier, trouble.

Cliuus arduus, a cliffe of an hyll, high & stiepe downe.

Ardua, et ardua terrarum, hygh places, hylles harde to passe by.

Area, æreæ, a large place in a citee, kepte euer cleane, where marchaunte doe assemble. Also it is euery place that is marked out to builde or sette an house in. Also a flooze, where corne is threshed. It is moze ouer a plotte in a gardeyne digged and trimmed reddy to be sowen or sette. It may be vsed for a bedde in a gardein, a parde or courte within an house, a soze in the head, which causeth the heare to fall.

Area, also a rounde circle that doeth compasse any sterre or planet.

Areator, a threshar, after Calepine.

Arecomici, people of Narbone in Fraunce.

Arefacio, arefacis, feci, ere, to make drie.

Arelate, a citie in Fraunce, called Orleance, another in Norica, called Lynze.

Aremorica, the countrey of Aquitayne in Fraunce.

Arena, a citee in Peloponesus.

Arena, sande. sometyme dyze grounde lyke to sande. also a theatre.

Arenas in littus fundere, a prouerbe, signifyng to doe a thynge that nedeth not.

In arena mea, Plinie vseth for, In mea functis one, in my office or iurisdiction.

Arenaceus, a, um, sandy.

Arenaria, arum, pittes where sande is dygged.

Arenarius, a, um, pertaynynge to a seghynge place.

Arenatum, ti, neut. gen. morter.

Arenatus, a, um, pergetted with lime and sande.

Arenosus, a, um, sandy, or full of sande.

Arens, entis, dzy or thyrsty.

Arenula, fyne sande.

Areo, ui, ere, to be dyze, or to be made dzy.

Arere siti, to be dzye for thyrst.

Areola, a bedde in a gardeyne, or a lyttel parde.

Areopagitæ, Judges, whyche satte in a place by Athens, to iudge causes of murder, and weighty thynges concernyng the commune weale. It is vsed sometyme for other seuere and vncozrupted iudges.

Areopagus, the village of Mars, where the sayde iudges dyd sit in iudgement.

Areopolis, a citee in Arabie, called also Aloab.

Areopolitæ, the inhabitaunte of Areopolis.

Arepennis, a measure of grounde amonge the Frenche menne, as muche as our lande or halfe aker.

Arefco, arui, scere, to waxe dyze, or to bee made dzie.

Arestum, ti, neu. gen. a decree or ozdynaunce.

Areta, the daughter of Aristippus, the philosopher, whiche succeded him in his schoole. She taught, that the pleasure, whiche moste delyted the body, was the chiefe goodnesse.

Aretalogus, li, mas. gen. a bragger, or a vaunter of his owne vertues. sometyme a forger of lyes to make men merry.

Arete, in latine, Virtus, in englysshe vertue. It was also the name of the wyfe of Alcinous, king of Pharacis, of whome Homere writeth in Odyssea.

Arethuse, the compagnyon of Diana. It is also the name of a fountayne in Sicile, and of an other in Media. also a towne in Grece, a citee in Eubœa, and an other in Syria.

Arethusis, the name of the citee Syracusis, nere to the fountayne Arethusa.

Arethyssa, & Arethusa, a ryuer in the greate Armenie.

Aretinus, a, um, of the citee Aretium.

Aretium, a citee in Tuscan, called Arezo. fo. myles from Peruse.

Aretus, the sonne of Nestor and Euridices.

Arferia, æ, wyne and water offered to the infernal goddys, or rather dyuelles.

Argagarion, a certeyne medicine, giuen agaynste the leprie.

Arganthonius an hyll nyghe to Bithynia, by the citee of Brusias, nigh thervnto is a well, where Hilas the companion of Hercules was sodeynly taken away by the Nymphes, whan he was at that well to fetche water.

Argantonius, a kynge of a citee in Bœotia, another in Spayne, which lyued. 120. peres, or after some. 300. peres.

Argas, a name of reproche, giuen to Demosthenes in hys eldship. Suidas esteemeth it to bee a kynde kynde of serpentes.

Argãtis, a kinde of fowle that breedeth in water bankes, makyng her neast with lynnen threde in fourme of a balle, so close, that the entrynge into it can not be founde.

Argema, ãtis, fœ. ge. or Argema, atis, n. g. a sore in the eyes, whiche beyng in the blacke of the eye, is white, and in the whyte of the eye, it is redde.

Argémone, es, or Argemon, an herbe, whiche hath leaues lyke wylde poppye, ragged, also a purple flower, the toppe is a rodde longer than the head of a poppy, and brode aboue, a rounde roote, the iuice of it is of the colour of saffron and tarte. it is that whiche is commonly called agrimonia.

Argenon, a precious stone of the kinde of Jasper.

Argentária, a banke of exchaunge, a bankers table or shoppe, the office of bankers.

Argentariam facit, he maketh or occupieth a banke for exchaunge.

Argentarius, a, um, of or pertaynynge to syluer or money.

Argentaria fodina, a syluer myne.

Argentaria taberna, a bankers shoppe.

Argentaria cura, care for money.

Argentaria inopia, lacke of money.

Argentariæ illecebræ, thynges gettynge money.

Argentarius cõmeatus, prouision of money.

Argentárius, rij, a banker, with whome men do make their exchaunge of money.

Argentágina, æ, the siluer sickenesse.

Argentãtus, a, um, couered with siluer.

Argénteus, a, um, of syluer.

Argentina, a layre citee in Germany, on the west side of the riuer of Reine, called Strauldrough. it was also called Argentoratum.

Argentósus, a, um, mixt with syluer.

Argéntum, ti, siluer. sometyme it signifieth plate or money.

Argentum factum, siluer redy to be coyned, or rather siluer ingrauen, or plate.

Argentum signatum, money, syluer coyned.

Argenti fodina, a syluer myne.

Argentum pustulatum, pure syluer well tried.

Argentum viuum, quicke syluer.

Argæa, places in Rome, where certayne auncient grekes were buried.

Argæi, ymages made of bull rushes, whiche the virgins Vestales vsed to cast yerely into Tyber.

Argæus, a very hygh hyll, on the toppe whereof is alway snow.

Argestes, the wynde that bloweth out of the southe weste.

Argetos, swyft, bryght.

Argeus, a, um, of the citee of Argos.

Argi, a citee of Italy buylded by Diomedes, called after Argiripa.

Argia, a countrey in Peloponeso, or Morea. also the daughter of Adrastus, kyng of Argiues.

Argiæ plu. a citee in Laconia.

Argifontes, the name of Mercurius, because he slew Argus.

Argilétum, the sepulchre of Argus. Also a place, where potters clay is digged. it is also a streete in Rome, where booke sellers dwelled.

Argiletánæ, booke sellers dwellynge in the sayde streete called Argiletum.

Argilla, potters claye.

Argillácius, a, um, lyke to potters claye.

Argillósus, a um, full of that claye.

Argilus, a citee of Emathia, nere to the mouthe of the ryuer Strymon.

Arginusæ, three yerely yles in Asia, by the yles of Mitele and Lesbus.

Argion, the herbe called Capillus veneris, looke there.

Argiripa, looke Argi.

Argiros, idẽ quod mercurialis. Dioſ. li. 4. c. 102.

Argis, aduer. at the citee of Argos.

Argissa, a citee of Thessaly, nere to Peneum.

Argiuus, a Grecian.

Argi, Grecians.

Argo, fœm. gen. the shyppe, wherin Jason and his company sayled into Colchos, to wynne the fleece of golde.

Argólicus, a, um, of Argos.

Argolis, idis, a woman of Argos.

Argonauis, a synge, whiche ryseth the day before the idus of Marche.

Argonautæ, were the compaignions of Jason, whiche sayled with him vnto Colchos, as Castor, Pollux, Hercules, Thelamon, Orpheus, Zetus, Calais, and many other noble men, as well of bloud, as in prowesse. This voyage was before the incarnation. 1254. yeres.

Argopelasgus, one of Thessaly.

Argos, a countrey and citee in Thessalia, where Inachus reygned. In this countrey dee the famous mountaynes of Olympus and Ossa. also Argos was a citee not far from Athens, an other in Achaia. It was also the name of Ulisses dogge.

Argulus, the sonne of Impelas.

Argumentátio, ônis, the declaration of an argument.

Arguméntor, atus sum, ari, to argue, reasone, or dispute.

Argumentósus, a, um, that which is doone with great reason, or that hath much matter.

Arguméntum, ti, is a reason makynge a proofe, wherby one thynge is gathered by an other, to confirme that whiche is doubtfull. sometyme it signifieth a matter to speake or write of: or the summe of any matter that is written. sometyme coniecture. sometyme a shorte exposicion of that which followeth: otherwhyles a sentence. also a synge or token, a presumpcion.

Argumentum picturæ, the deuyse of a thyng portraied.

Argumentum scripturæ, the matter that is written of. Argumentis colligere, to gather by reason and argumentes.

Argumentum frigidum, a symple argumente of no force.

Satis est argumenti, it is a sufficient proufe.

Arguo, arguis, ui, ere, to reproue, to reprehende or blame, to impute, to accuse, to shewe, to vtter or declare. sometime to let or prohibite.

Arguere aliquem pecuniæ, to accuse one for stealyng of money.

Non ex audito arguo, I gather it not by here say. Arguitur virtus malis, vertue is declared in aduersitee.

Illum neque arguo, neq; purgo, I do neither lay it to his charge, nor acquite hym of it. I neither accuse, nor excuse him.

Quoniam verbo arguit, verbo satis est negare, Beeause he bryngeth proufe onely by wordes: it is sufficient to deny it with wordes.

Arguere reum, to shew and proue by reason, that the person is giltye.

Arguere aliquo crimine, to accuse or appeche a man of any crime.

Arguitur patrem occidisse, he is accused, or it is layed to his charge, that he hath murdred his father. Arguor immeritò, I am accused or blamed without cause, vnworthily.

Argutum iri, for In discrimen vocari.

Argûra, a citee of Thessalie.

Argus, the sonne of Triftor, thr.d. kynge of Argiues, which made the shippe, wherin Jason and other sailed to Colchos, the poetes feygne, that he had an hundred eyes, sygnifyng therby hys wisdome and circumspection. Moreouer, that Juno appointed him to kepe Jo, whom she had transformed into a cowe. But Mercurius (beynge sent by Jupiter) with his sweete harmony brought Argus on slepe, slew hym, tooke Jo frō hym, and brought her into Egypt. Than Juno tooke Argus eyes, and set theym in the peoches taile, wherfore the peroche is called Auis Iunonia.

Argutátio, reasonyng, debatynge, a reasynge or shrill noyse, a subtile poynte of reasonynge.

Argutátor, a subtill reasoner or disputer.

Argúte, an aduerbe, signifiyng wittily, subtilly.

Argútiæ, sharpe or shrewde wordes, harde & wittie sayynges, subtilitees.

Argutiæ digitorum, the meuyng or gesturyng of the fyngers.

Argutiæ vultus, often chaungyng of countenaunce.

Argutiola, a priuy taunt or quippie.

Argúto, aui, are, to obiecte, impute, or reproche.

Argûtor, atus sum, ari, to speake sharply, shrewdlie, or to chatte pertly.

Argutari pedibus, to leape or make gesture with the feete, as men doo in daunsynge.

Argutúlus, a, um, somewhat perte, quicke in answeryng, somewhat subtill.

Argûtus, a, um, reproued, accused. sometyme it signifieth shrewde, subtile, or wittie, and he that can in speakyng sharply inserche a mans witte. Also shril of voice, or that maketh a noyse lyke to leaues of a tree blowen with the wynde. sometyme leane, slender, small, sharpe or pyked.

Argûta diuisio, a subtile diuision.

Argûti homines, they that speake muche in few wordes, subtile or wittie men.

Argûti oculi, rollyng eyes, or alwayes meuing.

Argutum caput, a sharpe or picked head, lyke a sugar lofe.

Argutæ manus, handes ful of gesture or topes.

Ecquid argutus est? was he euer accused or reproued for any thyng?

Argyra, a citee in Sicile, where Diodorus Siculus was borne.

Argyránche, ranches, f. g. the syluer sickenesse.

Argyraspidæ, ma. ge. men bearynge shieldes of syluer. These were great Alexanders souldiours, whiche were after hys death, retayned of Queene Olimpias, as the launce knightes be.

Argyrini, a certayne people in Egypte.

Argyrion, syluer.

Argyrippa, a citee of Puell, buylded by Diomedes.

Argyritæ, certayne wyeflers, which were rewarded with money.

Argyritis, the spume or fome of syluer.

Argyrocopus, idem quod argentarius.

Argyródamas, a precious stone, whiche stoppeth the anger and fersenesse of men.

Argyrognomones, bankers that only exchaunge money.

Argirôndes, a ryuer in Etolia, in colour lyke syluer.

Argirólogus, he that seeketh or laboureth for money.

Argyrotóxos, he that beareth a syluer bow.

Aria, a countrey in Asia, bounded on the northe with Margiana, a parte of Bactria. Thyare was ones called by thys name.

Aria, ariæ, a certayne tree, whiche begynneth to beare frute at the begynnyng of wynter, and is of so harde matter, that before it can be cutte or bored, it must nedes be seasoned in water.

Ariabignes, the sonne of Darius by the daughter of Sobzia, one of the admiralles of Xerxes naup.

Ariadne, nes, f. g. a lady the wyfe of Theseus, whome he forsoke, not withstandyng she hadde saued his life.

Ariadneus, a, um, of Ariadne.

Ariannes, a famous citee in Armenie.

Ariapythes, a kyng of Scythia.

Ariarathes, a kynge of Capadocia, vnder whome that countrey was firste allied with the Romaynes.

Ariathes, a mans name.

Aricandos, a ryuer of Lycia, wherof a citee there is called Aricanda.

Aricia, a citee in Italy .x. myles from Rome, called called nowe Ricia caſtellum. alſo the wyfe of Hippolytus.

Aricinus, a, um, of Aricia.

Aricinum nemus, a woode by the ſayed citee, where Numa, the kyng of Romans, feigned to ſpeake with Egeria the fayry.

Aricinus lacus, a brooke by Aricia, called Speculum Dianæ.

Aricomiſsi, a people of Fraunce nere to the riuer Rhone, called alſo Arecomici, and Volcæ.

Arida, idem quod echion.

Arides, idem quod locuſtæ.

Ariditas, tâtis, dryeneſſe.

Aridaria, idem quod Chriſogonum. Dio. li. 4. cap. 59.

Aridus, árida, dum, drye or withered.

Arida vita, a ſtreicte, harde, or poore lyfe.

Aridus victus, harde or courſe fare.

Aridum ſermonis genus, a ſtyle that hath no ſwetneſſe or pleaſantneſſe in it.

Arida arua, barayne fieldes.

Arida crura, ſmall legges, that haue but ſhinne and bones.

Homo aridus, a bcray nygarde, a mylcr, a chinche, a pynche peny, a pelter, one that wyll ſcantly beſtow a penny vpon him ſelfe.

Aries, rietis, m. g. a ramme. alſo a piece of ordinaunce or ingine, made lyke a rammes head, to beate downe a wall. It is alſo one of the xii. ſignes that the ſonne paſſeth by. Alſo a fyſhe, hauyng hornes lyke a ramme, whiche he ſometyme holdeth with his head out of the water, & if he eſpie any man ſwimmyng, he goeth to hym, puſheth hym vnder the water, and deuoureth hym.

Arietárius, a, um, the adiectiue of Aries.

Arietinus, a, um, of a ramme.

Arieto, áui, áre, to ruſſhe or beate at a thynge, as rammes doo with their heades. alſo to hit or throw downe. ſometyme neutrally, for Labaſco, to fall or decaye.

Arij, a people of Scythia.

Arimáſpi, people of Scythia, whiche haue but one eie in theyr forehead. They fight continually with Gryphons or gripes. Herodotus ſayeth, they haue two eyes, but they vſe to wynke wyth the one, that they may haue the other more ſtedfaſt, whan they ſhoote.

Ariminenſis, one of Ariminum.

Ariminum, an olde citee in Flaminia, a countrey of Italye by the ryuer of Rubicion, called now Rimino.

Arimpæi, people vnder the dominion of Moſcouites, whiche lyue alwaye in woodes, and be gentill and iuſte in maners. They eate nothynge but bearies and maſte.

Arimus, a kyng of Myſia or Meonia.

Arinca, a kind of wheate called Siligo. loke there.

Ariobárzanes, a kinge of Cappadocia, who aided Pompei in his laſt batayl agaynſt Ceſar.

Ariolátio, ônis, a diuination.

Ariolus, looke Hariolus.

Arion, a famous harper, whome the mayners would haue caſte into the ſea to haue hys money: but he deſyryng them, to lette him play a ſonge on his harpe er he died, afterwarde leapt into the water, and a Dolphine receyuyng hym on his backe, brought him to lande a lyue. it is alſo one of Adraſtus chariot horſes.

Arion, in Dioſcorides is taken for Xiphion.

Arionius, a, um, of Arion.

Ariſarum, ri, n. g. or Ariſaros, a lyke herbe called ramſons: Fuchſius contendeth, that it is the herbe called Arum: and yet Dioſcorides ſeemeth to make them dyuers, in that he ſaieth, Ariſarum maioris eſt quàm Aron acrimoniæ, li. 2. ca. 186.

Ariſbe, or after ſome Ariſba, a citee in the countrey of Troy, and alſo in Lesbos.

Ariſta, æ, the bearde of corne. ſometime it is taken for the eare of wheate. ſometime for wheate.

Poſt aliquot ariſtas, after a few yeres.

Ariſtas æſtu numerare, a prouerbe, ſignyfiyng one to do a thynge in vayne: or to attempte that he cannot doo.

Ariſtæ pondus, a lyght mattier.

Ariſtæ, is vſed ſometyme for pili, heares.

Ariſtarchus, a grammarian of Alexandria, which taught the ſonne of kynge Ptolomeus called Philometor, he was of ſuche iudgement, that it was thought no verſe of Homere, which he dyd not approue. He died by abſtinence, whan he was of the age of. 72. yeres, before the incarnation. 127. yeres.

Ariſtathea, or Ariſtalthea, the malow wyth the greate leaues, the marſhe mallow.

Ariſtæus, the ſonne of Apollo and Cerres, called of Heſiodus Apollo paſtoralis, he was clayne with dogges. The Gentyles peynted hym a ponge ladde, beardleſſe, ſtandyng betweene the toppes of the mountaynes Pernaſus, out of whiche ranne the fountayne Caſtalius, hauyng caryed from him the ſerpente Python, whome he ſtrake through with his arrowe. They dedicated vnto him the gripe and the raucn.

Ariſteas, a poete in the tyme of Cyrus of Perſia.

Ariſtides, a noble man of Athens, in wyſedome iuſtyce and temperance excellent. He in the gouernance of the common weale of Athens, was ſoyned with Themiſtocles, a man of great ryches welth and riches, who ſaied in the counſayle, he knew a thynge, whiche was expedient to the common weale, but not neceſſary to bee openly knowen, and deſyred to haue one appoynted, to whome he ſhould diſcloſe it. The counſayle appoynted Ariſtides: to whome he ſhewed, that the naupe of the Lacedemonians ſhoulde bee ſhortly ſette on fyre, and ſo ſhoulde theyr puyſſaunce bee abated. Thys herde, Ariſtides returned to the counſayle, and ſayed: The aduiſe of Themiſtocles is profitable, but not honeſt. The Athenienſes hearynge it was not honeſt, iudged, it ſhoulde not be profitable, and wouldē not haue it than diſcloſed. Suche credence had they in Ariſtides. Alſo not withſtandynge the Athenienſes had exiled him, onely becauſe he excelled in iuſtice, yet at his departynge he prayed to god, that what ſo euer they deſyred, myght come to good effecte and concluſion. And called againe from exyle, he neuer remembred anie olde diſpleaſure, in ſo muche that he alway honoured Themiſtocles, with whome he euer contended in the weale publike. Of hys temperāce this is a greate token, that though he had ben in the greateſt dignitee and offices in the commune weale, yet died he ſo poore, that he left not to burie hym worſhipfully. And hys daughters were maried at the charge of the citee. And to his ſonne Liſymachus was giuen by the people one hundred Minæ, which amounteth of our money to. 239. pounde. vi. s. viii. d. Oh, howe may chriſten men be aſhamed, when they reade this storie, beholdyng in his temperaunce, iuſtice and charitee, a more reſemblaunce of Chriſtes doctrine, than is in them that wyll doo nothinge vnhyred, and meaſure iuſtice by theyr affections? Of this name were foure other. he was afore the incarnation. 474. yeres.

 woulde

Ariſtides, a chriſtian philoſopher in Athenes, the yere of our lorde. 132. made an elegant defence for Chriſtes religion, and delyuered it to Adrian the Emperour, wherwith he was ſo perſwaded, that he gaue commaundement to the proconſull of Aſia, that he ſhould put no chriſtien man to death, excepte he were conuicte of ſome notable crime.

Ariſtippus, diſciple to Socrates, putte the chiefe goodnes in voluptee or pleaſure: wherefore Diogenes calleth him the royall dogge, becauſe he alway folowed them that were riche, and taught for money. On a tyme, beynge on the ſea in a ſtorme, and the ſhippe in peryll, he was ſore afearde. After the peryll was paſte men aſked of him, why he feared ſo muche, ſens he was a philoſopher. The peryll ſayed he, in loſſe of an ignorant knaue, and of a noble philoſopher is not of lyke eſtimation. His folowers were called Cirenaici. His ſect by other diſciples of Socrates, and noble philoſophers, was vtterly exterminate. he had a doughter called Arete, excellentlye learned. he was afore Chriſte. 366. yeres.

Ariſto, onis, Platos father. alſo a philoſopher, diſciple of Zeno.

Ariſtóbolus, ſonne of Hircanus, capitayne and chiefe byſſhoppe of the Jewes, was. 92 yeres afore the commynge of Chriſte. This man attempted to tranſlate the dygnitee of a byſſhoppe into the dignitee of a kyng, and he fyrſte, after the returnyng from the captiuitee of Babylon, toke on him to weare a croune. He ſubdued the people called Ituree in Syria, and compelled them to bee circumciſed: But by the yll counſayle of his brother Antigonus, he put hys mother and ponger brethren in priſone, and after ſlew hys eaſed brother Antigonus, in kampſhynge hym. For whiche cruelitee god ſo ſtrake hym, that his bowelles were rente in his beaty, and he vompted vp all the bloud in hys bodie, and ſo died. Alſo Ariſtobolus was one of the ſeuentie, that tranſlated the Byble into Greeke. An other was an hyſtoriographer, in the time of great Alexander.

Ariſtocles, the name of diuers philoſophers.

Ariſtoclides, a tyranne of Orchomenon. alſo a famous peynter.

Ariſtocratia, the fourme of gouernaunce of a weale publike, where many doo rule, that are of moſte vertue and power.

Ariſtodemus, the name of ſundry learned men of which one inſtructed Pompeys children.

Ariſtegenes, a phiſition of Thrace. alſo an other of the ſame ſcience, ſeruaunte to Chryſippus, the philoſopher.

Ariſtogiton, an oratour of Athens, which for his lewde behauioure was called dogge. alſo one of the ſleers of Piſiſtratus.

Ariſtolaus, a certayne peyncter, ſcholar to Pauſias.

Ariſtolóchia, an herbe, named of the apoticaries Aſtrologia, in engliſh rounde hertwort, wherof be three kyndes, one is called round hertwort or rounde, after Luci, which hathe leaues in faſion like pyp, but somewhat rounder, wherein is a ſharpe and delicate odour, the flowre white lyke a lyttell bonet vpon a redde knoppe. The rootes are rounde and many. An other (called longe Ariſtolóchia, or longe hertwort) hath longer leaues, ſmall braunches, a purple flowre, and ſtynketh whan it ſpryngeth, it is of the faſion of a peare. The roote is longe, of the greatneſſe of a mannes fynger. Bothe of theym dooe beare beries lyke to capers, within of bore colour, bitter and ſtynkynge. The thyrd is longe and hath ſmall braunches full of leaues ſomewhat rounde, like to the leſſe fyngrene, and hath flowres lyke vnto rewe. The rootes longe and ſmall, with a thicke rynde, and ſoote in ſauoure, in engliſh ſmall hertewort.

Ariſtómache, es, the wyfe of Dioniſius the tyran. alſo the wyfe of Dion.

Ariſtómachus, a man that was all his lyfe time in loue with bees. An other of that name wrate of the makyng of wyne.

Ariſtómenes, a man of Meſſene, whiche was called Iuſtiſſimus: whan he was dead, he was founde to haue his herte all heary. There was alſo of that name, a comicall poete of Athens.

Ariſton, onis, a certayne grauer of ymages. alſo a famous lawier.

Ariſtonicus, a grammarian of Alexandria, and an eunuke of Ptolomeus, whiche was a valyant capitayne.

Ariſtónimus, a comicall poete, ouerſeer of Phyladelphus liberarie.

Ariſtó-

Aristóphanes, a poete moste eloquent in the tonge of the Athens, although he was borne at the Rhodes. he wrate. 54. comedies, wherin he spared not them, which than lyued. he was in displeasure with Socrates, and therefore he reprehendeth him in hys comedy called the Cloudes. it was also a grammarian of Byzance.

Aristophon, a peynters name.

Aristophóntes, he that sleeth noble & great men.

Aristóphorum, a dishe, wherin meate is borne to dinner.

Aristorides, Argus the sonne of Tristor.

Aristóteles, sonne of Nicomachus the phisition, borne in Stragera, in Grece, consumed hys youthe riottously. He was after scholar to the noble Plato. xx. yeres continually. he excelled al men in sharpenesse of witte and knowledge in dyuers sciences: wherfore kyng Philip of Macedonie sent him his sonne Alexander to teache, layenge: He thanked God, that he had a sonne borne in his time. Thys man began a secte, the folowers whereof were called Peripatetici. he taught after Platos death. xxiii. yeres, he was banished oute of Athenes, because it was supposed, he deemed not well of theyr goddes. It is written, that he died by this occasion. As he went by the sea syde, he perceyued fysshermen sittynge and dooynge of somewhat. And whan he asked what they did, they tolde hym a ryddell, which whan by longe study, he could not assoile: for shame and sorowe he died. Of hym Quintilian writeth thus. What say you by Aristotle, whome I wote not whether I may iudge more excellent in knowledge of thinges, in abundance of writyng, in swetenesse of eloquence, in sharpnesse of wit, or els in diuersitee of workes. He was littel of personage, crookebacked, yll shapen and stuttynge. he was. 345. yeres before Christes incarnation.

Aristotelicus, and Aristotelius, a, um, of Aristotle.

Aristoxenus, a famous philosopher & phisition, the scholar of Aristotle, and dyuers other learned men. In other of that name was in Lycena, so curious in gardeynynge, that euery nyght he vsed to caste muske on his lactuse, to make them sauour more pleasantly.

Arithmetica, æ, or Arithmetice, es, the science of numbryng. Of whome it was first founde it is vncertayne. All be it Abraham taught it first to the Egiptians. Longe tyme after Pythagoras declared it to the Grekes. Plato willeth, that before all other thynges, the numbres bee taught to the childrē: without the which nothing either priuate or common can be well ordered.

Arithmos, numbre.

Aritissa, a lake in Armenia the greatter.

Aritūdo, drythe, or drinesse.

Arius, a ryuer of Aria, nere to Bactria.

Arma, orum, harneys and wepons. Also the instrumentes of all maner of craftes. Also standerdes and baners. sometyme battayles, warres or martiall affayres. sometyme strengthe or puissance. sometyme a swerde.

Ad arma vocare, to commaunde men to bee in harneys ready.

Arma rusticorum, arma coquinaria, arma nautarum, arma pistorum, arma studiosorū, arma tonsoria. The tooles and instrumentes of all these facultees.

Arma vulcania, for fortitudine.

Armorum arbiter, Mars.

Armis aptari, to be armed.

Arma facere, to make harneys.

Arma perdere, to be vanquished.

In arma mouere aliquem, to incense one to warre.

Venire ad arma propter æs alienum, to fight for dette that one oweth, because he will not pay it.

Armalcar, the ryuer Euphrates.

Armamenta, tooles, instrumentes, all store for warres or shyppes, armour, takelyng.

Armamentárium, an armory or storehouse for shyppes or ordinaunce.

Armariolum, diminutiue of armarium, a lytle studie or closet.

Armárium, where bokes are layed or other stuffe of houshold. Also an engyn of woodde shodde with yron.

Armarium librorum, a studie or library.

Armáti, armed men.

Armátor, an armourer.

Armatúra, armoure. sometyme it is taken for men armed.

Armatura leuis, lyght harneys.

Leuis armaturæ oratio, a kynde of speakynge vsed in a digression, in the begynnyng to bryng in any matter that shall folow.

Armátus, a, um, armed, fenced.

Armata dolis mens, a minde ready instructed with gyle and deceyte.

Armatus animo, a man of stoute courage.

Vrbs armata muris, a citee fenced with walles.

Armátus, us, idem quod armatura.

Arménia, the name of two regions: Maior, and Minor. Armenia maior, hath on the northe Colchis, Iberia, and Albania: on the weste, parte of Cappadocia: on the east, parte of the Hircane sea: on the southe, Mesopotamia, and the mountayne Taurus. Armenia minor, hath on the northe and weste parte Cappadocia: on the east the noble ryuer of Euphrates, and Armenia maior: on the south part the mountaine Taurus.

Armeni, people of Armenia, whiche were christened of late yeres, but now they be subiectes to the Turkes. They in some thynges erred from the churche of the Latyns and Grekes. They haue one greate bysshop, whome they call Catholicum. They celebrate muche lyke vnto our fasion. They kepe holye neyther the nati-uitee of Chriſt not his baptiſme, ſaiynge: He ne-ded not to be pourged or clenſed of ſynne. Alſo they take from al ſacramentes the vertue to con-ferre grace. They eſtlones baptyſe thoſe that come from the churche of the latynes to theym, ſaiynge, that we bee not of the catholyke faieth, but they. They ſay, that no man may be chriſte-ned, onceleſſe he receyue the ſacrament of the aul-tare: and that infantes neede not to be baptiſed, affyrmyng that in them is no originall ſynne. That the holy ghoſt proceedeth of the father and not of the ſonne. That the ſacrament of the aul-tare may not be conſecrate of breade cleane with out leauen. Alſo in the conſecration they put no water to the wyne. Moreouer they ſaye, that the receyuynge of the ſacramente profiteth onely to the body. That whan Chriſt deſcended into hel, he ledde with hym all the ſoules that were there. That matrimonie is no ſacrament, and may bee diſſolued at the wyll of the man or woman. That Chriſt dyd ryſe the Saterday after good fridaye. All theſe and other hereſies, are con-dempned by ſundry generall counſayles, and the conſent of all chriſtendome.

A ANTE R.

Armeniaca malus, a tree, whiche beareth a cer-tayne kynde of peaches.

Armeniacum malum, is a fruite accoynted a-monge the kynde of peaches. The Italyans doe call them Armelini, The Frenche men, Lez a-bricotes.

Arméníus, or Armeníacus, a, um, of Armenia.

Armentâlis, le, of or pertaynynge to an hearde of beaſtes.

Armentárius, a keper of cattell. ſometyme an eſ-quier de eſquiry. alſo a cowe herde.

Armentinus, a, um, idem quod armentalis.

Armentôſus, a, um, there as is muche neate or cattell.

Arméntum, ſtore of horſes or neate. ſometyme it ſygnifieth cattell, an heard of beaſtes.

Armiagrion, idem quod Dracontium malus.

Armiger, migeri, maſ. g. properly an eſquier for the body, or he that alway attendynge aboute a knyght, beareth his head piece, hys ſpeare, and his ſhielde.

Armiger, ra, rum, that beareth armour.
Armigera Iouis, an Egle.
Armiger equus, a barbde horſe.

Armillæ, ringes, that gentilwomen vſed to weare aboute theyr armes, and at thys day ſome men and women do vſe, called bracelettes. Alſo cer-tayne ornamentes of golde, that capytaynes vſed in olde time, to gyue to theyr ſouldyours. alſo an ornament that poſtes or herraudes doo weare.

Armillâtus, a, um, that weareth bracelettes, or ſuche lyke ornamentes.
Armillâti curſores, poſtes.

Armillator, he that maketh bracelettes.

Armille, neu. gen. an inſtrumente of falſehoode or crafte.

Armillum, a veſſell, wherin they vſed in theyr ſa-crifice, to put wyne, vſed to bee caried on mens ſhoulders.

Armiluſtrum, was a feſtiuall day, wherin the Ro-maynes did ſacrifice armed, and trumpettes did blowe bluddy ſoundes. alſo the place, wherein ſuch ſacrifice was made.

Armipotens, puiſſaunt in armes.

Armiſonus, a, um, the epitheton of Pallas.

Armitenens, he that holdeth weapon, armoure, or harneſſe.

Armo, áui, áre, to arme, to harneys. ſometyme to inſenſe or ſtere to armour to make puiſſant or of great power.
Armare naues, to eſquippe or arme foorthe ſhyppes to the ſea.
Armare aliquem in rempublicam, to reyſe vp one, and make him puyſſaunt agaynſt the com-mon weale.
Armare ſe eloquentia, to garnyſhe ones ſelfe wyth eloquence.

Armoge, es, or Harmoge, es, the proporcion of colours in peynetyng.

Armon, a ryuer that cometh from the hylles of Arabie, and diuideth Moabitide, from Amo-nitide, after Calepine.

Armon, a wylde radyſhe.

Armorácea, and Armorácium idem.

Armorica, the auncient name of Britayne in Fraunce.

Armus, mi, ma. ge. the ſhoulder of a beaſt, or the pinion of a fowle. ſometime a mannes ſhoulder.

Arnabo, a kynde of ſweete oyle.

Arnates, a people of Italy.

Arna, a countrey, where the Bœotians inhabited.

Arne, a citee nere to the goulf called Maliacum.

Arnobius, a noble retorician of Afrike, mayſter to Lactantius. he wrate agaynſte the gentiles, the yere of our lorde. 305. whoſe expoſition wee haue vpon the plalter.

Arnoglóſſa, an herbe called Plantayn, or way-brode leafe: which is colde and dry in the ſecond degree, the iuyce wherof in curyng of feuers ter-tian, and in ſtoppyng of bloud, is of ſoueraygne vertue, lyke as the ſede and the water therof is agaynſt the ſtone, if it be dronke.

Arnus, a ſwyfte ryuer in Italy, whiche renneth by the citee of Florence, called vulgarly Arno.

Arâtus, a, um, eared.

Aro, aui, are, to eare or plowe lande. ſometyme to delue or digge. ſometyme to take fruite of that whiche is ſowne.

Aratur, the impersonal, and the perſonall paſſyue.
Arare æquor, or aquas, poetically, is to ſayle.
Arrare littus, a prouerbe ſignifiyng to labour in vayne.

Aróma, the name of a citee.

Arómata, in plurali, the fruites of certayne her-bes, meruaylous pleaſaunt in ſauour and taſte, ſpyces, as gynger, pepper, ſuger. &c.

Aromatopôla, æ, ma. g. apothecarie, or he that ſelleth

A ANTE R.

ſelleth ſpices.

Aromatórius,rij,idem.

Aromaticus,a,um,ſweet of ſauour,odoriferous,

Aromatites,e,maſc.ge. a precious ſtone, whyche hath the ſauour of myrre. Alſo a made wyne, myngled with cinamome and gynger.

Aromatorius, & aromatopola, he that ſelleth thynges hauyng ſweete ſauoure.

Aron,or Aros, an herbe called wake Robyn. it is of ſome called Serpentaria minor, becauſe it hath leaues lyke to Dragons, but broder, and hauynge blacke ſpottes. it groweth aboute hedges. This herbe, after Plinie, is of that ſorte, which be called Bulbi, and hath leaues lyke forrell, a ſtalke of. ii. cubites high, and a ſofte rote, which may be eaten rawe.

Aronium,idem quod Semper uiuum.

Arpandes,lieutenant of Egypt vnder Cambyſes.

Arpinas,atis, a man or woman of Arpinum.

Arpinum, an auncient towne in Italy, famous and noble by the byrthe of Plautus, Tullius, and Marius.

Arquâtus,a,um,lyke a bowe.

Arquatus morbus, the ſyckeneſſe called the iaundiſe.

Arquites, olde wryters vſed for an archer.

Arquus,qui, the rayne bowe.

Arrabo, looke Arrha.

Arrectárius,a, um, a thyng that is erected vp.

Arectarij parietes, walles made with tymber and parget, to diuide chambres, partitions.

Arrectus,a, um, erected, lifted vp, ſtreight vp.

Arrectæ comæ, ſtaryng heare, that ſtandeth vp ryght.

In digitos arrectus, ſtandynge on typ toe.

Arrectus ad bellum animus, the mynde encouraged agayne to warre.

Arrepo, looke adrepo.

Arreptitius, he that is poſſeſſed with an euyll ſpirite, he that wee ſay to be taken.

Arrepto,aui,are, a frequentatiue of arrepo.

Arrha,and Arrhabo, earneſt money. ſometyme one that lieth in hoſtage. alſo a pledge.

Arrianus, a poete in the time of Tiberius: and an hiſtoriographer, whiche wrate the geſtes of Alexander the greate.

Arrideo,rides, ſi, ére, to make pleaſaunte or fauourable countenaunce on a thynge, to ſmyle at a thing. ſometime to like or content, to pleaſe.

Arridere alicui, to ſmyle on a body, to make a merry countenance, to make a ſmilyng.

Aedes mihi arridebant, the houſe pleaſed me well.

Arrigo,árrigis, xi, ére, to auaunce, to lyfte or ſette vp, to lyſten.

Arrexit animos, it auaunced theyr courage.

Arrige aures, lape to thyne eares, or geue an eare to that is ſpoken.

Arriminenſis ſynodus, a generall counſayle kept at Arriminium in Italy, the yere of our lorde. 360. the. 22. yere of the reigne of the emperoure Conſtantius, where the greches aſſayed by theyr ſubtill wittes to condemne the noble counſayle of Nicene: but by the wyſedome of the latyns that diſputation was deferred, and at a generall counſayle at Rome, the opinions of the Arrians were condemned.

Arripio,árripis,pui,ére, to take quickely, to take by vyolence, to ſnatche or pluche.

Arripere condicionem, to take the offre.

Arripere maledictum. Quare cum iſta ſis auctoritate, non debes Marce Cato, arripere maledictum ex triuio, aut exſcurrarum aliquo conuitio, wherefore, for as muche as ye are in this auctoritee, or of this eſtimacion, Marcus Cato, you oughte not to vſe ſuche a worde of reproche, or vile taunt, as is commonly ſpoken of euery rayling knaue.

Arripere ſermonem, to take hym at his worde.

Arripere ſe foras, to get hym out of the doores quickely.

Arripere velis, to inuade or ſette vpon.

Arripere ad vel in quæſtionem, to take and examine one by tourmentes.

Arripere occaſionem, to take an occaſyon quickely.

Arripe auxilium, take helpe or ayde.

Arripere verba de foro, to take woordes that be vſed of oratours in the common place.

Arripere ſimilitudinem alicuius, to endeuour to reſemble or be lyke one.

Arripere literas auidè, to learne gredily.

Arripere aliquid ad reprehendendum, to take a thynge captiouſly.

Arripere admonitionem, to take quickly that one doeth put vs in mynde of.

Arrius, an hereſyche, a preeſte in the churche of Alexandria, the yere of our lorde. 320. he was a layte perſonage, had a very ſharpe wytte, & was greatly eſteemed. But fallyng into pryde and ambicion of honoure, he purpoſed and helde thys hereſy, that the ſonne was not equall to the father in deitee, nor of the ſame ſubſtance but was a mere creature. vnto this errour he induced a great parte of the worlde than chriſtened, as well noble clerkes as other. For the whiche was called the great counſayle of Nicene, the emperour Conſtantinus magnus beyng preſent, with. 318. byſſhops: where it was (after longe diſputacio) determined, that the ſon is equal, and of one ſubſtaunce with the father, as touchynge the diuinitee. which decree was approued by the emperour, and Arrius, with. vi. byſſhops, whiche obſtinately perſeuered in theyr hereſy, were banyſhed. Afterward Arrius finiſhed his life with an horrible death. For as he was diſputing, beinge prouoked to the ſtoole, in exonerating nature, he poured out all his bowelles, and ſo died.

Arrius, or rather Arrianus, an hyſtoryan borne in Nicomedia: amonge other workes he wrate in greke the lyfe of greate Alexander. This man for his learnyng and vertue obteyned great hon-nours at Rome of the emperours Hadrian and Antonine, in so muche that he was ones consul. There was one Arrius a philosophier in Alexandria, in the time of Augustus, and an other very familiar with Cicero.

Arrôdo, si, ere, to gnaw.

Arródere rempublicam, by a metaphore, to pill and poll, or robbe the common weale.

Arrogans, arrogant or presumptuous.

Arrogans minoribus, presúptuous or proude towarde his inferiours.

Arrogánter, presumptuously, proudely.

Arrogántia, arrogancy, presumpcion.

Arrogantiæ opinione laborare, to be suspected of arrogancie.

Arrogo, árrogas, aui, are, to clayme or attribute to muche to ones selfe, to presume. also to adopt or take one to be his heyre.

Arrogare filium, to make one his heyre by adopcion.

Arrogare pretium, to inhaunce or sette vp the price.

Arrogare & Derogare, be contrary.

Sumere & arrogare sibi.

Arrostêma, atis, sickenesse, feblenesse.

Arrúgia, a myne of golde.

Ars, artis, a craft, subtiltee, cunnyng, decept, gyle.

Ars parasitica, the feat of flatterye.

Plus artis adhíbere, to make more cunnynge.

Artem instituere, efficere, or Ad artem reducere, to bryng any knowledge to the forme of an art or science.

Arsaces, was the generall name of the kynges of Parthia.

Arsácia, the name of a citee of Mede.

Arsanca, a citee of Germanie, called Cleppern.

Arsenária, a citee of Mauritania, called Arze.

Arsénicum, a yelow coloure, called in latyn. Auripigmentum, in engilyshe Oppine, or arsenike.

Arsacus, ramus cometi.

Arsela, the seconde kynde of the herbe called Argemone.

Arsemanthum, idem quod Pulegium.

Arsenógonon, an herbe, haunyng bearies lyke the floures of Olyues, but more pale, the sede whyte lyke poppe. Thys herbe beynge dronke causeth to ingender menchyldern.

Arsenothelea, a beaste, whiche is bothe male and female, as some saye that an hare is, one yere male, and an other yere female.

Arsenothæta, a boy that is abused contrarye to nature.

Arsenothéleæ, certayne goddes, which were both male and female.

Arseuerse, in the Tuscane tongue, signifieth as way with the eyze.

Arsichina, a citee in Germanye, nowe called Bzomp.

Arsichoras, a kynge of Bardis in tyme of Anniball.

Arsinoe, the wyfe of Lysimachus, kynge of Macedone, and a citee in Cyzene, called to mmonly Crochara.

Arsis, is, fœ. gen elevacion of the voyce in pronúciation, as where the accent is.

Arsonium, a citie of Germany called Bzinsintza.

Artaba, a measure of the Egyptians, conteignyng 72. Roman measures called Sextarij.

Artábanus, kyng of Parthia, the last of the stocke Arsaces, whome Artaxerxes slew, and restored the kyngedome to the Persians. 538. yeres, after Darius was subdewed by Alexander.

Artabazes, or Artabasdes, kynge of Armenie, son of Mithridates, a man excellently learned.

Artabicia, one of the yles of Propontis.

Artabri, a people by the promontozy called Artabrum.

Artabrum, a promontozy in Spayne.

Artace, a citee of the Milesians in Asia, and a towne of Withynia, called Carpi.

Artacena, a countrey of Syzia.

Artachia, an hyll full of trees, in the yle of the Lycienens.

Artachæas, a capytayne in the army of Xerxes.

Artanes, a kynge of Armenie, surnamed Sophenus. also a ryuer rennyng into Ister.

Artaphernes, one of Darius capitaynes, vanquished of the Grekes nere to Marathon.

Artanum, a citee of Germany, called Herbipolis, wirtzbourg.

Artaxa, a kynge of Armenie, of whome Tigranes descended.

Artáxata, orum, neu. gen. the chiefe citee of Armenie the great, at the ryuer of Araxis.

Artaxerxes, a name, whereby many kynges of Persia were called: Of whome one is named in the byble Assuerus: An other, whiche was hys sonne by Hester, called also Othus: An other called Longimanus, because hys armes and handes were so longe, that standyng vpryghte, he mought touche his knees with his handes. He was benynge and loued peace, and therfore was he well beloued of all hys people. He was before the incarnation. 485. yeres, and had to sur name Memnon.

Artaxiasata, a citee of Armenie.

Arteatæ, people of Persia.

Artembares, a noble man of the Medes.

Artemedeion. idem quod Dictamum. Diosc. li. 3. ca. 35.

Artemidorus, a learned man, very familiar with Bzutus, which delyuered a booke to Cæsar, of the conspiracy agaynste him, the same daye that he was slayne, wyllyng hym to reade it forthwith: but he neglected it, to his owne confusion.

Artemis, idis, is a name of Diana.

Artemisia, the name of a noble pryncesse, wyfe to Mausolus, kyng of Caria, of a notable chastytee, and excelled so in loue towarde hir husband, that whan he was dead, she caused hys herte to bee dryed in a vessell of golde into poulder, and by lytle and lytle she dranke it vp, sayinge: Thys two two hartes shoulde neuer departe asunder, and that she thought there might bee no worthy sepulchre made for it, but hir owne bodye. Not withstandyng she made for his bodye suche a sepulchre, that for the excellent workemanshyp, beautee, and costlynesse: it was taken for one of the meruayles of the worlde, and for the notable fame therof, all sumptuous and great sepulchres, were afterwarde called Mausolæa. She founde also the herbe Artemisia, called in latyne Damasonium, of great vertue in womens diseases. Of this herbe be three kyndes, Artemisia latifolia, in englishe Mugwoort, an other named Artemisia tenuifolia, in englishe feuerfoy, the thyrde, Artemisia monoclos, Tansey of the gardeyne.

Artemisium, a promontary of Eubœa, and an ymage of Diana.

Artemisius, the moneth of Maie amonge the Macedonians. Also an hyll in Arcadia.

Artemita, a famous citee. 500. furlonges from Seleucia.

Artemius, a mountayne of Acaia in argo.

Artemon, ônis, m. g. a trouble or pully. wherin ropes dooe renne. it may also be taken for an instrumẽt that hath troucles, as a crane. also the tayle of a shippe. Artemon is also a proper name of dyuers men.

Artemon, an heretyke, whiche affirmed, that Christ was but pure man, takynge his beginnynge in our lady. This heresie, beynge once condemned, was ekeloues reuiued by Paulus Samolatenus.

Artéria, æ, a synewe lyke to a veyne, wherein the spyrite of lyfe doeth walke, mixte with bloud.

Arteria aspera, the wynd pipe.

Arteria, of Lucretius is vsed in the plurall numbre and neutre gendre.

Arteriace, es, fœm. gen. a medicine, called also Diacodion.

Arthabanus, looke Artabanus.

Arthabatitæ, people lyuyng wyldly lyke beastes.

Arthanes, lowe Artanes.

Arthetica passio, called also Morbus articularis, the ioynte sickenesses, is thus diuided, into Cozendix, called Sciatica, whiche is in the huckle bone, Podagra, the gout of the legges and feete, and Chiragra, the goute of the fyngers.

Arthritica, some suppose to bee the herbe and floure, whiche is called pyrmerose.

Arthriticus, or Arthricus, one diseased with the goute.

Arthuntis, idem quod, arthetica passio.

Arthûrus, a kynge of England, whan it was called Britannia, a man of excellent prowesse, who in .xv. great battayles agaynst the Saxons, vanquished theim, and fynally draue the most parte of theim out of this realme. he subdued Scotlande and Irelande, at that tyme beynge well inhabited, and in culture. And after kept an honourable house of valyant and noble personages, wherein was suche magnificence, that it gaue occasion to Frenchemen and Spanyardes, to exercise their wittes in auaunsyng of Arthurs maiestee with incredible fables. whiche is no more to bee meruayled at, than the semblable inuentions and fantasies of the Grekes. All be it this Arthure was a veray noble and famouse prynce, yet of them, which wrate histories about his tyme, he was vnremembred. He flourished about the yere of our lorde. 510.

Articulárius, he that hath the goute.

Articulárius, a, um, or Articularis, re, pertaynynge to the ioynctes.

Articulárius, or Articulâris morbus, the goute.

Articulate, articularly, as whan one dooeth expresse euery syllable.

Articulâtim, from ioynct to ioynct, ioynct meale, ioyncte by ioyncte. also treatably, soundyng euery syllable.

Articulátio, ônis, f. g. the syrynging or shooting out of twygges of trees from ioynct to ioyncte. also a laute in vynes, wherwith the ioynttes of knottes bee corrupted.

Articulo, culâui, âre, to ioygne one ioyncte to an other.

Articulôsus, a, um, in trees knottye or full of ioinctes: In stile or indytyng, whan there be many shorte membres in a sentence.

Articulus, a ioynct. also a moment a or parcell of tyme. also a colour of thethorycke. also a knotte or ioyncte in twygges of trees, in stalkes of corne, and other lyke. Amonge grammarians it is the article:

Articulus sarmenti, the knotte of a twygge.

Articuli montium, hillockes that be in a great hill, whereby men maie goe vp more easyly.

In ipso temporis articulo, in meruayloufe good season, at the veray poynte.

Habere dolores articulorum, to be syche of the goute.

Artifex, tificis, a crafter man, or one that is counnynge in any feate, one that is his crafters maister, a fyne dooer. a fyne workeman.

Artifex mundi deus, God the maker of the worlde.

Artifex, and Inscius, bee contrary.

Scænici artifices, stage players.

Morbi artifex, a physition.

Artifex sceleris, the auctour or diuiser of any mischeuous acte.

Artifex, an adiectyue, counnyngly and workely manly doone.

Artifex temperamentum, a counnyng moderation in dooyng any thyng.

Artificiâlis, le, idem quod artificiosus.

Artificiâliter, idem quod artificiosè.

Artificiosè, workemanly, counnyngly, craftily, artificially.

Artificiôsus, one that dooeth a thynge by arte or counnynge.

Artificiôsus, a, um, that counnyng is shewed in,

artificiall

artificiall, crafty.

Artificium, the practise of a crafte, counnynge, workemanshyp. sometyme gyle or decept. sometyme a thyng counnyngly wrought.

Artificio simulationis eruditus, counnyng, or wel instructed in fallehode or feignyng of matters.

Artificium coquorum, cookery.

Quorum artificijs effectum est, by whose craftie conueyghaunce it was brought to passe.

Artigis, a citee in Spayne called also Alhama.

Artio, tiui, ire, vsed of olde writers for Arto, aui, are.

Artitus, well instructed in sciences.

Arto, aui, are, to strayne, to thrust together, to wrynge. looke Arcto.

Artócopus, pi, a baker. sometyme a pantarer.

Artocreas, atis, neu. ge. or Artocrea, æ, ma. ge. maie bee called a pasty or pye, with flesshe or fysshe baken.

Artolâganus, lagâni. masc. generis, fyne cake breadde.

Artómici, people of a countrey in Fraunce called Irmynake.

Artópta, æ, a bakynge panne, wherein they bake tartes, or other thynges made of fyne paast, sometyme a brake, wherwith bread is wrought in dowe, or a knedyng tubbe. Of some it is vsed for a woman baker, or a certayne vessell, wherin breade is baked or sodde.

Artoptitius panis, bread baked in such a vessel.

Artotyritæ, people, whiche did offer to theyr god, breadde and cheese.

Artrédones, a certayne kynde of bees of the least sorte.

Artuo, âui, âre, to cutte in sunder, or in pieces.

Artus, tuum, plu. nu. mas. gen. membres of the body betwene the iopnctes, takynge the bones, flesshe, and synewes.

Artuum dolor, for Morbus articularis.

Aruales fratres, were supposed to bee the foster brethern of Romulus, to whom he gaue the dignitee of preesthoode, to make sacrifyce for growyng and increase of corne, and preseruation of the corne fieldes.

Aruerni, people of Fraunce nere to the ryuer of Leyre.

Aruica, aruicæ, a kynde of corne or grayne.

Aruina, talowe.

Aruisium, an hyll on the sea coste of the yle called Chium, where growe the wines called Aruisia vina, nowe Maruisia vina, malueseye.

Arum, ri, the herbe named wakeroben, or cokoppenble, or rampe, the apothecaries call it pes vituli, or Serpentaria minor.

Arúnca, a towne in Italy.

Arúncus, i, m. g. the bearde of a gote.

Arundinâceus, a, um, lyke a reede.

Arundineus, a, um, of a reede or cane.

Arundinôsus, a, um, a place wherein is great plenty of reedes.

Arúndifer, that beareth or bringeth forth reedes.

Arundinêtum, a place where reedes doe grow.

Arúndo, rúndinis, f. g. a reede or cane. sometyme it is vsed for an arrowe, because arrowes were made of reedes. sometyme for a ppe. sometyme for a littell sticke that children ryde vpon.

Aruo, âui, âre, to lay or sette onyons, leches or other herbes in raunges, halfe vnder the earth, or more, to make them lesse tarte or eygre.

Arupenum, a towne in Fraunce.

Arupinum, a citee in Pannonia.

Aruspex, he that telleth of thynges to come, by lookyng in beastes bowelles.

Aruspitium, that kynde of sothe saynge.

Aruum, ui, n. g. or Aruus, ui, m. g. a talow field.

Cultus aruorum, the husbandynge or tyllyng of the grounde.

Arx, arcis, fœ. ge. a fortresse or castell, specially standynge hygh.

Condere, construere, erigere arces, to build stronge holdes or castelles.

Munire arcem, to fortifie or streingth a castell.

Euertere, subruere arces, to ouerthrowe or beate downe stronge holdes or fortresses.

Tradere arcem, to yeld vp a castell or fortresse.

Arxata, a citee of Armenie.

A ANTE S.

As, assis, a pounde weighte. In olde time in the partition of land, or other lyke thyng inheritable, they called the whole As, and the partes deuided, ounces. As, is also a small coyne of brasse, somewhat lesse than our helfe peny. x. of theim made a Romayne peny, called Denarius, whiche was in value our sterlynge grote.

Assem negat se daturum, he saith he will not geue one farthyng.

Ad assem omnia perdidit, he hath lost euery farthynge.

Ad assem impendium reddes, Thou shalt pay me agayne euery farthyng: or thou shalt recompence me to the vttermoste farthyng.

In assem, in all the whole summe together.

Hæres ex asse, he that is heyre of all.

Asa, in the language of Syria, signifieth a phisicion, or a healer of sicknesses. Of that name was the. v. kynge of Juda, the sonne of Abia, who reigned. 41. peres. He honoured god, destroyed pdolles, and was fortunate in battayle, so that he is compared to kynge Dauid, for his personage and vertuous qualitees. He slewe the kynge of Ethyope, with an infinite numbre of his people. He was afore the incarnation, 973. peres.

Asachæ, a people in the mountaynes of Ethiope. v. daies iourney from the sea: who lyue onely by huntynge of Elephantes.

Asachus, a ryuer in Macedonie, rennyng by Heraclia, at the foote of the mountaine Oeta.

Asæ,

Asæ, a people of Peloponesus.
Asæa, a certayne hyll.
Asæus, a grehe that was slayne of Hercules.
Asaph, an hebrue woorde, signifyinge gatheryinge or fynishyng. Of this name was a synging man in the house of god, to whom kyng Dauyd assigned certayne titles of his psalmes.
Asaron, lyke Asarum.
Asarôtum, ti, neu. gen. pauyng tyle, with pyctures enelid, whiche male not be swept with a besome, but with a wynge, or other softe thynge.
Asarum, asari, an herbe, whose leaues are lyke vnto puy, but they be lesse and rounder. it hath a good sauour. The flower is purple, and sauoureth sweetely, and groweth betwene the leaues by the roote. The stalke is edged, and somewhat rough. The rootes be small, crooked and lyke a grasse full of knottes. it is also called Bacchar. the frenchemen call it Cabaret. the Germains Haselwort. it is called, asarum baccha, or sole wote.
Asbestæ, a people of Libya, where was an oracle of Ammon.
Asbéstinum, a kynde of lyne, whiche can not be burned: and the cloth therof made is pourged cleaner with fyre, than with water.
Asbestos, a precious stone of pyon colour, growyng in the mountaynes of Arcadie, which beyng ones burnyng, can not be quenched.
Asbolus, the name of an hounde in Ouide.
Asbotus, a citee of Thessaly.
Asca, a citee in Sicilie, buylded by Elymus, a prynce of Troy.
Ascalaphus, the sonne of Mars and Astiocles. also the son of Acheron, and the nymph Orphnes, whiche was tourned into an oule.
Ascalabôtes, tæ, m. g. idem quod stellio.
Ascalingium, the citee of Hilderhem.
Ascalon, an hebrue woorde signifieth a poplynge or a balance, or fyre of infamy. Also a citee in the higher Idumea, from Hierusalem 90. miles, as Egesippus saieth. The people of this citee were called Ascalonitæ.
Ascalonia, a kynde of onions called scalyons.
Ascalus, the brother of Cantalus, and sonne of Hymenæus.
Ascancalis, the citee of Swetz in Germanie.
Ascania, one of the yles called Cyclades. Also a countrey in Asia, and a citee, and a meere or marishe in Troas.
Ascanius, the sonne of Eneas the troian, and Creusa his wife, daughter to kynge Priamus of Troy: who comming in Italy with his father, sustegned sundry labours: And fynally after his father, reigned ouer the Latyns, with Syluius Posthumus, his brother in lawe, and buylded the citee of Alba Longa. he was also called Julus, he reigned. xviii. yeres. Of this name was a ryuer in Phrygia, of the whiche Ascanius was named.

Ascarides, little rounde wourmes, whiche doe brede in the longe gutte of a man, or beast, but specially of children.
Ascendo, di, ere, to clyme, to ascende, to go vp. it is applied also to the voyce, whan it mounteth or ryseth.
Ascendere equum, to leape or mount on horse backe.
Ascendere nauem, to take shyppynge.
Ascendere in concionem, or, in rostra, to make an oration to the people.
Ascendere altiorem gradum, Ascendere ad honores, to ryse to honour and dignitee.
Ascendere gradibus magistratuum, to aryse or be aduaunced to honour from office to office.
Ascensus, us, an ascendynge, mountynge, or clymmg vp. also aduauncement or rysyng to honour.
Prohibere ascensu, to kepe one downe.
Ascetéria, monasteries, where men were exercised in contemplacion.
Ascia, æ, fœ. ge. a chyp axe.
Ascio, ascis, sciui, to know perfectly.
Asciburgium, the citee of Emerich in Germany.
Ascio, ascias, aui, are, to chyp with an axe.
Asciſco, iui, ſcere, to admitte, to chooſe or ioyne to vs any thynge or perſon, to preſume to take vpon vs. sometyme for appetere, to deſyre.
Asciſcere and Segregare, be contrary.
Asciſcere ſibi laudem, to attribute laude and prayse to ones selfe.
Asciſcere ſibi nomen regium, to take vpon one to vsurpe the name of a kynge.
Asciſcere ſibi ſocios, to chooſe hym company ones, or to associate other with him.
Asciuerunt ſibi illud oppidum commertio & ſocietate, They haue ioyned that towne to theim by entercourse of marchandyse, and familiar conuersacion.
Ad hoc ſceleris fœdus multos aſciuerunt, thei haue associate or made prinp to this ruischeuous conspyracie, a great numbre of men.
Asciſcere conſuetudinẽ, leges, ritus, to bring in vse any custome, lawes, or ceremonies.
Asciſcere generum, to chooſe or take a sonne in lawe.
Asciſci in ciuitatem, to bee made free, or admitted to the liberties of a citee.
Ascitæ, Arabyans.
Ascites, a kynde of dropsie, lyke Ascytes.
Ascitus, a, um, chosen, admitted, or taken to, associated. sometyme strange, farre sette, not in the thyng selfe.
Ascitus, and Natiuus be contrary.
Asclepiades, a famous phisicion. Also a philosopher, whiche beyng blynde, was demaunded in scorne, what his blyndenesse profyted hym? he aunswered, that he hadde the more companye by one boie that ledde hym. It is also the name of an historiographer of Lyppes, and diuers other men.
Asclepias, is called of the Herbalistes Hirundinaria, naria, because the codde resembleth a swalowe, of the apothecaries Vincetoxium, because it is of great force against poyson: in englishe (as some suppose) it is called grounde pyp, but rather swalowort.

Asclepiodorus, a peineter in the tyme of Appelles. also one of Alexandria, whiche was excellent in the mathematicalles, and knowlage of herbes and stones.

Asconius Pedianus, the excellent expositour of the orations of Tullie, whan he was. 73. yeres olde, became blynde, and lyued afterwarde. xii. yeres in greate estimacion and honour. he flourysshed aboute the tyme of Nero the emperour.

Ascopēra, æ, a bagge, a purse, or satchell of lether.

Ascra, a towne in Beotia, by the mountayn Helicon. In this towne was borne Hesiodus the famous poete: and therefore he is sometyme called Ascræus.

Ascribo, ascribis, si, ere, to adde to in writyng, to attribute, to impute, to bill amonge other, to registre in the noumbre of other, to enroll, to put in recordes.

Me quoq; ascribe fratres sententiæ, couple or ioyne me to my brothers opinion.

Ascribi in legibus, to bee added or mencioned in the lawes.

Ascribe in ciuitatem, ciuitate, ciuitati, to bee infraunched, to bee made free, or admitted to the libertees of a citee.

Ascribe me ad, or in amicitiam, take, admitte, accompt, or accepte me as one of your frendes.

Ascribere in numerum, to accompt as one of the number.

Ascribi numinibus, to be canonysed, or made a sayncte.

Ascribere pœnam fœderi, to appoynete or set a peyne vpon him that breaketh the aliaunce.

Ascribit me socium tuis laudibus hominum opinio, The common bruite maketh me partetaker of your laude and prayse, or attributeth part therof to me.

Ascribere aliquem tutorē liberis, to appoynt by testamente, who shall haue the tuicion and gouernaunce of his children.

Ascribere salutem alicui, to send commendacions to one by letters.

Ne ascribat mihi negligentiam, impute not to me any negligence: or accompte me not negligent herein.

Ascripti, were they that were appoynted to inhabyte townes or citees made by the Romaynes, called Coloniæ.

Ascriptio, an addicion, enrollyng, or registryng.

Ascripti milites, souldiours, whose names are entred or registred with other.

Ascriptiuus, he that is added to the noumbre of other, whose name is registred or enrolled: or one of them that hath submitted hym selfe to be vnder an other mans dominion or gouernaunce: or he that is admitted or taken into a companie aboue the common noumbre.

Ascripticius, idem.

Ascriptor, ōris, he that foloweth the example of an other man, or he that wryteth many copies of others examples. Also a broker in the lawe, a fautour, maynteyner, or one that fauoureth a mans cause.

Ascriptus, a, um, wrytten to, intitled, registred, enrolled.

Ascruium, called Ascriuium, a citee in Liburnia.

Asculum, a cytee in Puell in Italy, where Curius and Fabricius discomfited Pyrrhus.

Ascyrum ri, neu. gen. the herbe, whiche of some is called Peter wort: other wolde haue it to be Tutsan, some thynke it to be a kinde of Saint Johns wort, and that is most lykely, and may be called square S. Johns grasse.

Ascyres, one of the kyndes of dropsy, the cause wherof is lacke of good digestion, whereby is ingendred in all the membres a salte and a pestlowe humour, whiche at the laste falleth into the bealy, and is tourned into water, and therein is meued, as it were in a great vessell, whan the body meueth, the bealy beyng swollen and great.

Asdrubal, a name of dyuers noble men of Carthage, of whiche one maried the sister of Annibal: he ruled the citee of Carthage, and sent Annibal into Spayne. and there exercised him in continuall labours. At the laste in the myddell of his frendes and seruantes, he was slayne by a Mozaine slaue, whose master he had slayne a litteli before. This slaue feared deathe so lytell, that whan he was put vnto moste horrible tormentes, he beyng in theim, shewed alwaye a laughynge countenaunce.

Asella, or ascella, lowe axilla.

Aselli, two sterres in the signe called Cancer.

Asellius Sempronius, an historiographer in the tyme of Scipio Aemilianus.

Asellus, a diminutiue of Asinus. also a fysshe, whiche the Grekes do call Onon, & Oniscon, and is of a dun colour lyke an asse, and hath in his head. ii. stones lyke myll stones. In the crystalline daies he can not bee founde (as Athenæus writeth) Oppianus saieth, he hath his name of slowenesse: many suppose it to the fysh, that we call an haddocke. Other thynke it is the codde fysshe. Of the dyuers kyndes of theim shalbe written in their places.

Asia, æ. fœ. ge. is the thyrde parte of the worlde, dyuided from Europa by the sea called Bosphorus Thracius, and the great ryuer of Tanais: And from Affrike by the famous ryuer Nylus: and is in quantitee supposed to be as great as bothe Europa and Affrike. Asia minor, is a parte of the other Asia, whiche is nowe called Turkay, and conteyneth in it these realmes, Pontus, Bithynia, Phrigia, Caria, Lycia, Lidia, & Lycaonia. Asia is also a meere, fenne, or marysshe nere to the ryuer Caystrus.

Asiáticus,

Asiáticus, Asiacus, Asiánus, & Asius, ãtã, um, of or pertepnynge to Asia.

Asiáticus, a surname geuen to one of the Scipions, because he subdued the lesse Asia.

Asilus, asili, m. g. a great kpe, which byteth beastes, and is called an hozse kp, or bpse. It is also a wozme that is founde in kytches.

Asinárius, an assherde,

Asinárius, a, um, of or pertepnynge to an asse.

Asine, or Asina, a citee of Peloponese, nere to Messenia. Asine, is also one of the yles called Sporades, in the sea Adziaticum.

Asinius, a, um, idem quod asinarius, a, um.

Asinius Pollio, a noble senatour and oratour Romayn, whom the Emperour Octauian specially fauoured: He was verape eloquente, but noted of to muche affectation, which toke awap the grace of his oracions. he was in iudgement verate exquisite, & vsed to repzoue other muche better lerned than him selfe, as Tullye, Cæsar, Salust, and Liuie. He made the fyrste common librarie, wherin he sette the ymage of Varro, and had victozie ouer the people of Dalmatia. To his honour, the poet Virgile made one of his Egloges. He lyued. 80. peres.

Asinius Gallus, sonne to Pollio, a man of great learnyng, he wzate a booke, wherein he compared and pzeferred his father to Tulli. This boke was afterwarde answered by Claudius the emperour. Tiberius the emperour cõmaunded him to be slapn, for what cause it dwth not appere.

Asinus, asini, m. g. an asse.

Asini homines, blocke heades, dolts, very asses.

Asinus rudit, the asse braieth.

☞ Asinum tondes, thou shearest an asse. A pzouerbe spoken of one that attempteth a vapne, foolysshe, and unpzofitable enterpzyse.

☞ Asinus ad lirã, an asse at an harpe. A pzouerbe applied vnto them, whiche haue no iudgement in wisedome and learnynge, or that goeth about that which he is most vntowardly in.

☞ Asinus auriculas mouet, The asse waggeth his eares. A pzouerbe applied to them, whiche although they lacke learnynge, yet will they babble and make a countenaunce, as if they knewe somewhat.

☞ Asinus inter simias, an asse among apes. A pzouerbe, where a good lely bodye cometh amonge shrewde witty felowes, and beyng scozned of them, dooeth not pzeceiue it.

Asio, an owle, whiche hath fethers on euery syde of hir head, like vnto eares.

Asiórtum, orti, neu. ge. a kynde of spyders, with white stzakes, of whom yf one bee stonge, his knees shall bowe, and wax faint.

Asis, a mountayne in Umbzia.

Asis terra, is vsed for Asia.

Asisium, a towne, wherof the people bee called Asisinates.

Asius, the sonne of Dymas. Also a ryuer in Italy called Esino.

Asmodeus, the name of a deuyll, and signifieth a destroier, or abundaunce of synne, or incastus ryng kyze.

Asomatos, without a bodie, vnpalpable, or that can not be felte.

Asouch, the Egyptians call plantago.

Asophis, a countrey in the pzouince of Achaia.

Asopis, idis, the daughter of Asopus.

Asopus, a ryuer in Sicyonia, that renneth out of Phygia. An other in Peloponesus nere to Corynthe.

Asõtia, æ, f. g. ryotte.

Asõtos, vncleanly, pzodigally, wantonly, ryotoutely.

Asorus, a ryuer rennyng by Heraclia.

Asõtus, ti, a ryotous, pzodigall, wanton, or incontinent person.

Aspálathus, after Calepyne, is a thozne growyng in the east partes of the worlde, the rynde wherof is somewhat redde, and within, the woodde is of a fadde purple, and smelleth verate soote, and is therefoze vsed in perfumes.

Asparagus, gi, ma. g. an herbe called of common Apothecaries, Sparagus, in englisshe Sperage. there is an other kynde of this herbe called in latine Corruda, or asparagus syluestris, in Englysshe pzyche sperage, but it hath not bene seene in England.

Aspácia, a women of Miletum in Greece, notably learned in rethozike, she loued and taught the eloquent Pericles duke of Athenes. wherfoze, not withstandyng she was a captiue, he tooke hir to his wyfe. It is wzitten, that she was one of the concubines of Cyzus kynge of Persia. And afterwarde by hir procurement, foz displeasure that she bare to them, she caused the Atheniens ses to make war against the Peloponenses.

Aspasius, the name of dyuers learned men.

Aspectabilis, le, woozthy to bee beholden or looked on.

Aspécto, aui, are, to beholde stedfastly, to regard or looke vpon.

Aspectáre iussa principis, to haue regarde to the pzincis commaundement.

Aspectáre aliquid de inanimatis, to be ouer against a place or thynge.

Collis, aduersas aspectat desuper arces.

Aspéctus, tus, ma. ge. sight, beholdyng, regard. sometyme a beautifull countenaunce.

Aspectu horridus, lothsome, or hozrible to beholde.

Primo aspectu. i. intuitu, at the fyrst sight.

Aspectũ omnino amittunt, they lese their sight vtterly.

Aspectus miserabilis, a pytyfull syght.

Speculorum fulgor aspectu hebetatur: the bzightnes of the glasses is dasked euen with their lookynge on.

In aspectu vrbis, in the syght of the citee.

Situ est ex omni aditu præclaro ad aspectum, It is of suche situacion as it is fayer to see vnto which

whiche way ſo euer a man commeth to it.
Copias in aſpectum hoſtis adducit, he bryngeth his armie into the ſyght of his enemie.
Sub aſpectum cadit, It is of that ſorte that it maie be ſeene.
Vno aſpectu de aliquo iudicare, to iudge of a man euen at ones ſeynge.
Priuare liberos aſpectu ſuo, that goe from his children that they may not ſee him. to bereeue his children of his preſence and companie.
Vt ea tibi ſub vno aſpectu ponerentur, that they might be ſette in ſuche ſorte as ye may ſee theim all at ones.
Oculi quò volunt, aſpectum contorquent, or conuertunt, The eyes turne the ſyght whiche waie they liſt.
Ea quæ aſpectu ſentiuntur, whiche be ſeene with the eye.
Fugere aſpectum, to auoyde, or eſchewe to come in ones ſight.
Veſci in aſpectu ſeniorum, to eate theyr meate in the ſight. &c.
In aſpectum lucemq; proferre, to bring abroad that euery man may ſee.
Referre aſpectum aliquò, to looke or haue an eye to a place. And it is referred to the mynde.
Si referunt aſpectum in Curiam, if they take backe to the Senate.

Aſpello, puli, ere, to put backe, or driue awaye from one.

Aſpendius, a certayne harper.

Aſpendus, a citee of Pamphilia.

Aſper, aſpera, um, rough, ſharpe, vnpleaſaunt, as well to the ſight as to other ſenſes. Alſo hard or greuouſe, cruell, diſdeigneſull, churliſhe, rude, ſeuere, rygorouſe.
Aſperum vinum, a roughe wyne.
Aſper nummus, money new coyned.
Aſpera maris, the rough ſtormes of the ſea.
Aſperimo hyemis, in the ſharpeſt ſeaſon of wynter.
Aſper natura, & omnibus iniquus, cruell of nature, and woorthyng iniury to euery man.
Aſperior & durior doctrina, a ſeuere, harde, and rigorouſe kynde of learnynge, as the Stoikes was.
Homo aſper & durus, a rygorouſe, ſeuere, or rough perſone, a Stoike.
Aſpera & horrida oratio, a rough or vnpleaſant ſtyle.
Monitoribus aſper, diſdeigneſull to theim that aduertiſe him of any thynge.
Aſpera tempora, troublous and daungerous ſeaſons.
Aſpera loca, rough places, full of ſtones, buſhes and hylles,
Aſpera ſignis pocula, plate grauen with flowers and ymages.
Monitoribus aſper, rough and vnpleaſant to ſuch as aduertiſe him,

Horret capillis aſperis, he hath rough heare.
Aſperis facetijs eludere.
Odia aſpera, cruell hatred.
Sapor aſperimus, a very rough and vnpleaſant taſte.
Secula aſpera, harde woylde, full of aduerſities.
Aſpera tempora, idem.
Aſper victus meus eſt, I liue hardly.
Aſper victus, auſtere and harde lyuynge.
Aſper animus, a fierce, ſtubburne [illegible] table mynde.
Aſperum & leue, contrary. Lyke [illegible] & leuis locus.

Aſperè, aduerb. qualit. hardely, ſharpely, rigorouſly, ſeuerely, roughly, vncurteyſlye, vnpleaſantly.
Quod aſperè acceptum in præſens mox. &c. whiche thynge beinge taken vnpleaſantly at that preſent. &c.
Nimis aſperè tractare aliquem, to intreate a man to ſharpely, or to rygorouſly.
Aſperè loqui, to ſpeake ſeuerely and rigorouſly.

Aſpériter, idem quod aſperè, an olde woorde.

Aſpergillus, li, m. g. or Aſpergillum, li, n. g. an holy water ſprche or ſprynkle.

Aſpérgo, ſpérginis, a ſprinkling of lycour.
Aſpérgine parietum, ſweatynge of ſtone walles.

Aſpérgo, ſi, gĕre, to ſpryng or caſt water. And by a metaphore, to myxe or temper fraſely with other thynges. alſo to pouder.
E fonte illum aſperſit, he toke water out of the well and caſte one him.
Labem aſpergere dignitati alterius, to ſpotte or beſteyne an other mans dignitee.
Hũc tu vitæ ſplendorẽ maculis aſpergis iſtis.
Sale ſ orationi aſpergere, to mixe his talke here and there with merye conceites.
Aſpérgere comitatem ſeueritati, to mixe ſamiliaritee and grauitee together.
Aſpérgere aliquid in epiſtolis, to touche a thynge quickly in a letter.
Aſpergere maculis vitam alicuius, to make yll reporte of a man.
Aſpergit hoc mihi moleſtiæ hæc epiſtola, this letter hath brought me into this trouble.
☞ Aſperſiſti aquam, Thou haſte put me out of feare, thou haſte relieued me, or quickned my ſpyrites, prouerbially ſpoken.
Mendaciunculis aliquid aſpergere, to myngle lyes here and there with true matters.
Aſpergere aliquem lingua, to backebyte or ſpeake euill of one.
Aſpergere ſalem carnibus, to pouder fleſhe.
Aſpergi ſuſpitione, vel infamia, to be in ſuſpition or miſſe reported of.
Iſtius facti non modo ſuſpicione, ſed ne infamia quidem eſt aſperſus.

Aſpéritas, ātis, ſ. g. ſharpeneſſe, rudeneſſe of maners, roughneſſe, vnpleaſantneſſe.
Aſperitas viarum, roughnes of waies.

Aſperitas

Aſperitas aceti, the ſharpeneſſe of vinegar.
Aſperitas animæ, the roughnes of the places where the breth iſſueth.
Aſperitas contentionis, bytternesse of contencion.
Aſpernábilis, he that is worthy to bee deſpyſed or refuſed.
Aſpernátio, ônis, contempte.
Aſpernátus, nata, um, contemned, deſpyſed, refuſed.
Aſpernor, aris, to deſpyſe, contemne, or refuſe, to refuſe or abhorre, to reiecte or caſte of.
Illiberaliter allquid aſpernari, to deſpyſe a thinge vngently.
Cuius crudelitatem deos a ſuis aris & templis aſpernari confido, I truſt the goddes doe reiecte from their alters and temples. &c.
Non aſpernor Trebatij literas.
Animo aſpernari aliquem, auribus reſpuere.
Aſpernari & contemnere, Aſpernari ac reſpuere, vel reijcere.
Aſpernari dolorem, & appetere voluptatem, contrary.
Aſpernari alicuius ſententiã, to reiecte a mans opinion or iudgement in a matter.
Aſpero, aſperas, áui, áre, to make rough, ſharpe, or harde.
Aſperáre crimen, to make an offence more greuouſe.
Aſperáre alicuius iram, to make ones anger more fierce.
Sagittas oſſibus aſperare, to make the heades that they ſette on their arrowes, of bones.
Aſperáre pugionem ſaxo, to whette a dagger, or make it ſharpe with a ſtone.
Aſpérſio, ônis, a ſprynklyng or caſtyng of water.
Aſpérſius, us, idem.
Aſpérſus, a, um, ſprynkled or wet with any lycoure.
Aſperſus infamia, ſtepned with diſhonor.
Aſphalaton, ſome take for berberie tree, but not rightly, for this Aſphalaton, groweth not about this parte of the worlde, but rather in Greece and Rhodes.
Aſphaltium, idem quod bitumen. alſo an herbe called Trifolium. Dioſc. li. 3. ca. 122.
Aſphatitis, idem quod Pologonium. Dioſc. li. 4. ca. 5.
Aſphaltum, idem quod bitumen.
Aſphaltites, or Aſphaltum, a lake of Syria, called Mare mortuum, therin is the lime mixt with brymſtone, cald Bitumen, or aſphaltum, wherin no liuely thynge can drowne. Some ſuppoſe, in that place ſtode the cities of Sodoma, and Gomorrha,
Aſphódelus, phódeli, maſ. ge. an herbe called Daffadill. Of this herbe be. ii. kyndes, the male called Albucus, and the female named Haſtula regia, the Apothecaries call it corruptly Aphrodilorum, Aſpitio, áſpicis, xi, ĕre, to beholde or looke on a thinge, to ſee. ſometyme to fauour or helpe.

Me huc áſpice, vel, ad me aſpice, looke this way vpon me.
Aſpicere longè, to beholde a far of.
Aſpicere & contueri, vel contemplari, cernere & aſpicere.
Aſpiciunt inter ſe, They regarde eche other, they loke and beholde one an other.
Furtim nonnunq; interſe aſpiciebant.
Aſpicere lucem, to be borne or brought forth into the worlde.
Propter quos hanc lucem aſpexerit, by whom he was borne into this worlde.
Aſpicere aliquem, to regarde or beholde a perſone.
Vix aſpiciendi poteſtas fuit, we myght ſcantly looke on hym.
Aſpicere è, E longinquo aſpicit, he loketh on it a farre of.
Ex alto aſpicit, he loketh on it out of an highe place.
In obliquum aſpiciunt, they looke a wrye.
Ad Lentulum conſull aſpexit, he loked on Lentulus.
Ad faciem eorum cum aſpicies, haud videntur mali, when a man looketh on their face. &c.
Aſpici for conſiderari, to be conſydered or regarded.
Sin ſolo aſpicimur ſexu. &c.
Aſpicit nos deus, god fauoreth or helpeth vs.
Aſpidion, idem quod Alyſſon. Dioſc. li. 3. ca. 106.
Aſpidiſca, or aſpidiſcus, a little targate or ſhield.
Aſpilates, a ſtone lyke to ſilure.
Aſpirátio, ônis, a receyuyng of breathe, contrary to Expiratio. Alſo influence or exhalation.
Aſpiratio aeris, drawynge of breath.
Aſpiratio terræ, vapoure of the earthe.
Aſpiratio ſtellæ, the influence of a ſterre.
Aſpiro, áui, áre, to aſpyre, to lyke to come to a thynge, to attayne to, to blowe, to fauour, to geue ayde, to geue all ſtudy and wytte to attayne a thynge, to touche, to come to, to haue acceſſe to a man.
Ad quæ granaria nulla aura humida e propinquis locis aſpiret, no moyſt ayre may come.
Ne felis poſſit aſpirare, id eſt, accedere.
Ex bellica laude aſpirare ad Affricanũ nemo poteſt, In the prayſe of warfare no man can attayne to the excellencie of Affricanus.
Nec equis aſpirat Achilles, id eſt, accedit.
Aſpirare in Curiam, to aſpyre or gette into the Senate houſe.
Ad eam laudem quam volumus aſpirare non poſſunt.
Aſpirat fortuna labori, Fortune fauoureth our labour, or helpeth forwarde. &c.
Aſpirat fœlicitas alicui, he is fortunate, or fortune ſmyleth vpon hym.
Aſpirare nemo poteſt ad illum, No man can haue acceſſe to hym.

Aſpirare,

Aſpirare ad rem aliquam, to aſpyre or endeuour with all ſtudy to attayne to a thynge.
Aſpirare non poſſunt ad illam laudem, they can not attayne to that laude and prayſe.
Deus aſpirat mentem, ingenium, gratiam, or Inſpyrat, impertit.
Aſpiritudo, dinis, f. g. ſharpeneſſe.
Aſpis, aſpidis, fœm. ge, a lyttell ſerpent, whiche byeedeth in Affryke, whoſe ſtynge is ſo venemouſe, that nothyng may cure it, except a ſtone taken of the ſepulture of an auncient kyng, which beeyng waſſhed in water, and the water dronke with wine, the inhabitauntes affyrme, that it onely cureth the ſtroke. Plinie ſaieth, the male and female goe alwaie together, and if one of them be ſlayne, the other doeth continually folowe the ſteer, till he haue ſtryken hym, although he bee in a great aſſemble of people: excepte he paſſe ouer a ryuer. This name Aſpis, is ſo generall, that it conteyneth diuers other [illegible] of whiche ſhall be wrytten hereafter.
Aſplênos, hédera. Dioſc. li. 2. ca. 199.
Aſplendon, a citee of Phocis.
Aſplenum, ni, or Aſplenium, and Splenium called alſo Scolopendra, or Scolopendrion, an herbe, whiche groweth commonly amonge ſtones, or on olde walles, it hath many leaues, growyng out of one roote, lyke to the wooyme called a palmer, that hath many leete. It is ſomewhat lyke to ferne, and hath neyther flower, ſtalke, nor ſeede, and is commonly called of the Apothecaries Cetrac or Ceterac, in Engliſhe, Litterache, Scaleferne, or hynger ferne. It is called Aſplenium, becauſe it mynyſheth or conſumeth theyr ſplene that eate or dronke it.
Aſporenus, an hyll in Aſia nere to Pergamus.
Aſportátio, ônis, the carryage or bearyng away from a place.
Aſportátus, a, um, caryed, boorne, or conueyghed from a place.
Aſpórto, áui, áre, to cary away, to cary to.
Aſportari Alexandriam iuſſit ad virum.
Aſportare aliquem ſecum, to cary one awaye with hym.
Multa de ſuis rebus ſecum hinc aſportauit.
Aſprêdo, and Aſpritûdo, rúdinis, fœ. g. roughneſſe, ſharpeneſſe.
Aſprêtum, ti, neu. gen. a rough place full of ſtones and rockes.
Aſſæ, certayne dyce ſtones.
Aſſa voce cantâre, to ſyng onely with mannes voyce, without any other voyces or ſownes.
Et aſſa voce cantabant & cum tibicine.
Aſſabinus, a god amonge the Ethiops.
Aſſacani, a countrey of India, wherein is the citee Magoſa.
Aſſaménta, orum, n. g. ſawed boordes.
Aſſaracus, the ſonne of Troys kynge of Troians.
Aſſaratum, of olde wryters was vſed for a dryncke tempred with bloudde and wyne.
Aſſátius, a, um, roſted. an olde woorde.

Aſſatum, lyke Aſarum.
Aſſatûra, æ, fœ. ge. roſted meate.
Aſſecla, aſſecle, com. ge. a page, and he that folowyth in all thynges the wyll of an other man: a wayteynge ſeruant alwaie readie at his maiſters commaundement.
Aſſectátio, onis, fœ. ge. a ſuite or dinarye, a folowyng, companyng, or attendyng on a man.
Aſſectátio cæli, for obſeruatio aſtrorum.
Magna cæli aſſectatione compertum eſt, id eſt, obſeruatione.
Aſſectátor, a companion. Alſo a folower, or one that dooeth imitate an other mans behauiour, eloquence, or learnyng.
Quidam veius aſſectator ex numero amicorum, &c. a certaine olde companion of his, &c.
Aſſectator eius Appolodorus, his folower.
Aſſectator eloquentiæ eius, a folower of his eloquence.
Aſſéctor, âris, âri, to kepe company with one, or folowe him, to endeuour to gette ones fauour, or wyn his frendſhyp.
Eum aſſectatur filius natu maior, his elder ſon accompanieth hym or wayteth on him.
Cn. Pompeium aſſectatus eſt, he folowed Pompei to gette in fauour with him.
Aſſectari prætextatam, to folowe a mayden to the ende to corrupte hir or wynne hir to his lewde purpoſe.
Aſſénſor, ôris, m. g. he that aſſenteth or agreeth to an other mans opinion.
Te vnum mihi fuiſſe aſſenſorem: that you onely agreed to me or were of my opinion.
Aſſénſus, us, m. g. aſſent, conſent, agreement.
Aſſenſu populi, by the conſent of the people.
Aſſenſum ſuum firme ſuſtinere, to kepe his aſſent conſtantly and not agree to a thynge.
Aſſentatio, ônis,, flatterye.
Blanditijs & aſſentationibus benevolentiam colligere, to gette a mans good will with fayre wooydes and flatterynge tales.
Erudit⁹ ad aſſẽtionẽ, wel inſtructed to flatter.
Aſſentatiúncula, a flatteryng tale.
Aſſentâtor, ôris, m. ge. a flatterer, that prayſeth a man ouermuche, and holdeth vp his pea and nay in euery thyng.
Aſſentatórie, flatteryngly, or lyke a flatterer.
Aſſéntio, aſſéntis, ſi, tre, & Aſſentior, tiris, iri, depo. to conſente, to aſſente or agree to. Alſo to perceiue. Sed aſſentio aperiri foras, quæ abſorbent, quicquid venit intra peſſulos. But I perceiue the dooyes are opened, whiche deuoure all that commeth within the bolte.
Cui aſſenſi ſunt ad vnum, to whom they agreed euerichone.
Aſſentiri aliquid alicui.
Vitioſum eſt aſſentiri quicq̃ falſum, it is not without faute for any thynge to be agreed vnto that is falſe.
Ego illud aſſentior tibi, That thynge I grant to you. De Bruto accerſendo tibi aſſentior, As concernyng the sendyng for Brutus I agree to you.

Sepissime tibi maximis de rebus assensus est.
Assensum est Bibulo, they consented or agreed to the oppynyon of Bibulus.
Assentio, onis, idem quod assensus.
Assentio & approbatio.
Assentionem retinere, to stay his assent.
Assentor, aris, ari, to flatter, or immoderatelye (for the most parte) falsely to praise a man, to the intente to wynne fauour or profyte thereby, to holde vp ones yea and naie, to sooth a body.
Assequor, assequeris, assequi, to folow, to gette, to obteyne, to atteyne to, to ouertake. somtyme to render as muche to one as he hath deserued.
Nullam partem videar morum meritorum assecutus, I coulde not seeme to haue satisfyed any parte of your deseruinges, or to haue doone the 100. parte so muche as you haue doone for me.
Assequere & retine, ouertake him & holde him.
Ite cito, iam ego vos assequar, Goe you on a pace, I will ouertake you by and by.
Insequi, and assequi, to folowe and ouertake.
Nihil aliud assequeris, nisi. &c. you shall wyn nothyng els thereby, but. &c.
Propositum assequi.
Assequutus est quod sperabat, he hath gotten or obteyned that he hoped or looked for.
Maturitatem assequi, to be rype.
Ingenium alterius assequi, to attaine to be like or equall to an other man in wytte.
Vt senex saltem eius ingenium aliqua ex parte assequar.
Assequi coniectura, to attayne to the knowledge of a thynge by coniecture, to coniecte.
Ex hac re coniectura assequi potes.
Assequi literis, to sette forth, or make playne any thyng in wrytyng. Likewyse verbis & dictis assequi.
Suspitione concilium assequi non potui, I coulde not suspect or dyuyne, what his aduyse or counsayle was.
Cogitationem alterius assequi, to gesse or know what an other man thynketh.
Assequi nomen, to gette a name.
Asser, asseris, or aisis, is, m. g. a shyngle, a clouen boorde, a planke, a punchion or ioyst of. x. or. xii. foote longe.
Asser, is also the brest bone ouer the harte, called also scutum cordis.
Querneis vel roboreis assibus contubulare, to bourde a place with oken plankes or bourdes.
Assércula, Cato vsed in the plurall numbre and neutre gendre.
Asserculi, & Assiculi, diminutiues of asser, little boordes or lathes.
Iunctis parieti modicis asserculis.
Asséro, ásseris, sérui, assertũ, asserere, to clayme, to affyrme or approue, to manumise or make free, to deliuer.
Asserere aliquem manu, to set one at libertee, or to manumise a bond man.
Asserere in seruitutem, to bringe into bondage or seruitude.
Asseruí tam me, fugio catenas, I haue sette my selfe at libertee.
Asserere ab iniuria, to defende from wronge or iniurie.
Asserere se studijs, to leaue all other busynesse to applye study.
Quin tu te studijs asseris?
Asserere se, to make him selfe free, to sette hym selfe at libertee.
Alexander Iouem sibi patrem asseruit, id est, vendicabat, Alexander claymed Iupiter to be his father.
Asserere sibi maiestatem diuinam, i. assumere, vel arrogare, to vendicate or take vpon hym a diuyne maiestie.
Asserere sibi cognomen, to attribute or take vpon him a name of honour.
Felicis cognomen sibi asseruit. L. Sylla.
Asserere aliquem cœlo, to canonyse, or make one a sayncte.
Asserere se ab iniuria obliuionis. i. vindicare, to do some thynge that shall redounde to his immortall fame.
Assero, asseris, serui, ere, ásitum, to sowe or plant by.
Assertio, ônis, an affyrmaunce, or after Budæus, a demonstracion, or document, a vouchyng. Also a procuryng of ones libertee.
Sit ne liber qui in assertione est, in the procuryng of his libertee.
Asséror, óris, he that setteth one at libertee, or defendeth him from bondage. Also he that claymeth any persone to be bonde.
Accommodare se assertorem veritati, to applye him selfe to bee a mayntayner and defender of the truth.
Asséruió, asséruis, iui, ire, itum, idem quod Seruio.
Asséruo, aui, are, to kepe diligently, to take hede of one, to obserue or watche.
Asseruari custodijs, to be kepte in warde.
Asseruâre aliquem in carcerem, to commytte and kepe one in warde, or in prysone.
Asseruâre carnes sale, or in sale, to kepe meate in powder, or to keepe meate sauoury by salsynge.
Asseruare aliquem domi suæ, to kepe one at home in his house.
Hic tibi asseruandus est, ye must take good hede of this felowe, or you must watche him.
Asseruabo quid rerum gerat. i. obseruabo, I will take hede, or watch what he dooeth, or what he goeth aboute.
Assésio, ônis, syttyng at a thyng, assistence.
Assessor, óris, associate to a man in office or au-tentes, especially in iudgement, or consultations, an assistent.

Assessura, æ, f. g. idem quod assessio.

Asséstrix.

Asseueránter, with affirmance.

Asseueráte, idem.

Asseueratio, ônis, f. g. affirmance or vouchyng.

Asseueratione affirmare, to auowe for a certaynter.

Tanta authorum asseueratione cõmendantur, with so great affirmance of all authours.

Asseuêro, asséueras, áui, áre, to affyrme earnestly.

Asseuerare de re aliqua, to affyrme any thynge.

Asseueráre grauitatem, to shewe or pretende great grauitee.

Vnum illud firmissime asseuerabat, he affirmed this one thynge very constantly.

Asseuêror, the passyue.

Asicco, áui, áre, to dry, to dry diligently.

Asiccéisco, to waxe or to be made dry.

Asiculus, lowe Asserculi.

Asidéla, a bysshops seate or chayre, wherein he sytteth whan he ministreth, or a table, whereat the hie priestes, called Flamines, dyd syt in sacrifice.

Asideo, ásides, sédi, ére, séssum, to sytte with or by an other, or to be associate, to be continually at a thynge.

Huic ásident. i. hoc laborant, they labour continually about this.

Apud carbones asídet, he sitteth by the fyre.

Asídet dies totos apud portum, he sytteth or geueth attendaunce at the hauen ostentymes whole daies together.

Sub sellam supponetur pertusam: eò mulier asídat, let it be put vnder a chamber stoole, and let the woman sitte vpon that.

Asidére in carcere dies noctesq; to sitte in pryson day and nyght.

Asidére gubernaculis, to sytte continually at the sterne.

Asidére literis, to be in continuall studie of letters.

Qui tota vita literis assident.

Asidéri for obsideri, to be besieged.

Asido, asídis, sédi, sidere, (but Gesnere and Caleppne accent it Asído, I iudge it rather longe) to rest, to sitte downe, to sytte by, especially to helpe or doce scrupee, as by a syche man or greate officer.

Asido, accurrunt serui, soccos detrahunt.

In bibliotheca asídite:

Imprudenter super eam asídit, he sytteth downe vpon it.

Simul asídamus, let vs syt downe together.

Adherbalem dextra asédit Hyemsal, Hyemsall satte downe or placed him selfe on the ryght hande of Adherball. of this place and of the difference betwene Asídeo and Asído, looke Gesner in Asídeo.

Assidué, & Assiduò, aduerbes, which doce signifie continually. sometyme often.

Assidue veniebat, id est, sæpius.

Assiduissimè mecum fuit Dionysius, Dionyse was with me continually, or almost wente neuer away from me.

Assidúitas, átis, fœ. g. continuance in a thynge, diligence. also the continuall accompanyng of a man.

Assiduitate quotidiana, by daply continuance.

Assiduitas bellorum, the continuance of war.

Assiduitas & diligẽtia: Assiduitates & vigiliæ.

Assiduitate orationis meæ, with my continuall talke vnto him.

Me summa assiduitate quotidiana insidiosissime tractauit, with his great and daply continuance. &c.

Eandem assiduitatem tibi præbuit postridie, he kepte pou lyke company the nexte daye folowynge.

Assiduus, a, um, continuall, sufficient, ryche or well at ease, diligent or laborious. also, often.

Assiduus mecum fuit, he was continually with me.

Labor assiduus & quotidianus.

Assidua recordatio.

Operam assiduam dare ludis, to be alwaye in seyng of playes.

Bonus & assiduus pater familias, a good and diligent housebande.

Assidua & diligens scriptura.

Ita sunt assiduiores, Varro: so they be more diligent.

Assidui fide iussores, sufficient sureetes.

Assiduus scriptor, an authour approued, whose sentence is holden for certayn and true.

Classicus assiduusq; scriptor, nõ proletarius.

Assiduus bella gerit, he maketh warre continually.

Assidua febricula, a continuall feuer.

Assiduus dominus, a good husbande, a diligent ouerseer of his household.

Assignátio, ônis, a distribution, assignacion, appoyntment.

Assignátus, a, um, ordeyned or deputed.

Assignatum tempus, the tyme prefyxed.

Assigno, aui, are, to geue, distribute, assygne, or appoynte, to depute or ordeyne, to impute, to lay the faute or blame on a thynge or person.

Assignáre agros colonis, to assigne or appoint a portion of lande to them that be sent to inhabite a countrey.

Assignare agros sorte, to appoynt or distribute by lot.

Morbi qui certis corporis partibus assignari non possunt, which can not be called the proper or peculiar diseases of any part of the body.

Assignatum tempus impleuit.

Assignatum a deo munus defugere.

Natura auibus cælum assignauit, nature hath appoynappoynted the ayre for soules.

Assignare locum alicui rei, to appoynt a place for any thynge.

Assignare ciuitati vitium amentiam, to impute or laie the faute of one mans madnes to the whole citee.

Assignare culpam fortunæ, to blame or laye the faute on fortune.

Assilio, assilis, silui, lire, or lij, sultum, lire, to leape to or to, to encounter or assaple hastily. also to leape as a horse doth a mare, and a bul a cow.

Assilientem admissarium calcibus proturbat.

Assilire ad aliud orationis genus, to leape from one maner of style to an other.

Assiluit aris, he lepes to the alters.

Assilit in ferrum, he runneth on his enemies weapon.

Assilire a tergo, to steppe quickely behinde one.

Assilientia æquora, the tumblynge waues or surges of the sea.

Assimilis, le, semblable, or muche lyke.

Assimile hoc est, quasi de fluuio. &c. this is lyke as though. &c.

Quasi tu nunq̃ quicquam assimile huic facto feceris.

Assimiliter, all semblable, or very lyke.

Assimilo, aui, are, to doo a thynge lyke to an other man, to imitate or folowe one, to compare, to lyken vnto. also to resemble, to represent the similitude of an other thynge.

Grandia si paruis assimilare licet, If a man may compare great thynges with small.

Os porcum assimilat, his mouth resembleth or is lyke an hogges snowte.

Italia folio querno assimilata est, Italy is in facion lyke en oken leafe.

Assimulátio, ónis, a dissembled countenaunce.

Assimulátus, a, um, counterfayted, feigned, forged, compared, lykened.

Assimulata virtus, counterfeyted, or feygned honestee.

Familiaritas assimulata.

Assimulo, aui, are, to feygne a thynge that is not or to doo a thyng that he doeth not, to make a countenaunce, to sette a good face on a matter. Also to compare, to make him selfe lyke an other, to counterfaite or lyken, to drawe out, or represent any thynge in peynctynge or portrature.

Assimulare oportet quasi ames, you muste feygne or make a countenaunce as thoughe you did loue him.

Vlysses furere assimulabat, feigned him selfe to bee madde.

Assimulauit se quasi Amphitrio esset, he made as though he had bene Amphitrione.

Assimulabo quasi nunc exeam, I wyll make as though I came forth but now.

Assimualuit formam Britãniæ oblongæ seu tellæ, he resembled or lykened. &c.

Assimula quasi ægrotus sis, make semblance as though ye were sicke.

Assimulare aliquem.

Assimulauit anum, he made him selfe lyke an olde woman.

Assimulare literas, to forge or counterfeit letters

Pictor facile assimulabit quicquid acceperit, i. repræsentabit, A peinter will easyly portraite or drawe out what so euer he taketh in hãd.

Assimulari, the passiue.

Assipóndium, dij, a pounde weyght.

Assis, is, mas. ge. idem quod Asser.

Assitia, one of the names of Pallas and Minerua.

Assisto, astiti, tĕre, to assyste, to stande by, to bee present, to helpe to defende a mannes cause.

Hic propter hunc assiste, Doo thou stande here by him.

Astitit ad foras, he stode at the doze.

Assistit rectus, he standeth vpryght.

Contra omnes hostium copias in ponte astitit, he stode vpon the brydge agaynste all the power of his enemies.

Cum assistentibus nobis sermocinabatur, he talked with vs standynge by.

Assitus, assita, um, sowen or planted by.

Asso, áui, are, to laie boordes, or bourde flourrs. also to roste.

Ligneis verubus assatum, rosted on wodden brothes.

Cum assatum fuerit, when it shall be bourded.

Assótio, áui, are, to associate or make ones selfe companion with an other. sometyme to longne or set to an other thyng.

Cornua sumi, associant malis, i. adaptant.

Assolet, onely in the thyrde persone: and moste commonly vsed impersonally. It was wont, or the custome and vse was.

Paratis omnibus, vt assolet, vocabant ad. &c.

Assono, assonas, ui, are, to sowne or make a sowne agayne lyke to an Eccho.

Plangentibus assonat.

Assuefácio, assuéfacis, ẽci, ẽre, to accustome, to enure, by vse or continuance to bryngе one to a thyng.

Discere & assuefacere se.

Assuefacere alicui rei, to accustome one to any thynge.

Ne ad supplicia patrum plebem assuefaciant.

Assuefáctio, ónis, a bryngyng of one in custome.

Assuefactus, a, um, taught by vse & continuance.

Assuefactus aliqua re. Assuefactus cum baris baris genere quodam pugnæ.

Assuerus, signifyeth prince or head.

Assuésco, éui, ẽre, to vse of a custome, to practise by longe custome to doo a thynge.

A tenero assuescat non reformidare homines, let him practise euen from his childehoode not to be abashed of the company of men.

Assuescere bella animis, to practise theyr myndes in warre.

In hoc assuescat, let him enure him selfe to this thyng: or let hym accustome him selfe to this.

Assiduitate quotidiana assuescit animus. &c. by dayly vse a mans mynde accustometh it selfe.

Non aquis assueuimus istis, we haue not bene accustomed to these waters.
Legibus inter arma assuescere non possunt, In tyme of warre men can not accustome them selfe to the obedience of lawes.
Vt fremitum assuesceret voce vincere.
Assueui semper amare virum.
Ligando cogit os vetustæ, sedi assuescere, with splentyng he maketh the bone vse to his old place agayne.
Assuescitur, the impersonall.
Assuétior, the comparatiue of assuetus.
Assuetúdo, suetúdinis, fœ. g. wont or custome, longe vse.
Assuétus, a, um, accustomed, enured, practysed, or exercised by longe continuaunce.
Assuétus labore assiduo, exercised in continuall labour.
Assuetus mendacijs,
Amore prædæ assuetus.
Assuetus succedere tecto.
Non assuetæ ad sceptra manus.
In omnia familiaria iura assuetus.
Paruo assueta iuuentus, accustomed to be content with a litle.
In arte assueta tempus ponere, in a science that he hath bene accustomed in.
De more assueto belli, after the olde faction of warre, or as it is wonte to be in warre.
Longius assueto, further then we were wont.
Assuetus cum genitiuo: Gallici tumultus assuetis.
Assula, ássulæ, f. g. a chyppe, or lath.
Assula is vsed of Plinie and Vitruuius, for the thin and flat peces of marble, whiche they that worke in it doe cutte forth as it were chyppes, and lerned physicions bydde that somme rootes shuld be cut Assulâtim. wherfore I thynke that ássula, may be vsed for a soppe of breadde, or other lyke thynges.
Assulâtim, & assulósè, in faction of shyngle or slates. Also pece meale in chippes.
Assúlto, áui, áre, to renne or leape vpon one with great force or violence, to assaile one fiersly.
Mox ingruit assultans velocissimos peditum tergis insultare pugnantium iubet. Portarũq; moras frænis insultat & hastis.
Assúltim, leappyngly, iumppyngly.
Assúltus, us, leappynge on a thyng, assaylynge or settynge on with hasty violence.
Assum, looke adsum.
Assúmo, psi, ĕre, to take, to receiue to, properly it signifieth to take to muche on one. sometyme to eate.
Assúmere aliquem in consiliũ, to consulte or take counsayle with one, or to take a man to bee his counsaylour.
Assumo te in consilium rei familiaris.
Assúmere in societatem, to take one to hym as a companion, to associate an other with hym, to make alyaunce.
Hernicos in societatem armorum assumpserunt, they tooke the Hernicians to be partakers of the warre with them.
In exemplum operis aliquem sibi assumere, to choose or take one whom he wyll imitate in his woorke.
Eum in exemplum operis assumpsit.
Assumere, amonge oratours, is when they bryng any thynge to declare the first proposition: whereby the minor in a syllogysme, is called assumptio.
Assumere sibi, to take to muche vpon hym, to attrybute to muche to ones selfe.
Id onus inuitus assumpsi, I tooke that charge vpon me agaynst my wyll.
Non potuisset eiusmodi satisfacere, nisi dicendi copiam assumpsisset, onles he had taken to him more ouer the copie of eloquence.
Vxorem, generum, assumere, to take to him.
Hoc genus dicendi assumendum non est ad causas forenses.
Extrinsecus assumuntur argumenta, argumentes be taken of thynges that be in the nature of that cause we speake of.
Foris assumere: idem.
Aliquantum iam etiam noctis assumo, I take some parte of the night to.
Sacra de Græcis assumpta, taken of the Grecians.
In nomen assumere, i. in familiam & ius nominis captare. Domitius qui illum in nomen assumpsit, whiche chose him to beare his name and be as one of his stocke.
Quod alteri detraxit sibi assumit, he taketh to hym selfe that he pulled from an other.
Iuuenum minus interest quæ assumant, id est, esitent.
Assumere semel die epulas, to make but one meale in a date.
Assumere cibum & potionem, to receiue meate and drynke.
Assúmptio, ónis, a takynge. Also the seconde proposition in a syllogysme.
Est in ijs aliquid dignum assumptione, there is in them somme thynge woorthy the takyng.
Assumptiuus, a, um, that taketh any thyng to it.
Assúmptus, a, um, taken.
Assuo, ássuis, ássui, ere, to sow to, or piece.
Assur, a citee in Iudea, buylded by kynge Salomon.
Assúrgo, rexi, súrgere, to ryse vp, to ryse to an other better than ones selfe, to geue place, to grow vpwarde.
Assurgere ex morbo, to ware whole, to recouer health, to sptte vp or walke whan one begynneth to amende.
Nunq̃ assurrexit ex morbo.
Assurgeri alicui.
An quisquam in curiam venienti assurrexit?

Dyd any man aryse vp or make reuerence to you, whan you came into the senate or counsaile house?

Assurgere in arborem, to growe to the height and greatnesse of a tree.

Assurgit vertex montis quinquaginta millibus passuum, The mountayne is from the foote to the toppe fyfty myles. or the mountayne ryseth in heyght.

Assurgit in septem vlnas, it is rysen in heyght vii. aulnes, or it is. vii. aulnes hygh.

Turres assurgunt: id est, extruuntur.

Tumor assurgit, the swellyng aryseth.

Assurgit animus, the mynde or courage increaseth.

Gaudet in aduersis animoq; assurgit Adrast⁹.

Assurgunt Iræ, anger encreaseth.

Assurgere dicitur orator, qui sublimiter loquitur, to ryse vp in amplificacion and highnes of style.

Assurgi, the passiue, or the impersonall.

Assurgit clementer & molliter collis, The hyll is not very stiepe, but easy to get vp on.

Assurrectum est, and assurgitur, the impersonall.

Vt maioribus natu assurgatur, that men shuld ryse vp and doo reuerence to theyr elders.

Assus, a, um, rosted or rosted. sometyme for Solus, as Assa vox, looke there, in Assa.

Assus sol, the burnyng and hotte sonne.

Assyria, a regyon in Asia, called nowe Syrya, in englisshe Surry, whiche marcheth on the east vpon Indie, on the weste vpon the noble ryuer of Tigris, on the South it hathe the countreye Medea, on the north the hyll Caucasus.

Assyrius, a, um, of Assyria.

Ast, but. sometyme than or truely.

Ast ego quæ diuum incedo regina. i. At,
Bellona si hodie mihi victoriam duis, Ast hic ego templum vbi vouco. i. tum, vel certe.

Asta, a towne in Spayne. also an olde towne in Lygurie.

Astabites, idem quod stellio.

Astaboras, a ryuer in Egypte.

Astaces, a ryuer rennyng into Ponte.

Astacorni, people of India.

Astacus, a citee of Asia so named of Astacus, the sonne of Neptunus and Oibia. Also a towne of Megaris, and a citee in Acarnania.

Astacus, ci, a lopstar of the sea, whiche in some thinges dooeth vary from the crauaile Locusta, for his eight hinder legges be greatter & bygger: he hath two teethe as a crauaile, but the hornes aboue theim be shorter and smaller. he hath also iiii. other hornes, lyke the other two, but they bee shorter and lesse, ouer them be his eien, whyche are very lyttell. The forhead ouer the eies, sharp and rough, the breste bygger than of the crauaile: All the body within haynge more substance, and shorter. lower of his feete be forkyd, and lower be clawe.

Astapas, a ryuer of Asia, by whiche the people Rhizophagi dwellen.

Astaphis, phidis, fœ. ge. a raisin.

Astaphis agria, an herbe called also of the Latins Herba pedicularis, and Pituitaria, of the apothecaries Staphis agria.

Astapus, water that renneth out of a derke place.

Astaroth, a name of hebrue, whiche signifieth ryches or flockes. Also makynge seeche, or the mouthe of the lawe. It was the name of an ydole, whiche the Jewes honoured. Also the name of a citee in Syria, whiche was geuen to the children of Gerson, of the kynred of Manasses. Also of a countrey, whereof mencion is made Geneſios. 14.

Astarte, a goddesse of the Assyrians, whiche after Cicero, was the fourth Venus, that was maryed to Adonis, to whom Salomon, to please his concubine, raised an aultar.

Astassent, an olde woorde for Statuerunt.

Asteissmos, steismi, ma. g. signifieth vrbanitee, ciuilitee, it is a trope amonge grammarians of the kynde of Ironia.

Aster, astri, m. g. a starre. also Platos seruant.

Aster atticus, an herbe called also Bubonium, of Plinie Inguinalis, hath a sticky stalke, on the toppe a flower purple or pelowe diuided lyke to the floures of wylde camompll, in facion lyke a starre. The leaues bee longe and rough.

Asterchillos, the herbe Achillea.

Astéria, æ, f. g. the name of the yles of Delos and Rhodes. also a precious stone, whiche hath in it a bryghtnesse lyke the ball of the eye.

Asteriace, ces, fœ. ge. a certayne medicine.

Astérias, a kynde of hearons, I suppose it is an Egret. also a bryde in Egypte, whiche is taught to imitate a mans voyce.

Astéricos, idem quod aster atticus.

Astéricum, an herbe called also Helxine Perdicium, Vrciolaris, Muralium, or Muralis, of the Apothecaries Parietaria, or Pararia, in englisshe Pellitorie.

Asterie, was daughter to Cœus, and syster to Latona, on whom Jupiter in likenesse of an Egle, begat Hercules: she was tourned into a quaple, and after into an stone.

Asterion, i. satiua cannabis. Dioſc. li. 3. ca. 167. also a kynde of spyders.

Asterion, a citee of Thessalie, an other of Surry. also a ryuer of Acaia rennynge into the wood Nemæa. It was also the sonne of Cometa, that folowed Jason into Colchos.

Asteris, or Asteria, an yle betwene Samus and Ithaca. It is also a citee in Spayne, & the name of Titans daughter, the syster of Latona.

Asteriscus, a lytle marke in wrytynge like a starre.

Astérno, áui, áre, to spreade, throwe downe, or prostrate by any thynge.

Asternor, eris, to bee laide a longe aboute a place.

Asterusia, an hill in the southe parte of Crete.

Asthma, ásthmatis, ne. ge. a sykenes, whan one tan not fetch his wynde, but with muche difficultee, with wesynge of the breste, whiche happeneth by straitnesse of the pypes stopped with tough fleume, or of some impostume growen in the pypes.

Asthmáticus, he that draweth his wynde shorte.

Astice, a countrey of Thrace.

Asticla, idem quod Astypalæa.

Astigi, a citee of Spayne.

Astinome. the daughter of Chrisa, whiche Homer calleth Chryseiada.

Astiόchia, the mother of Tlepolemus.

Astipulátio, ônis, for. g. assent. sometyme assemance or auouchyng of any thynge.

Astipulátor, óris, he that is of one accorde or consent with an other.

Astipulátus, us, idem quod astipulátio.

Astipulor, áris, ári, to leane to, to fauoure, to assente or agree to.

Astituo, stitui, túere, to place any thynge.

Asto, astiti, are, to stande by, to bee present.

Mors ad caput astitit, stode at his heade.

Ante oculos astitit: Astat in conspectu meo.

Astitit in ripa, he stoode on a banke.

Iuxta præsides astat deos, he standeth by.

Supra caput astitit.

Asto cum accusatiuo: Asta te amabo, Neste you, or stande stylle I praye you, of good fellowshyppe.

Asto aduocatus cuidam amico, I am assistent in a matter to a certayne frend of myne.

Astare mensi domini, to wayte or geue attendance on his maisters table.

Astare contra alicui, to resiste or withstande a man. Vt confidentur mihi contra astitit.

Astare in genua, to kneele.

Astomi, people of Indie. haupnge no mouthes, whiche lyue by the ayre and the smell of sweete thynges.

Astórgion, a certaine kind of spyders, called also Astérion.

Astræa, the daughter of Astreus and Auroza, or after some, of Iupiter and Themes, it is taken for iustice, as the worde dooth signifie. She detesting the naughty and vniust liuynge of men, flew to heauen, and was tourned into the signe called Libra.

Astræus. one of the gyganter that rebelled against the goddes.

Astragali, partes of the bones of spyllers.

Astragalizo, áui, áre, to plate at dyce or tables, hockle bone, cheese, or suche lyke game.

Astragalizóntes, open dycers, or players at such games.

Astrágalus li, mas. gen. the plate at dyce, tables, hockle bone, cheese, or suche lyke games. also the pastie bone in a beast, in Homere it is taken for the necke ioynct or bone, where it is ioyned to the backebone.

Astrágalus, called of common apothecaries Cicer montanum, an herbe with an harde stalke beynge in the leafe and branche like vnto Cicer, and hath a little purple flower, a roote lyke to radysshe, and certayne thynges growyng to it, hard lyke to hornes wounde together, it is commonly founde in stony grounder, where cometh abundance of wyndes. in English it may (of the forme) be called peasecrthnut.

Astrepo, ástrepis, strepui, ere, to make dynne or noyse.

Cum accusatiuo: Surdas principis aures astrepebant.

Vt eadem astreperent hortabatur: he exhorted them that they shoulde with noyse repete the same.

Cum datiuo: Astrepebat huic alacre vulgus, i. applaudebat, vel strepitu assentiebatur.

Astrictè, close, streightly.

Astrictio, ônis, the noune verball, a sharpe bytternes of tast. also byndynge, streignynge.

Astrictórius, a, um, that is apte to streigne or bynde, or make stiptyke.

Astrictus, a, um, bounde, or fastned to.

Non sunt tam arcta & astricta vincla lexare nequeamus.

Astricti voluptatibus, bent or wholy geuen to the maintenaunce of pleasure.

Astricta frons, a frounyng countenaunce.

Astrictus gustus, a rough or sharpe tast, that streigneth the tongue.

Astricta & contracta eloquentia.

Astrictus & deuinctus, bounden and obliged.

Astrifer, trifera, rum. that beareth a sterre.

Astringo, xi, ĕre, to ioygne or bynde together, to bynde or oblyge by conuenaunt or promesse.

Astringere & relaxare, contraria.

Astringere fidem, to promyse faythfully.

Hac lege tibi meam astringo fidem.

Astringere se furti, to confesse that he hath done felony.

Frondem vel ferro amputare vel astringere, or to bynde it to an other thynge.

Astringite hunc ad columnam fortiter, bynd this felowe fast to the pyller or poste.

Aluum or ventrem astringere, to bynde the bealy or make costyue.

Astringi necessitate, id est, cogi, to bee constreygned of necessitee.

Astringi legi, to be bound or constrained by law.

Astringere homines beneficijs, to bynde men to vs with frendely pleasures.

Astringere orationem numeris, to knytte or proportionate a mans style in speakynge and wrytynge, and reduce it to certayne measures.

Astringi ad temperantiam, to be bounde to a certaine temperance and moderacion of liuynge.

Vt ipse ad eandē temperantiam astringerer.

Astringere frontem, to bende the browes, to frowne.

Astringere linguam mercēde, to corrupt one with bribes, to stoppe ones mouth with money.

Astringere aliquem condicione, to bynde one

vpon

vpon a certayne penaltye or forfayture.
Astringi frigore, to bee chylled or kyllt for colde.
Arctius astringi non potest, It can not bee streicter bounde.
Huius officij seruitutem astringã testimonio sempiterno. i. confirmabo.
Breuiter astringam argumenta, I wyll knyt vp my argumentes in fewe wordes. I wyll vse shorte argumentes.
Qui astringuntur sacris, they that be in orders.
Ad certa verba se astringere, to bynde him selfe to certayne wordes.
Ad seruitutem alicuius se astringere.
Me astringam in iurasacra tibi, I wyll sweare vnto you.
Id si faceret, magno scelere se astringeret.
Astrios, ôtis, fœ. ge. a precious stone that groweth in India.
Astroites, te, fœ. ge. a stone lyke to a fysches eye.
Astrolábium, bij, n. g. an astrolabe, or instrument of astronomy.
Astrológia, æ, f. g. the speculation or reasoning as concerninge the celestial or heauenly motions.
Astrólogus, gi, m. g. an astrologien, he that studieth the speculation of astronomy.
Astronómia, the part of astronomie that concerneth iudicialles and practyse.
Astrónomus, mi, an astronomer.
Astrophe, one of the sterres called Pleiades.
Astrum, ástri, n. g. a celestiall body, compacte of many sterres, as a sygne.
Astrôrum dominus, the sunne.
Astra Lycaonia, the sterre or sygne called Vrsa maior, and Arctophylax.
Astruo ástruis, strúxi, ere, to builde, to ioygne one house to an other, to fortify, to adorne, to adde more to a thynge.
Nouum ædificium veteri astruitur.
Astrúere dignitati alterius, to augment an other mans dignitee or honour.
Astrúitur rus. i. preterea, moreouer, or furthermore.
Omnibus quos bonos facis hanc astruis laudem, ne coegisse videaris, thou addest this prayse vnto them.
Quærenti quid astrui magnificentiæ posset, respondit &c. i. quid superaddi.
Magni æstimo dignitati eius aliquid astruere.
Quantum ille famæ meæ apud principem astruxit. i. auxit famam.
Quædam ex ijs, quæ dicta non sunt, sibi ipse astruit, he addeth to somewhat of his owne inuention, that was not spoken.
Astruere auditis, to increase that one hathe herde, to adde more to it.
Astu, vnderlined, craftyly, subtylly, with deceyte, wylyly.
Astúpeo, uí, ére, to be astonied or amased at a thynge.

Astur, uris, a noune possessiue, and signifyeth of Asturia: as Astur homo, a man of Asturia.
Astur equus, a Spanyshe horse, called a genet.
Astura, a towne and ryuer in Italy.
Astúrco, cônis, masc. ge. a gridynge or genet of Spayne, that ambleth.
Astures, idem quod Asturcones.
Asturia, a countrey in Spayne betwene Galitia and Portugall, whiche sometyme was famous for mynes of golde, and amblynge hackeneys called Asturcónes.
Asturcia Augusta, a citee in Spayne called Astorga.
Astúricus, a, um, of Asturia.
Astus, us, masc. gen. craft or subtiltee.
Astus belli, policie of warre.
Astúte, craftily, subtilly, wyfely.
Astútia, æ, f. g. craft.
Astútiæ, subtiltees.
Astútus, a, um, subtill or craftie.
Astyages, the laste kynge of Medes, father to Mandana, the mother of noble kynge Cyrus, who was. 597. yeres before the incarnation, reygned. 38. yeres, and at laste was deposed by Cyrus. An other Astyages was by the Gorgons head of Perseus tourned into a marble stone.
Astyalus, a Troian slayne by Neoptolomeus.
Astyanax, actis, was sonne of Hector, by Andromache, whom after the wynnyng of Troie, the Grecies cruelly threwe downe from a toure, so that his braynes cleaued to the walles.
Astycrátia, the daughter of Eolus.
Astydamas, the name of two tragicall poetes of Athenes, the father and sonne.
Astynous, a Troian slayne by Diomedes.
Astyochia, the daughter of Actor, whiche was rauyshed by Mars.
Astypalea, an yle in the sea Aegeum. it is also a mountayne in Creta, an other by Athens.
Astypaleius, a, um, of that yle.
Asuestinum, lynnen thynge whiche maie not be burned, loke Asbestinum.
Asychis, a kynge of Egypte.
Asyla, an herbe called also of the Latines, Ferus Oculus.
Asylas, the name of a soothesaier.
Asyli, sainctuarie men, they bee also those sacred persones, on whom to laie violent handes, was accompted a great offence.
Asylia, the preuiledge of sainctuary.
Asylum, li, a sainctuary.
Asylus, an ymage, whereunto men were wonte to renne for succour, as to a sainctuary.
Asymbolus, symboli, m. g. he that commeth to a banckette without appointement, an vnbodeu geste. also he that goeth shot free, and payeth nothyng.
Asyndeton, or Asyntheton, a figure in speakyng or writyng, whan wordes bee not knytte and coupled together with coniunctions.
Asymphónia, discorde in descante and singyng.

Asyntheta, pure Chrystall.
Asystaton, a kynde of Philosophy contrary to it selfe.

A ANTE T.

AT, a voyce, whiche signifieth in the wordes that folowe, wrath or indignacion.
At etiam rogas? why doest thou aske?
Sometyme it signifieth, yet. Si non propinquitatis, at ætatis suæ, si non hominis, at humanitatis rationem haberet. Although he had no consideration of kynred, yet should he haue had regarde to his age. And though he cared not for the persone, yet should he haue had respecte to good humanitee. Somtime it signifieth Sed.
Also At sometyme is put for Saltem, at the least wise. Si non eodem die, at postridie, If not the same daye, at the least waye the next folowynge.
At differentiam rerum significat. Scipio est bellator, at Mar. Cato orator.
At, pro, tamen, Parũ successit, at facio sedulo.
At, when with interrogation wee wonder at, in praysyng or dispraysyng. At quẽ deum? &c.
At quæ mater? quã crudelitate ferri videtis.
At, cum quid oramus: At videte hominis impudentiam: but I pray you see, &c.
At, Quũ quid obijcimus, statim respõdemus.
At mores commodi: quis contumatior?
At certe, interpositis, aliquot verbis: At quod maximum est, patriæ certe parum.
At enim: but. Atenim, scin quid in mentem venit?
At iam, At iam posthac temperabo.
At ita: At ita vt quisq; fide optima.
At Hercule, but in faythe. At nunc, but now.
At postquam id euenit.
At nos quem admodum est cõplexus, but how.
At vt, At vt omne reddat.
Ata, tæ, or Ate, tes, in latine Noxa, detrimentum, the name of a hurtefull spyrite, alwaye woorkyng yll to men.
At at, an interiection of sodayne dreade, feare, or admiration.
At at, noui iam ludum. Th ha, I perceiue now the game.
At at, eccam adest propinquè, Oh, lo, she is here at hande.
Atabúlus, a feruente wynde, which whan it bloweth in the royalme of Naples, pestilence insueth immediatly.
Atabyria, the auncient name of the Rhodes.
Atabyris, a verye high mountayne in Rhodes.
Ataceni, people of Arabia.
Atacini, people of Narbone in Fraunce.
Atagen, or Atagẽna, næ, idem quod attagen.
Atalánta, a mayden (daughter to Iasius a prynce of Arcadia) came with dyuers noble menne of Greece into Etolia to slea the great boze, whiche destroied that countrey, the same boze dyd the fyrst strike and wounde. But afterward he was slayne by Meleager, son of the kyng of Etolia, who loued Atalanta, and tooke hir to his wife, and had by hir a sonne called Parthonopæus, whiche was slayne at the battayle of Thebes.
An other Atalanta, daughter of Cæneus, kynge of the yle Scyrus, contended in rennynge with them that came to woo hir. Whan she hadde vanquished & put many to death (for that was the wagre, or els to haue hir) at laste a noble ponge man Hippomanes (whyles they were rennynge) threw at sundrie tymes three appuls of golde from hym, in takynge vp wherof, he was taryed, and so ouer ronne. Ouidius writeth, that as they twoo medled together in the temple of Cybeles, the goddesse hauynge therat indygnation, transtourmed theim bothe into lyons.
Atalantæus, a, um, of Atalanta.
Atargata, called also Atergatis, a goddesse of the Syrians.
Atarna, a citee of Mysia in Asia.
Atarnes, the brother of kyng Darius.
Atat, looke, at.
Atauus, átaui, mas. gen. my great grandefathers grandefather.
Atax, a famous riuer in Narbone. also one that inhabiteth about that riuer.
Atechna, thynges vncunnyngly handled.
Atéchnia, ignorannce, vnskilfulnesse, lacke of counnyng.
Atégia, a boothe or place made vp with trees, or boughes.
Atella, looke Attella.
Ater, a, um, blacke or darke, and by a metaphore dredfull, horryble. also deadly, sorowfull, heuy.
Ater panis, browne breade.
Atra bilis, melancoly.
Atra dies, a dismall day, a sorowfull or heauy day.
Albus at ater sis, nescio, I can not tell whether thou be blacke or white. prouerbially.
Cruor ater, blacke bloud.
Ingluuies atra: id est, fæda.
Atrum nemus, a darke wodde.
Nox atra, a darke night.
Atræ speluncæ, deepe darke dennes.
Tempestas atra, a foule blacke storme.
Atræ nubes, darke cloudes.
Ater odor, a verye yll and naughty sauour.
Atra Tigris, a cruell tygre.
Atergatis, a goddesse of the Sidonians, called also Athara, Derceto, and Dagon.
Aternus, a riuer in Italy.
Atesis, idem quod Athesis.
Ateste, a citee in the countrey of Venice.
Athacus, áthaci, m. g. a byrde with foure legges, hauynge the longest behynde.
Athalia, daughter of cursed quene Iesabell, and mother to kynge Ioas, beinge also mischeuous, hearyng that hir sonne Ochozias was slayne, and

and Joram (with all his houſeholde) deſtroied: ſhe beynge inflamed with deſyre to reygne, laiynge aparte all womanly pyete, determyned to deſtroy vtterly, all the poſteritee of Dauid. but thoꝛought the goodneſſe of god, Joas, the ſonne of Ochoſias, an infant, was vnwares to hir conueyghed awaie by Joſabeth, his aunt, and hyd in the houſe of Joiades the byſhop, and there kepte. vi. yeres. After this curſed woman Athalia had reigned ouer Hieruſalem. vii. yeres, Joas, whiche was ſuppoſed to be ſlayne, was by Joiades made kynge, wherevpon ſhe beynge aduertyſed, and cryeng to the people to ſlea Joas, was taken of the men of warre, and ſhamefully drawen vnto the gate of the citee, called Mularia, and there ſlayne. She was before the incarnation. 900 yeres.

Athamanes, people of Aetholia.

Athamas, antis, the ſonne of Aeolus, father of Pyrrus, and Helles, Alſo a mountayne in Phthiotis.

Athamanteus, a, um, of Athamas.

Athamanticus, a, um, of Athamas.

Athamantis, idos, f. g. Jno, oꝛ Leucothea.

Athanaſius, the byſhop of Alexandria, the yere of our loꝛde. 348. a man of holy lyfe and great learnynge, ſuſtreyned many and great perſecutiõs of the Arrians. Foꝛ whan in the counſayle (holden at Laodicea) he had confounded them with moſte puiſſant argumentes: he ſtiꝛed almoſt all the woꝛlde againſt hym. wherfoꝛe he fled. And vi. yeres continually he abode hyd in a dyꝛe ceſterne, where he neuer ſawe the ſonne ſhyne. Than was he diſcouered by a mayden, and fled eſtsones by the healpe of god, and wandꝛyng about the woꝛld, not withſtandyng pꝛincis, their people and hoſtes dyd continually perſecute him ſo that he myght ſcaſe hynde any place to abyde in. Alſo a common harlot was bꝛought againſte him, whiche affyꝛmed, that he had accompanied with hir. But he alway ſuſtreynyng all thynges with a wonderfull patience, at laſt died, the yere of our loꝛde. 379.

Athánaſia, a certayne medicine, whiche reſtoꝛeth a ſicke man to perpetuall health of body.

Athanatos, i, com. ge. immoꝛtall.

Athanatus, a man of meruayious ſtrength and greatneſſe of body.

Athara, looke Atergatis.

Athara, áharæ, f. g. a certayne medicine, verye holſome foꝛ childꝛen.

Atharátrion a certayne kynde of cakes.

Athenæ, arum, the citee, of Athens.

Athenæon, a famouſe peynter that learned of Glaucion of Coꝛinthe.

Athenæum, a place at Rome, where all ſciences were redde.

Athenæus, a learned philoſopher in the tyme of Auguſtus, boꝛne at Seleucia in Cilicia. Anoꝛther was a grammarian vnder M. Antonius, whiche wꝛate a boke de Dipnoſophiſtis.

Athene, nes, the name of Minerua.

Athenodõrus, a philoſophier, whiche lefte with Octauian the Emperour this leſſon, whan he toke his leaue of him. Noble pꝛynce, whan you be wꝛoth neyther ſay noꝛ doe any thynge, vntyll you haue peruſed the. xxiiii. greke letters, and remembꝛed the oꝛder of theyꝛ places, where thei ſtande. that the paſſion of yre, by withdꝛawynge your mynde to an other thynge, may languyſhe and vaniſhe away.

Athenopolis, a towne of the Maſſilians.

Atheos, áthei, m. g. he that beleueth there is no god, a miſcreaunt, an infidell.

Ather, in barley is the very ſharpe poynct of the grayne.

Athera, as Dioſc. ſaieth, is a certayne ſuppynge made of the wheat Zea, beyng bꝛuſed very ſmal, and is pꝛofitable foꝛ childꝛen, and to make certayne ſalues. Plinie ſaieth it is made of Olyra: Etius affyꝛmeth it to be made of Amylum.

Atherõma, rõmatis, n. g. a little pouſſhe in the necke, oꝛ vnder the armes, Athesinus, a ryuer rennyng out of the lake Aſpennium. and fallyng into Jſter.

Atheſis, a ryuer in the countrey of Venetia, rennynge by the citee of Trent, and thoꝛough Veroꝛna, and ſo paſſeth into the ſea Adꝛiaticum.

Athléta, æ, maſ. ge. a great wꝛeſtlar, oꝛ a great renner at common games.

Athlética, æ, fœ, ge. the craft of wꝛeſtlyng oꝛ rennyng.

Athléticé, ſtrongely, luſtily, in good plyte.

Athléticus, a, um, perteinyng to a wꝛeſtlar.

Athléticus victus, ſtronge feedynge.

Athlochari, people of Scitia in Aſia.

Athlothéta, æ, m. g. the iudge in games of wꝛeſtlynge oꝛ rennynge, the maiſter of the game that gyueth the rewardes to the wynners.

Athophia, ſmalneſſe of the eye, and debilitee of ſyght.

Athos, oꝛ Athon, an hyll in Thꝛace, of a wonderfull height.

Athraciars, the arte of magyke.

Atilius, oꝛ atilius, a great lyſche in the ryuer Poo in Italy, which with lynge ſtyll waxeth ſo fatte, that beyng taken, he is often a thouſand pounde weyght.

Atimus, átima, mum, without honour.

Athrax, the father of Hippodamia, alſo a ryuer of Etolia. and a citee in Theſſalia.

Atina, a towne of the Lucans in Jtaly, the people wherof be called Atinates.

Atinia, æ, a kynde of elme tree.

Atizoes, a pꝛecious ſtone ſhynynge lyke ſiluer. iii. fyngers bygge, in foꝛme lyke a chyttle, and hath a pleaſant ſauour.

Atlantes, Moꝛes dwellyng about the hyll Atlas.

Atlanteus, and Atlanticus, a, um, of Atlas.

Alantides, the. vii. daughters of Atlas. Alſo certayne ſterres.

Atlantis, an plande, v. dayes ſayling from the hil Atlas,

Atlas, after which it is named.

Atlas, antis, of this name were three. One kynge of Italy, and father of Electra. An other of Arcadia, father of Maia. The thirde of Mauritania, called the greatest, the brother of Prometheus, who as the Grekes suppose, dyd kysse kynde out the course of the starres, by an excellent imagination. wherfore the poetes fayned, that he sustreigned the firmament with his shoulders. It is supposed he was aboute. 1599. yeres afore the incarnation. It is also the name of an hill in Barbaria, high and small, whiche pereeth the cloudes. Atlas is also a greate ryuer in the northe parte of the worlde, rennyng into Ister.

Atlantis nepos, Mercurie.

Atlantiades, idem.

Atlius nodus, a knote or a ioynete of the backe bone.

Atnepos, potis, masc. gen. the fifth of kynedll descent from me, or my neuewes neuew.

Atnéptis, tis, f. g. my neces nece.

Atocion, vel atocium, n. ge. a medicine, whereby the conception and birthe of childzen is preuented and letted.

Atocius, or atocion, a certayne spyder, whiche is heary, and hath a great head, and he bee cutte in peeces, there is founde in him. ii. wormes, which beyng hanged in a peece of a hartes skinne before the sunne risyng, shall make that a woman shall not conceiue with childe.

Atomus, atomi, fœm. gene. a thynge so smalle, that it can not be deuided or made smaller. also Atomi, be motes in the sonne.

Atossa, the daughter of kynge Cyrus.

Atque, and, and also, and yet, and that, but, as, euen as, as it were, as thoughe, than, sometyme for Statim.

Illi sunt alio ingenio atque tu, They be of an other maner of witte than thou arte.

Non Apollinis magis verum atque hoc responsum est, Apollos answer was neuer truer than this is.

Atque eccum, but lo where he is.

Atque audin? but herest thou?

Atque vides? doest thou not see?

Aliter atque, Secus atque, otherwyse than.

Atque pro tamen. Mihi quidem hercle non fit veri simile, atque ipsis commentum placet. In good soothe it semeth not to me to bee true, and yet the diuise or feigned tale pleaseth them well.

Atq; is vsed in the beginnyng of sentences, as Atque vt omittam Græciam.

Atque, pro, sed. Atque ego qui te confirmo, ipse me non possum, But I which do comfort and strengthen you. &c.

Atq;, for Quam. Qui peccas minus atq; ego, whiche doest offende lesse than I.

Atque, for isque, idemq;.

In vnum atque angustum locum, into one place, and that same beyng streyte and narrow.

Atque hoc confiteor iure mihi obtigisse, And certes I graunte, it hath wonderlyke chaunced vnto me.

Negotium magnum est nauigare, atque id mense Quintili. It is a great busynes to take the sea, and especially in the moneth of July.

Atque aliquis dicat, but some man wyll saye to me.

Atque equidem orante Thaide.

Atque edepol, and in very dede.

Atque vero, but. Atque etiam, yea and also.

Pro eo atque si nullo iure factum esset, As though, or euen as though it had ben doone by no ryght or law.

Atque id: Negotium magnum est nauigare, atque id mense Quintili, and that. &c.

Atque aliquis dicat, but a man wyll saye vnto me.

Bellus est atque optabam locus, the place is handsome, euen as I wysshed to bee.

Atque adeo, vsed diuers wayes. and that, and also, and furthermore, and more ouer, and that more is.

Præter me nemo, atque adeo tu iudex esto, and that be thou iudge.

Respondit mihi paucis, atque adeo fideliter, yea and that. &c.

Esurio hercle, atque adeo nunc haud parum sitio, yea and that more is, I am now. &c.

Atque adeo potius: Quo id iure, atque adeo quo id potius ore fecisti, by what ryght, or rather with what face durstedst thou be so bolde to do it.

Atque adeo autem: Atque adeo autem cur egomet non introeo, and in deede why doo I not. &c.

Atque adeo, ornatus causa positum: Atque adeo antequam de in cõmodis Siciliæ dico.

Atq; ita, and so: sometyme and on that condition. Atque ita, opus est, and so it is neede.

Atque ita profecto, vt eum ex hoc exhonerem agro, but on thys condition truly. &c.

Ex eisdem locis atque in causa iudiciali, out of the same places as.

Alius atque. Alius nunc sum atque olim fui, I am an other maner of man then I was in tyme paste.

Secus atque, cœpit secus agere atque initio dixerat, otherwyse then. Aliter atque, idem.

Atque vt. Iste aliter atq; vt dixerat decreuit. Item atque, after the same sorte as, Non item ea definienda atque illa quæ. &c.

Pariter atque, lyke as, Pariter hoc atque alias res soles.

Potius atque, rather then, vt tu potius sis, atque ego.

Atque id quoque. &c. and also.

Non magis verum atque, no more true then.

Quod est non dissimile atque ire in Solonium.

Ad eundem modum atque, euen as, or after the same facion as.
Vnum atque idem videtur atque id quod. &c
Contra atque ante, contary wise to that it was before.
Similiter atque, lyke as, Non illum similiter atque ipse eram cõmotum vidi: id est, vt vel sicut.
Aeque atque, euen a lyke, euen as muche as.
Miser æque atque ego.
Item atque, Pariter atque, Iuxta atque, lyke as, as well as.
Talis atque, suche as.
Atque atque, doubled, addeth a vehemency.

Atqui, a coniunction disiunctiue, but, but yet, yea but, certes, all be it, surely.
Atqui si illam tetigerit digito vno, oculi illico effodiuntur, Surely yf he touche hir with one fynger, hys eyes shalbe by and by pulcked out of hys head. sometyme for Imo.
Atqui ea res multò maxime disiunxit illum ab illa, yea but that thyng moste of all plucked his minde from hir.
Atqui, sometyme aboundeth.

Atraba, a measure of the Grekes, conteynynge v. modios Romanos, of englyshe measure a bushell, a pottell, a pynte, and .iiii. ounces.

Atrabaticæ, arum, blacke garmentes.

Atracius, a, um, the adiectiue of atrax.
Atracia ars, arte magyke.

Atráctylis, tractylidis, fœ. g. an herbe called also Cnicus syluestris. Of it be twoo kyndes: the one very roughe and full of pyckes, whiche the apothecaries calle Carduus benedictus. The other not so roughe nor pycked: and is named also Cartamus siluestris, Fusus agrestis, and Colus rustica, because women vsed to make spyndels of the stemmes therof: in englyshe (after some) wylde saffron, I would not so affirme it, although the french men call it Saffron bastarde.

Atramentárium, an ynkehorne,

Atraméntum, ti, neu. ge. ynke, blacke that shoemakers boo occupy.
Atramentum scriptorium vel librarium, wrytynge inke.
Atramentum sutorium, shoomakers blacke.

Atramitæ, people of Arabia felix.

Atrani, people of Italy, mencioned of Plato.

Atrátus, a, um, blacke or smudged, also a mourner that goeth in blacke.

Atrax, acis, a ryuer of Etolia, wherof a certayne people are called Atraces.

Atreplexum, idem quod atriplex.

Atrebates, a people of a countrey in Fraunce, called Artois.

Atreus, the sonne of Pelops and Hippodamia, kyng of Mycene, founde kynde the Eclyps of the sunne: And because hys brother Thiestes had lyen with hys wyfe, he slew and rosted his layed brothers children, and made him to eate them. who knowyng it, and askynge therfore vengeance, had answer made by the God Apollo, that if he dyd carnallye knowe hys owne daughter Pelopia, he should on hir get a sonne, whyche should reuenge him. Do begat he Egisthus, who afterwarde slue his vncle Atreus. and in lykewyse hys eldest sonne Agamemnon, This was before the incarnacion. 1258. yeres.

Atreus, a, um, the adiectiue of Atreus.

Atria, a towne in the countrey of Uenece, wherof the sea Adriaticum was named.

Atriarius, a, um, that belongeth to the porche or hall.

Atricapilla, læ, fœm. gen. a byrde wyth blacke fethers on the crowne of hys head, muche lyke our lynget.

Atricus, átrici, masc. gen. a porter that kepeth a gate, or an vsher of the hall.

Atridæ, in the plurall numbre, Agamemnon and Menelaus.

Atrides, æ, patronymicum, of Atreus.

Atriénsis, is, m. g. a cheif seruaunte, as is the vsher of the hall, or the mayster porter.

Atrifer, triferi, m. g. a ruffe that beareth a blacke seede.

Atriolum, a diminutiue of atrium.

Atriplex, triplicis, m. gen. an herbe called of the grekes Atrafaxis, and Chrisolacanon: Of the Frenchemen Arrhoches: of the Germaynes Molten, in englyshe Orache or Orage. Of it be two kyndes, one wylde called redde Orage, an other of the garden called white Orage.

Atritas, átis, f. g. blacknesse.

Atrium, átrij, n. g. an entrie, a porche or portall before a house, where in olde time men vsed to dyne and supper. And therefore it is sometyme taken for an hall. also the porche of a churche. sometime for an inner courte, or the courte before the house.
Atria auctionaria, courtes or places where open sayle of thynges was made.

Atrócitas, tatis. f. g. crueltee, fiersnesse, outragiousnesse.

Atrociter, cruelly, fiersly, outragiously.

Atropatus, a capitaine of the Medes, after whom a parte of the countrey was called Atropatia.

Atropha, thynges that are not nourished wyth the foode that they take.

Atróphia, æ, an affecte or diseasse, wherin the body can not be nourysshed wyth any thynge that it receyueth, but consumeth with leanesse.

Atrophus, átrophi, masc. gen. he that hath that affecte.

Atropos, one of the fatall ladies, which is feigned to breake the threde of lyfe. it is sometime putte for necessitee of death.

Atror, óris, ma. g. blacknesse.

Atrox, ócis, com. gen. cruell, fierse, outragious wythoute pytee, lower in countenaunce, terryble.
Atrox æstas, a burnynge hote summer.

Atrox iniuria, a cruell or meruaylous spytefull displeasure.
Facinus atrox, a cruell and horryble acte.
Atrox et vehemens orationis genus, Cui lene et mansuetum opponitur.
Atroces literæ, terryble or fierce letters.
Atrox tempus, a greuous and an euyll season, whan much cruelte is practysed.
Atrocia exta, rawe bowelles, horryble to beholde.
Atrox suspitio, a very greuous suspition.
Atrox animus, a stoute stomake, that feareth no peryll or daunger.
Atrox ingenium, a cruell nature.
Atrox tempestas a meruayous great storme.
Atrum holus, idem quod hypposelinum.
Atta, a poete. also a citee in Arabia felix.
Attáceo, ui, ere, to holde ones peace, or kepe silence with other.
Attáctus, a, um, touched softly.
Attáctus, us, an easy soft touchyng.
Attacum, a towne of Spayne.
Attæ, be they, whiche throughe some defaute in theyr legges or feete, seeme rather to draw their feete softely touchynge the grounde, than to walke.
Attagen, énis, m. ge. and Attagêna, æ, f. gen. a byrde, whiche is founde in Jonia, and is verie delicate, and hath feethers of sundry colours, and beyng at large, is alway syngyng and chatterynge, but beynge ones taken, he maketh no noyse, nor seemeth to haue any voyce. They are deceyued that take him for a woodcocke, it is most lyke a byrde called a monge vs a godwitte.
Attalia, a citee of Pamphilia.
Attalus, a king in the lesse Asia, meruaillous riche, of whome all magnifyke and stately thynges are called Attalica.
Attalica vestis, a garment or hangyng of cloth of golde, so named of the ryche and sumptuous kyng Attalus.
Attalum emplastrum, a very hollsome salue. Cel. li. 5. ca. 5. 19.
Attamen or Attamen, but yet.
Attámino, áui, áre, to foule or defyle.
Attégiæ, árum, shepherdes cotages.
Attegrâre, vsed of olde writers for Integrare, or augere.
Atteius philologus, a learned man, verie familiar fryst with Salus, and after with Pollio.
Attelabus, bi, the smallest sorte of the flies, called Locustæ, and haue no wynges.
Attella, or Atela, a towne in Italye, where was a great and famous theatre.
Attellanus, a, um, and Attellanius, of Atella. somtyme mockynge and mery.
Attelanæ fabulæ, were comedies or enterludes, whiche were onely iestes, and mery scoffes, and bourdynge.
Attempérate, in season, agreably with the thing, temperately.

Attémpero, aui, are, to make feete or agreable.
Atténdo, di, ere, to take heede, to consider, to intende, to bee attentiue, to giue good care to a thynge.
Audi atque attende Lateranensis.
Si attenderis quid dicat, yf thou take good heede what he sayeth.
Bene, diligenter, admodum, magnopere, attendebat, he gaue very good care vnto him.
Attendere & aucupari verba oportebit.
Non attendimus neque exaudimus nosmet ipsos.
Attendite atque intelligite.
Attendere ad: Non inutile, attendere signa ad eos qui exciderunt sensus.
Attendere de: Animus solicitus nihil potest de officijs legationis attendere, to make anye pertayning to the duties. &c.
Me dicentem de inuidiosis rebus attendite, doo you marke me, or harken to me &c.
Attendere aliquem, or aliquid, to be attentiue on a thyng or person.
Attendere cum datiuo. vel rei vel personæ.
Attendit iuri, he gaue his study, or applied him to the law.
Attendere rei alicui, to apply any thyng.
Cui magis quam Cæsari attendant, to whom should they harken more then to Cæsar.
Attendo cum accusatiuo rei vel personæ.
Attendite exitum, marke ye well, or consyder ye the ende.
Attendo te studiosé, I harken to you diligently, or I take good heede what you say.
Attendere animum, to take heede, geue care, to marke, to consider.
Attendite animos ad ea quæ sequuntur.
Attendere æquo animo, to harken pacyently, and with an indifferent mynde.
Attenté, intentiuely, with a fixed mynde.
Attente legere, cogitare, audire, agere. &c.
Atténtio, ónis, attentiuenesse, or fyxynge of the mynde.
Atténto, áui, áre, to assaye, to proue, to assaple, or sette vpon by discrete, or otherwyse.
Nemo apud nos qui attentauerit, that wyll assay it.
Attentáre classem, to giue the onset, to assayle a nauy of shippes.
Attentari sententia dicitur, whan it is discussed or tried, whether it be true or no.
Attentare vrbem, to assaye by policie or force how to winne a towne. Capua ab illis attentari putabatur.
Attentare pudicitiam puellæ, to endeuoure to seduce a mayden to naughtinesse, or to entice or prouoke a mayden to lewdnesse
Attentare fidem alicuius, to goe about to corrupt a mans fidelitee, or to make a man doe vntruely.
Attentare aliquem bello, to make warre vpon one.

Precibus

Precibus attentare aliquem, to intreate a man.

Atténtus, a, um, attentyue, dyligente, he that is fixed on a thynge, diligente to herken, earnestlye bent to here, geuyng a good eare, earnestly bent to a thynge. sometyme a courtous person.

Attentus ad rem, carefull to get goodes.

Attentus in. Qui in ea re tam attentus fuit.

Attentus circa aliquid: Erit iudex circa ius nostrum attentior, moze diligent oz attentyue.

Attentissimis animis audire.

Attenta vita, id est, curiosa, diligens, a carefull and diligent lyfe.

Attentus rerum paterfamilias, a good housebande diligente aboute his affayres and busynes.

Quintij frater sane cæterarum rerum patersa milias prudens & attentus.

Attenta vita, a diligent and scrupulable life.

Attenuáre, slenderly, subtilly, finely.

Attenuátio, ônis. f. g. a dymynishyng.

Attenuátus, a, um, appayred, weakened, dimynished. also slender, thynne.

Attenuatum dicendi genus, a slender, playn, oz easy style, that floweth not in eloquence.

Atténuo, áui, áre, to diminishe oz make lesse, slenderer oz thynner, to appayre oz make weaker.

Attenuare curas, to dymynishe care oz pensyueness.

Attenuare opes, to consume oz waste treasure.

Cutem lambendo attenuare, to make thinner.

Bellum attenuatum & imminutum, diminished and made lesse.

Legiones prælijs attenuatæ sunt, with often battayles, many of the souldioure were slayne, and the number of theyr legeons dimynished.

Attenuant corpora noctes vigilatæ, maketh mens bodies leaner.

Attenuans victus, a spare diet that maketh a man leaner and slenderer.

Attero, átteris, triui, ére, to rubbe agaynst a thynge, to weare, to waste oz consume, to breake in pieces.

Attérere famam. Post vbi eorum famã atque pudorem attriuerat, maiora alia imperabat, After that he had made thẽ consume their good name and honestee, he sette them in hande wyth other greatter attemptates.

Attérere gladiũ coti, to make sharpe a swerde with a whetstone.

Atterere aures alicui, by a metaphoze, is to annoy one with bablyng.

Atterunt se scopulis, they rubbe them selfe against the roches.

Attrita inter se ligna: sticks rubbed one against an other.

Alueum atterere, id est, calcare, to weare the chanell of a riuer and make it deeper.

Attrita toga, an olde goune threde bare.

Et surgentes atterat herbas: and doth breake oz hurte the herbes as they grow.

Attéstans, ántis, one that witnesseth.

Attestátus, a, um, witnessed, proued by withes.

Attestationes, testimonies.

Attéstor, tus sum, ari, to call to witnesse, sometyme for Testor, to witnesse.

Attéxo, ui, ére, to adde to, to ioygne to, and as it weare to weaue to a thynge.

Attexere personis orationes, to make oracions, and name them on persons.

Atthis, was daughter of Cranaus, whome (some suppose) to geue the first name to the countrey called Attica.

Attica, a countrey in Greee, wherin stoode the famous citee of Athens, the noryce of all sciences.

Atticé, an aduerbe signifying, in the eloquence of speche of Athens.

Atticismos, a peculiar phrase oz eleganey of the Athens tongue.

Atticisso, to speake in the Athens tongue.

Attilus, a fysshe in the ryuer Poe, whiche by hys sloggyshnesse groweth so great, that he poyseth 1000. pounde weight.

Attin, a woyde spoken to auncient men for reuerence, as we say father.

Atticus, ática, um, of Athenes.

Attigo, áttigis, idem quod attingo.

Attiguus, by oz nigh ioynyng to.

Attila, looke Attyla.

Attilius Regulus, a noble consull of Rome, vanquished oftentimes the Carthaginenses, was at last taken by a sleyght, and beyng bounden was sent to Rome, that for him they myght exchaunge a great number of prysoners of their people. But at his comynge, he exhorted the Romaynes, not to make suche exchange, consideryng his age and debilitee. And so with a glad will he retourned to his enemies, knowyng that he should be cruelly putte to death. So muche loued he his countrey. wherfore at his retourne, the Carthaginenses caused his eye lidders to bee cutte of, that he mought neuer slepe, and than to be put in an holow tree, beyng stycked full of nayles, the poinctes inwarde. where he continued till he died.

Attíneo, áttines, tinui, ére, sometime idem quod teneo, to holde. sometime for Retineo, to holde backe.

Ni proximi prehensam dextram attinuissent Had not they whiche were nere hym taken and holden hys hande.

Ni Stertinius accurrens attinuisset, If Stertinius renning to him, had not holden backe oz letted hym.

Attineri vinculo seruitutis, to be kept in bondage.

Domi attineri studijs, to be kept at home with studie.

Attineri publica custodia, to bee kepte in the gaole oz common pryson.

Attinet, it becometh, it is conuenient, it appertayneth, it belongeth, it concerneth, it toucheth.

Quid

Quid attinet ad nos scire? what pertayneth it to vs to know it? or what haue wee to doo to know it?

Attinet ad vitem colendam, it belongeth to the husbandyng of vynes.

Nihil ad me attinet, it pertayneth nothyng to me. or I passe not, I care not.

Iam ne vis me dicere quod ad te attinet? now wilte thou that I speake that whiche to thy profit, or that concerneth or toucheth thee?

Comperiebam nihil ad Pamphilum quicquam attinere, I perceiued nothyng at all that Panphilus had there to doo.

Attinet hoc ad me, this thynge toucheth me.

Quid istuc ad me attinet? what haue I to doo with that.

Quod ad me attinet, nec arguo, nec purgo, As for my part, or, as for me, I doo neyther accuse nor excuse them.

Quod ad argentum attinet, as concernyng the money.

Quid attinet? what auayleth it?

Attingo, attigi, ere, to touche almost, to touche softely, to mencion or handle a matter byefely, to meddle a lyttel with a thyng.

Ne me attingas sceleste, touche me not.

Attingit me sanguine, he is of my bloud.

Attingere senectam, to come to age.

Attingere partes naturæ, to come to the knowledge of naturall causes.

Priusquam remp. attingeret, before he came to the gouernaunce of the common weale.

Vt primum forũ attigi, as soone as I beganne to pleade first in the common place.

Aliquam rem attingere, id est, tractare.

Eam rem ne attigerunt quidem, they neuer touched or spake worde of that matter.

Voce tantum attigi legis initium, I spake but euen a worde of the beginning of the law.

Perquam breuiter perstrinxi atque attigi, I touched and spake of the matter very shortly.

Attingere partem sceleris: Quicumq; aliquam partem illius sceleris attigit, who so euer was in any parte partaker of that mischiefe.

Leuiter in transitu quippiam attingere, to touche a thynge byefely by the way.

Singulatim vnamquamq; rem attingere: to touche euery thyng particularly.

Attingere studia, to sauoure of letters.

Nihil ad rem attingit, it belongeth nothyng to the matter, or it maketh nothynge to the purpose.

Attingit te hæc res, this matter toucheth thee.

Inquisitio veri maximè humanam naturam attingit, serchynge of the trueth moste of all pertayneth or belongeth to mans nature, or cometh nerest to it.

Legis nomen nihil attingunt, they be nothing worthy the name of lawes: or nothynge mete to be called lawes.

Attingere sanguine, to be kinne vnto.

Non illi modo quos sanguine attingit.

Cognotione attingere, idem.

Attingere aliquem summa necessitudine, to be of great familiaritie with one.

Ne suspicione quidem attingere possum, I can not conjecte, diuine, or suspecte what it should be.

Attingere aliquem suspicione, to make one suspected.

Attingere aliquem infamia, to defame a man.

Perpauci erant, quos ea infamia attigerat, There were verye few, whome that infamye touched, or that were so mistrusted of.

Non plus attigis doctrinæ quam quod &c. he had touched no more learnynge.

Strictim librum aliquem attingere, to haue redde a lyttel parte of a booke hastely.

In transitu attingere, to touche or mencion a thyng byefely in other communication.

Attingere res gestas versibus, to beginne to write an history in verses.

Attingere oram aliquam, siue regionem, to border vpon or reigne next to an other countrey.

Macedonia quæ tantis Barbarorum gentibus attingitur.

Eorum fines Neruii attingebant.

Ea pars quæ Siciliam proxime attingit, whiche is next to Sicile.

Hora circiter diei quarta Britanniam attigit, he arriued in Englande about fower of the cloche.

Si qua de pompeio te attingit cura, yf you be any thynge carefull.

Nostri principes digito se cælum putant attingere, Our princes thinke them selues to be euen as it were goddes, prouerbially spoken.

Attingere aliquem, to name one, to make mencion of any person.

Quem simul atque attigi, whome so soone as I named or mencioned.

Attingere aliquod genus vitæ extremis digitis, to haue assayed or tasted a lyttell any kinde of lyfe.

Primoribus labris aliquid attingere, to haue a smacke or litle vnderstandyng of any thyng.

Attingi dolore, to bee attached with sorowe or heuinesse.

Attingi inuidia, to be hated or enuied.

Attis, looke Atthis, It is sometyme taken for a nightyngale.

Attóllo, attuli, ĕre, to auaunce, to lyfte vp, to take away.

Aduersus Dictatoriam vim attollere oculos non audebant, they durste not ones looke against the power of the Dictatour.

Illa se attollunt, those partes rise higher.

Custodite istum ne quis eum attollat neue quis attingat, id est auferat.

Attóllere signa, to display ensignes, standerdes and banners in the fielde.

Quid si propius attollamus signa, eamusque obui-obuiam.

Attólere partum, to nourysshe or bryngе vp a chylde from his byrthe.
Fœminæ mammas non habent nisi quæ partus attolere possunt.
Attóllere oculos, to looke vp, to caste vp the eyes.
Oculos ad cælum attollunt.
Attollere quempiam in cælum, or in sydera, to magnify or prayse a man exceedingly.
Attollere se a graui casu, to ryse vp after a great fall.
Quem attollentem se a graui casu, whome ryssyng vp after a great falle.
Chamæcisson hæderam appellant non attollentem se a terra: id est, humi repentem, gosyngе cloase to the grounde.
Attollunt se venæ, the veynes swell and waxe great.
Modo se venæ attollunt modo remittunt, the veynes ryse and falle, as in beatyng of the pulse.
Attolluntur colles alti, the hilles be of a greate height, or the hilles rise into a great heyght.
Attollitur Arcadia in montes septuaginta sex, Arcadie hath .76. high mountaynes.
Arcem attollere tectis, a poeticall phrase, to builde.
Attollere humeris, to beare vpon ones shoulders.
Sæpe attollunt humeris.
Attolle pallium, take vp thy mantell or cloke.
Attóndeo, di, ére, to clippe or sheare a thing nigh to shreadde.
Attondere arbores, to shreadde trees.
Dum tenera attondent virgulta capellæ, while the yonge gootes brouse or eate vpon the shrubbes.
Attondere auro, to rydde one of his money, to take all away from him.
Attónitè, bashefully.
Attónitus, a, um, astonied, amased, or abashed.
Attonitis oculis videre aliquid, to stande starynge on a thyng as one astonied.
Ingens fragor aures attonitas reddit, maketh one deafe.
Attonitus nouitate rei, astonished or abashed with the noueltee of the thynge.
Attono, ui, are, to make astonyshed, amased, or abashed. a worde seldome vsed.
Attónsus, a, um, shorne or clypped, polled, shed.
Attonsa laus, laude or prayse diminished.
Attonsum caput, a polled head.
Attráctio, ônis, fœ. g. a drawyng or pullyng to.
Attráctus, a, um, drawen or pulled to.
Attráctylis, looke Atractylis.
Attráho, áttrahis, tráxi, ere, to draw or pulle to, to bryngе to.
Attrahere & Allicere.
Attrahere aliquem ad aliquod negotium, to induce or bryng a man to doo a thyng.
Attrahere & reddere animam, to breath, to breath in and oute.
Attrahere lorum, to pull the reyne of the bridell to him.
Attrahere & accersere malum, to serche and be occasion of ones owne mischiefe.
Attrahere in se ferrum magnes lapis dicitur.
Attrahere ad se aliquem, to make one come to hym.
Tribunos attrahi ad se iussit, to bee brought vnto hym.
Attrebates, looke Atrebates.
Attrectátus, us, a feelyng or touchyngе.
Attréctо, áui, áre, to feele, to handell or touche often.
Attrectare vxorem alterius, to medle with an other mans wife.
Attremo, áttremis, trémui, ére, to tremble or shake.
Attribuo, bui, ére, to attribute, to impute, to put vpon one by blamyng or accusyng, to assigne, to commit. sometime to geue.
Cæterorum tuendorum curam quæstori attribuit: id est. dat.
Si legi, loco, vrbi, attribuetur oratio, yf you shall make a law, a place, a citee to speake.
Pecunia attributa, a summe of money assygned alowed or apoincted for any officer, to pay souldiours wages, or lay out any other wayes.
Attributa pecunia numerata est, the money that was apoincted for him, was tolde out.
Attribuere causam calamitatis alicui, to imputе or lay the blame of his calamitee or miserie vpon any man.
Quod te lædunt Catoni attribuas & Seruilio, impute it or lay the faulte of it to, &c.
Attribuere & ascribere.
Timor quem mihi natura pudorq; meus attribuit, id est, dat. The feare which my nature and bashfulnesse hath geuen me.
Attribuere crimen aut culpam.
Si vni culpa attribuenda est, if the faulte be to be imputed to any one man.
Attribuere alicui equum, to geue or delyuer an horse to a man. Seruos armat hisq; equos attribuit.
Video cui Apulia sit attributa, I se to whome the countrey of Puell is assigned or apoincted.
Attribuere tertium locũ alicui in re aliqua, in the commendation of men for anye feate, to geue one the thyrde prayse, or to prayse one thyrdely.
His singulæ naues erant attributæ, eche of them was apoincted to gouerne one shippe.
Attribuere negotium alteri, to committe the charge of a matter to any man.
Attribútio, ônis, the assignation or delyuerance of money.
Attribûtus, a, um, attributed, delyuered or assygned.
Attribûta pecunia, money delyuered to be geuen to an other man. Or deliuered to anye officer, licet, to bestow in the common affayres, as was to the gouernours of the prouinces amonge the Romaynes.

Attributa atque descripta, assygned and appoynted out.

Attritus, tus, rubbyng or wearynge, wastynge or freatyng together.

Attritus calciamentorum, the wearynge of shoes with much goyng.

Attritus, a, um, rubbed, worne, waasted cõsumed.

Attrita vestis, a garment worne out.

Attrita ansa, an handell waasted with muche handlyng.

Attrita bellis Aethiopia, Ethiope wasted and well nere destroied with warres.

Attropatia, parte of the countrey of Media.

Attuli, the preterfect tense of Affero.

Attyla, of some called Athyla, a valiant Scythia prince, after he had subdued Pannonia, entred into Italy, destroyed the cities Aquilea, and came towarde Rome. wherof the Emperoure Valentinianus beynge aferde, sente vnto hym Leo the bysshop of Rome, with the consules and certayne senatours. who submitted theym selues vnto him. And whan his hoste supposed, he woulde haue theym in contempte, and continue his iourney to destroye Rome: he pardonynge them, departed: whereat all men meruayled. But he, beyng demaũded, why he had so doone aunswered, that whiles the bysshoppe and senatours spake vnto him, he beheld standynge on eyther hande of him, a man of armes of excellent personage, euery of them holding a naked swerd ouer him, manacyng to slea him, if he spake any vnsittynge worde, or dyd make any further attemptate. wherfore he discharged the Romaynes with gentill language, perswadyng his hoste to holde them contente. Afterwarde he entred into Germany, wastynge the countrey, and in his retourne towarde Hungary, he maried a wyfe. In which mariage he so excessiuely fylled him selfe with meates and wynes, that therby he fell in a bledinge, and so died: after the incarnation. 401. yeres. And at the beginnynge called him selfe the scurge of God.

Atuacutũ, the towne of Antwerpe in Brabant.

Atura, a towne of Aquitayne.

Aturius, a ryuer in Fraunce, called vulgarly, Le Dou.

Atypus, átypi, m. g. one that is tongue tied.

Atys, a chylde of wonderfull beautee, beloued of Cybele, the mother of goddis, and was tourned into a pyne tree. It was also a kynge of Lydia, descendyng lynially from Hercules, and Omphale. Also a ryuer of Sicile.

A ANTE V.

AV, an interiection, vsed of women beynge sore abasshed or amased. And after Lysaeire, an interiection of silence.

Auantici, a people of Fraunce.

Auãre, couetously, nygthy, nygardly.

Auãre & acerbe imperare, to rule with exaction and tyrannye.

Auaricum, Vierron in Berrey in the royalme of Fraunce.

Auariter, idem quod auarè.

Auãritia, æ, and Auarities, ei, fœ. g. auarice, couetousnesse, inordinate desyre of money.

Ardere auaritia, to be exceedyng couetous.

Auaritia gloriæ, immoderate desyre of honour and dignitee.

Ex luxuria auaritia existit, of natte syngeth inordinate desire of money.

Auaritia sẽper hianie fuit, he was alwayes dyng couetous and gredie.

Per auaritiam aliena bona appetere: couetous ye to desire other mens goodes.

Auaritiæ coarguere, to blame one of couetousnes.

Auaritiæ in simulare aliquem, to say that one is couetous.

Exuere auaritiam.

Auãrus, a, um, couetous, auaricious, desirous, gredy of money.

Auarę adulationes, for Auarorum adulationes, the flatterynges of eythemen.

Cædis auarus miles, a cruell souldiour, desyrous of murther.

Auarum mare: a greedy sea.

Intuitus auarus, the vnsatiate desyre to beholde a thyng.

Auarus laudis, desyrous of prayse.

Aúceps, aucupis, com. ge. a fouler or bryder.

Auceps syllabarum, he that watcheth at euery syllable to take a man in a trippe, a captious felow.

Ne quis nostro auceps sermoni fiet, lest there be any that watche what we say.

Auceta, vsed of olde writers for Sæpe aucta.

Auctãtium, looke Auctuarium.

Auctificus, a, um, that maketh or increaseth.

Auctio, ónis. fœ. an increase. also an open sale of pryuate goodes.

Auctio regia, sale of the kynges goodes.

Auctionem facere, and auctionem proponere. to set his goodes to sale.

Auctionem hic faciam & vendam omnia que habeo.

Auctionem vendere, the office of the crier in such common sales.

Auctio hastæ, poze sale of the goodes of men, that be attepnted of treasone or felony. But moze propryely of men's gooddes taken in warre and solde by the chiefe capitayne.

Vis conclamari auctionem, will you haue it cried in the market place that there shalbe open sale of these gooddes.

Auctionãrius, a, um, of or pertaynyng to poze sale, or the sales man.

Auctionariæ tabulæ, inuentozies, wherin the gooddes goodes to be solde, are written.

Auctiónor, âtus sum, âri, depo. to sell houshold stuffe by poste sale.
Auctior, tius, greatter.
Auctito, áuctitas, áui, âre, the frequentatiue of aucto.
Auctitare pecunias fœnore, to increase mony by vsury.
Aucto, aui are, frequen, to gayne, to wynne, to augment or multiply.
Auctolycus, a thiefe that transformed him selfe into diuers shapes.
Auctonus, the sonne of Apollo and Lycene.
Auctor, ôris, m. g. or auctrix, he or she that augmenteth or increaseth.
Auctorâtus, ti, a seruaunt that is solde, bounden, or hyred.
Auctoramentum, the bonde, or price wherwyth one is bought or hyred.
Auctôro, aui, are, to bynde one as seruaunt, or by certayne law of couenaunt, or els by a price and some of money.
Auctuárium, ouer measure or weyght, surplusage in number, or quantite, or weyght.
Auctus, a, um, increased, auaunced.
Auctus lætitia, more ioyfull or gladde.
Auctus pecunia, made richer.
Auctior ægritudo, more paynefull sycknesse.
Auctus filiolo, he is richer than he was, for he hath a sonne borne.
Auctus damno, he hath yet more harme.
Auctus honoribus, he is aduaũced to honour and dignitee.
Auctus prœda, he is made riche with robbynge and pillynge.
Auctus animo, his courage beyng encreased.
Auxilio iam auctus, hauynge more ayde then he had before.
Clodius Antonij beneficio auctus est.
Auctas exaggerataſque fortunas vna nox pœne delcuit, one nyghte dyd almoste cleane take away the ryches meruelously encreased and augmented.
Societate Agrippinensium auctus, hauynge the societee of theym, whyche he hadde not before.
Auctus re fortunisque, he is very substanciall and ryche.
Auctus, us, increase, augmentacion.
Auctus dierum, the increase of the dayes.
Aucula, a towne in Thuscane, called Aquapendens.
Aucupátio, ônis. f. g. byrdynge, and after Budeus, in his booke de asse, sometyme gayne, aduauntage.
Aucupatórij, lyme twygges.
Aucupatórius, a, um, pertaynyng to byrdynge.
Aucúpia, birdes taken of the fouler.
Aucúpium, ij, n. g. byrding or foulyng. sometime the birdes that be taken at the byrdynge.

Aucupium sagittarum, hootyng at byrdes.
Vitam propagabat aucupio sagittarum, he lengthened his life with going a byrde and hootynge at birdes.
Aucupium delectationis, desyre of delectacion.
Ne aucupium delectationis in oratione videatur esse, that there may not seme to bee in your style a certayne affectated studye or desyre to delight.
Aucupium auribus facere, to harken what is sayed.
Hoc nouũ est aucupium, this is a new way to get money.
Aucupor, âtus sum, pâri, dep. and aucupo, to goe a byrdynge, foulynge, or haukynge. Also it signifieth to searche by craftie meanes, and to watche for.
Aucupari sermonem alicuius, to harken or take heede what one sayeth.
Circumspice num sermonem nostrum quis aucupet vell acupetur.
Aucupari tempus, to espie a time.
Aucupari sibi famam obtrectatione alenæ scientiæ, to endeuour to get a name by the dispraysynge of an other mans cunnyng.
Gratiam alicuius aucupari assentatiuncula, to endeuour to gette ones fauoure by a flatterynge tale.
Aucupari rumusculos imperitorum hominum, to goe aboute to gette prayse of idiotes or vnlearned persons.
Aucupari tranquillitatem, to watche or tarie for a calme wether, or tyll the wynde bee laide.
Delectationem quandam dicendo aucupari, in pleadynge to endeuour to delyght hys audience.
Aucupari errantem aliorum opinionem non debemus, wee should not goe aboute to vnderstande and folow the erroneous opinion of other.
Cur epistolis & matris & sororis imbecillitatem aucupatur.
Quæ tamen ab alijs legibus similitudinem quandam aucupatur.
Aucupari verba, aut vim verborum, to serche the true propertee of woordes, or what they signifie.
Aucupari vtilitatem, to hunte for profite.
Audácia, foolehardynesse, courage, truste, confydence in ones selfe, auenterous courage, stomacke, boldenesse, presumpcion.
Quæ in Catone libertas, in alio audacia diceretur, that was called in Cato playne & franke speakyng his mynde, should in an other person haue ben called presumption.
Catilina fuit magnæ audaciæ, of greate presumpcion.
Expertæ audaciæ homo, a man that is tried to be bolde and hardie.

Titubans audacia, bashefull boldenesse.
Audatia, temeritatis, Audentia, fortitudinis est.
Fretus impudentia atque audatia, trustynge only to his impudencie and presumption.
Cædere audaciæ alicuius, to gyue place to ones confydence and stomake.
Comprimere contundere frangere audatiam alicuius, to holde vnder and breake ones stomake or presumption.
Homo expertæ audatiæ, a man of a proued courage and boldenesse.
Increscit audatia, his confidence or stomake encreaseth.
Audatia fortitudinem imitatur, foolehardynesse imitateth valiant courage.
Petulans audatia, malapert boldnesse and presumption.
Inhumanæ audatiæ, Cicero hath in the plurall number.
Audácter, & audaciter, boldely, aduentrously.
Audacter & libere loqui, to speake boldely without feare.
Audacter monere, respondere, defendere, dicere. &c.
Audaculus, hardie, spoken in derision or contempte.
Audax, âcis, bolde and hardie, or trustyng well in hym selfe, a rashe felowe, a presumptuous person.
Audax facinus, a bolde enterpryse.
Audax & confidens. Audax, amens, impudens.
Petulans & audax homo. Temerarius & audax.
Audax animi, bolde of courage.
Impium atque audax caput, a wicked and rashe felow.
Audacem faciebat amor, made hym bolde.
Audens, hardy.
Audéntia, æ, hardynesse.
Audeo, sus, sum, ère, to presume rashely. To haue the harte to doo a thynge, to dare, not to bee afrayde to doo.
Qui fallere audebit patrem, tanto magis audebit cæteros, he that shall haue the herte to begyle his owne father.
Audere longius, to aduenture further.
Secundis rebus longius audebunt.
Capitalia ausi plerique, the more parte of them haue not ben afrayed to committe moste deadly offences or shamefull crimes.
Maiora viribus audere, to aduenture more than one is able to atchieue.
Audere, with an accusatiue for, non vereri.
Non ausis aciem hostibus, hys enemies not darynge, or not beynge so hardy to fyght with hym.
Illo, sine publica fraude, Facinus auso, seyng he durste to aduenture that acte. &c.
Pater multa hostilia ausus, his father presumynge to doo. &c.
Nihil vltra fremitum & minas ausus, he durste doo nothynge but grenne and threaten.
Nocturnam oppugnationem audebant, they were not afrayed to sette vpon the citee in the nyght.
Nec Tiberius pœnam eius palam ausus, neyther durste Tyberious punysshe hym openlye.
Vltima audere & experiri cogitabat, he entended to aduenture and trye the extremyte.
Periculum in aperto non audebant, they were afrayed to aduenture that daungier in an open place.
Pugnam ausi sunt, They dyadde not to fyghte wyth theym, or to encountre wyth theym in battayle.
Qui me ferro ausi sunt tentare, that durste begynne or presume to fight with me.
Audiéntia, æ, audience, reporte.
Audientiam facere, to commaunde and make silence, as they doo, whiche are rulers in places of iustice.
Audio, iui, ire, to here, to consider, to perceyue, to graunt that whiche is asked, to doo the thing that is commaunded. also to agree, to obeye, but most commonly with a negation.
Audire bene, to bee well reported of, to haue a good name.
Cupit bene audire a parentibus, he desyreth to haue hys parentes speake well of him.
Audiré male, to be yll reported of, to haue an yll name.
Apud omnes bonos viros propter auaritiam male audit.
Audin, tu? Herest thou not?
Audire Platonem, to be Platos disciple.
Platonem tres annos audiuit, he was Platons scholer three yeres.
Audias, pro audire poteris, thou mayste heare.
Audiens dicto, redye to doo that he is commaunded, at commaundemente, obediente.
Audiri, to bee beleued.
Audiris, for vbi audieueris.
Audite breuiter, audite paucis, here in fewe wordes.
Missis leuibus copijs que ex longinquo in maius audiebantur, whiche a farre of seemed to those that hearde theym, to bee a greatter number.
Audiri latius, to be hearde farther.
Quo latius audiretur, that he myght be heard the further of.
Audiui dicere, I heard one reporte.
Quis esset nunquã audiui dici, I neuer heard any man tell who he was.

Vt audiui dicere, as I heard one say.
Audiui, idem quod audiui dicere.
Audiui & credo, I heard report so, and I beleue it.
Audire alterum de re aliqua, to giue audience to an other man, or to here what one will say in any mattier.
Audiui à patre, ex patre, é patre, and de patre, I heard it reported of my father.
Sæpe a maioribus natu audiui.
De psaltria hac audiuit, he hath heard some speakyng of thys syngyng woman.
Hoc te ex alijs audire malo, As for this I had leifer that ye shoulde heare it of other men.
Audire de capite alicuius, id est, cognoscere, to sitte in examination of a mattier concernynge lyfe and death.
De capite viri consularis soccatus audiebat.
Audire pro concedere. Preces meas audiuerunt, They heard and graunted my petycion.
Audire admonentem, to obey one that doeth aduertise vs of any thynge.
Audio ironicè, for non audio.
Audio, sometyme for consentio, I consente, I agree.
Pro illo te ducam: ch. audio.
Audiendus non est, he is not to be beleued, or he ought not to be obeyed.
Nec Homerum audio, Neyther I agree to Homere, or I beleue not Homere.
Si fabulas audire velimus, id est, credere. If we wyll beleue fables.
Nunquam labêre, si te audies, you shall neuer doo amisse, yf you wyll folow your owne counsayle, or doo as you thynke best your selfe.
Si me audies, yf you wyll follow my counsayle, if you wyll doo as I wyll haue you, yf ye wyll be ruled after me.
Minus commodè audire, to haue a shrewde name, to be euell reported of.
Attente bonaque cum venia audire aliquem: to heare one fauourably, and diligently.
Auribus si parum audias, yf thou bee dull of hearynge.
Dolobellæ, me audiente Cæsar dixit. &c. Cæsar sayde to Dolabella in my hearynge.
Audire pro intelligere.
Audio quid velis, I perceyue what youre mynde is.
Audin quid dicat, doest thou not perceyue what he sayeth.
Audire nuntium, vnde vix ter in anno nuntium audire possunt, from whens they shall heare worde. &c.
Audibo, vsed of olde writers for audiam.
Auditur nihil noui, there is no newes hearde of.
Auditio, ônis, fœ. gene. hearynge or audience, a rumoure or reporte, that commeth to ones hearynge.

Auditione accipere, to heare by reporte.
Ne leuissimam quidem auditionem de ea re accepi, I heard not one worde spoken of that matter.
Fabularum auditione ducuntur, They take great pleasure in hearyng of tales.
His rumoribus atque auditionibus permoti, beyng moued with these rumours and reportes.
Fictæ auditiones, feyned reportes.
Falsas auditiones depellere, to put awaye false reportes.
Sedere in his scholis auditioni occupatum gratius est quam. &c. beynge occupied in harkennyng or hearyng. &c.
Auditiúncula, æ. a dyminutiue of Auditio.
Auditiuncula aspersum esse, to heare a lyttell talkyng of a mattier.
Auditor, ôris, mas. gen. one that heareth. also a disciple or scholar, one that cometh to lecture.
Auditórium, rij, neu. g. a place where men doo here lessons or proposicions, an auditorie. sometyme the whole audience. sometyme a common place, where iudges sit to deuise mattiers.
Auditum, ti, neu. gen. reporte.
Audito nunciare, to tell by here say.
Nihil præter auditum habeo, I saye but as I heard other reporte.
Auditus, a, um, herde.
Rége ex vtráque parte audita, the mattier beynge heard or examined for bothe parties: or whan they had bothe tolde theyr tales.
Romæ cuncta in deterius audita Mutianum angebant, worse rumours of all thynges beynge heard euery day at Rome disquieted Mutianus.
Audito castellum obsideri, id est, postquam audisset.
Audito, absolutely, whan it was hearde.
Auditus, us, mas. gene. hearynge, one of the fyue wittes.
Auditu intelligi, to be perceyued by hearyng.
Audiuitaui, for sæpe audiui, a worde out of vse.
Aue, be thou gladde or ioyful, as the vulgare people say, test you merry.
Auére te iubet, id est, te salutat, He greteth you well.
Aucho, áuchis, auéxi, ĕre, to cary from one place to an other, to cary awaye.
Auella, or Auellinum, a towne of Campayne in Italy.
Auellâna, næ, f.g. a filberde nutte.
Auéllo, úlsi, ĕre, to pluche away by violence.
Auellere se a meretrice, to withdraw hym, to leaue or forsake the company of an harlot.
Auellere & abstrahere, to pluche or draw away by violence.
Auellere aliquem a suis, to pulle a man from his friends or acquayntance.
E signo Cereris hoc auellendũ curauit, he caused that he pulled from the image.
His auelli non possunt nisi lima, they can not be pulled from them but with a file.

Auellere rus ab aliquo, to take a ferme or peece of grounde from one by force.

Auéna, næ, f. ge. otes. sometyme it is put for ote strawe, or a wheate strawe or reede, or a pype made of an oten strawe.

Auenáceus, a, um, made of otes.

Auenárius, a, um, bepnge amonge otes, or of otes.

Auenária cicada, a kynde of grassehoppers, whiche appere not till corne be rype.

Auentinus, an hill at Rome.

Auentinus, a, um, of that hyll.

Auenuiorum colonia, or Auenio, Auinion, a citee in Pronaunce.

Aueo, áues, ére, to coueite.

Auet audire, he despyseth to here.

Auerni, people of the countrey in Fraunce called Auergne.

Auérnus, ni, ma. ge. and in the plurall number, Auerna, orum, neu. ge. a lake in Campayne, which was dedicate vnto Pluto kynge of helle, where men supposed to bee an entrie or passage to helle.

Auernus, a, um, and Auernalis, le, of Auernus, sometyme of hell.

Auerrois, a great philosophier and phisition, ennemy to Auicen, and also to Christe. And for his great commentes written vpon Aristotle, he is named Commentator. He was aboute the yere of our lorde. 1145.

Auerrúnco, áui, áre, to tourne away, to put away, to scrape of, to cut of, as men cut vynes. Auerruncáre deûm iram, to pacifie goddes wrathe.

Dij auerruncent, god forbidde.

Auerrúncus deus, God whiche putteth awaye all euell.

Auersátio, ônis. f. ge. an hatynge, abhorrynge, or refusynge of a thynge, disdeigne.

Auérsio, ônis, a tournynge awaye, a stralynge awaie, looke Aduersio.

Auersor, átus sum, ári, to abhorre, to refuse. Auersári aliquem, so to detest and abhorre one, that for hate he tourneth his face from him. Auersári preces alicuius, to bee agaynst a mans desyre.

Auérsor, ôris, mas. gen. he that tourneth a thing from one vse to an other.

Auérsus, a, um, straunge vnacquaynted. sometyme backewarde, or on the backe half, contrary to Aduersus. Also angry, wrath, spitefull, agaynst, so that he will not looke on one. Aduersus, & Auersus, forewarde and backewarde. Auersa venus, præposterus & infandus coitus. Auersa pars, the backe syde of a thynge. Canities semper a priore parte capitis, tum deinde ab aduersa, then after one the hynder parte. Auersa pecunia publica, the common treasure tourned to a particular aduauntage. Auersis post crura plantis, the feete tourned backewarde. In auersa charta scribere, to write in roughe paper that stoppeth the penne. Also to write on the backesyde of an indenture or suche lyke wrytyng, to endorse. Auersus à proposito, tourned from hys purpose. Auersus à vero, contrary to the truthe, against the truthe. Auersus à suis, contrary to, or resistynge hys friendes myndes. Neminem vidi tam auersum a suis. Auersus à musis, he that hateth or despyseth learnyng. Nemo tam auersus a musis. Auersus à veneriis amoribus, he that delyteth not in, or despiseth wanton loue. Amicos auersos componere, to sette frendes at one, that were at variance. Auersi dij a salute populi Romani, the goddis be displeased with, or regarde not the wealth of the Romaynes. Auersissimus animus, a mynde greatlye displeased and bent agaynst a man.

Auérta, æ, f. ge. the peutrell of an horse, or after some, it is the bedstale of the bridell, whervnto the rayne of the bridell is fastned.

Auérto, si, tere, to tourne awaye, to tourne fro, to disdeyne. Auertit se, he tourned him selfe away. Auertere ab aliquo loco, to lette or prohibite one to enter into a place. Vultum auertit, he tourned his face away. Ex oculis illius se auertit, he tourned hym away out of his sight. Auertere se ab aliquo, to leaue hym there, to come awaye from one. Auertere hostes, ab aliquo loco, to dryue away enemies. Auertere se à sermone, to tourne away from the tale, to disdeyne to here ones communication. A nostro sermone se penitus auertit. Auertere culpam in alterum, to lay the blame or fault in an other. Deus hunc a nobis casum auertat, kepe hys thaunce from vs. Conatus alicuius auertere a rep. to kepe or let one that he doo not those thynges that he endeuoureth agaynst the common wealth. Furorem alicuius auertere a pernitie reip. to kepe that ones furie destroy not thee. ye. Surda aure auertitur, he tourneth away now and will not heare. Auertere hæreditatem, to putte one from hys inheritaunce. Auertere flumen, to tourne the ryuer oute of hys course. Iter ab Arare auerterant, they tourned

A ANTE V.

kepe iourney from Brar.
Quod omen dij auertant, God kepe vs from that luche or chaunce.
Vt auerteret rem à suspitione, that he myght make the matter not to be suspected, or that he might bryng the matter out of suspicion.
Auertere se ab amicitia alicuius, to forsake ones amitee or friendship.
Totum se ab illius amicitia auertit.
Mentem eius ab illa defensione auertit.
Auertere se in mercaturam to gyue hym selfe to practise the feate of marchandise.
Auertit regem in cogitationem belli, he turned the kynge from all other thynges, and sette hym in mynde to make warre.
Auertere pestem, to preserue or kepe from the pestilence.
Repente auertis orationem, sodenlye thou turnest our talke to an other thynge.
Auertere aliquē ab infamia, to kepe one from myscrepor or sclaunder.
Auertere ab oculis, to conueygh oute of mens sight.
Auertunt ab oculis naribusque dominorum. &c.
Auertere crimen a se, to putte the faute away from hym selfe.
Auertere animum ab aliquo, to forsake one to alienate his mynde from him. sometyme not to thynke on one, nor consider who he is.
A me penitus animum auertit.
A me animum parumper auertas Catonem loqui putes, thynke not of me, but ymagine that Cato speaketh.
Auertere cogitationem, not to regard or consyder any more.
Auertere oculos omnium in se, to make all men to looke from other, and beholde hym onlye.
Auertere in fugam, to put to flyght.
Auertere rem aliquam, by stelthe to take awaye a thyng, to robbe.
Consistit hæreditas in his rebus quas auertit Oppia.
Auertere pecuniam publicam, vniustlye to vse the commune treasure to hys owne aduauntage.
Auertere sensus magicis artibus, to enchaunt by witchecraft.
Aufero, abstuli, auférre, to take away, to rauie awaye. sometyme to steale, to beare awaye by stealthe, to obtayne a mannes requeste, to haue that he despyed or craued, to ceasse or leaue of.
Auferre caput alicui, to strike of ones head.
Auferre formam, to disfigure.
Auferre nomen alicui, to take from one hys good name.
Aufer te hinc, get the hense.
Aufer te domum, get the home.
Aufer me vultu terrere, id est, desine,
Auferas iurgium si sapis, leaue thy chyding.
Auferent dies quindecim hi ludi, those playes will lette vs these. xv. dayes.
Aufer nugas, leaue these trifelynges, leaue your mockes.
Auferre litem, to gette by action or processe of the lawe.
Maiore mulcta mulctat, quā litem auferunt, He maketh them to spende more than they may wynne by their suite.
Auferre petionem, id est, impetrare, to haue the thynge that he asketh.
Id auferre & abducere licebit, they maye carry away that and take it with them.
Abstulit e conspectu, he carried it oute of syght.
Aequitati multum aufert fraus impiorum: id est, nocet, hurteth or dymynysheth.
Aufert animum ad contemplacionem eorumque. &c. It carieth away my mynde to the consideration. &c.
Nomen auferre alijs, to make other nothyng spoken of.
Quin tu hinc pollicitationes aufer, but dooe thou I praye thee leaue thy fayre promysses.
Tuo arbitratu, dum auferam abs te id quod peto, Euen as you will, so that I maye haue the thyng that I aske or demaunde.
A Scapulis paucos dies aufert dum in patriam mittat, he obteyned the delay or space of two or three dayes of them, vntill. &c.
Iudicio iam pridem abstulissem, I woulde haue obteyned it by suite in the lawe.
Facile auferemus quod volumus, wee shall easely obteyne.
Auferre pignora, to take a dystresse or gage.
Abstulit iratus pignora.
Suspendas potius me, quam tacita hæc auferas, Thou shalt rather hange me, than make me kepe these thynges secrete.
Auferre inultum, to go quite withoute punishement.
Ego precium ob stultitiam fero, sed inultum id nunquam auferet, I am well rewarded for my foolyshnesse, but he shall not go quite, or he shall not skape vnpunyshed.
Auferri sibi, to bee vexed in mynde, or from hym selfe.
Quanti voles auferes, ye shall haue it at youre owne price.
Auferre è conspectu, to take or conueygh out of syght.
Auferre opem ab aliquo, to obtayne ayde or succour of one.
Auferri inter manus, to bee borne oute betwene men, whan one can not goe hym selfe.
Alius inter manus e conuiuio tanquam e prælio auferebatur.

Auferre pecuniam de ærario, to steale money out of the common treasory.
Nihil tibi abstuli: id est, surripui.
Auferre aliquid domum, to cary home that, that one hath stollen.
Multa clam domum suam auferebant.
Auferre ab aliquo id quod petimus pro impetrare, to obtayne of one that, which we desyre.
Auferre auditum, to make one deake.
Auditum accolis aufert.
Auferre alicui vitam, to kille.
Auferre fastidium, to take awaye lothesomnesse.
Haud sic auferent, they shall not escape so.
Aufer lachrimas, ceasse thy weepyng.
Auferre laudem, aut gloriam ex aliqua re, to get prayse or honour for any thyng.
Auferre mensam, to take vp the table.
Mensa ablata est.
Obliuio illud abstulit, that is forgotten.
Auferre præmium, to haue a rewarde.
Hoc præmium auferes.
Auferre responsum ab aliquo, to haue an answere of one.
Illud ab eo responsum abstulit.
Auferre somnum, to lette one that he cannot sleape.
Calor somnum aufert.
Auferre spem, to put out of all hope.
Medios aufertur in hostes, he russhed into the myddes of his enemies.
Ne auferent te aliorum consilia, Lette not other mennes counsayle tourne thy mynde: or, take hede you be not seduced or myssled by other mens counsayle.
Ausidena, æ, a towne of Italy.
Ausidius, a mans name.
Ausidus, a ryuer in the countrey of Naples in Italy.
Ausúgio, fugis, fúgi, ĕre, to flye away, to eschue.
Aufugere aspectum alicuius, to flye oute of ones sight.
Aufugere ex loco aliquo.
Auga, the sister of Telephus, who with hir sonne was caste into the sea, and preserued by the prouydence of Pallas.
Aúge, the moryng or brightnes.
Augea, a citee of Locris, an other in Laconia.
Augeas, a kynge of the people called Elei, slayne by Hercules. also a comicall porte of Athens.
Augeo, xi, ĕre, to increase, to augment, to enriche, to auaunce, to make more worshipfull or honorable.
Augĕre & ampliare, to augment and make greater.
Augĕre animos, to make more couragious. also to take a lusty harte or courage.
Beneuolentiã auxit consuetudo, familiaritee encreased their friendeshyp.
Agrippina cognomento augustæ augetur, is made more honourable with the surname of Augusta.
Dona precibus augere, ouer and beside hys gyftes or presentes, to entreate and desyre to.
Ille dies me summo honore auxit, that daye made me farre more honorable, or encreased my honour greatly.
Largitione potissimos amicorũ auxit: he enriched the chiefe of his friendes. &c.
Auges tu molestiam, thou encreasest my greefe.
Opes per scelus auxit, he hath increased hys riches by mischiefe.
Auxit timoris opinionem, he encreased the opinion, whereby they thought hym to bee a feardr.
Scientia augere aliquem, to make more cunnynge.
Auxit suspicionem, he encreased the suspicion.
Augĕre dignitatem & nomen alicuius, to increase ones honour and renoume.
Augere diuitijs, to make richer.
Augere linguam latinam, to inriche the latin tongue.
Augere ciuitatem procreatione liberorum, by generatyon to make the citee more populous.
Augere verbis munus, to lette forthe or commende a present with wordes.
Non ille verbis auget munus suum.
Augere suspicionem alicuius rei, to make a thynge more suspected.
Augere spem, to put one in greater hope.
Augere industriam alicuius, to giue one courage to doo better and better, to make one more diligent.
Augere & ornare aliquem, to auaunce one to richesse and honour.
Te non modo tuendum mihi sed augendum atque ornandum putaui.
Non tueri solum sed augere commodis debeo, but also enryche with commodites.
Rem augere laudando, with prayslynge to make a thynge more than it is, to amplefie it.
Augere auxilia, to make a new hoaste after a discomfiture.
Augésco, augéscis, scĕre, to ware greate, or to be greate, to be growen, to be increased, to ware bygger.
Quotidiè augéscit de filio ægritudo, the sorowe and heauynesse for my sonne increaseth dayly more and more.
Augescere incrementis, to bee increased, or ware more.
Augescunt, corpora, Augescunt vuæ.
Augias the sonne of Phobas, or after some of Nicteus or Epochus, out of hys eyes appered as it were sonne beames. Other affirme, that this Augias was kyng of Epites, or Elidenses, and and that Euristeus caused Hercules to make cleane his stable, wherin was an huge heape of dounge.

Augifico, for Augeo.

Augmen, ǽgminis.neu.gen. idem quod Auctus, tus. Perfectum corporis augmen, the full growthe of the bodie.

Augmine donare, to increase.

Augmentátio, ônis, fœm.ge. an increse or augmentacion.

Augmento, áui, áre, to increase or make more.

Augur, áuguris, com.g. he that telleth by byrdes voyces, or by their flyinge or sittinge, what shall happen. And it is sometyme vsed for other soothsayers.

Auguráculum, li.neu.gen. is taken for a towre or castell, wherin the Augures vsed to diuine of matters.

Augurâle, neu.gen.idem quod Lituus.

Augurâlis, le, pertaynyng to diuination, looke Augurium.

Auguráles cœnæ, idem quod Adiciales.

Augurátio, ônis, diuinacions by birdes, gessynge or coniecturyng of a thyng to come.

Augurato, alowed by diuinacion of the augurers.

Augurâtus, tus, the dignitee of them, which were Augures, of whome was a college in Rome, as be now of pryestes in cathedrall churches.

Augurátus, a, um, the participle.

Augúrium, rij, n.g. diuinacion or tellyng before of thynges, which shall happen, especially by the flight or voyces of birdes, sooth saying. it is also taken for Oraculum.

Auguror, áris, ári, to tell by such craft what shall happen, to diuine, coniect, or surmise what will folow.

Astuté áugura, coniecte or diuine subtilly.

Augurare & diuinare.

Augurari coniectúra, to coniect, to gather by coniecture, to gather by signes and tokens.

Quantum coniectúra auguramur.

Sed quid de illo augurer, non libet dicere, But I wyll not say what I coniecte, or what my mynde giueth me, that he wyll doo heres after.

Augurari de: Recte de me auguraris.

Augurari ex auis volatu, to diuyne by, &c.

Augurari futura, to surmyse or coniecte thynges that will folow.

Quantum auguror opinione, as farre as I suppose in myne opinion, or my mynde giueth me,

Auguro, áuguras, áui, áre, idem quod Auguror.

Augusta Cæsaria, a citee in Spayne, vpon the riuer Iberus.

Augusta Emerita, a citee in Portugall.

Augusta Taurinorum, Turine.

Augusta Triuerorum, the citee of Trier, or Treues.

Augusta Rauricum, a citee in Almayne called Basile, or Basilæa.

Augusta Vindelicorum, a goodly and beautyfull citee in Germany called Ausbourgh.

Augusta Veltonum, Soyssons in Champayn.

Augusta Gemella, a citee in Spayne.

Augustæ, the surname of dyuers empresses of Rome.

Augustâle, lis, n.g. the kinges pauylion or tent, or the prynces palayce.

Augustâlis, le, imperiall.

Augustales, were the chiefe captaynes of the forwarde.

Augústè, nobly, with a maiestee, magnificently, holyly.

Augustinus, the famous doctoure of Christes churche, borne in Affrike, in a towne called Gasthensis, was of suche excellent witte, that in his childehode he learned all the vii. liberall sciences without an instructour. He was wonderfully learned, specially in the doctrine of Plato: whereby he was the rather induced to imbrace the christian faythe. He fauoured the errours of the Manichees: but by the continuall prayer of his good mother Monica, and the perswassion of saynete Ambrose, he was at laste conuerted to the true faythe. They bothe replenyshed with the holy gost, dyd syng together the psalme Te deum, answeryng mutually the one to the other. Afterwarde in prayer, wrytynge, and preachynge, he so muche profyted, that he was hadde in greate reuerence of all men. and wrate mo bokes than euer dyd any in the church of the latyns. He lyued. 76. yeres, and was bysshop forty yeres, and dyed in the yere of our lorde. 437.

Augustodunum, the citee of Iuston in Fraunce.

Augustonemetum, Neuers in Fraunce.

Augustoritum, the citee of Poicters.

Augústus, a, um, consecrated and establyshed by the Augures, noble, royall, imperiall, full of maiestee. Wherfore Octauius was fyrste so called, and after him all the emperours of Rome were and yet be called Augusti.

Fons sanctus & augustus, holye and consecrated.

Erat forma, humana augustior, hys fauour was of greater maiestie then any mannes fauour is, as it were a god.

Augústus, ti, m.g. is also the moneth nexte after July.

Auia, órum, places that can not be passed by.

Auia, auiæ, f.g. a graundame.

Auiæ veteres, olde foolysshe dotynge women.

Auia, an herbe mencioned of Columella.

Auia, or rather Liuia, a citee in Spayne, called Villalon.

Auiárium, rij, n.g. a thycke wodde without way. also a place where byrdes be kepte and nourysshed. sometyme bussches set for byrdes to haunte and sitte in.

Iuij and

Auiárius, & auiária, he or she that haue charge of the keppnge of poultry or wyldefoule. It may also be vsed for a poulter that selleth poultrie.

Auicenna, or Abicena, a famous phisition, whom some suppose to bee of a citee in Spayne called Hispalis, or Liuile. Some name him prynce of Aboalim, some say he was kyng of Bithynia. He was excellently learned, and wrate in the Arabike tongue many noble workes of philosophie naturall and metaphisike. He comprehended phisike in fiue volumes, wherein he calleth him self the interpretour of Galene: He was about the pere of our lorde. 1151. And was (as some suppose) poysoned by Averrois, whome he slew before he died.

Auícula, æ, f. g. a lytle byrde.

Auicularius, idem quod Auiarius.

Auidé, affectuously, couetously, ardently, with great desyre, gredily.

Auidienus, a mans name in Horace, whiche was riche, and yet a very nygarde.

Auiditas, âtis, desyre of a thynge, couetousnesse, ardent affection, gredynesse.

Infinita auiditas gloriæ, vnsaciate desyre of glorie.

Auidus, áuida, um, couetous, desyrous, gredy.

Auidus cibi, hungry.

Auidis moribus, of an euredyng couetous appetyte.

Auidus gloriæ, desyrous of honour.

Aliquantum ad rem auidior, somewhat couetous.

Auidus interficiendi alicuius, desyrous to kyll one.

Animus appetens & auidus, a gredy and couetous mynde.

In pecunijs locupletum auidus, couetous, or gredy, to haue theyr gooddes that be ryche.

Voluptatis auidæ libidines, the gredye desyres of pleasure.

Aures auidæ, eares desyrous to heare.

Canes auidi, gredy dogges.

Auidus deus, Pluto.

Auidus videndi, desyrous to see.

Parandi diuitias auidus, desyrous to gette ryches.

Auílla, a lambe lately peaned.

Auis, is, f. g. a byrde.

☞ Auis alba, a white byrde. A prouerbe applied to a thynge either fortunate or lucky, or els seldome and rare.

Concentus auium, the syngynge or chirpynge of birdes together.

Grex auium, a flocke of byrdes.

Voces auium liquidæ, the cleare voyces of birdes.

Auis deuia, an owle.

Auis fluminea, a byrde that vsed muche on the ryuers.

Iunonia auis, a peacocke.

Auis varia: a birde of diuers colours.

Glomerantur aues, flocke together.

Insidias auibus moliri, to ley ginnes for byrdes, to goe a birdyng.

Bonis auibus, with good lucke, fortunately.

Aduersa aui, vnfortunately.

Auis solis, the birde called Phenix.

Auitus, a, um, that whiche is lefte by auncestres. Auncient of longe tyme or continuance.

Auitus ager, olde inheritance.

Auius, áuia, um, whereby there is no passage or way, somtime out of the way, without reason.

Auia virgulta, bushes so thicke, that no man may passe through.

Montes auij, Saxa auia: Nemora auia.

Auius errat animus, the mynde wandereth.

Aula, æ, an hall. sometyme the palace or courte of a prince. It was also of olde writers vsed for Olla, a potte. Aulai, for Aulæ, the genitiue case. it is sometime vsed for a pipe or shaulme. it is properly a galery or walke: or other place, whiche the wynde passeth through.

Aula, a kynde in trees called also olla.

Aulæ, shaulmes or waytes.

Aulæa, ôrum, n. g. moste commonly vsed plurally, but Aulæum, is sometime redde in the syngular numbre. And Aulæa, f. g. if the paynters erre not, Tapestry, hangynges of noble mens houses.

Aulerci, people of a citee in Normandy, called Roane.

Aulercij, people of Orlpaunce in Fraunce.

Aulétes, tæ, m. g. he that playeth on the flute, a pyper.

Auléticus, a, um, pertelnyng to a piper or player on a flute.

Aulétris, aulétridis, vel tridos, f. gen. a woman pyper.

Auli, a kynde of shell fysshe, lyke vnto muscles.

Aulicórius, a, um, boyled or sodden in a potte.

Aulicus, áulici, m. g. a courtier.

Aulicus, a, um, of the courte, as, Aulicus apparatus, courtely preparation, or prouision, but most properly of princes.

Aulicocia, orum, thynges that bee sodden in pottes.

Aulis, lis, or lidis, a litteli countrey or shyre in Bœotia, in Greece. It was also a great citee and hauen, where the princes of Greece assembled together, and conspired the destruction of Troy.

Aulocrene, nes, a countrey wherin was the plain tree, on which Marsya, beynge vaynquyshed of Apollo, was hanged.

Aulœdus, i, m. g. a synger, a player on the flute, a mynstrell.

Aulon, the name of a mountayne and citee in Calabria, where groweth excellent good wynes. also of two other citees, the one in Macedonia, the other in Cilicia.

Aulos, li, m. g. a pype or flute.

Aulula, a lyttell potte, wherof cometh Aululária, a comedie in Plautus, wherein is declared the courtous mynde of one, whiche hyd his money in a pot, thynkynge that no man knewe it but hym selfe, and yet was deceyued of it.

Aulus, a name vsed amonge the Romains.

Auo, or Auus, a tyuer in the hyther Spayne.

Auocaméntum, ti, neu. g. pastyme, recreation, that withdrayweth the mynde from heynesse or melancolye.

Auocátio, ônis, f. g. a withdrawynge or callyng away from a thyng.

Auóco, áuocas, áui, áre, to cal away, to distract, to alienate, to pluche away, and withdrawe one from any thynge.

Auocâre animum, to withdrawe the mynde from a thyng.

Auocat a rebus gerendis senecta, withdrayweth.

Auocâre & deterrere.

Auocâre & allicere, are contrary.

Auocâre se à corpore, to withdrawe ones selfe from the cogitations of bodily thynges.

Auocare à vitijs, to pluche and withdrawe men from lewdnes.

Auocare concionem, to lette or forbydde any assemble to be made.

Auolo, áuolas, aui, are, to flie awaye, to hyghe away quickely.

Aura, æ, fœm. gen. sometyme betokeneth a softe wynde. sometyme brightnes. sometyme fauour of the people. sometyme wynde symply. also ayre.

Aura æthera vesci, to lyue.

Auras vitales carpere, idem.

Aura leuis, a gentle or softe coole of wynde.

Auram captare, to haue good hope.

Auræ popularis homo, a man that seketh fauour of the people.

Auræ diuinæ particula, Horace vsed for the soule.

Nec venit incæptis mollior aura meis. i. melior fortuna.

Attollere se in auras, to aduaunce it selfe aloft into the ayre.

Scindere auras, to cut the ayre.

Rapida velocius aura, more swyfte then the rasyng wynde.

Aura auri. i. splendor, the shynynge brightnes of golde.

Mollior aura, better fortune.

Aura rumoris, a small rumour.

Auras, and Aurai, in the genitiue for Auræ.

Auraméntum, ti, gyltynge. After some it shoulde seeme to bee an instrument vsed to digge vp or pourge golde.

Auraria, æ, f. g. a golde myne.

Aurárij, gylters. sometyme it signifieth maintayners.

Aurárius, a, um, of or pertaynyng to money.

Aurárium negotium, a money matter.

Aurarius faber, a gylder or golde smyth.

Auras, a great ryuer fallyng into Ister.

Aurâta, æ, f. g. a fyshe of the sea, which I suppose to be a gylte head, for he hath in his forehead a thynge congelate, whiche in the water shyneth like gold. He hath also a set of teeth lyke cheche teeth, wherwith he hath beene herde of fyshers in the night to crushe cockes and suche little shell fishes wheron he feedeth.

Auratilis, le, of or belongynge to golde.

Auratúra, æ, gyltyng.

Aurâtus, a, um, gylted.

Aurea, áureæ, f. g. the head stall of an horse.

Aureax, a carter.

Aurélia, a family in Rome. also a certayne herbe.

Auréolus, a, um, yelow, somewhat lyke golde.

Auréolus a diminutiue of Aureus.

Aureus, áurei, m. g. a piece of golde in money.

Aureus, a, um, of golde. And is vsed by a metaphore, for shynynge, beautifull, goodly, riche, precious.

Aurea Alexandrina, an excellent confection made by kyng Alexander.

Aurésco, scis, to be yelowe and bryght lyke golde.

Aurichálcum, ci, latten mettall, or copper.

Auricomus, a, um, he that hath heares as yelow as golde.

Auricula, læ, f. g. the eare lappe.

Auricula infima mollior, more soft and pliant than the lower part of the eare. It prouerbe spoken of a mylde and gentle persone, nothynge stubburne or frowarde.

Auricula muris, the herbe called alsine. Dioſ. li. 4. ca. 89.

Auriculâris, ris, idem quod aixoũ maius. Dioſ. li. 4. ca. 91.

Aurilâris, re, idem quod Auricularius.

Auricularis confessio, confession made secretely as priestes do here it.

Auricularius, a secretary or priuy counsellour.

Auricularius, a, um, pertaynyng to the eares.

Aurifer, a, um, that beareth golde.

Aurifex, icis, masc. ge. a golde smyth, or a golde tyner.

Aurificina, æ, f. g. a golde smythes shoppe.

Aurifodina, æ, a golde myne.

Aurifur, uris, com. gen. a theefe that stealeth golde.

Auriga, æ, com. gen. a driuer of a carte, a carter, a wayne man, a chariot man. sometyme it is vsed for an horsekeper. sometyme for a mastyner. it is also a synne in the firmament vpon the hornes of the bull, forgyued to it one cleere sterre. In the hande of Auriga be. ii. sterres called Hædi, whose ryssynge and goynge downe dooeth oftentimes cause great tempestes.

Aurigárius, idem quod auriga.

Aurigátio, ônis, f. g. the dryuyng or guyding of a carte or chariot.

Auriger, rigera, rum, idem quod Aurifer.

Aurigda, a citee of Cyrene, called Zodra.

Auriginôsus, si, masc. gen. he that is sicke of the saundyse,

saundyse.
Aurigo, aui, are, idem qnod Aurigor.
Aurigo, riginis, f. g. a sickenesse called the yelow saundyse.
Auriger, atus sum, ari, to dyrue a carte, or some syke thynge. also to gouerne.
Aurilegus, gi, after Caleppne he that stealeth golde.
Auripigmentum, in greke Arsenicum, a colour syke golde. in englisshe Orppne, or arsenik.
Auris, auris, fœ. ge. an eare.
Aurem vellere, to put in remembraunce.
Aurem in vtramuis dormire, to slepe soudyly. to take no thought or care for any thynge.
Sonant aures, the eares rynge.
Tarditas aurium, dull hearyng.
Aures sitientes, eares desyrous to heare.
Aures arrigere, to lyfte vp the eares, to here attentiuely, to harken.
Aures calent illius criminibus, myne eares glowe or bourne with often hearynge of his mischeuous actes.
Aures hebetes habet, he is dull in hearynge, or he lysteth not to here.
Auribus accipere, to heare.
Auribus capere spolia, to harken and here awaye secretes, or secrete counsailes.
Auribus dare, to flatter, to speake that whiche shall content a mans eare.
Auribus æquissimis alicuius vti, to be herad fauourably heard of one.
Auribus prouehi, to be caried by the eares. it is properly vsed, where we heynge in iourney with one, delite so muche in his communication, that we fele no labour or peyne by goyng or ryding. So may we saie, Auribus prouehimur, in hearynge of hym, our peynes are releued. or in hearynge hym talke, our iourney semeth shorte, or is abbreuiate.
☞ Auribus lupum tenere, to holde a wolfe by the eares, A prouerbe, whiche doorth sygnyfye, to be in two sundry daungers, and knowe not what is best to bee doone.
Obseratis auribus fundere preces, to make intreatee to one that will not heare, to praie a deafe man.
Rimosa auris, an eare that wyll keepe no counsayle,
Accidit auribus, or ad aures, It came to his hearyng, or it came to his eare.
Accommodare aures, or dare aures alicui, to gyue an eare, to harken to one.
Ad aurem admonere, to warne one in his eare.
Auribus surdis canere, to tell a tale to a deafe man.
Aures claudere veritati, to stoppe ones eares agaynst the truth.
Iuuare aures cantu, to delyte the eares with synging.
Ad aurem gannire, to chat or make babynge by one.
Ferire aures, Feriunt aures hominem quæ iucunda sunt & mirabilia, dooe strete and delyght. &c.
Aures teretes & religiosæ, syne eares and curiouse that can not abyde any thynge to sounde amysse.
His vocibus aures nostræ circumsonant, our eares alway heare these thynges. or these thinges be beate into our eares on euery syde.
Honestis sermonibus aures eorum imbuere oportet, you must talke of nothyng to them but honest matters.
Aures obstruere, to stoppe the eares.
Aures assentatoribus patefacere, to harken, to geue an eare to flatterers.
Aures patent quærelis omnium, he is ready to heare euery mans complaynt.
Aures peregrinantur, whan we be ignorante, and knowe not that that euery man speaketh.
Peruenire ad aures, to be harde.
Auriscalpium, pii, n.g. an eare pyker.
Auritus, a, um, great eared, or he that hearkeneth diligently.
Aurimitus, a golde fynche.
Auro, aui, are, to gylte, or to make to glytter, or shyne syke golde.
Auro, the name of an herbe.
Aurora, the morynng or ryseng of the sonne. after poetes, the daughter of Titan, and Terra.
Aurum, ri, neu. gen. golde: sometyme money. sometyme ornamentes or abilimentes of noble women.
Aurum obrizum, fyned golde.
Aurum coronarium, was golde gathered of the people to make crownes to sende to Emperours after theyr victories.
☞ Aurum Tolosanum habere, A prouerbe, whiche had this begynnynge, whan Quintus Cepio tooke by assaulte the citee of Tolosa in Italy: there was founde in the temples great plenty of golde, whiche beynge taken awaye, all that had any parte therof died miserably. wherof happened this prouerbe, whan anye man expended his syse in misrule, men would say, that he had golde of Tolosa.
Aurum & argentum factum, golde and syluer made redy to occupy.
Aurum cœlatum, golde ingraued.
Aurum fusile, golde melted.
Gemmatũ aurũ, golde set with precious stones.
Effingere in auro, to make, engraue, or counterfayte in golde.
Aurunca, a citee buylded by Iuson.
Aurunci, an auncient people of Italy.
Ausa, a citee of Spayne.
Auscaripeda, ripedæ, fœ. gen. an heary worme with many feete, that byteth on leaues of trees and herbes.
Ausci, people of the citee Aux, in Gupan.
Auscultari, vsed of olde writers for Osculari.

Auscul⁹

Auſcultátio, ônis, fœ. ge. an herkenyng, an hearyng. alſo an obeying.

Auſculátor, ôris, maſ. gene. he that herkeneth or hereth.

Auſcúlto, aui, are, to heare diligently, to geue good eare, to harken. Alſo to obey.

Auſcultabitur, the impersonall, he wyll dooe as ye byd hym.

Auſcultare alicui, to obeie one, to bee at his commaundement.

Auſculture inter ſe, to whister one in an others eare.

Auſcultare ad fores, to ſtande harkenynge at the dooze.

Auſculta paucis, hearken a wooꝛde or twayne.

Te auſcultabo lubens, I will heare or hearken vnto you with a good will.

Vis ne mihi auſcultare? wyll you dooe as I wolde haue you? will you kolow my counſayle?

Auſeliȝ, idem quod Aureliȝ.

Auſer, or Auſeris, a citee in Italye nere to the citee Luca.

Auſim, is, it, is put for Audeam, as, at.

Auſim affirmare, I dare auowe, or I dare boldely ſay.

Auſitis, itidis, the countrey called Hus, where Job dwelled.

Auſones, were the auncient kynges of Italy.

Auſónia, the parte of Italye, wherein ſtandeth Beneuent, and Cales, ſo called of Auſon, the ſonne of Ulisses and Calypſo. Afterwarde all Italye was called Auſonia, and the people Auſoniȝ.

Auſonius, a, um, and Auſon, of Auſonia.

Auſonius, a ſophiſter. Alſo a poete of Burdeux in Gaſtoygny.

Auſpex, áuſpicis, com. ge. idem quod Augur. Alſo the perſone that maketh the mariage on the maydens parte. Alſo the chiefe capitayne or leader in warre, or any other feate.

Chriſto auſpice, Chriſt beyng our foꝛe man.

Auſpicâlis, le, pertaynyng to diuination.

Auſpicâlis, a lyttle fyſſhe, called alſo Remora, whiche cleaunge faſt to the keele of a ſhyppe, holdeth it ſtyll as well agaynſte the puiſſaunce of wyndes, as of oꝛes. This fyſſhe is alſo called Echeneis. Rede Plinie Libro. 32.

Auſpicáto, happyly, with good lucke.

Haud auſpicato huc me appuli, I came hither vnluckely.

Bellicam rem nunquam adminiſtrare voluerunt niſi auſpicato: onles they byd conſulte the augures beſoꝛe, oꝛ onleſſe it were appꝛoued by the augures.

Auſpicátus, a, um, honourably enterpꝛyſed, foꝛtunate, oꝛ bꝛyngyuge good lucke. Appꝛoued by the Augures.

Auſpicatus locus.

Auſpicium, cij, n. g. the ſygne oꝛ token ſhewed by byꝛdes, of thynges that ſhall folowe. Alſo it betokeneth foꝛtune, conducte, oꝛ diſpoſition of a capitayne. It is alſo a ſignifycacion of thynges to come. Sometyme it ſignifyeth authoꝛitee.

Communem ergo hunc populum, paribuſque regamus auſpicijs, Therefoꝛe let vs goꝛucrne this people mixte nowe together with eȝ quall oꝛ lyke authoꝛitee.

Auſpicia optima, tokens of good lucke.

Auſpicio malo, with yl lucke, oꝛ in an yl tyme.

Ne ego ædepol veni huc auſpicio malo, I came hyther in an yll tyme, oꝛ, an vnhappy oꝛ vnluckye foꝛtune bꝛought me hither.

Auſpicium liquidum, a manifeſte ſygne oꝛ token.

Meis auſpicijs illud agam, I wyll dooe that after myne owne fantaſy oꝛ mynde.

Tuo auſpicio factum, It was doone by thy dyuyſe oꝛ counſayle.

A ſupplicijs vitam auſpicatur, he begynneth his lyfe with peyne and trouble.

Auſpico, áuſpicas, áui, âre, to ſeeke foꝛ a thynge by diuination.

Auſpicor, âtus ſum, âri, to ſeke oꝛ gather by diuination, to begynne oꝛ enterpꝛyſe a buſynes.

Supplicijs vitam auſpicatur, he begynneth his lyfe. ꝛc.

Auſter, tri, m. g. the ſouthe wynde.

Auſtris aduerſis ætatem ducere, lyue Aetas.

Auſtére, ſowerly, cruelly, auſterely.

Auſtéritas, atis, fœ, gen. ſharpeneſſe, cruelneſſe, ſowꝛeneſſe, rigoꝛouſneſſe.

Auſteritas colorum, the ſadnes of colours.

Auſtêrus, a, um, ſowꝛe, oꝛ ſharpe, vnpleaſaunt, alſo ſoꝛe oꝛ without pitee, cruelle, auſtere, ſruere.

Auſterus color, a ſadde colour.

Auſtero more cũ aliquo agere, to handle one roughly, oꝛ vngentyly.

Auſterus ſapor, ſowꝛe taſte betwixe ſharpe and bytter.

Vinum auſterum, a rough wyne.

Auſtrâlis, le, ſoutherne, oꝛ of the ſouthe parte.

Auſtralis ſingulus, the meridionall ſoone.

Auſtrâuia, an yle in the occean ſea towarde the noꝛthe parte of the woꝛlde, called Gleſſaria.

Auſtria, is a great countreye, on the vttermoſte eaſte parte of Germanie, ſometyme called Pannonia ſuperior. It boundeth eaſtwarde vpon the royalme of Hungarie, weſtwarde vpon the countrey called Noricum, and Tauriſium, ſoutheward vpon Italy: Noꝛthwarde, it is incloſed with the great riuer Danubius oꝛ Iſter, In duche Donow. In it is the noble citee Viena, ſet vpon the ſayd ryuer. There is alſo a famous vniuerſitee, where eſpecially the mathematicall ſciences are moſte exactly taught.

Auſtrinus, a, um, from the ſouth parte.

Auſtrinum cælum, a clowdy weather, whan the ſouthe wynde is vp.

Auſtrinus dies, a foule cloudie day.

Auſtro, áui, âre, to make mopſte.

Auſtrum, lyke Hauſtrum.

Aut,

Aut, or, eyther.
Aut vero, for Aut etiam.
Aut certe, or at the leaſt.
Quo enim vincebamur à victa Græcia, id aut illi ereptum eſt, aut certe nobis communicatum, That one thinge, wherein wee gaue place to Grece, whiche is vanquiſhed by vs, eyther it is taken cleane away from them, or at the leaſte we be therin equall vnto them.
Aut, vſed interrogatiuely, as,
Aut ego neſciebam quorſum tu ires? But thinkeſt thou that I dyd not knowe, whyther thou wouldeſt goo?
Aut, ſometime coupleth: as,
Aut mihi da, aut rapio. Sometyme exhorteth, as, Aut tu magne pater diuum miſerere. Sometyme ſeperateth: as,
Aut onera capiunt venientum, aut agmine facto.
Aut, a coniunction of doubtinge, if it be doubled it ſignifieth equall deſyre of both the thinges that be mencioned, as,
Aut librum volo, aut pretium. If it ber but ones ſet, it doeth ſygnyfie a demyniſhyng: as,
Librum volo aut pretium, I wyll haue the booke, that I moſte deſyre, or at the leaſt money for it.
Aut, ſometime ioyneth for, Et, or, que, as,
Molirine moram, aut veniendi poſcere cauſas, and agayne.
Tum liquidas corui preſſo ter gutture voces, Aut quater ingeminant. pro quaterque.
Autem, a coniunction diſcretiue, whiche is neuer put in the fyrſte place, but in the ſeconde, and ſignifieth as Vero dooeth, alſo but.
Ah quid faciam? quid mea autem? quid faciet mihi? Oh what ſhal I doo? but what paſſe I? what wyll he doo to me? It ſygnifieth alſo Etiam.
Abite, tu domum, tu autem domum, Goe your waye, Gette thee home, and alſo goe thou thy way home.
Autem, is often ſo ſet that it is referred to noe thynge, and is enterpreted, but, truly, and. and ſuch lyke englyſhes. as,
Aeſchinus odioſe ceſſat, prandium corrumpitur, Cteſipho autem in amore eſt totus.
Ille autem: as, Ille autem bonus vir nuſq; apparet, and that honeſt man. &c.
Adeo autem, as, Atque adeo autem cur non ego &c. and indede why dooe not I. &c.
Exce autem: and loe. of a ſodayne or ſtraunge cogitacion.
Autem enim, for profecto. C. Autem enim nequicq; vis. Plautus.
Autem etiam, ſeperately: Inter quos autem ratio, inter eos etiam recta communis.
Neque enim, Neque autem, in two diuers clauſes. Neque enim tu is es, qui qui ſis neſcias &c. Neque autem ego ita ſum demens vt &c. Pridie autem: the day before.
Porro autem: and more ouer.
Tum autē, pro, præterea. Tum autem Phædriæ gaudeo.
Tum abſonium autem quale miſiſti, and moreouer. &c.
Vix autem, and ſcantly.
Tu autem, afterwarde, furthermore. ſometime, And.
Autem, is ſometyme vſed in the repetition of a queſtion, as,
Quid non feciſſent? feciſſent autem? Imo, quid non fecerunt? what would not they haue dooen? what would not they haue done? Nay, what haue they not dooen al ready? Sometime it ſignyfieth nothynge, but fylleth vp the numbre of the ſentence.
Authe, one of the ſeuen doughters of the gyaunt Alceneus, whome Hercules ſlew.
Authénticum, ci, n. g the paterne, wherby any example is written.
Authénticus, ca, cum, of aucthoritee, or that is dooen or approued by him or them that ber in aucthoritee.
Authépſa, ſæ, f. g. a certayne kynde of braſen pottes, which ſeetheth the meate with very lyttle, and almoſt no fire at all.
Author, óris, com. ge. the firſt inuentour or maker of a thynge. alſo a reporter of newes, a ruler or tutour. He that ſelleth or deliuereth a thynge on warantiſe. And that perſon, whome a man foloweth in doyng of any thynge.
Author tibi non ſum aufugere, I wyll not counſayle thee to renne away.
Author id tibi ſum, I wyll thus aduyſe ther.
Quid mihi es author? what dooſt you aduyſe me to dooe.
Certis authoribus ita eſſe comperit.
Authore te, by thy counſayle.
Plurimis authoribus, by the opinion or aduiſe of many.
Authores claſsici, authors receyued, and of all men allowed.
Authores alicuius ſententiæ, Be they, whoſe ſentence, counſayle, or iudgement we folow.
Suaſor & Author. Hortator & Author.
Author fuit profectionis, He was the cauſer of my goynge foorth.
Author ferendæ legis, He that cauſeth any law to be made, or he that is the cauſer, that any law ſhoulde be made.
Ille legibus contra auſyicia ferendis author.
Authores ita mihi ſunt amici, My frendes counſayle me ſo.
Author tibi non ſum vt vrbi te committas.
Authores ſunt, They ſay or wryte.
Authorem habere aliquem, to folow one as hys author.
Author, a man hauyng power, dignytee, and aucthoritee to doo a thynge.
Vt id ſic ratum eſſet, ſi patres authores fierēt, That it ſhoulde be ſo eſtabliſhed, if the Senate wolde approue it.

Rem tibi authorem dabo, I wyll declare to you in dede, that it is so.
Authores sumus, our aduise or opinion is.
A malo authore quid emere, to bye any thyng of him that can not make sufficient warrantise.
Authores pupillorum, the tutours or gardians of wardes.
Author alicuius operis, the authour.
Consilario & authore vestorio, Vestorius beynge my counsaylour and authour.
Dicendi grauissimus author & magister, the great authour and maister of eloquence.
Author alicuius interficiendi, the chiefe causer or worker of ones death.
Brutus præclarus author nobilitatis tuæ, the worthy founder or begynner of. &c.
Author pacis, a chiefe perswader of peace.
His rebus quis author fuit, who was the chiefe causer or doer of these thynges.
Author ad faciendum aliquid: Si authores ad liberandam patriam desyderarentur.
Cæteris author ad te adiuuandum fuit, he caused other men to healpe you.
Author fuit in restituendo.
Magnopere mihi author fuit ne differrem tempus: he earnestly adupsed me &c.
Author certus grauis, locuples, luculentus, maximus: a very sure and good authour.
Author dubius, incertus, leuis, an authour of small credite.
Authoramẽtum, ti, n. ge. an indenture or obligation, whereby a man is bounde to doe seruice. Also earnest money, wages or hyre, preast money.
Authoratio, onis, a sellynge of swoorde players, or suche other persons.
Authorâtus, he that is bounde to serue, especially in warres. lyke auctoratus.
Authorâtus, a, um, bounden by couenaunt. also for addictus, condemnatus.
Authóritas, âtis, authorite, credence, puissance, iudgement, aduise, opinion, power, estimation, reputation, the enioyng of possession, maintenance, suppostation.
Authoritatem habere in aliquem, to haue authorite, power, rule, commaundement, iurisdiction ouer one, to make commaunde one.
Authoritatem defugere, to deny to haue done any thynge, or to haue bene the cause that it was doone.
Nuqnuam defugiam authoritatem tuam, I wyll neuer disobey your commaundement, or I wyll not styche to doe it, if you say the woorde.
Attende, quãmego defugiam authoritatem consulatus mei, Consyder how I refuse or eschue to execute the authorite that I may lefully by myne office of consulshyp.
Authoritatem interponere, to commaunde a thynge to be done.
Authoritatis iure, by vyght of prescryption, called Vsu capio.
Id authoritatis, for eius authoritatis, of suche estimacion or authorite.
Tanta ebori authoritas erat, yuorie was so muche sette by. or, yuory was of suche estimacion, or so highly estemed.
Authoritatem debemus nullam, nec fidem commentitijs rebus adiungere, we ought not to make feygned thynges of any reputacion or credence.
Detrahere authoritatem alicui, to diminyshe ones authorite or honour.
In authoritate esse, to be of great athorite, or reputacion.
In authoritate alicuius esse, to obey, to be subiect, or vnder an other mans iurisdiction.
Authoritas eorum mecum facit, Their authorite maketh with me, or confyrmeth myne opinyon.
Parum authoritatis habere, to be of small reputacion, to be little regarded or estemed.
Homo perdita authoritate, a man out of all credence and estimacion.
Authoritate valere, to be of power.
Authoritates publicæ, cõmon letters, writyngs or instrumentes, to confyrme and ratifie anye thynge in the name of an whole cities or communaltee.
Authoritas, sometyme for author the fyrst begynner of a thynge.
Authoritas pro testimonio authentico, A proued wytnesse, a sufficient proofe.
Vsus & Authoritas, the proprietee or possession of a thynge by prescription of longe tyme, called of the lawiers Vsu capio.
Authôro aui, are, to bynde one by couenaunt to doe seruice, looke aucturo.
Autini, or rather Auteri, the Irysshe men.
Autocinéton, that moueth it selfe.
Autochthones, people which beganne in the countrey where they inhabyte, whiche name was geuen to them of Athens.
Autodidáctus, he that learneth without a maister or teacher, he that hath no maister but him selfe.
Autógraphus, tógrapha, phum, that is written with ones owne hande.
Autololes, a people of Mauritania.
Autólicus, a maister theefe. Also the sonne of Mercurie or Deucalion, and graundfather to Ulisses, famouse for his theefte. There was one Autolycus fellowe to Jason, an other was a notable wrestlar.
Automalax, a citee of Cyrene, called also Pentopolis, commonly Estam.
Autómatus, a, um, that goeth by a vyce.
Autómata, orum, neu. g. thynges without lyfe, whiche seme to moue by them selues, as appereth in olde horologes and ymages, whiche moue by vyces. It is taken generally for all thynges, whiche happen without any notable cause.
Automedon, ontis, Achilles charlot man.

Autómolæ,

Autómolæ, a people, whiche came out of Egypt into Ethiope. also emong the grekes it doeth signifie renegates or renneaways.

Autonoe, es, the daughter of Cadmus, wyfe of Aristeus, and mother of Acteon, whiche after hir is called Autonoëus.

Autonómia, æ, libertee to lyue after mens owne lawes.

Autónomus, he that lyueth after his owne lawes.

Autophôros, an arrant theefe, that is taken with the thynge.

Autópyros, browne breade. housholde breade, whan no braune is taken out, called also Cibarius, Medius, and Synconistus panis.

Autor, lyke Author.

Autricum, the citee of Charters in Fraunce.

Autumnâlis, le, belongyng to Autumne.

Autumnitas, idem quod Autumnus.

Autúmnus, the tyme of the yere betwene summer and wynter, whiche begynneth the. vi. daie of Auguste, and endeth the. vi. daie of Nouembre.

Flexus autumni, the later part of Autumne.

Autumnus adultus, the myddle parte of Autumne.

Autúrgia, æ, worckyng with ones handc.

Autúmo, áutumas, áui, áre, to suppose or affirme, to thynke, to iudge, to esteme, to saie.

Si vera autumas, If thou saie true, or if it bee true that thou reporteſt.

Auúlsio, ônis, a pluckyng of, or pullynge awaie.

Auúlsor, ôris, masc. gen. one that plucketh awaye a thynge by violence.

Auúlsus, a, um, pulled or plucked awaye.

Auúnculus, the vncle on the mothers syde.

Auunculus maior, my great graundfathers brother, my fathers or my mothers vncle.

Auus, the graundfather.

Auus paternus, the graundfather on the fathers syde.

Auus maternus, the graundfather on the mothers syde,

Auxiliâris, re, wherein is ayde or succour.

Auxiliares copiæ, succours from a straunger. like wise Auxiliaria arma, auxiliares cohortes. auxiliares duces.

Auxiliárius, a, um, that socoureth or commeth in ayde of an other.

Auxiliátor, ôris, one that helpeth or aydeth.

Auxilior, âtus sum, âri, to ayde or helpe, to succour.

Auxiliari contra aliquid, to be medicinable or holsome agaynſt any thynge.

Auxilium, ayde or helpe, succour.

Auxilia aduersæ valetudinis, thinges to helpe one in sykenesse.

Mutuis auxiliis stant omnia, All thynges bee preserued and maynteyned be healpynge one an other.

Auxilium sibi adiungere, adhibere, to take ayde.

Auxiliũ afferre alicui malo, to healpe a thyng that is in an euell state.

Auxilium implorare, petere, rogare, to aske or desyre ayde or succour.

Auxilium dare, ferre, to ayde. Likewyſe,

Auxilio leuare, defendere, iuuare.

Vocare auxilio aliquem, to call one to helpe hym.

Auxilio esse, to helpe.

Auxilla, æ, fœ. ge. a lyttle potte.

Auxima maior, idem quod periclymenon.

Auximum, the citee of Picentum in Italye, called commonly Osimum.

Auxumæ, the pounge fysshe that cometh of the spaume of Tunies.

Auxillaris vena, a veyne about the lyuer.

AXaménta, verses made by the prieſtes of Mars, called Salij, in quiche tauntyng of all men.

Axantos, an yle in the occean sea, benethe England and Irelande.

Axare. olde writers vsed for Nominare, to name or aske.

Axe agglomerati, a great company of men standyng togither.

Axiaces, a ryuer called also Hypanis.

Axicula, æ, a diminutiue of axis.

Axiculus, li. m. g. a diminutiue of aſsis, or aſser.

Axies, a company of women doynge any thynge togither.

Axilla, æ, the arme hole, for whiche some corruptly vse Ascella, and Asella.

Axim, vsed of olde writers for Egerim.

Axinomántia, æ, fœ. ge. a kynd of diuination or witchecraft, done by hatchettes.

Axiocus, a philosopher, to whom Plato wrate a booke of deathe.

Axióma, ómatis, n. g. authoritee, dignitee, or honour that a man hath by reason of office, or any noble act that he hathe done. Also a sentence spoken and proued, as if Plato walke, Plato moueth. If it be daie, the sunne is aboue the earth. It is putte by Tully for that, whiche sophysters call a proposition, whiche is a sentence true or faiſe. It is also called a Maxime.

Axion, the brother of Alpheſibœæ.

Axis, is, masc. gen. an ettree of a cart. sometyme the whole carte. sometyme it is shyngle, where with houses are couered in stede of tyle, or clouen bourdes. sometyme it is taken for the hooke that a dooze or gate hangeth on. sometime for heauen.

Axis mundi, is a lyne ymagined to go streight from the nozth to the south, diuidyng the world as it were into two partes: At the endes are supposed to be two poinctes in heauen, whiche are are called the north pole and the south pole.

Phœbeus axis, the charlotte of the sonne.
Falcati axes, cartes armed with hookes like sythes.
Sub ætheris axe, vnder the ayre.
Axiriósi, companions, whan many doo any one thynge.
Axium, a citee of Mysia, called commonly Chilia.
Axius, a ryuer in Macedonia.
Axon, a ryuer of the Iones in Asia.
Axona, a riuer in Fraunce, in the borders of Reynes, called Deine.
Axona, áxonæ, f. g. a thynge in the ioynct of the necke, whiche moueth not, but is styll like an axe tree.
Axones, people of Fraunce.
Axos, a citee in Thrace.
Axúngia, æ, fœ. ge. swynes greale, or barrowes greale, beynge olde.
Axus, idem quod Axius.
Axylus, a man in Phrygia, very happy in all thinges perteining to the lyfe of man, who vsed great humanitee toward straungers.

A ANTE Z.

AZan, an hyll in Arcadie, where Cybele the mother of the goddis was honoured.
Azana, a countrey of Ethyope toward the redde sea.
Azanes, people of Arcadie.
Azanæa, a region of Archadie, barreyne and vnable to be tylled: looke the prouerbe, Azenea mala.
Azania, or Azanium, a citee of the lesse Asia.
Azanium, a well, the water whereof beynge dronke, causeth men to hate the sauoure and taste of wyne.
Azesia, a name of Proserpina.
Azélos, without loue, without enuy.
Aziris, a citee in the lesse Armenie, nere to Euphrates.
Azotus, a citee in Syria. also of Acaia.
Azymus, a, um, not leauened, without leauen.

, AFTER Quintilian is sometyme put for other letters as, Byrrhus for Pyrrhus, Bruges, for Fruges: Belena for Helena.
Baal, in the tongue of Syria, signifieth Lord, and is attributed to Iupiter. After some interpretacion it signifyeth haunynge dominions, subiection, or possession. It was an Idole, that the Samacitans and Moabites worshipped.
Babba, a town of Mauritania, called Iulia Campestris.
Babactes, one of the names of Bacchus.
Babæ, an interiection of wonderynge, or as some thynke of contempt or neglectynge.
Babel, signifieth confusion or mixture. It was the name of a towre buylded by Nemroth, before the incarnation. 274. yere. At the buyldyng hereof was the first confusion of tongues. This was doone in the lande of Sennaar, in the countrey of Caldea.
Babylas, a famouse bysshop of Antioche.
Babylon, a great citee in Caldie, and signifieth confusion or translation, where was a towre buylded by Nemroth, in height fiue myles. 170. paces. Afterwarde beynge enlarged by Semiramis, it conteyned in compasse three score miles. The walles were in height. 300. feete, in thickenesse or breadth. 75. feete, and had, 100. gates of brasse. There ran through the middle of it, the famous ryuer Euphrates. It is also a town, or rather a great citee in Egypt.
Babylónia, the countrey where the citee of Babylon stoode. on the north it is bounded with Mesopotamie, on the west with Arabie the desert, on the east with Susian, on the south with the redde sea. In this countrey is Caldea.
Babylónicus, and Babylonius, a, um, of or perteynyng to Babylon.
Babylónica vestis, a garments, veale, or hangyng, wouen with diuers colours.
Babyrsa, a stronge towne in the countrey Atropatia, nere to the citee Artaxata.
Babys, a swyfte mynstrell Marsyas brother.
Bacales, people in the sea costes of Lydia.
Baccha, báccæ, f. g. a bearye, as a bay beary, an hawe beary, an eglentyne beary, and pup bearie, the frute of laurell, oliue, myrtle, and such other be conteyned vnder this name.
Baccæ, margarites or perles.
Baccæ caprinæ, lyke Caprinus, a, um.
Baccátus, a, um, garnyshed with perle, or hauyng many berres,
Baccalia, caliæ. f. g. a kynde of baye tree or lauell, but it hath greatter leaues, and great plenties of tre of bearies. some take it to bee the common laurell or bay. It is also called Augusta, vide Plin. li. 15. cap. 30.

Baccha, wyne in Spayne.

Bacchæ, arum, women, whiche sacrifised to Bacchus.

Bacchæmon, the sonne of Perseus and Andromede.

Bacchanal, or Baccanâle, lis, neu. gen. the place where the solemnitee of Bacchus was kept, sometyme the feast.

Bacchanália, lium, or liorum, neu. gen. plu. nu. feastes of the paynyms, whiche they dyd celebrate with all abhominations of lechery.

Bacchar, âris, or Báccharis, ris, fœ. ge. an herbe called commonly our Ladies gloues, accordyng to the frenche name. Plinie saieth, that onely the roote of this herbe sauoureth swetely lyke cinamome. And some call it Nardus rusticus. Of the roote were wonte to be made swete oyles. Carolus Stephanus, in his booke de Rehortensi, saieth, that Bacchar, and Báccharis, bee two diuers herbes, and that we should be well ware, that we take not Báccharis, for Bacchar. For Bacchar saieth he, is that herbe, whiche the grekes call Asarum, and hath leaues lyke puy, but somewhat rounder. Turner thynketh Bacchar, to be sage of Hierusalem. Bacchar is also a wyne potte.

Baccharis apud Ruellium, is supposed to bee the flower called London button.

Bacchâricum, a swecte oyntement made of the roote of Bacchar.

Bacchâtim, lyke a madde man, furiously.

Bacchátio, ônis, f. g. dronken banketyng.

Baccheis, idis, a woman belongyng to Bacchus.

Bacchiadæ, people whiche came out of Corinth into Sicile, and had their first begynnyng of Bacchis, the daughter of Dionysius.

Báccheus, or Bâccheius, a, um, of Bacchus.

Báccheides, a capitayne that betrayed the citee Sinopis to Lucullus.

Bacchius, a sworde player. also a Corinthian, who maryed the daughter of Cithius, the kynge or Megarence.

Bácchius, a, um, of Bacchus.

Bacchius pes, a foote in meter, hauyng the first syllable shorte, the resydue longe, as Quirinô.

Bacchor, bacchâris, atus sum, ari, to celebrate the feaste of Bacchus, to doo a thyng lyke a madde man, or to be vexed with spirites, to be woode, to renne, gadde and rage as it were a mad man. also to lieue dissolutely and riotously.

Totam incensa per vrbem Bacchatur, goeth lyke a madde bodie.

Ritu bacchantium, as it weare madde folkes.

Bacchari in voluptate, to rage in pleasure.

Bacchari in aliquem, to raple vpon one.

Egone bacchatus sum in te, an tu in me.

Bacchatur Boreas, the north wynde rageth, or bloweth tempestiously.

Bacchus dit, called also Liber, Dionysius, Osiris, Priapus, Bromius, and Brotinus, the son of Jupiter by Semeles. The poetes feigne, that after Jupiter had gotten Semeles with childe, she desyred hym to company with hir lyke as he did with Juno in his diuine maiestee: wherefore he bryngyng with him his thunder and lightninge, came to hir, but she not able to sustein his presence, fell in trauaple, was deliuered longe before hir tyme, and died. Jupiter tooke and destinered the childe to Mercurius, who by his commaundement caried it vnto Nysa, where it was nourished vp by the nymphes. Like foolishly other imagined, that Jupiter made an hole in his thygh to put in the childe, where it remayned vntyll the ful tyme of his byrth. This man among the Greekes dyd sette vynes and make wyne. Also he first poked oxen in the plough, and gathering vnto him a great numbre of people, went a greate parte of the worlde, destroyinge monsters and tyrannes, and conquered the countrey of India: but his people delytynge in wyne, and drynkyng superfluously thereof, fell to fyghtyng among them selues. wherefore he prouided, that whan they dranke, they should haue in their hãd nothynge but canes, or other light stickes.

Bacchus, is sometyme vsed for wyne.

Bacchi clientes, poetes.

Bacchi humor, wyne.

Báccifer, cifera, rum, a tree beareynge berries.

Báccula, a little bearie, or such lyke small fruite.

Bacelus, properly signifieth hym that is gelded: it is vsed of some for a foole.

Bacillus, li, m. g. or Bacillum, li, n. g. a lick staffe.

Bacrio, onis, a vessell of an olde fascione to washe the handes in, hauyng a longe handle. some call it Trulla.

Bactes, the name of Bacchus.

Báctra, ôrum, a citee in the furthest parte of Persia, the people where of are called Bactri, & Bactriani, in whom is such inhumanitee, that whã their parentes be very syche or olde, they throw theim vnto fierce dogges, whiche doe rent them in pieces, and deuour theim. lyke Bactriana.

Bactriani, the people of that countrey.

Bactriâna, a countrey, wherein were sometyme a thousande citees. It is bounded on the west, with Margiane: on the north, with Sogdione, diuided frõ it with the riuer Oxo, on the south, with Aria and Paropamisade.

Báctros, a ryuer of the Bactrians, whereof a citee is called Bactrum.

Báculus, or Baculum, a staffe, or coogiell.

Incumbere vel inniti baculo, to leane vpon a staffe, to walke with a staffe.

Membra leuare baculo, idem.

Badacum, a citee of Noryke, or of Bauarie, named at this daie Salezaburgensis.

Badas, a ryuer of Surry, nere wherevnto Mens-hon was buried.

Bádius, called also Baius, and Balius color, bale colour.

Badizo, aui, are, to go.

Bæbis, lyke Bebis.

Bælon, a citee of Spayne now called Tarissa.

Bænacus, looke Benacus.

Bænis, a great ryuer in Portugall.

Bæta, tæ, f. g. a longe garment made of leather of shyns, that coureth all the body, good in wynter to kepe of the colde wynde, and in sommer the heate of the sonne.

Bætica, a country in Spayne, whiche taketh his name of a ryuer Bætis, rennynge thyough it. it was also called Turdetania, and is the south part of Spayne, where be now the citees of Lisbile and Corduba, ỹ the royalme of Granado, and extendeth to the pyllers of Hercules. it hath on the north, Portugall, beyng deuyded from it with the riuer Guadiana, on the west the maine occeã sea on the south the streight of Marroke, and the middle sea, on the east as it were a lyne drawne from the citee Balearia, vnto Ana.

Bæticátus, he that weareth a blacke or browne garment.

Bæticola, a dweller by the ryuer Bætis.

Bæticus, a, um, blacke or browne, swarte, taunp, darke.

Bætitæ, a citee of Narbon in Fraunce, called Beziers, some wryte Bæterræ, some Biterræ, other Bitera.

Bætis, a ryuer in Spayne by Granado, called nowe Guadalqueuir.

Bætulon, a ryuer in Spayne called also Bethalon, commonly Beson.

Baganum, the citee of Turney.

Bagoas, an Eunuche, whom great Alexander lyghtly loued.

Bagous, in the Persian tounge signifyeth a geldyng, or a gelded man.

Bagrada, Bagradas, or Bengrada, a ryuer in Affryke, by the citee called Utica, where Attilius Regulus, and the hoste of the Romaines, slewe a serpent, which was in lenghth. 120. fete.

Bahal, the idoll of Tyre.

Baiæ, árum, a towne in Campania, on the sea side, betwene Puteolus, and Misenum, for temperatenesse of ayre, and fayrenes of buildyng, much haunted of the auncient Romaines. There are hotte waters naturall, both pleasaunt and holsome. Therefore it is supposed, all other hotte bathes naturall, were called Baiæ.

Bairon, an historiographer, whiche wrote an abridgement of the gestes of great Alexander.

Báiulo, áui, áre, to beare, to cary.

Báiulus, li, ma. g. a porter or carier of bourdens. sometyme it signifieth vyle or base.

Baius, the companion of Ulisses, buried in Campania, After whō the towne Baiæ, was named.

Báius, a, um, lyke Badius.

Bal, idem quod Baal,

Balaam, signifieth the age of the people, the deuoute ryuyng or destruction of them. it was the name of a soothsayer, whom Balac the kyng of Moabites, desired to curse the Israelites, who by the way was let by an aungell, that the asse, whereon he rode, did beholde, and asked why he dyd beate hym. And than he hym selfe perceyued the aungell, who bad him go to Balac, and speake nothyng, but that he commaunded him. And so fynally, he blessed the Israelites, contrary to the expectacion of Balac.

Balæna, æ, for. ge. a great fysshe in the sea, whiche hath an hole in his head, wherby he taketh ayre, and shouteth out great abundance of water. Some suppose that it is a whirlepoole, the hath pappes like a beast. Plinie wryteth in his. xviii. booke, that there hath bene founte of them. 240. fete in length.

Balanæa, a towne not farre from Laodicea.

Balanâtus, a, um, oynted with the oyle called Balanium.

Balánius, a, um, made of Balanus.

Balanitæ, a kynde of great grapes.

Balanistæ, they that gathered maste or acornes.

Balanites, æ, m. g. a stone, which is a light greene, and hath a vayne in the myddle lyke a flame of fyre. Plin. li. 36. ca. 10.

Balanitis, itis, f. g. a kynde of rounde chestens, or chestnuttes.

Bálanus myrepsica, is called of Apothecaries Ben. and so it may be named in Englishe, vide. Dioscor. li. 4. ca. 163.

Bálanus, ni, for. ge. a generall name of maste, but moste properly, for the maste of a date tree or a date it selfe. Acrō taketh it to be an herbe, where of an oyntment is made. It is also supposed for helpe them that be costiue. Also a sweete oyntment made of Myrabolanes. Also a kynde of Chest nuttes, and a fysshe of the sea. Of the Grekes it is vsed for a mans parde.

Bálanus scordianus, idem quod Castanea.

Balária, idem quod lychnis coronaria, Dioscor. li. 3. ca. 113.

Balatrónes, rascals or vyle knaues. It was vsed of olde wryters, for spottes of durt, spotted on a mans garment, as he tourneied by the waie.

Balâtus, us, m. g. bleatyng of sheepe.
Tenuis balatus, small bleatyng lyke a lambe.
Balatus dare, to bleate like a sheepe.

Balaústinus, a, um, like to the flower of pomegranades.

Balaustium, stij, neu. ge. the flowre of a wylde pomegranade, profitable not onely in medicine, but also to die cloth.

Balâusus, after Calepine is an herbe lyke to Narcissus.

Balbe, obscurely, stutteyngly.

Balbina, a virgine in Rome martyred vnder Traiane.

Balbúcinor, atus sum, ari, to maffle in the mouth.

Balbus, a, um, that can not well pronounce wor-des in speakyng, a maister, whiche saute is most properly in olde men.

Balbútio, balbûtis, iui, ire, to stammer or stutte, to maffle in the mouth.

Baldraca, a poore mayde, that wolde in no wyse be corrupt by Otho the emperour, not withstandyng all his great offers and promisses.

Baleardus, a christen phylosophier in Fraunce, disagreyng in some poinctes from the churche of the latins.

Baleáres insulæ, two yles in Spayne, in the sea called Mediterraneum: The one is now called Maiorica, the other Minorica.

Baleâris, re, and Baleáricus, a, um, of or belongyng to those yles.

Balesium, a towne on the sea coste in Italy, not farre from Brundyse.

Balineum, and Baliniæ, arum, of olde wryters vsed for a bayne or bathe.

Balinienses, people of Latium, called also Trebulani.

Balius, a, um, bay colour, or sometyme a pied or specked colour.

Balius æquus, an horse of bay colour.

Balincium, a kynde of sweete wine that is made in Sicilie.

Balísta, æ, fœ. ge. a crosbowe or a brake, or great engine, wherwith a stone or arrowe is shotte. it may be vsed for a gunne.

Balistárium, rij, n. g. the place where a great brake or slyng is layed.

Bálito, aui, are, to bleate often.

Ballio, onis, the name of a baude in Plautus, of whom other baudes bee called Balliones.

Ballienus, Catilius vncle.

Ballonoti, or Bellonoti, people of Scythia in Europe.

Ballóte, es, f. g. an herbe called also Marrubium nigrum, or Marrubiastrum, or Prasium fœtidum, it groweth commonly in feildes by hygh waies syde, and hath a stynkyng sauour. some thinke it to be a kynde of archangel, other call it stinkynge horehounde, or blacke horehounde. loke. Pli. li. 27. ca. 8.

Ballûca, cæ, fœ. gen. a vessell, wherein golde was powred.

Ballûca, is also gold ore, or golde before it bee fyned and purged.

Balneæ, arum, plu. commune baynes.

Balneária, orum, all things belongyng to a bayne.

Balnearium, rij. n. g. a place where a bathe or stue is in a mans house.

Balneárius, a, um, of or belongyng to a bayne.

Balneâtor, ôris, ma. or com. the keper of a bayne, or he that serueth in a bayne.

Balneatórius, a, um, idem quod Balneárius.

Balnéolum, li, n. g. a lytle bayne or bathe.

Balneum, a pryuate bayne.

Balo, áui, áre, to bleate lyke a sheepe.

Balsa, a citee in Portugall called also Tauila.

Balsamena, idem quod Buphthalinus. Dioscor. lib. 3. cap. 157.

Balsámum, i, n. g. the baulme tree. and somes tyme baulme, loke Theo. li. 9. cap. 6.

Balsáminus, a, um, of baulme.

Balsamita, as Dioscorides saith, an herbe of bygnes and heigth of a hipe, and hath a leafe lyke rue, but much whiter, beyng alway grene, and groweth onely in Iudea and Egypt. lege. Pli. li. 12. ca. 25. Theo. li. 9. ca. 6.

Balsámode, a kynde of Cassia, but more bitter then Cassia. Pli. li. 12. ca. 19.

Bálteus, ei, m. g. and Baltheum, thei, ne. ge. a belt, a swoorde gyrdle.

Baltia, an yle in the Germayn sea.

Balûca, or rather Balax, in greke Chrisammos, gold grauell.

Bambalio, ônis, mas. ge. he that stammereth or stutteth for feare.

Bambatium, or Bambitium, fine cotten, or sylke.

Bambilius, lij, mas. ge. a certayne vermine, which fleeth, called commonly Barbellus.

Bambia, a kynde of olyue tree, after caleyne.

Bambotum, a tyues of Mauritania.

Bambyca, a citee of Mesopotamia, called also Edesa, and Sacra.

Bambyce, a citee in Syria.

Banasa, a towne in Afrike.

Banausus, an artificer that worketh by fyre.

Banchus, a kynde of the fysche called Asellus, after some an haddocke.

Bannomanna, an yle a dayes iournye from Scithia.

Banurri, inhabytauntes of the countreye called Tingitana.

Báphia, æ, f, g. a dyehouse.

Báphicus, a, um, pertenyng to dyeng.

Báphice, es, f. g. the arte of dyeng.

Baptæ, men dyed or coloured, whiche vsed to bee at sacrifice, as it were women.

Báptæ, were certayne comedies, wherein were reproued thynges dishonest and abhominable.

Báptes, a greene stone, of the colour and fourme of a frog.

Baptismus, i, m. g. & Baptísmum, i, Baptísma, ătis, neu. ge. baptisme.

Baptistérium, rij, n. g. a bathe or vessell to washe the bodie in, a dyinge fatte, or a fonte.

Baptizo, áui, áre, to baptise, to diepe.

Bara, an yle not farre from Brundise.

Barachum, a towne in Cyrene.

Baracura, a poore towne in India, called Bangella.

Baragasa, a towne in Ethiope.

Baramalacum, a towne of the people called Nabathei, in Afrike.

Barathro, ônis, an exceadynge glutton that spendeth all vpon his bealie.

Bárathrum, thri, an vnmeasurable depenesse, a place in hell. Also a dungeon in Athens, where prisoners were kept. it is sometyme taken for an harlot or queane, which spendeth all that a man can gette. sometyme the bottome of the stomake.

some

sometyme one that is an exceedyng glutton.
Age effunde hoc nunc in barathrum, goe to now, power this into thy botomles panche.
Incluuies & tempestas barathrumque macelli.
Barba hirci, an herbe called gotes bearde.
Barba, bæ, fœ. ge. a bearde, as well of men, as of all other beastes.
Prolixa, demissa, barba, a longe beарde.
Barba tenus, in or touchyng the beарde.
Hirsuta barba, a rough beарde.
Incipiens barba, vel prima barba, a younge mooche beарde.
Ingens barba, a great beарde.
Barbam pascere, to nourishe his beарde.
Abradere barbam, to shaue of his beарde.
Recidere, and resecare barbam, idem.
Canet barba gelu, his beарde is hoare with froste.
Crescit barba, his beарde groweth.
Mulcere barbam, to stroke the beарde.
Promittere barbã, to let his beарde grow longe.
Donec crinem barbamq; promitteret.
Tondere barbam, to clippe the beарde.
Vellere barbã alicui, to plucke one by the beard.
Barba, an herbe of some called Gratia dei.
Barba Iouis, an herbe called Syngrene, and groweth on tyles.
Barba senis, an herbe that groweth amonge stones, haupng leaues like to longe heares. it is also called Barba petræ, it hath a yelowe flower and the roote thereof is bytter.
Bárbarè, barberously, rudely, without eloquence.
Barbaria, a countrey, where dwelleth people rude and beastely: sometyme euery countrey, excepte Grece and Italy. Barbaria, æ, f. g. is sometyme rudenesse, rusticitee, fiercenesse, churlishenesse.
Barbaria forensis, the barbarousnes and rudenes of them that be auditours in the place of iudgement.
Barbaria est grandis habere nihil, it is a great rusticitee to haue nothynge or to be a poore man.
Inueteratam barbariam ex moribus hominum delere, to take away that olde rudenesse that men haue bene wonte to vse in theyr behauiours.
Barbaricárij, weauers of cloth of baudkyn.
Barbaricũ, i, a shoute or crie in the Romaine armp.
Barbaricus, a, um, idem quod barbarus.
Vestes barbaricæ, precious garmentes.
Barbarica sylua, where growe trees of dyuers sortes out of order.
Barbarica lege ius suum persequi. apud Plaut. id est, Romana.
Barbárica pauimenta, paued floores.
Barbáries, ei, fœ. g. rudenesse, lacke of ciuilitee.
Inhumana barbaries: vncourteis rudenes.
In ipsa barbarie. i. in ipsos barbaros.
Barbarismus, the corrupt forme of speakynge or pronouncyng.
Barbarus, a, um, barbarous. In olde tyme all people, excepte Greekes, were called Barbari, properly if they, whiche dooe speake grossely, without obseruyng of congruitee, or pronounce not perfectely, especially Greeke or Latyne. also they that abhorre al elegancy. Moreouer it signifieth them that be fierce and cruell of maners and countenance, rude, ignorant, rusticall, churlishe, without eloquence.

Mare Barbarum, pro Indico, apud Horat.
Gentes immanitate barbaræ, fierse in outragious cruelitee.
Agrestes & barbaræ.
Inhumanus ac barbarus, vncourtice and rude.
Immanis ac barbara gens.
Lingua & natione barbarus.
Natura & moribus barbarus, rude.
Consuetudo hominum immanis ac barbara, a cruell and rude faction.
Aucto in barbarum cognomento.
Barbátulus, he that hath a yonge beарde.
Barbâtus, um, bearded.
Barbéscula, a towne in Spayne called Barbesull, also a ryuer that renneth by that towne.
Bárbiger, bigera, rum, he that weareth a beарde.
Barbitium, the beарde, after Ipuicius.
Babitos, m. fœ. ne. g. an instrument of musyke, whiche I suppose is that, whiche men call douls timers. some thynke it to be a double harpe, called a rote. some a great harpe that soundeth like organes, other the hyder part of the harpe.
Barbula, a little beарde.
Barbulæ florum, the little beardes of flowers, such as be vnder the roase leafe.
Barbo, ónis, m. g. called also Mullus, of the grekes Trygla, a fysshe called a barbyll.
Barcei, people nere to Carthage.
Barce, a citee in Affrike called also Ptolomais, It was the name of Sichæus nurse, and a queene of Libia. also a promontory.
Barcenis, a woad in Germanie beyonde the ryuer Rhene, called Sylua nigra, which diuideth the Swaues from the Cheruscians.
Barcha, the surname of Amilcar Anniballes father.
Barcino, a citee in Spayne, called commonlye Barcelona.
Bardana, the herbe called the great burre.
Bardasanes, a bysshop of Mesopotamia, whiche wrate against Marcion in the Syrian tounge.
Barderate, a citee in Fraunce.
Bardesanes, an excellent astronomer.
Bardi, were certayne witches or prophetes in Gallia.
Bardiacus, ci, m. ge. a certayne garmente withe out a hood.
Bardocucúllus, i, m. g. a thrummed hatte, or a shepherdes cloke, a cloke with a hood.
Bardus, one that is dull witted, a foole, sometyme a mynstrell that syngeth iestes or fables.
Barduli, people of Biscaie in Spayne, called Turduli and Tapari.

Bardus, a, um, blunte, blockyshe, dull wytted, foolyshe.
Barca, a towne in Spayne.
Bargeni, people of Affrike.
Bargus, a ryuer of Thrace.
Bargylia, orum, a citee in Caria.
Bargylus, an hyll in Asia.
Baria, a place among the Sabines.
Bariona, Johnson, or the soonne of John, as, Barptholomeus, Ptholomeus sonne, whereby it semeth, that Bar in the tounge of Syria or hebrue, signifieth a sonne.
Baris, idos, vel idis, f. g. a bote in Egypt, wherein they caried dead bodies to buryng.
Barium, a towne of Puell in Italy, called commonly Barry.
Barnácida, æ, f. ge. a garmente that chyldren dyd weare.
Barnichius, a ryuer in Peloponesus.
Barnus, untis, a towne in Macedonia, neere to Heraclia.
Barónes, barons, valiaunt and noble men. Some thynke it is latine.
Baroptenus, a Precious stone.
Barra, a towne of the Orobians in Italy.
Barrire, to bray lyke an Olyphant.
Barritus, itus, m. g. the brayng of an Olyphant. also a shoute or crie that the Romaynes vsed to make whan they ioygned battayle.
Barrus, ri, mas. ge. an Olyphant. It doeth also signify a tooth.
Quid tibi vis mulier nigris dignissima barris? what wouldest thou haue thou woman, that arte moste worthy blacke teeth.
Barrus, is also a mans name in Horace, whiche was an euerdynge great detractour.
Barum, a citee.
Barutus, or Barutum, looke Berytos.
Basabocates, people of Aquitayne in Fraunce.
Basaltes, a kynde of marble.
Basan, a countrey beyonde the ryuer of Jordan in Judea, which was diuided to two of the tribes. It maie be interpreted moste fertyle or fatte.
Basanites, tis, m. g. the stone, whereof they make whetstones.
Bascánia, littel trifles which smythes were wonte to haue hangyng before their shoppe wyndowes to exclude enuy.
Bascauda, æ, f. g. a certayne kynde of vessell, whiche came out of Englande.
Bascropeda, a countrey of the Medes neere Armonia.
Bastuli, people of Spayne.
Basia, honest kysses, swete kysses.
Basiátio, ônis, a kissing.
Quæris quot mihi basiationes tuæ satis sint?
Basiátor, ôris, a kysser.
Basilæa, a citee in germany, Basyle.
Basilei, people of Sarmatia, surnamed Iaziges, and Vrgi.
Basilia, an Ile in the north ocean sea.

Basilica, æ, f. g. a beyne pertaynyng to the lyuer.
Basilica, æ, f. g. a place where people doe assemble for suites in the lawe, and where ciuile iudgementes bee exercysed, and counsayles holden. It may also be taken for an hall or other large place, where suiters doe attende, and wayte vpon rulers, or where great feastes be kept. Also it signifyeth a cathedrall churche.
Basilica nux, a wall nut.
Basilicânus, he that hepeth the place called Basilica, After Horman a sexten of a churche.
Basilicé, royally, pryncely, magnificently.
Basilicé agere, to doe a thynge royally, pryncely.
Basilicé interij, id est, vehementer. Plaut.
Basilicon, a kynges robe.
Basilicum, ci, n. g. a kynde of hynes.
Basilicus, ci, a certayne chaunce at the dyce.
Basilicus sinus, a bosome of the sea neere Jonia.
Basilicus, a, um, royall, noble, pryncely.
Basilica facinora, royall and pryncely actes.
Basilica nux, a wall nutte or a frenche nutte.
Basilicæ edictiones, the kynges ordinaunces or commaundementes.
Basilicus victus, id est, regius.
Basilidæ, a people of Scythia in Europe, hauyng their begynnyng of Hercules and Echidna.
Basilides, an heretyke, whiche affirmed, that Christ was not crucified, but Symon Cyreneus, who (as the euangelistes wryte) was constreygned to beare the crosse, whan our sauiour wared fayne through effusion of bloud by his scourgeyng. He saied, it was none offence to denie Christe in the tyme of persecution. He denied the laste resurrection: he also affyrmed, that virginitee was of no greatter merite than mariage, but equal with it. he was about the yere of our lorde. 110.
Basilidiani, the folowers of Basilides.
Basiliscus, called also Regulus, in englyshe a cockatrice, a serpente in the desertes of Affryke, not passyng. 12. inches in length, hauynge a whyte circle about his sharpe head as it were a crowne, red eies, and is somewhat blacke of colour, and so venemous, that he sleeth me and beastes with his breath & sight of his eies, rede Plin. li. 8. ca. 21.
Basilius, a man of incomparable vertue and learnynge, borne in Cappadocia, of a noble house. His parentes (as Gregorius Nazianzenus wryteth) were christians, his father named Basilius Magnus, by whiche name he was also called. His father taught him as well grammer as other learnynges called Quadriuiales. After he went to Cesaria, and from thens to Constantinoble, where he learned rhethorike, logike, and philosophy more perfectly. From thens he came to Athens, where disputynge with diuers great learned men, finally vanquyshed them. But whyles he exactly studied in philosophy, Gregory Nazianzene, beynge than wholly dedicate to the studye of scripture, and seruice of god, louyng Basile intierly, came into the schole where he radde in a chayre, and takynge him by the the hande, brought him to a monastery, where laynge apart all bookes of philosophy, he onely intended to the readyng of holy scripture. At the last, deeryng ledde by the spyryte of god, they diuided theim selues, Basyle goynge about the countrey Pontus, taught the people the trewe fayth. After he was byshop of Cesaria, and exiled by Valens the emperour, who fauoured the Arians heresy. He was of such a reuerēt grauitee, with humbleneffe, that the people loued him, The emperour and men in authoritee feared him. So that he was eftsones reuoked from exile. whan other of the true fayth were put out of the countrey, Basyle onely for feare was reserued. He was about the yere of our lorde. 367. There were two other bishops of the same name, one of Antyra, in the tyme of Constantyne: he wrate agaynst Marcellus: An other of Licia, vnder Anastacius.

Basilus, is also a ryuer in Asia.

Basilus, one of the sleers of Cesar. also a notable pyrate.

Basio, áui, áre, to kysse.

Basiare basia.

Vsque ad millia basiare, to kysse a thousande tymes.

Basis, is, fœ. g. the foote of a pyllour, or that susteyneth any thynge. also the foundacion or grounde of a mattier. And after some, rounde dels made to sette vnder wyne pottes for rasyng of the table, or suche a foote as they vse to sette chasynge dysshes vpon at the table. Sometyme it is taken for the whole pyllour.

Basis structilis, the foote or nethere part of a pillour made not of one stone but of many, whereon the pyllour resteth.

Basis statuæ, that parte of a tabernacle whereon the Image dooeth stande, the foote or stay of it.

In basi statuarum maximis literis insisum erat.

Palma in basi Cæsaris dictatoris, i. in columna.

Basis villæ.

Basistani, people of Spayne called also Bastuli.

Basium, sij, ne. ge. a kysse.

Basia dare, to kysse.

Oscula, officiorum sunt: Basia, pudicorum affectuum: Suauia, amorum.

Da mihi basia mille.

Bassaris, idis, a prieste of Bacchus.

Bassareus, the name of Bacchus.

Bassaricus, a, um, of Bacchus.

Bassianus, a byshop in the time of Ambrose, borne at Syracuse.

Bassas, the name of dyuers learned men.

Basterna, æ, f. g. a certayne sorte of chariottes.

Basternæ, or Bastarnæ, people on the north syde of Thrace, about the ryuer of Ister or Danubius.

Bastuli, people of Spayne neere to the Turdulians.

Bat, a woorde spoken reprochefully or frowardly as fuste, or tut. sometyme it is vsed for a woorde of silence, as peace, or huysht.

Bata, a towne and an hauen in Asia.

Batala, an auncient cyuer in Italy.

Bátalus, a certayne effeminate person. the name of a rybaude poete. Also the surname of Demosthenes, gyuen to him of his foes, whan he was a childe. sometyme it signifieth the arse, or the pryuy partes.

Batauia, a countreye in lowe Germanye, called Hollande.

Batauus, a, um, of Hollande.

Batea, the daughter of Teuchrus, and wyfe of Dardanus.

Bathyllus, a younge man of Samia, beloued of Anacreon the poete. And an other was a famous roffler and daunser.

Bathyochus, deepe, profounde.

Batia, the tumbe of Ilus in Troie.

Batillum, li, n. g. or batillus, a fyre panne. also a facion of hookes, wherewith in some countreis they vsed to reape corne. also a kynde of spade or donge forke.

Batina, after some Bantina, a towne of Puell in Italy.

Batiochus, a certayne potte, out of which wyne is poured at the table. The Italians call it Boccale.

Batiola, idem quod Batiochus.

Batis, is, f. ge. the fysshe called raie or scate. it is also an herbe called Christamarina, or Baticula, of the Gerkes Crethmon, Crithmon, or Crithamon. Of this herbe be two kyndes, one sowen in the gardeyne, an other growynge by the sea syde, and is condite in vyne, and solde of the apothecaries to be eaten in salettes. The frenche men call Basyle, and Crestemarine. The Italians call it Fennocchio marino, in englysshe, Sampere.

Batis, a litle bryde, whiche is most lyke to her thy buntynge.

Batoptenus, a certayne precious stone.

Batrachion, or Batrachium, called also Ranunculus, is an herbe, whereof bee diuers kyndes, of whiche I suppose one is communely called goldcuppe or pealowe crate, of some Crowefoote. It is also called of Democritus, Chrisanthemon, for it hath a flowre as pealowe as golde, and the leafe is somewhat lyke vnto persely, but it is muche greatter, wherfore beggars haue vsed this herbe to blyster and breake the skyn of theyr legges and armes, to moue people to geue them almes. Batrachium, is also a colour, wherewith men vsed to peinct their faces, before vysours were inuented. Eraf. saith: some call Batrachion, Sardoa, or Sardonia, after the countrey, where it groweth aboundently.

Batrachites, tæ, m. g. a stone both in colour and forme lyke a grene frogge.

Batrachos, a frogge. also a swellyng of the tounge with an inflamacion.

Batracomyomachia, the battayle of myce and frogges.

Batrachus, a certayne fyshe.

Batris, a vessel with a longe handell, after Calepin.

Battalus, the name of an effeminate and wanton mynstrell.

Battillum, lyke Batillum.

Battiola, a certayne cuppe to drynke wyne in.

Battologia, æ, f. ge. a longe patterynge or superfluouse speakynge, where one thynge is often repeted.

Batton, a comicall poete.

Batos, called of the latines Rubus, and Sentis, a bryere, wherof be dyuers kindes, as the hyppe, the eglentyne, and the hyamble. Batos is commonly taken for the blacke beary tree.

Battus, his name that builded Cyrene. of whom the wome of Cyrene be cald Battiadæ. Herodotus writeth, that the Libyans cal a king Battus.

Batulus, a towne in Campayne.

Batuo, batuis, ui, ere, to batter, to beate, to strike, to fyght.

Quibus batuatur tibi os senex nequissime, wherwith thou maiste be dashed on the mouth thou olde naughty churle.

Cantator atque saltator batuebat pugnatoriis armis, he beynge a mynstrell and daunser fought with weapons lyke a souldiour.

Batuere cum: Mirmilionem rudibus secum batuentem fica confodit, contending with him.

Batus, ti, m. g. (as Josephus witnesseth) conteyneth. 72. Sextarios, whiche if it be understanded of Sextarius Romanus, comprehendeth foure Romayne modios, and an halfe, euerye modium beynge. iii. gallons. so that Batus, of our measure, is xiii. gallons a potle. Some acteyne it to be but. 36. pintes of Parise: which is the same measure, that Amphora is.

Batus, is also a kynde of fyshe, and a byrde.

Bauaria, called also Baioaria, in duche Berne, in frenche Bauiere, a countrey in high Germany, lynge in the east: on the south it boundeth on the mountaynes of Alpes, whiche diuyde Germanie from Italie: On the west lieth the countrey called Sueuia, in duch Swaue: On the east Austria cald in duch Owstriche: On the north, the realme of Boheme.

Bauari, vel Baioarii, people of Bauier.

Baubor, aris, depo. to barke lyke a dogge.

Baucis, a poore olde woman, whiche entertained Jupiter and Mercurie.

Baucasis, a vessell with colde water to rynse or washe cuppes in, in the sommer.

Bauius, and Menius, two foolishe poetes whiche enuied Virgile.

Bauli, a towne in Italie betweene Baiæ, and Messenum.

Baxeæ, arum, slippers, properly of philosophiers, or suche other.

BDellium, a tree growynge in Arabie, and Scythia. Also a gumme compynge of the same tree, lyke to waxe, but clere as gumme, within vnctuous and fatte, very swete of sauour, whan it is rubbed or bourned, and bytter in tast.

BEate, happyly, fortunately, blessedly.

Bene beateq viuere, to lyue in perfite blisse.

Beatitûdo, inis, & Beatitas, is an heape of good thinges gathered together, of it selfe sufficient, without lacke, and a verate perfection, accordynge to vertue, blessednesse.

Beatulus, a diminutiue of Beatus.

Beatus, is he which hath abundaunce of all thinge that is good, and is perfecte in all thynges that bee worthy prayse, or ought to be desyred of a good man. sometyme it is taken for fortunate or noble.

Beatus, a, um, blessed, happie, holie. sometyme perfecte, absolute. also ryche.

Florentes atque beati, flourysshing and welthy.

Florens & beata res publica.

Beatus, is sometyme applyed to other thynges beside men: which be excellent in their sorte: as

Vox facilis, magna, beata, flexibilis. a full and perfecte voyce.

Vnde tam repente factus es beatus: so wealthy and ryche.

Felix & beata.

Ab omni parte beatus, happy in euery poincte.

O terq; quaterq; beati: id est, sæpius beati: vel beatissimi.

Longe beatior, farre more happie.

Arua, beata, id est, fertilia.

In libera & beata ciuitate viximus, in a free and wealthy citee.

Ciuitas beatissima & opulentissima.

Quis me lætius est beatiusue, what man liueth, more ioyous or happie then I am.

Sed tu beatis mitior rebus veni, in prosperitie.

Vita beata, perfite or blessed lyfe.

Fruuntur beati æuo sempiterno, they liue in bysse worlde without ende, or they as blessed inioy lyfe euerlastyng.

Vt puellæ vnum me facerem beatiorum. i. vt puellæ persuadarem me diuitem esse & locupletem.

Bebeus, a notable backbiter, or tale bearer.

Bebryacensis, or Bebryacum, a kynde of byldes of the bygnesse of a thrusshe.

Bebryces, people of Asia, whiche tooke their beginnyng of one of the daughters of Danaus.

Bebrycium, or Bebryacum, a towne in Italye betwene Cremona and Verona.

Bebrycia, a countrey called the great Phrygia.

Bebrytius, a, um, & Bebryx, icis, of the countrey

of

of great Phrygia.

Bebryx, an auncient kynge of the mountaynes called Pyrenæi.

Beccus, in the moste olde phrygian tounge, sygnifyeth breadde.

Becher, a countrey of Scythia after Calepyne.

Bechion, an herbe called of the latines Iusilago, and Farfaria, of some Populago, of the apothecaries Vngula Caballina, in Englishe foole foote, or all hole, or horse hoofe. Iowe Tussilago.

Bechicum medicamentum, a medicine, holsome agaynst the hough.

Beda, a famous learned man of this royalme. For his modestie, vertuous lyfe, and learnynge surnamed worshyppfull Bede.

Bedeguar, a worde vsed of barbarous phisicions: after the saiyng of Serapio, the white brere, whiche (as Dioscorides wryteth) hath a white flower and a sweete. Mainardus supposeth it to be a certayne kynde of thystles, with sharpe pryckes, and a square stalke. And now some take it for the thystle, whiche is called Carduus benedictus.

Beduini, certayne heretykes amonge the Sarasins, whiche woorshyp the sonne at his ryssinge, and they askyme all thynges to chaunce by destinie. wherefore they vse to fyght in battayle vnarmed, saiynge, that deathe can not bee eschewed.

Bee, the voyce of sheepe.

Beelphegor, a gaynge ydoll.

Beelsabub, an ydole called god of flyes.

Beelsephon, lorde of the northe, an ydole set vp in the places of espiall.

Beemoth, the dyuell, and sygnifyeth a beast.

Beergios, one of the sonnes of Neptunus, whom Hercules vanquished.

Bela, of the olde latines was vsed for ouis, a sheepe. wherof cometh Belare, to bleate lyke a sheepe.

Bela, a kynge of Hungary.

Belbina, an yle in the goulfe called Argolicum.

Belbiton, beastes dunge.

Belbus, bi, m. g. a beast called also Hiena.

Belerium, or Bolorium promontorium, is a place in Cornewall called Sainct Burien.

Belga, one of the countrey Belgica.

Belgæ, the people that inhabyte the countreys and townes inclosed with the occean sea, and the ryuers of Rhene, Marne, and Seyne, wherin bee the cities of Treyr, Coleyne, Maguncz, and Reynes. Also the countres of Flaunders, Holslande, Gelder, Iuliers, Cleues, Hennaw, part of Frysclande, Picardie, the greatest parte of Champayne, and all the forest of Ardenne. It was sometyme called Callia Belgica.

Belgicus, a, um, of that countrey.

Belgium, the towne of Beauuoysine.

Belial, the dyuell, which is interpreted Apostata, without yoke.

Belion, idem quod polium montanum. Dioscor. lib. 3. cap. 122.

Belisarius, a famous capitayne in the tyme of Iustinian the emperour.

Bella, a towne in Campayne.

Bellaria, ôrum, banketyng dyshes, as tartes, marthepaynes, and other lyke.

Bellaria, æ, the flower of the herbe Lichnis.

Bellarius, a, um, apt for the warre.

Bellator, ôris, m. g. a warriour.

Bellator æquus, a horse for warre.

Bellatrix, icis, a woman warriour.

Bellatulus, a, um, a wanton woorde, whiche is as much to saie, as iolye, proper, little kayre one, well fauoured chylde, little sweete herte, pretye mayden, prety boye.

Bellax, acis, vsed or haunted in warres.

Belle, well.

Belle se habet, he doeth or fareth well.

Bellerophontes, seu, Bellerophon, the sonne of Glaucus kyng of Ephyra, a man of muche beautee and prowesse, was ardently beloued of Stenobea, the wyfe of Proetus kynge of Ephyra, next after Glaucus. whan she desyred hym to commytte auoutry with hir, he fearyng the vengeaunce of Iupiter, god of hospitalitee, and remembryng the frendeshyp hir husbande had shewed him, refused, and put hir away from hym: whiche she disdeynynge, and beyng in a wood rage, accused him to hir husbande, that he had rauished hir: but he lyke a sobre man woulde not slea him in his owne house, but deliuerynge him letters to his wyues father, sent him into Lycia, who perceiuyng the mynde of Proetus, encouraged and sent Bellerophō to destroy the two monsters, Solymos, and Chymæra, that he mought be slayne vnder the colour of a valyaunt enterprise. But he, atchieuyng it nobly, retourned with honour.

Bellerophontes literas affert, A prouerbe, whan one bryngeth letters agaynst himselfe.

Bellerophonteus, a, um, of Bellerophon.

Bellidtus, a, um, beautified.

Bellica, a pyllour in the temple of Bellona, called goddesse of battayle, wherein they vsed, whan warres were proclaymed, to caste a launcyn.

Bellicôse, valyauntly, warrelyke, fiercely.

Bellicôsus, a, um, valyaunt in armes, fierse or warrelyke.

Bellicrepa saltatio, a certayne kourme of daunsing in harneys.

Bellicum, i, n. g. a warrelyke sowne.

Bellicum canere, to blowe to the battayle, and by a metaphore, to anymate, to incourage, to stryre vp, to make discencion or debate.

Bellicus, a, um, pertaynyng to warre, warlyke.

Bellifer, a, um, that maketh warre.

Belliger, ligera, um, idem.

Belliger, i, m. g. a warryour.

Belligero, aui, are, to make warre.

Bellipotens, puissaunt in armes or battayle.

Bellis, seu Bellium, the whyte daysy, called of some some the Margarite. in the north Wantwoort, or rather it is the common name of daisies. It is also a fysshe with a longe beake like a crane, whiche is called of some an hornebeake.

Bello, aui, are, to make warre.

Bellantur, Virgill vsed for bellant.

Bello, a citee in Spayne.

Bellocassi, a countrie in Fraunce nowe called Bayeux.

Bellôna, the goddesse of battayle.

Bellonárij, the prestes of Bellona.

Bellôsus, a, um, for Bellicosus.

Bellóuacum, a citee in Fraūce now named Beauuops, the people whereof be called Bellouaci.

Bellua, æ, f. g. a great cruell beast or a monster. by reprothe it is applied to a man.

Fera & immanis, tetra & immanis, fæua, bella, the Image of the beastes in the Zodiake & firmament be sometyme called Belluæ: as Leo, Taurus, lupa, &c.

Pro homine: Quid ego hospitij iura in hoc tam immani bellua commemoro.

Feritas & immanitas belluæ in figura hominis.

Belluâtus, a, um, peincted or herued with great beastes.

Belluâta tapétia, tappestry, wherein is wrought or peincted the fygures of beastes.

Bellulus, a, um, somewhat fayre, mynion, tricke, galaunt.

Bellum, signifyeth all the time that the warre doth continue. warre, also battayle.

Absistere bello, to leaue of warre.

Dare bellum alicui, to committe the charge of warre to any man.

Ducere bellum, to prolonge the warre.

Bellum ciuile, warre betwene men of one countrey or citee, ciuill warre.

Bellum intestinum, warre amonge the inhabitauntes of one countrey.

Bellum nauale, warre on the sea.

Bellum instruere, adornare, apparare, moliri, nauare, parare, to prepare for warre.

Bello premere, to trouble one with warre.

Belli, aduersiall for, at warre.

Belli domiq, bothe abrode at warre, and at home in the citee.

Bellum componere, to make a conclusion of warres, to make peace betwene two, whiche are at warre.

Bellum conflare, to stirre vp warre.

Bellum indicere, to declare warre, to sende defyaunce.

Bellum moliri, to prepare warre.

Bellum ponere, absoluere, abstinere, deponere, dimittere, to sette aside warre.

Bellum profligare, to fyght out a battayle, to ende a warre.

Bellum, totum tempus quo sumus in militia: Prælium, ipsum armorum certamen.

Bellum aliquando pro prælio: In eo bello trecenti milites desiderati, in that battayle.

Bellum, aliquando bellatores & ea quæ ad bellum pertinent omnia complectitur. Ouid. Permanet Aonijs Nereus violentus in vndis.

Bellaque non transfert: id est, non patitur Græcos in Asiam trajicere, and dooth not conueigh ouer the Grecians with the furniture of warre.

Apex bellorum. i. caput & dux.

Author belli; Adiutor belli: Causæ belli.

Conciatores bellorū, the sterers vp of warres.

Confector belli, the fynisher of any warre.

Is totius belli confector erit.

Celeritas belli, the spedynesse of warre.

Belli celeritatem morabitur.

Magna belli contentione superarunt: in a great conflicte and contention of warre.

Communis belli Mars, the vncertaine or doubtfull chaunce of warre.

Incerta belli alea: Euentus belli varius: Idem.

Domestici belli extinctor, the ender or quieter of a ciuill warre.

Habilis bello, meete for warre.

Quæ bello est habilis ætas.

Inexpertus belli: Insolens bellorum.

Gens bello intractabilis. i. insuperabilis.

Iura belli: the lawes of armes.

Modo belli, in the facion of warre.

Latrocinari magis q̄ modo belli.

Offensio belli: an ouerthrow in battayle.

Non belli offensionibus sed victorijs.

Bellis rudis vel ignarus, vnskylled in warfare.

Subita belli, the sodayne chaunces of warre.

Subita belli locus abnuit, the place was not meete for suche sodeyne chaunces as often doo happen in warre.

Summa belli in hac vna re posita videtur.

Domestica and externa bella, contrary.

Omni imbutum odio bellum inferre alicui: to make a moste deadly and hatefull warre vpon one.

Duces accendendo bello acres, temperandæ victoriæ impares: capiteyns fierse and courageous in sterynge vp the warre, but not able to moderate the victorie.

Bellum affectum, attenuatum, imminutum.

Bellum affectum videmus, & pæne confectum, we se the warre well diminished and almoste cleane fynished.

Alere bellum, to prolonge and mayntayne the warre.

Ardere bello: Cum arderet Syria bello: whē Syria was sore vexed with warre.

Cauponari bellum, to fyght for money and gayne.

Simulacra belli ciere, to make a shewe of battayle, to fyght for colour or shewe as men doo in exercises of warre.

Bellum merum loquitur, he speaketh onely of warre.

Bellon,

Bellon, a towne and a riuer in Spayne.
Bellus, a, um, fayre, honest, pleasant, good, courteyse, gentile, ciuile.
Bellus homo, an honest man.
Bellutus, beastly or lyke a beast.
Belides, the sonne or neuew of Belus.
Belis, idis, the daughter or nece of Belus.
Belone, es, f. g. a kynde of fysshe. looke Acus.
Belos, a weapon, or an arrow. It signyfieth also after some the compasse of the firmamente and sterres. also the ayre that incloseth all thynges. Also a flooze or pauement: And the fyrst entree in at a dooze.
Belotocos, or Belonacos, idem quod Dictamum. Diosc. li. 3. cap. 35.
Belua, idem quod Bellua.
Beluinus, a, um, beastly.
Beluina rabies, a beastly furie.
Belunum, a towne in the countrey of Venece in Italy.
Beluosus, a, um, full of monsters of the sea.
Belus, an auncient kynge of Assyria, to whome the fyrst ymage or ydole to be honoured, was made. There was an other Belus of Aegypt: An other the father of Dido. It is also a ryuer in Syria, whiche hath sande of the nature of glasse and turneth al other mettall that commeth into it, into glasse.
Belzahard, (a barbarouse wooꝛde, foꝛ the efficacie therof, necessary to be knowen) is a speciall and soucrayne medicine agaynst poyson beyng dꝛunke. Auenzoar wꝛiteth, that agaynst poyson, that is exceedyngly hotte, he made it in thys fourme. Thꝛee grapnes of barley, with fyue ounces of the water of a gourde. But some men thynke, the moste excellent Belzahard, is that, wherof Plinie wꝛiteth. Pꝛopꝛely the harte is at continuall debate with the serpente, in so muche that he pursueth and seketh foꝛ him at hys hole, where he lieth, and with the dꝛeathe of his nosethꝛilles, compelleth him to come out. Now after the harte hath foughten with the serpente, and eaten him, he becometh thꝛyfty, and renneth to some water, and leapeth into it, but he dooeth not dꝛinke as than. Foꝛ if he tooke neuer so litle water, he should die incontinent. Than dooe pssue out of his eyes dꝛoppes, whych by littel and littell dooe congeale, and waxe as greate as a chesten nutte. After the harte is come out of the water, men a wayte where those dꝛoppes fall, whiche they take and kepe as a thynge most pꝛecious, and agaynste all maner of poyson moste certayne remedy. Thys haue I taken out of the booke of Ioan. Agricola de recentioribus medicamentis.
Bemarchius, a learned man of Capadocia, which wꝛote the gestes of Constantine.
Bembina, a towne of Nemæa.
Bembinadia, the countrey called Nemæa.
Bembinus, a, um, of Nemæa.
Benacus lacus, a lake in Italy called Garde.

Bene, well, honestly, pꝛosperously, sometyme muche.
Bene accipere aliquem, to intreate oꝛ entertayne one well.
Bene acceptus, well entertayned, well intreated.
Bene agitur, the thynge is well doen.
Bene ambulato, God be with thee.
Bene audire, to be well spoken of.
Propter singularem humanitatem apud omnes bene audit.
Bene cogitare de aliquo, to haue a good opynion of one.
Bene conuenit inter eos. They agree well togeather.
Bene curare ætatem, to lyue pleasantly.
Bene de te mereo, I doo thee good, thou arte beholden vnto me.
Bene ferre gratiam, to doe pleasure to one.
Bene habere, to bee well at ease. Also to lyue pleasauntly.
Vt bene haberem me in filiæ nuptijs.
Bene hercle denuncias, Thou tellest me good tydynges.
Bene hoc habet, thys mattier commeth well to passe, oꝛ this mattier goeth well.
Bene longus sermo, id est: valde, a verye longe tale.
Bene magnus, very great.
Bene mane dedi literas. &c. very tymely, very early.
Bene mereri, to doe pleasure to one.
Bene de rep. meritus est.
Bene multi, very many.
Bene nummatum marsupium, a pourse well stoꝛed with money.
Bene comitatus Romam venit, he came to Rome with a good company.
Bene nummatus homo, a well monied man.
Bene successit, it came well to passe.
Bene vale, farewell, adieu.
Bene valere, to be in good health.
Bene vertere, to tourne to good.
Precor deum, vt hæc res bene vertet tibi, I pꝛay god this thinge may tourne thee to good, oꝛ may be foꝛ thy pꝛofite.
Bene viuere, to make good there.
Bene volo tibi, I wouldе the good.
Non æque bene, not all thynge so well.
Bene actum cum eo est, he is well dealt with all. It is well foꝛ hys parte.
Bene cognitus, well knowen.
Bene dissimulatus amor, id est multum.
Bene est, foꝛ Bene habet, it is well, the mattꝛ is in good case.
Bene facis, well done, I thanke thee.
Bene factum, I am gladde, it hath chaunced wonderously well.
Bene fidum, very sure, trusty.
Bene firmum, very stronge, oꝛ constant.
Bene gessit sua negotia, He hath well exployted ted his matters.

Bene habent tibi principia, thy begynnyng is good, or thou hast a good begynnyng.

Bene longinquus dolor, a peyne that contynueth longe.

Bene ædepoll narras, wonderous well sayed, I am glad to heare it.

Bene natus, descended of an honest samplie, comen of a good stocke.

Bene promeruit, he hath well deserued it.

Bene tibi est, the matter goeth well with ther, or it is well for thee.

Melius est homini factum, he is amended.

Bene sit tibi, much good doo it thee.

Bene venire velim, quod illud feceris, I pray god tourne it to muche good, that you haue dooen.

Bene, for valde.

Epistola bene longa, a very longe epistoll.

Bene assimulare, id est: Nunc tuum est officium has bene vt assimules nuptias.

Aetatem suam bene curant, they lyue pleasantly and make muche of them selues.

Senatum bene firmum, firmiorem vestra authoritate fecistis, the Senate that was verye stedfast and constant before. &c.

Quasi re bene gesta lætantur, they reioyse as thoughe the matter were well brought to passe.

Eques Romanus locuples bene gerens sui negotij, wealthe and a good husbande, or one that exployed his affayres well and diligently.

Res bene gestæ, noble actes.

Flos bene olens, a sweete flower.

Bene penitus se in illius familiaritatem dedit, he gaue him selfe thoroughly into his familiaritee.

Iuris & antiquitatis bene peritus, very cunnyng, or very well sene in. &c.

Quod eos conuenisti, plane bene, it is well in dede, or it is very well.

Bene plane magnus dolor mihi videtur, it semeth to me a very great sorow in dede.

Si quis bene præcipit, if a man geue good counsayle, or aduertise a man well.

Bene promittit quidem, he maketh fayre promysse in deede.

In clamando quidem video eũ esse bene robustum, I see he hath a stronge voyce to brayr or crie out.

Sane bene, well in dede.

Bene sanæ mentis homo, one in his ryghe wittes, or one well aduysed.

De illius moribus bene sperare debemus.

Improbo nemini bene esse potest, no ill man can be in good case, or in good estate.

Benédice, an aduerbe, signifiyng, in prayssynge, or sayinge well.

Cum illiciebas me ad te, blandè & benédicè, whan thou diddest trayne me vnto thee with pleasant wordes, and prayssyng of me.

Benedico, dixi, ĕre, to prayse, to say well of: applied to god it signifieth to bleese, or endow men wyth his giftes, or benefites.

Bene dicere deo, id est, laudare.

Benedicta, a certayne electuary very medicinable agaynst the goute.

Benedictum, ti, neu. g. a good saiyng, an honest reporte.

Benédicus, a man well tunged, or fayre spoken.

Benefácio, benefacis, or after the exception of oure Grammer, benefacis, ēci, ere, to doo well.

Benefacis quod me adiuuas, Thou doest wel to helpe me.

Benefecit Asilius quod transegerit, Asilius hath doone well that he despatched the matter.

Benefacere erga aliquem.

Benefit, the impersonall.

Benefactum, ti, ne. gen. a benefite, a pleasure, a friendely tourne.

Benefacta male locata, benefites or pleasures yll bestowed, or ill imployed.

Beneficentia, æ, fœ. g. is not onely liberaliter in geuing money or possessyons, or other like thinges, but also in helpyng a man with counsayle, solicitation, or other labour.

Beneficiarij, were they, whiche in the warres were not charged with watche or other labours pertaynyng to the fielde or hoste.

Beneficiarius, rij, m. g. he that receyueth a benefite or good tourne of an other. It is also he that is called a vassal, a client, or a tenaunt that holdeth of an other by fayth and homage.

Beneficiarius fundus, lande giuen in fee simple or fee tayle, to be holden of honour by some seruice.

Beneficium, cij, n. g. a benefite, a pleasure, or a good tourne.

Beneficio afficere aliquem, to doo a pleasure to one.

Beneficio alligari, or obligari, obstringi, to be bounde by some benefite or good tourne.

Beneficium collocare, deferre, dare, facere, conferre, ponere, to bestow or implop a benefite, to doo a pleasure.

Tantis beneficijs a me in rep. positis, bestowed on the common weale.

Apud hominem gratissimum tuum beneficium pones, you shall bestow.

Meo beneficio, for my sake, by my good helpe and meanes.

Tuo beneficio, id est, opera tua: Tuo beneficio adhuc viuit hæc pestis, by thy meanes.

Hoc beneficio, vtrique ab vtrisque deuincimini, by the good helpe of this, eyther of you bee bounde to other.

Beneficio complecti aliquem, to shewe fauour, to doo friendly to a man.

Beneficio complecti aliquem, to doubte a benefite.

Beneficium daye & reddere.

Beneficium dare & accipere.

Vt hoc beneficium trabali clauo figeret, that myght make this benefite remembred for euer.
Dare pro beneficio, in loco beneficij deferre, to giue for a benefite.
Serere beneficium vt possimus metere fructum.
Habere pro beneficio, to accepte for a benefit.
Ornare beneficijs, to shew many goodly pleasures to a man.
Augere aliquem beneficio, to doo one a great benefite.
Auctus nuper est, præclaro eorum beneficio.
Quorum beneficia maxima habebã, at whose hande I receyued great benefites.
Magna mihi beneficia debebat, he was bound to shew me greate pleasures.
Placare beneficio, to mitigate or swage by shewynge or doyng a pleasure or benefite.
Beneficium remunerare, to make a mendes or requite a good tourne, to rewarde a man for a pleasure that he hath shewed.
Quis tantis beneficijs respondere poterit, who can shew lyke kyndenesse for so great benefytes.
Non beneficium fæneramur, we doo not bestow our benefite lookyng for commodites by it agayne.
Beneficium interit, thy benefite is loste.
Benéficus, a, um, that is beneficiall or liberall.
Oratione beneficus, liberall in wordes.
Beneficus in aliquem.
Benemércor, rêris, to doo a good tourne or pleasure.
Beneuolé, frindly.
Benéuolens, lentis, om. g. he that loueth well an other, fauourable, friendly, well wyllynge, a frende.
Officio functus sum beneuolentissimi.
Non sum molesta sed beneuolens.
Beneuolentia, tiæ, f. g. fauour, or good wyll, an intent to doo well, harte good will.
Beneuolentiam conciliare, acquirere, allicere, to get fauoure, to wynne ones good wyll.
Beneuolentiam consectari, captare, to endeuour to get ones fauour.
Beneuolentiam conseruare, to kepe or mayntayne ones good will towarde vs.
Beneuolentiam præstare alicui, to shew fauour or good wyll towardes one in deede.
Beneuolentiam declarare erga aliquem.
Quos summa beneuolentia sum complexus, whom I haue very hartely loued.
Beneuolentia quam erga me contulisti, which you shewed towarde me.
Susceptæ erga te beneuolentia, my harty good will, that I haue begonne towarde you.
Singulari est in te beneuolentia.
Quomodo tuebimur beneuolentiam Cæsaris, how shall we maynteyne. &c.

Benéuolus, néuola, um, fauourable, well wyllynge.
Benigné, courteysly, gratiously, bountiously, gentilly, liberally.
Benigné facere alicui, to shew liberalites towardes one.
Facis perbenigne, ye doe very liberally.
Benigne audire, to here gentilly, or courteysly.
Grauate audire, contrary.
Benignitas, atis, f. g. bountiousnesse, curteysy, liberalitee, gentilnesse.
Dei benignitate, by the goodnesse of god.
Num meam benignitatem sensisti in te claudier? dyd you euer perceyue my liberalitee to be stoped from you?
Amicorum benignitas exhausta est in ea re quæ. &c. was consumed or spent.
Benigniter, idem quod benigne.
Benignus, a, um, gentill, benigne, bountiouse, or liberall.
Dies benignus, a fortunate or luche day.
Sermo benignus, pleasant communication, gentell woordes.
Benigno vultu, with a swete or pleasant countenaunce.
Benigna terra, a grounde that is fertile. lyke wyse Benigna tellus, and Benignus Ager.
Vini somnique benignus: id est, vino somnoque large indulgens.
Benna, næ, f. g. a kynde of wagons, wherof cometh Combennones, they that bee together in one wagone.
Beo, áui, âre, to comforte, to make happye, to make gladde.
Berbena, idem quod Verbena.
Berberion, a certayne shell fyshe, in the which perles are bred.
Berecynthia, called the mother of goddis.
Berecynthius, a, um, of Phrygia, or of Cibele.
Berecynthium cornu, an horne wherewith the preestes of Cibele were styred to a rage or furie.
Berecynthia tibia, a pype vsed in the sacrifice of Cybele.
Berecynthus, a mountayne and towne in Phrygia, where Cibele was worshypped, wherof she was named Berecynthia.
Berengarius, a frenche man, which affirmed, that in the sacrament of the aultare was not the verie bodie of Christ in the substaunce of flesh and bloud. He had litteli learnyng, but was a subtil Logician. Afterwarde he dyd recant. And in the counsayle of Lateranense, his errour was condemned, the yere of our lorde. 1082.
Berenice, or Beronice, es, a woman of excellente beautee, wyfe to Ptolomeus Lagus. Of that name were dyuers other women. It is also a towne in Affrike.
Berenices crines, seuen sterres lyke a triangle, at the taple of the lyon.
Bergidum, a citee of Spayne called Bergell.
Bergion,

Bergion, a gygant the sonne of Neptune, slayne by Hercules.
Bergomum, the citee Bergomo in Italy.
Berilion, idem quod anemone.
Berillus, a bysshop of Bosterna in Affrike, whiche erred in certayne poynctes, and was reduced to the churche by Origene.
Beritos, a famous citee of Phœnicia, called now Barutus.
Bernaba, a citee in Spayne called Benauarie.
Bero, ônis, idem quod pero, a sacke.
Beroa, a citee in Thessalie.
Beroe, the nourse of Semele, the mother of Bacchus.
Beronice, looke Berenice.
Berosus, a counnynge astronomer of Caldeie.
Bersabe, a citee in Judea, called also Puteus iurramenti, the pytte of the oth, where Abraham dwelled. It is the confines of the lande of behest.
Beryllus, li, ma. & f. ge. a precyous stone, called Berill, in facion fire square, in colour lyke oyle or water in the sea. His proprietees are, to make them that weare hym merry. It conserueth and increaseth the loue betwene man and wyfe, hanged about ones necke, it putteth away dreames. It cureth diseases of the throte and cheekes, and all those whiche come of moistnesse of the head. It helpeth women that trauayle with childe.
Bes, bessis, or Bessis, huius bessis, masc. gen. a weight of viii ounces. also viii partes of an acre diuided into xii partes.
Usura ex besse, the gayne of eyght in the hundred.
Bésasa, læ, f. g. the lede of rue.
Bessa, a citee in Phocis, an other in Peloponesus.
Bessâlis, le, the adiectiue of Bes, of viii ounces or vnches.
Bessâles laterculi, stones viii fyngers longe.
Bessara, a citee of Assyria.
Bessi, people of Thrace, famous for their theste and robbery.
Bessippo, an hauen in Spayne.
Bestiana, a certayne medicine, looke Aetius, lib. 10. cap. 6.
Bessyga, an hauen or marte towne in India, wher of the people are called Bessygiæ. There is also a ryuer called Bessygas.
Bestia, a cruell beaste.
Bestia crudelitatem exprimit: Bellua magnitudinem, Fera cicuri opponitur.
Bestiarij, men that in olde tyme fought with beastes in the syght of the people.
Bestiola, læ. f. g. the diminutiue of Bestia.
Beta, an herbe called beete, therof cometh a verbe Betisare, whiche signifieth to bee vnsauoury in communication or writyng. Eras. Chil. And men vnsauourie or vnwittie, were in scorne called Betæ. Laert. de Diogine.
Betanomantia, æ, southsayng or witchecrafte by herbes, as Medea, and suche other dyd vse.
Bethania, a towne two myles from Jerusalem, on the syde of the mount Oliuete.
Bethasij, people dwellynge aboute the towne of Mastreight within the dioceese of Luke in Germanie.
Bethdagon, the temple of Dagon.
Bethel, a citee in Samaria, where the people dwelled, which were called Iebusæi.
Bethleem, the citee where Dauid the prophete was borne and died. Our Sauyour also was borne there. There dyed Rachell the wyfe of Jacob the patriarche. It was assigned to the tribe of Juda, beynge distaunt from Jerusalem fiue myles, and was fyrst called Euphrata, and sygnifieth in the hebrue tongue, the house of bread.
Bethsaida, or Bethesda, a greate ponde in Hierusalem, wherin the Priestes washed the sheepe, whiche should bee sacrificed, and may be interpreted, the house of catell. also the name of a towne, where Peter and Philipp, the apostles were borne.
Bethsamis, a citee in Galilee, where Christe dyd many myracles.
Bethsamitæ, people of Bethsamis.
Bethsura, & Bethsuræ, a stronge fortresse of the Jewes.
Beticatus, looke Bæticatus.
Betica, Betis, Beticus, Beticola, looke Bætica.
Betica, the thyrde parte of Spayne, called now Granate, looke Bætica.
Betisalea, idem quod vitis nigra.
Beto, ti, ere, to gor.
Betonica, or Vetonica, called of the Grekes Cestron, of the Italians Serratula, an herbe called Betayne. whiche is hotte and dyre in the first degree, and hath innumerable vertues. Of this herbe is an other kynde called Tunica, wherof be two sortes: One is named Siluestris, another Betonica altilis, or Coronaria, whiche is the gylofer.
Bethphage, a towne in Judea, and may be interpreted the house of a mouth or a iawe.
Betere, a towne called Beliers in Gascoyn.
Betulla, læ, f. g. a tree called byrche.
Betulo, a towne in Spayne called Beson. Also a ryuer.

B ANTE I.

Bilixon, wheate, whiche is harde to be beaten out of the huskes.
Bianor, oris, a man surnamed Oenus, who builded Mantua.
Bias Prienæus, one of the seuen wyse menne of Greece, beholdynge his countrey taken by ennemies, fledde: other men carynge with them, suche gooddes as they moughe beare, he was demaunded why he tooke nothynge with hym: where to he answered, Truely I carry all my gooddes with me, meanynge vertue and docerine, reputynge the gooddes of fortune none of hys.

Biana, a citee in Spayne called now Baesa.

Bibácitas, atis. f. g. greate drynkynge.

Bibáculus, he that drinketh often, alway bibbyng

Bibaga, an yle in India, where is great plenty of oysters and muscles.

Bibax, âcis, and Bibósus, a, um, a great drinker.

Bibísia, æ, for g. bybbynge.

Biblia, the wyfe of Duilius the Romayn, whiche was of such chastitee, that she was at that tyme an example, whan it was a thinge monstruouse to here of unchastitee.

Biblio, blere, to make a sowne as a potte dooeth, whan drynke is drawen into it.

Bibliógraphus, phi, masc. gen. a wryter of bookes a scriuener.

Biblion, lij, n. g. a booke, a volume, in the plurall number Biblia, the bookes of holy scripture.

Bibliopôla, læ, masc. gen. a stationer, or booke seller.

Bibliothæca, cæ, f. gen. a librarie, a study. somestime great numbre of bookes.

Bibliothecalis, le, anye thynge belongynge to a liberarie.

Biblos, a bull rushe. also a booke.

Bibo, bi, ere, to drynke. sometyme to sucke or receyue in.

Bibere in auro, to drynke in cups of golde.

Aut bibe, aut abi, A prouerbe, sygnyfynge that we should apply our selues to the maners of men, or els auoyde theyr company.

Bibere aure, to heare diligently or attentiuely.

Longũq; bibebat amorem, and she sucked in.

Ab hora tertia bibebatur, they wente to drynkynge after three a cloche.

Næuia sex cyathis, septem Iustina bibatur, let vs drynke of sixe cuppes for Næuia, and seuen for Iustina. They were wonte in olde tyme to quaffe vp as many cuppes for theyr louers sake, as there was letters in theyr names.

Bibere gemma dixit vergilius, pro bibere poculo gemmeo.

Damnose bibere, to drynke vntill he be sicke, or vntyll he haue spent all that euer he had.

Ex ipso fonte bibere, to drynke at the well hedde.

Morsu bibere, to drynke with chopynge the mouth or iawes together, as certayne birdes do.

Bibunt aues fluctu, moste byrdes doe drynke suckynge.

Bibit aquas terra sitiens, drinketh in water.

Lana colorem bibit, taketh colour.

Bibit cum lacte mores maternos, he sucketh together with his milke. &c.

Bibitur, the impersonall.

Maturè veniunt, discumbitur, fit sermo inter eos: & inuitatio, vt græco more biberetur. They come at the tyme appoynted, and there was amonge them talkyng and quaffynge, that euery man might drynke after the grekes facion.

Bibractæ, people of the countrey called Beurre Dautume.

Bibracte, a towne in Fraunce called Beaulme.

Bibrax, acis, a towne in Fraunce in the county of Rochell called Brie.

Bibulus, a Roman that was consull with Cesar.

Bibulus, a, um, that sucketh vp moyste, or drynketh gredely.

Bibula arena, drie grauell that sucketh moyste.

Bibula charta, paper that drynketh inke, or will not beare inke.

Bibulus lapis, the pumish stone.

Biceps, cipitis, com. gen. that whiche hath twoo heades.

Biceps ciuitas, a citee diuided into twoo partes by dissention.

Bicion, latinis vicia, vatches.

Biclinium, clinij, neu. ge. a chaumber with twoo beddes, or a roome where two boydes or tables doo stande.

Bicolor, ôris, om. ge. of two colours.

Bicórnis, ne, om. ge. that hath two hornes.

Bicórpor, ôris, om. g. that hath two bodies.

Bicubitâlis, le, two cubites longe.

Bicurgium, a citee in Almayne, called Herforde.

Bidens, éntis, masc. gene. a toole that husbande men vsed to digge the grounde with, and maye bee now vsed for a dunge forke, or pitche forke. Iactare bidente, in vergile to breake cloddes of earth with a forke or lyke toole.

Bidens, éntis, for. g. a sheepe with two teeth, or rather that is two yeres old, called in some place hogrelles or hogattes.

Bidental, a place where they vsed to sacrifice sheepe, whan anye house was bourned with lyghtenyng.

Biducenses, people of Normandie.

Biduum, i, n. g. the space of two dayes.

Bidui nauigatio, two dayes saylynge.

Bidui abesse, to be two dayes iourney from a place.

Propius quam tu biduum, nerre then thou by two dayes iourney.

Biduum continens, two whole daies together.

Per biduum, by the space of two dayes.

Hæc bidui solicitudo est, this care is but for two dayes.

Biendium, an hauen in Spayne.

Biennis, ne, anye thynge that is two yeres olde.

Bienne spatium, two yeres space.

Biénnium, nij. n. g. the space of two yeres.

Bifáriam, an aduerbe, in two partes, or two maner of wayes.

Bifariam ingressi hostium fines, in twoo partes.

Bifer, or Biferus, a, um, that beareth twyse.

Bifera arbor, a tree that beareth twyse in one yere.

Bifidâtus, a, um, cleft in two partes.

Bifidus, a, um, idem.

Bifidi pedes, cleft feete.
Biforis, re, adiect. that hath two dooꝛes.
Bifores feneſtræ, with two flappes.
Biforis cantus, an vntunable ſonge.
Biformâtus, a, um, facioned like two bodies.
Biformis, me, idem.
Bifrons, ôntis, that hath two foꝛheades oꝛ faces.
Bifur, a double theefe, he that hath ſtollen twyſe.
Bifurcâtus, a, um, double foꝛked.
Bifurcus, a, um, idem.
Biga, æ, oꝛ Bigæ, arum, fœ. gen. a carte dꝛawen with two hoꝛſes.
Agitare bigas, to dꝛiue cartes.
Bigâmia, æ, f. g. the mariage of two wyues.
Bigamus, i, m. g. he that hath had two wyues.
Bigargitani, people of Spayne.
Bigâtus, a, um, ſtoꝛned two and two, oꝛ that hath the ymage of a carte with two hoꝛſes.
Bigati, a piece of money haupng the ymage of a carte.
Bigémmis, e, that hath two budders oꝛ bourgeꝛ nynges.
Bigenus, eris, oꝛ Bigéneris, re, a beaſte comen of two ſundꝛy kyndes, as betweene a dogge and a woolfe, oꝛ betweene an Aſſe and a mare, and ſuch like.
Bigerones, people of Cupan in Fraunce.
Bigerra, a citee in Spayne called commonly Beiar.
Bignæ, twinnes.
Biiugi, ſometyme taken foꝛ cartes.
Biiúgus, i, and Biiugis, & hoc ge, tattell oꝛ beaſtes yoked together.
Curriculum biuge, a carte with two hoꝛſes.
Leones biiugi, lyons yoked two and two toꝛgether.
Bilanx, oꝛ Bilans, ancis, fœm. ge. a beame with balances.
Bilbilis, a towne in Spayne.
Bilibra, æ, f. g. the weyght of two pounces.
Bilibris, bre, weyghyng two pounces.
Bilinguis, gue, double tounged. Alſo deceptefull, oꝛ that can ſpeake two languages.
Biliôſus, a, um, that is choloyke.
Bilis, bilis, fœ. gen. without any addition, moſte commonly ſignifieth choler, ſometyme anger, melancolynelſe.
Bilis atra, melancoly.
Bilis flaua, pelow choler.
Bilis rubea, choler myxt with bloud, oꝛ redde choler.
Bilem alicui mouere, to make angry.
Difficilis bilis, anger hard to be pleaſed.
Mediocri bili ferre.
Splendida bilis, anger that appereth and ſheweth it ſelfe.
Effundere bilem, to ſhew his anger.
Intumuit maſcula bilis, great anger was moued, oꝛ his great ſtomake oꝛ courage dyd ryſe oꝛ ſwell.
Percitus atra bili, very melancholy.
Reddere bilem, id eſt, vomere.
Bile ſuffuſi, they that haue the iaundiſe.
Bilix, icis, an adiective, as, Bilix lorica, a byꝛgandine oꝛ cote of fence double plated.
Billis, of the Affricanes is called the ſeede of man ſpilled on the earth. It is alſo a ryuer in Aſia not farre from Heraclia.
Bilûſtris, tre, that hath continued .ii. yeeres.
Bellum biluſtre.
Bilutes, olde wꝛiters vſed to call theym that were beaſtly.
Bimâris, re, that is betwene two ſeas.
Bimarítus, ti, maſc. gene. he that hath had two wyues.
Bimâter, tris, that hath two mothers.
Bimâtus, u, m. g. the ſpace oꝛ age of two yeres.
Bimémbris, bre, of .ii. partes, haupng two membꝛes.
Bimembres, ſubſtantiuely is taken foꝛ the Centaures.
Bimênſis, ſis, the ſpace of two monethes.
Bimêſtris, tre, two monethes olde, oꝛ two yeꝛs accompted of the mone.
Bimulus, a, um, idem quod Bimus.
Bimus, a, um, of two yeres.
Binus, a, um, two, idem quod duo.
Bini, two and two.
Binæ literæ, two letters.
Bini tabellarij, two meſſangers.
Bina iuga boum, two yoke of oxen.
Binis annis conuertuntur, in two yeres.
Corpus binum, a double body.
In bina findere, to cut in two peeces.
Fœtus binos alit vbere.
Binarius numerus, the number of two.
Binómius, a, um, & Binóminis, ne, that hath two names.
Bion, the name of a philoſophier.
Biothanatus, violently ſlayne.
Bipâlium, lij, neu. gen. a mattocke with two bittes.
Bipálmis, me, two handefull longe oꝛ large.
Bipara, ſhe that hath had two byrthes.
Bipârtio, iui, ire, to deuide in two partes. ſome vſe to wꝛite Bipertio, and bipertior.
Bipartito, in two partes.
Bipartito claſſis diſtributa.
Bipatens, téntis, om. ge. open on bothe ſydes.
Bipedâlis, & Bipedáneus, & Bipedânus, a, um, two foote longe oꝛ bꝛode.
Bipedali latitudine eſſe, to bee two foote bꝛoade.
Bipedalis moduli homines, men of the ſtature of two foote longe.
Bipedimui, people of Guian in Fraunce.
Bipénnifer, that hath two wynges, oꝛ that caꝛꝛieth a twybyll.
Bipénnis, ne, haupng two wynges.
Bipennis, is, f. g. a twybyll, wherwith caꝛpenteꝛs doe make theyꝛ moꝛtaſſes.
Bipes, bipedis, haupng two feete.

Bipin-

Bipinnella, called cõmonly Pympinella, of some Pampinula, & Bipennula, an herbe called Pimpernell.
Biremis, is, f. g. a shippe whiche hath two ranges of oares, or hauyng two oares in a seate.
Biremes leues, galeys.
Bis, twyse.
Bis terq, twyse or thryse, diuers tymes.
Bis mille equi, two thousande horses.
Bis quinus mensis, the tenth moneth.
Bis stulte facere, to play twyse the foole, to cõmitte double folie.
Bis terni nati, sixe children.
Bis deni, twenty.
Bis die, twyse a day.
Bis tanto, twyse as muche.
Bis bina, twyse two, fower.
Bis centum anni, two hundred yeres.
Bis falli, to be deceyued two waies.
Bisaltæ, a people in Scythia.
Bisaltis, or Bisalpis, the mayden, whome Neptune (tournyng hym selfe into a Ramme) rauyshed.
Biscargis, a citee in Spayne.
Bisellium, ij, n. g. a seate or fourme, wherein two men onely may sitte.
Biseta, an hogge, whan he beginneth to bee more than sixe monethes olde.
Bison, ontis, masc. gen. a beast hauyng one horne, and a very longe mane, some take it to be the same that is named Bubalus, a bugle or wylde oxe.
Bissextilis, le, Bissextilis annus, the leape yere.
Bissextus, one daye added to in foure yeres.
Biston, the sonne of Mars, whiche buylded Bistonia, a citee in Thrace, wherof the Thracians were called Bistonij, or Bistones, and theyr countrey Bistonia.
Bistonis, a citee, and also a great meere or poole in the countrey of Thrace.
Bistónius, a, um, of Thrace.
Bisúlcus, a, um, clouen footed.
Bisulca lingua, a forked tungue.
Bisultor, the surname of Mars, because he taketh double reuengement.
Bisurgis, a ryuer in Germany.
Bithus, the name of a sworde player.
Bithymum, hony gathered by the bees of two sortes of thyme.
Bithynia, a royalme in Asia, whiche nowe the Turke hath: On the north it hath the sea called Ponticum, on the southe Misia and Phrigia. it was called also Bebrycia, and Mygdonia.
Bithynicus, and Bithynus, a, um, of Bithynia.
Bithynium, a citee in Bithynia.
Bitienses, they that trauayle alwayes in straunge countreys.
Bituitus, was a kynge of the Auernes in Fraunce.
Bitúmen, inis, neu. gene. a kynde of naturall tyme, wherof the olde walles of Babylon were made. Of it were diuers kyndes: One lyke erthe, an other more liquide, lyke to molten pitche or oyle, whiche flameth whan it is touched with fyre.
Bituminátus, a, um, of or mixed with the clay called Bitumen.
Bitumineus, a, um, idem.
Biturges, Bourges in Fraunce.
Bitúrgia, a citee of the Thuscanes, called nowe Mallianum.
Biuira, or after some Biuita, a wydowe.
Biuium, ij, n. g. a way hauyng two pathes.
Biuius, a, um, that hath two wayes, or that leadeth two wayes.
Bizia, a strange holde or fortresse, of the kynges of Thrace.
Bizon, a citer of Thrace.

B ANTE L.

BLacterâre, to bleate lyke a ramme.
Blæsus, he that stammereth omittyng some wordes in speakyng.
Blanda, a citee in Italy.
Blandæ, a towne in Spayne called Blanes. They be also delectable thynges in readyng.
Blandè, an aduerbe, signifyng with fayre or pleasant wordes, graciously, amorously, flatteryngly, Blanditer idem.
Blande alloqui, to speake fayre or gentilly to a man.
Blande tentare aliquem, with fayre wordes to proue one.
Blande palpare, to stroke or touche softly.
Blande ac benigne hospitio accipere, to entertayne one courteysly and gentilly.
Blandicella, woordes gentilly spoken.
Blandicus, he that flattereth.
Blandídicus, a, um, a fayre speaker, or flatterer. A worde out of vse.
Blandíloquus, a, um, fayre spoken, that vseth fayre language.
Blandiloquens, idem.
Blandiloquéntia, æ, fœ. gen. fayre flatteryng speeche.
Blandiloquéntulus, a, um, a pleasant speaker.
Blandiméntum, ti, n. g. a thynge pleasantly done or spoken.
Blandimenta plebi dare, to flatter the common people.
Blandiménta fortunæ, the flateryng of fortune.
Blándior, ditus sum, iri, to flatter properly by touchinge, to speake fayre for a vauntage, to please, to delyte.
Blandiri vitiis, to excuse our faultes, or make lyght of them.
Fortuna fallaci blandita vultu, flatteryng with a false countenaunce.
Mirifice, suauiter, subdole, suppliciter blandiri.
Suauiter blanditur sensibus nostris voluptas,

Pleasure

Pleasure deliteth our senses gayly.
Blanditer, flatteryngly.
Blanditia, æ, fœ. ge. flattery, pleasant moeion, inticement by wordes, fayre speche.
Blanditiæ, arum, f. g. plu. fayre flatteryng wordes. Agere blanditijs, to intreate with fayre wordes.
Vendere blanditias, to speake fayre for a vauntage.
Blanditus, us, idem quod Blanditia.
Blanditus, a, um, flatteryng, pleasyng.
Blandus, a, um, flatteryng, or fayre spoken, pleasant, gentle, courteyse, alluring, mery. also delectable.
Blandus amicus, a flatteryng frende, that doeth and saieth all to please.
Blanda legentibus, pleasant vnto the readers.
Precum blandus, one that maketh fayer entreatie.
Alea blanda, flatteryng dice that allure men.
Amator blandus, a pleasant louer.
Labor blandus, pleasant trauell that greueth not.
Pestis blanda, Inxuria.
Blanda puella, a fayre damoyselI, a prety gyrle.
Blandus succus, swete and pleasant iuice.
Blanduria, a countrey in Italy, where Horace the poete had lande.
Blapsigónia, æ, fœ. gen. losse of generation, prouerbe in bees.
Blasgon, an ile in the mouth of the riuer Rhone.
Blasphémia, æ, f. g. cursynge, reprochynge, commonly blasphemy, whiche is now referred onely to the despite of god.
Blasphémo, aui, are, to course, to reproch, to speke in the derogation or despite of an other.
Blateæ, or Blatheæ, spottes of durte sprynkled on a man, as he iourneieth, or that is scraped from his shoes.
Blátero, ónis, m. g. a babbler, he that talketh to no purpose, a iangler that vseth many wordes.
Blátero, aui, are, to bable in vayne, and from the purpose, to clatter without measure, to make a noyse lyke a Camell.
Blátio, iui, ire, to speake or talke lyke a foole, or without any purpose or reason, to babble.
Blatta, tæ. f. g. a littell wourme or flie, of the kind of mothes and hurteth bothe clothes and bookes. It escheweth the lyght, and loueth darkenesse. Some thynke it to bee that flie, whiche vseth in the leame of a candell. Plinie maketh it a kynde of Beetles. Also the spike wourme. It is sometyme vsed for purple.
Blattária æ, fœ. g. an herbe called Moleyne, or a kynde of Moleine called Torche.
Blatteus, a, um, purple.
Vestis blattea, a purple garment.
Blax, softe, delicate, wanton, that cannot decerne thynges, blounte, foolysshe, and he that vaynly boasteth him selfe.
Blemmiæ, or Blemmyes, monstruous people in Ethiope towarde the southe, whiche haue no head, but their eyes and mouthe bee in their breastes.
Blenni, fooles, doltes.
Blepharo, ónis, he that hath great browes.
Bleptæ, a people in Thrike, whiche haue their eyes in their breastes.
Blerani, a people in Italy.
Bliteæ, a citee of Narbone, called sometyme Septumanorum colonia.
Bliteus, a, um, vnsauery.
Blitea meretrix, an vnsauery queane.
Blitus, or Blitum, in Greeke Bliton, an herbe beyng of the kynde of beetes, hauyng no sent.
Blitum, ti, n. g. an herbe, which some men suppose to be spinache. other call it Bleete.

B ANTE O.

BOa, æ, a serpent in Italy, so great and large that on a time whã one was killed, a chylde was founde whole in his bealy, as Plinie writeth.
Boa, is also a sykenesse, wherin the body is full of redde blysters. And, after Festus, a swelling in the legges after iourneying.
Boágrius, a ryuer of Locris.
Boália, playes made for the health of oxen and kyen, consecrated to the infernall goddes, as lemne bulbaityages.
Boárius, a, um, pertayning to an oxe.
Boarium forum, the market place, where oxen be solde.
Bobium, a towne on the cliffe of the mountayne Apœninus.
Bocalium, a towne of Arcadie.
Bocas, a fysshe, whiche hath his backe as it were peynted with diuers colours. Iouius affirmeth that he is taken in all costes in great scules. Notwithstandyng I doe not fynde his name in englysshe.
Bocatius, a learned man.
Bocchus, a kynge of Mauritania and Getulia, which deliuered Jugurtha bounde, to Sylla.
Bocchori, called also Concordienses, people of Portugall.
Bocchyris, a kynges name of Egypt, famous for his iustice.
Bocenses, people of Sardinia.
Boces, called of Theodorus Bocæ, a fysshe, that onely hath a vayne, whiche mought seeme to bee dogfysshe, whiche men saye, maketh a noyse lyke the barkyng of a dogge, after he is taken.
Bochiana, a towne of the Troglodites.
Boderia, called of Tacitus, Bodotria, a creke of the Britayn sea.
Bodin comagum, a towne in Italy, called also Industria.
Bodincas, the ryuer Poo in Italy.
Boca, a towne of Peloponesus in the goulfe Argolicum.

Bœbe, es, a citee and lake of Theſſaly.
Bœbeis, eidos, a lake of Theſſaly, & a place by it named after Bœbus, the ſonne of Glaphyrus.
Boemia, a royalme called Beame, incloſed wyth the boundes of Germany, haupnge on the eaſte Hungary: on the ſouth Bauier, on the weſt, the countrey Noricum. on the north eaſt Polonia. It is equall in length and bredth, eche of theym being about three dayes iourney. It is enuironned wyth the famous forest Sylua Hercynia. Throughe the middell therof paſſeth the greate riuer Albis, and the riuer Multania. Upon the ryuage wherof is ſette the cheefe citee Braga or Praga. The language there is the Sclauoyne tungue. Notwithſtandyng in the churches the people are taught in the duche tongue, in the church pardes they are taught in the beame tungue. They vary from the catholike fayth in ſundry opinions, and doe ſcorne all ceremonies. In ſome places they priuily obſerue the ſecte of the Adamites and waldenſis in the act of lechery: wherof it is written in the woordes Adamitæ & Vvaldenſes.
Boeodurum, a citee in Almayne, now called Patauia, or Paſſaw.
Bœótia, is a countrey in Greece, wherin was the citee of Thebes, now it is called Vandalia. It was ſometime called Aonia, Meſapia, Ogygia, Cadmeis, and Hyantis.
Bœótus, or Bœótius, a, um, of Bœotia.
Boëthi, they whiche helpe ſecretaries or clerkes, wherof Seuerinus Boethius was named.
Boetius, a learned man and Senatour of Rome, in the time of Theodoricus.
Boetus, a ryuer in Spayne.
Bogadium, a citee in Germany called vulgarlye Forſtleyſt.
Boges, a Perſian, whiche beynge beſieged of the Athenienſes, ſlew kylle hys wyfe and chyldren, and after him ſelfe.
Bogudiana, a parte of the prouince in Affrike, called Tingitana.
Bogus, a kynge of the Mauritaynes, whiche was with Antony at the battaple of Actium.
Bohemia, looke Boemia.
Bohilla, a towne in Italy.
Boiæ, arum, gyues or fetters as wel made of linnen as of yron.
Boianum, a citee of the Samnites in Italy, called now Bouianum.
Boij, people of Burbon in Fraunce, and Bauer in Almayne.
Boin, a towne in Lycene.
Boion, a towne of Dozis in Greece.
Bola, a towne of Campayne in Italy.
Boſbitinum, one of the mouthes of Nylus.
Bolbulæ, a towne and an plande in the ſea Mediterraneum.
Bolenia, a precioule ſtone.
Bolentium, a towne in Hungary, called Rachell ſpurg.
Boletus, a kynde of the beſt muſhromes.
Bolingæ, people of Affa.
Bolis, bólidis, f. g. a dart with wylde fire. alſo a plummet and line, wherwith ſhypmen do ſounde in the ſea, to fynde lande. Alſo a certayne fyry impreſſion in the ayre.
Bolitus, ti, a cow turde.
Bolitius, a, um, vyle.
Bolus, i, maſc. gen. a maſſe or lumpe of mettal or other lyke thyng, a pece or gobbet of any thynge. alſo a throw or caſt at dyce. alſo a draught wyth a nette in waters, the ſoundyng leade. it is alſo a morſell. By a metaphore it is taken for aduauntage.
Bolus terræ, a clodde of earthe.
Bolus argenti, a wedge or a pece of ſyluer.
Bolus e faucibus eripitur, A prouerbe, ſignifyng ſome vauntage or profitable thynge to be taken from vs ſodenly.
Bomarei, people of Affa.
Bombax, an aduerbe, ſpoken of him that ſetteth nought by that, which is ſpoken, as one wolde ſay, whan he is rebuked of a faute. And what than? or tuſhe, I care not for that.
Bombilo, aui, are, to humme lyke a bee.
Bombizátio, ónis, f. g. the noyſe that bees make.
Bombos, a countrey of Cilicia.
Bombus, i, maſc. gen. a great or a hoarſe ſowne or noyſe, as it were of a trumpet or gunne, a bounſe, a hummyng or hyſſyng, the hummynge or noyſe that a bee maketh. it is alſo the name of a certayne inſtrument.
Bombycinus, a, um, that is made of ſylke.
Bombycina veſtis, a garment of ſylke.
Bombylius, a humble bee.
Bombyx, ycis, ma. ge. a ſylke worme.
Bombyx, ycis, f. g. the ſylke.
Bomilcar, the ſonne of Amilcar, a duke of Carthage, whiche was hanged on a gibbet in the middes of Carthage.
Bomólochus, molochi, m. g. a common ſcoffer, or he that ſuſteyneth all villany to get money. It was alſo taken for a bote, that ſtoode at the aultars ende to ſteale away the candels.
Bona dea, was ſhe that ſome called Bona, Fauna or Senta, of whome Varro writeth, that neuer man dyd ſe her, nor here her named, but onely her huſbande.
Bonaria, æ, f. g. calmeneſſe of the ſea.
Bonâſus, ſi, ma. g. a beaſt like a bull, but broder and ſhorter, & hath a mane lyke an horſe, downe to the ſhoulders, but the heare is ſofter, and cometh downe to his eyes. The heare of hys body is lyke a bright ſorrel, his mane is darker coloured. The fleſhe of hym is pleaſaunt in eatynge, and is therfore hunted. But he renneth contynually till he be wery, and in his rennyng flyngeth and ſhooteth forthe his ſharde and dunge three furlonges from him, as Plinie writeth.
Bónitas, átis, f. ge. goodneſſe, honeſtee, and iuſtyce, beneficence.

Bónitas ſoli, the fertilitee of the earthe.
Bonni, certayne hylles in Etolia.
Bonónia, a towne of Hetruria.
Bononiénſis, ſe, of Bononia.
Bonum, i, n. g. good, whiche is contrary to yll.
Bonus, a, um, good, honeſte, propper, holſome, profitable, kauourable, beneuolent, peaſible, liberall, eaſy to ſpeake to, treatable. ſometyme rounnyng.
Bona, in the plu. numb. ſubſtaunce, goodes.
Bona paterna conſumere, to ſpende away his fathers goodes.
Bona caduca, the goodes of them that be condempned, goodes eſchetes.
Bona auita, that come by auncetours.
Adédere bona, to conſume his ſubſtance.
Adiudicare bona, by ſentence or iudgement, to apoincte who ſhall haue the goodes.
Bona prædia, the goodes whiche be lyable to euery action. looke præs, prædis.
Bonum cœlum, a good ayre.
Bona cauſa, a good and rightuous cauſe.
Genere bono natus, come of a good hynne.
Operam bonam nauare, to implore ones labour well, to doo a thynge that ſhall tourne to the profite of other.
Bono animo eſto, be of good courage or cheere.
Bono animo tranſeamus ad oppugnandum Carthaginem, let vs paſſe ouer hardely or curragiouſly. ꝛc.
Animo meliore tulit, he toke it more parteitly.
Bonis artibus, by honeſt meanes or factions.
Cœlum bonum, a good ayer.
Si bona conditio fuerit, emam, if I may be a gayner.
Eo meliore conditione vituperabit, with ſo much the more auauntage he ſhall. ꝛc
Exitus bonus, a good ende.
Lucrum bonum, great gayne.
Bona memoria.
Nuntius bonus, good tydynges.
Bona pars, a great parte.
Melior pars diei, the greater parte of the day.
Somno meliore fruêre, thou ſhalt ſleape more at thy eaſe.
Bone vir, ſpoken mockingly, o yt honeſt man.
Bona ſeptem habet in cõmeſtura hæc herba, this herbe is good to eate for ſower cauſes.
Bonus ad cætera.
Bonus bello, a good warriour.
Iaculo melior, runnynger at caſtyng the darte.
Pedibus melior, lyghter a foote, ſwifter to runne or go.
Sagittis melior, runnynger at ſhootynge, better archer.
Bono eis fuit, it was profitable for them.
Quod optimum factu videbitur, facies, as you ſhall thynke beſte.
Optimus quiſque, all honeſt men.
Bonum æquũque oras, it is honeſt and reſonable that you deſyre.
Bono literarum vti, to vſe the commoditie of learnyng.
Boni, vſed abſolutely, ſignifieth honeſt men, and of good eſtimacion and name.
Boni quoniam conuenimus ambo, becauſe we bothe beyng runnyng. ꝛc.
Bonus dormitat Homerus, id eſt, doctus.
Sis bonus, o, felixque tuis, id eſt, propitius.
Quoties id fecit ſẽperque publico bono, and alwayes with the cõmodite of the cõmon weale.
Manette bonum, ſome good thyng wil happen to thee.
Numerare in bonis, to reckon amonge his cõmodites.
Bonis rebus, in proſperite.
Bonam ſpem habere, to haue a good hope.
Bono eſſe alicui, to be profitable to one.
Multum bonus vir, a right honeſt man.
Bonum & æquum, looke Æquus.
Bona dicere, to repoze well.
Bona fide dicere, to ſay truly and playnly, without feignyng or diſſimulation.
Bona venia, by your leeue, no diſpleſure to you
Bona venia illud a te peto, with your leaue, or no diſpleaſure taken. ꝛc.
Bona venia me audies, you ſhall be diſpleaſed yf I tell you.
Bona verba quæſo, ſay well I pray you, or in mockynge: It is not as you ſay I truſt.
Bonæ ædes, a ſubſtauntiall houſe.
Bonæ fidei poſſeſſor, a keeper of truſt.
Boni conſulas, take it in good parte.
Æqui boni facias, idem.
Boni frugi, honeſt, of good conditions, thrifty.
Bona valetudo, good health.
Bonæ notæ vinum, wyne of a good ſorte.
Bonæ fidei emptor, he that meaneth good fayth in byynge, intendyng no deceyte.
Bonas horas male collocare, to loſe tyme, which mought be better ſpent.
Bonis auibus, with good luche.
Bono animo eſſe, to bee of good cheere.
Bono animo dicere aut facere, to ſpeake or do a thynge for a good intente.
Bono ingenio eſſe, to be debonaire, of a good nature.
Bono publico facere, to doe it for the common weale.
Boo, aui, áre, and Boo, is, iui, ire, to bellow lyke a cowe.
Boos, a huge great ſerpent lyuynge by the mylne of rudder beaſtes. Plin. li. 8.
Booſcœte, a citee of Helleſponte.
Booſura, a citee of Cyprus.
Boõtes, tis, and tæ, alſo Boõtus, ti, a ſterre that foloweth Charles wayne.
Borama, a citie of Phenicia.
Borbetomagus, or Vormatia, a towne in Almayne called wormes.
Borcani, people of Italy.
Borcobæ, a citee of Thrace.

Boreæ

Borex, or Borix, iasper stones.
Bóreas, æ, ma. g. the northeasterne wynde.
Bóreus, a, um, and Boreális, le, northwarde.
Bóreus polus, the northe sterre, called the Lodesterre.
Boreostoma, matis, one of the mouthes of Danubius.
Borix, the precious stones called Iaspides.
Borion, a promontory of Attike.
Borith, an herbe that fullers vse.
Boron, a towne of the Troglodites.
Borsippa, a towne of Babylon, where is muche woull wrought.
Borysthenes, a great riuer in the countrey of Scythia. also a towne.
Borysthenides, people dwellyng by Borysthenes.
Bos, ouis, com. ge. a rother beast, be it bull, ore, or cowe. sometyme money, wheron the figure of an ore was copned.
Bos in lingua, A prouerbe touchynge theym, which dare not speake the truthe, or wyll not, be cause they haue receyued money to holde theyr peace. For the Athenièes vsed a certaine copyne of money, with an ore figure theron.
Armenta boum, droues of oxen or kyne.
Custos boum, a cowe herde.
Terga boum, ore hydes.
Bouis lingua, or Bubula lingua, loke Bugloſſos.
Placide vel lente bos, supple, incedit, prouerbially, a softe syre maketh sweete malte: I wyll not bee to hastie, it is good bepnge merp and wyse.
Labores boum, the earth tilled by oxen.
Mugitus boum, lowyng of neate.
Bos cerebroſus, a madde ore.
Luci boues, wilde oxen called also, Vri.
Boues contumaces, reſtie or vnruled oxen.
Cruda bos, in Horace, a cowe that doeth not digeſt hir meate.
Boues diſiuncti, oxen vnpoked.
Feſsi boues, weary oxen.
Forda bos, a cowe great with clafe.
Immunis bos aratri, that neuer dyd drawe the ploughe.
Intacta bos. Lecti boues.
Macri boues, caren leane oxen.
Mutili boues, oxen that lacke hornes.
Opimi boues, ſtalle fedde oxen.
Paſſa iugum bos, an ore that hath ben poked.
Patuli boues, oxen with brode heads, or large hornes.
Perdomiti boues, broken to the poke.
Arare bobus, to eare with oxen.
Curare boues, to treſſe his oxen.
Bos enectus arando. Fatigare boues.
Errant boues, the oxen graſe.
Dente non petit bos, the ore biteth not.
Subiicere boues aratro, to putte oxen to the plough.
Boſca, a water foule lyke to a ducke, but somwhat leſſe: I iudge it a pocharde.
Boſchis, idis, f. g. a bryde that is fed in the houſe.
Boſirites, a kynde of oliue trees buſhie and full of leaues. also a precious stone.
Boſphoranus, or Boſphorius, a, um, of Boſphorus.
Boſphorus, looke Boſphorum.
Boſphorum, a kynde of conſecrated holy graine somewhat leſſe then wheate, as soone as it is mowed, threſhed, and wynowed, the mowers are ſworne, not to cary any of it away vntyll it be ſodde or baked, that the vſe and benefite of it may not be tranſferred into other countreys, Diodorus.
Boſphorus, the name of a part of the ſea, whiche lyeth in two ſundry coſtes, One by Conſtantinople, an other more northwarde.
Boſra, Bozra, or Bozra, a citee of Idumea.
Boſtar, an ore houſe.
Boſtrix, or Boſtricus, a buſhe of heare.
Boſtrychites, a precious stone lyke to womens here. Pli.
Boſyrites, a kynde of oliues, haupng many bowghes, white and ſpotted with ſanguine.
Botellus, li, m. g. looke Botulus.
Bóthryon, a certayne diſeaſe or ſore in the eye, Auicenna calleth it Anulum.
Botiei, people of Thrace.
Botrion, onis, idem quod Botrus. Also a certayne medicine.
Botris, or Botrys, tris, f. g. the herbe called ohe of Hieruſalem. some doe call this herbe Ambroſia.
Botrípes, a precious stone, in whiche blackenes is mixed with bloudie and whyte ſpottes.
Botrus, tri, m. g. a cluſter of grapes.
Botrys, a towne of Syria.
Botrytes, a precious stone lyke to a grape. also the firſt kynde of the herbe named Cadmia.
Botulárius, i, maſ. g. he that maketh or ſelleth puddynges or ſauſages.
Bótuli, they which haue much bludde.
Bótulus, i, ma. ge. a puddynge or ſauſage made of porke.
Botyllus, li. m. g. a litle cluſter of grapes.
Bouâre, idem quod Boare.
Bouâtim, lyke an ore.
Bouiana fames, idem quod Bublimia.
Bouianum, an olde towne in Italy.
Bouicida, cidæ, com. g. a ſlaughter man.
Bouile, bouilis, n. g. an ore ſtalle.
Bouillæ, arum, a towne not farre from Rome.
Bouillus, a, um, belongyng to neate, or of neate, as, Caro Bouilla, broſſe.
Bouinâlis, a ſhrubbe, called also Paronychia. Dioſc. li. 4. cap. 57.
Bouinâtor, óris, ma. ge. he that with great noyſe crieth out on an other man, or he that taunteth or rebuketh.
Bouinor, âris, to taunte, cherke, or rebuke, to crie out on one.

BRabaſtenes, an hill. x. myles from Lacedemonia.

Brabeuta, & Brabeütes, tæ, ma. g. he that is ordeyned iudge in any game, of wꝛaſtlynge, rennyng, oꝛ leappng. Alſo he that beareth the kynges ſcepter.

Brabyla pruna, the plummes called Damoſens.

Brabium, oꝛ Brauium, uꝫ, n. ge. the rewarde oꝛ pꝛyce, geuen to the beſt doers in common games.

Bráccha, æ, oꝛ Bracha, æ. f. gen. that kynde of mantell, whiche now commeth out of Irelande, oꝛ a longe garment made of rough ſtyfe. Alſo a bꝛeeche, ſloppe, oꝛ codpiece.

Laxæ brachæ, wide ſloppes.

Bracchárius, ij, ma. g. he that maketh ſuche garmentes oꝛ bꝛeeches.

Brachara, a citee in Spayne called Braga.

Brachâtus, oꝛ Bracchatus, a, um, that weareth ſuche a garment, mantell, oꝛ bꝛeeche.

Brachata Gallia, Narbone in Fraunce.

Brachiále, is, n. gen. a bꝛaceletie. it may be alſo vſed foꝛ a bꝛacer.

Brachiális, le, of the arme.

Brachiâtus, a, um, that hath armes oꝛ thynges lyke armes.

Brachiâta vinea, a vyne that hath longe bꝛanches lyke armes.

Brachioniſter, eris, a bꝛaceler oꝛ lyke oꝛnamente wozne on the arme.

Brachium, brachij, n. g. an arme, pꝛoperly of a man. it is alſo in hilles, vynes, tyuers, ſeas, fiſches, beſtes, and other thinges.

Leui brachio, oꝛ molli brachio aliquid facere to do a thyng negligently, oꝛ lyghtely, and without peyne.

Porrectio Brachij, the ſtretchinge oute of the arme. Contractio brachij, the pulling in of the arme.

Proiectio brachij, the caſtynge oute of the arme.

Brachium maris, an arme of the ſea.

Brachium piſcis, the fynne of a fyſſhe.

Brachia arboris, the great boowes of a tree.

Molli brachio aliquem obiurgare, to rebuke one gentlie.

Brachia montium, the armes of hilles.

Brachia in vitibus, the longe bꝛanches.

Alterna brachia iactare, to caſt and wagge his armes, one after an other.

Cerea Brachia, nice tender armes as ſofte, as ware.

Cæleri brachio vti, to moue his armes faſte.

Retorta brachia tergo, armes bound behinde.

Circundare, injcere, implicare, brachia collo, to take one aboute the neeke with hys armes.

Concauere brachia in arcum, to ſet his armes a kenbowe.

Contrahere brachium, to dꝛawe in his arme towarde his body.

Curuare brachia, Demittere brachia, to lette downe his armes by his ſyde.

Efferre brachia, to holde vp his armes.

Exerere brachia, to put out hys armes oute of his robe, oꝛ gowne.

Extentum brachium:

Fidere brachijs, to truſt to his ſtrength.

Fregit brachium.

Iactare brachia, to wagge the armes.

Nectere brachia, to entangle the armes as men doe in wꝛaſtelynge.

Brachodes, a citee in Aſrike, called Monexi.

Brachycatalecticum carmen, a verſe lackyng one ſyllable oꝛ moe.

Brachycatalecton, where ſillables lacke at thende of a verſe.

Brachilogia, ſhoꝛtneſſe of ſpeeche.

Brachmanes, philoſophiers of Jndia.

Bráctea, æ, f. g. golde foyle, oꝛ thynne leaues, oꝛ rapes of golde, ſyluer, oꝛ other mettall.

Bractex ligni, lyttle thynne peeces of wodde.

Bracteárius, ij, m. g. he that maketh ſuche leaues, a golde beater, a golde layer, a gylter.

Bractearia, æ, f, g. the arte of a golde beater, oꝛ gylter.

Bracteátor, oris, maſ. ge. the ſame that Bracteárius.

Bracteóla, æ, f, g. a lyttell leafe oꝛ rape of golde, ſyluer oꝛ other mettall.

Bracteatum, ti, that is couered oꝛ laped ouer with thynne and flatte peeces of golde, oꝛ other mettall.

Bractia, an yle of Illiricum.

Bragada, a riuer nere to Utica in Aſrike.

Bragæ, certayne deſerte plaines.

Brana, a towne of Turdulians in Spayne.

Branchiæ, arum, f. g. plu. nu. the gilles of fyſſhe.

Branchidæ, certeyne prieſtes of Appollo, in Poſſideum, a towne of Jonia.

Branchos, the rume oꝛ tattare that falleth downe by the cheekes.

Branchoſi, people of Aſia.

Brannouites, people of a countrey in Fraunce, called Le vale de Moyane.

Braſidas, a capitayne of Lacedemonia.

Bráſsica ruſtica, idem quod Apocynon.

Bráſsica, cæ, f. g. called of the Greeches Crambe, of the apotheearies Caulis, colewoꝛtes. Of it bee dyuers kyndes, but im. moſte commonly in vſe.

Bráſsica marina, ſea kole ſote.

Bráſsica capitata, cole cabes.

Bráſsica ſyluéſtris, an herbe of the kinde of colewoꝛtes, growyng by the ſea ſyde, muche lyke vnto the garden colewoꝛte, but moꝛe whitiſſh, rough and bitter.

Brathis, this, f. g. the herbe called in latin Sabina, in engliſh Sauine.

Brattia, an yle in the pꝛouince of Marſi.

Brauium, looke Brabium.

Brauron, a towne in the countrey of Athens, where was a chapell of Diana.

Brauum

Brauum, the citee of Burgus in Spayne.
Breges, Briges, and Phryges, idem.
Bregmenteni, people of Troas.
Brenda, the towne of Brundufe in Italy.
Breno, or Brennus, a capitayne or leader of the Frenchemen called Galli, whiche buylded Verona, a citee of Venice.
Brenthiæ, a certayne kynde of rootes, with the whiche women were wonte to peincte theyr faces ruddie.
Bephotróphium, or Bephotróphia, æ, fœ. g. an hospital, where childerne be kept and nourished.
Brepium, a promontorie of Achaia.
Bretena, called now Brintum, the citee Brindes in Italy.
Bretoleum, a towne of Portugall, now called Britium.
Breuci, a people of Pánonie, by the riuer Sauue.
Breui, shortly, brickely, in fewe wordes. also in shorte space.
Bréuia, orum, shalow places in the water, where one may wade.
Breuiárium, rij, n. g. a compendious draughte, a briefe collection or brigement of any thynge, a summarie, a regeste.
Breuiculus, a litteli short man.
Breuiloquens, tis, om. gen. he that vseth fewe wordes.
Breuiloquéntia, æ, fœm. ge. a shorte forme of speakyng.
Breuilóquium, quij, neu. g. the same.
Breuiloquus, qui, mas. gen. he that speaketh his mynde in fewe wordes.
Bréuio, dui, áre, to abridge or make shorter.
Breuis, breue, short brefe, compendious.
Breui tempore, shortly, in short space.
Breuis esse laboro, I indeuour to be shorte.
Breue donum, a gyfte that wyll not longe continue.
Breue vitæ reliquum, a short space of our life remayneth.
Frons breuis, a shorte forehead.
Gaudium breue, shorte ioye.
Summa breuis, a small summe or price.
Breue facere aliquid, to make a thynge shorte.
In breue cogi, to be brought into a streight.
Breuis occasio, a sodayne occasion.
Breuis sermo, shorte communication.
Breuibus aliquid dicere, to speake a thynge in fewe wordes, to tell quickely, or at ones.
Spe breuius, sooner than ye thought.
Breui, in shorte space, ere it bee longe. also, in fewe wordes.
Complecti breui, to comprehende in fewe woordes.
Breui postea, soone after.
Breuiori summa emere, to bye at a lesse price.
Breuissima terra, litteli grounde, a small plotte of lande.
Breuis, ma. g. & Breue, n. g. an abridgement or shorte regester, conteynyng the briefe some of any thyng.

Bréuitas, átis, fœ. g. shortenesse, briefenesse, compendiousnesse.
Breuitas & contractio.
Breuitatis causa, to be short, or because I will be shorte.
Breuitas diei.
Breuitas pedum, the shortnesse of ones feete.
Breuitas arboris, the lowenesse of a tree.
Breuiter, shortly, quickly, in fewe wordes.
Breuiter & cursim aliquid attingere.
Breuiter audire.
Breuiter & absolute complecti.
Breuiter summatimque descripsit.
Breuiter dixit.
Breuiter & in transcursu aliquid dicere.
Breuni, people of the Alpes.
Briareus, a gygant, whiche was of an excedynge greatnesse, and had an hundred armes. he was also called Egeon.
Brias, adis, a citee of the countrey Picidia, in Asia.
Brigantes, were auncient people in the Northe parte of Englande.
Brigantium, a citee in Galicia, called Compostella.
Brigetium, a citee of Spayne now called Oniodo.
Brigiani, people of the Alpes.
Brilessus, an hill in the countrey of Athens.
Briletum, a mountayne in Athens.
Brion, an herbe called also pes galli.
Brisa, æ, a grape, whan it is troden with menne feete, to presse out the wyne. of some it is taken for the kernels of grapes.
Brisabritæ, people of Asia.
Briseis, eidis, a layre damosell that was geuen to Achilles, and taken from hym by Agamemnon: wherupon grewe greate trouble in the Grecyes hoste at the siege of Troye.
Brisseus, a um, of Bryse the surname of Bacchus.
Britanica, an herbe lyke greate sorell, but blacker thicker, and therwith mosye, the roote blacke and litteli, the taste strengneth the tungue.

BRitania, the moste noble Ile of the worlde, wherin be conteyned England and Scotlande. It lieth from Germany weste, from Fraunce and Spayne, west northweste. The fourme therof is lyke a triangle: and (as some haue written (lyke the blade of a sieue. The length is extended into the northe to the further moste part of Scotlād, called Calidonia, which Plinius, Solinus, and Marcianus doo agree to bee. 800. miles. The bredth of it (after Marcianus) is. 300. Italyan myles. The narrowest dystaunce betweene thys yle and Caleys sandes (called of Plinie Gesforiacum in Gallia) is. 50. Italyan myles. It is now gessed to bee 30. englysh myles. Of the fyrst nampnge of thys yle is yet no certaine determination, for asmuch as there remaynyth no auncient hiſtoꝛy, makyng therof remembꝛaunce, the olde Bꝛytons bookes (ſuche as were) beynge all deſtroyed by the Saxones: who indeuoured them ſelfe to extynct vtterly the honourable renoume with the name of Bꝛitons, lyke as the Gothes delt wyth the Romaynes. Alſo the parte of Titus Liuius, where the conqueſt of Bꝛitaine is remembꝛed, with the hyſtoꝛies of Julius Ruſticus, and dyuers other noble wꝛiters, that wꝛate ſpecially of this counꝛtrey, are vtterly periſhed. Suche as remayne, as the commentaries of Julius Cæſar, Cornelius Tacitus, Diodoꝛus Siculus, & they that wꝛate of Coſmographie, haue omitted the oꝛiginal beginning of the name. The hiſtoꝛy of Gyldas the Bꝛiton, can not be founde, who was after the Saxons had inuaded this rotalme. And therfoꝛe mought lacke ſuche bookes, as ſhould beſte inſtruct him. As foꝛ Beda ſeemeth to haue ſeen no thynge wꝛitten of that mattier. Foꝛ where he ſaieth, that this ple tooke the name Britania, of the inhabitantes of Bꝛitayne in Fraunce: is no thynge like to be true. Foꝛ that countrey was (not longe beſoꝛe the time of Beda) named Armorica & Armoricus tractus, whan thys ple was called of moſt auncient wꝛiters Britania, & (as Solinus wꝛiteth) ſeemed to be, an other woꝛlde, foꝛ as muche as the weſt parte of Gallia was thought to be the vttermoſte parte of thys woꝛlde. Alſo Julius Cæſar wꝛiteth, that the places of this ple were vnknowen to Frẽchmen, ſauyng to a few marchaunters: and yet they knew no farther then the ſea coſte towarde Fraunce.

Moꝛeouer the ſame Bꝛitõs affyꝛme, that it was left amonge them in remembꝛaunce, that the innermoſt parte of the countrey, was inhabited of them, whiche had theyꝛ fyꝛſt beginnynge in the ſame ple. This well conſiderd, with the auctoꝛitee of the wꝛiter, bothe an excellent pꝛince, and alſo a great learned man, and was hym ſelfe in thys ple: it is not to be doubted, but that he moſt diligently ſerched foꝛ the true knowledge of the auncientee therof. And if he mought haue founden, that the inhabitauntes had come of the ſtocke of Eneas, of whoſe pꝛogenie he hym ſelfe came, he wouldе haue reioyced muche, foꝛ the pꝛoweſſe and valiant courage, whych he commẽded in them. Moꝛeouer, that the name began of Bꝛutus (whome our wꝛiters imagined to deſcende of Eneas the Troyane) is no moꝛe lykely, than that this ple was called Albion of Diocleſians daughter, oꝛ of white rockes. All the olde Latyne hiſtoꝛians agree, that the ſonne of Siluius, the ſecond in ſucceſſion from Eneas, and of them named the ſonne of Aſcanius, was Eneas, called alſo Siluius. wherunto the Greekes doe alſo accoꝛde, but they name Siluius to be bꝛother to Aſcanius: & boꝛne after the death of Eneas, & was therfoꝛe called Poſthumus. But neyther the Romayns noꝛ the Greekes dooe wꝛite of any man called Bꝛutus, beꝛe Julius Bꝛutus, whiche expelled Tarquinius out of Rome. Whiche name was alſo gyuen to hym (by the ſonnes of Tarquine) in deriſion, becauſe they tooke him to bee fooliſhe and dull witted. Moꝛeouer, there is ſo muche dyuerſitee betweene Britania and Brutus, that it ſeemeth agaynſt reaſon, that the one ſhoulde pꝛocede of the other. Foꝛ if Bꝛutus had ben the geuer of the fyꝛſt name to this ple, he would haue called it Brutia, oꝛ Brutica, rather then Britania, which hath no maner pꝛopoꝛcion oꝛ analogie with Bꝛutus. But now will I (as I haue doen in the woꝛd Albion) declare a reaſonable cauſe of coniecture, why thys ple was named Britania. About. xxx. yeres ſens, it hapned in wyltſhyꝛe, at Jup churche, aboute. ii. miles from Saliſbury, as men digged to make a foundacion, they founde an holow ſtone couered with an other ſtone, wherin they founde a booke, haupnge in a litle aboue. xx. leaues (as they ſayd) of verp thicke pelime, wherin was ſome thynge wꝛitten. But whan it was ſhewed to pꝛieſtes and chanons, whiche were there, they coulde not reade it. wherfoꝛe after they had tolled it from one to an other (by the meane wherof it was toꝛne) they dyd neglect and caſt it a ſyde. Longe after a piece therof hapned to come to my handes. whiche not withſtandynge it was all to rente and defaced, I ſhewed to maiſter Richard Pace, than chiefe ſecretary to the hynges moſt royall maieſtie, whereof he exceedyngly reioyſed. But becauſe it was partly rent, partly defaced & blourred with weate: whiche had fallen on it, he coulde not finde any one ſentence perfect. Notwithſtandyng after longe beholdynge, he ſhewed me, it ſeemed that the ſayed booke conteined ſome auncient monument of this ple, & that he perceyued thys woꝛde Prytania, to be put foꝛ Britania. But at that time, he ſayd no moꝛe to me. Afterward, I gyuyng muche ſtudye diligence, to the readyng of hyſtoꝛies, conſyderyng wherof thys woꝛde Britania fyꝛſt came, fyndyng that all the yles in this parte of the Occean, were called Britaniæ, after my fyꝛſte coniecture of Albion, remẽbꝛyng the ſayd wꝛityng, and by chaunce fyndyng in Suidas, that Prytania in greke, with a circũflexed aſpiration, doeth ſignifie mettalles, faires and markets, alſo reuenues belongyng to the cõmune treaſure: I than conceyued this opinion, that the Greekes flouriſhyng in wiſdome, pꝛoweſſe, & experience of ſaylyng, beynge entred into the occean ſea, founde in the yles greate plenty of tyn, leade, yꝛon, bꝛaſſe, & in diuers places golde and ſyluer in great quantitee, they called all thoſe yles by this generall name Prytania, ſignifiyng the place, by that whiche came out of it, as one woulde ſaye, he wente to market, whan he goeth to Inwarpe, oꝛ Barrow: oꝛ to the fayre, whan he goeth to Sturbꝛidge: oꝛ to hys reuenues, whan he goeth to anye place, from whens hys reuenues dooe come. And yet, becauſe thys ple excelled all the other in euery condition, it was of ſome pꝛyuately called Albion, that is to ſaye, moꝛe happye oꝛ richer. This coniecture appꝛoueth cheth more nighe the true similitude, than the other inuentions, excepte there bee any auncient history before the time of Geffrey of Monmouth or Beda, which may more probably confute that I haue declared. To suche will I gladly giue place. Finally I thought it alwayes more honourable, to haue receyued the fyrste name by such occasion as I haue rehersed: And the generation of the inhabitantes of this lande, to bee eyther equall with the moste auncient, or myxed with the moste wyse and valyant people of Greece, vanquishers and subduers of Troianes: than to take the name and firste generacion of a vayne fable: or of a man, if any suche were, which after he had slayne hys father, wandred aboute the worlde, vncertayne where to dwell. Also to aduaunte vs to come of the Troyanes, causers of theyr owne countreys destruction, by fauouringe the aduoutry of Paris and Helena, Of whome neuer proceded any other notable monumente, but that they were also breakers of theyr othe and promesse. yet this folye is founde almoste in all people, whiche contende to haue theyr progenitours come fyrste oute of Troye. whiche fantasye maye well bee laughed at, amonge wyse men. The fayeth of Christ was first receyued in this royalme, after the incarnation. 156. yeres.

Britannicus, a, um, of Bytayne.

Britanneum, nei, n. g, a galery or walkyng place of marble stone.

Britannus, ni, & Brito, onis, a man of that countrey, an englyshe man.

Britona, a nymph of Crete, whiche kepynge to be rauyshed of Minoys, caste her selfe into the water.

Brixellum, a towne in Italye betwene Mantua and Cremona.

Brixia, Bressa, a citee in Italy. also a ryuer in Asia.

Brixillum, a towne by Mutina.

Brochidentes, the teeth that stande bendyng outwarde.

Brochitas, ātis, f. g. the crookednesse or bendynge out of the teeth.

Brochus, a, um, idem quod Bronchus.

Brochus, chi, m. g. a certayne vessell, whiche men vse, bothe to fyll and empty great wine vesselles, a tunnell, also a measure lesse than vrna by the halfe. that is, a galon and a pottell.

Bromius, mij, one of the names of Bacchus.

Bromos, the seede of a weede that groweth among corne, of the kynde of wylde otes, and was vsed of the olde Grecians for wylde otes. Dioscorides taketh it for otes. the description of Plinius, lib. 22. cap. 25. doeth not swarue muche from the description of otes. Cratas sayth it is a kynde of barley.

Bromus, one of the Centaures.

Brônchi, they which haue tut mouthes.

Bronchocele, a swellyng in the chekes or throte.

Bronchus, a, um, and Brochus, a, um, that hath the nether iawe longer than the other, with the teeth bendyng out. tutte mouthed.

Bronchus, chi, ma. g. the innermoste parte of the throte.

Broncon, a blacke tree, of the bignesse of an olyue, with a leafe like an oke, and frute lyke to wylde figges.

Brontes, a Cyclop, one of Vulcanes seruauntes, and is interpreted thunder.

Bronteus, the surname of Jupiter.

Brôntia, æ, a thynge lyke the head of a snayle, falsynge with the thunder, It quencheth suche thynges as be fyred with lyghtnynge, a thunder stone.

Brôntion, the herbe called also Aizoum minus.

Broteas, one of the Lapithes.

Brotheus, the sonne of Vulcane, who bryng mocked for his yll fauouredneſſe, bourned hym selfe in the fyre.

Bruchus, bruchi, ma. ge. a flie lyke to a locuste, which eateth corne as it groweth.

Brucia, a kynde of pitche somewhat more ruddie and fatte than the common pitche, loke Col. lib. 12. cap. 19.

Brullitæ, people of Ephesus.

Bruma, æ, fœ. gen. properly the stay of the sunne in wynter, the shortest day of the yere, commonly wynter.

Iners bruma, that maketh men slothfull.

Bruma cano horrida gelu.

Brumæ terdenæ, thirty wynter.

Tot brumis. Cic.

Mitior bruma, a mylde wynter.

Horrida, sæua, nimbosa bruma, an harde, rough, and stormy wynter.

Frigida bruma, a colde wynter.

Brumalis, le, belongyng to wynter.

Brundulum, an haven of the ryuer Atesis.

Brundusium, a citee in the royalme of Naples.

Bruscandula, looke Bryon.

Brupeo, ere, olde writers vsed for Erupeo, to bee abashed.

Brusa, a citee of Bithynia, builded by Annibal.

Bruscum, ci, neu. g. a bouncbe or knur in a tree, specially in bore, or the tree called Acer.

Bruscum, sci, neu. ge. an herbour or hedge made with thornes and briers wounde together.

Bruta, a certayne tree like to Cipres, hauyng whitish leaues, and maketh a pleasant sauour when it is burned.

Brutianæ parinæ, certayne tergates, which the Bytians dyd vse.

Brutiarij, they whiche were wonte to execute seruile ministeries to the Romans, because the Bytians were put there vnto for that they dyd fyrst forsake the Romans, and went to Annibal after the ouerthrow at Cannas.

Brutij, people of the royalme of Naples ioygnyng to Sicile.

Brutius, a, um, of the Bytians.

Brutus, a, um, dull, or grosse witted lyke a beast, brute, without reason, or condition.
Bruta tellus, spoken of the earthe, because it hath no sense nor feelyng.
Bruta fulmina, sodayne lightenynges, that chaunce without naturall cause.
Bruta fortuna, foolysshe and blynde fortune, haupnge no consideration in thynges.
Bruta animalia, brute beastes.
Brutus, the name of a familie in Rome, wherof were diuers very notable men.
Brya, æ. fœ. ge. a littel bushe or heathe, wherof they make brushes, to brushe clothes. It beareth a fruite lyke galles, and is called also Myrice, and Tamarice.
Brayzon, a ryuer in Bithynia.
Brygion, a citee of Macedonie.
Bryon Thalassion, or muscus marinus, of two sortes, the one described of Dioscorides to bee very small after the maner of heares, whiche is also in.ii. sortes, the one vsena marina, sea mosse, the other Lozallina, both haue very small branches. the other sorte of Bryon is described of Plinie to haue leaues lyke lettice, and is called in Englisshe slanke.
Bryon, bryi, n. g. or as some write it Bryton, an herbe, haupnge leaues like white vyne, it is called also Lupus salictarius, Lupulus, commonly Humulus: in Italy Bruscandula, in Englysshe hoppes, wherewith beere is made.
Bryónia, æ, f. g. called also Vitis alba, Viticella, and Psilotrum, a wylde vine, whiche groweth in hedges, & hath redde bearies, the iuyce wherof touchyng the skynne, will cause it to blister. Some doo call it Brionie, or wilde neppe.
Brysæ, people of Thrace.
Brysanæ, people of Scythia.
Brysea, a citee of Laconia.
Bryseus, a name of Bacchus.

B ANTE V.

BV, olde writers vsed to sette thys syllable before wordes, whan they signified any thynge to be greate, as, Bupedæ, greate chylderne.
Bua, æ, fœ. g. the worde of ponge chyldern, whan they aske for drynke, with vs they vse to saye Bumme.
Bubalinus, a, um, of a bugle.
Bubalina stragula, couerynges or horse clothes made of buffe leather.
Búbalus, a peynter of Clazomena.
Búbalus, li, com. gene. a beaste called a bugle, a wilde ore.
Bubastis, a citee in Egypt, wherin was a temple of Diana.
Bubasus, a countrey of Caria.
Bubeium, a countrey of Cyrene.
Bubessus, a goulfe of the sea in Caria.
Bubetani, a people of Campayne.
Bubétiæ, or Buberij ludi, feastes, wherin was great huntynge of bulles and oxen, as bullbaytynges, and such lyke.
Buberij, they which set forth those playes.
Bubeum, a kynde of wyne.
Bubile, lis, n. g. an ore house.
Bubinda, a ryuer in Irelande.
Búbino, âui, are, act. to defile with the menstruous flixe.
Bubo, bubónis, the m. g. sometime, f. g. a shyche oule. looke after in bubones.
Bubulat bubo, the oule howleth.
Bubo, is, ere, to crie lyke a bittour.
Bubo, a citee in Lycia.
Bubóna, or Bubónia, the goddesse of oxen.
Bubónes, m. g. botches or impostumes, specially about the share or members, also the partes aboute the pryuy members.
Bubónium, nij, n. g. looke After.
Bubonocele, nocéles, f. g. a dysease, where the bowell is brast by the share of a man, towarde his pryuy members.
Búbsequa, com. gen. a cowherde.
Búbula, læ, f. g. beefe.
Bubúlcito, aui, are, to play the herde man.
Bubúlcus, ci, m. gen. an hearde man, or he that goeth to plough with oxen.
Búbulus, a, um, that whiche belongeth to an ox or cow: as, Lac bubulum, cow mylke.
Bubulum corium, an ore hyde.
Buca, a towne in Italy.
Bucar, a certayne vessell.
Bucárdia, æ, fœ. g. a stone lyke to a bugles or ore hart. Plin. li. 37.
Bucca, cæ, f. gen. the holownesse of the cheke or mouth.
Buccæ fluentes, waggyng chekes.
Quicquid in buccam venerit loquitur, He speaketh at aduenture, or withoute aduisement.
Inflare buccas, to be angry, or swell for anger.
Bucca, is vsed of Iuuenall for ppers.
Búccea, æ, f. g. a morsell.
Buccella, læ, f. g. the same.
Buccellárij, orum, were certayne souldioures of the Romaynes in the easte partes, whiche after they were dimissed, liued by robbynge and steallynge.
Buccellárius, rij, m. g. one of Gallogræcia.
Buccellâtum, ti, n. g. breade called bysket, twyse baked and made in small cakes.
Búccina, búccinæ, f. g. a trumpet. Also an horne or like thyng, wherwith shepeherdes and swines herdes vsed to call their beastes togeather.
Inflare búccinâ, to blowe or sowne the trũpet.
Vt ad tertiam buccinam præsto essent, That they should be ready at the thyrde sowne of the trumpette.
Buccinâtor, toris, m. g. a blower in a trumpette, a spreader of fame, a trumpettour.
Búcino, aui, âre, to blow a trumpette, or sette forth a mans prayse or dispraysse.

Búccinum

Búccinum, ni, n. g. or Buccinus, ni, m. g. the sowne of a trumpette. It is also a shell, suche as bee made at Sainct Cornelis, wherin one may blowe as in a trumpet. It is also a kynde of shelfyshe in the sea, in fourme lyke a horne. Plinie li. 9.

Buccônes, num, ma. g. they whiche haue greate cheekes.

Bucculenti, idem.

Búccula, læ, f. g. a little cheeke. Also that parte of the helmet, wherby wynde is taken. also the creste of the helmet.

Bucculéntus, a, um, that hath great cheekes.

Búcea, cæ, f. g. a thin huske in a beane within the hull.

Bucentaûrus, ri, m. g. a great shyppe or carrike.

Bucéntes, centis, m. g. a stynging gnatte.

Bucéntrum, tri, n. g. a pyche of a gode.

Bucéphalus, céphali, m. g. an horse, which wold suffre no man to come on his backe but onely great kyng Alexander: who syttyng on hym did meruaylous battayles, and escaped wonderfull dangers. Finally beyng. xxx. yeres old, he died, not of any wounde, but onely by extreme labors and sundry bruses. Ouer whom Alexander builded the citee called Bucephala, after the horses name. This citee is in India, where Alexander vanquished Porus.

Bucéphalus, doth signifie an oxe head.

Buceras, cératis, n. g. called also Fenogræcum. Carphos, Aegoceras, the herbe Fengreke.

Bucériæ, heardes of neate.

Búcerus, a, um, of neate or horned beastes.

Búcere armenta, heardes of neate.

Búcerum pæcus, an heard of rother beastes.

Bucheides, an herbe called also Satyrium regium, Digiti Citrini, of the apothecaries Palma Christi, because the roote is lyke an hand. Of it bee two sortes, the male, whiche hath leaues without spottes, and a purple flower: The female hath broder leaues and spotted.

Buchia, a place of Jonia. It is vsed of the grekes for Buccina.

Bucia, a citee in Sicilie, called now Butera.

Bucinua, a litle yle in the Cilician sea.

Bucólica, órum, n. g. verses wherein shepeherdes or herdemen doo speake.

Bucólicus, a, um, pertaynyng to the kepynge of bullockes.

Bucolicũ carmen, a poeme made of herd men.

Bucólicon, or as some write it Bucolon, an herbe of the kynde of Panax, lyke vnto Ferula, and groweth in Arcadie, in Macedonie and Affrike, and hath very great and rounde leaues.

Bucolon, the sonne of Laomedon.

Búcolus, idem quod bubulcus.

Bucránion, the herbe called vitis nigra. Dioscorides.

Buculla, æ, a ponge cowe, a heifer.

Buculus, li, m. g. a calfe, a steere, a bullocke.

Buda, the chiefe citee in Hungarie, whiche hath by the walles two bathes: The one verie colde, the other so hotte, that it can not bee suffered, wherein is muche fyshe, which being sod, hath no taste. This citee is called Offen.

Budea, a citee in Magnesia, an other in Phrygia.

Budoræ, two yslandes by Candie.

Budorgis, the citee Brestlan in Germanie.

Budoris, a citee in Almaine called Heidelbergh, belongynge to the Palsegraue or counte Palantine.

Bufo, ônis, m. g. a tode.

Buges, a ryuer of Scithia in Europe.

Bugla, after Carolus Stephanus, is the vulgar name of the herbe Symphitum petreum.

Bugloſſa, Bugloſſum magnum, Circion, and Bouis lingua, Bugloſſe, Langue du bœfe.

Bugloſſa, a certayne fysh called also solea, as some haue thought, a sole.

Bugloſſos, gloſsi, fœm. gen. & Bugloſſum, ſsi, neu. gen. called also Bubula lingua, & Bouis lingua, of the apothecaries Borago, in englishe Bozage.

Bugones, gõnum, ma. ge. bees, because they bee sometyme engendred of an oxe bodie. Varro de re rust.

Bulápathum, thi, neu. gen. an herbe called patience.

Bulbaceus, a, um, belongyng to such herbes as haue rounde rootes.

Bulbine, es, fœ. ge. an herbe haupnge leaues lyke lekes, and a purple floure, verie medicinable for greene woundes. it is named dogges leeke. Some vse this woorde for Scalions or chibols.

Búlbito, aui, are, to cast durte on one. It is proprely of childerne, whiche nourses doo name, catchyng.

Bulbôſus, a, um, haupnge lyttle rounde heades in the rootes.

Bulbus, i, m. g. is taken generally for euery roote that is rounde, as onions or turneps, of which one kynde doeth meruaylously prouoke the carnall luste, and stirreth appetyte, whiche shoulde seeme to be scalions:

Bulbus syluestris, our ladies cousslappes.

Bulbos quærit, he looketh for onyons: A prouerbe applied to them that behold the grounde as they go.

Buleuta, æ, ma. ge. one of the counsailours of a citee, a Senatour.

Buleuterion, rii, n. g. a great buildyng, wherein is nother prson pynne, nor naple, so ioygned that euery beame and rafter maie be taken awaie. It is also a counsayle house.

Bulga, gæ, fœ. g. a male or boudget of lether. also a purse or bagge.

Bulgari, a people in the countrey of Mesia, towarde Danubium.

Buli, boweles.

Bulímia, æ, f. g. and Bulimos, great famine or hunger. it doth also signifie the hungry sickenes.

Bulis, the name of a citee.

Bulla, læ, fœ. gen. an ornament that men vsed to weare weare in triumphes, wherein were inclosed remedies agaynste enuye. Also a bullion sette on the couer of a booke, or other thynge. also a tablette or other thynge hanged about ones necke, properly whan it is holowe. Also a bubble of water, whan it rayneth, or whan a potte seetheth. Sometyme the head of a nayle, as in great mens doores and gates for an ornament. Otherwhyles studdes in gyrdels or other thynges.

Bulla aurea, a tablet or Agnus dei of golde.

Demittere bullam collo, to hang an Agnus dei at his necke.

Fulgere bullis, to glister with studdes or bosses.

☞ Homo bulla, a prouerbe, notyng the frailtee of mans lyfe, that vanysheth awaye lyke a bubble of water.

Bulla regia, a towne in Affrike.

Bullâtus, a, um, that is garnished with tablettes, studdes, or other lyke ornamentes, as noble mens children were in olde tyme.

☞ Bullatæ nugæ, auauntynges or boastynges or elles a vayne clatterynge, wherein is no substanciall sentence.

Bulleníes, the towne and people of Locrus.

Bulleum, a towne in Englande called witlan.

Bullidenſis, a towne of Macedonie.

Bállio, iui, ire, to boyle or seeth, to bubble in seethynge.

Bullo, aui, are, to bubble as water dooeth whan it seetheth.

Vrina bullanis, vryne bubblynge.

Búllula, læ, f. g. a diminutiue of Bulla,

Excitare búllulas, to styre vp lyttle bubbles.

Bulua, the citee of Lyburnia, now called Budua.

Bumamma, mæ, idem quod Bumastos.

Bumastos, or Bumastus, m. g. a great teat. also a kynde of grapes lyke to teates.

Bumélia, æ, fœm. gen. a kynde of asshe, berie medicinable agaynst the stynging of serpentes. Pli. li. 16. ca. 13.

Búnias, buniadis, fœ. ge. called in latine Napus and Búnion, nij, n. g. two dyuers kyndes of rapes, or turnepes.

Búnium, a rare herbe in Englande. it may be called square perseip.

Bunitium, a towne in Germanie called Sund.

Bupædæ, great boies.

Búphonum, ni, neu. ge. an herbe, called of some Chamælion, of other Ixium, whiche if cattell eate, it maketh them die of the squynce, and thers of hath the name, Buphonum, quasi bouis mors.

Bupthalmus, mi, fœm. gene. an herbe, called also Cotula non fœtida, and Oculus bouis, and is lyke to camomill, but it groweth moze vpright, mapwede. some call it Mathes, that stinke not.

Bupina, æ, f. g. great thyrste.

Bupléuros, fœm. gene. an herbe that groweth without sowyng or settynge, and hath the stalke a cubite high, full of long leaues, and the toppe lyke dyll.

Búpodes, great feete.

Bupréstes, tis, fœm. gene. a flie lyke to a blacke beetill, but he hath longer legges, he lieth in the grasse, and is of that nature, that if a beaste dooe eate hym, he swelleth so, that he bursteth.

Bupreſtis, is also a certayne herbe vsed to bee eaten.

Bura, a citee in the goulfe by Corinthe, whiche was swalowed of the sea.

Bura, ræ, or Buris, is, fœmi. gener. the hynder parte of the plough, which is croked, the plough tayle.

Burbatus, a fysshe, whiche by the description of Paulus Iouius, seemeth to be a carpe.

Burchana, a lamouse ple in Pontus.

Burdegala, or Burdigala, Bordeux in Gascoine.

Burdo, ônis, m. g. a mulet.

Burgi, they whiche kepe a kozte, castle, blockehouse or other holde.

Burgundia, Burgoyne.

Burgundiones, Burgonyons.

Buris, a citee of Achaia.

Buris, looke Bura.

Burrhánicum, ci, neu. gen. a certayne kynde of garmentes.

Burrhánica, a certayne potion or drynke of mylke and sope mixed together.

Burrhum, rhi, n. g. a deepe redde colour.

Burrhus, rhi, m. g. one that after eatyng or drynkynge hath a redde face, lyke a puddyng.

Burtaonenſes, people of Spayne.

Burtina, a towne of Spayne called Burbastro.

Buſicon, a great fygge.

Busiris, a citee of Aegypt. in the dominion of Busiritica, the Aegyptians call it Solis vrbs, the greekes call it Thebæ.

Busiris, siris, or siridis, the sonne of Neptunus, whiche he begotte on Libya, the daughter of Epaphi, who fedde his horses with mens fleshe, and was slayne at last by Hercules, as he wolde haue slayne hym.

Buſtuarij, orum, masculi. gene. swoorde players, whiche faught at the bournynge or burynge of one.

Buſtuarius, a, um, the adiective of buſtum.

Buſtuariæ mæchæ, common strumppettes and hoores that vsed to prostrate them selues in tombes, sepulchres or chancell houses.

Buſtum, sti, n. g. a place where dead bodies haue bene burnt. sometyme a sepulchre.

Coaceruarum buſtum excelſo aggere. Virg.

Ingens buſtum terreno exaggere.

Fumantia buſta.

Eruere buſta.

Ille nō in buſto Achillis ſed in lecto occubat, id eſt, non in ſepulchro.

Seq; vocat buſtum miſerabile nati, id eſt, miſerabile ſepulchrum nati, quem commederat.

Buſtum omnium legum: pro pernicie.

Incidere

Incidere in busta, to graue in the sepulchres.
Facere bustum.
Facere bustum, peragere busta.
Pyra est congeries lignorum: Rogus cum ardere cœpit. Bustum vero iam exustum vocatur.

Búteo, ónis, m. g. a kynde of haukes, which hath three stones, a bussarde.

Butes, the sonne of Impeus, kyng of the Bebrycians, and father of Eryx. also the sonne of Cecrops, and a ryuer in Scythia.

Buthos, a towne of Egypte.

Buthrotum, or Buthrotium, a towne in Epire.

Buthus, a certayne wrestler.

Buthysia, æ, fœ. ge. was called a great sacrifice, suche as Hecatumbe, is.

Bútio, ónis, ma, g. a byrde, whiche I suppose to bee a byttour.

Butra, an ple nere to Candie.

Butua, a citee in Iliburnia.

Butuntinenses, people of Calabre in Italy.

Butubata, a trifle of no value.

Bútirum, ri, n. g, Penult. interdum producta, interdum correpta, butter.

Buxentum, a towne that the Greekes call Pyxonta.

Buxétum, ti, neu. gen. a place where boxe trees grow.

Búxeus, a, um, of boxe, or pale of colour like boxe.
Dentes buxei, pale lyke boxe.

Búxifer, ifera, rum, that beareth boxe.

Buxosus, a, um, full of boxe, muche like boxe.

Buxus, i, f.g. or Buxum, i, n. g. boxe, or the boxe tree. Sometyme a trumpet or a pype.
Buxos inflare, to blowe a pype.
Torno rasile buxum. Crispata puxus.
Densum foliis buxum. Horrida, horrisora buxus.
Buxus pro tubea buxea. Fœda Celenæa committere prælia buxo.
Inflati murmur buxi.
Buxum torquere flagello, to bryng a toppe.

Buzæ, people of Indie.

Buzeri, people of the countrey Themischira in Asia.

Buzegeus, an hyll of Thessalie.

BYblesia, a citee of Asia.

Byblis, a litteil rounde ple in the sea Mediterraneum. Also the daughter of Miletus, who beynge enamoured on hir owne brother Caunus, and of him neglected: died for sorowe.

Byblus, a citee of Phenicia, called nowe Gaeta.
Byblus, is a certayne rushe, called in latine Papyrus, lowe there.

Bycus, a ryuer of Sarmatia, called now Buges.

Byrsa, æ, f. g. an hyde of a beast.

Byrseus, a tanner, or cordyner.

Byssinus, a, um, of fyne linnen, silken.
Byssina verba, woordes wherein is a magnificent eloquence, expressyng an auctoryte. Faryssates, mother to the kynges Cyrus and Artaxerxes, vsed to saie: that he whiche wolde speake to a kynge boldely, must haue woordes lyke to fyne threede. In latyne more properly Verba bissina.

Byssus, si, f. g. a maner of fine flaxe or linnen, silke.

Byzacium, a countrey of Afrike.

Byzantium, a citee of Thrace nowe called Constantinople, sometyme builded by Pausanias a kynge of Spartane, wherof the inhabitaunts were called Byzantij. Afterwarde it was augmented by Constantine the emperour, and was the chiefe and head of all the empyre oryentall.

Byzari, fantasticall men, and of straunge inuentions.

Byzenus, the sonne of Neptunus, who vsed suche a libertee in speeche, that therof grewe this prouerbe Byzeni libertas.

Byzeri, or Byzeres, lowe Buzeri.

, By hym self signifieth Caius, the proper name of a man, and therefore is forgned with an other name, as, C. Iulius Cæsar. Cl. signifyeth Claudius.

Cabala, a traditis on of the Jewes, left among them by Moyses without wrytynge, but from the father to the sonne, and so continuually in their generations, wherin is concluded the vnderstandyng as well of the secretes of nature, as the mistical sence included in the woordes of holy scripture.

Cabæsi, measures that can not be fylled.

Cabalaca, a towne of Albania in Asia.

Cabalia, a countrey of the lesse Asia, the people wherof be called Cabalij.

Cabalij, a people of Asia.

Caballinus, a, um, perteynynge to an horse.
Caballinus fons, the ryuer called also Helicon, aboute whiche was the moste haunte of the nyne muses.

Caballitio, ónis, fœm. ge. the office of keppynge horses.

Caballus, li, ma. g. an horse, yet in some part of England they doo call an horse, a gaple.

Succus,

Succussator caballus, a trottynge horse.
Agere caballum, to make an horse to galope.
Cabellio, the towne of Cauaillon in Narbon.
Cabera, the daughter of Poztheus, whiche had iii. sonnes by Vulcan, called Caberi, oz Cabiri, And as many daughters called Caberidæ.
Caberon, a ryuer in Asia.
Cabiri, the sonnes of Cabera.
Cabullinum, a citee in Fraunce.
Cabus, a measure of the hebzues conteynyng two Sextarios, and an halfe. vi. ounces, and thzee dzammes of Athens measure, which amounteth to. iiii. pound. iii. ounces and. iii. dzammes.
Cabyle, a citee in Thzace.
Cabyria, a citee in the lower Asia, although Cabyrij, be people in India.
Cácabus, i, ma. gen, a potte oz cauldzon, wherin meate is sodden.
Cácabo, áui, áre, to call lyke a partriche.
Cacabulum, the herbe called also Solanum.
Cacadæmon, dæmonis, m. g. an euell spzyte, a dzuell, whiche stireth a man to dooe euyll sowtyme it is taken foz yll foztune.
Cacália, æ, f. g. called also Leontice, of the apothecaries Carûi agreste, an herbe called wylde carwaies.
Cacaturio, iui, ire, to delyze to go the stoole.
Cacatus, a, um, fyled with ozdure, becached.
Cacéphaton, ti, n. g. an yll oz vnpleasaunt pzonunciation, either in a woozde oz in a sentence, as Arrige aures, O fortunatam, natam. &c.
Cachelcus, ci, masc. gen. he that hath the disease called Cachéxia.
Cachéxia, æ, f. g. a spyte of a consumpcion, which procedeth of an yll disposition of the bodie, and the bodie and vysage is therewith verye leane and yll coloured.
Cachéctici, they whiche haue that disease.
Cachinnátio, ônis, f. g. a great laughter.
Cachinno, onis, m. g. a great laugher.
Cachinnor, atus sum, ari, deponent, and Cachinno, aui, are, to laugh immoderatelye, and and with a loude voyce.
Cremulo cachinnare risu, to laugh and shake withall.
Furtim cachinnare, to laugh pzivyly.
Cachinnus, ni, m. g. a scozne, oz a lowde laughter in derision.
Concuti cachinno, to laughe that he quaketh agayne.
Concuti cachinno, to laugh that he quaketh, to shake with laughyng.
Distorquere ora cachinno, to wzyth his mouth oz vysage with laughyng.
Tremulus chachinnus, that maketh one quake.
Cachinnos mouere, to make men to laugh.
Cachinnum sustollere, vel tollere, to laughe out of measure, to take vp a great laughter.
Cichla, æ, idem quod Buphthalmos.
Cachris, is suche a thynge as groweth on trees, as we see on hasils, hangyng lyke agletes, bez foze the leaues come out, compacte together as it were scales. Plinie calleth it Pilula. In other trees they be rounde.

Cachry, the seede of rosemarye, oz rosemarie it selfe.
Cácia, æ, f. g. vislositee, oz that whiche we dooe commonly call a faute in a thynge.
Cacidini, people of Scithia.
Cacirini, people of Sicile.
Cacirani, oz Caracirani.
Caco, aui, are, to shyte.
Cacobasiléa, æ, f. g. an yll kyngedome.
Cacoblépa, æ, foe. ge. a little beaste in the bankes of the ryuer Nilus, whiche hath suche venenositee in his eies, that whom so euer he beholdeth, dieth incontinent.
Cacóchyla, such thynges as haue yll iuyce.
Cacochéxia, æ, f. ge. an yll habyte oz deformitee of the body, caused by sycheneese.
Cacochymia, æ, f. ge. yll digestion, oz rather yll iuyce, gathered in the cundites of the bodye, for lacke of perfecte digestion.
Cacodæmon, lyke Cacadæmon.
Cacoéthe, n. ge. plur. nu. a bople oz sore, verye harde to be cured.
Cacoéthes, ne. ge. an yll condicion, custome, oz maner, that a man hath taken of longe continuaunce. Iuuenall seemeth by translacion to vse it for ambitio.
Cacológia, yll speeche.
Cacológus, gi, m. g. an yll speaker.
Cacostómachos, chi, one that hath an yll and weeake stomache.
Cacos, yll, deformed. also an herbe called Iris agrestis.
Cacosyntheton, ti, neu. gen. an yll oz deformed composicion.
Cacotéchnia, æ, foe. g. an yll arte, oz the vyce of any arte oz science.
Cacozélia, æ, f. g. an yll affection, oz imitacion.
Cacozélus, li, m. g. an yll fauoured imitatour.
Cactos, an herbe, whiche groweth only in Sicile.
Cácula, læ, m. g. a contemptuous slaue oz page.
Cácúmen, ínis, n. g. the coppe of an hyll, oz any other thynge.
Cacumen oui, the coppe oz sharpe ende of an egge.
Cacumen pillorum capitis.
Motare cacumina, to wagge the toppes.
Surgere gemino cacumine, to haue two high toppes.
Ad summum donec venere cacumen, id est, absolutionem & consummationem, vntyll they came to absolute perfectnes.
Cacuminátus, a, um, with a sharpe top oz coppe.
Oua cacuminata, with sharpe toppes.
Cacúmino, áui, áre, to make sherpe towarde the toppe, to make topped.
Cacus, a gyant, whom Hercules slewe in Italy.
Cadáuer, éris, n. g. a deade bodye oz carreyne, a carkeys.

Abie-

Abiectum cadauer, a vyle carkeys.
Coniecta cadauera, dead bodies cast one vpon an other.
Cruentum cadauer.
Cadauer crudum, defunctum, lacerum, eiectum, informe, tremebundum, rigidum, tabo dilapsum, toruum.
Expirant cadauera vermes.
Spoliare cadauera.
Cadauera oppidorum, citees or townes decayed, or vtterly destroyed.
Cadaueròsus, a, um, horrible, hideous, like a dead corse or carkeis.
Cadaueròsa facies, a deadly face or countenãce, or after some a cruell looke or countenaunce.
Cadducij, people of Media.
Cadi, a citee of Phrigia.
Cadiscus, an hyll in Candy.
Cadiscus, sci, ma. g. a vessell, where into are gathered scedules, byles, and lottes, where thynges are doone by a consente of many counsayloure, or of the people.
Cadiuus, a, um, that whiche falleth by it selfe.
Cadiua folia, leaues fallen by them selfe.
Cadiua poma, appuls whiche doo fall downe without violente.
Cadmea, the citee of Thebes.
Cadmeides patronymicum.
Cadmeius, a, um, and Cadmeus, a, um, of Cadmus.
☞ Cadmea victoria, A prouerbe applied to that victorie, wherof cometh more harme then good, or that it were better to lose than gest. Reade hereof in Chil. Erasmi.
Cadmia, æ, f. g. the ore of brasse.
Cadmites, m. g. a stone whiche hath blewe sparkes about it.
Cadmus, a prynce, the sonne of Agenor, and brother to Europa. who buylded Thebes, and brought out of Phenicia into Greece, sixtene letters. and founde out the fusyng and castyng of mettalles. There was an other Cadmus, the fyrst that euer wrate in prose. Also an hyll in Asia.
Cado, cecidi, ĕre, n. g. to fall, to dye, to be slayn, to happen, to chaunce, to belonge or agree with a thyng. to ende or fynysshe, to fall or go downe, as sterres and planettes doo.
Cadere, to happen.
Cadere causa, to be nonsuite in an action, to bee cast in the lawe, to lese his suite.
Cadit illi animus, his herte or courage fayleth, or is abated.
Cadere animis, idem.
Cadere in deliberationem, to come in communication, or to be consulted of.
Cadit solutio in diem calendæ, the payement is the fyrst daie of the moneth.
Cadere ab, de, or ex equo, to fall of or from an horse.
In pectus cadit pronus, he falleth flat downe on his breast.
In pontum cadunt flumina, the ryuers haue their course or fall into the sea.
Inter verba cadit lingua, whan a mannes tunge stoppeth in his talkyng.
Verba cadunt singultu, he can not speake for sobbynge.
Cadunt dentes, the teeth fall out.
Homini illico lachrymæ cadunt prægaudio, By and by the man wepte for ioye.
In verba singula cadunt lachrymæ, The teares trikled downe his chekes at euery woorde.
Arma ceciderunt, the warre or debate ceassed.
Ceciderunt arma dilapsa ex manibus, their weapons frõ them fell out of their hands, or they were not able to doo any thynge with their armour.
Cadunt austri, the south wyndes were alaied.
Cecidit tibi ira, Thy angre is cooled or allwaged.
Spes cadit, hope decaieth.
Ad irritum cadit spes, oute hope is come to naught, or wee bee disapointed of that wee looked for.
In cassum cadunt tua promissa, your promises come to none effect.
In classem cadit omne nemus, the whole forrest was cutte downe to make shippes.
In pedes alicuius cadere, to fall downe at ones feete.
In plagas cadit ceruus, renneth in to the nettes.
In faciem cadere, to fall vpon his face.
Mora lenta cadere, to fall slowly or softely.
Barba cadit: his bearde is shaven.
Imbres cadũt, the showres of raine powre downe.
Cadunt vmbræ, the shadowes ware longe, or it draweth towarde night.
Victa graui somno cadunt lumina, he can not holde vp his eyes for heauines of sleape.
Vrbes cadunt, citees be destroyed.
Authoritas principum cadit, decaieth.
Cecidit tibi ira, thy anger is alaied.
Paulatim cadit ira.
Non cadit in eundem contemptus pecuniæ & cupiditas, It is not to be thought that in one man is both. &c.
Quod ne in cogitacionem quidem cadit: a man can not thynke it.
Cadere in morbum, to fall into a disease.
Cadit in rerum naturam, it may come naturally or by the course of nature, or it is possible by nature. &c.
Cadere in offencionem alicuius, to fall into ones displeasure.
Cadere in potestatem alicuius, to come into ones power or handes.
In rem apte cadit, it falleth well to the matter.
Sub aurium mensuram cadere, of that sorte that is to be measured by the eare.
Sub rationẽ eandẽ cadere, to be of the same sorte.
Omnia mihi iucunda ab eo ceciderunt, all pleasant thinges that possible coulde be, haue happened to me by him.

Quo

Quo cadunt promissa non curat.
Video mihi opus esse viatico: sed id ex prædijs vt cadet, ita soluetur: as it shall come in, &c.
Quod melius caderet, nihil vidi: I neuer sawe any thynge that came in better tyme.
Fontæ Græco cadunt verba quædam: be depued.
Cadere formula, whan the attourney by negligence doth not declare the processe of the matter in his due fourme, and omitteth that whiche maketh most for his client.
Cadere in iudicio, to be ouercome in the lawe, to be cast in a suite.
In eum cadit istud, this agreeth well to him, or it is not vnlyke that he will dooe it.
Non cadit in alium tam absolutum opus, No man elles is able to make so perfecte a woorke.
Cadit suspitio in eum, he is suspected.
Cadunt in malos omnia scelera, All mischeuous deedes may be founde in euyll persons.
Si cadit in sapientem dolor, If a wyse man may bee sorowfull.
Non cadit in virum bonum mentiri, It is not the poynct or condition of an honest man to lie: or a good man dooth neuer lye.
Non cadit in consuetudinem nostram, we dooe not vse it.
Non cadit in hos mores suspitio, suche a suspicion agreeth not with these maners: or there can be no suche suspicion in a man that liueth after this sorte.
Quod in nostram intelligentiam non cadit, which thynge we can not vnderstand, or whiche passeth the compasse of our vnderstandynge.
Cadere in offencionem, to fall into displeasure.
Non in vnam formam cadunt omnia, All thynges happen not after one faction.
Cadit in sensum cernendi, It is of that sorte, that it may bee seene.
Cadere in suspitionem, to come in suspicion, or to be suspected.
Cadere in vituperationem, to bee blamed, or blame woorthy.
Cadit aduentus tuus in alienissimum tempus, you come in a very euyll tyme.
Quæ cadunt sub aspectum, or sub oculos, suche thynges as may be seene.
Illa cadunt sub iudicium sapientis, Those things be suche, that a wyse man may iudge of them.
Ita cadebat vt vellem, It chaunced as I woulde haue it.
Quorsum id casurum esset, to what purpose that woulde come.
Quod cecidit forte, that happened by chaunce.
Fortuito cecidit, idem.
Male cecidit, it happened yll.
Nihil mihi incommodi cecidit, there hath no displeasure or domage chaunced to me.
Per oportune hoc mihi cecidit.
Quocunq; res cadet, To what poynct so euer the matter will come.

In irritum cadit.
Fœliciter cecidit alea, A prouerbe signifyeing a thyng to haue chaunced fortunately, as we woulde haue it.
Iambus in versum cadit maximè. The sote Iambus is moste conuenient or agreable in a verse.
Verba melius cadunt in syllabas longiores, woordes fall or ende best in longe syllables.
Cadere similiter, to haue lyke ende.
Primo congressu septingenta ceciderunt, At the fyrst encountre were slayne seuen hundred.
Ante diem cadere, to dye before ones tyme.
Ense cadere, to be slayne with a swoorde.
Cadere sua manu, to slea ones selfe.
Ouis cadit deo, is offered.
Acie cadere, to dye in battaile.
Dies cadens, the later ende of the daye.
Sol cadens, the sonne goyng downe, or declynyng lower from vs, as he dooeth in wynter.
Grauiter cadere in aduersis, to haue a greate fall in aduersitee.
Alte cadere non potest, he can haue no great fall.
Cecidit tua laus pariter cum rep. perissed. v.
Caduări, orum, mas. gen. men haupng the falsyng euyll.
Caduca, thynges that wyll shortely perysshe or decaye, olde writers vsed them, for significations of thynges, which shoulde happen.
Caducĕator, ōris, masc. ge. an ambassatour or herauide at armes sente to demaunde peace, or to take a truce.
Caduceus, cei, m. g. & Coduceum, cei, ne. ge. a rodde, whiche poetes supposed that mercurie bare in his hande, in token of peace, as messanger of Iupiter. Also a little white rodde, that herauides at armes vsed to beare, whan they went to treat for peace.
Caduci, they whiche are deceassed.
Caducifer, ciferi, m. g. he that beareth the same white rodde.
Cadŭcitur, rupnously, as it woulde fall, headlonge.
Cadūcor, ĕris, ci, to be ouerthrowen.
Cadūcus, a, um, fraple, ruynouse, lyke to fall, decaie or perisshe. sometyme deade or deceassed.
Caducum & fragile, transitorie, that will as waie.
Caduca & incerta sunt diuitiæ, bona valetudo, honores. &c.
Caducum & mortale.
Bello caducus, slaine in warre or deade.
Omnia caduca præter virtutem, all thinges be transitorie saupnge vertue.
Caducæ litere, letters whiche will be shortely put out, blynde letters.
Caduci tituli, honours and dignitees, whiche endure but a lyttell while.
Folia caduca, leaues fallen from the tree.
Viris caduca, that falleth downe on the grounde.

Cadūcus

Caduceus labor, labour loste.
Caducus morbus, the fallynge euyll.
Legatum caducum, hereditas caduca, bona caduca, Bequestes, inheritaunce, or goodes fallen in eschete for lacke of heyres: or because the heyres bee deceassed before the tyme.
Caduca aqua, water that aboundeth or renneth ouer the vessell or ponde.
Preces caducæ, prayers that be not herde.
Cadueni, people in Caria.
Caduleæ gutteæ, drypppynge of roste meate.
Cadurci, Lahors in Fraunce.
Cadúrcum, ci. n. ge. a heuerled of lynnen, moste properly a quylte. a veple or curteyne. some take it also for a canopye, suche as they were wonte to beare ouer the sacrament in processions. Also a vessell or certaine instrument to drawe water out of a ponde.
Cadus, cadi, m. g. a wyne vessell. It maie be taken for a pype, the frenchemen call it, vn Caque. It dooeth also conteyne the same measure that Amphora dooeth. or after other, and more truly, idem quod Metreta. By Plinies description this vessell is sharpe towarde one ende.
Cadus temeti, a vessell of wyne.
Ahenus cadus.
Siccati cadi.
Potus cadus, a vessell of wyne drunke vp.
Onerare vina cadis, to fyll vessels with wyne.
Parcere cadis, to spare his wyne.
Vtebantur etiam cadis ad condenda salsamenta.
Cadytis, a great citee in Syria.
Cæa, or Cæos, and after some Cia, an yle in the sea called Aegeum, where sylke wormes were fyrst founde, it is the countrey of Hippocrates, the pryncc of phisitions.
Cæbus, bi, mas. ge. an ape with a taple, we may take it to be a munkaie.
Cæcitus, a, um, blinded.
Cæcias, ciæ, m. g. the east northeast wynde.
Cæcias nubes, A prouerbe spoken of him that purchaseth to him selfe matter of contencion and businesse.
Cæcigenus, a, um, that is borne blynde.
Cæcilia, æ, f. g. a floe wormc that is blynde.
Cæcilius, the name of diuers notable men, one was so ryche, that not withstandynge muche of his goodes was destroyed by ciuile warre, yet he had left. 4116. seruantes. 360. yoke of oxen: of other cattell. 257000. in money 600. lbs
Cæcinos, an hyll in Etrur.
Cæcitas, ãtis, f. g. blyndenesse, not onely of the bodyly eies, but also of the mynde.
Cæcitatem inferre, to make blynde.
Cæco, ãui, ãre, to make blynde.
Cecãre animos, by a metaphore, to blynde mens myndes.
Cæcare mentes largitione, to blynde mens myndes with bribery.
Cæcari cupiditate, to be blynded with coue-tousenesse.

Cæcubum, a towne of Campayne in Italy, where is made good wyne.
Cæcubus, a, um, the adiectiue.
Cæculto, ãui, ãre, to haue a dymme syght, to bee almoste blynde, to imitate a blynde man.
Cæculus, a, um, a diminutiue of Cæcus.
Cæcus, a, um, blynde. also darke, vnknowen, vncertayne.
Futuri cæcus, ignoiant of that shall come.
Amore auri cæcus, blinde with couetousnes.
Cæcus animo, & cæcus animi.
Cæcus cupiditate, auaritia, fraude & ira, furore, metu.
Amor sui cæcus, selfe loue is blynde.
Cæcus casus, a blynde chaunce without reason.
Causæ cæcæ, vncertayne or vnknowen.
Cupido cæca, blinde lust.
Fores cæcæ, pryuie doores.
Fossæ cæcæ, diches couered aboue that they can not be seene.
Historia cæca, a darke storie harde to vnderstande.
Ictus cæcus, a vayne stroke, when one misseth that he stryketh at.
Ignis cæcus, a fyre in the ayre the cause whereof is vnknowen.
Lupi cæci, that loue darkenesse or night more then daie.
Pericula cæca, vnknowen perilles.
Scelus cæcum retegere, that was vnknowen or hydde.
Cæcus tempus, troublous tyme.
Cæca vestigia, where one may not see his way that he ryeth or goeth.
Specus cæcus, a blynde dongion.
Cæca dies, oculata dies, The daye whan the money is payed, and the daie whan it is not payed.
Eme die cæca hercle oleum, id vendito oculata die, Bye oyle not paying out of hande, but promysynge at a daie: sell it againe for readye money. Eras. Chil. Also the cruyle lawyers doo call those dayes and witnesses, which onely be certified by them that be absent, Cæca dies, & cæca testimonia.
Vada cæca, vnknowen. not seene.
Cæcus aceruus, a confuse heape.
Cæcus aditus, a darke entree.
Cæca fata, vnknowen destenies that can not be foreseene.
Carcere cæco clausus, darke.
Cæca nox, darke night.
Cæca saxa, rockes in the sea that bee not seene
Cæca expectatio, an vncertayne hope or looking for a thyng.
Cæcus ramus, the bough that bryngeth foorth no blossome nor budde.
Cæci hemorroides, hemorraides or piles, which are within the fundament, and doe not appeere.
Cæci morbi, sycknesses, whiche be not eyther parannt, the causes whereof bee hydde from phisicions.

Cæcum intestinum, is a bowell, which cometh from the ryght syde, at the poynte of the huckle bone, and goeth to the left syde in length, and is also called Monoculus.
Cæcum vallum, a trenche, whiche in tyme of warre is pyght pryuyly with sharpe stakes, the whiche are hydde with braches or bushes.
Cæcus cæco dux, One blynde man leadeth an other, A prouerbe signifyinge one ignorante person to teache an other vnlearned: one foole to geue an other foole counsayle.
Cæcúto, ui, ire, to see but little, to bee halfe blynde.
Cædes, cædis, f. g. death slaughter, or murder.
Instructus ad cædam, ready to murder and slaughter.
Molitor cædis, one that endeuoureth murder and slaughter of any person.
In exhausta cædes, vnsaciable murder.
Accumulare cædem cæde, to committe murder vpon murder.
Furere cæde, to kylle lyke a madde man.
Spectatores ad cædem, the matter is lyke to come to slaughter and murder.
Sternere cæde viros, to kylle.
In cæde atq; ex cæde viuere, to lieue in and by murder.
Arborei fœtus aspergine cædis, id est, sanguinis.
Cæde occidi, to be kylled.
Querere cædem, to seeke occasion of murder.
Instaurare cædem, to begynne to kyll a fresshe: to begynne a newe murder.
Cædes, cruenta verba, oris, dira, fera, hostilis, impia, indignissima, maxima, miserrima, nefanda, sæua, vasta, sanguinea, notabilis, &c.
Cædem facere, perpetrare, vt committere, to kyll, to make a slaughter.
Auidissimus cædis, verye desyrous of mans slaughter.
Cædicus, the name of an exceedyng riche man.
Cæditiæ, certayne houses or tenements, builded by one Cæditius.
Cædo, cecidi, cæsum, to beate or whippe, to cutte, to strike, to digge, to kylle, to breake, sometyme to sacrifice.
Cædere pluteum, to dasshe his shyld agaynst the desshe.
Cædere ense, to stricke with a swoorde.
Cædere aliquem virgis ad necem.
Robora cædere, to cutte downe okes.
Syluas cædere, to cutte downe woodes.
Cædere exercitum hostium, to kylle.
Cædere femur, pectus, frontem, to stricke, &c.
Saxis cædere populum, to hurle stones at the people.
Cæduntur vigiles, the watche men be kylled.
Cædit greges armentorum, he kylleth.
Cædere calcibus, to kycke or stryke with the heeles.
Cædunt binas de more bidentes, according to the custome they sacrifice two hoggesles.
Cædere ianuam saxis, to breake the doore with stones, or to lay on the doore, &c.
Cædere montes, to digge into great hilles.
Cæditur testibus, id est, vrgetur, vel premitur, he is conuicte by witnesse, or he is laied at with witnesse.
Cædere pugnis, to beate with the fistes.
Cædere flagellis, to whippe.
Cædere virgis.
Cæduus, dua, um, cut downe, or that may be cut.
Cædua sylua, woodes vsed to be cut, copesses.
Cæpta, æ, f. g. the herbe named calamint.
Cæpx, lyke Cæyx.
Cælamen, inis, n. g. idem quod cælatura.
Cælasis, vsed of olde writers for cælaueris.
Cælator, oris, m. g. an engrauer.
Cælatura, æ, f. g. engrauyng in metall.
Cælatura altior, somwhat deepe grauyng.
Cælatus, a, um, engrauen.
Cælebs, bis, com. gen. he or she that is vnmaried, a single persone.
Maritus & cælebs, contrarie.
Cælebs muliere, Plaut. alone without a woman.
Cælebs arbor, a tree whereunto no vyne is tied or ioigned.
Cælebs sine palmite truncus.
Lectus cælebs, a solitarie bedde. Catull.
Cælebs vita, syngle lyfe.
Cælestini, people of Vmbria.
Cælicus, a, um, idem quod Cælestis.
Cælestis, te, com. gene. heauenly, or of heauen, of god.
Arcus cælestis, the rayne bowe.
Mens cælestis, a heauenly mynde.
Monitus cælestibus aliquid agere, by the admonitement of god: by some reuelation or sygne from heauen.
Semine cælesti oriundus, descended or begotten of a god.
Stirpe cælesti creatus, idem.
Virum cælestem in dicendo Ciceronem vocat Quintilianus, a meruaylous man in eloquence.
Inuisus cælestibus, hated of the goddes.
Voluntas cælestium, the will of the goddes.
Colere cælestes, to honour saincles.
Tenere cælestia, to enterprise to doe high and greate matters aboue the reache of mans common nature.
Cælestis aqua, rayne water.
Animi cælestes, angelles, saincles.
Cælestia dona, gifles of god.
Ira cælestis, gods anger, gods wrath.
Cælia, a kynde of daynte.
Cælibâtus, us, m. g. or Cælebs vita, the state of a man or woman vnmaried, syngle lyfe.

Cælibaris

Cælibaris, haſta, looke Cœlibaris with oe.
Cælicola, læ, com. g. one that inhabiteth heauen, a ſaincte.
Omnes cælicolæ, all ſainctes in heauen.
Cæliger, ligera, um, that beareth vp heauen, the ſurname of Atlas.
Cæliculum, a place where was a temple of Diana.
Cælimontânus, a, um, of the hyll Cælius.
Cælites, tum, ma. g. plu. n. heauenly creatures, ſainctes in heauen. Cælite, in the ablatiue caſe ſingular is redde in Ouide.
Cælitis regnis, for cæleſtibus regnis.
Cælius, the name of diuers notable men, of whiche one was an oratour, an other a pretor of Rome.
Cælius mons, one of the. vii. hylles that Romulus enclosed.
Cælo, aui, are, to graue in mettall.
Cælare auro, and in auro, to engraue in gold.
Aurum & argentũ cælatum, plate engraued.
Argentum cælare, to graue in ſiluer.
Cælare argento, or in argento, idem.
Serpens cælatus in patera.
Libidines in poculis cælare.
Cælare æquora, flumina, & alia in vaſis.
Inclaruit in auro cælando, by graueyng in gold he became of great fame.
Craterem cælare longo argumento, to graue a longe deuiſe or ſtorie in. &c.
Cælare ſcuto auro. to garniſh with gold.
Cælata tecta & laqueata, rooftes carued and embowed.
Cælatum nouis muſis opus, id eſt, variatum & quaſi pictum.
Cæloma, a certaine ſore in the eie, bygger then that whiche is called Botrium. Auicenna calleth it Lilimie.
Cælos, an hauen in Thrace.
Cælum, heauen, the firmament, an inſtrument to graue with. Alſo the aire, the palate or rouſe of the mouth.
Cælum digito attingere, to touche heauen with his fynger. A prouerbe applyed to them, which ſuppoſe theim ſelues able to doe thynges impoſſible, or to bee of great power.
In cælo eſſe, A prouerbe ſignifyenge to bee in felicitee, or to be moſte happy.
Varians cælum, an vnconſtant wether.
Ruina cæli, thunder.
Rabies cæli, horrible tempeſt.
Cælum apertum, liquidum, purum, ſerenũ, illuſtre, clarum, an open aire, a faire cleere wether.
Auſtrinum cælum, a cloudie or cloaſe wether.
Bonum cælum, a good aire.
Pacatum & placidum cælum, a calme and quiete wether.
Caliginoſum cælum, darke.
Tectum de cælo, blaſted or hurt with lyghtnynge, In cælum attollere, to auance, or praiſe exceedyngly.
Detrahere cælo, to put a man from great glory and renowme.
Cælo hoc ac ſpiritu carere, to lacke this aire and common breath.
Grauis cælo ac terris, greeuous to god and man.
Cæli aſpiratio, the ſuckyng in, or drawynge of the aire by breathynge.
Conuertio cæli, the turnyng of the firmament or ſkye.
Curſus cæli, the courſe of the firmament.
Decus cæli, the goodly beautie of the ſkye.
Grauitas cæli, groſſeneſſe or vnclenſe of the aire, naughtie aire.
Hiatus cæli a terris, the ſpace betwene heauen and earth.
Inclinatio cæli, the bendynge of the firmamente.
Morbus cæli, corruption of the aire.
Craſſum cælum, a groſſe aire.
Tenue cælum, contrary.
Liquidum cælum, cleere.
Dubium cælum, vnſtedfaſt wether, now faire, now fowle.
Varium cælum, idem.
Liberum cælum, an open aire.
Immite & turbidum cælum, tempeſtuous and troublous wether.
Nebuloſum cælum, clowdie.
Niuale cælum, ſnowye.
Nigrius cælum pice, blacker then any pitche, or a fowle blacke wether.
Accipere cælo aliquem, to receiue one into paradiſe or euerlaſtynge ioye.
Aequare aliquid cælo, to make exceedynge hyghe.
Cælum æquat, it is as high as heauen.
Allegere aliquem cælo, to number amonge the company of ſainctes or goddes.
Arcem cæli annuit illi,, he graunteth him heauen or paradice.
Aperitur cælum, the ſkie apeereth or it beggineth to be day.
Aſſerere aliquem cælo, to make a god, or to auouche one to become of a god.
Cæciderunt cælo fulgura, it lightned often.
Ciere cælum tonitru, to moue or ſtyre heauen or the ſkye with thunder.
Circumtegit omnia cælum, heauen compaſſeth all thynges.
Contriſtare cælum pluuio frigore, to make the firmamet loke darke or vnpleaſantly.
Conuertere & torquere cælum, to turne. &c.
Credere ſe cælo, to flee.
Honore cæli dignare aliquem, to thynke one worthy heauen.
Deſcedere cælum dicitur, when the firmament ſemeth to open and goe into partes.
Ducere de cælo animam, Cic. to haue one ſoule from heauen.
Educere molem cælo, to build vp a great thing on high.

Eripiunt cælum nubes, the cloudes doe cleane couer or hyde the skie from vs.
Exit ad cælum arbos, the tree did grow of a great heigth.
In cælum ferre, to prayse exceedingly.
Per cælum ferri, to flee in the ayre.
Inficere cælum Iris dicitur, to colour.
Labuntur cælo stellæ.
Ludunt examina cælo, playe in the ayre.
Miscere cælum terram, to trouble heauen and earth: to make a great trouble.
Mutare cælum, to chaunge the ayre.
Pænetrare in cælum.
Rigare cælum sol dicitur, when he spreadeth his beames of light.
Cerenare cælum, to make faire wether.
Seruare de cælo, to marke or obserue what signe or straunge sight is shewen in the skye, as Augures did.
Subrubere cælum dicitur, to be ruddie.
Teste cælo viuere, to liue a life knowen or open to all men.
Cælum capitis.
In cælo sum, I am exceedyng glad, or I am in heauen.

Cælus, the father of Saturnus and Titan.

Cæmenta, is vsed of Ennius in the feminine gender.

Cæmentárius, rij, m. g. a dauber, a pargetter, or rough mason, whith doth make walles onely.

Cæmentitius, a, um, made of masons worke, or of morter, or of rubbell and broken stones.
Parietes cæmentitij.

Cæméntum ti, n. g. morter, or any other grosse matter, wherwith walles be made, as rubbyshe, shardes, or ragged stones. sometyme the wall selfe, made of suche matter, but specially of ragged stones.

Cæne, a citee about the goulfe of Laconia, and a little ile in the Sicilian sea.

Cæneus, a very expert warriour of Thessalie.

Cænica, a countrey of Thrace.

Cænina, a towne of Latium.

Cænis, a promontory of Italy.

Cænis, the daughter of Elatheus, one of the Lapithes, who being baptised of Neptune, obteined to bee turned into a man, and had the gyfte, that no weapon could wound hir.

Cænites, an hauen of Achaia.

Cæpe, looke Cepe.

Cæpi, the preterperfect tense of Capio, I haue taken, or I haue begunne.

Cæpori, people of Spayne.

Cæpula, a diminutiue of Cæpa.

Cæpus, a beast in face like a Satyre, or woodward, in the residue of his bodie betweene the lykenesse of a dogge and a beare. it breedeth in Ethiope.

Cære, vndeclined, and Cærête, rétis, neu. gen. was an auncient citee of Tuscia.

Cæra, looke Cera.

Cærago, looke Cerago.

Cæro, Cærifico, Cærarius, Cæratum. &c. looke Cæro, with single e.

Cærefólium, lij, n. g. an herbe called cheruill.

Cæremónia, æ, f. ge. and Cæremoniæ, arum, ceremonies, rites, and customes. also holynesse, religion. sometyme pompe.
Promptus animus ad capessendas ceremonias.
Ceremoniæ, religionesq; in deos. Cic.
Facere ludos maxima ceremonia, greate pompe. Cic.
Polluere ceremoniam, the holye faction or order.
Ceremoniam legationis quasi sanctitatem & religionem Cicero dixit.
Cæremoniæ denariæ, or tricenariæ, when it behoued them that sacrificed to wante tenne certayne thynges or sometyme thirtie.

Cæretanus amnis, a ryuer that ranne by the citee called Cære.

Cæretum, a towne of Umbria.

Cærinthe, looke Cerinthe, thyee leaued grasse, which bryngeth foorth white hony tubicles.

Cæris, ris, f. g. a sore like an hony combe.

Cærites, people of the citee Cære.

Cærium, looke Cerium.

Cæroma, or Cæromatum, looke Ceroma, an oyntment, made with oyle and neates dunge, wherewith men that wrastled, vsed to annoynt their bodies, to make them the more lyghte and stronge. It dooeth also signifie the place where wrastlers were annoynted.

Cæroferarij, looke Ceroferarij.

Cærotum, looke Ceratum.

Cærulus, and Cæruleus, a, um, blewe of colour lyke the skye in a clere wether, skye colour.
Cæruleus Tybris, id est, altus vel profundus, for water beeyng deepe is of a darke blewe or blackyshe colour: whereas water that is but shalowe or thynne appeareth brighter and whyter: wherefore Cærulus, or Cæruleus, is often vsed for blacke, or for that is blackyshe and enclynyng towarde blew although it be not a right blew.
Imber cæruleus, a blacke sure of rayne.
Mors cerulea, id est, Liuida, wanne, mixed with blacke and blew, as dead bodies be.
Oculi cærulei. blacke eies.
Spumabant Cærula, id est, maria.
Cærula verrunt, they saple in the sea.
Nubes cærulea,, a blewe or blacke clowde.

Cæsa, a weapon, sometyme vsed in Fraunce.

Cæsale, is vsed of some for sella familiaris.

Cæsar, the surname of a noble house, amonge the Romaines, of whiche name Iulius Cæsar, the fyrste emperour of Rome.

Cæsar Augusta, a citee in the roialme of Tragon, called Sarragossa.

Cæsarea, a citee of the countrey of Palestina. also of Mauritania: An other of Cappadocia, an other other of Apamia.

Cæsáreus, a, um, and Cæsariánus, a, um, pertaynynge to the Emperour.
Cæsariátus, a, um, that hath a great bushe of heare.
Cæsáries, riéi, f. g. heare, or a bushe of heare.
Densum cæsarie capud, with a thicke bushe of heare.
Aurea cæsaries, heare as yelow as golde.
Decora cæsaries, a fayre head of heare.
Intonsa cæsaries, that is not rounded.
Horrida cæsaries, rough.
Horrifica, terrifica cæsaries, terrible.
Dimouere cæsariẽ ab ore, to tourne his heare from his face.
Decora cæsaries, a fayre and comely bushe of heare.
Repexa cæsaries, a bushe twise or thryse hemmed and tricked.
Promissa cæsaries, a longe bushe of heare.
Pectere cæsariem, to combe ones heare.
Cæsárium, a mart towne in Egypt.
Cæsarobrisenses, people of Portugall.
Cæsenna, a citee in Italy, the people whereof be called Cæsennates.
Cæsim, edgelynge, or with the edge, as one wolde cutte.
Cæsim dicere, to speake nowe one woorde, and than an other. also to speake by shorte membres and clauses.
Hispani punctim non cæsim hostes petunt, the spanyardes foyne at their enemies in fyghtynge and stryke not with the edge.
Maior pars operis in vineam ductim potius q̃ cæsim facienda est, the moste parte of the woorke in the vyne yarde must be done with drawynge your hande in cuttynge, and not with choppynge.
Cæsim opus facere, in cuttynge to choppe as they doe that loppe trees.
Ductim opus facere, in cuttynge not to pull his toole awaie from the branche vntyll it bee cutte of.
Cæsio, ónis, f. g. a stryppe, a gashe, or a cutte.
Cæsitium, tij, n. g. a sheete, a cleane napkyn or handkerchiefe.
Cæsius, a, um, after some coloured lyke the skye. or rather hauyng a terrible brightnesse lyke fire, as the eies of a lyon, and in the eyes betokeneth a fiernesse or cruelitee. other take it for a graie colour, as the skye is, whan it hath little speckes of gray cloudes in a faire daie, as it were a blunket colour.
Cæsi oculi, eyes terribly glisteryng, and not gray eyes, in myne opinyon.
Cæsius, hauyng bright persyng eies.
Cæsónes, num, plur. they whiche bee cutte out of their mother or dames bealyes.
Cæspes, itis, m. g. a turfe.
Aggerebatur cæspes, turfes were laied on a heape.
Festus cæspes, an aultar made of turfes.
Grammineus cæspes, a greene turfe, or a baiȝ of greene turfes.
Viridis & viuus cæspes, idem.
Cæspitátor, óris, m. g. a stumbler.
Cæspitatores equi, stumblyng horses.
Cæspititius, spititia, um, made of turues.
Aræ cæspititiæ.
Cæspito, áui, are, to stumble.
Cæstrum, tri, neu. ge. an instrument, wherwith puoyr was boyed. Also a weapon lyke a dagger.
Cæstus, us, f. ge. a weapon hauynge great plummettes hangyng at it, the Grecians vsed them as a playe or exercyse in common games.
Cæstibus contendere, to playe as it were at the whyrle batte. Bellare cæstu.
Dare brachia experienda cæstibus.
Valido decernere cæstu.
Explorare cæstus, to freele or trie.
Exuere cæstus, to put of or laie downe.
Manibus induere cæstus, to put on.
Cæsuliæ, they which haue blewe eies.
Cæsum, si, neu. g. a part of a proposition, signifiyng no full sentence.
Cæsura, ræ, fœ. g. a cutte or gashe, an incision. also intailyng or carvyng in stone or tymber. also a piece, as it were the remnant, properly of a verse.
Cæsurátim, brekelȳ, succinctelȳ, by membres or shorȝ clauses.
Cæsuratum vas, a vessell notched or cut rounde about.
Cæsus, a, um, cutte, beaten, slayne, offered.
Exercitus fusus cæsusq̃, an armȳ vanquyshed and slayne.
Arbores cæsæ, trees cutte downe.
Cæsæ victimæ.
Cæsa pectora, beatyng their breastes.
Inter cæsa & porrecta, betweene the cuttynge and the geuynge: A prouerbe signifiyng taryȝng and doubtyng what to dooe, and as it were the space betweene the leauynge of from the thynge that is begunne, and the begynnynge of that whiche is newely enterprysed.
Cætarij, lyke Cetarij.
Cæter, or Cæterus, a, um, the remnant or residue
Cætera doctus, learned in other thynges,
Cætera, f. g. Cæterum, neu. ge. the other, the remnant, the residue.
Nunquid me vis cæterum? wyll ye anȳ thyng elles with me?
Exercitum cæterum seruauit, that was left of the armie.
Paucula cætera, a fewe other thynges.
Cætera mitte loqui.
Virum cætera egregium. i. quantum ad cætera, in all other thinges an excellent man.
Est terebintho cætera similis, pomo amygdalis, in other thinges it is like a turpentine tree, in the fruite lyke the almonde trees:
Excepto quod simul non esses, cætera lætus, for all other thynges merȳ enough or in all other ponctes. ꝛc.

De cætero vellem equidem aut ille ipſe, &c.
Item& & cætera, and lykewiſe other thynges.
Quid cæterum? what more?
Pro cætera tua diligentia, for your other diligence. Cæterum omne, all the reſidue.
Aetas cætera, the reſidue of his age.
Cæterus, is redde in Cato.
Cætera, for Quantum ad cætera, as concernyng other thynges.
Cætera, ſometyme hereafter.
Cæterô, an aduerbe, as for the reſydue of the time, As concernynge the reſidue.
Cæteroquin, or Cæteroqui, for Alioqui.
Cæterum, & cætera, bee aduerbes, ſygnyfiynge ſometyme moreouer. ſometyme from henceforth. ſometyme Cæterum, is a coniunction, and ſignifieth Sed, but. ſometyme Alioqui.
Cætobrix, a citee of Portugall.
Cæus, a, um, of the yle called Cæa.
Cæyx, cæycis, a certayne byrde, whiche after ſome, breedeth of the neſt of the byrde called Halcyon.
Caffraui, ydolatours dwellynge in Indie the more, whiche worſhyp dyuelles in moſte terrible fygure, beleeuynge, that they are permytted of god, to punyſhe or ſpare men at theyr pleaſure. wherefore vnto theim they ſacrifyce theyr chyldren, and ſometyme them ſelues. They haue many wyues, but they company not with theim, vntyll they be defloured by other hyred to that purpoſe. Alſo they ſuffre theyr prieſtes to haue carnall company with their wiues in their abſẽce. They haue bulles and kyne in great reuerence, but they neuere eate fleſhe, theyr ſuſtinaunce is rice, ſuger, and dyuers ſweete rootes, they drink the licour that cometh of tyre dates.
Caiani, heretiques that worſhyppe Cayn, ſayynge that he was made of the one vertue or power, that is, of the diuel, and Abel of the other, and that the vertue of Cayn preuayled ſo, that he ſlewe Abell. They ſaie Judas was a godly mã, and his acte a benefyte to mankynde. For he perceiuynge howe muche the paſſion of Chryſte ſhould preuayle, delyuered hym to the Jewes, that by his death man might be redemed. They affyrme, that the olde lawe was naught, and denye the generall reſurrection.
Caianus, a, um, of Caius.
Caici, people of Germanie, dwellynge by the Rhyne.
Caicus, a ryuer of Phrygia, whiche renneth out of Mylia. alſo one of the companions of Eneas.
Caieta, a citee and hauen of Campayne.
Cain, the fyrſt ſonne of Adam, who had to wyfe his owne ſyſter, whyche of Philo is named Themeth, he fyrſte builded citees. And for enuy he ſlewe his brother Abell, wherefore beynge in deſperation, he continually wandred, and his body trembled. Finally he was ſlayne by Lamech, whan he was of the age of. 730. yeres, after Philo.
Caius, a ryuer in Scythia, whiche renneth into Ganges.
Caius, a proper name of a man.
Cala, læ, f. g. a billet, a ſtyck of woodde, or a bygge clubbyſhe ſtaffe, which the ſeruauntes of the Romayne ſouldiours caried after theim in warre to make theyr trenches with.
Calaber, a, um, of Calaber.
Calabri hoſpitis xenia, A prouerbe ſpoken of ſmall trifelynge gyftes more troubleſome than pleaſant.
Calabra, a conuocation place, where matters concernynge deuocion were treated.
Calabria, a countrey ioignyng to Naples, called before Magna Græcia. Alſo an yſlande called before Meſſapia.
Calabris, bre, & Calabricus, a, um, of Calaber.
Caladrius, and Caladrion, a certayne byrd of colour white.
Calæ, arum, a citee in India.
Calænum, lyke Calenum.
Calagurium, a towne in Biſkay.
Calais, the ſonne of Boreas, and brother to Zetha, whom poetes feigned to haue wynges.
Calais, is a precious ſtone lyke to a ſaphier.
Calama, æ, f. g. an eare of corne.
Calamárium, rii, n. g. a pennar.
Calamêntum, ti, n. g. a broken piece of a ſyde or prop, that a vyne hath bene vnderſette with.
Calamintha, an herbe, of whiche are. iii. kyndes. One called Calamentum, hath leaues like to great Baſyll, but that they be hore, and hath ſquare ſtalkes, with many knottes and ioynctes, and is nowe called buſhe calamint, or hore calampnt. An other called Pulegium ſylueſtre, is lyke to peny royall, or Puliole royall, but that the leaues are greatter, and is commonlye called wylde peny royall, or rather corne calampnt, or calampnt. The thirde called Nepeta, or herba catorum, groweth higher than any of the other, hath a larger leafe, lyke to wylde mynt, a pelowe flower, and is commonly called neppe or catmynt, becauſe cattes dooe delyte to rubbe theim ſelues againſt it, and to-rate of the braunches. All theſe kyndes be hoote and dry in the thyrde degree.
Calamis, a famous ingrauer.
Calamiſtrum, ſtri, n. g. a ynne of wood or ynory, wherwith men or women dooe ſette or trym by theyr heare.
Calamiſtratus, a, um, that is trymmed with ſuch a ynne.
Calamiſtrata coma, a criſped buſhe of heare.
Calamiſus, a towne of Locrus.
Calamitæ, arum, f. g. little greene frogges.
Calámitas, átis, fœ. g. is properly hayle, whiche beateth downe corne, and deſtroyeth it. Alſo a generall deſtruction, miſery, calamitee, aduerſitee. Calamitas in amore, trouble in loue.
Calamites, tæ, m. g. a precious ſtone called a calamite.

lamite.

Calamitôſe, myſerably.

Calamitôſus, a, um, deſtroied with tempeſte of wether, hurtfull, miſerable, or full of aduerſitee

Calamitôſum cœlum, an yll or hurtefull ayre.

Calamitôſa prætura, an hurtfull prætorſhyppe, bryngyng muche trouble to the common weale.

Calamochnus, ni, m. g. a fyſhe called Adarcha.

Calamos, a towne in Aſia by the hyll Libanus.

Calamus, mi, m. g. a reede or wheate ſtraw. Alſo a penne to wryte with. It is taken for a pype or whyſtle. alſo a fyſhynge rodde and a twyggy wheron bryde lyme is putte. Alſo a ſmall twyg of a tree, a graſſe, a lyttle darte, or arrow. Sometyme the ſtyle or fourme of an oration. alſo a poll to mette with, contaynyng fyue cubites and a ſpan. alſo a meaſure, whiche the Jewes vſed, as we doo a poll, whereof be two ſortes: One called Calamus ſanctuarij, contaynyng .x. feete and an halfe: The other Calamus vulgaris, the common poll or perche, contaynyng nyne foote, of our meaſure. Iii. pardes.

Calamus aromaticus, vel odoratus, a cane or reede growynge in Arabia, Syria, and India, whiche hath many knottes or ioyntes, and is of a pale reddeſh colour. whan it is broken it falleth into longe peeces as it were cut, and hath within it as it were copwebbes. It ſendeth forth a meruayloule ſweete ſauour farre of, and beyng taſted, cleaueth to the tounge, and ſtrengtheth it. It is hoote and drye in the ſeconde degree.

Calántica, æ, f. g. a hyre, burlet or copfe, a kercheef, or a hood for a woman.

Calanus, a philoſophier of Indie, beyng of the age of .73. yeres, dyed in the preſence of great Alexander, make a great bonfyre, and ſeelynge him ſelfe ſycke, went into the toppe therof, and burned him ſelfe.

Calapis, a notable ryuer in Hungary.

Calaris, a citee in Sardinia.

Calaſáſter, i, m. g. he that hath a ſhryll and lowd voyce.

Calaſáſtri pueri, were chyldren, whiche had ſharpe voyces and lowd, and were muche ſought for of great princes. ſome thynke that it ſholde be rather red Cataſthli pueri.

Calaſis, ſis, f. g. a certayne faſhion of quotes, or after ſome a knot of a womans garment about the ſhoulder.

Calâta comitia, a certayne aſſemblee, called for the election of the byſhops and prieſtes named Flamines.

Calathiâna, æ, fœ. g. a flower, whiche the frenchmen call Ancholie.

Calathis, the name of a citee.

Calathiſcus, a dimnutiue of Calathus.

Calathus, thi, m. g. a baſket, a hamper, or a panyer made of oſyers, in faſhion lyke the leafe of a lyly, brode aboue, and ſmall benethe. Alſo a braſen veſſell, wherein women vſed to brynge mylke and freſhe cheeſe to the market. Alſo a cuppe vſed in ſacrifice.

Calathuſa, an yle betweene Cherſoneſum and Samothrace.

Calatiæ, a citee of Italie.

Calatis, a citee of Thrace.

Calâtor, ôris, m. g. a ſeruaunt, whiche is alway called for, or alwaies occupied in callynge for other.

Calatus, the ſonne of Jupiter and Antiope.

Calaurea, or Calauria, an yſlande in the ſea Mediterraneum, where Demoſthenes poyſoned him ſelfe.

Calbei, orum, m. g. bracelettes, whiche were geuen to ſouldiours.

Calbis, a ryuer of Caria.

Calcáneus, nei, m. g. & Calcaneum, the heele.

Calcanthum, is after Cor. Celſus, Atramentum ſutorium.

Calcar, âris, n. g. a ſpurre.

Calcar addere currenti, a prouerbe ſignifyeng to pryche one forwarde, whiche is of him ſelfe well diſpoſed to a thyng.

Calcáribus concitare equum, to fetche vp the horſe with the ſpurres.

Calcaribus agere, and Frenis agere, are contrarie.

Immenſum calcar habet gloria, Glory ſtyrreth vp, or encorageth a man wonderfully.

Calcaria, orum, neu. g. the ſpurres of a cocke or an henne.

Calcárius, a, um, of or pertaynynge to lyme.

Calcária fornax, a lyme pytte or kylle.

Calcárius, rij, m. g. a lyme burner.

Calcas, ântis, an Augurian, who beynge moyſhed by Appollo, forſoke the Troians, and fled to the grekes.

Calcatórium, rij, n. g. a lyme pytte.

Calcâtus, a, um, pergetted or white lymed.

Calcâta ædificia, houſes that be pargetted.

Calce, a citee of Campayne.

Calceámen, ínis, & Calceaméntum, ti, ne. ge. a ſhoe, ypnſon, or ſocke.

Calceárium, rij, n. g. idem.

Calceâtus, us, m. g. idem.

Calceâtus, a, um, ſhoed.

Calcendix, dicis, f. g. a kynde of ſhell fyſhe.

Calceo, áui, âre, to put on ſhoen, to ſhoe an horſe or mule.

Calceolárius, rij, m. g. a ſhoemaker or cordiner.

Calcéolus, li, m. g. a little ſhoe.

Cálceus, i, m. g. a ſhoe.

Calceos mutare, to be made a ſenatour.

Calceus lunatus, a ſhoe faſhioned before lyke a moone, whiche onely the Senatours of Rome dyd weare.

Cálcio, áui, âre, idem quod calceo.

Calciope, the ſyſter of Abſyrtus, and daughter of kyng Aeeta.

Calcitrâtus, us, maſ. gen. kyckyng, wynſynge or ſpyngyng.

Calcitro, áui, âre, to kycke or wynſe, and by a metaphoz, to be against, oz to refuse stubbornly and frowardly.

Calcitro, ônis, m. g. an hoꝛse that dothe kynge, strphe, oz perke out behynde.

Calcitrôsus, a, um, that oftentymes kynggeth, kycketh, oz strpketh.

Calco, áui, áre, to treade oz preſſe downe, and by a metaphoꝛe, to subdue, to keepe vnder, oz to haue in subiection. Also to contemne and sette naught by, and as it were to treade vnder foote.

Calcâre vues. to stampe grapes.

Calcularius, a, um, pertepnpng to accompte.

Calculâtor, ôris, mas. gene. one that casteth accomptes.

Calculo, aui, are, to caste accomptes.

Calculôsus, si, ma. ge. he that is muche diseased with the stone.

Calculôsus, a, um, stonp, oz full of grauell.

Calculôsus locus, a stonp place.

Calculus, li, m. g. a pebble-stone, the stone in the bodie, a chesse man, oz a table man, accompte, the least weight oz popse that maie be. Also counters to caste oz numbꝛe with. sometyme doubtes oz difficile reasons.

Calculum ponere, to pelde accompte.

Calculum premittere vel porrigere, to put it to ones libertee to geue a sentence, oz to geue his voyce in election, as he lpsteth.

Calculum parem ponere, to requite.

Candidus calculus, a fauourable sentence, oz iudgemet, that quiteth a man.

Niger calculus, contrarpe, a moztall sentence that condemneth a man.

Calculũ reducere, to reuoke a sentence, wherof one repenteth, oz to tourne that purpose, whiche was noꝛ well and commodiously diupsed.

☞ Calculo modére, A pꝛouerbe, signifipng to hurt one in geupnge sentence, oz in election.

☞ Calculum album adꝺcere, to appꝛoue oz allowe a thinge, A pꝛouerbe, taken of the olde maner of iudgemente, whan men vsed to geue sentence, by puttpng lpttell stones into a pot.

Omnes quos ego nouí in vtraq; parte calculos, pone: all harde doubtes.

Calculum album adꝺcere errori alicuius: to appꝛoue.

Calculum de se permittere, to make other iudges of hym.

Ad calculos vocare, to call to accompte.

Ad calculos vocare amicitiam, to accompte howe manye pleasures he hath doone foꝛ his friende, that he maie lowe foꝛ as many agapne.

Ad calculos reuerti, to returne to his accoũpt.

And by a metaphoꝛe, to haue consideration oz regarde of a thynge, whiche bekoꝛe wer dyd lette passe, and by negligence omitted.

☞ Candido calculo notare diem, A pꝛouerbe taken of Thꝛacians, whiche vsed to note suche daies as were happy and foꝛtunate, wpth white stones, and the vnluckye dapes with blacke.

Calculi, is vsed of Columella foꝛ reuenues, oz as muche as one can spende.

Calda, æ, fœ. ge. hotte water.

Caldáriæ, arum, hotte bathes.

Caldariæ cellæ, places ioygnynge to an hotte house oz dꝛy bayne, whiche bee made warme by the heate that pꝛoceedeth from the layde baynes.

Caldárium, rii, neu. gen. a tauldzon, wherein water is hette.

Cardariolum, a dimin.

Caldárius, a, um, that warmeth oz maketh hotte.

Caldarium æs, copper.

Caldor, óris, m. g. idem quod calor.

Caldus, a, um, olde wꝛiters vsed foꝛ Calidus, and Caldior, foꝛ Calidior.

Cale, es, a citee in Campayne.

Calecut, a famouse citee in Indie the moze, ioygnyng to the Indian sea: where is the greatest marte and recours of marchauntes in all Indie, not onely from the countreys adioygnynge, but also out of Arabie, Syria, Ethiope, Lydia, and Egypt, foꝛ to sell and bye all maner of spyces, sweete gummes, muske, ambꝛegrice, and mꝛꝛhe balanes. The kynge of that countreyes ryches is inestimable, and although he weareth no garmentes, pet his necke, armes, and leggꝛs bee adoꝛned with diamandes, saphires, rubies, emeraudes, and balapses, wounderfull greate and fapꝛe. The kynge and people bee Idolatours, called Caffrani, lowe there.

Caledon, lowe Calydon.

Calefácio, calefacis, fẽci, ĕre, to make hotte, and by a metaphoꝛe, to vexe, to make angꝛie, to chafe.

Calefácto, áui, áre, to heate oz make warme.

Aquam calefactare, to heate water.

Calefactus, a, um, heatte oz made warme, angꝛed, chafed.

Calefactus, us, m. g. heate, oz warmenesse.

Calefio, calefis, pas. I am made hotte.

Calegia, the citee wittenberg in Germanie.

Calena, næ, fœ. ge. a towne in Englande called Oxfoꝛde: wherein is the fyꝛste and chiefe vniuersitee of chꝛistendome, flopꝛisshyng in all kynde of learnyng.

Calendæ, arum, fœ. g. plu. nu. the fyꝛst daie of euery monthe.

Ausoniæ calendæ, the latyne Calendes.

☞ Ad calendas græcas, a pꝛouerbe, signifiynge neuer, because the Grecches had no calendes.

Calendaris, the surname of Juno, to whom all Calendes were dedicated.

Calendâris, re, that pertepneth to the Calendes.

Calendrius, a, um, idem quod Calendaris.

Calendarius liber, idem quod Calendarium.

Calendárium, rii, n. ge. a Calender oz tab'e, named of the obseruation of monethes: as Diarium, of the obseruation of actes daply done. And because marchauntes and vsurers dyd often make suche rechnynge bookes oz tables foꝛ remembꝛaunce of dettes, it is taken amonge ciuile lawyers, foꝛ the feate oz pꝛactyse of lending

of

of money.

Calendula, læ, f. g. an herbe called also (of the latines) Caltha, or Calthula.

Calen, people of Campayne.

Calenum, a citee in the countrey of Naples.

Caleo, ui, ẽre, to be whotte or warme, and by a metaphore, to be freshe and new: as,

Dum res caler, whyle the matter is hotte. also to desyre feruently, to be somewhat hotte or earnest in a matter.

Calent iudicia, the iudges haue much to do, or the iudgementes be exercised busily.

Illud crimen caluit re recenti, nunc refrixit, That accusation was hotte or muche spoken of at the fyrste, whyle the matter was freshe, now it is alaied or lyttell mencioned.

Illi rumores caluerunt, Those rumours were very frequent in many mens mouthes, or were ofte reported of diuers men.

Tubas audire calens, desyrous to here trumpetes.

Caletur, the impersonall.

Cales, a towne or people in Campayne, where is very good wyne, called Calenum vinum.

Calesco, ui, scere, to wax hotte.

Calestra, a citee in the sea coste of Italie.

Caletæ, the towne of Calice. also an plande by Samothrace.

Caletranus ager, a place in Italy.

Calfacio, calfacis, idem quod calefacio.

Calicadnus, a ryuer of Cilicia.

Calicula, a towne in Spayne.

Caliculus, li, m. g. a diminutiue of Calix, a lyttell cup or maser. Also a thynge in the legge of Polypus, lyke a cuppe.

Calidris, lyke Caladrius.

Calidus, da, dum, hotte. Also feruente, fierse, or rasshe.

Calidi pedes, lyght feete.

Calida consilia, rasshe and vnaduysed counsayles.

✠ Calidum prandium comedisti, Thou haste doone that wyll tourne to thy greate hurte and domage.

Calendrum, an ornament for womens heades, or after some, counterfaite heares, laied out in stede of theyr owne.

Caliga, gæ, f, g. an hose. also a legge harneyse, or a sterrup or buskin, that souldiours vsed in warres, whiche in the soles were dryuen full of lyttle nayles: wherof those nayles be cald Caligares.

✠ Caliga maximini, A prouerbe, applyed to men of great stature and personage, haunge yll condicions or properties, or had in contempte or hatred. whiche grewe of the Emperour Maximinus, who was in height eyght fete and an halfe, his greaues were a foote longer than any other mans: Notwithstandynge he was of maners barbarous and beastly, and extremely hated of all men.

Caliga spiculatoria, a facion of sterrups or legharneys, that souldiours vsed to the myddest legge, so made, that the vpper parte was lyke to a lyons head, lyke in Bayius, de re vest.

Caligæ, Epicratis oratoris lasciui, Cicero vsed for a style flowyng with ouer curious eloquence.

Caligāris, re, and Caligārius, a, um, pertaynyng or seruyng to hose or legge harneys, or to sterrups, that souldiours vsed.

Caligātio, ōnis, f. g. dymmyng of the syght.

Caligātus, a, um, hosed, or that weareth legge harneys.

Caligati milites, common souldiours, of small estimacion, that wore sterrups vp to the myddell legge.

Caliginōsus, a, um, ful of darkenes, very obscure.

Caliginosum cælum, a darke mystie weather.

Caligo, ginis fœm. gen. darkenesse, dymnesse of the ayre. Quasi per caliginem, darkely, and as it were in a cloude, or myste.

Caligo oculorum, dymnesse of the syght.

Caligo mentis, blyndenesse of mynde.

Caligo noctis, darkenesse of the nyght.

Caligo, āui, āre, to make darke, or to be darke.

Caligare in sole, to bee detayned in a playne matter.

Caligante animo, with a blynde imagination.

Oculi caligantes, eies dymme of syght.

Amnes caligant, The ryuers breathe out as it were mystes.

Caligula, an Emperour called also Caius, who succeded Tyberius, and was sonne of the noble Germanicus, and had the name Caligula geuen to him by the men of warre, whiche were with his father, because he beyng a chyld in the campe, dyd weare lytle greaues, or harnes bootes, called Caligæ, for his lyke looke Sueto. & Sabellicus.

Calim, olde writers vsed for Clam.

Calingæ, m. g. a people in India, where women bryng forth chyldren at. v. yeres of age, and lyue not paste. viii. yeres.

Calingi, people of Asia.

Calingon, n. g. a promontory of India.

Calinipaxa, f. g. a citee in Scythia.

Calinus, m. g. a certayne pmage maker.

Caliphus, phi, ma. ge. was the name of dygnitee of the kynges of Egypte, from the yere of our lord. 704. vntyll the yere, 1050. that Almericus kyng of Hierusalem, made warre on Egypt. and the Calife sente to the soudan of Babylon for succours, whiche sent an army with one Sarraco, who fyrste expelled the christen men, and after warde dyd caste the Calife in prysone, and takyng on hym the rule, caused hym selfe to bee called the soudan of Egypt. Caliphus is also the dignitee of him, that is the chiefe bysshop of Machometes lawe.

Caliópolis, or Calliópolis, a citee in Thrace by Helespont, an other in Macedonie. also one of the yles called Aeolidæ.

Caliqua, lyke Calyqua.

Callirohe, or rather Callirohe, the name of two fountaynes, the one by Hierusalem, the water wherof is medicinable, and healeth many sycknesses. The other is by Athens, and hath nyne heades.

Calisthenes, or rather Callisthenes, a philosophier, disciple to Aristotle, whom great Alexander tooke with him in his conquest, for his excellent learnynge and wysedome, and had hym in great honor. But afterwarde Alexander imbrasyng the pryde of the Persians, and commaundynge the Macedons to honour hym prostrate, (after the maner of the Persians) and to call him the sonne of Jupiter: Calisthenes rebuked and dissuaded him from that folye. wherefore Alexander commaunded his armes and legges to bee cutte of, and lykewyse his eares, nose, and lyppes, and to bee throwen into a dungeon, whose greuous peynes and deformitee, one Lysymachus, a noble man, pitiynge, gaue to hym poyson, wherof he died.

Calisto, the daughter of Lycaon, and mother of Archas, whiche gaue the name to the countrey of Archadia, whom poetes feigned to be transformed into a beare.

Calithoe, the name of a fountayne.

Calix, licis, m. ge. a cuppe. also a potte, wherein potage is sodden. Also that parte of the cuppe or pot onely, that containeth licour. It is also taken for the shell of a fyshe.

Calix vitreus, a glasse to drynke in.

Calix auratus, a gylt cuppe or goblet.

Calicem siccare, to drynke vp cleane all that is in the cuppe.

Calix fœcundus, a cuppe full of wyne.

Inæquales calices, cuppes of diuers bygnesses.

Plebei calices, cuppes of small prices.

Texere calices smaragdis, to sette cuppes full of precious stones.

Callaici, people of Portugall.

Callaicus, a, um, of that people.

Callais, laidis, ma. ge. a precious stone of a pale grene colour.

Callaria, æ, fœ. ge. a cole whytynge, meane betwene a haddocke and a whytynge.

Callens, wyse or perfect in a thyng.

Callens vaticinandi, skylfull in soothsaynge.

Calleo, callui, ère, to bee harde as braune, to bee hardned with longe vse, as the frete with goyng, or the handes with worckynge, and by translacion is applied to the myndе. Also to perceiue, to knowe perfectly by longe experience.

Ego illius sensum pulchre calleo, I knowe the mans faction wonderfully well.

Dei muneribus sapienter vti callet, he knoweth well how to vse. &c.

Callere iura, to be well skylled in the lawe.

Callere ad suum quæstum.

Callesco, scere, to become harde,

Callet, a towne in Spayne.

Callias, a poete of Athenes, the sonne of Lysymachus, whiche made ropes to gette his liuyng. It was also a noble capitayne sente agaynst Artaxerxes. It is also an herbe, called Solanum somniferum.

Calliblépharum, ri, neutri. gene. a medicine to make heares to growe in the browes: Or rather a medycine for the eies, specially whan the eye lydder dooe cleaue togyther, or when the soores of the eyes bee not well healed. Plin. li. 23. cap. 4.

Callicles, a certayne ymage maker.

Callicrates, m. g. a heruy, whiche in puoyre hetred Emotes, and other small beastes so kynely, that the partes might scantle be seene. also the name of a great ryche man, and of a iudge of Athens.

Callidè, aduerb. wittyly, prudently, craftyly, subtylly.

Calliditas, âtis, fœ. g. slynesse, wylynesse, craftynesse, longe practised subtiltee.

O mira hominem calliditate, O subtile and crafty felowe.

Callidromus, a mountayne in Grece.

Callidus, a, um, slye or crafty. somtyme wyse circumspect, or that by longe experience hath good knowlage of a thynge, an olde crafte fore.

Callidum mendacium, a crafte lie.

Callidus rerum iudex, a wyse and prudent iudge, and of great experience.

Callidissimus rerum rusticarum, a perfecte good husbande man.

Callidus rerum iudex, wyse, or skylfull in discernynge of thynges.

Consilium callidum, a subtill deuyse.

Animus callidus, a crafty myndе.

Callidus accendendis offensionibus, skylfull or cunnynge to sette debate and variaunce betweene men.

Callidus ad quæstum, a wyly worldely man, that hath many wayes to wyn, a crafty fore, that wyll not lyghtly bee beggyed, craftie to gette goynes.

Callidus ad fraudem, cunnyng and crafte in deceiuynge.

Astus callidi, subtile craftynesse.

Callidus and Stultus, contrary.

Calligonon, ligoni, ne. ge. an herbe, called also Polygonon, commonly Sanguinaria.

Callimachus, the name of a poete of Syrene, the sonne of Battus, one of the ouerseers of Ptolomeus lybrary.

Callimus, a certayne stone.

Callinicus, a sophister of Syria, whiche wrote the gestes of Alexander.

Callonimus, mi, ma. ge. a certayne fyshe, whose gall healeth the scarres of woundes. some take it for the fysh called accipenser, other for lycus.

Caliope, pes, f. g. one of the nyne Muses, whych excelled all the other in swetenesse of voyce. Of some she is taken for the goddesse of Rhetorike:

of

of other for the goddesse of poetrie.
Callipæda, ma.g. an olde man playyng the boy, beyng wanton and busy.
Callipidæ, people of Scythia in Europe, by the ryuer Hypanis.
Callipo, a philosophier, whiche in his teachynge ioygned volupte with honestie.
Callipolis, looke Calipolis.
Callippus, one of Athens, whiche was slayne of the Syracusans in Sicilie, because he attempted tyrannye after Dionysius.
Callirohe, the daughter of Lycus, a cruell tyranne, that vsed to sacrifice his gestes. Looke more in Calirohe.
Callis, lis, m.g. a way muche vsed, a beate pathe.
Angustus callis, a straicte pathe or narow.
Callescere, to ware harde, properly in the skynne or flesshe.
Callisthenes, looke Calisthenes.
Callistratus, a certayne ymage maker.
Callistruthiæ, arum, f. ge. a kynde of egges, of all other most colde.
Callitriche, es, f. g. idem quod Callitrix.
Callitrichon, chi, n.g. an herbe called also Pollitricon, Adiantum, Cincinnalis, Terræ capillus, and Supercilium terræ, of the apothecaries Capillus Veneris, in englysh, mayden heare.
Callitrix, tricis, fœ. gen. an herbe which beynge sodde in water, is medicinable agaynst moyste sores.
Callitriches, a beast in forme contrary to an ape, haynge as it were a bearde on his face, and a brode tayle, it wyll lyue in no place but in Aethiope where it is bred. Plin.
Callôsus, a, um, thycke skynned.
Callôsa vlcera, sores haueng the flesshe aboute them harde.
Callosa tunica oculi, the thycke or harde skynne.
Callus, li, masc. ge. & Callum, li, n. ge. brawne or hardenesse of the feete, made with goynge, or of the handes with labourynge.
Callum obducere, to harden, to make to endure labours or peynes.
✠ Callum ducere, A prouerbe, signifynge to be longe exercised or vsed in any thyng.
Consuetudo diuturna callum obduxit stomacho meo, hath hardened my stomache.
Callum solorum, the harde brawne in the sole of the feete.
Callum aprugnum, brawne.
Calo, ônis, mas. g. a shoe of woodde. Also a scuelpon, or a boye that foloweth an hoste, to carye baggage, wood, coles and other lyke thyng.
Calo, aui, are, to call.
Calon, an ymage maker.
Calophanta, phantæ, ma.gen. a mocker.
Calopôdium, dij, neu. gen. a paten or slipper.
✠ Calceare omnes vno calopodio, a prouerbe applied to fooles and ignorant persones, whiche apply one thyng to diuers matters.
Calopus, lópodis, masc. gen. a beast in Scythia, whiche with his horne throweth downe greate trees.
Calor, ôris, m. g. heate.
Sumissior calor, a gentler or mylder heate.
Horrifici calores: parchynge heate.
Decedere calori, to go out of the heate.
Largitur sol idem caloris omnibus, the same heate. &c.
Liquefieri calore, to be melted.
Redit calor ossibus, he wareth warme agayne.
Reliquit ossa calor, he ware colde wythin.
Molestiam caloris sedare, to asswage.
Sustinere calorem, to abyde heate.
Temperat calorem ventus, qualifieth.
Impatiens caloris, that cannot abyde heate.
Dum se calor frangat, tyll the heate asswage it selfe.
In viuum calorem reuocare, to restore to naturall heate.
Euocare calorem in cutem, to fetche the heate into the vtter partes.
Calor remittit mel, heate melteth hony, or maketh it liquide.
Calorificus, a, um, that whiche heateth or maketh a thynge hotte or warme.
Calostoma, one of the mouthes of Danubie.
Calorechnus, ni, masc. gen. a good wooxke man.
Calpar, calparis, n. g, a certeyne earthen vessell, of olde writers it was vsed for a tunne. Also new wyne drawen for sacrifice, before the vessell was sette a broche. Varro taketh it for the wyne vessell called dolium, a tunne.
Calpas, an hauen in Bithynia, or after Strabo, a ryuer.
Calpe, one of the mountaynes called Hercules pyllers, by whiche is the passage out of the Spayne sea, into the sea Mediterraneum. Also the name of a citee in Granado.
Calpurni, people that had their begynnyng of Calpo the sonne of Numa.
Calta, an herbe growyng amonge corne, haueng a yelow flower.
Caltha, called also Calthula, and of the Apothecaries Calendula, of some Flos omnium mensium by the iudgement of Ruellius, and the description and figure sette foorth by Fuchsius, is a marygolde. of some it is taken for a kynde of white violettes.
Calthula, læ, fœ. gen. a garment of the coloure of marigoldes. After Varro it is a shorte cloke.
Calua, æ, f.g. a scull.
Caluaria, æ, f. gn. the whole head of a man or beast, whan the flesshe is away. It was also a common place of buryall. Some men suppose it was the place, where Adam the fyrste man was buried.
Caluaster, stri, mas. g. a man somewhat balde.
Caluâtus, a, um, balde.

Caluâs

Caluāta vinea, a vineparde, wherin be but few vynes.

Calueſco, to be made balde.

Calueo, calui, ēre, to be balde.

Caluéſco, ſcēre, to waxe balde, as well in thynges haupng no lyfe, as in men and beaſtes.

Caluéta, orum, n. g. downes or playnes, wheron doe grow neyther corne ne trees. They be alſo called of Columella, Glabreta.

Caluire, amonge the olde Romaynes ſpgnyfyed to deceyue or diſapoynt.

Caluinárius porcus, a ſwyne fedde with grapnes and ſuche other vyle thynges.

Caluiſius Sabinus, a very ryche man in Rome whiche had ſo ſmalle remembrance, that ſome tyme he forgate the name of Vliſſes, ſometyme of Achilles, ſometyme of Priamus, whiche before he knew as perfectly as chyldern doe theyr tutours. And becauſe he woulde be ſeene to bee learned, he founde thys readye way. He bought diuers ſlaues, of whiche one had the warkes of Homer by hert: An other Heſiodus: lyke wyſe to euery of the .ix. poetes called Lyrici, he appoynted a ſeruant to learne by herte. Whan he had gotten this company, at ſupper they ſhould ſit vnder the bourde at his feete. Of whome he recepuynge verſes, woulde appoſe them that ſatte with him. yet ſometyme he forgat the middell of the verſe. Not withſtandyng he thought he knew as muche as any man in his houſe. A merye felow, called Catellius, perceyuynge hys folye, exhorted him to waſſle, bryng leane, ſicke and pale. Than ſaied Caluiſius, how ſhoulde I waxe fat, ſens vneth I may liue for feblenes? Oh ſaye not ſo (quod Catellius) I pray you, ſee you not what a ſorte of talle felowes you haue to your ſeruauntes?

Caluities, ei, f. g. baldeneſſe.

Caluitium, tij, n. g. baldeneſſe, when one hath but few heares.

Caluitium loci, the bareneſſe of any place, where groweth neither graſſe, nor any other thynge.

Calumnia, æ, f. g. a falſe or crafty accuſation, a forged cryme, a ſurmyſe, or a malitious inuencion or alledgynge of a thyng, to trouble or vexe a man. A malicious detraction.

Calumnia leuis, a treſlyng cauillation of no effecte.

Adhibere calumniam, to vſe falſehoodde.

Calumniam contundere, to ſubuerte and deſtroy a falſe cauill.

Extrahere rem calumnijs, to prolonge the matter with falſe cauillacions.

Imponere alicui calumniæ perſonam, to reputte one to be a cauiller.

Iurare calumniam in aliquem dicebatur accuſator, when the tooke othe in open iudgement that he commeth not to accuſe one falſely or malitiouſly.

Litium calumniæ, malicious alterations and ouerthwartynges in ſuites or controuerſies of the lawe.

Calumniátor, ôris, m. g. he that accuſeth or ſueth a man vniuſtly, he that dooeth interprete or alledge a thyng diſcreetfully and craftily.

Apponere calumniatorem, to ſubozne a falſe accuſar or malicious delatour.

Calúmnior, âris, âri, to accuſe or ſue a man vniuſtly, to lay a thynge to ones charge falſely and malitiouſly, diſcreetfully, and wilyly to alleage a thyng againſt one.

Calcumniôſus, a, um, he that often vſeth deceitfull interpretations.

Calumnioſis criminibus innocentes inſectari.

Caluo, aui, are, to make balde.

Caluo, ui, uire, to deceyue or diſapoynt.

Caluor, iris, iri, to be diſapoynted or deceyued, or as a deponent, idem quod Caluo, is.

Caluus, ui, m. g. he that is balde.

Caluus, a, um, balde.

Caluum vellis, Thou pluckeſt heare of a bald mans head. A prouerbe, where one woulde haue a thynge of a man that he hath not, thou wouldeſt take a brethe from a bare arſe man.

Caluus comatus, a balde man with a buſſe: A prouerbe, applied to them, whiche ſhew themſelues ryche, with other mens goodes, or do ſit footh for theyr owne warkes, which other man laboured and deuiſed.

Caluus, an auncient poete.

Calx, cálcis, ma. & fœ. ge. the heele, or ende of a thynge.

Conciſus pugnis & calcibus, thumped bothe with the fiſtes and with the feete.

Cruentare equum ferrata calce, to ſpurgale a horſe.

Pulſa calce, kicke him backewarde.

Verberare auras calcibus, to ſtynge and kicke as horſes doeth.

Vti pugnis & calcibus, to ſtrike with the fiſtes and kicke with the heeles.

A capite ad calcem, from the top to the toe, from the head to the heele. A prouerbe, ſpgnifyng euerie whitte, al together. ſometyme from the begynnyng to the latter endyng.

A calce ad carceres, contrary, from the ende to the fyrſt begynnyng.

Calcibus cædere, calce ferire, petere, pulſare, to ſtrike or kycke with the heeles.

Calces, is ſometyme taken for ſtrokes with the heeles.

Calx, cálcis, f. g. lyme made of ſtones bourned.

Calyba, a citee of Thrace.

Calycadnus, a riuer in Cilicia.

Calyculus, lyculi, m. g. a diminutiue of Calyx.

Calydium, a towne in Italy, in the way called Appia.

Calydne, or Calydna, a towne of Caria. Alſo one of the yles called Sporades.

Calydon, a citee in Greece.

Caly-

C ANTE A.

Calydonia ſylua, a greate foreſt in Scotlande, wherein were white bulles and kyen, which had manes lyke to lyons.

Calypſo, the daughter of Atlas, or after ſome of Oceanus and Tethys, a nimph or woman of the ſea, whiche reygned in the yle Ogygia, and receyued Ulyſſes, whan he eſcaped drownynge.

Calýptra, træ, fœ. g. a womans cappe, hoode, or bonet.

Calyx, lўcis, m. g. the lytle greene leaues on the toppe of a ſtalke, out of the which cometh firſte the floure and after the ſeede.

Camacæ, a people of Scythia.

Camædris, looke Chamædris.

Camæ, an other people of Scythia.

Camalodunum, a citee of Britayne.

Camara, a citee of Candie.

Camarica, a towne of Spayne, called alſo Victoria.

Camarina, næ, fœ. gen. a ſtynkynge herbe, the ayre wherof whan it is touched, ſhaken or ſtirred, prouoketh one to vomitte. It is alſo a maryſe or fenne nere vnto a citee of the ſame name.

☞ Camarinam mouere, a prouerbe, ſpoken to one, that hurteth hym ſelfe, by that thyng that he ſtirreth or goeth aboute to haue doon. And it proceded of a fenne ſo called, whiche beynge dryed vp, there hapned a great peſtilence, wherof the people adioynynge, aſked of Appollo, yf they ſhould make it dry for euer: who anſwered, Ne moueas camarinam, as he ſhould ſaie Stere not miſchief to thy ſelfe.

Cambala, orum, a place in Italy, where bee golde mynes.

Cambalidus mons, a parte of the mountayne Caucaſus.

Cambalu, a great citee in the countrey of Cathay, which is in circuite. xl. myles, ſtrongly walled, and hath xii. gates. In the myddell therof is the palaice of the great Cham or Cane of Cathay, called the palaice of iuſtice, whiche conteyneth in circuite. iiii. myles: And in it be foure great pilleres of fyne golde.

Cámbio, ſi, vel iui, ire, to chaunge. In the olde tyme it ſignified to fyght, to begyn a iorney, or to tourne in a iouſtney.

Cambodunum, a citee in weſtphalia, called Monachum, and Munchen, whiche late was deſtroyed becauſe the people mayntayned the herreſie of the Anabaptiſtes.

Cambolecri, people of Narbon in Fraunce.

Cambuſis, a citee of Ethiope.

Cambyſes, a kynge of Perſia, the ſonne of Cyrus. It is alſo the name of a ryuer in the countrey of Hircania.

Camelani, people of Italy.

Camelarij, orum, m. g. they whiche ryde on camelles, or kepe and dryue them.

Camelaſia, dryuyng or keppyng of camelles.

Camelates, a dryuer of camelles.

Camelinus, a, um, of a camell.

Camelopardalis, idem quod Nabis.

Camēlus, li, m. & f. g. a beaſt called a cammelle, whiche hath a longe necke and a littell head: And ſome haue on theyr backes two bunches lyke vnto hillockes, ſome haue but one. They of the countrey of Bactria, bee higher than horſes, and more ſwifte, in ſo much, that ſome will renne aboue an hundred myles in one day.

☞ Camelus bactrina, a prouerbe, applied where one bryngeth foorth a thyng to be meruayled at or feared, which in deede is to be contemned and laughed at. Some take camelus in the maſculine gender, for an anker cable.

Camella, a certayne cuppe.

Cámera, æ, f. g. the laſte roufe of an houſe, or a vaulte. Alſo a kynde of ſhyppes couered aboue.

Camerārius, a, um, what ſo euer groweth hangyng ouer perches, or on the roufes of houſes.

Camerātus, a, um, vaulted, ſiled, couered ouer.

Camerāta, or rather camerāria cucurbita, gourdes, which growe on perches, not creppynge on the grounde.

Camerāta vehicula, chariottes or lytters couered with boordes or leather.

Camerina, idem quod Camarina.

Camerinum, a towne of Italy, in the countrey of Picenum.

Cámero, āui, āre, to make a laſte roufe of an houſe, or a ſollar: to ſiele or make a vaulte.

Camers, an adiectiue of Camerinum.

Camertes, the in habitauntes of Camerinum.

Camertinus, a, um, idem quod Camers.

Cameſes, the companion of Janus.

Camilla, a woman of the Volſcians, which ayded Turnus agaynſt Eneas, and the latins.

Camillus, and Camilla, was in olde tyme a boye or wenche, that ſerued the byſhop, whan he dyd ſacrifice. alſo a certeyne veſſell.

Camillus, a littell chimney or ouen.

Camillus, the ſurname of a noble Romayn, whiche was dictatour fiue tymes, and triumphed foure tymes, who was of ſo gentill a courage towarde hys countrey, that not withſtandyng the people of Rome had expelled hym, yet whan the Galles had taken the citee of Rome, and compelled the Romaynes to redeeme theyr heades with golde, he perſwadynge the people, called Ardeates, with whome he lyued in exyle, to ſuccour the citee, entred with them or any man was ware of his comyng, and ſlewe and diſcomfyted the Galles, and ſaued or rather reſtoyed the citee from bondage. He was before the incarnacion. 350. yeres, of his actes reade Val. Max. li. 1. ca. 5. li. 2. ca. 4. li. 5. ca. 3. Liuium, ab vrbe con. &c.

Caminātus, ta, tum, made lyke a fourneys or chymney.

Camino, āui, āre, to make lyke a fourneys.

Camiuus, ni, m. g. a chymney or fourneys.

☞ Camino oleum addere, to caſte oyle into the fyre kyte. A prouerbe, signifiyng to minister occasion of great rage or fury.

Caminus anhelans, a smokynge chymney.

Camirus, a citer in Rhodes.

Cammaron, ri, idem quod Mandra. Dioſc. li. 4.

Cammarus, ri, ma. g. a fyſhe, called a creuyſe of the ſea: or after ſome, of the freſhe water.

Camœna, næ, fœ. gen. one of the. ix. muſes, a ſonge.

Camænæ dulces, gaudentes rure.

Camæna inhumana.

Inſignis camœna, a goodly ſonge.

Camœna, arum, f. g. the. ix. muſes.

Camomilla, looke Chamæmēlum.

Campana, næ, f. g. a belle.

Campania, a countrey in the roialme of Naples. which was accompted the moſte fertile and plea ſant countrey of all the worlde.

Campanula, læ, fœ. gen. the flower called Canterburie belles.

Campanus, a, um, of Campania.

Campanus morbus, vnſeemely and arrogant ſpeche. Or, after ſome, the vice of ouer muche babblynge.

Camparius, rij, m. g. a keeper of the fieldes.

Campe, es, or Campa, pæ, a worme, whiche eateth herbes, and is roughe with many fete, called a palmer.

Campéſter, hæc campeſtris, hoc tre, of the playne or champion countrey.

Ager campeſtris, a playne fielde, a champion countrey.

Iter campeſtris, a iourney throughe a playne and champion countrey.

Scithæ campeſtres, that liue in the fieldes wilde ly in tentes.

Campeſtria loca, playne countreys.

Campeſtres ludi, playes exercyſed in the fieldes.

Campéſtre, tris, n. ge. a payre of ſloppes or breches, vſed in the fieldes at common games, of wraſtlyng and rennyng.

Camphora, or Camphura, a certayne gumme vſed in ſweete confections.

Campigeni milites, thoſe men of warre, whyche be alwaye a boute the ſtanderde, and by theyr proweſſe and actiuitee, doo kepe the hoſte in exercyſe of armes.

Camponi, people of Aquitayne.

Campro, âui, âre, to tourne an other way.

Campſiani, people of Germany.

Campſor, ôris, m. g. an exchangeour of money, or he that deliuereth money by vſury.

Campus, pi, m. g. a playne fielde, great and large. Sometyme it is taken for aſſemblees made in the fieldes. Alſo euery thyng that one putteth his labour and ſtudy in.

Cāpus Martius, a fielde nigh Rome, and ioynyng to the ryuer of Tyber, where the Romaynes not only exercyſed them ſelues in rennynge, leappng, wraſtlyng, and ſwummynge: but alſo had their aſſemblees for the election of greate officers in the common weale.

Campus rhetoris, a large matter for an oratour to ſpeake of.

Immenſo campo vagari, by a metaphore, to haue a plentifull matter, wherof he may ſpeake at large.

Magnus campus ad laudem, greate matter to get renoume by.

Aequor campi, looke Aequor.

Immenſitas camporum, the largeneſſe of fieldes.

Apricus campus, a fielde that lieth open on the ſonne.

Campi liquentes, the ſea.

Campum colligere, to gather the ſpoyle, or to rifle the fielde, after the battayle is fought.

Aequo campo ſe dare, to enter into the playne fielde to fight.

Euerſus campus, a fielde tilled.

Frequens herbis campus, full of graſſe.

Iners campus, a barane fielde.

Campus apertus, fertilis, gramineus, herboſus, horrens, ingens, immenſus, Irriguus, latus, Nitēs, patens, pinguis, planus, rudis, vaſtus, virens.

Merſus campus cruore, drowned in blood.

Natantes campi, whan the blades of longe graſſe be moued vp and downe in meddowes in ſuche ſorte that it ſemeth to be water flowynge.

Nudi Campi, naked fieldes, that bee neyther ſowen nor planted.

Segnis campus, that bringeth fruite ſlowly.

Squalentes campi, drie fieldes.

Stagnantes campi, wherein water ſtandeth.

Circūuolare campum iaculo, to renne round aboute the fielde with a darte in his hande.

Conſternere campos milite, to couer the field with ſoldiours.

Credere campo aciem, to bringe his army into the plaine fielde to fight.

Dare ſe campo, to come into the fielde.

Decedere campo, to go out of the fielde.

Exutus campis Mithridates, driuen out of the fielde.

Flaueſcit campus ariſta, corne wareth rype.

Inferre ſe campo, to enter into the fielde to fyght.

Inſtruere per campos aciem.

Inundare campos dicitur exercitus.

Luſtrare oculis campos, to looke aboute the fieldes.

Partiri campos limite, to bounde.

Per campos paſcuntur equi.

Peragrare campos, to wander aboute the fieldes.

Perſultat campos exercitus, maketh courſes ouer the fieldes.

Proſcindere campos ferro, to till.

Redeunt campis gramina, the fieldes ware greene agayne.

Renouare campum aratro, to till agayne.
Tondere campum dicuntur equi, to eate shorte the grasse.
Transmittere campos cursu.
Tremiscunt campi tonitru, shake.
Vestiti gramine campi.
Exultare in campo dicitur oratio, when it floweth in a large and copious matter.
Dare se campo, idem quod in arenam descendere.
Iacet tātū campi, so much grouūd lieth vntilled.

Cámura, or as some doe accent it, Camūra, æ. f. g a certayne vessell borne coucred before a byrde.

Camurus, a, um, crooked.
Camuri boues, oxen or kyne with crooked hornes.

Camus, mi. m. g. a bitte, a bridle or a snaffle. also a rayne or corde, wherwith men condemned were bounde. also a kynde of lottes, whiche iudges vsed, made in facion small aboue, and broade benethe. also a certayne pipe, a certayne herbe, and an instrument to carp fier in.

Cana, idem quod canistra.

Canaan, the sonne of Cam, the sonne of Noe, of whome cometh Cananæus.

Canabātius, and Canabinus, loke Cannabatius

Canabis, looke Cannabis.

Canabus, a wyne seller.

Canace, the daughter of Eolus, and syster of Macareus.

Canaius, a ryuer of Eolis.

Canalicolæ, arum, com. ge. poore people alway in the middes of the streete, beggers.

Canalicula, læ, fœ. g. & Canaliculus, li, mas. g. a litteil pype, or a lyttel splente to stap a broken synger, sometyme, the emboyed worke made in pillers lyke vnto cundite pipes.

Canaliculatus, a, um, facyoned lyke a pype.
Canaliculata folia, leaues which be holow and turned rounde lyke cundite pipes or wafres.

Canâlis, lis, m. & f. g. sometyme hoc canâle, canâlis, a pype of leade or tymber, wherby water doeth renne into a cundite. also a splent, wherwith the legge is stayed whan it is broken.
Per angustas canales serpit, renneth by narow pipes.
Canalibus aqua immissa, lette in by cundite pipes.
Lignei canales.
Canâlis structilis, an holow place, made and paued vnder the grounde, to conueigh water to any place.

Canalitius, a, um, of or lyke a pype.
Canalitium aurum, golde dygged in pyttes, so called, because the veynes renne in the erthe lyke cundite pypes.

Canan, the countrey called Arabie.

Cananæa, a parte of Syria, now called Iudea.

Cananitis regio, idem.

Canaria, called also Herba canis, the herbe, wherwith dogges vse to prouoke vomite.

Canariæ insulæ, ples in the great Ocean. 400. myles from Spayne, whiche some suppose to be those that of the olde writers are called Insulæ fortunatæ, the new names of theym be these, Lanzelota, Fortis ventura, Magna canaria, Tenerife, Gomera, Palma, & Ferrea, in these ples of late peres grew great numbre of Canes, wherin was suger: but either by distemperance of weather, or by conies, whiche some men suppose were brought thither, that commodite is almost destroyed.

Canarij, people of Afrike.

Canārius, a, um, pertaynyng to dogges, or to the signe Canicula.
Canarium sacrificium, sacrifice vsed for the preseruation of corne, agaynst the extreme heate of the synne Canicula.

Canas, a towne of Lycia.

Canastreum, a promontory of Macedonie, by the goulfe Fermaicum.

Canatha, a towne in the countrey Decapolitana

Canâtim, an aduerbe, lyke a dogge.

Canautæ, olde writers vsed for ornamentes of the head.

Cancanus, of Galen is taken for a certayne herbe, whiche Dioscorides calleth Cacalia. It is also a certayne gumme profitable to die with, called also Lacca, Barbar. in corrol.

Cancellārius, rij, ma. g. in the olde time was taken for a scribe or notary, now it is called a chauncellour.

Cancellatim, lattise wise.

Cancelli, ôrum, m. g. plu. lattises, or any thynge made like lattise. Also secrete places to loke out. also wyndowes made with barres of woodde or yron, wyth dyuers holes. also little crabbes of the sea.
Cancellos sibi circundare, by a metaphore, to prescribe to hym selfe certayne boundes in hys communication or speakynge, whiche he wyll not passe.
Cancellis circumscribi, to be closed or rayled in, and metaphorically is applied to anye thynge that hath certayne boundes.

Cancello, āui, āre, to rase or put out, to cutte or teare any thynge that is written, to make in fourme of lattise.
Cancellare testamentum, for Delere.

Cancellātus, a, um, lyke to a latteyse. also rased or crossed out.
Cancellata cutis elephantorum, with crosse stricches or barres lyke to lattises.
Cancellatus brachiorum amplexus, the clyppyng of the armes one ouer an other.
Cancellus, a diminutiue of cancer.

Cancer, cri, mas. gen. a kynde of fysshe called a crabbe. also a synge in heauen.
Brachia cancri, the clawes.

Cancer, cĕris, or cancer, cancri, secundæ et tertiæ declinationis, ma. gen. a disease called a canker.

Cancri,

Cancri, is the same that Cancelli be.
Cancris, a pple in medicine of that sort that burneth.
Cancherinon lapathon, a kynde of sorrell.
Canchlei, people of Arabie.
Candace, ces, and Candax, acis, a queene of Aethiope.
Candaria, a promontorie in the yle of Cos.
Candauiæ, mountaynes in Macedonie.
Candaules a tyran of Sardis, which by foolysshe dottage, thynkyng hys wyfe the fayrest woman in the worlde, shewed hir naked to his familiar freende Gyges: for whiche cause he was after murdered by the same Giges, through the counsell of hys wyfe.
Candaulus, or Candylos, a meate, as Athenæus sayeth, made of sodden flesshe, bread and cheese, as Plinie sayth, of mylke and hony.
Candebœra, a fenne at the foote of the mountayne Carmelus.
Candefácio, candéfacis, feci, facere, to make white, to make fayr, or to glow lyke fyre.
Candei, people of Arabie, whiche vse to eate serpentes: and therfore be called Ophiophagi.
Candéla, æ. f. g. a candell.
Candelas sebare, to make tallow candels.
Candelábrum, delábri, n. g. a candelsticke.
Humile candelabrum, a low candelsticke.
Aeneum candelabrum, a latten candelsticke.
Candeo, ui, dére, to glow lyke a burnyng cole. also to be whyte.
Candens color, a white colour.
Marmor candens, white marble.
Candens carbo, a burnynge cole.
Aër candet, the ayre shyneth, or the weather is fayre and cleare.
Fauilla candens, a burnynge sparke of fyre.
Chalybs cãdẽs, a gad of steele glowing whote.
Lilia candentia, fayre white lilies.
Pruina candens, hoare frosse.
Vestis tincta cocco candet, glistereth.
Candet æstas, the sommer is hotte.
Candésco, scére, to ware white or shynynge, to ware fayre, or to glow lyke fyre.
Candicántia, æ. f. g. the whytinge, bleachynge, or makyng of any thynge fayre and bryght.
Cándico, aui, are, to be white.
Candidâtus, a, um, clothed in white.
Candidâtus prætorius, he that desyreth or loketh to be Pretor or mayre.
Candidâtus consularis, he that desyreth the consulshyp.
Candidâtus gloriæ & immortalitatis, he that desyreth glory or immortall renowme. lykewyse Candidatus eloquentiæ.
Candidati, amonge the Romayns were such as laboured for some of the great offices in the publyke weale. so named, because they dyd weare in the tyme of theyr election, whyte apparayle. It may be taken by translation at thys tyme for them that in vniuersitees be called inceptours or regente maysters. also for them that be newly christened, or newly entred into some honourable or worshipfull state. Vegetius sayeth, that Candidati were men of warre, whiche hadde a priuilege before other.
Cãdidati Cæsaris, were such as sued for great offices, and were commended of the emperour to them, which had election, who presumynge alway that the emperours cõmendacion would take place, did solicite but negligently. Whereof hapned this prouerbe: Sic petis tanquam Cæsaris candidatus, whan any man asketh a thing in suche forme, as he thinketh no man wyll deny hym: as who sayeth ye aske it as though the emperour had spoken for you. They were also called Candidati principis: where that fashion is vsed, may neuer be publike weale perfect.
Candidatórius, a, um, of or pertaynyng to them which looke for, or desyre great offices.
Candidé, aduerbium, benygnely, gentilly, mildely, without enuy.
Candidé vestitus, trimmely apparayled.
Candido, aui, are, to make white.
Candidulus, a, um, a diminutiue of candidus.
Candiduli dentes, white teeth.
Cándidus, a, um, white, more than Albus, cyan white. It is sometyme taken for fortunate, gentill or easie. also pure, syncere, without malice or ill wyll. also frendly, fauorable.
Candidus iudex, a gentle easy iudge.
Candidus lector, a gentil reder, whiche doeth not openly reproue that which he readeth.
Candidum oui, the white of an egge.
Candidum ingenii, a gentill courteis nature.
Scriptor candidus, a good authour of kynde and pure eloquence, not crabbed or harde to be vnderstanded.
Candida nigra facere, to make white blacke.
Lapide candidiore diem notare, to marke a day as fortunate and luckely.
Candidus pectore, pure wythout malyce or enuy.
Annus candidus, a fortunate yere.
Candida vita. i irreprehensibilis.
Iudicio candidiore legere, to reade wyth a more indifferent and fauourable iudgement.
Fauonij candidi. i. benigni, fauorabiles, serẽni, fayre, pleasant, prosperous.
Candidum, a promontory of the countrey Zeugitana in Affrike.
Candifico, áni, are, to make white.
Candor, óris, m. gen. brightnesse, or whitenesse, curtesie or gentilnesse of mynde.
Candosoccus, socci, ma. ge. in vynes, is idem quod Mergus.
Candiba, a citee in Licia.
Canella, æ, f. g. idem quod Cinnamomum.
Cane, a towne in Scolis.
Canentæ, were of the olde Romaynes named the apparaple pertaynyng to the head.
Caneo, nui, ére, and Canesco, scere, to bee hore or or graye heared, to waxe olde, to decay or wyther.

Canent herbæ, the herbes be gray with dew.

Canescit flos, the flowre withereth.

Canescit oratio, his style or oration waxeth graue, auncient or tyrre.

Canescit situ, It is gray with hoyenesse.

Canéphora, æ, f. ge. a mayden, whiche bare on hir head a basket or cofer, wherin were iewels or ymages of the goddis.

Cangrèna, æ, fœm. gene. a sore called a canker. looke Gangrena.

Cani, orum, ma. gen. plu. nu. be taken for white hoye heares, for age.

Cania, æ, f. g. a kynde of sharpe stingyng nettels.

Cánicæ, cánicæ, f. g. braune of wheate.

Caniceps, a beast, which hath onely the face of a dogge.

Canicies, ei, fœm. gene. hoyenesse or grayneſſe of the heare.

Canicula, læ, fœ. ge. a lytle bytche. Also a sterre, whereof canicular and dogge dayes be named Dies caniculares.

Caniculus, li, m. g. a whelpe.

Canidia, a woman of Naples, whom Horace rasteth as a witche or sorceres.

Caninus, one that was coniull of Rome onely seuen houres.

Caninus, a, um, doggysshe, or of a dogge, currysh. Verba caninalatrare, to raple spitefully.

Canina facundia, doggysshe or currysshe eloquence. A prouerbe, applyed to suche as doe neuer exercise theyr tongue or penne, but in reprouyng or blamyng other men.

Caninum prandium, a dogges dinner. A prouerbe vsed, where there is no wyne at dynner or supper, for dogges do of nature abhorre wyne.

Caninus appetitus, a sycknesse, with an vnsaciable appetite to eate, procedyng of. v. causes: Of abundance of melancolye, flowyng from the splene to the mouthe of the stomake: Of a cold distemperãce of the stomake: Of the loosenes of the body, the pores beyng to open: Of to muche labour, resolueng: or of the consumpnge of natural moysture, wherwith the body is nourished.

Canis, is, com. gen. a dogge or bitche, a sygne in heauen, wherof there bee two sterres, one called Canis maior, the other Canis minor. It is also a kynde of fysshe, called a dogfysshe. Also a certayne caste at dice, whan the ace beyng caste vp, loseth all.

Canis festinans cæcos edit catulos, The hasty bitche byngeth forthe blynde whelpes, the more hast the worse spede. A prouerbe applyed to them, whiche beyng hastye in settyng forth theyr workes, do make them vnperfecte.

Canis reuersus ad vomitum, The dogge turneth agayne to eate that he vomyted. A prouerbe referred to hym, whiche beyng reconcyled to god, returneth agayne to his olde conditions and vices.

Canes, is sometyme vsed of the poetes for the furies, it is also a worde of extreme despite to our enemies, to call them dogges.

Ter geminus canis, Cerberus.

Ain' vero canis? Saist thou so in dede, thou currysshe knaue?

Canes molossi, are taken for bandogges.

Cane pejus & angue, A prouerbe notyng extreme hate of a thynge.

Canis celer, citus pernix, a swyfte dogge.

Canes hortari to cheere the houndes.

Armillati canes, dogges with collars about theyr neckes.

Emeriti canes, dogges that be so olde that they can hunt no more.

Melitæi canes, litle dogges that gentill women vse, besyde houndes.

Odorus canis, a hounde or spaniell of a good sent.

Canistrum, tri, n. g. sometyme canister, stri m. g. a basket or a panier.

Canistellum, li, n. g. or Canistellus, li, ma. g. a lytle panier, hamper, or basket.

Canities, ei, f. g. hoyenesse or whytenesse of heares. It is sometyme taken for grauitee, or auncientenesse.

Canitúdo, idem.

Canna, næ, f. g. a cane or reede. Also a canne of ople potte. sometyme a pype made of a cane.

Cannabáceus, a, um, of hempe.

Cannabinus, a, um, made of hempe.

Cánnabis, is, f. g. hempe.

Cannabum, and cannabion, bi, n. g. idem.

Cannacas, a kynge of Phrygia, who forseyng the deluge, made great lamentacion. vide pro. Res canacæ.

Cannæ, arum, a towne in the countrey of Apulia, where a great hoste of the Romaines was slaine by Annibali.

Cannetum, ti, n. g. a place, where canes and reedes doe grow.

Canneus, a, um, of a cane.

Cannitiæ, arum, thatched houses.

Cannitius, a, um, of canes or reedes.

Cannius, a poete in the tyme of Martialis, whiche was so merry of nature, that he laughed alwaye.

Cano, cécini, ĕre to synge, to play on the shalme, or other instrument, also to prayse, to prophesy.

Cánere classicum, vel bellicum, to blow to the fielde, or to the assault, to blow alarme.

Cánere eandem cantilénam, to tell one tale twyse, or to recite often tymes one thynge.

Canere fidibus, to play on an harpe, or other instrument, hauyng strynges.

Canere receptui, to blow the retreate in battayle, and by a metaphore, to reuoke or withdraw a mans mynde from doyng any thyng, to make an ende.

Canere sibi, to speake for his owne profytte.

Canere

Canere sibi & musis, to synge or write for hys owne pleasure, and for them that doe fauour him, nothyng carying for any other.
Canere signa, to blow whyles men do fyght in battayle.
Canere surdis auribus, to gyue counsayle in vayne, to lose labour in speakynge.
Canunt tubæ, the trumpettes blow or sowne.
Tibijs canere, to play on the pipe or flute.
Canere dicuntur poetæ, cum quid versibus scribunt.
Absurdè canere, disorde, to synge oute of tune.
Canere aliquem, or laudes alicuius, to laude or prayse a man.
Canere ad tibiam, to synge to the ppe or flute.
Canuntur hæc apud Homerum, these thinges be spoken or written in Homere.
Canere bella, to declare, speake, or wryte of warres.
Obscura canere, to prophesie obscure and doubtfull thynges.
Quicquid fama canit, what so euer is reported by fame.
Intus canere, spoken prouerbyally, of them that doe all for theyr priuate commoditee, and conueigh to them selues what so euer they can catche.
Canobus, the mayster of Menelaus shyppe. looke Canopus.
Cannocersea, the herbe Helxine, looke there.
Canon, cánonis, m.g. a rule. Also that parte in a targat, wherin the arme and hande is putte. also the tongue of a balance. It is also the reuenues in customes and fee fermes of townes shyppes a custome in paynge yerely a certayne of corne.
Canonibus soluere, to dispence with one.
Gratiam cánonis facere, idem.
Canonárij, orum, gatherers of taskes and tallages.
Canónia, the transomes in a shyppe, whereon the hatches are made.
Canónici, bee those sorte of musicians, whych doe vse musike by reason, as the Pithagorians did: Iphe as Harmonici iudged by the delectation of the eares, accordyng to the folowers of Aristoxenus.
Canónicus, a, um, regular.
Canonici libri, bokes amonge the romans of the auncient decrees, and ceremonies of the bishops and hie priestes.
Canonium, nij, ne. g. a place assygned to deuoute persons, which lyued vnder a certayne rule.
Canonizo, aui, are, to canonyse, to exampne by rule.
Canopicon, is an herbe, whiche is one of the kyndes of spurge Reade more in Pityusa.
Canopus, a meruaylous bryght sterre. also his name that was maister of Menelaus shyppes, whiche beynge dead in an yle, at the entre of Nilus, caused that yle to bee called by hys name, and was there honoured for a god. Of whome this prtie hystorie is remembred of Suidas. The people of dyuers countreys contendyng for the preeminence of their goddis, agreed, that those pdols, which were vanquyshed by any notable experience, should giue place to the vanquisher. A priest of Canopus, a wittie fellow, got a water pot full of small holes, and stoppynge the holes with waxe, filled it ful of water, perneted it, made it in foure of an pdoll, and did craftily set it on the olde pmage, knowynge that the Caldees, honourynge the fyre for god, did cary it aboute into all countreis, and consumed this with all other pdols, made of mettall and other matter. But whan they came to Canopus, and did fette the fyre aboute hym, the waxe melted quickly, and the water distillynge into the fyre, quenched it. wherfore Canopus was demed vanquisher and chiefe of the goddis.
Canor, ôris, m. g. melody.
Canor cycni, the melodie or tunable songe of a swanne.
Vox suauis & canora, a pleasant and a loude voyce.
Canorósus, a, um full of melody.
Canôrus, a, um, loude or myghtie.
Canta, olde writers vsed for cantata.
Cantabri, people of a countrey in Spayne called now Biskay.
Cantabrica, is called in Englyshe wylde gromwell.
Cantábricus, a, um, of Biskay.
Cantámen, mínis, n. g. a songe.
Cantarus, a poete of Athens.
Cantátio, ônis, fœm. gen. a synggynge or enchantyng.
Cantâtor, ôris, m. g. a synger.
Cantátrix, ícis, f. g. a woman synger.
Cantery, orum m. g. be the pieces whiche doo lie vnder a piece of tymber, whan it is sawen. whis the some doo call strynges.
Cantháras, a stone, whiche hath the pryce of a blacke flie called a bittell.
Cántharis, idis, vel Cantharída, dæ, a greene worme, shynyng with a glosse lyke golde, bred in the toppe of asshes or olyues. whiche layde to a mans body, maketh it to blyster. The vapor of it is poyson. wherfore Cantharis, is vsed for a venomous potion. Some doe saye, it is a flie heuered with a shale lyke a bittle, but that he is greene. Theophrastus sayth, this worme doeth breede in wheate, and to it is very noysome. Erasmus addeth, that it ingendreth in Moses, and doth hurte and destroy them in lyke maner.
Cántharis, fumitori, after Dioscor. lib. 4. cap. 3.
Cantharita, a kynde of wyne.
Cántharus, ri. m. g. a pot, a iugge, or a tankarde. also a kynde of boates. also a breast, wherof there is founde no femals. a kynde of fysshe, a blacke flie

kye, called a bottle. and a knot vnder the tounge of Apis, the oxe that the Egyptians wor-shipped.

Cántharus, a signe in the firmament, conteynyng in sterres.

Cantheriâtus, a, um, staped vp with proppes or forkes.

Cantheriâta vinea, a vyne rayled vppon frames or perches.

Cantherinus, a, um, of or lyke a geldynge.

Cantherino ritu sommiare, to dreame standynge.

Cantherinum hordeum, a kynde of barley.

Cantherinum lapathum, a kynde of sorrell, called also Rumex.

Cantheriolus, a diminutiue of Cantherius, a litle stake, proppe, or forke.

Cantherium, rij, n. gen. a maner of a chariot or wagan.

Cantherius, rij, m. g. a geldyng of an horse onely. It is also the raile of a vyne, borne vp with forkes and postes also a rafter.

Cantherij, idem quod Canterij.

Canthes, thium, fœm. gene. organ pypes, after Calepine.

Cánthus, thi, m. g. the corner of the eye, as well by the nose, as nexte to the temples. It is also the yron, wherwith the extremite of wheles be bounden, the strake of a carte.

Canthus, is also the sonne of Abas.

Cánticum, ci, n. ge a pleasaunt or merry songe, a balade.

Cantilena, læ, f. g. a songe. it is taken of Cicero, for a speeche or tale, commonly or to often vsed, and is of a small effect, a rumour, a braggynge reporte.

Cantilenæ, the daughters of the muses.

Cántio, ônis, f. g. a longe. sometyme a charme, or enchauntment.

Cantiorbis the citee Amberge in Germany.

Cantium, the countrey of Kent.

Cantiúncula, læ, f. g a songe of lyght matters.

Cántito, áui, áre, to syng often.

Canto, áui, áre, to synge or to charme, sometyme to monyshe or exhorte, to speake or inculcate a thynge oftentymes, to geue greate prayse, or to sette forthe ones commendacion. also to enchaunte.

Hæc dies, noctésque tibi canto, vt caueas, This I exhorte the day and nyght, that thou beware.

Auena cantare, to pype.

Surdo cantare, to oke canere surdis.

Istum canto, I set forth this mans prayse, or I commende him greatly.

Dignus cantari, worthy to be lauded or praysed in writyng or speakyng.

Metuo ne idem cantent literæ, I feare leaste these letters bryng the same tydynges that the other dyd, or intreate of the same matter.

Cantor, and Cantrix, a singynge man, or a synging woman.

Cántus, us, m. g. a longe, a charme, or enchauntment in verses.

Cantus lugubris, a mournyng songe.

Cantus tremulus, warblyng, reielyngе, or quauerynge.

Cantus buccinarum, the sowne of trumpets.

Cantu delinire, mollire, mulcere, to asswage, please, or mittigate.

Canuleius, a Romayne.

Canus, an olde man.

Canus, a, um, gray or hore.

Cana fides, the faythfulnesse of olde tyme: or after some, the faythfulnesse of auncient men.

Cana veritas, idem.

Absynthium canum, gray wormewood.

Canus december, the monthe of December, hore with froste.

Cana pruina, the hore froste.

Canusinâtus, a, um, staped with the cloth made of the woll of Canusium.

Canusinus, a, um, of Canusium.

Canusium, a towne in the countrey of Apulia, where is verye fyne woulle, called Canusina lana, and is ruddy of colour.

Capácitas, átis, f. g. aptenesse to take, largenesse of place, capacitee.

Capaneus, three syllables, the housbande of Euadne, and one of the seuen capitaynes that besieged Thebes, where he first inuented scalynge with ladders and was there slayne with stones caste from the walle.

Capaneus, and Capaneius, the adiectiue.

Capara, a towne of Portugall, called commonly Caparea.

Capax, ácis, om. g. that taketh or conteyneth any thynge, able to conteyne or receyue, large, bigge.

Capax amicitiæ, he that considereth what belongeth to frendshyp.

Capaces aures, eares delightyng greatly to here.

Capax calix ad sextários tres, a cup that will holde aboute three pyntes.

Domus capax, a large house that will receyue a great number.

Regnum capax, an ample and great kyngedome.

Scyphus capacior, a bigger cuppe.

Capax inuidiæ, that is able to defende it selfe agaynst the yll will of his enemies.

Capedo, inis. fœ. g. the greatnesse of a vessell or lyke thyng that conteyneth. A potte or pytch. vsed in sacrifice.

Capedúncula, læ, fœm. gen. a diminutyue of capédo.

Capélla, læ, fœ. g. a yonge gote, or a litle gote. Also a certayne sterre.

Capéna, a towne by Rome by the fountayne Egena. also a gate in Rome called Appia porta, where is a water consecrated to Mercury, vsed in diuers ceremonies.

Capenates, people of Capena.
Caper, pri, ma. g. a gelded gote. it was also the name of an olde grammarian, and a ryuer rennyng by Laodicea. sometyme it is taken for the bucke gote.
Caperatus, a, um, wrynkeled.
Capero, āui, āre, to frowne or lowre.
Caperare frontem, to bende the browes, to frowne.
Capesso, si, sum, or siui, situm, sere, act. to take, or to goe about to take, to receyue. somtyme it signifieth to take in hande.
Capescere fugam, to flee or renne away.
Quo te nunc capessis hinc? whither goest thou from hense.
Capessere se domum, to get hym home.
Capessere se in altum maris, to take the mayne sea.
Capessere montem, to ascend or go vp the hil.
Ad saxum capessit, supple iter, he taketh hys way at the stone.
Capessere se præcipitem ad malos mores, to tourne him selfe headlonge to lewdenesse.
Capessere arma vel bellum, to take armes, to enterprise warre.
Capessere alicuius iussa, to do or execute ones commaundementes.
Capessere curas imperij, to take the charge and gouernaunce of the common weale.
Capessere locum, to endeuour to take a place.
Capessere cursum ad aliquem, to renne towarde one.
Capessere oculis, to beholde.
Capessere cibum, to eate.
Capessere pugnam, to enter or ioyne battaile to fairmish or fyght.
Capessere vrbem, to go or take his iourney to the citee.
Capetus, the name of a kynge.
Caphareus, thre syllables, a mountaine in Greece, by whiche the greekes naup was sore afflicted for the death of Palamedes.
Capharēus, a, um, of Caphareus.
Capharnaum, the chiefe citee in Galilee.
Capheris, an yle by Samothrace.
Caphura, looke camphora.
Capidulum, li. n. g. an hoode.
Capillaceus, a, um, heary, of heare, lyke heare.
Capillamentum, ti, n. g. the heare of a mās head. somtime the toppes of herbes, where the seedes do grow. also a counterfayte heare, a perruke.
Capillāris, ris, n. g. a caule or coyfe, that women truſſe theyr heares in.
Capillāris, re, of or belongyng to heare.
Capillaris, a tree, wheron ponge men for a ceremony, vsed to hange their heare whan they were polled. It is also called Capillata.
Capillāti, people of the Alpes.
Capillātia vela, clothes of heare.
Capillātus, a, um, that hath longe heare, or that weareth a great perruke.

Capillitium, tij, n. g. the heare of the head.
Capillo, āui, āre, to make heare
Pollytrix capillatur, id est capillos habere videtur.
Capillus, li, m. g. the heare, as well of the head as other places. sometyme it is vsed for Cæsaries. sometyme for Barba.
Capillo tenus, iust to the heare.
Capillus veneris, an herbe cald Venus heare, looke Adiantum.
Capillorum defluuium, or profluuium, the fallyng of the heare.
Demissi capilli, longe heare.
Ducere capillis, to drawe one by the heare of the head.
Căpio, cæpi, ĕre, to take willyngly, or vnwyllyngly. sometime it signifieth to delite, to mitigate, to discerne. also to receiue. sometyme to contemne. also to make.
Di boni, quid turbæ? ædes nostræ vix capient, Good lorde, what a company? vneth our house wyll holde them.
Capere rationem, to fynde the meane.
Rationem cæpi, vt & amanti obsequerer, & patrem non offenderem, I founde the meane how to please my louer, and yet not to offende, or displease my father. Also Capio rationem, signifieth to know the cause why.
Scio tibi esse hoc grauius multo, ac durius, cui sit: verum ego haud minus ægre patior, id qui nescio, nec rationem capio, nisi quod tibi bene ex animo volo, I know well that to you, whome the thinge toucheth, it is much more displeasant and greuous: but yet it greueth me no lesse, I cannot tell why, but onely because I loue you.
Capere conditionem, to accept the offer.
Capere fugam, to renne away.
Mente capere, to conceiue in ones mynde.
Miseriam capere, to be in mysery.
Misericordiam capere, to haue pitee.
Cæpit eum satietas, he was weary of it.
Capere somnum, to sleape.
Capere rationem oculis, to iudge by syght.
Hi loci, atque hæ regiones sunt, quæ mihi ab hero sunt meo demonstratæ, vt ego oculis rationem capio, These are the places and stretes that my maister shewed me, as farre as myne eyes can iudge, or as farre as I can perceyue.
Capere voluptatem, to delite.
Capere versoriam, to chaunge a pourpose, to tourne sayle, to doo the contrary to that he intended.
Capere vsuram corporis vxoris alterius, to committe adulterie with an other mans wyfe.
Te vxor aliena capit, Thou arte in loue with an other mans wyfe.
Capi ac deliniri re aliqua, to be delited or pleased with any thyng.
Si stes propius, te capiet magis, If you stand nere, it wyll delite you more.

Caueat

Caueat ne capiatur, let him beware he be not diſcepued.
Capi aſſentatione, to be diſcepued with flatte-ry, Lyke wyſe Capi dolis, donis, fraude, infidijs, precio, muneribus.
Cæpit eum admiratio, he meruayled.
Cæpit me voluptas, and Cæpi voluptatem, I was delited, or I toke pleaſure in it.
Cæpit me amor, I loued.
Angorem capere, to languiſhe, to ſorow, or take thought.
Capere cibum, to eate.
Capere coniecturam, to coniect, to geſſe.
Coniectura capitur ex eo, it may be perceiued or gathered therby.
Cæpit animum cura eius rei, I tooke charge of that matter, or I was carefull for it.
Capere deſiderium, to deſyre.
Capere detrimentum vel damnum, to take harme, or to be endomaged.
Capere alicuius dicta, to here ones wordes.
Capere diſciplinam, to learne.
Capere experimentum, to proue.
Capere finem, to ende.
Capere exordium, to beginne.
Capere formam, or perſonam, to diſguiſe ones ſelfe.
Capere lætitiam ex re aliqua, to reioyſe of a thyng.
Capere genetum, to chooſe a ſonne in law.
Capere laudem ex re aliqua, to be renoumed or prayſed for any thyng.
Capere incrementum, to increaſe.
Si inimicos omnes homines capiam, though I ſhould get the diſpleaſure of all men.
Capere inimicitiam, to get enmitee, or diſpleaſure. Lykewyſe Capere inuidiam & iram.
Capere locum caſtris, to take or chooſe a place, to pitche theyr tentes, or campe in.
Capere magiſtratum, to obteyne an office.
Si magnitudinem menſarum caperet, if it wer ſo large, that tables myght be made of it.
Capere metum, to feare.
Capere modum, to kepe a meane.
Capere mortem, to ſuffer death.
Capere obliuionem, to forget. Lykewyſe Cæpit me obliuio.
Capere odium alicuius, to begyn to hate one.
Cæpit ciuitatem pauor, The citee was in a great feare.
Capere pœnam de aliquo, to punyſh one.
Capere quietem, to take reſt.
Capere ſpecimen, to take a proffe or ſhewe.
Capere ſpem, to conceyue an hope.
Cæpit eum tædium belli, he was wery of war
Capere tempus, to watche a tyme.
Verecundia eum cæpit, he was aſhamed.
Capere vires, to ware ſtronge.
Capere opinionem virtutis, to be eſtemed or compted vertuous.
Capere pallorem, to waxe pale.
Capere pignus, to receyue a gage.
Pignora capere, to ſtreyne ones goodes for dette.
Capere prouinciam, to take charge of a thing.
Quoſdam religio cæpit, ſome wer ſcrupulous
Vitium capere, to be corrupted.
Capis, pidis, f.g. a cuppe to drynke in.
Capiſſenæ, people of Aſia, dwellynge in the citee Capiſſa.
Capiſtérium, rij, n. g. a crible, or a ſiue to purge corne withall.
Capiſtro, áui, áre, to haulter, or putte on a rope or corde.
Capiſtrum, ſtri, n.ge. an haultar, or a collar, to tie an horſe or other beaſt, a muſle. alſo a bande to tie vines to the rayles.
Capiſtrum maritale, the bonde of wedlocke.
Frenare ora capiſtris, to mouſill.
Capital, ális, n.ge. a thynge that women prieſtes vſed to weare on theyr heades in olde tyme, whan they dyd ſacrifice, as it were a lace or coife to truſſe vp theyr heare. Alſo after ſome, a towel vſed in ſacrifice.
Capitâle, and Capital, an adiectiue, an offence woorthie death.
Capitale eſt, it is death, or deſerueth death.
Capitalia, an hygh hyll in Indie.
Capitâlis, le, deadly, worthy death.
Capitalem fraudem admittere, to doo a thing worthy punyſhment by death.
Capitales triumuiri, iudges in cauſes of death.
Capitalis noxa, lykewyſe Capitale nephas, or crimen, an offence worthy death.
Capitalis aduerſarius, a mortall enemy.
Capitalis dies, a day appoynted to one to receyue iudgement of death.
Capitalis homo, a man that deſerueth death. alſo he that is prone to murder.
Capitalis ira, mortall wrathe.
Capitalis locus, a place of execution.
Capitalis ædis, an houſe, where anye deadly offence is committed.
Capitalis inſcitia, ignorannce that putteth a man in daunger of his lyfe.
Capitalia iudicia, iudgementes concernynge lyfe and deathe.
Capitâliter, mortall, deadly.
Capitâtio, ônis, fœ. ge. head ſyluer, or ſubſidie, gathered of euery man after the rate of his ſubſtaunce.
Capitâtus, a, um, that groweth great in the head or that hath an head.
Capitati caules, cabages.
Capitéllum, li, n. g. a litell head or toppe of a thyng. alſo the higheſt part of a piller. of ſome it is vſed for a ſtillatorie.
Capitium, tij, n. g. any thynge that couereth the head, commonly they do call it a hoode.
Capito, ónis, ma. ge. he that hath a great head. Alſo headye, obſtinate in opinion. It is alſo a ſyſſhe, which by his deſcription, ſeemeth to be a todde. A learned man of this name, translated the epitome of Liuie and Eutropius into greke

Capitolinus, the surname of him that founde the head, whan the capitoll should be builded.

Capitolinus, a, um, of the palaice of the citee of Rome.

Capitólium, lij, n. gen. the palaice of the citee of Rome.

Capitosus, a, um, he that hath a greate or a dull head.

Capitulâtus, a, um, any thynge that is growen to an head.

Capitulata folia, leaues, whiche in the toppes haue thynges lyke heades.

Capitulâtim, the aduerbe.

Capitulatim de re aliqua dicere, to recite the sum or principall poyntes of any matter.

Capitularia, orum, bokes of actes and statutes.

Capitulo, aui, are, to diuide by chapters.

Capitulum, li, n. g. a lytle head. also a chappter, and the toppe of a pillar or other thynge. It is also a woorde of dalpance, as, O capitulum lepidissimum, O pleasant companion, o merie head.

Capitulum martis, the herbe Eryngion.

Capitulum, a towne in Italy.

Capnias, a precious stone shynyng lyke saffron.

Capnia vitis, a certayne kynde of vynes.

Capnitis, a kynde of brasse ore.

Capnium, nij, is interpreted of Aetius, to bee the herbe called Calidonia, which groweth aboute hedges. And yet after Dioscorides, and the common opinion of Philetions, it is Fumitorye.

Capnobatæ, people called Myly.

Capnos, ni, f. ge. & Capnon, ni, n. ge. an herbe called of the latynes humaria, of the apothecaries Fumus terræ, in englishe Fumitorye.

Capnogorgion, gij, the herbe called Fumitorye. Dioscor. li. 4. ca. 3.

Capo, ônis, m. g. a capon.

Capote, a mountayne in Asia.

Cappa the name of a greke letter, for whiche the latynes vse C.

Cappadocia, a countrey in Asia, haynge on the south Licia and the mountayne Taurus. On the easte, Armeny, and dyuers other nacions: On the northe, the sea Euxinum: On the weaste Galatia: and is deuided from Armeny the more with the famous riuer Euphrates. In that countrey are bredde plentie of excellent good horses. It was sometyme called Alba Syria, because the people there be whiter than in the other Syria. The people therof are called Cappadoces, whose condicions were reputed so yll, that amonge the common people, if one had ben seene to be of yll faction, they would say he was of Cappadocia. In that countrey were borne, Basilius magnus and Gregorius Nazianzenus, two holy bysshops and excellent doctours.

Cappadox, ocis, and Cappadocus, a man of the countrey of Cappadocia.

Cappagum, a towne in Spayne.

Capparis, ris, fœm. gen. a fruite called capers, wherwith we make salates and sauce for mutton, which eaten before meales, bee verye good for the stomake, and agaynst diseases of the spleene.

Capparus, a dogges name, notable, because he bewrayed the theefe, that robbed Aesculapius temple.

Capra, æ, fœm. ge. a gote. also a sygne in the firmament.

Olidra capra, the stynkyng sauour of the arme pittes.

Capraria, an yle in the sea called Ligusticum.

Caprarius, rij, m. g. a gote hearde.

Caprasia, the mouthe of the ryuer Po.

Caprea, æ, f. g. a roe bucke. also a beast, whiche dooeth see wonderfull quickly. It is also a kynd of vynes so called.

Capreæ certayne plandes in Naples.

Capréolus, li, ma. g. a kyd. also a beaste called a roe. It is also a tendrelle of a vyne, which windeth many wayes. Also a forke to set vp a vyne. It is also a certayne instrument of yron to dyg with, and a bande or hooke of yron to hold partes of buyldynges together.

Capreus, a, um, of a gote.

Capria, a kenne in Pamphilia. also idem quod Capparis.

Capricórnus, ni, m. g. a sygne in heauen conteynyng. xx. sterres.

Caprificátio, ônis, f. g. the verball of caprificor. of some it is taken for the cuttyng of the barkes of trees, that they may grow bigger.

Caprificiales dies, the canicular daies, so named, because the matrones of Rome dyd at that tyme vse to doo sacrifice vnder a wylde hygge tree.

Caprificor, áris, ári, to husbande wylde hygge trees.

Caprificus, fici, or as some accent it, caprificus, ci, fœ. gen. a wylde hygge tree, whiche renneth vp by valles.

Caprigenus, a, um, that whiche is of the kynde of a gote.

Caprile, prilis, neu. gen. a stable or penne where gotes be kepte.

Caprilis, le, of a gote.

Caprillus, a, um, idem quod Caprinus, a, um.

Caprimulgus, one that milketh gotes.

Caprimúlgi, byrdes lyke to gulles, which appere not by day, but by nyght, they come into gote pennes, and sucke the gotes, wherby the vdders of them bee mortified.

Caprinus, a, um, of a gote.

Caprinæ baccæ, gotes dunge, or gotes tirtles.

Capripes, pédis, that hath fete lyke a gote.

Caprisans púlsus, is whan the pulse semmeth to erle, and is sodenly chaunged into an other forme of meeuyng.

Capronæ, arum, fœ. g. plu. the toppe or spyrell mane

mane that is in the forehead of an horse or the heare that hangeth ouer a mans forehead. some write it Capronex.
Caprótina, a surname of Iuno.
Caprullon, an hauen by the mountayne Otho.
Caprúnculum, li, n. g. an earthen vessell.
Capsa, sæ, f. g. a coffer or cheste.
Capsella, a litle coffer.
Capsa libraria, a cloase preste or coffer, where bokes are kept.
Capsa vestiaria, a cheste, or cloase preste or warde robe, where garmentes are kept.
Capsa nummaria, where money is kepte.
Cápsaces, a vessell, wherin ople is kepte.
Capsárius, rij, ma. ge. he that keepeth chestes or apparaple. also he that watteth on a noble mannes chylde, and beareth his bookes in a litell coffer after hym, to schole.
Capsis, for cape si vis, take it and thou wylt.
Capsit, for præhendit, a woorde out of vse.
Capsitani, people of Zeugitana in Affrike.
Capsoldum, a barbarous woorde, that whiche is taken out of the hole.
Cápsula, læ, f. g. a diminutiue of capsa.
Capsus, a couered carte.
Captátio, ônis, f. g. a purchase, the acte or crafte to get fauour. also discrete or subtiliter.
Captátor, ôris, m. g. he that vseth that crafte, or one that flattereth a man that hath no chyldren to the intent to haue his goodes.
Captátor auræ popularis, one that goeth aboute to get fauour and prayse of the people.
Captatórius, a, um, flatteryng, or of a flatterer.
Captatoria institutio, a disposition in ones wyll or testament, made by hym that is deceyued by flatterie, or obsequious faction, or rather to flatter and please other.
Cáptio, ônis, fœ. g. the acte of takyng or deceyuyng, or that wherby any thynge is taken, deceyte, craftynesse.
Captio honorum, the seekynge for honour.
Nulla in hac re captio est, In this matter is no deceyte.
Captiones dialecticæ, the subtyll cauillations of logitians.
Captio in verbis, craftynesse in cauillatyng of woordes.
Captiosé, captiously, discreitfully.
Captiósum, is sometyme vsed for Damnosum, hurtefull.
Captiósus, a, um, capcious or discreitful.
Captiúncula, f, g. a diminutiue of captio.
Captiuitas, átis, f. g. captiuitee or bondage.
Captiuus, a, um, that is taken in warres.
Capto, áui, áre, to get the fauour of one wyth fayre woordes, pleasaunt deedes or rewardes. Also to discerne or take quickely.
Captáre assentionem, to gette ones consent in any thynge.
Captare beneuolentiam, to endeuour to gette ones fauour. Ipsiusmet Captare gratiam & fauorem.
Captáre auras, spoken of houndes or spanyels, that seeke out any thyng by the sauour.
Captáre consilium, to consulte.
Captáre occasionem, or tempus, to watche a conuenient time.
Captare sermonẽ alicuius, to listen ones tale.
Captare pisces, to fysshe.
Captare risus, to doo a thyng to be laughed at.
Captare solitudines, to court to be in a solitarie place. Captare somnum, to sleape.
Captare auribus, to herken.
Captare voluptatem, to seeke for pleasure.
Captare aliquem, to lay a wayte to deceyue one, or to go aboute to wynne or allure one on our parte.
Captare cœnam, to get a supper of free cost.
Captare impudicitiæ, to laye awayte to take one in the acte of lecherie.
Captare sermonem, to herken priuily what men talke.
Captúra, æ, f. ge. the apprehendyng or getteyng. also a litell gayne or vantage. also a prayer.
Captúra piscium, fyssyng.
Captúra auium, byrdyng.
Captus, a, um, taken, snared, deceiued also delited.
Capti oculis, blynde. also great louers are called capti.
Capti auribus, deafe.
Captus mente, out of his witte or madde.
Captus est, he is intangled in loue.
Dulcedine vocis captus, delited with the pleasauntnesse of the voyce.
Captus dolis, discerned, begyled.
Captus membris, taken, benummed, deprayued of the vse of his ioynnes.
Capti conatus frustra, labour spent in vayne.
Capta vsu hæreditas, heritage gotten by long possession.
Captus, us, ma. g. chaunce. also discrete, perceyuynge of a thyng, or capacitee.
Captus hominum, mens capaciter.
Capua, a citee in the royalme of Naples.
Cápula, æ, fœ. g. a longe vessel of wood, with an handle, which serueth to take ople out of a vessel.
Capulâris, re, the adiectiue of capulum, by a metaphore, olde, decrepite, at the pittes brinke.
Capularis senex, an olde man, readie to bee layed on his bier.
Capulátor, ôris, ma. gen. he that doeth empty or take out ople of a vessell, with the woodden vessell called capula.
Cápulo, áui, áre, to take oute or empty vesselles of ople.
Cápulum, li, n. g. that which receyueth any thing into it. also a coffyn or bier, wherin dead corpses be caried or layde in. also a certeyne knot in a corde, by the whiche wilde beastes are taken and holden.
Cápulus, li, m. g. and cápulum, li, n. ge. the hilte or handle of a swearde.

Capus, pi, m.g. a capon.
Caput viride, a place in Aethiope called there Mandanga.
Caput, pitis, n.ge. an head. also the begynnynge of a thynge, a chapiter of a booke, an article, a clause, the somme or the principall poynt of any thynge. also a man. sometyme lyfe, the mouthe of a ryuer, the toppe of a tree, the ende of a rafter or planke, the authour or begynner of a thyng. somtyme chiefe, otherwhiles perill. somtyme estimacion.
Ad caput rei peruenias, come to the poynete of the matter.
Capita frumenti & vectigalium, The artycles concernyng grayne and reuenues.
Capita rerum expedite, go to, declare or shew quickely the principal poyntes of the matter.
Capite damnatus, condempned to die.
Capite decernere. Vtinam meo solum capite decernerem, I wolde god I myght trie it at myne owne perill onely.
Sine capite manere res dicitur, whan one knoweth not wherof the bruite is sprong.
Capitis anquirere, to proceede in iudgement against one for treason or felony.
Pœnam capitis pendere, to bee punyshed by death.
Capitis arcessere, to appeache one of felony or treason. Capitis diminutio, a condemnation, wherby a man loseth eyther liberte of his person, is made bonde, or is banyshed hys countrey, or put out of the lynges protections, or renouncyng his owne familie is adopted or taken into an other, which thinge is not now vsed.
Capitis iudicium, proceste criminall.
Operire caput, to put on the cappe.
Tegere caput, idem.
Aperire caput, to put of the cappe or bonet.
Operto capite esse, to haue his cappe on hys head.
Demulcere caput alicui, to stroke ones head.
Distinguere caput acu, with a lyttell pynne to make the shed or diuision of the heare.
Caput facere, to gather to a head.
Capite censi, were amonge the Romayns, the poore sorte of the people, whiche were discharged of all exactions, and remayned in the cite onely for generation.
Caput diminuere, to breake ones head.
Impingere caput parieti, to knocke ones head agaynst the wall.
Agreste caput, a rude felow.
Audax caput, a bolde felow.
Charum caput, a person derely beloued.
Si quidem hoc viuit caput, if I lyue.
Capitis res est, the matter concerneth lyfe and death.
Caput & famam alterius defendere, to defende an other mans lyfe and good name.
Vt in singulas horas capite dimices tuo, that at euery houre you should bee in ieoperdie of your lyfe.
Caput disputationis illius, the summe of that disputacion or controuersie.
Prima duo capita tuæ epistolæ, the two fyrste poyntes of your epistle.
A capite ducere, to fetche a matter euen from the begynnyng.
Caput scelerum, the author and first beginner of the mischiefe.
Caput esse alicui rei, to bee the chiefe in any matter. Et quod caput est, and that is the chief or principall poynt of all.
Nec caput nec pes sermonis apparet, there appereth neyther beginnyng nor endynge of the communication, or the tale hath neyther head nor foote.
In capite Bithyniæ, in the frontiers of Bithynia.
Caput regni, the principal town in the realme.
Capita vitium, the endes or vppermost syrynges of vynes.
Capys, a mans name that builded Capua.
Carabi, a ryuer of Scythia.
Carabus, bi, ma.g. a fyshe called a lopster, lyke to a creuise, but that he is greater, and is redde whan he is alyue.
Caracta, a citee in Spayne, called Guadalayra.
Caralitanum, a promontorie of Sardinia.
Carambis, a great promontory towarde the north part, in the sea Euxinum.
Carambusis, a ryuer of Scythia, by the mountaynes called Riphæi.
Caramus, idem quod Carabus.
Carana, a towne of Ponte.
Caranus, a kynge of Macedonie. Also an hauen in Phenicia.
Caraseni, people of the countrey Cauris.
Caraxus, the brother of Sapphus.
Carbania, a lytle yland by Italy.
Carbas, a winde that bloweth from the south.
Carbaseus, Carbasinus, and Carbasineus, a, um made of fyne lynnen.
Carbasus, si, m. & f.g. Et plu, Carbasa, orũ, n.g. a kynde of fyne linnen or cypres. Also the sayle of a shyppe. also a robe or garment of sylke or fyne lynnen, that ryche folkes vsed to weare. sometime the shirtes of a coate, that casteth pleytes lyke a sayle.
Carbatinæ, shoes that husband men vse.
Carbilesi, people of Thrace.
Carbilius, a man that amonge the Romaynes, dyd fyrst repudiate his wyfe for barrennesse. An other of the same name, whiche had beene hys seruant, was the fyrst that dyd teache grammer openly in Rome.
Carbo, ônis, m.g. a quiche or dead cole. It was also the name of a Romayne.
Carbone notare, to marke with a cole, A prouerbe, signifyng to condempne a thyng. Sometime to take a thynge for ill lucke.
Carbonarius, rij, m.g. a colyar.

Carbonarius, a um, perteynyng to coles.
Carbonária fornax, the pitte where coles bee made.
Carbonatilia, all thynges, that haue moze matter of earth, then of fumes oz exhalacions.
Carbulo, a towne in Spayne.
Carbunculátio, ônis, fœ. ge. and Carbunculus, a corruption in herbes and trees, that blasteth the floures.
Carbunculatio in vitibus, is a faute in vynes whan the cluster of grapes are not sufficiently couered with leaues, by whiche occasion they be wythered and dzied.
Carbúnculo, aui, are, oz Carbunculor, to be burned lyke a cole.
Carbunculantia vlcera, inflamed sozes.
Carbunculantur semina, the seedes be bourned oz blasted.
Carbunculôsus, a, um, the adiectyue of Carbunculus.
Carbunculôsus ager, a fielde perched with heate of the sunne, and made vnfruictfull.
Carbunculosa arena, sande full of litteli redde stones lyke burnyng coles.
Carbúnculus, li, ma. g. a botche that cometh of inflammation. also a kynde of pzecious stones, whiche doo shyne lyke a burnyng cole. Moze ouer a dekaute in a vyne oz other trees, whereby they are burned, whiche happeneth aboute the canicular dayes. It also signifieth earthe, wherein are founde blacke slate stones. also earthe whiche with the heate of the sonne is so hot, that it bourneth all thynges sette oz sowen in it.
Carcafum, a towne of Narbon in Fraunce.
Carcathiocherta, a towne of the greater Armeny
Carcer, ĕris, m. g. a pzison. sometyme a naughty felow woz thy pzisonment.
Ain' tandem carcer? Maiest thou so in deede thou naughty theefe?
Ianitor carceris, the iaylour.
Teneri in carcere, to be kepte in pzison.
Conici in carcerem, to be cast in pzison.
Cárceres, m. g. pl. the place where hozses stande, whan they ren foz pzice, and from thens doo take theyz course. hereof cometh a pzouerbe.
A carceribus ad calcem oz ad metam, from the begynnyng to the endyng of an enterpzise.
Carcerárius, a, um, of a pzison.
Carceratinum, the rewarde, whiche the officers were wont to geue to them that kept the pzison. it may now be vsed foz that they call theyz fiese. some reade Charisticon, and not Carceratinum.
Carchedon, the citee of Carthage, and Carchedonij, the people therof.
Carchedónius, nij, ma. g. a kynde of carbuncle stones, whiche in the house seeme of purple colour a brode in the ayze they are kept. Agaynste the sonne, they sende out sparkes, and yf ware be touched with them, it melteth.
Carchésia, ôrum, n. ge. the vppermost parte of the maste, that is the holes, wherein the coydes oz shzowdes are fastned.
Carchésium, sii, neu. gen. a standyng cuppe with handels.
Carchoquios, quij, m. g. a kynde of frogges, hauyng on theyz brealpes pzalow spottes.
Carcina, a citee.
Carcinetron, the herbe called Corigiola. looke there.
Carcinias, æ, m. g. a pzecious stone of the colour of a crabbe fyshe.
Carcinites, a gouke in Scythia of Europe.
Carcinôdes, nôdis, n. g. the canker in the nose.
Carcinôma, ătis, n. ge. the eatynge canker in the ouer partes of the body.
Cárcinus, ni, m. g. a crabbe. also a signe in the firmament also the name of a poete.
Cardamila, a citee in Argus, nere to Pylus.
Cardamantice, idem quod Iberis, looke there.
Cardamine, an herbe called Vincetoxicum.
Cardamina, æ, idem quod cardamum.
Cardamômum, mi, n. g. an herbe oz spice, whiche is lyke a seede somewhat longe. The beste is harde to be bzoken, and soone pearceth the nose in smellyng. In taste quicke and somwhat bytter. In steede of this spice, which cometh oute of Arabie oz Indie, they now commonly vse a spice, which the apothecaries call Granum paradisi, in englysh graynes.
Cardamon, oz Cardamum, mi, ne. g. an herbe called cresses.
Cárdia, a towne of Thzace.
Cardia, æ, f. g. the herte of a man oz beast.
Cardiaca, cæ, the herbe called motherwoze.
Cardiacus, a, um, of the herte.
Cardiácus morbus, vel Cardía, a passio, a sykenesse of the herte, pzoceedinge of to muche weakenes of the body, and feebleneste of the stomake by ouermuch swette, consumption of naturall spirites, oz certayne other causes.
Cardialgia, æ, greke oz payne of the hert.
Cardiacus, ci, m. g. he that hath that disease.
Cardinâlis, le, chiefe oz principall.
Cardinâtus, a, um, the adiectiue of Cardo: as, Ligna cardinâta, rafters pynned in the mozs tepses.
Cardinea dea, idem quod Carna.
Cardineus, a, um, idem quod cardinalis.
Ordo cardineus, i. præcipuus.
Cardinum, ni, neu. g. an herbe, which some doos suppose is cresses.
Cardísce, ces, m. g. a stone that is engendzed of a dzagons bzayne.
Cardo, dinis, ma. ge. the hooke, wheron the dooze hangeth, and is moued. Also a mere oz bounds, whiche passe thzough the fieldes, from the southe to the nozthe. Also the tenon, put into a mozteyse. sometyme opozuniter. Vitruuius calleth the two poles of the firmament Cardines. Cardines temporum, the foure tymes of the yere, spzyng tyme, sommer, autume, & wynter.

Cardo cauſæ, the iſſue of the matter.
Cardo rei, the effecte of the matter or thynge, the chiefe poynte of the matter.
In hoc cardo rei vertitur, herin conſiſteth the hole matter, or on this hangeth all the matter.
Cardo litium, idem quod cardo cauſæ.

Cárdopos, pi, ma g. an hutche or coffer, wherin bread is put. In the north countrey it is called an arke. It is alſo a veſſell, wherin dough is moulded.

Carduélis, lis, fœ. g. a byrde called a lynnet, or ſome other litle birde, that liueth by the ſeede of thiſtles. for I dare not affirme it to be a lynnet, which is named Miliaria. This Carduelis is deſcribed to be a litle birde, with a redde head, yelow wynges, diſtincte with white and blacke: It, beynge (as Plinie ſayth) of all birdes the leaſt, is tought to do any thynge not only with the voyce, but alſo with the feete & byll in ſtede of handes.

Carduus, dui, maſ. ge. a thyſtell, or the wylde artichoke.

Care, decrely, at a great price.

Carectum, ti, ne. ge. the place where ſedge doeth growe.

Carenſes, people of Spayne.

Carentani, people of Italy.

Cáreo, ui, ére, to lacke, properly thoſe good thynges, whiche ones were had. Sometyme it ſignifieth to be without a thyng: as,
Careo culpa, I am without faute.
Careo febre, I am without feuer.
Præterquàm tui carendi quod erat, Hauing that I coulde not haue your company.
Quod amat caret, he lacketh that he loueth.
Ego illa caream, ſi ſit opus, vel totum triduũ I coulde bee without her, if neede were, three whole dayes together.
Caruit ne te febris heri? had you not your ague yeſterday?
Caruit Pompeius foro, Pompeius came not abrode into the common place.
Fide careres, the matter is not to be beleued.
Carere ſuſpicione, not to be ſuſpected.

Cares, the name of a keruer, the ſcholar of Liſippus.

Cares, people of Phrygia, of barbarous and ſeruile maners and faction, vede the prouerbe, in Care periculum.

Careſius, a ryuer of Troye.

Caretha, an yle called alſo Dionyſia.

Careum, or Carium, an herbe, in Engliſh caraways, apothecaries call it carui.

Carex, cáricis, f. g. ſedge that groweth in fennes, and watry groundes, it is called in Northumberlande, ſheregraſſe.

Caria pontica, latinis auellanæ nuces, fielbers or haſill nuttes.

Caria, a region in Aſia haueyng on the north ſide the great riuer Meander. On the weſt the great ſea Icarium, on the eaſt Licia, and diuers other countreys. Towarde the ſouthe the mountayne Taurus. The people therof called Cares, were good men of warre, and therfore euery where retayned for ſouldiours, as Suizars, or Suychners be now.

Cariatis, idis, a woman of Carya, a citee of Peloponeſus.

Cárica, cæ, f. g. a dry fygge, ſuche as is eaten in Lent. Carica, is alſo a kynde of meate: vede the prouerbe, Lydorum caricæ.

Cárica, lyttell houſes ſette on hygh places, whiche be ſtronge by theyr naturall munition.

Caricus, or Carius, a, um, of the countrey of Caria.

Carides, a fiſſhe called a prane, lyke to a ſhrimpe.

Cáries, ei, f. g. a litle worme that eateth wood. It is alſo putrifaction or fylth growen by age or continuance, the rottennesſe in timber or trees.
Vini caries, the dregges of wyne.

Cáriem trahere, ſentire, inducere. Carie infeſtari, to ware rotten, or to be putrified, or wax newed.

Carillæ, a towne of Picentum, deſtroyed by Hanniball.

Carina, æ, f. g. the keele or bottome of a ſhippe.

Carinæ, arum, certeyne houſes within the temple of Tellus, made lyke the bottoms of ſhippes.

Carinæ, arum, a ſtreete in Rome, wherin Pompeie dwelled.
Carinæ putaminum, the two ſhales of a nutte deuided in ſunder.

Carinátum, lyke a keele.

Carinátus, a, um, made in fourme of the keele of a ſhyppe.

Carini, people of Germany.

Carino, aui, are, to make any thynge lyke to the keele of a ſhippe.

Carinthia, a countrey by Oultriche, topgnynge on the ſouth to the mountaynes Alpes and Italy. On the eaſt and north to Styria. The election of a new prynce or gouernour there, is verye ſtraunge. Pius writeth in his coſmography, that in the towne called Sancti viti, is a greate valey, where, in a medowe is ſette a ſtone of marble, of a good height, wherypon aſcendeth an huſbande man, vnto whom that office by inheritance belongeth: On his right hande ſtandeth a blacke cow: on his lefte hande an yll fauoured mare. About him ſtandeth a great multitude of caries. On the other ſyde of the medow cometh the duke, accompanied with his noble men in their robes of eſtate. Before hym goeth the Erle of Gozitia, the greate mayſter of his houſe, betwene. xii. banners, bearynge the prynces ſtanderde. The other noble men folow with the prynce, clad lyke an huſbande man, with a ſheepeerooke in his hande, as he were a ſhepeherd. As ſoone as the carle, on the marble ſtone, perceiueth him comyng, he aſketh a loude in the Slauoyn tungue, who is this, that cometh with ſo proude agate? They that ſtande about about, aunſwere, It is the pꝛynce of this counꝛtꝛey. Than ſaieth he ekeſtoones: Is he a ꝛighteuouſe iudge, ſeekyng foꝛ the weale of the counꝛtꝛey, a fꝛee man boꝛne, and wooꝛthy to haue honour? Is he a true chꝛiſten man, and defendeꝛ of Chꝛiſtes faieth? They all aunſwere, yea, he is and ſhall be. Than ſaieth the earle, By what ꝛyght may he putte me fꝛom this place? Than aunſwereth the earle of Gozitia, Thou ſhalte haue foꝛ thy place. lx. gꝛotes, theſe two beaſtes (the cow and the mare) & the pꝛynces apparaile, which he dyd late put of. Alſo thy family oꝛ kinne ſhalbe fꝛee fꝛom al maneꝛ of tꝛybute. Than the earle, geuyng the pꝛynce a lyttle blowe on his cheeke, byddeth him be a good iudge, and comming downe fꝛom the ſtone, geueth him place, and ſo departeth, takyng with him the cowe and the mare. Than the pꝛynce goeth vp on the ſtone, and holdyng a naked ſwoꝛde in his hande, bꝛandyſhynge it, tuꝛneth to euery paꝛte of the ſtone, pꝛomyſyng equall iudgemente to all the people. Than is theꝛe bꝛought to him colde waſſer in an houſebandmans cappe, which he dꝛinketh, ſignifyinge that he condemneth dꝛynkyng of wyne. Than goeth he to a chuꝛche theꝛeby: where, after he hath heꝛde maſſe, he putteth of his ruſtical vaiement, and putteth on apparaile of honour. And dynyng with his nobilitee ſumptuouſely he commeth ekeſtoones to the medowe, where he heareth matteꝛs, and mynyſtreth iuſtice. The duke of this countrey, is as it were chiefe maiſteꝛ of the game to the imperyall maieſtee.

Carion Baſilicon, called of the latines regia nux and Perſica iuglans, the wall nutte.

Cariophillata, æ, f. g. a flower called auance.

Cariophillon, a ſpyce called cloues.

Cariouelites, people of the countrey of Lyons in Fꝛaunce.

Cariôſus, a, um, as earth is after it is well dounged and ſturred. It is alſo putrifyed oꝛ rotten.

Carioſa terra, rotten earth, that commeth of dounge.

Cariota, tæ, f. g. looke Caryota.

Cariotis, idis, looke Caryotis.

Cariſa, a towne in Spayne.

Cariſſa, vſed of olde wꝛyters foꝛ vafra.

Caritas, atis, f. ge. ſtaꝛſitee, deaꝛthe, pꝛoperly of that whiche ſeꝛueth foꝛ the ſuſtinaunce of man.

Caritas nummorum, ſcaꝛſitee of money.

Caritas annonæ, ſcaꝛſitee of vyttayle.

Caritas, and vilitas, contꝛary.

Carium, looke Careum.

Carius, the name of Iupiteꝛs ſonne.

Carmacæ, people of Aſia, neꝛe Meotis.

Carmani, people of Carmania.

Carmânia, a countꝛey in India, whiche is after Ptolome, diuided in two paꝛtes: One is veꝛy fertile, the other is veꝛaie baꝛayne. Carmania the deſeꝛt, hath on the weaſt Peꝛſis: on the eaſt Aꝛia, on the noꝛth Paꝛthia, on the ſouth, the other Carmania. The fꝛetyle Carmania, hath on the noꝛth the deſeꝛt: on the eaſte Gedꝛoſia. on the weaſt, Peꝛſis: on the ſouth, the Indian ſea. Of this countꝛey I find one thing woꝛthy of ꝛemembꝛance. who ſo euer wil maꝛy, muſt fiꝛſt bꝛyng to the kynge theꝛe, the head of an enemie: whiche he ſetteth vp in his palaice: but fiꝛſt he taketh out the tounge, and cauſeth it to bee cut in peeces, and mingled with bꝛead, & geueth paꝛte theꝛeof to hym that bꝛought the head.

And if theꝛe be many heades, he deuideth the tounges among his gentlemen, as moſt delicate meate.

Carmêlus, oꝛ Carmêlum, the name of two ſundꝛy hilles in Iudea.

Carmen, ĭnis, neu. ge. a veꝛſe oꝛ meteꝛ. Alſo the whole waꝛke that is made in veꝛſes. ſometyme it ſignifieth a charme. ſometyme a pꝛeſcꝛipte oꝛ cꝛacion oꝛ pꝛaieꝛ, in makynge a vowe, oꝛ other lyke puꝛpoſe. alſo a pꝛopheeie.

Carmen, is ſometyme taken foꝛ the voyce oꝛ noyſe of an owle.

Carmen virtutis, the haꝛmonie and vnyſoꝛme conſent of vertue.

Carmina, componere, condere, contexere, facere, fingere, to make veꝛſes.

Carmenta, & Carmentis, the name of a ladye, whiche had the ſpiꝛite of pꝛopheꝛy, and gaue anſwer in veꝛſes. She was alſo called Nicoſtratus, and was mother of Euander.

Carminârij, oꝛum, m. g. they that doo picke, make cleane, oꝛ caꝛde woull.

Carminâtoꝛ, ôꝛis, m. g. and Carminârius, rij, idem.

Carminâtꝛix, a woman oꝛ wench that pycketh oꝛ caꝛdeth woull.

Carminârio, ônis. fœm. ge. the pycking oꝛ caꝛdyng of woull.

Cârmino, aui, aꝛe, to caꝛde woull, oꝛ other lyke thynge.

Caꝛmon, a place in Meſſenia, the temple of Apollo in Laconia, a ꝛyuer in Achaia, and a mountayne in Peloponeſus.

Caꝛna, æ, fœ. g. was ſuppoſed to be the goddeſſe of mans lyke, of hir they deſyꝛed the heꝛte, lyuer, and intꝛayles, to be pꝛeſeꝛued.

Caꝛnapæ, people about Meotis.

Caꝛnaꝛium, nârij, n. g. a laꝛdeꝛ, wheꝛein hangeth fleſhe. ſometyme it ſignifieth a bouchers chambles. Alſo fleſhe meate. ſometyme an inſtꝛument with many hookes, whꝛeon fleſhes of baken, oꝛ other peeces of fleſhe do hang in a laꝛdeꝛ houſe, oꝛ other place.

Caꝛnâꝛius, rij, m. g. a bouchꝛ. Alſo one that deſyꝛeth in eatynge of fleſhe: a fleſhemongeꝛ.

Caꝛnâꝛius, a, um, that peꝛteynyth to fleſhe.

Caꝛnaꝛia taberna, a bouchers ſhop.

Caꝛne, a towne of Phenicia.

Caꝛneades, a philoſophieꝛ, the folowꝛeꝛ of Chꝛiſippus, and chiefe of the ſeꝛte called Noui Academici.

Cârne-

Cárneus, a, um, that whiche is of flesshe.
Carni, the people of the countreye in Almayne, called Carinthia, belongyng to the duke of Austriche. It is also the name of an other people in Italy, in the countrey called Marca Tarusia.
Carnifex, icis, ma. gen, an executioner, or hangman, that cutteth men in peeces. And by a metaphore, a murderer, a cruell person.
Carnifices epulæ, bankettes, which put a man to peyne and tourmentes after.
Carnificina, æ, fœ. ge. the place where suche execution is doone. Also the office or acte of an hange man. Also great murder, crueltee.
Carnificinam facere, to exercyse the office of an executioner.
Carnificinam subire, to go to execution, to bee tormented and murdered.
Carnificinus, a, um, pertenyng to the acte of murdryng or sleayng.
Carnificina ægritudo, peynefull sickenesse that tormenteth a man.
Carnificium, idem quod Carnificina.
Carnificor, aris. ari, to bee putte to execution, to be tormented, and as it were torne in pieces.
Carniuorus, a, um, any thynge that deuoureth flesshe.
Carnopes, the flies called Locustes.
Carnósitas, átis, fœm, ge. abundaunce of flesshe, fleshlynes.
Carnósus, a, um, fleshye, grosse.
Carnósa radix, & Carnosum folium, a thyck leafe, or a thycke roote.
Carnotum, the middell region of all Fraunce.
Carnulentus, a, um idem quod Carnosus.
Carnuntum, a towne in the bozder of Germany.
Carnus, a, um, fatte.
Carnutes, people of a countreye in Fraunce, called Charters.
Carnuti, people of Germany.
Caro, carnis, f. g. flesshe, properly of that whiche is dead. Also in herbes, leaues, and fruite, that whiche is vnder the shynne or pyll.
Caro piscium, the meate of fysshe.
Caro arborum, the woodde or tymber next the sappe.
Cardunum, the citee Cracan in Polonia, called also Cracouia.
Caronium, a citee in Spayne called Cheroga.
Caros, Caron, vel Careum, of the apothecaries Carui, an herbe called Caret, the roote wherof is lyke a persnepe, but some are yelowe, and some redde, and are in eatyng more pleasaunt than persenepps, and wyll bee sooner digested: There be of theim that are whyte. some call this herbe caraways.
Carota, æ, the wylde Caret.
Carotæ, vel Carotici, bee the greate synewes, whiche dooe holde vp the necke, called also Tenondes, whiche in Cornelius Celsus, in some printes, be called Cærotes, whiche woulde be amendid and written Carotas.
Caroticæ, be the great veynes on euery syde of the necke.
Carpanetum, a place of Athens.
Carpasium, a towne of Cyprus.
Carpathium mare, the sea lyenge in Egipt, wherin be the yles called Sporades.
Cárpathos, or Carpathus, an yle against Egipt, the middes betwene Rhodes and Candie.
Carpatinæ, arum, f. g. plowmens bootes made of vntanned leather, they may be called okers.
Carpatus, a mountayne of Sarmatia, called commonly Crapalz.
Carpentárius, rij, m. g. a cart wright or carpenter.
Carpentárius, a, um, pertenyng to the carte or charlotte. Carpentárius equus, a cart horse or chariot horse.
Carpentoractæ, the citee of Carpentras in Burbone.
Carpéntum, ti, n. g. a chariot or waggon.
Carpésia, æ. an herbe that is poyson. pli.
Carpheotum, ti, n. g. frankensence.
Carpetani, a people of Spayne.
Carphos, called also Bucetas, and Aegoceras, an herbe called Sengrene.
Carpi, a people of Zeugitana, in Affrike.
Carpineus, a, um, of the tree Carme.
Carpinus, ni, f. g. a tree called among the frenche men Carpi. or Carme.
Cárpio, ónis, fœ. ge. a fysshe, not that whiche we call a carpe: for that is of some called Pisces Cyprinus.
Carpis, a ryuer in Scythia.
Carpo, psi, ĕre, to gather or plucke softly, without violence. sometyme to hurt or diminisshe, debilitate or infeeble. Also to choose out, to reprue or taunte, to vse. i. fruor. to passe ouer quickely.
Carpere agmen, to vexe an hoste, and to assaye and slea suche as straye abyode from the armie. Carpere cibum to eate.
Carpere iter, to take a iourney.
Carpere herbas, to eate grasse.
Carpere linum, to drawe out the flaxe in spynnyng at the dystaffe.
Carpere lanam, to tose or tatde woull.
Carpere maledico dente, to reprooue maliciously, to backbyte or slaundre.
Carpere viam, to walke.
Carpere vires, to debilitate or infeeble.
Carpere vitales auras, to lyue.
Vtum quicquid, quod quidem erit bellissimum carpam, One mosell, which so euer shall be the deyntyest, I wyll choose for my selfe.
Genio carpamus dulcia, let vs make good cheer
Carpere exercitum in multas partes, to diuide an hoste or armye in many partes.
Carpet citius aliquis quam imitabitur, One shall sooner kynde laute than dooe the lyke.
Carpere fugam, to renne awaie.
Carpere somnos, to sleepe.
Carpere flores, vel poma, to gather flowers or fruite.

Forma

Forma capitur ſuo ſpacio, fauour, the longer it continueth, the more it decaieth.
Carpere faciem, to rent or teare the face.
Carpere aliquem, id eſt, Emungere, to diſpoyle one or rydde him of that he hath.
Auro pectus carpitur, the mynde is troubled with courtouſneſſe.
Cura alicuius carpi, to be carefull for one.
Carpere facta alicuius, to fynde a faute at ones doynges.
Gaudia carpere, to be ioyfull or glad.
Carpobálſamum, mi, neut. gene. the fruite of Balſamum.
Carpócrates, an heretyke, whiche denied Chriſte to be god, affyrmynge that he was pure man, whoſe ſect were named Carpocratitæ, or Carpocratiani. They affyrmed the worlde to be made by angelles. They reiected the olde teſtament, and denied the generall reſurrection. They denyed, that Chriſt was borne of the virgin Mary, ſayng, that he was gotten of the ſede of Joſeph. Alſo that his bodie ſuffered, and that his ſoule onely was receyued into heauen: he lyued about the yere of our lorde. 142.
Carpophillon, li, n. g. a tree, whiche hath leaues lyke a lawrell.
Carpopharus, a, um, that beareth fruite.
Carpos, pi m. g. the wriſt, or the ende of the leſſe bone in the arme, called Radius or Parapechion.
Carpſarij, orum, they whiche in bathes doe kepe mens clothes, haungе ſome rewarde for theyr labour.
Cárptim, pickyng out here and there.
Carptim breuiterq; perſtringere aliquid, To touche a thynge ſummarily or in few woordes.
Carptim dicere, to touche thynges here and there quickly.
Cárptor, ôris, m. g. a reprouer or taunter.
Carptûra, æ, fœ. g. a gatherynge together of many thynges.
Cárptus, us, m. g. idem.
Cárptus, a, um, plucked, gathered. alſo tolde lyke woull.
Carra, ræ, a citee in Arabia.
Carraca, a citee of Italy vnder the dominion of Venice, called commonly Caranas.
Carræ, arum, a citee of Meſopotamia, where Craſſus the ſenatour, and Caracalla, the emperour were ſlayne.
Carrago, ſeemeth of Pollio, to bee taken for Impedimentum
Carrodunum, lyke Carodunum.
Carrúca, cæ, f. g. a chariotte.
Carrucárius, a, um, pertaynyng to a charyotte.
Carrus, ri, m. g. & Carrum ri, n. g. a chariot.
Carſeolanus, a, um, of the towne or people called Carſeoli.
Carſeoli, that towne and people.
Cartállus, li, m. g. or Carthallum li, n. g. a baſket made of oſiers.

Carteia, a towne in Spayne.
Cartenua, a towne in the prouynce Tingitana.
Carthea, or Cartheia, a citee in the yle Ceos.
Carthaginenſis, or after Priſcian, Carthaginienſis, ſe, of or pertaynynge to Carthage.
Carthâgo, thâginis, f. g. a famous citee in Affrike called Carthage, almoſt enuyroned with the ſea, whiche citee was in compaſſe aboute the walles 360. furlonges, which are. 45. Italyan myles, wherof. vii. myles and an halfe ran in length on the rydge of an hyll, whiche went from ſea to ſea, where were ſette the ſtables of olyphantes, a verie large place. Almoſte in the myddell of the citee was a caſtell or toure called Byrſa, on the top wherof ſtode Eſculapius temple: vnderneth were hauens or hepes of the caſtell, and a lyttell rounde yle called Cothon, ſtandyng as it were in a great pōde, about which were ſet the houſes that ſerued for the name of Carthage. this citee continued warres with the Romaynes. xl. yeres, and had many excellente menne of warre, of whom Annyball was the moſte noble and famous. That citee had in ſubiection a greate parte of Affrike, Sicile, the more part of Spaine, and the yles of the myddell ſea. It was at laſte deſtroyed by Scipio, before the incarnacion of Chriſte. 144. yeres. The countrey where it ſtoode, is nowe called Tunyſe.
Carthamus, looke in Cnicos.
Cartheus, and Cartheius, a, um, the adiective of Carthæa.
Carthumandua, a queene in this Bryttayne, of the people called Brigantes.
Cartilagineus, a, um, of a griſtle.
Cartilâgo, gĭnis, f. g. a gryſtle.
Cartilaginôſus, a, um, full of griſtles, or of a griſtle. alſo a meane betweene harde and ſofte.
Cartris, a place of the Cymbrians.
Carty, the herbe called ſpurge.
Caruncula, læ, f. g. a lyttle piece of fleſhe.
Carus, a, um, deere.
Caruſij, people of Affrike by Ethiope.
Carya, the name of a citee in Greece.
Carya baſilica, the walnutte tree.
Caryatida, a kenne or mere in Caria.
Caryatides, the ymages of women holdynge garlandes or other lyke thynges, ſette vp to garniſh houſes.
Caryca, rede in Carica. after Suidas, it is a certayne meate, made of bludde and diuers other thynges mingled together, a kynde of pudynges.
Carỹnus, carỹna, um, of a nutte, as Oleum carỹnum, the ople of nuttes.
Caryon, ryi, n. g. a kynde of nuttes.
Caryon Indicum, vel nux Indica, a great fruite lyke to a nutte, which the Arabians doe eate, are the dates of Indie. Out of theim roſeth a lycoure more ſweete than butter. This nutte is hotte in the ſeconde degree, and moyſte in the fyrſt.
Caryon miriſticon, vel Moſthocarion, is that that ſpice, whiche is alſo called Nux muſcata, in engliſh nutmygges, which is hot and dry in the ſecond degree.

Caryópon, pi, n.g. the iuyce of a nutte, that cometh of a kynde of Cinamon tree, that groweth in Syria.

Caryôta, tæ, f.g. a date.

Cariôtis, idis, f.g. idem.

Caryſtæus, and Caryſtius, a, um, of the yle Caryſte.

Caryſte, tes, and Caryſtos, ti, an yle in the ſea called Euboicum, wherein is plentie of marble of dyuers colours. there groweth alſo a kynde of ſtones, wherof they make kyne cloth, whiche beyng foule is purged by fyre.

Carýtis, carýtis, f.g. a kynde of ſpurge.

Cáſa, ſæ, f.g. a cottage.

☞ Ita fugias, ne præter caſam, A prouerbe admonyſhyng ſo to eſchewe a thynge, that we fall not into a woyſe.

Caſabúndus, a, um, fallyng often.

Caſandra, an yle ouer agaynſt Perſis.

Caſária, æ, fœm. gen. the woman that keepeth the cotage.

Caſcandrus, an yle by India.

Caſcatenſes, people of Spayne.

Caſcus, a, um, olde.

☞ Caſcus, caſcum ducit, A prouerbe ſignifyyng vnequal mariage, whan a yong man marryeth an olde woman.

Caſeâle, lis, n.g. a dey houſe, where cheeſe is made.

Caſeárius, as, um, of or pertenyng to cheeſe.

Caſearia taberna, a depe houſe, a place where cheeſe is made.

Cáſeus, ei, m.g. cheeſe. ſome men vſe Caſeum, in the neutre gender.

Caſeus muſteus, Rowen cheeſe.

Caſeus recens & mollis, newe and ſofte cheeſe.

Caſia, an herbe, that beareth a ſpyce, whiche hath the vertue of cynamome, and is wounderfull ſoote in ſauour. It is of the apothecaries called Caſia lignea. ſome haue iudged this, whiche the olde learned men called Caſia, to be our cinamome, becauſe wee neuer had the true cynamome, and that, whiche we call Caſia, not to be the true Caſia.

Caſia fiſtularis, is that, whiche is called commonly Caſsia fiſtula.

Caſilini, a people, whiche beynge beſeeged of the Carthaginenſes, ſuſteyned theyr hunger a great ſpace with ſmall nuttes.

Caſilinum, a citee of Campayne in Italy.

Caſina, a comedie of Plautus.

Caſinum, a towne in Italy.

Caſito, áui, áre, to fall or dyop often tymes.

Caſius, an hyll in the borders of Egypt: an other in Seleutia.

Caſmœnæ, olde wryters vſed for Camœnæ.

Caſmonates, people of Liguria.

Caſnar, in the Oſche tounge is an olde man.

Caſo, áui, áre, a frequentatiue of Cado.

Caſos, an yle by the ſea Carpathium. Alſo one of them that be called Cyclades.

Caſperia, a citee in Italie, alſo a womans name.

Caſperula, a towne of the Sabines.

Caſpii, a people nowe in Tartaria, ioynyng to the ſea Caſpium, ſo inhumayne (as Strabo wryteth) that whan theyr parentes excede the age of. lxx. yeres, they in a cloſe place, ſtempſe theim, and then they lay theim in a deſerte, deuoiſdyng theim a farre of. Yf byrdes pluckе theym out of their clothes, and deuour theim: they accompt theim bleſſed. If dogges or wilde beaſtes deuoure it, they accompt it not ſo happy. But yf both deuoure it, they eſteme thoſe men vnhappie. Other wryte, that they nourſhe dogges of purpoſe to deuour theim.

Caſpius, a parte of the mountayne Taurus.

Caſpius, and Caſpiacus, a, um, of Caſpius.

Caſpiæ portæ, are broken places in the Rockes of the mountaynes of Caucaſus, towarde Hyrcania and Perſia, in length, as Plinius wryteth. viii. myles, as Solin. wryteth. viii. myles: In breadthe ſo narowe, that a carte maie hardly paſſe through theim. Marcianus wryteth, that thoſe gates were faſt ſhutte with greate yron beames, that no man ſhuld paſſe: In the ſpryng tyme and ſommer all ſerpentes doue repayre thither from all countreis about, wherefore the paſſage that waie is perillous.

Caſſabundus, idem quod Caſabundus.

Caſſandanæ, the daughter of Pharnaſpis, and mother of Cambyſa, Iſtiages ſonne in lawe.

Caſſandra, the daughter of Priamus, layne by Clytemneſtra, whan Agamemnon brought hir into Greece.

Caſſé, in vayne.

Caſſera, a towne of Macedonie.

Caſſia via, a waie or cauſey made by Caſſius the Romayne.

Caſſiculus, ſiculi, m.g. a little haie.

Caſſida, æ, fœ. ge. idem quod Caſsis, idis, an helmette.

Caſſidile, is vſed of Hierome for Perula.

Caſſina, looke Caſina.

Caſſinum, a towne of the Sabines. alſo an olde market place in that towne.

Caſſiodôrus, a learned man, teacher of Theodoricus kynge of Gothes.

Caſſiopa, an hauen on the ſouth part of Sicile.

Caſſiope, called alſo Caſſiopeia, the wyfe of Cepheus, and mother of Andromades, which contended in beautee with Nereides, and was therfore tourned into a ſygne in heauen, that hath xii. ſterres and is fygured lyke a woman, ſyttyng in a chayre.

Caſsis, ſis, m.g. a nette, whiche maie be called an haie.

Decidit præda in meos caſſes, the pray is fallen in to my handes.

Caſsis, idis, f.g. an helmette, a ſcull, or a cappe of fence, a ſalade or baſenet.

Caſsita, æ, f. g. a larke.
Caſsiterides, be ten yles in the Spaynyſhe Sea, wherein was dygged muche tynne, and they be not farre from the weſt parte of Spayne.
Caſsitĕrum, ri, n. g. tynne.
Caſsiteros, idem.
Caſsitias, the gumme that droppeth out of a fyrre tree.
Caſsius, the proper name of dyuers men. It is alſo the name of a mountayne, and of a citee in Egypt nere to Peleuſium, looke the prouerbe Caſſioticus nodus.
Cáſſo, aui, are, to put out or make of none effect.
Caſſum, ſi, n. g. a fragment or piece of any thing.
Caſſus, a, um, voyde and of none effect.
Caſſa dote virgo, a mayde hauynge nothynge towarde hir mariage.
Caſſa nux, a pypped nutte.
Caſſus lumine, blynd.
Anima caſſum corpus, a bodye without a ſoule.
Senſu caſſa ſimulacra, ymages without ſenſe or feelynge.
Caſſa conſilia, vayne counſayles.
Caſſus labor, labour in vayne.
Caſſutha, the herbe commonly called Caſcuta, in engliſhe dodder, and is not the ſame that Epithymum, for this groweth not onely aboute Tyme, but alſo aboute Tare, Nettles, Mayzerye, &c.
Caſtáldia, æ, f. ge. a ſtewardſhyp or ouerſyght of a mans goodes, and Caſtaldius, dij, a procter, a ſtewarde, a bayly, that hath the ouerſyghte and charge of a mans poſſeſſions.
Caſtalides, the ſurname of the muſes.
Caſtalius, a fountayne in the foote of the hyll of Pernaſſus, dedicated to the muſes.
Caſtánea, æ, f. g. a cheſten tree, or a cheſt nutte.
Caſtanĕtum, ti, ne. gen. a place ſette with cheſten trees.
Caſtánius, and Caſtaninus, a, um, of cheſtens.
Caſtaninum oleum, an oyle made of cheſten nuttes.
Caſte, chaſtly, honeſtly, vncorruptly.
Caſte integre, chaſtly, and vncorruptly.
Caſtellánus, ni, m. g. he that dwelleth in a lyttle walled towne or fortreſſe.
Caſtellánus, a, um, of or perteynynge to a lyttle caſtle or walled towne.
Caſtellátim, one lyttle walled towne after an other, towne by towne.
Caſtéllum, li, n. ge. a caſtell, or a lyttle walled towne. It is a cundite, oute of whyche water renneth. Also the name of a countrey called Iuſtiers or Gulike.
Caſtenes, a gulfe in the ſea by Conſtantinople.
Caſtéria, æ, f. g. an houſe, wherein the tachynge of ſhyppes is kept.
Caſtianira, one of Priamus wyues.
Caſtigábilis, le, that whyche ſhoulde or maye be corrected or amended.
Caſtigátio, ônis, f. g. correction, a chaſtiſement.
Caſtigator, ôris, m. g. a corrector.
Caſtigo, áui, áre, to chaſtice with wordes, to chyde or rebuke. Also to correct or amende, to reſourme, to punyſhe.
Caſtigáre verbis, to chyde.
Caſtigare verberibus, to beate.
Caſtigare vinculis & carcere, to punyſhe or chaſtyſe by inpriſonment.
Caſtíncus, a, um, that maketh chaſte.
Caſtimónia, æ, f. g. idem quod Caſtitas.
Caſtitúdo, dĭnis, idem.
Caſtitas, átis, Caſtitúdo, dĭnis, & Caſtimónia, æ, f. g, chaſtitee.
Caſtilogi, people of Fraunce.
Caſtor, ſtoris, m. g. a beuer, which hath the tayle of a fyſhe, and in the reſpour is like to an otter.
Caſtor & pollux two bretherne, borne at a birth, and tourned in to a ſygne in heauen called Gemini.
Caſtor, a phyſition who taught, that the herbe Piperitis, was good to dryncke for the fallynge ſickeneſſe.
Caſtorĕa, orum, n. g. the ſtones of a beuer, mes dicinable for many thynges.
Cſtóreum, rei, neu. gen. an oyle made of a beuers ſtones.
Caſtóreus, a, um, of the beaſt called a beuer.
Caſtoreus odor, a rotten ſtynkynge ſauour.
Caſtorides canes, dogges ingendred of a fore and a beuer.
Caſtra, órum, n. g. an army of men, when they lie or byde in any place. Also the campe or place where the hoſte lodgeth the pauylions beynge pitched. Also they ſignifie Stationes, reſtynge places, where the hoſte tarryeth to refreſhe them ſelues: whyche amonge the olde Romaines contayned. ix. myles, as Venalis wryteth.
Caſtris exuere, to compell the enemies to forſake their campe.
Nec ante abſceſſu eſt, quàm caſtris exuerunt hoſtem. Nor they departed not awaye, vntyll they had conſtreyned theyr enemies to forſake theyr campe.
Metator caſtrorum, he that chooſeth the place to pytche the campe
Cingere caſtra vallo, to trench the cãpe about.
Conferre caſtra caſtris, to pytche campe ouerthwhat againſt the campe of our enemies.
Exuere hoſtes caſtris, to diſcampe his enemies.
Facere caſtrà, to campe.
Habere caſtra, to be encampte.
Caſtrametátor, ôris, m. g. one that campeth.
Caſtramétor, áris, ári, to lay or lodge an army, to pytche or campe.
Caſtrátio, ônis, f. g. the geldynge or cuttynge away of the ſtones. And by a metaphore, a pluckynge away or diminiſhyng of a thyng.
Caſtrátio arborum, the ofte cuttynge or pruynge of trees.

Caſtratúra, æ, f. g. idem quod caſtratio.
Caſtrâtus, a, um. gelded, feebled, diminiſhed.
Caſtráta reſpublica, a weake or febele common weale.
Caſtrénſis, ſe, that whiche pertayneth to anhoſte or armie, or warre.
Caſtrenſe peculium, that whiche a man of warre hath gotten in warres.
Caſtrenſis corona, a crowne or garlande geuen vnto hym that fyrſte perſed the campe of his enemies.
Verbum caſtrenſe, a woorde vſed in warre among ſouldiours.
Caſtrimonienſes, people of Italy.
Caſtritius, a noble man in the tyme of Scylla. and an oratour vnder Adrian the emperour.
Caſtro, áui, áre, to geldc. ſometyme to cutte of generally.
Caſtrâre arbores, to bore holes lowe in trees.
Caſtrare vites, to cutte vynes.
Caſtrum, ſtri, n. g. ſing. a caſtell or fortreſſe.
Caſtrum nouum, a towne in Italy by the mouth of Tyber.
Caſtula, læ, f. g. a lynnen cloche, wherwith maidens dyd gyrd them ſelues vnder their pappes.
Caſtulonenſes, people of the towne Caſtulon in Spayne, called commonly Caſtona.
Caſtus, a, um, chaſte, honeſte, continent, vncorrupted.
Caſta mola, a kynde of ſacrifice, that the virgins Veſtales made.
Caſtus à culpa, pure, without faut, nothinge gyltie.
Caſtus moribus, of honeſte and vncorrupted maniers.
Caſtæ aures, honeſt eares, that can not abyde fylthy talke.
Caſtus, us, idem quod caſtitas.
Caſu, by chaunce.
Caſuentillani, people of Italy.
Caſuentum, a ryuer nere to the bolome of the ſea called Tarentinum.
Caſula, æ, f. g. a diminutiue of caſa.
Caſúra, æ. f. g. a fall or decaie.
Caſurgis, a citee in Boeme nowe called Praga.
Caſúrus, a, um, that will fall or chaunce.
Caſus, us, m. g. happe, chaunche, peryll, daunger, ruyne, miſfortune, or miſerie. alſo a caſe.
Caſus acerbus, an heup chaunce.
Incerto caſu pendere, whan a thynge is in doubte, wherto it will come.
Accipere caſum aliquem grauiter, to bee vexate ſorye for any chaunce or myſfortune that hath happened.
Iudicio & caſu aliquid facere, contrary.
Variis caſſubus tractatus, tolled in many aduerſitees.
Caſum alicuius lugêre, to bewaile a mans fall or miſerie.
Magnum caſum habet hæc res, this matter is verye daungerous.

Caſus hyemis, the latter ende of wynter.
Caſus vrbis, the decaie or ruine of a citee.
Grauiore caſu celſæ decidunt turres, The high towers haue the greater fall.
Cata, a prepoſition in greke, ſignifyinge Contra, or Aduerſus.
Catabanes, people of Arabia deſerta.
Catábaſis, ſis, fœ. gen. a deſcendynge or goynge downe.
Catabathmus, a place in Affryke topaynge to Egypte. ſo named of the ſtipeneſſe or deſcendynge.
Catableptus, ti, maſc. gen. a beaſte, bycedinge in Affrike, lyke a bul, with eyes terrible to beholde. Aelianus.
Catachrêſis, ſis, f. g. a figure, whan one woorde is vſurped for an other. as Paricida. for one that hath kylde his brother. Piſcina, a ponde, wherin is no fyſhe.
Catachyſmata, among the Athenienſes, whan newe ſeruauntes came fyrſte into an houſe, as they ſtode by the chimney or herth, they powred on theyr heades, egges, nutte, dates, beanes, and peaſon, whiche were catched vp of the other ſeruauntes. And the kyke was doone on the new bryde, in token of good lucke. This was called Catachyſmata, for Catachyſis, in greke, is in engliſhe a pouringe out.
Cataclyſmos, or Cataclyſmus, mi, m. g. an vniuerſall cloudde, a great ſhowre of rayne.
Cataclyſta, æ, f. g. a garment cloſe all about.
Catácryſis, ſis, f. g. a condemnation.
Catádromus, mi, ma. g. the place where menne dooe renne horſes for prices or wagers. alſo hoſtes, wherein men practiſe deedes of armes.
Catadupa, a place by Nylus.
Catadupi, a place in Ethyope.
Catágrapha, orum, ymages lookynge dyuers waies, and in dyuers fourmes.
Catalécticum metrum, a verſe, wherin one ons ly ſyllable lacketh.
Catalépſis, ſi, f. g. occupation, deprehenſion.
Catalépſum, ti, n. g. idem.
Catalóxis, xis, f. g. a fynyſhynge of a thynge.
Catálogus, li, m. g. ſpeeche or wrytyng, where thinges be recited in order and number: A rehearſall or table of the numbre of thynges, a rolle.
Catályma, lymatis, n. g. refection. alſo an ynne.
Catályſis, ſis, f. g. diſſolution.
Catamidio, áre, to ſet one vp with a paper on his head, to be mocked or rebuked for ſome offence as they vſe to doo with men periured, or with forgers of euidences.
Catamitus, miti, m. g. a boie hyred to be abuſed contrary to nature.
Catana, a towne of Sicilie, the people wherof were called Catanei.
Catangelos, idem quod Rubus, Dioſc.
Catanchuſa, idem quod Anchuſa. Dioſc.
Cataphora, ræ, f. g. a deade ſleape, or a diſpoſition to ſleape.

Cata-

Cataphractarius, rij, ma. ge. a man armed at all pieces. ſometyme it is taken for a foote man, armed with a breſt plate or cureetes.

Cataphráctus, a, um, armed or fenced on all partes.

Cataphracti equites, men of armes on barded horſes.

Cataphractæ naues, couered ſhyppes.

Cataphryges, heretykes, which tooke that name of one Montanus, of Phrygia, an arche heretyke. who affyrmed, that the holy goſt was geuen to them, and not to the apoſtles. They baptyſed not in the name of the trinitee, and vſed to baptyſe men after they were dead. They condemned the ſeconde mariage. This ſecte beganne in the yere of our lorde. 170.

Cataphiſis, idem quod phyſillum. Dioſc.

Catapiromántia, æ. fœ. ge. diuinacion, or ſothſaiyng, by lokyng in a glaſſe.

Catapſyxis, ſ. idem quod Cicuta. Dioſc.

Catapláſma, ătis, neu. gen. a playſter made of dyuers thynges.

Catapótia, orum, n. g. plu. pylles in medicine.

Catapúlta, æ, f. g. an ingine in warre, wherwith they ſhoote dartes or quarelles a great waie of.

Catapultárium pilum, a bolte or darte ſhotte in that ingine.

Cataputia maior, the greatter ſpourge. looke Ricinus.

Cataputia minor, an herbe called the leſſe ſpurge, looke more in Tithymalus, and alſo in Lathyris, which is the ſame herbe.

Catarácta, or Catarrhacta, æ, fœm. gen. and Cataractes, æ, maſc. gen. a poꝛtcullies. Alſo a greate courſe of water fallynge downe from hygh broken places. Alſo the place from whens it dooeth fall. whereof it is ſayed, whan there is great ſhowꝛes of rayne, that Cataractæ cœli apertæ ſunt.

Catarácta, is alſo a diſeaſe of the eyes, haunge a tough humoꝛ lyke a gelie, rennyng out.

Cataráctæ, bee alſo thynges ſette to ſtoppe the courſe of water, as ſluis gates, weares, damnes, and ſluſes.

Cataractæ naues, bꝛydes called alſo Diomedeæ, whiche had teeth and eyes lyke fyꝛe.

Catarectes,, a ryuer of Pamphilia.

Catari, people of Pannonia.

Catarnia, a countrey of Aſia.

Catárrhus, catárrhi, ma. ge. a reume or ſtyllyng downe of water or fleume from the head.

Catarrhytus, a, um, that whereby a ryuer dooeth renne.

Cataſcópium, ij, n. g. a ſhyppe that watcheth or eſpieth for other: a bꝛygandyne or pynnes.

Cataſcopus, pi, a ſpye.

Cataſta, æ, f. g. a cage, wherein men be ſet, which are to be ſolde. alſo wherein they were punyſhed.

Catasthlus, looke Calaſaſter.

Cataſtroma, or rather Cataſtrôma, ſtrômatis, neu. g. the hatches or deckes in ſhyppes, where men do ſtand to fyght.

Cataſtróphe, phes, f. g. a ſubuerſion. Alſo the latter ende of a comedie, and by a pꝛouerbiall figure, the laſte ende of any thynge.

Catatypôſis, ſis, f. g. a figure, where one thyng is deſcribed by an other.

Catax, idem quod claudus.

Cate. idem quod caute.

Catechêſis, is, f. ge. an inſtruction or teachyng, pꝛoperly by mouth, and not by wꝛytynge.

Catechíſo, aui, are, to inſtructe, to informe, or teache by mouthe.

Catachomenion, idem quod cicúta. Dioſc.

Catechúmenus, ni, m. g. he that is newly inſtructed or taught by mouth.

Categorémata, orum, n. g. pꝛedicamentes.

Categória, góriæ, f. g. an accuſation.

Catélla, or Catellum, diminutiues of Catêna, a lyttle chayne.

Catéllus, li, m. g. and Catella, læ, fœ. g. a veꝛy litteil hounde or bꝛache, a whelpe.

Catêna, æ, f. g. a chayne.

Injicere catenas alicui, to bynde one with chaynes.

Catenárius, a, um, pertaynyng to a chayne.

Catenarius canis, a bande dogge, tyed in a chayne to kepe the houſe.

Catenátio, ônis, f. ge. a ſtreight faſtnyng or ioignyng of beames and rafters together in buildynge.

Catêno, aui, are, to chayne together.

Catenula, læ, f, g. a lyttle chayne.

Catérua, æ, fœ. ge. a company of men of warre. ſometyme a multitude of people.

Agere cateruam, to dꝛyue awaie a bande of ſouldiours.

Magna caterua comitatus, accompanied with a great route of men.

Cateruárij, orum, ma. ge. they that doee aſſemble in companies without oꝛder.

Cateruâtim, by companies.

Cathalanum, a towne in Fraunce called Chalon.

Catharéctica, orum, n. g. purgatiue medicines.

Cathari, were heretykes, whiche affyrmed, that it was not lefull for a chꝛiſtian man to ſwere, for any cauſe, or at any tyme. They did alſo denye all the ſacramentes of the churche.

Cathármata, thármatum, n. g. plu. men which for auoydyng of the peſtilence, or ſome daungerous ſickenеſſe, were offered to the goddes.

Catharmos, a certayne purgation with fyre.

Cathárticus, a, um, any thyng that purgeth.

Cathay, a great region in the eaſt part of the woꝛld, extendinge to the eaſt ocean ſea: on the ſouth, to the ouer India: and is alſo called Sinarum regio. It is dyuided in to nyne royalmes: all be vnder the great Cham. This countrey is wonderfull ryche in golde and ſylke, aboundynge in grayne, wynes, and all other thinges neceſſary for mans ſuſtenaunce. The people for the moꝛe parte, honour Chꝛiſt as God, but they are not baptiſed baptised. They are courteyse and reasonable, and verie counnyng artificers.

Cathedra, æ, f. g. a seate or chayre.

Cathedralicus, a, um, pertepnyng to a chayre.

Cathedralicus seruus, a seruaunt that carpeth his maister in a chayre. sometyme an yll sleuthfull felowe.

Cathedrárij philosophi, philosophiers whiche in theyr seates onely dispute and talke of vertue.

Cathi, looke Chatti.

Cathmæa, a kynde of earth, wherof latin wetall is made.

Cathólicus, a, um, vniuersall, nowe it is vsed for him that kepeth the fayth, as the vniuersal church hath obserued it. Also the bysshop of the Armenians was so called.

Cathólica medicamenta, medicines profitable to pourge all maner of humours.

Cathon, one of the yles called Cyclades.

Cati, a well in Italy by Tyber.

Catilina, a Romain, notable for his conspyracy.

Catillátio, ônis, f. g. a greate reproche layde to gentylmen, whiche had robbed the countreys that were ayded to the Romayns, and had riotously consumed the goodes.

Catillo, aui, are, to licke dishes, to feede gredily on depnte meate.

Catillo, ônis, m. g. a lychedyshe, a glutton.

Catillus, li, m. g. or Catillum, li, n. g. a diminutiue of Catinus, a lyttell platter or dysshe, a potager. Also Catillus is the ouer stone of a mylle called the renner.

Catillus, the sonne of Amphiaraus, and brother of Tyburtus, in memorie of whom he builded the citee of Tybur.

Catina, æ, or Catine, es, a citee of Sicile. some called it Catona.

Catinus, ni, m. g. and catinum, ni, n. g. a charger, platter or dysshe.

Catini, the people called Pigmæi.

Cato, onis, was not fyrst a surename, but a name of merite. For the auncient Romaynes called him Cato, that was wyse by muche experience. Of this name, two were most excellent. Marcus Cato Censorius, because he alwayes vsed the grauitee and rygour that was wont to be in the correctours of maners, called Censores. Also he himselfe beynge Censor, was aboue all other most sharpe and rigorous. Valerius Mar. wryteth, that he was almost an olde man ere he learned latine letters. and than it semeth he was older he learned greke. yet not wythstandynge by gatherynge bryefgementes out of Tucidides, and Demosthenes workes, he became the greatest oratour of his tyme, and was called the Romayne Demosthenes. He beynge made consull, wanne moe cities in Spayne, than he had aboden dates in that countrey. In whiche iourney he retepned to him selfe, nothyng of all that was founde there, but meate and dipnke onely. He made his soudiours sythe, geuyng to euery of theim a pounde weyght of syluer, saynge, Better it were, that many Romaynes returned to Rome with siluer, than a fewe with gold. He taught his owne sonne grammer, not with standynge he had a seruaunt called Chilo an excellent grammarian, and taught a great schole, saynge. It is not conuenient, if my sonne be slow of learnynge, he shoulde be rebuked or punished by the eares of him, that is of a seruile condition. He also taught him the ciuile lawes, the exercise of all weapons, to ryde well, to fyght with the fystes, to sustayne bothe colde and heate, to leape into waters and swymme agaynst swyfte streames. Beyng Censor, he spared none estate, whose maners he founde corrupted, or superfluous in lyuynge, wherby he brought into the citee a meruayllous pmage of vertue. hys sentences rehersed by Plutarke be wonderfull, of which I wyll remembre three. Like as the dies, sayed he, doo die most often that colour, whyche they doo perceyue most men delite in: so yonge men doo most studiously haunte and imbrace that, whyche they se olde men and counsaylours haue in moste estimation. He blamed the people of Rome, for that they committed authorite and offices ofte tymes to one persone, saynge, They seemed not to esteeme rule and authorite, or els they supposed there were but few worthy of promotion. The one was a lygne of contempt, the other discourage to good wittes and rebuke to theyr countrey. Whan three ambassadours were chosen to be sente into Bithynia, of whom one had the goute, an other peynes in hys heade, and the thyrde tymorus, Cato laughynge sayed in the senate. The people of Rome sendeth an ambassade, whiche hath neyther eeres, head, nor herte. The lyfe of thys and of the other Cato, are worthy to be often tymes red. specially of coūsaylours and men in authorite. he was before the incarnation, 182. yeres.

Cato Vticensis (so called because he slew him selfe in the towne Utica, to whom the other Cato Censorius, was greate graunde father) shewed a wonderful constaunce and grauitee euen in his childehode. seldome merry or seene to laughe, and yf he dyd, it was a very lytle smilyng: not lightly angry, but if he were, he was not soone appeased. He was very studious in all morall philosophy, practysyng in his actes and lyuyng, that which he radde of vertue and honestee: and studied eloquence only to the intent, that in counsayling and reasoning, he mought adde vnto philosophy more force and ornament, and yet would he not practise it openly. whan one said to him, men dispraise thyne obstinate silence, he answered: I force not so they dispraise not my liuing: But I wil breake out of this silence, whan I can speake that is worthy to be spoken. Beyng Tribunus militum, he was sent into Macedonie, where with his meruayllous grauitee, prudence, and peynfulnesse, he made all that were vnder him feere and hardynes gaynst their ennemies, gentil to their felowes, fearfull to doe iniurie, prompt to get prayses, & him selfe labouryng with them, dyenge his apparayle, feedynge and goyng lyke vnto them: he contrary to mens expectations (not withstandyng his seueritee) wan the hertes of them, going on foote and talkynge with euery man. He was of such constancie, and so farre from ambition & flattery, that neyther Pompey nor Cæsar, in theyr chiefe pryde, whan all men, eyther for dread or fauour, inclyned to theyr desyres, couldе persuade him to agree to theyr myndes, in cases where it seemed to be against the weale publike: nother mought any maner menacing or dreadful tokens moue him from that constancie. In so muche, that whan he herde that Cæsar had vanquished Pompey, and that his frendes wold haue sent to Cæsar, to desyre his fauour, he answered: They which are vanquished, or haue any wyse trespased, ought to make suite, but he in all his lyfe was neuer vanquyshed, and in innocencye surmounted Cæsar, who in mahynge warre againste his owne countrey, had condemned him selfe to haue done that thynge, which he had often denied. Finally not for malice of Cæsar, but because he would not beholde the weale publyke destroied, he slew him selfe at Utica, haupng with him at supper, the euenyng before, the greatest officers of that cstee, and many of his frendes. Also this sentence beeng spoken amongest other: Onely a good man is a free man, al yll men are bonde: whan one happened to reason against it, Cato beyng therwith chaufed, disputed with the other so vehemently and longe, that al men suspected that he wouldе not longe lyue. He died before the incarnacion. 44. yeres.

Catoblepos, called also Basiliscus, a little beast, whose eyes if a man beholde, he dieth immediately.

Catochites, a certayne stone that cleaueth to a mans hande lyke gumme. Plí.

Catocœlia, æ, fœ. ge. the panche, or nethermoste parte of the bealie.

Catoni, people of Scythia about Meotis.

Catopyrites, a precious stone, that groweth in Cappadocia.

Catorthôma, ătis, n. g. a perfecte woorke of vertue, a deede iustly and well doone.

Catórtholis, sis, f. g. a ryghtfull doyng.

Catti, looke Chatti.

Cattiterides, idem quod cassiterides.

Cattus, ti, ma. g. of some is taken for a catte, but without any approued authour.

Catulária, æ: f, g. one of the gates of Rome.

Catulaster, stri, ma. g. that imitateth a whelpe or little dogge. also the little whelpe it selfe.

Catulinus, a, um, of a catte, or rather of a lyttle dogge, or whelpe.

Catúlio, liui, lire, the desyre of female kynde to company with the male kynde, properly to goe allaute, to rudder, to horsyng, or to bissonyng.

Catulitio, ônis, f. g. the goyng allaute. &c.

Catullus, the name of a poete

Catullus, a Romayn capitayn in the fyrst warres of Carthage. Also an oratour that was consull with Marius.

Cátulus, li, ma. g. a whelpe, properly of a dog. It is vsed also for a kytlyng, and the pongings of all kynde of beastes.

Caturactonium, a cytee called Catlyle in Englande.

Caturiges, people of Italy.

Catus, a, um, idem quod cautus, wyse or wittie, graue, sage, auncient, fatherly. Also the name of a noble and wyse familie in Rome.

Caua, æ, f. g. looke Cauus.

Cauædium, lowhe Cauedium, but it is more truely wryten Cauædium.

Cauâmen, ínis, n. g. an holowe place.

Caueres, people of Narbone in Fraunce.

Cauâticus, a, um, that is of a caue or denne.

Cauâtor, ôris, mascu. gen. he that maketh any thynge holowe.

Cauâtus, a, um, made holowe.

Cauca, a citee in Spayne called commonlye Quenca.

Cáucalis, lis, or ĭdis, f. g. an herbe lyke fenel, with a whyte flowre and short stalke, and is supposed to come of naughtie perselp seede. It is called bastarde perselp.

Caucasus, an hyll, one of the highest in all Asia, situate about Iberia, and Albania on the north parte, and is a parte of the mountayne Taurus, one of the partes of this hyll dyuydyng India and Media, stretcheth towarde the redde sea. Philostr.

Cauchæ, certayne fieldes by the ryuer Tygris.

Cauda, æ, fœ. g. the tayle of a beast. sometyme a mans priuie membre.

Iactare caudam, to wag the tayle lyke a dogge.

✠ Caudam trahere, a prouerbe, signifiyng one to bee scorned or made a foole, taken of children, whiche vse to hange a tayle behynd hym, whom they mocke or illude.

✠ Equinæ caudæ pilos vellere, to plucke the heares of an horse tayle, A prouerbe, spoken of hym, that by little and lyttle atchieueth that he couldе not doe immediately altogether.

Cáudacus, a, um, pleasaunt, gentle.

Cáudecæ, arum, f. g. litteil coffers of wickers, or a tunket, wherin peles are taken in ryuers.

Cáudeus, a, um, of the bodie of a tree, or stalke of an herbe.

Cáudex, cáudicis, m. g. the lower parte of a tree nert the roote: the bodie of the tree, the stalke of an herbe. Also a table, haupng many leaues or tables, whereof bookes and tables bee called Codices. And shippes that cary vytayles Caudicæ. It also signifyeth a dull foole, suche as can neyther well speake nor doe.

Caudicâlis, le, pertepnyng to the body of a tree.

Caudicárius, a, um, made of thicke plankes.

Caudicáriæ naues, shippes made of thicke plankes, or a shippe that carpeth vyttaples.

Caudicátus, a, um, idem quod caudicarius.

Caudicatæ naues, idem quod caudicariæ.

Caudinus, a, um, of Caudis.

Caudinæ furcæ, a place in Italye, where the Romaynes were discomfyte by the Samnites.

Caudis, or Caudium, a towne of the Samnites.

Cáuea, æ, f. g. a caue or darke place in the grounde. Also a cage or coupe, wherein byrdes be kept. Also a denne of wylde beastes: a place where men behelde playes or enterludes: Sometyme a company of people gathered for that purpose. Also euery place that is lyfted or rayled in.

Cauédium, or rather Cauædium, a place at large, haupng many porches, whiche serueth to a common, lyke a market place. It is also a porche or byode place in the court of an house, common for all men to stande in.

Cáueo, caui, ére, neu. to beware, to eschewe. Also to prouyde diligently, to take hede.

Caue tibi, take hede to thy selfe.

Caue tibi illum puerum, beware of that child.

Caue facias, take hede thou doo it not.

Cætera cauebuntur, The reste I wyl prouyde for.

Cauere alicui, to geue counsayle to one in matters of lawe, or concernynge contractes, to instructe one what he shall doo.

Cauere capite, to put in suerties to appere in matter of lyfe and death.

Cauere sibi ab aliquo, to take a quittaunce or other discharge for the paiement of monepe, or delyueraunce of any other thynge.

At vero, inquam, tibi ego Brute non soluam, nisi prius á te cauero, amplius eo nomine neminem, cuius petitio sit, petiturum, Truely saied I, Brutus, I will not paye the, except I haue fyrst a quyttance of the, that thou shalt not eftsoones demaunde it of him, of whom thou moughtest aske it.

Quid isti caueã? what shal I prouyde for him?

Cauere testamento, to will a thynge to be doue by testament.

Caueri, to be taken hede of.

Cauere insidias, to beware that one be not attrapped or taken in a snare.

Cauere honestatem, to flee honestee.

Cauere aliquem, to take hede of one, that he hurt him not. Likewyse Cauere sibi ab aliquo.

Cauere alicui, to take hede or prouide, that one haue no hurt or displeasure.

Scabiem pecori caueto, take hede that thy cattell be not infected with the scabbe.

Obsidibus de pecunia cauent, They gaue hostages vntill the money was paied.

Cauere sibi obsidibus ab aliquo, to take or requyre hostage of one for sureter of couenantes.

Cauere alicui obsidibus, to geue hostage for sureter of paiement.

Caues tibi per Brutum, thou makest thyne excuse by Brutus.

Cauere pecuniam alicui, to putte one in assurance for money that he oweth him.

Cauere scripus, in writing lawes, to make prouisions to exclude euery doubte and inconuenyence that might folowe.

Nunquam caui quid facerem, I neuer regarded what I shoulde doo.

Cauetur, and Cautum est lege, it is excepted or prouided for in the lawe: or it is prohibyted by the lawe.

Cauere in iure, to geue counsayle in matters of the lawe, what is best to be done.

Cautum est prædibus, ac prædijs, assurance taken by bandes and sureties.

Cautum est, it is ordeyned or prouyded by an act of parliament or counsayle.

Cauérna, æ, f. g. a caue or holowe place in the grounde. Sometyme Cauernæ doe signify eares.

Cauernôsus, a, um, full of caues.

Cauérnula, læ, f. g. a diminutiue of cauerna.

Cauiáres hostiæ, & cauæ: were partes of the bestes next to the tayle, to bee sacrificed for the byshop.

Cauilla, æ, f. g. and Cauillum, li, n. g. a mocke or a scoffe, an haftynge question, a cauell.

Cauillátio, ónis, f. g. a cauillacion, a subtill forged tale, a mery tauntyng, a subtile wrestynge of a false thynge to the confirmacion of ones sentence.

Cauillâtor, ôris, m. g. a mocker or boorder, a cauiller.

Cauillâtus, us, idem quod cauilla.

Cauillor, atus sum, ari, to iest, to mocke, to boord, to cauillate, to reason or common subtilie and ouerthwartly.

Caula, æ, f. g. a shepehouse, but properly a folde. also a hole, wherin any thyng maie be creepyd.

Caulescere, to grow into a stalke.

Caúlias, liæ, f. g. the iuyce, whiche is pressed out of the herbe called Lacerpitium.

Cauliculus, li, m. g. a tender stalke.

Caulina, wynes made about Capua.

Caulis, lis, m. g. a stalke or stemme of an herbe or tree. It is sometyme taken for all potte herbes, the rumpe of a beast, and for a shaft or a staueline. It is also an herbe called colewortes. Vrade Brassica.

Caulis pennæ auis, all the quill and stemme of the fether beside the downe.

Caulis caudæ bouis, all the rumpe or gristle of an ore tayle, beside the tuft of the heare at the ende.

Caulis Iouis, idem quod Aizoum. Dioscor.

Caulum, or Caulon, a towne, whiche as Plinie writeth, is situate in the fyrst region of Italy.

Caûma, ătis, n. g. heate. also a disease in thyes dzen procedyng of a burnyng in the heade about the brayne, and causeth holownesse of the eyes, with dyzynesse of the bodie.

Caumas, a Centaure, the sonne of Ixion.

Caunus

Caunus, a citie in Caria, by the ryuer Calbis.
Cauo, cauáui, âre, act. to make holow.
Luna cauat cornua, the moone decreaseth or waneth.
Caupo, ônis, com. gen. an huhster that selleth meate and drynke, a tauerner, a victaler.
Caupôna, æ, f.g. a tauerne or victaplyng house.
sometyme a woman that serueth wyne.
Cauponária, æ. f. g. tauerners craft.
Caupônius, a, um, pertaynyng to the tauerners craft.
Cauponius puer, a tauerners boy.
Caupônor, âris, âri, depo. to sell wyne or other victayles, as tauerners doo.
Cauponari bellum, by a metaphore, to make warre for aduauntage.
Caupónula, læ, f.g. a diminutiue of caupona, a typpyng house or ale house.
Caúrio, ris, iui, ire, to crie like a panther.
Caurium, a towne of Portugall, called also Caura, commonly Corra.
Cauros, an ple, whiche was afterwarde called Iapyx.
Caurus, ri, ma. ge. a westerne wynde, called also Corus, and Euronotus.
Cáusia, æ, f. g. a brode hatte or cappe, suche as haruest folkes vse, to kepe of the sonne. It was also a royall ensygne of the kynges of Macedony.
Causima, æ. f. g. dyre woode, that wyll bourne quickely.
Causa, or caussa, sæ, f. g. a cause or controuersye in suite, a matter to be spoken of before a iudge, or other audience. Also a businesse or charge in a mans affayres. In excuse, a reason or consideration that moueth one to doo a thynge, an occasion, a quarell, a state or condicion.
Causam accipere, to take the matter in hande. also to take an excuse, to holde one excused.
Causam capere, to take an occasion.
Causa cadere, to lose his action.
Causam agere, to pleade a matter.
Causam dicere, to aunswer vnto that which is layed vnto his charge, eyther by him selfe or by atturney.
Causam dicere, to say contrary, to deny.
Hoc si secus reperies, nullam causã dico, quin mihi & pareptum, & libertatis apud te deliquio fiet, If thou doest finde it otherwise, I wil not say contrary, but that it is at thy pleasure that I shal lose both my parentes and libertee.
Causam dicere ex vinculis, to aunswer in ward or beyng a prysoner.
Causas nectere, vel fingere, to feygne matters to make excuses or delayes.
Dare causam, to gyue an occasion.
Causam orare, to pleade.
Causam quærere, to seeke occasion.
Causam sustinere, to beare the blame.
Causam tenêre, to obteyne in iudgement.
Causa mea, for my sake.

Syro ignoscas volo, quæ mea causa fecit, I will that ye forgiue Syrus al that he hath done, for my sake.
Causa inferior, the lesse right or weaker title.
Causa superior, the better right or title.
In causa hæc sunt, the reason is this, or the consideracions be these.
Semen & causa bellorum, the matter and occasion of warres.
Nunquid causæ est, quin &c. Is there any let or excuse but that. &c.
Per causam exigendæ pecuniæ, vnder the pretence or colour of gatherynge money.
Contumeliæ causa, for reproche.
Causa mea, for quod ad me attinet.
Mea quidem causa vidua victita, lyue a wyfe dowe styll for me.
Verbi causa, and Exempli causa, for an ensample.
Causæ dictio, a defence or answerynge to that is layed to ones charge.
Accipe quæsiti causam, heare the cause of that ye demaunde.
Cæcas causas exponere, to explicate or declare hidde and darke causes.
Cum causa facere, to doo as the matter semeth to require.
Causæ cardo, looke Cardo.
Pro magnis causis, for great reasons and considerations.
Frons causæ, the vtter apperance of a matter.
Exudare causas, spoken in derision of babbling lawiers, which contend in their matter till they sweate.
Incũbere in causam, to applie a matter ernestlie: Also to fauour the quarell of any parte.
Indicta causa damnari, to be condemned without answere: or to be condemned, the cause not not beyng heard.
Periclitari causa, to put his matter in hasarde or iopardie.
Deponere causam, to leaue of his quarell or suite.
Omnis familiæ causa consistit tibi, all the charge or busynesse of my house is lefte to thee.
Etsi tibi causa est de hac re, Although thou haue an excuse or defence for thee in this matter
Morte qui affecti sunt, in eadem causa sunt, qua antequam nati, They that be dead, bee in the same state and condicion, that they were before they were borne.
Erat in meliore causa quam si. &c. He was in better state and condicion, than if. &c.
Diutius commoratus est in Pompei causa, He abode longer in the maynteynance of Pompeies quarell.
Profectus est cum his, quorum erat vna causa, he went forthe with them, whiche fauoured one quarell.
Causarie, an aduerbe, after the facion of them that be discharged for some lawfull cause.
Causárij, they that bee essoyned in our law, or excused for a speciall cause.

Causaria missio, a discharge of a souldiour, for a reasonable cause.
Causarij milites, souldiours, whiche for causes reasonable, were discharged out of the armie: For sickenesse, as Politianus writeth.
Causátio, ônis, f. g. an inwarde sickenesse.
Causatiuus, a, um, that is cause of the doynge of a thynge.
Causia, or Causea, looke before Causa.
Causidicus, ci. m. g. a man of law, an atturney.
Causificor, âris, to complayne of a thynge that doeth greue one, to refuse, to lay excuses, why he wyll not doo a thyng.
Causódes, or Causon, ônis, ma. ge. an heate or bournynge, a continuall hotte feuer, ingendred of redde choler and sharpe, in the veynes next to the herte, in the veynes of the mouthe of the stomake, and in the holownesse of the liuer or lounges. The signes of this feuer, are intollerable heate, with continuall thyrst, horrour, a swifte pulse keepyng no order, shorte breath, the vrine high coloured and thynne.
Causor, âris, dep. to shewe and alledge the reason or excuse of any thyng.
Causari tempestatem, & vim fluminũ, to lay for his excuse the tempest and great fluddes.
Nunquid causare: Doest thou lay any excuse? or doest thou say any thyng to the contrary?
Causos, si, m. g. a bournynge ague continually vexing a man, and maketh the tongue dyre, and of colour blacke.
Causticus, a, um, bournyng, or that bourneth.
Caustica medicamenta, medicines whiche doo burne the skinne or the flesshe.
Caustum, sti, n. g. a thynge that may be burned.
Causula, a diminutiue of causa, a small cause.
Cautéla, læ, f. g. a prouision or cautell.
Cauteriâtus, a, um, marked or burned with that instrument, which is called Cauterium, or marked with an yron.
Cautérium, rij, n. g. a markynge yron, or an instrument, wherewith sores are burned. Also a pewterers instrumente.
Cauteres, idem quod cauteria.
Cautè, and cautim, wisely, circumspectly, subtilly warely.
Cautè & pedetentim dicere, to speake or shew a thynge circumspectly, and leyserly.
Cáutes, tis, f. g. or Cotes, or Cos, a ragged roche or hill full of great stones.
✠ Caute loquatior, more clattering than a roche A prouerbe, applied to great speakers, gathered of the continuall clackynge that the sea maketh, whan it striketh agaynst a roche.
✠ Cautes Marpesia, a prouerbe applied to a stubborne felow, that will not chaunge his opinion.
Cáutio, ônis, f. g. a testament, obligation, or promyse in writynge, made diligently for the assurance of any thyng. Also a prouision or remedie. Cautio est, it is nede to prouide or beware.
Mittere cautionem chirographi, to deliuer writynge signed with his owne hande for assurance.
Cauto opus est, vt sobriè, &c. we must beware and take heede, that, &c.
Cautionem & diligentiam adhibere, to be ware, circumspect and diligent.
Habet multas cautiones, the matter hath many thynges to be forsene and taken hede of.
Cautionalis, e, the adiectiue of cautio.
Cautor, ôris, ma. gen. he that foreseeth matters wittyly and craftyly, that he or an other be not deceyued.
Cautor alieni periculi, he that warneth an other man of any daunger.
Cautor formularum, he that can skyll of all actions to be sued, an expert lawier.
Cautus, a, um, prouident, circumspect, wyse, wittie, ware.
Diligens & cautus. Cautus & prouidus.
Cautus, and Tardus, contraria.
Cautus ero in credendo, I will take heede what I beleue. I will not be ouer lyght of credence.
Cautas præferre manus, to grope with ones handes before hym, whan he goeth in the darke.
Quo mulieri esset res cautior. That the woman myght be more circumspect in the matter, or take better hede to it.
Cauta & moderata liberalitas, circumspecte and moderate liberalitee.
Cauus, a, um, holow.
Caua vena, the veyne of the liuer.
Aedes cauæ, sieled houses or chaumbers.
Cauæ fenestræ, id est patulæ.
Flumina caua, id est profunda & alta, deepe ryuers. Pinus caua, is sometyme vsed for a shyp.
Cauus, ui, m. g. or cauum, i, n. g. an holow place, or an hole, wherein byrdes dooe byerde.
Caxo, idem quod carax.
Cáÿcus, a ryuer in Phrygia.
Cáÿster, or Caystrus, a ryuer of Asia.
Cáÿstrius, a, um, of Cayster.
Ales caystrius, a swanne.
Caystros, a famouse ryuer of Ionia, by the cyte Ephesus.

C ANTE E.

CEa, looke Cæa.
Ceadus, a Thracion, whiche ayded the Troianes.
Cébes, ētis, a philosopher of Thebes.
Cebrenia, a place of Troye, called of some Cebrinia.
Cebrenij, people of that countrey, and also of Asia.
Cebrenis, idis, patronymicum fœminum.
Cebriones, the basterde son of kynge Priamus.
Cecina, a ryuer by Volaterre. Also the name of a Romayne whiche fauoured the quarell of Pompeie in the ciuile warre.

Cecropia,

Cecropia, a towne that Cecrops builded, whiche was after the caſtle of Athens.
Cecropidæ, men of Athens.
Cecropis, idis, a woman comyng of Cecrops.
Cecropius, a, um, of Cecrops.
Cecrops, opis, m. g. an auncient kynge of Athens, whoſe ymage was made haupnge two heades, as ſome ſuppoſe, becauſe he dyd kepſte inſtitute matrimonie in Greece. Other wryte, that he was bozne in Egypt, and dyd kepſt vſe both languages, Greeke and Egyptian. he was afoze the incarnacion. 1589. peres.
Cecryphalea, a roche in the ſea, oz an yle.
Cecubum, bi, n. g. a kynde of wyne, pzokytable to digeſtion of meate.
Cecurri, olde wryters vſed foz cucurri.
Cedar, a region in Arabie.
Ceditiæ tabernæ, of Ceditius.
Cedo, ceſsi, ere, to geue place, to departe, to goe awap, to voyde, to withdzaw, to obey, to graũt, to geue, to ſuccede.
Cedere authoritati, to be of leſſe authozitee. Pli
Cedere ad factum, to come to the effect, to bee doone. Plau.
Cedere creditoribus, is pzoperly where one vnable to paie his dettes, leaueth all his goodes oz landes to his creditours.
Cedere ex tranſuerſo, to goe ſydelynge lyke a crabbe.
Pudori famæq; ceſsi, I was ouercome with ſhame and regarde of wyne eſtimacion and good name.
Cedere interceſsioni, to pzocede no further, to admytte the contrary.
Cedere ius ſuum alteri, to geue vp his ryght and tytle to an other.
Cedere pro, to be in the ſtede of an other thing. Nam pro pulpamento cedit ſicuti ficus, Foz it is in ſtede of meate, lyke as fygges be.
Cedere vita, & cedere fato, to die.
Cedere poſſeſsione, to leaue the poſſeſſion.
Cedere periculo, to flee from daunger.
Cedere precibus, to graunt to the requeſte oz pzaier, to heare ones petition.
Cedere tempori, to accommodate him ſelfe to the tyme. to doo accozdyng to the tyme.
Cedit remedijs morbus, quando percuratur.
Cedit dies, is amonge the lawyers, the tyme is come, that the debte is due to be paied.
Cedit huic quæſtus ille, He hath that aduaun-tage by it.
Cedit illi res, His matter commeth wel to paſſe.
Cedunt mihi ea bona, Thoſe goodes are come oz happened vnto me.
Cedunt dies, the daies paſſe awaie.
Ceſsit, it happened.
Ceſserit parum gratus, Admytte he had lyttle thankes foz his labour.
Ceſsit in prouerbium, It became, oz was turned into a pzouerbe.
Cedere & locum dare, to auoyde oz geue place.

Cedere loco, patria, vrbe, domo, to departe from his place, countrey, citee, oz houſe, to leaue it and go his waie.
Cedere de republica, ab oppido, a gladiatore, è corpore, è ciuitate, in auras, ad aliquem locum.
Cedere retro, to retyre, to geue bache.
Cedam vita, I wyll be content to dye.
Cedere alicui, to obey one, and not to doe agaynſte his mynde, to be inferiour, and of leſſe eſtimacion oz value. alſo to goe awaye vanquyſhed, and haue the woorſe parte.
Non cedit gratiæ alicuius rei, It is no leſſe pleaſaunt.
Cedere ponderi, oz oneri, to bee vnable to beare oz ſuſtepne the weyght oz burdepne.
Operæ cedit, foz munus vel officium ſuum detrectat, he refuſeth to do his duetp.
Cedere ſpacijs, to geue one place to ſpe oz go by.
Cedere foro, to plaie banke rupte.
Lux candida ceſsit nubibus, The fayre daie was ouertourned with clouds.
Male ceſsit res, the matter had an yll ende.
Vinum cedet annis, The wyne wyll not continue.
Nihil omnino grecis ceditur, we geue no place oz we be nothyng inferioure to the grekes. Cedere honore, & nomine ſuo alteri, to geue vp and reſigne his rome and dignitee to an other.
Cedere legibus, to obey the lawes.
Cedentes capilli, heares that fall awaye from the head.
Seniores Lacedæmonij iure, quod illi nigrũ appellabant, contenti, carnes cedebant iunioribus, the auncientes of the Lacedemonians, contented with the wozte oz grewel, which they called blacke grewell, wolde leue the fleſſhe to the pongers.
Cedo, a verbe defective, vſed onely in the imperatiue mode, and ſignifieth geue, ſay, oz tell, and in the plurall, Cedite.
Cedo manum, geue me thy hande.
Quin tu mihi argentum cedo, but geue thou me the money.
Cedo quid factum ſit, tell what is doone.
Cedo quemuis arbitrum, appopnt what arbyter pe wyll: oz I wyll abyde any mans awarde, oz arbytrement.
Cedo aquam manibus, geue me water to waſh myne handes.
Cedras, a towne of Carie.
Cedrãtus, a, um, annopnted with the iupce oz oyle of the cedre tre.
Cedrati libri, bookes that wyll neuer perpſhe noz be eaten with woozmes.
Cedrelæon, oyle of Cedze.
Cedrelate, es, f. g. a great cedze tree.
Cedria, æ, f. g. the roſepn that renneth out of the great cedze tree.
Cedrinus, a, um, of a cedze tree.
Cedris, cedridis, fœm. gen. the fruite oz bearies of Cedrus.

Cédrium, cédrij, neu. g. a kynde of pytche, or the iuyce of the cedre tree.

Cédrium malum, & Cedromælum, was of old tyme taken for an orenge, as Athenæus and Dioscorides doe wryte.

Cedrópolis, a towne in Caria.

Cedros, an plande in the costes of Germany.

Cedróstis, tis, fœm. ge. a whyte vyne, called also Ampeloleuse, of apothecaries Bryonia, commonly Viticella. It groweth in hedges.

Cedrus, dri, f. g. a tree, hauyng leaues lyke a sunnyer, bearies lyke myrtils, yelow, soote of sauour, and pleasant to eate: they beare all tymes of the yere newe fruyte and olde, as orenges dooe, the leafe neuer falleth. The tree sweateth out a lycour lyke Rosyn, meruaylous odoryferous. In the lande of Cyprus hath bene seene of theim growynge, in length. 130. feete, and in compasse fyue fathome. Of lyke greatnesse or greatter are in Syria. The woodde neuer rotteth, nor wormes may breede therein. wherefore it is muche praysed in buyldyng.

Carmina cedro linenda, verses wourthy neuer to perysshe. Cedro digna, thynges wourthy perpetuall memory.

Celadon, one of theim that was slayne at the mariage of Perseus and Andromade.

Celadusa, a lytle yle in the sea Adriaticum.

Celæno, one of the Harpies.

Celâtim, pryuyly, secretely.

Celâtus, a, um, hyd, kept close.

Celebrátio, onis, f. g. solemnisation. sometyme an assemblee or company of men.

Celebrâtus, a, um, muche spoken of or haunted, renoumed.

Celebratus dies, a date of great solemnitee.

Celebrésco, lebrescere, to begyn to be in greate fame, or renoumed.

Célebris, bre, and Céleber, bris, bre, famous. also swyfte, honourable, muche haunted, much spoken of, renowmed.

Celebris locus, a place muche haunted and greatly spoken of.

Celeberrimus conuentus, a verye solemne and great assemble or meetyng of men.

Celebris homo, a man muche sought to.

Via celebris, a wate much haunted and vsed.

Dies celeberrimus, a date, whereon meruaylous great honour and glorye hath chaunced vnto any man.

Ciuitas celeberrima, a citee, to the whiche is verie great resorte of people.

Celebris rumor, a bruyte, or rumour reported of many men.

Celeberrimus arte, or in arte grammatica, an excedynge good grammarian, and greatly esteemed and spoken of.

Celebritas, âtis, f. g. renoume. Also a greate assemble, greate hauntynge or resorte to a place.

Celebritas & solitudo, contrary.

Celebritatem odi, I hate the great resorte and company of men.

Hic locus maximam celebritatem habet, this place is greatly frequented.

Celebritatem addere ludis, to make playes more haunted or resorted to.

Celebritas & nomen, brute and renoume.

Diei extremæ celebritas, the solemnitee at a funerall or interrement.

Sermonis hominum celebritatem consequi, to gette great fame, or to bee muche spoken of among men.

Celebritas virorum & mulierum, great resort or assemble. &c.

Celebritas famæ, great renoume.

Celébriter, honourably.

Célebro, áui, âre, act. to celebrate or bryng in renoume, to make good reporte, to make famous. also to haunte, to honour or worshyp.

Celebrare nuptias, to make a feaste at a mariage. Celebrare epulas, to make banketes.

Celebrare conuiuium, to make a great feaste or banket.

Celebrare exequias, & funera, to bryng one solemnely to buryyng.

Celebrare ludos, to make playes with greate assemble of people.

Celebrare suum natalem, to make a great feaste at the date of his brythe.

Celebrare cœtus hominũ, to assemble a great numbre of people.

Celebrare syluas, to resorte muche to the woodes, or to bee much in the wooddes. Lyke wyse,

Celebrare templum, domum, locum.

Celebrare ferias, to kepe holy daye.

Celebrare & ornare.

Carminibus celebrari, to be greately commended or praysed in verses.

Celebrare laudibus, to set foorth a mans name with great prayses.

Ea sunt & latinis & græcis literis celebrata, Those thynges were described and set foorth honourably bothe in greke and latine.

Celebrata res omnium sermone, a matter so knowen, that euery man speaketh of it, or that is in euery mans mouthe.

Séque & rempublicam celebrauere, They gate laude and renoume both to theim selfe, and to the common weale.

Studium agriculturæ celebrauerunt, they commended and practised the vse of husbandry.

Celeia, a towne of Norice, called cõmonly Cilia.

Cilena, æ, a place in Cãpayne, dedicate to Juno.

Celenæ, arum, somtime the chiefe citee of Phrigia.

Celendris, a towne in Cilicia.

Celer, lĕris, lĕre, swyfte, quicke.

Celeris copia. Date dij quæso conueniundi mihi eius celerem copiam, God graunte that I may verye shortly meete with him.

Celerâtim, celeránter, and celeriter, hastily and quickly, shortly, swiftly, ere it be long.

Céleres,

Celeres, olde wryters vsed for Equites, horsemē.
Celéritas, ātis, f. g. also celeritudo, quicknesse, swyftnesse. Celeritas & festinatio.
Breuitas & celeritas syllabarum, the shortenesse and shortnesse of syllables.
Expedita & profluens celeritas verborum, a prompt and flowynge readinesse of woordes.
Celeritas ad discendum, a redy and quycke capacitee to learne thynges.
Celéripes, ripedis, om. g. swyft of foote.
Celeriter, swyftly, quickely, with speede.
Celeritudo, idem quod celéritas.
Célero, áui, áre, to doo a thynge quickly, to haste.
Celerans iter ad naues, makyng haste towardes the shyppes, or to take shyppynge.
Celerare gradum, to go apace, to make speede.
Opem celerare, to make speede to helpe or succour.
Celer, a mans name.
Celerini, people in the higher Spayne.
Celes, itis, looke Celox.
Celétes, lētum, mas. gen. plu. horses that renne for wagers.
Celetizóntes pueri, lyttle boyes that ryde on such horses.
Celeus, two syllables, a mans name.
Celéusma, or Celeuma, ātis, n. g. the shoute or cry that shypmen or botemen make, whan the maister doth whistle or call to encourage them.
Celéustes, ste, m. g. he that calleth on the maryners, to encourage them in suche wyse.
Cella, æ, f. g. a cellar, wherein any thyng is kept. Also where we be pryuyly washed. Also a pryuy place in the temple, a chauncell. sometyme a secrete chaumbre. Virgile calleth the holes of an hony combe Cellas.
Cella penuaria, a garnere or storehouse.
Cella olearia, a cellar for oyle.
Cella vinaria, a wyne cellar.
Cella prōptuaria, Plautus vseth for a prison.
In cellis stratos lectos videres, you might see the beddes made readye in the chaumbres.
Cellária, æ, f. g. idem quod cella. Also a woman butler. or she that hath the keepyng of the cellar.
Celláris, re, the adiectiue of Cella.
Columbi cellares, dooues that breede in holes.
Cellárium, rij, n. g. a store house.
Cellárius, rij, m. g. he that hath the charge of a cellar or storehouse.
Cello, lis, of olde wryters was vsed for Cedo.
Cellula, læ, a diminutiue of Cella.
Cellulæ columbarum, culuer holes.
Celmus, a man that nourished vp Jupiter, whom he tourned afterwarde into a diamonde, because he affyrmed him to be mortall.
Celo, áui, áre, to hyde, to conceale, to kepe close or secrete. The diuers construction of this woorde, note by the examples folowyng.
Celare aliquem de re aliquâ.
Balbus noster me celauit de hoc libro, Our frende Balbus tolde me nothyng of this booke.

Celare & occultare.
Celare quæ scribat existimo, I thynke he keepeth secrete suche thynges as he wryteth, or will not let them be knowen.
Vxorem ipsam hanc rem vt celes face, see that thou keepe this thynge secrete euen from thy wyfe.
Celare aliquid alicui.
Id Alcibiadi celari diutius non potuit, That thyng coulde not be hyd or conceled from Alcibiades any longer.
Celare se tenebris, to hyde him selfe in the darke.
Diem celare dicitur sol cum occidit.
Cui, diem promere, opponitur.
Ingenium celare, to hyde or dissemble ones disposition or nature.
Celoni, rauenyng people.
Celor, the passiue.
Vbi vbi est, diu celari non potest, where so euer she be, she can not be longe vnknowen.
Celox, ōcis, f. g. a lyttle swyfte shyppe, called a Brygantyne or barche.
Celsenses, people of Spayne.
Celsus, a noble Romayne, whiche wrate of physike and husbandry, in moste eloquent latine.
Celsus, a, um, hygh, lofty, vpright.
Status celsus & erectus, a standynge bolte vpright. or a streight vpright standyng.
Celtæ, Frenchemen.
Celtiaca, a citee in Spayne, in the countrey of Hispalis.
Celtiberi, people of that part of Spayne, whiche is called Biskaie.
Celtiberia, Biskaie.
Celtiberius, and Celtibericus, a, um, of Biskaie.
Celtica, the countrey of Lyons in Fraunce.
Celtici, people of Spayne, which tooke their beginnyng of the Frenchemen called Celtæ.
Celticum, a promontory of Spayne.
Celtis, tis, f. g. a hynde of sweete trees growing in Affrike, called also Lotos, Lote tree: the tree it selfe is of the bygnesse of a peare tree: but the fruite no bygger then a beane, and therefore of some is called Faba Græca, or Faba Syriaca.
Celtogallia is that parte of Fraunce, whiche conteineth Aquytayne, Lyons, Belgica, and Narbone, whereof the Frenche kyng hath. iii. partes whole. Belgica, for the more parte is in the handes of the emperour that nowe is. Rede of euerychē of thiem in their letters.
Celýdrus, or rather Cylindros, a womanes apparayle.
Cemelleo, a towne in Liguria.
Cemeneleum, a citee in the Alpes.
Cemas, idem quod Hinnulus vel cerua.
Cemos, idem quod hedera, Diosc.
Cenchreæ, a towne of Peloponesus by Corinthe.
Cénchris, chris, f. g. a wourme lyke an adder.
Cénchris, ídis, f. g. a byrde of the hynde of haukes, whiche maketh a shryll sowne whan he crieth. idem quod Tinunculus. looke there. It is also the name of a towne or countrey of Greece.

Cenchrites, te, m.g. a precious stone, which hath in it thynges lyke mylle seede. also a kynde of made wyne, not of the pure grape.
Cenchrius, a ryuer in Ionia, by the wood Ortygia, where the poetes fayne that Latona was washed of hir nourse Ortygia, after she hadde trauayled with childe.
Cenchron, a kynde of dyamondes, no bygger than a mylle seede.
Cenea, called also Atalanta, the daughter of Cæneus.
Ceneum, a promontory in Euboea, where Hercules erected an aultar to Iupiter.
Ceneus, looke Cæneus.
Cenina, a citee of Italy nere to Rome.
Cenites, his name that builded Cenina.
Cenodoxia, vayne glorie.
Cenomani, people of Lumbardie. also a people in Fraunce of a countrey called Maine.
Cenotaphium, táphij, n.g. a monument of them, whiche are dead, wherein the bodye is not, as an herse set vp at the monthes or peres ende.
Cénseo, cénsui, ère, to suppose, to shewe ones opinion or sentence, to thynke good, to determine, to be discontent, to numbre people, to the intente to take the aple for the warres: Or to leaue a taske or subsydye, to speake or telle.
Magnopere censeo tibi properandum, I thinke very earnestly. &c.
De ea re ita censeo, I am of this opinion. &c. or I thynke this.
Ne vobis censeam, si ad me referetis, leste I would be angry, yf ye tolde me.
Quid grauare censeas? Telle me, what is that, that greueth thee?
Censeo, vt hoc facias, I will, I determine, or I thinke good, that ye do this.
Senatus dicitur censere, Populus iubere.
Cénseor, sus sum, éri, a deponent, to professe or enrolle in the censours tables.
Censéri, to be noumbred and inrolled of the Censors, or to be taxed or cessed.
Censéri, to be had in estimacion, or to be sette by. also to be meruayled at.
Quod ex iis studijs, hæc quoq; censétur oratio, Because of these studies, the same kynde of oration also, is esteemed and had in price.
Si censenda nobis atq; estimanda res est, If we must iudge and weigh the matter.
Cénsio, ônis, f.g. a chastisement, or a correction doen by the Censor, a price, aduice, or opinion.
Censio hastaria, a punyshement, whan soudiours, for some trespasse were inioyned to deliuer speares to other.
Cénsitor, oris, ab antiquo Censio: idem quod Censor.
Censor, ôris, m. g. an high constable, a lorde, a comptroller, a iudge of mens maners. also suche one as was appoynted to value mens goodes.
Censórius, a, um, pertaynynge to them, whyche had ouersyght of the maners of the people, whyche were called Censores.
Censorius vir, he that hath bene a Censour, or is worthy for his graunte to iudge and correcte other mens maners.
Censoria virgula, is taken for the authorite of the censours.
Censoria animaduersio, was a punyshement of them, whiche were of yll maners.
Censoria nota, the rebuke or checke of the master of maners.
Censuâlis, he that doeth company or assyste the iudges of maners, called Censores.
Censuâlis, le, of or pertaynynge to the Censours.
Censualis lex, a law made for numbrynge and tellyng of people.
Censúra, æ, f.g. the authorite or iudgement of a censour, an highe constableship, a comptrollership. also a correction of maners, law or decree, concernyng maners, a reformacion.
Censuram vini facere, to taste wyne, to assaye whether it be good or badde.
Census, us, ma, g. yerely reuenewes, goodes or substaunce. also valuacion of goodes. Also subsidie, and the numbrynge of the people.
Census equestris, the estimacion or value of them, which were in the order of gentylmen, called Ordo equestris, whiche rate was. 400. Sestertia: And that summe amounted (after the rate of our money, at thys day,) to 2635. li. 6. s. 8. d. whereby it appeareth, howe ryche Rome was at that tyme, seyng that was the generall estimacion of one order or state.
Census senatorius, the estimacion of them, whiche were Senatours: And was double the rate of Equestris. In Augustus tyme, it was treble so muche: whiche amounted of our money now currant, to. 7906. lib. not withstandyng, there were aboue. vi. C. Senatours.
Censum agere, and habere, to cesse or taxe mens goodes, accordynge to whiche valuacion they must paie tribute.
Censum liberari, to be delyuered from the taxyng of hys goodes.
Census, fortunæ, facultates, idem.
Census exiguus, tenuis, breuis, final substáre.
Nec census nobilitate maior, he was as noble as ryche.
Ex censu tributa conferre, to paye tribute or taxe, accordyng to the valuacion, or accordynge to his substance.
Census, a, um, valued or taxed. sometyme a man of that valu, that ought by the law to be taxed.
Capite censi, taxed by the polle, or they that paie head syluer.
Censuus, a, um, the adiectiue of Census.
Censui agri, fieldes, which may by the law be bought and solde.
Centáurius, and Centauricus, a, um, of the Centaures.
Centauri, a people in the countrey of Thessaly, whome whome the poetes fayned to bee the one halfe lyke a man, the other halfe lyke an horſe. There be alſo certayne great ſhyppes ſo called.

Centaurea, and Centaurium, an herbe wherof there be two kyndes. The great, which apothecaries doo call Reuponticum, reuponty̆e in Engliſhe. And the leſſe, whiche is called Centorie. Alſo Fel terræ, and febrifugia.

Centáurium, a medicine inuented by Chiron, the Centaure.

Centâurus, ri, a tyrant firſt called Euenus.

Centenárius, a um, of an hundred yeres of age, or of an hundred pounde weight.

Centenariæ cœnæ, were ſuppers, on which by a law called Licinia, was beſtowed but an hundreth of the dyalon coyne called Aſſes.

Centênus, a, um, an hundreth.

Centéſimus, a, um, the hundreth: as,

Centéſima pars, the hundreth parte.

Centeſimæ vſuræ, were gaynes of the hundreth, one peny for euery moneth lone: looke ex aſſe vſura.

Centeſimare, out of an hundred to pecke out one.

Centeſimis calendis, in eight yere and fower monethes.

Cénticeps, cipitis, com. gen. that hath an hundreth heades.

Centies, an hundreth times.

Centifólia, æ, f. g. a kynde of roſes growynge in Italy. Plin. li. 21 cap. 4.

Centigrânum, gráni, n. g. a kynde of wheate, which had in euery eare an hundred cornes.

Centimanus, i, maſ. gen. that hath an hundreth handes.

Centinódia, æ, f. g. an herbe, whiche hath manye knottes, called of the grecians Polyganon: by the figure and deſcription of Fuchſius, it ſhould ſeeme to be knotte graſſe, or ſwynes graſſe.

Centinum, a towne of Vmbria in Italy.

Centipeda, æ, f. g. a worme called a paimer, which is heary, and hath many feete.

Centipedæ, or des, called alſo Scolopendræ, a kynde of eſſhes.

Centipéllio, ônis, ſ. g. part of the intrayles of an harte.

Cento, ônis, m. g. a facion of roughe, thicke and heary couerynges, which very poore people vſe: wherwith tentes and all other thinges neceſſary for houſholdiours, are couered whan it rayneth.

Alſo a vyle garment, that men of the countrey weare: and all kynde of thynges made of dyuers pieces of cloth, of ſundry coloures. It is taken of ſome for a quylte, a rake, or other lyke thyng, ſtuffed with lynnen, flore, or cotten.

Cento, is alſo a worke compiled of diuers fragmentes of verſes, pyked here and there out of authours, as Virgiliocentones.

Centones farcire alicui, a prouerbe ſignifyenge to holde one in talke, with many glorioule tales and lies.

Centonalis, wilde rue. Dioſc.

Centónicum, ci, n. g. idem quod Abſinthium marinum. Dioſc.

Centrâlis, le, that which is ſet in the very myddes of a thyng.

Centrines, num, a kinde of gnattes that ſtingeth.

Centrones, mounte Cenis, goynge into Lumbardy.

Centrôſus, a, um, full of knottes or knurres.

Centrum, tri. n. g. the poynete in the very middes of a thynge, the centre. alſo an harde knotte or knurre in tymbre, that marreth the workemans toole.

Centum, an adiectiue of the plurall numbre, and vndeclined, an hundreth. It is ſometyme vſed infinitely for exceedyng many.

Centum capita, Centum capitum, Centum capitibus, n. g. plu. num. a kynde of thyſtle, with many heades, called alſo Eryuge, and Eryngium: looke there. The roote and ſtalke is vſed to be eaten of ſome both ſodden and raw.

Centum geminus, an hundreth folde.

Centum peranéa inſula, a litle towne in Italy.

Centum pondium, an hundreth weyght. ſome tyme indefinitely, an exceedyng great weyght.

Centumuirâlis, le, pertaynynge to the hundreth and .v. iudges.

Centumuiratus, looke Centumuiri.

Centúmuiri, ceu Centumuiorum, n. gen. plu. an hundreth and .v. iudges. The people of Rome were deuided into .xxxv. tribes. of euery tribe were three menne choſen to bee iudges in common matters: whyche company was called Centumuiratus, And they were called Centumuiri, although there were fyue moe than an hundreth in that companye. And theyr iudgement was named Centumuirale iudicium: and Centumuiralis haſta, for as much as thoſe iudges, whyles they ſatte in iudgement, had a ſpeare pitched vp before them.

Centúnculus, or centunculum, a certayne herbe, whiche hath ſoft leaues lyke flore, and is named chickweede: it is called in Yorke ſhire Ludwede. ſome call it Cataphilago, but that is an other herbe.

Centúnculus, a diminutiue of Cento, a vyle garment.

Céntuplex, plícis, an hundreth folde, an hundreth double.

Centuplicáto, an aduerbe, an hundreth tymes ſo muche.

Centúria, æ, ſ. g. a parte of an hoſt, conteynyng an hundreth men: but of grounde in the fielde, it conteyneth two hundred acres.

Centuriâtim, by an hundreth together, hundreth by hundreth. Alſo plentuouſely, or in a greate nombre.

Centuriâtus, a, um, appoynted or regiſtred in the numbre of the hundreth.

Centuriâta comitia, were generall congregations of people, to treate of common affayres: whyche aſſemble was not gathered by diuiſion of parts

parisshes or wardes, but by the rate of theyr substance, or by theyr age.

Centuriatæ leges, lawes, whiche were enacted by the people assembled after the rate of theyr substance or age.

Centuriātus, us, m. g. the office and estate of a Centurion.

Centúrio, ônis, m. g. a capitayne ouer an hundreth footemen, a Centurion.

Centúrio, áui, áre, to diuyde men into a compayny, conteinyng an hundreth persones, or fieldes into two hundreth acres of lande.

Centurionātus, us, idem quod Centuriatus.

Centuripe, or Centurupe, Sicilie.

Centuripini, people of Sicilie.

Centúsis, sis, m. g. a rate of Romayne money, whiche was of .x. of theyr grotes, called Denarij, whiche mounteth in the rate of our money at this tyme, to .v. s. vi. d. ob. halfe farthing and halfe an halfe farthyng or after other,

Centusis, the value of. 40. Sesterij. 10. groates sterlyng.

Cepa, æ, f. g. & Cepe, neu. gen. indeclinabile, an oynion.

✠ Cepas edere, to eate oynions, was a prouerbe spoken of them, whiche did seeme to weepe, or that do wepe often.

Cepæa, æ, f. g. an herbe, which is diuersly described of Dioscorides and Plini. After Dioscorides, it seemeth to be that, whiche in englisshe is named Brookelem, and groweth in water sydes by brookes and lyttynges. As Plinie sayth, it groweth by the sea side: and bycause it is not vnlyke to Purcellane, it may be called sea Purcellane.

Cepétum, péti, n. g. a place where oynions grow, an oynion bedde.

Cépeus, a, um, lyke an oynion, or of an oynion.

Cephalatomi, people of Colchis.

Cephale, les, or Cephalis, lis, f. g. signifieth the head.

Cephalæa, léæ, f. g. a greuous or longe contynuyng peyne in the head, susteynyng much greke of euery lyght cause, neyther abydyng noyse nor lyght, nor swete sauours. The patient feeleth as if his head were broken in pieces with hammers. It happeneth sometime of colde, sometime of heate.

Cephalenia, an yle beyonde Corcyra, in the middell sea, whiche is also called Vlisses yle, commonly Cephalonie.

Cephalótus, a leche with a great head.

Cephalos, idem quod Daphnis. Dioscor.

Cephalocrustes, stæ, m. g. a worme, whiche is in the leaues of a peache tree.

Cephaloedis, a riuer of Sicilie.

Cephalicum emplastrum, a plaister layed to a broken or sore head.

Cephalus, phāli, m. g. the sonne of Solus, and the dearlyng of Aurora. Also an orator of Athens.

Cephalus, is a fysshe, whiche beynge afrayde, hideth only his head, and thinketh that than all his body is hyd.

Cephénes, num, masc. gen. vnprofitable bees, which make no hony, but do only with the multitude of them, kepe warme the ponge bees.

It was sometime the name of Persians, as Herodotus writeth.

Cepheus, two syllables, the name of a kyng of Ethiope, the sonne of Phenix, and father of Andromeda.

Cephiáticum medicamentum, a medeyne that breedeth fleshe.

Cephisia, a fountayne in the region Attica.

Cephisis, a lake nere to the sea Athlanticum.

Cephisodorus, a tragicall poete of Athens.

Cephisus, a ryuer of Beotia, where the temple of Themis stoode, to whiche Deucalion and Pyrrha came to consulte how to restore mankynde.

Cephus, phi, m. g. a beaste of Ethiope, whiche hath the forlegges and feete, lyke to a mannes armes and handes: and the hynder lyke mens legges and feete.

Cepphus, or Cemphus, of some called Larus, of some Fulica, looke Larus.

Cepidines, stones lyeng out aboue other.

Cepina, æ, f. g. an herbe called crues. It is also a place, where oynions be set, or a great multitude of oynions sowen or sette together, an oynion bedde.

Cepio, the consull of Rome, by whose rashenesse the temple of Tolosane was robbed and spoyled, wherof insued so greate myschappe to him and his Souldiours, that thervpon rose this prouerbe, ✠ Aurum Tolosanum habet, looke Aurum.

Cepiónides, dæ. m. g. a precious stone, cleare like chrystall, and representeth in it sygures lyke glasse.

Cepites, tæ, m. g. a precious stone, hauyng many white strakes.

Cepocapites, idem quod cepites.

Cepœe, a towne of Bosphorus.

Ceporus, ri, m. g. a gardyner.

Cepos, a gardeyne.

Cépula, læ, f. g. a chybboll.

Cepurica, herbes that grow in gardeynes.

Cera, æ, f. gen. ware. sometyme ymages made in ware, as it were with braunches, to declare the genealogie of noble men, lyke to that whiche in churches is called Radix Iesse. Cera, is also a certayne roote, sometime Ceræ, is taken for bookes or tables.

✠ Ceritæ cera dignus, A prouerbe notyng a vile felow, nothyng to be esteemed. looke Eras. Ch.

Codicis cera extrema. Cic.

Cera alba, flaua, cōmutabilis, fragilis, impatiens caloris, laborata, odorata.

Solutæ igne ceræ: melted with fyre.

Tenax cera, clammy ware that sticketh.

Circum-

Circumlinire cera, to smeare rounde with waxe.
Ceræ credere aliquid, to wryte a thynge in tables of waxe.
Fingere in cera, to worke or make in waxe.
Formare & fingere ceram ad arbitrium, to facion and worke waxe.
Liquescit cera, melteth or waxeth softe.
Mollire ceram digitis, to make softe.
Cera miniata, redde waxe.
Ceras amaltheas, idem quod copiæ cornu.
Cerabaroa, a countrey late founde by the Spaynyardes, in the weste occean, where all the men goe naked, and haue theyr bodies peynted with diuers figures, wearynge only garlandes made of sundry flowers, myxt with the cleres of lions and tygres. In that countrey hath ben founde plenty of golde.
Ceracâtes, a precyous stone of the coloure of waxe.
Ceræ, wrytynge tables, couered with waxe, and is vsed for bookes, letters, or instrumentes in wrytynge.
Primæ & secundæ ceræ testamenti, pro primis & secundis tabellis, siue foliis testamenti. Sue.
Ceratis vel Ceratitis, idem quod fœnogrecũ.
Ceramicus, a place in Athens, where men beynge slayne in battayle, were buried. Also an other place, where common women dwelled: & a gouffe in the sea not farre from Halicarnassus.
Ceramion, mij, n.g. the same measure that Amphora is.
Ceramites, a precious stone.
Ceramium, a place in Rome, where Cicero and Milo had houses. also a certayne botche or swellyng.
Ceramium, mij, n.g. a botche or swellyng.
Cerárius, rij, m.g. he that maketh any thynge of ware. I waxe chandler.
Cerascomion, idem quod œnanthe, looke there.
Cerásphoros, he that weareth hornes.
Ceras amaltheas, looke after Cera.
Cerascónia, idem quod pastinaca syluestris.
Cerásta, a certeyne tree. vide Theoph. li. 8. ca. 16.
Cerastæ, certayne yles by Ethiope.
Cerastes, æ, or Cerastis, is, m.g. a serpent, which hath hornes lyke a ramme, the body very lyttle, whereby he deceyueth men, hydynge hym selfe in the grasse.
Cerastis, the yle of Cyprus.
Cérasum, si, or Cerásium, sii, n.g. a chery.
Cérasus, si. f.g. a chery tree.
Cerasus, untis, a towne of Cappadocia, called commonly Zephano.
Cerates, a small weyght or poyse, whiche is the fourthe parte of a scruple, the. 48. parte of an vnce.
Cerátia, æ, f.g. an herbe, whiche hath but one leafe, and a great roote full of knottes.
Ceraua stella, a blasyng sterre, lyke an horne.
Ceratinæ, árum, f.g. intricate argumentes, which cannot be resolued.
Ceratitis, f.g. a certayne herbe.
Ceratis, tis, f.g. the horned popy.
Cerátium, the frutte, which is called Siliquá, loke there for the description: by the weyght therof all the auncyente phisitions made all theyr poyses, whiche triers of golde doo now call a carract. wherof Dragma conteyned. xviii. as Leonardus Portius writeth.
Ceratum, siue Cerotum, a playster made wyth waxe, roseyn, or gummes. It is called in greke Dropax, a seare clothe.
Ceratûra, ræ, f.g. dyeyng of a thyng with waxe, seryng.
Cerátus, a, um, sered or couered with waxe.
Tedæ ceratæ, torches of waxe.
Ceratus, a citee in Candie.
Ceráunia, æ, f.g. a precyous stone, whyte of colour. also a kynde of pulse.
Ceraunij, and Ceraunia, hylles in Egypte, by the citee Ambracia. also hilles in Armenie aboute Meotis.
Ceraunium, nij. n.g. a kinde of pulles, that grow out of the earthe
Ceraunobolos, the table of Apelles, wherein he peynted the thunder.
Ceraunus, the surname of one of the Ptolomees. also a ryuer in Cappadocia. it signifieth, lightenyng.
Cerbalus, a ryuer of Apulia.
Cerbereus, a, um, of Cerberus.
Cérberus, a dogge with thre heades, whiche (as poetes feygne) was porter of hell, whome Hercules drew out of hell.
Cercaphus, a mans name.
Cercasorum, a towne in Egypte.
Cerceis, the name of a nymphe, daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.
Cercetæ, people of the lesse Asia, called of Pomponius Cercetici.
Cerceti, hylles of Thessaly.
Cercina, an yle in the myddell sea, and a citee of the same name.
Cercinitis, a very lytle yle by Carthage.
Cercion, a kynge of Thessaly.
Cercius, idem quod circius.
Cercopa, a greedy felow.
Cercope, es, a little grassehop.
Cercopeni, a certeyne people.
Cercopithecus, ci, m.g. an ape with a taple, called a marmoset. it maye bee also taken for a munkay.
Cercos, or circos, a kynde of haukes, that halteth on the one legge, idem quod buteo.
Cercúrus, ri, ma. g. a certayne sorte of very greate shyppes.
Cercion, one of Arcadie, of exceedyng strength, and a notable robber, slayne of Theseus.
Cercýræi, people ofte greeued with seditions: of whom grew this prouerbe, Cercyræa scutica,

Cerdo,

Cerdo, ônis, m. g. a cobblar. sometyme generally all that vse any vyle handy craft to get money by, are called cerdones for cerdos, in Greke, is lucrum, gayne.

Cerdo, onis, an hereтyke, whiche affirmed, that Chryst was neuer borne of a woman, and that he had no fleshe, nor suffered any passion, but fayned to suffer. Also he taught, that the god, whiche was declared by the law and prophetes to be god, was not the father of our sauioure Chryste: for he was knowen, the other was vnknowen. The one was iust, the other was good. Also he saied the olde Testament was naughte, that some creatures are yll of them selfe, and that they were not made by that god, that was the chiefe goodnesse, but of an other, the begynnyng of all yll, whome he named the principall myschiefe. He was aboute the yere of our lorde. 144 whose hereсies be all condemned by the generall consent of all chrystendome.

Cerdonia, a citee in Italy.

Cerealis, a towne in Spayne.

Cerêâlis, le, pertaynyng to Ceres the goddesse.

Arma cerealia, instrumentes to grynde corne, and bake bread.

Cereales ludi, playes in the honour of Ceres.

Cerealia, orum, n. g. solemne feastes and sacrifices, dedicated to Ceres by Triptolemus.

Cerebellum, a diminutiue of cerebrum, the hinder parte of the braine.

Cerebrôsus, a, um, brayneshe, or wylde brayned, trustyng only to his owne will.

Cerebrosus bos, an ore disposed to be madde.

Cérebrum, bri, n. g. the brayne.

Cerebrum arboris, the pith.

Cerebro laborare, to be brayne sicke.

Putidum cerebrum, is vsed for a madde festowe.

Ceres, cerêris, the daughter of Saturnus, and opis, called also Isis, was wyfe of Osyris kyng of Egypte, who (as the Grekes suppose) dyd fyrst inuente the sowynge of wheate and barley, whiche before dyd growe wylde amonge other herbes. Also that he did fyrst make lawes, whereby iustice should be equally ministred to all men violence and wronge beyng by feare taken away Herodotus writeth, that the Egyptians affirme Ceres and Bacchus, to beare the chiefe rule in hell.

Ceres, cereris, is sometyme taken for bread, some time for corne.

Larga Ceres, great aboundance of corne.

Ceres rubicunda, flaua, corne yelow in the hervest time.

Cererem coquere dicitur æstiuus leo, to ripe corne.

Cereri nuptias facere, vsed prouerbially, to make a banket, wherin is no wyne.

Larga Ceres, great plenty of corne.

Cerêolus, li, masc. gen. a lyze candell, or a small taper.

Ceretani, and Cerretani, a people in Spayne.

Cereus, substantiuum, a taper, or other lyght ware dell of wax.

Cereus, a, um, of wax, soft, fatty, or tendy. It is sometyme taken for dayntie or delicate. Also constant, wauerynge, and chaungeyng the mynde with euery lyght tale or persuasion, pleasant lyke wax.

Cerea brachia, nice and tender, or lither armes.

Cerea candela, a wax candell or taper.

Regna cerea, Virgilius habet, pro Alueolis, & cellulis apum. Cerea pruna, wheate plummes.

Ceria, æ, f. g. a certayne potion or drynke, that the Spaniardes do vse.

Ceria cuspia, idem quod semper viuum.

Cerimonia, æ, f. g. a ceremony.

Cerinthe, es, fœ. g. an herbe, haueynge the taste of wax and hony together, an hony suckle.

Cerinthus, thi, an herbe lyke a lyzy. And also Latyn, it is the meate of bees, which is found in hony combes, separate from the hony, in taste bitter, and is also mopste.

Cérinum, ni, n. gen. a garmente of the colour of wax.

Cérinus, a, um, lyke to wax.

Color cerinus, the wax colour.

Cerion, swete and pleasant, a hony combe.

Cerites, a people, whiche the Romaynes vaynquished, and ordeyned, that they should make no lawes amonge them.

Ceritus, ti, m. g. a mad or frantyke person, sicut a Baccho bacchantem, ita à Cerere Ceritum dicimus.

Cérium, i, n. g. a lyze lyke an hony combe.

Cermorum, a towne of Macedonie.

Cerna, or Cerne, an yle in the sea of Ethiope.

Cernetani, a people of Italye, called also Mariani.

Cerno, créui, ĕre, to see, to perceyue, to knowe, to seuer or seperate, to fyght, to try by deme of swearde. Also to consider, sometyme to iudge or determyne, sometyme to trie oute. Also to syft or range flower of corne. Otherwhiles to deuise together, or talke one with an other.

Verecundari neminem apud mensam decet, nam ibi de diuinis atq; humanis cernitur, No man ought to bee abashed at the table: for there men doe deuise and talke of matters concernyng as well god as man.

Cernere falsam hæreditatem alienæ gloriæ, to gette prayse to hym selfe of an other mannes actes.

Cernere hæreditatem, to entre into lande, falsen by inheritaunce.

Cerno animo, I do foresee or consider before.

Cernere & videre.

Cernere & intelligere, to foresee.

Acute cernere, to haue a quicke sight.

Cernitur magnus animus duabus rebus, I noble noble herte, or a valyant courage is knowen or discerned by two thynges.

Cernere est, a man may see.

Quodcunque Senatus creuerit, what so euer the senate determine or iudge.

Iam cernam me ne, an illum. &c. Now I wyl see, or now I will proue or try, &c.

Pro patria cernit cum hostibus, he fyghteth with his enemies in his countreys quarell, or in the defence of hys countrey.

Cernere ad aliquem locum, to looke towarde any place.

E loco aliquo procul cernere.

Ante oculos cernere.

Cernere obliquis oculis, to looke a wrie at one.

Vltima cernit: he seeth himselfe in daunger of death.

Cernere ferro, to try by dente of swerde.

Cernere vitam, to fight for lyfe and death.

Ferro, non auro, vitam cernamus vtrique, let vs bothe trie for our life, not with golde, but with the swerde.

Cérnulus, li, m. g. he that is busy to kynde faulte, in an other man.

Cernuus, nui, m. g. a certeyne shoe.

Cérnuus, a, um, stoupyng or lokyng downward bendyng and inclinyng to the grounde.

Cérnuus equus, an horse that stumbleth or falleth on hys nose.

Cero, aui, are, to dresse or couer a thynge with ware.

Ceroferárii, they whiche doo beare candels in the churche before the crosse in procession, or that do any syke seruice in the churche.

Ceroferárium, rii, n. g. a candell sticke, whereupon tapers be set.

Cerôma, ătis, neu. ge. an oynctement, wherewith wrastlers were annoynted, made of oyle and certayne kyndes of earthe. sometyme the place where wrestlers were annoynted.

Cerostrôtum, ti, neu. ge. a kynde of peynctynge, whan many pieces of horne or puorie, are peinted with diuers colours, and fitlye set together vpon litell chestes or playing tables. Ofter some it is an ymage of ware.

Cerôsus, a, um, that whiche is myxt with ware.

Cerôtum, looke ceratum.

Cerreus, a, um, and Cerrinus, of the tree called Cerrus.

Cerri, a kynde of fysshes.

Cerrus, ri, f. g. a great tree, lyke to a poplar, hauyng a streyght longe stem. It beareth a kynde of maste, roughe without lyke a chestyn, not apt to be eaten but of swine, and yet not very good for them. There hangeth on the bowes longe pendantes lyke dry russet mosse, koote in sauour. The timbre therof is not meete for buyldynge.

Certâmen, táminis, n. g. a conflicte or bykeryng, a contencion or variaunce, a game or exercise, where one endeuoureth to excell an other, triall, sometyme busyneſſe or tumulte.

Certamina sacra, were certayne greate games in Greece, where men contended in feates of witte, strength, and agilitee. Of theym were foure, Nemæa, Pythia, Isthmia, & Olympia. The prise of Olympia, was a garland of wilde olyue: Of Isthmus, a garlande of pine appulis in Nemea, of perselyn in Pythius, of appulles growynge by the temple of Apollo. Vitruuius remembreth, that the auncient greeches ordeyned that the people there assembled, standynge wyth palme in their handes, should synge their prayses, whiche had victory at these games. And also whan they returned home to theyr houses, the citee or towne, where they dwelled, should receyue them with muche honour, ridynge in chariottes, and burynge theyr lyues, should haue pencions out of the common treasure.

Lex certaminis, the law and condition of the game.

Pretium certaminis ferre: to haue the prise, to winne.

Ludicrum certamen, a sportynge game.

In certamen descendere, to go into the place and present him selfe to play for the prise.

Certamen missum, fynished, ended

Certamen est mihi cum illo, he and I bee at contention.

Instituere sibi certamen cum aliquo, to begyn to fall at debate with one.

Gloriæ maximum certamen inter ipsos erat: there was very muth contention betwene them which should get most glorie.

Est mihi tecum pro aris certamen.

Cum altero certamen honoris est, I contende for honour.

Certamen & discrimen salutis.

In certamen & discrimen rerum omnium venire, to come in triall and daunger, &c.

A eterno certamine prælia edere, to be alway in warre.

Certamen alacre, anceps, anhelum, aspe:um, atrox, auidum, clarum, dispar, durum, funestum, gladiatorium, graue, lethiferum, longum, sæuum, miserandum, rabidum, vastũ, trepidum, validum.

Conferre manu certamina, to fyght hande to hande.

Conserere certamen.

Contrahere certamen.

Differre certamen, to delay, or refuse to fight.

Dirimere certamen, to put a sunder them that fyght.

Inycere certamen aliquibus. to giue occasion.

Inire certamen cum aliquo, to fight agaynste one man to man, and body to bodie.

Miscere certamina, to fight.

Ponere certamen, to ende or leaue of.

Equus primus certamine, a horse that hath wonne the prise in runnyng.

Ego vici in hoc certamine, I haue ouercome at his game.

Certamen vini, quaffyng.
Certamina diuitiarum, labours and trauayles in heapyng vp ryches.
In certamen venire cum aliquo, to fall at controuerſie with a man.
Adducere in certamen rem aliquam, to bryng a matter in controuerſy.
Conſulatu deuenimus in medium rerũ omnium certamen & diſcrimen, In the tyme of our conſulſhip, we came into the very myddell of buſy ruffelyng and daungerous trouble of all maner of matters.
Certamen nauale, a battaple on the ſea.
Celebrare certamina, to make common games or playes.
Certâtim, in contendyng and ſtriuynge one with an other, who ſhall doo moſt or beſt.
Certatim aſcendunt, they ſtriue who ſhall go vp fyrſte.
Certatim ad opus currunt, they ſpeede theym haſtily to worke, ſtrayning who may goe fyrſt.
Cantare certatim, with contencion who maye ſynge beſt.
Dicere certatim de ſalute alicuius, with contencion who can ſay moſt or beſt.
Certatim alter alteri obſtrepebat.
Tradunt certatim de his authores.
Certâtio, ônis, ſ. g. debate, ſtrife, ſtudy, prouocation, contencion.
Certâtus, idem quod certamen.
Certé, truely, verily, aſſuredly, yea verily, without doubte.
Certé captus eſt, playnely, or without doubte, he is taken in the ſnare: or he is in for a fryde.
Certé, for ſaltem, or vtcunq; : as, Moleſtus certe ei fuero, at the leaſt way I ſhall vexe him ſomewhat.
Certé, for Tamen, as, Etſi ſuaſor non fueras, approbator certé fuiſti, although ye counſayled me not to it, yet truly ye alowed it.
Certé enim ſcio, yea playnly I know it.
Certe, concedentis, as, Cic, At dignitatem docere non habet, certé, ſi quaſi in ludo. true it is in deede, if. &c.
At certe.
Certe enim ſcio.
Certe enim & boni aliquid attulimus inuentuti.
Certe ſi reſciuerim.
Certe hercle, nunc hic ſeipſus fallit.
Certe tu quidem pol multo hilarior.
Quod quidem certe enitar.
Conſtanter quidem certe.
Saris certe ſcio.
Certé hercle, in good ſoothe.
Enim, ædepol, hercle, quidem & pol, cum ſequuntur certé, ſunt ornatiuæ particulæ.
Certe coniunctum cum, &, affirmat: as,
Et certé is eſt.
Certhia, æ, ſ. g. a lytle fryde that vſeth alway to clyme on trees, not much bigger then a wren, it is called a creper.
Certifico, cas, to certifie.
Certioror, aris, ari, to be certified.
Certiſſo, aui, are, to be certified or ſure.
Certitûdo, dinis, ſ. g. certeyntie, ſuretie.
Certò, idem quod Certé, for a ſurety.
Certò hæc mea eſt.
Certo ego vocem hic loquentis audiebam.
Me quidem certo ſeruauit ſuis conſilijs.
Et ea eſt certo, and without doubt.
Certo periſ.
Satin hoc certo.
Videntur certo hæc erũpere aliquo.
Certò, aui, âre, to ſtryue, to contende, to fyght, to trie, to proue maiſtries, to ſue one an other, to endeuour, to ſtudy erneſtly.
Certare damnis, to go aboute to diſtroy one an other, to contende who may doo other moſt diſpleaſure.
Acies certant, the armies fight.
Certare pignore, to lay in a paune in contraction, to ſtryue for a wager.
Benedictis ſi certaſſet, audiſſet bene. If he had vſed fayre language, he ſhould haue heard none other but good, or I would haue anſwered him agayne with fayre wordes.
Certare officijs inter ſe, in doynge friendlye pleaſures to endeuour who ſhall paſſe other.
Officio te certaſſe priorem, non pœnitet, It ſhould not repente you, that you haue fyrſte ſhewed pleaſure, or doone the firſt good toume.
In omne facinus certare, to renne headlonge into all miſchiefe, to be bente and geuen to all miſchiefe.
Quid ſi certet Phœbum ſuperare? what if he would endeuour to excell or paſſe Apollo?
Certare ſecum, to endeuour to paſſe ones ſelfe.
Ambigue certare, to contend ſo, that it is vncertayne who ſhall ouercome.
Certare bello de re aliqua.
Augendæ dominationi certare, to ſtriue or fyght for the increaſe or enlargyng of theyr dominion.
Dicacitate certare, to contende who ſhall haue moſte wordes, or who can geue moſte taunts to other.
Maledictis certare cum aliquo, to ſtriue who can raple moſt at the other.
Certare malitia, muneribus, obſequijs, pietate, vigilijs & labore, cum aliquo.
Vitijs certare cum aliquo, to contende to paſſe. &c.
Certare cum alterius improbitate, to enforce him ſelfe to be more naughty.
Imparibus certare, to contende with them that be not his equalles.
Forma certare deis, to be in fauour lyke vnto an angell.
In decus & famam lethi cum aliquo certare, to contende, to dye a more famous and honorable rable death.

In omne facinus certare, to enboze him selfe to committe as much mischiefe as is possible.
Iure certare inter se.
Certare ob rem aliquam.
Sub hac lege certabant.
Certanter illudere capto.
Certo vincere, I contende to ouercome.
Honorem certare: Horat.
Certare aliquid, to enboze him selfe to doo it.
Solus tibi certat Amintas: cum datiuo.
Certare mero, to contende who shall drinke moste.
Certare cum alterius improbitate, to endeuour oz contende to passe an other in naughtynesse.
Aegyptus certat cum feracissimis terris, Aegypt is as fertile as that countrey, which is most fertile, what so euer it be.
Melioribus certare, to striue oz contende with them, that be richer oz better then wee bee.
Certare de imperio, to fight, who shall beare rule, to contende who shall be maister.
Pugnaciter certare, to contende obstinately.
Certare sagitta, to shote one with an other.
Certatur, the impersonall.
Certus, a, um, certayne, sure, without doubte. sometyme it signifieth trusty, faythfull, vnkerned, appoynted, oz determined, stronge, hardy, stedy, firme, constante.
Certæ opes, ryches that is permanent.
Certi homines, sure men and faythfull.
Certi, some, certayne other.
Certiorem facere, to aduertise, to lette one to wyt oz vnderstande, to signifie to one, to geue knowledge.
Certo certius, as sure as may bee.
Certum habere, to know surely.
Ex hoc vt sim certus metu, that I maye feare this matter no moze.
Amor certus, vnfeygned loue.
Certis diebus aliquid facere, to doo a thynge on certayne dayes appoynted.
Ante certam diem, before a day appoynted.
Quædam non certæ fidei videbantur, some thynges semed vnwozthy to be beleued.
Certo fœdere, certa lege, on a certayne condition, after a certayne facion.
Certa manus vno telo metam feriet, a sure, and stedy hande, will hitte the marke at the fyrst cast with a fauclyn.
Nebulo certior nullus, There is no verier knaue.
Horum profecto certa oratio est, Verely these mens wozdes be true.
Certi liberi, legitimate childerne, begotten in wedlocke.
Signa certa, vnfallible signes oz tokens.
Certa res est, the matter is without doubte, also I haue appoynted oz determined.
Arboribus certis grauis vmbra tributa est: id est, quibusdam.
Author certissimus, a very good and approued author.
Certis de causis aliter existimabam.
Consul certissimus, moste assured to be consull.
Fluitantia reddere certa, to make thynges certayne that be wauerynge and mutable.
Ictus certus, a stroke that fayleth not.
Certus & definitus locus, a place determined and appoynted.
Loco certo dicere, to speake a thynge in hys place.
Motus cœli certi. ordinarie, vnmutable.
Patre certo natus est, he is borne in lawfull mariage.
Spes certa magis, a moze assured.
Testis certissimus, a very good witnes.
Certior transitus, moze without daunger.
Homines certi, faythfull and trustie.
Maris certa, quiet places of the sea.
Certum est, it is clere and manifest.
Certum est de iure.
Mihi abiurare certius est quam dependere, I am determined rather to forsweare the thynge, and deny it, then to pay it.
Certum est facere.
Si istuc ita certum est tibi, If you be thus certaynly determined.
Certum alicui facere, to assertayne, to assure.
Certum facere aliquem, to declare vnto one, to tell.
De eo certum habeo quid agam, I know for a surety what to doo concernyng that.
De illo nihil certi habet.
Certum nescire, not to know the certeyntes.
Certum non scimus.
Pro certo creditur. Pro certo dicere. Pro certo habere. Pro certo habere de re aliqua. Pro certo negare. Pro certo polliceri.
Certus cum genitiuo: Certus eundi.
Vtinam tui consilij certior factus essem.
Iudex quam primum certus esse sententiæ cupit.
Destinationis certus. Exitij certus.
Spei certus. Matrimonij certa.
Apud latera certos locauerat, he set about his persone, such as were sure and trusty felowes, oz stronge and hardy men.
Certum est, it is manifest, oz I haue determined oz appoynted.
De hoc mihi parum certum est, of this I am not well assured.
Clare & certum loqui, to speake playnly and distinctly.
Pro certo habere de re aliqua, to bee sure, oz haue certayne knowledge of any matter.
Tum Agrippina sceleris olim certa, Than Agrippina, whiche was fully determined longe before to worke that mischiefe.
Certus cum ablatiuo.
Iaculis certus, a good caster of a darte that kapleth not to hitte.

Certus cum inimitino,
Certus succurrere,
Certus mori.
Cerua, æ, f. g. an hynde.
Ceruaria, a place in Aquitayne.
Ceruárius, a, um, of or pertepnyng to an harte.
Ceruarium venenum, a poyson, wherwith the Frenchemen vsed to annoynte theyr arrowes, whan they went on huntyng.
Ceruarius lupus, a beast ingendred eyther of a wolfe and an hynde, or elles of an harte and a she woulfe.
Cerúchus, chi, m. g. a cabyn in the hyghest parte of the shyp, or rather the endes, and as it were the hornes of the kayle parde.
Ceruical, or Ceruicále, lis, neu. gen. a pillow or bolster.
Ceruicósus, a, um, styffe necked, harde, vntractable.
Ceruicula, æ, f. g. a deminutiue of ceruix.
Ceruinus, a, um, of an harte.
Ceruinus color, the colour lyke an hartes shinne, tawnie.
Ceruisia, or Cereuisia, æ, f. g ale or beare.
Ceruix, icis, f. ge. the hinder parte of the necke, and figuratiuely, the lyfe or sauegarde a man, sometime, stubbernesse.
Ceruici imponere, to laye on his necke, to charge one with a thyng, will he or no.
Ceruices dare alicui, to offer to one his head, to put his lyfe in ones handes.
Duræ ceruicis homo, a stiffe necked felowe, a proude and stubbourne persone, that wyll not bende.
Ceruicum mollitia, softnes of the necke.
Tantis ceruicibus homo, qui audiat. &c.
Ceruix candida, Eburnea, lactea, fortis, horrida, læuis, languida, mollis, niuea, pulchra, prona, rebellis, rosea, teres.
Abscindere ceruibus caput.
Sub iuga ceruices adigere, to bryng in subiection.
Applausæ ceruicis sonitum amare: spoken of a horse that delyghteth to here his mayster clap him on the necke.
A ceruicibus hostem auertit, he kepte awaye from theyr necches.
A ceruicibus depellere aliquem, to kepe or defende one from vs, that intendeth our destruction.
Rebelli ceruice onus detrectare, obstinatlie to refuse that that one is charged with.
In ceruicibus bellum est, for prope, or Vicinum est.
Cérula, a diminutiue of Cera.
Cerunina, æ, f. g. eare ware.
Cerus manus, idem quod Bonus creator.
Cerússa, æ, f. g. ceruse, or white leade, wherwith some women be peinted.
Cerussátus, a, um, peinted white.

Ceruus, ui, m. g. an hart. also a soyle, wherein cotages were propped vp.
Ceryx, ýcis, a pursuaunt or bedell. It is also a shell fysshe of the kynde of purples.
Cescus, a citee in Pamphilia, or in Cilicia.
Cesena, a towne in Italy.
Cespes ítis, mas. gen. a tyrfe. some doo call them soddes, grasse and earthe togither. looke Caespes.
Cesseto, the citee Castres in Narbone.
Cessa, a towne in Iberia.
Cessátio, ônis, f. g. slackenesse in doyng, idelnesse, ceassyng or vacantnesse from occupation.
Cessatio in agris, the tyme whan the fieldes be not sowen, lyeng falow.
Cessátor, ôris, m. g. he that is slow in doynge his dutie, a lingerer, a loyterer.
Cessátus, a, um, lefte at reste, vnoccupied, not practised.
Cessio onis, fœ. g. where one claymeth a thyng that an other man hath, who denieth it not, nor maketh contrary clayme
Cessim, in reculyng
Cesso, áui, áre, to ceasse to leaue woorke, to abide to doo a thynge, or to be idell, to loyter, to lynger, to prolonge a matter negligently.
Opus cessat, the woorke goeth not forwarde.
Paululum si cessassem, non offendissem domi, if I had taried a litle longer, I should not haue founde him at home.
Cessare & laborem fugere, to be idell, and eschew labour.
Quod cessat ex redditu, frugalitate supplétur, that kapleth, or wanteth in my reuenues, is supplied with thrifte and honest sparyng.
Cessatum est, the impersonall.
Solum cessans, a grounde that lieth vntylled.
Cesticillus, li, m. g. a garlande of clowtes, whyche women doo lay on their heades, whan they cary any thynge, a wasse.
Cesticulus, li, m. g. a diminutiue of Cestus.
Cestreus, a hynde of codfysshe, which neuer eateth any other fysshe. wherof cometh this prouerbe.
Cestreus ieiunat, The codde fasteth, spoken of good and iuste men, whiche doo not rauen nor take other mens goodes from them.
Cestria, a towne of Egypte.
Cestrofendona, a kynde of weapon.
Cestrum, tri, neu. gen. an instrument wherwyth ouyre is made holow, a small perser, auger, or wymble. also a dagger, or lyke weapon, that the Grecians vsed to hurle at their enemies. Pollux doth take it for a pricke or goade. Also an herbe, which is called Betayn.
Cestrus, a ryuer of Pamphilia.
Cestus, ti, m. g. a gyrdell, wherwith the husband dyd gyrde his wyfe, whan she was fyrst maryed, which was set full of studdes. It is taken also for anye other gyrdell, or bande to tye vynes.
Cesyphium, phi, n. g. a certaine gumme, the right Ladanum,

Ladanum, looke there.

Cetária, æ, f. g. a woman that selleth greate fyſſhes salted.

Cetariæ, arum, places nere to the sea syde, where Tunie and other greate fyſſhes are taken and salted.

Cetárius, a, um, pertaynyng to a whale, or greate fyſſhe.

Cetárius, rij, ma. g. a fyſſhemonger, or taker of greate fyſſhes.

Cethegus, a name of certayne Romaynes, whereof one conſpired with Catiline to deſtroy hys countrey.

Ceti, people in Aſia.

Cetius, a mountayn in Norice, called Calemburg.

Cetra, æ, f. g. a lyght targate.

Cetrátus, a, um, that vſeth ſuch a targate.

Cetráti milites, ſouldiors with light targates.

Cette, for Dicite, or Date, an olde woorde.

Cetus, ti, ma. gen. a great fyſſhe called a whale, or any ſorte of monſtruous greate fyſſhes. Alſo Cete, plu. tantum, idem quod Ceti.

Ceu, as it were, euen as.

Ceu vero, for Quaſi vero, oftetimes in Plini.

Ceua, æ, fœ. gen. a lytle cow that geueth muche mylke

Céueo, es, ére, proprié eſt marium obſcæne clunes motantium: & per metaphoram indecoré adulari.

Ceyx, the male of the byrde called Halcyon.

CHaa, a citee of Peloponeſus, by the fieldes called Ephaſius.

Chaam, called alſo Gog Chaam, is the name of dignitee of the greate Emperoure of Tartarias, called the great Chane of Catape, or Cambalu, whoſe dominion extendeth from the furtheſt parte of the eaſte, vnto the countrey of Ruſſy northweſt, and ſo vnto the northe ſea: on the ſouthe eaſt, vnto the ſouthe or Indian ſea: on the ſouthweſt vnto Perſia: So that by the charte appeareth, there is vnder hym as muche mayn lande within lytle, as is the reſidue of all Aſia, Europa, and Africa.

Chabrias, a noble capitayne and philoſophier of the Athenienſes.

Chære, the imperatiue mode of a greeke verbe, whiche in latin is Salue, God ſperde, well met, and ſuche other ſalutacions.

Chæremon, a greeke poete.

Chærephon, a philoſophier of Athens, the diſciple of Socrates.

Chærephyllon, li, n. g. an herbe, called cheruile.

Chæris, a fooliſſhe mynſtrell.

Chæronea, a towne of Bœtia.

Chala, a towne of Aegypt.

Chalacium, or chalacia, a diſeaſe in the eye, whan there ryſeth a lytle white pymple lyke a hayles ſtone.

Chalæon, an hauen of Locrus.

Chalame, a citee of Perſie, whiche now is called Actiſiphon.

Chalaſsis, ſis, f. g. a kynde of wyde garmentes, and after ſome, the knot, wherwith womens garmentes were knit about theyr neckes.

Chalaſtra, a citee by the boſome of the ſea called Termeum.

Chalaſtricum, or Chalaſtreum nitrum, ſalte peter, which is very pure and like ſalte.

Chalâza, zæ, f. g. a gatherynge vnder the ſkynne lyke the dyſeaſe called Bubo.

Chalázias, a ſtone lyke to hayle, and ſo colde, that no fyre may heate it.

Chalazium, a lytle rounde wert in the eye liddes, which male be moued hither and thyther wyth ones fynger.

Chalcánthum, thi, n. g. coperoſe, or vitriole, a thyng mete to make leather blacke withall, ſhoemakers bleache.

Chalce, an yle and a towne by Rhodes.

Chalcedon, a citee in Aſia, againſt Conſtantinople.

Chalceos, a certayne herbe. Plin. li. 21.

Chalceritis, an yle in Pontus.

Chalcetum, and herbe, Plin. li. 26. cap. 7.

Chalceus, a, um, of braſſe.

Chalcéutice, es, f. gen. an houſe where braſſe is made.

Chalcia, one of the plandes called Cyclades.

Chalcidica, æ, f. g. a kynde of chalky earth, which conſtrueth wheate.

Chalcidium, dij, n. g. a kynde of buyldynge.

Chalcidix, icis, or Chalcides, æ, f. g. a kynde of Lyzardes.

Chalcidicus, a, um, of Chalcis.

Chalciope, the wyfe of Phryxus, and ſyſter to Medea.

Chalcis, cidis, f. g. a fyſſhe of the ſea, of the kynde of turbut.

Chalcis, idis, f. g. the name of a citee in Greece. alſo of an yle, and of a byrde.

Chalcites, a ſtone of the colour of Braſſe.

Chalcitis, is, f. g. a ſtone, wherof braſſe is tried. alſo an plande by the mouth of the ryuer Rhinus in Aſia.

Chalcógraphus, phi, m. g. a paynter.

Chalcophónos, ni, m. g. a blacke ſtone, whiche beynge knocked, ſoundeth lyke braſſe.

Chalcos, ſeu æreola, the. xxvi. parte of a dram. alſo a coyne, the eyght part of Obolus.

Chalcoſmarágdos, di, ma. g. a pretious ſtone in Cypres, which hath in it braſen veynes.

Chaldæa, a countrey, which (as Strabo writeth) ſoyngneth to Arabia, and to the ſea Perſicum. Solinus and Plinius name that countrey Chaldea, where the greate citee of Babylon ſtoode. In the new chartes, it is ſette in this wyſe: On the weſt it ſoyngneth on Meſopotamia: on the north vpon Aſſyria, and Media: on the eaſt vpō Perſia: on the ſouthe vpon Arabia deſerta, and so is it farre from Judea. They haue a proper language, somewhat like to hebrue, but their letters are vnlike to any other. Strabo nameth the countrey, where the people Chalabes dwell, Chaldæa.

Chaldæi, be taken for greate astronomers of the countrey of Assyria.

Chalestra, a citee in Thessaly, on the sea cost.

Chalix, a kynd stone, out of which fyre is striken.

Chalybes, a people in the lesse Asia, in the countrey called Pontus, whiche digge greate plentie of yron, and goe naked. It is also the name of a ryuer in Spayne.

Chalybs, lỹbis, m. g. steele. sometyme it is vsed for a thynge made of steele.

Chamæ, arum, a kynde of shelfishes in the sea, which some call Hiatulæ, and make therof, two kyndes.

Chamæácte, es, f. g. looke Ebulus.

Chamæcérasus, a littell tree, or shrubbe, like the ponge shooteth that springe out of the roote of a plumme tree: of it be two kyndes, the one called Chamædaphne, the other Laurus Alexãdrina

Chamæcissos, called also Hedera terrestris, and Corona terræ, an herbe called grounde pype, of some hare hoke, of other perwincle.

Chamæcyparissus, si, f. gen. an herbe, holsome agaynst the venome of al serpentes, it is of many taken for Lauander cotten: al be it Turner iudgeth it rather to be an other herbe, which is more like to Cypres, and nameth it heath Cypres, or dwarfe Cypres.

Chamædaphne, es, f. g. an herbe, which groweth in lengthe, wyndyng together in dyuers partes, and hath leaues like to a laurell or bape, and a floure like to a violet, and is called of some men Perwyncle. Of Plinie it is named Vinca peruinca. But Ruellius affyrmeth it to be an other herbe.

Chamædrys, drys, f. gen. called also Trissago, Serrata, or Serratula, commonlye Quercula minor, the herbe called Germander, or englisth triacle, it groweth wilde in the towne welles of Orkonde.

Chamædrocontes, a kynde of serpentes.

Chamægiron, idem quod Tussilago Diosc.

Chamælæa, æ, f. gen. an herbe haupnge leaues like olyue.

Chamæleon, ônis, f. g. an herbe, wherof be two kyndes: One called Albus, is in maner of a lytell thystell, growynge by the grounde, without any stalke, puttynge vp prickes like an hedges hogge, haupng in the myddle a knap full of prickes, on a shorte stalke, in which doo appere purple floures, that growe into plummes, fleeth awaye with the wynde, like as of other thystles, hath a white roote and sweete, groweth on olde landes, and bare hilles. The other (called Chamæleon niger) is the common thystell, whiche hath a great longe stalke, somwhat ruddy, on the top a rounde knap with sharpe floures, chaungeable of colour.

Chamæleon, ôntis, m. g. a lyttell beaste, haupng his shynne spotted like a lybarde, whiche chaungeth into dyuers colours, accordyng to the thing that he seeth. They be ingendred in India, of the quantitee and figure of a lyzarde, but their legges be longer. They go vpright, and haue the shoute like a swyne, a longe tayle, and smalle at the ende. Their eyen be neuer closed, they neuer eate nor drynke but are nourished by the ayre onely.

Chamæleuce, es, f. g. called also Bechion, Vngula caballina, and Tussilago, an herbe, growyng by riuers sydes, haupng leaues like a popular, but much greater, colles hoofe.

Chamæmelon, li, n. g. an herbe called camomill, of this be three kyndes, the first Leucanthemon, because it hath a white flower, and other bearies is named Camomilla Romana, in englisth camompll. The seconde Chrysanthemon, because it hath a golden flower, it may be called in englysthe pealow comomill. The thyrd named Eranthemon, not much in England. some call it Amarisca rubea, redde mathes, other redde mayde wede, other purple camomill.

Chamæmyrsỹne, es, f. g. a bushe or tree, whiche hath sharpe prickes in the leaues, and red bearies clustered. Of some it is taken for that kynde of heath, wherof they make brusshes in Italy, called also Ruscus, Brusc.

Chamæpitys, itys, fœ. g. called also Aiuga, or Abiga, somtime Ibiga, cõmonly Iua, an herbe, wherof be. iii. kyndes: One is commonly called herbe pype, but it is not that, whiche is described of Dioscorides, although it haue bene prosured to haue like vertue. The second is the smalle cypres, set in pottes: The thyrde is supposed to be that, which is called saynct Johns wort.

Chamæplatanus, a shorte plane tree.

Chamærops, a certayne herbe.

Chamætæræ, arum, maydens, which were wont to sit at their maystresses feete: or rather lyttell ymages set by great ymages.

Chamæzelon, li, ne. g. an herbe, called cinquefoyle.

Chamærepes, a kynde of date trees, growynge in Candie and Sicilie.

Chamæropis, is, f. g. of some is thought to be the same herbe that Diosc. calleth Chamædrys, or Chamædropis.

Chamæthyten, idem quod Struthion, trade there.

Chamæsyce, of Dioscor. called Astragalus, and also papauer satiuum, li. 4. cap. 63. & 65.

Chamelopardalis, a beaste, which is as greate as a camell, of shynne and colour like a panther, haupng spottes of dyuers colours his foreleggs and necke are longe, and the head like a camell, his feete and legges like an oxe.

Chamelus, looke Camelus.

Chamepence, a very rare herbe, of some named Pelle-

Pelie Larix.
Chamus, i, m. g. a bridell or ſnaffle.
Chanona, næ, f. g. a tarte or marchepayne, or other lyke delicate thynge.
Chāōnēs, people of the countrey of Epire in Greece: the countrey is called Chāōnia.
Chāōnis, idis, the feminine of Chaus.
Chāos, n. g. vnderlyned, a confuſe matter wythout forme, made fyrſt of nothynge, wherof poetes ſuppoſed all other thynges to proceede. Sometyme it is taken for hell.
Chara, æ, f. g. a certayne roote.
Characātus, a, um, trenched, or incloſed in.
Characatæ vineæ, vynes incloſed with canes or reedes in ſteede of pales.
Charācias, a kynde of herbe called ſpurge.
Character, ēris, m. g. a token, a note made with a pen, a figure, a ſtyle or forme in ſpeakynge.
Characteres, letters.
Charactiſmos, mi, maſc. gene. a notynge, or markynge.
Charadra, is that chenke or cleft of the earthe, that the rayne water, or a violent ſtreame rennynge downe from hilles, and other while the earth quake, maketh.
Charadrius, drij, m. g. a great deuourynge byrde of the ſea.
Charadrus, a meere or poole by Cilicia, nere the ryuer Caradrus.
Charax, a fyſſhe, called alſo Dentix, with teeth ſtandyng out of his lippes. It is a brode fiſſhe, ſomwhat redde, with a chaungeable colour.
Charax, âcis, m. g. a place where the Carthagiſenſes kepte their marte. Alſo a trenche. ſome tyme the ſtay or frame of a vyne.
Charchari, orum, certayne fyſſhes.
Charaxes, the brother of Sapphus.
Charchēſium, ſii, n. g. a cuppe, longe and ſmalle in the middell, and full of handels.
Chares, retis, a capitaine of Athens. alſo a caruer, the ſcholar of Lyſippus.
Charetes, a duke of Athens, whiche would promiſe euery thyng, and naught performe.
Charientiſmos, vel aniter, pleaſantneſſe of ſpeeche. Alſo a figure, whan a thynge hard to be ſpoken, is pleaſantly pronounced.
Charillus, a capitayne of Lacedemonia.
Chariophilon, looke Cariophilon.
Charis, charitis. f. g. grace, pleaſauntneſſe, a pleaſure, a good tourne.
Chariſius, an oratour of Athens, or a grāmarian.
Chariſma, ātis, n. g. grace, a thankefull gifte.
Chariſtia, orum, neu. gen. plu. nu. as it were a Chriſtmas feaſte, or a wake, where kynſfolke doo reſorte together, bryngyng or ſendynge preſentes mutually.
Chariſtium, or Chariſtrum, a greene marble.
Chariſtion looke Carceratinum.
Chariſticon, ci, n. g. rewardyng.
Charitas, ātis, f. g. charitee, or loue, prōpely to warde a mans countrey or neyghbours.
Charitāte reipublicæ aliquid facere, to doo a thynge for the loue that he beareth to the common weale.
Conſiliare charitatem, to get loue and fauour.
Charites, the graces, whiche were ſuppoſed to bee the daughters of Jupiter, thre in numbre, whoſe names were Aglaia, Thalia, and Euphroſyne. And where in ſpeakyng or writyng appereth to bee a meruayloꝰ delectation or ſweetneſſe, it was ſayde, that therin was a grace, in Greeke Charis.
Charitónius, a, um, that ſpeaketh fayre to wyn fauour, or whoſe fauour may be bought or won with gifres.
Charmāſynum, māſyni, neut. gene. a kynde of ſpike, whiche delyteth the beholders, I thynke it is cryſmen.
Charmione, the handmayde of Cleopatra, that wyllyngly died with hir maiſtreſſe.
Charmonia, a citee in Spayne.
Charon, tis, was named of the papynms, the boteman that caried ſoules ouer the thre ryuers of hell, Acheron, Stix, and Cocytus. It is alſo the name of three hiſtoriographers.
Charonia, a countrey by Hierapolis.
Charonium, a certayne denne, conſecrate to Pluto, and Juno.
Charopes, a Troyane, the ſonne of Hippaſus.
Charopus, charopi, m. g. amiable, pleaſant, or haupnge a good grace.
Charta, æ, for. g. paper. alſo a leafe of paper, or other lyke thynge, wherin we doo wryte. Alſo any thynge conteynyng the deſcripcion of a place in picture. Alſo a mayden that had neuer childe. It is ſometyme taken for that, whiche is wryten in paper. Sometyme a booke.
Chartas cōdicis explicare, to turne the leaues of a booke.
Bibula charta, paper that wyll not beare inke.
Dentata charta rem agere, to wryte ſharpely, angerly, tauntingly, or with a ſtomake, to one of any matter.
Epiſtolaris charta, fyne wrytynge paper.
Charta plumbea, a thynne and flatte plate of ledde lyke a leafe.
Pura charta, cleane paper, wherin nothynge is wryten.
In charta aduerſa ſcribere, to wryte on the backe ſyde of the paper.
Chartāceus, a, um, of paper.
Chartārius, a, um, idem.
Chartariæ officine, paper mylles.
Chartārius, rij, maſ. gene. a maker or ſeller of paper.
Chartilāgo, looke Cartilago.
Chartophylācium, cij, n. g. a place, where wryttynges or monumentes are kepte: as the rolles. And the mayſter of the Rolles may bee called Chartophylax, or Magiſter ſcriniorū, whiche office had Vlpianus the greate lawier with the emperour Alexander Seuerus. It may well bee vsed for a coffar, or any other lyke place in a stu-dy or closet, where one keepeth his wrytynges, bookes euidences, rolles, and suche other.

Chártula, læ, f. g. a lytell leafe of paper.

Chartulárius, rij, m. g. a name that one hath for a certayne office. after some a paper sellar. but rather one that doeth regester thynges, that be receiued and laied out, one that kepeth a regester or booke of accomptes.

Chartupratus, ti, m. g. one that selleth paper.

Charundas, the name of a man which gaue lawes to the Athenienses.

Charus, a, um, deere, well be loued, acceptable.

Charum habere, to loue earnestly.

Habere aliquem se ipso chariorem, to loue one better than him selfe.

Amare, & charum habere.

Sibi charum esse, to loue ones selfe.

Charybdis, a goulfe of the sea by Sicile, wherin is daungerous saylynge, by reason of streames flowynge contrary eche agaynst other, wherby shippes be therin deuoured. It is also taken for a great heape of mischiefes.

Chastanon, idem quod Lappa.

Chasma, chásmatis, n. g. a gappynge or openynge of the firmament, or of the earth.

Chasmáticus, a, um, the adiectiue.

Chasmáticus terræ motus, an earthe quake, which causeth such cleaupng and gappnge of the grounde.

Chatti, people of Germany.

Chaus, i, m. g. a kynde of woulfes, called also Ceruarij, looke there.

Chedra, æ, f. g. one kinde of the herbe Hippuris,

Chelæ, arum, f. g. the clewes, or the forepartes of the sygne called Scorpion.

Chelidium minus, the herbe called gyle worte.

Chélidon, ónis, f. g. a swalow. also a lytle fysshe lyke Polypus.

Chelidónia, æ, f. g. an herbe called Selandyne. also a westerne wynde, a kynde of fygge trees, a precious stone, and a certayne serpent.

Chelidoniæ, two plandes ouer agaynst the moun tayne Taurus.

Chelidonij, lytell stones founde in the maw of a swalow.

Chelidonion micron, the herbe Fumitory. Dios.

Chelidónium, nij, n. g. an elbow of the mountain Taurus, lyyng into the sea. also the weede called Vitis alba.

Chelonalopices, I suppose to be the byrdes, whi-che we doo call Barnacles.

Chelonates, a promontorie of Achaia.

Chelóne, es, f. g. idem quod testudo.

Chelónia, æ, f. ge. an eredynge greate eye of the Indian Tortoyse, and is a kynde of precious stones.

Chelonitides, a precious stone lyke the Tortoyse shell.

Chelónium, nij, n. g. the shell of a Tortoyse.

Chelonóphagi, a people in Carmania, whiche lyue by eatynge Tortoyses, where are founde so greate, that they couer theyr caues with the shelles.

Chelon, lónis, m. g. idem quod Banchus.

Chelýdrus, dri, m. g. a serpent that lyueth bothe in the water and on the lande. also a certayne ornament geuen vnto women.

Chelyon, lyi, n. ge. a tortoyse shell.

Chelys, ys, f. g. a tortoyse. sometyme it is taken for an harpe or lute, because the fyrste lute was made of a tortoyse shell.

Chema, a measure of the Grecches, contaynynge two Cochlearia, whiche receyueth of wyne in poyse or weyght. ii. drammes. i. scruple. iii. grapnes, and. iiii. fyue partes of a grayne.

Chemites, a maner of tombe lyke to puotp.

Chemnis, is an plande, as Pomponius writeth.

Chémosis, a disease or faute in the eies, when by a vehement and extreme feare, bothe the eye lidde are so tourned, that he may shant moue them, and the whyte of the eye beyng distort ouer the blacke, becometh somewhat ruddie.

Chenalópex, pecis, a byrde of the kynde of gese, somewhat longer and bigger then a ducke, lyuynge in the water, bredyng sometyme in conye holes, sometyme in holow places in roches, it is named a Bergander, reade Elianus of the nature of this byrde.

Cheniscus, sci, m. g. a parte of the shyppe, where-by the anker doeth hange, made lyke a goose necke.

Chenobóscium, scij, n. g. a place where gese be fedde.

Chenómicon, or chenomychon, chi, n. g. an herbe, wherof geese be a fraydc.

Chénopus, pi, m. g. a goose foote. Also an herbe lyke a goose foote.

Chenotróphia, æ, f. g. houses, or places, where water foules are kept.

Chenópina, æ, f. ge. the halfe pynte of Paryse measure, that is. xvi ounces, iust our pynte.

Cheops, a kynge of Egypt, which made the greate steeple at Memphis, wherin were so many men worknynge, that he spente onely in perslip, opnyons, and garlyke. 1060. talentes, whiche (if it were the great talent) amounted of our money to. 250550. pounders.

Chepren, the brother of Cheops, and regned after hym.

Cheramides, dis, mas. gen. a certayne precious stone.

Cheria, æ, f. g. wylde radyshe.

Cherophillum, the herbe called Cherule.

Cherilus, an vnlearned poete, that wrate the gestes of greate Alexander. And of all hys great wooxke there were but. vii. verses alowed. For the whiche he was rewarded with. vii. pieces of golde. And for eche other verse he had a good buffette.

Cherinthus, an heretyke, whiche affirmed, that Chryste shoulde come and regne in the worlde the the ſpace of .1000. yeares, and during that tyme men ſhould lyue in all carnall delytes, and afterwarde come vp to heauen, where they ſhould euer liue in the pleaſures of gluttony, and leacherie. he denied Chriſte to be any other than pure man. He receyued onely the goſpell of ſaynete Mathew, and reiected the other euangelyſtes, and the actes of the apoſties. he was aboute the yere of our lorde. 88.

Chernites, tis, m. g. a ſtone lyke vyoxy.

Chernitus, a childe of excellente fauour, who abandoned him ſelfe to the filthy imbracynge of men.

Cherroneſus, idem quod Peninſula, the parte of Greece now called Morea. It is ſometyme taken for the noxthe parte of the great Aſia. It is alſo called Cherſoneſus.

Cherſidamas, a Troyan.

Cherſina, næ, f. g. a kynde of lande ſnayles.

Cherſos, or Cherſon, a lande or grounde vntyll led and vnmanured.

Cherſydrus, dri, m. g. a kynde of ſerpentes in Lalabria, which liue both on lande and water.

Cherubin, one of the holye orders of angelles, wherin is the ſcience diuine and miſticall.

Cheruſci, a people of Germany.

Chia, a ſerpentes den. Alſo a maydens name in Horace, and a certayne plande.

Chibis, is, f. g. an herbe, whiche of ſome is called alſo Mroxtana.

Chidnæi, people about Pontus.

Chidorus, a ryuer of Macedonie.

Chiliarchus, chi, m. g. a capitayne of a thouſand men. It is the ſame office that Tribunus militum was amonge the Romaynes.

Chilias, liadis, f. g. the numbre of a thouſande.

Chiliaſtæ, were chriſten men, which helde thys opinion, That Chriſte ſhould come perſonally and regne as a kynge in this worlde, a thouſand yeres, of which opinion was Lactantius.

Chilo, ónis, maſ. gen. one of the .vii. wyſe men of Greece. alſo one that hath great lyppes.

Chimæra, ræ, f. g. a mountayne in Licia, oute of the whych yſſueth fyre. It is alſo a monſter hauyng three heades, One lyke a lyon, an other lyke a gote, the thyrde lyke a dragon. after Homere, it is a beaſt inuincible.

Chimærij, a people borderynge on the Amazons, and all people dwellyng in colde countreys are called Chimerij.

Chimaſtrum, tri, n. g. a winter garment, it may be vſed for a fryſe frocke or gowne furred.

Chimerine, the herbe named Arxoum minus.

Chimerinus, ni, m. g. a circle in heauen into the whiche whan the ſonne cometh, the dayes be at the ſhorteſt.

Chimerium, an hill in Theſſaly.

Chione, es, a famous harlotte.

Chios, looke Chius.

Chiræ, rarum, ruptures in the ſtrete.

Chiragra, æ, f. g. the goute in the fyngers.

Chirágricus, a, um, he that hath ſuche a diſeaſe.

Chiridôta, tæ, for. gen. a garment that hath very longe ſleaues, to couer the handes: this kynde of garment is named alſo Macrochera, Manuleata, and Dalmatica, it is vſed of nice and tender perſons, that can abyde no colde.

Chirocrates, the name of a famous carpenter.

Chirographárius, a, um, pertaynynge to an obligation, ſygne manuell, or ſubſcription.

Chirographarius creditor, is he that hath but a byll or a ſedule of ones hande, for the ſuretee of his dette.

Chirographarius debitor, a dettour that leaueth a byll of his owne hande writing, or by his owne hande writynge in a boke, doth teſtifie him ſelfe to owe a ſomme of money.

Chirógraphus, i, m. g. & Chirographum, i, n. g a ſygnyng or ſubſcribynge of a writynge or letter with a mans owne hande. An obligation or like inſtrument, wherby a man is bounden, and hath put to his hand. alſo a bill of a mans owne hande.

Chirographum imitari, to counterfaite a ſygne manuell, or ſubſcription.

Inane chirographum factum ſolutione, the obligation is voyde, when the money is payde.

Suo chirographo miſit mihi litteras, he ſente me letters ſygned with his owne hande, or written with his owne hande.

Chirogylium, an plande.

Chirogylius, lij, m. g. an hedgehogge.

Chiromántes, he that telleth mens fortune, by palmeſtry.

Chiromántia, tiæ, f. g. palmeſtry.

Chiron, ónis, the name of a man who dyd fyrſte fynde the vertues of Herbes: He taught Eſculapius Phyſycke, Apollo to harpe, and Hercules aſtronomie. he was mayſter to Achilles, and excelled all other men in hys tyme in vertue and iuſtice.

Chirónia, æ, f. g. is a foule ſore, harde to bee cured, by ſphelphodde it is that, whiche is called Noli me tangere, It is alſo a wylde vyne, called Bryonie.

Chironium, an herbe called Centauria maior, in engliſhe Centory the greater. It is hot and dyie in the ſeconde degree.

Chironómia, æ, f. g. a facion of geſture with the handes, vſed in daunſynge, as in a morys daunce or in herynge of meate.

Chironomica ſaltatio, the morys daunce.

Chirónomon, ónris, ma. gen. idem quod Chironomus.

Chirónomus, i, ma. gen. he that teacheth one to make geſture, or he that daunſeth with geſture of the handes in a morys.

Chirópedes, they whiche haue certayne ruptures in theyr feete.

Chirotheſia, æ, f. g. the putting on of ones hãdes.

Chirothêca, f. g. a gloue.

Chirúrgia, æ, f. g. ſurgery.

Chirúrgus,i, m.g. a surgeon.

Chius. an yle by Greece in the sea Egeum, whiche (as Strabo writeth) is in compasse. 900. furlonges, which is an hundred Italyan myles. In this yle doo growe verye good malmeseys, and other hotte wynes. Some greke authours write, that it cannot be remembred, that within that countrey, was any auoutrie committed or vnlawfull companyng of women amonge them selues.

Chius ad Coum, A prouerbe, notyng a very vnequall comparison, as an ase to a fise.

Chius, (after some) is a citee of Caria, an other of Eubœa, an other of Rhodes, by Troia.

Chius,a,um, of Chius.

Chlæna, a maner of vpper garmentes.

Chlamýdula,læ,f.g. a diminutiue of Chlamys.

Chlamydâtus a,um, cloked.

Chlamys, chlámydis,fœm.gen. a cloke, properly worne by men of warre. also a chyldes garment.

Chlórion,ónis,ma.g. a greene byrde, as greate as a turtill, which is neuer seene but in summer. Gaza translateth it Vireo: after Plinie it is pealow lyke golde, a witwoll.

Chloris,chlóridis,f.g. the daughter of Amphion, and wyfe of Neleus, and mother of Nestor. Also the goddesse of flowres. also a byrde, looke Luteola.

Chloris,ridis, f.g. a byrde. looke Luteola.

Chlorites,tis,masc.gen. a precious stone, greene lyke grasse.

Choa, æ,f.g. a certayne measure, looke Chus. Also a vessell, wherin was putte licour, whiche was offred to ydolles.

Choa in triclinio, A prouerbe, spoken of a great drunkarde, whiche will empty a vessell at one draught.

Choacon, rather then Coacon. looke there.

Choaspes, a famous ryuer in Asia, which renneth into the great ryuer Tygris.

Choaspites, a precious stone.

Choatræ, a people aboute Meotis.

Chobar, signifieth all the greate fluddes that are in the region of Caldea.

Chœmis, was a space of grounde amonge the Jewes, contayning. iiii. myles Italyan.

Chœnicion,cij,n.g. or Chœnicon,a certayne instrument of surgery, called in Latine Modiolus, wherwith they cut out litle bones.

Chœnix,icis,f.ge. a measure contayning (after Ruellius) iiii. Sextarios, which amounteth to xl. ounces, or pnche measures, so is it lasse than our quarte. After Agricola it contayneth three Cotylas: And than is the measure vncertayne. For Galene sayth, there were diuers opinions of the measure Cotyla. Not withstanding this measure was so common amonge the auncient Grekes, that therby they measured as muche meate as should suffyse their seruannts for one day, as Suidas remembreth, in expounding a place of Homere.

Chœnicine insideas, was one of the rounsayles of wyse Pythagoras, whiche sayneth hiscome doeth in this wyse expound: Be not much carefull, how thou shalte lyue to morow. Plutarchus in thys wyse: Leaue some for to morowe. For he sayth, that in the olde tyme it was not lefull to take vp the table, without any thing lefte: whiche exposition is contrary to Sayncte Hieromes. Erasmus doth declare it in this wise. Men ought not by pdelnesse and slouthe, to eate that, which other men pay for: but by theyr owne labour and study to get somwhat, wherby they may honestly lyue.

Chœnix, (after Budei) a measure contaynyng ii. sextarios, euery sextarius, holdyng two pounde of Romayne weyght, that is xviii. ounces: so that Chœnix holdeth xlviii ounces, whiche is more then our quarte. xvi ounces. by this, amonge the Grecians they measured so muche corne as might suffice a man one day: and therfore it is taken for Cibariũ diurnũ. Philiciens accompte but. xviii ounces to Sextarius, and then Chœnix, is but. xxxvi. ounces. Gesnerus, in his laste edition, maketh it but. xx. ounces, wherat I meruayle.

Chœrilus, a poete, whiche wrate the Athenens victorye agaynste Xerres, and the gestes of Alexander magnus. He dyed in prisonne for hunger.

Chola,læ,f.g. a precious stone.

Cholemæsia,est vomitio biliosa.

Chólera,æ, f.ge. one of the. iiii. principall humours, called choler. Also a sickenesse of the stomacke and bowelles, wherin happeneth bothe vomite and flixe, with tourment of the bowels, sendyng foorthe choler vpwarde and downe warde, fyrste watery, afterwarde lyke as flesshe had ben washed in it. It is ingendred by inordinate feeding of longe tyme, specially of rawfruites and mushcromes, muche vse of cucumbers, pompones, and all fruites very colde, whiche eaten after meales, er the meate be digested, are corrupted in the stomacke, and doo ingender a venemous iuyce, whiche nature may not susteine: And therefore expelleth it with vyolence.

Choléricus,a, um, colerike.

Cholericatormina, tormentes or frettynges of the bowels, that come of choler.

Choliámbi,orum,m.g. a kynde of verses made of the foote of meter called Iambus.

Cholon,li, neu.ge. the gut, wherin the ordure or dregges of the meate is formed, and comyng from the lefte kydney, toucheth the splene, and ryseng vp to the ryght syde of the stomache, cometh by the ryuer, and receyueth a lyttell choler from the gaulle: by the sharpenesse whereof, the ordure is prouoked to descende, and made redye to passe.

Choma,chómatis, n.g. a water banke, to kepe in ryuers, that they ouerflow not.

Cho-

Chomer, looke Corus.
Chondros, idem quod granum thuris.
Chondrus, idem quod Alica.
Chondrilla, læ, f.g. an herbe that groweth not in Englande. it hath leaues lyke succorie, and stalkes lyke rushes, & therfore may be called Rushe succorie, it hath a clamme iuyce.
Chondros, dri, ma. g. called also Xiphontes, a bone or gristle, that cometh ouer the mouthe of the stomake, ordeyned of nature for a defense of the same.
Chondrosynthesmon, mi, neut. gene. a certayne constitucion in the body, looke Galen. li. 1. de temper. à fine.
Chorágium, rágii, n. ge. stuffe, properly wherewith the place is adorned, where enterludes or disguysynges shall be. Also the apparaile of the players, and by translacion the ornament or deckyng of any thynge.
Chóragus, i, mas. g. he that kepeth suche stuffe or apparayle, or is at the charge to set forth plaies.
Choralistria Phyllis, a woman that Propercius loued, which daunced lyncly.
Chorannei, certeyne men that lyue in woodes in Persia, whiche are so swyft, that they take hares with rennyng.
Choráula, æ, and Choráules, æ, or lis, mas. gen. one that playeth on a flute, shaulme, or other pype, a mynstrell.
Choraula, læ, the feate or arte to playe on a flute recorder or lyke instrumente.
Choraules monumentarij, suche mynstrelles as play at burials or interrmentes.
Chorda, æ, fœ. g. a strynge of an harpe or lute, or other instrument.
Experire chordas, to saye the strynges, whither they be in tune or not.
Prætendere chordas, idem.
Oberrare eadem chorda, to happe alwayes on one strynge.
Chordapson, si, neu.ge. the sickenes called Illiaca passio. Reade more in Illiaca passio.
Chordi agni, lambes caned after their tyme.
Chordum, di, neu.gen. or Chordum fœnum, latewarde hey, or hey that is very late ere it can be made.
Chórea, æ, fœ. ge. a daunce, where many daunce together.
Choreuma, ătis, n.g. a songe, whan many synge and daunce togither.
Choreus, looke Chorius.
Chorécutes, ma. g. one of a company that be together syngynge, a quire man.
Chorámbus, bi, ma. g. a foote in meter. whyche hath the first and laste syllable longe, and .ii. in the middell shorte.
Chorineus, a mans name.
Chorius, a foote in meter, which by an other name is called Trochæus, and is but of two syllables the fyrst longe, and the seconde shorte.
Chorobates, tis, a measure, to mette ground with or a masons rule. Some describe it to be an instrument, or measure to weigh water with.
Chorocitharista, tæ, masc. gen. he that leadeth a daunce, or playeth him selfe on an instrument.
Chorodidascalus, li, m. g. the mayster of a company of daunters or syngers.
Choræbus, was one of Athens, whiche dyd fyrste inuente the makynge of erthen vessell. also the name of a ponge man mencioned of Vyrgill.
Chorodanon, idem quod Sphondylion. Dioscor.
Chorographia, æ, f. g. the particuler description of countreys.
Chorographus, phi, m.g. a describer of regions or countreys.
Chorostrates, m. g. a chaunter.
Chors, tis, fœ. g. a place inclosed, wherin cattell or poultry is kept, called in some places a barton. some vse it for a penne, or coupe, wherin hennes and capons be fedde.
Chortális, lẽ, of or pertaynynge to suche a courte or barton.
Chortales aues, poultry feedynge abrode in a barton or court of husbandry.
Chortos, ti, m.g. hey or grasse mowen.
Chorus, a measure, looke Corus.
Chorus, i, m. g. a companye of players or daunsers. Sometyme an other assemblee of people together.
Semiuiri chori, the company of Sybilles priestes, which were all gelded.
Virtutum chorus, the whole company of vertues.
Iuuentutis choro stipari, to haue a great company of ponge men aboute him.
Scriptorum chorus, all writers.
Chorus circularis, a rounde, when men daunce and synge tahynge handes rounde.
Virginens chorus, a company of maydens singyng and daunsynge.
Chosroes, a kynge of the Perthyans, excellently well learned.
Chresis, is vse, & Catachresis, abusion.
Chreston, sti, n.g. an herbe called eyebry.
Chrestus, the name of a noble sophyster of Byzance.
Chria, æ, f. g. a notable sentence, spoken shortly, to exhorte to vertue, or dissuade from vice, referryng the authours name with all.
Chrisis, sis, f. g. vnction.
Christodórus, a poete of Egypt, in the tyme of Anastasius the emperour, an other of Thebes.
Christus, sti, ma. g. annoynted, the surname of our redeemer.
Chromáticus, ci, masc. gen. whose colour neuer chaungeth, but is alwayes one: One that neuer blusheth.
Chrombus, bi, m. g. a certayne fyshe.
Chromis, a fyshe that maketh a nest in the water, Plin. li. 32 cap. 2.
Chromis, the sonne of Hercules. Also a boye mens tioned of Virgile.

Chromius, one of Argiue.
Chronia, looke Cronia.
Chrónica, cõrum, n. g. an hiſtory of actes doen, with the tyme expreſſed, chronicles.
Chrónicus, a, um, temperall, or pertenynge to tyme, returnyng at a certayne time.
Chroniſco, looke Croniſco.
Chronoleri, olde dotardes.
Chronos, ni, m. g. time.
Chryſamon, mi, n. g. idem quod Ballûca.
Chryſa, a citee of Phrygia, and an yſlande of Inſdie. alſo a riuer in the countrey of Syracuſe.
Chryſalis, lis, f. g. a certaine permyne or wormc, called of Ariſtotle Xylotropos.
Chryſanthemum, mi, neu. gene. the herbe called crowfoote, whiche hath pealow flowers, comonly called goldknappes. And where ſoeuer this herbe groweth, who that wyll dygge ſhall fynde water, looke Chamæmelon.
Chryſaor, the ſonne of Neptune, begotten of the head of Meduſa.
Chryſas, a ryuer, that the Pagans worſhypped for a god.
Chryſe, an yle, whiche Plinie and Solinus doo ſet out in the mouth of the famous riuer Indus where (as Martianus writeth) is ſuch abundaunce of fyne golde, that therof, the yle tooke his name. For Chryſos, is in engliſhe, golde. It is alſo a citee by Lemnus.
Chryſei, ſterres that ſeme to caſte bryght pealowe beames.
Chryſelectrus, a, um, that hath the colour of the pealow electrum.
Chryſendeta, cuppes haunge borders of gold, as our maſers and nuttes were wonte to haue, and therfore they may bee ſo called.
Chryſes, a prophete amonge the Gentyles. alſo a mayden gyuen by the Greekes to Agamemnon at the battayle of Troy.
Chryſippea, an herbe.
Chryſippus, a noble philoſophier, borne in Licia, in the towne Solæ, as Solinus wryteth, but Laertius wryteth, that he was borne in Tarſus: he was of the ſecte called Stoici.
Chryſites, tis, m. g. a precious ſtone.
Chroſitis, the ſkymme, which is on golde bryngе molten. alſo an herbe called Chryſocome.
Chryſoaſpides, dum, ma. g. knyghtes that had ſhieldes gylted.
Chryſocerillus, li, m. g. a chriſtall ſtone, wherin the colour of golde ſhyneth.
Chryſocalis, the herbe Parthenium.
Chryſoceras, a promontory of Thrace by Byzaunce.
Chryſocólla, læ, f. g. a ſtone, with the poulder wherof peyncters doo make a golden colour. Alſo goldſmithes doo vſe it to ſoulder golde.
Chryſócoma, mæ, f. g. golden heare.
Chryſócome, es, f. g. an herbe like to Pulegium.
Chryſócomus, a, um, that hath pealow or golden heare.
Chryſógonum, ni, neu. g. that bryngeth forthe golde. alſo an herbe deſcribed of Dio. li. 4. ca. 59
Chryſógonus, a mans name.
Chryſoláchanon, m, n. g. an herbe called Orage, in latyne Atriplex.
Chryſolampis, a ſtone of fyre colour by nyght, and pale in the day tyme.
Chryſolectrum, tri, n. g. a ſtone of golden colour, and in the mornyng moſt pleaſaunt to ſee.
Chryſólitus, a precious ſtone of the kinde of Jaſper, and in colour lyke golde.
Chryſomallon, li, the ramme that bare the golden fleece.
Chryſomitris, tris, f. g. a golde lynche.
Chryſoma, idem quod Ballûca.
Chryſomêla, ôrum, neu. ge. pealow quinces, of Virgyll they are called Aurea poma, as Ruelius ſuppoſeth. ſome take them to bee the ſame that mala armeniaca be.
Chryſon, or Chryſos, a fyſſhe, which after ſome, is that which is called Aurâta.
Chryſoplycium, cij, n. g. an houſe, where golde is fyned or tried from other mettalles.
Chryſoplytes, tum, m. g. golde fyners.
Chryſopolis, a citee of Bithinia.
Chryſopraſus, a ſtone greene as a leeke, myxed with a bryghtneſſe of golden colour.
Chryſorrhoas, a ryuer that renneth by Damaſcus in Syria.
Chryſos, golde.
Chryſóſthemis, the daughter of Agamemnon, and Clytemneſtra.
Chryſóſtomus, the name of a byſſhop of Conſtantinople, and alſo of an hiſtorian, whiche were ſo called for their eloquence. For Chryſoſtomus is in engliſhe, a golden mouthe.
Chryxus, the neuew of Brennus, vnder whome the Galles inuaded Rome.
Chutra, idem quod Chytra.
Chus, vel Choa, a meaſure of the Greekes, of the whiche be .iiii. ſortes: On called Attica, or Medica, and conteyneth .vi. Sextarios atticos, whiche is of engliſhe meaſure one pottell and halfe a pynte: An other called Georgica, and is of engliſhe meaſure .vi. pyntes, an halfe, and a quarter: that is in poyſe of oyle .xi. li. and three ounces: Of wyne .xii. li. and an halfe. Of hony .xviii. li. and .ix. ounces. In other is Veterinaria, or of them, which cure cattel, which receiueth of our meaſure a pottell and a quarte: And in weyght of wyne .xi. li. one ounce .ii. drammes .ii. ſcruples: of oyle .viii. li. of honye xvi. li. an halfe, one ounce. di. and one dram.
Chus, vel Choa, idē quod congius, looke there.
Chylaodinamis, the herbe Pelomonia. Dioſc.
Chylus, li, m. ge. a certayne iuyce as thycke as Ptiſan, which commeth of the meate in the firſt digeſtion. Iuuen.
Chymoſis, a moyſture in the ſkynne, which incloſeth the eie.

Chymus,

Chymus, mi, m. g. the iuyce proceadynge of meate digested, whiche by the veynes cometh into the membres, and restoreth that whiche is consumed by heate.

Chytra, træ, f. g. & Chytron tri, n. g. a potte to sette on the fyre.

Chytrapus, ŏdis, m. g. a triuet, cradel, or brandyron, wheron pottes are set to boyle meate. also a possenet, skillet, or potte that hath feete.

Cibâlis, le, pertaynynge to meate.

Cibárium, rij, neu. gen. foode, meeate, sustenaunce.

Cibárius, a, um, pertaynynge to meate, vytayle, or sustenaunce. also vile, simple.

Cibarius homo, a vyle person.

Cibarius panis, ranged bread, or crible bread, course bread.

Cibarium vinum, small or yll wyne.

Cibaria menstrua, vitayles for a month space.

Inopia cibariorum, starsitee and lacke of vytayles.

Dare cibaria alicui, to fynde one meate and drynke.

Cibaria publicè locare, to fynde meate of the common cost.

Cibarium oleum, meate oyle.

Cibarium, is taken for meale after the floure is boulted out.

Cibarci, people of Spayne.

Cibâtus, us, m. g. vytayles.

Cibéle, or rather Cybele, es, the daughter of Minois, king of Creta, she was cast out into the desserte, nourished with beastes, and founde by a woman that kepte sheepe, and by her nourished: after she became meruaylous fayre and wyse, she founde fyrst the pype and tabour, and cimbals amonge the greeches, more ouer the education of chylderne, all whiche she so tenderly loued, that for the death of a chylde, called Atis, she became madde. Afterwarde she was honoured of the gentyles for a goddesse. She was also called Rhea, mother of the goddes, Vesta, Ops, and Terra. Her ymage beynge specially honoured in a citee of Phrygia, called Pessinmus, was by the counsell of Sibilla, fetched thens by Scipio Nasica, and brought to Rome, and there had in great reuerence.

Cibo, âui, âre, to feede, to nourysshe.

Cibórium, rij, or Cibótium, tij, n. g. the leafe of the beane of Egypte, called Colocasia. After Plinie a cup factioned and made of those leaues. After Dioscorides, a parte of the codde of that beane. Porphirio saieth, it is a cup made lyke the leafe of that beane. After some it is a kinde of appuls of Alexandry.

Ciborus, a citee of Asia.

Cibus, i, m. g. euery kynde of meate.

Cibi repositi, meate sette vp to be kepte.

Cibum facere, to make readie meate.

Mane aliquid fiet cibi, There shall bee some meate made ready betyme.

Cibum subducere, to take meate awaie from one.

Penuria cibi, lacke of meate.

Varietas ciborum & copia, plentie of meate, and many dishes.

Disciplinæ cibo satiare, to feede with instruction or learnynge.

Vilis cibus, good cheape meate, and easy to bee gotten.

Cibum capere cum aliquo, to be at meale, or to dyne and supper with one.

Maturus cibo, that is rype and meete to bee eaten.

Conditiuus cibus, meate that is condite, preserued, and kept.

Operosus cibus, harde to be digested.

Adiicere cibo, to geue one somewhat more to eate, to encrease his petance.

Deducere cibum, contrary.

Defecti cibo, they that lacke vytayle.

Ingurgitare se cibis, to gourmandyse, to eate vnmoderately, to feede vnreasonably.

Cibus imperfectus, meate not well digested.

Prægustare cibos, to taste the meate afore, to take the sate.

Cibo suo seruire, to serue for meate and drynke.

Cibum peragere, to digeste ones meate.

In cibo homini est, The man vseth that for his meate.

Cibus Saturni, the herbe Hippuris.

Cibus Italicus, Caparis.

Cibyra, a citee of Phrygia.

Cibyratæ, people of that citee.

Cicâda, æ, f. g. a grasse hopper.

Cicâda fritinit, the grasse hopper chirpith.

Cicadæ prius æstate taceant, A sentence spoken of a thyng that will not bee.

☞ Cicada cicadæ, chara, lyke condycions loue together, lyke of lyuynge loue together, lyke will to lyke.

Cicatrico, aui, âre, to stryke one so, that the marke alwaies remaineth.

Cicatricôsus, a, um, that hath manye scarres or tokens of woundes.

Cicatricôsa vitis, a vyne full of scotches and chappes.

Cicatricula, a diminutiue of Cicatrix.

Cicátrix, icis, fœ. gen. a token or scarre, where a wounde hath bene.

Cicatrix etiam in arboribus.

☞ Refricare cicatricem, to rubbe or make sore that, whiche was almoste whole, spoken proprely, of renewynge and stirrynge vp agayne a daungerous matter, that was well alayed.

Cicatrices aduersæ, scarres or woundes ouerthwart the face and breast.

Coit cicatrix, The wounde closeth or drawyth to a scarre.

Cicatrix oculi, idem quod albugo oculi.

Cicatrizo, idem quod Cicatrico. Also to heale a wounde so, that onely a seame or scarre maye appere.

Ciccum, ci, neu. gen. the tender rynde of a pomegranade.

Cicer, ĕris, n. g. a grayne lyke to pease, wherof some be red, some blacke, and some white, and be called Cich or Cich pease, they be but seldome seene in England.

Cicera, ræ, fœmi. gene. a kynde of foode, called also Cicércula, but they differ in this that Cicera hath blacke seedes, and cicercula hath white.

Cicérbita, æ, f. g. an herbe called a Southistell.

Cicércula, æ, f. g. is lesse than Cicer, named cichs lynge, or petie cich.

Cicérculum, li, neu. gen. a kynde of colour called Sinoper.

Cicero, ônis, ma. gen. the surname of Marcus Tullius, whose diuine eloquence, abundante learnynge, sharpenesse of wyt, dexteritee in actes, and moste ardent loue to the common weale of his countrey, can not be sufficiently expressed by a mortall mans tounge or pen. He lineally descended from the auncient kynges of the Volsciens: all be it tyme and occasion wearynge out dignitees in bloud, his name continued longe in the state of worshyp. His auncestours were called Cicerones, because Tullius Appius, a noble king of the Volscians, had on his nose, a marke lyke a chiche pease, called Cicer. In his chyldes hode, he so excelled al other childzen in witte, that their fathers mened with his fame went purposely to the schoole, to beholde and here him. He so profyted in the eloquence of greche and latine, that not only his companions were in a meruaylous admiracion of him: but also Apollonius (the most excellent oratour at that time) hearing him, and not speaking a great space, saied at last: Truely, Cicero, I prayse the, and meruaile at the. but I lament the fortune of the Greekes: whan I consider, that by the, learnyng and eloquence, which were left vnto vs only, are euen now translated vnto the Romaines. whiche layenge was afterwarde founde true. For lyke what subtilitee was in logike, what commoditee in morall philosophy, what secrete knowlage in philosophy naturall, he knew it (as Tacitus writeth) and declared in latine most eloquently. And he beynge but a very yong man, came to practise in Rome, studied abundantly the ciuile lawes, was meruaylously occupied in great weighty causes. And after he was Senatour, was continually (as it seemed) most busy about the weale publike. yet he that exactly redeth his workes, shall thinke he neuer did any thinge but reade great authours, and write bookes. For there was no philosopher, no oratour, no poete afore his tyme that escaped him, as dooeth in his bookes sufficiently appere. And yet how many bookes made he? lesse we haue not the thyrde part of them, yet such as we haue, if any man now did wryte so much and so well, we shoulde thynke him to haue spent the more parte of his tyme in wryting. And noble Cicero, lorde god how many thynges dyd he exployte by his wisedome and diligence, in most weyghtie affayres, as well in warre as peace: how did he by his dexteritee and prudence saue the citee and people of Rome from the most pernicious confederacie and rebellion of Catilyne, and other of the nobilitee, which went about to destroy the weale publyke, and robbe the citee? How preserued he the same citee and people after the death of Cæsar, that they were not oppressed by Marcus Antonius? For his incomparable actes, the whole Senate and people gaue to him, fyrst before any, the name of father of the countrey. what trouble and misery sustayned he, beyng cryed by the procurement of Clodius, only for the puttyng of the saide rebelles to death? Suche is the rewarde of people vnstable. lykewyse for dryuyng Antonius out of Rome, and by his sharpe orations, causyng him to be proclaymed enemy to the weale publike: he made Antonie so much his enemie, that in the treaty of peace betweene him and Octauius: He demaunded Cicero, to doe with him his pleasure. which thyng graunted of the vnkinde Octauius (whom Cicero had brought vp, and by his meanes caused to be made chiefe gouernour of Rome) Antonie sent one Herennius (whom Cicero had saued from death by his eloquence) to pursue him as he fled. which thing whã Cicero perceiued, he abode his comynge. And lyenge in an horse lytter for weakenesse, he dyd with constant eyes prepare his throte to Herennius: who did (all other men abhorryng) strike of his head, and handes. and brought them to Antonie: who reioysyng therat, caused the head and handes to be set ouer the place of ciuile iudgementes of Rome, which daily beholden of the Senate and people of Rome, was lamented. He flourished about. xl. yeres before the incarnation. For his lyfe and actes rede Plutarch, de vitis: Cor. Nepos, Appian, Sabel. Ipoph. Erasm.

Ciceroniânus, a, um, of Cicero, or that studieth to folowe Cicero.

Cichefus, a ryuer.

Cichorea, æ, fœ. g. & Cichorium, rij, ne. g. an herbe called Succorye.

Cici, an herbe otherwyse called Ricinum, of apothecaries Palma Christi.

Cicimeni, people about Meotis.

Cicina, æ, f. g. a nyght crow, called also Cicuma, or as Gesa writeth it, Cicumo.

Cicilindrum dri, n. g, a certayne herbe or kynde of pulse.

Cicindĕla, Cicindélla, or Cicindula, æ, f. g. a flie or wourme, whiche shyneth in the nyght, as bout harueft, a gloworme.

Cicinia,

Cicinia, æ, f. g. a little leane serpent in Italy, which moste commonly hath no poyson.
Cicinum oleum, a certayne oyle vsed to pourge the bealye.
Cicones, a people of Thrace.
Ciconia, æ, f. g. a byrde, whiche some suppose to be a storke, and is of the figure of an hearon, but is greatter, and al white, sauyng the toppes of his wynges: his byll and legges be redde.
Some thinke they haue no tounges. They be naturally enemies to serpentes, and do slea theym: whan they be olde, they byrdes feede them, and prouide meate for theym. wherefore the ymage of theim, was the token of Justice. The ancient kynges had it on the toppes of theyr sceptoures, as they had in the lower parte, the beast called Hippopotamus, which contrary wise sleeth his father, and rydeth on his mother. wherby they were admonyshed, to auaunce iustyce and pitie, and to oppresse iniustice and cruelitee. Of this byrde came a greeke wooyd for a prouerbe, Antipelargêin, which signifieth to be lyke a storke. which prouerbe is to exhorte men to be kynde to theyr parentes, or to theyr maisters, which teach or bryng theim vp, requytyng the benefyte, which they receyued of them.
Ciconia, æ, f. g. is also a certayne measure.
Ciconius, the name of him that builded Brixia.
Cicorium, idem quod Cichoria.
Cicur, ûris, om. ge. euery beast or byrde, whiche ones beynge wylde, is made tame.
Cicur ingenium, a gentyll nature.
Cicûro, âui, âre, act. to make tame.
Cicûta, æ, fœ. g. a venemous herbe, whiche groweth. ii. cubites in height, with a greene stalke full of knottes, busshy on the toppe, haunyng leaues smaller than Coriãder, the seedes greatter than anyse seede, and is horrible of sauour. Some do now vse that name for hemlocke, but our hemlocke hath not so small leaues, as the description of Dioscorides requyreth.
Cicûta, is sometyme a poyson made of that herbe. Also the space betwene the knottes of a cane or reede.
Cicuta, the name of a notable vsurer.
Cidaris, a cap, whiche the kynges of Persia byd vse, and also the byshops in the olde lawe.
Cieo, es, ciui, ère, and Cio, cis, ciui, ire, is properly to prouoke or moue one to weepynge or sorowe. Also to meue, to stirre or rayse vp, to prouoke one to anger, to vexe, to irritate, to call or name.
Quid negotij est, Pistoclerum Lydus quod herum tam ciet? what is the matter that Lydus thus troubleth and angreth his mayster Pistoclere?
Bellum ciebant. they raysed vp warre.
Ciére aluum, to prouoke one to the stoole.
Ciére vrinam, to make one pysse.
Prælium aut pugnam ciebant, they styrred vp, or exhorted theyr men to fyght in battayle.
Ciet horrorem membris, it stirreth vp a certain trembling in the partes of the bodie.
Ciere verba, to speake.
Numina ciere, to call vpon the goddes.
Ciere singulorum nomina, to call euery one by his name.
Ciere auxilia, to rayse ayde or succour.
Cilicia, a countreie in Asia, partely inclosed with the highest parte of the mountayne Taurus, and hardest to passe by. Strabo diuideth Cilicia in to two partes, one called Tracher, that is to say, roughe or rockie: the other Campestris, that is to say, playne. Josephus writeth, it was of olde tyme called Tarsis of Tarsis, one of the sonnes of Japhet, the yongest sonne of Noe. Herodotus saieth, the people were called Cilices of Cilix, the sonne of Agenor king of Phenicia: where before it was called Hyppateus. S. Hierome interpreteth Cilicia, a congregation, a lamentation, an assumption, a lamentable calsyng, or vomite. The people were by nature inclined to lyeng and stealynge, wherof grewe this prouerbe.
✠ Cilix non facile verum dicit, The Cicilian not lightly speeth truth, A prouerbe applied to a couetouse man, which alwaie lyeth for his particular aduauntage, as nowe adaies moste parte of men dooe, which lyue onely by selling.
Cilicensis, se, of Cilicia.
Cilissus, a, um, idem.
Cilicinus, a, um, made of heaten cloth.
Cilicium, cij, n. g. any cloth or garment made of heare. also the wearyng of the same cloth.
Cilium, lij, n. g. the ouer shynne, wherein the eie is closed.
Cilix, icis, an inhabitaunt of Cilicia. Also the sonne of Phœnix.
Cilla, a citee nere to Thebes.
Cillere, to moue or stirre.
Cillibæ, arum, rounde tables.
Cillicon, contis, a traytours name, lyke the prouerbe Cillicon bona.
Cilo, ônis, m. g. he that hath a greate forehead.
Cilones, or Cillones, num, m. ge. mynsterlles, vlynge fylthy and vncleane iesture.
Cima, æ, f. g. and Cima, cimatis, n. g. the toppe of an herbe.
Cimácia, orum, neu. gen. thynges that be foure square.
Cimas, an yle by the ryuer Ister.
Cimbalâris, ris, f. g. an herbe, whiche groweth in stone walles, which hath a small leafe, somewhat in facion lyke to pupe, and hath a lyttle purple flowre. It is supposed to be the herbe, whiche is called Vmbelicus veneris.
Cimbices, they that make muche of a litle, or gretely esteeme a thyng of small value, nygardes.
Cimbicus, a sparynge man, a nygarde.
Cimbium, bi, the bottome of an earthen potte.
Cimbri, people that inhabited Denmarke, and Norwaie, who had a meruaylouse custome:

They

Their wiues folowed them in warres, women counnyng in diuynacion, whose heares were whyte, and lykewyse theyr gownes: vnder the whiche they had launde clothes, made faste with pynnes and taches, beyng gyrt with gyrdelles of brasse, and wente bare footed. Alwayes as prisonners were taken, they with naked swerdes bette them to the grounde, and drewe them to a brasen cauldron, whiche conteyned fyfty amphoras, and hauyng an haulte place made for the purpose, went vp quickely, and lyftynge on hygh the men that were taken, dyd cutte theyr throtes ouer the cauldron. And by the droppynge of the bloudde, declared theyr prophecies. Some other opening mens bealies, serched their bowelles, and prophesyed vpcorye vnto the people.

Cimbria, the countrey now called Denmarke.

Cimbricus, a, um, of Cimbria.

Cimeliarchon, chi, n. g. a iewell house.

Cimeliárchus, chi, mas. ge, maister of the iewel house.

Cimelium, any precious thyng that is layed vp.

Cimex, micis, ma. g. a stynkynge wourme, breedynge in wood or paper.

Cimmerij, people inhabityng the furthest parte of Europe, not farre from the fennes called Paludus Meotidis, about the sea Bosphorus Cimmerius, north east from Grecia. Plinie and other affyrme, that by the farre dystance of the sonne from it, that countrey is alwaie verie darke, wherof hapned this prouerbe, Cimmerijs tenebris atrior, blacker than the darkenesse of Cimmeria, applied to much darknesse, dulnesse of witte, or lacke of wysedome.

Cimmerij, were also people of Italy, in the countrey betwene Baiæ, and Cumæ, whiche was so enuyroned with hylles, that the sonne came not to it, neyther in the mornynge nor at nyght. There was supposed to be a descence into hell. And the people dwelled onely in caues.

Cimmeris, a citee of the countrey of Troy.

Cimolis, a citee of Paphlagonia. Also of Galacia, called commonly Quinoli.

Cimolius, a, um. of the yland Cimolus, or of the citee Cimolis.

Cimon, a noble man of Athens, Miltiades sonne.

Cinabulum, li, n, g. a cradell.

Cinædia, diæ, f. g. a stone longe and whyte, found in the brayne of a fysshe of the same name, which stone by chaungeyng of colour signifyeth tempest of the sea to come.

Cinædus, of Nonius is expounded to be an exercyser of wanton daunces and mocions of the body in diuers formes, Perottus in Corn. co. declareth it to be a person, exercysynge actes of lecherye detestable, agaynste naturall forme and order, whiche I wyll not expresse. If he had omytted it, he had nothynge offended, beeynge a thyng worthy to be out of remembraunce, other interpryte Cinædos to be them, which be with out all shame: other childyen that be abused.

Cinamômum, or rather Cinnamômum, mi, n. g a hynde of spice odoryferous and delectable, call Cinamom, of some Canell. it groweth in Ethyope, lyke a low busshe in diuers stemmes, which passeth not .ii. cubites in height, hauynge leaues lyke organum. The rindes therof is that, which we haue in vse. reade more in Plin. li. 12. cap. 19. Theoph li. 9 cap. 45 Diosc. li. 1. It is hote and dry in the thyrde degree.

Cinara, æ, f. g. an herbe called Artochoke.

Cincia, a place in Rome.

Cincinnatus, the name of a senatour in Rome, whiche beynge called from the plough, was made dictatour.

Cincinnatus, a, um, that hath crisped or curled heares.

Cincinnus, ni, m. g. a bussche of heare that is crysped or curled.

Cincius, the name of certaine senatours of Rome.

Cinclidæ, arum, bates or partelis made about the places of iudgement, where men maie stand, beholde, and heare what is doone and spoken amonge the iudges and pleadours. Suche a like thynge is at westmynster hall about the common place, and is called the bekens.

Cinclidárius, the keper of the place, where monumentes or recordes were kept, that euery man shoulde not enter without leaue. As he, whiche now hepeth the recordes in the towre, or the porter of the rolles maie be so called.

Cinclos, cli, m. g. the bryde called a water swallow, not muche bigger than a larke. Erasmus saith vpon the prouerbe Cinclus, that it is a verye bryde, so weake and feeble that she can not make hir owne nestz, and so laieth hir egges in other brydes nestes. whereupon vplandyshe men, in a bie woorde, vse to cal wandryng beggers Cinclj. Guidon saieth, it is a sea bryde, leane and very little of body.

Cincticulus, li, m. g. a shorte garment, that was gyrt vnto the nauel, and came downe to the mydell legge. It maie nowe bee vsed for a ierdyngal, whiche is worne after the same facion, but somewhat longer.

Cinctus, us, m. g. a gyrdell or gyrdyng.

Cinctus gabinus, a garmente that the consull of Rome did weare on, whan he denounced warre whiche he threwe bachewarde, and gyrded hym selfe with a parte of the same.

Cinctus, a, um, gyrded, compassed, enuyronned aboute.

Cinctûtus, a, um, readie prepared to warre.

Cineas, a man of Thessaly.

Cinefactum, brought into ashes, as thynges that be burned.

Cinefacio, ecis, ere, to bryng to ashes.

Cineráceus, & Cinéreus, a, um, of ashes, or of the colour of ashes.

Cinerárius, idem quod Ciniflo.

Cinericius, a, um, baken or rosted vnder ashes.

Cineſias,

Cinesias, a learned man of Thebes.
Cinga, a ryuer that renneth out of the mountaines Pirenei.
Cingo, xi, ĕre, to gyrde or compasse about, to enuirone, to beset te, sometyme to dwell about a place.
Cingere arborem, to barke a tree.
Cingere castra vallo, to caste a trenche aboute the campe.
Tempora floribus cingere, to sette a garlande of flowres on ones head.
Cingere vrbem exercitu, to lay siege to a citee, or to besiege a citee rounde about.
Cingere se gladio, to gyrde a swoorde aboute him, to hange a swoorde by his syde.
Qui lacum cinxêre Bycen, whiche dwelled aboute the meere or poole called Byces.
Periculis cingi, to bee in daunger on euery syde.
Cingria, æ, f. g. a shorte pype, haupnge a small sounde.
Cingula, æ, f. g. a gyrth for beastes.
Cingulus, li, m. g. and Cingulum, li, ne. ge. a gyrdell.
Sub cingulo delata illustris dignitas dicitur, quando iusta & plena est, citra cingulum, quã do honoris tantum gratia.
Spoliare cingulo, amonge ciuile lawyers, to depose one, or discharge him of his office or authoritee.
Cingulum, li, n. g. an herbe that groweth in the sea lyke a gyrdell, and is called seabelt.
Cingulum, a citee of Picene in Italy, From whense the moples come, whiche are called Cingulani.
Cinifio, ónis, mas. gen. he that maketh hotte the instrumentes, wherewith men or women dyd trimme theyr heades.
Ciniphes, mascu. gene. plur. certayne lyttle flies lyke knattes, wherewith the Egyptians were plaged.
Cinira, æ, f. g. an herbe, which is most aptely dunged with asshes.
Inurere dolorem ciniri atque ossibus alicuius.
Cinis, ĕris, ma. g. asshes. sometyme it is vsed for the spyrite and memorie of a man after his death. sometyme for a dead man.
Cinna, a citee of Spayne. Also the name of a Romayne, whiche exceded in cruelitee, and was in the ciuile warre ioyned with Marius.
Cinnábaris, a stone called a sanguinarie. It is called in latine Sanguis draconis, dragons bloud. It is putte into sundrye medicines to staunche bloud. After plinie, it is a certayne colour, lyke to readde leade, called in latine Minium, or rather the same that Minium is. But Dioscorides saieth, that Minium, and Cinnábaris, are dyuers.
Cinnamum, idem quod Cinnamómum.
Cinnamomum, looke Cinamomum.
Cinnábaris, ris, mas. gen. the bloud of a dragon, (squised out by the poyse of an Elephant, lyyng vpon him in their fyght, when the Elephant is wounded to death) and beyng mixed with the bloud of the Elephant. Cinnábaris, whiche is solde of the apothecaries, is but counterfayted, and made of Brymstone, and quicke siluer. neyther in colour, nor yet in vertue lyke the true Cinnabaris.
Cinnamólogus, called of Plinie, and Aristotle, Cinnamomus, is a byrde, whiche maketh hir nest with cinnamome.
Cinnara, looke Cinara,
Cinniligium, gii, n. g. a gyrdell, whiche a byrde, or newe wedded wyfe weareth, a corse.
Cinnomyron, ri, n. g. oyle of Lilies.
Cinnus, ni, mascu. gener. a heare of a man, or womans head, or a medley of diuers thynges together.
Cinxia, a surname of Juno.
Cinyphius, a, um, of or by the ryuer called Cinips.
Cinyps, nyphis, a ryuer of Lybia.
Cinyras, a kynge of Phœnicia, an other of Cypres whiche vnwares had to doe with his daughter Myrrha, whiche is called after him Cinyreia.
Cio, ciui, ire, looke Cieo.
Cios, an hauen or poyt towne of Phrygia, and a ryuer of the same name.
Cipérum, ri, n. g. a soote plant or herbe, whiche mixed with saffron, rooteth vp heares, and is good to breake and expulse the stone.
Cippus, i, m. g. a payre of stockes. Also a little hyll or other marke, whiche men call a barrow. it is also a crosse, or other marke, whiche sheweth the ryght waie to a place.
Cirannus, a man of Licia, the compaignion of Sapedon.
Circa, about, nighe.
Circa regem, about the kynge.
Circa, for Circiter, as,
Circa sestertiũm vities, Aboute tenne thousande pounde.
Circa, for de, as,
Varia circa hæc opinio, Of these thynges bee dyuers opynions.
Animus est circa campos, id est, in. His mynde is in the fieldes.
Circa Demetrium, about Demetrius tyme.
Circa præfectos literas dimittere, to send letters about in to all partes, to the rulers of the countrey.
Circæ'a, æ, f. g. the herbe called Mandragora,
Circæ'ium, ri, n. g. idem.
Circínia, æ, f. g. a byrde, which in his flight fetcheth a compasse.
Circe, the daughter of Sol by Perseis, the daughter of Oceanus: She knewe the meruaylous operations of sundry herbes, and howe to cure all poysons: At the laste she slewe hir husbande, kyng

hynge of Scythes, with poyson, and vexed the people with muche tyrannye: wherefor shee was expelled the countrey, and fled into a deserte yle in the occian sea. Homerus nameth hir the sister of Aeta, and sheweth, how diuers of Ulisses compagnyons, arryuyng in the Yle, where Circe dwelled, were by hir transformed into swyne. And after, by the intercession of Ulysses, shee restored them to theyr pristinate fourme, more beautyfull and younge in syght, than they were before.

Circes domus, a towne of Campayne.

Circeienses, the inhabitauntes of Circeium.

Circeium iugum, a mountayne of Campayne.

Circenses ludi, plates that the Romaynes vsed in the place called Circus.

Circense, a kynde of downe, made of the toppes of Bulrusshes or reedes.

Circêrus, a great shyp, whiche they of Asia vsed.

Circeus, a, um, of Circes.

Circinátio, a waie tournyng rounde lyke a circle.

Circino, aui, are, to compasse, to make a circle with a compasse.

Circinus, i, m.g. an instrument called a compasse.

Circion, cij, n. g. an herbe whiche is commonly called Bugloss, not that whiche is called Languedebeufe: but that whiche hath the great leafe, whose pyppes are not so harde.

Circion, cij, n. g. is of learned phisicions, taken for longedebeufe.

Circiter, about, and is referred sometymes to tyme: as,

Circiter calendas Iulias, About the fyrst date of Julye. Sometyme it is referred to place: as,

Circiter in media arce, about the myddes of the castell. Sometyme to noumbre: as,

Circiter duo millia hominum cæsa sunt, There were nygh two thowsande men slayne.

Circites, houppes of yron or brasse. also a kynde of olyues.

Circitôres, officers in cities, whiche go aboute to see good rule kept in the nyght, watchemen.

Circius, cij, ma. gen. a southerne wynde, whiche is wonderfull vehement. it was also an yland in Misia.

Circos, ci, m. g. a certayne kynde of haukes, lame on the one foote. also a precious stone.

Circuitio, or Circumitio, onis, f. ge. a compassyng, goyng about, or enuyronyng.

Circuitio verborum, great circumstaunce in woordes.

Circuítor, ôris, mas. gen. the sercher of watches. also he that goeth about the stretes to sell garmentes or lynnen clothe.

Circuítus, us, mas. ge. a circuite or compasse, a goyng about.

Circuitus febrium, the course of agues.

Circuitus orationis, a periode.

Verborum circuitus, or circuitio, a goynge about the bushe.

Circuitu vorticis agi, to go rounde with the hurlynge of the poole.

Circulâtim, by circles, or in the fourme of a circle.

Circulâtor, ôris, masculi. gener. he that goeth aboute to shewe him selfe, what he can doo, or to deceyue the people with craste and subtilte, a iuglar.

Circulatórius, a, um, pertaynynge to suche deceyuers, or iuglars.

Circulátrix, tricis, fœm. gene. shee that goeth aboute to gette money with daunsynge and tumblynge.

Circulo, aui, are, to compasse or close with a dyche, or other lyke thynge. Or to make a circle or compasse aboute a thynge.

Circulus, li, m.g. a circle or compasse. And by a metaphore it is taken for a company of men standyng or syttynge together.

In circulis & conuiuijs sermo est liberior, In companies and feastes men talke more lyberally.

Circum, both a preposicion and an aduerbe, signifieth about, rounde about.

Pueros circum amicos dimittit, he sendeth his seruauntes about to his frendes.

Agere circum, to dryue or tourne rounde.

Pugnare circum aliquem, to fyght by one, or in ones company.

Circumactus, us, a tournynge of a thynge rounde about.

Circumággero, áui, âre, to heape, or make heapes about a thynge.

Circúmago, cúmagis, égi, ágere, to leade about, to turne aboute.

Circumágere frenis equum, to turne the horse about with the bridell.

Circumámbulo, áui, âre, to walke rounde about.

Circúmaro, áui, âre, to care rounde aboute.

Circumaspicio, spexi, ĕre, to looke rounde aboute.

Circumcido, looke Circuncido.

Circúmeo, circumis, iui, ire, or Circueo, or Circuo, iui, ire, to go about anything.

Circumequito, aui, are, to ryde about.

Circummissus, a, um, sent about.

Circummitto, misi, ĕre, to sende aboute.

Circummúlceo, si, êre, to stroke or touche softly or gentilly on euery parte.

Circummúnio, iui, ire, to inclose, walle in, or dyche in. also to enuyron strongly. To fortyfie with walles or men.

Circummunitio, ônis, fœ. ge. a stronge fence or munition, made about a place.

Circummunitus, a, um, fenced and fortified rounde about.

Circumnáscor, ătus sum, asci, to grow about.

Circumóbruo, rui, re, to couer with earth ouer and ouer.

Circumpadanus, a, um, that dwelleth about the ryuer Poo in Italy.

Circumpango, pégi, ĕre, to cramme or lay earth about about a thynge.

Circumpáuio, uí, ire, to ſtrike and beate about.
Circúmpedes, lachaies awaytynge at theyr maſters ſtyrope. alſo footemen of prynces.
Circumplector, plexus ſum, ecti, to imbrace or clyppe aboute.
Circumplexus, us, m. g. embracyng or clyppyng about.
Circúmplico, uí, or aui, are, to folde vp, to rolle or wynde aboute.
Circumpôno, ſui, ĕre, to lay, or put aboute.
Circumpotátio, ônis, fœ. g. a banketynge, and feaſtyng one with an other. a quaffyng rounde about the table.
Circumſpicuus, a, um, that maie be beholden on all partes.
Circunſelliónes, tauerne haunters, or roylers about.
Circuncidáneus, a, um, cut rounde about.
Circuncidaneum muſtum, or Circunciſitium vinum, wyne, whiche after the grapes are preſſed, is taken out of the ſame grapes, beynge cut and newe preſſed.
Circuncido, cidi, ere, to cut about a thynge, to cut or take awaie, to diminiſhe.
Vinum in toto circuncidendũ eſt, wine muſte all together be taken from him, or he muſte bee kept, that he dyrynke no wyne at all.
Circuncidere atq; imputare alicunde, to dyminyſhe or take awaie from any thyng.
Circuncingo, cinxi, ere, to compaſſe, or enuyron.
Circuncirca, all aboute on euery ſyde.
Circunciſé, an aduerbe, brekely, puttyng awaye all ſuperfluities.
Circunciſé agere, to make an oracion groſſely and brekely, without eloquence.
Circunciſio, ônis, circumciſion.
Circunciſitius, a, um, of that whiche is cutte rounde about.
Circunciſúra, æ, fœ. g. a cutte or gaſſhe rounde aboute a thynge.
Circunſiſum & breue, ſhorte and breefe.
Circunciſus, a, um, cutte rounde about, circumciſed.
Circunciſa omni negotioſa cogitatione, putte tynge awaie, or layenge aſyde all cogitacions of any buſyneſſe.
Circunclaudo, idem quod circuncludo.
Circunclûdo, clûſi, ere, to incloſe in rounde about.
Circunclûſus, a, um, ſhutte and cloſed in.
Circúncolo, cólui, ere, to dwell about a place.
Circuncolúmnium, nij. n. g. a place ſette about with pyllours. or an houſe ſtandynge onely on pyllours or poſtes.
Circunculco, áui, âre, to trade a thynge downe on euery parte.
Circuncúrro, curri, ere, to renne all aboute in euery place.
Circuncurſo, aui, are, to renne hyther and thyther.

Omnia iam circuncurſaui, I haue runne about in euery corner.
Circúndo, cúndedi, cúndare, to enuyronne or compaſſe about, as a ringe dooeth about a mannes fynger, or a dyche about a cloſe, or a trench about a campe.
Quinis caſtris oppidum circúndedit, He beſieged the towne about with fyue campes.
Circúndedit noua mœnia oppido, He newe walled the towne aboute.
Vlnis circúndare aliquem, to embrace one.
Argentum auro circúndare, to gylte ſiluer.
Arma humeris circúndare, to put on harneys, to arme a man.
Circúndolo, láui, lâre, to chyp, cut or hew ſmoth round about.
Circundûco, dúxi, ĕre, to leade about, to deceiue or beggle. Alſo to aboliſhe or ſette aſyde an acte.
Quod ſi is qui edictum peremptorium impetrauit, abſit die cognitionis: tunc circunducendum erit edictum peremptorium: And if he that hath obteyned the peremptory decree, be abſente the daye, whan the matter ſhoulde bee determined: than the peremptory decree is to be diſſolued and aboliſhed.
Circunducere aliquem argento, to gette ones money by falſhod, to beggle one of his money.
Circunducere aliquem per dolos, to deceiue one by cautels or fraude.
Circumit per familias, he goeth aboute from houſe to houſe.
Circunductio, ônis, f. g. deceyte, gyle.
Circunductus, a, um, lead about, beggled, aboliſhed.
Circúnfero, cúntuli, férri, to carye or beare about. alſo to clenſe.
Item ter ſocios pura circúntulit vnda, Alſo he clenſed his company three times with cleane water.
Circunferre ſe, to goe braggynge about the ſtreetes.
Circunferre oculos, to looke rounde aboute, to caſte ones eies on euery ſyde.
He quærelæ primum domos nobilium circunlatæ ſunt, Theſe complaynctes were fyrſt caryed about and reported at noble mens houſes.
Circunfert fama, the bruite or fame carieth it abrode.
Ad nutum aliorum circumferri, to be enclined now to one thyng, now to an other at the wyll of other men.
Circunfirmo, áui, âre, to ſtrengthen, ſtaye, and vnderſet on euery ſyde.
Circunflécto, xi, ĕre, to tourne hyther and thyther, to tourne about.
Circunflexus, us, m. ge. a bowyng or bendynge of a thyng rounde.
Circunflexus, a, um, bowed rounde, tourned aboute.
Circúnflo, áui, âre, to blow rounde about, to blow hither hither and thither.

Circunflari a ventis inuidiæ, to be tossed with enuyous and malicious reportes.

Circunfluo, fluxi, ĕre, to abounde. Also to flowe or renne aboute, as water about a citee or countrey. Sometyme to enuyronne, or compasse. Also to resort to a place in great numbre out of all partes.

Postquàm variæ gentes vndiq; circunfluxerunt, after that diuers people had in great numbre resorted thyther, out of all countreys there about.

Tanta ceruorum multitudo nos circunflexit, So great a multitude of hartes came about vs.

Copijs omnibus circunfluere, to haue plentie and abundaunce of all thinges.

Circúnfluus, a, um, that floweth aboute.

Circumfódio, circúmfodis, fódi, fódere, to dyg aboute a thynge.

Circunforáneus, nei, m. g. a wanderer about in markettes, spendyng the tyme idelly, to tell and here newes. one that goeth about to bye and sell in markettes, as it were a pedlar.

Circunforáneus, a, um, the adiectyue.

Circunforancum æs, money lent for gaynes, as common vsurers doo.

Circúnforo, áui, âre, to make holes rounde aboute a thynge.

Circunfóssor, óris, m. g. he that dyggeth aboute a thynge.

Circunfossúra, æ, f. g. a dyggyng about a thyng.

Circúnfrico, áui, âre, to rubbe about.

Circunfúlgeo, fúlsi, ĕre, to shyne or glister bright rounde about.

Circunfúndo, fúdi, ĕre, to caste water or other lycour about. Also to compasse, to spill or shed downe right on euery syde.

Circunfundere hostes, to slea enemies on all partes.

Circunfundito ad oleam, cast it about the olyue tree.

Terram circunfundit aër, the ayre compasseth the earth rounde about.

Circunfúnditur equitatus, the horsemen bee enclosed.

Circunfunditur mari, It is enuyronned with the sea.

Ne circunfundatur lac, That the mylke be not tourned.

Circunfúsus, a, um, gathered about, as people whan they desyre to see a thyng. somtyme wrapped about lyke an adder or serpent.

Vide in Bibliotheca sedentem, multis libris circunfusum, Beholde him sytting in the lybrarie, hauyng great multitude of bookes on euery syde aboute him.

Consul multitudine circunfusus est, The consull hath about hym a great numbre of men.

Circunfúsus molestijs, wrapped in muche misery, heaped with many aduersitees.

Circungelâtus, a, um, all frosen, or frosen round about.

Circúngemo, gémui, ĕre, to wayle, to grone, to make a lamentable noyse, lyke to a beare, or to a bull after he hath belowed.

Circungésto, aui, are, to cary about with one.

Circúnglobo, circúnglobas, áui, âre, to gather about a person or place in heapes or plumpes.

Circuniáceo, cúniaces, iácui, ẽre, to be situate or lye aboute a place.

Circunléctus, us, m. g. a compassyng or enuyronnyng about.

Circunléctus, a, um, that is cast or situate about.

Circunlecta vrbi loca, places lyeng neere about the citee.

Circunnécio, circúnnĕcis, ĕcĕre, ĭi cere, to cast or throw about, to set or builde about.

Circunnĕcere vallum, to cast a trenche aboute a place.

Circunlámbo, bi, ĕre, to lycke about.

Circunlâtus, a, um, carped about.

Circúnligo, áui, âre, to bynde, tye, or wrappe aboute a thyng.

Circunlínio, circúnlinis, liniui, ĭre, idem quod Circunlino.

Circunlinitio, or circunlítio, ônis, fœm. gen. bournyshyng, clenshyng, or polyshyng: Also noyntyng.

Circúnlino, circúnlinis, liui, léui, or lini, linere, to annoynt aboute, or to laye a moyste thynge with the fyngers or other instrument softely.

Circunlinitus, nita, um, noynted round about.

Circúnlitus, a, um, annoynted about.

Circunlúuio, ônis, f. g. the flowyng or enuyronyng about of waters.

Circúnluo, circúnlui, ĕre, to washe or wete all aboute.

Circunrâdo, râsi, ĕre, to shaue or scrape aboute.

Circunrétio, tiui, ire, to snare, wrappe, or intangle, as it were in a nette.

Circunretitus, a, um, intangled or wrapped in.

Circunródo, ósi, ĕre, to gnawe aboute.

Circunscálpo, psi, ĕre, to clawe, scratche, frotte, or rubbe about.

Circunscarifico, aui, are, to launce or cutte about.

Circunscíndo, cúnscidi, scindere, to cutte about.

Circunscríbo, psi, ĕre, to wryte or drawe aboute with a lyne: Also to deceiue one in bargaynyng with him, to symplee, appoynt, or determyne, to abolysshe or put out of authoritee.

Fratrem circunscripsit in diuisione hæreditatis, He decepued his brother in partition of the inheritance Also to gather, deserue throughly, or comprehende.

Cuius scientiæ, summam breuiter circunscribo, The effecte of whose lernyng, I wyll comprehende and deserue shortly.

Exiguum curriculum vitæ nobis circumscripsit natura, Nature hath appoynted to vs a shorte tyme to lyue in this worlde.

Circunscribere alicui locum habitandi, to symplee a place where one shall dwell.

Circun-

Circunſcribere ſeipſum, to begyle hym ſelfe.
Circunſcriptis iis ſententijs, theſe ſentences beyng put out and abolyſhed.
Circunſcribere aliquos teſtes, to put awaie or refuſe ſom witneſſes, as hurtful or vnprofitable.
Circunſcribere Senatum, to take from the ſenate the authoritie to determine of matters concernyng the common weale.
Parata de circunſcribendo adoleſcente ſententia, They had determyned to depoſe the yong man from the authoritie of the empyre.
Circunſcriptè, brefely, ſhortly, in meaſure.
Circunſcriptè dicere, to ſpeake in a certayne numbre and meaſure.
Circunſcriptio, ônis, ſ. g. an abuſyng or deceyuyng, a compaſſyng.
Circunſcriptio orationis, a Periode.
Circunſcriptio terræ, the circuite or compaſſe of the earth.
Circunſcriptio temporis, a certayne meaſure of tyme.
Aperta circunſcriptione aliquid facere, to doe a thyng with manyfeſt trumperie and deceite.
Circunſcriptor, ôris, ma. ge. a falſe felowe that begyleth one of his goodes, a deceyuour.
Circunſcriptus, a, um, put out, raſed, abolyſhed alſo breefe, ſhort, deceyued, abuſed.
Circunſcripta oratio, a meaſurable oracion.
Circunſcripti ſyllogiſmi, breefe ſyllogiſmes.
Circunſeco, circunſecas, ſecui, âre, to cut round about.
Circúnſecus, an aduerbe, on both ſydes, rounde about.
Circunſédeo, circúnſedes, ſédi, ére, or Circumſideo, ſédi, ére, to beſiege.
Pompeium Brundiſii circunſedére, They beſieged Pompeium at Brundiſe.
Circunſépio, circúnſepis, ſépſi, ire, to hedge about, to encloſe or compaſſe in.
Circúnſero, ui, ertre, to ſowe or plant aboute a place.
Circunſéſsio, ônis, ſ. g. a beſiegeyng.
Circunſeſſus, a, um, beſieged.
Circunsido, cunsidis, ſédi, ére, to beſiege a citee.
Circunſident, qui aſſident vtrimq; alicui. vr, A quibus me circunſeſſum videris, whom perſeyng ſtyttyng here about me.
Circunſigno, áui, âre, to marke about.
Circunſiſto, circúnſtiti, ere, to ſtand about one, to inuade, aſſayle, or defende hym.
Circúnſono, ſónui, âre, to make a ſound or noyſe about.
Circunſpectátrix, icis, ſ. g. a woman that beholdeth about, or watcheth.
Circunſpéctè, wyſely, aduyſedly, with conſyderacion.
Circunſpéctio, ónis, ſ. g. idem quod circunſpicientia.
Circunſpécto, áui, are, to lowe about earneſtly, to looke hyther and thyther.
Alius alium circunſpectat, one looketh alyde on an other.
Circunſpectare rem aliquã, to viewe and conſyder a thyng earneſtly.
Circunſpéctor, óris, ma. ge. one that looketh about on euery thyng.
Circunſpéctus, us, ma. ge. a beholdyng, regardyng, or lookyng round about.
Circunſpectus, a, um, circumſpecte, wyſe, prudent. ſomtyme paſſiuely, conſidred, regarded.
Verba non circunſpecta, vnaduiſed wordes.
Circunſpérgo, ſpérſi, ére, to caſte aboute.
Circunſpitiéntia, æ, ſ. g. circumſpection.
Circunſpiceo, cúnſpicis, xi, ére, to looke about, to viewe, conſyder, and regarde diligently.
Prudentis eſt ſe circunſpicere, It is a wyſe mans parte to looke well about him.
Magnificè ſe circunſpicere, to eſteme and aduaunce ones ſelfe greatly.
Omnia circunſpexit, he conſydered and marked euery thyng well.
Circunſpicite omnes procellas, quæ immineant, Conſyder you well all the ſtormes that are lyke to fall ere it be longe.
Circunſpicere & proſpicere, to conſyder well and forſee.
Circunſtántia, æ, ſ. g. the circunſtance or qualitee that belongeth to a thynge, as the tyme or place.
Circunſtátio, ônis, a ſtandyng rounde aboute a thynge.
Circunſtipor, âtus ſum, ari, to bee vnderſette rounde about.
Ciscúnſto, cúnſtiti, âre, to ſtande about.
Circunſtrepo, cúnſtrepis, ſtrépui, ére, to make a noyſe or dynne on euery ſyde.
Circúnſtruo, ſtráxi, ére, to builde about.
Circunſúdo, áui, âre, to ſweate or bee moyſte rounde about.
Circúnſuo, cúnſui, ére, to ſowe rounde about.
Circúntego, téxi, ére, to couer all about.
Circuntexo, téxui, ére, to weaue about.
Circuntextum, ti, neu. gen. a certayne garmente wouen about with pourple.
Circuntóndeo, di, êre, to rounde.
Circúntono, tónui, âre, to make a noyſe or ſowne on euery ſyde.
Circuntónſus, a, um, rounded.
Circúntremo, ui, ére, to tremble or ſhake rounde about,
Circunuâdo, ſi, ere, to inuade or ſet vpon on all partes.
Circunuâſit vrbem terror, All the citee was in a great feare.
Circúnuagus, a, um, that wandreth about.
Circunuallâtus, a, um, trenched about.
Circunuállo, aui, are, to trenche aboute.
Circunuéctio, ônis, ſ. g. a carryng about.
Circunuécto, áui, âre, to cary about often.
Circúnueho, uéxi, ére, to cary about oftentimes.
Circunuénio, uéni, ire, to deceiue or begyle, to compaſſe, to cloſe in, as in warres, to oppreſſe.

Circunueniri iudicio, where iudges doe condemne one by a confederacie, contrary to iuſtice and reaſon.
Fœnore circunuentus, oppreſſed with vſury.
Vallo foſſáque circunuenit mœnia, He made or caſt a trenche and dithe about the walles.
Circunuenire hoſtem, to incloſe his enemy.
Potentis alicuius opibus circunueniri videtur, He ſeemeth to bee oppreſſed, or to ſuffer wronge by the ryches of ſome great man.
Circunueniri per inſidias, to bee deceyued by cauteis or falſehode.
Circunuentus pecunia innocens, an innocent perſone put to wronge by reaſon of money.
Circunuérſor, átus ſum, ari, to go about hyther and thyther.
Circunuérto, uerti, ere, to tourne aboute.
Argento aliquem circunuertere, to deceiue one of his money.
Circunuéſtio, ſtiui, ire, to clothe or couer about.
Circunuincio, uinxi, ire, to bynde aboute.
Circunuiſo, ſi, ere, to ſee on euery ſyde.
Circunuólito, aui, are, to flee aboute, to be often about a place.
Circunuolo, aui, are, to flee about.
Circunuóluo, ui, ere, to rolle, folde, or tumble rounde about.
Circunuolûtor, utus ſum, ari, to bee tumbled about.
Circuo, iui, ire, to go about.
Circus, i, m. g. a rundell or circle. It was a place in Rome walled about, wherein was fyghtynge with the fyſtes, and rennyng with horſes. About it were ſundrye galeries, where the ſenatours and gentylmen beheld the paſtyme. The playes vſed there, were called Circenſes ludi, as it were among woodes, for as muche as before there were any ſuche places made, as Circus was, the homely antiquitites vſed thoſe games in the open feilde, enuironned with ryuers and woodes, the poyntes vpwarde, that on euerye parte a rowarde was in daunger.
Ciris, ris, f. g. a larke, and the name of Scylla, the daughter of kyng Niſus.
Cirnea, æ, f. g. a bolle to drynke wyne in.
Cirrâtus, a, um, he that hath his heares drayded or curled.
Cirrha, a citee of Phocis.
Cirrhæus, the ſurname of Apollo, ſo named after that citee.
Cirrus, us, maſ. gen. the heare of ones head, or fethers that doe growe on the top of a byrdes head, as a larke or hearon. Also a ſyke thyng growyng on therbes, whiche maie be clipped of. Also thynges lyke heares about oyſters.
Circeum, cei, neu. ge. called alſo Spina mollis, and Bugloſſum magnum, in engliſhe longe de beike.
Circoccle, is a louſynge or pullynge out of thryſt places of thoſe veſſelles, whiche doe nouryſhe the ſtones of a man, a gatherynge of yll humours in a bagge.
Ciſa, æ, f. g. Dioſc. vſeth it for Varix.
Ciſſos, ſi, m. g. a diſeaſe in the coddes.
Cirta, a citee of Numidia.
Cirtacus, ci, m. g. a hynde of baulme.
Cirtiſcus, a famous ryuer of Scythia.
Cis, a wooryme amonge ſome, whiche I ſuppoſe is be called weuils. Alſo it ſignifieth on this ſide, as,
Cis Rhenum, on this ſyde the ryuer of Rhine.
Cis alpes, on this ſyde the mountaynes, called Alpes. ſometyme it ſignifieth laſſe.
Cis naturæ leges, laſſe than the lawe of nature maie ſuffer. Saluſte vſeth it ones for beyonde.
Cis Rhenum, atque intra mare noſtrum & oceanum, Beyonde the ryuer of Rhyne, and within our ſea and the occean ſea.
Cis paucos dies, within fewe daies.
Cis vndiq; in all places about.
Ciſalpina Gallia, was ſometyme that country, whiche is from the mountaynes Alpes, vnto the ryuer of Rubicon, now called Lumbardy.
Ciſamus, a citee of Candie, called now Iphiniſa.
Ciſapinnina, a part of Italy.
Ciſianthi, a people of Scythia.
Ciſium, ij, n. g. a cart with two wheles.
Ciſiárius, rij, m. g. a carter.
Ciſilites, a hynde of wyne growynge in Galatia, hauyng the taſt of new muſt.
Ciſpello, puli, ere, to hepe one out, that he come not into an houſe.
Ciſpius, a mountayne in Rome.
Ciſſa, a ryuer in Pontus, called Quiſa.
Ciſſamethos, thi, f. g. the herbe Helxine. Dioſc.
Ciſſánthemos, mi, f. g. an herbe, whiche the apothecaries doe call Siglium mariæ.
Ciſſaron, idem quod Hedera.
Ciſſeus, a kynge of Thrace, father of Hecuba, queene of Troie.
Ciſsites, tis, m. g. a preciouſe ſtone, lyke an yuy leafe, bryght of colour.
Ciſſos, ci, m. g. a kinde of yuy that groweth alone without ſtay.
Ciſſýbium, bij, neut. gene. a cuppe or boll made of yuy.
Ciſta, æ, f. g. a cheſte, coffer, or baſkette.
Ciſtella, æ, f. g. a diminutiue of ciſtula.
Ciſtella ſuffragiorum, a lyttell caſkette or like thing, wherin the ſuffrages of men were gathered in graunteyng offices, or makyng lawes.
Ciſtellátrix, tricis, f. g. a woman ſeruaunt, that carieth her maiſtreſſe caſket or fozcet.
Ciſtéllula, æ, f. g. a diminutiue of Ciſtella, a little caſket or fozcet.
Ciſtena, a citee of Colis.
Ciſtérna, æ, f. g. a ceſterne.
Ciſterninus, a, um, of a ceſterne.
Ciſthus, an herbe lyke thyme, but ſomewhat bygger. Other wryte, that it hath more reſemblance of ſage, and therefore is called Ciſtſage.
Ciſthus ladanifera, an herbe, it hath ſmaller leaues than the other Ciſthus, & is called Ladanſtyrb.

Ciſtifer,

Cistifer, a, um, that beareth a casket or coffer.
Cistóphorus, ri, m. g. a certayne auncient coyne, wherin was a man, hauing a panier on his head, of the whiche. 7000. and. 500. were in the talente called Talentum Euboicum. This woulde be sette for Costrophinati, in the. xvii. booke of the digestes. Tit. depositi. L. publia.
Cistula, æ, f. g. a cashette or boudgette, to carpe whan one rydeth or goeth.
Citanos, one of the yles called Cyclades.
Citarij, people of Sicilie.
Citarista, a promontorie of Nazbon.
Citâtim, quickely, swiftely.
Citâtus, a, um, called, summoned, or cited, swift, quicke, sterynge.
Citato gradu, with quicke speede.
Citatus arteriarum pulsus, thycke beatyng of the pulse.
Rhenus citatus fertur, The ryuer Rhyne renneth swyftly.
Citeria, æ, f. g. an ymage or picture that coulde speake, whiche for spoyle was caryed aboute in common lightes.
Citerior, citerius, nearer.
Citerior Gallia, Lumbardy.
Dies citerior, for proximior.
Cithariæ dicus, a, um, of an harper.
Citharon, onis, kynge of Platee, in Greece, who adopted Jupiter (whan Juno in an anger was gone from him into Boetia) to make an ymage of woodde, and cladde richely in the apparayle of a bryde, to be set in a chariotte, and to publyshe amonge the people, that Jupyter was determyned to mary Platea, the daughter of Asopus. As this ymage was solemnely caryed, Juno inflamed with Jelosy, met the charyot, and entryng therinto, dyd rent the clothes and apparayle aboute the ymage, and fyndyng an ymage of tree, and no bryde, delyted at the inuention, wherwith she was begyled. And tournynge hir anger into laughynge, was forthwith reconciled to Jupiter.
Citharon, is also an hyll in Thessaly, dedicated to Bacchus.
Cithara, æ, fœ. g. an harpe, sometyme it is taken for musyke or harmony.
Citharis, a cappe or ornament, that byshops of the gentiles used to weare.
Citharista, æ, m. g. he whiche onely playeth on an harpe, and syngeth not. It is also an angle of Fraunce by Wareyle, lynge out into the sea.
Citharistria, æ, f. g. a woman harper.
Citharizo, aui, are, to harpe.
Citharœdus, i. m. g. an harper, whiche syngeth to his harpe.
Citimus, a, um, the last, the next vnto vs.
Citissimè, as soone as is possible.
Citium, a towne of Cypres.
Citius, sooner.
Citius dicto, sooner then one maye speake it.
Citò, soone, shortely, quickely, ere it be longe.
Ite cito, iam ego vos assequar, Go quickely, I wyll ouer take you by and by.
Non cito dixerim, I can not well say.
Cito, aui, are, to cite, to summon, or calle. also to name. sometyme to spurre or gallop foorth an horse.
Citare testes, to bryng in wytnesse, to recyte or name.
Citare in curiam ad regem, to summon to appere in the court before the kynge.
Citare Senatum, to calle a parliement.
Citare iudices, to call the iudges together.
Citare reum, to summon or call for a persone accused.
Citare per nomina, to call by name.
Citare authores, to recite or name authours.
Citare equum, to spurre an horse, and galloppe foorthe.
Citare palmitem, aut radices, dicuntur arbores, to put foorth leaues, to take roote.
Medicamentum, quod humorem illuc citat, The medicine, whiche causeth the humour to gather to that place.
Citare aliquem ad aliquid faciendum, to steere vp one to doe.
Citare vrinam, to prouoke vryne.
Citare gradum, to goe a pace.
Citacatium, ti, nen. g. an herbe in Dioscorides called Chamælæa.
Citorus, a mountayne, where groweth plentie of bore trees.
Citra, on this syde. sometyme without. sometyme for Extra.
Citra leucadem, on this syde Leucades.
Citra adulationem, without flattery.
Constitit aduenienscitra lumenq; foresque, & tantum cælo tegitur, whan she came, she stode styll without the doore, and had nothynge ouer hir head but the skie.
Citra pulueris tactum, without any duste: A prouerbe applied vnto theim, which come to a thyng without any labour.
Citra fastidium, without lothsomenesse.
Citrâgo, inis, f. ge. an herbe, commonly called balme. Of the apothecaries Melyssa. After Ruellius and Carolus Stephanus, the herbe Apis astrum is so called.
Citreum, trei, n. g. an orenge.
Citreus, a, um, the adiectiue.
Citrea malus, an orenge tree.
Citrinus, a, um, of orenge colour or lyke golde.
Citromela, idem quod malus Medica.
Citrum, i, neu. gen. a fruite called pome citron. Also the woodde Citrus, wherof tables were made.
Citrus, tri, f. ge. an other maner of tree growynge in mounte Atlas, wherof in the olde tyme were made fayre tables, and coffers, as nowe bene of cipresse. also an orenge tree.
Citta, a pye, of the whiche be. ii. kyndes, our common pye, and that we called a Jaye.

Citra, is also the affection of longynge in women with childe.
Cittôsus, a, um, is in vines, when the grapes fall from the clusters, and so be destroyed.
Cittium, a towne of Lyppesse.
Citus, a, um, quicke hastye, swyfte. sometyme divided or parted.
Cita aluus, a louse bealy.
Aluo cita est, he hath a lasshe.
Ciues, dwellers in one citee, or subiectes in one common weale.
Ciuicus, a, um, is the same that ciuilis is.
Ciuica corona, a garland of oken leaues, used to be geuen to him, that had saued a citisen in battaple.
Ciuilis, le, that perteyneth to a citesine.
Ciuilis homo, a man expert in those thynges, that appertepne to the ministration of the common weale.
Ciuilitas, âtis, f. g curtesye, ciuilitee, gentylnesse, good humanitee.
Ciuiliter, like a citesine. also curteisly, or with good maner, after a ciuile facion.
Ciuis, is, com. g. a citesen, or one of the same countrey.
Ciuis meus, my countrey man, of the same citee that I am of.
Ciuis, & peregrinus, contrary.
Ciuitas, âtis, f. g a citee, properly it is the multitude of citisens gathered together, to lyue accordyng to law and ryght.
Ciuitatem administrare, to gouerne a citee.
De ciuitate eiicere, to cast out of the citee.
Ciuitatem adimere alicui, to take from one the freedome and ryght of the citee, to disfraunchise one.
Ciuitatem amittere, to lose the lyberte and fraunchise of the citee.
Asciscere in ciuitatem, Ascribere in ciuitatem, & ciuitati, to admitte one to the fraunchises and libertees of the citee, to make one free of the citee.
Consequi ciuitatem beneficio alicuius, to get the fredom of the citee by some mans benefite.
Ciuis, a tyuer in Thrace. also a citee of the same name.
Cizicus, a citee in Asia the lesse.

C ANTE L.

CLabula, looke Clauola.
Clades, dis, f. g. a discomfyture in battaple, a destruction of men, losse, great myserp and misfortune.
Lybia clades, the ruine or destruction of Lybia.
Cladem accipere, to haue a great ouerthrow.
Claron, a tyuer in Phrigia.
Clam, pryuily, vnwares, by steleth.
Is amare occæpit Alcumenam, clam viro, he began to loue Alcumena vnwares to his husbande.

Clam alter alterum, the one not knowynge of the other.
Clam me profectus est, vnwares to me, he went his waies.
Clam me, clam te, I or thou not knowyng.
Clam omnes, vnwares to euery man, no man knowynge or wyttynge.
Non clam me est, I know it well enough.
Non clam me haberet, he woulde not hyde it or kepe it close frome me.
Clam vos sunt facinora eius, you know not his naughtie actes. his vngracious deedes are vnknowen to you.
Clam, an aduerbe.
Illac per ortum circuit clam, he went aboute that waie by the gardeyne pryuily.
Si sperat fore clam, If he hope that it maie bee vnknowen.
Clámito, aui, are, to cry often, to cry out in complaynyng or reprehendyng.
Clamitare, for pre se ferre, as,
Supercilia illa clamitare calliditatem videntur, Those browes seme manifestlye to signifye and note a craftp wylinesse to be in the man.
Clámitor, ôris, m. g. a crier, or one that speaketh ouer lowde.
Clamitórius, a, um, that perteyneth to cryynge lowde.
Clamo, aui, are, to crie, to call.
Clamat veritas, trueth saieth playnly.
Mihi quidem non placent, & clamo sæpe, Truely these thynges please not me, And I cry and complayne oftentymes.
Clamare aliquẽ nomine, to cal one by his name
Clamata refugit, called vnto.
Clamor, óris, m. g. a crye or clamour, a noyse, or shoute.
Cæcus clamor, a confuse crie or shoute, where some crie shrill, some great, some loude, some softe.
Fatiscere clamore, to crie that he panteth, and is wery agayne.
Immensum clamorem tollere, to make an exceedyng shoute or noyse.
Clamôsus, a, um, clamorous or full of noyse.
Clampetiæ, a place in Italy.
Clanculárius, a, um, secrete, vnknowen.
Clancularius poëta, a poete that sheweth not his name in his wrytynges.
Clánculum, secretely.
Clanculum dicta, thynges spoken in secrete.
Clandestino, pryuily or secretely.
Clandestinus, a, um, pryue or secrete.
Clandestina colloquia, pryue communication.
Clanga, idem quod planga.
Clango, xi, ĕre, to sowne a trumpette. also to cry lyke an egle.
Clangor, ôris, ma. ge. the sowne of a trumpette sometyme the crye that geese or other lyke byrdes doe make.
Clanius, a tyuer of Campayne, neere to the citee

Seerras

Terras.

Clarè, clerely, apparantly, manifestly.

Clare audire, to here perfectly.

Clare videre, to se clerely.

Cláreo, ui, ẽre, to appeere, to be well knowen, to bee cleere, to bee renoumed, to be notable and famouse.

Ad primordia ætatis clarent, at the begynnyng of sommer they appeere.

Claret, it is manyfest, it appereth.

Clarefco, idem quod clareo.

Clarescit dies, the daie is kayre and cleere.

Clarifico, aui, are, to make cleere and apparant.

Clarigátio, ónis, f. g. a cleerynge, a subsydie or taske graunted by a common consent. A denouncyng of warre: also an authoritee geuen a man to take one prysoner, and to raunsome him.

Clárigo, áui, are, to demaunde a thynge with a loude voyce. It was properly a woorde perteynyng to the hynge of armes of the Romaynes, called Paterpatratus, whan he went to the borders or marches of theim, whiche had doone iniurie to the Romaynes, and there, with a loude and cleere voice, demaunded amendes, and otherwise he denounced and proclaimed warre against theym. So that Clárigo, dooeth sygnifie to denounce.

Clarisonus, a, um, that maketh a cleere sowne.

Cláritas, átis, f. g. clereneesse, sometyme nobilitee or honour, famouseneesse.

Claritas visus, clereneesse of syght.

Claritas vocis, clereneesse of voyce.

Claritas & amplitudo, honor and nobleneesse.

Excellere claritate nascendi, to excell in nobleneesse of byrth.

Clarii, people of Thrace.

Claritúdo, ínis, f. g. idem quod claritas: Also bruite, renoume.

Clarium, a towne in Grecia, where Apollo was honoured, and thereof called Clarius. There was an hole in the grounde, out of whiche ranne a lyttle brooke, whereof he that dranke, gaue meruaylouse aunsweres, but he lyued not longe after.

Claro, áui, áre, to make noble or honorable, to make notable or knowen.

Claros, a citee in Greece, where was an oracle of Apollo.

Clarus, a, um, cleere, loude, honorable, famous, renoumed.

Clara pugna, a battayle woorthy memory.

Clarus clamor, clara vox, a loude cry, a loude or shyll voyce.

Clara res, a playne matter.

Clarus genere, of a noble or honorable house.

Clara dies, a kayre cleere daie.

Vir clarissimus, a very honourable and noble gentyll man.

Sole clariora, thynges as manifest as maie bee possible.

Clarus, ri, m. g. a ryuer, whiche renneth from the mountaynes Alpes into the ryuer Danubium.

Classiarius, i, m. g. a man of warre on the sea. Also a dyligent persone, a ready felowe.

Classici, they whiche in a towne, were most ryche and substanciall. Also after some, the rowers in shyppes of warre. also the chiefe souldiours.

Classici be they also, whiche at the commaundement of the magistrates, did call together the people by sounde of trumpet, to any assemble or connocation.

Classici authores, writers of most estimation.

Classici testes, wytnesses hauynge moste substance, and estimation.

Classicula, læ, f. g. a diminutiue of classis.

Classicum, i, n. g. a peale or noyse of trumpettes or belles, to call men together, or to goe to batayle. sometyme a trumpet.

Classica nunquam sonant, The trumpettes neuer sowne.

Classico aduocare ad concionem, to cal to an assemble or connocation by the sowne of a trumpette.

Classicum canere, to styre dissension and debate, looke Cano.

Classicus, ci, m. g. an officer, whiche with a trumpette or taboure called people together, sometime a man beyng in reputation.

Classicus, a, um, perteynyng to a shippe, or nauy of shyppes.

Classica bella, warre on the sea.

Classis, sis, f. g. a nauy of shyppes, sometyme one shippe. It is also an order of fourmes or stooles sette in a place, where men doe sytte accordyng to their degrees, authorytees, promotions in cuantyng or substaunce. The people of Rome were deuyded by Seruius Tullius the. vi. king of Romaynes, into. v. bandes, whiche were called Classes. And they of the. v. bande were of no value. The three places of iudges in westminster hall maie be called Classes. Sometyme Classis, is a company of horsemen.

Appellere classem, to arryue with an nauy of shippes.

Aedificare classes, to make shyppes.

Qui classi præerat, whiche was maister, admirall, or capitayne of the shyppe.

Armare classem, to furnisshe a nauy of shyppes with ordinaunce.

Conscendere classem, to take shippyng.

Comparare classem, to prepare a nauy of shippes. Ducere classem, to gouerne a nauie of shyppes.

Impellere remis classem, to rowe the shyppes by force of oyes.

Instruere & ornare classem, to decke or furnisshe a nauy with all abilimentes and takelynge.

Molire classem, to prepare a nauy.

Nauigat classis, the nauy sayleth forth.

Subducere classem, to bryngе the shyppes to lande:

Deducere classem, to take the sea.
Renouare classem, to repayre a nauy.
Stant classes, the shippes lye at Rode.
Primæ classis homo, one of the chiefest persones.
Distribuere in classes pueros, to diuyde children into certayne fourmes.
Claterna, a citee in Italy.
Clathrum, i, n. g. in plu. hi clathri, & hæc clathra, or Clathrus, i, m. g. a lattyse wyndowe, or any thing made lyke a lattyse, or with barres called a grate. It is vsed of Horace for an harrow, because it is made after that facion. Some doe wryte it Clatrum, without an aspiration.
Clatratus, a, um, of lattyse, latticed.
Clatro, aui, are, to shutte a wyndowe, specially a lattyse windowe: To close with lattise grates, or treples.
Clava, æ, f. g. a clubbe.
Clauam extorquere Herculi, To take from Hercules his clubbe: A prouerbe, applied to him, that goeth about to gette a thynge, that an other man hath, muche stronger than him selfe.
Clauarius, rij, an officer appoynted to deale the emperours gyft of money or coyne amonge the souldiours.
Clauâtor, oris, m. g. he that vseth a clubbe.
Clauâtus, a, um, sette with naples or studdes.
Clauata vestis, a garment sette with spangles lyke the heades of naples, as we see in some vestimentes in churches wrought in braunches and flowers. And if the garment were wyde, it was called Latus clauus, whiche in Rome no man myght weare, except he were a Senatour.
Claudia, a gentyll woman of Rome, whiche for her curiouse apparaple, was infamed to be vnchast. But whan the Image of idea, called mother of the goddes, was brought out of Phrygia to Rome, in a barge by the ryuer of Tiber, it happed to sticke so fast in a shalow place, that it moughte not be remoued with any force. This mayden, kneelynge downe, desyred the goddesse, that as she beeynge a cleane wyrgyn and falsely slaundered, the fayde ymage woulde witsake to folowe her to the citee. And than, she onely tyeng her gyrdell to the barge, easyly drew it to the lande, whiche all the youth of the citee were not able to doo.
Claudia, is also a towne of Norice, called Clausdiuium.
Claudianus, a famous poete.
Claudicatio, ónis, f. g. haltynge.
Claudico, aui, are, to halt, and by a metaphore to fayle or lacke, to be fayne or vnperfecte.
Claudicare in aliquo officio, to be negligente in doyng a mans duetie, or not to doe ones full duetie in any parte of honest behauiour.
Ex aliqua parte claudicare, to be vnperfecte on some parte.
Claudicat ingenium, the wytte fayleth, or is not perfecte.

Oratio claudicat, the oracion hopeth not one iuste tenour or fourme.
Claudicat respublica, the common weale is in an vnperfecte state.
Claudiopolis, a citee of Cappadocia.
Claudiras, ãtis, f. g. idem quod claudicatio.
Claudiuium, a citee in Norice, called commonly Closterneweburge.
Claudius, the proper name of diuers Romaynes: and also the surname of a noble family in Rome, whiche were euer repugnaunt to the actes of the common people.
Claudo, si, ĕre, to shutte, to compasse, to put of, to halte. also to ende, to fynysshe or adde a conclusion to a thynge.
Claudite Nymphæ Dictææ, nymphæ nemorum, iam claudite saltus, Close about, ye nymphes of the mountayne Dicte, ladies of the forestes, close in your woodes.
Nuncubi meam benignitatem sensisti in re claudier? Did you euer perceiue, that my liberalitee was slacke towarde you? or, that I vsed not my selfe liberally towarde you?
Claudere & resecare, contrary.
Claudere aditus, to stoppe or close vp the places, where men shoulde enter. Likewyse,
Claudere exitum, transitum, viam.
Opus aliquod claudere, to ende a woorke.
Bella claudere, to fynysshe the warres.
Epistolam claudere, to ende or adde the conclusion to a letter.
Claudere sanguinem, to staunche bloude.
A mari claudebatur, It was compassed about with the sea.
Pudor meus illius consuetudinem mihi clausit, My shamefastnesse woulde not suffre me to vse his familiar company.
Claudere aures, to stoppe ones eares.
Nolo tibi vllum commodum in me claudier, I woulde not that any commoditee of yours should be hyndred by me.
Clausum ad huc mare fuisse scio, Hitherto I know the passage of the sea hath ben stopped.
Clausa habere sua consilia, to haue his counsayles kepte secrete.
Claudus, a, um, lame.
Clauda fides, feeble credence.
Clauena, the duchie of Cleues.
Clauicula, æ, f. g. a little kaye or clubbe. Also the tendrell of a vyne. also the cancll bone of the thyghe.
Clauicularius, a, um, that beareth keyes.
Clauiculus, li, m. g. the diminutiue of clauus.
Clauiger, idem quod clauicularius. also one, that carryeth a clubbe.
Clauis, uis, f. g. a keye.
Sub claui esse, to bee shutte vp vnder locke and keye.
Clauola, æ, f. g. a greaffe.
Claustrarius, rij, a maker of keies and lockes.
Claustrinus, ni, m. g. a keper of a cloyster, or other place

place, wherein any lyuyng thyng is inclosed.
Clauſtrum, i, n. g. a cloyſter or other place, where any lyuyng thyng is inclosed, or that is compaſſed with walles, rayles, barres, or any lyke thynge.
Clauſtrum, maie be vſed for the flappe, leafe, or caſement of a wyndow.
Regni alicuius clauſtra, The keye of anye kyngedome.
Naturæ clauſtra confringere, to open the ſecretes of Nature.
Ferrea clauſtra, barres of Iron ſette a croſſe to kepe a thyng ſtrongly, or grates of Iron.
Clauſum, ſi, neu. gen. an houſe or place, where a thynge is kepte cloſe.
Clauſus, a, um, ſhutte vp, cloſed, kept in, impryſoned.
Cláuſula, æ, f. g. a little ſentence, or a parte of a ſentence, the concluſion or ende of an epyſtle or other matter, a clauſe, a periode.
Clauſúra, æ, f. g. a ſhuttyng in.
Cláuulus, li, maſ. gen, a diminutyue of clauus, a lyttle nayle.
Clauus, i, m. g. a nayle, the ſterne of a ſhyppe, a corne on a mans toe or fynger. Moreouer, Claui be litell ſwellynges of harde fleſhe in the corner of the eies. Alſo a certayne ſwellyng or ſore, called of ſome Furunculus, or Bubo. alſo puffes growynge in the ſtemmes of great trees. In harneys it is called the eruette. alſo Claui were certayne tables ſette on the walles of the temple, to knowe the numbre of yeres. Moreouer Clauus is a garmente, pirled or poudred with rounde knappes of pourple lyke nayles heades. wherefore the proper garment of a Senator was called Latus clauus.
Claui caligares, nayles that were dyuen into ſouldyoures buſkyns or ſtreyues.
Clauus capitatus, a nayle with a heade.
Clauus ligneus, a pynne made of woodde.
Figere clauum, to ſtrike in a pynne or nayle.
Alſo idem quod pangere clauum.
Clauus æneus, a brazen nayle, A prouerbe ſignifyeng a ſure remedy againſt all myſchappes, whiche Celius ſayeth, proceded of this ſuperſtition. In olde tyme, whan huntars had ouerthrowen a wylde ſwyne or harte in places farre from habitation, they draue into the beaſte a brazen nayle, beleuyng that thereby the fleſh ſhoulde be kepte from putrifaction.
Clauum clauo pellere, to dryue out one nayle with an other: A prouerbe, ſignifyeng one yll to put out an other, one labour an other, one greſe an other, one decepte an other, extreme pleaſure with extreme peyne.
Pangere clauum, to ſette vp the table, wherein the number of yeres was noted.
Clauum imperij tenere, to haue the gouernance and rule of the common weale.
Dum clauum rectum teneam, ſo that I dooe my ductie as I ſhoulde doo.
Clazomenæ, a citee of Ionie, whiche Parálus builded, called before Scynia.
Clazomenia, an plande, whiche is called Marathuſa.
Cleanthes, the name of the noble philoſophier, whiche was ſo poore, that in the nyghte tyme he gatte his lyuynge by caryyng of water, and in the daie ſtudied philoſophie. He ſucceded Zeno in his ſchole.
Cleatchus, the name of a philoſophier. There was a noble capitayne of the ſame name, of whom Xenophon wryteth in the expedition of Cyrus the leſſe: he wrote thoſe thynges, whiche he learned of Zeno, in ore bones, and tyle ſhardes, for lacke of money to bye paper.
Clemâtis, or after ſome Clématis, tídis, fœ. g. called alſo Chamedaphnis, an herbe, whereof be two kyndes, the one Peruinca, in engliſſhe perwinkle: the other Volubilis maior. there is an other Clematis, which Ruellius geſſeth to be withwynde, but his iudgement doeth not pleaſe ſome learned men of our tyme.
Clema, idem quod Pityuſa. Dioſc. li. 4.
Clematia, idem quod Tithymalus. Theoph.
Clemens, entis, om. g. gentill, humayne, patient, not lyghtly angry, eaſy, quiete, ſoft, mercyfull.
Clemens caſtigatio, a gentyll and moderate correction.
Amnis clementiſsimus, a ryuer that renneth not ouer ſwiftly, but is veray quiete and ſtyll.
Clemens ſeruitus, an eaſy bondage, wherein a man is gentylly intreated.
Clementi animo ignoſcere, to forgeue with a gentyl and mercyfull mynde.
Cleménter, mercifully, gentylly, without anger, with temperatneſſe and moderacion.
Clementer tractare, to intreate gentylly or ſweetely.
Clementer volo, I am well content.
Clementer audire, to here gétilly and patiently.
Clementer ambulare, to walke ſoftely.
Cleméntia, æ, fœ. g. mercy. ſometyme patience, clemencie, temperateneſſe.
Clementia æſtatis, the temperateneſſe of ſommer, not exceedynge in heate.
Clementia hyemis, the quietneſſe of wynter without great ſtormes or colde.
Confugere ad clementiam alicuius, to flee or appeale to a mans mercy or gentyleneſſe.
Clementia & lenitas.
Clementia, manſuetudo, & humanitas.
Clena, næ, f. g. a cloke.
Cleobis, and Biton, the ſonnes of Argia, whiche drew theyr mother to the temple in a wayne.
Cleobulus, one of the ſeuen ſages of Greece, whoſe daughter called Cleobulina, was an excellente poete, and made a booke of ryddelles, conteyned in three thouſande verſes.
Cleódamas, the name of a Geometrician in the tyme of Plato, and of an other of Theſſaly, whiche wrote of horſekeepynge.

Cleombrotus, the sonne of Paulanias, capitayne of the lacedemonians. Also a ponge man whiche after he had redde Platos woozkes, conceyued suche an hope of immoztaliter of the soule, that he lepte into the sea, not withstandyng he had no mischoztune in all his lyfe.

Cleomedes, a wzastlar of excedyng strength and greatnesse of body, who beyng putte beside the pzese at the games of Olimpus, fel madde.

Cleomenes, a tapptayne of the Lacedemonians, and a tyottous persone, in the tyme of Licero and Uerres.

Cleon, a capptayne of the Athenians, ennemie to Nicias: also a poete and ozatoure of the same name.

Cleonæ, arum, plu. & Cleone, sing. a towne in Greece, betwene Argos and Lozynthe, where Hercules slewe a Lyon.

Cleonæus, a, um, of Cleonæ.

Cleopatra, the name of dyuers great ladies, specially quenes of Egypte. Of whom one excellyng in pleasantnesse and sharpnesse of wit, fyzst allured vnto hir Julius Cesar, afterward Marcus Antonius, companion in the empyze with Augustus, whom she brought into suche dotage, that in folowynge hir appetyte, he aspyzed vnto the whole empyze: wherfoze he was afterwarde destroyed by Augustus. This woman so exceded in sumptuous glattony, that she puttyng an excellent perle into taste vyneger (wherin beyng resolued) receyued it into hir body, beyng estemed at Centies Hs, whiche is of our moneye, fooco. li. This lady after the death of Antonie, inclosed hir selfe in a tumbe, and hauynge two serpentes suckyng at hir pappes, so dyed.

Cleopatrus, a capptayne of Lozynthe.

Cleophantus, a famous phisicion. also a counsaylynge princeter of Lozynthe.

Cleophon, a tragicall poete of Athens.

Cleostratus, an auncient philosophier, which was the fyzst that wzate of the celestiall figures.

Clepo, psi, ĕre, to steale.

Rapere & clepere, to robbe and steale.

Clepsydra, æ, fœ. ge. a dyall, whiche diuided the houres by the rennynge of a certayne measure of water much lyke to an houre glasse. It maie be vsed for a potte to water a gardeyne with. It was also the name of a fountayne in Athens.

Cleromantia, tiæ, f. g. southsayynge by lottes.

Cleronomia, æ, f. g. heritage.

Clerónomus, mi, m. g. an heyze.

Clerus, cleri, m. ge. circumflexa prima syllaba, foztune, chaunce, lotte. It is taken foz a certain measure of lande. Also a wozme, whiche destroieth and hurteth hony combes.

Clerus, acuto in fine, one that is chosen by lot, a deacon.

Clibanarius, rij, m, g. he that fighteth in iustyng harneis.

Clibanitus, a, um, baken oz sodden in an ouen oz foznays.

Clibanus, i. m, ge. an ouen oz foznays.

Clibodion, idem quod Helxine. Dioscor.

Cliduchus, chi, m. g. idem quod clauiger.

Cliens, entis, ma. ge. is he, that belongeth oz retayneth to some man in authozitee, to haue his defence and assistence in honest causes. It is also he, which hath retayned a lawyer to sustayne his matter, called a client.

Clienta, æ, f. g. a woman client.

Commendare se in clientelam alicuius, to be retayned, oz to committe ones selfe to be vnder the pzotection of some great man.

Clientela, æ, f. g the multitude of clientes, oz of seruauntes retayned. sometyme safegard oz pzotection of a great man.

Clientellaris, re, of a client.

Clientellaris officij sponsio, The homage that the clientes make to theyz retaynours.

Clientulárium, rij, n. g. an perely fee, foz counsayle oz assistence.

Clima, ătis, n. g. is a pozcion of the woylde betwene southe and nozth, wherin is variation of tyme in the lengthe of the daie, the space of halfe an howze, whiche is sette out in the tables and chartes of cosmographie.

Climácter, ĕris, mas. gen. the round oz step of a ladder.

Climacterа, ræ, fœ. gen. the perillous tyme of a mans lyfe, at euery. vii. peres ende, oz after other at the. 63. peres ende, at whiche tyme he is in daunger of some greate mischoztune and peryll, either in body oz mynde.

Climactéricus, a, um, oz pertaynyng to the perillous tyme of a mans lyfe at euery. vii. peres ende.

Climactericum tempus, the saied daungerous tyme.

Climox, ăcis, fœ. g. a ladder, and the figure called Gradation. also the name of an hill.

Climenos, an herbe, whiche beyng vsed in medicine, cureth the disease, but it engendzeth barrennesse.

Clinámen, ĭnis, n. g. a declynyng oz bowyng.

Cline, es, f. g. a bedde oz a table.

Clingo, gere, olde wzyters vsed foz Cingere, to gyzde.

Clinias, a certaine philosophier of Pithagozas sect. also a musician.

Clinice, es, f. g. the art of physike that healeth by diete and medicines.

Clinicus, ci, m. g. a physicion, that healeth with medicines, oz that cometh to a mans bed to vysyte hym. also he that is so sicke, that he can not aryse out of his bedde, bedzed.

Clinidium, dij, n. g. a lyttle bedde.

Clino, aui, are, to bende oz incline, out of vse.

Clinopale, wzastlyng in the bedde. also immoderate vse of lecherie.

Clinopodium, the herbe, whiche is called Pulioll mountayne. other name it hozse tyme, because it is like great tyme, it groweth about Oxfozde.

Clio,

Clio, the name of one of the muſis.
Clipea, a towne in the leſſe Affrike, called alſo Clupea, and Clypea, commonly Quipia.
Cliſis, ſis, f. g. declinacion.
Clitarchus, an hiſtoriographier, that was with great Alexander, and wrote his actes.
Clitellæ, ārum, f. g. plu. a packe ſaddle. alſo the name of a place in Rome.
Clitellæ boui impoſitæ ſunt, A packe ſaddle on a cowe. A prouerbe, notynge a man as vnmete for an office, roume, or dignitee, as a cowe to beare a ſaddle.
Clitellārij, orum, packe horſes or mules that doo ſerue for cariage.
Clitellārius, a, um, that beareth a packe ſaddle.
Cliterini, orum, m. g. the cullions or ſtones of a man.
Cliternia, a towne in Italy, by the mountayne Garganus, called commonly Celano.
Clitomachus, a philoſophier. alſo a notable wraſtler whiche was ſo chaſte, that if he hearde in company any filthy worde ſpoken, he woulde forthwith riſe from the table and departe.
Clitorium, dicitur muliebre pudendum, quod etiam Sacandrus nominatur.
Clitoris, or Clitorium, a citee of Tetradie, by the whiche is a denne, out of the whiche ſpringeth a water, of the whiche who ſo drinketh, doeth euer after hate wyne.
Clitumnus, ni, a ryuer in Italy, of whiche if beaſtes drynke, the ponge that they dryng forth are whyte.
Cluia, all thynges harde to bee brought to paſſe. Alſo ſouthſaynge, forbiddynge a thing to be dooen.
Cluina, æ, f. g. a bryde, whiche in ſouthſayinge gaue ſygne, that a thynge ſhould not be dooen.
Cluius, a, um, ſtepe, difficile, harde.
Cliuōſus, a, um, pitchynge downe, or ſtipe downe.
Cliuulus, a diminitiue of Cliuus.
Cliuus, i, ma. gen. or Cliuum, i, n. ge. the pitche of an hyll, a downe hyll. ſometime the ſyde of an hyll. ſometime a lytle hyl, wheron is ſome thynge buylded.
Sudamus in vno cliuo, Prouerbialiter, Let vs labour in one buſyneſſe.
Cloāca, æ, f. g. a ſynke or gutter, wherby water and all filthy thyng paſſeth. And by a metaphore the bealy of a glutton or riottus perſon.
Cloacālis, le, of a ſynke.
Cloacāre, to defile or polute.
Cloacārium, ſcotte in a towne for clenſynge of common draughtes, or ſinkes.
Cloanthus, the companion of Eneas.
Clodia, a noble woman of Rome.
Clodicare, was vſed of olde wryters for Claudicare.
Clodij forum, a towne in Italy.
Clodius, a name of dyuers Romaynes, wherof two by theyr vile actes gatte ſpeciall remembraunce: One was ſonne to Eſopus, the player in tragedies. vnto whome his father lefte meruaylous great rycheſſe, whiche he mooſtly conſumed in banketyng, wherin he was ſumptuous, that vnto them, which ſupped with him, he wold geue perles of great value, relented in vineger to eate. An other Clodius, of a noble houſe of the Romayns ſo hated Tullye, for bearynge wytneſſe agaynſt him, whan he was accuſed for committynge aduiterie with Pompeia, the wyfe of Julius Ceſar, that afterwarde, beyng Tribune of the people, he neuer ſeaſſed to ſtyre the people agaynſt Tullie, vntyll he compelled hym to go into exile.
Clodo, for Claudo.
Cloelia, a mayden of Rome, whiche beynge in hoſtage with other, to the kynge Porſena, deceyued hir keepers, and ſwamme ouer the ryuer Tyber to the citee.
Clonius, a capitayne of the Beotians, whiche came to ayde the Troyans.
Clorion, looke Chlorion.
Cloris, a mayden or nymph, which was maried to Zephirus, vnto whome was aſſygned for her dowrie, to haue rule ouer flowres.
Cloſtrum, i, neu. g. olde wryters vſed for Clauſtrum. Alſo the ioynyng togither of rafters, and a raple or lythe thynge made of quarters or puncheons.
Clota, a creke in the Britayne ſea.
Clotho, one of the fatall ladies, haunyge power ouer mans lyfe, in diſſolupng therof. An other the daughter of Nereus, and goddeſſe of the ſea.
Cludidatum, of olde wryters was vſed for Dulce or Suaue.
Cludo, ſi, ere, to ſhutte.
Cluentius, a Romain, whome Cicero defended in an eloquent oration.
Clueo, ui, ere, to be named or called, to be compted or eſteemed, to purge or clenſe, to appeare. And after ſome, to contende or ſtriue.
Clumæ, arum, f. g. the huſkes of barlay.
Clunadum, or after ſome Clunaculum, li, n. ge. a bouchers choppyng knyfe.
Clunia, a towne in Spayne.
Cluniculus, i, maſc. gene. a diminutiue of Clunis.
Clunicus, ci, he that hath diſeaſe in his buttoches.
Clunienſis, a countey in Spayne.
Clunis, is, ma. & f. g. or after tymes, Clunes, clunium, plu the buttockes or haunces.
Clupea, æ, f. g. a citee of Affrike, neere to Carthage. it is alſo a fyſhe, whiche beyng very deſyrous of a reyne in the iawes of a Tunye, ſleeth hym.
Cluſij, be ſuppoſed to be certayne ſpirites, made of the ayre.
Cluſilis, le, that may be quickely ſhutte.
Cluſini, people of Hetruria.
Cluſinum, a kynde of wheate.

Cluſinus

Clusinus, the surname of Janus, because that in the tyme of peace, the gates of his temple were shutte.
Clusiolum, was an olde towne of Umbria.
Clusium, a citee in the myddle of Tuscia, in the which Porsena was buried.
Clymeides, the systers of Phaeton, named after their mother Clymene.
Clymene, the mother of Prometheus, daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.
Clymeneis, idis, patronymicum.
Clymenum, semeth not to be one herbe in Plinie and Dioscorides. Clymenum of Dioscorides, is water Betonie, and groweth alwayes aboute water sydes. Clymenos Plinij, groweth in wooddes about hedges.
Clipeatus, a, um, that carieth a shield or targat.
Clypeus, ei, m. g. Clypeum, neu. g. shielde or targate of footemen.
Clysmus, mi, m. g. a purgation or washynge.
Clyster, eris, m. g. a clyster.
Clytemnestra, the wyfe of Agamemnon, the daughter of Tyndarus and Leda.
Clytia, or Clytie, a mayden, which Apollo loued.
Clytius, a ponge man loued of Lydon. Also the sonne of Laomedon, and brother to Priamus.

CANTEN.

CN. vel Cneus, the surname of dyuers Romaynes.
Cnemides, a place in Thrace.
Cnicion, idem quod trifolium. Dios.
Cnicos, or Cnicus, an herbe, called of the apothecaries Carthamus, of the whiche bee two kyndes, the one is of the gardeyne, the other is wilde. Of the fyrst is a notable confection made called Diacharthami, whiche louseth the brest, and purgeth watry flewme. It is of some calde Saffron of the gardeyne, bastarde saffron, or mocke saffron. it is hotte and dyre in the seconde degree.
Cnidos, a certayne herbe.
Cnidium oleum, an oyle made of the seede of that herbe.
Cnidon coccum, idem quod Chamæleon niger. Dios.
Cnidos, or Gnidos, a citee of Caria, where Venus was worshipped. Also a promontory in the same place.
Cnips, a litle wormе, whiche is founde bred in an elme tree, not muche vnlike a gnatte. loohe the prouerbe, Cnips in loco.
Cnipologos, the byrde called a waggetayle.
Cnopodium, dij, n. g. the herbe called Polygonion.

COA, a towne in Arabia felici.
Coaccédo, ĕre, to be added to the principall summe, or to approche or draw nere with other.
Coacesco, ácui, cescere, to waxe soure or tarte.
Coacéruo, áui, âre, to heape vp, or gather into heapes.
Cogere & coacervare pecunias, to gather to gether and heape vp ryches.
Coaceruátio, ônis, f. g. a layinge vp in heapes.
Coaceruátus, a, um, layde or caste vp on a heape.
Coacon, ci, n. g. a blacke playster.
Coactilia, ôrum, neut. gene. was vsed for skinnes, wherin cloathes weare packed in carriage, and now may well be vsed for packe cloath, and also for coydes, wherwith the packes are trussed.
Coáctio, ônis, f. g. a particular receipt or gatheryng to gether, also a passion in bodies, where of bredeth dyuers sycknesses.
Coactio argentaria, a gatheryng together of money.
Coácto, áui, âre, a frequentatiue of Cogo, to force or constrayne.
Coáctor, ôris, m. g. a particular receyuour, or one that gathereth vp an vsurers debtes, also a forcer, a constreigner, one that gathereth together.
Coactûra, æ, f. g. a great heappynge or gathering to gether.
Coáctus, us, m. g. constrynt, forcement, compulsion.
Coactu ac flagitatu meo, by my compulsion and importune suite.
Coáctus, a, um, constreygned, enforced, compelled, gathered and assembled together.
Coactus dices, sponte quæ fari abnuis, thou shalt be constreygned to tell that thou wylt not by thyne owne accorde.
Lacrymæ coactæ, teares wrested oute by violence.
Scelus coactum, a naughty acte doone by the impulsion and counsayle of an other.
Coacti, men summoned or gathered together.
Coaddo, dĭdi, ĕre, to adde or lay together.
Coadûno, áui, âre, to assemble and gather men together in one company.
Coædífico, aui, are, to buylde harde together.
Coæquâlis, le, equall.
Coæquâre, idem quod æquare, to make lyke or indifferent.
Coequare leges, to make lawes indifferent to all men.
Coǽquus, a, um, lyke, euen.
Coætáneus, a, um, of one age.
Coǽuus, a, um, idem.
Coagitátio, ônis, f. g. a meuynge or stirrynge together.
Coágito, aui, are, idem quod simul agito, vide Agito.

Coag-

Coagmentátio, ônis, fœ, ge. idem quod cõagmentum.

Coagmentâtus, a, um, ioyned together.

Coagmẽto, âui, âre, to ioyne or couche together.

Coagmentare pacem, to make peace.

Coagméntum, ti, n. g. a couchynge or ioynynge of thynges together.

Coágulatio, ônis, fœ. gene. the gatherynge of a curde.

Coágulo, aui, are, to gather into a curde or creame.

Coágulum, li, n. g. a curde or creame, the rueu of a beast, wherwith mylke is tourned, and by a metaphore, any thynge, that ioyneth or coupleth together.

Coáleo, cóales, âlui, ére, to cleaue to, to increase or augment by receiuyng nutriment.

Vt niſi pinguiſsimo ſolo coalere non poſſet, So that it cannot grow or increase but in a very fatte grounde.

Concordia coaluerant omnium animi, By concorde all theyr courages increased.

Coalésco, ui, ſcére, to gather together, to increase.

Coaleſcit vulnus, the wounde cloſeth.

Authoritas coaleſcit, his authorite increaseth or is more esteemed.

Coálitus, a, um, nourysshed, increased, augmented.

Coálluo, álluí, lúere, properly in a ryuer, or the sea, when it casteth more sande or grauell to an heape, and maketh it bygger.

Coamicus, ci, m. g. a freende.

Coangústo, áui, áre, to make more narowe or streicte.

Coangustor, the passiue.

Coarctátio, ônis, f. g. a streignynge or pressynge togyther.

Coarctâtus, a, um, constreygned or kepte streicte in.

Coárcto, aui, are, to streyne or presse together. Also to gathera matter in few wordes.

Coarctus in oppido, kept within the towne by force.

Coárguo, gui, ére, to rebuke, to blame, to reprehende, to shew a man his faute, to declare or proue a thynge manifestly, to conuince, to take tardie.

Fuga laboris deſidiam coarguit, the eschuyng of labour is a manifest proue of slouthfulnesse.

Reum eius criminis coarguit, He proueth him guylte of that trespasse.

Coarguere auaritiæ, to conuicte one of couetousnesse.

Coarguere coniectura, to reason, or shew by coniecture.

Ne lituris coargui poſſet, that he myght not be espied by the blottes.

Coaſpis, a riuer of the Medes, whiche renneth into Tygris.

Coaſſátio, ônis, a plankynge or layinge of bourdes, a toynyng.

Coáſſo, aui, are, to planke or boorde, to ioygne boordes together.

Coaſtræ, people of India, where be trees so high that a man cannot shoote to the toppe.

Coaugmento, idem quod coagmento.

Coáxtio, ônis, f. g. idem quod coaſſatio, ioygnynge worke or sielynge with boordes.

Coaxo, aui, are, idem quod coaſſo. also to make a noyse lyke a frogge or tode.

Cobios, spurge, Dioſc.

Cocalus, a kynge of Sicilie, to whome Dedalus fledde out of Creta, whan Minos pursued hym.

Cocanicus, a ryuer in Sicilie, wherof a certaine kynde of salte is called Cocanicus.

Coccalus, li, m. g. a pyne appull.

Coccêtum, ti, neu. gen. a meate made of honye and poppy seede.

Cóccinum, ni, g. a scarlet robe or vesture.

Coccinâtus, a, um, that weareth a scarletta gowne.

Cóccinus, and Coccus, a, um, scarlette colour, some suppose it to be crimsyn.

Cóccinus, & Coccineus, a, um, of scarlet colour.

Coccos baphice, idem quod Cocceum.

Coccos, of some is taken for spurge.

Cóccula, or rather cocula, orum, n. g. vesselles to bake or boyle in.

Coccum, ci, n. g. grayne wherwith cloth is grayned. It is sometyme vsed for a garment of that colour.

Coccum cnidium, a berye lyke to myrtyll, blacke and harde without, and within white, the herbe wherof some doo call Thymælea, some Oliuella, some Leo terræ, some Lynum Syluestre. The berye is medicinable to purge choler, water, and fleume. some authors doo call it Granum cnidium.

Coccyx, pars ex lateribus sacri ossis.

Coccyx, cóccygis, fœm. gene. the birde called a cookow.

Cochlaceæ, certayne stones, rounde lyke cokles or snayles.

Cóchlea, æ, f. g. a snayle, haynge a shell, or the shell of a snayle. also a fysshe called a perwynke. Also the vice or wourme of a presse. It is also a kynde of pumpes, wherwith water is drawen by goyng in a wheele. also a facion of doozes. also a wyndyng steyre.

Cochleáre, vel Cóchlear, âris, neut. gene. a spoone. It is also a measure conteynynge three drammes, and one scriple, and the fourth parte of Cyathus.

Cochleárium, rii, neu. ge. a place where snayles are kepte.

Cochlearium medicum, seu atticum, conteyneth one dramme, halfe a scrypple. ii. graynes, and. ii. fyue partes of a grayne in measure: In weyght of wyne, as mucht of oyle one dramme, and .ii. scriples, there was of this measure twoo sortes, the lesse and the bigger.

Cochlearium, after Galian and other learned authors, is the sixte parte of an ounce, called in latine Sextula. Whiche affirmen also, that it is the .xii. parte of Sextarius, and not the fourth parte, as other would haue it: but opinions are very diuers in it.

Cóchleum, lei, n. g. a wyndynge steyre.

Cochlidium, idem.

Cóchlides, dum, fœ. g. wyndynge stayres. also a stone founde in Arabie, whiche beyng boyled. vii. dayes, and as many nyghtes in hony, and al the earthe taken from it, is made wonderfull pleasant in sight, hauyng veynes and spottes of sundry colours, and is so greate, that sometyme therof is made horse harneys for kynges.

Cocles, cóclitis, com. ge. he or she that hath but one eye.

Cocles, a Roman, whiche at the siege of Rome kept backe Porsena and all his armye, tyll the bridge was broken behynde hym. looke Liuie.

Cocinthum, a great promontory in Italy.

Coctibilis, le, easy to be sodden.

Coctiæ, a parte of the mountaynes Alpes.

Cóctilis, le, sodden or baken.

Coctilia vasa, earthen pottes.

Coctilitia taberna, an house, where woodde was dryed, and made that it should not smoke.

Muri cóctiles, walles of bryche, or other lyke matter.

Cóctio, ónis, f. ge. a seethyng or boylynge. also digestion.

Coctionem facere, to concoct or digeste the meate in the stomache.

Cóctito, aui, are, to boyle or seethe.

Coctiuus, a, um, easy to be boyled or soone ripe.

Coctiua poma, appuls soone ripe.

Cóctona, loohe Cotona.

Cóctonum, ni, n. g. cotton.

Coctor, óris, m. g. one that setheth. also a ryotous person, that spendeth all that he hath in eatyng and drynkyng.

Coctúra, æ, idem quod Coctio. also the temperatenesse of the ayre, apte to make grapne and fruites ripe.

Coctus, a, um, sodden, boyled, digested.

Cóculum, a potte to boyle in, a pypkyn. sometyme Cocula, doo signifie stickes, whiche will soone be on fyre.

Cóculus, a diminitiue of cocus.

Cocus, ci, m. g. a cooke.

Cocytia, sacrifices that were doone in honour of Proserpine.

Cocytus, a ryuer of hell.

Coda, a taple vsed of olde writers.

Codanonia, an yle of Germany.

Codanus, a goulfe in Germany, aboue the ryuer Albis, hauyng many plandes in it.

Codatrémula, læ, f. g. a birde called a wagtayle.

Codeta, a fielde by Tyber.

Codex, icis, ma. g. the body of a tree, or a greate booke or volume.

Instituere codicem, to make his booke of tree kennyng.

Referre in codicem, to registre or write in his booke.

Codex robustus, a kynde of punyshment, or a place where misdoers were punyshed.

Codex accepti & expensi, a reckenyng booke.

Charaxeus codex, a paper booke.

Codix, the toppes of Pope.

Codicarius, a, um, that is made of the body of a tree, or of thycke plankes.

Codicariæ naues, shippes or barges made of thycke plankes.

Codicillaris, re, the adiectiue of Codicilli.

Codicillaris poenitas, authorytee graunted by the kynges letters.

Codicilli, órum. m. g. pln. epistles. sometyme it is taken for letters patentes of a prince.

Codicilli, also be those writynges, by the which a man disposeth his goodes in his last will. without ordeynyng any certayne heyre, and then be vsed, when one cannot make his testament.

Codicillus, li, ma. ge. a lytell booke. also a letter missiue.

Codiculus, a diminutiue of Codex, when it signifieth a booke.

Codion, dq, n. g. a kynde of lettyse.

Codones, saunce belles.

Codonophori, they that goe before with belles ryngyng in theyr handes.

Codrus, dri, the proper name of a kyng of Athes, who to saue his countrey, willyngly lost his lyfe. Also a very poore man, whose name is growen to a prouerbe.

Codro pauperior, Poorer then Codrus.

Cœa, of Politian is vsed for Coa, of the yle of Cos.

Cœle, a name of Syria.

Cœliacus morbus, a peyne in the belly, with a continuall flix, diuers in colour, with losse of appetite, and coldnesse in the extreme parties, whiche sickenesse happeneth of the feblenesse of vertue digestiue in the stomache and belly. Some suppose it to be that, which is called Colica passio, I thynke it rather to be Lienteria ventriculi. Reade in Lienteria.

Cœliacus, i, m. g. he that hath that disease.

Cœlibaris hasta, the staffe of a rawlyn, which hadden in the body of one of them, whiche were called Gladiatores, and was clapne: with the whiche staffe the head of a mayden new maried was kempt, and stroken sygnifyinge, that lyke wise as the staffe had stycken fast in the body of hym that was slayn. so should she sticke faste, and be ioyned with him that maried her.

Cœliostomia, the prououncyng low in the mouth.

Cœolostómia, æ, f. g. when one speaketh holow in the mouth.

Cœlma,

Cœ̄lma, ătis, neut. gen. is a rounde and hollowe ſoꝛe aboute the circle of the eye, nyghe to the ſyght.
Cœlum, looke Cælum.
Cœlos, an hauen of Thꝛacia.
Cœmba, a citee of Gedꝛoſia, called now Cambaia.
Cœmentum, looke Cæmentum.
Cœmetérium, rij, n. g. a churcheyarde.
Cóĕmo, cóemis, émi, ĕre, to bye, to bye with other.
Coémptio, ônis, f. gen. where two oꝛ mo perſones doo by togither. Alſo a ſolemnitee of the lawe ciuile, where the man and the woman by mutuall conſent come togither, and (as it were) one byeth the other.
Cœna, æ, f. g. a ſupper. ſometime the place, where men ſuppe.
Caput cœnæ, the begynnyng of ſupper, oꝛ the fyꝛſt diſſhe that men doo eate of.
Cœna nitida & frugi, a cleanly ſupper, and of ſmalle coſte.
Adducere ad cœnam, to bꝛinge to ſupper.
Ieare ad cœnas, to vſe to go abꝛode to ſupper.
Inuitare ad cœnam, to bydde to ſupper.
Inter cœnam, at ſupper tyme.
Super cœnam, immediatly after ſupper.
Accipere aliquem cœna, and Adhibere cœnæ, to take one to ſupper as his gueſt.
Apparare cœnam, to make redy ſupper.
Apponere cœnam, to ſette the ſupper on the table.
Præbere, oꝛ dare cœnam ſenis ferculis, to make a ſupper, that ſhall not haue paſte fyre dyſſhes.
Reſta cœna, a ſette ſupper, contrary to Sportula, whiche is putte as it were foꝛ a lyuery oꝛ ſmall allowaunce.
Cœna opima, a plentyfull ſupper.
Cœna dubia, a ſupper where be many dyuers dyſſhes.
Cœnacularia, æ, f. g. the lettynge to hyꝛe of ſollars oꝛ vpper chambers.
Cœnaculariam facere, to lette an houſe in dyuers partes to ſundꝛy perſons, wherin are many vpper roumes.
Cœnaculárius, rij, m. g. he that dothe lette ſuche houſes to hyꝛe.
Cœnáculum, li, neu. g. a parlour oꝛ other place, where men doo ſuppe. alſo a chaumbꝛe in the vpper parte of the houſe. ſometyme the vppermoſt roome in an houſe, whiche in London they calla garret. Sometyme Cœnaculum is vſed foꝛ a place to ſuppe in, in the ſommer ſeaſon.
Cœnaculum meritorium, a chaumbꝛe lette out to hyꝛe.
Cœnáticus, a, um, pertaynyng to ſuppers.
Apparatus cœnaticus, oꝛdinance foꝛ ſupper.
Sermo cœnaticus, communication meete foꝛ ſuppers.
Cœnátio, ônis, f. gen. a lower parlour to ſuppe in, a ſommer parlour.
Cœnatiúncula, æ, f. ge. a lytle dyrtdynge houſe oꝛ chaumber.
Cœnatórium, rij, neu. gen. a garment to ſitte at ſupper in.
Cœnatórius, a, um, belongyng to ſupper.
Cœnatúrio, ij, ire, to haue a luſte oꝛ deſyre to go to ſupper.
Cœnâtus, a, um, that hath ſupped.
Cœnato mihi, epiſtola eſt illa reddita, when I had ſupped, that letter was delyuered to me.
Cum illa munera inſpexiſſet cœnatus, whan he had looked vpon thoſe preſentes, after he had ſupped.
Cœnipeta, a goat aboute to ſuppers vnbodden.
Cœ'nito, aui, are, to ſuppe often.
Cœnitáre foris, to vſe to ſuppe abꝛode.
Cœno, aui, are, to ſuppe.
Cœnare alienum, to ſuppe at an other mans coſte.
Cœnabis hodie magnũ malum, Thou ſhalte haue thy ſupper ſoone in ſhꝛewde reſt.
Cœnare herbas, and Cœnareolus, to ſuppe with herbes.
Pulmenta cœnare, to ſuppe with poꝛrage.
Cœnóbium, bij, n. g. a monaſtery, oꝛ other place, where men lyue in common.
Cœnoeum, the citee of Lubembergh in Germany
Cœnôſus, the name of an hauen.
Cœnôſus, a, um, full of myꝛe, dyrtie.
Cœ'nula, æ, f. g. a lyght ſupper.
Cœnum, i, myꝛe oꝛ dyrte, and by a metaphoꝛe, fylthineſſe, vncleanyneſſe, diſhoneſtie.
In tenebris & cœno volui, to leade a vyle and fylthy lyfe.
Cœpio, was vſed a monge olde wꝛiters foꝛ Inciꝑio, to begynne. Nowe the preterperfect tens is only in vſe, with the other that be deꝛyued of it.
Cœpit albéſcere, it began to ware white.
Cœpta, ôrum, neut. gene. thynges oꝛ matters begunne.
Cœpto, áui, âre, to begynne.
Cœptare rebellionem, to begin a rebellion.
Cœptum, i, n. g. an enterpꝛiſe oꝛ beginnyng.
Tædia cœpti capere, to ware weery of that, that one hath begunne.
Deſiſtere cœpto, to leaue of an enterpꝛiſe.
Tenere cœpta, to go foꝛwarde with that one hath begunne.
Cœptus, us, m. g. idem quod cœptum.
Cœptus ſum, foꝛ Cœpi.
Minus haberi cœptus eſt poſtea, he began after to be leſſe eſtemed.
Cœptus, a, um, begunne.
Opus cœptum perficere, to make an ende of the thyng that is begunne.
His cœptis, after theſe thynges were begunne.
Cœpulônus, ni, m. g. a banketter oꝛ ꝛeuellar.
Cœrúleo, ônis, f. g. a birde, whiche appeꝛeth not in the wynter, a clotbyrde, a ſmeathe, an aꝛtyng a ſtrynge ſtreinchcke.

C ANTE O.

Cœtus, us, m. g. an aſſemble of people, a conuention, a congregation. Sometime in Lucretius a knittyng and couplynge, togither of the partes of a mans body, with the humors, ſpirites, and all thynges, wherof the body is compacte.

Coëo, ĩui, ĩre, to come togither, to aſſemble, to ioyne to, to drawe togither, to gather togither to doo the acte of generation, to ioyne togethe in action by mayntenance or champertie.

Coire in fœdera, to make aliaunce.

Coire ſocietatem, to be familiar.

Coit vulnus, the wounde cloſeth.

Coire in denſitatem, to waxe thycke.

Societatem periculi coire, to venture the pe-ryll or daunger of a thynge with an other.

Coire in accuſationem alicuius, to ſubſcribe or agree to the acculation of any perſon.

Coit pus, the matter or ſyluhe gathereth together.

Cornua lunæ coeunt, the moone waxeth to-warde the full.

Coire dicuntur milites, to ioyne in battayle to fight.

De bonis alicuius coire, to conſpire to depriue
one of his goodes.

Coëquito, ãui, ãre, to ryde togither, ſide by ſide.

Coërceo, ũi, ẽre, to reſtreigne, to binde harde or ſtreicte, to compelle or conſtreigne, to kepe with in a compaſſe. alſo to comprehend or conteyne, to correcte or puniſhe, to let a thyng to be doone,
to kepe vnder ſubiection.

Coercere ignes, to ſtynte the fyre, whiche bur-neth an houſe or other lyke thynge.

Coercere iras hominum, to reſtreygne or kepe vnder the wrathe of people.

Aquam coercere, to ſtoppe water, or lette that it renne not.

Coercere nauſiam, to ſtoppe vomelyng.

Terras coercet omnes, he ſubdued all coun-treys to his obedience.

Coercere & refrenare.

Coercere & reprimere.

Cupiditatem coercere, to refrayne the appetite.

Coercere ſupplicijs & verberibus, to puniſhe or chaſtiſe.

Morte, exilio, vinculis coercere, to punyſhe by death, exyle, or imprſonment.

Alterum ſequi, alterum vitare coercemur, we are conſtreigned to folow the one, and to eſchew the other.

Mundus omnia complexu ſuo coercet & continet, the worlde in the compaſſe therof cõprehendeth and conteyneth all thynges.

Vitta coercebat capillos, the fillet bounde vp the heares.

Carcere coercere animalia, to kepe beaſtes in houſes, which naturally woulde be abrode.

Coërcitus, a, um, conſtreygned, compelled kepte in.

Coercitio, ônis, ſ. g. a reſtreinte, or keping in ſub-iection.

Coërctio, ônis, or Coertio, idem.

Cœtus, us, ma. gen. a company, a multitude, an aſſemble.

Vitiorum cœtus, a whole rable or multitude of vyces.

Agitare cœtus, to gather into companies, to aſſemble togither.

Dimittere cœtum, to diſmiſſe an aſſemble or congregation.

Inire cœtus, to aſſemble.

Cœus, the name of a gyant.

Coexercitátus, a, um, exercyſed togither.

Cogitábilis, le, that may be thought on.

Cogitabúndus, full of muſyng, one in a ſtudy, one that hath his wittes cloſe.

Cogitáte, aduiſedly, with good imagination.

Cogitaté verba facere, to ſpeake aduiſedly.

Accuratè & cogitaté ſcribere, to wryte diligẽtly and with meditation.

Cogitátim, and Cogitató, idem quod Cogi-taté.

Cogitátio, ônis, ſ. g. a thought, a deuyſe or imagination.

Nulla cogitatione homo, a man without con-
ſideration.

Abiicere cogitationem in rem vilem, to caſt a mannes thought or ymagynation vpon a vile matter.

Auertere cogitationẽ, to tourne away a mans ymagination from a thynge.

Complecti cogitatione, to comprehende in a mans mynde or ymagination.

Spe tamen deducebar ad iſtam cogitationem per by hope I was brought to thynke thys, or to haue this ymagination.

Fingere nobis aliquid cogitatione, to yma-gyne with our ſelfe, that a thynge is as we wold haue it.

In cogitationem belli regem auertere, to make the kynge, to caſte hys mynde to warre warre.

Sæpe in iſtam cogitationem incidimus, we chaunce often to thynke on thys matter, or after this ſorte.

Cogitátum, ti, n. g. a thynge deuyſed, thought on, and imagined in ones mynde.

Cogitátus, a, um, intended, purpoſed, thought
vpon.

Paricidium cogitatũ, non perfectum, a murder intended and not done.

Cógito, ãui, ãre, to muſe, to thynke, to ymagin, to caſt in ones mynde, to conſult with ones ſelfe,
to intende or purpoſe.

Cogitat curas, he thinketh on his matters.

Tam ſum irritatus, vt nequeam animum ad cogitandum inſtituere, I am ſo moued that I can not ſettle my mynde to ymagine or muſe on any thyng.

Cogitare cum animo ſuo, or in animo, to ymagine

pimagine in ones mynde.

Cogites hæc tecum, Thinke on these matters with your selfe.

Cogitare suspendium, to thinke to hange ones selfe.

Cœpi egomet mecum aliam rem ex alia cogitare, I began to muse or thynke on one thyng after an other.

Cogitare de aliquo, to haue one in remembraunce.

De pernicie alicuius cogitare, to deuise or pmagyne a mans destruction or death.

Cogito in Tusculanum, subaudi, proficisci, I thought to go to my place at Tusculum.

Ego hinc perendie mane discedere cogito, the next day, saying one I intẽd to depart hense, early in the morning.

Cras cogitabat, s. discedere.

Qui alteri cogitat nocere, he that intendeth or endeuoureth to hurt an other.

Cognáti, ôrum, m. g. kynsemen.

Cognátio, ônis, f. g. a kynred.

Cognatione iunctus alicui, or cum aliquo, kinne to one.

Cognátus, a, um, kynne: also like, agreyng, almost of the same nature.

Cognitio, ônis, f. g. a knowledge: sometyme it signifieth iudgement.

Quæ lex earum rerum, quas Cæsar statuisset decreuisset, egisset, Consulibus cognitionem dedit, whiche lawe gaue to the consules iudgement of those thinges, which Cæsar should haue iudged, decreed, and executed.

Habere cognitionem faciliorem, to bee more easie to be knowen.

Dies cognitionis, the daye of apparaunce in court, or the daye appoynted by the iudge, whan the matter shalbe herde.

Sustinere cognitiónem, to allow a mans excuse for none apparaunce.

Cógnitor, ôris, m. g. an attourney or proctour in the law.

Cógnitus, a, um, knowen.

Habere aliquid cognitum, to haue knowledge of a thynge.

Cognóbilis, le, idem.

Cognômen, nis, neut. gen. a surname, which a man hath of his auncestours, or by some other chaunce.

Cognoméntum, ti, n. g. a name purchased by some chaunce, or great act done, a bie name, besydes ones owne name. And Cognomen signifieth the same, and not the suername, but in dede a surname.

Cognóminis, cognômine, om. g. he that hath the same surname.

Cógnominâtus, a, um, surnamed.

Cognómino, áui, áre, to giue a surname.

Cognósco, nóui, scĕre, to knowe, to consyder diligently, to perceiue, to vnderstande, to lie with a woman, to iudge a matter, to here a matter to iudge it.

Perspicere & cognoscere rerum naturam, to perceyue throughlye, and know the nature of thinges.

Cognoscens in foro Augusti, &c. As he was dectsynge of matters in the place called forum Augusti.

Ibi cognoscebat de Clodij cæde, There he sat in examination of Clodius death.

Domi ius ciuile cognouerat, he learned the ciuile law at home.

Cognoscere instrumenta, amonge the lawiers is to reade ouer diligentlye theyr instrumentes and writynges.

Qualis natura montis esset, qui cognosceret, misit, he sente forth certayne, which should view and consider the nature of the hyll.

Cognoui ex amicorum litteris, I vnderstode by my frendes letters.

Hominem prudentem cognosces, & dignum, qui à te diligatur, you shall perceyue him to be a wyse man, and worthy to bee loued of you.

Quas res gesserit, cognoscite, what actes he hath done, here you of me diligently.

Cogo, égi, ĕre, to constreigne, together together, to mylke a beast, to make litour thicke or harde, to presse, to set or bryngе in order.

Cogere in arctum, to kepe one strict, or from his liberte.

Cogere in ordinem, to abate ones pride, or to make one to be contente with his owne condition, or not to be syngular, or excell other.

Cogere oues, to put vp the shepe into the stable or folde.

Quasi talenta ad quindecim coegi, I haue gathered togyther about fiftene talentes.

Cogere pecuniam, to leuie or gather a certain somme of money.

In semihoræ curriculum cogere, not to gyue one halfe an houres leasure.

Cogere in mollitiem lanæ, to make a thynge as softe as woolle.

In angustum cogi, to be brought or dryuen to a streicte.

Vndique auxilia cogere, to gather ayde and succour from all partes.

In vnum locum cogere exercitum, to bryngе an armie together into one place.

Cogere Senatum, to assemble or call a parliament.

Cogere vi & minis, to compell with force and manassynges.

Vis ventorum in portum naues coĕgit, the force of windes droue the shippes into the haue.

Cogi aliquo, to bee driuen or constreygned to go any whither.

Verba cogere in pedes, to make verses.

In nubes cogitur aër cõcretus, the ayre beynge congeled and made thycke, is gathered into cloudes.

Cogere

Cogere cuneos, to beate or dryue in wedges.

Cohærárius, rij, m. g. a lopnctenant, one that is coupled or iopgned with an other in a matter.

Cohærénta, æ, f. g. a kastynge or hangynge of thynges togethe.

Cohǽreo, hæsi, ere, to be iopgned, to be familiar together, or to cleaue to a thinge.

Non cohærent, the matters hange not togethe.

Vix cohærit oratio, the oracion hangeth scantlie one piece with an other.

Non cohæret sermo, this tale is not to the purpose, or hangeth not togethe.

Cohærentia inter se dicere, to speake thynges agreable to the purpose, and hangynge well togethe.

Cohærere dicuntur aliqui, whan they cleaue togethe, and loue eche other hertely.

Cohǽres, rédis, com. gen. one that is iopgned with an other in inheritance.

Cohæréſco, ſcére, idem quod Cohærco.

Cohíbeo, cóhibes, hibui, ére, to retepne or kepe to him selfe, to restreygne, to kepe of, to let, to restrapne, to kepe one backe.

Cohibere filium, to kepe vnder his sonne.

Cohibe te intra limitem, kepe you within the dooꝛes.

Cohibere ſe, to moderate him selfe, or to restrayne.

Sydera in ſe cohibent nitorem, the sterres retepne and haue in them selues a certayne bꝛightnesse.

Venti cohibentur in antris, The windes are inclosed and kepte in their dennes.

Cohibere iracundiam, to repꝛesse and moderate ones anger.

Libidines effrænatas à coniugibus aliorum cohibere, to refrapne from aduoutrie.

Cohibere manus, occulos, animum, not to steale, wysshe or desyre other mens goodde.

Cohibere pari seueritate fiscum & ærarium, to vse lyke diligence and seueriter in pꝛouyding, that neither the eschequer, nor the common treasure encrease ouer much by fees, or extraordinarie paiementes.

Cóhibent pugnare leges, the lawes forbyd to fight.

Cohibitio, ónis, f. g. a lettyng, restreynete or forbiddyng to do a thyng.

Cohíbitus, a, um, let, refrapned, restreygned.

Cohonésto, áui, áre, to honour, to commend or make more honourable.

Cohonestare alicuius victoriam, to make a mans victorie more honorable.

Cohórreo, vel cohorréſco, ui, ére, to be in great horrour and feare, so that he trembleth or chyllieth for feare.

Quem vt agnoui, equidem cohorrui, whome as soone as I knew, I was in suche feare, that I trembled.

Ex quo cum cohoruiſſet, &c. By whiche occasion, or after which time, whan he had taken a colde, and his body began to be chylly.

Cohors, tis, f. g. a company of men of warre. In euery legion were ten Cohortes. But the fyrste excelled the residue, as well in preeminence, as multitude. Therein was the Romaynes chefe bannar, wherin was peynted the Egle. The capitayne of that company called Centurio, was of more reputacion than any other Centurio, for in that company required to be men of good byrth, well learned, and of valiaunt courage: also the capitayne wise, valiaunt, stronge in armes, and politye in leadyng. In that compame were. 1105. footemen. 132. men of armes, and was called Cohors millíaria, The seconde cohors had. 555. footemen, and. 66. men of armes, and is called Cohors quingenaria. The thyrde had as many footemen, and. 66. men of armes, but therein were the stronges men, because it was set in the myddes of the battayle. The fourth had lyke numbre of footemen, and 66. men of armes. The fyfte hadde as many footemen and horsemen, but therin were chosen me, for as the first bende was on the right wynge of the battayle: so the fyfte was one the left wynge. for fyue Cohortes or bendes, made the fyrst battayle, the other fyue had equall numbre, euery of them with the sayd fourth and fifte bende so that these ten bendes made vp a legion, containyng. 6100. footemen, and 736. men of armes. Cohors is also taken for the domesticall compayny of seruauntes and ministers, attendyng vpon a man of high dygnitee or authoritee. And suche was Cohors prætoria, that wayted on the Pretour or gouernour of countrees.

Cohortes conscribere, & cohortes, conuahere, haue one signification, to get together or assemble bendes or cõpanies of men of warre.

Ex finitimis regionibus, quas potest conuahit cohortes ex delectibus Pompeianis, out of the countreys adioynynge, he gat bendes together of them that had ben chosen of Pompey.

Ille cohortes veteranas, quas tumultus causa conscripserat, in fronte, post eas, cæterum exercitum in subsidijs, locat, He dyd sette in the fronte of the battayle the bendes of olde Souldiours, whiche he had gathered together, because of the sodayne commotion: behynde them, he sette the reste of the hoste for succoure, if nede were.

Cohortes complere, to make vp bendes of men of warre, after the rate of the company that is assembled.

Catilina ex omni copia, quam & ipse adduxerat, & Manlius habuerat, duas legiones instituit, cohortes, pro numero militum complet, Catilyne of all the men of armes, as well that he had brought with hym, as also Manlius had there al redie: he ordeyned two legions, and made vp bendes accordynge to the numbre of souldi-

soulbiours.

Cohors, seu rors, tis, f. g. a barton or place inclosed wherin all kinde of pultrie was kept.

Cohortâlis, le, of a barton or courte.

Cohortâlis gallina, & Cohortalis anser, An hen or goose that fedeth abrode in the barton or courte.

Cohortatiò, ônis, f. g. an exhortacion.

Cohórtor, âris, âri, to exhorte.

Deterrere & cohortari, oppositu.

Cohortari ad virtutem, to exhorte to vertue.

Cohortari inuicem to exhort or incourage one an other.

Cohorto, was vsed of olde writers for Cohortor.

Cohum, cohi, neut. gene. a thonge or lyngell, wher with the oxe bowe and yoke are bounde to gether.

Coinquino, áui, âre, to soyle or stayne. also to defame a man or woman.

Coinquiro, ris, quirere, to serche or make inquesite of a matter.

Coibilis, le, adiectiuum, as,

Oratio coibilis, an oration that goeth quickely and rounde together.

Cois, is, f. g. a garment of fyne sylke.

Coitio, ônis, f. g. an assemble. it is also a secrete pact or agrement a mong men to doo some acte, whithe they would not haue other men knowe.

It may be taken for coupe. some tyme the coppyng together of them that fyght.

Eiusmodi pactiones in ea coitione factæ, suche couenaunte or agreementes were made in that conuencion.

Prima coitio acerrima, the firste incounter or coppyng together is most fierce or behemente.

Coitus, us, ma. g. the acte of generation.

Coitus lunæ, the eclips of the moone.

Coix, icis, f. ge. a basket. It is also a certayne kynde of sparo. hauing a leafe lyke a rede, wher with basshettes were made at Athens.

Cola, læ, f. g. a straynour.

Colaicum, a promontory of the yslande Taprobana.

Colâphizo, áui, âre, to buffette.

Cólaphus, phi mas. gene. a buffet or blow on the cheeke.

Colaphum incutere, infligere, infringere, to gyue a buffet.

Colapiani, people of Pannonie.

Colasis, is, f. g. a kynde of punyshemente that is dooen for chastisement.

Colasis, the scholar of Lysippus, whiche made the ymage called Colossus at Rhodes. 70. cubites high.

Colax, âcis, om. g. a flatterer.

Colaxes, the sonne of Iupiter and Oza, whiche was slayne by Jason.

Colchi, people in Asia, wherof the countrey is of Strabo called Colchis, by the sea syde called Pontus, where the toppe of the hill Caucasus tourneth to the mountaynes Riphæi, the one syde bendyng to the sea Euxinum, and the ennt called Meotis, the other side towarde the sea Caspium. In this countrey is the famous ryuer Phasis. And it was the countrey of Medea wyfe to Jason.

Colchis, is sometyme a woman borne in that countrey.

Colchion, ci, n. g. wild saffron. it hath leaues and seedes in sommer, and flowers like saffron about Michelmasse.

Colchicum, in Dioscor. is a kynde of Hermodactilus.

Colchiacus, and Colchicus, a, um, of Colchis.

Colchus, a, um, idem quod Cholchiacus.

Cóleus, lei, m. g. the stone of a man.

Coles, lis, f. g. the parte of a man.

Coleus, the codde, whiche conteyneth the stones.

Colica, the colycke, bredde in the gutte Colon, the greke wherof is felte. iiii. fyngers bredth about the naupll on the right side, extendyng syde a gyrdell vnto the left syde: the occasion wherof procedeth of one of these causes: by a colerycke heate, drynge vp the moysture of the ordure whiche therfore may not passe out of the bealy: or the meate eaten was drye and byndynge, letynge the saied passage: or els vyscous and clammie fleume is so augmented in that gutte, that it stoppeth the issue therof; or a grosse and thicke winde is there ingendred, either by coldenesse of the naturall complexion, or by weakenesse of the stomake in digestion, or of the liuer, or by meates latte and wyndie: or it happeth by an impostume in the same gut: or by wormes wrapped in the ordure. Or for the insensiblenesse of the gutte, whereby one feeleth not the annoyance of the ordure.

Coliculus, li, m. g. a diminutiue of Colis, a tender stalke of an herbe.

Cólicus dolor, the colyke.

Cólicus, a, um, that hath the colyke.

Colidos, an yslande in the ocean of Indie, consecrate to Venus, whiche was so hyghe, that no byrde flew vp to it.

Colimbris, looke Collimbris.

Colina, for Culina, a kitchen.

Coliphium, phij, n. g. a kynde of breade, whiche wrastlers did eate, to make them stronge.

Colis, is, m. g. a litell tender stalke of cole wortes or cabages. also the braunche of a vyne.

Colis, also idem quod coles.

Colla, læ, f. g. a kynde of glewe.

Collabásco, scĕre, to be redy to fall.

Amici collabascunt, our frendes begynne to fayle vs.

Collabefactari testula, to be banyshed out of the cite by lottes or shelles, as it was vsed in Athens. See after in Ostracismos.

Collabéllo, áui, âre, to ioyne lyppes together, that is to say, to kysse on the lyppes. A woorde out of vse.

Collabefacto, idem quod labefacto.
Collabefio, collaberis, or collabêris, to be cast or beaten downe to the grounde.
Collâbor, apsus sum, làbi, to fall downe.
Collachrymátio, ônis, f. g. a weepynge or waplynge with other.
Collácrymo, áui, âre, to weepe with other.
Collachrymare casum alicuius, to bewaple a mans mischaunce.
Collactáneus, he that souketh with me of one nurse, a foster brother. also one that is brought vp with vs at nourse.
Collácteus, idem quod Collactaneus.
Collápsus, a, um, slydde or fallen downe, and by a metaphore, fapnt, abated in courage.
Mœnia subito collapsa sunt, The walles are sodaynly fallen downe.
Collâre, ris, n. g. a collar for a hounde or other beaste.
Collária, æ, f. g. a collar of yron that theues be bounde with.
Collatia, a towne by Rome, wherof one of the gates of the citee was called Collatina.
Collatina dea, was supposed to be the goddesse ouer small hylles.
Collatina porta, the name of a gate in Rome.
Collatinus, the name of a noble Romain, whiche was husbande to the chast Lucrece.
Collátio, ônis, f. g. a taske or lyse. also a conferyng together.
Collatiuum, ui, n. ge. a sacrifice made of manye mens offerynges together.
Collatiuus, a, um, that whiche is brought and gathered together.
Collatiuus venter, a greate paunche or bealy, whiche worde Plautus vsed.
Collato, aui, âre, to make larger.
Collâtor, ôris, m. g. he that conferreth or layeth his portion with other.
Collâtus, a, um, assembled, geuen, conferred, compared, brought, sent, coped together.
Dolere aliquem sibi collatum, to take greuously, that an other shoulde be compared with him.
Pecunia collata, money conferred and layed together for any purpose.
Collátus, us, m. g. a comparynge, a couplynge or ioygnyng together in battayle.
Collaudátio, ônis, fœm. ge. a commendation or prayse.
Collaudâtus, a, um, commended, praysed.
Collaudo, áui, âre, to prayse that which other do commende.
Collecta, æ, f. g. a shotte or reckonynge that is gathered of many.
Collectánea, ôrum, n. g. thynges written or gathered out of many warkes.
Collectáneus, a, um, and Collectitius, that whiche is gathered.
Collectarij, collectours, or they, which bie of common receyuours suche thynges, as the sayde receyuours can not gather vp them selues, beynge letted with some greater businesses.
Collectè, & collectim, compendiously.
Collêctio, ônis, f. g. a collection or gatherynge together, a catarre or impostume in a mans body. also a conclusion in an argument.
Collectiuus, a, um, that gathereth.
Collêctum, ti, n. g. a gatherynge together.
Collêctus, a, um, gathered together.
Colléga, æ, masc. gen. a felow or companion in office.
Habere collegam in aliquo munere, to haue a compaignion of equal power ioigned with one in any office.
Collegatárius, rij, he that is part taker of that, that is bequethed to any man.
Collegiati, gathered together in any felowship.
Collégium. gij, n. g. a company of them, which haue equall auctoritee. Also a company of men whiche be of one mystery or craft. Sometyme the felowshyp in any office.
Collegium fabrorum, the felowshyp of carpenters, and lykewyse of other crafts.
Collegium naturæ, a felowship that two thynges haue together by naturall inclination.
In collegium cooptare, to chose one into a felowship or company.
Cólleuo, áui, âre, to lyft vp, to lighten.
Collibértus, ti, m. g. he that is made free by the same patron that an other is.
Cóllibet, & cóllubet, collibuit, libitum est, collibére, to lyke, to please.
Vtcunque animo collibitum est meo, Euen as it pleaseth or liketh me. After myne owne fantasy.
Colliciæ, looke Colligæ.
Colliculus, li, a litteli hillocke.
Collido, si, ĕre, to beate or knocke together.
Confligunt leges inter se, & collidunt, The lawes repugne and are one agaynst an other.
Collidere manus, to clap the handes.
Cólligæ, Colliquiæ, Colycæ, or rather Colliciæ, certayne dennes or caues in the earth, where the some of salt peter is founde. also greate forrowes or diches, in to the whiche water is dryuen out of fieldes, by lesse forowes.
Colligátio, ônis, fœ. ge. a bindyng, ioygnyng or fastnyng of thynges together.
Colligâtum, i, n. ge. a thynge that is bounde or knitte together.
Colligâtus, a, um, bounde together, fastened, toygned.
Colligata & implicita inter se, thynges linked together, or mingled one with an other.
Apta & colligata inter se, thynges agreable and well compact one with an other.
Cólligo, cólligas, áui, âre, to binde together.
Colligare vulnera, to bynde vp woundes.
Ita se cum multis colligauit, he hath so intangled hym selfe with many persons.
Colligare impetum furentis. i. reprimere.

Colligare vno libro omnia, to knitte or comprehende all thynges in one booke.
Colligo, cólligis, légi, ĕre, together together, to bynge together. also to prepare, to numbre or rounte, to gather by profe or reason, to gette or purchase.
Se colligit in arma, he made him ready to fight
Seipsum colligere, to bringe home agayne the partes of the mynde that were dispersed. to gather a mans wittes together.
Colligere rationes, to caste a compt.
Colligere vestem, to tuche vp his garment.
Colligere exercitum, to gather together an armye, or to repse vp men of warre.
Colligere annos, to recken the yeres.
Colligere vitia alterius, to recken vp an other mans faultes.
Colligere naufragia fortunæ, to numbre the great aduersitees or losses that haue chaunced by misfortune.
Vasa colligere, to trusse vp stuffe and baggage.
Colligere testes, to gette witnesses.
Eandem esse naturam quam cerebro colligunt, they gather that it hath the same nature that the brayne hath.
Colligere omnia, togather a summe of all together.
Colligere beneuolentiam alicuius, to gette ones fauour or good wille.
Colligere existimationem, vel famã, to come to estimacion, to gette a good name, to become famous.
Iras colligere, to wexe angry.
Colligere vires, to wexe stronge.
Colligere se ex timore, to come to ones selfe agayne after a great feare.
Colligere se, togather or wynde together lyke a serpent.
Breuiter quæ acta sunt colligere, to tell briefly what thinges were doone.
Colligere causas, to seke excuses.
Collimbris, bris, f. g. a bird, called a douker or didapper.
Colliminium, nij, n. ge. the metyng of bounder of fieldes together.
Collimitãtus, a, um, bounded together.
Collimitor, aris, ari, to bounde together as landes doo.
Collimo, áui, áre, to winke with one eye, or to looke streight on the marke. sometyme to hitte the marke.
Collimare manum atq; oculos, to leuell with the hande and eyes.
Collineo, áui, áre, idē quod Collimo, to leuel.
Cóllino, lini, & liui, léui, linere, to rub or frote many thynges together softely, as one maketh an oyntment of a thyng sometyme to defyle.
Crines puluere collinere, to rape or fyle the heare with duste.
Collinus, a, um, of or pertenynge to an hilloche.
Collina porta, a gate at Rome.
Collina vinea, a vineparde made on an hill.
Colliphium, idem quod Coliphium.
Collignatio, is when a man auoydeth downeward a certayne liquide oldure, comynge, not of meate and drynke, but of raw humours, salynge out of the bodie into the bealy: and is like to yelow choler: but that it is more yelow, and sometyme oyly and fattie. Actius. Serm. 9. cap. 39.
Colliquefácio, quefacis, to melte or dissolue.
Colliqueo, cui, ére, to melte.
Colliquéfco, fcĕre, idem.
Colliquiæ, arum, fœm. gen. plu. greate gourdes of watre rennynge through fieldes after greate rayne, or snowe. looke colligæ.
Collis, is, m. g. an hille.
Collisio, ónis, f. g. a knockyng or dashyng of thinges together.
Collisus, us, m. g. idem.
Collisus, a, um, beaten and knocked together.
Græcia collisa bello, the countrey of Grece sore broken and domaged with warre.
Collitiæ, arum, f. g. great forowes in fieldes, out of whiche water is drayned. looke colligæ.
Collocátio, ónis, f. g. a placyng, settinge, or disposyng of thynges.
Collocátus, a, um, put or sette in some place.
Có loco, aui, áre, to sette in a place, to place or settle.
Collocare se in arborem, to clyme vpon a tree.
Collocare aliquem in soporem, to strike one in suche wyse that he is amazed, and yeth as he were on sleape or to speake it more shorte, to lay one a sleape with a stroke.
Collocare in collo, to lay on ones necke.
Colloces te in ocium, drawe thee to ease.
Collocare in lecto aliquem, to bringe one to bedde, or to lay one in his bedde.
Collocare filiam nuptui in dimidia parte agri, to gyue halfe his lande in mariage with his daughter.
Collocare patrimonium in salutem populi, to employ his inheritaunce to the wealthe of the people.
Collocare beneficium, to doo pleasure.
Dotem in fundo aliquo collocare, to assygne dowrie to one in some lande.
Male collocare horas, to bestow the tyme yll.
Insidias collocare, to lay in wayte to doo one harme or displeasure.
Præsidium collocare, to sette a garrison in a place to defende it.
Collocare pecuniam vsuris, to set out or lende money for vsury.
Spem in aliquem collocare, to put trust in one
Collocare se palam in meritricia vita, to geue hir selfe to lyue lyke a common harlotte.
Collocare se in ocium, to dispose hym to lyue quietly and without labour.
Collocare nuptum, to bestowe a woman in mariage.

In lace benefacta collocare, to cause benefites or good tournes to be openly knowen.
Collocare aliquem in aliquo gradu, to exalte or auaunce one to some degree or dignitee.
Ad aliquem interimendum collocarum esse, to be lette to kyll one.
Bene pecuniam collocare, to bestow ones mony well.
Fortuna collocauit te in amplissimo statu, Fortune hath auaunced thee to moste highe honour and dignitee.
Collocuplẽto, aui, are, to enriche.
Collocútio, ônis, f. ge. a communication or talkyng togyther. also parlyng.
Venire cum aliquo in collocutionem, to come to communication with a man.
Colloquium, ij, n. g. idem quod collocutio.
Ad hostium colloquia descendere, to goe downe to parle with the enemies.
Colloquia interrumpere, to breake mennes communication.
Fugere colloquium alicuius, to eschue ones communication.
Cólloquor, ĕris, tus sum, lŏqui, to talke with one, or to talke together.
Cólloqui alicui, to deuise or talke with one.
Cólloqui aliquem, to talke to one.
Colloquuntur inter se, They talke together, or one with an other.
Colloqui cum aliquo per literas, to sende letters one to an other.
Collostrati, be children, which do suche of the first mylke of their mothers as sone as they be borne.
Collúmbia, orum, & Collúbiæ, arum, idē quod tragemata, et bellaria.
Collustrátio, ônis, f. g. a sickenesse, whiche children haue by suckyng curdy mylke of a woman new delyuered.
Collûco, áui, âre, to make a glade in a woode, or to cut awaye the bowes that let the light to come to a place.
Collúceo, lúces, lúxi, ẽre, to shine or gyue lyght.
Collûcet sol mundo, the sunne gyueth lyght to the worlde.
Vidi collucẽre omnia furtis tuis, I saw thy thefte and robberies to be manyfestly knowen in all places.
Colluctátio, ônis, f. ge. a wrastelynge or contendyng together.
Collúctor, âtus sum, âri, to wrastle with one.
Colludium, ij, n. g. a playing together.
Collûdo, si, ĕre, to play with one or together.
Also amonge Ciuilians, it signifieth to pleade together by couine, to the intent to deceyue some other man.
Collum, li, n. g. a necke.
Contrahere collum, to pluche in the necke.
Languido collo trahere vomerem, to drawe wearely.
Eripere collum iugo, by translation, to ridde him selfe out of bondage.

Injicere collo brachia, to clippe one about the necke.
Iactare collum, to caste the head now on one syde, now on an other.
Præbere colla iugo, to submit ones selfe.
Retorquere collum equi, to tourne the horse head with a bridel.
Cólluo, lŭi, ĕre, to wasshe or rince.
Cóllue poculum, rince the cuppe.
Collúrio, ônis, f. g. by Aristoties description, seemeth to bee the birde, whiche we call a feldefare.
Collus, idem quod collum.
Collúsio ônis, f. g. the coupne and conclusion vsed amonge lawiers.
Collûsor, ôris, ma. g. a play felow, also he that dooeth any thynge by collusyon or coupne.
Collusórie, an aduerbe, with coupne or fraude.
Collûstratus, a, um, made cleare or bright.
Collústro, aui, are, to beholde on all partes.
Collustrare lumine, to make very cleare.
Oculis omnia collustrare, to looke, or to beholde all aboute.
Luna solis lumine collustrari putatur, The moone is supposed to be made bright and shynyng by the lyght of the sunne.
Collústrum, looke Collostrum.
Collutulo, áui, âre, to dishonest or defile.
Collûtus, a, um, washed, rinced.
Colluuiaris porcus, an hogge that wallowed in the myre, and hath meate giuen him there.
Colluuiárium, rij, n. g. a synke or gutter.
Collúuies, ei, f. g. filth, or dure, or stinkyng dyrte, of synkes, and such lyke.
Colluuio, idem quod Colluuies, and by a metaphore, the vile and naughtye condicion of any tyme. also an heape of naughtynesse, a myxture or confusion of thynges.
Collybia, orum, hygge tartes, tartes of Poytus gall, or other lyke thynges.
Collybistes, m. ge. he that deliuereth money by exchaunge, a banker.
Collybus, i, ma. g. the losse of money receyued by exchaunge, or in banke, as men doo, whiche goe into straunge countreys, delyuerynge money of this realme, to receyue as much of an other come where he cometh.
Collyra, ræ, f. gen. a lofe of breade or bunne, a crahnell or symnell.
Collyrida, æ, f. g. a cake.
Collyrium, i, n. g. a medicine for sore eyes. Also a medicine for horses and oxen.
Colo, aui, are, to streyne out licoure.
Colo, ŭi, ĕre, to worshyp, to loue or fauoure, to haue in estimacion, to haunte, to inhabite or dwell, to tyll or husbande lande.
Colere questum suum, to seeke hys owne profytte.
Hanc vitam colo, I leade this lyfe.
Colere officium, to doo his dutie or deuoure.
Colere pietatem, to haue his parentes in reuerence.

Co-

Colere ſe, to apparayle him ſelfe.
Colere vitam, to lyue.
Quia me colitis, & magnifacitis, Becauſe ye haue me in eſtimation, and ſet muche by me.
Colere & amare.
Colere, diligere, & obſeruare.
Colere & ornare.
Colere aliquem loco, or in loco parentis, To loue and reuerence one as it were his owne father.
Colere corpus, to trym or decke the bodie.
Colere terram, agrum, hortum, vitem, To tyll or houſbande the grounde. &c.
Colere vrbem, domum, regionem, to dwell in a citee, houſe, or countrey.
Colere & negligere, contrary.
In officio colendo ſita eſt vitæ honeſtas omnis, in negligendo turpitudo, in practyſynge that whiche is vertuous and comely, conſiſteth all the honeſtie of our lyfe: And in neglectynge the ſame, all vncleanyneſſe and diſhoneſty.
Vtilitate colere amicitiam, to fauoure and eſteme friendeſhip for profit ſake.
Diſciplinam colere, to applie learnyng.
Memoriam alicuius colere, to kepe a ſolempne memoriall or remembraunce of any perſon.
Pudorem & pudicitiam colere, to be ſhamefaſt and chaſte.
Colere religionem, to folow and eſteme religion.
Teſtimoniorum religionem & fidem nunquam iſta natio coluit, this nacion neuer eſteemed or regarded religion and trouthe, Or was neuer true and faythfull in witneſſe bearinge.

Colóbium, bij, n. g. a iacket or cote without ſleeues that is ſhort and cutted.

Coloboma, matis, n. ge. the mayme or lacke of any membre of the bodye.

Colocaſia, æ, f. g. a beane of Egypt.

Colocaſium, ſij, n. g. idem. And after ſome the roote of that beane.

Colocaurum, the citee Fridunall in Germanie.

Colocýnthis, idis, f. ge. a kynde of wylde goures, called of the apothecaries Coloquintida, which do moſte vehemently purge fleume, after warde choler, finallye bloud. Many men by this medicine haue finiſhed theyr lyues, whan they haue thought therby to haue pourged theyr bodies.

Coloméſtrum, ſtri, n, g. a kynde of Aconitum Dioſc.

Colon, vel Colum, li, n. ge. a gutte, whiche goeth from the lefte ſyde to the right, in the whiche the dounge taketh his fourme. And there is the diſeaſe called Colica, the Coliche. It is alſo a membre or parte of a Periode.

Colona, næ, f. g. a houſbande mans wyfe.

Colonæus, a place where Sophocles was borne.

Colonárij, orum, m. g. ruſticall people, tenantes in villenage.

Colonárium, rij, n. g. or after ſome Columnarium, a certayne penſion, whiche the Romaines were compelled (by the three pryncis called Triumuiri) to paye for theyr houſes at Rome. Alſo a rent paied for thynges belongyng to houſbandrie. it maye be taken for the tenour (called with vs) villenage, where the tenaunte is bounde to plowe, hedge, and reape the lordes corne.

Colónia, æ, f. g. a cell, an vnder citee, an vnder towne, a place whither people are ſent to dwell, whiche is not inhabited. it is alſo a citee, the people wherof came from an other citee builded before. it is ſometyme a grange, where houſbandrie is kept.
Colonias nouas deducere, to make a newe citee, and to bryng inhabitantes of an other citee to dwell there.

Colónicus, a, um, perteinyng to houſbandry.

Colónus, ni, m. g. a houſbande man. Alſo Coloni be they, which are ſent to inhabite a countrey or towne. Alſo an highe place in Athens, where Neptune was worſhipped.

Colónus, a, um, apt to be tilled.
Ager colonus, A countrey whither men be ſent to inhabite and manure the earth.

Cólophon, ônis, A citee of Jonia in Greece, where was the temple of Apollo called Clarius and Homerus the famous poete was borne.
Colophónem addere, to atchieue or bryng to concluſion the thyng that is enterpryſed, or taken in hande.

Colophónia, æ, f. ge. the herbe called alſo Scammonium, wherof is made the vehement purgacion of choler: out of the roote diſtilleth a gũme in greeke named Dacrydion, which ſignifieth a littell teare: that worde is now corrupted, and for Dacrydion, they call it Diagredium, which medicine beyng geuen without diſcretion, kylleth many men.

Colophonij, people of Colophon.

Color, or colos, óris, m. g. colour, and by a metaphore a cloke and pretenſe of a matter. alſo the externall face and beauty of a thyng.
Amiſimus colorem & ſpeciem priſtinam ciuitatis, we haue loſte the auncyente beautie and goodlyneſſe of our citee.
Mutare colorem, to chaunge colour.
Floridi colores, lyuely colours.
Theſſalicus color, purple colour.
Contactus colore aliquo, ſtayned.
Percoctus color, when one is bourned in the ſonne.
Tueri colorem, to preſerue ones colour.
Inducere colorem, to peynte.
Excidit color, his colour is fallen awaye.
Colores rhetorici, be called of Tullye the figures, tropes and ornamentes of oration.

Colórbaſus, the name of an hereſyke, whiche taught, that all mans lyfe was gouerned by the vii. planettes.

Colorátus, a, um, coloured peynted.

Colórius, a, um, of naturall colour, or that was neuer died.
Coloriæ veſtes, garmentes made of woll vndied.
Colorificus, a, um, that maketh colour, or colloureth.
Colóro, aui, are, to colour or make pretence.
Colos, li, m. gen. the fundement.
Coloſſe, a citee of Phrygia, whiche in the tyme of Nero was ouerthrowen with an earthquake.
Coloſſinus color, a kynde of violet or purple, died at Coloſſe, lyke the flower of the herbe called Cyclaminus.
Colóſſeus, & Colóſſicus, a, um, in fourme of Coloſſi, or great images.
Coloſſi, ymages of horrible greatneſſe, lyke to towres: one of Apollo in the capitall at Rome was. xxx. cubites high. Alſo at Tarentum, one made by Lyſippus, was. xl. cubites hygh. But at Rhodes one of the ſonne, excedynge all other, was in heyght. lxx. cubites, made by Colaſſis, ſcholar to Lyſippus. The thombe of that ymage few men might fathome. It was in makynge. xii. yeares, and the charges drew to. 300. talentes, whiche amounteth to. 43115. li. Strabo writeth, that the ymage was of Jupiter, and made by Chares Lyndius. beſydes this were an hundreth leſſe Coloſſi in Rhodes, and at Rome were many made of mettall.
Coloſſica onera, great and heauy burdens.
Colóſtra, æ, f. g. vel Colóſtrum, i, n. gen. the firſte milke that cometh in the breſtes or dougges incontinent after the byrthe, whiche hurteth the infantes that ſouke it. Paladius ſayth, that ſhepherdes cal it the thicker parte of mylke, whiche I deeme to bee ertame. Other thynke it to be hurdes.
Coloſtrátio, ônis, f. g. the corruption or diſeaſe of children, taken by ſoukyng of ſuche mylke.
Coloſtrâtus, a, um, that hath ſouked ſuche milke.
Coloſtráti infantes, children whiche haue ſouked ſuch courdy mylke.
Colôtos, a kynde of lyſardes: after other, a certayne colour.
Colotes, the name of a peinter.
Colpe, a citee of Jonia.
Colube, a citee of Jndia.
Cóluber, bri, m. g. a ſerpent, whiche lieth in the ſhadow of woodes. It may be taken for our Addar or ſnake, although the properties of Coluber, deſcribed by Hierom, doo not agree to our ſnake or adder.
Colubraria, an yle in the middle ſea.
Colúbrifer, that beareth an adder or ſnake.
Colum, li, n. g. a ſtrapner, a colander, a certayne veſſell made of oke hers, and occupied aboute makynge of wyne. Alſo a certayne diſeaſe, whiche firſt began in Tiberius the Emperour.
Columba, a dooue Columba liuia, a ſtokdoue.
Columbar, âris, n. g. a pylloze.
Columbâris, re, of a dooue.
Columbárium, rij, neu. gen. a douehouſe or culuer houſe. alſo a culuer hole.
Columbárius, rij, ma. ge. he that hepeth a douehouſe.
Columbâtim, in the maner of dooues.
Columbinus, a, um, of a culuer or dooue.
Ouum columbinum, a pigeons egge.
Colúmbulus, li, m. g. a litteil pigeon.
Colúmbus, bi, m. g. & Columba, bæ, f. g. a culuer or dooue.
Columella, the name of one that wzate of huſbandzie moſte eloquently.
Columella, læ, f. gen. a diminutiue of Columna Sometyme the chiefe ſeruaunt in the houſe. Alſo a parte of the mouthe, called gutturis vuula.
Columellares dentes, cheeke teeth.
Cólumen, inis, neu. gen. the ſuccour or ſtay, the wynde beame of an houſe.
Cólumen familiæ, the chiefe ſtay or ſuccour of a familie: lyhewyſe Cólumen reipublicæ.
Amicorum Antonij cólumen, the chiefe or principall of Antonies friendes.
Cólumis, & hoc colume, whole, ſounde, in good health.
Columna, æ, a citee in Bzutium.
Colúmna, æ, f. g. a columne or pyllour.
Scapus columnæ, the bodie of the pyllour.
Capitulum columnæ, the toppe or chapiter of a pyllour.
Immanes columnæ, meruelous great.
Spira or baſis columnæ, the baſe or foote of a pyllour.
Columnæ Herculis, two mountaynes, one at the vttermoſt parte of Spayne, the other in the vttermoſt weſt parte of Afrike, where now are the ſtreictes of Cyuill or Marrocke. Some holde opinion, that it is two yles in the ſayde ſtreictes, one of them in Europe, & the other in Afryke. Some (as Strabo ſayth) affirme them to be in deede two pillours of bzaſſe, in the yle Gades, longyng to Spayne, ſet in the temple of Hercules, in the honor of him, where they that trauayled by the meddell ſea, and were come to the vttermoſt parte therof, and entrynge into the Ocean ſea, came and dyd ſacrifice to Hercules: which opinion Poſſidonius thought to be moſt true.
Columnárium, looke Colonarium.
Columnâtus, a, um, that ſtandeth on pyllours.
Columnella, læ, fœm. gene. a diminutiue of columpa.
Columnus, was in olde tyme that, whiche we call now Culmus.
Colúri, are two great circles in the Sphere, which do declare the time called Aequinoctia, & Solſtitia, that is to ſay, whan the daye and nyght be equall in length: Alſo whan the day is lengeſt and the night at moſt length.
Colúrnus, a, um, of the tree Cornus.
Colus, li, and Colus, us, f. g. a diſtaffe. In Lactullus it is redde in the, m. g.

Colus

Colus, li, m. g. a kynde of tortutes made of leather.

Colutea, f. g. a tree. or as some thinke an herbe called Sene, whereof the leaues and coddes are ministred in medicines to purge melancoly.

Colúteum, tei, n. g. the fruite of that tree.

Cólycæ, arum, caues in the earth, wherein salte peter is founde.

Colymbades, olyues or ople bearies, condite in bryne or pickle.

Cólyrides, littell small loues lyke manchettes.

Coma, æ, f. gen. all the heare together, called a bushe. It is also taken sometyme for the leaues of trees and braunches of herbes.

Colamistráta coma, a curied and set bushe of heare.

Populeæ comæ, braunches of Poplars.

Lacerare comas, to teare ones heare.

Nutrire comam, to trimme and set muche by ones bushe.

Composita coma, a mans heare trimmed and sette.

Steterunt comæ, his heare stared.

Religare comam, to bynde or tie vp the heare.

Pectere comam, to combe the heare.

Soluere comam, to vndoo the heare that is bounde vp.

Comagene, a parte of Syria.

Comáginum, ni, n. g. a certayne ointmente or medicine.

Comana, a citee in the greater Cappadocia, an other in Pontus. The people are called Comani.

Comans, ántis, om. ge. thath hat a great bushe of heare.

Comans humus, the grounde that hath muche grasse.

Equi comantes, horses with longe manes.

Comans galea, an helmette with a plume of fethers.

Comans stella, a blasyng sterre.

Comari, a people of Asia, beyonde the Scythes.

Cómarus, ri, called also Vnedo, and Arbutum, a kynde of appules, whiche are so vnpleasaunt, that but one onely can be eaten at ones.

Comata, a shepeardes name in Theocrite.

Comátulus, a boye with a fayre bushe of heare.

Comátus, a, um, that hath a great bushe of heare by translation it is saied of trees or herbes, that haue longe leaues or floures.

Comata Gallia, all Fraunce, on this halfe the mountaynes.

Combe, a mayden that inuented the armoure of Eneas.

Combennones, looke Benna.

Cómbibo, cómbibi, ĕre, to drinke with one, to suche vp.

Combibere artes, to learne sciences.

Combibor, the passiue.

Cómbibo, ônis, mascu. gene. a companion in drynkynge.

Combinátio, ônis, f. g. a coupleyng togethers.

Combino, áui, áre, to combine or confederate together, to bynde in couples.

Combretum, called also Conferua, Conuoluulus, of the Apothecaries Volubilis, of some Fluuialis spongia, an herbe that groweth in the bottome of ryuers, thyche togethers lyke mosse or a spunge, the leafe lyke to Smilax, and the floure lyke a white Lylie. It is very holsome for wounded, sore bruises, & broken bones.

Combùro, bussi, ĕre, to bourne or consume with fyre.

Combustibilia, thynges that may be bourned, or that be apte to receiue fier.

Come, es, f. g an herbe called gotes berde.

Comedim, olde writers vsed for Comedam.

Cómedo, ônis, m. g. he that consumeth his owne goodes riottously, a glutton.

Cómedus, di, idem.

Cómedo, cómedis, édi, ĕre, to eate, to consume riottously.

Comedere patrimonium, to consume his inheritaunce in riotte.

Comédere beneficium, to forgette a good turne.

Comedere aliquem, bona alicuius, or nummos, to waste or consume a mans goodes, substance or money.

Comenses, people of Comum in Fraunce.

Comes, itis, com. gen. a compaignion or felow, and is applied to diuers other thynges, as well as to man. Also a name of dignitee, whiche we call an earle.

Viæ comes, & itineris comes, a compaignion that iourneth with one by the way.

Addere, præbere, aut adiungere se comitem, to accompany him selfe with one.

Præbere se comitem alicuius furoris, to accompanye one that enterpriseth some mischeuous or furious acte.

Comitem Platonis se profitetur, he professeth hym selfe to be folower of Plato.

Comites iudicum, amonge the Romains were the Legates, Pronostes, Questors, Secretaries, and suche other that were with them that were assigned to the gouernance of prouinces.

Also they that were assistent to iudges in matters of the common weale.

Largitionum comes, qui præerat largitionibus imperatoris.

Comes domorum, maister of the houshold in a princes courte.

Comes horreorum, he that hath the ouersight of the bakehouse and barne, with prouision of breade for a princes house.

Comes laborum, ouerseer of the workemen.

Comes rerum priuatarum, he that the emperour trusted in the ouersight and charge of all priuate matters.

Comes stabuli, maister of the horses.

Comes patrimonij, he that had the ouersight of the emperours heritage.

Comeſſabúndus, a, um, that vseth to go a banketyng, rueslyng, and gourmandyſynge. also ouercharged with meate and dzynke.

Comeſſans, idem quod Comeſſator.

Comeſſátio, f. gen. a banket after ſupper, oz a ryottous banhettyng, a rere ſupper.

Comeſſátor, óris, m. g. a banketter, a reuellar, a riottour out of ſeaſon.

Comeſſe, foz Comedere, to eate.

Comésſor, ſſátus, ſſú, áre, to banket after ſupper.

Temulento agmine comeſſabundus inceſſit he wente lyke a reuellar wyth a dzunken route aboute him.

Comeſt, foz Comedit, he eateth.

Coméſtura, æ, f. g. an eatyng.

Coméſus, a, um, eaten. Comeſtus, a, um, idem.

Cométe, the father of Aſterion, one of the Argonautes.

Cométe, æ, oz Cométa, æ, m. g. a blasing ſterre.

Cómicus, a, um, of a comedie.

Comidrys, idem quod pſillium.

Cominia, a kynde of olyues.

Cóminus, foztwith, at hand, hande to hande.

Pugnare cominus, to come to hande ſtrokes, to fyght hande to hande.

Cominus, and Eminus, contrary.

Aër cominus æſtuat, foztwith the ayze became troublous.

Comis, me, om. gen. gentle, benigne, familiar, full of good humanitee. sometyme redye to forgyue, curteise.

Cómitas, atis, f. g. gentyneſſe, humanitee, curteyſie. Comitas & affabilitas ſermonis, gentilneſſe and courteyſy in talkyng.

Comitas & Beneficentia.

Comitas & facilitas.

Obſequium & comitas.

Comitas & ſeueritas, contrary.

Aſpergere grauitati comitatem, to ber ſage and graue, in ſuche wyſe, that he sheweth hym ſelfe gentill with all.

Exquiſitiſsimæ comitatis cenã dare, to make one a ſupper, and shewe hym therin extreadynge gentyneſſe and humanitee.

Grauitas condita comitate, grauitee, sauced oz made pleaſaunt with gentill behauor.

Comitátus, us, maſ. gen. felowſhip, company, retinue, a trayne. sometyme a princis courte. Sometyme an aſſemble of people, if the princis erre not.

Comitátus, a, um, accompanied.

Ex vrbe parum comitátus exibat. he wente oute of the citee haupnge with him but a ſmall company.

Vno eſt comitatior, he hath one the moze in his company.

Homo eſt comitatſsimus, The man hath very many that hepe him company.

Cómiter, gentilly, courteiſly, willyngly, gladly, ſweetely.

Comiter & benigne appellare aliquem, to ſpeake to one, and call hym by his name gentilly and ſauourably.

Comiter accipere aliquem, to welcome one ſweetely and gentilly.

Comitia, órum, neu. gen. plu. a congregacion oz aſſemble of the people, foz election of officers, oz foz pzomulgation of lawes, lyke to our parliament.

Comitia edicere, to calle oz ſummon a parliament.

Comitia calata, looke Calatus.

Comitia habere, to holde oz kepe a counſayle oz parliament.

Comitiális, le, pertepnyng to the conuocation, oz conuocation houſe.

Comitiales homines, bely felowes full of contencion. Also they that be taken with the falſyng ſickneſſe.

Comitiális dies, The day whan people aſſembled at Rome foz the election of officers.

Comitialis morbus, the fallyng ſyckneſſe.

Comitiáliter, in maner of the fallyng ſyckneſſe.

Comitiárius, a, um, lyke the aſſemble oz congregation of the people.

Statio comitiaria, whan an army of ſouldioure ber together in fourme of counſayle oz congregation.

Comitátus, a, um, choſen by conſente of the people at theyz aſſemble.

Comitátus, us, the aſſemblyng oz gatherynge to gether of the people.

Comitium, tij, n. g. the place where the aſſemble is made.

Cómitor, átus ſum, ári, and Cómito, aui, áre, to company oz go with one, oz kepe felowſhyppe with other.

Quæ comitantur huíc vitæ, whiche be ioygned oz coupled with this life. where note, that it is conſtrued with a datiue caſe.

Superbia comitatur honores, pzide is alwaye ioygned to honour: oz pzyde foloweth oz accompanieth honour.

Comitare aliquem, to kepe one company.

Comma, cómmatis, neu. g. a point, dyuydynge a ſentence, where many membzes be: as,

Nihil te nocturnum præſidium palatij, nihil vrbis, vigiliæ, nihil timor populi, nihil conſenſus bonorum omnium, nihil habendi ſenatus locus munitiſsimus, nihil horum ora vultuſque mouerunt?

Comma, a kynde of money, of very ſmall value.

Commáculo, áui, áre, idem quod Maculo. alſo to ſtayne a mans honeſtie oz good name.

Commaculare ſe ambitu, to ſtayne his honeſtie with vnlawfull labouryng foz any office oz dignitee.

Manus commaculare ſanguine alicuius, to polute oz defile ones ſelf with the vniuſt ſhedyng of a mans bloud.

Commádeo, cómmades, mádiui, ére, idem quod quod Madeo.

Commalaxo, idem quod Exerceo, ✠ wooꝛde out of vſe.
Commanducâtus, a, um, chewed oꝛ eaten.
Commanducâtus cibus, chewed meate.
Commanducâtus, us, m. g. chewynge.
Commandûco, aui, re, to chewe meate.
Commanipulo, ônis, ma. ge. a ſouldioure of the ſame bande that an other is.
Commaritus, ti, ma. g. one that is in ſtede of an huſbande.
Commata, torum, neu. gen. trenches, whereby water is let out of a ponde oꝛ ryuer. alſo a kind of money.
Commeâtus, us, maſcu. gen. a ſauke conducte, a paſſoꝛte. ſometyme vytaples foꝛ an armye oꝛ multytude of men, oꝛ foꝛ any other ꝑticuler perſon.
Commẽditor, âris, âri, to medicate oꝛ muſe on a thynge.
Commeminiſſe, to remembꝛe.
Commẽmini, ✠ remembꝛe, oꝛ ✠ dooe remembꝛe well.
Commemorâbilis, le, wooꝛthy to be mencioned.
Commemorandus, a, um, to bee remembꝛed, mencioned oꝛ ſpoken of.
Commemoranda liberalitas, liberalytee wooꝛthie to bee mencioned oꝛ commended of anye man.
Commemorâtio, ônis, f. gen. a mencionynge, a remembꝛaunce, a reherſall, oꝛ a puttynge one in mynde of a thynge.
Commẽmoro, aui, are, to reherſe, to make reherſall of a thyng, to remembꝛe, to tell, to put one in mynde oꝛ remẽbꝛaunce, to mencion oꝛ ſpeake of a thynge.
De cuius virtute ante cõmemoraui, of whoſe vertue ✠ haue ſpoken befoꝛe.
Quid quoquo die egerim, commemoro veſpere, ✠ recoꝛde oꝛ call to my remembꝛance in the euenyng.
Commemorare officia, quæ contulimus in aliquem, to put one in mynde of the freendlye pleaſures that we haue doone foꝛ him.
Sed quid ego complura commemorem? But why ſhould ✠ reſyte any moꝛe?
Commendâbilis, le, wooꝛthy to be commended oꝛ ꝓꝛayſed.
Commendâtio, ônis, f. g. a commendacion oꝛ ꝓꝛayſynge a ſettynge out, an hablynge, oꝛ auaunſynge of the dygnitee of any thynge.
In prima commendatione aliquid ponere, to commende oꝛ ꝓꝛayſe a thynge firſt of all, oꝛ ſpecially.
In vulgus commendatio, reputacion oꝛ eſtimacion among the common people.
Commendationem ineuntis ætatis ab impietate & ſcelere ducere, to make his youth fyrſt of all famous and notable by ſome impious oꝛ deteſtable acte.
Commendatitius, a, um, that wherewith a man is remembꝛed oꝛ recommended.
Commendatitiæ literæ, letters of recommendacion.
Commendâtor, ôris, m. g. he that recommendeth one to an other. He that laudeth, ꝓꝛayſeth oꝛ boſteth, he that auaunceth oꝛ ſetteth fooꝛth the dignitee of any thyng.
Commendâtrix, icis, f. gen. the that commendeth. ꝛc.
Lex virtutum commendatrix, The law is the ſetter fooꝛth and commender of vertue.
Commendâtus, a, um, ꝓꝛayſed, commended, habled, ſette fooꝛth. Alſo committed to a thinge oꝛ perſone.
Ex vtilitate ſua commendatæ nobis res, thynges that we loue, foꝛ the ꝓꝛofyte that cometh to vs by theim.
Commendatum habere aliquid, To haue a thynge ſo commended of one, as it were to defende oꝛ ſuppoꝛte the ſame.
Commendationis eſſe famæ, to bee moꝛe renoumed, to be better repoꝛted of.
Sibi commendatus, one that fauourreth oꝛ loueth him ſelfe.
Commendo, âui, âre, to commende oꝛ ꝓꝛayſe.
Sometyme to commende, to ſette out, and make more acceptable and wooꝛthy ꝓꝛayſe, to hable, to auaunce the dignitee of a thynge. alſo to committe, and as it were to put one in truſte with a thynge, oꝛ perſon, to ſpeake oꝛ wꝛyte in ones commendacion oꝛ fauour.
Moriens nos commendauit tibi, whan he dyed, he ꝓꝛayed you to be good vnto vs.
Committere & commendare.
Ego me tuæ commendo fidei, ✠ committe my ſelfe to your trueth and honeſtie, ✠ put my ſelfe into your handes.
Rem & famam ſuam commendare, & concredere alicui, to committe and putte ones goodes and good name into the handes oꝛ tuicion of any man. Lykewiſe Commendare & tradere ſe alicui.
Iuſtitiam ſuam humanitate commendat, with his gentyneſſe he maketh his iuſtice commendable.
Eius negotiis tibi commendo, ✠ deſyꝛe you to ſhewe fauour to him in his buſyneſſe.
Commendare ſe clientelam alicuius, to put him ſelfe in the tuicion oꝛ ꝓtection of any noble man.
Commendari, to be eſtemed.
Nulla re magis commendatur orator, quàm verborum ſplendore, an oꝛatour is not moꝛe eſtemed. ꝛc.
Commendare ſempiternæ gloriæ, oꝛ immortalitati, to make a thynge to be famouſe and renoumed foꝛ euer: to gette it an immoꝛtall name.
Commendare memoriæ, to committe a thyng to memoꝛie, to kepe it in mynde.
Commendare ſe fugæ, to flee.
Commendare literis, to put in wꝛytynge.

Commen-

Commendare halitum re aliqua, to make his breath more sweete with any thyng.

Oleum amigdalinum colorem commendat, oyle of almondes maketh one to haue a good colour, or setteth foorth the colour.

Virtus commendat virum, vertue commendeth a man, and maketh him to be more estemed.

Eloquentiam vox maxime commendat, The voyce commendeth and setteth foorth a mans eloquence chiefely.

Commẽsus, us, m. g. an equall proportion and measure of thynges.

Commentáculum, li, n. g. a marshals, or an vshers rodde.

Commentariẽnsis, ẽnsis, ma. ge. he that kepeth the regester booke, or a gaylour that is charged with the kepyng of trespassours.

Commentariolum, a little register or memoriall.

Commentárium, rij, n. g. vel commentarius, rij, m. g. a brydgement or other booke that conteyneth thynges briefely written. Also a comment or exposition. Also a boke of remembrance, a regester. Sometyme a briefe history, conteynyng the actes of any persone or common weale. Also a briefe note of instruction or memorail.

Rerum vrbanarum commentarium, a booke or regester, wherein suche thynges as are doone in a citee, are briefely noted.

Conficere commentarios, to drawe out a briefe memoriall of thynges.

Commentarium paulo plenius, a writyng, wherein thynges bee mencioned somewhat at large.

Referre, or Regerere in commentarios, to regester.

Scribere commentarios rerum suarum, to make or write a briefe history of his owne actes.

Commentátio, ónis, f. g. a meditatyng or deuisyng of a thynge: a debatyng or reasonyng of a matter. sometyme a description or setteyng foorth of a thyng in writyng.

Meditatio, and Commentatio idem.

Commentatio & cogitatio, idem.

Causarum commentatio, a meditatyng or debatyng of causes afore hande.

Mortis commentatio, medytatyng of deathe before hande.

Commentátus, a, um, deuysed, ymagined, disputed, written.

Commentitius, a, um, feygned, or deuysed for the tyme. Sometyme newely inuented or deuysed.

Crimen commentitium, a false ymaggyned accusation.

Ficta & commentitia.

Noua & commentitia.

Commentátor, óris, m. g. an inuentor or deuyser.

Commẽntor, áris, ári, to thynke on, to make mencion, to dispute, common, talke or reason of matters, to wryte commentaries or bookes of remembraunce. also to deuise, to inuent or ymaggyne a false tale.

Id ipsum mecum in his locis commentor, I thynke or muse on the same matter here with my selfe.

Futuras mecum commentabar miserias, I consydered or cast with my selfe, what miseries wouide folow.

Cum in hortos commentandi causa veniss-emus, after that we were come into the gardens, to talke, deuise, and reason of matters.

Commentari & meditari de re aliqua, to reason an deuise of any matter.

Commentari aliquem, to counterfayte any persone.

Commentemur inter nos, qua ratione. &c. Lette vs deuyse amonge our selues, by what meane, &c.

De militari disciplina commentari, to wryte a booke of martiall policy, or of warfare.

Cum commentaremur hæc, when wee dyd wryte these thynges.

Commẽntum, ti, n. g. a comment or exposition, a matter feygned, a foolysh deuyse, a phantasye.

Commẽntus, a, um, actively, that inuenteth: passively, that is inuented, ymaggyned, or feygned.

Non veresimile est tantum scelus commentum esse, It is not lykely, that he deuised or inuented so heynous an act.

Commentus est illud de sua sententia, He deuised that of him selfe: He inuented that of his owne brayne, or of his owne phantasie.

Commenta sacra, feygned inuented and feigned.

Cõmeo, áui, are, to goe hyther and thyther, or to goe to or with an other, to come and goe.

Ab ortu ad occasum commeat sol, The sonne goeth from the east vnto the weste.

Commeare vltro citroq; , to goe hyther and thyther, to walke vp and downe.

Crebro illius literæ ad nos commeant, His letters come to vs oftentimes.

Quacunque commeauerat, By what so euer waie he passed.

Vt tutò ab repentino hostium incursu singuli commeare possent, that euery one might come and goe safely, without daunger of the sodayne inuasion of the enemies.

Dicit, posse internuntio sermones commeare, He sayed, that theyr communication of woordes myghte be declared by some messanger goyng betweene.

Commércor, aris, ari, idem quod Mercor.

Commércium, cij, n. g. an entercourse or lyberte to cary marchandyse from one place to an other. Also communication or forme of byyng and sellyng together. also a familiar custome or acquey-

acquintaunce.
Commercium sermonis, communication, talkynge.
Quid tibi mecum est commercij? what acquentance or familiaritee hast thou with me?
Non habet vllum cum virtute commercium, he vseth no honeste or vertuous conuersation at all.
Perdere linguæ commertia, to lose the vse of the tounge.
Miscere commercio diuersas gentes, to mynngle diuers nations together, by entercourse of marchaundise.
Commereo, commeres, mérui, ére, to deserue, to committe, to offende or trespasse.
Si senserit te timidum pater, arbitrabitur cõmeruisse culpam, If thy father do perceyue the to be afrayde: he wyll suppose that thou art giltee, or hast committed the offence.
Quid commerui? what haue I done amysse?
Nunquam quicquam erga me commerita est, She neuer trespassed any thynge agaynst me.
Commerere culpam in se, to committe a faute agaynst ones selfe.
Commercor, idem quod commereo.
Commereri culpam, to doe an offence.
Commessari, lyke Comesari.
Commétior, iris, iri, idem quod Metior.
Commetiri cum tempore negotium, to conferre the businesse with the tyme, or to measure it by the tyme.
Commeare, for Commeare, a wooyde out of vse.
Commictilis, le, sette together, trymmed.
Cómmigro, cómmigras, áui, are, to goe with one to a place. also to goe from one place to dwell in an other.
Necy enim huc diu commigrarunt, It is not longe sens they came hither to dwell.
Commiles, militis, m. ge. a souldioure with an other vnder one capytayne.
Commilitium, ij, n. g. felowshyp in warres.
Commilito, ónis, m. g. a felow or companyon in warres.
Comminátio, ónis, f. g. a threatnynge or manasynge.
Comminiscor, ëris, commentus sum, sci, to call to remembraunce, to inuent or ymagyne, to deuyse.
Comminístro, aui, are, idem quod ministro.
Cómminor, áris, ári, to threten vehementlye.
Comminuo, ui ere, to breake in small pieces.
Frangere & comminuere aliquem, to breake or abate ones power.
Auaritia comminuit atque violat officium, Through couetousnesse, he neglected and thrue aside all honest dealyng towarde his freende.
Comminuti re familiari, made poore.
Cómminus, looke Cominus.
Commisceo, scui, ére, to mixe together.
Commiscere aliquid cum altero, to mynngle one thynge with an other.
Commiscere consilium cum aliquo, to cõsult with an other man.
Commiserátio, ónis, f. gen. compassion, or moupng of pitee.
Commisereseo, scere, to haue compassion.
Commiseror, aris, ari, idem quod Miseror.
Commissa, confiscations, thynges doone contrary to the testament of any man, and punysshed by some penaltee.
Commissio, ónis, fœmin. gener. a settynge together of twayne or mo in tryall of maystry in any feastes.
Commissiones prætorum, were the celebrations or publishinges of plaies made by the great officers called Prætores.
Commissorius, a, um, an adiectyue.
Lex commissoria, an exception, couenaunt, or condition in any busynesse or contracte, whiche not beynge fulfilled, the whole bargayne is voyde.
Lege commissoria emere, to bye a thynge, that if the money be not payed at a date appoynted, the bargayne is voyde.
Commissum, si, n. g. a thyng committed or doone, a trespasse.
Commissa tegere, to keepe secrete that is told to a man.
Prodere commissa, contrary to the other.
Punire commissa, to punysshe trespasses.
Commissúra, æ, fœ. ge. a ioynct of any thynge that is closed and opened, as properly of tables, whiche be ioygned.
Commissus, a, um, doone, committed to the keepyng of one, trespassed, ioygned or sette together, mynngled.
Commissum bellum, open warre.
Bella commissa alicui, geuen in charge to one.
Ludi commissi, playes begunne.
Piacula commissa, greeuous offences committed.
Commitigo, áui, áre, idem quod Mitigo. also to knocke.
Tibi vti commitigari videam sandalio caput, That I may see thee knocked on the head with his slypper.
Commítto, si, ere, to committe into ones handes or charge, to employne, to offende or trespasse. to ioygne or put together. Also to dooe or begynne. It doth also betoken, to deliuer, to compare, to bryng to contencion. to sette together, to confiscate, to leyse for forfayture, to prouoke or stirre.
Quibus dictis, mox prælium commisere, That spoken, they began battayle.
Committere alicuius plagæ oras futuris, to stiche a wounde together as surgions doo.
Committere semen solo, to caste seede into the grounde, to sowe seede.
Bona nostra hæc tibi committo, These my goodes I committe into your handes.

Seruó-

Seruò ne fortunas meas me commisisse futuri, To haue put or committed all that I haue, to a lyght prayenge knaue.
Committere & commendare.
Committere & communicare.
Committere & credere.
Arbitrio alicuius committere aliquid, to commytte a thynge to a man to order as he wyll him selfe.
Committere literas alicui, to putte one in trust to conueygh letters.
Committere gnatam vxorem alicui, to geue his daughter in marryage to one.
Committere in discrimen, to put in daunger.
Nauigationi, or ponto se committere, to take the sea.
Periculo mortis se committere, to putte hym selfe in daunger of death.
Itineri se committere, to take a iourney.
Par gladiatorum committere, to sette together two swoorde players.
Committere bellum, to make open warre.
Spectaculum committere, to begynne a mayegame or syght. Likewyse Ludos committere.
Non timent, qui nihil commiserunt, They that haue not offended feare not.
Committere contra legem, to trespasse against the lawe.
Committere adulterium, cædem, culpam, delictum, flagitium, fraudem.
Rixam committere, to brayle or chyde.
Ne committas, vt aliquando dicendum sit, Non putaram, doe not so, that thou must say after at any tyme, I thought not so muche.
Committere se in aspectum populi, to shewe hym selfe in the syght of the people.
Calumniatores apposuit, qui illam hæreditatem Veneri commissam dicerent, he suborned certayne false accusers, whiche shoulde say, that that heritage was consecrate or vowed as forfayte to Venus.
Commodatarius, rij, mas. gen. he that taketh a thynge of lone: he that borroweth, he to whom any thyng is lent.
Commodatares, a thing lent without auarage.
Cómmodè, very well, profitably, aptely, handesomely, to ones pase or appetyte, conuenyently, to the purpose.
Commode cadere, to happen or succede well, or to the purpose.
Commodè verba facere, to speake thynges to the purpose.
Commodissimè per eum agi potest, it maye be done by him moste conuenyently.
Minus commodè audire, to haue a shrewde name, or to be yll reported of.
Commodè cadit, it fortuneth well, or it commeth well to passe.
Commodè dicere, to speake fayre.
Commodè latinè dicere, to speake a thynge in pure and cleane latyne.

Cómmodè res gerere, to exployte matters prosperously.
Commoditas, âtis, f. g. a commoditee, vtylytee, profyte, aptnesse, conuenientnesse.
Commoditas hominis, the facilitee or courtesie of one, whiche agreeth to any request.
Cómmodo, âui, âre, to doo or an other mans commoditee, to doo good to, to shewe pleasure or commoditee, also to lende.
Commodare capillum, to kembe the heade, to decke the bushe.
Commodare loquelam, to speake.
Commodare operam, to helpe.
Quicquid eis commodaueris, erit mihi maiorem in modum gratum, what so euer you shall doo for their profyte, or what so euer ye shall doo theim good in, shall be to me verye acceptable.
Obsuam causam commodare alicui, to doo good to an other for his owne commoditee.
Cómmodare alicui in re aliqua, to doo good or shewe pleasure to one in any mattier.
Commodare, for Accommodare.
Omnibus in rebus te illi commodes, Bende your selfe to shewe him pleasure in all thynges.
Commodamus vestes, libros, vasa, equos, & similia, quæ eadem redduntur. Mutuo autem damus nummos, frumentum, vinum, pro quibus alia redduntur eiusdem generis.
Aurem alicui commodare, improprie.
Aurem commodare alicui, to geue eare, or harken to one.
Commódito, âui, âre, a frequentatiue of Commodo.
Commódulè, a diminutiue of commodè.
Cómmodum, i, n. g. profyte or commoditee. also a thynge good, apte, and conuenient. some tyme it is an aduerbe, and than it signifyeth the same tyme, in good tyme, leysure, or opportunitee, scarcely.
Commodum discesseras heri, cum Trebatius venit, Thou were scarcely departed yesterdaye, whan Trebatius was come.
Comparare sua commoda ex incommodis alterius, to gear his commoditees or pleasures by an other mans harmes and disprofyte.
Inhibere commoda alicuius, to hynder or lette a mans profytes.
Inseruire suis commodis, to worke for his owne profyte.
Quum est commodum, whan it shall bee thought good, conuenient or meete.
Vt cui tibi esse commodum condonares, that you myght pardon whom ye thynke good.
Si id non commodum erit, ores vt redeat, yf he may not so doo conuenyently, praye hym to come agayne.
Si commodum est, apud me sis hodie volo, If you haue leysure, or if ye may conuenyently, I would ye shulde be with me to daye.
Quod commodo tuo fiat, as muche as you maye, maie, sauynge youre selfe harmeleſſe: Or ſo that you put youre ſelfe to no diſcommoditee, or as farre as you maie conueniently.

Commodum huc aduerterat, As happe was, ſhe tourned this waie.

Commodum, aduerb. in good tyme, or ſeaſon, as fortune was, alſo ſeaſely, when cum ſoloweth.

Cómmodus, a, um, profytable or apt, handſome, good to agree withall, feate, commodious, pleaſant, tractable, eaſy to be pleaſed, beninge, humaine, gentle.

Commodus capillus, a buſſhe well decked, or kempte.

Commodus homo, a tractable or reaſonable manne.

Commodus conuiua, a gueſt not curious to pleaſe.

Commoda & faceta mulier, a pleaſaunte and merye woman.

Literæ commodæ, pleaſante letters ſuche as a man deſyreth.

Commoda ſtatura homo, a man of good ſtature, not to greate nor to lyttle.

Commodum id non eſt, it maie not bee eaſely doone.

Commodum obſonare, to vſe moderate fare.

Commoda valetudo, good health.

Te iam commodiorem, mitioremque nunciant, They ſhewe that you bee more tractable and gentill.

Veſtis commoda ad curſum, handeſome or eaſie to renne in.

Commodus, & inhumanus, contrary.

Commodis moribus homo, a man of gentill behauiour, nothyng ſtraunge or curyouſe.

Commodius eſſe opinor, I thynke it better or more conuenient.

Commœreo, mœres, ui, ére, to be all heauie or ſory.

Commólior, liris, litus ſum, liri, to go about or endeuour.

Commoliri dolem, to go about deceyte.

Cómmolo, mólui, commólitum, lére, to bruſe or breake.

Commonefácio, commonéfacis, féci, ére, to warne or aduyſe one, to geue a man warnynge, to put him in mynde of a thynge.

Commonefieri, to be warned.

Amicitiæ veteris commonefacere aliquem, to put one in mynde of olde freendſhyp.

Commonefacere rem aliquam, for Commemorare.

Cõmmóneo, cómmones, mónui, ére, idem quod Commonefacio.

Aliorum exempla cómmonent, the examples of other men do ſhew or teache me.

Amicé commonére, to warne freendly.

Commonere aliquem, to remembre one of a thynge.

Commonere aliquem officium ſuum, to admertyſe one what he ought to doe, or what his duetie is.

Commonitórium, rii, neut. gene. a prieue conſtruction.

Commónitus, a, um, monyſhed, aduertyſed, warned, put in remembraunce.

Commónſtro, áui, áre, to ſhewe a thynge that is hyd or vnknowen.

Viam commonſtrare, to ſhewe or teache the waie.

Commorátio, ónis, f. g. a bydyng, a tarieng, or lyngeryng. Alſo a fygure of rhetoryke, whan one abydeth longe vpon a matter.

Commórdeo, di, ére, to byte.

Commórior, éris, commóri, to dye with one.

Commorientes, they that dye together. Alſo the name of a commedi in Plautus.

Cómmoro, aui, are, to make to tary.

Cómmoror, áris, ári, to abyde with one, alſo to dwell in a place for a tyme. alſo to make one to tary that is goyng.

Maléfacis properantem qui me commorare, ſol abit, Thou doeſt naught to tary me, ſens I goe in haſte, and the ſunne is now ſette.

Tardare & commorari.

Conſiſtere & commorari.

Complures dies ibi commoratus eſt, He abode there a longe tyme.

Commorare multis verbis in re aliqua, to abyde longe in a matter, and ſpeake muche of it.

An te auſpicium commoratum eſt? an tempeſtas continet, qui non abiſti ad legiones, ita vt dudum dixeras? Dyd the token, ſhewed by the byrdes, cauſe the to tary? or elles the weather kepe the backe, that thou wenteſt not to the armye, as thou ſaydeſt a whyle agoe that thou wouldeſt?

Commortális, le, mortall, that ſhall or muſt peryſſhe or dye.

Commoſſem, for Commouiſſem.

Commótio, ónis, f. g. a commocion, perturbacion, or diſquietynge.

Commótio animi, perturbacion or diſquietyng of the mynde.

Commotiúncula, læ, fœ. gen. the diminutiue of Commotio.

Commótria, a mayden that dooeth araie or apparayle hir maiſtreſſe.

Commótus, a, um, meued, troubled, afrayde, angry, alſo quicke.

Grauiter commótus, verye angry.

Commotum reddere, to vexe or angre.

Commóueo, cómmoues, móui, ére, to trouble, to vexe or diſquiete, to remoue, to pluckе or ſtere vp to a thyng. ſometyme to depart.

Tu & cura vt valeas, & te vltrò ne temere commóueas, Farrewell, and take hede, that thou depart not hence to haſtily.

Commouere caſtra, to remoue the campe.

Ab Amalthea te non commouebo, I will not not cause you to departe or remoue from Amalthea.

Commouêre sui expectationem, to cause one to looke for him.

Grauiter primo nuncio commôtus sum, I was very angry or greatly moued with the first tydynges.

Ad turpe compendium aliquem commouêre, to moue a man to filthy lucre.

Commouêre dolorem, to make sorry.

Misericordiam, inuidiam, iracundiam, commouêre.

Odium in aliquem commouêre, to make one hated.

Tumultum aut bellum commouêre, to reyse vp ruffelyng.

Commouere se aliquo, to departe from a place.

Commúlceo, lci, êre, to mitigate or asswage.

Commûne, is, n. g. a communaltee.

Communicátio, ônis. f. g. communication, consultacion, makyng of an other part taker in any mattier.

Communicatio sermonis, communication, talkyng, or deuysyng together.

Communicatus, a, um, sometyme actuely, makyng an other part taker, conferryng in communication. sometyme passyuely, commoned of, conferred, or made part taker.

Communico, áui. âre, to communicate or depart a thynge with an other, whyche I haue. sometyme to common or talke together, to conferre counselles.

Communicaui tecum consilia mea, I haue made you pryuy of my counsayles.

Rem cum altero communicare, to make an other part taker with vs in a mattier.

Magistratus communicare cum plebeis, to suffre the commoners to beare offyces as well as the nobles.

Communicare laborem, to labour together one with an other.

Laudem cum altero communicare, to make an other part taker of our laude and renoume.

Ephetwyse Lucrum communicare.

Mensa sua communicare aliquem, to geue one meate and drynke at his table.

Communica mecum hanc prouinciam, helpe me in atchieuyng this mattier.

Impartire & communicare.

Ad te scripseram, vt cum Camillo communicares, I wrote to you, that you shoulde common or talke with Camillus.

Communicare inter se de re aliqua, to common, talke or deuyse together of any mattier.

De officio vtriusque nostrum communicare, to talke or conferre together, concernyng bothe our duetees, or what both you and I ought to doo.

Communicari, sometyme in the actyue syguificacion.

Communio, ônis, f. g. communion, mutuall, participation together.

Communio sanguinis, kynrede.

Communio sermonis, talkyng together.

Communio legis, a felowshyppe vnder one lawe, as is betwene the men of one cite or countrey.

Cómmúnio, commûnis, niui, ire, to fortifie, or make stronge, to fence on all partes.

Commûnis, ne, that is in common, that longeth as well to one as to an other, common. sometyme for Vniuersus.

Communes dies, were vnlucky daies to doe about any thyng, suche as we call dismoll daies, or crosse daies.

Communitas, átis, f. g. comminaltee, participacion, felowshyp.

Cómmúniter, in common.

Communiter & separatim, Opposita.

Communitus, a, um, fortified, fenced, made stronge.

Commurmuro, áui, âre, idem quod Murmuro.

Commurmuror, áris, ari, idem.

Commutábilis, le, that whyche may be easily chaunged.

Commutátio, ônis, f. g. an exchaunge, one thyng for an other, an alteracion.

Commutationes temporum quadripartitæ, the. iiii. alteracions and changes of the yere.

Animorum commutationes, the alteracions and changeynges of mens myndes.

Commutátus, us, a chaunge or alteracion.

Venire in commutatum, to bee altered or chaunged.

Commutátus, a, um, chaunged, altered.

Commûto, aui, are, to cheunge one thynge for an other, to alter.

Commutare verba, to chyde, or to geue a shrewde woorde for a good.

Commutare aliquem, to change ones mynde.

Commutare captiuos, to change prysoners.

Commutare fidem & religionem pecunia, For money to doo agaynst trouth and conscience.

Sententiam & consilium commutare, To chaunge ones aduyse, purpose, or counsayle.

Mortem cum vita commutare, to die.

Commutare in horas, to chaunge euery houre.

Commutare aliquid in libris, to alter, change, or amende any thynge in bookes.

Animos commutare & flectere, to moue or chaunge mens myndes.

Commutare contumeliam alicuius vita sua, to put his lyfe in daungier, to wooyke an other man reproche or despyte.

Como, psi, êre. to kembe or decke the heade, to apparayle gorgiously, to trymme, to attyre, to pyne, to make gaie, properly it belongeth to women.

Comœdia, æ, fœ. g. an enterlude, wherein the common vices of men and women are apparantly declared in personages, a comedie.

Comœ-

Comœ dicè, gentylly, and pleasauntly.
Comœdior, āris, āri, to iest or scoffe.
Comœdus, di, mas. gen. a player of comedies, or enterludes.
Cómicus, ci, m. g. a maker of enterludes.
Comosis, the excrement or dregges of ware in the hyues of bees, the fyrste foundacion of theyr wooske in makynge honie. Plī. li. 2. cap. 7.
Comósos, a, um, that hath a great busshe of heare, and in trees and herbes, that hath many braunches or leaues.
Compáctilis, le, that is well compacted and trussed together, shorte and rounde.
Compáctio, ónis, f. ge. a ioygnynge or settynge together.
Compáctus, a, um, well sette or ioygned together.
Compactum corpus, a body well pyght and sette together.
Compáctum, ti, neu. gen. an agreement or appoyntment.
Compacto, or De compacto rem agere, to conspyre a matter, or to doe a thynge by one accorde, or confederacie.
Compágino, aui, are, to putte or ioygne together a thynge that is loused.
Compâgo, páginis, and Compáges, âgis, f. g. seldome or neuer, ginis, a ioygnyng together of thynges.
Compáges lapidum, the couching or ioygnyng together of stones.
Muri compâgem soluere, to breake downe the wall.
Compar, āris, om. ge. equall or euen, lyke.
Compar coniugium, an equall mariage.
Compar, āris, ma. ge. a compaignion or equall. sometyme a wyfe or husbande.
Compar, an ornament of rhethorike, whan the partes of a sentence haue equall noumbre of syllables.
Comparābilis, le, that maie be compared.
Comparātè, in maner of comparynge of thynges togethet.
Comparātio, ónis, f. g. comparison, preparacion or bringe, a purchasyng or gettynge.
Comparatio noui belli, preparation for newe warre.
Quibus ita credo, vt nihil mea comparatione diminuam, to whom I geue suche credence, that I wyll prepare nothyng the lesse: or that I will make nothyng the lesse prouision.
Constringi comparatione, to be ioygned and parte together in good proporcion.
In comparatione vis rerum cernitur, in comparyng of thynges together, the strength of them is perceyued.
Comparatio voluptatis, a purchasynge of pleasure.
Comparatiuus, a, um, comparatiue, wherein begynneth excesse in comparison.
Comparātus, a, um, ordeyned or receyued in an vsage.

Quam inique comparatum est, hi qui minus habent, vt semper aliquid addant ditioribus? what an yll vse is this, that they, whiche haue but a littell, shall geue more to them that be ryche?
Quandoquidem ita ratio comparata est, vitæ naturæq; nostræ, vt alia ætas oriatur ex alia, Sens the fourme of our lyfe is so ordeyned by nature, that of one age commeth an other.
Hoc preclarè legibus comparatum est, This was excedyngly well ordeyned and constituted by the lawes.
Comparco, parsi, sere, to spare.
Compáreo, páres, párui, ēre, to appere, or to be seene.
Comparebunt quæ imperas, you shall see all thynges doone that ye commaunde.
Comparet ratio argenti, it appereth howe the money is spent.
Nusquam comparabat, he was seene in no place.
Eorum exigua pars nunc comparet, id est, extat, verate frwe of theim are seene, or remaine at this day.
Cómparo, áui, âre, to compare, or make equall or more, to ordeyne, to prepare, to ioygne to or by. also to get or purchase, to prouyde, to bye, to fynde the meane, to deuise.
Nunc hoc tibi curandum est Chrysale. C. Quiduis curem? M. Vt senem etiam alteram facias viam, compara, fabricare, finge quod lubet, Now Chrysalus, thou muste take good herde of this C. what wylt thou that I shoulde doo? M. Deuyse yet to goe an other waie to wooyke, imagyne, contryue euen as thou thynkest best.
Comparare conuiuium, to prepare a banket.
Comparare malum, to purchase an yll turne, or a mischiefe.
Comparare se, to dyspose hym selfe to anye thynge.
Comparare sibi aditum, to fynde the meanes to haue entrance to a thynge or person.
Comparare bellum, to make prouision for warre.
Comparare dolum, to goe aboute to wooyke some disceyte.
Comparare insidias alicui, to laie wayte, to attrappe or deceyue a man.
An ita me cómparem? Shuld I so dyspose or settle my selfe.
Comparare se ad respondendum, to prepare or settle hym selfe to make an answere.
Comparare se ad iter, to make hym readye to take his iourney.
Comparare subsidia ad omnes casus, to prepare and purchase ayde agaynst all chaunces of fortune.
Comparare sibi authoritatem, to procure or get hym authoritee.
Gloriam ex bellicis rebus comparare, to get glory

glorie and renoume by martiall prowesse.
Comparare prædium, to bye a manor place.
Ad frumentum comparandum missi, sente foorth to bye corne.
Alterum alteri comparare. Comparare cum altero, & inter se, to compare thynges tagether, or one with an other.
Ne comparandus hic quidem ad illum est, This man is not to bee compared to the other.
Vt compararent inter se, qui duo. &c. That they should ordeyne or appoynt betweene theim selues. whiche two. &c.
Accusatores in aliquem comparare, to prouide men to accuse a persone.
Vultum suum è vultu alterius comparare, to facion his countenaunce lyke an other mans.
Argentum comparare, to make prouysion for money.
Compăsco, pŭi, păscere, to feede or kepe cattell in pasture togethet.
Compăscor, the passyue.
Compăscuus, a, um, that belongeth to common pasture.
Compâscuus ager, a common fielde.
Compédio, cómpedis, dini, ditum, to gyue or fetter the feete.
Compeditus, a, um, fettred or gyued.
Compellátio, ônis, f. g. blamynge, chidynge, or rebukyng.
Compéllo, áui, âre, to speake to, to call, to accuse.
Blandè compellare virum, to speake faire to a manne.
Honorificè & magnificè compellare, to speke to one worthely worshipfull and honourable.
Nominatim compellare, to call one by neme.
Compellare in concione, to rate or rebuke a man openly in a great assemble of people.
Aliquem edicto compellare, is whan a man of authoritee, by some commaundement, cyteth or calleth a man to his discoorsyppe.
Compéllo, pŭli, ĕre, to compell or constreygne, to ioygne, to bryng togethet.
Compellere & dispellere, contrary.
Expellere & compellere, contrary.
Compellere ossa in suam sedem, to set bones in theyr places, whan they be out of ioynct.
Compellere & congregare in vnum locum, to bryngе or gather togethet into one place.
Compellere lanam in aurem, to thrust wooll into ones eare.
Compellere gregem, to bryng a flocke togethet.
Ad bellum nos compulit regni cupido, the desyre to reygne, forced vs to warre.
Compellere in angustias, to bryng into a streicte.
Compellere in oppidum, to bryng into the towne.
Compellúceo, luxi, ère, to shyne through.
Compellúcidus, a, um, that shyneth bryght.
Compendiário, by a compendious waie.

Compendiarius, a, um, compendious or briefe.
Compendifácio, fèci, ère, to make compendyous, to wynne.
Compendiósus, a, um, verie profytable.
Compendiosum iter, a shorter waie.
Compéndium, ij, n. g. a sauynge or sparyng, an aduauntage, a compendious or short foorme in wrytynge or other acte. Sometyme a nerer way in iourneiyng.
Compendij facere, to make briefe, or to bee short in speakyng.
Breuis docendi compendia monstrare, to shew briefe and compendious meanes to teach or instruct.
Quæstus & compendium.
Hoc compendium operæ est, this is the auantage of the woorke or labour.
Ne cui compendio sit, that it myght not bee gaynes or bauntage to any man.
Conferre verba ad compendium, to speake compendiously.
Compensátio, ônis, fœ. gen. a recompence, satisfaction, or amendes makynge.
Compénso, áui, âre, to make recompence or amendes.
Tarditatem grauitate supplicij compensat, The longer he deferreth, the more grieuously he punysheth.
Comperendinátio, ônis, fœ. gen, a delaie or prolongynge of tyme, whan the attourneie hath a respyte graunted hym vntyll the nexte daye layenge one.
Comperendinátus, us, m. g. idem.
Comperendinæus, a, um, adiourned.
Comperendinata dies, a daie ouer in matters of lawe.
Comperendinati rei, they whose iudgement is deferred vntyll an other tyme.
Comperendino, áui, âre, to delaie, to prolonge. deferre a matter from daie to daie.
Comparendinare reum, to deferre the iudgement of a person accused vntyll an other tyme.
Compério, cómperis, perŭi, ire, to fynde or trye out a matter, to haue sure knowlage or proofe of a thynge.
Certo comperi, I haue sure knowlage of the matter: or I haue sure tryall of the matter.
Manifesto comperire, & manibus tenere, to haue manyfeste proofe and sure knowlage of a thyng.
Ex multis audiui, nam comperisse me dicere non audeo, I haue herde it of many: for I dare not saye, that I haue tried it, and know it to be true.
De amore comperit, he knoweth certainely that he loueth.
Comperire ex aliquo, to haue knowlage by an other.
Compérior, iris, iri, idem quod Comperio.
Compérnis, nis, mas. & f. gen, he that hath bothe knees nigh togethet, or longe feete.

Compérs

Compérto, absolutely put, whan it was knowen and tryed out.
Comperto matrem suam intestatam decessisse, whan it was knowen and tryed out, that his mother dyed intestate, or without wylle makyng.
Compértus, a, um, founde out, taken, conuict, proued, knowen.
Compertum est, it is proued by experience.
Compertum est mihi, I haue tryed it out, and haue suer knowlage of the matter.
Compertum oculis, that whiche we haue sene.
Compertus in stupro, taken in auoutrie.
Compertum atque deprehensum.
Cognitum & compertum.
Nullius flagitij compertus homo, a man that was neuer conuicte of any heynouse acte.
Compertus furti, founde gylte of felony.
Compertum habeo, I knowe or perceyue, I haue tryed the matter.
Compes, édis, s. g. a fetter or gyue.
Faber compedes, quas fecit, gestat, He is whipte with his owne rodde.
Compésco, scui, ĕre, to kepe streicte, as it were in one pasture: to bridle or keepe vnder, to stoppe, to staunche or quenche, to asswage, to mitigate.
Compesce in illum iniuste dicere, leaue to say yll of him.
Curas compescere, to asswage rage and sorow.
Equum frœno compescere, to restraigne, stop or holde backe the horse with the bridle.
Compescere incendium, to stynte or quenche fyre.
Compescere tumentes populos, to appease and keepe vnder proude and stubburne people.
Risum compescere, to restrigne or forbeare laughynge.
Sitim compescere, to quenche ones thyrste.
Compescere vitem, to cut or kepe a vine that it sprede not to farre abrode.
Compescere mores rabidos, to asswage and mitigate the fierce maners of men.
Digito compesce labellum, kepe sylence.
Cómpetens, tis, an adiective, competent, conuenable.
Competéntia, æ, s. g. conuenience, agreablenesse, meetenesse.
Competitor, ôris, masc. gener. he that sueth for that, which an other man sueth for, a competitour.
Competitrix, icis, the feminine.
Cómpeto, ĭui, ĕre, to aske or sue for an office, or other lyke thyng, agaynst a nother that sueth for the same, to wyllye. Also to agree, to be mete or conuenient, to appertaine, to mete with or ioigne to an other thyng.
Competit, it is meete or conuenient. Also it is sufficient.
Hoc illi competit, that is meete or conuenient for hym.
Si omnia competunt voto, if all thynges agree to our desyre, Or if all thynges be as we would haue them.
Si non competet, vt in villam fœnum portetur, if we shall haue no leasure, or if we may not conueniently, &c.
Si ville situs ita competit, if the situacion of the terme doo so requyre, or be conuenient and mete.
Si cuiusquam neptium cõpeteret ætas, yf any of his neces were in age, or were of conuenient and mete age.
Formidine attonitus neq; animo, neque auribus, neque lingua competit, Beyng astonyed with feare, he neyther had the vse of his mynde, eares, nor tunge.
Ita vt in patentes fossas ora hiantia cæcarum competant, so that the open mouthes of the trenches vnder the earthe: meete and be ioygned with the dyches, that are made aboue in the sight of men.
Compilátio, ónis, fœ. gen. pillage, robbynge, or pollyng.
Compilâtor, oris, mas. ge. an extorcioner that leaueth a man nothyng.
Compilâtus, a, um, polled by extorcion, robbed, pylled.
Compilo, compilas, áui, âre, to take by extorcion or wronge. Or (as the vulgar speche is) to poll and shaue.
Compilare sapientiam alicuius, to robbe one of his wisdome.
Scrinia alicuius compilare, to robbe ones coffers. Rem publicam compilare, to pylle and robbe the commune weale.
Compingo, égi, páctum, ĕre, to compacte or put togyther, to thrust, to make, as one maketh a ship or lyke thynge.
Quid faciam nunc, si tres viri me in carcerem compegerint? howe shall I doo now if the officers thrust me into prison?
Compingere axibus, to boorde or planke a flooze or roofe.
Ipsum in vincula compegit, he layed hym in fetters, or in prison.
Compingere in occulos, to thrust it into ones eyes. Componere & compingere.
Detrudere & compingere in pistrinum.
Compegerat se in apuliam, he went and kept hym selfe in Apulia.
Compitália, or Compitalitia, orum, feastes or drynkynges made, where as be many pathes or high wayes in a place.
Compitalitius, a, um, belongynge to the sayde feastes.
Compitâlis, le, of a place where many wayes or pathes mete.
Cómpitum, ti, neu. gene. a waie or place, where many wayes doe mete, or where two streetes do crosse.
Cómpitus, is sometyme vsed in the masculyne gender.

Compláceo, cómplaces, cui, ére, to pleaſe or lyke well.

Complacitum eſt, it pleaſeth or contenteth, it lyketh.

Complâco, áui, áre, idem quod Placo.

Complâno, áui, áre, to make playne. ſometyme to make equall with the ground, to kyndle.

Complanare domum alicuius, to deſtroye ones houſe, and caſt it to the ground.

Complanare opus, to kyndle and make perfect a wooꝛke.

Complâudo, ſi, ére, foꝛ ioy to clap the handes together.

Complector, éris, xus ſum, ti, to compꝛyſe, to imbꝛace oꝛ holde ſtreicte, to loue well, to intertayne, to intreate gentelly, to ſhewe pleaſure oꝛ frendeſhyp, to compaſſe, to compꝛehende oꝛ conteyne, to deſcribe oꝛ handell a matter in few wooꝛdes.

Quare velim eum quam liberaliſſime complectare, wherefoꝛe I wouldе that ye doo entertayne hym verꝛ lyberally.

Peto, vt eum complectare, diligas, in tuis habeas, I requyꝛe you entertayne hym well, fauoꝛ him, and take him as one of your frendes.

Nos inter nos eſſe complexos, that one of vs loued well an other.

Complecti amore, to loue hartely.

Complector memoria, I beare in mynde.

Complector animo, I conſider.

Oratione complecti non poſſum magnitudinem beneficij tui, I can not ſufficientely fette foꝛth with wooꝛdes the great pleaſure and benefite that ye haue ſhewed me.

Vno verbo omnia complecti, to ſpeake all at one wooꝛde.

Complectitur verbis, quod vult, he is eloquent, and can vtter with wooꝛdes, what ſo euer he wyll.

Complecti & oſculari aliquem.

Beneficio complecti aliquem, to ſhewe pleaſure to any man.

Comitate complecti, to ſhewe friendly gentelneſſe.

Beneuolentia, charitate, pietate, complecti, to loue and fauour earneſtly.

Arcta familiaritate complexus ſum, I was verꝛ familiar with him.

Cogitatione complecti non poſſumus, we can not conceiue oꝛ compꝛehende in our mynde.

Abſentem cogitatione complecti, to thynke earneſtly on one that is abſente.

Me ſomnus complexus eſt, ſlepe toke me.

Complector, ſumetyme paſſiuely.

Compleméntum, ti, n. g. a furnyſhynge oꝛ fyllyng.

Cómpleo, éui, ére, to fulfyl oꝛ fyll to the toppe, to furnyſhe oꝛ perfourme, to make vp oꝛ ſupplie that lacketh.

Quis tam dulcis ſonus complet aures meas? what pleaſaunt and ſweete ſowne fylleth myne eares?

Aurem complere ſermonibus, to make one werꝛ with babbyng.

Atrium complere vlulatibus, to make the houſe eynge with howlyng and cryng.

Ad ſummum complere, to fill vp to the bynke.

Compleuit annos centum, he lyued full an hundred yeres.

Sol terras luce complet, The ſunne geueth lyght to all the earth, oꝛ caſteth his lyghte ouer all the woꝛlde.

Complet omnia odor vnguenti, the ſweete ſauour ſmelleth ouer all the place, oꝛ perfumeth all the place.

Complere promiſſum, to fulfill ones promiſe.

Complere aliquem coronis & floribus, to ouer one with garlandes and flowꝛes.

Complere hominem bona ſpe, to put one in good hope.

Complere gaudio, to make verꝛ glad.

Complere terrore, contrarꝛ.

Erroris & demẽtiæ complere, to make madde.

Complêtus, a, um, complete, abſolute, perfecte, full.

Complex, ícis, om. gen. partener, companion in acte.

Compléxio, ônis, idem quod complexus. alſo a concluſion in an argument.

Compléxus, us, ma. ge. embꝛacynge oꝛ collynge. alſo agreement in wooꝛdes oꝛ ſentence. ſometyme ſeruent loue. Alſo a ruſte periode oꝛ full ſentence, ſometyme a compaſſe oꝛ a conteynynge.

Complexus & oſculatio.

A complexu matris filium auellere, to plucke the childe away from the tender imbꝛacyng of the mother, oꝛ out of the mothers armes.

Continet omnia complexu ſuo mundus, The woꝛlde conteyneth and compꝛehendeth all thynges.

Ad complexum & oſculum alicuius currere, to make haſte to embꝛace and kyſſe one.

Complexu luctari, to wꝛaſtle vp the middle.

Alicuius complexu, collóque pendére, to coll one and hange aboute his neche.

Complexu totius generis humani, with all mankynde vniuerſally,

Compléxus, a, um, actiuely, embꝛacyng oꝛ clyppyng: paſſiuely, clipped oꝛ colled, compꝛehended, conteyned.

Res altera alteri complexa, id eſt, Implicita.

Cómplico, áui, áre, to folde oꝛ wꝛap together.

Complicare & Euoluere, contrarꝛ.

Complicare epiſtolam, to folde vp a letter.

Complódo, ôſi, ére, to clap together the handes foꝛ ioy, ſoꝛow, oꝛ admiration.

Complorâtus, us, maſc. ge. and Complorátio, ônis, f. g. a lamentation, weppynge oꝛ wailyng of many together.

Complôro,

Complôro, ãui, ãre, to werpe, wayle, and make ſorowe with other.
Complúres, m.& f. g. Complúra,& Complúria, n. g. plu. many.
Complúries, ꝛeaie often.
Complúſculi, Complúſculæ, Complúſcula, plu. many.
Compluuiátus, and adiectiue.
Compluuiáta vinea, a vyne faſtned and layed a longe vpon a frame.
Complûtus, a, um, couered or wette with rayne.
Compluúius, a, um, wherinto raine water falleth.
Compluúius lacus, a dyche, wherinto waters falleth out of dyuers gutters.
Compluuium, uĳ, n. g. a gutter, wherein falleth rayne from many houſes.
Compôno, ſui, ĕre, to put or ioygne together, to make, ordeyn or diſpoſe. Alſo to compare or conferre, to adorne, to gather, to recreate, to appeaſe, to conclude, to accorde or agree, to fynyſhe, ende, or conclude a matter, to redeme, to diſſemble or feygne, to write or make a booke, to byyng to faſhion. ſometyme to burie.
Mœnia hmes compoſito Scirone patet, id eſt, ſepulto, layed in his graue, vel mortuo, dead.
Componere lites, to agree men together, which are at varyaunce.
Componere bellum, to fynyſhe warre, to make peace. Iphewyſe Componere contentiones, controuerſias, diſcordias, tumultum.
Compone quæ ſimul tecum ferantur, packe and lay together ſuche thynges as may be carped with you.
Ad exemplum alterius ſe componere, to faſhion him ſelfe to doe as he ſeeth an other.
Componere capillos, vel crines, to ſette or dreſſe vp the heares.
Animos noſtros ratio componat, lette reaſon moderate and rule our myndes.
Exercitum componere, to ſette an armye in arraye.
Leges componere, to make or ordeyne lawes.
Membra defeſſa componere, to recreate or refreſſhe the wery ymmes.
Componere ſe ad reuerentiam alicuius, to faſhion or ſette him ſelfe, as though he ſhewed a reuerence to one.
Signa componere, to ioygne battayle.
Res ſuas componere, to diſpoſe and ſet his matters in an order.
Componere vitem in brachia, to ſette the vine alonge vppon the rayle.
Componere vultum, to ſettle or faſhion the countenaunce. to looke ſaddely, to make a graue countenaunce.
Componere aliquem, to burie or laye one in the earth.
Curas componere, to aſſwage care, to ende ſorowe.
Fluctus componere, to quiete the rages of the ſea.

Amicos auerſos componere, to reconcyle frendes that are fallen out.
Componere & tranſigere, to fall at agreement, and diſpatche a matter throughly.
Componere animos ratio dicitur, to ſettle mens myndes in good quiete.
Componere dicta cum factis, to conferre & mans woordes and dedes together.
Cur audes componere mihi te? why dareſt thou compare thy ſelfe to me?
Componere hiſtoriam, to make or wryte an hyſtorie.
Carmina componere, to make verſes.
Laudes alicuius componere, to wryte ones laude and prayſe.
Componere itinera, to appoynte, or diſpoſe ones iourneys.
Componere fallacies, to inuente and imagyne gyles and diſceptes.
Componere mendacia, to feigne or ymagyne lyes.
Blanditias componere, to ſpeake fayre and flatteryngly.
Componere & conſtituere rempublicam, To diſpoſe the common weale, and ſette it in good order.
Componere pacem alicui cum altero, to ſetty men at concorde and vnitee.
Componere ſocietatem, to aſſociate.
Literas alieno nomine componere, to counterfayte letters.
Componere vrbem, to builde a citee.
In aluo infans componitur, The infaunt is brought to faſhion in his mothers wombe.
Compórto, ãui, ãre, to beare, to cary together, or conueigh.
Compos, cómpotis, com. gen. he that hath his purpoſe or deſyre. alſo euer conſtant.
Cõpos animi, of ſound remẽbrance, not mad.
Compos culpæ, he that hath done offence, guilte, or culpable.
Compos laudis, he that is prayſed.
Compos patriæ, he that is come home into his countrey.
Compos prædæ, he that hath gotten the pray that he looked for.
Compos voti, he that hath his owne deſyre or appetite.
Compos rerum ſempiternarum, he that hath the knowlage of thynges euerlaſting.
Vix præ gaudio cõpotes, For ioye they coulde not tell what they ſhoulde doo.
Compos mẽtis, rationis, ſanitatis, quod hæc habeo: Compos voti, victoriæ, optati, quod hæc opera & labore optinui.
Vix cõpos ſui eſt, he is almoſt beſide him ſelfe.
Compotem facere gratulationis, to geue an occaſion to one, to gratifie or thanke his frende, or rather to geue an occaſion to reioyſe on his frendes behalfe for any pleaſure that is hapned or done.

Complicare & Euoluere, contrary.
Complicare epistolam, to folde vp a letter.
Complôdo, ósi, ĕre, to clap together the handes for ioy, sorowe, or admiracion.
Complorátus, ûs, masc. ge. and Complorátio, ônis, f. g. a lamentacion, weppng or wailpng of many together.
Complôro, áui, áre, to weepe, waple, and make sorowe with other.
Complúres, m. & f. g. Complúra, & Complúria, n. g. plur. many.
Compluries, verate often.
Complúsculi, Complúsculæ, Complúscula, plu. many.
Compluuiâtus, an adiective.
Compluuiâta vinea, a vyne fastned and laied a longe vpon a frame.
Complûtus, a, um, couered or wette with rayne.
Compluuius, a, um, wherinto rayn water falleth.
Compluuius lacus, a dyche, wherinto water falleth out of dyuers gutters.
Compluuium, ii, n. g. a gutter, wherin falleth rayne from many houses.
Compôno, sûi, ĕre, to put or ioigne together, to make, ordeyn, or dispose. Also to compare or conferre, to adorne, to gather, to recreate, to appease, to conclude, to accorde or agree, to fynysshe, ende, or conclude a mattier, to redeme, to dissemble or feigne, to write or make a booke, to bryng to facion. sometyme to burie.
Mœnia limes composito Scirone patet, id est, sepulto, laied in his graue, vel mortuo, dead.
Componere lites, to agree men together, whiche are at variaunce.
Componere bellum, to finysshe warre, to make peace. lykewise Componere contentiones, controuersias, discordias, tumultum.
Compone quæ simul tecum ferantur, packe and laie to gether suche thynges as maie bee caried with you.
Ad exemplum alterius se componere, to facion hym selfe to doe as he seeth an other.
Componere capillos, vel crines, to sette or dresse vp the heares.
Animos nostros ratio componat, lette reason moderate and rule our mindes.
Exercitum componere, to sette an armye in arraye.
Leges componere, to make or ordeyn lawes.
Membra defessa componere, to recreate or refreshe the weery lymmes.
Componere se ad reuerentiam alicuius, to facion or settle hym selfe, as though he shewed a reuerence to one.
Signa componere, to ioigne battaple.
Res suas componere, to dispose and set his mattiers in an order.
Componere vitem in brachia, to set the vyne alonge vppon the rayle.
Componere vultum, to settle or facion the countenance, to looke sadly, to make a graue countenance.
Componere aliquem, to burie or laie one in the earthe.
Curas componere, to asswage care, to ende sorowe.
Fluctus componere, to quiete the rages of the sea.
Amicos auersos componere, to reconcile frendes that are fallen out.
Componere & transigere, to falle at agrement, and dispatche a mattier throughly.
Componere animos ratio dicitur, to settle mens myndes in good quiete.
Componere dicta cum factis, to conferre a mans woordes and dedes together.
Cur audes componere mihi te? why darest thou compare thy selfe to me?
Componere historiam, to make or wryte an hystorie.
Carmina componere, to make verses.
Laudes alicuius componere, to wryte ones laude and prayse.
Componere itinera, to appoynte, or dispose ones iourneys.
Componere fallacias, to inuente and imagine gyles and disceptes.
Cõponere mẽdacia, to feigne or imagine lyes.
Blanditias componere, to speake faire and flatteryngly.
Componere & constituere rempublicam, To dispose the commune weale, and sette it in good order.
Componere pacem alicui cum altero, to set men at concorde and vnitee.
Componere societatem, to associate.
Literas alieno nomine componere, to counterfait letters.
Componere vrbem, to builde a citee.
In aluo infans componitur, The infaunt is brought to facion in his mothers wombe.
Comporto, áui, áre, to beare, to carry together, to conueigh.
Compos, cómpotis, com. gen. he that hath his pourpose or desyre. also euer content.
Cõpos animi, of sound remẽbrance, not mad.
Compos culpæ, he that hath doone offence, guilte, or culpable.
Compos laudis, he that is praysed.
Compos patriæ, he that is come home into his countree.
Compos prædæ, he that hath gotten the praie that he looked for.
Compos voti, he that hath his owne desyre or appetite.
Compos rerum sempiternarum, he that hath the knowlage of thinges euerlastyng.
Vix præ gaudio cõpotes, for ioye they coulde not tell what they shoulde doo.
Compos mẽtis, rationis, sanitatis, quod hæc habeo: Compos voti, victoriæ, optati, quod hæc opera & labore optinui,

Vix

Vix cõpos sui est, he is almost beside him self.
Compotem facere gratulationis, to geue an occasion to one, to gratifie or thanke his frend, or rather to geue an occasion to reioyce on his frindes behalfe for any pleasure that is hapned or done.
Compos scientiæ, he that hath the vnderstandyng of a science.
Compos virtutum, vertuous.
Compos miseriarum, miserable or fulle of aduersitee.
Compositè, in order.
Compositè & aptè dicere, cui contrarium est, sine ordine & modo dicere.
Compositè ambulare, to walke or go with a certayne measure, no more at one steppe than at an other, as our gentle women doe.
Compositio, ónis, fœ. g. facture, proporcion, a making, an ornamẽt, a composition, or agreemẽt, a confection or myngling of dyuers thinges together, a peace makyng.
Compositiónes gladiatorum, wer the byrnyng in of swoorde players into the fightyng place.
Compositio membrorum, the composition and facture of the partes of the body.
Compositio sermonis, the couching of woordes
Compositó, aduerbially vsed and Ex compositó, of purpose, for the nones, as it was agreed.
Compositó factum est, it was don of a sette purpose.
Compósitor, óris, ma. g. he that setteth, composeth or ioigneth thynges together.
Compositura, æ, f. g. a composition, ioignyng, or setting of thynges together, a confection.
Compósitus, a, um, settled, put, or ioigned together, sette in arraye. for other englisshes loke after in the phrases.
Compositus in ostentationem, setled to make a great shewe or bragge of hym selfe.
In securitatem compositus, he that hath disposed and set his mynde to lyue without care and trouble, hauing continance as though he were careles, or passed for nothing.
Compositum agmen ad pugnam, a bende of men sette in arraie redy to fyght.
Comæ compositæ, & crines compositi.
Compositum mare, a caulme sea.
Composita verba, woordes cunnyngly and fitly sette together.
Composita hora, the hower promised or appointed.
Vt compositum fuerat cum eo, so soone as they had fallen at agreement with hym.
Compotatio, ónis, f. g. a banckette or drinkyng together.
Compoto, áui, áre, to drinke with an other man.
Compótrix, icis, f. g. she that drynketh with an other: a drinkyng gossyp.
Compotrinsor, óris, ma. ge. he that drynketh with an other.

Comprecátio, ónis, f. g. a prayeng, a desyryng, a supplication.
Compræs, præ dis, m. g. a pledge or suertie together with an other.
Comprecor, áris, ári, to desyre or praie.
Comprehéndo, di, ére, to take holde on a thyng, to comprehende or conteine, to comprise. also to fauour and defende, to compasse or atteyne, to sette foorth a thyng in woordes, to perceiue, to vnderstande sensibly, to deprehende or come to the knowlage of a thyng.
Manu comprehendere, to take hold with ones hande.
Emittere & comprehendere, contrary.
Comprehendere dicuntur plantæ, to take roote. Comprehendere verbis, to set foorth a thyng in woordes.
Comprehendere numero, to number.
Comprehendere & percipere, to vnderstand and perceiue.
Comprehendere signis, to know a thyng by certayne sygnes and tokens.
Animo & mente comprehendere, to conceiue in ones minde.
Comprehendere contemplationem rerum naturæ, to haue the knowlage of naturall thynges.
Intelligere & comprehendere cogitatione.
Memoria comprehendere, to remembre, to kepe in memory.
Visu comprehendere, to see.
Adulterium alicuius comprehendere, to deprehende or disclose a mans aduoutrie.
Officijs aliquem comprehendere, to bynde one to him by friendly pleasures.
Comprehendere humanitate aliquem, to shew great gentylnesse to one, to doo many pleasures for him.
Comprehensè, byrefely.
Comprehensibilis, le, that male bee comprehended.
Comprehénsio, ónis, f. g. a takyng, a comprehendyng, conteynyng, perceiuyng, or vnderstandyng, a spryng out or reuelyng of a thyng, sometyme a periode, or full sentence.
Comprehénsus, a, um, holden, taken, comprehended, concluded, inclosed.
Comprendo, and Comprensus, idem quod Comprehendo, and Comprehensus.
Compresse, byrefely, compactly.
Compressio, ónis, f. g. a pressyng or a streicte russyng of thynges together.
Compressiúncula, æ, f. g. a diminutiue.
Compressus, a, um, thruste or preste together. also raueshed.
Compressis manibus sedere, to syt yrell.
Annona compressa, in Liuie, when the prices of corne is raised by meanes of regraters or forestallers of the market.
Compressa in pugnum manus, the fyste.
Compressum atq; tacitum odium, priuy and vnknowen knowen hatered.

Compressa manu ferire, to stryke with the fyste.

Compréssus, us, m. g. a dekiozation oz rauisshement also bzuisyng oz pzessyng.

Cómprimo, pressi, ĕre, to pzesse thzust oz strein together, to holde oz restrayne, to appeale, to moderate, repzesse oz kepe vnder. sometyme to suppzesse, to clyng together.

Comprime, lette be, peace.

Epistolam comprimere, to close a letter.

Cómprime te, be styll, leaue of.

Comprimere se, to seale oz restrayne to door a thyng.

Vix comprimor, quin inuolem illi in oculos, I can vneth forbeare to take him by the face.

Comprimere aliquem, to beate oz tourment one. Comprimere animam, to hold in a mans bzeathe.

Comprimere manus, to holde his handes that he steale not.

Comprimere dentes, to grynde oz crasshe the teeth together.

Comprimere aluum, to stoppe the beally.

Morsu comprimere, to byte.

Comprimit rosa florem noctu, the rose closeth his flowze in the nyght.

Comprime tela manu, holde thy handes, cast not thy taucline oz darte.

Lachrymas comprimere, to stent weepyng.

Plusquam vinum ad comprimendum stomachum valet, it is of moze force to stoppe vomite than wyne is.

Comprimere audaciam alicuius, to repzesse oz kepe vnder the rasshe boldenesse of any man.

Doctrina comprimere vitiosam naturam, to repzesse and kepe vnder.

Seditionem comprimere, to appeale oz suppzesse a sedition.

Restringere & comprimere, to appeale oz moderate.

Iram comprimere, to assuage oz stynte anger.

Comprimere vocem, to kepe silence.

Virginem comprimere, to rauisshe.

Comprobátio, ônis, f. g. the appzouyng oz allowyng of a thyng.

Comprobátor, ôris, m. g. he that alloweth oz appzoueth a thyng.

Cómprobo, âui, âre, to allow, to make good oz allowable, to declare a thyng to be true.

Laudare & vehementissime comprobare.

Studio se comprobare.

Re aliquid comprobare, to shew a thyng to be true in deede.

Testimonio alicuius rem comprobare, to appzoue a thyng by the witnesse of any man.

Res somnium comprobauit, the thynge selfe pzoued the dzeame true.

Compromissárius, a, um, the adiective of compromissum.

Compromíssum, si, n. g. the authozitee granted to the arbitrator by the assent of the parties.

Compromissum facere de re aliqua, to submitte him selfe to the arbitrement of a man in any mattier.

Compromitto, misi, ĕre, to committe him selfe to the arbitrement of any indifferent person.

Comptum, ti, n. g. a certaine offeryng of lycour, whiche was made with meale.

Comptus, us, m. g. fresshe apparayle.

Comptus, a, um, decked, trymmed.

Compúgno, áui, âre, to fyght together, to contende in wozdes, to bzaule.

Compúlso, áui, âre, the frequentatiue of compello, to beate oz stryke against a thyng.

Compúlsus, a, um, compelled, fozced. Also hitte oz knocked with any thyng.

Compúnctus, a, um, marked, spotted, pzicked. Acu compunctus, pzicked with a nedell.

Compúnctio, ônis, f. g. a pzickyng. sometyme a stitche oz grieke in a mans side oz other place.

Compúngo, púpugi, oz púnxi, ĕre, to punche, pzicke, oz stryke.

Cauendum, ne aculeis vrticæ compungamur, Ye muste beware that he bee not stounge with a nettle.

Sensus compungere res dicuntur, quæ offendunt, vt splendor oculos, gustum amaritudo. &c.

Compungere se suis acuminibus, to bexe and tourment ones selfe with his owne subtill inuentions.

Computábilis, le, that may be compted, reckned, oz numbzed, accomptable.

Computátio, ônis, f. g. an accompt oz reckenyng. Computationem expostulare, to call foz an compt, oz reckenyng.

Cómputo, aui, are, to deeme, to accompt, to reckon, to decerne, to impute.

Si computetur impendium operæ, if the profite oz vauntage of that labour be accompted, reckened, oz valued.

Computare digitis, oz Articulis, to reckon vpon the fyngers.

Facies tua computat annos, thy face doth reckon thy peres. oz thy face declareth of what age thou art.

Computréfco, pútrui, tréscere, to putrifie oz rotte together.

Comum, mi, ne. ge. a citee of Fraunce on this syde the mountaynes, the inhabitantes whereof are called Comenses.

Comus, the god of banketyng, oz rere suppers.

Con, idem quod Cum.

Conâmen, inis, n. g. an indeuour.

Magno conámine aliquid agere, to doo a thyng diligently, with great labour and indeuour.

Conaméntum, ti, n. g. that whiche ayded oz helpeth in doyng of a thyng, oz that one vseth to reache oz pluche at a thyng, that he can not easily come by.

Conâtus, us, m. g. the indeuour oz labour that one one taketh in doyng a thyng. Sometyme diligence.

Magno conatu, studioq; aliquid agere, to doe a thyng with great endeuour and diligence.

Infringere conatus aduersariorum, to breake the purpose and indeuour of the aduersaries.

Obstare conatibus alicuius, to withstande or lette that, whiche a man indeuoureth or goeth about.

Prohibere conatus, idem.

Cóncaco, áui, áre, to beshyte.

Concæ des, cædium, plur. the loppinges of trees, or the fragmentes or shredes that be cutte of any thyng.

Concalefácio, or Concalfácio, fécі, ĕre, to inflame, to warme or make hot, to chaufe, stye, or prouoke.

Concalefactórius, a, um, that heateth or maketh warme.

Concalefáctus, a, um, made hotte or warme, chaufed.

Concalefio, factus sum, fieri, to bee chaufed or made warme.

Concáleo, concales, calui, ére, to be hotte, to be warme, to be moued or chaufed.

Concalesco, lescere, to be hot, or to be made hot.

Concálleo, lui, ére, to be made hard, as a mans handes with much woorthyng, or his feete with muche going: And by a metaphore, a mans mynde with muche vse and exercise.

Concamerátio, ónis, fœ. ge. a worke made lyke to a vault with arches, whiche wee call seelyng of chambers. also a couered walke or herboure made in a gardeyn.

Concámero, aui, áre, to vault or siele.

Concana, a citee in Spayne, the people whereof be called Concani.

Concastigo, áui, áre, to chastyse.

Concáteno, aui, are, to cheyn or lynke togither.

Cóncauo, áui, áre, to make holowe.

Concauare brachia in duos arcus, to lette the armes on kynbowe.

Cóncauus, a, um, holowe.

Concédo, cessi, ére, to graunt, to permitte or suffer, to departe awaye, to go to a place, to consent, to geue place, to geue ouer, to remit, to condescende or agree, to dye.

Concede hinc, Go hense a littell.

Concedere fato, vita, or Concedere, absolutely, to dye.

Concedamus huc, lette vs be here.

Concedere octauam partem, to abate or remitte the eight parte.

Concedere alicui, to geue place to one.

Concede ad dextram, go on the ryght hand.

Concede hinc domum, go thy waie home.

Concessit in iras, he is angry.

Tempus est cõcedere, it is tyme to geue place.

Num ab oculis concessi tuis? Dyd I departe out of your syghte?

Concedere a, vel ab, huc, illuc, aliquo.

Concedas aliquo ab illorum ore aliquantisper, Go some whither out of theyr syght for a whyle.

Tantisper ego ad tanuam concessero, in the meane space I will go to the gate.

Quandocunq; concessero, whan so euer I shall departe out of this syte.

In voluntarium exilium concessit, he went wylfully into exile.

Date hoc & concedite pudori meo, permit and graunte this to my bashefulnesse.

Concedere in sententiam alicuius, to graunt or agree to ones sentence or iudgement.

Concessit Senatus petitioni tuæ, the senate consented or agreed to your petition.

Concedere impunitatem, to pardon, or not to punishe.

Inimicitias nostras reip. concedere, for the common weales sake to remitte and geue ouer that enmitee, whiche we haue conceiued agaynst one.

Ludum pueris concedere, to geue children leaue to playe, or to suffer theim to playe.

Partem octauam pretij concedere, to abate the viii. part of the price.

Tempus ad aliquam rem concedere, to geue one tyme or leasure to doe a thyng.

Vitam concedere, to pardon one his life.

Concedere in ditionem alicuius, to yelde or submitte ones selfe to be an other mans subiect, or to lyue vnder his dominion.

Concedere de suo iure, to beare or suffre somewhat, or not to vse the rygour or extremitee, which he myght lawfully.

Concedere peccata liberorum misericordiæ parentum, to remytte and forgeue the trespasses of the childerne, for the loue of theyr parentes.

Nemini concedere de re aliqua, To geue place to no man in a mattier, or to knowlage him selfe inferiour to no man.

Et si de cupiditate nemini concedam, Although there be no man more desyrouse than I.

Nemini in illa causa, studio, & cupiditate concedebat, There was no man that more earnestly desyred or endeuoured to sette foorth that cause.

Nemini concedo, qui maiorem ex pernicie reipublicæ molestiam traxerit, There was no man liuyng that toke more sorow, or was more greued for the destruction of the common welth than I.

Omnes artes tuas tibi concedit, he geueth place to you, or will not compare with you in any of your practises or feates.

Concedo, forsan aliquis. &c. I admitte the case, perchaunce some man. &c.

Concedo tibi, vt ea prætereas, I am content that you shoulde let those thynges passe.

Ne quis concessum putet, let no man thynke that it is lefull, or permitted to be done.

Numne concedes mihi? wyll thou not geue ouer to me?

Concélebro, áui, áre, to celebrate with other.

Concelebrare platæam Hymenæo, to make ioye abrode with syngynge and daunsyng in the hos honour of mariage.

Concelebrare conuiuium, to kepe a solemne feaste, or to honest a feaste with his presence.
Funus concelebrare, to kepe a solemne funerall or interrement.
Mercatus concelebrare, to kepe a solemne marte or fayre.
Spectaculum concelebrare, to sette forthe a goodly syght, or a mate game.
Victoriam concelebrare, to make a mannes victorie famous and renowned.
Concélo, áui, áre, idem quod celare, to concele or kepe close.
Concéntio, ônis, idem quod Concensus.
Concentúrio, áui, áre, to gather together.
Concéntus, us, ma. g. a consent, many voyces in one tune, or accorde in musike: And by a metaphore, agreement, concorde.
Concentus in sermonibus & colloquiis, agrement in communication and talkyng.
Conceptáculum, or Conceptabulum, li, neu. g. any thyng that is holowe or apt to receiue and hold, as a vessel: or the place where any thyng is receiued and kepte.
Conceptiuæ feriæ, holy dais kept at a tyme certayne yerely.
Conceptus, a, um, conceyued, purposed. Sometyme gathered.
Ne cum à vertice torrens imbribus conceptus affluxerit, fundamenta conuellat, Lest whan the streame gathered by the shoures of rayne, renne vnto it, it should pulle vp the fundation of that, whiche is builded.
Concepta verba, wordes expressed and pronounced.
Conceptis verbis iurare, to sweare, an other man prescribyng or reciting the wordes of the othe.
Furto conceptus, begotten in auoutry.
Concepta æstu pestis, pestilence ingendred through great heate.
Concéptus, us, mas. ge. and Concéptio, ônis, fœ. ge. the thyng that is conceiued, or the conception it selfe.
Concérno, crêui, nĕre, to see or perceyue.
Concérpo, psi, ere, to pulle in pieces, to rente or teare.
Concérpere epistolas, to teare or rent the letters in pieces.
Concerptus, a, um, that is rent and torne in pieces.
Concertátio, ônis, fœ. ge. debate, disputation, contencion, variaunce.
Concertatiuus, a, um, contencious.
Concertatórius, a, um, that pertayneth to contencion or variaunce.
Concertatórium genus orationis, a kynde of oration apt for matters in cõtrouersie or suite.
Concertâtus, a, um, that is contended or stryued for.
Concertâtum, debated in reasonyng.

Concérto, aui, are, to contend or fight, to strike or brayle, to chyde, to play or contende in any game or exercise for the victorie.
Concertare velocitate nandi, to contende, who shall swymme faster.
Concertare lingua, concertare verbis, To chyde or cholde.
Concertare cum aliquo.
Concéssio, ónis, f. g. idem quod concessus.
Concessiuus, a, um, that graunteth or permitteth.
Concéssio, áui, áre, to ceasse from labour, to be idell or vnoccupied.
Concéssum, si, n. g. a thing granted or permitted.
Concéssus, us, m. g. permission, sufferance, leaue or licence, consent or agreement.
Concessus, a, um, graunted, geuen, permitted.
Iure aut legibus concessum, permitted by the lawe.
Concha, æ, f. g. euerie fish that hath a shell. Sometyme a shell of a muscul, oyster, cockle, or other lyke fysshe. Sometyme it is taken for a perle, because perles do grow in shell fishes. Also euery vessell, that is holowe and open aboue, as a boll, wherin linnen clothes be washed, or a trey, whiche is holow and longe. Sometyme a wyne potte, wherin they dyd vse to drynke also a trispet, as it semeth made of erth, lyke to suche as poore men dooe vse, whiche haue the sallyng syknesse, and come from the place in Duchelande, called sainct Cornelis.
Conchátus, a, um, factioned lyke the shelle of a fysshe.
Conchis, is, fœ. ge. a kynde of beanes, or after some, beanes sod in theyr coddes, or a meate made of beanes, beane potage.
Conchon, chi, n. g. is called a vessell of the Gretkes, or the holownesse of the eres.
Conchula, æ, f. g. the diminutiue of Concha.
Conchus, chi, m. g. a perle.
Conchýle, les, f. g. or Conchýlium, lij, n. g. A kynd of shell fysshe, out of which a lycour is taken, wherwith sylke is dyed purple. It is sometyme taken for the purple or violet colour.
Conchyliâtus, a, um, of a purple colour.
Conchyliâta vestis, a purple garment.
Conchýta, æ, ma. ge. he that seketh for the shelle fysshes, out of the which the lycour is taken that dyeth purple: we maie take hym for a fyster of oysters and muscles.
Concido, cidi, ere, cisum, to cutte in littell pieces, to hache small, to tagge or pounce, to beate, to kyll or slea.
Concidere minutè, to cut in small pieces.
Concidere vsque ad sanum corpus, to cutte to the quicke.
Totis voluminibus concidere aliquem, to write whole volumes verie vehemently against one.
Concidere exercitum, to beate doune and slea an armye.
Concidere virgis, to beate one till he bleede,

to

to beate tyll the bludde folow.
Concidere nucleum dentibus, to knacke a nutte with ones teethe.
Concidere & delumbare sententias, to make feeble or confounde mens argumentes.
Cóncido, concidi, ĕre, to fall doune, to dy, to faint.
Concidit crimen, the actiõ is abated or fallen.
Concidere sub onere, to fall doune vnder his burdeyn.
Graviter concidere, to haue a sore fall.
Ad aliquem concidere, to make supplication to one.
Concidere in prælio, to be slayne in battaile.
Venti cóncidunt, the wyndes be alaied.
Cóncidunt venæ, the veynes beyng empty, fall together or diminishe.
Et muri cinctatum cóncident. And the walles of all cities shall fall all together.
Concidere in optima causa, to bee vanquished in a good quarell.
Animo vel mente concidere, to lacke courage or comforte, to faynt, or be abashed.
Concidit animus, my herte is downe, or my herte faileth me.
Concidit fides, he hath loste his credence.
Concieo, cóncies, iui, to moue or steere, to call together.
Concière, to call together a multitude.
Concière iram, to moue or steere one to anger.
Concière & Concire seditionem, to reyse a sedition.
Concilibulum, i, n. g. a councell house.
Conciliatio, ónis, fœ. g. a reconcilyng or attonemakyng.
Conciliátio & consociátio.
Conciliátio gratiæ, a wynnyng of fauour.
Conciliátor, óris, m. g. he that by his woordes or meanes reconcileth folkes together.
Conciliatricula, a diminutiue of Conciliatrix.
Conciliátrix, icis, f. g. a woman that endeuoureth to make agreement betweene menne and theyr wyues.
Conciliatúra, æ, f. g. a reconcilyng.
Conciliátus, us, ma. g. an assemblyng or gatheryng of people together.
Conciliátus, a, um, assembled or sette together, reconciled sometyme bought.
Concilio, aui, are, to accorde or make friendes together, to gette, to purchase.
Conciliare amicitiam vel pacem, to make alyaunce or peace.
Conciliare benevolentiam, to gette fauour or loue.
Conciliare odium, vel inimicitias, to gette hatred or displeasure.
Conciliare pecunias, to gather moneye of the people.
Conciliare & coniungere.
Conciliare aliquem ad alterum, or alteri.
Conciliare iudicum animos ad benevolentiam ergase, to drawe the iudges myndes to fauour theim.
Conciliare & dirimere coniunctionem, contrary.
Conciliare fidem, to make one to be beleued.
Conciliare authoritatem, to make more estemed and regarded.
Somnum conciliare & fugare, contrary.
Concilia eum huc, get hym to come hyther.
Concilium, lij, n. ge. a counsaile or assemble of counsaylors. sometyme a companye. also a certayn herbe is so called.
Concilium vocare, to call a counsayle.
Cœtus & Concilium.
Concilia & conuenticula.
Habere concilium, to holde a counsayle.
Dimittere & discindere concilium, to breake vp a counsayle.
Concilium Antiochenum, the generall counsayle holden at Antioche in Syria, in the yere of our lorde. 346.
Concilium Ariminense, a generall counsaile holden at Arimynum in Italy, the yere of our lorde. 361. In the which, the articles of the counsaile of Nice, were confirmed.
Concilium Arelatense, a generall counsaile holden at Orleance, the yere of our lorde. 814.
Concilium Basilense, a generall counsayle holden at Basill, the yere of our lorde. 1345.
Concilium Calcidonense, a general counsaile holden at Chalcedon, in Bithynia, the yere of our lorde. 453. In the whiche counsail the heresie of Nestorius & Eutiches, wer condemned. And all the bookes of the Manyches heresies were burned.
Concilium Carthaginense, a generall counsayle holden at Carthage in Affrike, the yere of our lorde. 419.
Concilium Constantiæ, a generall counsaile holden at Costance in Helvetia, the yere of our lorde. 1414. and dured iii. yeres and more.
Concilium Constantinopolitanum, a counsaile holden at Constantinople, the yere of our lorde. 869.
Concilium Ferrariense, a generall counsaile holden at the citee of Ferraria in Italy, where the churches of the Latins and Grekes becam one churche, in the yere of our lorde. 1438.
Concilium Lateranense, a generall counsaile holden at Rome in the palaice of the bysshop of Rome, called Lateranum, the yere of oure lorde. 1215.
Concilium Lugdunense, a generall counsaile holden at Lyons in France, in the yere of our lord. 1273. where the Grekes accorded with the Latines, in procedyng of the holy goste, from the father and the sonne in diuinitee.
Concilium Nicenum, the fyrst generall counsayle, whiche was holden at Nicea, a citee in Bithynia, the yere of our lorde. 327.
Concinnátio, ónis, f. g. a makyng fitte or apt.

Con-

Concinnatitius, a, um, compendiously, and aptly gathered together.
Concinnator, ôris, mas. gen. one that maketh a thyng fytte.
Concinnator causarum, a forger of causes.
Concinnator capillorum, a trymmer of ones busshe or heade.
Concinnatórius, a, um, the adiectiue.
Concinnatus, a, um, apparayled, trymmed.
Concinnè, properly, honestly, trymly, featerly, galantly, minionly.
Concinnè vestitus, mynionly apparayled.
Concinnè & blandè rogare, to aske a thyng featerly, and with fayre wordes.
Concinnitas, atis, fœ. g. & Concinnitûdo, dinis, propyrnesse, featnesse, aptnesse.
Verborum concinnitas, the featenesse of woordes.
Concinno, áui, âre, to make apt, propre, or feat: also to make, to forge a thyng with lies and fetned wordes.
Vt illi mastigiæ cerebrum excutiam, qui me insanum verbis concinnat suis: I wyll surely brayne this knaue, that with his wordes maketh me out of my wytte.
Concinnare lutum, to make morter.
Concinnare se leuem suis, to put his frendes to no cost.
Nunquàm erit alienis grauis, qui suis se concinnat leuem, he shall neuer be onerous to other, whiche wyll not burdeyn his frendes.
Concinnare structures patinarias, to make sundry banketyng dysshes.
Concinnare vinũ, to mingle spices with wine.
Concinnare vestem, to amende a garment, or make it fitte for one.
Concinnare viam, to make rome that a man may passe.
Concinnare vxorem lachrymantem, to make his wyfe to wepe.
Lachrymantem ex abitu concinnas tu vxorem tuam, By your departing hense, you make your wyfe to wepe.
Concinnare pelles, to dresse felles.
Concinnare munusculum alicui, to prouide a present or gyft for one.
Concinnus, a, um, proper, well factioned, mynyon, feate, handsome, well compact.
Concinnæ acutæq; sententiæ, pretty and witty sayinges.
Concinnæ & venustæ sententiæ, feate and pleasant sentences.
Concinnus & elegans, mynion and pretty.
Cóncino, ui, ĕre, to syng, to agree in one songe, or one tune. sometyme to prayse.
Cõcinunt tubæ, the trumpettes soune.
Concinere lyra, to syng to the harpe, or to play on the harpe.
Concinere modis quibusdam, to synge in certayne measures or proporcions.
Cocinere aliquem, to lawde or prayse a man.
Re cõcinunt, verbis discrepant, in the thyng it selfe they accorde, and disagree in wordes.
Cóncio, iui, ire, to call together, lyke Concieo.
Concire, to moue or stere.
Disperij, sceleſtus, quantas turbas concitaturus sciens? I am vndoen wretche that I am, what a busines haue I made vnwares?
Concire lites, to moue debate.
Cóncio, ônis, f. g. a pulpitte or stage, wherein he standeth that exhorteth the people. also an assemblee or congregacion of people, called together to heare the cõmandementes of the kyng or other in authorite in the weale publike. also it is the oracion or proposition made vnto them, called a conyion, a sermon.
Concionem habere, to make an oracion to the people, to make a sermon.
Concio & conuentus.
Aduocare concionem, to call the people together.
Ascendere in concionem, to goe vp into the pulpit: or to goe to make a sermon or oracion.
Submouere concionem, to dissolue a congregacion.
Concionabúndus, i, ma. g. one that maketh an oracion to the people, or that proposeth a matter solemnely.
Concionâlis, le, of or pertaynyng to an assemble of people or oracion.
Concionâtor, ôris, ma. ge. he that preacheth or proposeth an oracion.
Concionatórius, & Concionárius, a, um, pertaynyng to a conyion.
Conciônor, aris, ari, to preache or propose a matter to the people.
Concipilâre, idẽ quod corripere, & immolare.
Concipio, cóncipis, cépi, cĕre, to conceiue a child, to conceiue or apprehend, to deliberate or determine in minde. somtime to gather together, as,
Torrens conceptus imbribus, gathered.
Concipere fœdus, to make a league.
Concipere iusiurandum, to receyue or prescribe the fourme of an othe, to one that must sweare the same after hym.
Concipere metum, to be afraied.
Concipere oculis, to see and beholde.
Concipere scelus, to ymagine to doo an yll deede. Concipiunt aues.
Concipere radices, to take roote.
Oua concipere, dicuntur pisces, to bryde spawne.
Concipere ingenio, mente, to conceyue in ones mynde, to imagine, to determine in the mynde.
Auribus concipere, to here.
Amorem concipere, to kendle or conceyue a loue towardes a thyng.
Concipere calorem, to ware hotte.
Concipere flammam, to take fyre, to flame, to kendle in a light fire.
Furores mente concipere, to rage, or to be madde, madde.

Iram acerbiorem concipere, to be very angry.
Inimicitias concipere, to take displeasure, to fall out with one.
Spem concipere, to take good hope.
Concipere vadimonium, to recite the forme of a suretee, to appere at a date appoynted.
Concipere verba, to recite wordes that one must reherse after hym.
Concisé, in pieces. sometyme briefely.
Concisúra, ræ, f. g. a cuttyng or diuidyng.
Concísus, a, um, breke, shorte, beaten, cut, hacked, iagged or pounced, killed or slayne.
Concísæ sententiæ, briefe sentences.
Concísus ignominiis, all to rated with sclanderous rebukes.
Exercitus concísus, killed and slaine.
Concísum & laceratum, cutte and torne.
Concísa oratio, a shorte forme of speakyng.
Concitate, swyftely, violently.
Concitátio, ónis, a steryng or prouokyng.
Concitator, masc. gen. one that moueth or sterethe other.
Concitátrix, the feminine.
Concitátus, a, um, stered, prouoked, meued.
Concitátior cursus, a more vehement or quicker course.
Concito, áui, áre, to moue or stere vp, to prouoke, to reyse vp, to trouble or make rough
Concitare in aliquem, to bee veraie angry or vexed with one.
In iram concitare, to make angry.
Concitare se in hostem, to renne violentely against his enemie.
Fuga se in aliquem locum concitare, to flie and renne as fast as he can towarde a place.
Clamore concitare aliquem, to rayse vp one with cryeng.
Auis concitat alas, the byrde rayseth vp her wynges to flie.
Concitare bellum, to raise vp warre.
Equum concitare calcaribus, to kercke vp the horse with the spurres, or to thruste the spurres to the horse, and gallop foorth.
Feras concitare, to hunte wylde beastes.
Concitare grauedines, & destillationes, to ingender reumes and catarres.
Concitare inuidiam, or odium in aliquem, to moue hatred or enuy against one.
Misericordiam concitare, to moue pitee.
Risum concitare, to moue laughter.
Concitare equum in aliquem, to spurre his horse and renne against one.
Concitare sui expectationem, to cause men to haue a truste or expectation in hym.
Concitare somnum, to cause one to sleape.
Concitare vrinam, to make one to pysse.
Concítus, a, um, of Concieo, penultimam corripit. of Concio producit, moued, stered, troubled, made roughe sometyme angred.
Concitus ad iram, prouoked to chydyng or braulyng.
Aequora concita ventis, The seas troubled with the wyndes.
Concitum ferri, to be caried veraie swyftely and violently.
Conclamátio, ónis, fœ. ge. a shoute or noyse of many to gether.
Conclamáta vasa, proclamation made to trusse together bagge and baggage, as is vsed in the raisyng of a siege, or remouyng of a campe in battayle.
Conclámito, áui, áre, to make many cryes, to crye often.
Conclámo, clámas, áui, áre, to crye, to crie together, to make a shoute or noyse. Also to make a cry or proclamation.
Conclamatum est, It is at a poynt, or paste remedie.
Corpora conclamata, bodies deade and past all hope of recouerie to liefe.
Conclamare ad arma, whan all the worlde cryeth warre.
Vbi abiit conclámo, heus quid agis tu in tegulis? whan he was gone, I cryed vnto hym, Hogh syra, what dooest thou among the tyles?
Vis conclamari auctionem quidem: wouldest thou that it shoulde be proclaymed, that there shall be porte sale.
Conclâue, uis, n. g. and Conclâuis, uis, fœ. ge. a priuie or secrete chaumbre. sometyme a bathstyng house, or a parlour.
Conclâuia, orum, n. g. many chaumbres or places vnder one haie.
Conclâuium, uij, n. g. idem quod conclâue.
Conclûdo, si, ĕre, to conclude, to finisshe, to determine, to shutte vp or enclose.
Concludere se in cellam, to locke ones selfe in a chaumbre.
Concludere aliquo, to shut vp in some place.
Cingitur atq; concluditur ipse portus vibe, The hauen it selfe is compassed and inclosed with the citee.
Concludere aliquem in angustissimam formam sponsionis, in makyng a contract or bargayne, to wrappe one in veey streict conditions.
Concludere & perorare.
Concludere & Definire.
Concludere epistolam, to adde the conclusion to a letter.
Verbis interdicti non concluditur, it is not comprehended or contened in the prohibicion.
Conclusé, an aduerbe.
Conclúsio, ónis, f. g. a conclusion or ende of a matter.
Conclusiúncula, the diminutiue of Conclusio.
Conclûsus, a, um, shut vp, inclosed, concluded.
Circumscriptio conclusa, a iuste periode, proceedyng and fallyng in a certayne numbre.
Conclusum & comprehensum.
Perfectum & conclusum, consummate, and fully ended.

Concluſa oratio, pro numeroſa.
Concóctio, ónis, fœ. g. digeſtion in the ſtomake.
Concoctus, a, um, ſodde, digeſted.
Concœnátio, ônis, ſ. g. a banket.
Cóncolor, óris, m. g. of the ſame colour.
Cóncolor ei eſt, it is of the ſame colour that the other is.
Cóncoquo, óxi, ĕre, to boyle or ſeeth, to concoct or digeſt, and by a metaphore, to beare or ſuffer, to abyde or away with a thyng.
Cibus facillimus ad concoquendum.
Concoquere odia, to ſuffre diſpleaſures or malice, letting them paſſe, or forgetting them.
Quem ſenatorem ciuitas vix concoquere poſſet, eum regem ferret? ſhoulde the citee ſuffer him a kynge, whom they coulde ſcant abyde or away with, whan he was but a ſenatour?
Concordia, æ, ſ. g. concorde or agrement.
Coniunctio & concordia.
Concordia & conſpiratio.
Reconciliatio concordiæ, attone making.
Diſcors concordia, a vnyon of thynges together, hauyng contrary natures and operacions.
Concordia, a citee of Italy, an other of Spayne.
Alſo a goddeſſe of the Romaynes.
Concorditas, atis, idem quod Concordia.
Concórditer, by one aſſent or agreement.
Concórdo, áui, are, to bee at a concorde or agreement.
Concórporo, áui, âre, to make one thyng of dyuers, to myngle.
Concors, órdis, om. g. of one mynde or wyll, agreable, of one aſſent. ſometyme equall.
Moderatus & concors ciuitatis ſtatus, a moderate and quiete ſtate of the citee, whan all ſortes of people agree well together.
Concrantius, a, um, made of hurdels, or ſuche lyke thynges, watled.
Concratum parietes, walles wounde with roddes lyke hyrdelles, as they vſe in the countrey.
Concrédo, didi, ere, to delyuer or commytte a thyng vpon truſt, to truſt one with a thyng.
Concredere vites teneriores ſolo calido, to plant tender vines in an hotte grounde.
Concredere mari nauigia, To take the ſea with ſhyppes: Or to take ſhyppyng, and ſo to ſayle forth on the ſea.
Concredere aliquid taciturnitati alterius, to tell a thyng ſecretely to one, whiche he woulde haue kept cloſe.
Concredere aliquem in cuſtodiam alterius, to committe one to an other mans cuſtody.
Cóncremo, áui, âre, idem quod Cremo, to burne.
Cóncrepo, aui, are, to make a great noyſe, or to creake as a doore doeth, in the openyng.
Concrepant arma, The harnais maketh a ruſhyng or rengling.
Concrepare digitis, to knacke or fillyp with the fyngers.

Concréſco, créui, éſcere, to grow together, to congele, to ware harde together.
Concreſcere & liqueſcere, contrary.
Mare concreſcit glacie, the ſea freeſeth.
Nubes concreſcunt, The cloudes congele or gather thicke together.
Sanguis concreſcit, The bloudde congeleth or wareth thicke.
Concrétio, ônis, ſ. g. a gatherynge together, and warynge harde of many thynges.
Concrétum, ti, n. g. congeled, or conglutinate.
Concretus, a, um, topgned or congeled together, as a thyng that is liquide, to bee made harde, froſen, compact. ſometyme made.
Aër concrétus in nubem cogitur, The ayre beyng congeled, is gathered into a cloude.
Cælum craſſum atq; concretum, and Aër purus & tenuis, oppoſita.
Induratus & concretus glacie, hardened and congeled, froſen.
Corpus concretum ex elementis, a body compact or made of the elementes.
Dolor concretus, an exceedyng penſiuenes, whiche mortifieth and ſtoppeth all wepyng and mournyng.
Concretus, Coniunctus, Conglutinatus.
Concretus & Coalitus, made and nourſhed.
Lac concretum, creame or thycke mylke.
Concreta labes, a ſpotte whiche wyll neuer be waue, or be rubbed out.
Concretus, us, m. g. and Concrétio, ónis, ſ. g. a congelyng or conglutination.
Concriminor, âris, âri, to blame or accuſe one.
Concrucior, âris, âri, to be tourmented.
Concubina, æ, ſ. ge. a woman vſed in the ſtede of ones wyfe.
Concubinátus, us, m. g. hoordom, fornication.
Concubinus, ni, m. g. he that lyeth with one.
Concúbitor, oris, he that meddleth with a woman.
Concúbitus, us, ma. g. the companyng together in the acte of generation.
Concúbium, bij, n. g. the fyrſt ſlepe in the night, or the depeſt of the nyght.
Concubius, a, um, the adiectiue.
Concubia nox, the depeſt of the nyght, or the firſt parte of night before midnight.
Conculcátio, ônis, ſ. g. a treadyng vnder foote.
Concúlco, áui, âre, to treade vnder foote ſometyme to ſuppreſſe or put to extreme vilany.
Concúmbo, ui, ĕre, & concubo, ui, are, to lye together, to accompany together in the acte of generacion.
Concupio, cóncupis, iui, ĕre, & concupiſco, iui, ſcere, to couete or deſyre feruently.
In matrimonium illam deducere concupiuit, he feruently deſyred to mary hir.
Concupiſcéntia, æ, ſ. g. a feruent deſyre or appetite, as well of good thynges as badde.
Concupitus, a, um, deſyred feruently.
Concûro, aui, are, to care for a thyng, to take bede to a thyng.

Concúrro, cúrri, ĕre, to renne with other, to ren together as ſouldiours doo in battaile. ſomtyme to accorde or agree, not to repugne one with an other: Alſo to chance or happen.

Ad arma concurrere, whan the ſouldiours renne to arme theim.

Concurrere interſe, to renne one agaynſt an other.

Frontibus aduerſis concurrere, to renne and buſh together as bulles and rammes doe.

Concurrere alicui obuiam, to ren to mete one.

Tot concurrunt veriſimilia, there come together ſo many thynges lyke to be true.

Multa concurrunt ſimul, quamobrem coniecturam hanc nunc facio, there come many thinges together, why I doo this coniect.

Concurrere in ſententiam aliquam, to agree or aſſente gladly to any ſentence.

Somnia caſu nonnunquàm concurrunt, dremes oftentymes by chance happen and come to paſſe.

Concurritur, they renne together.

Nomina concurrunt, the debtes whiche are owinge me be ſufficiẽt to pay al that I do owe.

Ne aſpere concurrant verba, that the wordes mete not together and ſound unpleaſantly.

Concurrere cum ſumma, to be equall with any ſumme.

Concurſátio, and Concúrſio, ônis, f. ge. a rennyng together, a rennyng to and fro.

Concurſátor, óris, a courrour, one that renneth hither and thyther.

Concúrſo, áui, áre, to renne often together, to renne hither and thither.

Huc illuc concurſare, to renne hyther and thyther.

Omnium domus concurſare, to renne about to euery mans houſe.

Concurſus, us, ma. ge. a rennyng of people together to one place.

Occupationum concurſus, whan many and diuers buſineſſes chance together at one tyme.

Aſper concurſus verborum, a rough or unpleaſant metyng of woordes in oracion.

Concurſus facere, to aſſemble together haſtily.

Concuſſura, æ, f. g. and Concúſsio, ônis, idem quod Concuſſus.

Concúſſus, us, ma. gen. a ſhakyng, mouyng, or troublyng.

Concútio, cóncutis, cuſsi, ĕre, to ſhake, to moue, to brandiſh, to make to tremble.

Concútere mare, to make the ſea troublous or rough.

Concuſſáq; fiſto, ſtantia concutio cantu freta, I trouble and make rough.

Caput concutere, to ſhake the head.

Haſtam concutere, to ſhake a ſpeare.

Meus offa concuut, Feare maketh the bones to tremble.

Rempublicam concutere, to trouble or diſquiete the common weale.

Condálium, lij, n. ge. a maner or facion of rynges, a thimble, ſuch as taylers, or ſhow makers vſe for hurting their fingers.

Condate, the citee of Renes in Britayn.

Condecénter, agreably, very comly, or ſemely.

Condecéntia, æ, f. g. a beſemyng or comlyneſſe.

Cóndecet, imperſonal, it well becometh.

Condecóre, comely, honourably.

Condécoro, áui, áre, to make cleanly or honeſt, to polyſhe. alſo to honour a thyng in makyng it more commendable.

Condemnátio, ônis, f. g. a condemnation.

Condemnátor, óris, one that condemneth ſomtyme an accuſer that cõuinceth one to ber giltie.

Condemnátus, a, um, condemned.

Pecuniæ publicæ condemnatus eſt, He is condemned for waſtyng the common treaſure.

Condémno, áui, áre, to condemne, or to cauſe to be condemned.

Iniuriarum condemnari, to bee condemned for iniuries that one hath dooen.

Me ipſum inertiæ condemno, I condemne my ſelfe of ſleuthfulneſſe.

Sponſionis condemnari, to bee conuicted or condemned in the forfaite of the couenantes.

Condemnabo ego eodem te crimine, I will condemne the, or ſhewe the to be giltie in the ſame faute.

Eius familiares de vi condemnati ſunt, His familiers are condemned or proued to be giltie for vſyng of vnlaufull violence.

Condemnare omnes de conciliy ſententia, to condemne all by the aduyſe or ſentence of the counſayle.

Condemnat accuſator reum, whan he doth cõuince hym, & cauſeth hym to bee condemned.

Condénſo, aui, are, and Condenſeo, ere, to make thycke, or gather together.

Condenſant ſe in vnum locum oues, The ſheepe flocke thycke together in one place.

Se condenſat aër, the ayre wareth thycke.

Condénſus, a, um, thycke, cloſe together.

Condenſa arborum, places where trees growe thycke together, as a foreſt, woodde, or grove.

Condenſa acies, the fronte of the battayle, wherein many men are raunged thycke together.

Condepſo, depſui, dépſere, to myngle.

Condico, xi, cĕre, to appoynte, to ordayne, to promyſe, to requyre or aſke agayne, to denye, to aſſigne by mouthe, to denounce or declare.

Condicere cœnam, vel ad cœnam, to appointe a ſupper or to promiſe to go to ſupper.

Condicere operam, to declare or ſhewe that he wyll take vpon hym that enterpriſe.

Nummos tibi dominus condicere poſſet, The maiſter maye require the monete agayn of you.

Condicere, amonge the lawyers is to ſue an action perſonall, to require that the defendant be condemned and constreigned to delyuer, doo, or perfourme any thyng to hym.

Condictio, ônis, f. ge. an action personall in the lawe, or appoyntment of the action to the third date folowyng.

Condictitius, a, um, the adiective.

Actio condictitia, the action personall in the lawe, whan we require any thinge of our aduersary.

Condictum, ti, neu. g. a promesse, agreement, or appoyntment made amonge many.

Condictus, a, um, appoynted, denounced, declared, promised, accorded.

Condicta cœnula, an appoyntement made to go to supper in some place.

Condigne, worthyly, honestly.

Condignus, a, um, worthy, and accordyng, as it is esteemed.

Condigramma, a towne of Carnania.

Condimentárius, a, um, that pertayneth to sauce or seasonyng.

Condiméntum, ti, n. g. that wherwith thynges be preserued from corruption, or elles made delectable in taste, sauce, seasonyng.

Condimentum amicitiæ suauitas morum & sermonum, The sauce of frendshyppe, or the thyng that maketh frendshyp acceptable and pleasant, is swetenesse of maners, and gentyll wordes.

Condimentis humanitatis mitigare seueritatem, to mitigate seuerite, and make it more pleasaunt with curteys and gentyll behauiour.

Facetiæ omnium sermonum condimenta, wyttie and pleasant sentences make all mens communication delectable.

Cóndio, iui, vel dij, ire, to season meate, to powder or otherwyse order it, to preserue it from corruption. And by a metaphore, to temper wysely, to make more pleasant or acceptable.

Labore & fame condiebant epulas, with laboure and hunger they made their meate pleasaunt.

Condire tristitiam hilaritate, to temper wisely sorowe with mythe, or to mitigate.

Condire mortuos, to embaume dead corses to preserue them.

Asperitas ipsius humanitate conditur, His sharpenesse or seuerite is tempered with gentylnesse.

Condiscipula, æ, f. g. a woman scholar.

Condiscipulátus, us, mas. gen. the felowshyp in schoole.

Condiscipulus, li, m. g. a schole felowe.

Condisco, didici, ĕre, to learne.

Conditáneus, a, um, that whiche is to be preserued, or that mate be saued.

Conditio, ônis, condition, place, fortune, state, maner, wate, or meanes, propertee or nature, election, chopse, couenant, law, an offer or promisse conditionall.

Conditione vti, not to refuse the offer,

Conditionem accepit, he toke the bargayne or promise, or he agreed.

Conditio humana, the condition or state of man.

Frugum conditiones, the propertees and natures of fruites.

Conditio regionis, the nature of the country.

Conditio temporis, the state of the tyme.

Sequi aliquam vitæ conditionem, to folowe any state condition or maner of lyfe.

Aequa conditione causam agere, whan equalitee is betwene the parties that sewe or pleade.

Metri conditio, the qualitee, or facion of the metre or verse.

Iniqua conditione agere, whan one hath more aduauntage than the other.

Melioreconditione est, He is in better state.

Commodiore conditione prædia, fermes that be not verie chargeable.

Immortalium conditionem postulare, to desyre to be equall with the goddes.

Mortali conditione generari, to ber borne mortall.

Ea conditione nati sumus, we be borne in such condition.

Sub ea conditione, vnder that condition.

Conditionem ferre, to geue or offer the condiction.

Accedere ad conditionem, to agree.

Offerre conditionem pacis, to offer meanes of peace.

Ferre conditiones, est victoris, Accipere victi.

Perducere aliquem ad suas conditiones, to bryng a man to suche conditions and offers as he woulde haue him.

Controuersiæ conditio, the state of the controuersie.

Repudiare or respuere æquissimam conditionem, to refuse or forsake a verie iust and reasonable offer.

Stare conditionibus, to abide by the bargayns or couenantes.

Fugere á conditionibus, contrary.

Prouidete, ne duriorem vobis conditionem statuatis, see that ye make no suche agreement, that shall be littel for your aduauntage.

In superiore conditione poni, to haue the more aduauntage.

Conditio, ônis, f. g. sauspng.

Conditio ciborum, a sauspng of meate.

Conditionâlis, le, that pertayneth to the condicion or offer.

Conditionáliter, condicionally.

Conditítius, a, um, that is hydde or laied vp.

Conditítia cibaria, poudred meate, or otherwyse preserued.

Conditiuum, ui, n. g. idem quod conditorium.

Conditiuus, a, um, that whiche mate be poudered or kept.

Conditiuus cibus, poudred meate.

Cón-

Cónditor, ôris, m. g. a maker or builder, a founder or the fyrſt inuenter of a thyng.
Hiſtoriæ conditor, the maker or wryter of an hiſtory.
Conditor Peripateticæ ſectæ Ariſtoteles, Ariſtotle the fyrſte author of the ſecte Peripatetike.
Conditor, ôris, m. g. one that maketh ſauce, or ſeaſoneth meate.
Conditórium, rij, n. g. a ſepulchre, a place wherin ordinaunce for warre is kept.
Conditórius, a, um, that, wherein any thyng is hyde or laied vp.
Conditúra, ræ, f. g. ſauce or pickle made with ſpyces.
Cónditus, a, um, hyd, laied vp, made, builded.
Tumulo conditus, buried in a tumbe.
Enſis vagina conditus, a ſwoorde putte vp in the ſcaberde.
Meſis cóndita, laied vp in a graynier, or barne.
Conditus, us, m. g. idem quod conditio, a ſauſyng or ſeaſonyng.
Conditus, a, um, ſauced, ſeaſoned, tempered, made ſauory, or pleaſaunt, enbaumed.
Condita oratio, woordes or language tempered with honeſt and pleaſaunt thynges.
Bene coctus & conditus ſermo, very circumſpect and pleaſant talke.
Ius male conditum, vnſauory or naughty potage, potage yll ſeaſoned.
Nemo vnquam ſuauitate conditior, no man euer vſed more ſwete, pleaſaunt, or courteyſe maner of ſpeakyng.
Condiuincum, Nauntes in Fraunce.
Condo, cóndidi, ĕre, to laie vp ſaulfe, or hyde, to put in. ſomtyme to make or buylde, to found.
Condere captiuos in cuſtodiam, to putte the pryſoners in ſafegarde, to kepe them in warde.
Condo in crumenam, I put it vp in my purſe.
Seponere & condere.
Arca condere aliquid, to lay vp or hide a thing in ones cheſt.
Condere terra, or humo, to bury.
In carcerem, or carcere condere, to caſte in pryſon.
Condere corpora ſepulchro, or in ſepulchro, to bury dead bodies, or laie them in graue.
Enſem condere in alicuius corpore, to thruſt his ſwoorde into one.
Triticum condere in granaria, to laie vp wheate in graniers.
Sol condit ſe in vndas, the ſon goeth downe.
Iram condere, to kepe cloſe ones anger.
Condere vrbem, ciuitatem, arces, domos, to buylde. &c.
Iura & leges condere, to make lawes.
Nomen memorandum condere, to get great renoume, or an immortall name.
Condere rempublicam, and Occidere, contrary.
Condere carmen, to make a verſe.
Condere bella, to deſcribe or write of warres.
Iuſiurandum condere, to make or inſtitute an othe.
Condere hiſtoriam, to wryte an hiſtory.
Condóceo, cóndoces, cui, ére, to teache.
Condocefácio, cefacis, féci, cére, to make to knowe, to inſtruete or teache.
Condóleo, cóndoles, uí, ére, to be verye ſicke or pyned.
Condôluit caput de vento, the winde hath made my heade ake, or my head aketh with the winde.
Condoleſco, ſcére, to bee ſory, to bee ſicke or pined.
Condonátio, ônis, f. g. a geuyng or forgeuyng.
Condonâtus, a, um, geuen, forgeuen, pardoned.
Condonâtum iudicium alicui dicitur, when the perſon accuſed is either condẽned or quitte, for the fauour of ſome man.
Condóno, áui, áre, to geue, to forgeue a debt or durte, to pardon.
Condonare alicui munuſculum, to geue one a preſent.
Condonare aliquem pecuniam, to forgeue one monie that he oweth. Lykewiſe Condonare pecuniam debitoribus.
Condonare peccatum, to forgeue a treſpas or an offence.
Condonare animaduerſionem & ſupplicii, to remitte or pardon a mannes punyſhement.
Condórmio, íui, íre, to ſleape with other.
Condormíſco, ſcére, to ſleape a lettell, to nap.
Condrille, les, fœ. g. or Condrillum, li, neu. g. wylde cybory.
Condris, dris, fœm. gene. an herbe called falſe dittayn, becauſe it is lyke dittayn, but it hath leſſe leaues.
Condrites, bread made of Zea.
Conducibilis, le, profitable, commodious.
Condûco, xi, ére, to byyng with, to hyre, to bye, to take an houſe or lande. Alſo to gather or aſſemble in one place, to couerte, to take in hand to doo a worke or buſineſſe for hyre or wages. And in the thyrde perſon, it is to profitte.
Conducit, it is profitable.
Conduci non poſſum, I can not be brought to beleue: No man can make me beleue it.
Exercitus in vnum conducere, to bryng the armies together into one place.
Nimium magno conducere, to hyre or bye at to hygh a price.
Aliquem ad cædem faciendam conducere, to hyre one to committe a murder.
Fundum de aliquo conducere, to hyre a grounde of one.
Conducere mercede, to hyre for wages.
Ea maxime conducunt, quæ ſunt rectiſſima, Thoſe thynges are moſte profitable, whiche are moſt honeſt.
Conducit hoc tuæ laudi, This maketh muche for your prayſe.

Conducere nauem, hortum, domum, locum, &c. to hyre. &c.
Condúctio, ônis, f. g. a hyrynge.
Conductitius, a, um, that whiche maie be hyred or taken, or is vsed to be hyred.
Conductitiæ operæ, hyred labours.
Condúctor, ôris, ma. ge. he that hyreth a thyng. sometyme he that is hyred.
Condúctum, ti, n. g. a thing hyred.
Conducti in vnum locum, gathered togethe into one place
Habere aliquid conducti, to hyre a thyng.
Condúctus, a, um, gathered, assembled togethe, hyred.
Cóndulus, li, m. g. idem quod Condalium.
Conduplicátio, ônis, f g. a doublyng.
Condúplico, aui, are, to double a thyng.
Conduplicâre beneficium, to double a benefite.
Tenebræ conduplicantur, it waxed twyse so darke.
Condurdon, an herbe that beareth a red floure, and flourisheth in August: beyng hanged about the neck, it helpeth the disease called Struma.
Condus di, ma. g. a kuarde of housholde, or he that keepeth the store of housholde.
Condylôma, ătis, neu. g a swellyng of the tuell or foundement, proceedyng of an inflamation.
Cóndylus, i, m. g of Festus Pomp is expounded a ryng, or a thimble, suche as taylers, or other do vse. Some other do declare it to be the roundnesse of the bones in the knee, the ancle, the elbow, the knuckles of the fingers.
Confábulo, aui, are, to tell tales, to common or talke together.
Confárcio, looke Confercio.
Confarreátio, ônis, fœ. ge. a mariage betwene a man and a woman, whiche was doen with certayne solemnitees in the presence of the bysshop.
Confarreâtus, a, um, so maried.
Confárreo, aui, are, to wedde solemnely after that facion.
Confatâlis, le, that hath the same destenie.
Confécta, thynges dispatched and concluded by reason
Conféctio, ônis, f. g. an atchruyng or bringyng of a thyng to passe, a chewing, a digesting.
Confectio tributi, the impositon of a tribute.
Annalium confectio, the writyng or making of an history.
Belli confectio, the dispatchynge or atchiesuyng of warre.
Escarum confectio, the chawyng of meate.
Conféctor, ôris, ma g. he that dispatcheth, atcheueth, consumeth, or wasteth.
Negotiorum confector, he that atcheueth matters.
Confectûra, æ, f. ge. a makyng, doyng, or myngling of a thyng.
Confectus, a, um, hylled, slayne, vndoen, greued, sore broken, perfected, atcheued, brought to an ende or conclusion, chewed, digested.
Confectus ætate, æuo, senecta, senectute, senio, verie aged, at the pittes brinke.
Bellum confectum, warre finished and brought to an ende.
Confectus angore, cura, dolore, labore, cruciatu, morbo, slayne or sore broken with anguyshe, care, sorowe. &c.
Corpus senectute confectum, ac pene dilapsum, A bodye sore broken, and almoste cleane worne or done for age, or beyng at the last cast.
Confectus vulneribus, he that hath many sore woundes.
Confectus cæde, slayn, murdered.
Confectus & trucidatus.
Cibo confectus, hylde with eatyng.
Cibus confectus, meate digested.
Ciuitas ab aliquo confecta, destroied.
Forma confecta macie, when leannesse doeth disfigure ones face or fauour.
Confércio, fersi, cire, to stuffe or porre.
Cónfero, tŭli, férre, to beare, to carry, to put or laie together, to prophyte, to sette forth, to prepare, to deuise, to talke together, to geue, to compare or conferre, to chaunge, to employe, or bestowe, to bryng, to go, to deferre, to put in, to laie to or ioigne.
Ne posterius in me culpam conferas, Put not at the last the faute in me.
Consilia conferunt, They keepe their counsell together: Or, they laie their wittes together: or deuyse among theim selues.
Nouissima conferam primis, I will laie to or ioygne the last to the fyrst.
Sitq; vtriq; proximum horreum, quo conferatur rusticum instrumentum, To both nere there must be a barne, wherein maie be laied vp together instrumentes belonging to husbandry.
Multa contuli in Catonem, I haue geuen or attributed muche to Cato, I haue muche fauoured Cato.
Contuli me domum, I went home.
Contuli me ad Catonem, I went to Cato.
Confero me ad campum, vel in campum, I goe into the fielde.
Conferre amorem, to loue, to sette or fastones loue.
Conferre animum alio, to sette his mynde elswhere.
Conferre capita, to assemble for counsayle, to laie their heades together.
Confer gradum, come foorth, come hether to me.
Conferre in pauca, to conclude shortly, to utter in few wordes.
Conferre manus, to assayle eche other, to fight
Conferre pedem, to come to the poynt, properly in contention, where the parties doe ioygne. also to approche or come nere.
Conferre se in pedes, to renne awaie, to take his Conferre ſtudium, to employ his ſtudy.

Conferre tempus in aleam, to ſpende the tyme in playng at the dyce.
Conferre verba ad rem, to doo as he ſaieth.
Si verba ad rem conferantur, if he doo as he ſaieth.
Confert, it is profitable.
Nos conferemus noſtro ſumptu, non tuo, we wyll geue it or beſtowe it of our owne coſte, and not of yours.
Quæ dij immortales ad Cn. Pompeium contulerunt, whiche the immortall goddis haue geuen to Cn. Pompeius.
Quem nymphæ Pellicis ira contulit in ſaxum, id eſt mutauit.
Falſo conferre aliquid in aliquem, to laye a thyng to a mans charge falſely.
Beneuolentiam in aliquem conferre, to ſhewe great liberalitie or gentylneſſe to one, to dooe many pleaſures for hym.
Caſtra caſtris conferre, to pytche or campe ouer right agaynſt an other.
Conferre cauſam or culpam in aliquem, to lay the faute or blame in one.
Omnes meas curas cogitationeſque in rem publicam conferebam, I employed all my cares and imaginations vpon the common weale.
Mores duorum conferre, to compare the maners of two perſons together.
In carmen conferre to make a thyng in verſes.
In commune conferre to laye together a porcion for the common profyte.
Conferre & fabulari, to deuiſe and talke together
Cauſam conferre in tempus, to excuſe ones ſelfe by the tyme.
Dona alicui conferre, to geue gyftes to one.
In tempus ambulationis cogitationes conferre, to remyte or deferre his earneſte cogitacions tyll the tyme he go a walkyng.
Verba in pauca conferam, quid te velim, I will tell you briefly or in fewe wordes, what I woulde with you.
Coram inter nos conferemus, we wylle deuyſe and common of theſe matters, whan we meete together.
Contuli me, I take my iourneye, or I wente.
Ingentum ad rem aliquam cõferre, to geue ones mynde to a thyng.
Maledicta in aliquem conferre, to raple or geue one ſhrewde woordes.
Conferre officia in aliquem, to doo frendely pleaſures for a man.
Omnem operam in aliquid conferre, to employe or beſtowe all ones labour on a thyng.
Omnem ad ſeruitutem ſuam cõtulit, he tourned his communicacion from other thynges, and ſpake of his bondage.
Pecuniam in opus conferre, to beſtowe or laie out money vpon ſome worke.
Peſtem hominibus hæc conferunt, Theſe thinges engendre and bryng peſtilence amonge men.

Conferre rationes, to caſt accompt, or make a reckenyng.
Conferre ſermonem cum aliquo, or inter ſe, to talke.
Conferre ſigna, to ioigne battaile, and by a metaphore, to contende or ſtryue.
Conferre omnia ſua ſtudia in aliquem, to do all the pleaſures that one can for a man.
Conferre ſuſpitionem in aliquem, to ſuſpecte one.
Aliquod ſtipendium noſtro ſtudio contulerunt, They gaue certayne money to the furthes raunce of our ſtudy.
Conferre tributum, to paie tribute.
Conferre vires in vnum, to aſſemble theis powers together.
Conferre ſe totum ad amicitiam alicuius, to geue hym ſelfe holly to any mans frendſhip.
Conferre ſe in fidem & clientelam alicuius, to put or committe ones ſelfe into the handes or tuition of any man.
Conferre ſe in ſocietatem, to aſſociate, to make hym ſelfe a companyon.
Conferre aliquem alteri, or cum altero, to compare one with an other.
Conferrúmino, áui, âre, idem quod Ferrumino.
Confértim, in a buſſhement together.
Confértus, a, um, full. alſo in a floche or multitude, in a buſſhement.
Vt nunquam conferti, ſed rari magnisq; interuallis præliarentur, That they myght fight, not a multitude together, but a fewe at ones, and a great diſtance a ſunder.
Turba conferta iter clauſit, The people gathered togither in a buſſhement, ſtopped the waye.
Qua parte hoſtium acies confertiſsima viſa eſt, erupit, He brake out on that ſide, where the hoſte of the ennemies ſeemed to bee moſte thycke of people.
Confertiſsima turba, In the thickeſt preaſe.
Conferta vita voluptatum omnium varietate, Ipſe replenyſhed with all kyndes of pleaſure.
Conférua, æ, f. ge. an herbe, whiche groweth in freſſhe waters, lyke to a ſpounge.
Conferueo, bui, ére, to be hotte.
Conferuéſco, ſcere, to ware hotte.
Confeſsio, ônis, f. g. a confeſſyng or acknowlagyng of a thyng
Sit erranti medicina confeſsio, let the aknowlagyng of the faute be a medicine for hym that hath dooen amiſſe.
Confeſsione illius rei, by the confeſſion and reporte of men of that tyme.
Vrgetur ſua confeſsione, his owne confeſſion is layde harde to his charge.
Ad ignorationis confeſsionem aliquem adducere, to bryng one to acknowlage his ignorannce.
Confeſſor, ôris, ma. ge. he that confeſſeth or acknowlageth.

Confessus, a, um, that confesseth or acknowlageth also clere, manifest, without doubt, certen.
Confessa res, a manyfest thyng, out of all controuersie.
Reus confessus, he that acknowlageth hym selfe giltie.
Quæ ex confesso sunt turpia, whiche be manifestly knowen, or whiche euery man graunteth to be vnhoneſt.
In confesso est, No man denyeth it, euery man graunteth it.
Manus confessas alicui tendere, to lifte vp ones handes, and confesse him self vanquished.
In confessum venire res dicitur, whan euery man graunteth it to be so.
Confestim, extoones, forthwith, incontinent, by and by.
Sine vlla mora & confestim.
Confibula, æ, fœm. gen. a clasp or tache. also a woodden pynne, or thing made to clenche two peces together.
Conficio, cónficis, féci, ĕre, to perfourme, fynisshe or make an ende of, to dispatche, to perysshe or be consumed, to destroie or slea, to greue vere or torment, to explicate or declare, to bringe to passe, to gether money, to bye ake, to consume or waste, to make, to chaw meate also to digest.
Honestatis pars confecta est, quam tibi cupio esse notissimam, the parte of honestie is declared, which I woulde shoulde bee vnto the perfectely knowen.
Si me amas, confice, If thou louest me, bring it to passe.
Per magnam dices ex illa re pecuniam confici posse, Thou wylt saye, that a great summe of money myghte bee made of that thynge.
Conficere, to breake.
Nucem dentibus conficere, to breake a nut with the teethe. also to consume or waste.
Qui cum hic non videant me, credant me conficere argentum suum, who because they see me not here, beleue I waste their monete.
Also Confici, to be made.
Quomodo potest ex multorum deorum aceruo vnus deus confici? By what meanes maye there bee of an heape of goddes one god made?
Conficere pensum, to spynne out hir threde, or dooe hir taske It is translated into this sentence: To haue dooen or brought to an ende that thyng, whiche he was appoynted or commaunded.
Conficere prandium, to haue dyned.
Pallium ad Phrigionem ferr confecto prandio, when dyner was doen, or whan he had dyned, he carried hir mantell to the bronderer.
Conficere solicitudines alicui, to bringe one into heauynesse, or to make hym sorowfull.
Confeci, quæ iussisti omnia, I haue doen or dispatched all that ye badde me.
Sica hominem confecit, He murthered the man with a dagger.
Confici curis, dolore, angore, mœrore, infirmitatibus, To bee greeued, vexed, or sore broken with care, sorow. &c.
Conficere ambulationem, to walke.
Absolutionem conficere, to dispatche or quitte.
Prope centum annos confecit, He hath lyued well nere an hundred yeres.
Conficere bellum, to atchieue or fynisshe a warre. sometyme to fight.
Cibos conficere, to concoct or digest meate. sometyme to chawe.
Cursum annuum sol conficit, The sunne goeth a certayne course yerely.
Conficere cum aliquo de re aliqua, to conclude or falle at agreement with one concernynge a mattier.
Diem conficere, to spende the daie.
Conficere diem extremum, to ende ones lyfe, to dye.
Facinus conficere, to committe some naughtie dede.
Conficere exercitum, to gather an army.
Iter conficere, to dispatche or go a iourney.
Librum conficere, to write or make a boke.
Mandata conficere, to fulfyll or accomplisshe ones commaundementes.
Malum alicui conficere, to woorke one mysches or displeasure.
Conficere munus susceptum, to atchieue or accomplysshe that one hath taken in hande.
Negotium conficere, to dispatche a busines.
Nuptias conficere, to make a mariage.
Vetustas omnia conficit, continuaunce of tyme consumeth or weareth out all thynges.
Patrimonium conficere, to waste or spende ones heritage.
Pacem conficere, to pacifye or quyete a countrey.
Peculium grande confeci, I gate or gathered together a great rychesse or substance of money and cattell.
Mille passuum conficere, to walke the space of a myle.
Vario sermone sex stadia confecimus, we went talkyng of dyuers mattiers, the space of .vi. furlonges.
Rationes conficere, to caste accompte, to make a rchenyng.
Reditum conficere alicui, to geat one licence to retourne.
Rem conficere, to dispatche a matter. also to consume ones substance.
Sacra conficere, to doo diuine seruice.
Sermone confecto, whan he hadde tolde his tale.
Tabulas conficere, to make rolles regesters or rechanyng bookes.
Confictio, ónis, a fainyng.
Confictus a, um, diuised, feigned, counterfaited, ymagined.

Con-

Confidens, entis, om. ge. he that regardeth no lawes, nor feareth any thyng, ſtubburn, ſtiffe necked, foole hardy, raſhe, paſt all ſhame. ſometyme taken in good parte, it ſignifieth conſtaunt, aſſured.

Confidenter, conſtantely, aſſuredly. ſometyme hardily, boldely, aduenturouſly, ſtubburnly.

Confidenter reſtare in re aliqua, to abyde ſtikely or ſtuburnely in a matter.

Confidenter colloqui, to talke boldly without feare.

Confidentia, æ, f. ge. truſte, hope, certayne aſſurance, conſtancie, boldneſſe. alſo madde hardyneſſe, vnſhamefaſtneſſe.

Improbitas & confidentia.

Temeritas, & confidentia.

Confidentiloquus, he that ſpeaketh boldely without feare.

Confido, di, vel fiſus ſum, ĕre, to truſt, to be ſure, to dare, to haue a ſure confidence.

Confidere & metuere, contrary.

Animo confidere, to haue a good hert.

Timidè confidere alicui, to be halfe afrayde to truſte one.

Cauſe confidit, he truſteth on his matter, that it will not deceyue hym.

Corporis firmitate confidere, cum ablatiuo, to truſt in the ſtrength of the bodie.

In nullo illorum ſibi confidebat, he put is truſt in none of them.

De vrbis ſalute confidunt, They haue good hope of the ſauegarde of the citee.

Configo, fixi, ĕre, to ſtycke or thruſte in to a thynge.

Sagittis configere, to ſhoote through with arrowes.

✠ Cornicum oculos configere, a prouerbe ſygnifyng to deface, condemne, or ſodooe with a newe inuencion, that whiche the antiquite hath of longe tyme approued: or to go about to blynde them that are veraie wyſe and circumſpecte.

Configere omnes curas in reipublicæ ſalute, to put his whole care to mayntayne and preſerue the common weale.

Confingŭro, ui, ĕre, to faction or fourme, to make lyke.

Confingo, finxi, ere, to feigne a thynge to bee true, to fourme or make, to comment, to inuent or ymagine.

Confingere dolum, to fynde a meane to deceyue one, to deuiſe a crafte to deceiue one.

Hyrundines eadem materia nidos confingunt. Swalowes make their neſtes of the ſame matter.

Apes fauos confingunt, Bees make the honycombes.

Confingere & comminiſci.

Crimen in aliquem confingere, to inuent or imagine a falſe accuſation againſt one.

Confinis, ne, next to, or adioynyng, boundyng to. ſometyme almoſte lyke, of the ſame ſorte.

Confinis ager, a fielde adioynyng, or bounding to an other.

Confinis mens, my neyghbour, whoſe ground lieth next to mine.

Confine, is, neu. ge. a thyng or place adioynyng to an other.

Ei confine eſt, It is almoſte lyke to that, or of the ſame ſorte.

Confinium, nij, n. ge. a border or a marches of a countrete or lande.

Confinia, nium, plu. tertiæ declin. idem.

Vicinitas & confinia.

Confio, fis, fieri, to bee made.

Stercus quod ex pecoribus conſit, dounge that is made of beaſtes, beaſtes doung.

Conſit, it is made together.

Confirmátio, onis, fœ. g. a confirmacion or aſſuraunce.

Confirmátor, oris, ma. ge. he that affirmeth or aſſureth.

Confirmátus, a, um, confirmed, made ſtronge, fortified, ſtrengthned.

Confirmata valetudo à morbo, helth wel recouered after ſickneſſe.

Confirmata ætas, perfite age, when one is become a man.

Confirmitas, atis, fœ. g. aſſuredneſſe.

Confirmo, aui, are, to confirme or aſſure a thing to be as it is ſpoken: to ſtrengthen, to fortifie, to make ſure: to encourage: to make more conſtant and hardy.

Confirmare animum, to take courage.

Confirmare ſe, to make hym ſelfe ſtrong after ſickeneſſe, to geat his ſtrengthe agayne. alſo to take a good hert or courage, and not to feare. ſometyme to pauſe and refreſhe ones ſelfe after werynеſſe.

Cum te confirmaris, ad nos venias, whan ye haue recouered your ſtrength, come to vs.

Confirmare ſe ad omnia, to ſettle ones mynd to abyde all maner of chaunces.

Milites conſolatur & confirmat, he comforteth the ſouldiours, and maketh them more conſtant and bolde.

Confirmare amicitiam cum aliquo, to confirme amitee and frendſhyp with one, and make it more ſure.

Confirmare & Comprobare,

Confirmare, & infirmare, refellere, refutare, contrary.

Difficile eſt hoc de omnibus confirmare, It is harde to affirme this to be true of all without exception.

Confirmare poſſum, I can aſſure you.

Confiſcátus, a, um, confiſcate, taken as forfayte.

Confiſco, aui, are, to ſeyſe a thyng for a forfayture to the common weale, or to the prince.

Confiſcare hæreditates, to ſeyſe mens heritages as forfayte.

Confiſcare homines, to take mens bodies and goodes to the princis pleasure.

Confisio, ônis, f. g. an hopping or trusting.
Confisus, a, um, trusting, hopping, hauing a sure confidence.
Confiteor, fessus sum, ēri, to confesse, to acknowlage.
Questione adhibita confiteri, By examinacion and tourmentes to confesse.
Motum animi sui lachrymis confitetur, with teares he vttereth the troublouse motion of his mynde.
De re confitetur, the thing it selfe he confesseth.
Vt de me confitear, That I maie confesse or tell you for myne owne part.
Confixus, a, um, pricked, thrust through, sticked. Telo confixus, thrust in with a weapon.
Confixus, us, m. g. a stickyng or thrustyng in.
Conflages, gium, f. g. places, whervnto many wyndes doe blow.
Conflagito, aui, are, to desyre importunately.
Conflagrâtus, a, um, bourned, consumed with fyre.
Conflagro, âui, âre, to bee on fyre, to bee inflamed, to bourne.
Conflagrare amoris flamma, to bourne in loue.
Conflagrare inuidia, and Conflagrare incendio inuidiæ, to be extremely hated.
Conflâtile, flâtilis, n. g. that whiche is apt to be wrought or cast like mettall.
Conflâtio, ônis, f. g. and Conflatûra, æ, a melting of mettall.
Conflâtus, a, um, blowen, compact, made, procured.
Conflatus ex duabus naturis, compact and made of two natures
Conflati testes, forged wytnesses.
Conflecto, xi, ere, to bende or bowe.
Conflexus, a, um bowed or bended.
Conflictâtio, ônis, f. g. a beatyng or dashyng of one thynge against an other.
Conflictâtus, a, um, greued, vexed, sore troubled
Conflictâtus graui morbo, tourmented or vexed with a greuouse sykenesse.
Tempestatibus conflictatus, sore troubled and beaten with tempestes.
Conflicto, âui, âre, to fyght, to vexe, or trouble. also Conflictor, atus sum, ari, com. to fyght, to vexe, to trouble or greeue, or to bee vexed, troubled, or greeued.
Rempublicam conflictare, to vexe or trouble the common weale.
Multis incommodis conflictantur, they be vexed and troubled with many incommodities.
Iudicius turpibus conflictari, to contend in vnhoneste iudgementes.
Conflictari cum aliquo malo, to fight or striue earnestly against an yuell chaunce or mysfortune, and to endeuour to beare it out.
Conflictari iniqua valetudine, doloribus, molestiis, to be greeued or vexed with sickenes. &c.
Nouissima valetudine conflictari, to lie sycke in his death bedde.
Qui cum ingeniis conflictatur huiusmodi, he that hepeth companie, or hath to doe with men of suche disposition.
Conflictari graui annona, to bee sore greued with scarcitee and dearth of victaple.
Siti conflictari, to be sore a thyrst.
Conflictio, ônis, f. g. idem quod Conflictus & Conflictatio.
Conflictio causarum, the replication in controuersies, where the one affirmeth, and the other denieth.
Conflictus, tus, idem quod Collisio.
Confligium, ii, n. g. the dashyng together of the waues of water.
Confligo, fixi, ĕre, to fyght, as men doe in battayle, and by a metaphore, to contend or striue, to be contrary one to an other, to repugne.
Confligere manu cum hoste, to fight hande to hande with ones enemy.
Venti confligunt, the wyndes blowe contrary one agaynst an other.
Confligunt leges & Collidunt, lyke Collido.
Causæ inter se confligunt, the controuerties agree not one with an other.
Confligitur magna ira, They fyght together with great wrathe.
Conflo, aui, are, to blow together, to blow lyke as one bloweth fyre, to melt mettal, to forge or make, to procure or get. also to gather.
Statuas argenteas conflauit omnes, he melted all the ymages of syluer: Likewyse Vasa aurea conflare.
Bellum conflare, to rayse warre.
Conflare exercitum, to gather an army.
Magna familiaritas conflata est, great familiaritee was procured and gotten.
Quibus ex rebus conflatur & efficitur, id quod quærimus honestum, Of which thynges that honestie, whiche we desyre to know, is compact and made.
Conflauit ex his omnibus populum, Of all these he gathered a great multitude.
Et curuæ rigidum falces conflantur in ensem, And the croked sythe is made into a hande swerd. Conflare inuidiam, inimicitias, odium, to stere or procure enuy, hostilitee, hatred.
Conflare mendatium, to ymagine a lie.
Conflata pecunia, money copned.
Conflauit æs alienum, he is runne in debt.
Malum ab aliquo conflatum & perfectum, an yuell or mischieke brought to passe by one.
Manum improborum conflare, To gather together a route of naughty felowes.
Conflare negotium alicui, to bryng one into businesse and trouble.
Conflare pecuniam, to gather money.
Conflare accusationem, to forge.
Periculum conflare, to bryngе one in daunger.
Seditionē conflare, to reise or moue a sedicion.

Cons

Cónfluens, éntis, m. g. where two ryuers doe meete together.

Confluges, gium, f. g. places, into the whiche many ryuers doe flow.

Cónfluo, fluxi, ĕre, to come or ren together, to flow, to assemble together out of dyuers places.

Confluebat ad eum magnus numerus, a great numbre came about him.

Confluctuari, the impersonall.

Confluere ad aliqua studia, when many men with great desyre geue theim selfe to any studie.

Ad nos pleræq; causæ confluunt, most causes be brought to vs, or most men bryng theyr causes to vs to be pleded.

Sentina confluit aliquo, the synke renneth to any place.

Confluuium, & confluxus, a meetyng together of many streames.

Cónfluus, a, um, that whiche floweth together

Confódio, confodis, fodi, ĕre, to dig the earth, to perce or thrust through.

Confodere aliquem vulneribus, to geue one many woundes, or wound one in many places.

Confódere & lacerare, to speake with vehement and sore wordes agaynst one.

Confodere hortum, to dygge a gardeyne.

Confœdusti, olde wryters vsed for them, whiche were sygned in league, confederates.

Confœtus, a, um, whiche was brought to fasrikue with all his pygges.

Cónfore, to be brought to passe hereafter.

Et spero confore, and I hope it wil be brought to passe.

Conforio, ĩui, ire, to defyle with dyrt, to besqurt one.

Conformátio, ônis, f. g. the facture, frampng, disposion or facionyng of a thyng.

Conformatio & figura totius corporis, the feature and fation of the bodye: or the proporsion and fygure of the body.

Vocis conformatio, the facionyng and tunyng of the voyce.

Sententiarum conformatio, the apt frampng of sentences.

Conformátus, a, um, fourmed, facioned, made lyke.

Conformis, me, of a conformitee, or lyke in fasion, conuenient.

Conformo, aui, are, to bryng to a fation or figure, to make apt or lyke to a thyng, to frame.

Genuit & conformauit nos natura ad maiora, Nature hath brought forth and facioned vs to greater thynges.

Conformare se ad alicuius voluntatem, To fation hym selfe after an other mans wyll and pleasure.

Filios conformare, to beget or bryng vp children in good maners.

Orationem conformare, to fation ones style or fourme of wrytyng.

Mores conformare, to fation ones maners.

Confornico, áui, áre, to make lyke a roofe, arche, or vault.

Confórto, áui, áre, to comfort.

Confóssus, a, um, dygged, wounded.

Confóueo, cónfoues, fóui, ére to nourysshe together.

Confráctus, a, um, broken.

Confracta illis nauis est, they had a shypwracke.

Confragósus, a, um, rough as a grounde, which is not playne, yll to goe in, also harde to be vnderstande, rude in language.

Versus confragosi, verses rough and vnpleasaunt.

Confragosa loca, rough places full of stones.

Cónfragus, a, um, idem quod confragósus.

Cónfremo, mui, ere, idem quod fremo.

Cónfrico, ui, áre, to rubbe harde.

Confringo, frégi, ĕre, to breake or bruise.

Confringere rem, to spend or consume awaie all his substance.

Confringere tesseram, to be out of fauour, or no more welcome to one.

Ne dens sub forfice confringatur, That the toothe be not broken with the pynsons.

Consilia confringere, to breake vp or dissolue counsayles by power or vnlefull meanes.

Iura confringere, to breake and violate lawes.

Confúgio, cónfugis, fugi, ĕre, to flee, to renne for succour.

Confúgere ad aliquid, to resort to any thyng for succour or for excuse.

Quid te futurum? quo fugies? what shall bee doen of the? whether wilt thou flee?

Confugere in naues, to flee to the shyppes.

Supplicem confugere ad aliquem, to come humbly to one for succour.

Ad vota precesq; confugere, when all hope is paste, to fall to entrete and prayer.

In misericordiam alicuius confugere, to flee or appeale to ones mercie.

Ney tu eo nunc confugies, Neyther shall pe make pour excuse by this: or pou shall not lake this for pour excuse.

Cónfugit ad opem medicam, he resorteth to physike for ayde and helpe.

Confúgium, gij, neu. gen. a place of refuge or succour.

Confúlcio, fúlsi, fulcire, to staie, vndersette, or proppe vp.

Confúlgeo, fúlsi, gẽre, to shyne bryght.

Totæ ædes confulgebant tuæ, All pour house dyd shyne.

Confúltus, a, um, staied, vndersette or propped vp.

Confúndo, fúdi, ĕre, to confounde, to meddle together, to trouble, to disturbe. also to myxt out of order, to disorder.

Confundere aliquem dolore, to trouble.

Confundere in vnum corpus, to bryng confusely into one company.

Fœdus confundere, to disturbe the makyng of a league

a league.
Sermones in vnum confundere, to speake confusely all at ones.
Vera cum falsis confundere, to mynge true thynges with falsse.
Iter confundere, to trouble and let a iourney.
Lachrymas confundere lachrymis, to wepe one in an others bosome.
Confundi, to be abashed or ashamed, to be dismaied.
Confuse, & Confusim, confusely, without order.
Confusè & permistè, cui contrarium Describitur & Electè.
Confúsio, ônis, f. g. a confusion or disorder also a trouble of mynde, a dismaynge.
Confúsus, a, um, confounded, disordred, troubled, dismaide, abashed. astonied.
Confusus animo, troubled, dismaied.
Pudore confusus, sore abashed.
Castra confusa tumultu, the campe troubled with tumult and ruffelyng.
Olympus confusus, cloudy wether.
Permixtum & confusum.
Confusa oratio, a confuse oration, without good order or disposition.
Confusa rubore rosa, a speckled rose.
Confusum os, a face halfe redde, halfe pale.
Prolem confusam vtero capere, to conceiue of many men.
Confutátio, ônis, fœ. g. a confutacion, a dissoluyng of contrary argumentes, a disproouyng of that whiche is spoken.
Confúto, áui, áre, to confute, to reproue or vanquisshe by woordes. also to stere.
His dictis confutábitur, here he shall be tolde his owne.
Congedus, a riuer in Spayn, nere to the towne called Bilbilis.
Congelátio, ônis. f. g. freesyng.
Congelatur, it is frosen or congeled.
Congélidus, a, um, lukewarme.
Cóngelo, cóngelas, áui, áre, to congele or waxe thycke.
Congelâuit otio, He is as it were frosen for idelnesse.
In lapidem congelare, to harden in to the nature of a stone.
Congeminátio, ônis, f. g. a doublyng.
Congémino, aui, are, to double.
Crebros ensibus ictus congeminant, They laie on with theyr swerdes thicke & thyck folde.
Congeminare vocem, to crie often.
Cóngemo, cóngemis, gémui, ĕre, to waple, lament, or weepe with other for a thing.
Cóngener, ĕris, om. g. of one stocke or kynred
Congéniero, aui, are, to begette, to associate or adde to.
Congénitus, a, um, begotten, ingendred.
Congémulo, aui, are, to kneele, to bowe the knees.
Conger, idem quod Congrus.
Congéries, geriêi, f. ge. an heape or layeng together of diuers thynges.
Congerminásco, scĕre, to budde together.
Congérmino, áui, áre, to growe iopnctly together, to be associate or coupled together.
Cóngero, éssi, ĕre, to gather together, or heape vp, to heape or carp together.
Congérere causam in aliquem, to laye the faute, or caste the blame on one. Likewyse Crimen in aliquem congerere.
Oscula congerere, to kisse one oftentymes.
Maledicta in aliquem congerere, to raile or scolde at one, to geue one shrewde woordes.
In quem cum dii atq; homines omnia ornamenta congesserint, tum ut ipse plurima & maxima, To whome as bothe god and men haue plentuously geuen all maner of goodly ornamentes: so you also especially very many and excellent.
Congérro, ônis, ma. ge. a merry companyon, he that keepeth companye onely in pastyme and merry deuysyng.
Congestítius, a, um, that is cast vp in an heape.
Congestítius locus, a place whither the fish of a cetee is carped, a lapestall: also a place where as is no firme land, but holow ground.
Congéstus, us, ma. ge. an heappng or gatheryng together.
Congéstus, a, um, made in an heape, caried or heaped together.
Congialis, le, that conteineth the measure congius.
Congiárium, rĭ, n. g. an almesse, or other liberall gyfte geuen by the prince or great man, to the people, be it in monee corne or victuales. sometyme geuen to a peculiar persone.
Multitudinem imperitam congiariis lenire, with liberall gefres to mitigate and pease the ignorant and rude people.
Cóngius, ĭ, mas. ge. a measure, conteynyng vi. Sextarios, and receiueth in weight of oyle x. li. of wyne. x. li. of honye. xv li. And is of our measure a pottle and one pinte.
✠ Congius, after Budæi, the eight parte of Amphora, and conteineth fiue Sextarios, euery Sextarius being 24. ounces, that is a wine pint and an half, so that Congius is of our measure a galon and a pint. If you take Sextarii, as physitions doe, to be but. 16. ounces, or. 20. ounces: then is it but a pottle, a quarte, half a pint, and iii. ounces, or otherwise according to the rate. It is vsed for a galon of our measure.
Congiárius, a, um, and Congialis, le, that holdeth vi. Sextarios.
Conglaciâtus, a, um, frosen.
Conglácio, áui, áre, to freese, or let to freese.
Conglaciat Tribunatus Curioni, Curio letteth the office of Tribune to freese, as who saieth, he dooeth nothyng in the office woorthie of remembraunce.
Congiobátim, in a rounde fourme, like to a beetome of thynges.

Con-

C ANTE O.

Conglobátio, ônis, a gatherynge together in a rounde heape.

Conglobátus, a, um, gathered or made rounde together.

Sanguis conglobatus, bloude cloutered togeather.

Conglobo, áui, áre, to bringe or come round together, to gather together in plumpes.

Conglomero, áui, áre, to wynde vp in a bottome. also to lade in an heape.

Vt fortuna omnia in me conglómerat mala, Howe fortune heapeth all euels vpon me.

Conglutinátio, ônis, fœm. gene. a ioynynge or glewynge together.

Conglutino, áui, áre, to ioynge together as it were glewed.

Conglutinare & dissoluere, contrary.

Si voluntas amicitiam conglutinaret, eadem commutata dissolueret: If profitte shoulde knitte and ioigne frendshyp, the same beynge chaunged, would dissolue it agayne.

Conglutinantur consuetudine voluntates, The appetites or myndes of men, by long familiarite, are ioigned or knitte together.

Vulnus conglutinant folia vitium, vyne leaues close the wounde.

Congræco, the actiue, or Congræcor, ari, to eate and drinke excedyngly, after the common worde, to make good chere.

Congratulátio, ônis, fœm. ge. a reioysynge with an other man, for his good fortune, congratulation.

Congrátulor, âtus sum, ari, to reioyce with an other man of his good fortune, to declare in wordes the ioye that wee haue for an other mãs prosperite, to congratulate.

Congrédior, essus sum, edi, to go with an other, to fyght or dispute, to go in hande to talke with one.

Congredere actutum, go to hym quickly.

Si ipse coram congredi poteris, yf you your selfe can come to speake with hym.

Congredi aliquem, to enter communication with one, to go to talke with hym.

Congredi cum hoste, to cope with ones enemie, to fyght, to ioygne battaple.

Congredi alicui quotidiana consuetudine, to haue accesse to one daiely, to bee with one euery daie.

Congregábilis, le, that lightly assembleth together.

Congregátio, ônis, fœm. ge. a congregacion or assemblee.

Congregátus, a, um, gathered or assembled together.

Congrego, áui, áre, to gather or assemble together.

Libenter se cum æqualibus cóngregant homines, men lyke company gladly with their equalles.

Congregare se ad alterum, to associate hym selfe to an other.

Quicum te aut voluntas congregasset, aut fortuna coniunxisset, with whom either your owne will had associate you, or fortune coupled you.

Congréssus, us, masc. gen. a battaple also company with other, a meetyng or resortynge of men together.

Congressio, idem.

In congressum & colloquium alicuius venire, to come to one to haue communication with hym.

Congressus quotidianus, daylie meting.

In congressum nostrum reseruabo, I wylle kepe it tyll we mete.

Multi in eo congressu perierunt, Many were slayne at that reincountre or conflict.

Congrex, of the same flocke.

Congros, a kaut in an olyue tree.

Cóngruens, éntis, om. gene. accordyng, apte, agreable.

Congruénter, aptly, fitly.

Cóngruéntia, æ, fœ. g. agreableneesse, meteneesse, likeneesse.

Cóngruo, grui, ĕre, to agree, to accorde, to serue well to a purpose.

Congruere & differre, contrary.

Congruere & conuenire.

Congruit mulier mulieri magis, One woman agreeth beste with an other.

Tempus ad illud congruit, the tyme serueth well for it.

Congruit eius sermo cum tuis literis, His wordes agree well with your letters.

Ne nos inter nos congruere sentiant, That they perceyue not that we be agreed betweene our selues.

Congruunt extrema primis, the beginnyng agreeth with the latter ending.

Nostri sensus congruunt, we be of one will or mynd.

Congruere cum moribus alterius, to agree well with the maners of an other man.

Congrus, & Conger, gri, ma. g. a fysshe called a congre.

Cóngruum, i, n. g. agreable.

Cóngruus, a, um, apte, mete, conuenient.

Cóngylis, lis, f. g. looke Rapum.

Coniectarium, ri, n g for Consectarium Nonius legit.

Coniectátio, ônis, fœm. ge. a coniecture or diuination.

Coniéctio, ônis, fœ. ge. an hurlyng, flyngynge, or castyng.

Coniécto, áui, áre, to suppose, to iudge, to coniecte or diuine, to gather by argumentes and tokens.

Coniectare aliquid euentu, to coniecte or deeme of a thyng by that that foloweth.

Vultu offensionem coniectare, to gather by ones countenaunce, that he is not well pleased with vs.

Haud

Haud dubio coniectatur argumento, a man maie gather by a good token or argument.

Coniector, ôris, m. g. an interpretour of dreames, a coniecture that dweth coniecte what shal happen, a southsaier.

Coniectûra, æ, f. g. a coniecture or diuination.

Aberrare coniectura, to coniecte wronge, to gesse otherwise than the thyng is.

Coniectura aliquid assequi, to hitte a thynge by gesse or coniecture.

Coniectura augurari, to coniecte or gesse.

Coniectura colligere, to gather by coniecture.

Coniecturam facere, to coniecte.

Ex vultu coniecturam facere, to gather by ones countenance.

Coniecturam facio de meo stomacho, I gather or coniecte howe it is by myne owne stomache.

Coniectura consequi, to hitte a thyng by coniecture.

Profiteri coniecturam somniorum, to professe the interpretation of dreames.

Coniecturâlis, le, that which is coniected or gathered by coniecture.

Coniecturo, as, to coniecte, Senec.

Coniectus, us, idem quod coniectio.

Coniectus oculorum, the castyng of the eies aside.

Lapidum coniectus, the casting of stones.

Coniectus, a, um, coniected, diuined, caste, hurled.

Coniecti in te omnium oculi, All men behold you: and by translation, you be in great admiration of all men: Or they loke for some great thyng of you.

Oratio coniecta in charissimos viros, woordes rashly spoken against verey noble and famous persons.

Cónifer, conifera, um, an adiectiue.

Conifera arbor, a tree, whiche beareth fruite bryng smaller at the one end than at the other, lyke a pyne appull.

Coniferi, in Bacchus army, were they, whiche caried Thyrsos, that is, speares wrapped about the toppe with iuie leaues.

Conîcio, cóniicis, iéci, ĕre, to caste together, to coniecte, to diuine.

Coniecit se in fugam, he fledde.

Coniecit se intro, he went his waie in.

Coniecit se in pedes, He toke hym to flight. he toke his legges and ranne awaie.

Conîcere pecuniam, to bestowe monie.

Conîcere in lætitiam, to make gladde.

Conîcere in saginam, to put to fattyng, to go where he maie fyll his bealye.

Conîcere in vincula, to caste in prison, or to laie a man in the stockes or gyues.

Conîcere tela, to caste dartes, or to shoote.

Acuté argutéque conîcere, to coniecte finely and wittyly.

Conîcere aliquem in amorem, to caste or bryng one in loue.

Conîcere pallium in collum, to cast his cloke on his necke.

Hic se coniecit intro, he conueyghed him selfe in quickely.

Hostem in fugam coniicere, to discomfyte or put his enemy to flyght.

In quod me conieci malum? Into what myschiefe or trouble haue I cast my selfe?

Conîcere in morbum, to cast into a sickenesse.

In nuptias coniicere, to cause one to be maried against his will.

In plagas coniicere, to driue or bryng one into the nettes, to intrappe or snare one.

Maledicta coniicere in alicuius vitam, to report or speake euell of a mans lyfe.

Oculos coniicere in aliquem, to looke vpon one. Coniicere culpam aut causam in alium quem, to cast the faute or blame on one.

Coniicere in librum, to wryte in a booke.

In eandem epistolam plura præterea conieci, I haue wrytten many thynges beside in the same epistle.

In intimum domus se coniecit, he hydde him selfe in the innermost part of the house.

Sub scalas se coniecit, He hyd him selfe vnder the stayres.

In ordinem iudicum coniici, whan a naughty felow is made one of the numbre of vpright and iust iudges.

Verba coniicere in interdictum, to speake muche or raple against a proclamation, or commaundement geuen.

Tu coniicito cætera, coniect thou the residue.

Flammam temporum coniicere in aliquem, to laie that one is the cause of the trouble or daunger of any tyme.

De se conîcere, to gather or coniect by ones selfe.

Conile, idem quod Myrrhis. Dioſc.

Coniosis, the first foundation of Bees worke in makyng the hony.

Conion, called of the latines Cicuta, of some is taken for hemlocke, although it be affirmed to grow amonge wheate.

Coniſco, aui, are, to bushe one at an other with their heades, as rammes, bulles, and deere do.

Coniugâlis, le, and Coniugialis, le, that belongeth to wedlocke.

Dii coniugales, goddes that haue the preeminence in wedlocke.

Festa coniugalia, feastis at weddynges.

Fœdus coniugiale, the bonde of wedlocke.

Coniugalis thorus, the bedde, wherein the husbande and wife doe lie.

Coniugâta, be those woordes, whiche bereyng of one kynde, be dersyued one of an other, as of Iustitia, iustus, & iustum, whereof an argument maie be made in this wise: If iustice be to be honoured and loued of men: chiefely and before other thynges, a iust man must nedes be had had in estimacion and reuerence amonge men.

Coniugátio, ônis, f. g. a ioyninge together, or a derivacion of wordes that be as it were of one kynde or lynage.

Coniugátor, oris, m. g. a iuyner, one that ioyneth or coupleth.

Coniugium, ii, n. g. mariage, sometime carnall copulacion.

Coniugia, sometyme for theim that be coupled as mates together, as,

Bina coniugia, two couples of mates, two males and two femals.

Pomi coniugio alterius, to haue an other mans wife.

Coniugo, aui, are, to yoke together, to marry.

Coniugus, and Coniugalis, a, um, that which is ioyned or coupled with a mate or felowe.

Conion, nis, n. g. loke Conion

Coniuncte, or Coniunctim, together.

Coniunctio, ônis, fœ. ge. a ioyninge together. sometyme affinitee, amitee, familiaritee or acquaintance, mutuall loue or concorde,

Veritas est amor, consuetudo, studia paria, quod vinculum, quæ res deest nostræ coniunctioni? There is olde loue, acquayntance, studies lyke, what bonde, or what thyng lacketh, that we shoulde not be familiar?

Spero & opto nobis hanc coniunctionem voluptatiore, I despre and allotrust that this alyaunce shall be ioyfull vnto vs.

Conciliare coniunctionem, to gette acquaintaunce or familiaritee

Coniunctio, amicitia, & beneuolentia.

Coniunctio & familiaritas.

Coniunctio & conspiratio.

Consentientia & coniunctio naturæ.

Sanguinis coniunctio, kynrede, affinitee.

Coniunctio & disiunctio, contrary.

Coniunctissime, & amantissime.

Coniunctissime versati sumus, we were verie familiar together.

Coniunctus, a, m. g. a freende or verie familiar and well trusted.

Coniunctus, a, um, ioyned, alied, coupled, familiar, kepte in freendeshippe, sometyme maried.

Coniunctissimi inter se, very great freendes and familiar one with an other.

Par amicitiæ coniunctissimum, two entiere and very familiar freendes.

Vt ad omnes casus coniunctiores reip. essemus, that we myght bee the better affectioned together towarde the common weale, what so euer shoulde chaunce.

Coniuncta & sociata.

Coniuncti inter se atq; impliciti.

Propinquitate, et natura alicui coniunctum esse, to be of kynred or affinitee with one.

In quo non sit coniunctum consilium meum cum tuo, wherein myne aduyse or counsayle doeth not agree with youre.

Fidissima gratia coniunctus alicui, ioyned in most faythfull and truste freendeshyp.

Coniuncta mihi cura de re publica & priuata cum illo fuit, He and I were alwaies sollicitouse together, both for our common and priuate weale.

Digno coniuncta viro, maried to a worthie housebande.

Coniunctis sententiis discernere, whan a whole company with a full consent ordeyneth a thyng to be doen.

Coniúngo xi, ĕre, to ioyne together, to couple in mariage.

In negotio se coniungere, to associate hym selfe with an other in a matter or busynesse.

Conciliáre & coniungere.

Coniungit amicitias naturæ similitudo, the likenes of nature or disposicion ioyneth men together in freendeshyp.

Coniungere sibi fœminam in matrimonio, to wedde a wyfe.

Coniungere connubia, idem.

Castra oppido coniunxit, he pitched his campe harde by the towne.

Bellum coniungere, to ioyne in warre.

Coniungere dextras, to take by the hande.

Fœdere coniungi, to be aloed, or knitte together in league.

Aetas hunc mihi coniunxit studijs communibus, hath made him my companion in study.

Causa tua coniuncta est cum clarissimis viris, many ryght noble men are in lyke case or condicion as you be.

Vsu cum aliquo coniungi, to bee of acquaintaunce.

Coniuola, hyd, secrete.

Coniurátio, ônis, f. g. a conspiracy.

Facere coniurationem, to make a coniuracion or conspiracy.

Prodere coniurationem, to vtter a conspiracy.

Coniurátus, a, um, that conspyreth or confederateth together.

Coniurati, men confederated together for some yll purpose.

Coniúro, aui, are, to coniure or conspyre with other for an yll purpose. sometyme to sweare.

Coniux, ŭgis, or Coniux, ŭgis, co. g. a mate, a husbande or wyfe.

Coniza, zæ, f. g. an herbe, wherof be two sortes, the greatter and the lesse, some call it in Englisshe fleabayne.

Conlábor, loke Collabor.

Conlamo, aui, are, to barke or raple at a thyng.

Conligo, loke Colligo.

Conliquesco, looke Colliquesco.

Conlitulo, loke Collutulo.

Connas, a drunken mynstrell, that after was a great doeer in the places Olympicis: he was oft victoue, and yet very poore.

Connátio, ônis, f. g. a swimmyng together, as fisches doe. Sometyme in Plautus, accompanyng nipng of dyuers with one woman.

Connáto, aui, are, to ſwymme together.
Connéctio, ônis, fœm. ge. a byndyng together. alſo a concluſion.
Connécto, xui, ĕre, to bynde together.
Connéctere alicui rei aliquid, to adde ſomewhat to a thyng.
Veſtem connectere, to tucke or truſſe a garment.
Connéxum, i, n. g. a concluſion.
Connéxus, us, maſc. ge. a knyttynge or tiynge together.
Connéxus, a, um, knitte or tyed together.
Connexiuus, a, um, that coupleth together.
Conniſor, nixus, or niſus ſum, niti, to endeuoure or labour together earneſtly. ſometyme to trauaple with child, to leane vpon.
Conniti in aliquē locum, to labour to aſſende into a place.
Vno animo conniti, to endeuour with one accorde or mynde.
Toto corpore connixus, endeuorynge and thruſting forward with the whole bodie.
In haſtam connixus, leanyng on his ſpeare.
Conniuéntia, æ, f. g. a ſufferaunce of a thyng, or a feignyng, not to ſee or knowe.
Conniueo, conniues, penultima producta, or Conniuo, is, iui, vel xi, to wynke, and is vſed to be ſpoken whan men wyll leat thynges paſſe that ought to be loked on, to wynke at a matter, to make as though he knew it not, to diſſemble, to take patiently, to ware or ſuffer a thing.
Oculi ſomno conniuentes, The eies beynge heauy for lacke of ſleape, can ſcant looke vp.
In cæteris conniuebat, In other thynges he winked & made as though he knew not of them.
Conniuere clauſtra ſtomachi, dixit Gellius, for that the mouth of the ſtomake openeth and ſhutteth againe.
Connixus, a, um, that endeuoureth. ſometyme that bryngeth forth ponge.
Conno, aui, are, to ſwymme together.
Connôdo, aui, are, to knytte together.
Connubiâlis, le, pertaynyng to wedlocke.
Connubium, bĭi, n. g. matrimonie, wedlocke.
Celebrare connubium, to keepe a weddyng.
Iungere & ſociare connubio, to marry or wed together.
Inire connubium, to marie.
Vitare connubia, to leade a ſyngle lyfe, to eſchue mariage.
Connûbo, ĕre, to marry together.
Connûdo, áui, âre, to diſcouer or make naked.
Connus, Socrates maiſter in muſike.
Conoides, the kemale of the Cypres tree, and what ſo euer is ſmall vpwarde lyke the fruite of this tree.
Conon, onis, a famous capitayn of Athens.
Cononienſes, people of Narbon in Fraunce.
Conopéum, péi, or Conópeum, and Conópium, n. ge. a canapie, properly ſuche one as hangethouer beddes, and is wrought like a net, to kepe out gnattes, that doo ſtyng men in their beddes. it is vſed for a tent or pauilion. ſome haue taken it for a teſter to hange ouer a bedde.
Conor, âris, ári, to endeuour, to labour or go about to bryng a thyng to paſſe, to attempt.
Perdite aliquid conari, deſperatly, or with all ones power to endeuour.
Conari alicui obuiam, to make haſte to mete with one.
Conari manibus pedibúſque, to endeuoure with hande and foote, with tooth and naple, or as muche as one can.
Occulte aliquid conari, to endeuour a thyng priuyly.
Conari aliquid fallatiæ, to go about to diuiſe ſome deceipte.
Magnum opus & arduum conari, to go about a great and harde enterpriſe.
Eogóne iſtud conari queam? Could I attempt or go about ſuche a matter?
Conquadrâtus, a, um, made ſquare.
Cónquadro, áui, âre, to make ſquare.
Conquaſſátio, ônis, fœ. g. a ſhakyng, a vexacion or trauapling.
Conquaſſátus, a, um, ſhaken, broken, ſpoyled, waſted, vexed.
Conquaſſata terremotibus, ſhaken with earthquakes.
Conquáſſo, aui, are, to breake in pieces. ſometyme to vexe, to ſhake, to waſte or ſpoyle.
Conquaſſare nationes, to ſpoyle, ſtroye, or waſte countreyes.
Cónqueror, quĕri, to complayn, to make mone.
Deplorare & cónqueri de re aliqua, to lament and complayne for any thyng.
Cónqueri fortunam aduerſam, to complayne of aduerſitee.
Nequicquā conqueri, to make mone in vayn.
Conqueritur tibi, he maketh his mone to the.
Patris in ſe ſeuitiam conquerens, complaynyng of his fathers crueltee toward hym.
Cónqueri cum aliquo de alicuius iniuria, to complayne or make his mone to a man for the iniurie that one hath dooen hym.
Conquéſtus, us, m. g. and Conqueſtio, onis, f. g. a complaynyng or mone makyng.
Conquieſco, éui, éſcere, to ceaſſe, to leaue of, to be alayed, or aſſwaged, to be at reſte or quiete, to delyte ones ſelfe in a thyng, to repoſe or recreat him ſelfe in a thyng.
Ab armis conquieſcere, to reſt or be at quiet from warres.
Conquieſcere ab execrationibus, to curſe no more.
Niſi perfecta re, de me non conquieſti, you neuer ceaſſed or lefte of in myne affayre or buſyneſſe, tyll you had brought it to paſſe.
Conquieſcere in loco, to reſte or abyde in a place.
In his ſtudiis conquieſco, I repoſe or delite my my ſelfe in theſe ſtudies.

In alicuius amicitia conquieſcere, to delyte ones ſelfe, or take pleſure in a mans frendſhip.
Calor conquieſcit, the heate is alayed, or aſſuaged.
Conquieſcere à re aliqua, not to be troubled or buſied any more with a thing, to ceaſe of, or be at quiet from it.
Conquieſcere in eadem menſura honorum, to holde hym ſelfe content with. &c.
Conquieſcent ſtudia, niſi. &c. I will not medle with ſtudie, or I will geue ouer ſtudie for a tyme, except. &c.
Conquiniſco, quexi, niſcere, to douch with the head, to boowe or incline.
Conquiro, ſiui, rere, to ſeke all about, to ſerche for. Conquirere opes meretriceo quæſtu, to gather ryches by whoordome.
Conquirere vndique, to ſerche for in euery place. Terra mariq; conquirere, to ſerche for, bothe by ſea and lande.
Conquirere & comparare.
Conquiſite, exquiſitely, with great learnyng and diligence.
Conquiſitio, ónis, f. g. a ſercheyng, a chooſyng.
Conquiſitor, óris, m. g. a ſercher. alſo an officer, whiche is ſent to attache a man for a great offence. ſometyme a commiſſioner that hath the charge to muſter and take vp men of warre.
Conregione, olde writers vſed for E regione, on the other ſyde, or agaynſt a thyng.
Cónreus, rei, maſ. gene. he that is accuſed with an other.
Conſaburenſes, people of Spayne.
Conſalutáno, ónis, f. ge. a ſalutyng togyther, a greetyng.
Conſaluto, áui, áre, to ſalute or greete one an other. Conſalutant inter ſe, they ſalute eche other.
Conſalutant dictatorem, they ſalute hym by the name of dictatour.
Conſanéſco, is, or Conſanaſco, nui, ſcere, & naſcere, to become hole.
Conſanguineus, a, um, couſyn, kynne.
Conſanguinei, be ſometyme called bzethern, that haue one father.
Conſanguinitas, átis, f. g. a kynrede.
Conſáno, áui, áre, to heale. ſometyme to waxe hole, or become hole.
Conſarcino, áui, áre, to patche to.
Conſártio, iui, ire, to pourge or weede cozne.
Conſaucio, áui, áre, to wounde.
Conſceleráti, a, um, become myſcheuous and naughte.
Conſcelero, áui are, to make miſcheuous.
Conſcelerate oculos dicitur, whiche beholdeth any miſcheuouſe act, that he myght haue letted, or haue choſen whether he woulde haue ſeene it or no.
Concelerate aures paternas, violate your fathers eares, with telling thinges abhominable.

Conſcéndo, di, ere, to clymbe.
Nauim, or in nauim conſcendere, to take ſhyppyng.
Equum conſcendere, to take ones horſe, to leape to horſebacke.
Montem conſcendere, to clymbe vp an hyll.
Conſcénſio, ónis, f. g. a takyng of ſhyppe.
Conſciéntia, æ, f. g. a conſcience, the teſtimony or wytneſſe that ones owne mynde beareth, knowlage, remorſe.
A recta conſcientia diſcedere, to doe contrary to ones conſcience.
In conſcientiam aſſumere aliquem, to diſcloſe a ſecrete matter to one.
Maleficiorum conſcientiæ ſtimulant, remors of his naughty actes pricketh him.
Conſcientia bene actæ vitæ, The teſtimonie that ones owne minde beareth of the honeſt life that he hath ledde.
Exonerare conſcientiam, to diſcharge our conſcience.
Aſciſcere in conſcientiam facinoris, made priuy to any miſchiefe.
Officii ſui conſcientia frui, to take pleaſure in the teſtimony that his owne mynde beareth of any frendely ſeruice that he hath ſhewed to a man.
Labes conſcientiæ in animo habere, to haue a corrupt conſcience.
A recta conſcientia tranſuerſum vnguem non oportet diſcedere, we muſt doe nothyng that our owne conſcience dooeth teſtifie to bee yll doen.
Remota hominum conſcientia, no man knowyng what we doe.
Opprimi conſcientia ſcelerum, to bee confounded with the remors of ones owne wicked actes.
Conſcindo, ſcidi, ere, to cut in pieces. alſo to ſcorne or rebuke one openly.
Conſcindere ſibilis, to hyſſe one out of the place.
Cónſcio, ſciui, ſcire, to knowe with other, to knowe ones ſelfe fauteleſſe.
Conſciſco, ſciui, ere, to conſente, determine, or graunt to a matter wyllyngly, to doe or worke a thing. Alſo to draw to, after Calepine.
Facinus fœdum conſciſcere, to commytte a naughtie and diſhoneſt acte.
Fugam ſibi conſciſcere, to flee.
Voluntarium exilium conſciuerat, he went in baniſhment wilfully.
Cenſuit, conſenſit, conſciuit, vt bellum fieret, he thought good, he agreed, he determined.
Diligens paſtor ſtabulum cotidie conuerrit, nec patitur ſtercus humorem conſciſcere: or (after the better printes) ſtercus aut humorem conſiſtere, a diligente ſhepeherde euery daie ſweepeth his ſtable, and ſuffreth not the dounge drawe moyſture to it: Or to gather dounge and moyſture.

Con-

Conſciſcere ſibi mortem, to hylle hym ſelfe wylfully.
Conſciſſura, æ, f. g. a galſhe or cuttyng.
Conſciſſus, a, um, cut in pieces.
Cónſcius, a, um, that is of ones counſayle, that knoweth with an other, that is pryuy to a thing. alſo giltie, or culpable.
Cónſcius ſceleris, partie or pryuie to the offence: acceſſary.
Conſcius mihi ſum, my conſcience beareth me wytneſſe.
Ego qui mihi ſum conſcius, I that knowe myne owne herte or mynde.
Animus cónſcius, a mynde that knoweth it ſelfe giltie or culpable.
Nec mihi conſcius eſt vllus, No man knoweth it but I.
Meorum omnium conſiliorũ conſcius, which knoweth all my ſecretes, or pryuie to all my ſecretes.
Mens ſibi conſcia recti, a conſcience bearynge wytneſſe to a man of his honeſt behauiour.
Cómperi ex his, qui ei fuere conſci, I knew it by them that were of his counſayle.
Futuri conſcius, that knoweth what ſhall chance hereafter.
Vultus conſcius, that ſheweth it ſelfe to be giltie.
Conſcius alicui in priuatis rebus, that knoweth a mans priuate affayres.
Conſcribello, aui, are, to wryte together, vſed of olde writers.
Conſcribo, pſi, ĕre, to wryte, to wryte thynges to gether. alſo to enrolle or regeſter names.
Quæſtionem conſcribere, to wryte ones examination, and confeſſion.
Syngraphum conſcribere, to make an obligation. Milites conſcribere, to wryte the ſouldiours names at the muſters, to take vp ſouldiours to go to warre. Likewyſe Conſcribere exercitum.
Conſcriptio, ônis, fœ. g. an enrollement, a regeſtryng, or wrytyng.
Conſcriptus, a, um, wrytten, enrolled, regeſtred. Officium conſcripti, the office of a ſenatour.
Milites conſcripti, ſouldiers enrolled.
Conſcripti, they whoſe names be wrytten or regeſtred to ſupply a numbre, whiche do lack, or ſuch as be new choſen or added vnto the other, properly ſpoken of the ſenatours of Rome.
Cónſeco, ſecui, âre, to cutte or hacke.
Conſecare minutatim, to cutte or hacke in ſmalle pieces.
Conſecránei, ſuche as be dedicated to one ſecte or opinion.
Conſecráneum, idem quod conſecratum.
Conſecrátio, ônis, fœ. g. a dedicacion or conſecracion.
Conſecrâtus, a, um, geuen or bent.
Conſecrâtus & addictus alicui ſententiæ, geuen or addicte to any opinion.

Cónſecro, aui, are, to dedicate or conſecrate, to make holy, to make a thing remaine, to put in remembrance by wrytyng. alſo to attribute to.
Conſecrare memoriam nominis, to put his name in perpetuall remembrance.
Delubra conſecrare, to dedicate temples.
Likewyſe Conſecrare ædes, terram, aram, domum, ſimulachra. &c.
Ars curandi corporis deorum inuentioni cõ ſecratur, the inuention of Phyſike is attributed vnto the gods.
Magnitudinem ingenij alicuius conſecrare, to put in perpetuall remembraunce, or to make immortal.
Conſecrare ſuas origines, by writing to put their begynnyng in perpetuall remembrance.
Conſectánei, they that be of one ſecte.
Conſectárium, ij, neu. ge. a bycke argument or cozollarie.
Conſectárius, a, um, the adiectiue.
Conſectátio, ônis, f. g. a folowyng or purſuyng. alſo an imitacion.
Conſectátor, ôris, maſc. ge. he that foloweth or purſueth.
Conſectátrix, the feminine.
Conſectio, idem quod Sectio.
Conſéctor, âris, ári, to folowe, to purſue diligently, to hunt after, to labour to attayne or get, to endeuour to haue. alſo to imitate or endeuour to doe lyke.
Omnia me mala conſectantur, All euelles folowe me.
Conuitiis conſectari aliquem, to raple at, or reproche one ſpitefully.
Hoſtes conſectari & conficere, to purſewe and ſlea ennemies.
Opes conſectari, to hunte after richeſſe, to ſtudy to geat ryches.
Conſectari alicuius beneuolentiam largitione, to endeuour to geat ones fauour and good will, with geftes and bybbes.
Conſectari feras, to hunte beaſtes.
Conſectari etiam minutiſsima, to endeuour to come to the knowlage of the ſmalleſt thinges
Quid ſingula conſector? why doue I endeuour to recite or ſpeake of euery thinge?
Conſemineus, a, um, and Conſeminális, le, ſowen with diuers ſeedes, or planted with diuers plantes.
Sylua conſeminea, in whiche diuers kindes of trees are planted.
Conſeneſco, ui, ere, to be or ware olde.
In armis, or ſub armis conſeneſcere, to leade all ones lyfe in warre.
✠ Nemo poteſt vno die conſeneſcere, a man can not be olde the firſt day.
Conſénſio, ônis, fœ. ge. a conſent or accord, one mynde or purpoſe.
Conſénſus, us, m. g. accord, agrement, a conſent.
Omnium conſenſu, by the accord and agrement of all.

Con.

Consensus & dissensus, contrary.
Consentiens, ãtis, agreable, meete, conuenient.
Consentaneus sibi, agreable to it selfe.
Aptus & consentaneus.
Consentaneum est, it is meete, or it is good reasone.
Consentaneum & dissentaneum, contrary.
Consentia, orum, suche thynges as bee agreed vpon by the consent of many.
Consentia, a citee of the Bruttians.
Consentini, people of that citee.
Consentio, sui, ire, to consent, to agree, to accord to be of one opinion. also to be conuenient.
Consentire & pugnare, contrary.
Vno ore omnes consentiunt, All allowed it, or agreed with one consent.
Consentire sibi, to abide styll in his opinion, to be alway lyke hym selfe, not to be contrarie to it selfe.
Consentit vultus cum oratione, his countenaunce declareth hym to speake as he thynketh: his wordes and there consent or agree.
Consentire cum aliquo, de re aliqua, to agree with one concernyng a matter.
Consentire magna conspiratione amoris, to agree and loue eche other greatly.
Consepio, sepsi, sepsi, ire, to inclose with an hedge, to enuyron or compasse.
Consæptum, ti, neu. ge. an inclosure or place inclosed, a cloase.
Consæptus, a, um, enclosed, hedged in.
Consequens, quentis, that followeth, ensueth, or is conuenient or agreable.
Consequenter, consequently.
Consequentia, thynges whiche doo folowe or ensue, or be agreable or conuenient.
Consequentia & cõsentanea.
Consequentia, æ, f. g. a sequele, a consequence.
Per consequentias contingit, when a thynge happeneth not immediately of that whiche is willed, or done of the parties, but necessarily of the sequele.
Consequiæ, arum, sequeles.
Consequor, eris, utus sum, sequi, to folowe, to folowe immediately, to ensue, to obteyne or gear, to expresse in wordes, or acte, to ouertake in iourneyng or goyng.
Videã' homini sarcinatos consequi, cum dãno? doe you not se men with fardelles folowyng of hym?
Verbis consequi non possum, I can not expresse it in wordes.
Cursu feras consequi, to hunt.
Consequuntur equites, the horsemen folowe immediately.
Aliquem certamine consequi, to vanquisshe, to ouer come.
Voluptati vi mœror consequatur, that sorow or heauynesse myght folowe immediately after pleasure.
Mors illum ex ægritudine consequuta est, he died of that sickenesse.

Si accelerare volent, ad vesperam me consequantur, if they wyll make haste, at nyght they maie ouertake me.
Hoc videmur esse consecuti, This muche we seme to haue attayned.
Animo aliquid consequi, to comprehend or conceiue in the minde.
Inuestigare & consequi.
Per aliquem aliquid consequi, to obteyne a thyng by an other mans meanes.
Consequi coniectura, to hitte by coniecture, to gesse.
Quid ex eo consequutus es? what hast thou wonne therby?
Si quid dicendo consequi possum, If I be hable or can doe any thyng with eloquent pleasyng, or yf I can doe any thing with my tonge or eloquence.
Memoria consequi, to remembre.
Consequi aliquid diligentia, to attayne or gear a thyng by diligence.
Consequi gratiam, gloriam, laudem, dignitatem, commodum, famam, magistratum, fructum, præmium. &c. to purchase, gear, obteyne or wynne fauour, glory. &c.
Anni consequentes, the nexte yeres folowyng.
Nullam partem tuorum meritorum consequi possum, I can not requite the hundreth part of the pleasure that ye haue shewed me.
Consequûtus, a, um, that followeth or ensueth. also that is obteyned or gotten.
Cõsero, sẽui, ẽre, to sow, sette, or plant.
Conserere agros, to plant.
Conserere leges, to constitute or ordeyn lawes
Bella conserere, to make or styrre occasion of warres.
Consero, consẽrui, ere, to entermyngle, to ioygne.
Conserere prælium aut pugnam, to ioygne battayle, to fyght.
Conserere manus, to fyght hande to hande.
Conserere certamen, to contende or stryue.
Diem nocti conserere, to ioygne date and nyght together in doyng a thyng.
Conserũtus, a, um, fashioned or made lyke a sawe.
Conserte, as it were interlaced.
Consertor, ôris, m. g. he that coupleth or fyghteth with an other.
Consertus, a, um, ioygned, enterlaced, entermyngled. Consertus & intextus alicui rei.
Conseruãtio, ônis, f. g. a kepyng, maintenyng preseruyng.
Conseruator, ôris, m. g. one that maynteyneth and preserueth, a protector, or defendour.
Conseruãtor, & oppugnator, contrary.
Conseruator & custos.
Conseruatrix, the feminine.
Conseruãtus, a, um, saued, mainteyned, preserued.

Conſeruitium, ĩ, n. g. a felowſhyp in ſeruice.
Conſeruo, aui, are, to kepe, to preſerue, or maintayne, to defende.
Tueri & conſeruare.
Conſeruare fidem, to doe that one hath promiſed.
Conſeruare incolumem, to kepe in ſafegarde or out of daungier.
Iusiurandum conſeruare, to kepe or obſerue an othe, to doe that he hath ſworne to doe.
Conſeruare aliquem, to preſerue one.
Patriam conſeruare, to defend and maynteine ones countrey.
Memoriam alicuius rei conſeruare, to remembre or kepe in mynde.
Rem ſuam conſeruare, to ſaue or keepe his goodes and ſubſtaunce.
Conſéruus, ui, m. ge. a felow or companion in ſeruice. Conſerua, the feminine Conſeſſor, ôris, maſ. ge. he that ſitteth with or neere other.
Conſéſſus, us, m. g. men ſittyng together. It maie be taken for a ſeſſions or ſittyng of men, whiche be commiſſioners.
Conſídeo, cónſides, ſédi, ſidére, to ſitte, abyde, or tarie in a place, to ſoiourne, it maie be vſed to ſytte at a ſeſſyons, to be ſeene in companie with other.
Tuto conſidére in aliquo loco, or apud aliquem locum, to remayne or abyde ſauefly in a place.
Conſidére in ſolitudine, to kepe him ſelfe or to tarie and abyde in a ſolitary place.
Conſidére in otio, to be at quiete and leyſure: or out of trouble and buſyneſſe.
Conſédit in mente iuſtitia, Juſtice is placed in the mynde.
Conſédit vtriuſq; in quæſtura nomen, the fame and renoume of theim both reſted in their queſtourſhyp, or dyd not encreaſe, or was not augmented anythyng after they had ben queſtours.
Cónſidero, lyke Conſydero.
Conſido, conſidis, ſédi, ſidere, to reſt or abyde after the remouyng from an other place: or to reſt at the bottome, as dregges in drynke, to lyght as a byrde doeth after he hath flowen.
Ignis conſédit, the fyre is aſſwaged or ſtynted.
Conſidere & regnare in aliqua regione, to abyde (eſpecially after trauaile) and reygne in any countrey.
Cura conſédit, care is aſſwaged or ceaſſed.
Vbi ira conſédit, whan his anger was appeaſed.
Dum conſidat, relinquitur, it is left vntyll it ſynke downe and be ſettled in the bottome.
Conſiditur, the impſonall.
Conſignátio, ónis, f. g. a ſealyng, or wrytyng ſygned.
Conſignátus, a, um, ſygned, put in writyng.
Conſignatæ in animis nouones, knowlages printed in mens myndes.
Conſignificátio, ónis, f. g. a declaration by ſome meane or token.
Conſignifico, áui, áre, to ſhewe by tokens, to ſignifie.
Conſigno, áui, áre, to ſeale, to ſygne, to marke
Conſignamus literis, what we put any thyng in writyng.
Conſignare literas, to ſeale letters.
Legem conſignare, to adde a condition to that whiche is put in writyng alredie.
Conſíleo, conſiles, lui, ere, to kepe ſilence.
Conſíleſco, ſílui, ſcere, to be ſtil, to kepe ſilence, to holde ones peace.
Conſíliarius, rij, m. g. one that geueth counſail.
Amici & conſiliarij, frendes and counſailers.
Conſiliátor, óris, m, g. a counſaylour.
Conſiligo, ínis, fœ. ge. an herbe called of ſome Leonis pata, Of Vegetius and Ruellius Pulmonaria. It is very medicinable for the lightes and lunges of beaſtes it is called of the frenchmen Bomelea, or Pate de lyon. in engliſhe beare foote.
Conſilinum, a towne of Italy neere to Tarenti.
Conſílio, cónſilis, lui, lire, to leaye together.
Conſílio, áui, áre, to aſke or gyue counſayle.
Conſílium, ĩ, n. g: counſayle, rudgement or aduiſe, a purpoſe or intent, polycie, apoyntment.
It maie be taken for commiſſioners or wayes aſſygned.
Conſilium eſt ita facere, I haue purpoſed ſo to doe. Veſtrum eſt conſilium non ſolum meum, quid ſit faciendum, you muſt conſult and deuyſe as well as I, what is to be doen.
Ambiguus conſilij, that can not tell what aduiſe to take, that can not tell what to doe.
De conſilij ſententia aliquid facere, to doe a thyng after the aduyſe that is geuen him, or according to the aduiſe and opinion of the counſaile that doth determine it.
Conſilium ædificandi abijcere, to leaue of his purpoſe or entent that he had to buylde.
Afferre in templum conſilium furti, to come into the temple of purpoſe or entent to ſteale.
Clauſa habere ſua conſilia, to kepe his counſayles ſecrete.
Labi conſilio, to take yll aduyſe for him ſelfe, to take aduiſe that is not good for him ſelfe.
Nihil mihi accidit, quod maioris conſilij ſit, Nothyng hath chaunced to me that hath neede of greatter aduiſement or counſayle.
Velut conſilio petitum eſſet, as though it had be done of ſette purpoſe or for the nones.
Tuum conſilium eſt, aduyſe you.
Caſus & conſilium, oppoſita.
Conſilium cæpi, I toke aduyſe or counſayle, I purpoſed.
Habere conſilium, to conſult.
Magni conſilij eſt, quid ſit faciendum, it is a matter that needeth great aduiſement and counſayle, what is to be doen.

Eo

Eo consilio, for that intent or purpose.
Non est consilium, I intende not, I purpose not.
Consimilis, le, in all thynges lyke.
Mos consimilis vestrum, a facion in all poynctes lyke yours.
Isti formæ, mores vt consimiles forent, that the condicions myght be lyke to this his fauour and beautie.
Consimilis moribus, lyke in maners.
Consisto, constiti, stĕre, to stande fast or sure, to abyde boldely by a thyng, to consyst, to stande styll, to reste, to be at quiete.
Consistit alius, the dealy is costiue.
Consistit morbus, the sickenesse standeth at a staye, neyther increaseth, nor diminisheth.
Consistere mente, to be of sounde memorie.
Consistere & commorari, to stande styll and abyde. Consistit triduum Romæ, he abode three dayes at Rome.
Consistere ad anchoram, vel in anchoris, to lye at anchore.
Stomachus consistit, The stomache leaueth vomityng.
In hoc non causa consistit, herein consysteth or standeth all the whole matter.
In iudicio cum aliquo consistere, to stande in iudgement and pleade or contende agaynste a man.
Legatum consistit, the legacie that is geuen is of good force or vayliable.
Consistit authoritas illius vini intra Gallias, that wyne is only esteemed in France, or is not praysed or set by out of France.
Non consistere mente, lingua, oratione, when ones mynd and his tonge fayleth hym.
Mente consistere, to be quiete, and not to be troubled or dismayed.
Vtrinq; consistit fides, fayth and promesse is kepte firmely on bothe partes.
Rempublicam in vnius anima consistere, when the common weale dependeth wholly vpon the lyfe of one man.
Omnis spes eorum consistit in ea re, all their hope is only in that.
In sententia consistere, to abyde in ones opinion.
Tranquillo animo consistere, to bee in great quietnesse of mynde, without feare or trouble.
Pectore consistere nihil consilij potest, I can not tell what I shoulde doo.
Consistit ubi omnis causa familiæ, the whole charge of the familie resteth in you.
Consistere verbis cum aliquo, to agree with one in woordes.
Consistere in digitos, he standeth on typtoe.
Consistorium, rij, n. ge. a counsaile house, especially in a princis house, sometymes the counsayle assembled in suche a place.
Consitio, ónis, f. g. a settyng or plantyng.
Consitor, óris, m. g. one that planteth.

Consitûra, æ, f. g. idem quod consitio.
Cónsitus, a, um, sette, sowen, planted.
Consmittere, for committere.
Consobrina, æ, fœm. ge. the femynine of Consobrinus.
Consobrini, cousyns germayns of two systers, systers sonnes.
Consóceri, they two, whose sonne and daughter are maried together.
Consociátio, ónis, f. g. a companyng or felowshyp, association.
Consociátus, a, um, associate, ioygned in felowshyppe.
Consócio, áui, áre, to associate, to ioygne a felow or companion to one.
Consociare arma cum populo, to associate or ioygne theym selfes in felowship of warre with other.
Consociare consilia cum aliquo, to deliberate or consulte with one.
Consolabilis, le, that maie bee comforted.
Consolabúndus, he that comforteth a man.
Consolátio, ónis, f. g. comfort in aduersitee.
Consolátor, óris, m. g. a comforter.
Consolatórius, a, um, that comforteth.
Consólida, æ, f. ge. the name of an herbe, called confrey, or Lamfrey.
Consolidátio, ónis, fœm. ge. is where one that had the vse and profite of a thyng, called of the lawyers, Vsu fructuarius, hath rendred the title therof, to the lorde or owner.
Consolido, áui, áre, to make sounde that was broken, to consolidate.
Consólor, ris, a deponent, to geue comfort, or take comforte.
Consolari miseriam & calamitatem, to comforte one in miserie and trouble.
Consólari aliquem de morte patris, to comforte one for the deathe of his father.
Consólor, aris, atus sum, the passiue.
Consomnio, aui, are, to dreame,
Cónsonans, adiectiuum, consonant, mete, agreable. Per omnia consonans sibi, lyke or agreable to it selfe in all poinctes.
Cónsono, nui, áre, to make sowne together. And by a metaphore, to accorde or agree.
Consonat moribus oratio, His talke agreeth well with his maners, or is verate lyke his maners.
Consonare sibi, to be always lyke hym selfe, not to change or varie.
Cónsonum, ni, n. g. a thing mete and consonãt.
Cónsonus, a, um, of lyke tune or sowne.
Consopio, sópis, píui, íre, to lay, byyng, or lull a sleepe.
Consoranni, people of Acquitayne in France.
Consors, órtis, om. ge. a felowe or companyon, a partaker, sometyme it signifieth like. They are properly called Consortes, whose landes bounde together.
Temporum cum aliquo consors, partaker of aduerſite and dangerous tymes with other.

Generis conſortes, kyno folke, alyances.
Socius & conſors.
Conſors conſilij publici, he that is one of the common counſayle.
Conſors laboris, partaker of labour or trauayle.
Conſors thalami, a wyfe.
Conſors caſus, a lyke chaunce.
Conſortes periculorum, they that be together in lyke perill and daungier.
Conſortio, ônis, f. g. felowſhip. ſometyme communitee and participacion.
Conſórtium, tij, neu. ge. felowſhip or company, ſocietee.
Conſpéctus, us, m. g a beholdyng, or ſyghte.
In conſpectu eſſe, to be in ſyght, or in a place where one maie be ſeene.
E conſpectu euolare, and fugere conſpectum, to go quyckely out of ſyght.
Ne quis conſpectus fieret, That men might not gather about to beholde it.
In conſpectu oppidi eſſe, to be ſo nere, that they within the citee maie ſee theim.
Frui conſpectu alicuius rei, to haue the full ſyght of a thyng.
Prodire in conſpectum, To come abrode in ſyghte.
In conſpectum cadere, to be of ſuche ſort that it may be ſeene.
Cadit in conſpectum, It is of that ſort, that it maie be ſeene.
In conſpectum ſe dare, to come forth and ſhew theim ſelfes, that thei may be ſeene.
Conſpectum alicuius vereri, to be afrayde to come in ones ſight.
Conſpectus, a, um, beholden, ſolemnely looked on, diligently regarded.
Supplicium conſpectius, an execution or puniſſhement, whiche many men goe to beholde.
Nihilo mea turba quam vllius conſpectior erit, my companie or traine ſhall be no greater to ſee to, or no more notable, than any others.
Mors conſpectior, more notable death.
Conſpérgo, ſperſi, gĕre, to ſcatter or ſparcle about abundantly, to ſtrawe. by tranſlacion to myngle.
Conſpergere ante ædes, to ſtrawe herbes or greene graſſe before the doores.
Conſpergere hilaritate, to myngle with myrth and pleaſauntneſſe.
Conſpergere aliquem lachrymis, to make one to weepe.
Conſperſus, a, um, ſprynkled, ſtrawed, ſcattered, myngled.
Conſpicillum, and conſpicillum, i, n. g. a loupe to looke out of, an houſe or wall, a payre of ſpectables.
Conſpicio, cónſpicis, ſpéxi, ĕre, to ſee or beholde, to attende, regarde, or conſyder, to vewe.
Conſpicere ex alto, to beholde from an hygh place. Corde conſpicere, to perceiue in ones mynde.
Conſpicere aliquem mente, to ymagine that he ſeeth one.
Conſpicere ſibi, quæ ſint in rem ſuam, to ſee and know, what is profitable to him ſelfe.
Locum inſidijs conſpicere, to view and ſee a place meete to ſette an ambuſſhement in.
Conſpicere dicuntur res inanimatæ, to be tourned, or to ſtande towarde a thyng.
Conſpice, quibus vitijs affectus ſit, Regarde or conſyder what faultes he hath.
Conſpicior, the paſſyue.
Bonis animi conſpici, to be eſtemed for vertue and knowlage.
Conſpici infeſtis oculis, to be ſpitefully loked on, of theim that enuy and hate one.
Cónſpicor, âris, âri, a deponent, idem quod Conſpicio.
Conſpicuus, a, um, that one ſeeth or perceiueth verie playnely: as, redde and other thynges of hygh colour, that is greatly in ſyght, clere, that euery man hath in regarde and admiracion.
Occultus & conſpicuus, contrary.
Conſpicuus forma, of goodly ſhappe and fauoure.
Venuſtas conſpicua, notable or excellent beautie.
Conſpicuus homo, a man in great admyracion. Laude conſpicuus, greatly prayſed or renoumed.
Magnitudine conſpicuus, meruayloufly great or notable, and muche prayſed for the greatneſſe of it.
Fons conſpicuus in planicie, A well ſo clere that a man maie ſee the bottome.
Conſpiratio, ónis, f. g. a conſpiracie, conſent, agreemẽt, whan many reſorte together, as well for a good intent as an yll.
Conſpirátus, us, m. g. a conſpiracie, conſent, or agreement.
Conſpirati, They whiche haue conſpired, and be confederate agaynſt one.
Conſpiro, áui, âre, to blowe together, and by a metaphore, to conſpire or conſent, to be ſtyed or agreed together, to doe any thing good or yll.
Conſpirare, to wynde hym ſelfe rounde lyke an adder.
Conſpirare & conſentire.
Senatus cum populo conſpirauit, The Senate conſpired and agreed with the people.
Conſpiſſo, áui, âre, to make thycke.
Conſpóndeo, ſpóndi, ẽre, to promyſe mutually, one to an other.
Conſponſi, they whiche haue mutually promiſed the one to the other.
Conſpónſor, ôris, ma. g. he that is bound for an other for any man.
Cónſpuo, ſpui, ĕre, to ſpitte on one.
Conſpúrco, áui, âre, to violate or defyle, to make make foule.

Conſpūto, áui, áre, to ſpytte often on one.

Conſtabilio, íui, íre, to make ſure, ſtable, or ſtronge.

Conſtans, ántis, om. g. cōſtant, ſtable, or ſtedfaſt.

Conſtans amicus, an aſſured frende.

Leuis & conſtans, contrarie.

Mobilis & conſtans, contrary.

Rumor conſtans, a certayne rumour.

Voce conſtanti negare, to denie playnly.

Conſtanter, conſtantly, ſtedfaſtly.

Conſtantia, æ, f. g conſtance or ſtedfaſtneſſe.

Conſtantinópolis, a citee in Thrace, ſometyme called Byzantium, and afore that Lygos. It ſtandeth to the ſea Pontus Euxinus, on the nawerſt parte betweene Europa and Aſia. It was ſometyme the chefe palace of the moſte chriſten emperour Conſtantine, and is nowe the pompous denne of the great turke ennemie to Chriſtis fauth. It was take of the turkes the yere of our lord. 1452. Mahumetes beyng great Turke, and Conſtantine emperour of Greece.

Conſtantinus, the name of diuers emperours: The moſt excellent was ſonne of Conſtantius, (a noble and valyaunt prince, fellow in the empire with Maximinus) and of Helene, a woma borne in England, than called Britayne: After he had attayned the monarchie, he daily moſt ſtudiouſly laboured to augmente the fauth of Chriſt: not withſtandyng in his tyme were diuers hereſies and horrible contentions amōg the biſhoppes, whiche he dyd eyther diſſolue, or at the leaſt wiſe reuerentely moderate with a wounderfull temperaunce. He reygned xxx. yeres, and was buried in Conſtantinople. He dyed in the yere of our lorde. 330.

Conſtat, it coſteth, it is ſolde for.

Conſternati, men ouerthrowen. ſometyme abaſhed, or troubled in mynde.

Conſternátio, ónis, f. g. an abaſhment, a great feare or trouble of the minde.

Conſtérnium, nii, n. g. a place where men layed their garmentes whan they were bayned.

Conſtérno, ſtráui, ſtérnere, to ouerthrow, and by tranſlation, to make ſore afraied or abaſhed, to aſtonyſhe.

Conſternari animo, to bee ſore troubled and abaſhed.

Conſtérno, ſtráui, ſtérnere, to ſtrawe, to paue, to hewer the floore with any thyng.

Campi conſternuntur milite, all the fieldes be couered. &c.

Terram conſternere tergo, to lye vpryghte vpon the grounde.

Conſternere cubilia gallinarum, to make hennes neſtes.

Lapide conſternere, to paue with ſtones.

Luto conſternere, to couer with earthe, as men vſe in makyng of floores

Conſtipátus, a, um, gathered thycke or cloſe togither,

Conſtipo, áui, áre, to make thicke or faſt togethet, to ſtuffe vp together, to thruſt vp many in one place together.

Conſtituo, ui, ére, to appoint or ordeyne, to purpoſe or determine to doe a thyng, to promiſe, to place or ſettle, to erect or buylde, to couenant.

Conſtituere & deſignare.

Habeo conſtitutum, or conſtitutum eſt mihi, I am ſo determined, I haue ſo purpoſed.

Conſtitueram vt irem rus, I had appoynted to goe into the countrey.

Conſtitumus inter nos, We haue ordeyned amonge our ſelues.

Conſtituere alicui, vel cum aliquo, ſe venturum, to promiſe to one, that he will come.

Ad conſtitutum venire, to come at the date appoynted.

Conſtituere tempus, to aſſygne or appoint the tyme.

Hominem ante pedes Manilij conſtituunt, They brought the man before Manilius.

Conſtituere aliquem magna gratia apud regem, to bryngе one in great fauour with the kynge.

Domos conſtituere, to buylde houſes. Lykewiſe Oppidum, turrim, mœnia conſtituere.

Finem rei conſtituere, to make an ende of a thyng.

Diem colloquio conſtituere, to appoint a day to common of the matter.

In verbis ius conſtituere, to take the wordes of the lawe as they lye, without any interpretation.

Neceſſitudinem habere conſtitutam cum aliquo, to haue very neere frendſhyp or familiaritee with one.

Intra ſyluam aciem conſtituerat, He had placed or lodged his armye within the woodde.

Conſtituere ſpem in aliquo, to putte hope in one. Conſtituere amicitiam cum aliquo.

Conſtituere in diem tertium, to determine to doo a thyng the third daye folowyng.

Conſtituere diſceptationem, to make his plea formall: or to forefee that whiche ſhall come in contention, to determine what it is that is in controuerſie betweene them.

Conſtituere iudicium, to admitte the proceſſe and ſute of any matter.

Iudicium conſtituere dicebant veteres, pro cōſtituere actionem. Vide actionem conſtit.

Rarum eſt, vt iudicia propter id conſtituantur, It chaunſeth ſeldome, that the iudges ſhuld ſitte in iudgement or examinacion of that.

Conſtituere maieſtatem, to confirme or aduaunce the reuerence dewe to the ſupreme authoritee.

Conſtituere quæſtionem, to decree, that vpon ſtreicte examinacion, execution be doone.

Conſtituere quæſtionem nouam, to appointe extraordinarie iudges vpon a matter, that hath not ben woont to come in examinacion.

Patriam mihi ſanctitatem in illo colendo cõſtitui, I purpoſe to vſe as great reuerence towarde hym, as if he were my father.

Conſtituere ſtatum cauſæ, is whan the iudge dooeth determine, whether it bee a mattier in lawe, or a mattier in dede, whiche is in controuerſie.

Crucem ſibi conſtituere, to make a rodde for his owne taple, to doe that, whiche is for his owne hurte.

Conſtituere rem nummariam, to appointe a certaine order concernyng the value and courſe of money.

Conſtituere vadimonium, to put in pledges.

Conſtituere teſtem aliquem in alium, to cauſe witneſſe to be brought forth againſt one.

Summam totius litis in aliquo conſtituere, when the parties contendyng do reſt principally vpon one poincte, and endeuour to confirme that.

Conſtituere & regere inſitiam iuuenum, to rule and gouerne.

Conſtituere pecuniam, to promiſe money to bee paied, whiche was before due by an obligacion.

Conſtitûta, ôrum, ſtatutes, actes, or ordinances.

Conſtitutio, ônis, f. g. an ordinance, a decree, a complexion, the determinacion of a thing, whiche after it hath been well debated, is brought to an ende, inuencion.

Conſtitutio corporis, the complexion.

Conſtitutio cauſæ, whiche our lawyers dooe call the mattier in debate.

Religionum conſtitutio, inuencion and inſtitucion.

Conſtitutor, ôris, ma. ge. he that ordeyneth or maketh any thyng.

Conſtitutórius, a, um, adiectiuum.

Conſtitutus, us, ma. ge. idem quod conſtitutio.

Conſtitûtus, a, um, ordeined, appointed, determined. Conſtitutum patrimonium.

Conſtitutus ad cædem, appoincted and mated to be ſlaine.

Exiſtimat patrimonium ſoꝛe ſuum per te cõſtitutum, he recogniſeth, that the landes, whiche he hath, came by your meanes, or that you were the cauſe that he came by his liuelode.

Corpus bene conſtitutum, a body wellcomplexioned.

Præclariſſime conſtituta reſpublica, a cõmon weale in right good order and facion.

Conſto, ſtiti, ſtare, to ſtande together, to perſiſt or abyde, to perſeuer or continue, to be manyfeſt or knowen, to agree, to pertayn. ſometyme to be. alſo to be compacte and made.

Conſtant ſententiæ, the opinions do agree.

Conſtat animo, he is of ſtedfaſt mynde.

Conſtat mens, he is not troubled or diſmaide.

Mente vix conſtat, he is almoſt diſmaide or beſide hym ſelfe.

Conſtat hoc mihi tecum, we be both agreed in this.

Conſtat ratio, there is a reaſonable cauſe.

Conſtare ſibi, to abyde in his opinion.

Ille ſibi conſtat, he is alway of one ſoꝛte or facion.

Conſtet modus, Let there be a meaſure.

Conſtitit nuſquam, He abode in no place.

Conſtat omnibus, it is euident to all men.

Non conſtat ei color nec vultus, His countenaunce and colour do chaunge.

Nec auribus, nec oculis ſaus conſtare poterant, They coulde not tell certainely whereto to loke, noꝛ wherto to harken.

Fides conſtitit prætoris, the prætoꝛ hepte promiſſe, or dyd that he promiſed.

Me conſtare mihi ſcis, you knowe, that I am alwaie lyke my ſelfe, or alwaies one man, or abyde ſtyll in one opinion.

Conſtare in ſententia, to kepe one mynd ſtill, to perſeuer in one opinion.

Si humanitati tuæ conſtare voles, if you wyl contynue ſtyll in your gentyneſſe.

Conſtant officia tua in me, your frendly pleaſures towarde me are manifeſt.

Mea in te omnia officia conſtabunt, non ſecus ac ſi te vidiſſem, All the pleaſures that I can doe you, ſhall be ſhewed as well as though I had ſeene you.

Quominus mea in te conſtarent officia, That I might be the leſſe benefitiall towarde you.

Chare conſtat mihi, I bought it derely.

Gratis conſtat, it coſteth me nought, I had it for graund merey.

Minoris conſtat dimidio, it coſteth leſſe by the halfe.

Viliſsime conſtat, It is verie good cheape, it coſte littell or nothyng.

E quibus omnia conſtant, Of whiche al thynges are compacte or made.

Conſtat experimentis medicina, phiſik ſtandeth cheefly in practiſe.

Vis conſtare magiſtratibus reuerentiam? woulde you that there ſhulde be due reuerence geuen ſtyll to the magiſtrates?

Quis ferat vxorem, cui conſtent omnia? who will ſuffer a wyfe, that hath all thynges at her will? Conſtat, it is manyfeſt.

Non ſatis conſtabat animis, They were not verie certayne or ſure, they were in doubt, they doubted.

Conſtat de hac re, of this mattier it is agreed, there is no controuerſy in this thyng.

Conſtat de eius innocentia, His innocencie is well knowen or tried.

Conſtrâtus, a, um, couered ouer, paued.

Conſtratæ naues, couered ſhyppes.

Conſtratæ naues tempeſtatibus, Shyppes beaten together and bruſed with tempeſtes.

Cónſtrepo, ſtrépui, ere, to make a noiſe together.

Conſtrictus, a, um, ſtreigned, bounde harde, wronge.

Con-

Constringo, strinxi, ĕre, to bynde faste, to wynge harde.
Constringere supplicio, to cause hym to die.
Quadrupedem constringere, to bynde hande and foote lyke a beaste.
Necessitate constringi, to bee constreigned with necessitee.
Constringendum se tradere libidinibus, to yelde theim selues as prisoners or captiues, to the filthie luste of the bodie.
Constructio, ônis, f. g. edifiyng, composition.
Constructio hominis, the facture or foyming of a man.
Constructio verborum, the order, construction, or placyng of woordes.
Constructus, a, um, builded, made, cast vp in an heape: furnyshed, garnyshed, prepared.
Construo, xi, ere, to build, to order, to heape one thyng on an other.
Construere pecuniam, to gather monie.
Acerui nummorum construuntur apud eum, he hath gathered together great heapes of monie.
Construere vocabula, to make newe woordes.
Aggerem construere, to cast or make a bulwarke. Nidos aues construunt, The byrdes make their nestes.
Nauim construere, to make a shyppe.
Aedificium construere, to builde an house.
Constuprator, ôris, m. g. an adulterer.
Constupro, âui, âre, idem quod Stupro.
Constupratum iudicium, a iudgement corrupted with bribes.
Consuadeo, suades, suâsi, suadêre, to counsayle or exhorte earnestly.
Consualia, ôrum, n. ge. places dedicated to the god of counsaile Consus.
Consultor, ôris, ma. ge. one that counsaileth or exhorteth.
Consuanetes, people of the Alpes.
Consûdo, âui, âre, to sweate vehemently, and Consudasco, idem.
Consuefacio, ĕcis, fĕci, ĕre, to accustome, to enure, to teache by vse.
Consuefacere, and Dissuefacere, contrary.
Consuesco, suêui, scĕre, to be wont, to haunt or vse a thyng muche, to accustome. sometyme to vse carnally.
Cum eius consuenit mane clanculum, he had company with his mother priuily.
Nec magis humo quàm stagno consueuerant, they are accustomed to be as wel in water as on the lande.
Consuescere alicui, to haunte muche to one, or to be muche in ones company.
Consuescere iuuencum aratro, to accustome the bullocke to drawe the plough.
Consuetio, ônis, fœm. g. to vsed of Plautus for Consuetudo.
Consuetudo, inis, f. g. custom or vsage. also cõpany or familiar cõuersation, faction or maner.
Tam paruæ consuetudinis causa, for respect of so small acquayntance.
Præter consuetudinem, against the faction or custome. Pro mea consuetudine, accordyng to myne vsage and custome.
Ad Græcorum consuetudinem, accordyng to the custome. &c.
Consuetudo morbi, the course of the sykenesse, whan it retourneth certayne tymes.
Si corpus supra consuetudinem incaluit, be more whot then it is accustomed to be, or then it is wonte.
Non est meæ consuetudinis, it is not my faction. Consuetudo & institutum.
Consuetudo & exercitatio.
Consuetudinem facere alicui cum aliquo, to make one verie familiar and well acquaynted with a man.
Victus alicuius consuetudo, the manier of ones liuyng.
Consuetudo & familiaritas.
In consuetudinem vertere, to bryng into a custome. Amicitiæ, consuetudines, vicinitates.
Consuetus, a, um, accustomed.
Cónsul, lis, ma. g. a chief officer among the Romaines, whereof were two, which had the chiefe rule of the cite for one yere. Of poetes it is vsed for a peres space.
Consularis, re, of or pertaynyng to the consull.
Consularis vir, he that had been Consull, or were mete to be consul.
Consulariter, lyke a Consull.
Consulâtus, us, the office of a consull.
Cónsulo, lui, ere, with a datiue case, to giue counsaile, with an accusatiue case to aske counsaile. Also with a datiue case it signifieth to prouide, to helpe to.
Grauiter de se consulere, to doo some hurt to hym selfe, to take suche counsayle that maye be hurtefull to hym selfe.
Consulere sine adiecto, idẽ quod consultare.
Consulere in longitudinem, to prouyde or prepare for the tyme to come.
Oro te, in commune vt consulas, I praye you that you will doo indifferently for bothe parties.
In humiliores crudeliter consulebatur, The vyler sorte were cruelly handeled, or sharpely punyshed.
Consulere de aliquo bene, to intreate or handell one gentilly.
Male consulere, contrary.
Consulere & prouidere.
Consulere & prospicere.
Consulere dignitati, æstimationi, famæ, to prouyde for, or haue consideration and regard to ones honor, estimation, and good name.
Pessimè in te atq; in illum consulis, you doo that which is verie hurtfull and vnprofytable bothe for your selfe and hym.
Consulere alicui, to prouide for ones profite, or to haue consideration of a man.

Concordiæ consulere, to haue respect to concorde and vnitee.
Per litteras consulere aliquem, to aske counsaile of a man by letters.
Consulam hanc rem amicos, I will aske counsaile of my friendes concernyng this mattier.
Consulte, prudently, considerately.
Consultatio, ônis, f. g. a deliberation or consultation, a demaundyng of counsell in a matter.
Responde consultationi meæ, aunswere me to that I asked the counsaile of.
Consultius, better standyng with wisedome or reason.
Consulto, aui, are, to geue or aske counsayle, to consult or deliberate.
Male corde consultare, to thynke naughtily or shrewdly in ones mynde.
Consultare aliquem, to aske counsell of one.
Deliberare & consultare.
Consultò, deliberately or aduisedly, with good counsail, aduisement, and deliberation, of sette purpose.
Consultò & fortuitò, contrary.
Consulto, the ablatiue case for consulere.
Opus est consulto, it behoueth to take good aduise.
Consultor, ôris, ma. ge. he that geueth counsell. sometyme he that asketh counsaile.
Consultrix, the feminine.
Consultum, ti, n. ge. the thyng that is consulted. sometyme an acte of counsaile, decree, or ordinaunce.
Consultus, a, um, the participle, demaunded or asked counsaile of.
Consultus, a, um, the adiectiue, wyse, cunnyng, full of knowlage, whom a man maye well aske counsaile of.
Consultus eloquentiæ, very eloquent.
Natura consultus non disciplina, wyse and cunnyng by nature, not by learnyng.
Consultissimus iuris, a very good and perfect lawier.
Consultus vniuersæ disciplinæ, cunnyng and perfectly seene in all partes of any knowlage.
Consummatio, ônis, f. g. a perfection, a full finishyng, the totall summe.
Consummâtus, a, um, perfect at a poynt.
Consummatus homo, a perfect fellow, an absolute man.
Consúmmo, áui, âre, to summe vp in a rechenyng, to finisshe or perfourme, to make vp, or make perfect.
Consûmo, sumpsi, ĕre, to consume or destroie, to spende or bestow, to waste or weare out, to bryng to nought.
Consumere diem in apparando, to spende all the daie in preparyng.
Consumere fidem, to lose credence.
Consumere operam, to emploie labour.
Consumere orationem, to tell a longe tale without a conclusion.
Effundere & consumere bona omnia, to waste and spende all a mans goodes riottously.
Vetustas consumit ferrum, continuaunce of tyme weareth out yron.
Cuius omnes curæ in te consumuntur, all whose care and solicitousenesse is set vpon the.
Aetatem consumere in studio, to spende all ones lyfe in study.
Consumere diem, annum, tempus, horas, ætatem, to passe ouer, or spende the daie. &c.
Eum diem ibi consumpsi, I passed foorth all that daie there.
Preces consumere, to make longe intreaty and desiryng in vayne.
Consumere omnem nostram diligentiam in re aliqua, to bestow all our diligence in a thing.
Consumere studium, operam, curam, otium, to bestow or emploie. &c.
Consumor, the passiue, to wither or waste awaie.
Consumi incendio, to be consumed with fyre.
Comsumi siti, to be deade with thyrst.
Cónsuo, sui, ĕre, to sowe together one thyng to an other.
Consuere dolos, to ymagine deceipt.
Consúmptio, ônis, fœm. gen. a consumyng or spendyng.
Consúmptor, ôris, m. g. one that consumeth or wasteth awaie.
Consumptus, a, um, consumed, wasted, wythered awaie.
Consúrgo, éxi, ĕre, to arise together with other.
Consurgunt venti, the wyndes aryse or begyn to blowe.
Consurgere in venerationem, to rise vp in token reuerence to one.
Consurgitur, the impersonall.
Consurrectio, ônis, f. g. the risyng vp of many together, most commonly to doe reuerence.
Consus, i, m. g. the god of counsayle.
Consyderate, with consideration, aduisedly.
Consyderátio, ônis, and Consyderántia, æ, f. g. consideration.
Consyderâtus, he that doeth a thyng with consideration.
Consyderâtus, a, um, particip. considered, viewed, regarded.
Consyderatum & meditatum.
Consydero, aui, are, to consyder, to regarde or viewe.
Contabésco, scĕre, to wyther or pyne awaie.
Contabulátio, ónis, f. g. a flooze boorded, or a boordyng of a flooze.
Contábulo, áui, âre, to boorde or to lay boordes on a roufe or flooze.
Contáctus, a, um, touched, steyned, coloured, infected.
Contacti religione dies, daies reputed of the paynymes to be infortunate to beginne any enterpryse.
Sale modico contactum, corned with a little salte.

Co-

Colore croci contactum, ſtayned or died with ſaffron colour.

Contacta halitu eius, nulla fera attingit, no beaſt toucheth thoſe thynges that he hath breathed on.

Contactus, us, m. g. a touchyng, ſometyme carnall dealyng.

Contagio, ônis, f. g. idem quod Contágium.

Contagio aſpectus, the infection that commeth by lokyng on a thyng.

Contagio belli, whan by the occaſion of one warre, an other ryſeth.

Sed etiam illos ad quos conſcientiæ contagio peruenit, But theim alſo, whiche be conſentyng and agreyng to the ſame naughtyneſſe.

Contages, is, f. g. idem quod contagio.

Contagiôſus, a, um, contagiouſe, that ſoone infecteth other.

Contágium, ij, n. g. a contagiouſe or infectiue ſickeneſſe. alſo an infection.

Contaminátus, a, um, defyled, corrupted, diſhonefted, diſtreined.

Contaminatus & integer, contrary.

Contámino, áui, áre, to violate or defyle, with mixtyng thynges together, or with touchyng a thyng vncleanly, to diſtepne, to diſhoneſt.

Manus contaminare, to committe ſome heynouſe act.

Contaminare fabulas, to make one comedie of many.

Contaminare & honeſtare, contrary.

Contaminare ſe vitijs, to diſhoneſt ones ſelfe with vice and leudeneſſe.

Comẽchnor, ãtus ſum, ãri, to inuent ſome thyng to deceyue, to ymagine ſome ſubtyll diuiſe.

Contectus, a, um, couered, hidde.

Cóntego, éxi, ĕre, to couer or hyde a faute, that it be not eſpied.

Contegere tumulo, or ſepulchro, to burie.

Contémero, áui, áre, to violate, polute, or defile.

Contémno, tempſi, ere, to deſpiſe or contemne, whiche is leſſe than deſpiſyng, to defy, not to regarde.

Contemnere & admirari, contrary.

Contemnere & efferre, contrary.

Contemnere, deſpicere, & pro nihilo habere.

Contemnere aliquem præ ſe, not to regarde one in comparíſon of him ſelfe.

Deridere & contemnere.

Contemplátio, ônis, f. g. a beholdyng, ſpecially in the myndc, with deuocion to god, conſtemplation.

Conſyderatio & contemplatio.

Contemplatiuus, a, um, contemplatiue, that conſiſteth onely in contemplacion.

Contemplátor, ôris, maſ. ge. he that beholdeth with great affection.

Contemplátus, us, idem quod contemplatio.

Contémplor, áris, ári, to beholde intentimely with great affection. Alſo Contemplo, aui, are, of olde wryters vſed for Contemplor.

Contemplari & inueri.

Contemporáneus, a, um, that is in one tyme.

Contemporanei, they that be at one tyme.

Contemptibilis, le, that is to be deſpiſed or not regarded.

Contémptim, diſdeignefully.

Contémptio, ônis, contempt.

Contemptio & deſpicientia.

Contémptor, aris, ari, to ſette lyttell by, out of vſe.

Contemptor, oris, m. g. one that deſpiſeth or contemneth, that ſetteth nothyng by a thyng.

Contémptrix, icis, f. g. the feminine.

Contémptus, us, m. g. deſpite, contempt.

Contémptus, a, um, contemned, not eſteemed, nought ſet by.

Contemptus & abiectus.

Deſpicatus & contemptus.

Conténdo, di, ere, for Intendere, to bend harde, to ſtretche out, to ſtreygne, to knytte or tye ſtreyct. Alſo to goe towarde a place, to endeuour earneſtly, to enforce, to requyre or deſyre effectually, to affyrme and defende an opinion: to contende or reſiſte, to ſtriue, to caſt or ſhoote a dart or arrow, to continue, to make haſte, to goe.

Contendere aliquid ab aliquo, to require ſome thyng of one earneſtly.

Contendere ſacramento, to wage the law.

Contendere agmen, to leade forwarde an armie with haſt and ſpeede.

Eniti & contendere, to labour and indeuour earneſtly.

Contendere omnibus neruis, and Contendere omnes neruos in re aliqua, to labour and endeuour to the vttermoſt of a mãs power.

Non erat cauſa, cur à te hoc tempore aliquid contenderem, there was no cauſe why I ſhuld earneſtly requyre any thyng of you at this time.

Omni ſtudio à te contendo, I deſyre of you with all my hert, or I requyre you as earneſtly as I can.

Ludo contendere cum aliquo, to plaie with one who ſhall haue the victory.

Voce contendere, to crie or ſpeake out aloude, to ſtreigne the voyce.

Vt Aſclepiades contendit, As Aſclepiades doeth affirme and defende.

Pugnare & contendere.

Contendere aliquid contra æquitatem, to tende or ſtryue to attayne a thyng contrary to equitee.

Vocem contendere, to ſtreygne the voyce.

Contendere iurgio cum aliquo, to chide with one.

Summo iure contendere, to vſe the rygour or extremitee of the law.

Contendere ciuiliter, to contende or ſue after the maner of citeſens.

Curſum aliquo contendere, to renne towarde any place.

Curſu contendere, to trie maſtries in renning.

Con-

Contendere iter conſtitutum, to goe on the iourney that he appoynted.
Romam contendit, he goeth to Rome.
Contendere tormenta, to bend ingins of war.
Contendere vincula, to tye or bynd the bandes harde.
Contendere poplite, to ſtretche out the knee.
Contendere curſum aliquo, or ad aliquem, to renne towarde a place or perſone.
Ad ædes contendit, he wente towarde the houſe.
Contenebrāre, to ware darke.
Quoad contenebrauit, vntyl it waxed night.
Contente, continually, without intermiſſion, earneſtly.
Contentio, ônis, f. g. brablyng, an endeuour to doo a thyng, an earneſt maner of ſpeakyng, a comparyng or conferryng with other thinges. alſo reſiſtence, ſtryfe or debate, braulyng, variance. alſo a ſharpe oracion apte to confirme or reproue, a continuance, an inforcement or ſettyng forth with vehemence, ſtreignyng.
Contentio ſtudiorum, peynfulneſſe in ſtudy.
Contentio animi, and Relaxatio, contrary.
Labor & contentio.
Magna animi contentio adhibenda eſt in explicando Ariſtotelem, In expoundyng Ariſtotle, the mynde muſt bee verie attentiue or wholly bent to conſyder the mattier.
Contentio vocis, and Submiſsio vocis, contrary, loude ſpeaking and ſofte ſpeaking.
Sine intermiſſione vocis contentio, a continuall ſpeakyng without fetchyng of breath, or pauſyng.
In contentionem venire, to come in controuerſye.
Honorum contentio, great labour or earneſt ſuite for promocions and aduancementes.
Contentioſe, earneſtely, ſtubbournely, with contention.
Contentiōſus, a, um, contencious, and paſſingly, that is dooen ſtubburnely, or with earneſt endeuour.
Contentus, a, um, participium, à cōtendo, ſtretched out, ſtreigned.
Contentus, and Remiſſus, contrary.
Arcus contentus, a bowe bended.
Contentus, a, um, adiectiuum, à continuo, that whiche is contynued. Alſo contente or ſatiſfied.
Conterminus, a, um, boundyng nere together.
Cōtero, trīui, ĕre, to weare out with occupiyng. alſo to make warre, to breake ſmall, as breade into crommes, or clodde into duſte: to waſte or conſume, to ſpende in vayne.
Conterere ætatem, to ſpende his lyfe.
Conterere diem, to ſpende the daie vnprofytably.
Conterere operam, to loſe labour or peyne.
Conterere quæſtum, to ſpende all that he hath gotten or wonne.
Conteris tu ma me oratione mulier, Thou makeſt me verye woman with thy talkyng.
Conterere iniurias obliuione voluntaria, wilfyngly to forget iniuries dooen to vs.
Conterraneus, nei, m. g. a countreie man.
Conterreo, terrui, terrere, to make afeerde.
Conteſtātus, a, um, proued by wytneſſe.
Conteſtor, āris, āri, to call to witneſſe, to deſire, to complayne to one lamentably.
Conteſtari litem, to perpleade, where the one hath fully purpoſed, the other hath fully anſwered.
Contexo, texui, ĕre, to weaue, forgne, to worke together, to linke together, to tye together.
Contexere interrupta, to forgne together, thinges that be broken.
Contexere dolos, to fynde crafty meanes.
Quam feſtiue crimen contexitur: Howe pleſantely or feately this accuſacion is imagined and diuiſed!
Contexere carmen, to make a verſe.
Contexte, and Contexim, forgnedly, and as it were weauyng together.
Contextus, us, m. g. a weauynge or forgynge together.
Contextu pennarum corpori tegumenta faciebat. He made hym garmentes with the feathers of foules wouen or wrought together.
Contextu longiore loqui, to ſpeake long of one thyng, without ceaſſynge or myngynge of other.
Vno contextu, continually together, without interruption.
Contextus, a, um, wouen, or wrought together.
Cōticeo, cōtices, conticui, ēre, to holde ones peace, to keepe ſilence.
Conticuerunt literæ, the exercyſe of learnyng ceaſſed, or there were no letters writen.
Studium noſtrum conticuit, Our ſtudy ceaſſed, and was lefte of.
Cōmicēſco, cui, ſcere, to kepe ſilence with other.
Conticinium, nij, neu. g. bedde tyme, or the firſt parte of the nyght, whan menne prepare to take their reſte, and all thynges be in ſilence. Conticinium, after Erasmus, ſeemeth to bee the tyme betweene the firſt cockecrowyng after midnight, called Gallicinium, and the breake of the daie, called Diluculum, loke the prouerbe, Priuſquam gallus iterum cecinerit.
Contignātio, ônis, f. g. the raiſeryng or rearyng of an houſe, the roufe of an houſe. alſo a ſollar or boorded floure.
Contigno, aui, are, to raiſe an houſe.
Contiguus, a, um, that whiche toucheth, or is nerte to a thynge.
Cōtinens, ēntis, f. g. fyrme or mayne lande that is none yle.
Cōtinens, entis, f. g. the adiectiue, forgnyng to, continual, without ſeparacion or ſpace betwene.
Continent, chaſte or abſteinyng from women, and all other pleaſures. alſo no extorcioner nor poller, or a man nothyng couetouſe.

Con-

Continentia ædificia, buildynges ioygned one to an other, without any separation or space betwene.
Labore continenti, with continuall labour.
Imber continens, continuall rayne, or a great shower, durynge a longe tyme.
Continentia fundo prædia habet, he hath manoures ioygnynge to his lande.
Incontinenti, incontinent, foorthewith, by and by.
Scriptura continenti expositum, declared in one continuall worke, makyng no diuision of bokes, volumes, chapiters, or partes.
Parcus & continens, sober, sparyng and abstenynge from all pleasures.
Continens, amonge the Rhetoricians, the very ponct of the matter in controuersie.
Commentibiduo, two dayes continuall.
Continénter, continually, continently, chastly, firmly.
Continentia, æ, f.g. continence, abstenynge from pleasure, a vertue refusyng thynges that are pleasaunt. Also resistence of yll.
Contineo, cóntines, ui, ére, to refrayne, to kepe backe, to kepe close, not to tel or shew, to hyde, to containe, to keepe together, to withholde, or lette, to holde, to ioygne together, to keepe and preserue.
Continebat me tempestas, The foule weather letted me.
Continere se domi, to abyde at home. Lyke wyse Continere se ruri, tectis, mœnibus vrbis, in occulto.
Continere amicitiam, to maintaine frendshyp.
Nullæres vehementius remp. continet, nothyng doth more preserue, kepe, and holde together, &c.
Continere odorem, to keepe a good sauour longe.
Nerui & ossibus continentur, they are compact and made of sinewes and bones.
Continetur publica salus incolumitate illius, doth depende.
Contine caput quæso, Holde my heade, I praie the.
Audita continere, not to blabbe out that one hath heard.
Continere canes catenis, to kepe dogges tied vp in chaynes.
Feras sepus continere, to haue parkes.
Continere exercitum in castris, to kepe the armye within the campe.
Continere in officio, to kepe in obeisaunce.
Aluum continere, to stoppe the laske.
Animam continere, to holde ones breath.
Continere gradum, to abyde, to stande styll.
Continere iracundiam, to refrayne ones anger. Continere lachrymas, to forbeare weapynge.
Contineo me ab exemplis Græcis, I doe not alledge the exaumples of the Grecians.

Continere linguam, to refrayn to speake.
Continere risum, to forbeare laughyng.
In ieiunio continere aliquem, to kepe one fastyng, or without meate.
Nequeo me continere, I can not refrayne.
Continere aluo dicitur mulier prægnans.
Honestas continetur ex quatuor virtutibus, honestee consisteth in foure vertues.
Continere gaudium, to hyde ones ioye or gladnesse.
Contingens, géntis, the adiective, that chaunceth or foortuneth.
Contingo, cóntigi, ĕre, to touche, to come vnto, to annoynt.
Contigit, in the thyrde person, it happeneth, it foortuneth, it chaunceth.
Contingere se inter se, to touche one an other.
Contigerat nostras aures, it came to our heayryng. Limen contingere alicuius, to come to ones house.
Contingere terram osculo, to kysse the grounde.
Visu contingere, to see.
Fines aruernorum contingunt, they border vpon.
Portum contingere, to enter into an hauen.
Melle contingere, to anoynt with hony.
Contingere alicui rei, to be adioygnynge to a thyng. Sale contingere, to pouder meate.
Contingere aliquorum familias, or domum, to be kynne to one.
Propius contingere aliquem, to be nere kinne to one.
Crimine contingi, to be gylty, or to haue consented.
Si mihi vita contigerit, if god sende me lyfe.
Continuário, ônis, f.g. a continuacion.
Continúitas, atis, f.g. idem.
Continuo, an aduerbe, by and by.
Continuo, vsed interrogatiuely or negatiuely, is put for Non ideo, or Num ideo.
Continuóne si ille stulte dixit, tu stultius facies? If he haue spoken foolishely, wilt thou therfore doe more foolishely?
Non continuó si in gregem sicariorum me contuli sum sicarius, I am not therfore a murderer, because I haue associated my selfe and kept company with murtherers.
Continuo, aui, are, to continue, not to ceasse, to ioygne to, or to buylde to.
Continuare agros, to ioygne fielde to fielde.
Continuare domos, to buylde houses together.
Continuus, a, um, continuall, without intermission, that continueth for euer.
Continuus spiritus, one breath without pausyng. Continui dentes, playne and vnifourme teeth, as a mans be. Serrati dentes, contrary.
Continuus & intermissus, contrary.
Continuum triduum, three whole dayes together.

Con-

Contóllo, tóllis, tóllere, to beare together.
Contollam gradum, I will go forward faster.
Contor, ãtus sum, ãri, to abyde, to inquyre diligently.
Contórqueo, órsi, ére, to wind or wreath about, to tourne round, to wreste to ones purpose, to hurle violently.
Contorquere amnem in alium cursum, to turne the course of a riuer.
Contorquere telum, to shoote an arrowe, or hurle a darte, and therwith to hytte or perce a thynge.
Currum contorquere, to turne rounde.
Contorquere aliquem ad tristitiam, to enforce one to sadnesse, to make sadde.
Contorte, frowardely, obscurely, as it were wrested or writhed.
Contórtio, ônis, f. g. a writhyng or wrestyng.
Contortuplicãtus, a, um, combyous, harde to be pronounced.
Contortuplicata nomina, names so diffuse, that they maie vnneth be pronounced.
Contortuplico, ãui, ãre, to wrappe or wynde a thynge so, that with great peyne it maye bee vnwounde.
Contórtus, a, um, wrested, wronge, or made crooked, curled, or crisped, wrincled.
Cornua contorta, crooked hornes.
Contortus crinis, curled heare.
Contortulus, a, um, the diminutiue of Contortus.
Contortæ res, thynges wounden and twysted. also wrested matters, or suche as one part agreeth not with an other.
Contra, agaynst a place, a persone, or a thyng, on the other part, otherwise then. It is sometyme an aduerbe, sometyme a preposition.
Contra disciplinam meam te gessisti, ye haue behaued your selfe otherwise then I dyd instructe you.
Aspice contra me, loke this way towarde me.
Facere contra aliquem, to do agaynst one, or that is displeasant to hym.
Contra expectationem, otherwise than was loked for.
Contra aliquem stare, to stande ouer rygbte agaynst one, on the other syde.
Contra ac, contra atque, contraquàm, otherwyse than.
Contráctio, ônis, f. g. keare, a shrinking or gatheryng together, a krouning, a cõtraction or shortnyng, a drawyng in, a faintyng of courage.
Contractio frontis, frownyng or lowryng.
Contractio animi, a stonyng of the mynde.
Contractio neruorum, shrynkyng of the synewes, the crampe.
Contractio & productio, contrarie.
Proiectio & contractio brachii, the castynge out and pluckyng in of the arme in gesture.
Effusio animi & contractio, contrary, sadnesse of mynde, thought,

Contractiúncula, æ, f. g. a diminutiue of Contractio.
Contráctus, a, um, gotten, drawen together, short, narowe, wrynkled.
Bona contracta, goodes gotten by conquest.
Res contractæ, bargaynes, contractes.
Frons contracta, a krounyng forehead.
Exiguus & contractus locus, a small and narowe roume.
Spaciosum & contractum, contrary.
Contractiores noctes, shorte nyghtes.
Contractus & breuis ambitus verborum, a briefe and shorte periode.
Contracta & astricta eloquentia, a kynde of eloquence in few wordes and briefe sentences.
Contráctus, us, m. g. a contract or bargayn.
Contradico, ixi, ĕre, to contrary in wordes, to saie contrary.
Contradictio, ônis, a contradiction, a speakyng contrary to one.
Contradictum, i, n. ge. a thyng spoken agaynst a man.
Contrâdo, dìdi, ere, idem quod Trado.
Contraco, to go contrary or agaynst a thyng
Cóntraho, áxi, ĕre, to gather together, to committe, to make a contracte or bargayn, to drawe together, to make shorte. Also to pluche or shrynke in, to purchase or get.
Nerui contrahuntur, the sinewes be shrunken.
Contrahere æs alienum, to be indebted.
Contrahere animum, to take thought.
Contrahere bona, to geat goodes.
Contrahere frontem, to lowre.
Contrahere cum aliquo, to make contracte or bargaine with one.
Contrahere tempus, to abridge the tyme.
Contrahere aduersam valetudinem, to geat sykenesse.
Contrahere milites, to gather souldyours together.
Contrahere & dilatare, contrary.
Dissipare & contrahere, contrary.
Contrahere collum, to shrinke in the necke.
Contrahere ad colloquium, to bryng together to communication.
Lac contrahere, to turne mylke into a curd.
Contrahi incommodis amici, to bee sory for his frendes hurtes.
Id eius culpa contractum est, He offended in that thyng, that was committed by his faute.
Contrahere ærugimem, sirum, mucorem, to ware rusty, horie, and full of syth and vnnse.
Contrahere amicitiam, to wyn frendeshyppe.
Animum demittere & contrahere, to bee afrayde, to ware faynt herted.
Cicatrices vulnerum contrahere, to heale the scarres of woundes.
Periculum contrahere, to bringe hym selfe in danger.
Ne contrahas aut demittas animum, Let not thy courage fayle the, take a good herte.

Con-

Contrahere sibi causam mortis, to bee cause of his owne deathe.
Litigium inter aliquos contrahere, to make debate and contencion betwene men.
Contrahere inimicitias inuidiam, iram, odium, offensionem, morbum, to pourchase or geat. &c.
Iter contrahere, to shorten ones iourneie.
Noxam contrahere, to fall into som sickenes, to committe somme offense.
Pituitam contrahere, to engender fleume.
Tristitiam contrahere, to make sadde.
Vultum contrahere, to looke sowerly.
Res contrahere, to bargayne.
Contraliceor, licéris, licéri, to cheape and prise for moneie for a thynge, that an other was about to bye.
Contrapósitus, a, um, idem quod oppositus.
Contrárie, one agaynst an other.
Contrárius, a, um, contrary, repugnant, against.
In contrarias partes disputare, to dispute pro & contra.
Decernit contrarium, ac paulo ante decreuerat, he doth appointe it otherwise then he dyd determine a litle before.
Versantur retro, contrario motu atq; cælum, they are moued contrarie to the firmament.
In contrarium cadere, to be turned cleane contrarie.
Contrascriptum, ti, neu. gene. a thynge written agaynst one.
Contrasto, stíti, áre, to be against one, to repugne
Contráuénio, uéni, éni, íre, to happen contrary, to come contrary, to speake against one.
Contrauérsum, contrary wyse.
Contrectabiliter, after the maner of touchyng or handlynge.
Contrectátio, ónis, f. g. a touching or handlyng.
Contrécto, áui, áre, to touche often, to handle.
Contrectari oculis, to be viewed or considered, to be seene or looked on.
Contrectare mente, to reuolue and thinke of.
Contremisco, trémui, ſcére, idē quod Cōtrémo
Non contremiscamus iniurias, let vs not feare. &c.
Cóntremo, ui, ere, to tremble or shake for feare.
Contribuo, bui, ere, to attribute, to conferre, to geue with other, to contribute.
Contribuere in regna, to diuide it into realmes. Contribuere se alicui, to become one of his, or to be at his commaundement.
Contributio, ónis, f. g. contribution, whan many geue their portions.
Contristo, áui, áre, to make sory or heauy.
Auster contristat cælum, The south wynde maketh a lowryng wether.
Contritor, óris, m. g. one that breketh in small peces, or weareth out a thynge.
Contritus, a, um, broken smal, worne out, much vsed, common.
Contra præcepta, præceptes, that euery man knoweth and vseth.
Controuérsia, æ, fœ. ge. controuersy, debate or variaunce.
Nulla controuersia mihi tecum est, There is no controuersie betwene you and me.
Sine controuersia, without doubt.
Dirimere controuersiam, to finisshe or ende the controuersy.
Controuersia verborum inter eos est, in their reasonyng they vary onely in wordes, or they reason onely of the wordes.
In controuersiam inuentionis deducta herba, an herbe wherof men doubt who dyd finde it.
Controuersia non erat, quin verum dicerent, there was no difficultee, but that they myght speake the trouth.
Controuersiósus, a, um, idē quod Controuersus
Controuérsor, aris, ari, to contende or vary.
Controuersus, litigious or full of controuersy.
Controuérsus, a, um, that is in controuersy.
Res controuersa, a mattier in controuersie.
Gens controuersa natura, people of nature ful of contencion and variaunce.
Contrucido, áui, áre, to murder or slea cruelly.
Contrûdo, si, ĕre, to thrust in harde together.
Contrudere in naues, to bryng into the shippes. also to put or thrust in.
Contrúnco, áui, áre, to minisshe or cutte awaie part of a thyng.
Contrûsus, a, um, thrust together.
Contubernális, lis, com. ge. a felow or companion, or of one company, a chaumbre felow, one of the same house. sometyme a guest.
Contubérnium, nii, n. g. a companie of .x. soldiours together vnder one tente or pauilion, and the tent or pauilion of that companie. also familiaritee, felowshyp in one house.
Contúeor, éris, éri, to defende, to see, to regard verie stedfastly.
Contuitus, us, m. ge. an earnest lokyng or beholdyng of a thyng.
Contumácia, æ, f. g. disobedience, a selfe will, a frowardnesse, a stubburnnesse, a soleinnesse, sometyme constancie in opinion.
Contumacia præsumpta, amonge the lawiers a kynde of stubburnnesse, whan the officer warneth a mans freendes or familie, that he must appere at a certayne daie, and he will not, because the officer spake not to him presently.
Contumacia vera, whan he beyng warned him selfe, doth not appere.
Contumáciter, disobediently, stubburnely.
Contumaciter resistit scalpturæ lapis, the stone is verie harde to be grauen in.
Cóntumax, ácis, om. g. disobedient or frowarde in opinion: he that will not be perswaded, he that doeth not apere whan he is summoned, stubburne, selfe wylled, sollein, sometyme it signifieth constantly suffryng in the good part.
Cóntumax tripenum, harde wheate that will not be easily braken or bruised.

Emori

Emori contumax, loth to die.
Contumaces boues, curst oxen that wil not be ruled.
Contumélia, æ, f. g. a thynge doen or spoken in despite of a man, a reproche, a rebuke, a cherche, a taunte.
Contumeliam dicere, and facere contumeliam, to speake a thyng in despite of a man, to taunt or rebuke.
Contumelia magna verborum interrogare aliquem, to demaunde a question of one with verie spitefull and tauntyng woordes.
Grauissimas contumelias intorquere, To speake very spitefull tauntes one to an other.
Contumelióse, spitefully, reprochefully.
Contumeliósus, a, um, that vseth to speake rebukefully: or that is doen to a mans rebuke, spitefull, reprochefull.
Contumulo, áui, áre, to burp, to late in earth.
Contúndo, cóntudi, ĕre, to breake in pieces, or strike downe, to beate or knoche: and by a metaphore, to conquere or subdue, to tame, to suppresse or kepe vnder, to swage or mitigate.
Contundere facta alicuius, to putte an other mans actes out of estimation or remembrance.
Contundere pugnis, to beate or thumpe with the fistes.
Contundam tibi nares, I wyll knocke the on the nose.
Contundere & frangere.
Obtundere & contundere.
Animum contundere, to tame or abate ones courage.
Iram contundere, to mitigate and swage ones wrathe.
Contundere virtutem, to suppresse vertue.
Cóntuor, ĕris, tútus, or tûtus sum, tui, to set or beholde diligently.
Contuósi oculi, eies lookyng narowly.
Conturbátio, ónis, fo. m. gene. a troublyng or disquietyng.
Conturbátor, óris, ma. g. one that troubleth or disquieteth, or that consumeth his goodes prodigally.
Conturbátus, a, um, troubled, disquieted.
Conturbo, áui, áre, to mingle or confounde, to trouble. also to spende in waste.
Conturbare fortunas, to spende all his goodes in waste.
Conturbare basia, to kisse so often, that one cã not numbre it, or kepe the compte. Catul.
Conturbare rationes, to spende all that he should haue made reckenyng of.
Contúsio, ónis, f. g. a pounyng or beatyng.
Contúsus, a, um, beaten, broken, punded, knocked.
Contútor, óris, ma. g. he that is tutour or gardian with an other.
Contus, i, mas. ge. a speare or longe pole. also a longe pole with yron at the ende, wherewith shypmen do gage the water, and shoue forth the vessell in shalowe places.

Conuador, ári, to compell one to fynde suerties to appeare at the date appoynted.
Conualéo, cónuales, uálui, ére, and Conualésco, scis, scere, to waxe stronge, to recouer helthe, to encrease or groowe.
Conualescunt opes, richesse increase.
Conualuit opinio, That opinion is greatly encreased amonge men.
Conuállis, lis, fo. ge. a valley, hauyng hylles on bothe sydes.
Conuáso, áui, áre, to trusse bagge and baggage, to gather by stealth.
Conuécto, áui, áre, frequentatiuum à conuého, to carry ofte.
Conuéctor, óris, ma. gen. a maryner that conueigheth ouer many, a passager.
Cónuehо, xi, ere, to carry or conueigh by carte, shyppe, or beaste.
Conuéllo, úlsi, llĕre, to shake or pul out of his place, to pluche vp all togither, to pluche vp by the rootes wholy, to diminysshe or abate, to trouble, to abolysshe or fordoo, to confute. also to take from one by robbery.
Conuellere gratiam, to bryng out of fauour or credence.
Conuellere repagula, atq; refringere valuas, to pull of the barres and boltes, and to breake open the gates.
Conuellere fundamenta, to shake the foundacions.
Conuellere vires, to abate ones strengthe, to make weake.
Cur ea, quæ mutare non possumus, conuellere malumus, quam tueri? why desire wee more to abolysshe or fordoe, or to speake against such thynges as we can not chaunge, than to defende theim?
Quæ conuelli non possunt, whiche thynges can not be confuted.
Conuellere aliquem de pristino statu, To trouble or disquiete.
Conuellere statum reipublicæ, to trouble the state of the common weale.
Conuellere aliquid alterí, to steale from one.
Conuélo, áui, áre, to couer, to lay a cloth ouer.
Cónuena, æ, com. ge. one of theim that commeth out of one countrete to dwell in an other.
Conuéniens, éntis, conuenient, mete, agreyng together. also comyng together.
Conuenienter, conuenientlye, agreably, to the poincte.
Conueniéntia, æ, fo. m. ge. a congruence. also comyng together of people, proporcion or agreableneſſe.
Conuenientia partium corporis, the apte proportion of the partes of the body.
Conuénio, cónueni, éni, íre, to come together, or to assemble in one place, to resorte to a place, to common or talke with, to be meete, to agender. sometyme onely to come. also to agree, to sewe at the lawe, to bryng in iudgement, so to accorde.

Conuenire sibi, to speake or doe one thynge still as he begonne.
Conuenit inter me atque hunc, It is agreed betwene hym and me, he and I be agreed.
De precio conuenit, we ar agreed of the price.
In manum conuenit, he is my wyfe,
Conuenire in manum, to be assured or betrouthed on the womans parte onely.
Conuenit, I am contented. also it is conuenient, meete or syttyng.
In urbem crebrò conuenio, I come often in to the citee.
Conuenire de re aliqua, to assemble together about a matter.
Conuenit mihi hoc tecum, In this that I speake, you and I agree.
Conuenit hoc ubi mecum, you and I agree in that that you doo speake, you be of myne opinion in this.
Nec locus nec sermo mihi conuenit cum eo, we agre neither of the place, nor yet the wordes that were spoken.
Ne inter consules quidem satis conueniebat, The consuls dyd not well agree betwene theim selues.
Conuenit inter eos ratio accepti atque expensi, They be agreed what was receyued, and what was layde out.
Pactò conuenit, It is agreed by couenaunt.
Id conuenerat signum, That was the signe or token that they agreed vpon.
Pax in conuenerat, or Conuenerat pax in has conditiones, The peace was concluded vpon these conditions.
Factum conuenit, they agree that it was done.
Conuenit numerus quantum debui, There is the full summe of that I ought you.
Conuenit in eum hæc suspitio, the mate bee well suspected for that matter.
Non conuenit in eum hæc contumelia, this reproche toucheth hym nothyng at all.
Conueniunt hæ vites ad, vel in quemuis agrum, These vines will proue well in all maner of grounds.
Cõuenit aliam ætatem, aliud factum. i. decet
Conuenit optime ad pedem cothurnus, the shyppe is as mete for the foote as mete be.
Conuenit in me quidquis harum rerum, Any of these thynges may be well spoken of me.
Conuenire aliquem, or Conuenire aliquem in ius, to conuent one or sewe hym in the lawe.
Conuenire aliquem, to talke or common with one.
Conueniebat in eam vaginam, the swoorde was mete for your sheethe.
Conuenibo, vsed of olde writers in the future tense.
Conuẽta, ôrum, couenauntes, agrementes.
Conuenta frangere, to breake couenantes.
Conuenticulum, li, n. g. a congregation, a litell assemble, most commonly for an yll purpose.
Conuẽtio, ônis, f. g. a couenaunt.
Conuẽto, âui, âre, to resorte or come often to a place.
Conuẽtus, us, mas. ge. an assemble of people, warned by the high officers commandement, a multitude of diuers people resortyng to one place. also a couenant.
Conuentus maximus, maye bee taken for a parlyament.
Conuentus iuridici, maye bee vsed for the foure termes.
Minores conuentus, sessions of the peace.
Conuentus & frequentia, Conuẽtus & turba.
Conuentus agere & celebrare, To holde or kepe assembles, as the sessions or sises.
Conuẽtus, a, um, accorded, commoned or talked with.
Conuenta pax, peace accorded.
Conuerbero, aui, are, to beate.
Conuẽrritor, ôris, mas. g. one that bruseth rubbeth or sweepeth.
Conuẽrro, uerri, and uersi, ere, to sweepe togeather into one place. Also to rubbe, to bruse, sometyme to strike or beate.
Conuersatio, ônis, f. ge. conuersation or familiaritee sometyme conuersion or tournyng.
Conuersè, cleanly.
Conuersio, ônis, fœ. ge. alteration or chaunge, a turnyng about.
Inclinatior conuersio, a swifter turnyng about.
Conuersio rerum, change and alteration.
Animorum conuersiones, reuolutions of yeres
Conuerso, aui, are, to tourne about.
Conuersor, atus sum, ari, to be conuersant.
Conuersus, a, um, tourned, conuerted, translated sometyme contrary.
Conuersa ad aquilonem spelunca.
Conuẽrto, uerti, ere, to conuerte, to tourne, to retourne, to chaunge or transforme, to trãslate.
Conuertere se in fugam, to renne awaie.
Conuertere se aliquo mente & cogitatione, to set his mynd and cogitation on a thyng.
Conuertere in seriam, quod per iocum dictum erat, to turne that to earnest, that was spoken in iest.
Conuertere homines in admirationem, to make men to meruaple.
Conuertit mentes militum, it changed hir.
Conuertit ætas tua septenos octies soles amplius, you be. lvi. yeres olde.
Conuertere hominem à consuetudine, To take a man to leaue his accustomed facion.
Exercitum conuertere, to muster and make a shewe of his army.
Conuertere ordinem, to chaunge.
Conuertere è Græco, to translate.
Gressus conuertere, to tourne backe again.
Conuertere ora & oculos in aliquem, To looke earnestly vpon one.
Conuertere se ad otium, to geue hym selfe to pdeneſſe.

Conuertitur animus ad ſenſum & nutum alterius, His mynde is fashioned to the wyl and becke of an other man.
Conuertere terga, to renne awaie.
Conuertere in beluam, to turne into a beaſt.
Conuertor, is vſed of Plautus for Conuerto.
Conueſtio, iui, ire, to apparaile or decke.
Conueſtiuntur herbis prata, The medowes are couered and furniſhed with herbes & graſſe
Conuexitas, atis, fœ. g. the crokednes and bending of the inſide of that whiche is holowe and turned downe.
Conuexo, aui, are, to vexe or trouble.
Conuexum, i, n. g. the crokenneſſe and roundneſſe of a thyng that is holowe, and tourned downeward.
Conuexus, a, um, rounde and holowe within, crouched & bending down round on euery ſide.
Cælum conuexum, the firmament crooked and bending downe rounde.
Cæli conuexa ueri, to loke vp in to the firmament, to loke vp to heauen,
Conuicinium, nij, n. g. a neighbourhode.
Conuictor, oris, ma. g. a daiely compygnion at table, or a daiely gueſt.
Conuictus, a, um, banquiſhed, ouercome.
Conuictus, us, ma. g. a liuyng together in hous, or at one table, ordinary fode, meate & drinke.
Conuictus & conſuetudo.
Conuictus & ſocietas.
Conuictum habere cum aliquo, to vſe or dis narely to be at meate and drinke with one.
Conuinco, uici, ere, idem quod Vinco, to ouercome, to proue manifeſtely.
Redargui & conuinci.
Conuincere leuitatis, to conuicte one of lightneſſe.
Conuinxio, onis, fœm. ge. a binding or linking together.
Conuiſo, uiſi, ſere, to go to ſee, to viſite.
Conuitiator, oris, m. g. he that ſpeaketh to mennes rebuke, a railer.
Conuitior, aris, ari, to ſpeake in reproche, to checke or taunte.
Conuitium, tij, n. g. or after ſome Conuicium, ch, a reproche or rebuke, a checke or taunte, a worde ſpoken to a mans rebuke.
Conuitium dicere, to ſpeake to a mās rebuke.
Conuitium facere, to doo a thynge to a mannes rebuke.
Dicere, fundere, ingerere conuitia, and Procindere conuitiis, conuitiis conſectari, to checke, to taunt, to raile.
Conuitium, is ſometyme vſed for Clamor, quaſi conuocium.
Conuiua, æ, com. ge. a bidden gueſt, he that is inuited or bidden to dyner or ſupper.
Conuiuam ſibi abducere, to bryng one to a dyner or banket.
Agere cōuiuam lætum, to be merri at the table.
Conuiuālis, le, pertainyng to feaſtes or bāketts.
Conuiuātor, oris, ma. ge. a feaſter or banketter.
Conuiuiones, compaignions at dyenyngs or banketting.
Conuiuium, uij, n. g. a feaſte or banket.
Agere & celebrare conuiuium, to kepe a great feaſt or banquette.
Mutua inter ſe conuiuia curare, to feaſte one an other.
Conuiuo, uixi, ere, to lyue, to lyue together, to be at meate and drynke together.
Conuiuor, aris, ari, to make a feaſt or banket, or to take meales with other men.
Conuiuari de publico, to make feaſtes at the charges of the common weale.
Conuocatio, onis, f. g. a callyng or aſſembling of many together, a conuocacion.
Cónuoco, aui, are, to call together, or to aſſemble many together.
Cónuolo, aui, are, to flee together, and by translacion, to ſpede, to make haſte.
Connóluo, lui, ere, to wrappe or wynde about a thyng, to tumble or rolle rounde.
Magno curſu verba conuoluere, to ſpeake thicke, to ſpeake ix. wordes at thryſe.
Conuóluolus, li, maſ. gen. a littell worme with many feete and hearye, that eateth the leaues of vynes.
Conuóluulus, or Conuólnolus, or Ciſſampelos, is an herbe, which hath a leafe like to yue, but muche thynner, and a floure lyke a lylly, and wyndeth about lyke a vyne, some hath white flowers, some violet, I ſuppoſe it to be withwynde, or byndwede.
Conuomo, ui, ere, to beſpue.
Conuomere lectum, to beſpue his bedde.
Conuóti, ſworne brethrene, or men makyng one auowe or promiſe.
Conus, i, maſc. ge. properly a ppne apple tree, by tranſlacion, it is a figure, in facion lyke a ppne apple. alſo the creſt of an helmet or ſalet.
Conuúlnero, aui, are, to geue one many woūdes.
Conuulſio, onis, fœm. g. the ſyckenneſſe in greke cald Spaſmos, which is an affect of the ſinewes and muſcles, wherin ſometyme all, ſometyme part of the body is drawen and ſtretched, will he or no that ſuffereth. If it be in part of the body, it is called in engliſh the cramp: If it be in all the body, it hath yet no name in engliſh, becauſe it happeth ſeldom.
Conuulſiones, pryckynge ache, or ſhootynge ache, ſuche as is in the ſicke ſtomake, or in a woūnde.
Conuúlſus, a, um, plucked vp wholly by the rote, taken with the crampe, pulled or ſhaken.
Quaſy conuulſa robora terra, And great trees plucked vp by the rote earth and all.
Conyza, called of ſome Cimicaria, commonly Pulicaris, an herbe, wherof be two kyndes: the bygger, called alſo Cumilago, hath a ſtalke ii. cubites hygh: the leſſe onely a foote hygh: bothe bothe haue leaues like the olyue, heary and hatry, like Conira.

Coons, the eldest sonne of Intenor.

Coopérculum, li, n. g. a couer.

Coopério, coóperis, pérui, íre, to couer or ouer whelme.

Cooperire aliquem lapidibus, to stone one to deathe.

Coopértus, a, um, couered, ouerwhelmed.

Coopertus flagitiis, ouerwhelmed with lewdenesse.

Coopertus miseriis, ouerpressed with mysseryes.

Cooptátio, ónis, f. ge. a chooslynge in to a place, or roume.

Coopto, aui, are, to chooke & geue place to one in a colledge: to take choise of thynges equall, or almoste equall.

Coórior, oríris, or óreris, coortus sum, íri, to aryse vp from many places and costes together, to assayle or set vpon.

Coórtur tempestas, the tempest aryseth.

Coórtur pestilentia, beginneth.

Coos, vel Cos, vel Co, vel Coum, the name of an yle nygh to the Rhodes.

Copæ, arum, a cuttee of the Beeotians.

Copen, olde writers vsed for copiosum, plentuous.

Cophantis, an hylle of Bactria, in India, which euer burneth.

Cophes, a ryuer in India.

Cóphinus, i. m. g. a basshette, or panier.

Copi for Copioso.

Copia, æ, fœ. g plentie, abundance, eloquence, power, leaue, or licence, multitude. also aide, ryches, substaunce. An armye of souldiours. sometyme prouision of thynges necessarie, victuayles.

Copiam dare, to geue power or licence. also to geue occasion.

Copia est. Nam apud patrem tua amica tecum sine meum vt sit, copia est, For thou mayst nowe bryng to passe, that thy wenche maie be with thy father without any dreade.

Copia est, I maie or mought.

Copia est illi in ocio viuere, he may lyue.

Ego in eum incidi infœlix locum, vt neque eius sit amittendi, nec retinendi copia, I am vnhappily come to that poynct, that I maie neyther leaue hir nor kepe hir.

Copia vix fuit eum adeundi, with great difficultee or peyne mought I come to hym.

Copia commodi non est tibi, Thou haste no leysure to tary, or to stande lingering about the matter.

Copiam aliam quærere, to seeke for other aide.

Copia est tibi magis, thou mayst more easily.

Copia nulla est tibi in illo, he can nothynge helpe the.

Copiam efficere alicui, to fynde the meanes that one maie come in.

Copiam facere argenti, to lende one money.

Copiam facere, to communicate any thynge with an other.

Copiam pugnæ facere, to bryng forth his armie, that his enemies may fight if they will.

Copiam facere consilij sui, to admitte euerie man that will come to aske hym counsaile.

Copiam scientiæ suæ facere alicui, to communicate his science or knowlage.

Opes copiæ, substance and riches.

Vbertas in dicendo, & copia, flowyng eloquence.

Copiæ pedestres, an armye of footemen.

Nauales copiæ.

Pro copia, as muche as I am able, as much as shall lye in my power.

Pro copia & sapientia, accordyng to our power and wisedome.

In angustum oppidò nunc meæ coguntur copiæ, All the helpe or succour that I haue is nowe brought into a verie narowe streicte.

Exigua amicorum copia, very few frendes.

Copiæ cornu, was the horne of a gote, with whose mylke Jupiter was nourished in Creta, of two maidens, Idæa and Ida, daughters of Melisseus, which horne Jupiter gaue to his saide nurses in rewarde, hauing therwith this cõmoditee, That what so euer thynge they wysshed for, it should abundauntly come out of that horne wherof came a prouerbe, whan men woulde declare plentie of any thinge, they signifie it in these two woordes, Copiæ cornu.

Copiola, æ, f. g. a diminutiue of Copia.

Cópior, áris, ári, to bee well stored of thynges.

Copiosé, abundauntly, plentifully.

Copiosé & abundanter Largé & copiosé.

Copiosé aliquo proficisci, to goe to a place with a great traine or company.

Copiósus, a, um, plentuous, abundant, ryche hauing great knowlage or eloquence.

Vrbs celebris & copiosa, a cuttee greatly frequented and full of people.

Amplum & copiosum. Lautum & copiosum.

Tenuis & copiosus victus, contrary.

Doctus & copiosus homo, a man of great learnyng and eloquence.

Copis, plentuous.

Copo, onis, idem quod caupo.

Copóna, æ, a tauerne or victualyng house, or the woman that keepeth the victualyng house.

Copra, æ, f. g. a hynde of cakes.

Cópula, æ, fœ. g. a couplyng or ioygnyng together, couples or fetters.

Copulatè, in couples, or as it were ioygned together.

Copulátio, ónis, fœ. ge. a couplyng or ioygnyng together.

Copulatiuus, a, um, that coupleth or may couple together.

Copulâtus, a, um, coupled, ioygned together.

Naturæ copulatum, conuenient, or agreable to nature.

Cópulo, aui, are, to couple together, to bynde or topgne together.

Copulare concordiam, to reconcyle, to make at one.

Coquina, æ, f. g. a kytchyn.

Coquinária, æ, f. g cookery.

Coquinarius, i, m. g. he that selleth meate ready dopled.

Coquinárius, a, um, pertaynyng to cookery.

Coquinor, áris, ári, to doe the office of a cooke, to plaie the cooke.

Coquinus, a, um, idem quod Coquinarius.

Cóquito, aui, are, to bople often.

Coquo, coxi, ĕre, to seeth or bople, to make ripe, to make readie, to dygest, to trouble or vere.

Coquuntur fructus, quando perfecte maturescunt.

Coquere ex oleo, to seeth in ople.

Coquere lateres, to make bricke.

Æstas coquit glebas, maketh drie.

Coquere bellum, to prepare or proupde for warre prisely.

Coquit me illud, that troubleth me greatly.

Coquit me cura, care and heapnesse consumeth me, or maketh me ppne awaie, or doeth sore vere and greue.

Coquus, qui, m. g. a cooke.

Cor, órdis, ne. ge. the hert, somtyme it is taken for the mynde.

✠ Cor ne edito, Doe not tourment thy mynde with care and heauinesse. it was one of Pythagoras counsaples.

Stupor cordis, dulnesse or heauinesse of spirite and courage.

Alto de corde, from the bottome of the hert.

Cordi est mihi, It pleaseth me well, it delyteth me.

Vterq; vtriq; cordi est, ethe of them loue other hertily.

Patrio corde, with a fatherly affection.

Æquo ferre corde, to take pacientlp.

Micat cor timore, the herte panteth.

Cora, a citee that Dardanus buplded, of the whiche the inhabitaunces are called Corani.

Coracesius, a part of the hill Taurus.

Coracini, people of Asia.

Coracinus, a, um, of a crow or rauen.

Coracinus color, a blacke colour.

Coracinus, a certayne sea fissche, or rather of the ryuer Nylus. Plu. li. 9.

Corállium, lij, n. g. a stone called corall, whiche beyng in the sea, is a tree or busshe: And out of the water becometh a stone. Solinus wryteth, that it chaungeth his colour out of the water. It is founde (as Hermolaus wryteth) in the redde sea, in the Persian sea, about Sicile, in the north sea, about the yles Orchades. While it is in the water, it is greene of colour. Aucen affirmeth, that there be three kyndes thereof, whyte, redde, and blacke, also that it is colde in the fyrste degree, and drie in the seconde. But Constantine saieth, it is colde in the seconde degree.

Coraloachates, a stone with golden raies.

Coram, before, openly, in presence.

Coram me præsente dixisset, He should haue saied so before me, whan I was present.

Coram in os laudare, to praise one to his face.

Coram ante oculos adducere, to bring before ones face.

Coram ex ipso audiebamus, we herd him selfe speake it, when we were with him.

Coram, sometyme here in this place.

Corambla, æ, or Coramble, es, f. g. an herbe that maketh the eies dulshe and weake of sight.

Corax, a learned man of Sicile, who wrate first of rhetorike. also an hyll in Sarmatia, and a ryuer rennyng out of the hill Caucasus.

Corax, âcis, m. g. a rauen.

Coraxi, people of Colchis.

Coraxicus, a part of the hyll Taurus.

Corbis, is, f. g. or after Priscian the mas. ge. a basshette or panier.

Corbis messoria.

Corbita, tæ, fœ. ge. a great shyppe, very slow in sayling.

✠ Corbitam dare, a prouerbe, signifying to helpe one slowly.

Corbito, áui, áre, to lade a great shyppe: And by translation to gourmandyse and fyll ones bealie.

Corbona, the treasure of the temple amonge the Iewes.

Córbula, æ, f. g. or Córbulum, li, n. g. a litell basshette, a panier or maunde.

Corcâlis, lis, a certayne precioust stone.

Corcholipis, a kynde of apes, whiche hath a tayle.

Córchorus, ri, m. g. or Córchoron, n. g. a wylde herbe called chickewede.

✠ Corchorus inter olera, Jacke will be a gentleman. A prouerbe, noting one that is of no estimacion, and yet will be counted amonge the wyseste.

Córculum, sweete hert. Also wyse men were so called amonge the Romayns.

Corcyra, ræ, f. g. an yle in Greece.

Corcyreus, a, um, one of that yle.

Cordapsus, a sickenesse that is now called Illiacus, whiche is a payne in the gutts.

Cordatè, wysely, discretely.

Cordâtus, a, um, wyse, discrete, of an honest mynde and good iudgement.

Cordatus homo, a wittie man, and of great memorie.

Cordilio, a stoike philosopher, so seuere, that he contemned the acquentaunce and frendshyp of kynges and great princis.

Cordilla, or Cordyla, the ponge frie of the fisshe called Tunie.

Cordiſtæ, a certaine nacion, that abhorreth gold, neyther will they bringe it into theyr region, nor ſuffre other wo be ſpoyled of it.

Cordólium, lij, n. g. ſorow, griefe at the hert, an hert ſore.

Corduba, a citee in Spayne.

Cordus, one of the maiſters of Alexander Seueras: alſo an hiſtoriographer.

Cordus, a, um, that thyng, the whiche ſpryngeth and cometh late in the yere.

Cordi agni, latewarde lambes.

Cordum fœnum, latewarde haie.

Coreſa, an plande in Greece.

Corgo, olde writers vſed for Profectò.

Coria, órum, neu. ge. are in buyldyng certayne ſetting and laying of thynges in one order, eyther in heyght or in thickeneſſe, rewes, laynes, or courſes.

Coriacéſia, a certeyne herbe.

Coriaceus, a, um, of leather.

Coriágo, ginis, fœ. gen. the ſickeneſſe of cattail whan they are clounge, that their ſkynnes do ſtreyne faſt to their bodies, hyde bounde.

Coriándrum, dri, n. ge. the herbe and ſeede called Coriander, or Colander.

Coriánum, idem.

Coriárius, rij, m. g. a tanner, or rozier. alſo a certayne herbe vſed to tanne lether.

Corius, æ, a certayne fyſhe.

Coriátum, riati, neut. gene. a thynge made of leather.

Corice, two yles by Peloponeſus.

Corinium, a towne of Dalmatia, called nowe Corniton. Alſo a towne in England, called Claudioceſtria, Glocester.

Corinnus, a poete, whiche wrote of Troie bekore Homere.

Coriolus, adis, an herbe called alſo Menais.

Coriolus, and Coriniacus, a, um, that whiche is of the citee of Corinthus.

Corinthia vaſa, plate of the mettall of Corinthe, whiche was a mixte mettall.

Corinthus, a citee in Acaia, whiche was in that part of Grece, whiche is nowe called Morea, wherof came a prouerbe.

✠ Non eſt cuiuſlibet Corinthum appellere, It is not in euery mans power to attaine at Corinthus, whiche dooeth ſignifie, it pertayneth not to euery man to attempte thynges dangerous, or harde to atchieue.

Coriolanus, a noble man of Rome.

Corioli, a towne of Latium.

Corion, rij, neu. g. an herbe called alſo Cypericon, Androcemon, and of ſome Herba perforata, commonly Herba ſancti Ioannis, ſeinct Johns woorte. It is alſo diuers other herbes, as apereth in Dioſc. li. 3. ca. 171. 172. &c.

Coriſcus, a ſhyght darte lyke an arowe.

Coriſus, ri, m. g. a bowe caſe.

Coritus, an hyll of Theſſaly, and a kynge, on whoſe wyfe Jupiter begat Dardanus.

Córium, rij, n. ge. the ſkynne of a beaſt, leather, and in buildyng, it is a courſe of bricke, ſtone, or other matter.

✠ Canis aſſuetus corio, A prouerbe, ſignifying that one ones rooted in naughtyneſſe, can neuer be withdrawen.

Corna, næ, the name of two citees.

Cornelia, the proper name of diuers noble women, of whiche one was ſyſter to Scipio, mother to Tyberius Gracchus, and Caius Gracchus, who beyng men of excellent eloquence in the latine tounge, were taughte onely of their ſaied mother. This woman was of a meruelous temperaunce For on a tyme beyng in cõpany with other ladies of Rome, (beholdyng hir meane apparaile) was demanded, if ſhe had no better rayement: She pointyng to hir two ſoonnes, which than wente bekore hir, anſwered: Lo here is my freſhe apparaile, wherin I delite.

Cornelius, a proper name of diuers noble Romayns, of whom mencion ſhall bee made in their ſurnames.

Corneſco, neſcis, eſcere, to ware hard as horn.

Corneolus, a diminutiue of Cornus.

Cornétum, ti, neu. gen. a groue where the trees Cornus groowe.

Córneus, a, um, of or lyke horne. Alſo of the woodde Cornus.

Córnicen, nicinis, m. g. a blower in an horne.

Cornicor, aris, ari, to make a chatteryng lyke a though, or to gape for a prayer, as Erasmus dooeth expounde it.

Cornícula, læ, fœ. gen. a diminutiue of Cornix, a though.

Cornicularius, a certayne office in armes conteryng capitall ſentences.

Corniculum, a littell horne alſo after ſome, a certayne geſte geuen to ſouldiours. it was ſometyme a towne in Italy.

Cornificius, a lerned man in the tyme of Saluſt.

Cornigenus, a, um, of the kynde whiche hath hornes.

Córniger, ra, rum, horned, all thynge that beareth hornes.

Córnipes, pédis, om. gene. that hath an hards houfe or horne on their feete.

Cornix, nicis, f. g. a byrde called a crowe.

✠ Cornicum oculos configere, to pricke out the crowes eies. A prouerbe vſed whã we wold ſignifie, that one with a newe deuyſe, had obſcured the doctrine or eſtimacion of them, whiche had been afore hym, and had made them to ſeme, they knewe or ſawe nothyng. It may be alſo ſaied, where one man wolt make all other men blynde, that haue been bekore hym, and dooeth reproue or diſſolue that, whiche hath been allowed by wiſe men.

Cornicibus ſuperſtes, ſpoken prouerbially of one that is longe lyued.

Cornu, vndeclined, Cornum, ni, n. g and Cor-nus, nus, ma. gen. a hoꝛne: by tranſlation the coꝛneꝛs and wyndynges of ryuers. Alſo the two wynges of a battayle bee called Dextrum cornu, and Siniſtrum cornu.

Cornua antemnarum, the endes of the ſayle pardes.

Cornucopiæ, an hoꝛne that Hercules plucked from Achelous, whiche hoꝛne the nymphes oꝛ immoꝛtall ladies filled with ſweete floures and fruites: There is beſoꝛe an other opinion thereof.

Cornúpeta, a beaſt that ſtriketh with his hoꝛnes.

Cornus, nus, oꝛ Cornus, ni, f. g. a tree called in frenche Yng Coꝛneiller, of this be .ii. ſoꝛtes, the male and the female: the male is not in England, and therfoꝛe hath no Engliſh name, vnleſſe ye will call it longe cherie tree. The female is a tree, that ſome bouchers make pꝛicks of, and is in Englande, of ſome called dogge tree, oꝛ garten tree.

Cornum, ni, n. g. the fruite of Cornus, called Corneillies in frenche, which be like to oliues, but they be redde, and ſomewhat longer.

Cornûtus, a, um, that whiche hath hoꝛnes.

✠ Cornutam beſtiam pers, Thou ſetteſt on an hoꝛned beaſt: A pꝛouerbe, ſpoken of one, which pꝛouoketh him, of whom he is lyke to haue the woꝛſe.

Cornutus, the name of a learned man in the time of Nero.

Coracbus, lyke Chorabus.

Corolla, læ, f. g. a litteli crowne oꝛ garlande of flowers.

Corollárium, rij, n. g. an addition oꝛ aduaun-tage. alſo Corollaria be certayne gyftes geuen at feaſtes, oꝛ to people when they beholde com-mon plates.

Coron, wilde rue.

Coróna næ, f. g. a crowne, a garlande, a chaplet, a company of people ſtandyng rounde like a cir-cle alſo the circle about the moone.

Coronæ militares, garlandes of dyuerſe ſoꝛtes: One (named Triumphalis) was fyꝛſt of laurel oꝛ baye leaues, afterwarde of golde, which the chiefe capitayne ware on his heade, whan he had the whole victoꝛy againſt his enemies, and his ſeruauntes dyd weare garlandes of oliue. An other (called Obſidionalis) was geuen to the chiefe capitayne, whan he had reyſed a ſiege, laied about any of theyꝛ townes oꝛ foꝛtreſſes, and that garlande was of the graſſe growynge in the place, where the ſiege was laied. An other (called Ciuica) was of holly, beinge euer greene, wouen with oken leaues: this garlande was geuen to him, which had ſaued a Romayne from takyng, fightyng valiantly foꝛ him. Mu-ralis, was geuen to him that fyꝛſte ſcaled the walles inaulgre the enemies: and therefoꝛe it was made lyke vnto batylmentes. Caſtrenſis, was geuen to him, whiche fyꝛſt by foꝛce entred the campe of the enemies. Naualis, was put on his head, whiche in battayle on the ſea, fyꝛſt boꝛded the ſhyppe that was aſſayled. Oualis, was woꝛne of the chiefe capitayne, whan the vi-ctoꝛy was without ſhedyng of bloud, oꝛ that the battaile lacked his circumſtance in the appoint-ment. Muralis, Caſtrenſis, and Naualis, were of golde: Oualis, was of the litte! ſweete buſhe called Myrtus.

Coróna, was alſo a certayne ſygne, whiche ſer-uauntes (ſette to be ſolde) vſed to weare. alſo the ſygne of Ariadne in the firmament, whiche hath ix. ſterres in foꝛme of a crowne. it is alſo the water table oꝛ coppyng of a wall.

Coronaméntum, ti, n. g. roſes, violettes, and other floures, wheꝛof garlandes be made.

Coronárius, ria, he oꝛ ſhe that maketh crownes oꝛ garlandes.

Coronárius, a, um, that belongeth to garlandes oꝛ crownes.

Coronâtus, a, um, crowned, oꝛ wearyng a gar-lande.

Corone, a towne in Greece in the parties now named Morea.

Coroneola, a hynde of roſes.

Coronea, a citee in Bœotia, where no molles bꝛede, if any bee bꝛought thither, he dyeth.

Corónis, nidis, f. ge. the noſe of a ſhippe alſo an ende, the extreme part, the toppe of a thyng, the hoꝛne oꝛ other lyke. ſometyme the concluſion, oꝛ that, whiche dooeth finiſhe.

Vſque ad coronidem, euen to the end.

Coronis, the daughter of Leucippus, on whom Apollo begatte Eſculapius.

Coróno, nâui, are, to crowne, oꝛ ſette a crowne oꝛ garlande on ones head.

Corónopus, an herbe, whiche by the deſcripcion of Dioſcoꝛides and Theophꝛaſtus, ſom ſup-poſe to bee Dent de Leon, other, herbe Jue, oꝛ crowfoote, wey bꝛead Fuſchius ſaieth, it is ſom-tyme called Cornucerutinum, Pes cornicis, and Sanguinaria, becauſe it ſtynteth bleedyng. Ruellius, after the mynde of Leonicen⁹ ſaieth, it is named Capreola, Dens canis, & ſomtime Sanguinaria, becauſe it pꝛouoketh bleedyng.

Coróphium, a hynde of crabbe fyſhe.

Corporâlis, le, coꝛpoꝛall.

Corporátio, ónis, and Corporatûra, ræ, the quantitee, ſtate, oꝛ facion of the body, coꝛpoꝛa-ture, coꝛpulencie.

Corporâtus, a, um, coꝛpoꝛate.

Corpóreus, a, um, that is of a bodily ſubſtaunce.

Córporo, aui, are, to hyll.

Córporor, aris, ari, to bee facioned oꝛ made a bodye.

Corpuléntia, æ, f. g. coꝛpulencie, fleſhynes.

Corpuléntus, a, um, coꝛpulent oꝛ groſſe in bo-die, fleſhy.

Corpus, córporis, neu. ge. a bodie. ſometyme it ſignifieth but fleſhe onely: ſometyme all maner of ſubſtaunce. alſo a whole felowſhyp oꝛ compa-ny, oꝛ a multitude of people: ſometyme a vo-lume lume or tome of a booke.

Vires & corpus amisi, I haue lost my strength, and haue nothing on me but skyn and bones.
Habitus corporis, the fourme and plighte of the body, or the complexion.
Corpore vitiari, they that lacke som membre at their natiuitee.
Corpus arboris, the body of a tree.
Corpus reipublicæ, the whole common weale.
Generalia corpora, the fower elementes.
Prima corpora, idem.
Corpusculum, li, n. g. a littell or small bodie.
Corrâdo, rási, dere, to shaue or scrape, to take away, spoile, sell, or alienate, to scrape together.
Correctio, ônis, f. g. a correction, amendement, a redresse. also a figure of rhetorike.
Corrector, óris, ma. g. a correctour or amender of faultes.
Corrépo, répsi, répere, idem quod Repo.
Correptor, óris, m. g. he that taketh or plucketh a thyng to hym.
Correptus, a, um, taken, attached.
Corrideo, rísi, ridere, to laugh with other.
Corrigia, æ, fœm. g. a thonge of leather, a lachet of a shoe.
Corrigiola, læ, f. g. an herbe, whiche renneth on the grounde lyke grasse, but it hath leaues lyke rewe, somewhat longer and softer, vnder the whiche the seede springeth, and hath flowres partely white partely redde Manardus saieth, it hath leaues lyke to an asshe, and therfore is called Fraxinella.
Corrigo, rexi, rigere, to correcte or amende, to straighten, to make right, to redresse.
Corrigere aliquem ad frugem, to amende one, and make hym honest and thrifty.
Corrigere & Deprauare, contrary.
Corrigere & emendare.
Corrigia, æ, fœm. ge. a tree, hauing a leafe like Box tree. Pli. lib. 13. cap. 22. the fruite of it is called Pappus.
Corripio, córripis, pui, pĕre, to rebuke, properly it is to take a thynge quickely and with hast, to shorten.
Corripere sese ad aliquã, to go to one hastily.
Corripere sese intrò, to enter in hastily.
Corripere se repentè, to go his way sodenly.
Corripitur febre, he is taken with a feuer.
Corripitur somno, he is faste a sleape.
Cursum corripere, to sette a rennyng hastily.
Corripere morsu, to byte.
Gradum corripere, to go a pace.
Viam corripere, to take the waye and goe forwarde.
Tanto celerius viam corripiemus, we wyll take our waie, and go so muche the faster.
Corriuales, they whiche doo loue together one woman.
Corriuare, is properly of beastes, to go together to watryng.
Corriuátio, ônis, fœm. g. a rennyng together in forme of a ryuer.
Corriuor, âris, ári, is of waters, whan they of small brookes doo become ryuers.
Corriuátus, a, um, the adiective.
Corróboro, áui, âre, to make stronge or bygge, to harden.
Corroborâtus, a, um, made stronge or bygge, hardened.
Corródo, rósi, ródere, to gnawe about.
Corrósus, a, um, gnawen about.
Córrogo, áui, âre, to gather together, to desyre earnestly.
Corrotundo, aui, are, to make rounde.
Corrúda, dæ, f. g. an herbe called wilde sperage.
Corrugi, forowes made in hilles, to conueighe water to washe the owre of mettall.
Corrúgo, aui, are, to wrinkle.
Corrugare frontem, to frowne.
Corrugatus, a, um, wrinkled.
Corrumpo, rupi, rumpere, to corrupte, to marre to viciate, to destroie, to suborne, to tempt or procure by gestes.
Corrumpere aliquem ex optimo, of a verey honest man to make a verey naughtie pack.
Corrumpere igni, to bourne vp.
Corrumpere opportunitates, to lose opportunitee or occasion.
Corrumpere rem familiarem, to waste his substance.
Fontes corrumpere, to infecte.
Corrumpere & Deprauare.
Corruptela, læ, f. ge. any thyng that corrupteth or defileth, corruption or defilyng.
Corruptè, corruptly.
Corrúptio, ônis, a corruption.
Corrúptor, óris, ma. ge. a destroier, a waster, a corrupter of thynges.
Corruptrix, tricis, the feminine.
Corrúptus, pta, tum, corrupted, destroyed, viciate, rotten.
Video corruptum hic ex adolescente optimo, I see hym here of a verey honeste ponge man to be cleane changed, and become naught.
Corrumpi situ, to moulde and ware hore.
Córruo, rui, ruere, to falle downe together, to fall greuously, to faile or erre.
Corruerunt opes, the gooddes were wasted.
Risu corrui, I coulde not stand for laughyng.
Cors, cortis, idem quod Chors, a courte.
Corsoides, a certayne stone.
Corsica, an yle in the midle sea, betweene Sean and the yle of Sardinia called Cors, it is now vnder the citee of Sean.
Corsicum mare, the sea about the yle of Cors.
Cortex, córticis, m. & f. g. a rynde or barke.
Corticula, læ, a littell rynde or barke.
Corticâtus, ta, tum, haupnge a rynde or barke.
Corticôsus, a, um, that hath a thycke barke or rynde.
Cortina, næ, f. ge. a dyers watte. also it is a table of Apollo, from the whiche he gaue answere.

Cato taketh it for a veſſell, out of the whiche oyle is lette renne. Alſo that whiche is called a courtepy of lynnen cloth or ſylke. alſo a pan or kettell, wherin water was hette.

Cortina, a citee of Creta.

Cortinâle, lis, neu. g. the place where veſſels bee ſette, wherin wyne and hony be ſodden.

Cortinon, radyſshe ſeede.

Cortona, a citee in Tuſcane.

Cortyna, or Gortyna, a citee in the yle of Candy.

Corus, ri, ma. ge. the weſterne wynde northweſt and by weſt.

Corus, vox hebraica, a certayne meaſure, comprehendyng (as Joſephus and Budæi witnes) one and fortie Medimnos Atticos, euerie Medimnum conteinyng fyue Romane Modios, of our meaſure. 738. galons: which differeth farre from the opinion of Hierome vpõ Eſay, eſteemyng Corum, at thirtie Romane Modios.

Coruncanus, a Romayn, whiche fyrſte of any of the common people was made high biſhop.

Coruſco, aui, are, to brandiſh or glitter, to ſhine.

Coruſcare mucronem, to brandiſhe a ſword.

Coruſcus, a, um, that gliſtereth or ſhineth, that is brandyſhed, or that ſhaketh.

Syluæ coruſcæ, trees ſhakyng and trembleyng with the wynde.

Coruinus, a, um, of a crowe.

Coruinus, the name of a noble oratour. reade in Meſſala.

Coruis, a place in Theſſaly, into the whiche trãſgreſſours were hurled downe headlong.

Coruus, ui, m. g. a rauen or crow. alſo a certayne fiſſhe.

Coruus crocitat, the rauen crieth.

Coruos in cruce paſcere, to be meate for crowes, to be hanged on a gibbet.

Corybantes, the prieſtes of the ydole Cybeles, whiche as madde men, wagyng theyr heades and daunſyng, playyng on cimballes, ranne about the ſtreetes, prouokynge other to doo the ſemblable.

Corybântius, a, um, perteinyng to the ſacrifices of thoſe prieſtes.

Corybas, antis, the ſonne of Jaſon and Cybeles.

Corycia, a promontory in Crete, and an hauen in Aethiope.

Corycides, the ſurname of the Muſes of an hyll or denne in Pernaſus by Delphis, called Corycius.

Corycium, cij, neut. gene. a gardeniaundes, wallette, or ſcrippe, or other lyke thyng to putte in vitayles.

Corycon, a promontory or elbow of Pamphilia, vnder the whiche, the citee Italea is ſituate.

Corycos, or Corycus, the name of a mountayne and citee in Sicile, by the which is a caue called Corycius.

Corycus, a mountayne and hauen of Pamphilia, of the which certayne rouers on the ſea were named Corycæi, whoſe kalſehode in beggyng the marchauntes reſortyng thyther, is growen to a prouerbe: and of theim all craftie and wyly ſpies and ſerchers out of matters are called Coricæi.

Corycæus auſcultauit, a prouerbe, ſpoken, whan a thyng greatly diſſembled and kept ſecrete, is by ſome ſpie diſcloſed.

Corydalus, li, f. g. a certayne byrde, after ſome larke. alſo the herbe Capnon.

Corydon, a ſhepardes name in Theocrite and Virgill.

Corydus, a byrde of ſmall eſtimation, whiche longeth not, but chattereth. alſo the name of a paraſite.

Corylêtum, ti, n. g. a groue of haſils.

Corylus, li, f. g. an haſill and an haſyll nutte, or filberde.

Corymbe, bes, idem quod Coramble.

Corymbethra, Jute. Dioſc.

Corymbion, bij, the herbe called Lychnis coronaria. Dioſc.

Corymbios. i. hædera alba. Barbar. in Corol.

Corymbus, bi, m. g. a beary of puy, or other, whiche doe grow in the ſame fourme. Corymbus, or Corymbum, is alſo the ſtemme of a thyppe, and the fruite or beary of the herbe called Chryſóchoma.

Corymbifer, bifera, um, that beareth bearies.

Corymbites, tæ, a kynde of ſpurge.

Coryneéphoros, he that beareth a clubbe.

Coryphæus, phæi, m. g. the chiefe in euery order, or in knowlage.

Corythus, a towne in Tuſcan, nere to Arretium.

Corytus, ti, m. g. a bowe caſe, or a quiuer for arrowes.

Córyza, the poſe or diſtillacion out of the hed into the eis and noſe.

Cos, lohe Coos.

Cos, cotis, f. g. a whette ſtone.

Coſinéta, tæ, com. g. a chaumberer, a man or woman that apparaileth their maiſtreſſe.

Coſmiana vnguenta, verie ſweete oyles named of Coſmus.

Cóſmicus, a, um, worldely, or of the worlde.

Coſmitto, for commito.

Coſmographia, æ, the deſcripcion of the worlde.

Coſmógraphus, phi, m. g. he that deſcribeth the worlde.

Coſmus, mi, the worlde.

Coſmus, mi, a propre name.

Coſſa, a towne of Umbria.

Coſsim, idem quod Coxim.

Coſſus, ſi, m. g. a worme breddе in trees, which the people of Phrygia dyd eate for a delicate meate. alſo a man or woman, that haue theyr bodies riueled or full of wrinkles. Plinie hath Coſſes in the plurall numbre.

Coſſus, a Romayne.

Coſta, æ, f. ge. a rybbe.

Coſtæ nauium, the ſides of ſhyppes.

Coſtæ aheni, the ſides of a caudron.

Co-

Costãrius, a, um, that hath rybbes.
Costum, o; Costus, an herbe, called commonly Cocus, and Herba Mariæ: it hath but one stalke, half a cubite hyghe, and leaues lyke Betayn, sauynge that they be thynner, and more sauoure, reade Plin. lib. 12. cap. 11. It is also a straunge herbe, wherof be. iii. kyndes, Arabicum, Indicum, Syriacum.
Cosyra, or Cosura, an yle in Affrike.
Cotúrni, æ, f. ge. a quarrie, where whette stones be founden.
Cothurnus, ni, ma. g. a kynd of buskyns to hunt in, whiche myght indifferently be put on either legge. also a slypper, specially high soled. Some tyme it is taken for a player in tragedies: some tyme for a tragedie: and for an high and arrogant fourme of speakyng or writyng.
Cothurnátus, a, um, that weareth suche a buskyn or slypper, or vseth a tragicall maner in writyng or speakyng.
Cotícula, læ, fœ. gen. not a litle whet stone, but a touche stone, to trie goulde or syluer.
Cotídie, dayly, daie by daie.
Coúe, the Alpes.
Coúlo, a kyng of the Danes.
Coton, an haben made with stone. also a towne in Syria, of the whiche a certayne kynde of small pegges are called plurally Cotona, Cotona, or Conona.
Cotónea, æ, f. g. a quince tree.
Cotóneum, nei, neu. g. a quince: also an herbe, whiche the frenche men call Halum.
Cotta, an oratour of Rome, greatly commended of Tullie.
Cótubo, bi, the sounde, whiche a stroke maketh vpon any thyng, a clappe.
Cotona, looke Coton.
Coule, the coddes or shales of the pulse Cicer.
Cótula, an herbe, which hath leaues lyke Camomill, and a yelow floure like to an oreyle. Of this be diuers kyndes, one is called Buphthalmos, an other Cotula fœtida, whiche hath a white flower.
Cotula, a measure, looke Cotyla.
Cotúrnix, nícis, fœ. ge. a byrde, called a quayle, whiche (as Plinie and Solinus wryte) appereth not vntill the ende of Sommer, and than they flee ouer the sea easily without makynge hast: and when they perceyue lande, they assemble in flockes, & flee muche faster. They wryte also, that these byrdes doo feede on seedes of venemous herbes, and therfore in the old tyme they were not eaten of wyse men: For that byrde hath the falling euel. Aucen, Galene, and Lucretius affirme, that this byrde feedeth on the herbe Elleborus, or Veratrum, whiche of it selfe is venemous: all be it physicions geue it sometyme for the purgacion of melancolie. Aurelius writeth, that eatyng of quailes is to be feared, lest therby maie be ingendred the crampe, and lothenesse called Tetanus.

Cótyla, or Cotyle, a measure, whiche after the saying of Galene, was in some place. xii ounce measures, in some place. xvi. Julius Pollux saieth, it is the thyrde parte of Chœnix: that whiche is called Georgica, or pertepunge to husbandry, receyueth in weight of wyne. i. lib. and halfe an ounce: of oyle. xi. ounces, of honye. i. li. di, and. vi drammes: of our measure a pynte and one ounce. That which is called Veterinaria, or belongynge to horse leches, is in measure. xii. pyches, and conteyneth of wyne. xi. ounces, and ii. scriples, one obolum, and one siliqua: of oyle. x. ounces: of honye. i. lib. iiii. ounces di one dramme, and one scriple: It is of our measure iuste halfe a pynte.
Cotyla, called also Hemina, a measure after Budei, beyng halfe sextarius, conteinyng in weight xii. ounces. If sextarius be but. xviii. ounces, or xx. as physicions doe take it, then is Cotyla, but halfe therof. The length and bredth of this measure (as Galian describeth it) is. iii. inches, the depth only. ii. inches, whiche conteineth the weight of a pound Romane in wyne or water.
Cotyla, is also a vessell or cuppe to drinke of, suche as Diogenes vsed, before he learned of a chylde to drynke out of his hande.
Cótyle, cotyles, f. g. sometyme signifieth all the holownesse of a cup. also the ioinct of a mans thigh. Graf saith, that Cotyle in greke, among many other thinges, signifieth the holow parte of the hande.
Cotylédon, lédonis, f. ge. the herbe called Vmbelicus Veneris.
Cotylum, a place in the mountayne of Ida, out of the whiche renneth thre great riuers, Schamander, Granicus, and Æsopus.
Cotys, a kynge of Thrace, whiche in the ciuile warre fauoured the part of Pompeie.
Couinus, ni, m. g. a maner of charpot.
Couinarius eques, an horse man that fought leapyng out of a chariot vnto an horse backe.
Couinum, a towne in Dorset shyre, called Dorchester.
Counos, the yle of Shepey in Kent.
Cous, a, um, of the yle of Cos.
Cous, in greke is a fysse.
Coxa, æ, f. g. idem quod coxendix.
Coxendix, dicis, f. ge. the hippe or buckle bone, the ioinct of the hippe, the haunch.
Coxendicis morbus, the ache of the hip, commonly called Sciatica, which cometh of a grosse fleumatiche humour, that lieth about the sinus called Ischias, in the holowe bone of the hyppe.

CANTER.

CRabro, ónis, ma. ge. a great waspe called an hornette, whiche stingeth perilously. And who that is stonge with an hornet, shall hardly escape an agew. Plin. lib. ii. ca. xi.

and there is not one without a ſtynge. Triſto. li. 9. de par. an.

✠ Irritare crabronem, a prouerbe, whan a man prouoketh one to his owne harme.

Spicula Crabronum, the ſtinge of a waſpe.

Cracca, a hynde of pulſe, wherin culuers greatly delite.

Cracentes, men that are leane. ſometyme it is taken for graciles.

Cracutæ, dogges engendred of woulfes & dogges.

Cragus, a mountayn of Lycia dedicate to Apollo.

Crambe, es, f. g. a hynde of cole wortes.

Crambe repetita, is called of Iuuenalis, a declamacion to often heard with muche tediouſnelle to the hearers.

Cranaus, a hynge of Athenes, who ſucceded Cecrops.

Crambion, bij, n. g. idem quod Pityuſa.

Craneum, a place of exercyſe at Corinthe.

Craneus, the firſt hynge of Macedon, betwene hym and Alexander Magnus reigned. xxxvii. hynges, about the ſpace of. 500. yeres.

Cranocolapta, tæ, fœ. ge. a kinde of the ſpiders called Phalangij.

Cranos, or Cranium, nij, n. g. the ſkull.

Crantor, oris, the name of a philoſophier.

Crápula, læ, fœ. ge. an inflammacion and heade ache, whiche cometh of exceſſe of dyſnkyng. It is alſo taken for dyunkennelle, or any diſeaſe cauſed by ſurfettyng.

Crapulam edormiſcere, to ſleepe out dyſtkennelſe vntyll one be freſhe agayne.

Crapulam exhalare, to vompte whan one is dyunke.

Crápula, is alſo a thynge, wherwith wyne is tempered, after ſome the dregges of roſyn.

Crápulor, aris, ari, to ſurfette.

Cras, to morowe, in tyme comyng.

Craſis, ſis, fœm. gen. a greke woorde, ſignifieth complexion, temperature or mixture of naturall humours.

Craſſámen, minis, & Craſſaméntum, ti, neu. g. the thyckneſſe of any thyng.

Craſſeſco, ſeſcis, ſceſcere, to make fatte or full of fleſhe, or thycke, to waxe fatte.

Craſſitúdo, dinis, fœm. ge. fatneſſe, thyckneſſe, groſſeneſſe.

Craſſities, idem.

Craſſiuenium, nij, neu. gene. a kind of the tree called Acer.

Craſſus, a, um, fatte, fleſhy, thycke, groſſe, poiſie, ſometyme dull, blockyſhe, blunt, coyſy.

Craſſa Minerua, a groſſe witte, whiche doeth nothyng exactely.

Craſſæ compedes, wepghty gyues,

Craſſiore muſa, with a more playne or intelligible ſence.

Craſſé, thyckely, groſſely.

Craſſum, ſi, n. g. a groſſe or thycke thyng.

Craſſus, the ſurname of noble Romayns. One, named Lucius Craſſus (next to Tully) was the moſte excellent orator among the Romayns, of whome, and Quintus Sceuola, Tully wryteth in this wiſe: Thynke not (I ſaie) Brutus, that in this cite were euer two more excellent perſons. For where it is well knowen, that of all counſailers, the one (Sceuola) was moſt eloquent: the other (Craſſus) was in counſailyng moſt excellente. Likewiſe in all other thynges they were vnlike one to an other: but ſo as ye couide not telle, vnto whiche of them ye wolde wiſhe to be like. For Craſſus of all delicate and ioly, was the moſt ſobre: Sceuola of al that were ſobre, was moſt freſhe and pleaſant. Craſſus with gentyneſſe had ſufficient ſeuerite: in the great ſeuerite of Sceuola lacked no gentileſſe.

Craſſus, called Marcus, was the ryche ſt ryuate perſon of the Romayns: he had in his treaſure. 7100. talentes, whiche amounteth of our money to. 4100350. li. or more truely after the computation and valuacion of Tonſtall, to. 852000. li. ſterlyng. beſides that he had geuen the. x. part of his mouables to Hercules in offeryng, and had made a feaſt to all the people of Rome, appointing to euery man the rate of thre Mines. He wolde ſaie, he ought not to be called a riche man, except he could with his reuely rent maintayne a legyon, whiche commonly contayned. 6000. fotemen, and. 500. men of armes. By whiche woordes it maie be well ſuppoſed, that where Plinie eſtemeth the rychelle of Craſſus to be. 20000. Seſtertia, whiche in the rate of our money is. 131065. li. the ſame ſumme was the reuely reuenues of Marcus Craſſus, euery Seſtertium, beyng. vi. li. xi. ſ. ix. d. ob. whiche reuenues were not only of his poſſeſſions, graine, fruict, and cattell, but alſo of the labours of bondemen, whiche he dyd lette to hyre, they being inſtructed in al maner ſciences and arte. of whom were. 500. carpenters, of all theſe there a muche greatter numbre. All that they gained, came to his coffers. Moreouer he practiſed vſurie, lendyng lightly to all men that wold borow. but if they brake promiſe with him, he was in exactyng therof extreme and rigorouſe. He gatte infinite ſubſtaunce by men attendyng in the tyme of Sylla. He was exceedyng couetouſe and vnſtable, but vſyng muche liberalitee and affabilitee towarde the people: he was alwaie in great eſtimacion amonge them: he was eloquent, and wolde pleade in euery common cauſe. Finally, beyng ſtered with couetouſeneſſe and enuy, at the great honours that Cæſar and Pompeie had obteyned, he prouoked warre againſt the Parthians, by whom both he and his ſonne with. 30000. Romains were ſlayne, many alſo were taken, whiche as Plutarche writeth, happed by his negligence, beyng more induſtrioule about the gatheryng of money, than in gouernyng his army. He died afore the incarnacion of Chriſt. 51. yeres.

Craſtino, aui, are, to deferre from daie to daie, to to dyne of tyll on the morow.

Crastino, idem quod Cras.

Crastinus, a, um, pertaynyng to to morowe, or tyme to come.

Crastina hora, the nere houre folowyng.

Aetas crastina, the tyme to come.

Crastinus fructus, new fruite.

Cratægonon, or Crataegonon, goni, n. g. an herbe, whyche Plinie saieth is lyke an eare of wheate, with many stemmes risyng out of one roote, and full of knottes, the seede lyke mil. Theophrastus affirmeth it to be the tree called in Italy Aquifolium. Ruellius saieth, it is the seconde kynde of the herbe Petisicaria, called of the frenchemen Curage, in englishe this herbe is called Iclesmert.

Crater, teris, m. g. a balon of a water cundite, wherein the water renneth out of pypes or tyches.

Cratera, re, or Crater, teris, a great cup. also a great hole on the top of the mersayplouse hill of Etna in Sicil, out of the whiche issueth flames of fire. it is also the vessell of a wel: also a vessel, wherin meate is sod or brought to the table

Crateres, te, m. g. a precious stone.

Cruera, re, f. g. a bucket to take up water.

Craterus, one of great Alexanders companions.

Crates, a philosophier, whiche to the intent he might more quietly study philosophy, threw all his goodes into the sea, saiyng, Hense with a mischiefe, ye ungracious appetites, I had lieuer drowne you, than ye shoulde drowne me: supposyng he mought not haue vertue and ryches together.

Crates, tis, f. g. an hurdill, a grate of yron or woodde: also the watlyng of an house claied or thatched sometime an harrow or dragge, wherwith they breake clodddes.

Crathis, the name of two riuers, the one in Greece, the other in Calaber.

Craticula, le, f. g. a gredyron, wheron meate is broyled.

Cratilus, the name of a philosophier, to whom Plato wrate a boke.

Cratinas, a peare in Italie.

Cratinus, a poete, whiche wrote comedies.

Crátio, iui, ire, to couer with grates, to wattill. also to harrow or breake clodddes.

Cratippus, the name of a philosophier.

Cratinus, a, um, that is made of or lyke hurdels watteled.

Cratini parietes, wattled walles made lyke hurdles, as they vse in the countrey.

Cratos, power or dominion.

Crea, æ, f. g. the shynne, behinde the whiche is the calfe of the legge.

Creátio, ônis, f. g. a makyng or creatyng.

Creator, ôris, m. g. the first maker of a thyng.

Creator urbis, the founder or first builder, the first maker or auncter of the cite.

Creatus, a, um, lohe Creo.

Creatûra, re, f. g. a creature or thyng made of nothyng.

Creber, bra, brum, frequent or accustomed. also standyng or beyng thicke together as trees.

Crebri, many.

Crebernimus rumor, a rumour muche spoken, a verie great rumour.

Creber in eo fuisti, Thou dyddest speake of that many tymes.

In scripto multo essem crebrior quam tu, I woulde write to you more often tymes than ye doe to me.

Aphricus creber procellis, which often times causeth tempestes.

Scitis creberrimum fuisse sermonem, me. &c. you know that there was great talke.

Sylua crebra, a thicke woodde.

In eo creber fuisti, thou haddest that muche in thy mouthe, or, thou spakestoften, or muche of that.

Crebresco, brui, brescere, to bee wonte, to bee commune.

Crebritas, atis, and Crebritudo, oftenesse, or thickenesse in beyng or growyng together.

Crebrisurus, a trenche fortified with many stakes.

Crebro, often.

Credibilis, le, that whiche maie bee beleeued, credible.

Credibiliter, credibly.

Créditor, ôris, m. ge. he vnto whom a man ow eth anything, he that lendeth or trusteth, a creditour.

Creditrix, the feminine.

Créditum, ti, ne. gen. that thyng that is owed, debte.

Creditus, a, um, trusted, beleued, owed.

Credo, didi, dere, to beleue, to trust, to commit or deliuer a thyng to be safely kept, to put in to ones handes, to publisshe, to haue a sure confidence, to thinke, to know surely, after Donatus. to lende one money or any other thyng.

Credere verba alicui, to tell to one his counsayle. Creditur tibi, I truste the.

Creditur male, it is ill lente.

Credo, Ironice dictum.

Debeam credo isti quicquam furcifero, si id fecerim, I wene I shoulde bee somewhat in this knaues daunger if I did so, shulde I? spoken mockyngly.

Credóne tibi hoc nunc, peperisse hanc? pamphilo? thynkest thou that I beleue this, that thou tellest me. &c.

Recte non credis de numero. &c. you doe well, that ye doe not beleue. &c.

Credere se alicui, to put hym selfe in to ones handes.

Pecuaria præsidio canum credere, to truste dogges to kepe beastes wel, and in saufegard.

Summam belli puero credere, to putte the whole charge of the warre into a childes handes

Non

Non me tuis tectis crederem, I wolde not be so bolde to lodge in thy house.
Credere libris, to put in writyng.
Veritus se credere nocti, he durst not goe abrode in the night.
Credo, interpositum. Exarsi non solum præsenti (credo) iracũdia, as I wene, as I beleue.
Quid his rebus credis fieri? what thynkest thou maie be doorn by this meanes?
Credis huic, quod dicat? Doorst thou beleue that he saieth?
Credere alicui de re aliqua, to beleue one in a mattier.
Nobis de Cæsare creditis.
Committere & credere.
Male credere, to mystrust.
Crede hoc meæ fidei, beleue me in this, trust me truely.
Credere se Neptuno, to take the sea.
Credere alicui argentum, to trust with monie, to lende one monie.
Credere pecuniam, to lende monie.
Credo, I beleue well.
Nunquam hoc mihi voluit credere, he wolde neuer disclose so muche to me.
Credidi tibi consilia mea omnia, I haue disclosed or committed all my secrete counsailes to you. Creditur, the impersonal, men beleue it: or, monie was lent.
Creduis, vel credues, for credas.
Credulitas, tãtis, f. g. lyght beleue.
Crédulus, a, um, that beleueth lyghtly, or lyght of beleefe.
Cremastéres, the sinewes, whereby thy stones of a man or beast doo hange.
Cremathra, a certayne hangynge vessell, wherin men vsed to putte their fragmentes of meate, suche as our hearon cupboorde is.
Crematio, ônis, f. g a bournyng.
Crématus, a, um, bourned.
Crementum, increase.
Cremera, a ryuer.
Crémium, mij, n. ge. fried meate bourned to the panne, after Calepine, but Columella semeth to take it for bruske or dyre stickes to kendle fyre with.
Cremo, aui, are, to bourne.
Cremôna, a towne of Italy.
Cremor, ôris, m. g. the iuyce of barley stiped in water, beaten, and pressed.
Crena, næ, fœ. g. the dente about the leafe of an herbe or tree lyke to a saw. It is also the score the notche or taile, whiche menne vnlearned make on stickes for their remembraunce. also the nocke of a bowe or arrowe.
Creocaccabis, a kinde of meate made of flesshe chopped, with blud, sewet, and swete licour.
Creon, tis, the name of a kinge, whose daughter Jason maried, whan he forsoke Medea. also a kyng of the Thebanes, father to Jocasta, wyfe of Oedipus.
Creophilus, the name of a poete, whome some affirme to be maister to Homere.
Creo, aui, are, to geue the first begynge vnto any thyng. also to geat a child, to cause, to create, to make, to ordeine.
Creare magistratum, to ordeine an officer.
Errorem creare, to make one to erre.
Fastidium creare, to make lothsom or werry.
Erumnas alicui creare, to pourchase one muche trouble.
De stirpe humili creatus, descended or wrongt.
Creare periculum alicui, to procure a man great daungier or trouble.
Aduersam valetudinem creare, to make sicke, to breede a disease.
Carmina creata, verses made.
Creontiades, the sonne of Hercules by Megara, the daughter of Creon of Thebes.
Crepa, of olde writers vsed for Capra, a gote.
Crépax, pãcis, that maketh a noyse.
Créperus, a, um, doubtfull, ambiguous.
Crepi, idem quod Luperci.
Crépida, æ, f. g. a lowe voided shoe with latchets, whiche coureth little or nothyng of the vpper parte of the foote. some take it for a corked shoe, or slypper, because of the noyse, whiche it maketh whan a man goeth.
Crepidárius, rij, ma. ge. he that maketh shoes or slyppers.
Crepidâtus, a, um, that weareth a voyded shoe or slippper.
Crepido, inis, f. g. a creke, shore, or banke, whereon the water beteth. also the mouth of a well, the toppe of a stiepe rocke, and the vttermost parte of any place.
Crepidula, læ, fœm. gen. a diminutiue of Crepida.
Crepitáculum, li, n. g. a tymbrel or other instrument made of brasse, which beyng touched with the hande, maketh a sounde, a rattle.
Crepitacillum, a diminutiue of Crepitaculum.
Crepis, pidis, idem quod crepida.
Crepis, a kinde cake of honie and flower.
Crepito, aui, are, to make a noyse or crackyng.
Crepitare dentibus, to crashe with the teeth.
Crepitat mihi venter, my bealy courleth.
Crepitulum, li, n. ge. an ornament of the heade, whiche with mouynge of the heade, maketh a sounde.
Crépitus, us, ma. g. a bounce, a great dynne or noyse, a farte.
Dentium crepitus, the crashyng of the teeth.
Crepitus pedum, the noyse, the which the feete make in goyng.
Crepitum reddere, to breake wind.
Crepo, crepui, seldome crepaui, pare, to make a great noise or sound, to geue a cracke or crashe. also to breake or burst, to speake or talke, to preache, to prayse.
Si quid veri crepat, if he speake any thing that is true.

Crepuit fores, the doore creaked.
Ineitina tibi crepant, thy healy crowleth.
Crepſa, a cuttee of Liburnia.
Crepundia, ôrum, n. g. trifles or ſmall gyftes geuen to littell children, as littell belles, tymbrelles, popettes, and ſuch lyke toies. alſo the firſt apparaile of children, as ſwathels, waſt cotes, and ſuche like. And by tranſlacion they ſaie,
A crepundiis erat virtuti dedituſ, From his childhode he was euer geuen to vertue.
Crepuſculum, li, n. ge. the twyſe lyght, eyther in the euenyng or in the mornyng.
Creſco, créui, creſcere, cretum, tu, to groowe, to waxe bigger, to increace in honour or riches.
In domo alicuius creuiſſe, to haue been brought vp of a childe in ones houſe.
Creſcere in multas opes, to become verie riche
Fatis alicuius creſcere, to become more honourable by an other mans dedes.
Animi creuerunt, they waxed haute and high mynded, by reaſon of ryches: or they toke a better herte or courage.
Creſcere in altitudinem.
Creſcere ex accuſatione alterius, to geat riches by accuſyng of an other.
Cres, cretis, one of Creta.
Creſeis, a nymph of the ſea.
Creſſa, a woman of Creta. Alſo an hauen of Caria, ouer agaynſt Rhodes.
Creta, æ, fœ. g. and Crete, tes, an yle lyeng betwene Peloponeſus, and the Rhodes: It hath on the north parte the ſea Aegeum and Creteníe: on the ſouthe the ſea of Egypt and Affrica. It is nowe called Candy. In this yle was Jupiter nourſhed: whom the paynyms named their chief god. There Minos reigned, and Radamãthus gouerned vnder hym with moſte exquiſite iuſtice, of whoſe lawes other countreies tooke their fyrſt paterne: yet not withſtandyng the people of that countreie wer noted to be vitious and ſhamefull lyers: as Epimenides wrote in a verſe, recited by ſainct Paule, in his epiſtle to Titus, ſaiyng: Cretes alwaye been lyers, vngracious beaſtes, and ſlouthfull panches, this is now vnder the Turke.
Creta, æ, f. g. chalke.
Cretaceus, a, um, of chalke.
Cretatus, a, um, laied with chalke.
Cretatis pedibus homines, men marked to be ſolde: whiche from great richeſſe were fallen into great pouertee.
Cræteus, Creſsius, & Creticus, a, um, of Creta.
Cretheus, the ſon of Aeolus, whiche begat Eſon, on the daughter of his brother Salmoneus.
Crethmos, vel Cretamus, an herbe growynge on the ſea roches, whiche we call Sampere: it is of ſome called Creta marina, The leaues are kepte in bryne or ſaltr, to bee eaten with flesche, as a ſauce.
Crethon, the ſonne of Dioclis.

Créticus, a foote in meeter.
✠ Cretizare cum cretenſibus, A prouerbe vſed, wher a crafty man wil deceiue him that is craftye: a theefe ſteale from a theefe, or a lier lye before theim, that vſe to make leaſynges.
Crétio, ônis, fœ. g. a certayne ſolemnitee, whan one is admitted to his heritage.
Creroſus, a, um, full of chalke or chalky.
Crétula, a diminutiue of creta.
Cretus, a, um, borne.
A ſanguine Troiano cretus, deſcended of the Troianes bludde.
Cretúra, idem quod Cyribia.
Creuſa, the daughter of Creon of Corinthe, whom Jaſon maried.
Creuſis, a towne of Boeotia.
Crex, crecis, f. g. a certaine birde, whiche ſemeth by Ariſtotle, to be that, whiche in ſome places of England is called a Daker hen.
Cribro, aui, are, to ſifte or ſarce.
Cribrum, bri, n. g. a ſieue or a ſarce.
Farrinarium cribrum, a rangeyng ſieue.
Arctum, or anguſtum cribrum, a fine ſieue.
Cribro incernere, to ſift, or try out by ſiftyng.
Cribrum excuſſorium, lohe Excuſſorius.
✠ Cribro aquam haurire, a prouerbe vſed, whan a man ſpendeth his labour in vayne.
Cribrárius, a, um, of a ſiue.
Cribrária, æ, fœm. gene. the fyneſt floure after the ſiftyngs.
Crimen, minis, n. ge. a fault, an offence, blame, matter laied agaynſt one by actiõ or ſuite ſometyme a falſe ſuſpicion. alſo the crimination, accuſation, or the laiyng of a thyng to a mannes charge, for the whiche he is worthie puniſhmẽt.
Crimen fortunæ, a faute cõmitted by chance, and not of purpoſe.
Relegamus ad crimen fortunæ, we put the faute in fortune.
Crimen facere, to committe an offence.
Crimen alicui inferre, or dicere, and Intendere crimen in aliquẽ, criminis reum agere, to accuſe or charge one with an offence: or to laie to ones charge.
Eſſe probro & crimini, to be to a mannes rebuke and blame, to bee woorthie reprochе.
In crimen vocare aliquid.
In crimen dare, and Crimini dare, to blame or rebuke a man for a thyng.
Trahere in crimen, to laie to a mans charge, that he is one of the treſpaſſours.
Auertere crimen in aliquem, to caſt the faute vpon an other.
Venire in partem criminis, to be partaker of any faute.
In crimen vocare aliquid, for Dare crimini.
Fama noſtra vacat crimine, our good name is not diſteined: or there is no miſreport that goeth on vs.
Criminale, criminal, wherin is an offence or faut.
Criminat, for Criminatur.

Cri-

Criminátio, ônis, fœ. ge. blame, fals repoꝛt, reꝓproch, falſe accuſation.

Criminor, aris, ari, to blame, to rebuke, to laye to ones charge, to accuſe.

Hunc metuebam, ne me criminaretur tibi, I feared this man, leaſt he woulde accuſe me to you, oꝛ complayne on me to you.

Apud populum Romanum criminatus eſt, bellum illum ducere, he complained oꝛ made repoꝛte. &c.

Non libet omnia criminari, I will not laye all to his charge that I can.

Criminóſe, criminally, rebukefully.

Criminóſus, a, um, redie to accuſe men, rebukefull, blame wooꝛthie, reꝓpꝛochable.

Criminoſum hoc ei eſt, He is wooꝛthy to bee blamed oꝛ punished foꝛ this: oꝛ, this is a thing foꝛ whiche he is wooꝛthie to be condemned.

Crimiſſa, a tree.

Crimiſſus, a ryuer of Greece.

Crimnodæ vrinæ, groſſe waters, that haue reſidence like meale oꝛ flower.

Crinanthemon, mi, the wilde lillie.

Crinális, le, that belongeth to the heare.

Crinále, lis, n. ge. a thyng to bynd vp the heare as a coꝓke a fillet, a heare lace, oꝛ ſuche lyke.

Criniger, that hath muche heare.

Crinis, nis, ma. g. heare of the head. ſometyme a peruke. alſo a certayne bonde to tye a thynge with.

Erecti crines horrent, my heare ſtandeth an end foꝛ feare.

Paſsi crines, the heare caſt abꝛode, and hangyng looſe about the head.

Deducere crines pectine, to kembe the head, ꝓꝛoperly as women doe.

Effundere crines, to ſꝓꝛeade the heare abꝛode.

Impexi crines, a head vnkempte.

Ligare & euincire crines, to bind vp the heare.

Promittere crinem, to lette ones head growe longe.

Crines Polypi, the finnes.

Crinire, to beginne to haue heare growing.

Crinita ſtella, a comete oꝛ blaſyng ſterre.

Crinitus, a, um, that hath muche oꝛ long heare.

Crinoménon, that wherin the cheke controuerſie is.

Crinon, a redde lylie. Eraſ. ſaith, that Crinon is the floure of a gourde.

Crinor, niris, niri, to haue a buſſhe of heare, oꝛ to be made to haue a buſſhe of heare.

Crinitur arbor, the tree hathe many leaues oꝛ boughes.

Criſion. i. Bugloſſum magnum. Dioſco.

Criſis, iudgement.

Criſſa, a towne builded by Criſus the ſonne of Phocus.

Criſpans, antis, curled, wꝛinkled, bꝛaided.

Crepitus criſpans, a cꝛache, ſowne oꝛ noyſe, that continueth not, but goeth by ſtoppes, as cricke, cracke, crocke, ticke, tacke: alſo a tremblyng oꝛ quauering noyſe.

Criſpátus, a, um, that is curled oꝛ wꝛincled.

Criſpina, by the deſcription of Io. Agricola, ſeemeth to be the bꝛier called Veſpis.

Criſpina, of ſome is taken to be Oxyacantha, that is Berberie tree.

Criſpulus, a, um, that hath curled heare.

Criſpus, a, um, curled, wꝛinkled. It was alſo the name of Saluſtius.

Criſpum lignum, rough wood, full of veines.

Criſpo, aui, are, to curle oꝛ bꝛayde, to make ſhyne oꝛ glyſter.

Aurora criſpat pelagus nouo Phœbo, The mooꝛnyng, whan the ſonne ryſeth, maketh the ſea to gliſter and ſhyne.

Criſta, æ, f. ge. a creſt, oꝛ any thyng growyng on the head of a foule oꝛ beaſt, as a cockes combe, oꝛ the feathers on the head of a bꝛyde, called a coꝓꝓe.

Criſta galli, a cockes combe.

Criſta gallinæ, after Ruellius. li. 3. cap. 103. ſeemeth to be Verum, called of the Gꝛeekes Periſterion, in latine Veruenna, oꝛ Verbenaca. In his ſecond booke, cap. 118. he determineth it to be that, whiche Plinie calleth Alectoroloꝓhos, and Dioſcoꝛides Horminum, oꝛ Orminum hortenſe, an herbe muche lyke bꝛyer hounde, named of the frenchemen, Orual, Tourbone, of the Italyans, Sclaria: of ſome Cetrum gallinæ, oꝛ Gallicentrum: of other Saluia tranſmarina.

Criſtátus, a, um, that hath a creſt oꝛ coꝓꝓe.

Criſtata auis, a cocke.

Criſtula, læ, a litteli creſte.

Criſtæ, arum, neu. gen. thei that be iudges in any matters.

Crithe, es, f. g. a weart on the vꝓꝓer lidde of the eie lyke a barlele coꝛne.

Crithmus, oꝛ Crithamus, called alſo Baris, in Engliſh Sampere, lohe Cheithmos.

Critheis, the daughter of Itellis, and mother of Homer.

Crithiaſis, a diſeaſe in hoꝛſes.

Critias, one of the thiꝛtie tyꝛannes of Athenes.

Criticus, ci, maſ. ge. he that iudgeth the actes oꝛ wooꝛkes that men doo wꝛite.

Critici dies, the dayes wherein phyſitions gyue iudgement of the continuance of the ſikne.

Crito, a philoſophier of Athens, familiar with Socrates.

Critobulus, a phyſicion, of whom Plinie ſpeaketh lib. 7.

Critolaus, a philoſophier of Athens, and a capitayne of Acaia, whiche deſtroied the citee of Coꝛinthe.

Crobialon, a towne in Paphlagonia, whꝛough renneth the riuer Parthenius.

Cróbylon, li, n. g. a caule to weare on ones head.

Crobylus, a ruffian baude, ſo naughty, that of hym grew a ꝓꝛouerbe, Crobyli iugum.

Crocállis, lis, ma. gen. a ꝓꝛecious ſtone, lyke to a cherie, cherie, or after some printes, lyke to wate.

Crocatus, Crocinus, and Croceus, a, um, of or lyke saffron.
Croceus color, yelow colour lyke saffron.
Crocinum, ni, n. g. a swete oile made of saffron.
Crocio, ciui, cire, to crye lyke a raupn.
Crocito, aui, are, idem.
Crocis, cis, f. g. an herbe that magicians vse.
Crocinus, us, ma. gen. the nopse that a raupn or crowe maketh called crohpng.
Crocâuo, or Crocitatio, idem.
Crocodilæa, æ, f. g. the dunge of cocatrice, wherewith women dyd peincte their faces.
Crocodilon, a towne of Phenicia.
Crocodilus, an hyll of Licia.
Crocodilus, li, ma. gen. an yll beaste bredde in Egypt, and lyueth partely in water, partely on lande, and is in facion lyke a dragō, but he hath small eies, verie longe teethe like to a sawe, and lacketh a tongue, and moueth only the vpper iawe, and hath great and strong nayles on his feet. there hath been seen of the. xx. foote long, or after some. 22. cubites longe, and the skyn of his backe is unpenetreable. he deuoureth not only men, but also beastes, whiche come nigh to the ryuer of Nilus. And yet not withstandyng, the Aegyptians did honour that beast, in so muche, that yf any were kylled, they caused hym to be salted and buried. They bryng foorth egges, no bygger than geese egges, and that. lx. at a tyme, the male and female sittyng on them by turne. reade Plin. li. viij. cap. 29.
✦ Crocodili lachrymæ, crocodiles teares. A prouerbe, applied vnto theim, whiche hatyng an other man, whom they wouldе destroie, or haue destroied, they will seme to bee sorye for hym. It is taken of the propertee of Crocodilus the monster, who beholdyng a man comyng, whom he would deuoure, weepeth: and after he hath eaten the body, he wassheth the head with his teares, and than eateth it also.
Crocodilinus, a, um, of a crocodile.
Crocodilia, a beast lyke to a crocodile.
Crocodilium, an herbe (after Plinie) lyke the thistell called Camælion niger. Ruellius supposeth it to bee that, whiche is commonly called Carlina, or Cardina.
Crocomagma, mătis, neu. gene. dregges of the oyle of saffron.
Crocôta, æ, fœ. g. a garment of saffron colour that women vsed to weare.
Crocotilium, ytrate sclender or thynne.
Crocottium, ti, n. g. cake breade.
Crocoton, idem quod Trama. But Eraſ. saith, in the prouerbe Feli crocoton, that it is a rond purfled garment, that riche matrones vsed. Nonius accepteth it among delicate garmēties.
Crocôula, the diminutiue of Crocôta.
Crocotularius, ri, ma. gen. a dyer of saffron coloured garmentes.
Crocum, ci, n. g. or Crocus, ci, ma. g. saffron. it is hot and dry in the fyrst degree. Crocum, is also the yelowe threues in the middes of a lyly.

Crocus, the soonne of Eumenes, the nourse of the Muses, who was turned by Jupiter into the signe called Sagittarius, som write his name Crotus, or Croton.
Crocuta, a beaste, which Solinus calleth a monster, begotten betweene the beast Hiena, and a lyoneſſe: he neuer closeth his eyes or wynketh: on bothe sides of his mouthe, he hath as it wer one toothe: he breaketh all thynges with his teethe quickely, and swalloweth, and forthwith digesteth it. The nature of hym is betweene a dogge and a wolfe, but he is muche worse than any of theim. he counterfaiteth the voyce as wel of men as of other beastes.
Crœsus, kyng of Lydia, sonne of Halyattes, subdued many great countreis in Asia and Greece, and gathered inumerable richeſſe, he on a tyme demaunded of Solon, who was the happiest man that euer he se. He said Tellus, a man of Athenes, who had honest and good sonnes: and they also had likewise good childrē: all which he saw in his life. And whā he had liued a good time honestly, at the last, fyghtyng against and vāquishyng the enemies of his countrey, he dyed a faire deathe, and was in the same place hōnorably buried of the Athenienses. Whan Crœsus asked, who was most happie next Tellus, he saied, Cleobis and Bito, whiche were Argiues, and had a competent liuyng, and in all games, in prouyng of strength, they obteined the price. Cresus, being abashed, said vnto Solon: Wy frende of Athenes, settest thou so litell by our felicitee, that thou preferrest wore vs these priuate persons? Solon aunswered: Truely Cresus, in processe of tyme, many thynges are seen, which men wold not see: and many thinges be suffred, that men wolde not suffre. And spekyng much of mans calamitee, at the last he concluded, saiyng: The ende of euery thyng is to be loked on, whereto it shall come. For god plucketh vp by the rootes many men, vnto whom he gaue all fortune at pleasure. Cresus made hereto no countenance, but estemyng Solon for a foole, considerynge he passed so light vpon thynges, whiche appered good, let hym depart. A good space after, Cresus by the comfort of Apollos answere at Delphos, attemptyng warre against Cyrus, king of Persia was at the laste taken of hym, who caused a great pile of wodde to be made redy, and Cresus gyued to be set on the top thereof: Than foorthwith Cresus remembryng the woordes of Solon, that no man liuyng was blessed, or on all partes happy, lamentynge, cried: O Solon, Solon, Solon, whiche Cyrus herynge, caused to be demanded of him, who it was that he named. Cresus with muche difficultee told what he was, & declared all that before is rehersed. whiche whan Cyrus had herd, recognisynge hym selfe to be also a man, sore repented, that he went about to burne hym, which was equall to hym selfe in honour and richesse: and commanded hym to be taken from the fire, whiche than began to flame: and so with great difficultee he was delyuered. Afterward Cyrus entertained hym honorably, and vsed his counsaile, which in many thinges he foũd very profitable.

hym

Crolla, idem quod Corolla.

Crómyon, an oynion.

Cromis, he to whom Hercules gaue the horses of Diomedes, whiche would eate men.

Cromna, a citee of Paphlagonia.

Cronciades, one of Hercules soonnes, by Megara, the daughter of Creon.

Cronia, orum, n. g. plu. nu. the feastes dedicate to Saturnus, whiche were also called Saturnalia, in the whiche litteil presentes and gestes were sent from one to an other.

Crónium, is the northe sea called Mare Concretam, or Glaciale, the frosen sea.

Cronius, one of the Centaures.

Cronon, the thirde kinde coniza.

Cronos, Saturnus.

Crotalia, orum, n. g. certayn perles, haupng that name of the sowne, that they make.

Crótalum, li, neu. ge. an instrument, whiche the Aegyptiẽs vsed in sacrifice, made of ii. plates, which beaten together made an harmonie. it is also a rattil for a child to plate with, a cymbale. some haue taken it to be a great ringe of brasse, striken with a Iron rodde, to make an harmonie, suche one I sawe an Irishman vse in London.

Crótalus, li, masc. gene. he that hath a sounyng voice and a shrill.

Crotaphitæ, the muscles, which are in the tẽples.

Croton, looke after in Ricinum. Erasmus saith, it is a kynde of flies, not greuous, neither with suckyng nor o her wise. Hesychius saith, Croton is a kynde of gumme in Aegypt, of whiche Plinius. 24. ca. 11. sheweth diuers medicines.

Króto, or Croton, fœm. ge. an auncient citee in Italye, in the goulfe called Tarentinum, the countreie of Milo the famous wrastlar.

Crotus, looke Crocus.

Cruciabilitas, âtis f. g. tourment, affliction.

Cruciata, tæ, f. ge. of some is taken for the herbe called Tutsome.

Cruciâtus, tus, m. g. idem quod cruciamentum.

Cruciátio, idem.

Cruciamentum, ti, neu. g. tourment, peyne, affliction, greefe.

Cruciabilis, le, that tourmenteth or putteth one to peyne.

Cruciabiliter, with great tourmẽtes and peines.

Cruciárius, a, um, worthie tormẽtes and peines, worthie to be hanged.

Crucifigo, fixi, figere, to crucifie, to naple to a crosse.

Crucifixus, a, um, crucified, napled to a crosse.

Crucinum vinum, or Crucium, sower wine.

Crucio, aui, are, to tourment, to afflicte, to put to peyne.

Crudaria, æ, fœm. gene. a peyn of syluer in the top of an hyll.

Crudélis, le, cruell, fierce, vngentyl, vntractable, that will not be moued with prayer.

Ferus, crudelis, inhumanus.

Pœnæ crudeles, terrible and cruell peynes.

Crudelitas, âtis, f. ge. cruelte, fiersenesse, ouergiousenesse.

Adhibere crudelitatem in aliquem, to shewe cruelte to one.

Omni crudelitate lacerare aliquem, to tourment or vexe one with all maner of cruelte.

Anhelare ex intimo pectore crudelitatem, to shewe cruelte euen from the bottome of his herte.

Crudéliter, cruelly.

Acerbe & crudeliter.

Crudésco, dui, descere, to waxe rawe.

Crudescit morbus, The sickenesse increaseth more and more.

Pugna crudescit, The fyghte waxeth more fierse and cruell.

Crúditas, tâtis, fœ. g. rawnesse of the stomacke or ill digestion.

Crudus, a, um, rawe, freshe, or newe made, not ryppe, vndigested: sometyme harde, greene, fierse, cruell, terrible.

Crudus homo, whose stomake can not digest well: also he that hath a cruell & terrible countenance.

Crudus ensis, a cruell swoorde.

Cruda poma, fruites that are not ryppe.

Vulnus crudum, a freshe and newe wounde, a greene wounde.

Aluus cruda, The stomache that casteth vp meate vndigested.

Cibi crudi, meates vndigested.

Cortex crudus, a greene barke.

Crudum solum & immotum, a ground that is not laboured and well husbanded.

Cæstus crudus, pro duro & crudeli.

Cruentari oculi, eyes redde as bloudde, bloudde shotte.

Cruenter, bloudily, with muche effusion of bloudde.

Cruento, aui, are, to make bloudie.

Morsu cruentare, to byte vntyll it blede.

Cruentare rempublicam vulneribus, by traslation to slea and put to deathe many of the citesens.

Cruentari scelere, to be distayned or dishonested by some naughty acte.

Cruentus, a, um, blouddy, cruell, flesshed.

Cruenta victoria, a cruell victorie, wherein many men be slayne on both sides.

Vox cruenta, and Cruenta oratio, a cruelle and blouddie sentence.

Bello cruentior ipso, more cruell and bloddie.

Cru-

Crumẽa, æ, f. g. a pourse.
Cruma, lyke Crusma.
Cruor, óris, ma. ge. bloudde whiche cometh out of a woundde.
Crunos, an hauen of Thrace.
Cruppellarij, certayne souldioures or swoordes players, so armed with whole harneis of yron, that they coulde neyther doo nor take hurte. Tacitus, li. 3.
Crurecrepidæ, they that bee fettered or gyued.
Crurifrágium, ij, n. g. breakyng of the legges.
Crurules, lium, hoses or ornamẽtes for the legges
Crus, cruris, that part of the legge that is from the knee to the ankle, called the shanke.
Distorta crura, crooked legges.
Crus arboris aut vitis, the stocke or bodye of the tree or vine benethe the boowes.
Crúsculum, li, n. g. a littell or small legge.
Crusma, ătis, n. ge. a tymber, whereon women and maydes doo plaie with their fyngers.
Crusta, æ, fœ. g. the vpper parte of euery thynge that is not eaten. also the scurfe or scabbe of a wound. also playster of a walle, the harde scale or crust that any thyng is couered with, bulliõs or ornamẽtes of plate, whiche may be taken of. Marmoris crustæ, shardes of marble, wherwith they vsed to playster their walles.
Crustæ parietum, the pargettyng of walles.
Crustárius, ij, ma. g. a pargettour, or he that couereth walles with shardes, or such like thyng.
Crustátus, a, um, that hath a scale, a cruste, or harde couerynge, or wheron plaister or thynne shardes of stone be laied.
Crustata animalia, beastes that haue scales or harde couerynges.
Crusto, aui, are, to laye plaister or parget, or littell thynne shardes of stones on walles: And to sette bullions of syluer or golde about cuppes, to garnysshe them.
Crustósus, a, um, that hath an harde cruste or scale.
Crustula, læ, f. g. a diminutiue of Crusta.
Crustulárius, rij, m. g. a pastler.
Crustulátes, a weate made of crustes of bread.
Crustulum, li, n. ge. a diminutiue of crustum, a wafer or lyke thyng, that men geue to children.
Crustum, i, n. ge. a crust, of bread, of a pastie, or of meate rosted, broyled or fried.
Distringe huius panis crustum, chip this bread.
Crustumina pira, peares redde on the one syde.
Crustumínum, a towne in Italy.
Crustumínum vinum, wyne of that towne.
Crux, crucis, f. g. a crosse, galowes, or other like. also any thyng that troubleth, greueth, or tormenteth a man.
Agi in crucem, to be hanged.
Cruci dare aliquem, to hange one.
In crucem tollere, and Cruci affigere, To hange vp, or to crucifie.
In malam crucẽ, with sorowe, with a mischiefe.

Crymodes febris, a feuer comynge when the lightes are infected of the diseale called ignis sacer.
Crypsorchis, is where a mans stones are remoued out of their place.
Crypta, æ, f. g. a vaulte lowe in the grounde.
Crypticus, a, um, secrete or hydde vnder the grounde.
Cryptopórticus, ci, f. g. a place vnder the grouֻd, with wyndowes lyke to a parloure, where men doo dyne in the sommer tyme for heate: a crowdes, and a close place, compassed about with a wall, lyke the other vnder the ground.
Crystállina, orum, neu. gen. vessell or cuppes of cristall stone.
Crystállinus, a, um, of cristall.
Crystallus, li, fœ. g. and Crystallum, li, neu. ge. a stone called Chrystall.

C ANTE T.

CTeatus, the father of Amphimachus, one of the capitaynes of the grekes at the siege of Troie.
Ctenes, num, m. g. plu. the forcetethe.
Ctenidtrus, tri, ma. gen. an horseleache. He that healeth diseases of horses and cattell.
Ctenos, in latine iumentum.
Ctesias, an orator of Sicile.
Ctesiphon, the name of a warkemã, which made the great tẽple of Diana at Ephesus, a worke wonderfull and renoumed through the world, whiche was after bourned by one Herostratus, onely because he wouֻlde for some dede be spoken of. It is also the name of hym that persuaded the Atheniens to crowne Demosthenes in the theater.
Ctesiphon, is also a towne in Parthia.
Ctesippus, the sonne of Chabrias.

C ANTE. V.

CVba, æ, fœ. g. an horse litter or bedde.
Cubátio, ónis, f. g. a lyng.
Cubátus, us, and Cúbitus, us, masc. gen. a sittynge on broode, as an henne dooeth: a lyng downe.
Cubicularis, re, and Cubiculárius, a, um, that perteyneth to the chaumber.
Cubicularis vestis, a nyght gowne.
Cubiculárius, rij, ma. g. a seruaunte that awayteth in the chaumber, a chaumberlayne, or groome of the chaumber.
Cubículum, li, n. g. a bedde chaumber.
Cubicus, a, um, square as a die.
Cubile, lis, n. g. a bedde. somtyme it is taken for a closette. also an hennes or other byrdes neste, a dogges couche or kennell, a beastes denne.
Cubile salutatorium, a chappell or oratorye, where ymages were sette.
Cubilia ferri eruere, to dygge yron mynes.

Terra

Terra cubile erat Anacharsi, Anacharsis vled to lye on the grounde.
Inire cubile alterius, to lye with an other mans wyfe.
Cubilia auaritiæ alicuius, the neste.
Cubitále, lis, neut. gene. a forefleeue of a garmente, whiche heuereth the arme from the elbowe downewarde.
Cubitális, le, om. g. a cubite hygh.
Cúbito, aui, áre, to lye often with one.
Cúbitor, óris, ma. g. an ore or horse, whiche will late hym downe, whan he shoulde woorhe.
Cubitus, ti, m. g. & cubitum, ti, n. g. an elbowe. sometyme a measure called a cubite, that is to late, one foote and an half. but a cubite in geometrie contepneth vi. of our common cubites.
Cúbitus, us, m. g. a lyng downe.
Cubitus pronus, a lyng flatte on the face.
Cubitus supinus, a lyng vpryght.
Cubitus in latus, a lyng on the one syde.
Primus cubitu surgat, postremus cubitū eat, Lette hym ryse fyrst, and go to bed laste.
Cubo, bui, áre, to lye downe, to keepe ones bed in sykneste, to lye in thylde bedde. sometyme to syt at the table.
Cubare in faciem, to lie nouslyng on the face.
Cubus, bi, ma. g. a figure four square like a dice. It is sometyme vled for a dyce.
Cucubo, aui, are, to make a noyse lyke an oule.
Cuculio, ónis, ma. gene. a keuerynge of the head, whiche men dyd vse whan they walked in the nyght, a kind of whoddes.
Cucullátus, a, um, that hath a cappe or hoode.
Cúculus, or Cucúlus, li, ma. g a byrde called a cuckowe. It is also taken for hym that hath to doo with an other mans wife.
Cucullus, li, masc. gene. a hoode, that menne or women dooe weare for the rayne, or whan they mourne. also a cornet of paper that grossers put spice in.
Cucullus idem
Cúcuma, æ, fœ. g. a vessell of brasse or tynne fashioned lyke a cucumer, wherwith bathes were fylled and emptied.
Cucumélla, æ, a diminutiue of Cucuma.
Cúcumer, or Cúcumis, éris, ma. ge. a fruite called a cucumber. also a certayne fysshe.
Cucumis syluestris, called also Cucumis anguinus: of herbaries, Asininus, wilde cucumer, or leping cucumer.
Cúcumis, is also a bullion of copper, set on brydels or poytrels of horses, for an ornamēt sometyme it is taken for a certaine vessell.
Cucumerárium, rij, n. ge. a gardeyne where cucumbres doo growe or be kepte.
Cucúrbita, tæ, f. ge a fruite called a gourde. also Cucurbita, and Cacurbitula, is a cuppe, wherwith surgians doo drawe out bloudde, with scarifyng of the skyn, called cupppynge.
Cucurbita syluestris, coloquintida.
Cucurbitarium, a place wher gourdes be sowen.
Cucurbitarius, a louer of gourdes.
Cucurbitinus, a, um, lyke a gourde.
Cucurbitula, læ, fœm. ge. a litte gourde. also a scarifyng cuppe.
Cucúrio, cucuris, iui, ire, to make a noyse lyke a cocke.
Cudo, udi, ere, to stryke as smythes doo. also to coyne.
Argentum cudere, to coyne money, and by translation, to fynde meanes to gete money.
In me hæc cudetur faba, The perill of this wyll lyght on my necke, or I shall beare the blame for this.
Cudon, ónis, ma. ge. a cappe of fence, made of a rawe skynne.
Cuias, átis, om. gen. of what secte or countrey, olde writers vsed Cuiatis & hoc cuiate.
Cuias es tu? what countrey man arte thou?
Cuiátes philosophi estis? of what secte of philosophiers are you?
Cuius, a, um, whose.
Cuium pecus? whose cattell.
Cuia interest, to whom it perteyneth.
Cuiam vocem audio? whose voyce doe I heare
Cuiuscunq; módi genus hominum, of all maner of sortes of men, of what sorte so euer.
Cuiúsmodi, vndeclined, what, what facion, what maner, of what sorte.
Cuiusmodi homines erunt? what maner of men shall they bee?
Cuiusmodicúnque mater sit, what manner of mother so euer she bee.
Cuiusmodi est, suche as it is, of that sorte as it is.
Cuiusdammodi, idem quod Cuiusmodi.
Cuiusquemodi, suche as it is.
Cuiusquemodi sunt, suche as they be.
Vereor enim cuiusquemodi ego Roscii, ne in hunc videar voluisse seruare: vt tibi omnino non pepercerim. For I feare Roscius (what maner of man so euer thou arte) lest it be thought, that I was myndyd so to defende hym, that I haue not spared to speke against the louer freely.
Culcítra, æ, fœ. ge. a mattresse, a pallet, a flocke bedde, a fether bedde, or suche lyke.
Culcitra plumea, a feather bedde.
Culcitrula, æ, f. g. a diminutiue, a litte mattresse.
Culcítula, æ, a litteli staffe, or bundell of wood vsed in sacrifice.
Culcéolus, a diminutiue of Culeus.
Culest, vsed of Plautus, for Qualis est.
Culeus, lei, ma. g. among the Romayns was the greatteste measure, and receiued. xx. measures called Amphora, whiche amounteth to .804. pounde of measure, euery pounde beynge. xii. ounces, of our measure, fiue score galons. But the true measure of Culeus (after Budeus compte) conteineth. 90. galons of Parise measure, after. 32. ounces to the pint. for Culeus conteineth. 20. Amphoras, euerie Amphora 48. Sextarios, and Sextarius lacketh of the Parise

Parise pint, the fowerth parte, that is. 8. ounces, & is a pint and an halfe of our measure, so that Culeus is of our wine measure. 180 galõs.

Culeus was also a sacke of leather, wherevnto they that had slayne their fathers or mothers were sowen, and with them also wer put a cock, a serpente, and an ape, on lyue, and throwen all together into the riuer of Tiber: And this was the punishement of parricides or murderers of their parentes. Some write it Culleus, or Culleum.

Culex, culicis, m. g. a gnatte.

† Culicem colant, camelum deglutientes, they streigne a gnatte through their teethe, and swalowe downe a camelle, an apte prouerbe applied by our sauiour Christ vnto the pharisees, which did aggrauate small offences, and maintayne great enormities. It may be nowe vsed against such persones as seeke out and punishe small offendours, and leat the great trespassours agaynst the lawe go quite vnpunyshed. Also them that are scrupulous in thynges of litill importance, and in ambition, auarice, extortion, auoutrie, theft, murder, treason, or herevnto they fynd no daunger of conscience.

Culeãris, re, om. gene. that conteineth the measure Culeus.

Culici panes, great loues of browne bread.

Culicilega, the bird called a waggetaile.

Culigna, æ, a bolle, or dysshe to drynke of.

Culina, æ, fœ. ge. a kytchyn. sometyme the meate that is dressed.

Culinor, aris, ari, to doo the office of a cooke.

Culleolum, li, neu. g. the ryne or vtter shale of a nutte, whiche is greene.

Culmen, inis, n. g. the rouke of an house, the top of any thynge, beane strawe, or thatche of an house, the highest or principall poinct.

Regale culmen, royall maiestie.

Peruenire ad culmen, to come to the highest.

Culmus, mi, n. g. or Colmus, the rede or strawe of corne from the roote to the eare.

Culpa, æ, fœ. g. an offence dooen not wittyng or not intendyng to do harm, a faut, blame, wite.

Culpam commereri, to commyt an offence.

Culpam in alterum conferre, to laie the blame to an other.

Dare veniam culpæ, to pardon, to forgeue.

Culpa teneri, to be in faute.

Abesse à culpa, carere culpa, consortem culpæ non esse, nõ residere in aliquo culpam, in culpa non esse: extra culpam esse, vacare culpa, not to be in the faute, to be blameles.

In culpam conuertere fortunam, To blame fortune, to laye the faute vpon fortune.

Liberare aliquem culpa, to declare that one is not in the faute.

Luere culpam, to satisfie or be punished for an offence done.

Vitio & culpæ dare alicui suminam laudem, to laie that to a mannes reproche and blame, that is worthie great praise.

Culpa in re residet, The faute resteth or lyeth in you.

Simili sunt in culpa, they be in lyke faute, or they be no lesse to be blamed.

Culpa hæc à me procul est, this chanced not through my defaute: or I am nothyng giltie in this matter.

Is in culpa sit, let him be blamed.

Maxima in eo culpa est, there is a verie great faut in him, or he is much to be blamed.

Morte piare culpam, for satisfaction of an offence, to put to death.

Hoc prætexit nomine culpam, He colloureth or couereth his offence or faute by this name of mariage.

Sustinere culpam rei, to be blamed.

Culpæ, is vsed in the plurall numbre.

Culpatio, ônis, f. g. a blamyng.

Culpito, aui, are, to blame often, a woorde out of vse.

Culpo, aui, are, to blame, to laye the wyte or faulte on one.

Cultellãtus, a, um, that is sharpe or edged lyke a knyfe.

Cultellus, li, ma. g. a littell knyfe, or a whitle.

Culter, tri, mas. g. & Cultrum, tri, n. g. a knyfe, a culter of a plough, and the parte of a sickle nerte to the handell.

Culter venatorius, a woodknyfe.

Culter popinarius, a dressyng knyfe.

Culter tonsorius, a rasour.

Cúltio, ônis, fœm. gene. tillyng or husbandyng of the ground.

Cultor, ôris, ma. g. an husband man that tylleth the ground, or one that inhabiteth any place.

Cultor veritatis, an honest playne man without gyle or fraude.

Cultrãrius, rij, mas. gen. was he that killed the beast, and diuided hym in sacrifice to idols. It may bee nowe taken for a slaughter man.

Cultrãtus, a, um, that cutteth like a knife.

Cultrix, icis, the feminine of Cultor.

Cultum, ti, neu. gene. a thynge that is tylled or husbanded.

Cultũra, ræ, fœ. g. husbandyng of the ground, tylynge.

Cultus, us, ma. gen. apparayle, dreshynge, trymmyng. sometyme reuerence. sometyme honour doon to god.

Cultus vitæ, furnyshynge of a mannes estate and lyfe, with all honeste commodities and pleasures.

Cultus agrorum, labouryng, tylyng, husbandyng of the grounde.

Cultus hominis, the ornament and instruction of a man in vertue and knowlage.

Cultus, a, um, decked, trymmed, apparayled, tylled, arayed, well husbanded.

Culullus, li, an earthen cuppe, suche as the galeis cuppes bee, or a littell chalice or cuppe of earth, whiche the byshop vsed in sacrifice.

Cum, with, a preposicion seruynge to the ablatiue case.

Cum dicto, foorthwith.

Cum imperio est, he beareth a rule.

Cum maxime, exceedyngly.

Cum maxume, to muche.

Cum potestate est, he is in authoritee, and in an high office.

Cum primis, verie. Cum primis nobilis, verie noble.

Cum stomacho, disdeignefully.

Cum tempore, in a certayne space.

Recordari cum animo, to remember, or to revolue in his minde.

Statutum cum animo habere, to be determined in his minde.

Cum populo agere, to demaunde or aske of the people, what they wolde haue done in the matter.

Cum tua pace, sauyng your displeasure.

Cum venia tua, with your licence.

Cum causa facere, to doo a thynge for some skyll or consideracion.

Cum cura legere, to reade attentiuely with diligence.

Cum catenis esse, to be in cheynes.

Cum diluculo, or cum prima luce abiit, he departed as soone as the daie appered.

Cum decimo aget effert, The fielde yeldeth ten for one.

Cum fide persoluere, to paie truly and faithfully euery penie.

Cum magna fide vir, a verie sure and trustye man.

Cum bona gratia dimittere aliquem, to dismisse one, so that he is well content with vs.

Cum lætitia viuere, to lyue in hope & myrthe.

Cum bona spe adolescentes, verie towardly ponge men.

Cum bona venia audire, to heare pacientlp, or without displeasure.

Cum eo, so that, on that condicion.

Obsequar voluntati tuæ, cum eo ne dubites &c. I will obeie your mynde, so that, or on that condicion ye will not doubt. &c.

Cum, is sometyme an aduerbe. sometyme a conjunction, and signifieth whan, whyles, where, where as, seyng that, for as muche, as well.

Cum mihi tum illi, as well to me as to hym.

In Cum, is som thyng lesse vnderstanded, in Tum, some thyng more.

Quod cum omnibus confitendum est, tum nobis præcipue, whiche thynge ought to bee confessed of all men, and of vs most specially.

Cum, signifieth all be it.

Nam cum sedulo munditer nos habemus, vix ægre amatorculos inuenimus, Although we apoynt vs neuer so cleanly: yet vneth fynd we any louers. Whan it signified whan, where, and forasmuche, the auncient writers wrate it Quõm, & Quum.

Cum, whan Tamen foloweth, most cõmonly signifieth where as, all though, all be it.

Cum, seyng that: as, Cum hæc ita sint, tanto magis te aduigilare æquum est, Seyng that these thinges bee so, it is good reasone that you take so muche the more hede.

Cum hoc non possum, illud minus possem, Seyng I can not doo this, muche lesse can I doo that other thyng.

Cum, for quod, as, Tibi maximas gratias ago, cum tantum meæ litteræ potuerunt, I thanke you hertily, that my letters couldе doo so muche with you.

Cum, for præterquàm quod, as,

Cum id mihi placeret, tum vno ore omnes omnia bona dicere. &c. Beside that this was to me verie pleasaunt, all my neyghbours also, with one accorde. &c.

Cum, for Quia, or Quandoquidem, as in Donate.

Cum propter summum ingenium, tum propter singularem modestiam, As wel for his excellent witte, as especially for his singular modestie.

Luxuria vero cum omni ætati turpis, tum senectuti fœdissima, As vncleanly lust is a foule thynge in euery age: so especially in olde men it is moste filthie: Or, lechery in deede is a foule vice at all tymes: yet in age it is moste vnhoneft, or though it be vnhoneft in all ages, yet in olde age it is moste dishonest.

Cum, seens that: as, Iam biennium est cum ille mecum esse cœpit, It is nowe two yeres seens that he came kyght to me.

Diu est cum dentes exciderunt, it is longe a great while seens &c.

Dies haud multi interceserant, cum legati venerunt, There passed not many daies, but that the ambassadours came.

Cum, for In quo, as, Vtinam illum diem videam, cum tibi gratias agam, I praye god I maie ones see that daie, wherein I maye geue you thankes.

Likewise Tempus erit cum. &c.

Cum dare poterit, sometyme in the ciuile lawe for cum dederit.

Præsertim cum se seruum fateatur tuum, especially seyng he graunteth hym selfe to be your seruaunt.

Cum minimum, at the leaste.

Cum primum statim, by and by, as soone as.

Cum plurimum, for the moste parte.

Vel cum tardissimè septimo, Or whan it cometh moste slowly, on the seuenth daie.

Cuma, or Come, es, a towne of Ionia, in the lesse Asia, wherof Sibylla Cumea was named.

Cumæ, arum, a citee in Campania.

Cumani, are also a people in Æolis, about Lesbos, of whom the prouerbe goeth, Sero sapiunt Cumani.

Cu-

Cumanus, or Cumæus, a man of that citee.
Cumátilis, le, a blewe or skye colour.
Cumba, looke Cuba.
Cumbo, ui, ĕre, was vsed of olde writers to sye downe, out of vse.
Cúmera, æ, a great vessell, eyther of wickers, or of earthe, wherin corne was kepte.
Cúmerum, ri, n. g. a vessell vsed at weddynges.
Cuminum, ni, neu. g. an herbe and seede called Cummyne, which was wont to be sowed with curtsyng.
Cumueni, Bigore in Fraunce.
Cumulatè, abundantly, with large measure.
Cumulate planum aliquid facere, to make a thyng as playne and manifeste as nede to be.
Cumulátim, by heapes, or heaped vp.
Cumulátus a, um, augmented, heaped, abundãt.
Cumulatum gaudium, ample ioye.
Locus cumulatus, a place, wherein lyeth a great heape of thynges.
Cumulatissimus scelerum, a verie naughtie felowe, full of mischiefe and lewdnesse.
Cumulatior gloria, greater honor & renome.
Cumulatissimè gratiam referre, to requite ones gentylnesse verie abundantly.
Cumulo, aui, are, to make an heape, to fyll, to adde more to.
Cumulare & augere.
Non possum, nõ confiteri, cumulari me maximo gaudio quod. &c. I can not chose, but confesse, that I am exceding gladde for that &c.
Cumulare gaudium, to encrease ones ioye or gladnesse.
Cumulari gaudio, to be exedyng ioyous and gladde.
Africanus eloquentia cumulauit bellicam gloriam, Africanus with his eloquence dyd greatly augment the glory of his knyghtely prowesse, or Africanus beyng his prowesse and glory in warrefare, was of notable eloquence.
Cumulare sibi inuidiam, to make ones selfe greatly spyted or hated.
Nunc meum cor ira cumulatur, Now am I exedyng angry.
Laudibus aliquem cumulare apud alios, to prayse a man greatly.
Cumulare scelus scelere, to heape mischiefe vpon mischiefe.
Cumulare benefacta, to doo pleasure vpon pleasure.
Publicæ necessitudinis pignora priuatis cumulat officiis, Ouer and beside the tokens of that loue and frendshyp, whiche we haue together for the common weales sake: he shewyth to me many frendly pleasures in our priuate affayres.
Cúmulus, li, ma. gen. an heape: And by translation, the increase, augmentation, or plentie of any thyng. sometyme a waue of water.
Tuæ literæ cumulum gaudij mihi attulerunt, your letters haue made me exedyng glad.
Vt tantus cumulus accedat meæ commendationi, That so muche mate be added thorough my commendation.
Ad summam lætitiam meam, quam ex tuo redditu capio, magnus huius aduentu cumulus accedit, The gladnesse that I haue for your retourne, whiche is so great, that almost it can not be more, is muche encreased by the comyng of this man.
Cunábula, orum, n. ge. plu. tantum, idem quod Cunæ, arum.
Cunabula auium, birdes nestes.
A primis cunabulis, euen from his infantie.
Vbi gentis nostræ cunabula, in whiche place our nation had the first beginnyng.
Cunæ, arum, plura tantum, cradles, wherein chyldren be rocked. sometyme it is taken for the age of infantie. also for the begynnyng of thynges.
Cunctabúndus, slowe, lyngeryng.
Cunctans, prolongyng, deferryng, lyngeryng, doubtyng.
Cunctánter, slowely, softe and fayre.
Haud cunctanter, forth with, by and by, without delay.
Cunctátio, ónis, fœ. ge. a tarying or abydyng, a prolonging of tyme, a doubtyng, lingring.
Eximere cunctationem, to put out of dout.
Abiecta omni cunctatione, without any more tarying or lyngryng.
Inijcere cunctationem, to make one be in a studie, whether he shall doe a thyng or noe.
Cunctatio & mora. Cunctatio & dubitatio.
Cunctátor, óris, m. g. a taryar, a deferrer, a lyngerer, a prolonger of tyme. It is also he that speaketh litteli, & tarieth longe in his speakyng.
Cunctator & tardus. Cunctator & segnis.
Cuncti, all together, full and whole.
Cuncto, áui, áre, is vsed actiuely of Plautus.
Hæsitare, cunctare, & dubitare.
Cunctor, áris, ári, to tary, to prolonge tyme, to abyde, to doubte.
Cunctus, a, um, all together, full and whole.
Cuneatim, wedgewyse, by lyttell bandes or cõpanies, imbattayled wedgewyse.
Cuneátus, a, um, that whiche appereth to be in the saied fourme of a wedge.
Cuneo, aui, are, to make in forme of a wedge. Also to ioigne or fasten in buyldynge, as one toyste or stone is cocketted within an other.
Hispania cuneatur angustiis, Spayne hath many streites or corners lyng out wedgewyse.
Cuneolus, li, ma. g. a diminutiue of Cuneus.
Cúneus, nei, m. g. a wedge to cleaue wood with small and thynne before, and brode and thycke after. By translation it is a company of footemen in battaile, that goth in a lyke order, small before and brode behynde. There was a lyke fourme in the Theater or place, where men beheilde plaies. It is sometyme taken for a company of people.

Cuneus ager, a ꝓmontoꝛie of Poꝛtugall.
Cuniculáriæ, littell ples in the middle ſea.
Cuniculárius, rij, ma. ge. a mynour, he that myꝛ-neth vnder the earth.
Cuniculâtim, by holes oꝛ mines vnder the erth, oꝛ after the faction of a pipe.
Cuniculôſus, a, um, full of mynes oꝛ holes vn-der the grounde, oꝛ full of conies.
Cuniculus, a diminutiue of Cuneus.
Cuniculus, li, m. g. a beaſt called a conie. alſo an hole in the ground, a myne vnder the earthe: ſometyme a ꝓpe of leade.
Agere cuniculos, to myne vnder the ground.
Cuniculis oppugnare, by tranſlation to goe about a mattier couertly, by gyle oꝛ deceipt.
Cuniculis hoſtium cuniculos excipere, to countremine, to mine againſt other to mete the.
Cunila, cúnilæ, f. g. an herbe, wherof be iii. kyn-des: One is called Capitata, whiche is oure ſa-uerie: In other Gallinacea, whiche ſome dooe call Origanum, Heracleoticum, in engliſhe the maioꝛam, whiche hath the ſmall leafe. The thirde is that, whiche is alſo called Origanum, whiche I ſuppoſe to be peny royall with the bꝛode leafe.
Cunilâgo, ínis, f. g. a kynde of ſauerie.
Cunina, the goddeſſe of infantes.
Cunire, to ſhyte.
Cunnus, a womans wichette.
Cupa, æ, f. g. a cuppe. alſo a great wyne veſſell, a tonne oꝛ pipe.
Cupédia, æ, f. g. the deſyꝛe of deintie fare.
Cupédia, órum, n. g. plur. delicate meates.
Cupedinárius, ĭ, ma. g. an houkſter that ſelleth meate and dꝛynke, a vittayler.
Cupedo, pédinis, idem quod Cupido, and Cu-piditas.
Cupédula, læ, fœm. ge. delicate meate, oꝛ deyn-tie fare.
Cupes, delicate meate. alſo a deintie mouthed ke-lowe, one that deliteth in deyntie fare.
Cupherion, flux of bludde at the nole, whiche (as Vegetius ſaieth) chaunſeth often to hoꝛ-ſes, whiche be galoped to farre.
Cupidè, deſyꝛouſely, gredyly, with great affec-tion, gladly.
Cupiditas, átis, f. g. deſyꝛe, couetouſneſſe. ſome-tyme diſhoneſt loue.
Reuertit cupiditas cibi, I am a hũgred again.
Ardere cupiditate, to deſyꝛe exceedyngly.
Coercere cupiditates, to moderate the affec-tions.
Injcere cupiditatem hominibus, to make men deſyꝛous.
Cupiditas & auaritia.
Studia cupiditatéſque honorum.
Cupido, ínis, m. g. the ſon of Venus, god of loue.
Cupido, ínis, f. g. ſometyme. m. g. deſyꝛe, cou-etouſneſſe of any thyng.
Auri cœcus cupido, blynde deſyꝛe of money.
Cupido cepit me, I was deſyꝛous.
Illum inceſsit cupido, he had a mynd oꝛ fan-taſie. Cupidines, in the plurall numbꝛe.
Cúpidus, a, um, deſyꝛous, couetous. ſometyme that loueth oꝛ fauoureth earneſtely, deſyꝛous to be in ones companie, glad and fayne.
Cupidus & moderatus, contrary.
Cupidiſsimus mei, my veꝛaie frende.
Cupiẽncus, in the Sabine tunge is a ꝓieſt.
Cupiens, éntis, he that deſyꝛeth a thyng.
Cupiens tui eſt, he loueth the hertily.
Cupienter, with great deſyꝛe.
Cupio, ívi, ĕre, pítum, to deſyꝛe vehemently, to wyſhe, to couete, to be fayne, to haue a great affection, to will wel to one, to be muche deſy-rous, to be right fayne.
Cupere & optare.
Nimis quàm cupio, I deſyꝛe vehemently, I haue great affection, I woulde veꝛaie fayne.
Cupio omnia quæ tu vis, I am ready to doo-pou pleaſure oꝛ ſeruice, in what mattier ſo euꝛ you will haue me.
Cupit te conuentum, he deſyꝛeth to ſpeake wyth you.
Cupio matrem reuiſere, I woulde fayne ſee my mother agayne.
Ego Fundanio non cupio? Am not I ready, oꝛ doo I not deſyꝛe to dooe any pleaſure fo Fundanius?
Omnia alicuius cauſa cupere, to be glad and ꝛeadye to dooe all the pleaſure in the woꝛlde foꝛ a man.
Cuius cauſa omnia cum cupio, tum me her-cule etiam debeo, Foꝛ whoſe ſake I am not onely ꝛeadie to dooe all the pleaſures in the woꝛlde, but alſo that moꝛe is, I oughte, and am bound ſo to doe.
Cupire in quarta, apud antiquos.
Cupitor, óris, ma. g. one that deſyꝛeth oꝛ wolde fayne haue a thyng.
Cupitus, a, um, deſyꝛed, coueted.
Cupra, a towne in Italy.
Cupreſſétum, ti, neu. gen. a place where Cyꝛ-pꝛes doo growe.
Cupréſsifer, a, um, that beareth Cyꝛpꝛes trees.
Cupreſsinus, a, um, and Cupréſſeus, of Cy-pꝛes tree.
Cupréſſus, ſi, oꝛ us, f. g. a cypꝛes tree.
Cúpreus, a, um, of copper.
Cuprum, i, n. g. mettall called copper.
Cur, wheꝛfoꝛe, oꝛ why. ſometyme with interroga-tion. ſometyme without.
Cura, æ, fœ. g. care, thoughte, ſtudye, diligence, warke oꝛ labour. alſo loue.
Dare aliquid curæ corporis, to employ ſome parte of tyme to cheriſh his helth.
Inſomnes curæ, that kepe from ſlepe.
Conſedit cura, the care oꝛ heuines is aſſwaged.
Cura eſt, negotij quid ſit, I am ſolicitous, what the mattier is.
Curæ habere, Curæ eſſe, to care foꝛ.
Curas adimere, to put out of care.

Cu-

Curam figere, infigere, configere, defigere, to sette care or studye on a thyng.
Curis laxari, to be out of care.
Cura & diligentia.
Antiquissima cura, the chiefe & principall care.
Adhibere curam in re aliqua, to take good hede, to be carefull and diligent in a mattier.
Cura aliquem afficere, and Curam injicere alicui, to make one solicitous, carefull, or heup.
Delegare curam alicuius rei alicui, to commyt the charge of a thyng to one.
Leuare aliquem cura, to diminisshe ones care or heapnesse.
Hæc mihi cura nunc maxima est, This is the thyng that I am nowe most carefull for.
Fecerunt curam, they toke hede.
Fluctuat æstu curarum, or vndis curarum, he is sore disquieted with diuers matters: or he is verye solicitous and carefull.
Cura aliquem liberare, to put one out of care.
Abigere curas, to dryue awaie care.
Cura consumi, & confici, to cõsume and pine awaie with thought and care.
Curantia, idem quod Curatio.
Curanter, carefully, diligently.
Curatio, ônis, sæ. ge. an healyng or curyng, specially of phisitions, a diligent tendyng or ouerseyng: an office, a cure or charge, a commission appoynted to a man.
Curatio & administratio rerum, The charge and administration of thynges.
Curationem deferre ad aliquem, to appoint and assigne the cure and charge of a thynge to a man.
Curatio mea est, it is myne office or charge.
Curâtor, ôris, m. g. a gardiane in seruage, or he to whom the custodie of a madde or foolisshe man is cõmitted, he that hath the custodie of a ward. also he to whom any thynge is committed to seruye, or to prouide thynges necessary for the weale publike, or to ordre suche thynges as he hath in charge, cõcernyng as well priuate thinges, as belongyng to the comminaltee: he maie be properly called a surueiour.
Curatória, æ, f. gen. the office or charge of a gardian or surueyour.
Curatórius, a, um, belongyng to the said office.
Curâtus, a, um, in good poynte or state.
Curâtus, a, um, dooen with care and diligence, trymmed, decked, dressed.
Curax, âcis, m. g. curious, diligent.
Curculio, ônis, ma. ge. a littell wozme in grayne called a myte or wyuell. It is also the wesyll of the throte of a man, whereby he draweth wind.
Curcura, an yland in the sea Adriatike.
Cures, curium, plu. a citee of the Sabynes.
Curêtes, the priestes of Cybeles, whiche first inhabited Italy. They were also called Corybantes: there were other people so called, whiche were nere to Aetolia: Also other in Dalmatia, nowe called Sclauonia. Curêtes called also Idei dactyli, were. vi. brethernе in Creta, vnto whom Rhea caused hir sonne Jupiter to be brought, fearing the yre of Saturne hir husbande, theyr names were these, Hercules, Iolaus, Pæonius, Epimedes, Iasius, and Idas.
Curêtis, was the olde name of the yle called Creta.
Cúria, æ, f. g. the place appoincted where to sytte and consulte of matters concernyng the comon weale, the lordes house of the parliament. Romulus the first kyng of Rome diuided the people into. xxx. parties: And because the cure or charge of the weale publike was dispatched by the consent and sentence of theim, he called thẽ Curias And afterward he added vnto them other liue, & that euery man in his owne Curia should obserue holy daies, and doo sacrifice.
Curia, was also the courte of the Senate, and sometyme vsed for the courte of session of any iudges, which haue speciall iurisdiction, whom we name iudges of recorde.
Curiæ dominicales, maye bee taken amonge those courtes, whiche we call court barons. Of the occasion and begynnyng of Curiæ dominicales, reade the comminente of Zasius, vppon the title of the lawe ciuile, de origine iuris.
Curiæ veteres, where priestes ministred about theyr ceremonies.
Curia hostilia, was a place buylded by Tullus Hostilius, kynge of Romayns, where the Senate dyd sytte about the affayres of the citee of Rome.
Curiâlis, le, of that court or counsaile house.
Curiales flamines, priestes belongyng to the houses of counselles.
Curiales mensæ, tables, whereon sacrifices were dooen to Iuno.
Curiales, they whiche be of that court.
Curiâtus, a, um, the adiectiue.
Curiata comitia, were great assembles, called of the people, out of euery of the. xxx. wardes called Curiæ: which beyng set in. xxx. sundry particions, affirmed or denyed suche lawes or cõstitucions as were purposed vnto them. And the lawes so made, were called Leges curiatæ.
Curio, ônis, of Varro, is taken for the place, where priestes consulted concernyng diuine ceremonies. also a curate, or he that hath the spirituall charge of a parysshe. Also it was the surname of a familie in Rome, whereof were many excellent oratours.
Curio magnus, (as Dipontinus writeth) is take of Plautus, for one made meigre or leane, with care and busynesse.
Curionem agnum, Plautus calleth a leane lambe.
Curionâtus, us, m. g. the office of a curate.
Curiónium, nij, neu. g. the monye that is geuen to a curate for doyng his office.
Curionia sacra, whiche were done of the curates called Curiones.

Curiosè, curiously, warely, verie diligently.
Curiósitas, átis, f. g. curiositee, to muche diligẽce.
Curiósus, is of Robertus Stephanus, in his dictionarie in latin and frenche, declared to bee the master of the postes horses and mulettes, to sende in haste about the emperours affayres.
Curiosus, is also a spie, that cometh to harken or note what is saied or dooen.
Curiosus, a, um, curious, taken sometyme on the yll part, where more diligence is vsed than is expediente. sometyme on the better parte, where we be verie carefull and busy about thynges concernyng either our selues or other men.
Curiosis oculis perspicere, to loke diligently on a thyng.
Curiosus rerum alienarum, busye or muche medlyng in other mens mattiers.
Curiosus agnus, idem quod Curio agnus.
Curis, in the Sabine tunge is a speare. also the surname of Juno, whiche is alwaye pictured with a speare in hir hande.
Curius, the surname of noble Romaynes, one was called Marcus Curius, a man of meruaylous honestie, constancie and grauitee. He after many great victories (beyng capitayne) against the Samnites, Sabines, and the noble kyng Pyrrhus, diuided amonge the people the fieldes, appointyng to euery man .xl. acres, and receyued by their consentes, as muche to hym selfe. And whan they would haue geuen to hym more, he refused it, saiyng: He was an yll citezyn, that thought it not enough for hym, that was enough for other. Whã the ambassadours of the Samnites brought hym a great summe of golde, he spityng by the fyre, boylynge of rapes, saied vnto them: I had rather eate in mine earthen dysshe, & to haue dominion ouer theim that haue so muche golde, than to be ryche my selfe. Whan he was accused of withholding of monete, he brought foorth a treen barrell, whiche he occupied whan he dyd sacrifice: and toke a solemne othe, that of all the praie that was gotten of them, whom he vanquysshed, he kepte no more but that barrell to his owne vse.
Curmúndula, a peare, or rather an herbe, hauyng so thynne a rynde, that men vsed to eate it without pyllyng.
Curo, áui, áre, to care for a thing, to take hede to, or be diligent about a thyng, to see vnto, to be doyng of a thyng, to prouide, to passe for. sometyme to prepare, to heale one that is sicke, to take refection or comfort, to puruey.
Medicaminibus curari, to be healed by medicines.
Cura vt valeas, looke to thy health.
Curasti probe, Thou haste doen euery thynge well, thou hast sene well to the matter.
Curabo, I will doo my diligence.
Curabo illi pecuniam, I will prouide, that he shall haue monete.
Curabitur, it shall be prouided, it shalbe done with diligence.
Curare ædes, to take hede to the house, that nothyng be lost.
Huic mandes, si quid rectè curatum velis, If ye will haue a thyng well husbanded, commyte it to this mans orderyng.
Curare equos, to kepe and dresse horses.
Curare ocreas, to dresse bootes.
Curare aliena, to meddle with other menues mattiers.
Ciceronem cedere domo & patria curasti, thou hast so wrought or prouided, that Cicero is constreigned to forsake his. &c.
Adhuc curaui hoc vnum quidem, vt mihi esset fides, I haue allwais hytherunto been carefull for this one thyng. &c.
Curare amicos, to entertayne frendes or acquayntaunce.
Mea mandata de domo curabis, you shall see to those thynges, whiche I willed you to doe concernyng my house.
Curare mandata alicuius, to se to those thynges, that one gaue hym in charge to doe.
Curare faciendum, to cause or make it to be dooen. Curare fidem, to kepe promise.
Curare munus suum, to doo his office.
Legatis imperat, vbi quisque curaret, he ordeyneth his leutenantes, where euerie one of their charges did lye.
Non curat redire, he passeth not whether he come agayne or no.
Te curasti molliter, thou hast cherished thy selfe well.
Cura asseruandum vinctum, see that he be kepte fast in prysons.
Quid me curas, quid rerum geram? What haste thou to doo? or what carest thou what I go about?
Qui se, suámque ætatem bene curant: which make muche of theim selfe, and leade their life pleasantly.
Curare rebus alienis suo vestimento & cibo, to serue an other man for nothinge, and finde hym selfe: to spende his meate and drynke and apparell in an other mans seruice.
Curare prandium, to make readie dynner.
Curentur rectè hæc, Leat these thynges be well dooen, or well handled.
Mederi & curare.
Tristius curari, to be healed with more greif and peyne.
Curare cutem, to make good cheere, to cherish hym selfe.
Curare corpora sua somno & cibo, to cherish theyr bodies with meate, drynke, and slepe.
Currens, he that renneth.
✠ Currentem incitare, to exhorte or sette hym forwarde, that of his owne courage is well disposed to a thyng.
Curriculò, quickely.
Curriculo percurre, renne quickely.

Curriculum,li, n. ge. a diminutiue of Currus, a littell carre or charpot, a shorte space of tyme.
also a rennyng place. sometyme a rennyng or a course. And by a metaphore, a matter, wherin one is conuersant, and well exercised. somtyme game or prayse.
Curriculum is vsed of Cicero, for the auncient maner of iudgeyng or gruyng sentence in the Senate.
Curriculum vnum facere, to renne one rase.
Curriculum solis & lunæ, the course of the sonne and moone.
Curriculo celeri ire, to renne apace.
Curriculum vitæ, the space of ones lyfe.
Curriculum mentis, mattier, wherein the mynde is exercised.
Curriculum industriæ, a cause or mattier, wherin a mannes study or industry is shewed or proued.
Quantam curriculum obtinuêre à diuo Iulio
Mamertina vina, that wine had the fowerth prayse geuen to it: or was praysed to be the best saueng thyng.
Quum de curriculo petitionis deflexisses, after that ye lefte to sue with other for offices and dignities in the common weale.
Curro, cucurri, rere, to renne. also to flowe as ryuers doo. It is also to passe awaie faste as thynges doo.
Currere subsidio, to renne to succour.
Placido currere fluctu, to sayle prosperously.
Aetas currit, the age passeth.
Nox inter pocula currit, The nyght passeth awaie whyles they drynke merily.
Curritur, the impersonall.
Ad me curritur, they renne or resort to me.
Curuca,cæ,f.g. a litle byrd, which hatcheth and bryngeth vp cuckow byrdes. It is supposed to be an hedge sparowe, or rather a titlyng.
Currus,us,m. g. a carte, a waggen or chariot. In Aergile it is somtyme vsed for the carte horses.
Also by a metaphore it is vsed for a triumphe.
Agere currum, to drywe a carte, or chariot, or waggen.
Cursim, rennyng with all spede, verie spedily, rennyngely, hastily.
Cursim legere, to reade a pase, to rede roundly.
Cursim and Sensim, contrarye.
Cursim & breuiter aliquid attingere, to touche a thyng briefely and in fewe wordes.
Cursito, ãui, ãre, to renne often.
Curso, ãui, ãre, to renne alwaies or often, to renne about hyther and thither.
Cursor, ôris, ma. gen. he that reyneth in poste, a currour, a lachaye.
Armillati cursores, postes.
Cursorius,a,um, pertaynyng to rennyng.
Cursura,æ, f. g. a course.
Curses, us, m. g. a course, a rennyng, a maner of buyng, a trade or profession in a mans occupyes.
Cursus vitæ, the course & short space of the life.
Cursu eunt in hanc sententiã, they agree gladly to this sentence or opinion.
E cursu ipso reuocauit voluntas tua, your wil or pleasure called me backe whan I was well entred.
Quamquàm vos iam pridem estis in cursu, although that you be all redy well entred in the mattier.
Omnis omnium cursus est ad vos, the refort or refuge of all men is to you: Or, all men re-sorte and flee to you.
Cursus honorum, the tyme that one beareth rule or authoritee in the common weale.
Ad honorem eo cursu venit, qui semper pa-tuerit omnibus, he came to honour or aduan-tement by that waie or meane, that hath euer bene open to all men.
Cursum atque exitum rei perspicere, to knowe & perceiue what waie thynges will go forwarde, and to what ende they will come.
Cursum tenere, to hold on the course that one hath begun.
Mihi cursus in Græciam est per tuam pro-uinciam, I must take a iourney into Greece by your prouince.
Curtius, a famouse Romayne, whiche for the weale of his countrey, caste hym selfe into a gay pynge quaue of the earthe.
Curto, ãui, ãre, to make shorte or diminysshe.
Curtus, a, um, shorte, littell or small.
Curta supellex, littell or small substance.
Curta sententia, an vnperfite sentence that lacketh somewhat.
Curuâmen, ĩnis, n. ge. a crokednesse or bending.
Curuatio, ônis, f. g. a boowyng or crookyng.
Curuatûra, æ, f. g. idem.
Curuâtus, a, um, bended, boowed, croked.
Curûca, cæ, f. g. a bird, in whose neast the cuckow
(as Aristotle saith) doth lay his egges, a titlyng
Curuêsco, scĕre, to be croked.
Curuipes, uipedis, com. ge. he that hath a cro-ked foote.
Curûlis, and Curulæ, wer littel cartes or dreyes, hauyng in them chayers of yuory, wherin they sate, which were heade officers of Rome, especially the ediles: sometyme it is vsed of poetes for the same officers.
Curûlis, le, the adiectiue: as,
Curûlis sella, a chayre of estate.
Curuo, ãui, ãre, to boowe or make croked.
Curuus, a, um, croked, boowed.
Cuscuta, æ, fœ. g. a weede, which twyneth about herbes, hauyng a redde stalke.
Cuso, the frequentatyue of Cudo.
Cuspidãtim, poyntyng, or poynetwyse.
Cuspidãtus, a, um, poynted.
Cuspides, is vsed for earthen pypes.
Cuspido, ãui, are, to poynete or make sharpe at the ende.
Cuspis, idis, f. g. sometyme signifieth the poinct of a weapon: sometyme the steele: sometyme

the ſpeare heade.

Cuſtódia,æ,fœ. g. the cuſtodie,keppng or ward: ſometyme he that kepeth: ſometyme he that is kepte: ſometyme the priſon, or place, where any thynge is kepte, a watche. alſo the place where the watche men be.

Publica cuſtodia, a common priſon.

Priuata cuſtodia, a priuate warde, whan one man is committed to the keping of an other.

Cuſtódio,ſtôdis,iui,ire, to kepe, to obſerue, to retain.

Cuſtodire modum, to kepe meaſure.

Morem cuſtodire, to kepe the cuſtome, faction or maner.

Memoria cuſtodire, to kepe in memorie.

Cuſtodiendum eſt, we muſte obſerue and beware.

Cuſtodire & obſeruare aliquem, to marke and watche one that he doo no harme.

Cuſtodit nomen loci hæc herba, this herbe reteineth or kepeth ſtil the name of the place.

Cuſtodire litteris, to kepe in wrytyng.

Cuſtodire parſimoniam, to kepe and obſerue a certaine ſobrietee in drynkyng and eatyng.

Cuſtodite, ſagely, takyng good heede.

Cuſtodítio,ônis,f. g. a keppng.

Cuſtodítus,a,um, kepte.

Cuſtos,ôdis,com. ge. a keper, a watche, a warderne, a gardian. Alſo he that is aſſiſtent to any accuſer, not onely to helpe hym, but to ſee that he be not corrupted. In vynes it is the younge braunche that is cut of, haupng.ii.or. iii. buddes.

Ad limina cuſtos, a porter.

Cuſtos gregis, a ſhepard.

Cuſtos ianitrix, a woman porter.

Cuſtos exactor, the ouer ſeer of any worke or buſines that is to be doone with diligence.

Cuticula,æ,f. g. a thynne ſkynne.

Cutiones,thep,which in ſcrlpng,make many pricks er they come to a poynte.

Cutis,tis,fœ. ge. the ſkynne. alſo a thynne rinde.

Curata cute homo, groſſe and wel fedde.

Curare cutem, to make good chere.

Cutis vuæ the ſkynne or huſke of a grape.

Cutis arboris, the barke of a tree.

Cutis terræ, the vpper parte of the earth.

Cuturnium, a veſſell, out of whiche wyne was powred in ſacrifices.

C ANTE Y.

Cyamea,æ, fœm. ge. a ſtone, which beyng broken, is lyke a beane.

Cyamus,mi,ma. gen. a beane. alſo a certayne cuppe.

Cyane,es, a mayden of Syracuſa, who beynge rauyſhed of hir owne father, drewe hym afterwarde by the heare to be ſacrificed: and was hir ſelfe kylled vpon his bodye, to ceaſe the peſtilence that Bacchus had ſent for that abhominable acte.

Cyaneæ, plandes or rather rockes vnder Bellephoron Thracius.

Cyanee, or Cyanea, a nymphe, the daughter of the ryuer Meandrus.

Cyáneus, & Cianus,a,um, of a bryghte blewe colour,lyke a ſaphyre ſtoupe.

Cyanippus a man of Syracuſe, that rauiſhed his owne daughter Cyane.

Cyanus,ni,m g.a blewe floure growyng among corne, called a blewe bottell. It is alſo a precioule ſtone called a turquoyſe.alſo a birde called Cæruleo, loke there.

Cyaraxes, the ſonne of Phraortes,kyng of Perſia and Media,father of Aſtiages.

Cyathiſſo,áui,áre, to ſippe, or to quaffe all out, or halues: Or rather to fyll out drynke to one, to ſerue one of drynke in his cup.

Cyathus,thi,ma. ge. a cuppe. it is alſo a meaſure, conteynynge of oyle one vnce and an halfe: of wyne, one vnce. v. drammes, and one ſcruple Of hony, two vnces and an halfe. alſo a cuſtayne poyſe or weight, of. 16. drammes.

✠ Cyathus, after Budeꝰ and Giarian, the .xi. parte of Sextarius, that is. ii ounces meaſure, or after Fuchſius and Phyſicions, accomptng but. xviii. ounces to Sextarius, Cyathus is an ounce and an halfe.

Ad cyathos ſtare, to attende on ones cuppe.

Cybea,æ, f. g. a kynde of great ſhyppes.

Cybéle,les,or Cybeles,lis, or after ſome Cybelle,the wyfe of Saturne,named of poetes the mother of the goddis, whiche hath dyuers other names,as ſhall appeere in their places.

Cybindus auis, a birde, whiche is enemie to the egle. Eraſinus ſaith, it is Accipiter nocturnus, the night hauke.

Cybiſter,éris,n.g. a certayn tumbler or diuer, whiche tumbleth rounde.

Cybiſtéma,átis,n.g. the maner of their tabling.

Cybium,bij, a fyſche, whiche is foure ſquare It is alſo a meaſure called quadrantall. Loke there.

Cybórium,ij,n. g. looke Ciborium.

Cyclades, the fyftye yles in the ſea called Egeū.

Cyclámínus,ni,fœ. g or Cyclaminum,ni,n. g. an herbe called of the latines Rapum, Tuber terræ, of ſome Vmbelicus terræ, of the Apothecaries Panis porcinus: an other is of the ſame name, whiche they call Sigillum Mariæ, it is named in engliſh rape violet.

Cyclas,cycladis,fœ. g. a womans gowne with a longe traync, veraie thynne and ſclender in maner of a veple.

Cycloborus, a riuer of Attica,ſwifte and violent.

Cyclopæ'dia, the learnyng and knowlage of all ſcienees.

Cyclops,ôpis, m. g. an auncient people inhabityng the yle of Sicile, whiche were lyke gyauntes, haupng but one eye in their foreheades.

Cyclus,cli,m.g.a round place in Athenes,where thynges were ſolde. alſo a coyne or poyſe.

Cyc-

Cycnus, a capitayne of the Ligurians, who be wayling the death of Phaeton, was turned into a swanne

Cydarum, i, neu. g. a bote.

Cydias, a peincter, whiche pe'nected the Argonautes.

Cydnus, a ryuer in Cilicia, whiche renneth from the great mountain Taurus, & passeth through the citee Tharsos, whiche ryuer is so colde, that whan the great Alexander in his iourneie against Darius, went into it to refreshe hym, he was so mortified with colde in all his body, that he shulde haue dyed, had not that excellent and faithfull phisition Philipp recouered hym.

Cydon, one of the notable townes of Candy. also a man of Corinthe, whiche kepte so great hospitalitee, that therof grew a prouerbe.

Cydonea, an ple by Lesbos.

Cydónium, ij, n. g. a quince peare.

Cygneus, a, um, of a swanne.

Cygnea cantio, a songe of a swanne. A prouerbe applied vnto theim, that in their later daies, dispute, reason, or write most eloquently and pleasantly.

Cygnologus is vsed of some for one that singeth pleasantly and sweetely, like a swanne.

Cygnus, or Cycnus, ni, m. g, a swanne.

Cyleno, the daughter of Atlas, and mother of Nycteus.

Cylicrani, a people of Spayne.

Cylindraceus, a, um, that is in fourme lyke a langar or a roller.

Cylindrus, dri, ma. ge. an instrument, whiche is longe and rounde lyke a pyllar, and turneth, wherwith the clodddes of earthe are broken, called cõmonly a roller. It is also any thynge that is easy to be rolled or tumbled.

Cylindri, be also littell small stones, long and round lyke a roller.

Cylisma, atis n. g. a rolling or tumblyng.

Cylix, idem quod Calix.

Cyllarus, the horse of Castor.

Cyllestris, tris, m. g. barley breadde.

Cyllene, an hyll of Archadie, where they saye Mercurius was nourished.

Cyllenius, one of the names of Mercurie.

Cyllo, ônis, m. g. one that is lame and marmed.

Cylydros, a serpente that rolleth hym selfe as he goeth.

Cyma, æ, fem. ge. or Cyma, ătis, neu. ge. ponge colewortes. Also the tender parte of the stalke of euery herbe.

Cymáilis, le, of blewe colour lyke the sea.

Cymáilis vestis, a blewe garment, and not chamblette, as some take it.

Cymba, æ, f. g. a bote.

Cymbalaris herba, an herbe that groweth in mudde walles, hauyng a leafe like to Iuy, but beraye muche lesse, and a lyttell purple flower.

Cymbalista, æ, m. g. he that playeth vpõ cymbales

Cymbalum, li, n. g. an instrument of muslke.

Cymbalisso, aui, are, to playe on the cymbales.

Cymbium, ij, neu. ge. a peece or cuppe to dryncke wyne in.

Cymbrica Chersonesus, the countrey of Denmarke.

Cyme, a citee of Troias.

Cymes, Sibille, called Cumæa.

Cyminum, ni, n. g. cummyn.

Cyminus, a lake in Italy.

Cymodoce, the daughter of Oceanus, and Tethis.

Cymosus, a, um, that hath a tender stalke.

Cymothoe, the daughter of Nereus, and wife of Neptune.

Cyna, æ, a certayne tree in Archadie, wherof they make theyr garmẽtes also a cappe that the Lacedemonians vsed to weare.

Cynaglossus, described of Plinie to haue little burres, is that whiche in englisth is called dogs tonge, or houndes tonge.

Cynamulgus, a certaine bird in Arabie.

Cynanthropia, idem quod Lycanthropia.

Cynæthium, a citee of Archadie.

Cynámya, æ, a doggfie.

Cynanche, es, f. ge. a syckenes called the squinee, whiche is in the throte and tawes.

Cynara, an herbe nowe called Artochokes.

Cynasonas, a pynne, wherwith women tryin vp theyr heare.

Cyneas, an excellent wyse man, who beyng sent from kynge Pyrrhus ambassadour to Rome, the nexte daie after he came thyther, he saluted the whole senate & gentylmen by theyr names. Seneca in prologo libri. 1. Decla. saieth, that he saluted the Senate, and all the people stans dynge about to beholde hym, by theyr names.

Cynegética, volumes written of huntyng.

Cynegirus, a capitayne of Athens.

Cynia, idem quod Cynocrambe.

Cynice, es, fem. gene. the secte of philosophiers called Cynici.

Cynici, were a secte of philosophiers, whiche signifieth doggishe, for the similitude of their condicions. For they barked at all men, and occupyed womenne openly, and spued without any prouision. The fyrst authour therof was Anisthenes, and nexte hym folowed Diogenes

Cynips, cyniphis, a flie with long leggs, called also Musca canina, a gnat, or migge.

Cyniphis, or Cyniphos, a ryuer of Africke, by the whiche are bredde great gotes.

Cyniphius, a, um, of that ryuer, or of gotes.

Cyniphia pellis, the skynne of a gote.

Cynnaberis, is that, which the apothecaries doo call Sanguis draconis.

Cynacauma, an inflammation or bournyng, cõmyng of the byting of a madde dogge.

Cynóchala, idem quod Polygonum.

Cynocéphalus, a beaste lyke an ape, greatter and more puissant, and hath the heade more like a dogge.

dogge. Diodorus Siculus saieth, that in bodye and fourme, he is like to a man, and hath a like voyce. I suppose it to bee those, whiche we call Babyons. Horus Apollo writeth, that they pysse. xii. tymes in a daie, and as often in the nyghte, declarynge euery houre of the daie and nyghte by makynge their vrine. also that the dogge of that kynde so lamenteth the wane of the moone, that durynge the tyme that she is darke, before the change, he neuer looketh vpward, nor eateth any thyng, but sheweth a countenance of sorowe. Also people vnder the great Lane, hauing heades like dogges, are so called.

Cynocephalia, æ, f. g. an herbe, the floure whereof is lyke a dogges head, called of the Latines, Herba Pulicaris, because the seedes bee lyke to fleas.

Cynocephalum, idem quod Psyllium. Dios.

Cynocrambe, the herbe Cynia. Dios.

Cynodontæ, are dogges teethe, whiche doo growe in their latter age.

Cynoglossa, or Cynoglossos, an herbe called Houndes tounge.

Cynomazon, is interpreted to be chamælion, whiche put in porrage, doth kill dogges.

Cynomórion, called also Orobanche, a wede growynge amonge beanes and pease, and destroieth them.

Cynomyia, æ, fœ. g. a flye that dooeth sucke the bloude of beastes, some call it an horse flye, all be it by the etymologie of the woorde: it might be better called a dogge fly. It is also the herbe called Cynocephalia.

Cynopolis, a citee, wher Anubis was honoured.

Cynórrhodon, The flower of the red hyp.

Cynórrhodus, f. g. named in latin Rosa canina, that which thei call swete bryar or Eglantine.

Cynos, in latine Canis, a dogge. Also a citee in Locris.

Cynosarges, a place in Athens, where children, whiche were bastardes, were exercised.

Cynósbatos, ti, f. g. the wylde eglantyne, called also dogge bryer.

Cynosorchis, an herbe called also Orcius, of the apothecaries Testiculum canis, and Satyrion. It hath leaues lyke an olyue, softe and lyyng on the grounde, the roote is round lyke the stones of a man, loke Orchis.

Cynosórhodos, eglantine.

Cynosûra, a fygure of sterres in heauen, called Vrsa minor, It was also the name of one of Iupiters nourses.

Cynosura ova, egges that proue not vnder a foule that sytteth.

Cynozolon, a synkynge herbe of the kynde of thystelles, the stronge sauoure whereof, causeth the tyches to falle from a dogges eares.

Cynozon, idem.

Cynthia, one of the names of Diana.

Cynthus, an hyll of the ylande Delus, where Apollo and Diana were borne.

Cyparissa, a citee of Achaia.

Cyparissia, æ, fœ. g. the fyft kynde of spurge, the greatest of them all.

Cyparissus, the sonne of Telephus, whiche bewaylynge the deathe of a tame hynde, slayne by his louer Syluanus, was tourned into a Cypres tree.

Cyparissus, si, f. g. a cypres tree.

Cypérus, ri, m. g. is that, whiche of the apothecaries, is called Iuncus odoratus, or rather an other lyke vnto it, a kynd of Galingale.

Cypérus Babylonicus, galyngale.

Cyperus, & Cyperis, an herbe, hauynge leaues lyke sedges. also a roote lyke ginger.

Cypria, was one of the names of Venus.

Cyprinus, a, um, of the tree called Cypres.

Cyprinum oleum, an oyle made of the tree called Cypres.

Cyphi, a confection vsed in sacrifice of the pristes of Aegypt, made of thes thinges folowing, mel, vinum, vuapassa, Cyperus, resina, sesselis, aspalathus, myrrha, bitumen, iuncus, bryon. &c.

Cyprinus, a kertayne fyshe of the kind of conger, some saie it is a carpe.

Cyprium, ij, neu. ge. or Cyprium æs, a mettall called copper.

Cyprium, in the Sabine tunge signifieth good.

Cyprius, a, um, of the yle of Cypres.

Cyprus, an yle in the sea called Carpathium, ouergapnst the countrey called Syria, on the north it hath Cilicia: on the southe & the east Egypte. It is in length, after the descripcion of Strabo. 175. myles, after. 8. furlonges to the myle. Some suppose it was at the fyrst a porcion of Syria, diuided by erth quakes. This countree aboundeth in wyne, oyle, mettall, vitriole, and canes, wherof sugar is made. Also Venus was there had in great reuerence, in so muche that men beefore they did set foorthe their doughters in mariage, offered them to such strangers as came into the countrey, to be by them deflowred, & afterwarde maried them to husbandes.

Cyprus, pri, f. ge. a tree, called also Lygustrum, looke there.

Cypsella, a towne of Thrace.

Cypselos, the ware of the earc.

Cypselus, cypseli, m. g. a byrde called a martlet.

Cypselus, a kynge of Corinthus, father of Periander, one of the seuen sages of Greece.

Cyptasia, a citee in Galatia, called Carosa.

Cyrcilus, a man of Athens, who was stoned to death, for persuadynge them to yelde the rule to Xerxes.

Cyrema, id est, conceptus.

Cyrenaica, a countrey in Affrike called also Pentapolitana. It hath on the west the great Syrtis, and the lesse Affrike: on the north the parte of the middle sea called Libycum: on the east, Marmarida: on the south the deserte of Libya: in this were the notable cities, Berenice, Ptolemais, linor, Ptolomais. ꝛc.

Cerenaica secta, a sette of philosophers, who affirmed the chiefe felicitee to bee in carnall delectation, of whom Aristippus was chiefe.

Cyrenaici canes, dogges engendred of wulfes and dogges.

Cyrbia, orum, chafe of wheate and barley.

Cyrites panis, fine bread of flower or meale.

Cyrene, es, or Cyrenæ, arum, a famous citee in Libya: also a citee in the yle of Cyprus.

Cyreneus, a man of that citee.

Cyrillus, the name of diuers learned bysshops, of the whiche one wrate agaynst Nestorius.

Cyrnea, æ, f. g. a goblette to drynke wyne in.

Cyrnus, the yle, which is called Corsica, or Corse, the people wherof are called Cyrnij.

Cyrrestis, a goddesse, worshipped in the countrey called Cyrrestica.

Cyrrha, a towne of Phocis, by the whiche be the fieldes called Cyrrhæi campi.

Cyrrhea, a citee in the mountayn of Helycon.

Cyrseum, ri, n. g. a great shippe or carrake.

Cyrus, the name of two kynges, the one in Armenia, the other in Media.

Cyrus, a noble kyng of Persia, the son of Cambises and Mandanes, the daughter of Astiages, kynge of Media. This man excelled all menne of his tyme in goodly personage, gentylnesse, prowesse, liberalitee, wysedome and memorie. Solinus wryteth, that of the exceding multitude of men, whiche were in his hoste, he so retayned the names, that he called euery man be his proper name, whan he spake vnto theim. The residue of his wounderfull vertues bee written by Senophon most eloquently in Greke. At the laste beyng insaciable in couetyng countries, he was slayne by Tomyris, quene of Scythia, with 200000 Persians, of him reade Iustine, li. 1. Herodo. li. 1. and Solinus. Valer. Max. li. 8. cap. 7.

Cyssophillon, idem quod Cyclaminus.

Cythiolithi, orum, m. g. certayne stones, whiche growe in spunges, holsome against diseases of the bladder.

Cythus, vel Cysthus, a kynd of pup, that groweth alone. also the name of a ryuer.

Cyte, es, a towne of Colchis.

Cyteus, or Cyteius, a, um, of Colchis, or of Medea.

Cyteorum, a towne of Cappadocia.

Cythera, orum, n. g. an yle agaynst Candie, and a citee in the same, dedicate to Venus.

Cythere, es, and Cythereā, æ, one of the names of Venus.

Cytheris, an harlotte, loued of Cornelius Gallus, the poete.

Cythæron, a forest or woodde in Bœotia, consecrated to the Muses.

Cythnos, one of the yles called Cyclades,

Cytinus, ni, mas. ge. the fyrst budde of the floure of a pomegranade.

Cytisus, si, m. g. an herbe, which is good to geue to cattell agaynst the rotte, some call it tretrifolie.

Cytorus, an yle of Paphlagonia, where is much boxe.

Cytrâgo, ĭnis, f. g. the herbe, which is commonly called baulme, of the apothecaries Melissa.

Cyttarus, the hygh parte of the firmament. also the holes of an hony combe bee called Cyttari: And so is the huske of an otzne, that groweth to the stalke.

Cyzicenus, a philosophier of Athens, excellent in geometrie.

Cyzicum, a famous citee of Bithynia, so named of the kyng Cyzicus.

Cyzicus, the name of an yle by Greece. also a citee of Propontis.

D ANTE. A.

Dæ, arum, people of Scythia.

Dacia, a countrete beyonds Hongarie. it hath on the northe Sarmatia of Europe: on the west the Iazygians of Metanest: on the south, Mysiam superiorē, and Dunaw: on the est, the lower Mysiam, and Dunaw. they call it now Transyluaniam, they doe not well, whithe call Denmarke by this name, whithe is Dania.

Dachrymæ, for Lachrymæ.

Dacicus, a, um, pertaynyng to the countrete called Dacia.

Dacnades, loke Dagnades.

Dacus, ci, one of the countrete of Dacia.

Dacus, and Dacius, a, um, idem quod Dacicus.

Dactylicus, a, um, of the foote in meeter called Dactylus.

Dactylides, grapes beyng longe lyke a fynger, or lyke a date.

Dactylion, lij, neu. gen. is taken for a ringe. also the herbe Scammonia.

Dactylitis, Aristolochia longa.

Dactylothēca, cæ, fœm. ge. a glooue. also a precious stone.

Dactylus, li, ma. g. a fynger, a foote in meter, hauyng the fyrst syllable longe, and the other two shorte. It is also a date. also a shell fysshe, a precious stone, and an herbe good to heale fyngers, and to prouoke bledyng at the nose.

Dactylus Idæus, a ppone.

Dædala, n. ge. were feastes celebrated yerely in the honour of the reconcylyng of Juno to Jupyter: Reade before in Citheron. Also Dædala, was the generall denomination of ymages wroughte, of whome it seemeth to some, that Dædalus tooke his name. Dædala, of Lucretius is vsed for Terra, for the diuersitee of thinges & fourmes that bee in it: Also it is a towne of Lycia, where Dædalus was buried.

Dæ-

Dædala, a bowe, wherewith they plaie on a fiitte or vyall.

Dædalus, the name of an excellent carpenter of Athens, whiche fyrſt founde the ſawe, the twyſtyle, and the augoure, and made the place in Crete, called Labyrinthus.

Dædalus, ia, lum, and Dædaleus, a, um, of Dædalus.

Dædicæ, a certayne people of Scythia, on the part of Aſia.

Dæmogorgon, ónis, whom paynymes called the god of the earthe, fyrſt creatour of the earthe.

Dæmon, mónis, (as Proclus writeth) is taken in dyuerſe ſignifications: One is that, whiche euery where hath ſouerayntee, and prouideth nerre vnto God: And ſo Jupiter called Saturne Dæmon Alſo that, which for euery man particularly proupdeth. Alſo the reaſonable ſowle, is of Plato, in his booke Timæus, called Dæmon animalis. And in his booke, Symposium, the loue of the mynde about the contemplatiō of the diuine pulchritude or vnſpeakable beautee is called Dæmon. Porphyrius ſuppoſeth, that Dæmon in euery man was nothyng els, but vnderſtandyng. Plato affirmeth (in his booke Phædo) that vnto the ſoules, whiche dooe come vnto this lyfe, is geuen Dæmon, which is the beholder and ſercher of his thoughtes and deedes, whiche after that the ſowle is departed from the body, remaineth ſtylle with hym, and foorthwith bryngeth hym ſodeynly before the Judge, where by his teſtimonie he either diſcureth or condemneth him. Sometyme Dæmon is taken for God. And therfore Apuleius intituled his booke De deo Socratis, and not De dæmone Socratis: Althoughe Socrates hym ſelfe alwaye ſo named that thing, that reſtreygned hym from dooeyng or commyttynge any thyng that was yll or vnconuenient. More ouer, Dæmon, beeynge a Greeke woorde, is dyuerſely wrytten: One waye with theyr lyttell, o, called omicron, And than dooeth it ſignifie that, whiche the Latines call Genius. Cicero nameth it Lar, whiche ſignifieth prinate Goddis or ſpirites, appoynted vnto euery particular perſone or howſe: the whiche in effecte is our good aungell or badde. Somtyme it is wrytten with the great O, called Omega, and than it ſignifieth God, wiſedome, or foꝛtune. Likewyſe Dæmonium, in the neutre gender, ſignifieth God, godhead, the power of god, whiche doeth order and gouerne the whole worlde.

Dæmonius, in the maſc. gendre had dyuers ſignifications, and the one contrary to the other. For it ſignyfied happy, lyke to God, diuine, and meruaylouſe. Contrary wyſe, miſerable, vnhappy and vnfortunate. Therfore, wher this worde Dæmonium, is writen amonge the auncient Greches, that onely ſentence, wherin it is, wyl not be well vnderſtande, without conſidering what goeth before, & what foloweth after. Notwithſtandynge amonge chriſten authors, Dæmon, and Dæmonium, be indifferently taken for a dyuell or a dampned ſpirite.

Dæmoniacus, & Dæmoniosus, poſſeſſed with an euell ſpirite.

Dæmonicus, a, um, dyuelliſhe.

Demonifuga, the herbe called Perforata.

Dætor, a Troiane mencioned in Homere.

Dagnades, a kynde of bryddes, whiche the Egyptians vſed to tye with theyr garlandes when they were drinkyng, whiche with continuall ſyngyng, bytyng, and pluckyng at them that dranke, would not ſuffer theim to ſleepe.

Dai, people of Perſia, whiche were all ſhepardes and graſiers.

Daliæ, people of Scythia, valiaunt and cruell in battayle.

Dalida, vel Dalila, an harlot dwellyng in Gaza in the countrey of the Philiſtians, which deceaued the ſtronge Samſon.

Dalmatia, a part of the great countrey called Illiria or Sclauonia, it hath on the weſt Croata, on the eaſt Boſſina, on the north, the great mountayne Albanus mons, and the countrey called Seruia, on the ſouth the ſea Adriaticum, or the goulfe of Uenice.

Dalmata, æ, a man of that countrey.

Dalmaticatus, apparayled lyke a Sclauonyſe, or haupng a coate with longe ſleues ouer the hande.

Dalmaticus, a, um, of Dalmatia.

Dalmatica veſtis, lohe Chirodota.

Dama, æ, m. & f. g. a ſalow deere.

Figere damas, to kyll deere with the bow.

Agitare damas, to hunt.

Damaſcene, a part of Syria, called alſo Meſopotamia.

Damaſcēnus, a, um, of Damaſcus.

Damaſcēna pruna, damſyns, whiche grow about Damaſcus, greatter and longer than other damſyns: whan they be dried, we call them prunes Damaſcene, which of Galene are more commended than other of that kinde: they loſe the bealy, and reſtreygne diſtillations.

Damaſcius, an hiſtoriographer, which in the time of Herodotus wrote of thynges doen before the warre of Peloponeſus.

Damaſcus, a famouſe citee in Syria, ſuppoſed to be the fyrſt that euer was inhabited.

Damaſichinus, one of Xerres capitaynes.

Damaſonium, amonge the greeches is that moſt excellent and precioufe fruict called, Myrobalanum Indum.

Damatris, the pryeſt of the temple of the goddeſſe Damia.

Damia, one of the names of the goddeſſe Cybele.

Damianus, a ſophiſter of Epheſus.

Damnas, for Damnatus, is ſometyme vſed amonge olde Latinians.

Quiſquis mihi hæres erit, dare damnas eſto, fideiq

fidei eius committo vti de quantas summas dictauero, who so euer shall bee myne heyre, shall bee bounde to paie it, and I putte him in trust to paie all suche money as I shall appoint.

Damnatio, ônis, f. g. a condemnation.

Damnatior, more worthy death.

Damnatorius, a, um, that condemneth or geueth iudgement agaynst one.

Damnatoria tabella, a bill wherin ones condemnation is written.

Damnatus, us, m. g. idem quod damnatio.

Damnatus, a, um, condemned, reproued, compelled, bounden by necessitee.

Tuus est damnatus gnatus non tu, Thy son is bounden to doe it, and not thou.

Damnificus, a, um, that is hurtfull or noysome to one.

Damnigérulus, a, um, idem.

Damno, aui, are, to condemne, to disherite, to compell, to deliuer, to blame, to reproue.

Damnare tempora infelicitatis, to say that the tyme is vnfortunate.

Damnari rei capitalis, to bee condemned of a deadly offence.

Iudicitiæ damnare aliquem, to condemne one of folie.

De maiestate, or maiestatis damnari, to bee condemned of treason.

Damnari causa indicta, to be condemned beyng absent, or not suffered to speake.

Damnari votis, to obteyne that, for whiche a vow was made, and to be bounde to performe the vowe.

Inter ipsam dimicationem ædem Iunoni Monetæ vouit, cuius damnatus voti, cum victor Romam reuertisset, dictatura se abdicauit, In the middell of the fyght, he vowed to make a temple to Juno Moneta, whiche vowe (hauyng his desyre, and beyng as conquerour, returned to Rome) he became bounde to performe, & surrendered the office of Dictatour.

Damnari votis, is taken of Virgile, to auowe or bynde by auowe.

Damnôse, hurtfully, with great perill.

Damnôsus, a, um, harmefull or hurtfull, or hauyng muche harme, damageable.

Damnum, ni. n. g. harme or hurte, damage, losse.

Damni dati formula, an action of trespasse for takyng awaie any thyng from vs.

Damno auctus, he that is more indamaged.

Damnum contrahere, to geat losse or harme by any thyng.

Magnum damnum factum est in Seruio, I haue a great losse by the deathe of Seruius.

Damnum dare, to hurte or to doo harme.

Quid facias illi, qui damnum dederit aut malum? What wilte thou doo to hym that doeth hurte or displeasure?

Damnum resarcire, to recompence for harmes that are doen, to make satisfaction or amendes.

Damnum maximum est, nisi eo ad mercatum veniam, It wyll be my great losse, excepte I come thether to the mart or fayre.

Damno esse, to be to a mans hurt or damage.

Damnum facere, to leese.

Nihil damni facis, Thou leesest nothyng, or thou haste no losse.

Damocles, one of the flatterers of Dionysius.

Damœtas, a shepeherdes name in Virgile.

Damocrates, a phisition.

Damon, a philosophiers name of Pythagoras secte.

Damophila, a woman of Greece excellently well learned.

Damostratus, a philosopher that wrote of fishes.

Damoxenus, a poete of Athens.

Dan, a towne, which is in the boundes of Judea, on the north parte.

Danaë, the daughter of Acrisius, kyng of Argiues, vnto whom (beyng closed in a stronge towre) Jupiter came in the forme of a shoure of golde rayne in at the howse toppe, and gatte on hir Perseus, who was afterward a valyant knyght. He gaue that name fyrst to the countrey and people of Persia. By this fable is signified, that Jupiter sent treasure priuily vnto Danae, and also to theim that had the keepyng of hir, wherwith they beyng corrupted, suffered Jupiter to enter into the towre, and accomplysshe his pleasure. The fable declareth the force of moneys gettes in assauting of chastitee.

Danaides, the daughters of Danaus.

Danaus, a kynge of Argiues, that hadde fiftye daughters, whiche (all sauyng one) slewe their husbandes in one nyght.

Dandarica, the countrey of the people called Dandaridæ.

Dani, people of Germany called now Daci.

Daniel, elis, an holye prophete of the tribe of Juda, a noble man borne, beynge a ponge chylde was brought to Babylon, and became a man of suche temperaunce, that among the Jewes, he was taken to be Eunuchus, or a man geldyd. He continually bewayled Hierusalem, and in fastynges refrained all maner concupiscence. In fourme of bodye, he was dry and leane, but in the fauour of god he was beautyfull. By his prayer he restored Nabuchodonosor to his fyrst figure, where he was transformed of god into a monstrous beast, not withstandynge, that a lyttell before, he by the same Nabuchodonosor kynge of Babylon, was throwen into a dounegeon among hungry lyons, which neuer would touche hym to hurte hym. He beynge afterward delyuered, prophecied bothe of the comynge of Christ, and of the Empyres of Babylon, Medya, Persia, Grece, and Romains: And fynally dyed at Babylon: and there was buried: he lyued before the incarnation of Christ 619. yeres.

Danisma, ătis, n. g. vsurie.

Danista, æ, m. g. an vsurer.

Danisticus, a, um, perteignyng to vsurie.

Dan-

Dantes, a porte of Florence.
Dantiſcum, a towne of Polonia.
Danubius, a famous ryuer called Dunowe (after the deſcripcion of Plinie) hath his begynnynge in Germanie, out of an hylle called Arnoba, and paſſyng by countreis innumerable, reteyneth his name: but as ſoone as he entreth into Illiria, he is called Iſter, and receyueth into hym. ix. other ryuers, wel nyghe the halfe of theim beyng nauigable. Finally, beyng in fire wounderfull great armes, he falleth into the ſea called Pontus. The ſame is affirmed by Tacitus, ſaiyng that he calleth the hyll, where Dunow ſpryngeth, Arbona, and not Arnoba.
Danunt, Plautus dooeth vſe for Dant.
Dapālis cœna, a ſupper, whereat be many and dyuers meates.
Dapaticè, feaſtfully, plentuouſly.
Dapáticum, ample, magnificent.
Dapes, um, ibus, f. g. plur. delycate and precious dyſhes or banketes. alſo meates hurtefull and to be eſchued.
Inemptæ dapes, ſuch diſhes as one hath of his owne prouiſion vnbought.
Menſæ extructæ dapibus, furniſhed with deintie diſhes.
Daphne, the propre name of a litteil mayden, and alſo of a woodde.
Daphnia, æ, f. g. a precious ſtone holſome againſt the fallyng ſyckneſſe.
Daphnitis, tis, f. g. perwincle.
Daphnis, idis, in latin is a laurell. alſo the ſonne of Mercurie. alſo a delectable place without the citee of Antioche: And the name of a porcion of Lycia by the ſea ſyde.
Daphnites, one of the names of Apollo.
Daphnoides, an herbe lyke to laurell, nowe called Lorell or Laurie, whiche cauſeth a vehement purgacion In the plurall numbre they be the beries of laurell.
Daphnon, ônis, ma. gene. a place where laurel groweth.
Dápifer, pifera, rum, he that beareth a dyſſhe at a banket.
Dapino, áui, âre, to prepare and make readye coſtely and delicate meates.
Dapſa, or rather Daps, apis, a ſacrifice, whiche was made in wynter and in ſpryng tyme.
Dápſile, abundauntly.
Dápſilis, le, abundant, liberall, or large, ſumptuous, coſtely.
Dapſilis lectus, an excellent good bedde.
Dapſilia dicta, woordes frankely ſpoken.
Daradus, a ryuer of Libya, now called Darat.
Dardanárius, ij, ma. ge. a foreſtaller of marketes, which doeth bye before hande, to ſelle deere afterwarde: or he that keepeth in his corne to make a greatter dearthe.
Dardania, the countreie where Troie ſtoode, or the towne of Troie.
Dardaniæ artes, witchecraftes.
Dardánides, dæ, one of the ſtocke of Dardanus.
Dárdanis, idis, a woman of Troie.
Dardanius, a, um, of Troie.
Dardanum, a certaine ornament, of the ſhoulders or armes.
Dárdanus, the name of a prince, reygnyng in the parte of Phrygia, where Troie ſtode, which was of hym called Dardania.
Dardanus, is alſo the herbe Cicuta.
Dares, an hiſtoriographer of Phrygia, which wrote of the battaple of Troye.
Daricus, a coyne of the Perſians hauing Darius ymage.
Darideus, the name of a kynge of Perſia, in the tyme of Tyberius, Caius, and Claudius, the emperours.
Dariorigum, Vannes in Britayne.
Darius, the name of dyuers kynges of Perſis.
Darſiſan, of Eurticius Cordus is named to be Aſphalaton, howe be it phiſitions agree not what it is.
Daruernum, Douer.
Darus, a ryuer of Hungarie called Mora.
Daſchylos, a towne of Bithynia.
Daſcia, æ, f. g. thickeneſſe of breath.
Daſpis, the herbe Chryſoſpermon.
Daſſaritæ, people of Thrace.
Daſtylus, the father of kyng Gyges.
Daſypus, ſypodis, m. g. an hare or coonie.
Datárius, a, um, geuen, or that muſte be geuen. alſo an officer in Rome, whiche ſubſcribed the date of letters.
Datâtim, one geuyng to an other, as in the toſſyng of a ball.
Ludere pila datatim, to toſſe.
Dates, one of Darius capitayns.
Dathiathum, a kinde of Frankenſens of the woorſte ſorte.
Dathus, a place in Theſſalie, nere to Stryma, where plentie of golde is founde.
Datio, ônis, f. g. a geuyng.
Dato, áui, âre, to geue often.
Dator, ôris m. g. he that geueth: a geuer.
Datum, ti, n. g. a thyng geuen.
Datus, us, m. g. a geuyng.
Datus, a, um, geuen.
Data opera, for the nones, of purpoſe.
Datylus, a right honourable man of Athenes.
Daucus, the pelowe carette, the rootes whereof ſodden in brothe are pleaſaunt and holſome. Conſtantine ſaieth, that it is hotte and dry in the ſecounde degree. Other kyndes there be of this herbe, whiche I wyll not ſpeake of, becauſe they are not ſo neceſſary.
Daulia, or Daulis, a towne of Phocis, vnder the dominion of kyng Tereus.
Daunia, a parte of Italy, nowe called Apulia.
Dauni, a people of Italy.
Dáunifer, a capitayne of Darius.
Dautia, idem quod Lautitia,

DE, of, but ioigned with a verbe or nouns it signifieth withdrawyng, or takynge away, as Decortico, I barke or take awaie the rynde. Depilo, I plucke awaye the heare. Sometyme it signifieth downwarde, as, Deorsum descendo, I go downeward. Sometyme contrarye: as, Dehortor, I geue counsaile contrarye. Dedoceo, I teache contrarye. Sometyme it signifieth for, as, Quantum me amas de fidicina hac? Howe well dooest thou loue me for this singyng wenche?

De die, to daie, sodeynly, the same daie without warnyng.

Ergo ne vna orationis pars de die dabitur mihi? Than shall I not be suffred to speake one litell woorde to daie?

De die viuere, euery daie, from daie to daie to lyue.

De compacto, by agreement.

De filia te adij, I came to speake with you for or concernyng your doughter.

De illis verbis caue tibi, Beware howe thou speakest suche woordes.

De imperio decertatur, they fyght for the empire or chefe rule.

De improuiso, at aduenture, vnsought for, or vnlooked for, sodeynly.

De industria, of purpose, for the nones.

De integro, ekeloones, from the begynnyng.

De manu in manum, from hande to hande.

De istac te amo, I loue the for hir sake.

De mea sententia, by my counsayle.

De meo, of my good, of my owne inuention, at myne owne coste and charge.

De tuo, of thy good, or of thyn own inuention.

De suo, of his owne coste and charge.

De meo exemplo ædificet, Leat hym buylde accordyng to my plotte.

De more, as it hath been accustomed, or as the facion is.

De calcaria in carbonariam, out of the lime hyll into the cole pitte, I prouerbe, whereby is signified, From one mischiefe to an other.

De lana caprina, I prouerbe, where men contende for a trifle, as who saieth, whether a gotes heare woulle or heare.

De media nocte, at mydnyght.

De nihilo nihil est irasci, It is folye to be angry for nothyng.

De nocte abiit, he went awaie in the nyght.

De nocte vigilare, to wake in the nyght.

De pace legatos mittebat, he sent ambassadours to treate for peace.

De præfacili exores, Thou shalte lyghtely obteyne.

De proximo senex, The olde man that dwelleth here by.

De repente, sodeynely.

De subito, idem.

De scripto dicere, to speake that was before written vnto hym, to reade on a paper.

De sua sententia, of his owne heade or fantasie, without other counsayle.

De sententia alicuius, by ones counsayle, as one aduised hym.

De via languebat, he was sycke by reason of his iournee.

De meo consilio, with my counsaile or aduise.

De principio, from the begynnyng.

De te quidem, as concernyng you.

De prandio, after dyner.

De summo loco adolescens, a yong man of a noble house, or comen of a noble lynage.

De cætero, hereafter, henceforth also as concernyng the residue.

Non hoc de nihilo est, this is not for nought.

De procul, afarre of.

De super, from aboue.

De tempore, in verie good season.

Dea, æ, f. g. a goddesse.

Deacinâtus, a, um, that, from the whiche the kernelles are taken cleane awaie.

Dealbo, aui, are, to make whyte, to blaunche, to whitelyme.

Deambulâtio, ônis, fœm. ge. a walkyng forth or abrode out of the house.

Deambulatórium, rij, n. g. an alete to walke in: it maie sometyme be vsed for a galerie.

Deámbulo, aui, are, to walke abrode.

Deámo, aui, âre, to loue or fauour greatly.

Deargentâssere, to steale or bribe away money, or woorde out of vse.

Dearmâtus, a, um, that hath his harneys and weapons taken awaie.

Deártuo, aui, âre, to ioincte, or to cut of by the ioinctes, to dismembre, to cut or hew one in pieces one part from an other, to quarter, as traitors bee.

Deartuare opes, to consume and waste. ꝛc.

Deauro, aui, are, to gylte or lais ouer all with golde.

Debacchor, âris, âri, to rage as it wer in a drunkennesse, to be woode angry.

Debacchatur ignis, the fier rageth.

Debæ, people of Arabia fœlix.

Debellato, aduerb. as though the warre wer at an end.

Debellâtor, ôris, ma. g. he that vainquyssheth or ouercometh.

Debellâtum est cum Græcis, the warre against the Grecians is at a poincte.

Debellâtus, a, um, vainquished.

Debello, aui, are, to vanquishe by warre.

Debeo, uí, ére, to owe, to bee bounde to one.

Animam debet, looke Anima.

Nos tibi debemus, we bee bounde to you.

Magnopere debere alicui, to bee greatlye bounde to one.

Inuentio eius debetur Chio insulæ, that thing was fyrst inuented in the yle Chius.

Debuit nosse, he shoulde haue knowen.

Debere alicui, to be bound to thanke one that he is he is on lyue.

Debere alicui eruditionem, ſalutem, noſtra omnia, to be bound to thanke one for our lerning, our helthe, and all that we haue.
Pecunia cæpta eſt deberi, the monete began to be due.
Debibo, bibi, bibere, to drynke vp.
Debilis, le, weake, feeble.
Debilitas, ātis, fœ. ge. weakeneſſe, feebleſſe, debilitee.
Animi debilitas, baſeneſſe of courage.
Debilitātio, ōnis, f. ge. a weakenyng, or makyng faynte.
Debilitātus, a, um, weakened, made feeble, diſcouraged.
Infirmus & debilis. Mancus & debilis.
Debilito, āui. āre, to make feeble or weake.
Debilitat ſpem meam tua profectio, youre goyng fooꝛth maketh me haue the leſſe hope.
Vocem fletu debilitare, to make that one can ſcant ſpeake for weeppng.
Frangi & debilitari.
Debitio, ōnis, f. g. the acte of owyng.
Debitor, ōris, ma. g. he that oweth, a dettour.
Debitum, ti, n. g. a debte or duetie.
Debiti iudicatus, condempned in an action of debte.
Debitus, a, um, that is due, owen.
Deblātero, āui, āre, to ſpeake foolyſhly, to babble reprochefully.
Debrior, aris, ari, to be dronken.
Debris, a town in Ethiopia, where as be the people called Garamantes, in the whiche towne is a well, wherof the water is in the day tyme as colde as yce, and in the nyght boylynge hotte, the countreye beeynge the hotteſt parte of all Ethiopia.
Debúccino, āui, are, idem quod Buccino.
Deca, tenne.
Decachinnor, aris ari, to ſcorne.
Decachordum, di, neu. g. an inſtrument with x. ſtrynges.
Decacumināti̇o, ōnis, fœ. ge. the cuttyng of the toppe of a thyng.
Decacúmino, āui, are, to ſtryke of the toppe.
Decadōrus, a, um, ten handfull longe.
Decameron, that is of ten diuers thinges.
Decarchon, a capitaine ouer ten horſemen.
Decalcātum, walſhed ouer with lyme.
Decalogus, i, ma. ge. the booke of holy ſcripture conteynyng the ten commandementes.
Decalúo, āui, are, to make veraie balde.
Decānto, āui, are, to repoꝛte or ſpeake often tymes. ſometyme to babble or prate.
Decāphorus, ri, m. g. a tieter boꝛne by ten men.
Decāpolis, a countrey in Iudea, beyonde the ryuer of Flume Iordane, conteignyng ten cities.
Decaprōti, generall receyuers of tributes and finances, whiche ſtand alwayes charged with any thyng that is minyſhed or lacketh.
Decāpulo, aui, are, to empty veſſelles, proꝛpeꝛly of oyle.
Decarchus, a capitaine ouer x. men of armes.
Decas, ādis, that conteineth the numbꝛe of ten.
Decauleſco, to groowe to a ſtalke.
Decēdo, ceſſi, ĕre, to departe from a place, to myngle or appayꝛe, to geue place to an other, to dye.
Decedamus hinc, leat vs go henſe.
Decedere de ſuo iure, to remytte ſomewhat of his ryght.
Decedere de ſuo more, to change his cuſtom.
Decedere inſtituto ſuo, to doo other wiſe than he was wont.
Decedere itinere, to tourne out of the waye for ſome purpoſe.
Decedere officio, or de officio, to do againſt his duetie, to dooe no moꝛe his duetie, or to dooe contrarye to that honeſtee and reaſon requyꝛeth.
Decedere via, to go out of the waie, to geue the waie to an other of courteſie.
Decedet nihil de ſumma, there ſhall bee no thyng diminiſſhed.
Decedi, to haue place or waie geuen.
Hæc enim ipſa ſunt honorabilia, quæ videntur leuia atq; communia, ſalutari, appeti, decedi, aſſurgi, deduci, reduci, for thoſe thynges are honourable, whiche ſeeme to bee of ſmall effecte, and commune, to be waited on, to be ſued vnto, to haue the waie geuen, to be rūne vnto, to be brought vnto the courte, & brought againe home.
Decedere alicui, to diſdeigne to meete one.
Decedere à ſuperioribus decretis, to breake or dooe againſt ſuche ordinaunces as haue ben in tyme paſte decreed.
Decedere fide, to breake fayth or promyſe, to go from his promyſe.
Nihil decedet periculi de cauſa eius, his cauſe ſhall haue neuer the leſſe danger or peril.
Furori Tribunitio decedam, I wyll departe or geue place to the furie of the Tribunes.
Decedere de ſententia, to change his opinion.
De vita decedere, to die.
Decedet hæc ira, this anger wyll awaie.
Decelia, one of the. xii. cities ordeigned and diſpoſed by Cecrops.
Decem, the noumbꝛe of. x.
December, i, ma. ge. the name of one of the xii. monethes.
Decémiugis, a teme of. x. horſes.
Decemmodiæ, veſſelles conteynyng ten buſſhelles.
Decémpeda, æ, fœ. ge. a perche, a polle ten foote longe, to meaſure lande with.
Decempedātor, ōris, ma. ge. he that meaſureth lande with that polle.
Decemprimi, idem quod Decaproti.
Decemſcalmus, a bote that hath. x. oꝛes.
Decemtabulæ, were the olde lawes of the Romayns, fetched out of Greece, wherevnto after warwarde were .ii. tables added, by theim that were called Decemuiri.

Decemuirālis, le, pertepnyng to the office of Decemuir.

Decemuirātus, us, masc. gene. the office of Decemuri.

Decemuiri, after that the lawes of the Grekes wer brought vnto Rome, by Spurius Posthumius, P. Sulpitius, and A. Manlius, ambassadours sent for that purpose to Athens, than were there. x. men chosen and appointed, which shoulde, of those same lawes and the auncient customes of the cite, make lawes, write and publysh theim. And theyr authoritee was aboue all other, so that they moyghte make lawes, and if neede were interprete theim. And where before were but. x. tables of lawes, they added vnto theim twoo mo: And so all those lawes together, were called Leges duodecim tabularum, and the dignitee of those men was called Decemuiratus, and euery of them was called Decemuir, and theyr authoritee Decemuirale ius.

Decennis, ne, of ten peres age or continuance.

Decēdium, the space of ten daies.

Decennalis, le, of ten peres.

Decennium, nii, n g. the space of. x. peres.

Decens entis, com. g. conuenient, mete

Decenter, comely, semely, or as it is conuenient.

Decēnia, æ, f. g somelinesse, semeynesse.

Deceptor, oris, m g a decepuer or begpiler.

Deceptus, a, um, decepued. begpled.

Decērmina, orum, n. ge thynges pulled awaie, in purgeyng or mahyng cleane of thynges.

Decerno, creui, ere, to decerne, to iudge, to ordeyne, to decree, to determyne, to purpose or diseuse: Also to contende, to trie by batail.

Decernere quæstionem, to ordeyne that an examination be made.

Nequeo suis decernere, I can not well iudge or decerne.

Decretum est mihi, I haue determyned or poarposed.

Decernere & iudicare.

Statuere & decernere.

Secundum aliquem decernere, to geue sentence, to conclude or determine a matter on ones parte, or for his profyte or furderance.

Decernere de re aliqua, to decerne or decree, and make some ordinance for a thyng.

Decernere honores alicui, whan one by his opinion and iudgement, greeth honour and dignitee to a man.

Decernere regnum alicui, to geue a sentence or opinion, that one shoulde bee made a kynge.

Laudationem alicui decernere, to appointe and ordeyne that certeyn ambassadours be sent to geue honourable praise and commendacions to one for his vertue and nobleneese.

Legationem contra aliquem decernere, To ordeyne certayne persons to go to a prince or people to complaine on one.

Noxiam decernere, To determyne that one shall paye and make amendes for the hurtes that he hath dooen.

Nouam quæstionem decernere, To ordeyne that an extraordinarie examination be made after a newe sorte.

Vtinam meo solum capite decernerem; I would god the daunger of this perill that I am nowe in, belonged vnto me onely.

Decernere cornibus, To fyght with the hornes, as bulles and other lyke beastes doo.

Ferro vel armis decernere, to trie the matter by playne force or dent of swoorde.

Decerpo, pſi, ĕre, to pull or pluche of, to pull somewhat away, to dimpnisshe.

Decerpere fructum ex aliqua re, to take fruite or profyte of a thyng.

Decerpere de dignitate alterius, to plucke awaie or dimpnisshe parte of an other mans dignitee.

Decerptus, a, um, pluched of.

Humanus animus decerptus de mente diuina, The mynde of man taken and fourmed of the spirite of god.

Decertātio, ōnis, f. g. a stryuyng or contendyng.

Decertatorius, a, um, contencious.

Decertatus, a, um, contended or stryuen for.

Decerto, aui, are, to contende or fyght together, to trie or wage to the vttermost.

Contentione decertare, to contende with great altercation.

Decertare cum aliquo de imperio, to contende with one, who shall haue the soueraintee or maystrie.

Decertare vi, prælio, armis, ferro.

Decertatur, the impersonall.

Decessio, ōnis, a departynge from any thyng, a goyng away, whan one leaueth his place to an other. Also a diminution or decreace.

Mansio, & Decessio, contrarie.

Decessio & Accessio, contrarie.

Decessor, ōris, ma. ge. one that goeth awaie and leaueth his place to an other.

Decessus, us, m. g idem quod Decessio.

Decet, sometyme impersonall, sometyme personall, it besemeth, it is conuenient, to become, to be apte or mete.

Decet me hæc vestis, this garmente becometh me well.

Ornatum capiam, qui me potius decet, I wyll take that apparayle, that becometh me better.

Hoc sic decet, it is mete or conuenient that it be so dooen.

Ita nobis decet, so it becometh vs.

Aptum est & decet

Decido, cidi, ere, to cut of. Also to decyde or discusse a matter in variaunce, to determyne or make a composition or agrement betwene men that bee at controuersie. sometyme to expresse.

Decide mihi collum, si falsum ad te loquar, cut of my neche, if I tell you a falſe tale, or if I lye to you.

Tranſigere & decidere cum aliquo, to come to a poinct, to conclude or fall to agrement with one, concernyng any mattier.

Decidere de negotio aliquo, to diſcuſſe or determine a mattier, to conclude or bryng it to a poyncte.

Precio cum aliquo decidere, to geue money to the entent to come to ſome ende or concluſion in a matter, or to bryng a thing to paſſe.

Decidere pro libertate, To fall at ſome compoſition for ones lyberte or fredome.

Cætera propriis deciſa ſunt verbis, other thinges wer expreſſed in their proper and feate woordes.

Décido, décidi, ére, to fall of or awaye.

Decidere ab archetypo, to varye from the coppe or paterne.

Decidere à ſpe, to be diſapoynted of that he loked for.

Decidit fructus, he loſte all the profyte that ſhoulde come of it.

Quanta de ſpe decidi? out of how great hope am I fallen?

Decidere equo, vel ex equo, to fall from ones horſe.

Decidit in præceps, he fell down headelonge.

Poteſtas virbis decidit, the power or authorite of the citee is decaied.

Decidium, dij, n. g. a fall.

Decidua, are thoſe thynges that fall awaie, as leaues of trees.

Deciduus, a, um, ſubiect to fallyng. ſomtyme cut downe. ſomtyme it ſignifieth hangyng downe. Teſtes pecori armentoque ad crura decidui, The ſtones of ſheye and rudder beaſtes, bein hangyng downe to their thanks. In the firſt ſignification,

Omnibus caua cornua & in mucronem demum concreta ſunt, ceruis autem ſolida & omnibus annis decidua, all haue their hornes holowe, but heyng ſharpe at the endes, there be they concrete & without holowenelle: Onely deere haue hornes full and maſſy, whiche euery yere do fall of, or (to ſpeake it more properly) whiche heades they do caſt euerie yere.

Decies, ten tymes. Leonardus Portius (in his boke De Seſtertio) writeth, that he had obſerued, that where Decies, and other aduerbes of nombre, haupng that termination, were added to an other noumbre for multiplyng theroſ: they ſignifie no more than they repreſented: as Decies Centena, ten hundred: Decies millena, ten thouſande. But whan they were founden by them ſelues, to ſignifie the quantite of the thynge that folowed, they were multiplyed by an hundred thouſande: as, Decies Seſtertium, ten hundred thouſande Seſtertij. Duodecies talentum, for. iii. hundred thouſande talentes. For the firſt he bryngeth examples of Martianus Capella, Macrobius, Plinius, Varro, and Columella: For the ſeconde he bryngeth out of Tacitus, Tranquillus, Plinie, and Cicero, in ſecunda philippica: Afterward he ſuppoſeth, that in the olde tyme, whan the ſaied noumbres were multiplied with an hundred thouſande: they dyd than put an N. betwene the, E. and the, S. As Deciens, duodeciens, milliens: And to the proſe thereof he bryngeth in Varro de analogia, & Pedianus in ſecundam actionem Ciceronis in Verrem. concernyng the computacion of Decies Seſtertium, the ſame is affirmed by Budeus, and the reuerend father Cuthbertus Tonſtallus (at the writyng hereof moſte worthy biſhop of Durham) in his boke de ſuppurationc.

Décimæ, ârum, f. g. plu. the tenthes.

Decimanus ſiue Decumanus, a, um, great.

Décimo, aui, are, to take the tenth parte from the reſidue.

Decimare legiones, was when the tenth perſone of euery legion was put to deathe.

Decimodiæ, veſſelles that holde. x. buſſhelles.

Decimum, the tenth tyme.

Décimus, a, um, the tenthe, the chiefe or principall: as,

Decimum quodq; ouum, euery tenth egge.

Decimus quiſque fluctus, euery tenth rune.

Decipio, décipis, cépi, ére, to diſceyue or begyle.

Expectationem alicuius decipere, to deceiue ones expectation.

Decipula, æ, fœm. g. a ginne, trappe, or ſnare to take byrdes with.

Decipulum, li, n. g. idem.

Decircino, aui, are, to vnboowe, or to bryng out of compaſſe or roundenelle.

Decirêmis, is, fœ. g. a galie that hath ten oyes in one ſeate or benche.

Deciſio, ônis, a diſcuſſyng, determynacion, or compoſition of mattiers in debate.

Facere deciſionem, to make a compoſition or determination.

Deciſus, a, um, diſcuſſed, determined, cut of.

Decius, the name of a noble houſe of the Romaynes.

Declamâtio, ônis, fœm. g. an exerciſe in feigned oracions, or amonge our lawiers a moote.

Declamâtor, ôris, maſ. g. one that declameth, or exerciſeth hym ſelfe in feygned theames.

Declamatôrius, a, um, pertenyng to ſuch exerciſe.

Declâmito, aui, are, to declame often tymes.

Declâmo, aui, are, to declame or exerciſe in pleadyng feigned argumentes, which amonge the lawiers of this realme is called mootyng. ſomtyme to ſpeake out contentiouſely.

Declarâtio, ônis, a declaracion or denouncing.

Declarâtus, a, um, declared, denounced.

Declaratus eſt conſul, he was denounced or declared Conſull.

Declâro, aui, are, to declare, to open a thynge whiche is darke.

De-

Declinátio, ônis, fœ. g. a bendyng or inclinynge of the bodie. Also a digression from a matter or purpose. In eschuyng or auoydyng.

Declinátus, a, um, bended, inclyned.

Declinata ætas, olde age.

Nec declinatum quicq̃ ab aliarum ingenio, vllam reperias, Neyther shall ye fynde one, that in the leste poynct in the worlde is of vnlyke nature or disposicion from the other. Or you shall fynde theim all of lyke nature or disposicion, or not one to swarue from the nature of other.

Declino, áui, áre, to eschewe, to leaue, to turne awaie, to leade awaie, to alienate.

Vibem illam declinaui, I lefte that citee, and passed foorth by.

Declinare se extra viam, To tourne out of the waye.

Declinare de via, to go out of the waie, and by a metaphore, to erre, not to obserue the ryght rule of reason.

Declinat in vesperum dies, it wareth night, or it draweth towarde night.

Inflammatio corporis declinat, the vehement bournyng of the bodie asswageth.

Appetere & Declinare, contrarie.

Persequi & declinare, contrarie.

A malis natura declinamus, euen by nature we auoyde and eschewe euyll thynges.

Declinare ab religione officij, not to obserue the lawes of honestee and vertue.

Declinare á statu, to remitte somewhat of ones constancie in his behauiour.

Declinare vitia, to auoyde or eschewe vyce.

Huc declinabam nec inuitus, I dyd bende somewhat to this mattier in my communication, and that wyllyngly or of purpose.

Declinare ea quæ sunt nocitura, to auoyde those thynges that be hurtefull.

Declinare ictum, to auoyde a blowe by geuyng backe or stoppyng a syde.

Declinare certamen, to eschewe battayle, or refuse to fyght.

Decliuis, ue, bendyng or inclynyng as it wold fall.

Decliuis ætate, fallen in age, verate olde.

Decliuitas, átis, the bendynge or inclynyng of a thyng as it wolde fall.

Decóctor, ôris, ma. gen. he that hath wasted all his substance, and is brought to extreme pouertee, spetially by dyce playyng and lechery, a banke rupt.

Decoctum, i, neu. g. a decoction or a thyng that is sodde.

Decoctus, us, m. g. a decoction or seethynge.

Decoctúra, æ, f. g. idem.

Decoctus, a, um, well sodden, and by a metaphore, tried or purged.

Decocta, sodden water.

Decollo, aui, are, to stryke of the head by the necke, to beheade. Also to layle, to deceyue or disapoynct.

Vna est quæ decollauit, one woman there is that hath deceyued hym.

Décolor, ôris, om. gen. yll coloured. sometyme foule or fylthy.

Décolor ætas, a tyme or age that hath no vertue or honestee.

Decolorátio, ônis, fœ. g. a lesyng or destroiyng of the colour of a thyng.

Decolóro, áui, áre, to stayne, to spyll the colour, to take awaie the colour of a thyng.

Decolórus, a, um, idem quod décolor, after Calepyne. Decoloratus, a, um, yll coloured, or that hath loste his colour.

Decoontes, the sonne of Hercules by Megara, the daughter of Creon.

Décoquo, coxi, ĕre, to boyle or seethe vetaps muche: sometyme to chaunge or digest perfectly. Also to consume or waste a mans substance, or to bryng detriment or losse. somtyme to change, or conuerte: as, Omnem succum alienum in venenum décoquit. i. conuertit.

Décoquit domino res, whan a man bestoweth labour on a thing, and it doeth not quite cost.

Decoquant anni materiam, yeres or age make diminyshe or take awaie muche of the mattier.

Decoquenda est tibi animi ægritudo, Thou must byte on the bridle.

Decoquere creditoribus, to consume & waste ones substance, so that his creditours can haue nothyng.

Decoquere bonæ spei, to frustrate and destroye the good hope and expectacion of men.

Decor, ôris, masc. gen. the grace that one hath, whan that that he doeth or speaketh, becometh him well, beautie, comelynesse.

Honestatis decor, the beautie and comelynesse of honestee.

Decorátus, a, um, set foorth, commended, made beautifull and gorgious.

Decore, honestely, comely.

Decóro, aui, are, to beautifie or make fayre, or pleasant to the eyes or eares.

Décoro, décoras, áui, áre, penultima correpta, to doe honour to a man, to make more honourable, to set foorthe, to commende.

Magnum principem décorat sapientia, wysedome dooeth muche honoure vnto a great prince.

Hæc omnia decorabat vitæ grauitas & integritas, grauitee & integritee of lyfe dyd greatly commende and set foorthe all these thynges.

Mores décorant virum, maners dooe commende and sette foorthe a man.

Decorare aliquem honoribus, to auance one and make hym of great authoritee.

Omni laude decoranda virtus, vertue worthy to be commended and set foorth with all prayse.

Decorticátio, ônis, the barkynge of trees.

Decórtico, aui, are, to barke a tree.

Decórum, ri, n. ge. a semelynesse, or that whiche becometh the; person, hauynge regarde to his nature, degree, ſtudie, office, or profeſſion, bre it in doorynge or ſpeakynge: a grace. ſometyme it ſignifieth honeſtee.

Decórum & elegans.
Decórum ab aſpectu, beautiefull to the eie: that maketh a fayre ſhewe.
Vix ſatis decorum eſt, It is ſcant comely or honeſte.
Decórus, a, um, honeſt, ſemely, fayre, comely, beautifull.
Decorus ab aſpectu, beautifull to ſee to.
Decotes, thredebare garmentes, or garmentes worne to the vttermoſte.
Decrépitus, a, um, verie olde, at the pptes bzynche.
Decrepita ſenectus, extreme age.
Decreſco, eui, ſcere, to waxe leſſe, to decreaſe.
Decreſcere & Accreſcere, contrarie.
Morbus decreſcit, the ſickneſſe weareth away.
Decreſcente die, whyle the daye waxeth ſhozter.
Decretórius, a, um, iudiciall. alſo decreed, ſtabliſhed.
Decretorij dies, daies, in whiche phiſicions maie perceiue the importance of a ſickeneſſe, by certaine tokens in the patient: whiche be alſo called Dies Critici.
Decretorium tempus, Decretorium ſydus, wherby iudgemẽt is geuen of the encreaſe that ſhall ſucceede of anye thyng.
Arma decretoria, weapons, wherewith a man muſte fyght ernestly for lyfe and death.
Decretorius dies, is vſed of Seneca for the daie of ones deathe.
Decretoria pugna, a controuerſy whan two aduocates reaſon on the principall poynctes of the mattier, wherby it muſte be diſcuſſed and determined.
Decrẽtum, ti, n. g. a decree, a thing determyned, a fyrme conſent in an opinion or ordinance.
Edictum & decretum.
Decretum auferre, to forbode an ordinance.
Decretum facere, to make a decree or ordinaunce.
Decrẽtus, a, um, decreed, appoynted determined.
Omnibus decreta mors eſt, deathe is appointed to all men: or all men bee made mortall.
Décubo, aui, are, to lye downe.
Deculco, aui, are, to treade vnder foote.
Deculto, aui, are, to hyde vnder or priuyly.
Décumæ, arum, f. g. plu. the tenthes.
Decumânus, ni, maſc. g. a generall receiuour or gatherer of taxes, ſubſidies, or other lyke exactions: Alſo a fermer of the tenthes.
Decumânus, a, um, the adiectiue.
Decumana porta, the great gate or entrye into a campe or armie.
Decumanus limes, a lyne goeyng from the eaſte to the weſte.
Decumana oua, great egges. Likewyſe Decumana pira, and Decumani fluctus.
Decumanus ager, a fylde, whereof tenthes be taken.
Decúmbo, bui, ĕre, to lye downe, to ſyt downe at the table. It is properly ſpoken of ſwoorde players, whan they beyng wounded fall downe to the grounde.
Honeſte decumbere, to dye honeſtly.
Décumus, a, um, idem quod Decimus.
Decupa, æ, fœm. gen. he or ſhe that ſelleth wyne by the potte.
Decuplâtus, a, um, ten tymes double or. x. folde.
Décuplo, aui, are, to double ten tymes.
Decuplò, an aduerbe, ſignifyeth ten tymes or ten folde.
Décuplum, idem.
Décuplus, a, um, ten tymes ſo muche.
Decures, olde writers vſed for Decuriones.
Decuriátio, ónis, a makyng of knyghtes or aſſitaynes.
Decuriâtus, us, m. g. idem.
Decúria, æ, fœ. ge. was the ordre, office, or company, whiche was vnder the office of Decurio. Alſo the company of iudges, as we haue of the kynges benche, common place, and exchecker. And Decurio, he that is chiefe of theim. The nobilitee of Rome was diuided into companies, called Decuriæ, lyke as the commons into Centurias, and the chefe of euerye Decuria, was named Decurio. Alſo a company of men eatyng and drynkyng together. Alſo a bande of men.
Decúrio, ónis, ma. ge. an officer, hauyng authoritee ouer ten men of armes, or the tenth part of a company. Alſo it was taken for the lorde chambzelayne to the emperour. Alſo they were in other citees the ſame that the Senatours were at Rome.
Decurio, aui, are, to deuyde into bandes or companies.
Decurro, curri, or cucúrri, ere, to renne downe, by tranſlation it ſignifieth to renne from the one ende to the other, to iuſte, to make haſt, to hie apace, to renne or reſorte to a thynge for ſuccour.
Decurrere ſurſum deorſum, to renne vppe and downe.
Decurrere cum aliquo, to iuſte with one.
Decurrere in armis, to renne at the tylte in harneys.
Effuſo paſſu decurrere, to make ſpede, to renne apace.
Ad remedium aliquod decurrere, to renne or haue refuge to ſome remedie.
Vitam decurrere, to leade or paſſe foorthe ones lyfe.
Decurritur, men renne or reſorte.
Breuiter decurrere, to paſſe ouer a thynge in fewe woordes.
Decúrſio, ónis, fœm. gen. a rennynge, a courſe, a flowyng, a iuſtyng at the tylte or random, an inuaſion of men of warre, made on theyr enemies

mies landes, a rode.
Decurſionem indicere, to proclaime iuſtes.
Decurſorium rij, neu. ge. the place where the iuſtes be kepte, the liſtes.
Decurſus, a, um, paſſed ouer.
Septaginta milia paſſuum vis eſſe decurſa biduo? woulde you, that he ſhoulde trauaple. 700. myles in the ſpace of. ii. daies?
Decurſa abs te hæc ſunt breuiter, you haue paſſed ouer theſe thynges brefely or in fewe wordes.
Quid mihi opus eſt, decurſo ætatis ſpacio, cum eis gerere bellum? What needeth me nowe in myne olde age, or nowe in my later dayes, to make warre with them?
Decurſus, us, maſc. g. a flowynge or rennyng of water, a ruſhyng, a paſſyng ouer of tyme.
Decurſus honorum, the tyme or ſpace that one hath borne office or dignitee in the common weale, or paſſed thorough all offices in the comon weale.
Decurſus temporis mei, the paſſynge ouer of the tyme that I muſt be there.
Decurtatus, a, um, ſhortened, abbreuiated.
Decus, décoris, n. ge. honour, and reputacion, that one hath for doyng of a thyng.
Décoris ſecurus, he that hath no regarde of honeſtee.
Decus verum in virtute poſitum, True honour conſiſteth in vertue.
Décora & ornamenta.
Decus & lumen.
Decus & laus ciuitatis, the honour and comendacion of any citee.
Decuſſatim, cutte in ten partes or euen portions, or in forme of an. X. or burgonion croſſe.
Decuſſatio, onis, and Decuſſis, a deuiſion, cut, ſawen, or carued vpon any thynge after the fourme of foure lynes drawne a croſſe, by one enter or poynte, whiche maketh. viii. equall portions.
Decuſſis, is, m. g. ten whole partes, or ten Iſſes, ten pounde weyght. Alſo pieces equally cut. Wherunto the diuiſions of tymbre ſawen in equall partes. It is vſed of Vitruuius for the numbre of ten It is alſo a fourme in any thing repreſentyng the letter. X. whiche parted in the middle maketh an other figure called Quincunx. V.
Decuſſo, auí, áre, to cut or drawe out in length, or to cut or diuide in ten partes: or rather to cut and diuide after the fourme of the letter. X. to cut equally in the myddle.
Decuſſus, us, m. g. a ſtrykyng or ſhakyng of.
Decúno, décutis, cuſsi, ere, To ſtryke of, to ſtrike of.
Dédecet, it is not honeſt or conuenient, it miſbecometh.
Dedecet illud in eum, That dooeth not become hym.
Hic pilus te dedecet, this cappe doth not become the.
Dedecorátus, a, um, defyled, defamed, diſhoneſted.
Dedécoro, auí, áre, to diſhonour, diſhoneſt, reproue, or defyle, to defame, to diſtayne ones honeſtee.
Dedécorus, a, um, vnhoneſt, that is to others diſhonour.
Dédecus, dedécoris, diſhonour, diſhoneſtee, reproche, diſworſhyp.
Dédecus vitæ, ac turpitudo.
Dedecus, flagitium, probrum, infamia.
Dedecori eſſe ſtudiis ac litteris, to do great diſhonour to learnyng and good letters.
Maculæ & dedecori eſſe alicui, To do great diſworſhip to a man, & diſtayne his honeſtee.
Incurrere dedecora, to renne into great diſhonour, or infamie.
Dedecore nullo abſtinere, to withholde hym ſelfe or abſteyne from no ſhamefull or vnhoneſt acte.
Dedicátio, ónis, fœm. gen. a dedicacion or conſecracion.
Dedicátus, a, um, dedicated, conſecrated.
Dédico, áui, áre, to dedicate, or conſecrate.
Dedignáno, ónis, f. g. diſdeigne.
Dedignor, áris, ári, to diſdeigne, to contemne, not to vouchſafe.
Dediſco, dídici, ſcere, to vnlearne or forgette. ſometyme to leaue ones facion, to learne contrarie to that that one hath learned before.
Deditio, ónis, f. g. rendryng vp of a place beſieged, or whan one yeldeth him ſelfe to an other.
Properare deditionem, to make haſt to yelde.
Facere deditionem ad hoſtem, to yelde.
Ad deditionem perpellere, to dryue one to yelde.
Deditítius, a, um, recreant, or that yeldeth hym ſelfe to an other.
Déditus, a, um, geuen, rendred, yelded vp.
Dedita opera, by his owne conſente, of his owne free wyll, purpoſely for the nones.
Deditus litteris, ſtudious, geuen to learnyng.
Dedo, dédidi, ere, to geue vtterly or for euer, or to become ſubiecte, to render vp, to yelde hym ſelfe to an other in battaple.
Deditionem facere, ſignifieth the ſame.
Dedere aliquem morti, to ſlea.
Dedo me tibi, I ſubmitte or yelde my ſelfe to you.
Dedere ſe totum alicui, to yelde hym ſelfe wholely to one.
Dedere aures ſuas alicui, to hearken to one diligently.
Dedere ſe lamentis, to wepe and wayle immoderately.
Manus dedere, to yelde.
Dedere neci ſeipſum, to ſlea ones ſelfe.
Dedo tibi iſtud negotij, I committe the charge of this buſineſſe to you.
Dedere aliquem in piſtrinum, To caſte one into prisone.

Dedo pœnas temeritatis meæ, I am punished for my rashenesse.
Ad scribendum se dedere, to geue ones selfe to writyng.
Dedere aliquem alteri ad supplicium, to deliuer one to an other man to be punished.
Dedere se aliis, to applie and geue hym selfe to the factions and customes of other men: and to be redy to do what they wil haue him.
Dedo tibi hunc diem, I will doot as thow wilte haue me this day.
Dedŏceo, dédoces, cui, ere, to teache a mā other wyse than he hath afore learned: or to shewe hym that it is false that he learned before.
Dedóleo, dédoles, lui, ère, to cease from sorowe and payne, to sorowe no more.
Dédolo, áui, áre, to hewe or cut with an axe, lyke a carpenter.
Dedŭco, xi, ere, to bryng downe, to leade or drawe, to bryng from one place or one thyng to an other. Sometyme to moue from his purpose: Sometyme to bryng home honorably from any place Also to abate of a summe.
Deducere vocem, to speake small.
Deducere cibum, to diminishe ones meate.
A dolore deduci, with peines to be compelled to chaunge his opinion, or to saie contrarye to that he had saied.
Deducere aquam, to conueyghe water to any place from a good waie of.
Deducere fastidium, to prouoke vomite.
Deducere filum, to spynne.
Deduci in fraudem, to be brought into daunger, to be intrapped.
Genus deducere ab aliquo, to deriuide or come of ones lynage.
Lineamenta deducere, to pourtraie or drawe out the proporcion of a body.
Deduci periculo de animi lenitate, to bee cōstreygned with perill and daunger, to alter the gentilnesse of the mynde, and become more rigorouse or cruell.
Deducere naues, to bryng the shyppes to lande.
De domo deducere, to conducte one from his house to any place, or house.
Rationem deducere, to make accompt, to reckon.
Deducere aliquem ex regno, to depryue one of his kyngdome, to take ones realme frō him.
Ab eo deduci non potest, he can not be turned, or caused to chaunge his fantasie or opinion therin.
Rem huc deduxi, I haue brought the matter to this poynete, or I haue doon this muche.
Deducere aliquem de sententia, to cause one to chaunge his mynde.
Deducere aliquem in sententiam, to cause one to agree to any opinion or sentence.
Deducere de statu vitæ, to make one doot a thyng contrarie to his accustomed faction.
Vela deducere, to strike the sayles.
Deducere aliquem in viam, to bryng one into the waie.
Ad otium rem aliquam deducere, to bryng a thyng to quiete.
Deducere & reducere, contrarie.
Addere & reducere, contrarie.
Vt centum aurei deducerentur, That. ccc. crownes of the sonne shoulde be rebated.
Deducere plerósque dies, to continewe and prolonge the reasonynge of a matter many daies together.
Deducere sibi pilium, to put of his cap.
Vxorem deducit maritus domum, when he taketh hir frendes and bringeth hir to his owne house.
Dedúctio, ônis, fœm. gene. a bringyng to, a diminishynge.
Deductio aquæ, a conueyghyng of water.
Deductionem facere moribus, after the accustomed maner and faction, to dispossesse one of a house or landes, which he hath iust title vnto.
Deductor, oris, m. g. one that conducteth a man, or that goeth with hym.
Deductus, a, um, brought, ledde, diminished, sometyme shlender.
Deductus ad casum extremum, brought to the laste caste.
Deducta eō res est, the thyng is come to that poynete.
Deductum carmen. i. tenue & subtile.
Frons deducta, a frownyng forehead.
Deerro, áui, áre, to goe out of the ryght waie in reason, to erre. sometyme to make digression.
Deerrare dicuntur iaculantium ictus, to misse, to fayle, not to hit.
Deerrare itinere, to goe out of the waie.
Defæcátus, a, um, fyned or cleane from the lies or dregges, as wyne, whiche is not troubled.
Defæcatus animus, a cleane and incorrupted mynde.
Defæ'co, áui, áre, to drawe from the dregges, or to let wyne lye tyll it be fyne.
Defalco, áui, áre, to cut of, take awaie or minysh, whiche nowe maie be saied defalcate.
Defamo, áui, áre, to defame.
Defatigátio, ônis, fœm. gene. werinesse, or mykynge werye.
Defatigo, áui, áre, to make one werye, or to fatygate.
Defatigari cursu, to be werye of rennyng.
Defætiscor, loke Defœtiscor.
Deféctio, ônis, f. g. where a countrey, fortresse, or armie, doeth forsake their lorde or capitain, and taketh the contrarie parte. Also lacke or default: sometyme sownyng, feeblenesse, weaknesse, faintnesse.
Defectio animi, faintyng of courage.
Defectio virium, decaie and lacke of strength.
Defectio solis & lunæ, idem quod defectus.

Defectio à recta ratione, whē the mynde lo3 lacketh all honest iudgement and reason.

Defectiuus, a, um, that whiche is maymed, o3 lacketh any parte, vnperfecte.

Defector, ôris, ma. g. he that departeth from o3 rebelleth against his lo3de o3 capitain, o3 goeth from one to an other.

Defectus, a, um, that whiche lacketh anye thinge: And passyuely, forsaken.

Defectus ætate, verie olde, o3 aged.

Defectus senectute, idem.

Dentibus defecti, they that lacke teethe, toothelesse.

Cibo defecti, they that lacke meate.

Defecta senio arbor, an olde tree that wyll beare no fruite.

Defectus animo, faint hetted.

Fauore defectus, one that is out of fauoure.

Defectus, us, ma. ge. lacke, rebellyon, o3 departyng awaynst couenaunt o3 promyse.

Defectus solis & lunæ, the eclyps of the sonne and the moone.

Defectus animi, sownyng, o3 lyeng in a traunce.

Defecta corpora, bodyes consumed with sycknesse.

Defendo, di, dere, to defende, to put of, to prohibite, to defende and mayntayne any quarrel: to affirme and auowe a thyng, to vpholde.

Caput domini defendere, to defende his maister from enemies, whan he is in daunger to be slayne.

Defendere hostes, to defende, repell, and kepe backe ennemies.

Defendere & obsistere iniuriæ, and Defendere & propulsare iniuriam, to resiste and withstande iniurie o3 wronge.

Toga frigus defendit, my gowne kepith as warme the colde.

Solis ardores defendit, it keepeth of the heate of the sonne.

Vestes a tineis defendit hæc herba, this herbe keepeth clothes from mothes.

Dignitatem defendere ab inimicis, to prouyde that a mans honour be not diminished by his aduersaries.

Defendere vim, to repell and kepe backe aduersaries, to withstande vnlaufull force and iniurie.

Rectum defendere, to sustayne and vpholde right and trueth.

Valetudinem bonam defendere, to preserue and maintayne a mans good healthe.

Defendere iniuriam alicui, to kepe one, that he haue not iniurie doone vnto him.

Defendere atque sistere iniuriæ, to repelle and withstande iniurie.

Defensio, ônis, f. ge. a defendyng.

Propugnatio & Defensio.

Defénsito, to defende often.

Defénsio, aui, are, the frequentatiue of defendo.

Defensor, oris, m. g. a defender.

Defensor necis, he that saueth ones lyfe, whan he is in perill to be slayne.

Defensus, a, um, defended.

Deferbeo, lere Deferueo.

Sperabam iam deferbuisse adolescentiam, I hoped that the great heate o3 rage of youth, had ben paste.

Defero, tuli, deférre, to beare o3 carie, to bryng to, to repo3te, to declare o3 shewe, to bestowe, to offre, to commytte, to disclose, to cõplayne, to accuse o3 appeale one, to geue office o3 dignitie, to attribute.

Deferri naui, to be caried o3 cõueighed by shyp.

Deferre ad aliquem, to make repo3te o3 declare vnto one.

Deferre aliquem furti, maiestatis, erroris, veneficij, impietatis, to apeache one of felonie, treason. &c.

Deferre mandata, vel postulata, to dooe a message.

Deferre nomen, to complayne.

Deferre primas, to geue place, o3 preeminence to one.

Deferunt de me apud vos, they repo3te of me falsely vnto you.

Deferri in errorem, to be brought into errour.

Deferri in præceps, to fall o3 tumble downe headelong.

Defertur Moganus in Rhenum, the ryuer Moganus renneth into the ryuer of Rhine.

Vxor marito dotem defert, the wyfe bryngeth dowry to the husbande.

Studium & beneuolentiam ad aliquem deferre, to offre his seruice & good wyll to a man to prouoke him to amitee and frendshyp.

Deferre aliquid in beneficij loco, To dooe a thyng to one, accomptyng it in stede of a benefyte and pleasure.

Deferre causam ad patronum dicitur litigator, whan he sheweth to hym the mattier, desyryng ayde and counsaile therin.

Deferre querælas ad aliquem, to complayne to one.

Querælas ad aliquem per alium deferre, to sende complaynes to one by an other.

Deferre consilia ad aduersarios, to disclose mens counsayles to theyr ennemies.

Acerbum nuncium ad aliquem deferre, to bryng heauy tydynges to one.

Denegare & deferre, contrarie.

Beneficia dormientibus deferuntur, whan pleasures and benefytes be dooen to men, as it were sleapyng, and not lokyng no3 sekyng for them.

Deferre pacem hostibus, to offre peace to the ennemies.

Optionem eligendi deferre, to geue one the chopse.

Palmam alicuius rei alicui deferre, to geue o3 attribute to one the chiefe prayse and commendacion in a mattier.

Præconium alicui deferre, To commytte the charge to one, that a thynge be openly cried and solde.

Deferre negotium ad aliquem, to truste one to dyspatche a mattier or busyneſſe.

Deferre nomen alicuius de ambitu, de repetundis, to accuſe or to complaine vpon one for vnlawfull ſuite that he maketh for anye office: or for money that he withholdeth.

Deferre crimina de aliquo, to lay diuers thinges to ones charge.

Deferre ſermones de aliquo ad alterum, To tell tales, or to repoꝛte thynges of one man to an other.

Omnia ad vnum delata ſunt, All thinges were put in to one mans handes.

Deférueo, férui, or férbui, ére, to be colde, or to ware colde and patient, to appeaſe hym ſelfe, or withdꝛawe his furie, not to be ſo hot and vehement in a mattier.

Deferueſcit ira, the anger ſwageth or waxeth colde.

Studia hominum deferbuere, the affections of men were ſomewhat cooled, or men wer not ſo erneſt or hotte in the mattier.

Aeſtus deferbuit, the great heate was aſſwaged.

Deferbuit adoleſcentia, the heate of youth was cooled.

Deferueſco, ſcere, idem quod Deferueo.

Deferuefacio, feruefacis, féci, ere, to make verie hotte.

Defeſſus, a, um, werie.

Defetiſcor, defeſſus ſum, defetiſci, to be werye.

Defeſſus ſum ridendo de te, I am wery with laughyng at the.

Deficio, déficis, feci, ere, not to ſuffice, to lacke, to leaue, to diſagree, to rebell, to departe from hym, with whom he his retayned, to go from one capitayne to an other, to reuolte. Alſo to forſake or faple. ſometyme to be werye.

Prudentia nunquam deficit oratorem, prudence neuer faileth an oratour.

Quem ſanguis viréſque deficiunt, whome bloud and ſtrength faileth, or whiche lacketh bloude and ſtrength.

Ab eo defecerat, he went from hym to his enemie.

Vires deficiunt, they be not able.

Luna deficit, the moone leſeth hir light.

Memoria nos deficit, our memoꝛye faileth vs, or we lacke memoꝛie.

Res frumentaria ipſos deficere cœpit, grain beganne to faple theim.

Res quam ſcribam deficit, I lacke mattier to wꝛite of, I haue nothyng to write.

Deficere rebus dubiis, to forſake one in aduerſitee.

Spes deficit, hope faileth.

Tempus te deficiet, you ſhall want or lacke tyme, you ſhall not haue leaſure enoughe.

Si vtilitas ab amicitia defecerit, if profyt forſake frendſhyp. Or if there chance to be no profyte or commoditee in frendſhyp.

Si à virtute dececeris, if you forſake or faile from vertue.

A ſe ipſo deficere, to chaunge his maners, to be no moꝛe lyke hym ſelfe.

Dolor me nõ deficit, my ſoꝛow neuer ceaſeth.

Tam cito deficis? arte thou ſo quickely werye? Alſo, dooeſt thou forſake me ſo ſoone?

Cohortatus eſt ſuos, ne animo deficerent, he exhoꝛted his men to be of good courage.

Viſu deficit, he is fallen blind, he can not ſee.

Alimento deficere, to lacke foode or nouryſhemente.

Deficior, the paſſyue.

Mulier conſilio, & ratione deficitur, a woman lacketh bothe good ſence and reaſon.

Defigo, xi, gere, to ſticke in, or faſten in, pꝛoꝛperly as men dooe a graffe in a ſtocke, or a plante in the ground. Alſo to tache or faſten with nayles or other thynges.

Defigere aliquem colaphis in terrã, to ſtrike one to the ground with buffettes.

Defigere curas, to ſet all care on any thyng.

Defigere in animis, to make it cleaue in mens myndes.

Defigere in oculis populi, to make all the woꝛlde loke on it.

Defigere oculos, to looke deſpꝛouſely on a thynge.

Defigi diris precationibus, to be accurſed.

Defixerat pauor cum admiratione, Feare and wonder ſtrake theim to the herte.

Defigere ſicam in corpore alicuius, to ſtabbe one in with a dagger.

Defigere mentem, to fixe ones myndeon a thynge.

Stupor omnes defixerat, they were all aſtonied, amaſed, or abaſhed.

Defixus, a, um, faſtened in, ſtyked in, fixed on.

Defixus vno intuitu, ſtaring, not mouyng his eies from a thyng.

Animus defixus maliz, a myndealway thynkyng on miſchiefe.

Defixa humi mens, a myndethynkynge alwaies on earthly thynges.

Defixa radicibus, ſtyckynge harde by the rootes, deepely rooted.

Definio, definis, ui, ire, to define determyne or diſcuſſe, to bounde, to lymitte, to preſcribe the ende of a thyng, to declare or ſhew.

Definiant arbitri, leat the arbiters or iudges define or appoynt.

Definire diem, to determine or appointe a daie.

Quam vitam ingrediar defineas, Declare or ſhewe me, what kynde of lyfe is beſte for me to take.

Definire alicui quid faciat, to declare or ſhew, to tell or preſcribe.

Eius fundi extremam partem, oleæ directo ordine defiuiunt, In the vttermoste parte of the grounde, they vlāted a rewe of olyues, whiche shulde be the boundes or limites of it.

Circumscribere & definire.

Definitum est, it is concluded.

Definitè, expressely, shortely, or at fewe woordes.

Definitè & distinctè, particularlye, and specially.

Definitio, ônis, fœm. ge. a definition, whiche expresseth in fewe woordes, what it is that is spoken of. Is, Homo est animal rationale, mortale, A man is a thyng lyuely, reasonable, and mortall.

Definitiuus, a, um, an adiectiue.

Constitutio definitiua, The state of a controuersie, whan the nature of the woordes must ber defyned.

Definitus, a, um, defyned, determyned, appoynted.

Defíoculus, li, ma. gen. he the whiche lacketh the syghte of one eye.

Defit, there lacketh.

Neque defiat, neque supersit, Neyther lette there ber any thyng lackyng, nor superfluous.

Nihil apud me tibi defieri patiar, I wyll not suffer that you shall want or lache any thynge with me.

Nihil quum est, nihil defit tamen, Althoughe I haue nothyng, yet I lache nothyng.

Vt deficiat dies, that the daye may passe away.

Defiacco, aui, are, to weare out.

Deflagrátio, ônis, fœm. g. a bournyng or consumyng with fyer.

Déflagro, déflagras, áui, áre, To bourne erely, dyngely, or to ber burned. Also to assuage, to diminishe, to ware colde.

Ictu fulminis deflagrauit, he was bourned with lightenynge.

Spes animum subibat deflagrare iram posse vestram, I hoped that youe anger myght haue alwaged it selfe, or ware somewhat colder.

Seditione paulatim deflagrante, The sedition by lyttell and lyttell slakyng & warying quiete.

Deflecto, xi, ere, to boowe doowne, to tourne from a place, or out of the wape. also to make digression from the pourpose.

Deflectere ex itinere, to tourne out of the waye.

De recto deflectere, to goe out of the ryght waye.

Deflexit de via consuetudo, The custome is chaunged or tourned.

Oratio rediat illuc vnde deflexit, Leat vs come agayne to the matter, from whiche we made digression.

Deflectamus in Thuscos, Leat vs turne our waye to the Thuscanes.

Defleo, éui, ére, to waple or lament, to be sory.

Infatiabiliter deflere, to wepe beyonde measure.

Deflere in sinu amici, to make cõplaincte with teeres to his frind familiarely.

Deflétus, a, um, bewayled, lamented for.

Deflexus, us, m. g. a boowyng or bendyng.

Deflexus, a, um, boowed, bended, turned out of the waie.

Defio, aui, are, idem quod flare.

Defloccátus, a, um, worne for aege. sometyme passed the floure of youthe.

Defloresco, flórui, scere, to fade or falle awaye, as flowers doo: or to leese beautee. sometyme it signifieth to bourgen or floure.

Defloro, áui, áre, to defloure or diminyshe the glory of a thyng.

Gloria eius victoriæ defloram est, The glorye of that victorye was greately dimynished.

Défluo, défluis, xi, ere, to flowe doownewarde, to fall of or awaie, to come to nothyng.

Ex nouem Tribunis vnus me absente defluxit, Of nyne Tribunes, the whiche were on my parte, one in myne absence forsoke me.

Oratio ab alia re defluxit ad aliam, The communication or talke felle from one thyng to an other.

Capillus défluit, the heare falleth awaie.

Per socordiam ætas, tempus, ingenium defluxit, By slouthfulnesse, age, tyme, and wytte, consumed and passed awaie.

Color défluit, the colour fadeth.

Defluere luxu & inertia, to marre or vndooe ones selfe with ryot and idelnesse.

Defluere res ad aliquem dicitur, whanne it tourneth to his profite and aduantage.

Vbi salutatio defluxit literis me inuoluo, After I haue saluted my frendes in the morning, I geue my self wholly to studye and learnyng.

Toga defluxit ad imos pedes, my gowne fell downe to my feete.

Defluunt hæc à superis in terram, these thinges come from heauen as the giftes of god.

Defluere beneficia dicuntur, quorum memoria intercidit.

Ex animo defluxit, it is fallen or gone out of my memorie.

Defluus, a, um, that whiche floweth or falleth from any thyng.

Defluuium, uij, n. g. the fallyng of the heare.

Defluxus, us, m. g. idem.

Defluxus, a, um, that floweth or falleth doune.

Defódio, défodis, fódi, ére, to burye or hyde a thynge in the grounde, to dygge downe or into the erth, or to set or plant a thyng in the groũd with dyggyng.

Defœtus, a, um, destituted.

Defomicátum, that which is chypped or barked.

Défore, not to be hereafter.

Verum arbitrabantur non défore, qui illa restituerent, They deemed that there would not faple to be some, whiche shoulde restore those thynges agayne.

Deformátio, ônis, f. g. a deformyng or defacyng.

Defor-

Deformis, me, foule, defourmed, vnhoneste, vncomely.
Deforme spectaculum, an yll fauoured sight, a thyng vncomely to beholde.
Vita deformis, a filthie and dishoneste lyfe.
Deformis & horridus ager, an yll fauoured and foule fielde, out of facion and culture.
Non est deforme, It is a goodly and beautifull thyng.
Deformem habent aspectum, They are vncomly or vnhoneste to be sene.
Deformitas, ātis, f. g. a blemishe in ones fauour yll fauouredneste, vncomelyneste, defoꝛmitee.
Dignitas & deformitas, contrary.
Deformiter, yll fauouredly.
Deformo, āui, āre, to destroie or waste, to disfigure, to marre the facion, to disgrace, to dishoneste, to defourme, to defile. sometyme to graue. also to poꝛtraie, or dꝛawe lyke a peincter, to facion, to make the fourme of a thynge, to describe.
Deformare areas, to sette fooꝛthe, dꝛaw foꝛth, oꝛ facion quarters in a gardeyne.
Vultum deformat macies, leanneste disfigureth the face.
Ornare & deformare, contrary.
Deformata ciuitas, a citee bꝛought cleane out of facion.
Vitiis deformatus, dishoneste or distreyned with vices.
Cane deformes multa bona vno vitio, Bewaꝛe thou disgrace not many good pꝛoppeetes with one vice.
Deformatum aliquid habere, To haue any thynge that is not comely, well facioned and pꝛopoꝛcioned.
Quæ à fortuna ita deformata sunt, whiche be so facioned and made of foꝛtune.
Deformare aliquem, to describe oꝛ peincte ones maners and facions.
Defraudātor, ōris, m. g. a disceyuer, a begyler.
Defraudo, āui, āre, to begyle, to mynishe oꝛ take awaye the pꝛofite of an other, to disceyue.
Defraudare genium, not to content nature, by negardeshyp to defraude nature, oꝛ not to take that is sufficient and necessarye foꝛ nature.
Defraudare se victu suo, to diminyshe a mans owne lyuyng.
Defrænātus, a, um, idem quod effrænatus.
Defricātus, oꝛ Defrictus, a, um, rubbed of.
Défrico, défricas, fricui, oꝛ aui, are, to rubbe muche, oꝛ to rubbe of: And by a metaphoꝛe to taunte, oꝛ as we late, to rubbe one on the galle.
Defrigesco, idem quod frigesco, to waxe cold.
Defrigo, xi, ere, to frye muche.
Defringo, frēgi, ere, to bꝛeake downe and cut downe, to bꝛeake of.
Defrūgo, āui, āre, to weare out lande, and make grounde barrayne by any meanes, to take oute all the fatneste oꝛ substance therof.
Défruor, eris, frui, to take the fruite of any thing.

Defrutārius, a, um, that perteyneth to the boyling of newe wyne.
Defrutarium, a great caudron oꝛ leddle, suche as bꝛuars doe vse, wherin newe wine was wont to be boyled.
Défruto, aui, are, to boyle newe wyne.
Défrutum, ti, neu. g. newe wyne boyled, tyll the one parte therof be consumed.
Defuat, idem quod deficiat.
Defugio, défugis, fúgi, ere, to refuse, to flee from, to eschewe.
Defunctórie, remissely, lyghtly, without study, diligence oꝛ care.
Defunctus, a, um, deade.
Defundo, di, ere, to poure downe oꝛ in.
Defungor, eris, functus sum, fungi, to vse no longer, to leaue oꝛ resygne, to perfourme, to dooe a thyng negligently, and as it were onely to keepe hym selfe out of daungier, to escape. Also to bee discharged, pꝛoppely of an offyce oꝛ commaundement, to bee delyuered, rydde, and no moꝛe troubled with a thyng.
Defuncta morbis corpora, bodyes recouered from sickenesses oꝛ diseases.
Defunctus fato, escaped his destenye.
Defunctus consulis fato, deliuered oꝛ ridde by the death of the consull.
Magnis pelagi defunctus periculis, He hath escaped & passed great dangers of the sea.
Vtinam hoc sit modo defunctum, would god this were at an ende oꝛ finished nowe.
Laboribus defunctum esse, to be deliuered and past his peines.
Periculis defunctum esse, to be past danger.
Oportet omnes defungi vnius pœna, all muste bee delyuered out of trouble by one mans punyshement oꝛ condemnation.
Defunctus pietate animus, a mynde whiche hath fully declared and shewed his honeste loue towardes his cuntreie oꝛ parentes.
Defungi in hac re, to be out of this busyne, to be discharged of this mattier.
Defungi prælio festinat, he hasteth to make an ende of that battayle.
Defungi regis imperio, to dooe the kynges commaundement.
Defunctus iam sum, I haue nowe dooen my duetee: I am nowe dispatched, rydde oꝛ out of daungier.
Dégener, ĕris, om. ge. that doth dishonoꝛ to his stocke oꝛ linage, that in maniers is vnlyke to his auncestours, oꝛ base of lynage, vnnoble.
Dégener humani ritus, that doth not after the facion and maner of men.
Degénero, aui, are, to be vnlyke to his auncestours in maners: It maie be saied of fruites that waxe wylde, to go out of kynde.
Degenerare tam à bono quàm à malo dicimus.
Degenerare in feritatem, to waxe wylde.
Dégero, dégeris, gĕsi, ĕre, to cary awaye, to waste.

Degerere laborem alicui, to eaſe one of his labour.

Déglabro, déglabras, áui, áre, to plucke of heares.

Deglúbo, deglúbis, bi, ĕre, to pulle of the rynde or other lyke thyng, to blanche, to flea or pulle of the ſkynne of a thyng.

Boni paſtoris eſt tondére pecus, non deglubere, It is the propertee of a good ſheapherde to ſheare his ſheepe, and not to flea the ſkynnes of theyr backes.

Deglúbro, áui, are, to leuſe that, whiche cleaueth faſte, or is glewed.

Dego, egi, ere, to dwell in a place, to lyue, to bryng to an ende, to paſſe through, and continue a thing to the ende. Alſo olde writers vſed it for Expectare, to looke for.

Degere ætatem aut vitam, to lyue.

Ætatem pulchre degere, to lieue at eaſe and pleaſure.

Degere tempus, to paſſe the tyme.

Bellum degere, to kepe continuall warre.

Corium degere de tergo, to flea or pull the ſkynne of ones backe.

Degere vitam cum virtute, to leade ones lyfe in vertue and honeſtee.

Sine quibus vita degi non poteſt, a man can not lieue.

Degrándinat, impersonale, It hayleth downe right.

Degraſſo, áui, are, to rage, to ſpoyle, to robbe or shewe extreme cruelties in a place.

Dégrauo, áui, áre, to burthen, to make heauie, to preſſe downe.

Degredior, greſſus ſum, edi, to go downe, to deſcende, to lyght on foote from ones horſe.

Degrummor, aris, ari, to diſcrete, to lape by lyne.

Degulo, aui, are, to conſume in gluttonie.

Degummo, mi, ĕre, idem quod Deguſto, to taſte.

Deguſto, áui, áre, to taſte, to take a litteli taſte, to touche a thyng or ſpeake of it brieflye.

Deguſtare vitam aliquam, to taſte or taſte any kynde of lyfe.

Odorare & deguſtare aliquem, to perceyue, or feele what maner of man one is.

Deguſtanda ſunt hæc proemio, Theſe thynges muſt be touched or briefely mencioned in the proheme.

Aliquid ſpeculæ ex ſermone alicuius deguſtare, to conceyue a litteli hope thoughe a mās wordes.

Deguſtare mentes, ſenſúſque hominum, To perceyue or feele the myndes or fantaſies of men.

Dehaurio, hauſi, ire, to drawe out.

Dehinc, from hens forthe, more ouer.

Nunc iam dehinc, Nowe henſe forth, after this tyme.

Dehiſco, ſci, ſcere, to gape or open by it ſelfe, or lieue as a tree doeth, or chynke as the grounde dooeth, to burſte.

Dehiſcunt quidam piſces, præ pinguedine, ſome fyſhes be ſo fatte that they burſt.

Dehiſcere in aliquem, to inueighe or ſpeake vehemently againſt one.

Dehiſcit flos, the floure ſpreadeth.

Rictus animalis dehiſcens vſq; ad aures, the gapinge of a beaſtes mouth openinge euen to the eares.

Terra dehiſcit ardore, theppeth or gapeth with heate.

Dehoneſtamentum, ti, n. g. a thynge that doeth diſhoneſt, diſfigure, or diſgrace a thyng. ſometyme a rebuke or reproche.

Dehoneſto, aui, are, to diſhoneſt.

Dehoneſtus, a, um, diſhoneſt.

Dehortor, aris, ari, to diſcourage, to exhorte or aduiſe to the contrary, to diſſuade or bid nay.

Dehortari canes, to rebuke the hounds.

Inuitare & dehortari, contrary.

Deianira, the wyfe of Hercules, and daughter of Oetolius kyng of Aetolia.

Deidamia, the concubine of Achilles, on whom he begatte Pyrrhus.

Deiectus, a, um, lowe, caſt downe.

Deiecta & elata luna, the moone, eyther whan it is low towardes the ſouthe, or hyghe toward the northe.

Deiectus, us, m. g. and Deiectio, onis, fœm. g. a caſtyng out of poſſeſſion or a diſſeiſin.

Deiectio alui, a ſiege cauſed by medicine.

Petere deiectionem medicamento, to take a pourgation.

Deiectus arborum, fellyng of trees.

Deiectus gemmæ, vel coilis, the imboſſement of a ſtone or tree.

Deierâtor, ôris, ma. g. a great ſwearer.

Déiero, aui, are, to ſweare deepely, or a great othe.

Deiicio, déiicis, iéci, iĕcere, to throwe downe, to caſt down, to tourne awai, to put out of office. alſo to diſſeiſe or put a man out of his poſſeſſion: ſometyme to caſt and hitte a thyng.

Deiicere aluum, to make one go to the ſtoole.

Deiicere de gradu, to bryng out of a conſtant mynde. alſo it ſignifieth to put one out of his place, to depriue of dignitee or authoritee.

Deiicere de poſſeſſione, to put one out of poſſeſſion.

Deiicere de ſententia, to make one change his opinion.

Deiicere templo magiſtratus, to chaſe or driue out.

Deiicere præſidium, to driue or chaſe away a garriſon.

Hoſtem deiicere, to diſcomfite or dryue away.

Deiicere de ſtatu vitæ, to make one forget or leaue his former ſtate of liefe.

Deiici honore, to be put beſide an office.

Oculos de iſto nunq̃ deiicit, he neuer loketh from hym: or he neuer caſteth his eies frō hym:

or

or his eies be alwaie on hym.

Si tantum oculos deiecerimus, If we dooe but ones winke: or (as we saie) with the twynklynge of an eie, signifiyng the sodeyne chaunce of any thyng.

Deiicere multum de terrore doloris, to cast awaie a great part of the feare, that one hath of peyne, or to feare peyne muche lesse.

Deiicere iugum seruitutis, to cast awaye or shake of the yoke of bondage, and become free.

Taurum deiicere, to kyll a bulle.

Spe deiici, to be put out of hope.

Dein, moreouer, furthermore, afterwarde.

Déinceps, after our grämer, or after other deinceps, an aduerbe, one after an other, in order, consequently, successiuely, from henceforth, or thense forth, afterwarde, lastely. sometyme agayne.

Deinceps, cipis, he that begynneth, whã an other hath begun before, or he that is taken or chosen after an other.

Deinceps inde, from thens forth.

Déinde, or deinde, an aduerbe: moreouer, then afterwarde, secondly.

Deinsuper, vpwarde, aboue.

Deintegro, eftsoones, agayne, a freshe.

Deiòces, a kynge of the Medes, the sonne of Phraorta.

Deiopeia, a nymph.

Deiotarus, a kyng of Galatia.

Deiphobe, a nymph, the daughter of Glaucus a god of the sea.

Deiphobus, the sonne of Priamus and Hecuba.

Deiphyle, the mother of Diomedes, wyfe of Tideus, and daughter of Idrastus.

Deiphylus, the sonne of Polymnestor, a kyng of Thrace. also the sonne of Sthenelus.

Déiugo, déiugas, aui, are, to vnyoke, to vnioygne, to disseuer.

Deiungo, xi, gere, to vnioigne, to put a sunder.

Deiûro, aui, are, to sweare deepely.

Deiúrium, rij, n. g. a great and solemne othe.

Deiûrus, ri, m. g. he that sweareth solemnely.

Déiuuo, déiuuas, iúui, are, not to helpe.

Deserere illum, & deiuuare in rebus aduersis pudet, I am ashamed to forsake hym, and not to helpe hym in aduersitee.

Delâbor, lapsus sum, delâbi, to slide downe, to fall downe of an high place, to be wasted, consumed, or come to naught, to decaie, to faile, erre, or do amisse by ignorance or negligẽce, to fal or slide to an other matter in cõmunication.

Delabitur res familiaris, whan a mans goodes and substance decay and come to nought.

Delâbi in insidias, To falle into a trappe or snare, laied to deceiue one, to fall into an ambushement of men of warre.

Non nunquàm in hoc vitium delabitur, He falleth sometymes into that faute: or he offendeth in this often tymes.

Ad vulgares amicitias delabitur nostra oratio, we doo begyn to speake of the frendshyp, that is commonly amonge men.

Ad præcipiendi rationem delapsa est oratio mea, my maner of cõmunication is now fallen to the maner of instructiõ or preceptes geuyng.

Delabitur interdum vt dicat, sometyme he cõmeth to the poincte that he sayth. &c.

Ad æquitatem delabi, to encline to equitee.

Delácero, aui, are, to teare in pieces, to consume or spende.

Delâchrymo, aui, are, to weepe.

Delâchrymor, aris, ari, to weepe or sende out droppes lyke teares.

Delæuo, aui, are, to make smoothe.

Delambo, bi, ere, to licke, to lappe.

Delamentor, aris, ari, to lamente or waile for a thyng.

Delánico, aui, are, to cutte in pieces.

Delanio, aui, are, looke dilanio.

Delapido, looke Dilapido.

Delapidata, pauementes.

Delasso, aui, are, to make weery.

Delâtio, ônis, an accusation secretly made, or secrete complaynt, a tale tolde priuily to put a man to displeasure.

Delâtor, ôris, ma g. a secrete accuser, a complayner, a picke thanke, a tell tale.

Delâtus, a, um, accused. also brought, geuen or poincted, assigned.

Délauo, délauas, aui, are, to washe myghtyly.

Delébilis, le, that whiche maie bee putte out, or put awaye.

Delecto, aui, are, to delite, to leade, to allure to a thynge.

Plus nimio delectare, to delite to muche.

Delectare hostem, to allure ones ennemie.

Sine satietate delectare, to delite one so that he shal neuer be wery therof.

Delectátio, ônis, delectation or pleasure.

Delectationi esse, and Afferre delectationem, to delite.

Delectamentum, ti. n. g. pastyme, solace.

Delectus, a, um, chosen, pyked.

Delectus, us, m. g. election, choyse.

Delectus rerum, choyse or election of thynges. also of men apt for the warre.

Delectum habere & agere, sometyme signifieth to take musters for the warres.

Habere delectum ciuis & peregrini, to put a difference betwene a citesyn and a straunger.

Delector, aris, ari, to take delectation or pleasure.

Delégo, aui, are, to assigne to some office, message, or other necessary and great busines, to committe or cause a mattier to be determined, to sende in ambassade or message. sometyme to attribute or impute.

Delegare causam peccati alicui, to impute or laie the faute of any offence to one.

Delegare curam, to commit the charge of a thyng to one.

Delegare aliquem alicui negotio, to apoynt or or assigne one to dispatche a matter.

Delegata, thynges consecrate to the goddes.
Delegare spes suas fortunæ loci, to put his hope to the fortune and luche of the place.
Delegátio, ónis, fœm. gene. charge or commission.
Delénio, delénis, niui, nire, to pacifie, appease, or sette in quiete.
Delenificus, a, um, that pacifieth or mitigateth.
Deleo, léui, lére, to destroie, to put out a thynge that is written, to kill, to remoue, to put awaie, to abolish.
Delere ex animo, to put out of mynde.
Delere exercitum, to vainquysche and slea a whole armie, to discomfite.
Vetustas delet famam, age, or longe continuance of tyme maketh a thyng forgotte.
Delere memoriam alicuius rei, to make a thyng forgotten.
Nummulis acceptis ius atque fas omne delere, for money or bribes to forbooe and destroie all righte and equitee.
Delere ciues, to kill.
Delere maculam susceptam, to reuenge an infamie or rebuke.
Delere vrbem, to destroye.
Morte deleti homines, dead.
Delere oblitione sempiterna, To make a thyng forgotten for euer.
Molestiam delere, to put awap.
Delétio, ónis, a puttyng out, a destroiynge, an abolishynge.
Delétor, óris, m. g. he that destroieth.
Delétrix, the femmine.
Deletérion, téríj, n. g. venome.
Delénis, le, that destroieth or putteth out.
Delia, one of the names of Diana.
Deliacus, a, um, and Delius, a, um, of the yle of Delus.
Delibátio, ónis, f. g. tastyng or takyng of assate. it is also a sacrifice of meate or drynke.
Deliberatórium, looke Diribitorium.
Deliberabundus, he that aduiseth hym, or asketh counsayle in euery thyng.
Deliberátio, ónis, fœm. gen. aduisement or consultation.
Adhibere aliquem ad deliberationes, to call or admitte one to his consultations.
Habet res deliberationem, the matter maie be consulted of, or aduisement maye be taken of it.
Incidit omnis deliberatio, there can bee no consultation.
Cadit in deliberationem, it commith in consultation.
Habere deliberationem de aliqua re, to consult of.
Deliberatiuus, a, um, that perteineth to consultation.
Deliberatiua oratio, wherein any thynge is consulted.

Deliberátor, óris, m. g. he that taketh leysure to be aduised what he shall dooe or saie.
Deliberátum, ti, neutri gener. a thyng consulted of.
Deliberátus, a, um, aduised, consulted of.
Delibero, aui, are, to bee aduised, to take aduise, to determine, to doubt, to consulte.
Delibera hoc, take aduisement of this.
Diu tibi deliberandum & concoquendum sit. You muste take longe aduisement and consultation.
Deliberatum est mihi, I haue so determined.
Statutum cum animo ac deliberatum habere, To be certaynly fixed and determyned in ones mynde.
Delibo, áui, áre, to taste a thynge. sometyme to violate, to hurte, to destroie or corrupte, to sacrifice, to dzeyne water by forowes, to take awap by littell and littell, to diminysche. sometyme for Decerpere, to take a portiõ or a parte of a thyng.
Delibare cibos, to taste a litle.
Artes delibare, to taste or learne a litle.
Delibare de gloria alterius, To mynisshe or take awaie some portion of an other mannes prayse and honour.
Delibare nouum honorem, to beare fyrst any new office or authoritee.
Delibare & carpere flosculos orationis, To pyke and take out here and there the floures of eloquence, out of any oration.
Delibare honestatem, to destreyne, hurte, or diminysche a mans honestee.
Delibátus, a, um, tasted, pyked, or taken of the parte of an other thyng, hurted, violated sometyme for illibatus, vntouched, vntasted, vncorupted.
Délibro, aui, are, to pull of the barke or rynde of a tree.
Delibútus, a, um, anoynted, besmiered, couered. Gaudio delibutus, replenished with ioye.
Delibutus periurijs, stayned or defiled with periurye.
Delicáta, órum, neut. g. thynges consecrate and offred to the goddis.
Delicatè, wantonly, nicely, delicately.
Delicátus, a, um, delicate, wantonly brought vp, delicious, geuen to pleasures.
Delicatissimus amnis, a pleasant ryuer, that renneth verate quietly.
Delicatissimum fastidium, a very nice and delicate lothyng or abhorryng of thynges.
Mollis & delicatus.
Lepidus & delicatus.
Delicia, æ, fœ. g. the tymber, whiche maketh the ende of an house, called a gable.
Deliciares tegulæ, the tyles at the gable ende.
Delicium, cij, n. g. and Deliciæ, arum, f. g. plur. nu. and somtime in Plautus Delicia, æ, sing. num. delices, recreations, pastymes, pleasaunt fantasyes, generally all thynge, wherein one taketh taketh ſyngular pleaſure or delyte. Sometyme it is taken in a good part. ſomtyme in a badde. And whan it is ſpoken by one, of any perſone whom he ſpecially loueth or fauoureth, it maie bee interpreted in this wiſe, Meum delicium, or Mea deliciæ, My dearlynge, my ſweete herte, and ſuch other lyke elegancies of Venus ſecretaries. And whan it is ſpoken of a thyng, than in this wyſe: Quid agit Comum tuæ meæ que delitiæ? How is it with Comum our moſt pleaſant and delectable place of reſorte?

Deliciarum cauſa, for paſtyme or recreacion.

Delitias facere, to bee wanton, to bee ſquaymyſhe, to plaie the cockenel, to daly.

Mel & deliciæ.

Deliciæ & amores.

Meæ deliciæ, my paſtyme, my pleaſure.

Habere aliquem in delitiis, to haue ſingular delite and pleaſure in a man.

Eſſe in delitiis, to be ones dearlynge, or his chiefe delite and pleaſure.

Delitiæ pueri, a cockenele, a wanton.

Delicias hominum, O depntie gentill man.

Délico, aui, are, to dedicate, to declare or ſhewe, to tell, to explane.

Delicus porcus, a younge pygge taken from the teate.

Delictum, ti, neu. g. an offence, whan a thyng is vndooen or omitted.

Déligo, légi, ligere, to chooſe or picke out, to culle out.

Deligere & reiicere, contrary.

Déligo, aui, âre, to bynde vp or to.

Delimo, âui, âre, to fyle or ſhaue of from any mettall.

Delingo, linxi, lingere, to lycke of.

Delinimentum, ti, neu. ge. delectacion, an allectiue or ſweeteneſſe in feelyng.

Delinio, délinis, niui, nire, to annoynt, to rubbe pleaſantly, to touche: and by a metaphore, to mitigate with faire wooردes.

Flectere & Delinire.

Delinire blanditiis, to flatter.

Delinitor, ôris, maſc. gen. one that mitigateth or aſſuageth.

Delinitio, ônis, f. g. idem quod Delinimentum.

Delinio, linias, âui, âre, to drawe the forme or proporcion of a thyng, as a peincter doeth, er he do laie on colours, to tricke out.

Delinitus, a, um, touched ſweetely, annoynted, pacified, appeaſed.

Délino, délinis, liui, or léui, linere, to blotte, to defyle.

Delinquo, liqui, linquere, to omitte to do well, to offende.

Delinquere in aliquid, to offend in any thyng.

Delinquere erga aliquem, to doo an offence to one.

Delinquor, the paſſiue.

Deliquium, quij, n. g. lacke, defecte.

Deliquum, qui, vſed of Plautus for Deliquium,

Deliquium animi, whan a man is in a ſwoune ſownyng.

Deliquium ſolis, the eclips of the ſoonne.

Déliqueo, déliques, licui, liquére, to melte, to be diſſolued, to waxe ſofte.

Deliqueſco, licui, queſcere, to conſume, to wat, to pine awaie.

Alacritate deliqueſcere, with immoderate mirth to waxe fonde.

Déliquo, déliquas, quâui, quâre, to drayne out water, to poure out lyquour.

Deliro, aui, are, to go out of the right waie, properly to goe out of the forow, and make a balke as plough men doee. alſo to dote, to raue.

Delirans, dotyng.

Delirátio, ônis, f. g. dotage, folye.

Deliramentum, ti, n. g. idem.

Deliritas, âtis, f. g. idem quod Deliratio.

Delirus, a, um, that ſwarueth from reaſon, that doteth.

Deliteo, tui, êre, to lye hydde.

Deliteſco, tui, teſcere, idem.

Delitigo, aui, are, to brabble to the ende, to braule or chyde earneſtly.

Delius, a, um, of the yle called Delus.

✠ Delius natator, was one perfecte in ſwymmyng, whiche became a prouerbe, that whan a thynge was ſpoken or written, harde to be vnderſtande, and requyred a cunnyng expoſitour, they wold ſaie, Delio natatore eget, It requireth a cunnyng or ſubtil expoſitour.

Delminium, a towne of Dalmatia, nowe called Demna.

Delos, an yle by Greece, where Apollo and Diane were borne, & is one of the yles called Cyclades.

Delphax, a hogge.

Delphi, a citee and people in Greece, where as was the oracle of Apollo.

Delphicus, a, um, of that citee, or of Apollo.

Delphicum oraculum, the aunſwere made at the temple of Apollo in Delphos.

Delphides, a fruite of the kynde of carrettes.

Delphinus, ni, or Delphin, nis, n. g. a great fyſh of the ſea, a Dolphin, whoſe mouthe is almoſt at his bealy, ozels no fyſhe mought eſcape him, he is ſo ſwyfte in ſwymmynge: but he can not take any fyſhe, but lyng vpright: his tunge is mouable and apte for voyce, contrary to other fyſhes, and hath a camoiſed noſe, and a comly paſſed backe. he deliteth in muſike. There hath of theim ben knowen to loue children, and receyue theim to ride on their backes, by the ſpace of .xxx. myles in the ſea, beholden of manie people. He that readeth Plinie and Appiane in Varia hiſtoria, ſhal fynde of this fyſhe thinges to be wondred at. Delphinus, is alſo a ſterre.

Delphos, a citee in the countrey called Phocis, on a mountayne in Greece called Parnaſſus, there was the great and famous temple of Apollo called Delphicus, where the dyuell gaue aunſweres by women, whiche there ſerued for the purpose.

the

Delta, is the letter D, in grebe. it also signifieth the noumbre of foure, as in the letters it signifieth. v. hundred. Also at Memphis, the most famous citee of Egypte, the ryuer called Nilus, maketh a place in the fourme of this letter, whiche is this Δ. wherefore that place is called Delta.

Delúbrum, bri, neu. g. a place, wherin be dyuers ymages of god and saincte.

Delúctor, aris, ari, to wraste, to contende or striue.

Delúcto, aui, are, to trauaple or labour.

Deludificor, aris, ari, to begyle, to mocke.

Delúdo, si, ere, to mocke, to deceyue, to abuse.

Delumbis, be, weake. sometyme wanton, effeminate.

Delumbatæ radices, rootes nipped of or broken, to the intent that they shall ware greater.

Delumbo, aui, are, to debilitate or make feeble, or of no strength.

Deluo, lui, ere, to washe cleane, or washe out.

Delutamentum, clayng.

Deluto, aui, are, to laie claie on any thynge, to couer with claie.

Démades, a great oratour in Athenes, in sodayn oracions without any studye, excelled Demosthenes, in so much (as Plutarch writeth) whã Demosthenes was constreygned to speake to the people vnprouided, beyng timorous, somesteme laied in the middell of his oracion, Demades would aryse out of his place, and finysh that oracion, whiche Demosthenes had begun. He was of so corrupt maners, that Antipater was wont to laie of hym, whan he was olde and decrepit, he was lyke to beastes offered in sacrifice, of whom remayned but their tungues and heales. Finally the ende of his auarice, prodigalitee, flattery, and falsehode was this: comyng vnder colour of frendeshyp into Macedonie, where in dede he had secretely conspired with Antigonus, enemy to Antipater kyng of that countree, he and his sonne wer taken by Lalander (chiefe capitayne of Antipaters armie,) and first his sonne Demeas was slayne in his armes, that the bloudde sprange into his face: and than him self (after many reproches, touchyng his treason and vnkyndenesse) was cruelly kylde

Demádeo, démades, dui, dére, to make weete or moyste.

Demagis, muche more, olde writers vsed it for lesse.

Demando, aui, are, to commit any thyng wholly to one.

Demandare curæ alicuius aliquid, to commyt a thyng to ones charge.

Demáno, aui, are, idem quod Mano.

Demaratus, a capitayn of the Lacedemonians. also the father of Tarquinius the proude.

Demarchus, chi, mascu. generis, a ruler of the people.

Demeaculum, a place to discende into, a cellar.

Demens, entis, om. gen. madde, that regardeth not what he dooeth, vnprouydente, vncircumspecte.

Demensum, si, neu. gen. a certaine quantitee of meate, drynke, or grayne, geuen to euery seruaunt to kynde hym one moneth. it is also a measure, conteynyng. iiii. Romayn bushelles.

Demensus, a, um, measured.

Dementer, madly, foolyshely, vnaduisedly.

Dementia, æ, f. g. madnesse, folye, lacke of wyt.

Dementio, tiui, tire, to be madde, to dote.

Demento, aui, are, to be madde, to make mad, to make foolyshe.

Demeo, aui, are, to go downe, or to go away.

Demétreo, démeres, rui, ére, to wynne or geat.

Demereor, éris, éri, to bynde by frendeshyppe, to wynne ones fauour, to make a friende, to deserue thanke.

Demergo, si, gere, to drowne a thyng, or depe it in water or other lycour.

Demergere semen, to caste seede into the grounde.

Demersus, a, um, drowned or deeped in water, or other lyquour.

Demersus ære alieno, deepe indebted, or in great debt.

Demersæ leges opibus, lawes subdued with monee, or lawes laied in water for monee.

Demeter, the name of Ceres.

Demetior, tiris, tiri, to measure diligently.

Démeto, démetis, demessui, demétere, to reape, sometyme to gather.

Demetitus, a, um, passiuely measured, actiuely measuryng.

Demetrias, a towne of Thessalie.

Demetrius, the proper name of dyuers grebes, one, a kynge of Macedonie, was of so goodly stature, excellente fauour and beautee, that no peincter or karuer mought truly counterfaite hym. For it seemed, there wer in his visage both terriblenesse and mercy, grauitee and gentylnesse, wherewith was toygned a princely maiestee. He was in tyme of recreacion of all kynges most pleasant: whan great affaires were in hande, he surmounted all other in studye diligence and wysedom. He had his father and mother in wonderfull reuerence: Not withstandyng he was muche noted of incontinencie, he was full of prowesse and valiaunt: he deliuered Grece from Ptholomeus tyranny, & vanquyshed hym on the sea. He also subdued Athenes, and all the countree of Beotia, with the citee of Thebes. He had warre at one tyme with Ptholomeus kynge of Egypte, Lysimachus kyng of Asia, Seleuchus kyng of Syria, and Pyrrhus the kynge of Epyrus, and oftentymes vanquyshed their armyes: But in conclusyon, beeynge vanquyshed by Seleuchus, he was also by hym committed to an honourable prison,

pyſon, that is to ſaie, kepte in a towne of Syria, called Cheronelus, where he had appoynctied vnto hym kayre palaices, pleaſant oychardes and gardeins, and the company of ſuch as he liſted: where, with idelneſſe and exceſſe of voluptuous pleaſure, he fell ſicke and dyed, of the age of. lxiiii. yeres.

Demetrius Phalareus, a noble philoſopher and oratour, diſciple to Theophraſtus, of whom Tullie ſaieth: he was a ſubtile diſputer, but no vehement oratour, yet was he ſweete and delectable. For his excellent vertues he gouerned the Athenienſes ten yeres. And becauſe he had greatly enryched the citee of Athenes in peerely reuenues, and adorned it with commodious buyldyng, the people in the honour of hym dyd ſet vp. CCC. and. lx. of his ymages made in mettall. But afterwarde beyng abſent, by the meanes of certayne enuyous perſons, the people condemned hym to dye, & alſo pulled down his ymages, ſome they braake, ſome they ſolde, only one was kept hole in the caſtell, whereof Demetrius herynge ſayde: yet haue they not plucked downe the vertue, for whiche they dyd ſette vp theſe ymages. This man cauſed Ptholomeus kynge of Egypte, to make his great liberarie, and to ſende to the Jewes to haue their lawes and prophecies tranſlated into greeke, who ſente vnto hym of euery tribe, twelue great learned men, who dyd accomplyſhe his deſyre, and are called Septuaginta interpretes, all though there were of theim. lxxiii. perſons. He was afore the incarnatiō of Chriſt. 277. yeres.

Démigro, démigras, áui, áre, to chaunge habitatiōs or lodgeinges, to remoue from one place to an other.

Demigrare ab improbis, to forſake vnthryfty or yll company.

Demigrare de ſtatu, to chaunge the faction or forme of ſtate.

Demigrare de vita, to dye, to deceaſſe.

Deminuo, nui, nuere, to mynyſhe or make leſſe.

Deminuam tuum caput, I will breake thyne head, an olde maner of ſpeakyng.

Demiror, áris, ári, to meruell muche. ſometyme it ſignifieth not to knowe.

Demiſſe, aduerbe, with great humilitee, lowly.

Demiſsio, ónis, abaſhement, lacke of courage, falſneſſe of herte.

Demiſsitia tunica, a long quote.

Demiſſus, a, um, humble, lowe downe.

Demiſſæ aures, hangyng eares.

Demiſsi homines, men fallen from richeſſe to pouertee. alſo men of baſe and faint courage.

Demiſſa loca, lowe grounde.

Demiſſa toga, a longe gowne.

Demiſsi capilli, longe heare.

Demiſſo capite, the heade hangyng downewarde, with the head in the boſome.

Nomen demiſſum ab Iulo, deriued, deſcended.

Demiſsis labiis, haunge babberlyppes, babberlypped.

Demiſsis humeris virgo, a mayden hangyng lowe ſhoulders.

Voce demiſſa loqui, to ſpeake lowe, or to ſpeake in a baſe voyce.

Demiſſus animus, a faint hert, a baſe courage.

Triſtis ac demiſſus, ſadde and without ſpirite or courage.

Demingo, aui, are, idem quod Mingo.

Demitto, miſi, tere, to ſende downe, to humble ones ſelfe, to laie downe. alſo to dygge.

Demittere equum in flumen, to make his horſe to leape into the ryuer.

Demittere in pectus, to ſette at his herte, to kepe in remembraunce.

Demittere animum, to abate courage, to lake courage.

Demittere equites in campum, to ſend forth horſemen into the fielde.

Demittere in terram, to put in to the earth.

Demittere puteum, to dygge a pytte.

Robora demittere ferro, to hewe down great trees.

Metu vultum demittere, to loke downewarde for feare.

Ad minora ſe demittere, to vouche ſafe to meddle with ſmall matters, or to ſpeake of ſmall thynges.

Demitti & contrahi animo, to be of feareful courage, to be fearfull and in deſpayre.

In aluum demittere, to put into the paunche.

Gladium demittere in ima ilia, To thruſte a ſwoorde into ones guttes.

Demium, a pꝛecious ſtone, whiche hath the name of fatneſſe.

Demiurgus, gi, maſ. ge. an officer or magiſtrate among the people, which purpoſed to them all thynges, whervpon they ſhoulde treate, as the ſpeaker of the parliament amonge vs.

Demo, dempſi, mere, to take awaye or abate.

Demere fidem fabulis, to make that men ſhall not beleue tales.

Demere ſoleas alicui, to pull of ones ſhoes.

Demere vngues, to pare ones nayles.

De capite demptum, appaired in ſubſtaunce or value.

Metum demere, to take awaie feare.

Addere & Demere, contrary.

Cibo aliquid demere, to diminyſhe ones meate.

Demere odorem vini, to make the wyne to haue no ſauour.

Demere curam & ſolicitudinem, to put away care and penſifenelle.

Democedes, a notable phiſition, in the tyme of kyng Darius.

Demochares, an oratour of Athenes, neeuye to Demoſthenes.

Democides, a phiſition, belongynge to Polycrates, the tyrante of Samiens. he wrate a boke of phiſike.

De

Democles, a notable flatterer, in the tyme of Dionysius the tyran.

Democoon, the bastarde sonne of Priamus.

Democrates, the name of a carpenter, of a notable wrestlar, and of a phisicion.

Democratia, cratiæ, fœ. ge. a fourme of a comon wealthe, where the people haue authoritee without any other state.

Democraticus, a, um, that fauoureth the cõmon welth, where the people haue authoritee.

Democritus, an excellent philosophier, beyng a childe, learned of the wise men of Chaldea astronomie & their diuinitee: afterwarde he went into Perse, to lerne geometrie, after he returned to Athenes, where he gaue his possessions & riches innumerable vnto the weale publike, reserving a litell gardeyne, wherin he mought at more libertee, serche out the secretes of nature. He wrate many wonderfull workes in naturall philosophie and phisicke. Whan he beheld the citee of Athenes, he continually laughed at their fooliche diligence, which spared no peynes to geat authoritee and riches, that they were not sure to kepe: whiche laboured to get their children great possessions: who either died before the fathers, ozels ouer tpupnge theim, quyckly spent awaie all that their fathers lefte them. But the Athenienses, not perceiuyng the cause of his laughter, thynkynge hym madde, caused Hippocrates the phisicion to goe vnto hym. Who perceiuynge the occasion of his laughter, saied: Democritus is not madde, but the Athenienses be madde, at whom he dooeth laughe. He was before the incarnacio of Christ 492. peres.

Demodocus, the name of an harper, of whom Homere maketh mencion.

Demogorgus, an inchanter, whiche was supposed to be of suche excellencye, that he had authoritee ouer al spirites, that made men afeerde.

Demolchus, a poete of Syracusis.

Demolior, iris, iri, to thowe downe any thyng that is builded.

Demolitus, a, um, caste downe.

Demolio, mólis, liui, lire, to caste downe.

Demoliri culpã, to discharge hym of his faute or blame, to shewe, that he is not in the faute.

Demolitio, ónis, fœ. g. a subuercion or beatyng downe of a thyng.

Demonax, a philosophier in the tyme of Adrian the emperour: he contrarie to all other philosophiers, eschewed solitarinesse, and despyzed the company and frendship of men.

Demonica, a woman, which for money betraied Ephesus to Brennus.

Demonstro, aui, are, to shewe openly, to declare manifestly.

Digito demonstrare, to poynte with ones fynger.

Demonstrabitur, the impersonall.

Demonstrator, oris, one that sheweth or declareth.

Demonstratio, ónis, f. g. a shewyng. also a kynd of argument necessarilye concludyng the thyng that it prouyth, a demonstration.

Demonstratiuus, a, um, that sheweth or is shewed, or meete to be shewed.

Demonstratiuum genus, a fourme of speakyng, wherin oratours did either commende or dispraise any man openly.

Demópolis, the sonne of Themistocles.

Démophon, or Demophoon, the son of Theseus and Phedra kyng of Athenes.

Demordeo, mordi, dere, to bite, to bite of.

Demorsus, a, um, bitten.

Demorior, riris, or demóreris, riri, to die vtterly, or be in loue with.

Demoritur ea te, she is greatly in loue with you.

Demortuus, a, um, dead.

Démoror, áris, ári, neutrally, to tarie or abyde longe: actiuely, to keepe backe, or cause to tarie: passiuely, to be made to tarie. sometyme it is to loke for.

Detinere & demorari aliquem, To make or cause one to tarie.

Demoratos vos esse video, I see that you haue ben kepte or caused to tarie ouer longe.

Hic tam diu demoratus sum, I haue taried here so longe.

Demosthenes, the moste excellent oratour of the grehes, was fyrste disciple of Plato, after he folowed Eubulides an oratour: and vsed suche wonderfull diligence and labour, to attayne to the perfection of eloquence, that where he had an impediment in his pronunciation, he by putting small stones in his mouthe, and enforcynge to speake treatably, at laste attayned to moste perfecte forme of speakynge. Whan kynge Philip besieged Athens, and sore distressed it, vpon certaine treaties offered them, he required to haue delyuered vnto hym .x. oratours, of whome Demosthenes was one, and than wouldе he raple his siege. Demosthenes herynge this, and commynge into the comon counsaile, rehersed this fable. On a time the woulues exhorted the sheapherdes to be in leage with them, where vnto the sheapherdes accorded: than the woulues required to haue delyuered vnto theim their mastyues, whiche were the cause of debate betwene them. The sheapherdes graunted thervnto, and delyuered vnto the woulues, their dogges, the moste vigilant kepers of their flockes. Afterwarde, the woulues beyng without any feare, dyd not onely nowe and than eate a shepe, to slay their hunger: but dyd also for theyr pleasure rent and teare other in pieces. In like wyse (saied Demosthenes) kyng Philip, after he hath taken from you your oratours, whiche by theyr wise aduertisementes haue hitherto preserued you frõ his tyrannie, he wyll do the semblable.

Whiche the Athenienses hearynge, agreed to his counsaile, and valiauntly defended the cite. He was afore the incarnacion of Christe. 345. yeres.

Demótus, put abache, banished.

Demóueo, demoues, móui, ere, to remoue, to put bache.

Demoueri gradu, to be dryuen bache, to be constreigned to recoyle.

Demouere à sententia, to cause one to change his opinion.

Demoueri ex recto, to be caused to doo a gainst ryght.

Demptus, a, um, put out, taken awaie.

Demugio, demugis, iui, ire, to bellowe.

Demulceo, si, ere, to stroke gently and softely with the hand, as we do children and hounde, whan we make much of theim. Also to mitigate or intreate gently.

Capiti demulcere, to stroke the heade.

Demum, at the laste sometyme it signifieth onely or alwaies, fynally, whan all is done.

Cognitum est castissimæ demum fœminæ mann moueri posse, They hadde knowlage, that it coulde be remoued only with the hande of a chaste woman.

Nunc demum, and Modóne demũ, sens that a thynge cometh to passe, or chaunceth slowly.

Demum, ioygned with ille, is, or ita, most cõmonly signifieth onely, or in deede.

Ille demum est antiquis moribus, that man is in deede well manered, or hath onely the auncient vertue and manres.

Ea demum magna voluptas est, amonge all the pleasures that a man can haue, that is only a great and a singular pleasure.

Ita demum mihi satisfacias si. &c. You shall only by this meanes content my mynd if. &c.

Demus, vsed of olde writers for Demum.

Demussatus, a, um, the adiectiue.

Demussata contumelia, displeasure done by dissimulation.

Demutatio, ônis, f. g. a chaungeyng.

Demutulo, aui, are, to cut of.

Demûto, aui, are, to change his maner or facion.

Non demutabo, I wyl not reuoke that I haue spoken or promised.

Demutare aliquo orationem, to tourne his communicacion to some matter.

Denaria, the noumbre of. 39000. of the coyne called Denarij.

Denarius, ij, masc. g. in weyght is the seuenthe parte of an ounce, in coyne it is as muche in power & valuacion as our grote, which wayeth of our money, nowe currante. vi. d. ob. and the vii. parte of an haulfe penie.

Denarius, the Romane peme, wherof were. iii. sortes. The firste was the sixte parte of an ounce, and was more by the third parte then the Greke Drachma. In other was the. 7. parte of an ounce. 84. to a pounde. The third Denarius was the. 8. parte of an ounce, equall with the Greke Drachma, and in value a sterling grote, when eight went to an ounce.

Ad denarium soluere, to pay euerie penie.

Denarius, a, um, that which conteyneth the numbre of tenne.

Denarro, aui, are, to tell in ordre.

Denascor, sceris, sci, to crasse to be, to die.

Denaso, aui, are, to cut or pul of the nose.

Dénato, dénatas, aui, âre, to swymme, to swym out.

Dendragates, a precioule stone, like a shubbe or little bulche.

Dendritis, dritidis, f. g. a precioule stone, whiche beynge put vnder a tree, maketh that the axe, whan it shall cut it, shall not be dulled.

Dendrocissos, the Iuy, that groweth by it selfe.

Dendroides, a kynde of spurge.

Dendromalache, the marsh malow.

Dénego, dénegas, aui, are, not to geue, or to denye to geue, to denye earnestly that he hath done a thyng.

Denicales, certaine holy daies, on the whiche the familie was purged, where one had dyed.

Deni, ten together.

Vxores habent deni duodenique inter se communes, ten or twelue together haue wyues cõmune amonge theim.

Denicales feriæ, certaine sacrifices, whan the whole familye was purged, whan one was deade in the house.

Dénigro, aui, âre, to make blacke.

Dénique, in conclusion, finally, forthermore, at lenghte.

Denominatio, ônis, fœm. gene. the namyng of a thynge.

Denominatiuum, among grãmarians, that is deriued of a noune.

Denómino, aui, are, to name, to geue a name.

Denormo, aui, are, to set out of rule or ordre, to make vnequall, to make crooked.

Denotâtus, a, um, marked or appoynted out.

Dénoto, aui, âre, to blame, to marke, to marke out.

Dens, entis, ma. ge. a toothe: also eurry thynge, wherewith an other thyng maie bee holden fast or drawen out: it is sometyme vsed for a combe.

Dens aratorius, the coulter of a plough.

Euulsio dentis, toothe drawyng, the pluckyng out of a toothe.

Dentium dolor, the toothe ache.

Aduersi, primores, & anteriores dentes, the fore teethe.

Dentes maxillares, genuini, intimi, the cheke teethe.

Cauernis dentium aliquid indere, to put somewhat in to the holownesse of the teeth.

Cauere dentium dolorem, To auoyde the toeth ache.

Colluere dentes, to washe the teeth.

Dentium dolorem prohibet, it preserueth from from the toeth ache.

Dentium dolori prosunt, they be holsome against the toeth ach.
Dentium dolorem sedat, it easeth the peine.
Dentium dolorem tollit, it healeth the tooth ache.
Dentium mobilitas, the waggynge of the teeth.
Motus dentium stabilire, To make fast the teeth that doe wagge.
Deffluunt dentes, teeth doe fall.
Eximere, extrahere, eruere, euellere dentem, to drawe a tooth.
Hebetare dentes.
Candorem trahunt dentes, they ware white.
Continui & serrati dentes, lohe Continuus.
Eburnus dens, a combe of puoyre.
Dens putridus, a rotten toothe.
Fœtidus dens, a stinkyng toeth.
Dente maledico carpere aliquem, to speake ill by one, to raple.
Citare dentem, to pluche out a toothe.
Dentes conficiunt cibum, the teethe chawe the meate.
Densatio, onis, a gatheryng thycke together.
Densatus, a, um, made thycke.
Dense, an aduerbe, signifiyng thycke or close together, as whan many bee assembled in a littell roume.
Densitas, atis, & Densitudo, inis, thyckenesse.
Coire in densitatem, to gather thicke together.
Denso, aui, are, and denseo, to thicken or make thycke.
Densus, a, um, thycke, harde closed together, close, plentuouse.
Densus labor, a continual or perpetual labor.
Dentale, lis, n. g. the share of a plough.
Dentium, in order sphe teethe.
Dentius, a, um, that hath great teeth, stronge teethe, or many teethe.
Dentes chalta, a wityngе contemnyng sharp and bityng tauntes.
Denuex, a certaine fishe.
Denticultre, to thrust in his teethe.
Denticulatus, a, um, that hath littell teethe, or made in fourme of a toothe.
Denticulatæ falces, sythles.
Denticulus, a, um, Dentatus, a, um, Dentosus, a, um, toothed.
Dentifrangibulum, a thynge wherwith teethe be broken.
Dentifrangibulus, li, masc. gen. one that breaketh teethe.
Dentifricium, cij, n. g. a medicine, wherewith the teethe be rubbed to make theim white.
Dentiloquus, he that speaketh betwene the teethe or lispeth, or rather one that in speakyng spitteth out his teeth.
Dentiloquos omnes mortales faciam, quemque offendero, whom so euer I fynde or mete with, I will so dalthe hym about the mouthe, that I will make hym spytte out his teethe.

Dentio, iui, ire, to put foorthe or brede teethe.
Dentiscalpium, scalpij, n. g. an instrument, wherewith teeth be scraped.
Dentitio, onis, f. g. a puttyng foorth or growyng of teethe. A bredyng of teeth.
Denubo, psi, ere, to marie or wed on the womans parte.
Denudo, aui, are, to despoyle or make naked.
Denumero, aui, are, to pate money.
Denuntiatio, onis, f. g. manassyng, a signifiyng or declaryng of a thyng before.
Hac denuntiatione conterritus, beyng afrayd with this threatnyng.
Denuntiatio testimonij, an iniunction to appere, and beare witnes.
Denuntiatio belli, a denouncyng of warre, a sendyng of defiaunce.
Denuntio, aui, are, to shewe or tell a thynge to an other man, to denounce, to signifie or geue knowlage: sometyme to manasse or threaten. Also Denuntiare testimonium, to sommon or bryngе witnesse into the courte of iudgement, as they doe in the chaunceric, where wytnesses are compelled to come.
Denuntiauit vt adesset, he sommoned hym to appeare.
Denuntiare inimicitias, to declare hym to be his ennemie.
Denuntiare bellum, to proker, denounce, or indicte warre or battaple.
Domum denuntiare, to geue knowlage of a thyng at home at a mans house.
Denuntiare periculum alicui, to threten or manasse perill and daunger to a man.
Sol cærulæus pluuiam denuntiat, The sonne haupnge a blue colour, betokeneth or signifieth rayne.
Huic homini iam ante denuntio, I tell this man before.
Denuntiare alicui, to signifie to one, to doos to wytte.
Denuo, agayne, eftesoones.
Denus, a, um, tenne.
Deo, the name of Ceres.
Deocco, aui, are, to harrowe lande, or to breake it with rolles.
Deónero, aui, are, to discharge or disbourden, to vnlode.
Deoratum, for Peroratum.
Deorátus, a, um, despyed, hertely prated.
Deoro, aui, are, to despye hertely. Amonge our lawiers it is to pleade or to conclude in pleas dynge.
Deorsum, downewarde.
Sursum deorsum, vp and downe hither and thither.
Deorsum versum, downe ryght.
Directo deorsum ferri, to fall streight downe.
Sursum deorsum, vltro citroq; meare, to go vp and downe hither and thither.
Deósculor, laris, atus sum, ari, to kisse swetely.

Depaciſcor, pactus ſum, ſci, to make couenaunt, to agree vpon certaine couenantes, to promiſe, to patiſe.

Depaciſci morte cupio, I am content to die.

Depaciſci honeſtiſsimo periculo, where many perils be, to be content to take that, whiche is moſte honeſt.

Depaciſci partem ſuam cum aliquo, to promyſe a man parte of his gayne.

Depaciſci ad conditiones alterius, To agree to all condicions and couenantes that an other man requireth.

Depactus, a, um, the participle of Depaciſcor, couenaunted or patiſed.

Depactus eſt cum hoſtibus, he patiſed with his ennemies.

Depactus, a, um, the participle of Depango, planted or ſette.

Depalmo, aui, are, to buffette or clappe one on the cheke with his handes.

Depango, Depanxi, and depegi, ere, to plant or ſette.

Deparcus, ci, a great negarde.

Depaſco, aui, ſcere, to eate as a beaſt doeth, to feede beaſtes in a paſture, to eate vp, to conſume.

Depaſcere poſſeſsionem alienam, to feede his cattell on an other mans paſture.

Stilo depaſcere luxuriem orationis, with exerciſe of writyng to diminyſhe the great aboundance and copy of woordes and ſentences.

Depaſcere agros publicos, To eate vp the common feldes.

Depaſcor, the deponent, idem quod Depaſco.

Depaſtio, onis, feedyng of cattell.

Depaſtus, a, um, eaten vp with beaſtes, or that hath eatten.

Depáupero, aui, are, to impoueryſhe, or, make poore, to ſpende awaie a mans goodes.

Depecto, xui, ere, to kembe diligently.

Depectere frondium caniciem, to rubbe of the moſſe of the bowes.

Depeciſcor, idem quod Depaciſcor.

Depectus, a, um, idem quod Depactus.

Depeculaſſo, idem quod Depeculor.

Depeculator, oris, com. ge. a robbar.

Depeculor, aris, ari, to robbe a common weale, a prince, or a place halowed.

Depeculari laudem alicuius, to abolyſhe or deſtroye the renoume and prayſe of a mannes actes.

Depello, dépuli, ere, to put downe, to put away, to put aſyde, to remoue, to weane.

Depelli portenta, whan monſters or ſtrange thynges do happen, betokenyng ſome yll aduenture to come, to repeale it by prayers, quowes or other good deedes.

Depellere aliquem ad calamitatem, to caſt one into miſerie or trouble.

Dolorem depellere, to put awaie ſorowe and heauineſſe.

Sententia depellere, to cauſe one to change his opinion.

Spe & de ſpe depellere, to put out of hope, to make in diſpeyre.

Depellere agnum à matre, to weane a lambe.

Depellere lacte, to weane.

Depellere aquam de agro per hyemem, To tourne or dryue water out of the fielde in the wynter tyme.

Depellere ex poteſtate, to putte out of authoritee.

Famem depellere cibo, to delaye hunger with meate.

Depellere à ſe ſuſpicionem, to put any ſuſpicion from hym ſelfe.

Dependeo, di, ére, to hange downe of a thyng, to depende.

Dependent lychni laquearibus.

Dependo, di, ére, to paie.

Soluere & dependere.

Dependere caput, to bee ſlayne or loſe ones heade.

Dependere tempus amori, to beſtowe tyme in loue.

Dependere mercedem, to paie one his wages.

Dependere operam, to take payne about a thynge.

Pro capite dependere pecuniam, to paye ranſom for his liefe, to redeme his life with money.

Dependere pœnas, To be punished, to take peynes.

Deperdo, pérdidi, ere, to loſe.

Deperdere de exiſtimatione, to loſe parte of his eſtimation or credite.

Deperdere honeſtatem, to loſe ones honeſtie.

Linguæ vſum deperdere, to loſe the vſe of the tounge.

Deperdere folia dicuntur arbores, whan the leaues fall awaie.

Depério, déperis, riui, or perij, ire, to peryſhe, to die, to loue inordinately, to be loſte.

Deperierunt naues, the ſhyppes were loſte or peryſhed.

Amore impotente depetire aliquem, to loue one immoderately.

Deperit ſapor, the ſauour or taſte is loſt.

Depeſco, ſcui, ſcere, to dryue cattell.

Depeſſus, a, um, idem quod Depreſſus.

Depeſta, a maner of cuppes.

Depexus, a, um, kempte, trymmed.

Ego ne ſi viuo à me exornatum dabo, adeo depexum: vt vſq; dum viuat meminerit ſemper mei, trowe ye, that I will not ſo dreſſe hym, and trimme hym, that he ſhall thynke on me as longe as he liueth?

Depilátus, a, um, balde, without heares, or, that whoſe heare is plucked of, made balde.

Dépilis, le, without heare, balde.

Dépilo, dépilas, aui, are, to pulle of heare.

Depingo, pinxi, ere, to peincte, to deſcribe.

Depingere facta alicuius, To deſcribe a mans actes.

Vitam alicuius depingere.
Cogitatione depingere, to conceyue or imagine a thynge in ones mynde.
Deplango, planxi, ere, to lament or bewayle greately.
Deplano, aui, are, to make playne.
Deplanto, aui, are, to plant or set.
Depleo, pleui, ere, to empti.
Deploratio, ônis, f. g. a lamentyng or waylyng.
Deplorâtus, a, um, without hope of recouerye or remedie, desperate.
A medicis deploratus, forsaken of the physitions.
Deplorata res publica, a desperate common weale, paste all hope of good recouerie.
Res deplorata est, there is no remedie in the mattier.
Deplôro, deplôras, aui, are, to lamente or bewayle, to complayne.
Vitam deplorare, to lament and complaine the lyfe that one hath ledde.
Conqueri & deplorare.
Deplorare & lamentare.
Deplorare de re aliqua, to lament or make pitifouse complaynt for any thyng.
Deplorantur, the passyue.
Déplio, plui, ere, to rayne downe ryght.
Deplûmis, me, that whiche hath fewe fethers or none.
Depôlio, dépolis, liui, ire, to make perfyte, to furnisshe, to polysshe or make smothe.
Depôno, pôsui, ere, to laie downe, to deposyte, to take awaie, to put awaie, to leaue.
Deponere arma, To put of his harneys, to leaue of warre.
Deponere bellum, to ceasse from warre.
Deponere exercitum, to discharge the armie.
Deponere imperium, to leaue or geue vppe the rule or gouernãce. likewyse Deponere officium, magistratum, prætura, prouinciam.
Deponere inimicitias, to leaue all malyce.
Deponere negotium, to leaue businesse.
Deponere semina, to plant.
Deponere soleas, to put of ones shoes.
Deponere onus, to discharge a burdeyne or charge, to vnlode.
Deponere aliquid apud aliquem, To laye a thyng in gage or pledge, or to deliuer to one a thyng to kepe.
Deponere in terram, to plant.
Deponere ædificationem, to leaue of a buyldyng.
Crines deponere, to be polled or notted.
Deponere desideria alicuius rei, not to be so muche desyrouse of a thynge.
Formidinem deponere, To shake of feare: likewyse Deponere metum, mœrorem, luctum, molestias, pudorem, timorem.
Deponere seueritatem, to waxe more pleasaunt and gentill, and lesse rigorouse in ones behauiour.
Deponere imperio, to put out of authoritee.
Deponere ineptias, to leaue tryflyng.
Depone, lay downe stakes.
Deponere ingenia syluestria, to become tame.
Deponere aliquid de lenitate, to become more graue or sadde.
Deponere memoriam alicuius rei, and Deponere aliquam rem ex memoria, to forget a thynge.
Deponere apud memoriam, to committe a thyng to memorie.
Deponere offensionem, to leaue of grudge or displeasure.
Depontani, aged men, whiche after. 60. yeres, do caste downe from a brydge, or rather men for their age, excused from offices and busyneese of the common wealthe.
Depópulátio, ônis, fœ. g. destruction or desolation of a countrey, depopulacion.
Depopulâtor, ôris, mas. g. a robber, a spoyler, a conquerour.
Depópulor, âris, âri, to destroye or waste a countreye, to robbe or spoyle. There is also read Depopulo, the actyue.
Deportátio, ônis, f. g. a conueyghyng or caryng. sometyme banishing.
Deportâtus, a, um, banished, exiled, caried away, conueyghed.
Deportati, They that are exiled, hauynge no proprietee lefte in any goodes or landes, after the definicion of lawiers, howe be it other authours doo vse that worde generally for men exiled.
Deporto, aui, are, to carye or bryng awaie, to bayshe. sometyme it signifieth to reporte.
Deportare iumentis, vel nauibus.
Deportare exercitum, to bryng home agayne the armie.
Deportare triumphum, to bryng home the victorie.
Captiuos Romam deportare, to carie prisoners to Rome.
Deportare se aliquo, to goe or conueyghe ones selfe to some place.
Deportare in solas terras, to banysshe, to exyle.
Deposco, popoſci, scere, to desyre muche or to require, to require earnestly.
Deposcere omnibus policitationibus, To demaunde or solicite with all maner kynde prompcies.
Deposcere aliquem ad supplicium, to require to haue one to be punysshed.
Morti deposcere, to require to haue one to be put to deathe.
Depositárius, rij, ma. g. he vnto whom one hath deliuered a thing to kepe. Also he to whom any thyng is laied in guage.
Depositórius, rij, ma. g. he that leaueth a thynge with an other man.
Depósitum, ti, neu. g. that whiche is lefte in an other mans kepyng, or that is layed to pledge, a guage. it may be vsed for that childʒe in playʒyng call stakes, or the thing that they playe for.

Depositum abnegare, to denie that was lefte to kepe.

Depositum accipere, to take a thing to guage, to kepe stakes.

Reddere deposita, to geue vp the stakes, or thynges that he had to kepe.

Depositus, a, um, layed downe, lefte in an other mans hande, or keppynge. sometyme it dooeth signifie desperate, or he that is in desperation.

Itaque mihi videor magnam & maxime ægram, & prope depositam reipublicæ partem suscepisse, therfore me semeth I haue taken in hand a great parte of the weale publike, not onely beynge feeble, but also almost in extreme desperation.

Depostulo, aui, are, to requite ernestly.

Deprædor, aris, ari, to robbe a cuntrey or town.

Deprælior, aris, ari, to fyght.

Deprauate, corruptely.

Deprauatio, onis, f. g. a corruptyng.

Deprauatio verbi, when one turneth a woord to an other sens then it was ment, a misinterpretyng of a woorde.

Deprauatus, a, um, depraued, corrupted, made yll.

Deprauatus indulgentia, marred with to much libertee.

Deprauati mores, yll or lewde conditions.

Deprauo, aui, are, to make yll, to deprave, to distiate, to corrupte, to misinterprete.

Corrigere & deprauare, contrary.

Deprecatio, onis, fœ. ge. a desyrynge of pardon, whan we confesse that we haue offended. Also a puttynge of a thing from vs by intreatee or prayer. Also a charmyng with woordes to dryue awaie any thyng.

Diræ deprecationes, cursynges.

Deprecator, oris, m. g. an excuser, he that sueth or intreateth for an other man, that he should not be punyshed. In lyke maner Deprecabundus.

Deprecator fortunarum alicuius i. seruator.

Deprecor, aris, ari, to beseche, to make intreatee, to praie earnestly, to refuse, to desyre the contrarie, to put awai by prayer or intreatee, to denie that whiche we wolde not haue, to haue in detestacõ, to resiste, to delyuer a mã by prayer.

Deprecari veniam, to aske forgeuenesse.

Deprecari alicui ne vapulet, to make requeste or desyre for one that he be not beaten.

Deprecari iniuriam, to require that he wyll not doge hym any wronge.

Deprecari auaritiæ crimina laudibus frugalitatis, To require to haue one excused for his nygardshipp, because his temperaunce in lyuyng seemeth to be worthy commendation.

Deprecari malevolentiam, to excuse hym of blame, for the hope that he hath of an others misfortune.

Claudij inuidiam Gracchi charitas deprecabatur, Gracchus was so welbeloued, that for his sake the faultes of Claudius were hyd and not spoken of.

Deprecari munus, to excuse hym in takyng on hym an office or charge.

Deprecari culpam, to excuse hym self, and desyre that the faute be not layed to hym.

Deprecari periculum, to praie that he fall not into perill, or that he be in no danger.

Deprecari mortem, To desyre pardone of deathe, or to indeuour him to saue ones lyfe.

Deprecabitur à vobis, he wyll beseche you, or he wyll desyre you earnestly.

Deprecatum venit ad me, vt sibi ignoscerem, He came to intreate me, that I shoulde forgeue hym.

Pacem deprecari, to intreate for peace.

Deprecari sibi exilium, to desyre or make requeste, that he be not banished.

Precari, and Deprecari, sometyme contrarius, Sæpe precor mortem, mortem quoque deprecor idem.

Deprecari pœnam, to require or intreate, that he be not punyshed.

Nullam deprecor pœnam, I refuse no peyne.

Nullæ sunt imagines, quæ me à vobis deprecentur, I haue no memorie of the nobleness of myne auncetours, which make intreate to you for me.

Odium summæ improbitatis deprecari excusatione summæ stultitiæ, to defend or excuse hym selfe of some great mischiefe & lewdenesse, vnder the colour and pretence, that it was committed by folie, or lacke of witte.

Deprehendo, di, dere, to take a manne vnwares, to take tardie, to take one in the dede dooeyng, to knowe or perceyue by inquirie, examinacion, or other meanes. sometyme for Comprehendere, to take.

In adulterio deprehendi, to be taken in the acte of aduoutrie.

Cursu furam deprehendere, To take in renyng.

Manifesto deprehendere, to perceyue manyfestely.

Facinora oculis deprehendere, to se a mans naughtie actes.

Deprehensio, onis, a takyng.

Deprehensus, or Deprensus, a, um, taken vnwares, so that he can not tell what to doo, or whither to tourne, taken in the dede doyng, knowen, perceyued.

Testis deprehensus, a witnes taken or trypped in his tale.

Deprehensus est in sermone, he was taken in his woordes.

Deprehensus est in scelere, He was taken with the faute.

Depressus, a, um, lowe, pressed downe, boulged, drowned.

Depressus, & Demersus, thrust downe, and boulged bouiged vnder the water.

Ventas depressa, trouthe kept downe and troden vnder foote.
Depressus locus, a lowe place.
Depressa vox, a lowe voyce.
Aqua depressior & altior, contrarie.
Depretio, aui, are, to bryngе to a lasse price.
Déprimo, pressi, mere, to kepe downe, to thrust downe, to presse downe, to weyghe downe, as one poyse in a balance weygheth heauier than an other.
Deprimere naues, to make thyppes to sinke and be drowned.
Deprimunt me quæ porto, my bourdeyn maketh me to stoupe.
Extollere & deprimere, contrarie.
Locum deprimere, to make a place lower.
Deprimere vitem in terram, to plant a vyne.
Depromo, psi, mere, to drawe out, to declare, to fetche out, to take out.
Depromere ex libris, to fetche out of bokes.
Depromit ex sensu suo, he fetcheth it out of his owne witte.
Depromere sagittam pharetra, to take an arowe out of his quiuer.
Depromptus, a, um, taken out, drawen out, fetched out.
Deprópero, aui, are, to make muche haste or speede.
Deproperant sedulò sacrificare, They make speede hastily to doo sacrifice.
Depsitius, a, um, or Depsitius, a, um, kneaded, moulded, wrought with the hande.
Depso, psui, pstre, To worke a thynge with the hades, to the intente to make it softe, to kneade dowe, ware, or other lyke thyng.
Depúber, or Depubis, depuberis, a childe or yonge beast, whiche is not come to ripe peres.
Depudet, he hath layed asyde shame, he is past shame.
Depudico, aui, are, to dishoneste or violate a woman, a wooyde out of vse.
Depugnátus, a, um, well fought.
Depugno, aui, are, to fight valiantly, to striue, to disagree.
Depugnat voluptas cum honestate, inordinate pleasure and honestee dooe not agree.
Cum animo suo depugnare, to fyght or stryue with ones selfe.
Ferro depugnare, to fyght with a weapon.
Depugnatur, the impersonall, the battaple is fought.
Depúlsio, ónis, form. g. a puttyng of or lettyng a thyng that it can not approche.
Quæ causa iustior est belli gerendi, quam seruitutis depulsio? What better cause is there to fyght, than to withstande that we be not brought into seruitude and bondage?
Depulso, aui, are, the frequentatiue of Depello.
Depulsor, óris, mas. g. one that kepeth backe or putteth awaie a thynge.

Depulsus, a, um, put downe, weaned. looke Depello.
Depultus, a, um, for Depulsus.
Depunio, or rather Depuuio, ui, ire, to beate.
Depurátus, a, um, purified, clensed from dregges and fylthe.
Depurgo, aui, are, to clense any thynge vnder foote, to purge.
Depurgare locum aliquem ab herba, to weede any place, or to make it cleane from weedes and grasse.
Depurgare pisces, to garbish fishes.
Depurgare crimen, to discharge one of the faulte whiche is layed vnto hym.
Depuro, aui, are, to make cleane or pure, to purifie or clense.
Députo, áui, áre, to cut of, to esteeme, to iudge, to repute, to thinke.
Deputare vineam, to cut a vine.
Deputare rationes, to reken or make accompt.
Deputat se indignum, he thynketh hym selfe vnwoorthy.
Operam alicuius deputare parui precij, To esteme a mans labour or peynes lyttell woyrth.
Omne id deputat esse in lucro, all that he receyueth for auantage.
Me quouis malo dignum deputem, I wolde thynke my selfe wooyrthy any mischiefe, or punyshement.
Déqueror, eris, estus sum, déqueri, to complayne.
Derâdo, rási, ere, To shaue of or barke of, to scrape of.
Derbices, people of Asia, about the sea called Mare Caspium, which haue this custome, that whan theyr frendes come to the age of. lxx. yeres, they slea them, and eate them, callynge all theyr neyghbours to the feaste. Olde women they slea not, but doe onely strágle them, and afterward bury them. Semblably, if men die before the saied age, they also dooe burie them. They punyshe euery offence, (be it neuer so littell) with death.
Derce, a well moste colde in sommer betweene Bilbilis, and Sepobriga.
Derceto, a goddesse name of the Assirians.
Dercyllus, one of the capitaines of Pyrrhus.
Derelictus, us, and Derelictio, ónis, f. g. a leauyng or forsakyng.
Derelictus, a, um, forsaken, lefte destitute.
Pro derelicto rem aliquam habere, to forsake a thyng vtterly.
Derelictus ab omni spe, he of whom is no good hope of honestee, an hopeloste.
Incultum & derelictum solum, a ground vntylled and vnhousebanded.
Derelicta & celebris regio, contrarie.
Derelictui habere, not to care for a thynge, or to neglecte it.
Derépo, pui, ere, to creepe awaie.
Deribitóres, they whiche dooe noumbre an ar-

mie, and dooe paie the fouldiours theie wages: loke Diribitores.

Derideo, derides, derisi, ère, to laughe to shorne, to mocke.

Deridere aŕ contemnere.

Deridere et Arridere, contrary.

Deridiculum, li, n. g. a shorne or a mocke.

Deridiculo esse, to be a laughyng stocke.

Deridiculum est, it is a thing to be laughed at.

Corporis deridiculum, a deformitee of the bodye, for which one is mocked or laughed to shorne.

Per deridiculum audiri, To bee laughed to shorne whan one is harde to tell his tale.

Deridiculus, a, um, that is to be laughed at.

Deripio, deripis, ripui, ère, to take awaie, to dispoile.

Deripere aliquem capillo, to pul one downe by the heare of the heade.

Derisor, ôris, ma. g. a mocker, one that laugheth an other to shorne.

Derisus, a, um, mocked or had in contempte.

Derisus, us, m. g. mockery, laughing to shorne.

Deriuatio, ônis, f. g. a tournyng of water from one place to an other.

Deriuo, aui, âre, to deriuate from one to an other, to laye to one, as to laye to a mans defaute, or charge, to take from one and geue to an other.

Deriuare aquam, to draine water by a fooys rowe, to tourne it an other waie.

Deriuare iram alicuius in se, To tourne ones wrathe and displeasure in his owne neche.

Deriuare crimen, to tourne the faute from one to an other.

Deriuare suam culpam in aliquem, to laye his owne faute to an other mans charge.

Deriuauit responsionem alio, he tourned his answere an other waie, or to other matters.

Aliquid in domum suam deriuare, to turne a thyng to his priuate profite.

Derôdo, si, ere, to gnawe or gnibble.

Derogatio, ônis, fœ. ge. an abolyshyng of some parte of a lawe. A derogation or takyng awaie of parte of an other mans prayse or authoritee.

Derogito, aui, are, to make instant desyre, to praie hertely.

Derogo, aui, are, to mynishe, to derogate, to take awaie, to abolyshe parte of a lawe, by a decree of an other lawe.

Derogare sibi, to dimynishe his owne estimation, to saie he is not able to dooe so muche as he can, to dislable ones selfe.

Derogare de fide testium, to diminyshe the credence of the witnesses.

De lege aliquid derogare, to forbooe some parte of the lawe.

Derogare fidem alicui, to put no trust in one.

Derôsus, a, um, participi. à Derodor, gnawen or gnibbled.

Dersæi, people of Greece in the borders of Thrace.

Derumpo, rúpi, ere, idem quod Dirumpere, to breake.

Deruncino, aui, are, to cut or pull of that whiche is superfluouse, to dissipate, or breake in peces.

Deruptum, i, n. g. a place that is steepe down.

Deruptus, a, um, broken, steepe downe.

Deruo, rui, ruere, to fall downe.

Deruere de laudibus alicuius, to diminishe an other mans prayse and commendacion.

Des, a poyse of eyght ounces.

Desacro, aui, are, to consecrate or dedicate.

Desalto, aui, are, to daunce foorthe a daunce.

Desæuio, sæuui, ire, to be woode angry, some tyme to ceasse to be angry, to shewe extreme crueltee.

Sanguine plebeio desæuire, to shewe extreme crueltee towardes the common people.

Descendo, di, ere, to go down, to descende, some tyme onely to go, to condescende or agree to a man.

Descendere in alnum, to go deepe downe.

Descendere in aciem, to go into the battail.

Descendere in sese, to humble hym selfe, to consydre in him selfe the baisnes of his estate.

Descendere in causam, to come in strife, to take parte and joyne with one in any accusation, suite, or variance of the lawe.

Descenditur gradibus, one goeth downe by steppes, or stayres.

Descenderunt ex oculis lachrymæ, the teares fell from his eies, he wepte.

Descendimus ad nostras nauiculas, we went to our shippes.

Descendere equo, and ex equo, To lyght downe from horse backe.

Descendunt radice arbores, the trees take deepe roote.

In mare descendit Tybris, it renneth &c.

Descendunt in plana, Corylus, Cornus. &c. they growe. &c.

Paratus ad omnia descendere, to submitte him selfe, to condescende or agree.

Vbi pluribus diebus non descendit alius, one hath not gone to the stoole.

Cibus celeriter descendit, whan it is of quicke digestion.

Ad condiciones alterius descendere, to agree to an other mans offer or condition.

Descendere ad alterutram conditionem vult, he woulde haue hym to agree to one of the offers.

Descendere in certamen, to enter into bate taple, to fyght.

Descendere ad extremum auxilium, to vse the extreme refuge and succour

Descendere obuiam alicui, to goe to mete with one.

Descendere in omnia familiaritatis officia, whan a prynce or great estate vouchesafeth to shewe all tokens of familiaritee to a meane persone.

Ad

Ad preces descendere dicitur quis, whan he dooeth entreate for that he maie commaunde.
Descendit ad hyacynthum hæc gemma, It doth much resemble the hyacinth.
Descensus,us,masc. gen. a goyng downe, a descendynge.
Descenno,ônis, f. g. idem.
Descensiones facere, to descend or go downe.
Descio,ui,ire, to knowe not.
Desciſco,iui, ſciſcere, to disagree, to leaue, to forſake, to leaue his capitain or ſouerain and go to an other,to rebelle.
Desciſcere à ſe, to chaunge his forme of lyuyng or facion.
Desciſcere à conſuetudine parẽtum, to leaue the custome or maner of his parentes.
Desciſcere à natura, to alter frõ ones nature.
Desciſcere ab opinione alterius, to forſake an other mans opinion.
Desciſcere à veritate, to forſake the trueth.
Desciſcere à vita, to die.
Descium, the impersonall.
Descobinatus, a,um, lame, mathemed,hurte.
Describo, pſi, ere, to write out of a copy, to ordre, to appoynete,to assigne,to forte,to deuide, to distribute, to place, to peinct or write aduiſedly, to declare or describe.
Describere pecuniam in ciuitates, To assesse sommes of money in a taxe to be paid in sundrie cities.
Describere rationes, To make accomptes in an ordre.
Non credis animas in alia corpora describi, id est transferri.
Describere in genera, to deuide a thyng into dyuers kyndes.
Describere comœdiam Græcam, to translate in to latine, and make an other lyke it of the same argument.
Duodena describit iugera in singulos, he assigneth,assigneth, or deuideth. &c.
Latronem & sicarium aliquem describere, to signifie one by the name of theefe or murdrer, without rehersyng his proper name.
Describere librum ab aliquo, To write out a booke by an other mans copie.
Descriptio,ônis,f. g. a copie,a description.
Descriptio populi, a diuidyng of the people into dyuers partes and bandes, in a quarrell betweene two persons.
Descriptiones temporum, The historie of thynges,whiche haue happened, accordyng to the ordre of tyme.
Deseco,ui,& ui, are, to cut in sunder,to cut of.
Desecare prata, to mowe the medowes.
Desecare vitem, to cut a vyne.
Desecare collum alicui, to cut of ones necke.
Desecrãtus, a,um, discharged.
Desecro,aui,are, to discharge.
Desectio,onis, a cuttyng of or moweyng downe of coyne, strawe,or grasse.

Desectus,a,um, cut of,mowed downe.
Desedeo,desedi, ẽre, to sytte downe.
Desero, ui, ere, to leaue or forsake.
Deserere pignus, to lose his gage.
Deserere vadimonium, To make defaulte where one is bounde to appeere before a iudge or other great officer.
Deserere in malis,to forsake one in aduersitee
Deseruit me fides & fama, I haue loste my credence and good name.
Deseri à mente, whan ones wyttes doo fayle hym.
Causam suam deserere, To geue ouer, or to geue place in a matter, whan one hath enterpriſed to defende it.
Deserunt hunc genua, His knees fayle hym, his legges bee weery.
Preces alicuius deserere, not to heare ones praiers, not to doo as one desyreth hym.
Deserere vitam suam, To offer ones selfe to deathe willyngly, to flea hym selfe.
Desértio,ônis, f. g. a forsakyng in tyme of nede.
Deserto, aui,are, to forsake.
Desertor,ôris,m. g. he that leaueth his contrey, and goeth to his ennemies: A traytour, one that forsaketh his friende in tyme of nede.
Desertor miles, a souldiour that departeth without licence.
Desertor salutis meæ, one that forsaketh me whan my lyfe is in ieoperdie.
Desertum,ti,n. g. a desert or wylderneſſe.
Desertus, a, um, forsaken, not habitable,where no man dwelleth, deserte.
Deserta regio, a countreie not inhabited.
Desertus ager, a fielde out of tythe, vnhuſbanded.
Deserta causa, is to ouer come, where none defendeth.
Desertus homo, a man forsaken.
Celebris & desertus, contrary.
Deséruio, uiui, ire, to obeye or serue humbly, sometyme to doo yll seruice.
Deseruire studiis, to apply lernyng or study.
Deseruire amicis, to obeye his friendes, and apply hym selfe to folowe theyr myndes.
Deseruire corpori, to cherysh the body.
Deses,désidis,om. g. vnoccupied,ydell.
Vita deses, an ydell lyfe.
Cura deses, negligence of mynde.
Passu désidi ire, to go slowely.
Desidem ab opere suo aliquem facere, To make one a loyterer, and not to regarde his woorke.
Desicco, aui,are, to dryse vp.
Desideo,désides,sédi,ẽre,to sytte stille,to abyde in a place,to bee ydell.
Desiderium,looke Desyderium.
Desidia,æ,f. g. slouthfulneſſe, ydelneſſe.
Animum inficere desidia, to infect the myndo with ydelneſſe or slouthfulneſſe.
Socordia & Desidia.

Desi-

Desidiosè, slouthfully, ydelly.
Desidiósus, a, um, full of ydelnesse, slouthfull.
Desido, desídis, sédi, ĕre, to sytte downe, to goe to sytte, to light downe, to sinke downe, to asswage and fall lower, to chinke or gape, as the earth doth.
Terra desedit, the grounde opened or gaped.
Desidit tumor, the swellyng asswageth.
Designátio, ônis, f. g. a deuise or ordinaunce, an appoyntment.
Designátor, ôris, mas. g. a marshall, whiche setteth or appoyncteth euery man to his place conuenient, after his degree or office. They whiche in solemne pompes and syghtes, see that men kepe their places and order, be called Desígnatores.
Designátus, a, um, assigned, ordeyned, appoynted, predestinate.
Designati consules, Prætores, Tribuni, they whiche were elected and appoyncted to succede them whiche at that tyme exercised the said offices. Res designata, a thyng ordeyned, purposed, and predestinate.
Respublica ratione & disciplina designata, a common weale set in good order and well appoynted.
Designo, aui, are, to assigne, to note or signifie, to committe or dooe a thynge newely. also to choose a thyng, and apoint it for some purpose.
Agrum seminario designare, To ordeine or apoincte to be sowen.
Digitis vulgi designari, to be poyncted at of the people as one goeth in the stretes.
Designare nota ignominiæ, to putte one to some reproche or open rebuke.
Desilio, désilis, lui, lĭ, liui, ire, to leape or lyghte downe.
Desilire ad pedes, to lyght on foote.
Desilire ab equo, to lyght of his horse.
Désino, sii, or siui, ere, to leaue, to cesse, to make an ende, to holde ones peace.
Desinas, holde thy peace.
Desinere artem, to leaue the crafte.
Desinit in violam, it drayweth to the colour of violet.
Desine ei succensere, be no more angry with hym.
Desinere gradatim, to make an end of a thing by littell and littell.
Desinunt caduca, transitorie thynges haue an ende.
Desinere bellum, to leaue of warre.
Desinit dicto magistri esse obediens, He is no more obedient to his maysters commaundemente.
Desinit in orbem, the ende is rounde lyke a circle.
Desinitur, the impersonall.
Desipio, désipis, pui, or piui, ere, and desipisco, to doo foolyshely, to waxe foolysshe.
Senectute desipere, to dote or waxe foolysshe for age. Desipere & delirare.
Desisto, désti, ere, to leaue of, to abyde or tary, sometyme to departe.
Desistere conatu, and incepto, to leaue his enterpryse.
Desistere litibus, to leaue suite.
Desistente autumno, at the ende of autumne or harueste.
Ne desistatis currere, ceasse not to renne continually.
Quid illic destitisti obsecro tam diu? I praie the, why dydest thou tary there so longe?
Quid ille iratus abs te desistit? What is the matter, that he parted from the beryng so angrye?
Rogat vt id facere desistant, he desyreth them that they will dooe no more so.
Desistere fuga, to ceasse to flee or ren awaie.
De aliqua mente desistere, to chaunge ones mynde or opinion in a matter.
Sententia, or de sententia desistere, idem.
Negotio desistere, to leaue of a busyneste.
Itinere desistere, to breake of ones iourney.
Désitus, a, um, lefte, forsaken.
Non esset désitum, They shoulde not haue lefte of.
Illæ orationes legi sunt désitæ, Those orations are no more read.
Desita ars, a science out of vse, not spoken of.
Primus Papisius est vocari desitus, he was the fyrste that was lefte to be called Papisius, or in hym the name of Papisius fyrst ceassed.
Desolâtus, a, um, that is made desolate, or destroyed.
Loca deserta & desolata, desolate and deserte places.
Desólo, áui, áre, to make desolate.
Despectio, ônis, fœm. g. a despysyng, a lookyng downewarde.
Despecto, aui, are, to looke muche downewarde.
Despectus, us, regarde or syght, sometyme dispite, contempte, neglectyng.
Despectus, a, um, despised, contemned, littell sette by.
Desperanter, desperately.
Desperátio, ônis, dispeyre to obteyn a thyng.
Victoriæ desperatio, dispayre to obteyne victorye.
Desperatus, a, um, desperate. also wherin one hath no hope.
Despêro, aui, are, to dispayre, to haue no hope at all.
Desperare fugam, to haue no hope to flee.
Honores desperare, to haue no hope to come to honour.
Pacem desperaui, I haue no hope of peace at all.
Desperaui de re publica, I haue no hope that euer the common weale shall be in good case agayne.
Ab aliquo desperare, to dispeyre that he may haue haue any helpe or succour of one.

Desperare sibi, or de se.

Desperare suis fortunis, to haue no hope to saue his goodes.

Desperare salui, or salutem, to haue no hope to saue his life.

Turpiter desperatur, quicquid fieri potest.

Despicabilis, to bee despised.

Despicatio, ônis, sur. g. idem quod Despicatus.

Despicatus, us, m. g. contempte, despite.

Despicatui duci, to bee contemned or despised.

Despicatus, a, um, he by whom no man setteth, despised, contemned.

Despicientia, æ, f. g. despysyng or contemnyng.

Despicientia rerum humanarum, the contept of worldly thynges.

Despicio, despicis, exi, ere, to looke or beholde downe, to despise. Also for Aspicere, to see or looke. also to sette ipteli by. somcryme to regarde or consyder.

Despicere in terram, to looke downe vppon the grounde.

Despicor, âris, âri, depo. to despise, to contemne.

Despicus ci, masc. g. a watche map to see who comyth, as it is in Calepe.

Despolio, aui, are, to despoyle, to robbe.

Despoliare digitos, to pull the rynges from ones fyngers.

Templum despoliare, to spoyle or robbe a temple or churche.

Despoliare virgis dorsum alicuius, to beate one vntill he bleede.

Despondeo, di, ere, to affiaunce or betrouthe, to promyse ones soonne or daughter in mariage, to faile in courage to despayre.

Despondere animum, to bee in desperation or wante of lyfe, to dispayre of any thynge that a man seeketh for.

Despond re sapientiam, to despayre to come to wysedome.

Despondere prouinciam, to geue one charge or rule of a countreie.

Despondere sibi domum alicuius, To make hym selfe assured to haue an other mans house.

Spes reip. desponderatur te consule, men despayre, or the hope is loste.

Despondebitur, one shall make hym agreed.

Desponsans, a, um, idem quod desponsus

Desponsata, & desponsata laus, prayse looked for and dewe.

Desponso, aui, are, to affiaunce a woman.

Desponsus, a, um, affiaunced, or promysed in mariage.

Desponsa laus, prayse or commendacion that is worthyly geuen to a man.

Despretus, a, um, greately contemned, beraie litell sette by.

Despumo, aui, are, to skimme or clarifie any lycour. also to caste vp some, to vomit.

Despuo, ui, ere, to spette downe, or to spette on a thyng, to detest or delude, to contemne.

Despuere in mores, to blame the maners or conditions of one.

Despuitur, the impersonall.

Desquamo, aui, are, to shale a fysshe.

Desquamare pisces, to take of the shaales from fysshes.

Desquamare arbores, to barke trees.

Desquamare vestem, to burle clothe.

Desterro, ui, ere, to knotte.

Déstico, aui, are, to make a noyse lyke a ratte.

Destillo, aui, are, idem quod Distillo.

Destinátio, ônis, a purpose, appoyntement, a deliberation.

Destinátus, a, um, appoynted, certayne, determyned.

Destino, aui, are, to pourpose, to appoynte, to depute, to prepare, to choose, to tye to a thyng, to sende, to sette a price, to leuelle at a marke.

Quanti destinat ædes? For howe muche will he sell his house?

Destinare puellam, to promise the mayden in mariage to one.

Destinare diem necis alicui, to apoynt a daye whan one shall be kylled.

Ictum cernim destinare, to endeuour to hitte euen in hurling or strikyng, as it were to leuell.

Destinare spe aliquid futurum, to hope, and as it were to prophecie, that a thynge will come to passe.

Destinare animo, vel animis, & in animo, to purpose in his mynde.

Destinare animo authorem cædis, to suspecte one to be the authour of the murther.

Destinatum est mihi, and Destinatum est mihi in animo, I haue purposed.

Destinare ægrum cibo, to appoynte a sicke man to eate meate.

Destinare alicui prouinciam, to appoynte or assigne to one the gouernance of a prouince.

Destinare aliquid agere, to pourpose to doo a thynge.

Destinare legationem, to sende an ambassade.

Destituo, ui, ere, to forsake, to leaue, to faile at ones nede, to disappointe one, to deprive or take fro, to louse or vnbynde, to set doune a man, to breake promyse.

Destituit omnes seruos ad mensam ante se, He dyd sette downe all his seruauntes at the table before hym.

Somnus destituebat, I could slepe no more.

Destituere spem, To disappoynte one of the truste that he had in hym.

Destituit aliquem, he brake promise with one.

Destituit ciuitatem, he disappointed the citee.

Incæptum opus destituere, to leue of a worke that one had enterprised.

Nimia siccitas destituit plantas naturali alimento. i. perfect, doth make them to lacke.

Destituere malas auctioris, to loose.

Destitutio, ônis, sing. a leauyng or forsakyng.

Destitutus, a, um, forsaken, destitued, deprived.

some

ſometyme one that is deſperate.
Deſtrigmentũ,ti,n. g. that is ſcraped of a thyng.
Deſtringo, xi, ere, to bynde harde, to cut of, to rubbe or ſcrape of alſo to abate.
Olea deſtringenda eſt, muſt be pruned or cut.
Deſtrinxit aciem, it blemyſhed the ſyght.
Deſtrúctile, that whiche ſhall be deſtroied.
Déſtruo, xi, ere, to deſtroye, to thrawe downe that whiche is builded.
Deſtruere teſtes, to deſtroye the witneſſes by ſhewynge of theyr yll maners, to bringe them out of credence.
Deſubito, ſodeynly, vnprouided.
Deſubulo, aui, are, to perce, properly with an aule or bodkyn.
Deſudaſco, ſcere, to labour vntyll he ſweate.
Deſúdo, áui, áre, to ſweate or labour muche.
Deſuefatio, deſuéfacis, to bringe out of vſe, to leaue ones faction.
Deſuefactus, out of cuſtome or vſe.
Deſuefio, fieri, to be brought out of vſe, to bee diſuſed.
Deſueo, déſues, éui, ére, to bringe out of cuſtome, to diſuſe.
Deſueſco, ſueui, ſueſcere, to diſuſe or chaunge ones cuſtome or faction,
Deſuetúdo, inis, f. g. a diſuſe.
Deſuétus, out of vſe.
Deſultor, óris, ma. g. he that can vault an horſe, or leape from one horſebacke to an other. alſo thoſe men of warre, that in tyme of battayle wolde leape downe of theyr horſes quickly, and fyght on foote, & leape vp agayne as quickly, were called Deſultores.
Deſultórius, a, um, that leapeth from one to an other alſo vnconſtant, waueryng, variable.
✠ Deſultoria leuitas, ſpoken prouerbially of an vnconſtant and waueryng perſone.
Deſultorij equi, horſes that ſerued for the ſoudiours called Deſultores.
Deſultúra, æ. f. g. leaphyng vp and downe, vaulting of an horſe, leappng from one to an other.
Deſum, fui, eſſe, to lacke, to faple.
Deeſſe cauſæ, not to defende one, not to take ones parte.
Deeſſe occaſioni, not to take a thing whan occaſion hapneth.
Deeſſe officio, not to dooe his ductie or endeuour.
Deeſſe ſibi, to bee negligente in his owne buſyneſſe.
Defuit animus, his courage fayled.
Non deſunt qui interpretentur, ſome men doo interprete, or there be ſome that. &c.
Deeſſe alicui opera, not to helpe one.
Deeſſe voluntati amicorum, not to folowe his frendes will.
Deeſſe & abundare, contrary.
Non animus ei, ſed vires defuerunt, he lacked not a mynde, but power and ſtrength.
Arbitrabatur non defore, he thoughte there wolde be ſome.
Deeſſe conuiuio, not to be preſent at a feaſt.
Deſúmo, pſi, mere, to take out, to chooſe.
Déſuper, from aboue. Deſurſum idem.
Deſyderabilis, le, wooꝛthie to be wyſhed for, or deſyred.
Deſyderátio, ónis, f. g. idem quod deſyderium.
Deſyderátus, a, um, deſyred, wyſhed for, that lacketh.
Deſyderati, men dead, or ſlayne in battayle.
In eo prælio trecenti capti, quinquaginta milia deſyderata ſunt, In that battayle thre hundred were taken, and fyftye thouſande ſlayne and deade.
Deſyderata in magno philoſopho grauitas, the grauitee, whiche is requyred to be in ſo great a philoſophier.
Deſyderium, rij, n. g. deſyre, loue, delyte, ſtudy, ſometyme abſence, death, or the lacke of a thyng.
Societas alicuius, and deſyderium, contrary.
Multarum rerum deſyderio te angi neceſſe erat, Medes muſte ye be grieued with the ſorowfull remembrance of diuers thynges.
Deſyderium ſcabendi, the itche.
Deſyderia mulierum, the fleryng of the menſtruous flixe.
Deſyderia oculorum, The diſeaſe called Ophthalmia.
Afficere deſyderio, to make deſyrous.
Deſyderio vrbis flagrare, to be very Deſirous of the citee.
Deſyderio incendi, moueri, teneri, angi, To be verate deſyrous.
Deſyderio alterius aliquid facere, to doone thyng for an other mans ſake.
Relinquere deſyderium ſui apud aliquem, to make one to deſyre or wiſhe for hym, whan he is gone.
Ita magno deſyderio fuit ei filius, He was greatly deſyrous of his ſoonne, or he longed muche for his ſoonne.
Erat in deſyderio ciuitatis, The whole citee deſyred hym, or wyſhed for hym.
Incutere deſyderium, to make one deſyrous.
Meum deſyderium, my delite.
Deſydero, aui, are, to deſyre, to wyſhe for a thinge. alſo to requyre or looke for, to fynde lacke of.
Lepidus quod ego deſyderabam fecit, The I deſyred, Lepidus dyd.
Neq; nunc vires deſydero adoleſcentis, non pluſquam adoleſcens tauri vires deſyderabam, Nor I nowe doo more wyſhe to haue yong mans ſtrength, than whan I was yong I wyſhed the ſtrength of a bulle.
Virtus nullam aliam mercedem ſuorum laborum deſyderat, præter hanc laudis & gloriæ, Vertue requireth none other rewarde for hir labour, but this only of praiſe & renoume.
Quis ab eis vllam rem laude dignam deſyderat? Who looketh for any thing of them worthy commendation?

D ANTE R.

Si erit bellum (vt video fore) partes meæ non desyderabuntur, If it chaunce to bee warre (as I perceiue it will) there shall lacke nothyng in me, in dooyng my duetie, or for my parte I wyll not fayle.

Curia vires meas non desyderat, The Senate hath no nede of myne ayde.

Desydero abs te aliquid, Me seemeth thou dooest not as I would haue the to doo, I fynd lacke of sumwhat in the.

Desyderauit non nunquam Agrippæ patientiam, He was sory that Agrippa was no more patient, or he often tymes founde lacke of patience, or wyshed more patience. &c.

Vrgo tuum dolorem amoremque desydero, I fynde lacke that thou dost not loue, nor are not sory.

Hæc longam desyderant orationem, These thynges require many wordes, or to be spoken of at large. Nihil desydero, I passe not, I care not, I desyre nothyng at all. Desyderare Ciceronis eloquentiam, to be sory that he hath not Ciceros eloquence. Nulla nauis desyderabatur, Neuer a shyppe perished or was loste.

Detectus, a, um, discouered, disclosed, made apparant and manyfest, bare, naked.

Detectus caput, he that hath his heade vncouered.

Détego, égi, ere, to disclose or discouer, to open, to vtter.

Detegere stomachum, to vtter his stomake or mynde.

Detegere insidias, to disclose or open wyles or deceptes.

Detendeo, di, ere, to stretche out, or to stretche foorthe.

Deténtio, ônis, f. g. a withholding or retayning.

Deter, lackyng somewhat, yll.

Detérior, woorse. Deterrimus, woorst.

Color deterrimus, a verate yll colour.

Deteriori conditione esse, to be in woorse state or condition.

Deterius facere, to appayre a thyng, to make it woorse.

Deteriore tempore, at a woorse occasion.

Deteriore iure esse, to be in woorse condition.

Detergeo, es, or Detergo, is, si, ère, or ere, To wype of, to make cleane, to scoure.

Detergere fastidia, to put away lothsomnes.

Lachrymas detergere, To wype awaie the teares from ones eyes.

Detergere gemmas, to rubbe of the buddes of the vine.

Detergere sarmenta arboribus, to cut graffes from trees.

Ramos detergere, to cut of the oyes.

Determinátio, ônis, f. g. a determination, a conclusion or endyng.

Determinátus, a, um, determined, discussed.

Determino, aui, are, to prescribe the boundes or limittes of a thyng, to determyne or discusse.

Detero, triui, ère, to bruse, to beate oute, as grayne is beaten out of the eare with threshyng or tredyng, to empaire, to hurt or weare.

Deterere laudem alicuius, to diminishe.

Deterere calces, to weare out shoes.

Deterere sumptum, to lose his costes or expenses.

Deterere frumenta, to thresshe corne.

Aliquid vsu ipso deteretur, somewhat will be worne awaie with vse.

Famæ alicuius deterere, for Detrahere.

Deterreo, ui, ère, to put in feare, to leat by feare, to discomfort, to feare one from his purpose, to discourage from a thynge.

Deterrere à sententia, to make one afrayde to abyde in his opinion.

Deterrere à studiis, to feare one from studye or learnyng.

Deterrere à scribendo, to make one afrayde to wryte.

Deterrere & Cohortare, contrary.

Deterrimè, an aduerbe, which signifieth in woorse condition, moste vngracious.

Detérritus, a, um, abashed, made afrayde.

Ab officio deterritus, made afrayde to doo his duetie.

Detestábilis, le, abhominable, detestable.

Detestabile & pestiferum.

Detestátio, ônis, for. g. abhorrynge. execration, summonynge with witnesse. also Apuleius taketh it for geldyng.

Detéstor, âris, âri, to abhorre, to detest, to haue in abhomination, to take earnestly to witnesse, to eschue and put from hym by woordes. Among Cicharo Detestari is to sommon a man with witnesse.

Detestari inuidiam, to eschue enuie.

Caput alicuius detestari hostili precc, to curse or banne.

Detestari iram del in caput alicuius, to curse with a solemne othe, to wyshe the vengeaunce and wrathe of god to light on one.

Auertere & detestari.

Detexo, xui, ere, to weaue, or to wynde.

Detexere telam, to weaue vp the webbe.

Detexere aliquid viminibus, To make of osiers.

Detineo, détines, tinui, êre, to withholde, to restreigne from libertee, to leat or cause to tary.

Detinere aliquem & demorari.

Detinere aliquem de suo negotio, to let one from his busynesse.

Maiori aliquo negotio detineri, To be letted or caused to tary by the meanes of som great busynesse.

Detinent terras niues, The snowe lyeth long vpon the ground.

Detines me suspensum, thou keepest me long in doubte.

Detineri ventis, to bee kepte in any place by the the meane of contrary wyndes.

Detondeo, detondi, ere, to sheare or clippe, to notte or polle.
Détono, ui, are, to make a great soune or noise.
Detorno, aui, are, to wooyke as tourners doot, to tourne or throwe.
Detórqueo, tórsi, quère, to boowe, to tourne out of the right waie. also to tourne a thyng from the one syde to the other.
Cursum detorquere ad aliquem, to tourne towarde one in rennyng.
Recte facta detorquère, to interprete in an yll parte the thyng that is well doorn.
Praue detorta opinio, an opinion mystaken, and farre from the true meanyng.
Detorquere à virtute, to tourne ones myndе from vertue.
Flectere & detorquere voluntatem alicuius, to tourne or wythe a mans myndе to an other purpose.
Detorsus, a, um, tourned awaie, wythed.
Detractio, ônis, fœ. g. a pluchyng away or from one. It is also dispraisyng or yll report, detraction, sclaundryng, backbitynge. It signifieth also withdrawyng of any thyng necessary. also purgeynge of excrementes & yll humours of the bodie.
Detractio sanguinis, leattyng of bloude.
Detractio alieni, the takyng awaie of an other mans gooddes, extorcion.
Detractor, ôris, masc. g. he that reporteth yll, or speaketh yll of any one, a sclanderer, backebyter, or detracter.
Detractus, a, um, withdrawen, pluched away.
Détraho, xi, ere, to drawe or pluche of, to take from one by violence, to reporte yll of one, to diminyshe or abate, to pull awaie sometyme to pluche backe.
Detrahere alumnum mamma, To weane a chylde.
Detrahere de cœlo, to pulle out of heauen, or from heauen, to put one out of great estimatiõ.
Detrahere alicui, to reporte yll, or saie yll of one.
Detrahere de authoritate Senatus, to haue the senate in contempte, to diminish the authoritee of the Senate.
Detrahere de se, to blame hym selfe.
Detrahere de pecunia, to abate of the money.
Detrahere de suis commodis, to minishe his owne commoditees or profites.
Detrahere in iudicium, to bring in iudgemẽt.
Detrahere sanguinem, to draw bloud of one.
De fama alicuius detrahere, to minish the estimation of one.
De pondere detrahere, to abate of the weyght.
De suo iure detrahere, To remitte or abate somewhat of his right.
Fidem verbis alicuius detrahere, to cause one not to be beleued.
Ex summa detrahere, to abate of the summe.
Ex redditu detrahere, to minish his reuenues.
Precio detrahitur, the price is abated.
Detrahere collo, to pluche from ones necke.
De digito annulum detraxit, he pluched his ryngе from his fyngеr.
Non cessat de nobis detrahere, he ceasseth not to diminishe our estimation, by his yll reporte.
Detrahere calamitatem alicui, to put one out of misery and trouble.
Detrahere honorem debitum alicui, to take from one the honour that is due to hym.
Detrahere fastidium, To take awaye lothesomnesse.
Vt eum ab illa iniuria detraherent, that they shoulde withdrawe him from dooryng that iniurie to me.
Detrahere lunam cœlo, to pulle downe the moone out of the skye.
Detrahere fucum, to pull awaie the false colour: And by a metaphore, to discouer falshode and deceipte.
Detrectátio, ônis, fœ. g. a refusall or denyall to dooe a thyng.
Detrectátor, ôris, mas. g. he that refuseth or denyeth to doo a thyng.
Detrecto, aui, are, to refuse to doo a thyng. It also signifieth to abate.
Aduersæ res etiam bonos detrectant, Aduersitee abateth mens reputacion, although they be good men.
Benefacta malignè detrectare, to dispraise and blame good thyngеs.
Militiam detrectare, to refuse warefare.
Principem detrectare, to refuse to haue one theyr chiefe and soueraigne.
Detrimẽntum, ti, n. g. detriment or damage.
Detrimentum facere, or capere, to suffre damnage.
Detrimentum, & Emolimentum, contrary.
Incommodum & Detrimentum.
Detrimentosus, a, um, that whiche is cause of muche damage or hurte.
Detritus, a, um, worne out.
Detrûdo, si, ere, to thruste downe, to thrust out sometyme to constreigne or inforce, to cause or putte one out of any place.
Detrudere comitia in aduentum alicuius, to defeere or put of the parlyament till a mans comynge.
Detrudi in carcerem, to be put in prison.
Detrudere regno, to putte one out of his royalme.
De sententia detrudere, to make one to forsake his opinion.
Detrudunt naues scopulo, they thrust or put backe the shyppes from the rockes.
Detrudere in luctum, to cause one into mourning.
Detrudere aliquem ad mendicitatem, To make one a begger.
Detrusit nos ad ea necessitas, necessitee ha forced vs to doo these thynges.

Detrullo, aui, are, to put out of one vessell into an other.
Detruncatio, ónis, fœ. g. a cuttyng shorte, a loppyng of trees.
Detruncо, aui, are, to cut of short or in pieces. also to loppe or shreade a tree.
Detruncare vitem, to cutte a vyne.
Detruncare caput, to cut of ones heade.
Detruncare corpus, to cut of the armes, or any other partes of the body.
Manu aliquem detruncare, to cutte of ones hande.
Détuli, he brought.
Detulit illi laudem, he referred all the prayse vnto hym.
Detúmeo, détumes, ui, ere, whan swellyng doth aslaage.
Deturbo, aui, are, to beate down, or to pull from a thynge, to throwe downe one from an hyghe place. Deturbare aliquem ædibus, to thrust one out of his house.
Deturbare de mente, to make one madde.
Deturbare possessione, to put one out of possession.
De fortunis omnibus deturbare aliquem, to put a man beyde all that euer he hath.
Deturbare ex magna spe, to put out of great hope.
Deturgeo, detursi, gére, is whan a thyng, which is swollen or blowen, doeth asswage it selfe.
Deturpo, aui, are, to make foule or defile, to make yuell fauoured.
Deua, a ryuer in Scotland called Dee, and the towne called Dondee, is also Deua.
Deuana, a towne in the north part of Englande called Doncaster.
Deuasto, aui, are, to waste or spoyle.
Deucalion, the sonne of Promethens, a man of great wysedome and vertue, who saued muche of the people of Greece in the tyme of an vniuersall floud, wherby the more parte of Greece was drowned. The poetes feigne, that after the floud, he asked counsaile of the goddesse Themis, howe mankynde might be restored: and it was answered, yf he and his wyfe Pyrrha, dyd cast the bones of theyr mother behynde them. Deucalion (beyng very wittie) perceyued, that the erth was mother of all thynges, and the stones the bones therof. Therfore he threw stones behynd hym, & they became men: and his wife did likewise: and they became women. But in dede he saued the people by bryngyng them to the hille called Parnasus. He was before the comyng of Christ. 1534. yeres.
Deuectus, a, um, caried awaie, caried downe.
Deuehо, déuehis, xi, here, to carie from a place, to carye downe, to carie to.
Fruges deuehit in vrbem.
Deuello, velli, or vulsi, ere, to pull awaye, to plucke of.

Deuélo, áui, áre, to discouer, to open.
Deuéneror, aris, ari, to worshyp.
Deuénio, déuenis, ni, nire, to come downe from hygh to lowe, from richesse to pouerte: from prosperitee to aduersitee. Sometyme generally to come.
Deuenire ad senatum, to haue refuge or resourse to the Senate.
Deuenire ad maturitatem, to waxe or become rype.
Ad iuris studium deuenire, to gene ones selfe to the study of the lawe.
Deuenire in victoris manus, to come in to the conquerours handes.
Miseret me tanum illi deuenisse mali, It pitieth me, that so much yll hath chaunced to him.
Deuenire domum, to come home.
Deuenire in medium certamen, to come to the middell of the conflicte or battaile.
Deuenire in aliquem, to chaunce on one.
Deuenire in alienas manus, to come into an other mans handes.
Deuenusto, aui, are, to make foule, to disgrace, to deface.
Deuérbero, aui, are, to beate muche.
Deuerbium, looke Diuerbium.
Deuerro, ri, ere, to sweepe cleane awaie.
Deuersus, tourned downewarde.
Deuerto, looke Diuerto.
Deuestio, iui, ire, to vnclothe.
Déueto, aui, are, to forbydde.
Deuexitas, atis, f. g. holownesse.
Deuexo, aui, are, to vexe muche.
Déuexus, a, um, holowe, or lythe to a valeye, boowed, idem quod decliuis, bendyng down, hangyng.
Deuexum caput in dextrum humerum, bendyng downe towarde the right shoulder.
Deuictus, ouercome, subdued, vanquished.
Deuincio, xi, ere, to bynde faste, to ioygne or knytte in familiaritee or frendshyp, to make one bounden to hym.
Deuincit se scelere, he bryngeth hym selfe in daunger for the offence or mysdede.
Vbi animus semel se cupiditate deuinxerit mala, whan the mynd hath ones intangled or captiued it selfe with any yll desyre or naughty appetite.
Deuincere hominum inter homines societatem, to knitte or ioygne societee or frendshyp betwene men.
Deuincere aliquem sibi beneficiis, To bynde one to hym by shewyng frendely pleasures.
Hoc beneficio vtrinq; ab vtrisque deuincimini, By meane of this benefite, ye be bounde eyther to other.
Affinitate sese alicui deuincere, to bynd hym selfe to a man by alliance or kynred.
Fœderibus deuincitur fides cum hoste, Our faithe and promise is made sure to our enemies by couenauntes.

De-

Deulnctus, a, um, bounden, ꝓpꝛꝛely in duetie oꝛ office.
Déuio, aui, are, to go out of the waie.
Deuirgino, aui, are, to deflouꝛe a mayden.
Deuirginari, ſpoken of theym that bee paſte chyldehode.
Deuitátio, ônis, ſfœm. gene. an aduoꝛdyng oꝛ ſhunnyng.
Deuito, áui, áre, to eſchewe, to ſhounne, to auoyde.
Subterfúgere & deuitare.
Deuitare aliquem, to eſchewe ones company.
Deuitatum ſe á me putat, He thynketh that I dooe eſchue his company.
Déuius, a, um, out of the ryghte waie, oꝛ that dwelleth farre out of the waie.
Deuium iter, a waie not haunted oꝛ vſed to be gone.
Deuium ſcortum, a common harlotte.
A uis deuia, an oule.
Deuia & ſyluéſtris gens, a ſauage and wilde people, dwelling in a deſerte countrey.
Aequi deuius, ſwaruing from trueth.
Deuium tibi non erit, It will not be out of your waie.
Omnibus conſiliis deuius & præceps, raſſhe and koolyſhe in all his counſailes.
Deunx, uncis, ma. g. a leuen ounces, and a meaſure conteynyng .xrii. ounces, a leuen of the meaſures called Cyathi, our pint and. vi. ounces. It is alſo taken foꝛ a leuen partes of any thynge diuided, oꝛ foꝛ the whole, ſauinge one parte.
Vſura ex Deunce, gayne of a leuen in the hundꝛed.
Déuoco, aui, are, to call aſyde, oꝛ call awaie, to call oꝛ fetche downe.
Deuocare in ſuſpitionem, to bꝛyng in ſuſpiction.
Deuocare é cœlo philoſophiam, by tranſlation to bꝛyng philoſophie from conſyderation of heauenlye thynges, to humayne mattiers.
Déuolo, aui, are, to flee oꝛ renne from an higher place to a lower, to go with ſpede.
Deuolare de cælo, to flee down from heauen.
Deuolant de tribunali, They go ſpedily from the iudgement ſeate.
In portum deuolauit, He ſpedde hym quickely towarde the hauen.
Deuoluo, ui, ere, to tumble oꝛ rolle downe, by tranſlation it ſignifieth it is fallen, comen, oꝛ hapned from one to an other.
Deuolui ad otium, to be geuen to ydelneſſe.
Deuolui retro, to be tourned backe.
Penſa deuoluere fuſis, to ſpinne.
Verba deuoluere, to ſpeake haſtilie and vehemently.
Deuolui ad ſpem inanem pacis, to be turned. ꝛc.
Eo res deuoluitur, vt. &c. it is turned to that poinct. ꝛc.

Deuolútio, ônis, fœm. gene. tumblyng oꝛ rollyng downe.
Deuolûtus, a, um, tumbled downe.
Deuoluta eſt hæreditas, The inheritaunce is fallen oꝛ come.
Deuoluta eo res eſt, The matter is come to that poinete.
Ad ſpem pacis eſtis deuoluti, ye conteyned an hope of peace.
Deuona, a towne in Almayne called Newmarke betwene Nuremburge, and Wentzburge.
Deuorâtus, a, um, deuoured, conſumed.
Deuoratæ vrbes, cities beeyng ſucked by the earthquakes.
Déuoro, aui, are, to deuoure, to eate without chawyng, to ſwaloowe downe whole, to conſume euery moꝛſell, ſometyme to beare oꝛ ſuffeꝛ pacientlye.
Hoc tædium mihi deuorandum eſt, This labour muſt I ſuſteyne.
Deuorare dicta, to take good hede vnto woꝛdes, to heare diligently.
Deuorare hominum ineptias, to ſette litle by mens folye.
Deuorare libros, to reade ouer many and lyꝛge bookes haſtyly, to reade gredily.
Deuorare moleſtiam paucorum dierum, To paſſe ouer a thynge lyghtely, that is a litle whyle greuous.
Deuorare nomen alicuius, to foꝛget a mannes name.
Deuorare orationem, to heare a tale without takynge any hede: alſo to heare a mans talke gladly and with great pleaſure.
Deuorare pecuniam, to conſume all his liuelyhode.
Deuorare ſpe lucrum, to couet a thyng ſomwhat, that he thinketh all redy that he hath it.
Deuôtio, ônis, fœ. g. a curſe, a vowe to dye, oꝛ make a man dye.
Deuotiones, dyuelyſſhe inuocations to the damage of one.
Deuôto, aui, are, to bynde by a vowe.
Deuotôrius, a, um, conteꝛnyng a vowe oꝛ curſe.
Deuotoria carmina, inuocations, curſes.
Deuôtus, a, um, vowed oꝛ curſed, deuoute, deſtinate.
Deuotus & donatus ſtudiis, one addicte and geuen to ſtudy and learnyng.
Deuotus vobis animus, a mynde geuen and addicte to doo you pleaſure and ſeruice.
Deuôtus, i, ma. g. one that is faithfull and obedient. Alſo geuen oꝛ determyned to doo ſome thyng. he that is ſwoꝛne not to eſchape one.
Deuoti, men that ꝓmiſe to lyue and dye in the ſeruice of ꝓyncis oꝛ capitaines.
Deuóueo, déuoues, ui, ere, to vowe oꝛ curſe, to conſente to dye, to addicte oꝛ geue, ſolemly to promiſſe.
Deuouere ſe, to make a vowe to dye in any quarell, oꝛ foꝛ the ſauegarde of other.

Deuo-

Deuouère se amicitiæ alicuius, To gene ones selfe whole to the loue of one.
Deuouere aliquem, to curse one.
Deuro, uſsi, ere, to bourne.
Deus, God.
Alipes deus, Mercurie.
Arcitenens deus, Apollo.
Armiger deus, Mars.
Auerruncus deus, looke Auerruncus.
Auidus deus, Pluto.
Noctiuagus deus, sleape.
Inuerecundus deus, Bacchus.
Ogygius deus, Apollo.
Opifer deus, Aesculapius.
Auertant omen dij, god forbydde.
Si dijs placet, ironia, and god will, a godes dee name.
Dij meliora, god forbydde.
Testari deum, to take god to wytnesse.
Dij bene vertant, god sende vs good luche.
Dij faciant, god graunte, woulde to god.
Dijs iuuantibus, with goddis helpe.
Dexamene, a nymphe of the sea.
Dexippus, a phisition, the scholar of Hippocrates.
Drachma, æ, f. g. a wepght, beyng. 8. ounces: some haue taken it for ten dolcyn.
Vsura ex dextante, gayne of. 8. in the hundzed.
Dextella, æ, f. g. a diminutiue of Dextra.
Dexter, tra, trum, or Dexter, tera, terum, right or apt, handsome, conuenient, prosperous, prospise, fauourable, quicke, and diligent.
Dexter ades ducibus, assiste and ayde our capitaynes.
Dextera, vel dextra, the rpght hande. sometyme on the rpght syde.
Dexteram tendere, to gene to one his hande.
Dexteram dare, to healpe or ayde.
Dexteram dextræ committere, To prompse faithe and trouthe in hande.
Cedo dextram, geue me thyne hande.
Conserere dextras, to ioygne battaple.
Dextræ iungere dextram, the auncient maner of salutyng. also to agree.
Dextra leuáque, bothe on the rpght and on the lefte hande.
A dextra, on the rpght hande.
Dexterè, or Dextrè, prozerly, aptely, feately, forsunately, handsomely.
Dexterior, Dexterius, more proper or apte.
Dexteritas, átis, fœm. g. aptenesse and redynesse in the thynge that a man goeth about, handesomnesse, dexteritee.
Déxtero, aui, are, to leade in the rpght hande, to couple horses in a teeme, to set one on his right syde.
Déxtimi, horsemen beyng on the rpghte wyng in battaple.
Déximus, a, um, olde wrpters vsed for Dexter.
Dexuále, a bracelette to weare on the right arme.

Dextrarij, horses ioygned in a teeme.
Dextrocherium, rij, n. g. a bracelette made lyke a brode howpe of golde, sette with precyouse stones.
Dextrorsus, and Dextrorsum, toward the right hande, or on the rpght hande.
Dextrouersum, idem.

D ANTE. I.

DI, and Dis, two prepositions, vsed onely in composition.
Dia, an addition to womennes names, whan they foolysshe louers wyll make theim equall to goddesses. it is also an yle by Greece called Naxus. Finally this woorde Dia, is sette before all noble confections, diuysed by the Grecies, as Diacalamynthe, Diacitonites, Diapapauer. &c.
Diabathra, a certayn sorte of shoes vsed in Greece.
Diabathrárius, rij, masc. gene. a maker of suche shoes.
Diabetes, tis, a passyng through, and sometyme the pipe of a cundite.
Diabethe, a sickenesse, which causeth that one can not holde his vrine, or after some, a disease in the kidneys brynging an exceding thirst.
Diabolus, the dyuell: Howe be it in greeke it signifieth properly a false accuser, an aduersarie.
Diacatharótia, æ, whan the prince geueth licence for priuate groundes to be pourged.
Diacapregias, a medicine made of goates dunge.
Diacalanthus, a confection in phisike.
Diachysis, the herbe Delphinium.
Diacheton, idem quod Dipsacos.
Diacódion, dij, neu. g. is a syrrope made with the toppes of the herbe called Popie and water, whiche prospereth agaynst reumes, and to cause one to sleape.
Diáconus, ni, m. g. a deacon. In greeke it signifieth a minister.
Diactor, tóris, m. g. a messager.
Diacydoniten, or Diacydonium, a confection made with the iuyce of quynces and hony or suger, and is an excellent medicine for feeble stomaches.
Diadéma, átis, neut. g. an hyghe cappe, whereon an emperour or kynge weareth his crowne: or rather a whyte bande, in maner of a lyttell towell, whiche beynge rolled about a thynge, kynges vsed to weare, as they dwe yet in Turkie: It is nowe vsed for a kynges crowne.
Diadematus, a, um, that weareth a diademe.
Diádocos, a stone lyke berrill.
Diæresis, sis, diuision. also a figure, whan one syllable is diuided into two. As Albaï, for Albæ.
Diæta, æ, fœ. g. a parlour to sup in. Also diete in eatyng and drynkyng. Also a place where iudgementes were geuen.
Diætarij, seruauntes that do awaite on the table.

sometyme suche as doo haunte dyners and suppers, to the intent to steale sommwhat.

Diætetæ, arbiters, or indifferent iudges.

Diætetica, that parte of physike, that cureth by dyete.

Diagalanga, a confection of Galanga.

Diaglaucion, a kynde of the medicine called Collirion.

Diagónios, a lyne in geometrie, from one corner to an other.

Diagoras, a philosophier of Milesius, also a famous pocte.

Diagramma, ătis, neu. gene. a title of a boke, a sentence or decree: Also a figure of geometrie drawen in a place.

Diagráphice, a kynde of peincting or caruing.

Diagridion, a certayne confection made with Stammony, to purge choler.

Dialage, a figure whan many argumentes bee brought to one effecte.

Dialectica, æ, or dialectice, es, fœm. g. the arte, whiche teacheth to inuent quickely, to dispute aptely, and finally, to trie what is true & what is false. It is commonly called Logyche.

Dialectícé, like a logician, by the art of logiche.

Dialecticus, a, um, pertaynyng to logiche.

Dialecticus, i, m. g. a logician.

Dialectus, a maner of speche, as we woulde saie, diuersitees in englysshe, as Northerne speche, Southerne, Kentysshe, Deuonyshe, and other lyke.

Dialeucum, ci, n. g. a kynde of saffron.

Dialeutensis, se, an adiectiue.

Dialeutense genus purpuræ, a kynde of purple.

Dialexis, disputation.

Diálisis, f. g. dissolucion.

Diâlis, le, of or pertaynyng to Jupiter. Also it signifieth of one daie, as Consul dialis, a consull of one daie.

Diálogus, i, m. g. a disputation betwene two.

Diályton, ti, neu. g. a figure, whan membres be toigned togethter without coniunctions.

Diamargariton, a confection made of perles.

Diamonos, idem quod Mandragora.

Diamoron, a certayne electuarie.

Diámeter, or Diámetrus, tri, m. g. a lyne, which diuideth any fygure into two equall partes.

Diâna, the daughter of Jupiter, whiche kceynge the company of men, to the intent that she woulde not be meued with carnall lustes, dyd continually exercyse hir selfe in hunteyng wilde beastes, and for hir chaste lyfe was honoured of the paynyms for a goddesse: she is also taken for the moone.

Diancea, æ, fœm. gen. the minde or sense, the vnderstandynge.

Diapasma, ătis, neu. gene. a composicion of dyuers swete powders to cast on the body, to the intente that superfluouse sweate maie bee put awaye. It maie bee also taken for a sweete perfume or a pomeambre.

Diapason, a concorde in musycke of. ii. tunes, and two halfe tunes.

Diapenidium, dij, neu. g. a certaine medicine to lay to the breast.

Diapente, of fyue.

Diaphanum, cleere throughe out as christall.

Diaphónia, æ, f. g. a discorde.

Diaphora, a differente.

Diaponi, certaine dogges in Crete.

Diaporesis, digestion, or euaporation.

Diaporéticus, a, um, that whiche doeeth dissolue or sende foorthe humours.

Diaphragma, ătis, n. ge. a skynne in the lowest part of the breast, whiche diuideth the place, where the herte and the longes bene, from the stomache and boowelles, so that the vapours ryssyng vpward, shall not come to the spirituall members, wherby the mynde and reason myght bee indamaged. it is taken for diuision, as the gristell betweene the nosethyrlles, or other lyeke.

Diaporésis, a dubitacion, a figure in Rhetoryche, whan a man maketh as thoughe he dyd doubte.

Diapsalma, some take this worde for one thyng, some for an other. where the Hebrues in the psalmes haue Sela, Aquila translateth it Diapsalma, loke in Hierom. writyng to Marcella for the signification of this worde.

Diapyganon, a confection made with the herbe called Rue, which is called also Diaspolinon, an excellent medicine against lacke of good digestion, against peyne in the breaste, the sydes, the lyuer and the reynes: It mollifieth the brealy, comforteth the stomake, and maketh good digestion.

Diárium, rij, neut. gene. prouision for one daie. also a boke declarynge what is doone daie by daie: A boke of remembraunces, an inuentary boke.

Diarius, a, um, of one daie.

Diaria febris, a feuer whiche dureth but one daie, if the syche man dooe kepe good diete.

Diarrhœa, æ, f. g. a lasche or flyxe without inflammation, or exulceration, whiche of the late physicions is called Fluxus humoralis.

Diarhodon, di, neu. g. a certaine medicine made of roses.

Diasatyrion, a medicine to steire men to the lust of the bodie.

Diastasis. i. distantia.

Diastéma, ătis, n. g. space.

Diástrophos, phi, m. g. peruerse or frowarde.

Dias, a philosopher of Ephesus in the tyme of Philip kyng of Macedonie.

Diastole, a distinction or poynct, whereby one worde or sentence is distincte from an other.

Diasyrmos, mi, ma. gen. a figure in Rhetoryche, whan we delude or mocke the argumentes of our aduersaries, or by scoffyng to eleuate their authoritee.

Dia-

D ANTE I.

tateſſeron, of foure.

iadhêca, cæ, or Diathêca, orum, ſometyme a teſtament. ſometyme an heritage, that cometh to a man by teſtament.

iacheon, thei, n. g. a certayne medicine for the heede ache.

iadheſis. i. affectus.

iarrêtum, ti, n. g. a cup enbored and cunningly wrought.

iatretarij, turners whiche make ſuch cuppes.

iaitos, abſtinence by the ſpace of thre dais.

iaturei, they whiche kepe ſhippes only for theire liuing, of meate and drinke, hauyng no other wages.

iaula, one of the foure notable porches i Rome.

iaulos, li, ma. g. a meaſure of grounde, conteyning. ii. fourlonges, euery fourlonge beyng of a. 125. feete: or after ſome, a ſpace of grounde conteynyng. 1200. foote.

ibapha, phæ, f. g. any colour in ſylke or clothe, whiche is dieped twyſe in the die vatte, we call it a deepe colour.

ibaphus, a, um, any thyng twyſe died.

Dibapha Tyria, purple twyſe died.

ibutades, a potter of Corinth, whiche taught fyrſt to make veſſelles of chalke.

ica, æ, f. g. a cauſe, an accuſacion, a iudgement.

Dicam impingere, To bryngе an action agaynſt one.

Dicam ſcribere alicui, To entre an action agaynſt one.

Dicas ſortiri, to exampyn and decyde matters by lote.

ica, the goddeſſe of iudgementes.

icácius, ácius, f. g. ſhoſſyng or bourdyng.

icaculus, a, um, merie in talkyng, full of wordes. Alſo he that chatteth or prateth.

icea, a cite in the gonlfe called Thermaicus.

icearchia, æ, f. g. the cite called Puteoli.

icearchus, chi, ma. gen. a iuſte prince. alſo the name of a philoſopher.

icæogenes, a certayne poete.

icæologia, æ, fœm. g. iuſtification, a figure in Rhetorike.

Dicæus, a mans name.

Dicæodotes, a iuſtice, one that diſtributh matters accordyng to the law.

Dicæſis, for Dicas, tell on.

Dicælo, ónis, fœ. ge. a bowyng, a ſubmittyng, a promyſyng.

Dicax, ácis, om. g. a rayler or reproacher, a ieſter, a choploge, a great prater.

Dichalcum, ci, n. ge. the coyne called quadrans, the forth parte of Obolus.

Dichas, a meaſure of two palmes or eyghte fyngers.

Dicelicta, Mimus.

Dichoreus, a foote in metre.

Dichotomos, halfe, or that is diuided in the middes.

Dicibulum, li, neu. gen. a tryſtyng repoyte and hauyng of children.

Dico, aui, are, to vowe, to offer, to dedicate, to geue for euer.

Dicamus tibi hunc totum diem, this daie is youre to do with vs what it ſhall lyke you: or we will ſpend this whole day in hearyng you.

Dicare operam ſuam, to offer his ſeruice.

Donum alicui dicatum atque promiſſum, a gyfte vowed and promiſed vnto one.

Hanc operam tibi dico, I wyll doo ſo muche at your requeſte.

Dicare ſe alicui in ſeruitutem, to make hym ſelfe ones bonde man.

Studium ſuum laudi alicuius dicare, To employ his ſtudie to ſet forth ones praiſe.

Dicare opus alicui rei, To write a thynge in a boke by it ſelfe, not mixed with other matters.

Dicare ſe in aliquam ciuitatem, to bee made a citizen in any place.

Annos ſuos dicare vitæ cælebi, To vowe a ſyngle lyfe.

Dico xi, ere, to ſaie, to tell, to byd, to promiſe, to affirme, to defende: as, Cicero dixit cauſam Milonis, Cicero defended Milos cauſe. Alſo to appoynte, to call a thing by name, to pleade lyke an oratour, to ſpeake aptely or eloquently of any matter.

Dicere cauſam, to make anſwere to an action or plainte.

Dice illi, for Dic illi, tell hym hardely.

Dicere diem, To ſewe a man or call hym by (as we vſe to ſaie) by action, writte or cõmaundement, properly to cauſe a man to be bounden to appeere and make aunſwere.

Dicere dictatorem, To name or make a dictatour.

Dicere dotem, to aſſigne a dowrie.

Probra dicere alicui, to cherke or rebuke one.

Dicere dori, to aſſigne dowrie by promyſe.

Dicere ex animo, to ſpeake as a mã thinketh.

Dicere ex tempore, to ſpeake an oratiõ without ſtudie. Alſo to ſpeake vnaduiſedly.

Dicere ius, to geue commaundement, or ſentence on a peyne: ſometyme it ſignifieth to gouerne a towne or countrey by lawes.

Dicere contumeliam, To outrage or raple on one.

Dicere leges, To appoynte lawes, or conditions of peace, as by the vainquyſher to hym that is vainquyſhed.

Dicere diem nuptiis, vel operi, to appoynt a date for mariage. &c.

Dicere mulctam, to ſette or aſſeſſe a fyne or a ſumme of money, to be payed by hym that hath committed a treſpaſſe, to amerce one.

Dicere in vtramque partem, To ſuſteyne the ſayynges of bothe parties.

Dicere nummos, to promyſe money.

Dicere ſacramento, to take an othe, properly as they doo that be reteyned in warres.

Dicere ſalutem, to ſalute or recommend hym vnto one. Also to praye god to sende hym good helthe and well to doo.

Dicere sententiam, to gene sentence or iudgemẽt.

Dicere pro sententia, idem.

Tibi dico an non? speake I to the or no? Or thynkest thou that it dweth appertayne to the that I sate, or not?

Ad aliquid dicere, to answere to that, that an other hath saied.

Aliouersum dixeram, I mente it an other waie: I spake it for an other intent than ye take it.

Bene atque amicè dicis, ye speake well and frendely.

Animo præsenti dicere, to speake boldly without feare.

Bene latinè dicere, To speake a thynge in good latyne.

Dicere in aurem, to tell one in his eare.

Nunquid causam dicis? quin. &c. Canste thou saie naie, or canst thou saie any thing for thy self? but that. &c.

Magno conatu nugas dicere, with an earnest and verate solemne facion, to tell trifles or thynges not woorth the hearynge.

Contumelioſe aliquid dicere, to speake a thyng sauntyngly, or to a mans rebuke.

Dicere bona fide, To speake a thynge vnfeygnedly.

Nolo in illum grauius dicere, I wyll saie no worse by hym.

Inclementer & acerbè in aliquem dicere, To chyde one vngently and bytterly.

Iniuste alteri dicere, to laie a thyng wrongefully to ones charge.

Ioco aut per iocum dicere, to speake in bourde.

Legem sibi dicere, to prescribe to ones self what is to be dooen.

De loco superiori dicere, to speake to the people out of the place of pleadyng, or sytyng in the iudgement seate.

De loco inferiore dicere, To speake out of the place of pleadyng to the iudges, whiche satte higher.

Mala plurima dicere, to raple, to gene one many shrewde woordes.

Neruoſe dicere, to speake pythyly.

Dicere repudium, to cast of ones wyfe.

De scripto dicere, to reade a thyng vpon his paper, to pronounce a thyng as it is writen.

Ad voluntatem alicuius dicere, to flatter.

Dicam vt reuertantur domum, I wyll byd them retourne home againe.

Vt dicitur, as it is saied, as men reporte.

Nesciebam sic dicere illam, I perceiued not that she ment so.

De prandio dicis? speake you of the diner? or meane you of the diner?

Quod inter nos licet dicere, as I maie tell you betwene you and me.

Ne dixis istud, saie not so man, or it is not as thou saiest.

Partem aliquam æqui boniq dicere, to speake reasonably, to offer reason.

Argumenta rei dicere, to tell the tokens or signes of a thyng.

Dixi, I haue saied all that I will saie.

Dicrotum, ti, n. ge. a galey that hath two trees of oares.

Dicrotus, ti, m. g. a kynde of mouyng of the pulses: Galen. de pulsibus.

Dicta, signified merye sentences.

Dictâmen, ctâminis, n. g. a thyng written by an other mans instruction.

Dictamnum, idem quod Dictâmum.

Dictâmus, masc. ge. and Dictâmum, neu. ge. an herbe, the leaues wherof are lyke penyroyall, but greatter and somewhat hore and mosy, and byteth the tongue lyke gynger, but it hath neyther flower nor seede. Constantyne saieth, that it is hotte and dre in the thyrde degree. There is of this herbe wonderfull and incomparable vertues, as well against enpoysonyng, as also in drawing out any thyng, whyche sticketh fast in any part of the body, thus the right Dittame.

Dictâta, ôrum, n. g. interpretations, expositions, or declarations, made by the maisters vnto their scholers, whiche they dooe write.

Dictâtor, ôris, ma. gene. the highest office in the publike weale of the Romains, whiche was also called Magister populi, the maister of the people: whiche for the space of. vi. monthes had the authoritee of a kynge. And therfore that dignitee was neuer geuen, but only whan the state of the citee was in iopardie. Dictator is also he that pronounceth the thyng that an other writeth.

Dictatórius, a, um, perteinyng to the dictator.

Dictátrix, icis, a woman that appoynteth and commaundeth thinges to be dooen.

Dictâtum, a minute geuen from one to an other to write a letter by.

Dictatûra, æ, form. gen. the office or dignitee of dictatour.

Dicte, es, an hill in the yle of Candie, where Iupiter was nourished, Dictérium, rii, neu. g. a merie quippie or taunt, wittily spoken.

Dictio, ônis, fœ. g. a woorde, a fourme of speakyng, a pronouncyng, an eloquent oracion: also a pleadyng, an oracle.

Dictito, aui, are, to speake often, or in diuers places, to tell one thyng often.

Dicto, aui, are, to reherse vnto one that which he shall write. Also to inuestigate or expounde the sence of any authour. Also to bryng to remembraunce, to speake.

Dictare rationem, to yelde an accompte.

Dictare actionem, idẽ quod dicã impingere.

Dictare testamentum alicui, to make an other mannes will after his own wyll & pleasure, to appoynte or tell one how he shall make his will.

Ra-

Ratio ita dictat, reasone byddeth or counsayleth so.

dictum, ti, n. g. a worde, a sayeng, a prouerbe.

Dicto obediens, he that doth that whiche he is commaunded.

Dicta blanda & benedica, sayre and flatteryng woordes.

Dictum ridiculū, a iest to make a man laugh.

Ingerere dicta in aliquem, and dictis onerare aliquem, to raple at one spytefully.

Dictis bonis petere, to desyre a thynge with fayre woordes.

dicturio, iui, ire, to goe about, or prepare to speake.

dictus, a, um, spoken, saied, reckned, ordeyned, appoynted, assigned.

Dicto citius, at a trice.

Non nisi dicto honore, not without a renes tence.

Dictum istud? is this true that thou saiest

Dictum est, men saie, the reporte is.

Dictum est, I haue spoken it.

Dictum ac factum reddidi, I dispatched it with a woorde: Or after come, I haue done as swithe as was possible.

dicrotum, ti, neu. ge. a shyp with two orders of ores, or that hath two ores in one seate.

dictynna, one of the names of Diana. Also a tree of Grete.

dictynneus, an hyll, wherin the temple of Diana was situate.

dictyotheton, ti, neu. gene. a certayne tynde of buyldyng made full of grates for men to loke throughe.

dictys, one of the Centaures. Also an historiographer of Candie, whiche wrote the battayle of Troye.

dictys, is also a fysscher, whiche nourysshed Perseus.

didascalia, æ, f. g. doctrine, learnyng.

didascalus, li, m. g. a schole maister.

didia, a lawe made among the Romains against the excesse of fare.

dido, onis, scr. ge. the name of a ladie that buylded Carthage.

dido, dididi, didere, to distribute, to diuide, to digeste.

didotus, a, um, of two hande breade.

didrachmum, mi, n. g. two of the copnes called Drachmas, of our money nowe. xi. d. ob.

Didrachmum, a syluer copne, contepnyng. ii. Drachmas, euerie Drachma, beyng in value an olde sterling groat, when eight wēt to the ounce.

Didrachmus aureus, a peece of golde, contepnyng the value of. 100. sesterij, that is two crownes of the sonne and an halfe.

diduco, diduxi, xi, ere, to bryng into sundrie parties, to diuide or pull aparte, to open a thing that is shutte.

Diducere argumenta in digitos, To marke and deuise argumentes on his fingers endes.

Diductum stare, To sette one foote here, an other there.

Diducere digitos, To spreade the fingers abrode.

Fauces immani diducit hiatu, he gapeth wyde monstrously wyde.

Diducere aciem in cornua, To diuide an armye into two wynges.

Diducere, & contrahere, contrarie.

Comprimere & diducere digitos, contrary.

diductus, a, um, diuided, separated, opened.

Diuisio in digitos diducta, when one pointeth the partes of any diuision on his fingers endes.

Foribus diductis, the gates being opened.

Didymæ, arum, plaines of Affricke, that bounde vpon Egypte.

Didymaon, a famouse maker of harneis.

Didyme, es, an yle in the Sicilian sea.

Didymeus, one of the names of Apollo.

Didymi, certaine hilles in Arabia felix.

Didymus, a, um, is in latin geminus, in Hebrue, Thomas, in englysshe, a twynne in brythe, or double a man. It is also the name of dyuers learned men, of whiche one beyng a grammarian, wrote. 3500. bokes.

Diecula, æ, scr. g. a diminutyue of Dies, a litteli while, a shorte space of tyme.

Dierectus, a, um, crucified, or hanged.

Apage in dierectum, gette the hense and be hanged.

Dierectum, was vsed of olde writers (by anastrophasim) for an yll date or infortunate tyme.

Dies, ei, ma. & scr. g. in singulari, in plur. vero tantum, mas. g. a date: sometyme it signifieth tyme or season.

Dies critici, The dates, wherin the phisitions doue geue a certayne iudgemente vppon the sickenesse.

Dies legitimi, amonge lawiers be called ordinarie dates, or dates in courte.

Die decies, ten tymes in a date.

De die, for interdiu, in the date tyme.

Diem de die expectabam, I loked from date to date.

Diem dicere, loke Dicere diem.

Die crastini, for Die crastino, and Die septimi, for septimo.

In diem abiit malum, the punysshemēt is prolonged and deferred, tyll an other date.

Dies noctesque, continually, daie and night.

Vides iam diei multum esse, ye see nowe that it is farre daies.

In diem viuere optimum est, It is best not to be carefull for to liue, but to take as it commeth: for god neuer sendeth mouth but he sendeth meate.

Quinquennij die, the fifte yere.

Atra dies, a blacke or dismoll date.

Cæco die emere, loke Cæcus.

Medius dies, noone tyde, middeie.

Conterere diem verbis, To spende awaie

the daie with babblyng.
Supremum diem explquit, he dyed.
Insequens dies, the nexte daie folowyng.
Præcipiti iam die, whan it was all moste nyght, or whan it drewe towarde nyght.
Paucis interiectis diebus, after a fewe daies.
Geminus a dies est, diei, dij, dies, die.
Dius, for die.
Diescit, itis daie, it waxeth daie.
Diespiter, one of the names of Jupiter, quasi diei pater.
Dieteris, the space of two yeres.
Diffamo, aui, are, to spreade an yll reporte of one, to defame, to publishe.
Diffarreatio, onis, fœm. ge. a certaine sacrifice, whiche was betwene a man and his wife, contrary to Confarreatio, that is a diuorcement to dissolue the mariage, as confarreatio was a ioynyng or knittyng, and was only done of the priestes.
Differcio, fersi, ire, to stuffe, farse or poure in.
Differentia, æ, f. g. a difference.
Differentia, & Dissimilitudo.
Differitas, olde writers vsed for Differentia, difference.
Differo, distuli, ferre, to spare. sometyme to bryng from one place to an other, to carie a sunder or into dyuers partes, to take from one place and carie to an other, to trouble and with some sodeyne feare to bryng a man at his wittis ende, that he wotteth not what to sayll or best to bee doone, to prolonge or deferre, to delate. sometyme to rente or teare in pieces. sometyme to repoyt abrode, to sowe or spreade abrode in dyuers partes: also to endure. sometyme to diuide or cut a sunder. sometyme to set in order. sometime to differre or bee in different.
At vide quid differat inter meam opinionem & tuam, but se now what difference is betwene thyne opinion and myne.
Differre famam alicui, to spreade ones name abrode.
Differre fidem, to endure thyrste.
Differre vadimonium, to geue a daie ouer to hym that is bounde to his apperance.
Differri, to be so vexed in mynde, that a man wotteth not what to doo.
Castra vi fluminis differebantur, The campe or tentes were caried awaie by violence of the floudde.
Differor amore, I am in extreme peyne for loue.
Differor lætitia, I am rauisshed with ioyfulnesse.
Rumores distulerunt maleuoli, yll willers or maligners haue spreade abrode naughty tales.
Differre rumorem de aliquo, To spreade abrode, sowe or bryng vp a bruite, noyse or tale by or of any body.
Differre sitim, to forbeare to drynke.
Nocuit differre paratis, it hath doone harme to many, after they haue ben redy, to make long delaie.
Iam ego te differam dictis meis impudice, I will rattle or shake the vpere I go, that thou shalt not wotte wat to doo, themeselfe to know that thou arte.
Orationem sperat inuenisse se, qua differat te, he hopeth that he hath inuented some thyng wherwith he may trouble and vexe you, or that he hath nowe founde a tale agaynst the, wherwith to bryng the at thy wittes ende.
Differri, and Differri doloribus, to be vexed and troubled in mynde, and as it were tossed and tumbled hither and thyther with sorowe and care, to bee in suche greke, that one thynketh him selfe to bee pulled in pieces. Lucret.
Differri amore, and Differri inuidia.
Differre rumorem, to spread abrode a rumor. Distare & Differre.
Res cum re differt, one thynge differeth from an other.
Differunt inter se, the thynges differ and be vnlyke.
Hoc ab illo differt, this differeth from that.
Differre & Procrastinare.
Hoc non queo differre, I can not differre the matter.
Differre in posterum diem, in annum, in mensem, in aliud tempus, in aduentum alicuius, To deferre a thynge vntyll the next daie. &c.
Diem de die differre, To deferre from daie to daie.
Aquilo differt nubila, The northeast wynde scattereth the cloudes.
Diffibulo, aui, are, to vnbuckle, to open, to vnclyde.
Difficile, aduerbium, hardelye, difficultelye, vneasyly.
Difficilis, le, harde, vneasy.
Difficilis homo, a crabbed and waywarde or lowe, harde to please.
Difficilis & morosus.
Difficiles terræ, countreis harde, troublous, and yll to trauayle in.
Difficile ad fidem est, it is harde to be beleued.
Difficilis transitus, a harde passage
Difficulter, for Difficile.
Difficultas, atis, fœm. gene. difficulter, trouble, perill, daunger.
Difficultas in audiendo, whan men make a straunge to here matters.
Difficultas nummaria, or rei nummariæ, scarcitee or lacke of money, pouertee.
Difficultas annonæ, scarcitee of vitayle.
Difficultas spirandi, peynefulnesse in fetchyng of breathe.
Difficultas vrinæ, peynefulnesse in pyssyng.
Conflictatus multis difficultatibus, troubled with many perylles and daungers.
Difficulter, with great peyne and labour.

Difficulter & difficiliter, idem quod difficilè,
Difficulter atq; ægrè fiebat, with great difficultee and peyne it was brought to passe.
Haud difficulter persuadere, To persuade easelye.
Diffidenter, with mistruste, without hope.
Diffidentia, æ, f. g. mistruste.
Diffido, diffisus sum, ĕre, to mistruste.
Dubitare, & sibi ipsi diffidere, to doubte and mistrust ones selfe.
Dictis alicuius diffidere, To mistruste ones woordes.
Memoriæ diffidere, To mistruste ones memorye.
Iacere & diffidere, to despayre vtterly, and be past all hope.
De Othone diffido, I mistruste Otho.
Rem posse confici diffido, I mistruste that euer the matter can be brought to passe.
Findo, fidi, ere, to cleaue a sunder.
Diffindere diem, lobe Diffundere.
Diffindere medium, to cut of in the myddle.
Diffissum saxum, a stone cutte or clefte in sunder.
Diffindere minutè humum, to cut the ground a litteli.
Effingo, finxi, gere, to destroye or vndoe that is made, or after some, to make newe that is broken.
Nihil hinc diffingere possum, I can not destrie but the matter is so.
Definio, diffinis, iui, ire, to deffyne or declare in fewe woordes playnly the signification of a thynge.
Definitio, ônis, fœm. g. a definicion or declaracion of the nature, qualitee, or proprye signification of a thyng by generalitee, specialtee, and differens.
Diffissus, a, um, mistrustyng.
Ingenio suo diffisus, one that mistrusteth his owne witte.
Diffiteor, fisus sum, tĕri, to deny.
Nunquam diffitebor, I will neuer denie it.
Diffio, aui, are, to blowe or puffe downe.
Diffluo, uxi, ere, to flowe abrode, to floe into diuers parties, to renne abrode as water doth, and by translacion, to be riotouse and wilde, renning at large, nothing refreining him selfe.
Sudore diffluere, to be in a great sweatte.
Diffluere otio, to be drowned in idlenesse.
Diffluere voluptatibus, to swymme in sensualitee.
Diffluens, ac solutum, lewse and readie to fall in sunder.
Animus eius diffluit luxuria & lasciuia, his mynde renneth at rouers in riotte and wantonnesse.
Diffringo, fregi, fringere, to breake in pieces.
Diffugio, diffugis, fugi, ĕre, to flee hither and thither, to refuse to dooe a thyng.
Diffugium, gii, neut. gener. refuge, a place to flee to.

Diffundo, fūdi, ere, to scatter, to spill, to leat renne abrode, to spreade abrode.
Diffundere diem, to put of a matter vntill the nexte daie. But Politian in Miscellaneis, dooeth affirme, that it ought to be read Diffindere diem, as well in the Digestes, as in all other authours: who of theim saie moste truely, I remitte it to the iudgement of the readers.
Crimen paucorum in omnes diffundere, to laye to the charge of all, the faute of a fewe persones.
Grauissimus est morbus, qui à capite diffunditur, That disease is most greuous and perilous, that hath the beginnyng from the head.
Diffundere vim suam longe latèq;, to spreade his power or strengthe farre abrode.
Vultum diffundere, to shewe ones selfe merye and pleasaunt.
Diffunditur vastis ramis ficus, The figge tree spreade abrode with large bowes.
Diffundit se in latitudinem lactuca, The letyse waxeth brode.
Diffusè, an aduerbe, as it were scattered here and there, diffuselye.
Diffusio, ônis, fœminini generis, a settynge at large.
Diffūsus, a, um, spredde abrode, large, wide.
Diffusus error longè latèq;, an errour spred verie farre abrode.
Diffusum & dissipatum.
Diffusum vinum, wyne filled into the vessell.
Diffusiora concepta, great groundes inclosed.
Diffusa sus, a great sowe and a fatte.
Diffusi campi, large and wide fildes.
Vultus diffusus, a merie or cherefull countenaunce.
Digama, a woman that hath had. ii. husbandes.
Digamma, among the latines is the letter F. Cicero vseth it for his manour called Formianū, because it beginneth with the letter F.
Digamus, mi, m. g. he that hath had two wyues commonly called Bigamus.
Digĕries, a disposicion or order.
Digero, digeris, gessi, ere, to dispose, to order, to interprete, or make playne, to diuide, to resolue, or seuer that was congeled or gathered together, to set in apte place, to sorte, to separate, to distribute, to digest, to cary hither and thither, to declare.
Digerere crines, to trym the heare.
Digeri, to be resolued.
Argumenta in digitos digerere, to compte the argumentes on his fingers endes.
Digerere mandata, to do in order the thinges that one is commaunded.
Digerere cibum, to digest meate.
Digerere rempublicam, to dispose and set a common weale in good order.
Digerunt cibum dentes lati, The forefethe doo diuide the meate.

Humorem digerere, to diſſolue an humour.

Digeſtio, ônis, fœ. g. an order of thynges. it is alſo the digeſtion of meate and drynke into the vaynes and membres.

Digeſtus, a, um, digeſted, diſpoſed, ordered, trymmed.

Digitâle, lis, n. ge. a thyng worne on the fynger, as a thymble or a fynger ſtalle.

Digitâlis, le, pertaynyng to the fynger.

Digitali craſſitudine, of the thyckeneſſe of a fynger.

Digitâtus, a, um, that hath fyngers or toes.

Digitellus, a certayn herbe.

Digiti, are muſkles or a lyke kynd of ſhell fiſſhe.

Digitulus, i, m. g. a littell fynger.

Digitus, ti, ma. g. a fynger. It is alſo a meaſure, whereof iiii. dooe make iii. ynches, and it is the xvi. parte of a foote. alſo a meaſure of water or licour.

✠ Digitis extremis vel ſummis attingere, To touche a thynge with the fingers toppes, vſed for a prouerbe: where one hath vneth atteyned to any parte of a thyng.

Digitum tollere, to fauour or conſent.

Digitum tranſuerſum, ſignifieth in a ſentence a littell or ſmall diſtance.

Concrepare digitis, to ſtippe with the fingers.

Condere digitos in oculos alicuius, to thruſt out ones eies with his fingers.

Digitum tranſuerſum ab eo non diſcedebat, He went not from hym a fynger breadth.

✠ Teneo tanquam digitos, I can it as parfite as my Pater noſter, I can ſay it on my fingers endes.

Digito vno ne me attingas, Touche me not with one fynger.

Geſtus digitorum, mouyng of the fyngers.

Infamis, or impudicus digitus, The myddell fynger.

Digito medio notare, To pointe at one reſpectfully, meanynge hym to be a vitious and diſhoneſt perſone.

Digito cælum attingere, looke Cælum.

Digitum tollere, to holde vp the finger, ſignifiyng in contractes, that one wil bye the thing, whiche he hath cheaped.

Digladiatio, ônis, fœm. gene. a fyght, a ſtrife, a debate.

Digladior, âris, âri, to fyghte together with ſwoordes. And by tranſlation, to contende or ſtryue.

Digladiantur inter ſe, They contend or ſtriue among them ſelues.

Dignâtio, ônis, f. g. great eſtimation. ſometyme fauour or familiaritee with noble men. alſo reuerence ſhewed towarde a man.

Digne, worthily, honeſtly.

Digne laudare aliquid, to prayſe a thyng as it is worthie.

Vter noſtrum cruce dignius peccat? whether of vs is more worthie to bee punyſhed for his offence?

Dignitas, âtis, and Dignatio, ônis, f. g. honour geuen or due to a man for his merites. alſo an eſtate of nobilitee or great authoritee. ſometyme beautee, properly of a mã, eſpecially in geſture and communication.

Dignitas vultus, a comely and manly maieſtee in the face, ſignifiyng honour and worſhipp in the perſone.

Dignitatem ſuam tueri, To defend and ſaue his honour.

Dignitas domus, magnificence in houſe byyng, great prouiſion.

Maior dignitas eſt in ſexu virili, The male kynde is the more worthy.

Dignitas & amplitudo.

Dignitas & deformitas, contrary.

Diſcedere à dignitate ſapientis, to doe a thyng vnſemely or vnworthie a wiſe and vertuous man.

Digno, aui, are, to iudge one worthie.

Dignor, aris, ari, a verbe deponent and paſſiue, to be reputed and eſtemed worthie, or to eſtime or repute worthy, to vouchſafe.

Dignari aliquem venia, to eſteme one worthie to haue forgeueneſſe, to hold one excuſed.

Haud tali me dignor honore, I thynke me vnpeiſe worthy of ſo great honour.

Cultu & honore dignari, to be iudged worthy to haue reuerence and honour.

Dignoro, aui, are, to marke as men marke buſſhes to knowe theim.

Dignoſco, ui, ſcere, to diſcerne or knowe by ſyuers meanes.

Dignus, a, um, worthie, meete, or apte, ſemyng, conuenable.

Dignus domino ſeruus, a ſeruaunt meete for ſuche a maiſter.

Non te dignum feciſti, You haue doone that, that dyd not become you to doo.

Dignus ſum præ te, I am more worthy than thou.

Luce dignum non putare, to thynke one vnworthie to lyue.

Dignus cui committas, a worthie perſone, to whome ye ſhoulde committe the charge of any thynge.

Dignus te filius, a ſonne worthie of ſuche a father as you be.

Dignius nihil eſt quod ametur, There is no perſone lyuyng, that is more worthie to be beloued than he is.

Dignum, for Dignitas.

Digredior, digrederis, ſi, to departe or go a waie, to make digreſſion to an other matter.

Digredi in latus, to tourne on the one ſyde.

Digredi ab aliquo, to departe from one.

Digredi de cauſa, to make digreſſion.

Digredi ad pedes, to lyght on foote.

Digreſſio, onis, and Digreſſus, us, ma. g. a departyng, a digreſſion, a goyng awaie.

Di-

Digressus, a, um, departed.
Digressa, a woman that hath forsaken hir husbande.
Diiambus, a foote in meter consistynge of two of the feete called Iambi.
Diuus, Iupiter.
Diiudicatio, ônis, fœm. gen. a iudgement, a determination.
Diiudicâtus, a, um, determined by sentence.
Diiudico, aui, are, to iudge betwene two thynges, to determine.
Diiungo, nxi, ere, idem quod disiungo.
Dilabidus, a, um, that falleth or slydeth awaye quyckely.
Dilabor, ĕris, abi, to slyppe or go awaie, to fall downe, as an house doeth. sometyme it signifieth to fayle or to decaie.
Nostra dilabitur oratio, Our communication falleth to some other matter.
Male parta, male dilabuntur, Thynges yll gotten, are yll spente.
Dilabi memoria, to fall out of ones memory.
Fortuna dilabitur, Fortune decaieth, prosperitie fayleth.
Concordia paruæ res crescunt, discordia maximæ dilabuntur, By concorde small thynges doo increase, by discorde verie great thynges waste and consume.
Dilacero, aui, are, to teare or rent in pieces.
Dilanio, aui, are, idem, also to breake in sunder.
Dilapido, aui, are, to consume goodes or spende vnthriftely, or wastfully, to gather stones out of a place, to ridde a place of stones.
Dilapsus, a, um, slippyng or slydyng awaie, rennyng, as water dooeth.
Dilapsi & Diffluxa, fallen and scattered here and there.
Dilapsi domos, departed home to their houses without any busynesse.
Dilargior, giris, gĭti, to geue or graunte liberally to many.
Dilatio, ônis, a delay, a prolongyng or deferryng.
Dilatus, a, um. def. erred, delaied.
Dilâto, aui, are, to stretche out in bredth, to extende, to enlarge.
Imperium dilatare, to enlarge ones dominiõ.
Orationem dilatare, To make ones oracion more ample or aboundant.
Dilatare & contrahere, contrary.
Dilator, ôris. m. g. one that maketh delaye, that driueth of the tyme.
Dilaudo, aui, are, to praise greately for diuers causes.
Dilemma, ătis, neu. gene. an argument, whiche on euery parte conteineth hym, to whom it is spoken.
Diligens, entis, diligent. or louyng, studious.
Diligentissimus rei familiaris, a very good husbande.
Studiosus & diligens.
Diligenter, diligently, aduisedly.

Diligenter hic eram, I dyd harken diligently what you saied.
Studiosè diligentérque curare, to take hede of or ouersee a thyng studiously and diligently.
Diligéntia, æ, f. g. diligence or loue.
Adhibere diligentiam, to vse diligence.
Consumere diligentiam in re aliqua, to spend all ones diligence vpon a thyng.
Assiduitas & diligentia.
Diligentia & Industria.
Diligo, xi, ere, to fauour or loue meanely, lesse than Amare. sometyme to diuide.
Diligere & charum habere.
Furtim diligere, to loue one priuily, that he dare not be ahnowen of.
Diligere se, to stande in his owne conceyte.
Valdè, vnicè, mirificè, admodum diligere.
Dilorico, aui, are, to vndoo or cut a cote or other thyng that is sowed.
Diluceo, luxi, ere, to be bright or clere, to shine.
Dilucet res, the matter is clecre and manifest.
Diluceſco, cescere, to waxe daye, or begynne to be daie.
Dilucidè, euidently, cleerely, manifestly.
Dilucidè diluere, to dissolue a thyng, to shewe manifestly, and plainely, that it is false.
Dilúcido, aui, are, to declare or make a thynge playne to vnderstande.
Diluculus, a, um, clere, bright, manyfest.
Dilúculo, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth betyme in the morning.
Cum diluculo abire, To go awaie in the morning betyme.
Primo diluculo venit, He came in the dawning of the daie.
Diluculo, aui, are, to waxe daie, to appeere to bee daie.
Diluculum, li, neu. ge. that porcion of daie that is before the sonne ryseth.
Diludia, ôrum, neu. g. plur. the leauyng of play, the space betwene recreacions or plate.
Diluo, ui, ere, to washe or make cleane, to putte awaie, to release, to dissolue, to declare or explicate, to alaie, as wyne is alaied with water, to temper, to purge, to discharge a crime or faute that is laied to one.
Cura diluitur mero, care is washed awaye with wyne.
Diluere authoritatem, to diminishe ones authoritee.
Extenuare & diluere molestias, To asswage and put awaie greefe and heauynesse.
Dilutum, ti, n. ge. wyne or other lycour, wherin any herbe or other thyng is draped by a certain space, whiche som physitions call, infused.
Dilutus, a, um, alaied or temppered.
Dilutus color, a faynt colour, or vnperfect colour. Vinum dilutum, wine alaied with water.
Diluuialis, le, of a deluge or floudde.
Diluuies, ei, fœ. g. idem quod diluuium.
Diluuio, aui, are, to ouerflow or drouns a cuntrey.

Di-

Diluuium, uij, neu. ge. a deluge, a great floudde, whan the grounde is surrounded or drounded with muche rayne.

Dimano, aui, are, to flow abrode, as diuers streames out of one spryng, and by translacion to come to ones hearyng.

Dimembro, aui, are, to diuide.

Dimensio, onis, f. g. measuryng.

Dimensum, si, neu. ge. a porcion that is measured out.

Dimensus, a, um, measured, or that measureth.

Dimetiens, entis, that wherewith a thynge is measured.

Dimetior, mensus sum, iri, to measure or mete.

Dimetiri digitis, to accompt on his fyngers.

Dimetor, aris, ari, idem quod Dimetior.

Dimicatio, onis, battayle, contencion, stryke.

Inter illam dimicationem, whyles they were fyghtyng.

Dimicatio prælij, The rage or hurle of the battayle.

Dimicatio capitis, a battayl for the sauyng of a mans honour.

Discrimen & dimicatio.

Dimico, aui, or dimicui, are, to fyghte or contende with some thyng.

Dimicare de imperio, To fyght for the soueraynetee.

Dimicare inter se, to fyght one with an other, to contende among theim selues.

De capite dimicare, to fyght for ones lyfe.

Dimidiatim, an aduerbe.

Dimidiatus, a, um, that which is seuered and diuided into two partes.

Dimidio, an aduerbe, signifyng halfe.

Dimidio plus, dimidio minus, halfe more, halfe lesse.

Dimidius, a, um, the halfe deale of that whiche is diuided.

Dimidium plus toto, spoken where a man intendeth to shewe that the meane is best.

Dimidium facti, qui bene cœpit habet, He that hath well begunne, hath finyshed halfe his enterpryse.

Ad dimidias coquere, to seeth the one halfe.

Dimidio minoris constabit, It will cost lesse by the halfe.

Dimidio carius, deerer by the halfe.

Minus dimidium, for Minus dimidio.

Reddidit dimidio stultiores quàm cum acceperat, He made them more fooles by halfe than they were whan he tooke theim.

Dimidius modius, halfe a bushell.

Dimidium equitum cecidit, halfe his horses men were slayne.

Dimidias clepsydras dixit Plinius, pro Dimidiatas.

Diminuo, ui, ere, to diminishe or cut of, to breake in peeces, to stryke.

Diminuam ego caput tuum, nisi abeas, I will breake thyne heade, excepte thou get the hense.

Detrahere & diminuere.

De bonis alicuius diminuere, to diminisshe a mans gooddes.

De præsidiis diminuere, to minysche parte of the garrison.

Quod nostro negotio diminutum fuerit, ex equabimus industria, That whiche shall lacke in oure businesse, we will supplye with diligence.

Diminutio, onis, f. g. diminishyng or abatyng.

Accretio & diminutio.

Nec de bonis priuatorum publice diminutio fiat, Leat not the goodes of the commons be diminyshed or taken from theim.

Diminutus, a, um, diminyshed, broken.

Diminutus capite, & diminutio capitis, vide Capitis diminutio.

Dimissio, onis, a leue to depart, a dischargyng.

Dimissorius, a, um, the adiectiue.

Dimissoriæ literæ, letters missiue sent from one to an other.

Dimissus, a, um, dimyssed, sent doune. sometyme taken for abiecte.

Deiecit vultum, & dimissa voce locuta est, She caste downe hir loke, and with an humble voyce sayde.

Dimitigo, aui, are, idem quod Demitigo.

Dimitto, si, ere, to sende diuers persones into diuers places. sometyme it signifieth to licence to depart, to geue leaue, to leaue, to cease, to leat passe, to suffre, to humble. also to geue, to leat downe, to forgeue.

Dimittere folia arbor dicitur, cum decidunt.

Dimittere exercitum, to discharge an army.

Dimittere se in valles, to descende downe into the valleys.

Domum dimittit, he geueth theym leaue to departe home.

Dimittere & retinere, contrary.

Dimittere se ad aurem alicuius, to inclyne and speake to one in his eare.

Dimittere se in comparationem alteri, To compare hym selfe with an other.

Contumelioſe dimittere, To dismisse one vnprocheckully.

Dimittere matrimonium, To dissolue matrimonye, to be diuorsed.

Dimissa à matrimonio, a woman repudiated.

Dimittere reum, to dismisse and discharge an offendour, or person accused.

Dimittere scholam, To breake vp schoole, to geue vp teachyng.

E manibus non dimittere authorem, to haue an authour alwaies in his handes.

Dimittere tempus, To lette passe an occasion to doo a thyng.

Dimittere literas, to sende letters.

Dimittere boues in pascua, to sende or putte kyne into the pasture.

Dimittere consilium, to dissolue a counsaile.

Dimittere è manibus, to let one escape.

Dimittere sanguinem, to leat blonde.

Dimittere de summa, To abate of the summe totalle.

Dimittere debitorem, to release a dettour.

Dimittere creditorem, to paye his debte to his creditour.

Dimittere facultatem rei gerendæ, to lose or lette slyppe that power that one hath to doo a thynge.

Dimittere oscalo, to kysse at departyng.

Dimixos, xi, m. g. a lampe with two lyghtes.

Dimoueo, dimoues, móui, mére, to remoue or put out of a place or roume, sometyme to dryue backe, to cause to retyre.

Dimouere pertransgeredi custodias, to byde the preale, and passe through the kynges gard.

Dimouere de dignitatis gradu, to put one out of high authoritee.

Dimouere suspicionem, to put awaye suspicion.

Dimoueri de sententia, to be caused to chaunge his opinion.

Labem a republica dimouere, To put a great infamy from a common weale.

De suo cursu dimouere, to cause one to chaunge his trade or maner of behauiour.

Dimulgo, áui, áre, to publysshe abrode.

Dindymene, & Dindyme, one of the names of Cibele, called the mother of the goddis.

Dindymus, the rydge of the hylle of Ida in Phrygia.

Dimocrates, a philosopher.

Dinumeratio, ónis, fœ. g. a numbryng, a rechenyng or payeng of monete.

Dinumero, áui, áre, to numbre, to paie money.

Diobolàris, re, hyred for litteil monete.

Diobolares meretrices, harlottes, whiche be hyred for a litteil monete.

Diocles a poete of Athens. also a physicion in the tyme of Darius Histaspis.

Diocleus, the sonne of Ozyelochus.

Diodorus, a philosophier of Socrates secte, and Diodorus Siculus a storye writer, & an other Diodorus, a stoike philosophier, of whom Cicero writeth.

Diœcesis, sios, f. g. a iurisdiction, a gouernance. also a diocesse of a bysshop.

Diœcetes, tæ, mas. ge. he that hath the charge or ouersyght of any thyng.

Diogenes, a famous philosophiers name.

Diogenianus, a grammarian of Heraclea.

Diogenes, a learned man, whiche wrate the expedition of Alexander.

Diomeda, the daughter of Phorbas.

Diomedea, an yle, wherein Diomedes was buryed.

Diomedeæ aues, certayne birdes, whiche haue brethe, and eies of sondry colour, of the nature of whom reade Plinie.

Diomedes, a noble captayne of the Grekes at the syege of Troie.

Dion, a noble mannes sonne of Sicile, called

Hipparinus, brother to Aristomecha, wyfe to the elder Dionyse. wherfore he was long tyme in fauour with hym, in so muche that Dionyse commaūded his officers, that they shoulde geue to Dion all that he wouldo aske. reade this Dions lieke and actes in Plutarke.

Dionæus, nea, næum, pertaynyng vnto Venus.

Dione, a goddesse of the sea, the mother of Venus.

Dionysiæ, árum, m. g. litle swellinges or puisshes, rysyng in the temples of the heade.

Dionysia, æ, idem quod hedera.

Dionysias, the herbe Androsemon. Dioscr.

Dionysius, a precious stone, whiche hath in it redde spottes.

Dionysiaci, certayne mynstrels.

Dionysiopolis, a cytee of Thrace.

Dionysius, reade in Boethius. It is also the name of. ii. kynges of Sicile, whiche for their cruelte and auarice were called tyrannes: The first was son to Hermocrates, a ryche man of Sicile, whom for his valyauntnesse in armes, the Sicilians ordeyned to bee their capitayne against the Carthaginenses, whiche inuaded theim, and menaced to destroye their countreye, and take from theym their liberte. But after the ennemies were vanquysshed, Dionyse, whiche preserued his countreie from bondage, of a benefactour became a cruell tyran. The other Dionyse was sonne vnto this, lyke in condicions, but better learned. He also made meanes to haue Plato come vnto hym, and a good space had hym in muche reuerence, and herde his lessons in philosophye. Finally, suspectyng that he conspired against hym with Dion, & other, whom he had expelled, vnneth at the delyre of Architas, prince of Tarentum, and other: he suffered hym to retourne to Athens. of both these ye maye reade in Plutar. in the lieke of Dion. also in Justine. xi lib. and many thynges notable in Erasmi Apoph.

Diopetes, looke Dryophites.

Diophanes, a Rhetorician, the mayster of Gracchus.

Dioptra, æ, f. g. a geometricall instrument, to discerne altitudes, and distance: Vitruuius vseth it for weyghynge or pluckyng vp of water.

Diores, a proper name in Vergile.

Diorthoticum ius, id est, emendatiuum.

Diórux, diórygis, ma. g. a dyche or trenche made with mens handes.

Dioscorides, called also Pedacius, and Phasas, a worshipfull knyght of Egypt, who iopnyng learning with chyualerye, beeyng in the Romaynes hoste in dyuerse countreies, in tymes vacant from battayle, made diligent searche for the vertues and vertues of diuers herbes, and other thynges necessary for medicine, and wrate most trewely of theym in Greeke, as Galene testifieth. He lyued vnder Cleopatra and Antonius.

Dio-

Dioſcoron, an Ilande within the bo̱yders of Italy.

Dioſcippus, a notable wꝛeſtlar. alſo a ſouldiour of Alexander the great.

Dioſcurias, a citee of Colchis, in the which were ſomtyme people of.iii. hundꝛed diuers nations.

Dioſpolis, a citee of Aegypt. There be.iii. other of the ſame name in Aegypte, but verate ſmalle citees in comparyſon of this.

Dioſpoliticon, ci, n. g. a certayne medicine, made of diuers thinges, as cummine, peper, rue. ꝛc. loke Galen. 4. de Sanit.

Dioſporon, idem quod Iithioſpermon. Dioſc.

Diôta, æ, fœm. g. a veſſell of earth with handels, wherin wyne was kepte.

Diphiris, ris, ma. g. a pꝛecious ſtone, wherof are two kyndes, the male and the female.

Diphryx, is deſcribed of Plin. li 34. cap. 13.

Diphtarmice, idem quod Tarmice.

Diphthera, æ, fœm. g. a ſhepeherdes cote o̱ garmente, made with ſhepe ſkynnes.

Diphthera, is alſo ſaide to bee the ſkynne of the gote, that nouriſhed Jupiter, wherin the antiquitee beleued, he wꝛote all thynges that ſhuld be dooe. rede the pꝛouerbe.

Diphthongus, gi, fœ. ge. two vowelles ioygned togethe̱r, called a diphthonge, as, æ, œ, au, ei.

Dipletrum, tri, n. g. the third part of ſtadium.

Diplinthij parietes, walles, wherin be two rewes of bꝛicke.

Diplois, idis, fœ. g. any garment lyned, but it is taken fo̱r a doublette.

Diplóma, mătis, n. gen. a Charter of a pꝛynce o̱ citee, a wꝛytte, letters patentes.

Dipœnus, the bꝛother of Scyllis, whiche two were the fyꝛſte inuentours of graupyng in marble.

Dipolos terra, ground twiſe eaſt o̱ eared.

Dipondiarius, a, um, that is of. ii. li. wepghte o̱ value.

Dipóndium, dij, n. g. o̱ Dipondius, dij, o̱ Dupondius, ij, m. g. a weight of. ii. pound. alſo a piece of monepe, about the valewe of. viii. d. frenche. It is vſed of Tullio̱ for monepe.

Dipſacon, o̱ Dipſacus, called alſo Aſpalathus, Diacheton, Cacabus, Labrum Veneris, Virga paſtoris, commonly Pectorius Cardo, of ſome Fullonius Cardnus, the taſils, wherewith fullers vſe to dꝛeſſe clothe.

Dipſas, ădis, fœm. gene. a littell wooꝛme lyke a ſerpent, of colour white, the tayle diuided with two blacke lynes. He is alſo called Præſter. He that is ſtong with this wooꝛme, feeleth booꝛths with intollerable heate, and therwith ſo great dꝛieth, that no dꝛynke maye extincte his thꝛyſte, although he neuer ceſſe from dꝛynkyng, and ſo dyeth without remedye, as ſome ſuppoſe.

Diptôta, nounes that haue onely two caſes.

Diradio, aui, are, to ſet in facion of bꝛaunches, o̱ of the ſonne beames.

Diradiare vitem, To laye o̱ ſettle a vyne in bꝛaunches.

Diræ, arum, fœm. gen. plur. the furies, execrations, curſynges.

Dircæa, idem quod Mandrogora.

Dircion, the herbe called Solanum ſomniferum.

Dirce, a womannes name, the wyfe of Lycus kynge of Thebans. alſo an other of Babylon, which fo̱r ſpeakyng againſt Pallas, was tourned into a ſyſſhe.

Directarij, they that goe into other mens houſes o̱ chaumbers, of purpoſe to ſteale.

Directè, o̱ Directò, an aduerbe, ſignifiyng rightly o̱ ſtreightly, o̱ in a right fo̱m, ſimply.

Directo aliquid optare, and ſub conditione optare, contrary.

Directio, ônis, fœm. gen. a direction o̱ leadyng ſtꝛeyght to a thyng.

Directum, i, n. g. ryght, ſtꝛeyght.

Directus, a, um, ſtꝛeyght o̱ ryght.

Diremptio, ônis, f. g. a bꝛeakyng o̱ diſſolvyng, o̱ a ſeparation, a delate o̱ defeꝛeyng of tyme.

Dirempta mari gens, a people of beyonde the ſea.

Diremptus, ûs, ma. g. a ſeparation o̱ diuiſion, a ſettyng of thynges a parte.

Diremptus, a, um, diuided, ſeparated.

Direptio, ônis, f. g. a robbyng, ſpoylyng, o̱ taꝛkyng of a citee, extoꝛcion, polling.

Direptor, ôris, m. g. a robber, a ſpoyler, a rifler.

Direptus, ûs, m. g. a taꝛkyng awaie.

Direptus, a, um, robbed, ſpoyled.

Diribeo, diribes, bui, ère, to diſtribute o̱ diuide.

Diribitôres, diſtributours of monee, o̱ paie maꝛſters.

Diribitôrium, rij, n. g. the place of paiement.

Dirigeo, diriges, xi, ère, to ſtꝛynke fo̱ colde, o̱ fo̱ feare.

Dirigo, xi, ere, to make ſtreight o̱ ryght, to order, to diꝛecte.

Dirigere cacumina ad cælum, to rayſe the toppes hygh o̱ vpwarde.

Dirigere aciem, to ſette a battayle in ordeꝛ.

Aciem oculorum, o̱ viſum dirigere, to loke towarde one.

Arcu dirigere tela, to ſhoote.

Ad veritatem ſæpiſſimè dirigit coniectura, coniecture o̱ geſſe leadeth oftentymes to the trouthe.

Dirigere artes ſuas ad voluptatem, To haue pꝛincipall regard in all his doinges vnto pleaſure, to make pleaſure his pꝛincipall ende.

Dirigere greſſum, to goe.

Dirigere haſtam in aliquem, to caſt his ſpeare ſtreight at one.

Ad naturam leges hominum diriguntur, are made confoꝛmable o̱ accoꝛdyng vnto nature.

Eius tota ſimilitudo ad ſuccum porri dirigitur, is like. ꝛc.

Dirigere iter, to take a iourneie.

Dirigere aliquem ad ſuam opinionem, To bꝛyng o̱ leade one into his opinion.

Virum

Vitam suam ad normam rationis dirigere, to dispose and order his life according to reasone.
Dirigere se ad aliquid, To dispose or faction hym selfe to somewhat.
Dirigere omnia voluptate, To measure all thynges by pleasure.
Dirimo, rémi, mére, réptum, to breake or leaue of, to sette aparte, to departe, to diuyde, to fynisshe or ende.
Ea res consiliũ dirémit, that thing brake vp or dissolued the coũsaile. Also to put of or deferre. sometyme to breake of a pourpose or enterprise.
Dirimere bellum, to cause warre to cease.
Dirimere controuersiam, To make the parties agreed.
Dirimere actionem, to delay a mattier.
Dirimere litem, to make an ende of a mattier in variaunce or suite.
Dirimere societatem, to breake felowshyp.
Dirimere colloquium, To breake of the communication that is betweene men for any mattier.
Dirimere tempus, to make delaye.
Dirimuntur oppida vnius diei itinere, those townes bee one daies iourney asunder.
Prælium dirimere, to parte, or make an ende of the battayle.
Rixam dirimere, To appease persones that chyde. Likewyse Iram, altercationem, simultates dirimere.
Diripio, diripis, ui, ere, to robbe, spoyle, take away by violence, to diminyshe, to pull awaye.
Diripere oppidum, to sacke a towne.
A pectore vestem diripere, to teare his garment from his breast.
Diripere ensem vagina, to draw ones sword.
Diripere aliquem é loco, To pull one out of his place.
Diripere de authoritate alicuius, To dymynyshe and take awaye parte of a mans authoritee.
Diripere & vastare.
Expilare & diripere.
Diris, an high hill of Mauritania, nowe called Atlas.
Diritas, átis, fœm. ge. crueltee, vengeaunce, terriblenesse.
Morum diritas, crueltee of maniers, vengeableneſſe.
Diritas & comitas, contrary.
Dirumpo, rúpi, pere, to braste or breake asunder.
Dirumpere ludum, to trouble or breake vp a play, and lette that it be not finished.
Dirumpere amicitiam, to breake frendshyp.
Dirumpi dolore, to bruste for sorowe.
Se dirumpere, to burst for verie spite.
Dirumperis licet, although thou wouldest burst for anger.
Diruncino, looke Deruncino.
Diruncio, iui, ire, to weede out, to purge that whiche is naught.

Diruo, ui, ere, to breake downe to the ground, to ouerthrowe, to destroie.
Diruptus, a, um, braste or broken.
Diruptus homo, a persone, whose goodes and inheritaunce is riotously spent awaie.
Dirus, a, um, vengible, cruell, terrible, horrible, huge, great.
Diræ deprecationes, horrible cursynges.
Cruciatus diri, vengible and cruell tormentes.
Dirior, the comparatiue.
Dira religio, for magna.
Pugna dira, a cruell and deadly fyght.
Pestis dira, a terrible or horrible pestilence.
Dirutus, a, um, broken downe to the ground, destroied, ouerthrowen, cast downe.
Dis, ditis, called the god of rychesse. sometyme it signifieth ryche.
Dis, a preposition, vsed alwaies in composition, and signifieth sometyme diuersitee, sometyme diuision, sometyme greatly, sometyme diuersely, sometyme euell.
Discalceátus, a, um, vnshodde.
Discalceo, aui, are, to pull of ones shoes.
Discapédino, aui, are, to vnclose or open, & woorde out of vse.
Discáueo, discaues, to beware, to take good hede.
Discédo, cessi, ere, to departe. sometyme it signifieth an exception, as,
Cum discesserim à fratre, nemo est mihi te charior, Excepte my brother, no man is to me more deere than thou arte. Also it signifieth diuision or openyng. as, Cum terra discessisset magnis quibusdam imbribus, descendit in illum hiatum, When the earth by occasion of muche rayne opened, he went downe into the cliefte or swalowe.
Discedere à sese, to forgette hym selfe, or to be out of his mynde.
Discedere superiorem, to go away vãquisher.
Discedere inferiorem, To goe awaye vanquished.
Discedere ab armis, to leaue of warre, and to departe euery man to his owne.
Discedere ab officio, to doo no more his duetie, to doo contrary to reason and honestie.
Discedere à iure, to doo agaynst the lawe.
Discedere à sententia, to chaunge his opinió.
Discedere in diuersa, To bee of sundry opinions.
Discedit vsus fructus, he loseth the possession and profite.
Discessit mos, that maner or vse is lefte.
Discedere ab amicis, to breake frendshyp.
Discessit cælum, the firmament opened.
Discedere à consuetudine, To leaue a faction or custome longe vsed.
Non discedere digitum à re aliqua, Not to departe from a thyng a fynger breadth.
Si vno verbo discesseris à libro, If ye speake one worde otherwyse than it is in your boke.
Discedamus à nobismet ipsis, Leat vs cease to speake speake of our selfe.

Discedere inraliquam opinionem, To condescende or agree to an opinion.
A re discedere, to goe from the matter, to make digression.
Discedatur, the impersonall.
Discessio, ônis, fœm. gen. a departyng, a diuision or separation. also in the Senate of Rome it was whan dyuers sentẽces were layed in any matter, and the more part dyd not pronounce theyr opinions, but went to hym, whose sentente they allowed.
Discessus, idem.
Discessus animi à corpore, the departyng of the soule from the body.
Discessus cœli, the openyng of the ayre.
Discessio facta in eius sententiam, the more part went on his syde, and was of his opinion.
Disceptatio, ônis, fœm. gen. disputation or contention, an arbitrement or examination of a matter.
Disceptatio libera, iudgement accordyng to the conscience of hym that iudgeth.
Disceptatio legitima, iudgement accordyng to the lawe.
Disceptator, ôris, m. g. a iudge, an arbitour, or a daies man.
Disceptatrix, the feminine.
Discepto, aui, are, to dispute, to contend, to arbitrate or iudge.
Disceptare armis, to trie by battayle.
Disceptare verbis, to contend with wordes.
Disceptare causam, To trie a matter by arbitours.
In vno prælio omnis rei publicæ fortuna disceptat, The whole state and condition of the weale publike is ventred and tryed in one battayle.
Disceptant eodem foro Othronienses, The Othroniens resort to the same common place for iudgement.
Qui iactura affectus est, damni disceptet, Let hym pursue his domage or losse by the law.
Discerniculum, li, neu. gene. a pinne or other like instrument, wherewith women dyd diuide the heed of theyr heare before: also a difference or diuersitee.
Discerno, discreui, ĕre, to departe asunder one thyng from an other. also to striue or vary, to knowe distinctly, to iudge, to discerne.
Discernere armis, to fyght in battayle, to try by den: of swoorde.
Item discernere, to simplyfie a contention or variaunce.
Tumultum veterem discreuit, he appeased or ended an olde discorde.
Nequeo satis discernere, I we not well know, or I can not well discerne.
Alba & atra discernere, To iudge white from blacke.
Discernere vtra pars iustiorem causam habeat, To iudge whether parte hath the better cause.
Stultum à sapiente discernere, to discerne and put difference betweene a foole and a wyse man.
Discerpo, pli, ĕre, to pluche or teare in peces, to rente.
Discerpere & dilacerare.
Discerpere & distrahere.
Rem propositam in membra discerpere, To diuide a mattier purposed into certayn members or partes.
Discerptus, a, um, torne, rent in peces, pluckt in sunder.
Discreus, a hynde of blasynge sterres, somtyme lyke a swoorde in facion ✠li. ii. 2. cap. 27.
Discidium, dij, n. g. a diuision, or a partition.
Discinctus, a, um, vngyrded, And by a metaphore dissolute, negligent, retcheles, vnthrifty, vnable for the warres, cowardyse.
Discindo, discidi, ĕre, to rent of, to cut in peces.
Discindere amicitias, to breake frendshyp.
Vide, vt discidit labrum, See howe he hath cut my lyppe.
Discingo, xi, gere, to vngyrde.
Disciplina, æ, f. g. learnyng, as it is perteyned of the scholar: doctrine, as it is taught of the maister. It is also a good fourme of lyuyng, an instruction, an example to good lyfe, an ordinaunce or ordinaũce, allowable custome. Cicero vseth it for a sect of philosophiers. it may also sometyme be called a schole, a maner, an order, also: as, Disciplina est, this is the schole, order or the facion, maner, or trayn that must be vsed. At nunc alia disciplina est, but nowe we haue learned a new schole.
Disciplina gladiatoria, the preceptes and vse of trayning men in the weapons.
Disciplina meretricia, the schole and doctrine that lyght housewikes and strumpettes haue among them.
Institutio & disciplina.
Militaris disciplina, martiall policie, obseruation of honest behauiour in warfare, the fascion that yong souldiours are trained or exercised in, to make them perfecte good men of warre.
Disciplina dicendi, Rhetorike.
Accipere disciplinam, to learne.
Abstrahere à disciplina, To take from learnyng.
Perdiscere disciplinam rusticam, to learne exactly the feate of husbandry.
Colere disciplinam, to exercise learnyng, to apply learnyng.
Disciplinabilis, le, that may bee learned.
Disciplinôsus, a, um, apte to learne.
Discipula, æ, f. g. a woman scholar.
Discipulus, li, masc. gene. a scholer, a disciple, a prentice.
Discîndo, si, dere, to shutte out, to disioyne, to separate.

Disco,

iſco, didici, ſcere, to lerne, to geat the knowe lage of that, which one hath not, eyther by meditation, or by inſtruction, to heare.
Diſcere fidibus, to learne to playe on inſtrumentes.
Dediſco, ere, to forgette that whiche was ones learned.
iſcobinâtus, a, um, wounded or cutte.
iſcóbolus, li, maſc. gene. he that throweth the round inſtrument called Diſcus, vſed of yong men in olde tyme for exercyſe.
iſcoctus, a, um, well ſodde or boyled.
iſconuenio, diſcónuenis, uéni, nire, to diſagree, or diſcorde.
Diſcónuenit inter me & te, thou and I be not like, there is difference betwene the and me.
iſcolor, óris, om. g. dyuers of colour.
iſcóphorus, ri, ma. g. a ſeruaunt that caryeth a dyſhe to the table.
iſcordábilis, le, that diſcordeth or diſagreeth.
iſcordia, æ, f. g. debate, variaunce.
Seditionem atque diſcordiam concitare, To raiſe ſedition and diſcorde.
Diſcentiones atque diſcordiæ.
iſcordiâlis, le, that ingendreth or breedeth debate or ſtryfe.
iſcordiôſus, a, um, contencious, prone to debate and variaunce.
iſcordo, aui, are, to diſcorde or agree yll.
Æternum diſcordare cum aliquo, to hate one perpetually.
Diſcordant inter ſe, they are at variaunce.
iſcoquo, oxi, ere, to ſeethe or boyle well and throughly.
iſcors, órdis, om. gen. diſcordaunt, agreeynge yll together.
Modi diſcordes, diſcordes in muſike, ſonge that agreeth not.
iſcrépito, aui, are, a frequentatiue of Diſcrepo.
iſcrepo, aui, or ui, are, to diſcorde or diſagree, to be contrarie.
Diſcrepant facta cum dictis, his woordes and deedes agree not.
A conſiliis alicuius diſcrepare, not to be of that mynd that an other is.
Sibi diſcrepare, to diſagree with ones ſelfe.
Diſcrepat inter authores, the opinions of authours are dyuers.
Inter ſe diſcrepare, to vary and diſagree one with an other.
Nulla in re diſcrepat, It varieth not from the other in any thyng.
Diſcrepántia, æ, f. g. difference, diſagreeyng.
Diſcretè, & diſcretim, ſeuerally.
Diſcrétio, ônis, f. g. a ſeparation. ſometyme election of good from yll, diſcrecion.
Diſcretorium, idem quod Diaphragma.
Diſcrétus, a, um, ſeuered or parted. Galla ſaieth it is he that diſcerneth the qualitees of men, or value of thynges.
Diſcrimen, minis, neu. gene. diuerſitee or difference. also the cleadyng or partyng of the heare. also it ſignifieth peryll or daunger. ſometyme battayle.

Nullo diſcrimine, eaſyly without daunger. also without regard more of one than of an other.
Diſcrimen & Delectus.
In diſcrimine eſt res, the matter is in doute or controuerſie.
Aequo diſcrimine, with lyke diſtaunce or ſpace a ſunder.
In contentionem & diſcrimen venire, to fall in controuerſie or debate.
In diſcrimen adducere, to bryng into peryll or daunger.
Dare in diſcrimen, to venter or put in danger.
Offerre ſe in diſcrimen pro re aliqua, to put hym ſelfe in daũgier wylyngly for any thing.
In ſummo diſcrimine eſſe, to be in great peril.
Diſcriminâle, lis, an inſtrument, wherwith the heare is parted or ſhadde.
Diſcriminâtim, diſtinctli, aſunder, here & there.
Diſcriminâtus, a, um, diſtincte, in a diuerſitee, diuided, ſeparated.
Diſcrimino, áui, âre, to diuide, to ſeuer.
Diſcrucior, âris, âri, to be muche vexed or troubled in mynde.
Diſcubo, cúbui, bare, to lye downe to ſleape.
Diſcumbo, cúbui, cumbere, to ſyt at meales.
Diſcumbitur, the impſonall.
Diſcubitórius lectus, a bed, wherupon men vſed in olde tyme to eate theyr meate.
Diſcuniâtus, a, um, opened or clouen with a wedge or other lyke thyng.
Diſcúpio, diſcupis, piui, pere, to deſyre verate muche.
Diſcurro, curri, rere, to renne hyther and thyther, or to dyuers partes, to wander about.
Diſcurſus, us, m. g. rennyng hyther and thither, a wandryng.
Diſcuſſores, ſeſſors, whiche value how muche a man is wourth.
Diſcuſſórius, a, um, that diſſolueth.
Diſcuſſoria medicamenta, medicines, whiche diſſolue or breake thynges congeled or rough.
Diſcus, ci, ma. gen. a dyſhe. also a rounde thyng made of ſtone, leade, or yron, hauyng an hole in the myddell, whiche in olde tyme men vſed to throwe vp into the ayre, to the intent to exercyſe them ſelues.
Diſcútio, diſcutis, ſſi, tere, to caſt or ſhake of, to remoue, to examine, to diſcuſſe, to take or put awaie, to daſſhe. also to diſſolue humours gathered into an impoſtume.
Diſcutere ebrietatem, faſtidium, metum, triſtitiam, to put awaie dyſunhennelſe. &c.
Triſtes cogitationes diſcutere, to put awaye heauy and ſadde cogitations.
Febrem ſomno & ſudore diſcuſſit, With ſleape and ſweatyng he dryue away the ague.
Diſcutere cunctationem, To put awaye and ſette a parte all delaie.

Mor-

Morbum discutere, to shake of a disease.
Discutere caput, to dashe one on the head.
Discussus, a, um, shaken or put awaie.
Diserte, eloquently.
Diserte loqui, to speake well and to the purpose.
Disertiones, diuisions of heritages,
Disertus, a,um, well spoken, eloquent.
Disiicio, disiicis, disieci, disiicere, to caste a sunder.
Disiectus, a, um, caste a sunder, caste here and there, scattered.
Disiectæ naues, shippes driuen a sunder by force of weather.
Disiecti milites, the hoste dispersed, disiunctio, ônis, f. g. a separation.
Disiunctio sententiæ, diuersitee in opinion.
Disiunctionem facere, To fall out with one and forsake his company.
Disiunctus, a,um, separate, vnyoked, farre of, a sunder.
Terræ disiunctissimæ, veraie farre countreyes.
Disiunctior à te sum, I am somwhat farre of from you.
Disiungo, xi, ere, to vnioygne, to separate a sunder, to vnyoke.
Ea res multo maxime disiunxit illum ab illa, That matter moste of all caused hym to forsake hir, or to withdraw his mynde from hir.
Disiungere boues, to vnyoke oxen.
A familiaritate alterius aliquem disiungere, To cause one to forsake an others familiaritee or company.
Disiungere à mamma, to weane, to take from the teate.
Dispalesco, lescere, to publische abrode, to make knowen to all men.
Dispâlo, âui, âre, to wander hither and thyther.
Dispalâtus, a,um, scattered.
Dispando, spandi, dere, to stretche out, to spreade abrode.
Dispansus, a, um, spredde abrode, stretched out.
Dispar, disparis, om. gen. vnlyke, vnmete, vnequall.
Haud dispar animorum, of no lesse stomache or courage.
Dispâritis, le, vnlike, vnequall.
Dispariliter, diuersely, vnequally.
Disparo, disparui, or disparaui, rare, to seuer, to separate.
Disparâtum, ti, neu. g. is that whiche is separate from any thyng, by saiyng to the contrary, as Sapere and Non sapere.
Dispârtio, tiui, tire, to deuide.
Dispârtior, tiri, to deuide or be deuided.
Dispello, dispuli, dispellere, to expell or put frō many places, or many waies.
Dispellere & compellere, contrary.
Dispendiôsus, a,um, harmefull, vnprofitable.
Dispêndium, dij, neu. gene. losse by negligence, or superfluous expenses. Also it signifieth hurte: sometyme a longe waie about, contrary to Compendium.
Dispendo, di, ere, to spende. also to stretche out.
Dispenno, ere, to stretche, out of vse.
Dispensâtor, tôris, ma. gen. a stewarde, or other officer, leiyng out money for householde, a dispenser of thynges.
Dispensâtio, ônis, fœm. g. laiyng out of money for an other man, distribucion.
Dispenso, aui, are, to laye out money, to dispose, to geue licence or power to do a thing, to distribute accordyng to the proporcion of a thyng.
Dispepsia, yll concoction.
Disperdo, di, ere, to lose, to spend or consume.
Disperdere & dissipare possessiones, to spende and waste rychouselye a mannes substaunce.
Disperditus, a,um, loste, destroied, vndooen.
Disperditio, ônis, fœm. gene. an vndooyng or destroiyng.
Dispereo, disperis, disperiui, and disperij, ire, to bee loste vtterly, to be vndooen.
Dispeream, I praie god that I dye: Is an oth vsed in the stede of an othe in the affirmaunce or deniyng of a matter.
Disperij, I am vndooen.
Dispereunt tui labores, thy labour is loste.
Dispergo, sperси, spergere, to sowe abrode, to scatter.
Dispersus, a,um, scattered abrode.
Dispersa & dissipata, dispersed and scattered abrode.
Dispersus, us, a dispersyng or scatteryng abrode.
Dispersè, and Dispersim, as it were scattered here and there.
Dispertio, tiui, tire, to geue parte to one, parte to an other, to diuide, to distribute.
Iniuria dispertiisti, pinguiorem agnum habent, Thou haste not parted it equally for they haue the fatter lambe.
In membra orationem dispertire, To deuide an oracion into membres.
Aequaliter prædam dispertire, to diuyde the praye equally.
Dispertitus, a,um, departed, deuided.
Dispesco, cui, ere, to dryue beastes from their pasture. also to separate or diuide.
Dispesso, si, ere, to spreade abrode.
Dispectus, us, consideration, vieweyng. also correction or choyse.
Disphendomena, a kind of punyshement among the Persiās, where the toppes of .ij. trees were drawne downe together, & the offender bound by the legges to eche of theim, was drawen a sunder.
Dispicientia, æ, fœm. g. circumspection, aduisement, diligent consideration, prouidence.
Dispicio, dispicis, xi, cere, to discerne, to espie, to consyder, to loke about diligently.
Displiceo, displices, plicui, ere, to displease, to misslyke.

Si quandò tibi diſplicere conſilium tuum ẽx-peris, If your counſayl ſhall chance hereafter to myſlyke you, or yf ye ſhall thynke hereafter, that your owne aduyſe bee not good.
Diſplicentia, æ, a diſpleaſynge, or myſcontenttynge.
Diſplicina, æ, fœm. gen. ſhe that hath or dooeth diſpleaſe one.
Diſplico, plicui, plicaui, plicare, to vnfolde.
Diſplicâtus, a, um, vnfolded, and by tranſlation
ſcattered or diſperſed.
Diſplicatæ volucres, bees ſcattered and ſpar-
ſed abrode.
Diſplôdo, ſi, dere, to make a clappynge or noyſe with the handes or feete.
Diſpluuium, uij, and Diſpluuiatum, neu. gene.
a parte of the houſe, wherby rayn water was receyued.
Diſpolio, aui, are, idem quod Deſpolio, to ſpoyle or robbe.
Diſpoliabulum, li, neu. gen. a deſpoyle, a place, where all miſchiefe or robbery is dooen. alſo
hoordom, naughtyneſſe.
Diſpondæus, a foote in meter, that hath foure ſyllables long, as Oratores.
Diſpôno, ſui, ere, to diſpoſe, to order, to ſette in order.
Deſcribere & diſponere cuiq; munus ſuum,
to appoynt and aſſigne euery man his office.
Diſponere comas, to decke the buſſhe.
Diſponere claſſem, to ſette in order a nauy.
Diſponere pocula, to ſet cuppes in order.
Diſpoſuit remedia homini natura, Nature hath geuen diuers remedies vnto man.
Diſpoſitus, a, um, diſpoſed, ſette in order,
raunged.
Diſpoſitus vir, he that ſetteth his woordes in good order.
Diſpoſita hominum vita, the lyfe of man well ordered and facioned.
Diſpoſitus, us, idem quod Diſpoſitio.
Diſpôſitio, ônis, fœm. gene. diſpoſicion, order,
placyng of a thyng.
Diſpôſitor, ôris, m. g. a diſpoſer, one that ſetteth
thynges in good order.
Diſpoſitor mundi deus.
Diſpoſitè, ordinately, in good order.
Diſpudet, I am aſhamed, or he is aſhamed of that whiche is dooen.
Diſpudet, mihi ſic data eſſe verba, I am greatly aſhamed, that I was ſo ſhamefully begyled.
Diſpuluero, aui, are, to make a thyng in pouider or duſte, to diſſolue.
Diſpûmo, aui, are, to ſhumme of.
Diſpunctio, ônis, ſ. g. an examnacion.
Diſpungo, xi, gere, to put out thynges written,
ſettyng pryckes vnder euery letter.
Diſpungere rationes, To examyne an accompte.
Diſpungere dies, to note and marke daies.
Diſputo, aui, are, to purge or cutte of that is ſu-perfluus, and by tranſlation, to diſpute, to make playne to be vnderſtande, to reaſon, to talke, to treate.

Neq; hæc in eam ſententiam diſputo, neyther doo I ſpeake theſe thynges to this intente.
Diſputare rationem cum aliquo, to reken or make accompte with one.
Aliquid multis verbis diſputare, To talke or treate of a thyng with many woordes.
Neq; ego vllam in partem diſputo, I diſpute not eyther on the one parte or on the other.
Diſputare verbis in vtramq; partem, to bryng or laye reaſons for bothe parties.
Diſputâtio, ônis, ſ. g. a diſputyng, a reaſonyng,
a talkyng or intreatyng of a mattier.
Diſputâtor, ôris, maſ. gen. one that diſputeth or reſoneth.
Diſputatrix, tricis, ſ. ge. the feminine.
Diſquamâtus, ta, um, vnſhaled.
Diſquiro, ſiui, rere, to inſerche diligentely, to inquire.
Diſquiſitio, ônis, fœm. ge. diligent ſerch, where euery mans opinion or ſentence is demaunded vpon a mattier in iudgement, an inquiſition or inquerie, a triall.
Venire in diſquiſitionem, To haue enquirie made of it, to come into iudgement, when euery man is demaunded what he thynketh of the mattier.
Diſſâro, aui, are, to cut awaie here and there, and make thynne that is thycke.
Diſſrumpo, rupi, rumpere, looke Dirumpo.
Diſſauior, aris, ari, to kyſſe ſweetely.
Diſſecâtus, a, um, cut as a body is in an anatomy.
Diſſeco, ſecui, or ſecâui, care, to cut in pieces, to cleaue in ſunder.
Diſſectio, ônis, ſ. g. an anatomie.
Diſſemino, aui, are, to ſowe ouer all, to ſpreade
abrode, to publyſhe.
Diſſeminare & diſpergere,
Diſſeminâtus, a, um, ſowen, ſpredde abrode,
publyſhed.
Diſſentaneus, a, um, not accordyng.
Diſſentio, ſenſi, tire, to thynke contrarye, or to diſagree, to be of a contrary opinion.
Longè diſſenture, To bee vtterly of an other opinion.
De veritate ab aliquo diſſentire, To diſſente from one concernyng the truthe.
A ſeipſo diſſentire, to diſagree with ones ſelf.
Diſſentit voluntas ſcriptoris cum ſcripto, the writynge and the will of the writer dooe not agree: or the writer ment otherwiſe than is ex-preſſed in the writynge. Inter ſe diſſentiunt, they agree not among them ſelues.
A cæterorum more & natura diſſentire, to be of a nother facion and nature then other be.
Cum dativo: as, Ne orationi vita diſſentiat.
Diſſenſus, us, idem quod Diſſentio.
Diſſentio, ônis, ſ. g. diſſencion, variance, debate.
Diſſidium, & diſſentio.

Commouere dissentionem, to reyse discorde and debate.
Dissepio, dissepis, sepsi, sepire, to breke downe an hedge, or any other thyng, wherwith a place is enclosed, to breake downe enclosure.
Dissepăro, aui, are, to dissever one from an other.
Dissepimentum, ti, n. ge. the partition in a wall nutte, wherwith the kernell is diuided.
Dissептum, ti, n. ge. a closure.
Dissерено, aui, are, to ware fayre wether.
Dissero, disseui, or serui, ere, to sowe seedes. also to dispute or declare, to reason.
Aggredi de re aliqua disserere, to go about to dispute or reason of a mattier.
Dissertabundus, a, um, one that reasoneth or disputeth.
Dissertătio, ônis, fœ. g. disputation or treatie of any thyng, contention, reasonyng.
Dissértio, ônis, fœm. gen. a partition of landes, or heritage.
Disserto, aui, are, to contende or stryue in wordes, to reason vehemently.
Dissideo, dissides, dissedi, êre, to be at variaũce or discorde, to dissente, to disagree. also to be contrarie or diuers.
Dissidêre animo & voluntate ab aliquo, To dissent from one with herte and mynde.
A se ipso dissidêre, to dissent from hym selfe.
A veri side dissidet, it is vnlyke to be true.
Multis rebus cum illo dissidet, He varieth or disagreeth from hym in many thynges.
Cum causa dissidere, non cum homine, To hate the cause or quarell, and not the person.
Inter se dissident & discordant, They bee at variaunce and debate among them selues.
Capitali odio à Pompeio dissidet, he beareth mortall hatrede agaynst Pompete: or there is deadely hatrede betweene hym and Pompete.
Adamas dissidet à magnete, The diamand and the lodestone be diuers.
Dissidiôsus, a, um, one that loueth discorde or variaunce.
Dissidium dij, n. g. variaunce or discorde, dissension, debate, diuorce, breache of frendeshyp, the separation of frendes beyng farre asunder.
Dissidéntia, æ, f. g. idem.
Dissignătio, ônis, f. g. looke Designatio.
Dissignatores, looke Designatores.
Dissigno, aui, are, looke Designo.
Dissilio, dissilis, iui, ire, to leape downe from a place, to leape out of his place. sometyme to brast or cracke a sunder, to leape here & there, to leape a sunder.
Dissilit solũ, the groũd chapeth or goeth a sũder.
Dissimilares partes, are those partes, whiche haue not the name of that thyng, wherof they be partes: as, the heade, armes, and other partes of a man are not man.
Dissimilis, le, vnlyke.
In dissimiles incidere naturas, To chaunce to haue diuers natures.
Nihil tam dissimile, quàm Cotta Sulpitio, No twayne be so vnlyke in theyr style as Cotta and Sulpitius.
Sui dissimilis, vnlyke hym selfe.
Forma haud dissimilis in dominum erat, In shappe he was not muche vnlike his master.
Dissimiliter, in a diuers facion.
Dissimilitũdo, dinis, f. g. diuersitee, vnlikenesse.
Habere dissimilitudinem cum re aliqua, To be somewhat vnlyke a thyng.
Dissimulanter, without any semblant, or countenaunce, obscurely, couertly, closely.
Dissimulatim, idem.
Dissimulătio, ônis, f. g. dissemblyng.
Dissimulantia, idem.
Dissimulător, ôris, m. g. a dissembler.
Vt qui dissimulatores studiorũ fuerint, which made semblaunt as they hadde not studyed.
Dissimulătus, a, um, dyssembled.
Dissimulo, aui, are, to dissemble a thyng not to be so, that is so in deede, as, Dissimulare iram, is to hyde anger, or to make as yf one were not angry, that is verate angry in dede, to make as yf he knewe nothynge, to shewe countenaunce contrarye to his thought.
Dissimulabo hos quasi non videam, I wil make as though I dyd not see them.
Dissimulabam me harum sermoni operam dare, I made as though I dyd not harken a theyr communication.
Dissipăbilis, le, easy to be broken in peces, that maie be sparkled or scattered abrode.
Dissipătio, ônis, fœm. ge. a scatterynge or byngynge of one thyng into many small pieces, a wastynge.
Dissipatus, a, um, scattered, spred abrode, driuen a sunder.
Classis dissipata, a naute of shyppes driuen a sunder with weather.
Dissipo, aui, are, to scatter or spread abrode, or to bryng vnto nought, to consume or spende, to breake into peces.
Alio aliud dissipare, To caste or scatter one thyng here and an other there.
Disturbare, ac dissipare.
Disperdere ac dissipare possessiones, to consume and spende a mans goodes vyotously.
Contrahere amicitiam, & dissipare dissidiam, To get frendshyp, and dissolue hate and debate.
Dissipare famam alicuius rei, to spreade the brute and fame of any thyng.
Dissipare humores, To dyssolue humours congeled.
Maledictum latè dissipatur, a shrewed reporte is spreade farre abrode.
Dissipare conuiuij patrimonium, to spende ones heritage vyotously in banketynge.
Lykewyse Pecuniam, and Rem familiarem dissipare.
Dissitus, a, um, set farre of, distant. also spredde.

issociabilis, le, that can not bee brought into felowshyp or company.
issociatio, ônis, f. g. breakyng of felowshyp or company.
issocio, aui, are, to breake company, to dissolue felowshyppe.
issoluo, ui, ere, to leuse or vnbynde, to spede, to pate seuerall dettes, to pate that which is owed.
Dissoluere aliquem, To dispatche one from longe tarying.
Dissoluere religionem, to doo or agaynst religgion, to breake religion.
Dissoluere interrogationem, To assoyle a question.
Dissoluere se, to dispatche him self of busines.
Dissoluere æs alienũ, to discharge or pay det.
Dissoluere amicitias, to breake frendshyp.
Coagmentare & dissoluere, contrarie.
Conglutinare & dissoluere, contrary.
Causam dissoluere, to tell a cause or reason,
Lucret.
Periurium dissoluere, to kepe his othe.
issolubilis, le, easye to leuse.
issolute, an aduerbe, whiche signifieth, disso-
lutely, without care.
Dissolute rem aliquam conficere, to doo a thyng negligently and without care.
issolutio ônis, f. g. a dissolutyng or leusyng.
Legum dissolutio, a dissolutyng and breakyng of the lawe.
Dissolutio naturæ, deathe.
Dissolutio criminis, a purgation.
Dissolutio stomachi, vide Nausea.
issolutus, a, um, leused, dissolued, sometyme abolished. Also he that ipueth at his owne pleasure, contrarie to the lawes or good customes, dissolute, vnruly.
Dissolutis criminibus, after that he had made answere to that, which was layed to his charge, and was therof acquited.
Institutum negligentia dissolutum, abolished.
issonantia, æ, f. ge. discorde in voyces or tunes.
isono, ui, or aui, are, to discorde, to disagree.
issonus, a, um, that whiche dooeth not agree, dissonant.
Dissonæ sermone gentes, people that haue an other language.
issuadeo, si, ere, to disswade, to assaie to tourne one from his opinion or purpose.
issuasio ônis, fœm. ge. the acte of disswadyng, disswasion.
issuasor, ôris, m. g. he that disswadeth.
issuauitio, ônis, fœm. gen. the acte of kyssyng sweetely.
issuãtor, âris, ari, to kysse sweetely, and with muche delectation.
issuefacio, and Dissuesco, scere, to leaue the olde maner and custome.
issuetudo, lacke of vse.
issuetus, a, um, vnwont, not accustomed.
issulcus, ci, ma. ge. an hogge that hath a spare betwene the bristles in the neche.
Dissulto, aui, are, to leape hither and thither.
Dissuo, dissui, ere, to vndo a thyng, to ryppe.
Dissuere amicitias, to breake of frendshyp by litell and litell.
Distabesco, idem quod tabesco.
Distædet, distæduit, & distæsum est, I am wery of a thyng, it lotheth me greatly.
Distantia, æ, fœm. gen. differẽce, space betwene place and place.
Distendo, di, ere, to stretche out or retche, to fyll
as a bottell is fylled, to stuffe out, so to fyll, that it strouteth out.
Rictum distendere, to gape wyde.
Distendere curas hominum, to make more ca-refull, fearefull, or more solicitous. Liui.
Distentio, onis, a stretchyng or strowtyng out.
Distentio membrorum, id est, spasmus.
Distentus, a, um, the participle of Distendo, full,
bollen out, strowtyng.
Pabulo distentus, so fedde that his bealye
strouteth out.
Distentus, a, um, the participle of Distineo, greatly occupied, busyed, troubled, lette, withholden.
Cum ipse distentus sis imperij curis, where as your selfe is greatly occupied or busied about the affayres of the empyre.
Distento, aui, are, to stuffe a thyng, and make it to stroute.
Disterminatio, ônis f. g. a diuision of ground, a boundyng of lande.
Determino, aui, are, to diuide one place from an other, to bounde place from place.
Distero, striui, ere, to breake small, to pounde or braye in a mortar.
Distichon, chi, neu. gen. two verses conteynyng
one matter.
Distichum hordeum, a kynde of barley.
Distillatio, ônis, f. g. a distyllyng, specially from the heade, called a reume or catarre, the pose.
Distillo, aui, are, to distille or drop downe.
Distincte, distinctely, seuerally, where euerye thyng is in his place and ordre.
Distinctio, ônis, fœ. ge. a diuersitee, distinction, separation.
Distinctus, us, m. g. a separation, or distinction,
diuersitee, varietee.
Distinctus, a, um, diuided, separated, distincte,
poyncted, noted.
Limora distincta tectis & vibibus, that haue
many townes and houses.
Distineo, distines, tinui, ẽre, to leat or withhold with bysye busynesse or vrgent causes, to hold or put backe, to leat or stoppe.
Distineri, to be leat.
Distinere pacẽ, to let that peace be not made.
Distineri occupationibus, to be greatly occupied, or busyed.
Nos alio bello distineri putat, he thynketh that we are occupied and let with other warre.
Occupari, & distineri.

Diſtinguo,xi,ere, to deuide.alſo to make diſtinction, to put difference, to diſtinct with notes and markes, to ſeparate.

Grauiora opera luſibus iociſque diſtinguo, I myngle myne erneſte and waygħtie affaires, with recreations and paſtymes.

Diſtinguere artificē ab iuſcio, to put differēce betwene a counnyngeman and a bunglare.

Diſtinguere gemmis pocula, To ſette and garniſhe plate with pꝛecious ſtones.

Diiudicare ac diſtinguere vera à falſis, to diſcerne and put difference betwene true thinges and falſe.

Diſtinguere ac ſeparare.

Vocem diſtinguere lingua, To pꝛonounce wooꝛdes diſtinctely and leaſurely.

Colore vario diſtinguere aliquid, to diſtinct a thyng with diuers colours.

Diſtinguor, the paſſyue.

Caudis inter ſe diſtinguuntur, they differe one from an other by theyꝛ tayles.

Diſtiſum, olde wꝛiters vſed foꝛ Diſtæſum.

Diſtito, aui, are, to ſtande aparte, to be diſtante one from an other.

Diſto, ſtiti, are, to differe,to be vnlike, oꝛ bee diſtant,to bee a certeyn ſpace one from an other.

Spacio pari diſtare viriq;, To bee equally in the myddle of two thynges.

Vides quantum diſtat oratio à veritate, pou ſee howe farre pour wooꝛdes differe from the truthe. Multum inter ſe diſtant, they differe muche one from the other.

Diſtorqueo, ſi, ere, to ſet awꝛie,to wꝛeſte a ſyde.

Ah illud vide,os vt ſibi carnifex diſtorſit, oh, loke howe the hangeman ſetteth his mouthe awꝛie: oꝛ what a wꝛie mouthe the knaue maketh.

Diſtortio,ônis,f. g. a wꝛeſtyng oꝛ wꝛithyng.

Diſtortus, a, um, ſet awꝛie out of facion, deſoꝛmed,crooked.

Cruꝛa diſtorta, crooked leggeſ.

Diſtractio, ônis, f. g. ſeparation, alienation, oꝛ pullyng awaie oꝛ a ſunder.

Diſtractor,ôris,ma. ge. he that dꝛaweth oꝛ pulleth in ſunder.

Diſtractus, a, um, pulled in ſunder, dꝛawen in dyuers partes.

Anima diſtracta in toto corpore, The ſoule defuſed in the whole body.

Diſtraho,diſtrahis, xi, here, to pluche awaie,to deuide,to ſeparate,to dꝛaw a ſunder,to pluche oꝛ pull in peces, to withdꝛawe a thyng oꝛ perſone, to alienate. ſometyme by tranſlation, it is taken foꝛ to ſell. alſo to finyſhe oꝛ conclude mattiers in variaunce, to deferre oꝛ dꝛyue of a thyng,to pꝛolonge.

Controuerſias diſtrahere, to ende controuerſies oꝛ ſuites.

Diſtrahuntur animi in varias ſententias, theiꝛ myndes be dꝛawen nowe into one opinion nowe into an other.

Diſtraham cum illo ſocietatem, I wyll forſake his felꝛwſhyp oꝛ familiarite, oꝛ I will kepe no longer company with hym.

Filum diſtrahi, To be plucked euene thꝛo from other.

Vt pluris poſtea diſtraheret, that he myght after ſell it foꝛ moꝛe money.

Qui hanc rem diſtraheret, whiche myghte beſtoꝛe this mattier.

Diſtrahit mediam Aſiam Taurus, the mountayne Taurus deuideth Aſia in the myddes.

Diſtrahor, the paſſyue, I am in diuers mattiers.

Diſtribuo, bui, ere, to diſtribute oꝛ geue in ſundꝛie partes,to geue to ſundꝛye perſones,to diuyde.

Diſtribuere cauſam, To deuide his pleadyng into ſundꝛie partes, oꝛ to make many pleas of one mattier.

Diſtribuere in ſingulos, to geue to euery man a poꝛcion. Diſtribuere in miniſterii, to appoynete diuers perſons to diuers offices.

Diſtribuere milites in numeros, To diſtribute oꝛ deuide ſouldiours into certain bandes.

Diſtributē, in partes oꝛ poꝛcions.

Diſtributio,ônis,fœ. ge. partition, diſtribucion. alſo a figure of Rhetoꝛike.

Diſtribûtor,ôris,m.g. a diſtributour oꝛ deuider.

Diſtribûtus, a, um, diſtributed, deuided.

Diſtrictē, ſtrictly,in fewe wooꝛdes.

Diſtrictē denegare, to denie ſtrictly.

Diſtrictē minari, to thꝛetten ſtrictly.

Diſtrictus, a, um, greatly let from doyng of thyng,greatly troubled, conſtreigned, buſie, dꝛawne as a ſwoꝛde. alſo auſtere,ſtꝛict, ſyꝛous,harde.

Diſtrictus mihi videris eſſe, me thynke thou arte bꝛought into ſuche a ſtreite, that thou canſte not tell what to dooe.

Diſtricta fœneratrix, rigoꝛous, cruell.

Diſtrictus & obligatus.

Enſis diſtrictus, a ſwoꝛde dꝛawen.

Diſtrictus negotiis, leat with buſyneſſe.

Diſtrimenta calami, id eſt, partes calami contuſæ, the bꝛoken peces.

Diſtringens, one that rubbeth of the ſweate oꝛ ſpithe of ones bodye in the bayne oꝛ bathe.

Diſtringo, xi, ere, to bynde faſte oꝛ to thꝛong harde, to rubbe of oꝛ clenſe the ſpithe oꝛ filth of the body,to thꝛetten, to ſtꝛyke,to dꝛaw out a ſwoꝛde, to pꝛicke oꝛ touche ſoꝛely, to hurte.

Gladium diſtrinxit, he dꝛewe out his ſwoꝛde.

ſometyme to gather: as,

Sereno cælo manibus diſtringi oliuam oportet, in a fayꝛe cleere daie the olyues muſt be gathered oꝛ plucked by hande.

Ramos diſtringere, to pluckebowes.

Diſtringere cruſtam panis, to chyp bꝛeade,oꝛ to pare of the cruſte.

Diſtringi, to be letted oꝛ buſied,to be greatly occupied.

Distringor officio, I am greatly occupied or vexed with myne office.
Distringere & eradere, To rubbe and scrape awaie.
Exiguum aridi thymi super lac distringito, rubbe or breake in small pieces a litteli dyse thyme vpon the mylke.
Struo, struxi, ere, to buylde in dyuers places or a sunder.
Stranco, aui, are, to cut of a piece of a thyng.
Turbatio, ônis, fœ. ge. a castyng downe, a ryse
synge of a citee.
Turbâtus, a, um, caste or beaten downe.
Turbo, aui, are, to cast downe, to let the enterprise or purpose of one, to ryse or rinsecte, to dyspue awaie.
Ni meus aduentus disturbasset omnia, ne had my comyng letted all to gether.
Sulcus, ci, m. g. an hogge that hath the dyste nes of his necke diuided.
Tâtus, a, um, made riche.
Teo, to be riche.
Tesco, scere, to waxe riche, to waxe welthye.
Thyrambus, a verse made in the honour of Bacchus and a mans name, whiche first found that kynde of verse.
Tio, ônis, f. g. a dominion, diction, power.
Ditioni nasci, to be borne to bee a prince or gouernour.
Redigere in ditionem, to bryngs vnder ones dominion.
In ditione ac potestate aliculus esse, To bee
vnder ones dominion and power.
Cadere sub imperium ditionemq; alicuius, to become subiectes to one.
Tior, tyther.
Tissimus, tytheste of all.
Tito, aui, are, to make tyche, to enryche.
Trochæus, a kote of foure syllables in verse, hauyng one longe, an other shorte, an other longe, and the fourth shorte.
Tu, longe tyme: also the date tyme, wherof cometh interdiu, in the date tyme.
Diu est quod, it is longe sens that.
Haud diu est, it is not long sens.
Non diu huc commigrauit, It is not longe
sens he came hyther.
Quid est in hominum vita diu? what is there in mans lyfe of any continuance?
Diu multumque hæsitaui, quid facere deberem, I was longe in doubt, what was beste for me to doo.
Ne diutius anno in prouintia esset, That he shoulde not be in the prouince aboue a yeres space.
Diua, a woman sainete.
Diuagor, aris, ari, to wander from place to place.
Diuarico, aui, are, to stryde or to spreade wyde one from an other, as boughes of a tree, to goe so brode with the toes, that the heeles be one against an other.

Diuello, uli, ere, to pulle awaie by violence, to pull in sunder.
Diuendo, didi, ere, to sell to dyuers persons, or in dyuers parcelles.
Diuerbero, aui, are, to cutte or cleaue.
Diuerberat auras, it cutteth the aire.
Diuerbium, ij, neu. g. the syrst parte of a comes die also an olde saied sawe.
Diuerbia, partes of comedies, wherein bee
many players.
Diuersè, and Diuersum, diuerselye, in diuerse
partes.
Diuersitas, âtis, fœ. g. diuersitee, contrarietee.
Diuersito, aui, are, to tourne often to a thynge, or to resorte.
Diuersor, aris, ari, to resorte or repayre to a place, to abyde in a place at hoste.
Diuersor, óris, ma. ge. a guest, or one that taketh vp his lodgeyng in a place.
Diuersoriolum, li, n. g. a litteli ynne, or lodgeyng in the countrete.
Diuersórium, rij, neu. gen. an ynne, whereynto men in tourneie doo resorte, to bayte or to be lodged, a lodgeyng sometyme a ferme in the countrete, to resorte to, out of the citee.
Diuersórius, a, um, pertenyng to an ynne or lodgeyng.
Diuersum, the aduerbe: idem quod diuersè.
Diuersus, a, um, diuerse or separate, that tour-neth out of the way, vnlyke, contrary, farre distant. Diuersum distrahi, to bee drawen hy-ther and thyther.
In diuersum afficere aliquem, to make nowe in one mynde, nowe in an other.
In diuersum concitari equi, horses galloped foorth some one waie, and some an other, or contrary waies.
In diuersum curuari, to be bowed diuers or contrary waies.
Diuersa factio, the contrary parte.
Diuersi, men standyng ouer right one against an other, or some on one parte, and some on the other.
Diuersi interrogabantur, they were examined
a parte, one from an other.
Agere diuersos, to dryue some one way, and some an other, to scatter.
Diuersus distrahor, I am rent in pieces, or pulled hyther and thyther.
Diuersa de causa, for a dyuers and contrary cause. A te totus diuersus est, he is cleane contrary from you.
Diuersæ est quàm lactuca naturæ, it is vtterly of an other nature than lettuse.
Acies diuersa, the armie of the enemies.
Afficere aliquem in diuersum, to make one to change his minde.
Animi diuersus, of diuers phantasies one cõ-trarie to an other.
Diuertior, the comparatiue.
Diuerticulum, li, n. ge. the place where the way

tourneth, an inne or lodgeyng, a place to baite at. also in an oracion, the place where the digression beganne.

Diuerticulum fluminis, The tournynge of a ryuer.

Vbi veni ad diuerticulum, constiti, whan I came to the place where the waie tourneth, I stoode styll.

Diuerticulum quærere peccatis, to seke meanes to hyde our offences.

Diuerto, ti, ere, and Diuertor, eris, the deponēt, to tourne from one thynge to an other, to take lodgeyng, or to baite, to tourne out of the waie, sometyme to differe.

Ad hospitem diuertere, to take vp ones lodgeyng at his hoste.

Vt diuertetur ad me in hospicium, That he shoulde come and be at hoste with me, or lodge with me.

Diuertere à proposito, To tourne from the purpose to some other matter.

In hæc diuertisse non fuerit alienum, It wyll not bee farre frō the purpose to speake of these thynges, or to tourne our communication vnto these thynges.

Diuertunt mores virgini longè ac lupæ, The maners of a mayde and of an harlot, differe greatly, or there is great difference betwene a maydes maners and an harlottes.

Diuerto ad te & apud te, I come to lodge with the, or to tarye with the for a tyme.

Diuertere via, to tourne out of the right waie.

Dives, itis, om. g. ryche.

Dives auis, he whose auncestors were ryche.

Copiosus & dives.

Pecoris dives, ryche of cattell.

Dives agris, one that hath great landes.

Dives auro, a man well monied.

Ingenium dives, a plentifull witte.

Diuitior, the comparatiue.

Diuexo, aui, are, to vexe or trouble. also to consume. Diuexare rem suam, to waste his substaunce.

Diuexare agros ciuium, to waste and strop.

Diuidia, æ, fœ. g. tediousenesse, sometyme it betokeneth discorde, busines, trouble, variance.

Diuidiculum, li, n. g. an heed of a cundite.

Diuidium, ij, n. g. a partition or diuident.

Diuido, si, ere, to diuide or parte a sunder, to distribute.

Diuidere sententiam, wher in a counsayle one in his reason seemeth partely to affirme, and partely to disaffirme any thyng, which is to bee dooen: he that speaketh nexte, requyreth hym that hath spoken, to diuide his argument, and abyde vpon one part, whiche he wil either confirme or reprooue, lyke as our lawyers vse to doe, whā bothers titles are brought in one pleadyng, they praie the court that the cōtrary parte maie abyde vpon one of theim, wherunto they will answere: or thus, where one in his reasone semeth to propose bothers opinions, and of all be not allowed, other requyre, that he wyll intreate of eche of them seuerally, to the intent that that, which myslyketh, myght be retected.

Diuiditas, atis, f. g. a diuision or partyng.

Diuidnus, a, um, that whiche maye bee seuered or diuided.

Diuinātio, ōnis, fœ. ge. a iudgement or coniecture. Also where a matter cometh in iudgemente, without wrytynge or wepnelle on eyther parte, that iudgement maie be called Diuinatio, a diuination.

Diuinè, of god, godlye, as it were by inspiration.

Diuinipotens, he that hath power in diuine thynges.

Diuinitas, ātis, f. g. the godhead, diuinitie.

Diuinitus, godly, or of god, excellently well, as were by inspiracion.

Diuino, aui, are, to telle the truthe as well of thynges present, as paste. For the more part it signifieth to coniecte of thynges yeleme, what shall happen, to diuine, to gesse, to iudge, to foredeeme.

Diuinus, ni, a southsater, a diuiner.

Diuinus, a, um, that whiche perteineth vnto, diuine.

Diuinæ rei operam dare, or Diuinum rem facere, To doe sacrifice, to make supplication to god.

Ope diuina, by goddis helpe.

Locus diuinus, a place halowed or consecrated.

Homo diuinus, a godly man.

Diuisio, ōnis, fœm. gene. a diuision, separacion, partition, whereby we declare what we intraunce, or wherby we expresse, of what thynges we wyll treate.

Diuisor, ōris, m. g. among the old Romaines he, which at the election of great officers, handed or gaue moneie to the people in the name of theim that sued for the office, to the intent to attepne it one that distributeth or diuident.

Diuisūra, æ, fœm. g. a diuision, a cliffe, chappe, or gasshe.

Diuisus, a, um, diuided, parted.

Diuisus, us, m. g. idem quod Diuisio.

Diuitiæ, arum, f. g. plurali, rychesse.

Diuitiis abundare, & affluere, to abounde in rychesse.

Cogere, congerere, accumulare diuitias, to gather rychesse.

Superare Crassum diuitiis, to passe Crassus in rychesse, spoken prouerbially.

Diuito, aui, are, to make ryche.

Dium, i, neu. ge. the date tyme vnder the firmament, whan we saie, Sub dio aliquid fieri, it signifieth some thynge to bee dooen abyde, or out of the house.

Diunt, olde writers vsed for dant.

Diuórtium, ij, n. gen. a diuorce or seperacion of a man and his wyfe, sometyme a departyng from any other thynge, a diuision. Sometyme a wate that tourneth.

iurno, aui, are, to lyue longe.

iurnum, i, n. g. a dates hyre.

iurnus, a, um, that is dooen in the day tyme.

Diurna stella, the date sterre.

Diurni libri, bookes contepnyng actes dooen euery date.

ius, a, um, come of a gentill stocke, or lyneally descended from Iupiter. Sometyme for Diuinus, godly: as Sententia dia, for Diuina.

iuuine, longe.

iuuinus, a, um, long continuyng, continuall.

iuuissime, verate longe, or to longe, a verate great whyle.

iuuius, lengar.

iuuule, a litterll whyle, a pretty space.

iuuenitas, atis, fem. ge. a longe space of tyme, longe continuance.

Celeritas & diuturnitas, contrary.

iuuturnus, a, um, longe continuyng.

Bellum diuturnum, a longe warre.

Diuturnus & desperatus morbus, a long and desperate sycknesse.

iuulgatio, onis, f. g. a publyshyng or makyng of a thyng common to all men.

iuulgatus, a, um, made common, published.

Tempus ætatis ad omnes libidines diuulgatum, sette open.

iuulgo, aui, are, to publyshe abrode, to sette a thing in suche condition, as euery man may vse it at his pleasure, to make a thyng common.

iuulsus, a, um, pulled awate, plucked asunder.

iuus, a, um, worthie a diuine remembraunce. Nowe they take Diuum, and Diuam, for a man sainct, or a woman saincte.

Armipotens diua, Minerua.

Casta diua, Pallas. Creatrix diua, Venus.

Imi diui, infernall goddes.

Diuum, is sometyme vsed for the ayre.

D ANTE O.

DO, dedi, dare, to geue. Also to offer or proffer, to graunt, to committe or delyuer, to appoinct, to make, to saie, tell, or declare, to bryng, to obeie, to conforme, to do.

Vt res dant sese, as thynges offer them selues.

Dabit ille ruinam arboribus, he shall bryngе a great fall vnto trees.

Quamobrem has partes didicerim, paucis dabo, For what cause I learned that part, I will shewe the in fewe woordes.

Pollaud paternum istud dedisti, In saith thy father neuer taught the do dooe this: Or thou neuer learnedst to dooe this of thy father.

Da te mihi, Conforme the to my will, or lende me thy helpe, dooe as I would haue the.

Do manus, I render me, I am vanquyshed.

Do lego, I geue by testament or last will.

Dare ambibus, to flatter, or speake to please.

Dare damnas, to paie damage, or to make satisfaction.

Dare facultatem, To geue libertee or power to dooe a thyng.

Dare fidem, to promyse faithfully.

Dare se in pedes, to flee or renne awaie.

Dare in ruborem, to make ashamed, or to make to blusshe.

Dare insidias, to deceyue one, to begyle, to laie waite to deceyue.

Dare se in viam, to take a iourneie.

Dare iusiurandum, to take an othe, to sweare.

Dare malum alicui, to do one a shrewde tourne.

Dare mancipio, to delyuer on warrantyse.

Suo periculo is emat, qui eam mercabitur, mancipio nec; promittet, neque quisquam dabit, He that will haue hir, leat hym bie hir at his owne perill, for no man shall promise or delyuer hir on warrantise.

Dare sermonem alicui, to geue one occasion to speake of vs.

Dare in manum, to put in his hande priuily, as they doo to men of lawe, or priuie solicitours, to corrupte officers.

Dare mutuum, to lende.

Dare negotium, To assigne or appoincte busynesse, or a thyng to be dooen.

Dare operam, to applie, to geue or take heede, or to helpe.

Dare potestatem, to cõmit authoritee or power, to remitte a thyng to an other mans pleasure, to geue licence or libertee.

Suarum omnium rerum illi potestatem dederat, He gaue hym the rule of all that he had.

Dare pœnas, to suffer punyshement.

Dare se alicui, to folowe one, or to obserue his commaundement.

Dare venam, to forgeue.

Dare verba, To deceyue by fayre woordes or promyses.

Dare vitio, to dispraise or blame.

Dauunt, idem quod dant, they geue.

Adeo exornatum dabo, I wyll so decke or trym hym.

Quis tibi hoc dederit? who will graunt you this?

Dedi me prouinam, I wente foorth by and by.

Dare libellum perferendum ad aliquem, to deliuer a booke to ber caried to one.

Prout res & tempus se daret, To the mattier and tyme shoulde serue and geue occasion.

Quod datur accipio, I take that is offered, spoken prouerbially.

Dare actionem, to admitte the plaintike to enter his action.

Dare defensionem, to suffer the defendaunt to make his aunswere.

Dare aditum, to suffer one to enter.

Dare adiumentum, to helpe.

Animos dare, to make more courageous, to stoute mache men.

Priusquam animum meum isti dedi, Before I ſette my phantaſy vpon this woman: before I degan to loue this woman.

Dare anſam, to gene occaſion.
Dare arbitros, to appoynt arbitours, or indifferent iudges in a matter.
Dare aures, to harken.
Rem tibi authorem dabo, the matter ſelfe ſhall declare to you that it is ſo.
Beneficium dare, to doo a pleaſure.
Date bibere, geue hym drynke.
Dare ciuitatem alicui, to make one free of a citee.
Clangorem dare, to make a noyſe.
Cœnam dare, to make one a ſupper.
Dare colloquium alicui, to ſpeake to one.
Dare ſe comitem alicui, To aſſociate hym ſelfe with one.
Ipſum geſtio dari mihi in conſpectum, I wold very fayne haue hym brought hyther before me.
Dare ſe in familiaritatem alicuius, To aſſociate or make hym ſelfe familiar with a man.
Dare copiã, to geue licence, to permitte, to ſuffre.
Dare crimini, to laie to ones charge, to blame, to accuſe.
Dare curam, to commit a charge and buſineſſe.
Dare in cuſtodiam, to commit to ward or priſon.
Dare damnum, to hurte, to endomage.
Decus dare, to dooe worſhyp.
Dare dextras, to promiſe. alſo to helpe.
Dare dicta, to ſpeake.
Dare dolorem, to make heauy and ſorowfull.
Dare documentum, to ſhewe a proofe of a thing,
to booe to wete.
Dare aliquid dono, to gene a thyng freely.
Oculis epulas dare, to delite the eies.
Da me excruciatum, puniſhe me, tourment me.
Exitio dare, to put to deathe.
Caſus dedit hunc exitum, Chaunce or fortune, brought it to this ende.
Dare fabulam, to plaie a comedie.
Dabo factum, I will bryng it to paſſe.
Dabo famæ, I will ſpreade it abrode.
Dare in fœnus, to lende money for gayne, as vſurers dooe.
Dare frenos, & dare habenas, To geue the bry-dell, to ſette at liberte, to let one doo as he will.
Dabit fructum meliorem, It will yelde better fruite.
Dare fugam, to put to flyght.
Dare ſe in fugam, to renne awaie.
Gemitum dare, to grone.
Dare aliquid gratiæ alicuius, to doo a thyng for a mans pleaſure.
Dare ſe hilarem alicui, To ſhewe hym ſelfe merie and iocunde in ones companie.
Hoſpicium dare, to entertepne or lodge one.
Dare impetum, to ruſhe againſt a thing, to renne violently againſt ones ennemies.
Impunitatem dãdam puto, I thynke it beſte that he ſcape vnpunyſhed, or that he be forgeuen.
Dare iura, to preſcribe lawes.
Dare ſe in laqueum, to hange hym ſelfe

Dare laudem, to praiſe.
Dare libertatem, to make free.
Dare literas alicui ad aliquem, To deliuer one letters to carry to an other.
Dare ad literas alicuius, to write an anſwere to ones letters.
Dare ſe literis, to geue hym ſelfe to ſtudy.
Dare ſe labori, to geue hym ſelfe to labour.
Dare mãmam, to geue the dugge, to geue ſucke.
Dare mandata, to geue charge.
Dare aliquid in mandatis, to commaunde one to doo or ſaie a thyng.
Dare manum, To ſtryke handes in ſigne of agreement.
Manus intus dare, to put ones hãdes into a plat.
Aliquid in manus hominum dare, to publyſhe a thynge abrode.
Dare in manus alicui, to deliuer to one.
Plena manu dare, to geue liberally, to geue ſtou-dauntly.
Dare manibus alicuius, to doo ſomewhat to the comforte of the ſpirite of one that is deade.
Dare manibus, to kyll, to ridde out of lyfe.
Memoriæ dare, to write, to put in memory.
Dare nomen militiæ, or ad militiam, To put ones ſelf to haue his name written to go to warre.
Dare obliuioni, to forgette.
Dare obuiam, to mete.
Da mihi paulum operæ, helpe me a litteli.
Dare operam abortioni, to endeuoure to haſnaple before the tyme.
Aurium operam tibi dabo, I will harken to thy tale.
Dare operam Platoni, to be Platos ſcholer.
Dare operam domino, to ſerue ones maiſter.
Nunc id operam do, Nowe I go about this, I endeuour to bryng this to paſſe.
Operam mutuam dare, to helpe one an other.
Dare operam rei, to endeuour or labour in pa
gooddes.
Dare operam ſomno, to ſleape.
Dare oſculum, to kyſſe.
Palmam dare, To geue the price to one in an thynge. Hæ partes ei datæ ſunt, this office is appoynted to hym.
Dare plagas, to be beate.
Dare poculum, to geue one the cup to drynke
Datur potiui ad iocinerum vitia, It is geuen a be dronken againſt the diſeaſes of the lyuer.
Dare præcipitem, or in præceps, to caſt downe head longe.
Dare precibus alicuius, to doe that one requeſt
Quem nuper in publicum dedi, which he late publyſhed or ſette abrode.
Reſponſum dare, to make anſwere.
Riſus dare, to make one laugh, to geue occaſion to laugh.
Dare ſalutem aduenienti, to ſalute one comyng
to vs. Nobis dedit ſe, he hath committed hym ſelfe wholly into our handes.
Dare ſenatum legatis, to admitte the ambaſſa-doures

ours to come into the senate, and to here theie requestes.
Oculis mihi signum dedit, he winked vpō me.
Dare signum receptui, to blowe the retreate.
atis signi dedit, he shewed or declared sufficiently.
Dare silentium, be styll, kepe silence.
Dare se somno, to lye downe and sleape.
Dare sonitum, to make a sowne.
Specimen hosti exercitus abeuntis dedit, he made semblaunce to his enemie, as though he woulde departe with his armye.
Dare specimen indolis, to shewe a token or proofe of his towardnesse.
Dare spem vitæ, to put one in hope of lyfe.
Dare stragem, to make a great slaughter.
Qui plus studij in hoc dederunt, whiche haue bestowed more study or diligēce vpon the same.
Dabis ei vltro supplicium, Thou wilt be well content that he shall punyshe the.
Dare suspitionem timoris, to make one beleue that he is afrayde.
Symbolum dedit, he paied his shotte.
Dare tempus, menses, diem alicui rei, to bestowe or emploie the tyme. &c.
Tempus colloquio non dabat, he appointed no tyme to common of the mattier.
Terga dare, to renne awaie, to shewe a paire of heles.
Testes in aliquem dare, to bryng foorth wytnesse agaynst one.
Testimonium in aliquem dare, to beare one witnesse.
Vela in altum dare, to hoise vp the sayles.
Turbas dare, to make trouble or busynesse.
Vadem dare, to put in suertee, that he will appere at the date appointed.
Date mihi hanc veniam, forgeue me this offence, graunte me this requeste.
Dare viam, to geue one the waie, to shewe one the meanes to bryngе a thyng to passe.
Dare victum, to fynde one meate and drynke.
Dare vitio, to blame.
Dare probro, to reproche, to rebuke.
Si dabitur, yf I maie.
Dato meo, of my gyfte.
Datum est mihi, it was geuen me in my cradle.
Doceo, cui, ēre, to teache or geue knowlage, or to enfourme, or aduise, to proue.
Docere fabulam, to plaie a comedie.
Erudire ac docere.
Docere aliquem fidibus, to teache one to plaie on the harpe.
Mala docet te mea facilitas multa, my gentilnesse causeth the to commit much lewdnes.
Quæ me docerent quid agerem, which myght enfourme me what you dyd.
Docebo omnia esse vera, I will declare to you all those thynges to be true.
Docuit post exitus, The ende of the mattier afterwarde declared.

Docibilis, le, apte to be taught, or after Priscia, that is easyly learned.
Docilis, le, lyghtly taught, easily instructed.
Docilis ad rem aliquam, easy to be taught or instructed in any thynge.
Nimio es tu ad istas res docilior, thou arte to readie a scholer to these thynges: or thou learnest these thynges to fast.
Dochimus, mi, m. g. a foote in meeter, of. v. syllables, the fyrst short, the nexte two longe, the fourth shorte, and the fifth longe.
Docilitas, ātis, fœm. g. aptnesse to learne, easynesse to bee taught.
Doclea, a citee of Liburnia.
Docte, cunnyngly, learnedly, prayfly, featly.
Doctor, ōris, m. g. he that teacheth other.
Sapientiæ doctores, philosophyers.
Doctrina, æ, f. g. doctrine, techyng, instruction.
Doctrina animum excolere, To garnyshe the mynde with learnyng.
Doctus, a, um, learned, taught, instructed.
Rudis & doctus, contrary.
Mediocriter doctus, meanely learned.
Doctus græcè & latinè, or Doctus græcis & latinis literis, learned bothe in greeke & latine.
Docti doli, crafty deceiptes.
Iuris ciuilis doctus, well learned in the ciuile lawe, a good ciuilian.
Doctus grammaticæ artis, a good grāmarian.
Documentum, ti, n. g a lesson, a proofe, or experiment of a thing.
Documentum statuere, To geue to one the first instruction.
Documento habere aliquem, to take an example by one, to beware by an other man.
Capere documentum ex re aliqua, to learne by example of any thyng.
Docus, i, m. g. a tymber piece, or beame.
Dodecatheon, a certayne herbe.
Dodona, a citee in Grece, wherby was a wood, in the whiche men thought that trees spake.
Dodone, the doughter of Iupiter and Europa.
Dodoneus, a, um, of Dodona.
Dodonis, idis, one of Dodona.
Dodonides, certayne nymphes, the nourses of Liber pater.
Dodra, æ, fœm. gen. was a drynke made of nyne thynges, herbes, fruyte, water, wyne, salt, oyle, bread, hony, and pepper.
Dodrans, antis, ma. gene. a poyse, weyghyng ix. ounces. It is also ix. of the measures called Cinthi. also it is sometyme taken for the nynth parte of any thynge diuided into xii. partes, or of any whole som or quantitee, that whiche remayneth, when the fowerth parte is debated. it also signifieth the length or bredth of ix fyngers. ix. ynches.
Caulis dodrantalis, a stalke or stemme of. ix. ynches hygh.
Ex dodrante hæredem facere, To make one heyre of all, saueng the foorth parte, or of three

partes

partes of his heritage, beyng diuided into. viii.
Ex dodrante vsura, gayne of. ix. in the hundred, as for a hundred pound. ix.
Dodrantâlis, le, that is of nyne ounces, or. ix. ynches.
Dogma, ătis, neu. gene. a certayne determination, whiche in sectes of philosophiers euery one had, without the whiche the secte failed. sometyme they bee called Placita.
Dogmatistes, he that inducth any secte or opinion.
Dolabella, læ, f. g. a litteli axe, an hatchet.
Dolabella, a Romayn, Ciceros sonne in lawe.
Dolabelliana pira, certayn peares, so named of Dolabella the fyrst graffer of them.
Dolâbra, æ, fœ. ge. a carpenters axe. also a picke axe, a mattocke.
Dolâbro, aui, are, to hewe as a carpenter doth.
Dolenter, sorowfully, greuously.
Dolentia, æ, f. g. greke, sorowe.
Doleo, ui, ère, to feele peyne or greke, to be sorowfull or displeasaunt, to be sorie.
Dolere caput, pedes, oculos, The head, fete, or eyen to ake.
Doleo tuis rebus aduersis, I am sory for thy misfortune or trouble.
Doleo tuam vicem, I am sory on thy behalfe.
Hoc mihi dolet, I am sory for this.
Dolet mihi, quod tu stomacharis, I am sory that ye be angry.
Dolet hoc cordi meo, This thynge greeueth myne herte.
Dolet dictum, I am sory that ye spake it, or that it was spoken.
Dolere interritum alicuius, To bee sory for ones deathe.
Dolent hac re oculi mei, it greueth me to see this thynge.
Vin' ne facere, quo viro tuo oculi doleant? Wylt thou do that, that shall greue thy husbande to see?
Successu alicuius dolere, To be sory for an other mans prosperitee.
Facile fit illi, quod doleat, pon mate easyly do that, whiche mate greue hym.
Dolere laude aliena, to bee sory for an other mans prayse.
Doliche, an yande called berore Icaris.
Dolichiste, an yande.
Doliaris, re, great lyke a tunne.
Dolia, id est, Cicuta.
Doliâris anus, an old wyfe with a bealye lyke a tunne.
Doliaris helluo, a gorbealyed glutton.
Doliârium, rij, n. g. a wyne sellar.
Doliarius, a maker of tunnes.
Dolichódromi, they that renne. xii. furlonges at one course or rase.
Dólichus, a space of grounde, conteynyng xii. furlonges.
Dolichi, a kynd of pulse, idem quod Lobæ.
Dolium, lij, neu. ge. any great vessell of wyne as a tunne, a pype, a butte or hogges head. In the olde tyme it contened. xxx. of the measure called Amphoras.
Dolo, aui, are, to cutte or hewe smooth with an axe or sythe.
Dolare opus aliquod, to make a thyng rudely or grossely, as it were to rough hewe it.
Dolon, the proper name of a man of Troy, that was berate swyfte on foote.
Dolon, ônis, ma. ge. a speare or staffe, and also som, a scurge, haupnge a dagger or other thynge closed within it. it is also a certayne instrument helpyng of thyeues. also a lyttell sayle, called a trynket.
Dolopeius, a, um, of the people called Dolopes.
Dolopes, people of Thessalie.
Dolor, ôris, ma. g. greke or peyne of the body or mynde. also sorowe, wofulnesse.
Dolor partus, throwes and panges of labor.
Laterum dolor, the disease called pleurisie.
Dolor luctusque, sorowe and mournyng.
Conflictari dolore capitis, To bee greeued with head ache.
Facere dolorem, to put to peyne or greke.
Dolorem accipere, capere, assumere, To take sorowe.
Dolorem abstergere, adimere, demere, discutere, eripere, To put awaie sorowe, peyne, or heaupnesse.
Facere & mouere capitis dolorem, To make the head to ake.
Dolorem lenire, leuare, minuere, mitigare, To swage peyne or sorowe.
Affici, or angi dolore, to be peyned or greeued, to be sorowfull.
Dolore tabescere, to pyne awaie with sorowe.
Remisit se dolor, the peyne asswageth or diminysheth.
In dolore esse, to be in peyne, to be sorowfull.
Refricare dolorem, to renue sorowe, that is almoste gone or passe.
Dolorificus, a, um, that whiche maketh greke or sorowe.
Doloro, aui, are, to cause one to haue sorowe or peyne.
Dolosè, deceptfully.
Dolósus, a, um, deceptfull, or craftye, spitefull, fraudulent.
Dolus, li, m. g. gyle, decepte, trumpery.
Dolus malus, euery craftye decepte to compasse a man, where by he receyueth damage, malengine, craft, fraude, collusion, deceitful dealing.
Iam tum erat suspicio, dolo malo hæc fieri omnia, Euen than I suspected, that all shulde be doone by fraude and collusion.
Adhibere dolum, to vse decepte.
Dolus malus, and bona fides, contrary.
Caperé aliquem dolis, to begyle one.
Carent successu doli, his craftye endeuours someth well to passe.

Con-

Consuere dolos, looke Consuo.
Deludere dolis, to beggle.
Dolus, was of the auncient writers vsed in the good parte.
Omábilis, le, that maie bee tamed, or easy to bee tamed.
Omátor, óris, m. g. idem quod Domitor.
Omátio, ónis, f. ge. a tamyng or bryngyng vnder subiection.
Omesticum, by householdes, house by house.
Omestici, householde seruauntes, or dwellers in one house.
Omesticus, a, um, pertepnyng to householdes, sometyme it signifieth tame, familiar, sometyme priuate.
Domestica exempla, examples of theyr owne kynrede.
Externum & domesticum, contrary.
Omicilium, ij, n. ge. a mancion place.
Omicœnium, ij, neu. ge. a supper at home in a mans owne house.
Omina, æ, f. g. a lady or maistresse.
Ominátio, ónis, a domination or authoritee ouer other, maistershyp.
Ominátor, óris, masc. gene. a master, ruler, or gouernour.
Ominatrix, icis, the feminine.
Ominatus, us, idem quod Dominatio.
Cupiditas dominatus, desyre to beare rule.
Captare dominatum, or dominationem, To go about to get dominion or rule.
Dominicus, a, um, pertepnynge to the lorde or maister. Dominicus dies, sundaie.
Pecunia dominica, the maysters monete.
Dominium, nij, neu. ge. a lordshyp or rule ouer other, empire, dominion.
Dominor, aris, ari, to rule or haue soueraintee, to be lord or maister ouer other. It is sometyme vsed passiuely.
Fortuna in omni re dominatur, Fortune beareth a rule in euery thyng.
Dominari alicui, in aliquem, inter aliquos, in re aliqua.
Dominari & rerum potiri, to reigne and beare authoritee, to haue dominion and rule.
Dominus, i, ma. ge. a lorde or mayster, to whom other doo seruice. also an owner. sometyme an husbande.
Dominus epuli, the mayster of the feaste.
Bonus assiduusque dominus, a good and diligent husbande or house keper.
Domiporta, tæ, f. g. a pyllour or other lyke thing that beareth vp an house, or rather a snaple, that alway beareth his house with hym.
Domis, was taken of old writers for Dominus.
Domitális, le, apte to bee tamed or broken.
Domitius, the name of dyuers Romayns.
Dómito, aui, áre, to tame.
Dómitor, óris, ma. g. a tamer or breaker of that whiche is wylde, a subduer or vanquisher.
Domitor equorum, an horse breaker.
Gentium domitor, a conquerour or subduer of nations.
Dómitrix, icis, the feminine.
Domitúra, æ, fœ. g. the acte of tampyng or breakyng of any wylde beast.
Dómitus, us, a tampyng or breakyng.
Dómitus, a, um, made tame, subdued, or vanquyshed, brought vnder.
Domnonij, a people of the countrey in England called Deuonshyre.
Domo, aui, or ui, áre, to make tame, sometyme to vanquishe, to subdue.
Domare terram aratro, to tyll the grounde.
Frangere & domare nationes, To conquere and subdue countreys.
Domare hostes, to vanquishe enemies.
Domitio, ónis, fœ. ge. a departyng or turnyng home again.
Domus, us, or mi, fœm. ge. an house generally. sometyme a temple or churche. also a familie or kynrede. also a mannes countrey. also a birdes nest.
Domo, from home.
Domum, to the house or home. sometyme at home. It is vsed sometyme aduerbially.
Domus, the accusatiue case plurall, home to theyr houses.
Multiplex domus, an house that hath many roumes one within an other.
De domo numerare, to lend one of his owne monete, or as we vse to saie, to lende one money out of his purse or coffer.
Obire domos amicorum, to goe from one frendes house to an other.
Continere se domi, to kepe hym self at home.
Domi & foris, contrary.
Cuius domi tu fueras, at whose hous ye wer.
Qui istius domi erat educatus, Whiche was brought vp in this mans house.
Domi est animus, my mynde is at home on my householde.
Domi & militiæ, in peace and in warre.
Domi focique fac memineris, See thou goe home and make a good fyre.
Domi apud me, at home at my house.
Domi nostræ, suæ, alienæ.
Ad me adducta est domum, she was brought home to my house. Likewyse Ad se domum, and Ad nos domum. Capescere & conuertere se domum, to go home.
Eum domum suam receperunt, They tooke hym home to theyr house.
Domo abire, to go fourth of the doores.
Domo huc accersitus sum, I was sent for hyther home to come hyther.
Domo cœnare, to suppe forth of the doores.
Domus suas quemq; ire iubet, he commaundeth euery man to go home to his owne house.
Ex hac domu, out of this house.

D ANTE O.

✤ Domus amica, domus optima, home is homely, and out of danger. In his owne house a man may be bold.

Domus, i, o, a dwellyng house.

Donarium, ij, n. g. an house where suche thynges were kepte, as were geuen to the goddis, after Seruius, but after Valla it is a gyft, and not the house, where the gyfte is kepte. also it maye bee taken for a dole of monete.

Donaticæ coronæ, garlandes that in olde tyme were worne in plaies.

Donátio, ônis, fœ. g. a free geuyng.

Donatio propter nuptias, a womans dowry.

Donatistæ, heretikes that affirmed the congregacion of christian people to bee no where but with theim. Wherfore those that came frō the catholyke parte to theim, they dyd efte soones baptyse. Also they affirmed, that in the churche wer no yll people, but onely good. And that they onely perteyned to the churche. The authour of this heresie was Donatus, a Numidian, about the yere of our lorde. 353.

Donatiuum, i, n. ge. a gyfte in monete or grayn, geuen by emperors to the people. also to souldiours aboue theyr wages.

Donatiuus, he that is able to geue.

Donâtus, i, mas. gene. a grammarian, maister to saunct Hierom.

Donâtus, a, um, to whome any thyng is geuen.

Donax, âcis, m. g. a reede or cane, wherof menne made arrowes. It maye be vsed for an angling rodde made of a cane.

Donec, vntyll, sometyme as long as.

Vsque donec veniat, vntyll he come ageyne.

Donec viuo, as longe as I lyue.

Donicum, idem quod Donec.

Dono, aui, are, to geue lyberally or freely.

Donare ciuitate, to make a citesen.

Donare æternitate, to make a perpetuall memoriall of one.

Dono te hac re, & dono tibi hanc rem, I geue the this thyng.

Donare alicui multa, large, & effusè, To reward one bountifully and liberally.

Donare vacatione, To exempte one from any charge.

Donare aliquem gaudiis, to make one glad.

Donare aliquem dono, to presente one with a gyfte, to geue freely to one.

Donum, i, n. g. a gyfte, a rewarde.

Accumulare aliquem donis, to geue one many gyftes, or many presentes.

Conferre donum, to bestowe a gyfte.

Dona peragere, To geue that one hath promysed.

Donysa, an yle in the sea Egeum.

Dorcadias, a certayn herbe, called also mustium, and is good for diseases of the liuer.

Dorcas, dórcadis, fœ. ge. a bucke or a doe. Idem quod caprea, a roe bucke.

Doria, and Dorica, names of countreis ioignyng to Athens.

Dorica lingua, the language of the people called Dories, the .v. tongue of the Grekes.

Dorica, a certayne kourme of musike, whiche was presented a wonderfull gratitee: and therfore was assigned vnto noble personages, and vsed in tragedies.

Dorcidion, the herbe Dictamum.

Dorij, Dorienses, or Dories, a people in Grece so called of a people inhabityng by the mountayne Oeta, whiche wanderyng like to the Gothes, by force wanne certayne countreys, and finally subdued the olde inhabitaunces.

Dorion, a towne of Acaia.

Doriphagi, they which deuoure and eate by gobbes, we may call theim mainch presentes.

Doris, idis, the countrete by the hill Oeta.

Doris, a nymph of the sea, and is interpreted by temperate. Also an herbe called Anchusa.

Doriscus, a place in Thrace, whiche conteyned .xxx. thousande. men, by the whiche Xerxes numbred his great army.

Dorius, a ryuer of Portugal.

Dorius, a, um, idem quod Doricus, a, um.

Dormio, iui, ire, to sleape.

✤ Dormire in vtrámuis aurem, I pounde, signifyng to bee without any manner of care. It maie bee englyshed to sleape soundely on both sydes.

Dormire in dextram aurem, fiducia alterius, whan a man putteth his truste in an other, and is no longer carefull for a thyng.

In vtrámuis oculum dormire, idem quod vtramuis aurem dormire.

Dormire ad, or in lucem, to sleape vntyll a bee daie.

Dormire totum mane, To sleape all the morning.

Non omnibus dormio, I am not redye at euery mans callyng.

Dormisco, scere, to sleape or begyn to sleape.

Dormitâtor, ôris, ma. g. a sleaper, a sluggarde, a negligent persone.

Dórmito, aui, are, to slumbre, to be almoste on sleape, to nappe.

Dormitandum tibi non est, Thou must not lynger the matter negligently, or go about it as thou were a sleape.

Dormitórium, rij, neu. ge. a doytour or place to sleape in.

Dormitórius, a, um, that whiche perteyneth to sleape.

Dorodocia, æ, f. gen. corruption of iudges with gyftes and rewardes.

Doron, a gyfte or rewarde.

Dorónicum, rónici, neu. g. a precious and holsome roote, brought from Mauritania, of the quantitee of a mannes fynger, and is knotte, as it were ioyntes. It is putte into confections made for diseases of the stomake and lacke of perfect digestion. Ruellius supposeth it to be that, hat, whiche of the grekes is called Arnabo, of som Carnabum, or Zamabum. It is hot and dry in the thyrde degree.

rophorus, ri, masc. gene. he that careth a present.
pia, were certayne dayes, whiche the Athe-nienses kepte solemne, in open feastynge and banketyng.
rsualia, orum, pannelles, whiche horses doo weare on theyr backes, whan they doo carry or drawe.
rsuarius, looke Dossuarius.
rsum, si, neu. gen. a backe of a man or beaste.
sometyme a promontory.
Dorsum in mari, an heape of sande gathered in the sea, whiche watermen doo call a sheike.
rsuosus, a. um, that hath many unequall places in the backes.
rsus, us, idem quod Dorsum.
rticum, a citee of Mysia, by the riuer Danubie.
rus, the sonne of Neptunus, whiche reigned in a parte of Greece.
rx, orcis, a roe bucke.
ryclus, the bastarde sonne of Priamus.
rycnion, the herbe called Solanum somni-ferum.
rylæum, or Dorylaum, a great citee of Phrygia.
rylas, one of the Centaures.
ryphorus, ri, masc. gene. a certayne gentylman, attendynge about the persone of a kyng, whiche bare a tauelyn in his hande. Suche of late yeres also princes haue used to haue, and are called speares, thoughe they beare onely in theyr handes battaile axes, which they call with vs pensioners.
os, oris, f. g. dowerye, lande geuen in mariage to the husbande for cause of the mariage only.
It is also qualitee of a person geuen by nature.
Dotes animi, indowementes of the soule, that is to saie, the giftes of grace.
Dotes corporis, indowementes of the body, that is to saie, beautee, strength, helth, &c. the giftes of nature.
Dos profectitia, dowery that the parentes geue of theyr owne goodes.
Dos aduentitia, dowery that other geue to the parentes to bestow upon their doughters.
Do is, id est, dario.
Dosones, are they that promise many thynges.
Dossuarius, that beareth or carieth any thyng on the backe.
Dossum, olde writers used for Dorsum.
Dotalis, le, that pertayneth to dowery.
Bona dotalia, dotalis fundus, goodes or landes geuen with a woman in mariage.
Dotatus, a, um, endowed, that hath dowery geuen unto it.
Doto, aui, are, to indowe.
Doxa, æ, fœm. gene. in greke signifieth opinion, glory.

Drabis, an herbe, that groweth halfe a cu-bite high, and hath a tufte at the toppe like to elder.
Dracana, æ, f. g. the female dragon.
Draccus, a capitayne of Italia, vanquysshed by Lucius Mummius the Romayne.
Drachma, æ, for. g. the. viii. parte of an ounce in weyght or measure. It was also a coyne signed with a bullocke, whiche counterpeysed a peyse grote, beyng. viii grotes the weyght of an ounce.
Drachma auri, was xii syluer dragmas, of our monete nowe. v. s. ix. d.
Vix drachmis obsonatus est decem, he scant-ly bestowed. xl. d. upon the banket.
Draco, ônis, m. g. a dragon. One called Draco, first gaue lawes to the Atheniens, wherein he appoynted death for euery small faulte. Wherfore it was said, he wrate his lawes with the bloud of men.
Draconarius, rii, m. g. a standarde bearer.
Dracones, of Plinie bee taken for olde braunches of vines. Also it is an herbe called Pyretrum, it bourneth and byteth the tungue, as well the leafe as the roote: In englysshe Pellitory of Spayne.
Draconigena, of poetes was called the citee of Beœotia, because it was builded by Cadmus, &
the fiue men that sprang of the dragons teethe.
Draconites, a precious stone, that can not bee engraued, nor wrought in.
Draconitis, a stone taken out of a serpentes head, sodenly stryken of, or elles it resolueth in the brayne, whyle he dyeth. It is also called Draconites.
Draconium, nii, n. g. an herbe called Dragons.
Dracunculus, li, ma. g. a litteli dragon. It is also an herbe called Dragons, named also Dracontea, for Dracontium, Dracunculus, and Dracontea, reade diligently Ruellius in his seconde booke. 96. and. 97. chapiters.
Dragma, drágmatis, n. g. a gripe or handfull.
Draguntea, an herbe called Dragons.
Drama, drámatis, n. g. where in a comedie or interlude, diuers personages be brought in, some abydyng, some departyng.
Drangiana, a prouince in Asia the more.
Drausi, a people of Thrace, whiche at the birth of chyldren make great lamentacion, and at the death make great ioy.
Drepanum, a citee in Italy called now Trapani.
Drilon, a ryuer of Dalmatia, called commonly Drino.
Dromas, drómadis, ma. gen. a kynde of camels
lee, whiche haue two bunches on theyr backes, and are meruaylous swyfte, and maye sus-teyne to be three daies without drynke, whan
they be iourneied.
Dromedarij, a kind of camelles.
Dromónes, certayne fyshes.
Dromus, the place, where men doo renne horses to trie the swyftnesse of them.

Dro-

Dropax, drópacis, m. g. a noble oyntment made with pitche, excellentely commended of Galenus, and other famous phisitians.

Druides, dum, or Druidæ, arum, were somtyme in Fraunce called Gallia, one of the. ii. estates, of lyke condition, as the spiritualtee is nowe among vs. They had in great estimacion woddes of great okes, and in meruaylous reuerẽce all thynges that grewe on okes, specially mistelden, affirmyng that it was sent from heuen. Their sacrifice was in this fourme. Under an oke, wheron grew mistelden, they caused meate to bee prepared and set, and two white bulles to be brought foorth, whose hornes were than fyrst bounden, that is to saye, were sette fyrst in the ploughe or wayne. Than the prieste (beyng cladde in whyte) clambe vp to the tree, and hauyng a bill of golde in his hand, dyd shredde or cutte of the mistelden: than offered they the sacrifice, prayeng, that the gyfte that shoulde be geuen, myght be to theim that shoulde receyue it prosperous and fortunate, supposyng that the beast, whiche was barren, yf he dranke of the mistelden, shulde be fruitfull, and that it was a sure remedy agaynst all poyson. It is supposed, that their superstition came fyrst out of this yle called Britayne.

Drupæ, ârum, fœ. g. are olyues or ople bearyes, whiche are betwene greene and rype, and doos beggynne to ware blacke.

Drusomagus, a citee of Rhetia, called commonly Kempten.

Drusus, the name of a Romayn, of ryght noble lynage, and eloquence, but he was proude and ambicious.

Dryas, the proper name of a man of Thessaly, friende of Nestor.

Dryades, were fayries of wooddes.

Dryidæ, idem quod Druidæ.

Dryimus, mi, ma. ge. a littell wooryme founde in the roote of an oke, so myschcuous a poyson, that yf one treade on hym barefooted, foorthes with the shynne cometh of, and all the legge swelleth: And (whiche is more to be meruayled at) they that handle hym, that is hurte: doos lose their shynne. About the place where the saied wooryme hath bytten, is a redneſſe, with a swellyng, and there ryseth lyttell wheales, out of the whiche cometh a watrie humour. also there happeneth vnto hym that is hurte, sreatynges in the stomake and bealy. One remedy therfore is ahorres beaten in a morter, and dronken with wyne. also the roote of holly bruysed, and layde to the place, dooeth myti gate the peyne.

Drylon, looke Drilon.

Drymodis, afterwarde Pelasgus, is nowe called Archadie.

Dryopes, people of Epirus.

Dryophites, a kynde of frogges.

Dryophonon, a certayne herbe.

Dryópteris, f. g. an herbe that groweth on olde okes trees, amonge the mosse, and is lyke a ferne: but the creaues or incisions of the leaues bee lesse, and the rootes bee roughe, and twysted together, and in taste somwhat swete. Some call it Osmunde royall, some petie ferne, or oke ferne.

Dryos, tyme growyng in okes.

Drys, in laten quercus, an oke.

Drypetæ, ripe olyues readie to fall from the tree.

D ANTE. V.

DVa, olde wryters vsed for Duo, in the neu. gen. plu. num.

Duâlis, le, pertcynyng to two.

Dubar, for Dubitat, a woorde out of vse.

Dubenus, ni, ma. g. was of olde Romayns taken for Dominus.

Dubiôsus, a, um, doubtfull.

Dubis, a ryuer in Fraunce, called Le doux.

Dubitabilis, le, that maie be doubted of.

Dubitatim, Dubiè, Dubitanter, doubtfully.

Duditatio, ônis, f. g. a doubte.

Adducere in dubitationẽ, to bryng in doubt.

Adferre dubitationem alicui, to bryng one a doubte.

Cæsar respondet, eo sibi minus dubitationis dari, quod &c. Cesar answered, that he doubted the lesse of the matter, because. &c.

Quod quamquam dubitationem non habeat, Whiche thyng all thoughe it bee not to bee doubted of.

Nullam apud me dubitationẽ reliquisti, Ye haue put me cleane out of doubte: or ye haue not caused me to doubt any thyng at all.

Dubitâtus, a, um, doubtefull, vncertayne.

Dubito, aui, are, to bee in doubte, or to mistryme, to mystruste, to bee afrayde, to studye a muse or studie.

Dubitatur, men doubte.

Dubitare & hæsitare.

Quid dubitas dicere? why arte thou afrayde to speake it?

Quid dubitat dare? Why standeth he musyng whether he maie geue it or noe?

Dubitare de fide alicuius, to mystruste one.

Hæc dum dubitas, menses abierunt decem, Whyle thou haste been doubting of these matters, tenne monethes be come and gone.

Dubius, a, um, doubtefull, daungerous, perylouse, vncertayne. also that is in danger.

Dubius, is he that hath two ways, and woteth not whiche to take.

Dubia cœna, a banckette, whereat are so many and dyuers meates, that a man knoweth not of whiche he maie eate.

Dubiæ res, thynges doubtefull, or daungerouse.

Haud dubium est mihi, I doubte not.

Dubium id ne est? Doos you doubte therof? or z is there any doubte therin?

Dubio procul, without doubt.
Perſpicuum & dubium, contrary.
Dubium argentum, moncie, wherof one is in doubte, whether it bee good or no.
Accipe argẽtum, ſi quid erit dubium, immu-abo, Take the moncie, yf there bee any that ye be in doubte of, whether it bee good, I wyll chaunge it.
Dubium cælum, The ayre partly clere, partly ouercaſt with cloudes.
Lux dubia, daunpng of the daie.
Dubij rumores, vncertayne rumours.
Dubia tempora, daungerous and perylous tymes.
Dubium niſui, doutfull or dangerous to en-terpriſe.
ducātus, us, m. g. the gouernaunce or conduct of men. alſo a duchie.
Ducatus præſtare, to bee capitayn of an hoſt, to bryngc men to battayle.
ducātus, ti, a royne called a ducate.
ducenarius, a captayne of two hundred men.
ducenarius, a, um, of 200. weight.
ducenti, æ, a, two hundred.
ducenteſimus, a, um, the two hundred.
ducenties, two hundred tymes.
ducēnus, a, um, two hundred.
Duceni anni, two hundred yeres.
duco, xi, ere, to bryngc or to leade theym that bee wyllyngc, to haue reſpecte to a thing, to al-lecte or ſtyre by ſome pleaſaunt meane, to re-uolue, to drawe, as a man drawcth a ſwoorde, to geat, to gouerne or guide, to go, to ſpende or paſſe the tyme, to buylde or make vp, to delaye or prolonge, to wedde or door the acte of ma-ryage. ſometyme it ſignifieth dooeyng, as Du-cere ſomnos, to ſlepe. Sometyme to tourne awap, as Ducere vultus, to tourne awape the countenaunce or vyſage: to goe downe, as, Ego me duco arborc, I went downe of the tree. ſometyme to ſuppoſe, to iudge, to eſteeme or thynke.
Hanc eſſe in te ſapientiam exiſtimant, vt o-mnia tua in te poſita eſſe ducas, men thynke that wyſedome to bee in you, that ye thynke all that whiche is yours, to be in your ſelfe, and not in fortune.
Ducere ætatem, to ſpende ones tyme.
Ducere animum, to ryue alſo to drawe breathe.
Ducere animo, to conſyder or thynke.
Ducere animam, to recreate the mynde.
Ducere aquam, to conueyghe water from a ſpryngc.
Ducere bellum, to prolonge battayle or warre.
Ducere colorem, to waxe ruddy.
Ducere damno, to take it for a loſſe or hurt.
Ducere aliquem ex ære, to counterfaite one in mettall.
Ducere diem ex die, to putte of from daie to daie.

Ducere foſſam, to caſte or make a dyche.
Ducere honori, to eſteme it honourable.
Ducere horas extremas, to lyue a dyyng.
Ducere infra ſe omnia humana, to eſteeme all thynges leſſe than hym ſelfe.
Ducere lateres, to make tyles.
Ducere laudi, to tourne it to prayſe.
Ducere liniam, to drawe a lyne.
Ducere minoris, To eſteeme it leſſe, or ſette leſſe by.
Ducere mortuum, to bee dead.
Meos ne ego ante oculos illam patiar alios am-plexarier? mortuum hercle me duco ſatius, Shall I ſuffre hym to embrace hir beefore myne eyes? By god I hadde rather bee deade.
Ducere mucronem, to drawe a ſwoorde.
Ducere noctem iucundis ſermonibus, to paſſe foorth the nyghte with pleaſaunt talkyng.
Ducere nomen ex re aliqua, to be named after ſome thyng.
Ducere officij, to ſuppoſe it to be his dueti.
Ducere parui, to ſette lyttell by.
Ducere præ ſe neminem, to ſette by no man but hym ſelfe.
Ducere principium, exordium, initium, To bee gynne, or to take a begynnyng.
Ducere probro, to diſprayſe.
Ducere pro falſis, to take it for lyes.
Ducere ſimilitudinem ex aliquo, to take a pa-terne of a thyng.
Ducere ſomnos, to ſleape.
Ducere ſpiritum, To fetche or drawe breathe, to lyue.
Ducere ſulcos, to make forrowes.
Ducere ſuſpiria, to ſyghe.
Ducere vtilitatem ex re aliqua, to gette profits by a thyng.
Ducentur ſuſpiriones ex ipſo facto, of that acte men ſhall gather ſuſpition.
Ducere vſuras, to continue patement of moneys taken by vſury.
Vallum ducere, to make a trenche.
Vultum ducere, to frowne or lowre.
Duci re aliqua, to bee deluyed with a thynge.
Duci errore, to be deceyued, to be in a wrongc opinion.
Duci ineptiis ac fabulis, to take pleaſure in fan-taſies and fables, to beleue leaſynges and dattes tynges.
Duci ventre, to loue good morſelles.
Rationem ſalutis ducere, to regarde health.
Ducuntur omnia dei nutu, All thynges be go-uerned and diſpoſed by the will of god.
Iam ad regem recta me ducam, Nowe wyll I go ſtreight to the kyng.
Duc te ab ædibus, Get the out of the houſe.
Ducere ad credendum, To induce one to beleue a thynge.
Ducere cicatricem, whan the ſcotche or ſcarre of a wounde healeth or groweth together.
Ex quibus coniectura ducitur, By whiche thyn-ges ges a man maie coniecte or gather.

Diem somno ducere, to spende away the day in sleape, to sleape all the daye longe.
Funus & exequias ducere, to keepe an obsequie or funerall.
Genus ab aliquo ducere, to descend lineally from one.
In ius ducito hominem, commence an action agaynst the man, or sue hym in the lawe.
Ducere laminam, to make a thynne plate.
In matrimonium ducere, to marry.
Ducere & confiare mendacium, to deuyse or ymagine a lye.
Muros ducere, to make or buylde walles.
Nubilum ducere, to make the wether cloudy and darke, and by translation, referred to the countenance, to make to loke sadly and heuily.
Ducere obliuia vitæ prioris, to forget the life that one hath ledde before.
Exquisitis modis os ducere, To faction the mouthe curiously in speakyng.
Ducere rationem salutis, to haue consideration of ones saufegarde or health.
Sortem ducere, to drawe lottes.
E luto vasa ducere, to make vessels of earthe or clape.
Opinione duci, to thynke.
Tantummodo coniectura ducor ad suspicandum, I am only moued by coniecture, to thinke or deeme so.
Duci despicatui, To be despised, to bee lyttell regarded or sette by.
Duci phalaridis dictis, to bee flattered with fayre woordes.
In hostium numero duci, to bee coumpted or iudged an enemie.
Ducere rem per altercationem, To prolonge and dryue of the mattier by contencion.
Ducere aliquem, to fode of a man by prolongyng the mattier.
Nil ducere in bonis præter virtutem, To esteme nothyng good but vertue.
Plerique in gloria, or gloriæ ducunt, the moste parte esteme it for a great renoume or glorye.
Quod apud Numidas honori ducitur, whiche among the Numidians is compted an honourable thyng.
Duco, aui, are, to gouerne, after Calepine, but the place that he citeth of Marro hath ducere.
Ducona, the citee of Laons in France.
Ductárius, a, um, he that draweth or leadeth.
Ductarius funis, a corde that is putte into a trocle to drawe a thyng.
Ductilis, le, easy to be drawen, or that maye bee beaten into plates.
Ductim, with leysure.
Ductito, aui, are, to leade about often.
Ducto, aui, are, ta leade about, to take a wife, to esteme, to haue awaie with hym, to obteyne to haue a thyng.
Ductare restim, to lende the daunce.
Ductare exercitum, to leade an army.
Dolis ductare, to deceyue or begyle.
Nunc quia nihil habes maledictis eam ductare postulas, Nowe because thou hast nothyng to geue, thou wouldest geat or obteyne her by shrende woordes, or froward language.
Ductor, ôris, mas. gene. a guyde or a captayne, a leader.
Ductus, a, um, ledde, moued, guyded.
Ducta cicatrix, a wounde cleane healed, wythyng remaynyng but a seame or marke.
Sorte ductus, that hath chaunced by lot.
Ductus, us, mas. gene. a cundyte, whereby water doeth renne, a leadyng or trayuyng of a thyng, a gouernyng or guydyng.
Ductus aquarum, the course of water by trenches or pypes.
Ductus oris, The factionyng of the face or mouthe in speakyng or pronouncyng.
Ductus litterarum, the drawyng or facionyng of the letters in wrytynge.
Dudum, but late, ere whyle, whyle ere, not long sence. sometyme before. somtyme long agon, or a great whyle.
Incertior multo quam dudum, muche more vncertayne than I was before.
Quam dudum? howe longe agone? howe long sence?
Quanto formosior mihi videre quam dudum? Howe muche fayrer doo ye seme to me than dyd whyle ere?
Vt dudum audiebamus, As we heard longe before.
Dudum & nunc opponuntur.
Duella, æ, f. ge. the thyrde part of an ounce.
Duellâtor, ôris, m. g. a warriour.
Duéllicus, a, um, warrelyke, pertaynyng to warre.
Duellica ars, the feate or science of armes.
Duello, aui, are, to fyght within lystes, or in battayle.
Duellum, li, n. g. battayle betwene two.
Duellôna, æ, f. g. in olde tyme called Bellona.
Duicensus, he that is ioyncted tasked with an other, as the father with the sonne.
Duidens, a sheepe of two teethe.
Duillius, or Duillius, a citizen of Rome, whych fyrst tryumphed for victorie on the sea.
Duis, of the auncient authours was vsed in Dederis.
Dulcadium, dij, n. ge. euery sweete meate.
Dulcè & Dulciter, sweetely, gentylly.
Dulcedo, inis, Dulcitas, Dulcitudo, & dulcor, sweetenesse.
Dulceo, ere, to bee sweete.
Dulcesco, scere, to waxe sweete.
Dulciarius, a, um, pertaynynge to sweete thynges, sweete.
Dulciarius panis, a marchepayne made with almondes and sugar.
Dulciarius pistor, a maker of marchepaynes or other ſweete thynges in paſte.

Dulciculus, a, um, a litell ſwete, ſomewhat ſwete.
Dulciſluus, a, um, flowyng ſwetely.
Dulciloquus, a, um, he that ſpeaketh ſwetely.
Dulcis, ce, ſwete, pleaſaunt, contrary to ſharpe and vehement.
Dulcis epiſtola, a ſweete or pleaſaunt epiſtle or lettre.
Dulciſonus, a, um, ſounyng ſwetely.
Dulco, aui, are, to make ſwete.
Dulia, æ, f. g. the ſeruice of a bondeman or ſlaue.
Dulichium, an yle in the ſea Hadiah, or as ſom call Jonio.
Dulopolis, a citee of Ethiope called by an other name Acanthus.
Dum, ſometyme ſignifieth whan, or whyles, as Dum dormis, fures domum intrant, whyles thou ſlepeſt, theues enter into thy houſe. ſometyme vntil. ſometyme as longe. Vſque ne va-luiſti: C. Perpetuo recte dum quidem illic fui, Dyddeſt thou welle all that whyle? C. Yea, alwaye well as long as I was there alſo it ſignifieth wherfore. Alſo, ſo that ſometyme it dooeth but make vp a woorde: as, Adeſdum paucis te volo, Come hyther, I would ſpeake a woorde or two with you.
Dum dum, nothyng yet.
Dum conderet vrbem, whan or whyle he dyd baylde the cite.
Dum ſocij venirent, vntyll theyr felowes dyd come.
Dum illum modo habeam mecum, So that I maye onely haue hym with me.
Hæc dum incipias grauia ſunt, theſe thynges be harde tyll a man haue begun.
Dum tempus ad eam rem tulit, As long as the tyme was conuenient.
Audieris dum, for Poſtquàm audieris.
Dum ne vbi videar, non laboro, So that I doo not ſeeme ſo to you, I paſſe not.
Dumetum, ti, n. ge. a thorny or buſshy grounde.
Dummodo, ſo that.
Dumoſus, a, um, full of buſshes, briers, brambles and thornes.
Dumus, mi, m. ge. a kynde of thornes or briers.
Dunum, the towne of Dorcheſter.
Dumtaxat, onely, at the leaſt waie. ſometyme for Præſertim, eſpecially.
Non dumtaxat, for Non ſolum.
Dunum, a countree in England called Durham.
Duo, ui, ere, to geue.
Duo, duæ, duo, two.
Duodecim, twelue.
Duodecies, twelue tymes.
Duodecies Seſtertium, xii. hundred thouſande Seſtertia.
Duodecimus, a, um, the twelfthe.
Duodeni, twelue together. Vide Deni.
Duodequadrageni pedes, xxxviii. foote.
Duodequadraginta annj, xxxviii. yeres.
Duodequinquageſimus annus, the xlviii. yere.
Duodeuiginti, eighteene.
Duodeuiceni denarij, xviii. pence.
Duodetriginta, xxviii.
Duodeuiceſimus, a, um, the xviii.
Duodetricies, xxviii. tymes.
Duodenonaginta, lxxxviii yeres.
Duonum, olde writers vſed for Bonum.
Duplíares, knightes, or ſuche ſouldiours as had double alowaunce.
Duplâris numerus, a numbre that is doubled.
Duplex, licis, om. gene. double or two, or twyſe as muche.
Dúplici ſpe vti, to haue hope two waies, or as we ſaie prouerbially, to haue two ſtrynges on his bowe.
Duplex comœdia, two comedies.
Duplex damnum, double loſſe or domage.
Duplicia quàm ſeruorum numerus exigit, Double ſo many as the noumbre of his ſeruauntes requyreth.
Duplicátio, ónis, f. g. a doublyng.
Duplicato, at the double.
Duplicatus, a, um, doubled, made twiſe ſo muche.
Dupliciárius, ij, a ſouldiour that hath double alowaunce.
Dupliciter, two waies.
Duplico, aui, are, to make double, to encreaſe, to make twiſe ſo muche.
Duplicare verba, to compounde ii. woordes in one. Bellum duplicare, to make the warre twiſe ſo muche as it was.
Duplio, ónis, m. g. the double.
Duplum, pli, the double.
Duplus, a, um, double.
Dupóndius & Dupondium, two pound weight.
Durabilis, le, durable.
Durácinus, a, um, that hath an harde ſkynne, or couerynge of the graynes.
Duracinæ vuæ, grapes, with thicke ſkynnes.
Duram, ſome thynke to be the name of a riuer, nere vnto whiche, the gyganteſ made the toure Babel: ſome will it to be a fielde, as in Daniel.
Durâmen, inis, & duramentum, ti, n. g. the arme of a vine. alſo ſtablenes, conſtancy, hardnyng.
Durata, plu. nu woodde, tymber.
Durateus, & Durius, a, um, wooden, or of wood.
Duratrix, icis, f. g. that hardneth.
Durâtus, a, um, hardened
Dure, cruelly, hardely, rigorouſely, vngently.
Dureo, ui, ére, to be harde or cruell.
Durefco, rui, ſcere, to waxe harde, to harden.
Dureta, the Spaniardes call a veſſell that they vſe to waſhe and bathe them in.
Durias, or Turia, the name of a ryuer nere to Valentia, called commonly Duero.
Duritia, æ, f. g. Durities, ei, & durities, âris f. g. hardnes, rudenes, rigour, aſperitee, cruelitee.
Duricória, orum, thinges that haue harde ſkynnes.
Duricordium, ij, hardneſſe of herte.

Duricors, harde herted.

Duriter, hardely, with muche peyne. sometyme cruelly, seuerely.

Parce ac duriter, sparyngly and hardly.

Vitam duriter agebat, He lyued an hard and peynfull lyfe.

Duriusculus, a, um, a diminutiue of Durus.

Duro, aui, are, to endure or continue, to susteyn or suffer, to harden or make harde.

Durare animum, to harden ones herte, and not to heare one that intreateth hym.

Cor dura, settle thy mynd to take it patiently.

In æternum durare, to contynue for euer.

Durocortorum, the cite of Reines in France.

Durus, a, um, harde, sounde, peynefull, cruell, rigorous. also dull, harde witted, rude.

Duro animo es, thou arte harde herted.

Durus, ferreus, & inhumanus.

Annona durior, scarsitee of corne or vitailes.

Duriore fortuna conflictari, To bee troubled with aduersitee.

Duras alicui partes dare, to handle one hardely or roughly, to geue hym the woorse ende of the staffe.

Durus homo, an harde and rigorous person.

Durum ingenium, an vngentil nature, harde to intreate.

Duras fratris partes prædicas, My brother is in an harde case by thy saying.

Durus & agrestis, vncurteys and rude.

Dura prouincia, a sore charge, a thyng harde to be brought to passe.

Hyems dura, a sharpe winter.

Dura vita, a weerie and peynfull lyfe.

Duri oris vir, a man rygorous and cruell in woordes.

Duro ingenio, dull witted.

Dusmosus, idem quod Dumosus.

Duumuir, a certayne officer in Rome, whiche had authoritee ouer the prisons and gayles, as our shireffes haue in Englande.

Duumuirâlis, le, pertaynyng to that office.

Duumuirâtus, us, ma. ge. an office, wherein the authoritee is committed to two men.

Dux, ûcis, com. ge. a capitayn, a leader, a gyde, a chiefe or principall doocr in any thyng.

Ducem rationem habere, to folowe reason, as a gyde and capitayne.

D ANTE Y.

DYas, the number of two.

Dyastole, is a lyftyng or vpryng vp of the herte, the arteries, the brayne, and ryues that dooe incloſe the brayne, and that is in length, breadth, and depenesse, sensible to feele by the pulses.

Dynamene, a nymphe.

Dynasta, vel Dynastes, æ, m. g. a lorde of great power, a prince, a ruler.

Dynastéia, a rule or gouernaunce, might, power.

Dyôta, looke Diota.

Dyrrhachium, a cite in Sicille, whiche was fyrste called Epidamnus. It is nowe called Durazo

Dys, in composition signifieth euill, difficile, or impossible.

Dyscólia, æ, f. g. difficultee.

Dyscolus, li, ma. ge. he that is shrewde, and vile to intreate.

Dysenteria, a perillous flixe, with retraction & raspyng of the bowelles, continuall tourninge, som bloud issuyng forth. The causes be sharpe and venemous humours, proceedyng of pestered choler vnnaturall, sharpenesse of bloude, salte fleume, melancoly aduste. sometyme of yll medicines or impostumations of the lyuer. sometyme by defaulte of the membres annexed sometyme by the vile habite of all the bodie.

Dysentéricus, a, um, greeued with that disease.

Dysnomia, yll constitution or ordering of the lawe.

Dyspepsia, yll concoction.

Dysphilus, an yll friende.

Dyspnœa, difficultee in fetchyng of breath. The causes be stoppyng of the waies, whereby the breathe shoulde passe: distillations or fumes hotte and sharpe, or cold and fleumatyke sometyme lepre by knoores in the thyote or lunges comen of a melancoly matter.

Dyspnoicus, a, um, diseased with that sickenes.

Dysuria, a sickenesse, which letteth a man to pysse. The causes be extencion or boilyng out of the bladder, after vehement retencion or kepyng backe of the vrine, congealyng of bloudde or matter in the necke of the bladder or instrumente of vrine, of stones or impostumation therof. stones, grauell, an impostume, warte or lumpe of fleshe, breddе in the reines of the backe.

Dytucos, the herbe smilax. Dioſc.

E ANTE A.

E, FOR THE moste parte signifieth, of.

E, of the olde writers vsed often vsed for I.

E conspectu fugere, to put out of syght.

E diuerso, on the contrary parte, or on the other syde.

E facili, easyly

E longinquo, farre of.

E me, ne quidem mouas, nihil scies, feare not, he shall knowe nothyng of me.

E Pamphilo grauida est, She is with chylde by Pamphilus.

E Pamphilo peperit, She had a chylde by Pamphilus.

E proximo aspicere, to see nygh hande.

E proximo vicinus, my nerte neyghbour.

E regione, face to face, one directely against other, or on the other syde directly.

regione solis, ouer right agaynst the sunne.
re nata, consyderyng the matter.
re nata melius fieri haud potuit, Consyderynge the matter, or as the case requyred, it ought be no better.
renibus laborat, he is syche in his backe, or greued with the stone.
re tua, pertaynyng to thy profyte, or for thy profite.
re publica, concernyng the common weale.
via languet, he is weery of his iourney, or sicke with goyng or rydyng.
vestigio foorthwith.
meo quidem animo, after myne opinion,
Itbynke.
contrario, contrarywyse.
natura, accordyng to nature.
sublimi iacere, to caste from hygh.
e, a beast in Indie, lyke an horse, found about great ryuers. He hath a tayle lyke an olyphant, colour blacke or baie, and hath iawes lyke a ore, and therein tuskes a cubite longe and oore, which are apt to what vse the beaste wil, or they stande not fast, but are bowed as he ureth: so that whan he fyghteth, he setteth vp e one, and holdeth downe the other, to the int that yf the one in fightyng wace dull, or be roken, the other shall serue hym.
us. the god of the yere, whom the Phenians painted, a serpent with his tayle in his mouthe.
tes. the name of a story writer that was in t age that Pigmalian reygned in the cast arte.
propter, therfore.
o the cite called sainct Sebastian in Spayn.
tenus, vnto that, in that maner of wyse, till that tyme, vntyll, vntyll than, so farre.
tenus ne quid, pro solum.
Extenus quoad, so longe vntyll that.

E ANTE. B.

Ebeti, they that from great prosperitee are fallen into miserie.
Ebenus, ebeni, vel Ebenum, a tree blacke in colour, and odoriferous whan it is burned, it hath vertue to clense the eies. This tree groweth in Indie, and beeyng cut, it wareth as harde as a stone.
Sola India nigrum fert ebenum, onely Indie bryngeth foorth blacke Ebenus. It is also written with H. rede Hebenus.
Ebeo, ebeas, aui, āre, to bring out of prosperitee.
Ebibo, ebibis, ebibi, ere, to drynke all out.
Ebionæi, heretikes, whiche denyed Christ to bee god, and affirmed, that all partes of the olde lawe, ought to bee kepte with the newe lawe. They receyued only the gospell of sainct Mathew, & reiected the other, and also all the epistles of sainct Paule. The authour of that secte was one Ebion, about the yere of our lord. 88.
Eblana, a cite in Irlande called Dublyn or Druillin.
Eblandior, iris, iri, to geat a thyng by flattery. also to lyke.
Eblandiri solitudines rurís, to make that the lacke of compaay in the countreye, shall not be greuouse.
Eblandiri suffragia, to obteyne the voyce and consent of men by flatteryng.
Eblandítus, a, um, gotten by flatteryng. also that lyketh or pleaseth.
Eborâcum, or Eburacum, ci, a cite in England called Yorke.
Eborátus, a, um, of yuory without.
Eboreus, a, um, of yuory.
Eboſus, an yle betwene Sardinia & Afrike, the earth wherof, will suffre no venemous thyng to lyue, where is suche breede of conies, that they destroie the yles next adioygnyng.
Ebriacus, a, um, dronke.
Ebrietas, átis, f. g. dronkennesse.
Ebríolus, a, um, a litell dronke.
Ebriósitas, átis, f. g. continuall dronkennesse.
Ebriósus, a, um, often dronken.
Ebriulo, aui, are, to make dronke.
Ebrius, a, um, dronken. sometyme abundant.
Ebria cœna, a plentyfull supper.
Gradus ebrius, a dronken gate.
Ebron, a mountayne in Palestina.
Ebrus, a ryuer of Thrace, rennyng frō the mountayne Rodopei, in the grauell whereof are founde litell rates or pieces of golde.
Ebucus, amased, astonied.
Ebudes, yles in the sea about Englād, I suppose nyghe Wales and the weste countrey, where the people lyue by whyte meate and fysshe.
Ebuleus, the sonne of Iupiter and Proserpine.
Ebullio, lui, lire, to bubble vp, as water doeth whan it raineth, or a potte whan it setteth. And by a metaphore to speake with ostentation and pompe, to breake out in communication.
Quod quidem ebullire solet nonnunquam, which thyng nowe and than is wont to breake out in theyr communication.
Ebullire virtutes & sapientias, to speake gloriously of vertue and wisedome.
Ebullitio, ônis, f. g. bubblyng, boylyng.
Ebulo, aui, are, to bubble out, to blast out.
Ebulum, ebuli, neu. g. or Ebulus, li, ma. g. an herbe called walwort, or danewurte, whiche is lyke a yong elder tree. Dioscorides calleth it Chamæacte.
Ebur, & Ebor, eboris, n. g. yuorie.
Ebur atramento candefacere, To make white yuorie with ynke, a prouerbe vsed, whan one endeuoureth to sette forth naturall beautee with colours, and peynctyng.
Ebura, a cite of Portugall.
Eburátus, a, um, covered with yuorie.

Fburini, people of Lucania.
Eburneolus, a litteli thyng of yuoyie.
Eburneus, a,um, and Eburnus, a,um, of yuoyy.
Eburones, people of the countreie called Liege or Luke, beyonde Brabant.
Eburonices, a people of Fraunce.
Eburum, a citee of Germany called commonly Olmuntz.

E ANTE C.

ECameda, the daughter of the valyaunt Aesinous, which at the bataple of Troy was geuen to Nestor.
Ecardia, a kynde of aumbre, whiche hath in it the figure of an herte blacke and grene.
Ecastor, an othe by Castor, whiche male stande for, by my faie: onely vsed of women.
Ecbasis, a figure in speahynge, called digression, where a man leaueth for the tyme the principall mattier.
Ecbatana, the chief citee of the realme of Mede. There is a citee in Syria of the same name, somtyme called Epiphania, and male bee writ-ten Egbatana.
Ecbolia, órum, neu. ge. or Ecbolima, æ, or Ecbolas, ladis, a kynde of medicine, whiche phi-sicians doo vse to rydde forth the infant that is deade in the mothers wombe.
Ecce, an aduerbe demonstratiue, which signifieth lo, see, proprely where a thynge sodeynly hap-peneth: but it is vsed, where as happeneth no sodeyn thynge: as, Vt in carbone ecce & ci-nere, as you see in the cole and asshes.
Ecce tibi, wylte thou see, take hede.
Ecce me, loe here I am.
Ecce rem, lo here is all the mattier.
Ecce subito Domitij litteræ, Behold sodain-ly Domicius letters were brought to me.
E'ccere, an aduerbe of swearyng, signifiyng as muche as Per Cererem. some vse it for ecce, lo nowe, see nowe.
Eccentrici orbes, are spheres, one inclosyng an ther, so that the one is ouer the other, and the one is conteyned within the holownesse of the other.
Eccillum, for Ecce illum, see hym.
Eccistam, for Ecce istam, see hir.
Ecclesiá, æ, f. g. an assemble, a counsaile. Among christen authours it signifieth the congregacion of people in the fauthe of Christ, the churche.
Ecclesiastes, æ, m. g. a preacher.
E'ccubi, é'ccubi, lo where.
Eccum, Eccam, Eccos, Eccas, lo he is here, lo she is here, lo these men be here, lo these wo-men be here.
E'dici, certayne officers in other citees lyke to the Tribunes in Rome. It was their office to sũmon theim that withheld the cõmon treasure.
Echemon, Priamus sonne slayn by Diomedes.
Echemythia, taciturniter or stylnesse, silence.

Echemythius, he that in a common counsell or assemble kepeth silence, and onely harkeneth what other saie.
Echeneis, a fysshe called also Remora, which cleauyng to the keele of a shyppe, will retayne hym, not withstandynge the violence of any wynde that bloweth.
Echenes, a verale courteise and gentyll person, of the people called Phæaces.
Echi, littell narowe valeies or dales betweene two hylles.
Echidna, a water serpent, proprely that which was slayne by Hercules, called Hydra.
Echinades, been plandes in a ryuer in Gre. called Achelous, whiche diuideth Aetolia, from Acarnania.
Echinâtus, a, um, haupng a rough or pryckyng shale or shell.
Echinata folia, leaues haupng pryckes.
Echineis, an yle in the sea Aegeum.
Echinométræ, looke Echinus.
Echinon, a citee of Thrace.
Echinóphora, ræ, f. g. a kynde of shell fysshe.
Echinus, ma. g. the couerynge or vttermost shale of a chesten nutte, or other whiche is rough or pryckyng. It is also a sea fysshe, whiche hath in hym a shell with pryckes, and hath the pryckes in stede of feete, but he goeth not, but ony tumbleth. For whan he is taken, the pryckes seeme worne and made blunt. Som haue-raie long pryckes and litell shelles, and they be called Echinométræ. These fysshes be of sun-dry colours, some white, some redde, some pur-ple, some blewe, some grene, as Perotus wry-teth in his Cornucopiæ, that he sawe them: but he saieth, that whan they be dead, the fayre and delectable colour vanysheth away. It is also a beast called an irchin or hedge hogge. It was also a vessell of brasse among the Grecks, wherinto the saiyng of witnesses were put and sealed: Or after some, wherin cuppes were washed. also a potciõ of hey, and a sorte of pyes. also a certayne sorte of bracelettes, which women vsed to weare.
✠ Echinus partum procrastinat: or, Echinus parturiens cunctatur, A prouerbe applyed vn-to hym that delaieth a matter to his owne payne and trouble.
Echion, an herbe called also Alcibiadion, named in englische wilde borage, growynge in dales and rough groundes, like vnto Languedebefe, and hath floures lyke borage: but or they be full spred, they be purple of colour, and the lefe therof is lyke the head of an adder. Echion, is also a medicine for sore eies.
Echioni, Thebans, so called of Echion, one of the fiue that holpe Cadmus to build Thebes.
Echite, es, an herbe, not vnlyke to Scammonia.
Echites, a stone, specked lyke a serpent.
Echo, or Echus, f. ge. a sowne, whiche reboun-deth to the noyse or voyce, that is made in a

vale

valeie or in a great woodde.
Eligma, or Eclegma, ătis, neu. ge. a medicine, whiche muste not be eaten or chewed, but beyng in the mouthe, suffered to stylle downe into the stomake by lyttell and lyttell: the Arabian physicians doo call it Lohoch.
Eclipsis, is, f. g. a waanyng or faylyng.
Eclipsis lunæ, the eclipse of the moone.
Eclipticus, a, um, pertenyng to the eclipses.
Ecloga, ecloge, fœ. g. a communication, a talkyng, election, choyse.
Ecnephias, æ, m. g. a stozme, where a cloude is broken and falleth.
Econ, an ymage. vide Icon.
Econcula, a lyttell ymage.
Econtra, contrarywyse.
Econtrario, idem.
Ecpecala, were cuppes among the Grecches, whiche were large & wyde. Our flat dolles, wherin we drynke wyne, maye bee so called.
Ecpiesmus, mi, a disease that maketh the eyes stare, as when one is almost throtled.
Ecphractica medicamenta, medicines, whiche deoplate or open the cundites or passages in the body, whiche are stopped or sacred.
Ecphrasis, ecphrasis, f. g. a playn interpretation of the letter, leaupng no parte vndeclared.
Ecquando, ecquando, at what tyme, or so whan.
Ecquis, ecqua, ecquod, vel ecquid, But so who, see who, see what.
Ecquid, but what, to what. Ecquis in villa est? Is there any man in the ferme?
Ecquid te pudet? arte thou not ashamed?
Ecquid sit, (in Plautus) for quicquid sit.
Ecquinam, quænam, quodnam, vel quidnam, idem quod Ecquis.
Ecstasis, ecstasis, f. g. a stonyng, a dampe, a crăp, a traunce, whan a man forgetteth hym selfe.
Ectasis, ectasis, f. g. a figure, wherby the syllable naturally shorte, is produced or made longe.
Ecthlipsis, where the letter M, toigned with a vowell, is not souned.
Ectrapeli, they whiche abhorre the common fassion of nature or olde vsages.
Ectropium, whă the nether lydde of the eye falleth, and can not ioyne with the ouer lyd.
Ectypum, ectypi, n. g. that whiche is made accordynge to the paterne.
Eculeus, idem quod Equuleus.

E ANTE D.

EDácitas, ătis, fœm. g. vnsaciable feedynge, gourmandysyng.
Edax, ăcis, om. gene. a great eater or consumer, a glutton, or deuourer of meate.
Edaces multi cibi, they that eate much meate.
Curæ edaces, that doo consume a man, and make hym pine awap.
Edeatræ, they whiche haue the orderyngе of the kynges meate.

Eden, signifieth pleasure or delectation.
Edentătus, a, um, that hath his teethe taken or stryken out.
Edento, aui, are, to make toothlesse, to stryke or beate out ones teethe.
Edentulus, a, um, toothlesse, that want buyng.
Edera, looke Hedera.
Edessa, a citee beyonde the riuer of Euphrates.
Edico, xi, cere, to commande or ordeyne, to declare or publysshe, to denounce, to proclaime. also to speake or pronounce alowde, without feare or dissimulation.
Comitia edicere, to appoynt a conuocation.
Edicere senatum, to ordeyne a parliament to be holden.
Edicere diem ad conueniendum, to appoynt a date to mete with one.
Edicam seruis ne, I will commande theim or geue charge to them.
Edictio, ônis, f g idem quod Edictum.
Edicto, aui, are, to declare or pronounce often tymes.
Edictum, i, neu. g. an ordinaunce or commaundement of theim that be in great authoritee, a proclamacion or iniunction.
Edictum circumducere, To breake an ordynaunce or commandement of any officer.
Edilis, le, any thyng that is or maie be eaten.
Edisco, didici, scere, to learne by hert, to cunne without booke.
Linguas duas edisce re, to learne two lăguages
Edisserо, serui, ere, to explane or declare, to tell or reherse.
Edisserе nobis fabulam hanc, tell or reherse vnto vs that tale.
Edisserto, aui, are, to tell or declare often.
Editio, ônis, f. g. a setteyng forth or publysshyng of a thyng, as of bookes or proclamacions.
Editimus iudex, a iudge named and chosen of the one parte.
Editor, ôris, masc. g. one that publysheth or setteth abrode.
Editus, edita, um, ma ge a publysshyng or puttyng forth of a thyng.
Editus boum, ore dunge.
Editus, edita, um, publysshed, sette abrode, hygh.
Edita in vulgus, publysshed abrode.
In lucem editus, borne.
Edita facinora, naughty actes made notable or knowen, or naughty actes committed.
Arx edita, an hygh castell.
Iudices editi, iudges named.
Edimus, a seruen of a churche. looke Aedituus.
Ediuerso, contrary wyse.
Edo, es, est, or Edo, edis, edi, ere, esum, vel estum, to eate or feede.
Ede nasturtium, is applyed to a dulle and a grosse person And forasmuche as Nasturtium, called cresses, beyng eaten, doeth make the nose tynkle, and therby causeth the dulle spyrites to wake: therfore by this prouerbe is mẽt, Pluche vp thy spirites, or awake dullarde or lasshe.

Vbi esuri sumus, where shall wee breake our fast, dyne, or suppe. &c.
Edere pugnos, per transtationem, pro percuti pugnis, To be bufketted.
Edit agellos pecus, feedeth on grounde, or as wee say, eateth vp ones ground.
Edor, eris, edi, to be eaten.
Edo, édidi, ere, to execute or doo a thyng, or to cause a thyng to be doone, to bryng, to deliuer in writyng, to publysshe or set abrode.
Edere animam, to dye.
Edere annos, to tell what age a man is of.
Edere authorem, to name the author.
Edere cædem, to make a great slaughter.
Edere cantus, to synge.
Edere certamen, to fyght valyantly.
Edere clamorem, to crye out.
Edere exemplum, to shewe an example.
Edere facinora, to doo mischeuous dedes.
Edere fœtus, to bryng foorth fruite.
Edere frondem, to burge, to put forth leaues.
Edere iudicium, to tell or dysclose who were his companions in any yll dede dooyng.
Edere iudicium, to rehersse or geue iudgement.
Edere leges, to geue lawes.
Edere librum, to sette foorth a booke.
Edere luci, to bryng to lyght.
Edere ludibrium, to mocke at a thyng.
Edere ludos & spectacula, to cause playes and pageantes to be shewed to the people.
Edere mandata, to declare his message as he was commaunded.
Edere nomen, to geue a name to one.
Edere nomina, to bryng forth names in writyng, as we vse to doo in taskes, subsidies, and musters.
Edere operam annuam, to serue one yere.
Edere opera virorum fortium, to doo valiantly, and as men of great prowesse.
Edere oracula, belonged to god, or that whiche was taken for god, to make aunswere to the thyng, whiche was demaunded.
Edere ouum, to laye an egge.
Edere partum, to be deliuered of chylde.
Edere postulata, to deliuer a byll of requeste contreynyng many thynges.
Edere prælium, or bellum, to make warre.
Edere pugnam, to fyght.
Edere rationes, to make accompte.
Edere risus, to laugh.
Edere scelus, to doo a mischeuous dede.
Edere scriptum, to shewe foorth writyng.
Edere signum, to make or geue a signe or token.
Edere specimen, to shewe proofe.
Edere spiritum extremum, to dye.
Edere stragem, to make a great slaughter of men.
Edere strepitum, to make a noyse.
Edere testes, to bryng foorth witnesses.
Edere vitam, to dye.

Edere verba, to speake.
Edere voces, to crye.
Edere vrinam, to pysse.
Edere pugnos, to be bufketted.
Edunt fœminam, they bryng foorth a female.
Edant & exponãt, let them vtter and declare.
Edere authorem alicuius doctrinæ, to name the author of any learnyng.
Hinnitus edere, to neie.
Edit ouum gallina, the henne layeth an egge.
Edit quisque quod potest, Euery man doeth what he can doo, or euery man doeth for his parte as muche as he is able.
Ploratum virginalem edere, to wepe like a wenche or gyrle.
Victoriam edere, to atchieue the victorie.
Edo, onis, m. g. idem quod Edax.
Edoceo, édoces, docui, ere, to instructe or informe one of a thyng, to teache diligently, or declare.
Edocuit ratio, reason shewed or declared: or reason taught them what was to bee doon.
Edocebo, vt res sese habet, I will tell or declare you, how the matter standeth.
Edolo, édolas, are, to hewe or cut cleane or smoothe.
Edom, Esau was so called, and the countrey where he reigned.
Edomo, édomas, ui, are, to make tame, or subdue.
Edómitus, a, um, made tame, brought vnder.
Edomus, an hylle nexte vnto Pangeum in the borders of Thessalie.
Edon, onis, m. g. a mountayne of Thrace.
Edones, a people of Scythia.
Edoni, or Edonij, people of Thrace, or in the borders of Macedonia, nere to Thrace.
Edonides, were women, whiche beyng dyuen with a diuine furour, dyd celebrate the mysteries of Bacchus.
Edonis, idis, a citee of Troilis, and a countrey of Thrace.
Edonius, a, um, of Edonis.
Edonus, idem quod Edon.
Edonus, a, um, of Thrace.
Edor, a kynde of sacrifice nowe called Ador.
Edormio, miui, re, to slepe out, to slepe soundly euen to the full.
Edormisco, ui, miscere, idem quod Edormio.
Edormiscere crapulam, to slepe vntyll the sober ageyne, whan one is dronke, to digeste his surfet with sleape.
Edormire crapulam, to sleape out a surfet.
Dum edormiscat vnum somnum, whyle he dooeth sleape one sleape: or whyle he dooeth take a nappe.
Edri, an yle on the east parte of Irelande.
Educatio, ônis, f. g. nourysshyng or bryngyng vp of chyldren. Mollis educatio, a tyer or wanton bryngyng vp.
Educator, ôris, mas. g. one that nourysshyth or bryng ypngeth vp.

cátrix, tricis, f. g. the feminine.
úco, úxi, ere, to bryng forth. also to drawe
ut, as, Hoc dicens, eduxit corpore telum,
That saying, he drewe the weapon out of his
ody. sometyme to reyse vp: as Molem edu-ere cælo, to reyse or make vp the heye euen o the skye. sometyme it signifieth Educare, to ypng vp, to nourysshe.
Educere é custodia, to bryng out of prison.
Educere gladium, to drawe out a swoorde.
Educere aliquem in ius, to bryng one before a iudge.
Educere naues ex portu, to brynge the shyp-
es out of the hauen.
Eduxit mater pro sua, my mother brought hir vp, euen as hir owne daughter.
úco, éducas, áui, áre, to nourysshe or bryng vp from chyldehode.
Procreare & educare, to brynge forth and nourysshe.
Educare fœtum, to bryng forth or be delivered also to nourysshe or bryng vp.
uctus, a, um, brought forth. also nourished, brought vp.
ulco, aui, are, to make verie swette.
ulis, le, that may bee eaten.
ulium, li, neu. gene. is what so euer is set on the table at dyner or supper to bee eaten, saue the breadde.
ûro, aui, are, to make verie harde.
ûrum, not harde, softe.
ure, verie hardly.
ûrus, a, um, verie harde.
yx, a nymph, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys.

E ANTE E, & F.

Etion, Andromaches father, that reigned at Thebes in Cilicia.
Effári, to speake, but properly it pertained to bysshops and Augures, whan they dedicated any place, or consecrated any thyng.
ffabilis, le, that may bee spoken.
ffarcio, effarsi, rtum, to stuffe or fil a thyng hard.
ffascinatio, onis, a bewitchyng.
ffascino, aui, are, to bewitche a thyng, wher-by the fourme is chaunged, the thyng dyeth, or is in some wyse destroied. By this woorde Vo-linus maketh mention, that in Affrica be cer-tayne kynredes, wherof the men and women, yf they praise faire trees, goodly corne, pre-tie children, galant horses and fat: forthwith they die. Plinie writeth of some, whiche behol-dyng any persons stedfastely, with an angry countenaunce, they destroie them. Lyke experience hath been seene in this realme, as credible persons haue reported.
Effata, were certayne prayers, whiche the divinours vsed to make at the ende of their divination or telling the successe of thynges.

Effatus ager, a fielde nere the cite, where di-uinours made their prayers.
Effátum, ti, n. g. a dialecticall proposition.
Effaxillo, aui, are, to cutte of by the arme pitte:
or rather to put out a thyng with the arme, so that the arme pitte may be seene.
Effectus, a, um, wen, dispatched, made, brought to passe.
Effectum dare, to bryng to passe.
Effectum reddere, idem.
Effectus, us, ma. g. effect or bryngyng of a thyng to conclusion, makyng of a thyng to be.
Ad effectum vires dare alicui, to healpe one that he may bryng a thyng to passe.
Effector, oris, a maker, woorker, or doer.
Effectrix, the feminine.
Effectio, ónis, fœm. ge. a bryngyng of a thyng to effecte.
Effero, efferas, áui, áre, to make ymages of wyld beastes. also to make woode, skurtishe, or wyld, as sauage beastes are.
Efferátus, a, um, made wylde and beastiall.
Efferatis militia animis, mennes myndes beyng made fierce and wylde with warfare.
Efferáta & immania, woode and outragious.
Efféro, extuli, efferre, to bryng or carye forth, to put out, to diuulgate or tell abrode, to aduaūce or promote, to ouercome or subdewe. also to commende. sometyme to holde vp, to set forth.
sometyme to minysshe or appaire. also to lifte vp, to vtter in lāguage, to speke or pronounce.
Efferre aliquem laudibus, to extoll one with prayses.
Efferre cadauer, to carye a bodye to be buryed.
Efferre clamorem, to crye out.
Efferre in humeros, to beare on the shulders.
Efferre manum, to lyft vp the hand.
Efferre sese, to aduance hym selfe.
Efferre pedem, to go out, or go forth.
Seruare istum sultis intus serui, ne quoquam pedem efferat, keepe hym in syrs, if ye wylle, that he go forth no whither.
Efferre se lætitia, to bee glad without measure.
Efferri funere, to bee caryed to buryynge so-lempnely.
Num quidnam effert? Doeth he bryng forth
any thyng?
Efferre caput vndis, to hold vp the head aboue
the water.
Signa efferre, To aduaunce forewarde with the standerdes.
Efferre aliquem ad summum imperium, To aduaunce one to moste high authoritee.
Quos fortuna extulit, whom fortune hath aduaunced, promoted, sette aloft.
Hic me magnifice effero, in this I aduaunce
my selfe royally.
Priusquam clandestina eorum consilia efferantur. Before their prime counsailes be pu-blyshed or spredde abrode.

Quod non natura humana patiendo efferat, which the nature of man can not bāquiſhe and ouercome by ſufferance.
Ager vberiores fruges efferre ſolet, The grounde was wont to bryng forth frute more aboundauntly.
Non indecenter aliquid efferre, to ſpeake or vtter a thyng comely.
Efferueo, ues, or Efferuo, uis, ferui, and ferbui, efferuēre, and efferuere, to be verie hot, to boyle vehementlye.
Efferueſco, ſcere, idem quod efferueo, and by tranſlation, to bee hot or chaufed, to be troubled or greatly moued: and contrary wyſe, to alaie or waxe colde.
Efferueſcere in dicendo, to bee chaufed, or waxe angry in ſpeakyng.
Gratulatio efferueſcit, The gratulation or gladneſſe wareth leſſe.
Efferueſcentia verba, hotte angry wordes.
Effexis, for effeceris.
Efficātia, æ, fœm. ge. effecte or vertue, efficacitee or ſtrengthe.
Efficax, ācis, om. g. effectuall, that hath ſtrength or power, of great force, that can doe muche.
Efficaciſsima auxilia, very effectual remedies.
Efficax vir, a ſtrong and valyant man.
Efficācitas, ātis, f. g. idem quod efficatia.
Efficāciter, effectually.
Efficientia, idem quod effectus.
Efficiens, ēntis, that maketh or cauſeth a thynge to bee.
Efficienter, in maner of makynge or cauſyng a thyng to be.
Efficio, ffĭcis, fēci, ficere, to bryngе to effect, to wield, to finyſhe, to accompliſhe, to make, to dooe, to proue by argument, to conclude.
Efficere argentum alicui, to geat monee for a man by ſome meane or deuiſe.
Efficere morbos, to ingender diſeaſes.
Efficere nuptias alicui, To be the cauſe of the mariage of any, to cauſe one to bee maried.
Efficere pollicita, to kepe promiſe, to do that one hath promiſed.
Id ſimilitudinem panis efficiebat, it ſerued in the ſtede of breade.
Efficiam tibi, tua vt ſit, I will bryng it to paſſe, that ſhe ſhall be thyne.
Efficere tantundem operis, to wielde and to finyſhe as great a taſke of woorke.
Aſsidua exercitatio peritos efficit, diligente exerciſyng maketh men counnyng.
Inſtituere & efficere, to enterpryſe a mattier, and bryng it to paſſe.
Efficere cladem, to cauſe a murther or ſlaughter. Heri effeci epiſtolam ad Cæſarem, yeſterdaie I made an epiſtle, or I wrote a letter to Cæſar.
Tu mandata effice, quæ recepiſti, doo you, or diſpatche you thoſe thynges, whiche you tooke charge of.
Clamores efficere, to crye out.
Efficere magna facinora, To woorke or doo ſome great feates.
Officium ſuum efficere, to doo his dutie.
Vicem efficiunt, They ſerue in the ſtede or place of any thyng.
Eniti & efficere, to endeuour or bryng to paſſe.
Efficitur, the impersonall.
Effigies, ei, f. ge. a ſigne made to the ſimilitude of a man or beaſt, shappe, lykeneſſe, forme.
Effigies virtutis, the pmage of vertue.
Effigiem alicuius rei habere, To bee lyke any thyng.
Effigiem dei in ſe oſtendere, to reſemble god, or to ſhewe ones ſelfe to bee lyke god.
In effigiem pelagi exundabat lacus, that was or meere ouerflowed like to the ſea, or as it had been the ſea, or in maner of the ſea.
Columnæ effigie, after the forme of the pillar.
Ad effigiem Macedonicæ chlamydis, like a faction. ꝛc.
Effigia, æ, f. g. idem quod effigies.
Effigio, aui, are, to counterfaute ones pmage a peinctyng or kerуng.
Effilo, aui, are, to ſowe.
Effilātum, ti, n. ge. that whiche is ſowed or ſhed on a garment, as a garde or purfle.
Effingo, finxi, gere, to make lyke, to diuiſe and expreſſe the forme or faction of any thyng.
Animō effingere aliquid, To deuiſe or imagine a thyng in the mynde.
Similitudinem ex vero effingere, to repreſent or expreſſe the faction of a thyng lyuely.
Mores effingere, To repreſent or expreſſe mans maners or conditions.
Effinxit Cicero vim Demoſthenis, Cicero attеyned and expreſſed the force and pithynes of Demoſthenes eloquence.
Effictus, a, um, repreſented, expreſſed.
Effictio, onis, a repreſentation or diuiſyng.
Effio, fieri, to bee dooen, to be brought to paſſe.
Effiagito, aui, are, to deſyre or aſke a thyng importunately.
Effiagitare conuitio, with tauntyng and chydyng, to require a thyng.
Requirere & effiagitare.
Effiagitatus, a, um, required importunately.
Effiagitātio, ōnis, fœ. ge. an importune ſuite requiryng of a thyng, an inſtant deſyryng.
Effiagitātus, us, m. g. idem.
Effleo, fleui, flere, to weepe out.
Effere oculos, to weepe out ones eies.
Effictim, exceedyngly, greatly, vehemently, intirate earneſtly.
Effictim amare, to loue ardently, to loue out of meaſure.
Effigo, fixi, fligere, to tourment, to afflict.
Efflo, aui, are, to blowe awaie, or blowe out, to breath out.
Efflare animam, to dye.
Efflare colorem, to leeſe the colour.

Effluit animam spes, I haue no maner of hope or trust, all my hope is past and gone.
Effluit extremum halitum, he gaue his last gaulpe, he let his last breath, he dyed.
floresco, flórui, réscere, to bloom as a floure doeth at the fyrst comyng out, to spryng: and by translacion to grow, to increase, to abound, to be brought foorth.
fluo, effluis, fluxi, ere, to flowe or renne out, as water doeth out of a fountayne, to slyde out of ones memory, to be forgotten, to be published or spredde abrode, to passe awaie.
Effluet, it shall bee tolde abrode, I wille not kepe counsaile, all men shall knowe it.
Effluxerat, It was out of remembraunce, it was forgotten.
Effluxit, it is quite gone.
Effluxit æstas, the sommer is passed.
Effluunt voluptates, pleasures doee passe as waie lyghtly.
Ex animo effluere, to slyde out of memorye, to bee forgotten.
Abundare & effluere.
Aetas effluit, age passeth awaie.
Effluunt vires lassitudine, he wareth feynte with wetyneſſe.
Effluxit vita cum sanguine, he died bleedyng.
Quod totum effluxit, all whiche I haue forgotten, or is gone out of my remembraunce.
Bona praeterita effluere sapienti non oportet, A wyse man muste not forgeat the good thynges, that haue chaunced to hym before tyme.
Effluere ex animo, to be quickly forgotten.
Desyderio alicuius effluere, to be desyrous of one by pond measure.
Mens effluit, when one forgetteth that he woulde saie.
fluentia, æ, f. g. a flowng or rennyng out.
fluvium, uii, n. ge. a flowyng out, or rennyng out, an ouerflowyng.
ffoco, aui, are, to choke or strangle.
ffodio, effodis, fodi, dere, to dygge, to dygge out, to make a dyche.
Effodere ex terra, to dygge out of the erth.
Effodere oculos alicui, to scratche out ones eies. Effodit illius memoria pectus meum, The memory of that man pearceth myn hert, or greueth my mynde sore.
Effossus, a, um, digged out, scratched out.
Efformînâtus, a, um, wanton, delicate, tender, endurynge no hardneſſe, womanlyke.
Effœminatum & molle.
Effœminatæ artes, artes, whiche effeminate and abate the manlyneſſe of a mans mynde.
Effœminatè, womanly, tenderly, wantonly, nycely.
Effœmino, aui, are, to effeminate or make delicate, to make wanton, tender, or nyce.
Effœta, she that hath lately broughte foorth a childe, also a woman paste teemyng.
Effœtus, a, um, hatched, as a byrde that is come out of the shel, that hath lately brought forth, past broodynge. also consumed, feeble, made barreyne with ouer muche fertilitee.
Vires corporis effœtæ, the strength of the body debilitate and made weake.
Effœta gallina, an hen past broode or layeng.
Terra effœta, lande spent or worne with bearyng of muche grayne.
Effœtum corpus, a weake bodie.
Effœtè, barreynly.
Effor, looke Effari.
Efforo, efforas, aui, are, to bore through, to make holes through a thyng.
Efforâtus, a, um, bored through, or that hath many holes through it.
Effractarius, a, um, that breketh downe or open.
Effractor, óris, ma. gen. a robber that breaketh downe places.
Effractûra, æ, fœm. gene. a breakyng open or into a place.
Effractus, a, um, broken, broken downe, broken open, consumed, made weake.
Effractus fame, made feble for faute of meate.
Effrænâtus, a, um, unbridled, unruly, rasche, without moderacion or measure.
Effrænatus & furiosus.
Effrænatus & præceps.
Effrænatus animus, an unruly mynde.
Proiecta & effrænata cupiditas, a dissolute and unbridled appetite.
Effrænatè, proudely, raschely, fiercely, unruilly, without consideracion.
Effrænâtio, ônis, f. g. unrulyneſſe, rashenesse.
Effræno, aui, are, to unbridell.
Effrænus, a, um, unbridled, rasche in maners.
Mors effræna, a violent deathe.
Gens effræna, a fierce and an unruly nacion.
Effrico, effricas, aui, are, to rubbe of.
Effringo, fregi, gere, to breake to peeces, to burste violently.
Effúgio, effugis, fúgi, ere, to escape, to flee, to eschewe or auoyde.
Si me effugerit memoria, yf I forget, or yf my memorie faile me.
Effugere nuptias, to auoyd or eschue mariage.
Effugere contumeliam, to eschewe reproche.
Si illum effugerit diem, If he might escape that daie.
Effugere ex vrbe, to flee out of the citee.
Effugere periculum, To escape or auoyde daungier.
Vituperationem effugere, to auoyde blame.
In quibus non dubito, quin negligentiæ offensionem effugere non possim. In whiche thynges I doubte not, but that I can fynde no meanes to auoyde the blame of negligence: Or I am sure I can not chooſe, but be noted of negligence.
Effúgium, gii, neu. gen. flyghte, refuge, a place of succour, a place or waye, whereby one maye flee flee or eſcape a paſſage.

Alias habere effugia pennarum, That other haue the meanes to flee awaye with their wynges. Qui effugia inſederant, whiche kepe the paſſages.

Præcludere effugium alicui, to ſtop the paſſage that one can not eſcape.

Effulcio, ciui, cire, to ſtaie vp.

Effulgeo, fulſi, gere, to ſhyne bryghte, and by tranſlacion to appere or ſhewe it ſelfe.

Effundo, fúdi, dere, to powre out. Sometyme it ſignifieth to conſume, to ſpende or waſte ryotouſely, to come foorthe in great companies, to put foorth, to bryng forth plentyouſely, as the earth dooeth, to ouerflowe or renne ouer the bankes as ryuers doo.

Effundere ærarium, to waſte the treaſure.

Effundere extremum ſpiritum, to die. Likewyſe Effundere animam, to yelde or geue vp the gohoſte, to bee ſlayne, to die.

Effundere honores in mortuum, to make for hym that is dead a ſumptuous buriall, or an honourable interrement.

Effundere patrimonium, to ſpende and conſume his inheritaunce.

Effundere peditatum, to diſcomfite the foote men.

Effunduntur omnibus portis ad opem ferendam, They gathered together in great routes at euery gate, to defende the citee.

Lachrymas effundere, to weepe.

Effudit ſe in publicum maxima frequentia mulierum, There came great route or company of women abroade.

Effundere ſe ciuitas dicitur, whan all the people cometh forth in great numbres.

Ne effundantur ad luxuriam, periculum eſt, It is to bee feared, leſte they geue them ſelfe wholly, or leſte they be wholly gruen to ryote and wantonneſſe.

Effundere iram in aliquem, to vtter or declare hym ſelfe to bee extremely angrye with one, to ſhewe his anger and wrothe.

Effundunt herbas frugibus inimiciſsimas, They bryng forth a great ſorte of weedes, verie hurtefull to the corne.

Quærelas effundere, To make great complayntes.

Quorum ſtomachus in vomitiones effunditur, whoſe ſtomache is prone and ready to vomite.

Effuſus riſus, a diſſolute laughter.

Effuſo ſinu, with his boſome open, with his quote open afore.

Effuſé, effuſius, effuſiſsimè, out of meaſure, exceedyngly, abundantly, more vehemently, prodygally.

Effuſé aliquam diligere, to loue a woman out of meaſure.

Effuſé exultat animus, The mynde reioyceth exceedyngly, or ouermuche.

Effuſé fugere, to flee or renne awaie on euery ſyde.

Effuſio, ônis, ſ. ge. a pourynge out. Sometyme it ſignifieth prodigalitee or outragious ſpendyng.

Effuſio aquæ, a pouryng out of water.

Effuſio hominum ex oppidis, whē great routes or companies of men come out of townes.

Effuſio animi, and contractio contrary.

Effuſus, a, um, diſcomfited, ſcattered, put out, or poured out, rennyng abroade, ouerflowyng or rennynge ouer the bankes as ryuers doo. alſo bountifull, liberall in ſpendyng.

Effuſa lætitia, exceedyng ioy or mirthe.

Effuſi in fugam, they ranne awai on euery ſide.

Effuſus curſu, He that renneth with all his myght.

Effútio, effûtis, tiui, tire, to ſpeake vnaduiſedly, foolyſhely or haſtily, or that whiche ſhoulde bee kepte ſecrete.

Effutire aliquid ex tempore, to ſpeake a thyng ſodaynly without ſtudy or aduiſement.

Effutitus, a, um, raſhely or foolyſhely ſpoken abrode or vttered.

E ANTE. G.

EGelaſte, a towne in the hyghe Spayne.

Egélidor, aris, ari, to relent or diſſolue, as ye that thaweth.

Egélidus, a, um, neyther hotte nor colde, but tittell out of the colde. Sometyme it is taken for verie colde.

Egens, entis, om. g. lackyng, needie, poore.

Egens eſt conſilij, he lacketh counſayle.

Animo egens, one that hath no courage.

Egeo, égui, ere, to neede or lacke, to bee in extreme powerte.

Egere authoritate, to be without office.

Egeo conſilij, or conſilio, I lacke counſayle, I can not tell what to doo.

Eget humanitate, he hath lyttell gentylneſſe, pitee, or mercy.

Non eget interpretatione, it is playn, it needeth no declaration.

Egetur acriter, I am in great neceſſitee.

Egeo tempore, I lacke tyme.

Egeria, an ydoll, to whom women with childe dyd offer, ſuppoſynge that therby they ſhulde trauaple eaſily.

Egéries, éi, fœ. gen. a caſtyng out or auoydyng of dunge or odure.

Egênus, a, um, needy, or lackynge ſomewhat, poore.

Egero, égeris, geſsi, rere, to beare or carye out, to caſte out.

Egerit aquam fons, the fountayne powreth out water.

Egérmino, áui, âre, to bourgeyn, to ſpryng, to budde out.

Egeſinus, a philoſopher, the ſcholer of Saunder.

Egeſta, a citee in Sicile, whiche Eneas buylded.

alſo

To the daughter of Hippolyta, the Tropan, mother of Aceſtes.

eſtas, tatis f. g. neceſſitee or lacke of thynges neceſſary, pouertee, needyneſſe.

Afferre egeſtatem, to make one poore and needye.

Vitam in egeſtate degere, to leade ones life in pouertee and nede.

eſtio, ônis, f. g. diſtribution abrode. it is alſo the carynge foorth of ordure or dounge. alſo the aduoydyng of ordure out of the body.

eſtoſus, a, um, verate poore.

is, idis, looke Aegis.

eſtus, us, idem quod egeſtio.

eſtus, a, um, caſt out, or put out.

o, J.

omet, J my ſelfe.

Egomet meimet verberaui, J haue beaten my ſelfe.

bo egomet, J will go my ſelfe alone.

Eorum ego vitam mortemq; iuxta æſtimo, As for me truely: or truely J for my parte eſteme their lyfe and deathe to be all one.

Egomet mecum cogitabam, J thoughte with my ſelfe.

Mihi ſuis pulchra eſt, the is fayre enough in my ſyght, or her beautee pleaſeth me well enough.

Mihi quidem eſurio, non tibi, Jn deede my ſelfe feeleth the payne of the hunger, and not you.

Non credebam mihimet, J dyd not beleeue my ſelfe.

gone? who J?

Potin' eſt hic tacere? P. Egóne? optime, Can this felowe keepe counſayle? P. Who J? in the beſt wyſe.

gredior, eris, greſſi, to go foorth, or go out.

Egreditur ab ea, he cometh foorthe of her howſe.

Egredi obuiam alicui, To go foorth to meete one

Extra præſcriptum egredi, to paſſe the bounds preſcribed or limitted to one.

A propoſito egredi to make digreſſion, to go from the purpoſe.

Terminos egredi, to paſſe the bounder.

Nos noſtro officio nihil egreſſos, That we haue doone nothyng againſt our dutee, or otherwyſe than we ought to doe.

Egreſſus, a, um, gone foorth, paſſed foorth, ſet foorthe.

Domo egreſſus eſt ad bellum, He went forth to warfare.

Egreſſus annum vndeuigeſimum, paſt nineteene yere olde.

Egreſſus, us, m. g. a going foorth.

Egregius, a, um excellent.

Egregia & præclara indoles, an excellent and good towardneſſe.

Egregia forma, excellent or paſſyng goodly fauoure.

Egregius, the comparatiue, more excellent.

Egregiè, excellentely. ſometyme for Valde, or Nimis, greately, paſſyngely, verate muche, chiefly, principally, eſpecially.

Egregiè cordatus homo, a verate wyſe and diſcrete perſone.

Seruus egregiè fidelis, a verate faithfull and truſtie ſeruant.

Egregiè græce loqui, to ſpeake grede excellentely, and paſſyngly well.

Quod ab eo egregiè diligeris, be cauſe he loueth you exceadyngly.

Horum ille nihil egregiè præter cætera ſtudebat, He gaue hym ſelf to none of theſe thynges ſpecially more than other.

Egula, égulæ, f. ge. a kynde of byrnſtone vſed to make woulle white.

Egurgito, aui, are, to drawe out, as ſpeour out of a place.

EHem, is a woorde ſpoken whan a man is moued with ſome thyng, which is newely happened.

Eheu, alae.

Eho, an interiection of callyng, it ſignifieth, hoe. alſo of one that moueth his eare to here ſome ſecrete thyng: or of a troubled mynde: or whan one perceyueth a thyng ſodeynly. alſo of meruaylyng.

Ehodum ad me, Hoe, come hyther to me.

Eho tu, hoe ſirra, whan one calleth a man to hym, forgetteyng his name.

Eho, is vſed in aſkyng a queſtion, as Eho quæſo, laudas, qui heros fallunt? Jh ſyr, or why ſyr, doote ye prayſe them, that begyle their maiſters?

Eho tu, eho tu, hoe ſirra ſirra.

EIa, ſometyme it exhorteth. ſometyme it blameth or reproueth one, that threateneth or taunteth.

Eia vero age, dic, Well go to, ſpeake on.

Eia haud ſic decet, what ſoote, that is not ſeemyng: Or, it ſhoulde not bee for your honeſtee ſo to doote.

Eia vt elegans eſt Eih what a minyon it is.

Eia autem inimicos: what ſyr your enemies?

Eia, in principio epiſtolæ poſitum.

Eiiculor, aris, ari, or Eiiculo, aui, are, to ſhoote throwe, or caſte a farte of.

Eiectio, ônis, f. g. a throwyng or caſtyng out.

Eiectamentum, ti, neu. ge. pourgeyng or ſuche thyng as the ſea or ryuers doo caſt on lande.

Eiero, éieras, aui, are, to refuſe or forſake a iudge.

Eiectitius, a, um, beyng caſte oute, or that caſteth out.

Eiecto,

Eiecto, aui, are, to throwe or caste out.
Eiectus, a, um, throwen or caste out.
Eiicio, éjcis, iéci, iicere, to cast out, or put out.
Ejcere & excludere.
Retinere & ejcere, contrary.
Ejcere foras, to caste out of doores.
Ejcere in exilium, To banysshe or to sende in exile.
Ejcere ex animo memoriam alicuius, To putte one out of our remembraunce, to forgette one wyllyngly.
Ejcere dicitur mulier, subaudi partum, To trauayle before the tyme.
Ejcere suum animum de aliquo, To tourne his mynde, affection, or loue from one.
Ejcere se in agros, to goe hastyly into the fieldes.
Eiecit se ex oppido in syluas, he flange sodenly out of the towne, and went into the wooddes.
Ejcere vrinam, to make water, to pisse.
Ejcienda hæc animi molicies, I muste caste awaye this tenderneſſe of herte.
Eioneus, one of the princis of Greece, whiche came to Troie: an other of Thrace, whiche ayded the Troianes.
Eiulátio, ônis, f. ge. a bratyng out with lamentacion, a waylynge or crynge out.
Eiulâtus, us, m. g. idem.
Eiulo, éiulas, áui, âre, to cry out, to wayle.
Eiûro, eiúras, aui, are, to dooe beſyde the lawe, to renounce, to reſigne, to refuſe a iudge.
Eiurare magiſtratum, to reſigne an office.
Eiurátio, ônis, f. g. a renouncyng, a reſignacion.
Eiuſmodi, & eiuſcémodi, ſuche, like, of the ſame ſorte or facion.
Eiuſdem farinæ, of the ſame ſorte or condicio.
Eiuſdem notæ, of the ſame eſtimacio or ſtate.
Eiuſdem modi, of the ſame ſorte, ſyke.

E ANTE L.

Elâbor, éris, elápſus ſum, elâbi, to ſlyppe or ſlide awaye, to eſcape, to fall out.
E memoria elâbi, to go out of memory, to be forgotten.
Elabi de, é, or ex manibus, to ſlyppe out of ones handes, to eſcape from one.
Satis te elapſurum omni ſuſpitione arbitrabare, You thought you ſhoulde eſcape well ynough without any ſuſpicion: or you thought you ſhoulde auoyde all ſuſpicion.
Elaborâtus, a, um, perfectely or cunnyngely wrought, doen exactly with ſtudy & diligence.
Omnes apud hunc ornati elaboratique ſunt verſus, All the verſes that he writeth, are elegant and cunnyngly made.
Elabóro, áui, âre, to laboure or endeuour diligently, to trauayle or take peyne in a thyng, to worke cunnyngly and exactly.
Quicquid elaborari aut effici potuit, what ſo euer coulde bee endeuoured or doen.
Eniti & elaborare.
Sed in litteris certé elaboraui, But in deede in the ſtudy of good letters I haue labored and taken peyne.
Elaborare aliquid, to worke a thyng with great cunnyng and diligence.
In iis potiſsimum elaboramus, in thoſe thynges we haue chiefly trauayled.
Ad iudicium alterius elaborare, to endeuour and take peyne to content and ſatiſfie the iudgement of an other.
Elacata, or elacotena, a hynde of ſelte ſyſhe: or after ſome a ſauce vſed in olde tyme.
Elacteſco, ſcere, to tourne into mylke, or waxe white as mylke.
Elæa, a citee of Aſia, an other of Italye the people wherof bee called Eleatæ, or Elini. It is alſo a citee of Phenicia, an other of Bithynia.
Elæmpórta, æ, f. ge. the profyttyng or dyeng of ople for a cite or common weale.
Elæomeli, a certayne hynde of gumme clyke than honye, thynner than roſyn, fatter, an vnctuous, whiche rennieth out of the ſtemes of olde trees, whiche growe in a countree called Palmyris in Syria.
Elæothéſium, ſij, n. ge. a place where men were annoynted after bathyng or waſshyng.
Elamitæ, be called the princis of the Perſians, of Elam the ſon of Sem, as Joſephus ſaith.
Elæon, ople.
Elángueo, guî, ere, to be ſycke, to languyſſhe, to pyne awaye.
Neque elanguit cura hominum ea mens, neyther dyd the diligence of men flake or languyſſhe.
Elangueſco, ſcere, to waxe feble.
Elape, es, f. g. a hynde of ſerpentes.
Elaphoboſcon, an herbe, whiche ſome doe call Gratia dei, commonly Pabulum cerui, a wurt whiche of ſome for lage.
Elaphos, an herte.
Elapido, aui, are, to rydde a place of ſtones.
Elapſus, a, um, eſcaped out of ſome daunger.
Elapſa eſt ſpes, hope is loſte.
Elapſa ex oculis hominum anguis, the adder ſtaie awaye out of euery mans ſyght.
Elargior, giris, giri, to graunt or geue bountifully or liberally.
Elaſſeſco, to waxe weery, to decaie.
Elate, élates, fœm. g. after Dioſcorides is that, wherin a palme or date tree beareth frute, is wrapped. Galene taketh it for the tender and ponge braunche of a palme. Theſtchius doeth affirme the ſame: ſome take it for a hynde of Date trees.
Elâte, proudely, loftyly, grauely, with an high ſtyle, hautely.
Elatérium, rij, n. g. a wylde cucumbre, which hath leaues lyke vnto gardeyne cucumbres, but the frute is muche leſſe, lyke as it were longe apples, ornes, and hath a greath roote and a white. Some call theim Cucumeres anguini. There is also a medicine so called, made of the iuyce of them, to purge choler and fleume vpwarde and downewarde.

Elatine, an herbe lyke to withwind, but it hath leeues and flowers like buckwheate, it groweth among corne, rennyng buckwheate, or bynde corne.

Elatio, ônis, fœm. gene. loftyneſſe, hauteneſſe: it is taken sometyme in the good parte, and sometyme in the yll. In the good parte: as, In hac elatione & magnitudine animi facillime pertinatia, & nimia cupiditas principatus innascitur, In this highneſſe of hert, and greatneſſe of courage, there is bredde veraie lightly wilfull appetite, and to muche delire of great authoritee. in an yll parte: as, Parium comparatio, nec elationem habet, nec submissionem, The comparison of them that are equall, hath in it neyther arrogance, nor yet submission.

Elatites, m. g. a kynde of ſtones.

Elatro, elatras, áui, âre, to barke, to ſpeake out or alowde.

Elatus, a, um, hyghe or aduaunced, properly in herte or courage. sometyme it ſignifieth proude or arrogant.

Elaudo, aui, are, to name one to his praiſe.

Elauo, elauas, aui, âre, ſiue, ere, to waſhe cleane, to rynſe clothes, to robbe or to ſpoyle, to ridde one of all that he hath.

Elauare ſe bonis, to be cleane waſhed from all his gooddes, to ſpende all away, and leaue nothyng.

Elcebus, a citee in Fraunce, called communely Schelestade.

Elcdana, a citee in Spayne, called Duennes.

Elcia, idem quod Dictamum.

Elea, a citee in the countreie of Lucania.

Eleates, a man of that citee.

Elecebræ argentariæ, harlottes.

Electio, ônis, fœm. ge. an election, an approbation, choyſe.

Electo, aui, are, to entice or allure.

Electra, the daughter of Oceanus and Tethys, ſhe had a daughter of the ſame name, on whom Jupiter begat Dardanus.

Electrion, the father of Amphitrio, and ſonne of Alceus.

Electrites, certayne yles in the ſea Adriaticum.

Electrius, a, um, of Electra.

Electrum, i, neu. ge. that whiche is in englyſhe called ambre, wherof beades be made. It is also taken for a mettall, parte golde, and parte ſyluer.

Electus, a, um, choſen, pyked out.

Electus, us, m. g. choyſe.

Electror, ôris, m. g. a chooſer, an electour.

Eleemósyna, æ, f. g. almeſſe, pietee.

Elegans, antis, om. g. elegant, freſhe, gorgious cleane, polite, minyon, tricke, pyked, fyne. Mundus & elegans.

Elegans formarum ſpectator, one veraie well ſeene and ſkilled in faire women: a deintie and fyne felowe in chooſyng of faire women.

Elegans in omni iudicio, he that hath a fyne and a good iudgement in all thynges.

Elegans in cibis, fine, pyked in meates.

Eleganter, netely, finely, eloquently, deyntyly, minyonly.

Elegantia, æ, f. g. elegancie, gorgiouſneſſe, cleanneſſe, beautee in wooydes, neteneſſe, hanſomneſſe, trymneſſe.

Elegantia morum, nourture, veraie honeſt behauiour.

Elégia, æ, fœm. g. lamentableneſſe, a lamentable ſonge.

Elégia, órum, n. g. lamentable verſes.

Elegiacus, a, um, pertaynyng thervnto.

Elegidion, n. g. a lamentable verſe.

Elegiógraphus, phi, m. g. a writer of lamentable verſes or balades.

Elegus, élega, um, lamentable.

Elei, people in Grete in the countreie ſometyme called Peloponeſſus, nowe Morea.

Eleleus, one of the names of Bacchus.

Eleliſphacos, the herbe called ſauge.

Elementárius, a, um, pertaynyng to elementes, letters or principles.

Elementariæ literæ, the croſſe rowe.

Elementarius ſenex, an olde man that learneth his croſſe rowe.

Elementum, i, n. ge. the firſt or principall matter, wherof all thinges dooe take their begynnyng, whiche bee foure in noumbre, fyre, ayre, water, and erth. Alſo the letters, wherof ſyllables be made, are called Elementa.

Elenchus, chi, ma. ge. an argument, reproupnge ſubtilly an other argument. It is alſo a table in a booke, to ſhewe the places by letter or otherwiſe. It is alſo a great pearle, or other precious ſtone that women were wont to hãge at their eares.

Eleo, eui, ere, to ſpotte or ſoyle.

Eleoſélinum, ni, n. ge. an herbe, whiche of ſom is called ſmallache.

Eleoplullon, an herbe, called alſo Phillon.

Eleoſtaphylos, a vine grafted on an oliue, and bearyng the frute of both trees.

Elephantezógraphi, be called thoſe peincters, that peincte with puoyre.

Elephantia, ſeu Elephantiaſis, a kynde of leaproſie, wherin the fleſſhe dooeth ſwelle, and is full of ſpottes, it is ingendred of blache choler.

Elephantiacus, a leaper.

Elephantiæ, be ſerpentes, ſo called, becauſe he, whom they doo byte, falleth into the kynde of leaproſy, whiche is called Elephantia.

Elephántina, a citee of Egypte. alſo a certayne confection. lohe Celſus. li. 5.

Elephántinus, a, um, pertaynyng vnto an olyphaunt.

phaunt.

Elephántini libri, amonge the Romans were bookes, wherein theyr lawes were written, whiche concerned the nobilitee.

Elephantis, an plande in the ryuer Nilus.

Elephas, ántis, ma. g. or Elephantus, ti, an olyphant, the greattest of all foure footed beastes, his forelegges bee longer than his hynder. He hath ankles in the lower parte of his hynder legges, and fiue toes on his feete vndeuided, his snoute or nose is so longe, and in suche fourme, that it is to hym in steede of an hande, for he neyther eateth nor drinketh, but by bryngyng his nose to his mouthe: therwith he healpeth vp his mayster or keeper, therewith he ouerthroweth trees. He hath fower teethe on eyther syde of his mouthe, wherwith he eateth & grindeth his meate. He hath also twoo great tuskes, the male greater than the female, bowynge downewarde: His tongue is verie litle, and so fare in his mouthe, that vneth it maie be seene. Of all beastes he is the most gétyl and tractable. For by many sundry wayes he is taught, and doth vnderstand, in so muche that he lerneth to do due honour to a kynge, he hath a great perceiuyng, and excelleth in sharpenesse of witte. The female, whiche he ones seasoneth, he neuer after toucheth. The male olyphant lyueth. 200. yeres, at the least. 120. yeres. The female almost as longe: but the floure of their age, is about. lx. yeres. They can not suffer wynter nor colde. He loueth ryuers, and will often go in to theim vp to the nose, wherwith he bloweth and taketh wynde, but swymme he can not for the weight of his bodye. Plinius and Solinus write, that they vse none aduiserye. yf they happen to meete with a man in wilderues being out of any waie: gentilly they will go before, and bringe hym into the playne waie. In battaile reigned, they haue no small respect, for they bring theim that bee fore hurte or werye, into the middell of the hoste, to be defended. They are made tame by drinkyng the iuyce of barley, they haue continuall warre against dragons, whiche despyse their bloude, and therfore lying in awaite, as the Olyphant passeth by, the dragon (beyng of an excedyng length) wyndeth his tayle about the hynder legges of the olyphant, and letyng hym to go, thrusteth his head into the Olyphãtes nose, and exhausteth his breath, or elles byteth hym in the eare, wherunto he can not reache with his nose. And whan the Olyphaunt wareth faynte, he falleth down on the serpent, which is full of bloude, & with the poyse of his bodye breaketh him: so that his owne bloudde, with the bloudde of the Olyphaunt, renneth out of hym myngled together, whiche is called Cinnaberis, in englyshe Synoper.

Elephantus, is sometyme vsed for puyse.

Elcuies, ei, f. g. a purgation.

Eleuo, éleuas, aui, are, to lyfte vp. sometyme to take awaie, to minysshe, to extenuate with woordes, to make lyght and of litell value, to dispraise.

Lepóre eleuare, quod obiectum est, With pleasaunt and preatie woordes to extenuate that whiche is laied agaynst vs.

Authoritatem eleuare, to diminysshe ones authoritee.

Eleuare ignominiam, To defface his ignominie, and recouer honour.

Eleuare verbis famam vrbis captæ, With woordes to mitigate the fame and bruite of conquerynge the citee.

Eleus, untis, a citee of Thrace.

Eleus, the name of Bacchus.

Eleusinius, a, um, of the citee Eleusis.

Mater Eleusina, Ceres.

Eleusina sacra, ceremonies of Ceres the goddesse.

Eleusis, a citee in Greece, not farre from Athens, where Eleusius reigned.

Eleutherius, a, um, that maketh free, or deliuereth out of bondage.

Eleutheros, a ryuer by the towne of Orthosia.

Elicio, élicis, elicui, or elexi, ere, elicitum, & electum, to drawe out or gette out, to pryse or a thynge or a woorde, to prouoke or allure, a great a thyng.

Elicere aluum, to prouoke to the stoole.

Inferorum animas elicere, to reyse vp the spirites of theim that be dead.

Ex terræ cauernis ferrum elicere, to myne vnder the earth for pyon.

Ad eliciendum vulgi fauorem, to allure and gette the fauour of the people.

Suscitare & elicere fontem, to cause a well a springe.

Elicere ignem conflictu lapidum, To strike fyre by beatyng stones together.

Elicere lachrymas, to make to wepe.

Sudorem elicere, to cast one in a sweate, to cause one to sweate.

Multa ab ipso Publio elici possunt, you may gear the knowlage of many thynges by Publius hym selfe.

Elicere archana alicuius, to gette one to vtter his secretes.

Suspicionem elicere ex re aliqua, to gather suspicion of any thyng.

Verbũ ex eo nunquam elicere potui, I could neuer geat hym to speake one woorde.

Ita eliciam verũ, so shal I gette out the truthe.

Ad colloquium elicuit, He gat him to come to communication.

Elicere in insidias, to trayne one into an ambushement.

Elicito, to drawe often.

Elicius, a, um. that drawe th or allureth out, the surname of Iupiter.

Elico, aui, are, to tourne vp feete downe.

E ANTE L.

,ônis, ma. gene. he that tourneth thynges of a?der.

,fi, ere, to hitte agaynst a thyng, to breke burst out, to preſſe out, to ſquiſe, to exclude, ſtrangle, to kyll.

idere ignem é ſilice, to beate fyre out of a ne.

idere ſonum, to make a noyſe by beatyng e thyng agaynſt an other.

idere caput, to breake ones head.

erbas elidere, to ſtampe o? powne herbes.

idere alicui oculos, to pull out ones eies.

bilum elidere, To cauſe a whyſteiynge o? ſſynge.

idere pactum, To breake a couenaunt o? rgaine.

idunt fœtus ſues, ſowes by lyng on theyr ygges, ſquiſe theim to deathe.

idi in turba, To bee truſt in a thronge of rople.

idi ægritudinibus, to be ſore vexed with chneſſes.

gnis eliſit nubes, the fyre brake the cloudes, lyghtned.

go, eligis, légi, ere, to chooſe, to electe.

opulus elégit ſibi in principem Octauium, The people dyd electe o? chooſe Octauius to be heyr ſoueraygne.

d munus aliquod éligi, to be choſen to ſome fice o? charge.

De tribus elige quem velis, Of three, chooſe whiche ye will.

matus a,um, filed of, poliſhed, made ſmothe.

mino, aui, are, to put o? caſte foorth from a lace farre of, to hurle o? thruſte out of doores.

Dicta foras eliminare, to publyſhe out of the oores what was ſpoken.

mo, elimas, áui, áre, to make cleane, to po? yſſe, to make perfite. ſometyme to cut of with a file.

nguis, gue, without a tongue.

nguis, is, ſpeecheleſſe, dumbe, that can not ſpeake.

nguo, aui, are, to pluche out o? cutte of ones ungue.

quámen, ínis, n. ge. fatneſſe o? iuyce, wronge o? preſſed out of fleſche o? fyſche. it maye bee uſed for dryppyng of meate.

liquéſco, ſcere, to be diſſolued o? melted.

liquo, cliquas, áui, áre, to melte.

lis, a cuee of Peloponeſus, an other of Troia.

liſa, one of the names of Dido.

liſus, a, um, broken, bruſte, preſſed, ſquiſed.

lix, icis, maſ gen. a fourowe made for water to paſſe.

lium, id eſt, lilium ſelueſtre.

lixir, arabice, quinta eſſentia.

lixo, aui, are, to ſeethe o? boyle.

lixus, a, um, ſodden, boyled.

lleborine, a litteli herbe called Epicactis.

lleborius, the leſſe centaurie.

Elleborum; looke Helleborum.

Elleborus albus, an herbe called lyngewoyt, the roote wherof is called neeſyng pouder.

Elleborus niger, an herbe called beares foote, o? after ſome, terwoyte.

Ellenium, nij, looke Helenium.

Ellobia, órum, n. ge. thynges whiche were hanged at the eares of women.

Elium, for ecce illum, ſee where he is.

Ellychnium, ij, neu. gene. the matche whiche is in the lampe, and ſtandeth in oyle, o? the wicke of the candell.

Eloco, élocas, áui, áre, to caſte, remoue o? put a thynge out of his place, to ſette to hyre, o? to ferme.

Elocare fundum, To ſette out a ground to ferme.

Elocare boues aut equos, to leat out oxen o? hoyſes to hyre.

Elocare filiam, to beſtowe his daughter in mariage.

Elocúto, ónis, f. ge. a proper fourme of woyrdes o? ſentences.

Elocútrix, that ſpeaketh o? teacheth to ſpeake.

Elógium, ij, n. g. a teſtification o? report in woyrdes of a mans prayſe o? diſprayſe, of honour o? reproche. alſo a witneſſynge o? pronouncyng of ones owne opinion o? ſentence. It is ſometyme a ſuperſcription on a tombe.

Elongo, áui, are, to remoue farre of, to prolong, to deferre.

Elops, a fyſhe called alſo Acipenſer.

Elops, is alſo the name of one of the Centaures.

Eloquens, entis, eloquent, well ſpoken.

Eloquéntia, æ, f. g. eloquence.

Elóquium, n. g. ſpeeche in a pleaſant manier.

Eloquor, queris, éloqui, to ſpeake, properly it is whan I ſette a thynge foorth in ſpeakyng, that the hearers maie vnderſtande it, as I conceyue it, to ſpeake out. Amonge oratours, to ſpeake eloquently and aptely.

Perge éloqui, ſaie on, tell foorth your tale.

Eloquere vno verbo, tell it at one woyrde.

Elorus, a cuee of Sicilie.

Elotæ, among the Lacedemanians was as much to ſaie as commune myniſters o? ſeruauntes. As ſergeantes, o? ſuch as in London they doo call promen.

Elotus, a, um, waſched awaie, made cleane.

Elpenor, a companyon of Ulliſſes, whiche with other, Circe tourned into hogges.

Elpes, the wyfe of Boetius.

Eluceo, eluces, luxi, ére, to ſhyne, to be bryght, to be vtraie manyfeſt, to appere, to be notable.

Elucere & occultari, contrary.

Elucet animi excellentia in deſpiciundis opibus, there appereth an excellencie of the mynde in the contemnyng of richeſſe.

Spes in puero elucet, there is an hope of towardneſſe in the chylde.

Elucet ingenium in eo, there appereth to be a witte a wike in the man.

Eluceſco, ſci, ſcere, to be verie bright.
Elucido, aui, are, to ſhyne and make bright outwarde.
Elucifico, aui, are, to deprive of light.
Eluctâtus, a, um, that with wraſtling or ſtruggling hath eſcaped awaie.
Tandem eluctatus obſtantia, At the length, after he had hardely and with great peyne paſſed ſuche thynges, as dyd withſtande and lette hym.
Eluctor, aris, ari, with ſtrugglynge or wraſtelyng to haue the vpper hande, or to eſcape awaie, to ſtruggle to come foorth, to come foorth hardely and with peyne.
In ipſo fornacis ore flamma eluctatur, The flame braſteth forth, or as it were, wraſtleth to come foorth at the narow mouth of the ouen.
Elucubro, aui, are, to watche and write by candell light in the night.
Elúcubror, aris, ari, deponens, idem.
Elucus, he that is ſpoke of the dronke of peſtersdaie. alſo a louer of trifles.
Eludo, ſi, ere, to mocke or deceyue. alſo to leaue playing.
Facéte eludere, to mocke feately.
Eluenaca, a kynd of fertill vines. Collu. li. 5.
Elugeo, elúges, eluxi, ere, to leaue mournyng.
Elumbus, bi, m. g. & elumbis, & hoc Elumbe, He that hath feeble loynes, and can not ſtande vpright.
Eluo, ui, ere, to waſſhe out, to rynſe, to make cleane, to pourge.
Eluere maculas veſtium, to waſſhe out ſpottes that bee ſtayned in any garmentes.
Eluere pocula, to rynſe cuppes.
Eluere crimen, to purge ones ſelfe of a crime laied to his charge.
Eluere maculas furtorum ſuorum ſanguine ſociorum, to purge and waſſhe awaie the infamie of ones own thefies and robberies, with the bloude of his felowes, or by puttyng his felowes wrongfully to deathe.
Eluo, aui, are, to ſpue in gluttonye, or to ſpende ſuperfluouſely.
Elurus, looke Aelurus.
Eluſa, an ple againſt Cypres.
Eluſcatio, a diſeaſe of the eies, makyng that one can not ſee either in the night or in the morning, purblyndneſſe.
Elúſco, aui, are, to make purblynde.
Eluſis, & Eluſin, a citee in the prouince of Attica, not farre from Athens.
Elûſus, a, um, illuded, mocked, deceiued.
Eluthéria, æ, f. g. freedome, gentilneſſe.
Eluthérius, the name of a man, and is interpreted, free, gentill.
Eluuia, orum, goode ore.
Elúuio, aui, are, to ſuche out water, after Caleſpine, but the place that he citeth out of Vergile, hath eluctabitur.

Elutrio, aui, are, to poure out of one veſſell into an other.
Elûtus, a, um, waſſhed, rynſed cleane.
Elúuies, ei, and Elúuio, ónis, fœ. ge. ordure or filthe cauſed of abundaunce of water or other ſpreour, a deluge or breakyng of the earthe by great floudde. And by tranſlation, a peſtilence or contagious thynge, corruptynge and deſtroiyng all goodneſſe, as one ſhoulde ſay, a ſpnke of miſchiefe.
Eluxâtus, a, um, idem quod Luxatus.
Eluxuriari, to abounde, to bee ouer rancke or fertile, to geue ones ſelfe to riote and pleaſure.
Elymais, a countreie neere Perſia.
Elyſij campi, the ſame place that is called Elyſij.
Elyſium, a place of pleaſure, where poetes do ſuppoſe the ſoules of good men to dwell.
Elyſius, a, um, the adiectiue.

E ANTE M.

EMaciâtus, a, um, made leane.
Emácio, aui, are, to make leane.
Emácitas, âtis, fœ. g. affection or deſyre to be alwaies dyeng of ſome thyng.
Emacror, âris, ári, to make leane or barayne.
Emáculo, aui, are, to take awaie the ſpottes or make cleane a thyng.
Emancipáti, are they that are out of their fathers rule, or they that are made ſubiectes vnto another man.
Emancipátor, óris, m. g. a feoffour or aliener.
Emancipâtus, a, um, alienated, or geuen to an other mans poſſeſſion.
Emáncipo, or emáncupo, aui, are, to enfraunchiſe or make free, to ſette at liberte, to make ones childerne. ſometyme it is vſed in the contrary ſence, to bynde or make bonde. It is alſo moniy, where a man diſpoſſeſſeth hym ſelfe, & putteth an other man in poſſeſſion of lande.
Emancipare agrum, to diſpoſſeſſe hym ſelfe of a peece of lande, or to put lande in an other mans handē to a certayne vſe.
Emancupo me tibi, I ſubmytte my ſelfe to you, or I put my ſelfe vnder your obeyſance, I geue my ſelfe to you.
Emaneo, émanes, ſi, ere, to dwell out of a place.
Emâno, áui, âre, to iſſue or flowe out, to ſwarme or renne out, and by tranſlation, to be ſpred, publyſhed and knowen abrode.
Emanare ſaniem, to auoyde corrupt bloude and matter.
Emanauit fama, The bruite came abrode, or was ſpredde abrode.
Emanauit in vulgus, it was ſpredde or publyſhed abrode among the people.
Multis enim emanauit indiuis, For it was knowen by many tokens.
Emanſio, onis, a taute among ſouldiours, when they tarrie long out of their campe.
Emanſor, óris, ma. ge. he that wandreth long, and nd at the laste retoureth home, a lurker.

arcum, a hynde of grapes argino, aui, are, to take awaie the scurfe about the brimmes of woundes or sores.
asculo, aui, are, to geide, or to take awaye the courage of a man, or to abuse a man childe in lecherye.
ath, a citee that is nowe called Antioche. athia, a part of the rotalme of Macedonia.
athius, a, um, of Emathia.
atureſco, túrui, ſcere, to waxe rype.
aus, a noble citee of Palestine, which is nowe alled Nicopolis.
ax, âcis, an adiectiue, he or she that is redy to ye any thyng, a great byer.
bamma, âtis, n. g. sauce.
bata, or Epibade, a shyppe called a barke, or passager.
bat unicon ius, that right that the creditour
ath on the landes or goodes of his dettour, whiche he laied in morgage to hym.
blema, blématis, neut gene. pictures made f woode, stone, or mettall of one colour, set in oode, stone, or mettall of an other colour, as e see the chesse boordes and tables called ounters. It is muche vsed in Italye. It is of ome taken generally for all smalle ymages, lowres, or other thynge, attached to any other hynge, as on cuppes of golde or syluer it is sed by translation, for the figures or ornam-es of oration.
boline, a shrubbe growinge in Asia, the Juice
f the leaf is good against poison.
bolissmus, mi, ma. ge. the addynge of a daye n the yeere.
bolium, li, the argument or first entrie into a lace or enterlude.
bolium, li, neu. gene. a barre of a doore. al-
o a mans parde, or rather the entrance in to a urney.
bryon, i, neu gen. signifieth the chylde conceyued, before it receyueth perfect shape of a man or woman.
medullo, aui, are, to take out marowe. And by translation to declare or make manyfest.
mem, olde writers vsed for eundem.
mendate, purely, without faute.
mendo, ôms, f. g. an amendement.
mendâtor, ôris, mas. gen. a correctour, or an amender.
mendatrix, icis, f. g. the femenine.
mendatus, a, um, amended, made better.
mendicâtus, a, um, begged.
mendico, aui, are, to aske in fourme of beg-gyng, to despyse lyke a begger.
mendo, aui, are, to amende, to correcte, to make better, to take awaie a thyng that is yll, to heale.
Alaumcitam emẽdat flos Hederæ, the floure of pup stoppeth the flixe, or helpeth one that is laxatiue.

Emensus, a, um, that hath measured, or that by goyng hath passed ouer a place: or passiuely, that is measured, or that by goeyng hath been passed ouer.
Eméntior, tiris, titus sum, iri, to make a manysfest lye, to feigne that is not true, to counter-faite.
Illum quem ementitus es, ego sum, I am he,
whom thou diddest counterfaite.
In aliquos ementiri, to make a lye vppon any persons.
Ementiri & fingere.
Ementiri authoritatem alicuius, to take vpon
hym falsely the authoritee of any man.
Ementitus, a, um, falsely feigned.
Emercor, âris, ari, to bye.
Eméreo, émeres, rui, ére, to merite, to deserue, to offende.
Emergo, ersi, ere, to issue or com out of a place, where a thynge is drowned, or where it was hyd, to appere or shewe it self, to escape.
Delitescere & emergere, contrary.
Emergere extra aquam, to ryse and appeere aboue the water.
Emergere ex mendicitate, to ryse out of po-
uerte and become ryche.
Emergere vtero puer dicitur, To come first out of the mothers wombe.
Emergere ex iudicio peculatus, to escape the iudgement, wherin one is accused for robbyng a prince or common weale.
Cum ventus emersit, whan the wynde began to ryse.
Amor emersit, the loue appereth or sheweth it
selfe playne.
Emergit depressa veritas, The truthe beyng oppressed aryseth and sheweth it selfe.
Emergere, & se ad bonam frugem recipere,
To aryse from lewdnesse, and become thryftie and honeste.
Ad summas emergere opes, To become ver-raie ryche, to ryse to great rychesse.
Emergi, the impersonall.
Emergere ex aliquo negotio, To dispatche hym selfe of a busynesse.
Emergere ex incommoda valetudine, to be recouered of a noious disease.
Emerseram commodé ex Antio in Appium,
I departed in good tyme from Antium vnto Appium.
Eméreor, éris, eri, to deserue to the vttermost.
Eméritum, ti, neu gene. a stipende or pension that those souldiours had that were pardoned from the warres.
Eméritus, a, um, that hath deserued or serued for his duetie, sometyme complete, finyshed. also that is deserued.
Emeriti milites, olde worne souldiours, whiche were pardoned of warres, and yet not-withstandyng had pensions, whiche wer called Emerita stipendia.

Emeritum ſtipendium, the laſte wages that a man taketh in warres.
